Kennel Tests Prove New Burgerbits gives dogs the taste they really like...the solid nutrition they need.

The Great New Taste* of Burgerbits

now in "flavour-kernel" form

Here's the dog food that kennel tests proved superior to all others in palatability and nutrition. Dogs tested preferred new Burgerbits . . . thrived on new Burgerbits.

Here's why:

Increased Fat Content. with an improved fat-protein ratio, gives unsurpassed palatability, maintains glossy coats and healthy skin, helps prevent shedding.

New Flavour-Kernels. Smooth pre-formed kernels of uniform size and shape eliminate jagged, uneven particles and dust of ordinary dog foods.

Spray coating of natural meat fats locks in flavour, protects nutrients.

Aids Digestion. New Burgerbits is expanded to gelatinize starches for easier digestion.

Less Porous. Crunchier consistency helps keep teeth, gums and jaw healthy . . . absorbs liquids without getting mushy . . . feeding pans clean easily without scraping or scouring.

Exceeds NRC Requirements for daily nutritional intake, providing a complete and balanced diet.

Feed Dry or Wet. Kennel tests prove that many dogs prefer Burgerbits dry.

Fed wet, Burgerbits retains the crunchy texture and meaty aroma dogs really enjoy.

Special Professional Discounts. As with all of Dr. Ballard's Dog Foods, new Burgerbits carries a special Kennel Discount. Your local representative will be pleased to provide you with details.

Bucaneer needs no introduction to Miniature Poodle fanciers and breeders throughout Canada. This well known show dog and sire finished the 1963 show season in glory by going Best In Show at the Group Six Specialty under Judges Nigel Aubrey Jones and Com. Reg. Sparkes.

Our little Rebel is the new rising star among Toy Poodles. His Canadian championship was completed in four straight shows at the Sportsmen's Show in 1963 where he won Best of Breed and Group placing under such toy authorities as William Taylor. Rebel won his first American Group from the classes under noted Judge Louis Murr over several American champions. His second place in American Groups was also from the classes under Mrs. Yan Paul and also over American champions. His American major wins were won under noted authorities Miss Iris de la Torre Bueno and Miss M. Siebern. He went second in Group under John Lundberg at Kitchener.

Rebel excels in head and eye, soundness of body with a magnificent front and well balanced rear. His feet have been described by the American judge Alva Rosenberg as "exquisite".

Puppies sired by Rebel to Toy Bred females have been well under 10". His mother is the delightful 8" Toy Ch. Ma Griffe Silver Sparkle.

We hope both Rebel and Bucaneer will continue their show careers in 1964 and win more laurels. Both dogs are bred, owned and handled by Phyllis Walker Laventhall, proprietress of Toronto's finest and most successful grooming parlour for all breeds, Le Chien Elegant, 3236 Yonge Street, Toronto 12, Ontario. TO THE EDITOR

If you have any suggestions, any comments or constructive criticism to make concerning articles in this magazine, or with regard to shows, your opinion of what is happening to various breeds with regard to size, colour, coat, etc., write a brief letter to the Editor. We must reserve the right, however, to edit same.

a rose by any other name

... It was good to read Mrs. Hart's concern about Keeshonden or Keeshonds ... but my opinion is, why bother? ... Anybody brought up on the pronunciation of the English alphabet, which is 98% of John Public, will always be so far off that it is not important and the people really interested in this breed will gladly take this peculiarity as part of their learning. Let me tell you the true story. In Holland this dog is called a Kees (kays), further referred to as a grey or tawny (as a donkey) or blue (the more desirable shade), where there are also many white ones and even black ones but those are more in Germany ... only the grey kees is officially recognized as a breed. Dog, in the general meaning, is Hond and now we have the official Keeshond. When you look over the Dutch way of naming the different breeds you'll find that word 'hond' ever so often where it is quite obvious that it is not a cat or an elephant. The plural of Kees is Keezen and of Hond is Honden.

... An English-speaking person will say Keesh-ond, quite understandably. The more instructed person says Keeshound ... it is really not important if we are going to bother with honds, hounds or honden. Actually the honds sounds less silly than keeshonden.

The Dachshund is in the same boat. Germans pronounce CHS as KS; they call this dog (Hund) a Kakshoon or (as the Dutch do too) a Tekkle or Tackle (Tekkel even Dackel or Taks). Take it or leave it.

Mrs. Hart is also concerned about the Schipperke(s) and with all due respect for the credentials of Mrs. Ellen Brown, she is wrong. It is however excusable that the Sch is taken as Sk. Only Scottish tongues can say it right, they have Loch this and Loch that. My objection is the KEY. It is not a key to this problem. The last E is a so-called mute e and sounds like the e we know in Fathe' and Mothe' and there is really no excuse to pretend any other thing, least of all an EE, which we know in the word Referee ... no person in Belgium will know what you mean by Skipperkee but he will understand Skipperkuh, in fact they may ever so often use the softer sk.

In this same realm belongs the butchering of so-called Dutch names. My advice is, leave them alone. The result is only silly and even if it looks right on paper what is produced when pronounced ... (better not name it).

In the States they sport the pronunciation kays-hond.

Would you like to know how to pronounce Middleman Kenausoon? (not as in the year-book Middle), it is Kay-Now's Zone and means son of Kenau (call name of the dam).

obedience first

... we were more than thrilled with the "first" of Obedience covers. (January, 1964). May it not be the last! We are proud to claim Mrs. Hilda Pugh as one of our original members and even more so, of the pace she set for the N.Y.O.C. With a start such as pictured, 1964 promises to be a year of great expectations for Obedience.

how do we improve conditions?

... As the years go rolling by my family and I enjoy Dogs so much. It would be nice if we had more articles on dog shows, how to put one on, for new members of club also how to show each breed and how to get each breed ready ... more on how to help people with their new first pup and what to pick ... for breeding purposes and why.

There is another more serious thing to think about and do something about ... the promiscuous breeder who has a puppy mill and doesn't give two hoots for betterment of the breed; who sells a puppy (purebred for $10.00 to $250.00) with papers and with the understanding you will get your papers and when you ask for individual registration the answer is you will get your certificate for $25.00 to $50.00 more.

Another breeder had a house and barn full of dogs ... in the cellar. For months they lived in filth and squalor. Luckily someone came along, saw them and informed the Humane Society ... The dogs were confiscated.

... I know of such misrepresentations: miniature German Shepherds and miniature Collies being sold as purebreds.

I think a good part of a solution to some of our problem ... any person who is raising purebred dogs must belong to the Canadian Kennel Club, must register every dog they raise and must have a routine check from the Humane Society. If the breeder does not belong to CKC the no registration should be issued. This might help. I would like to read letters from other people about such situations and what they might do to solve such impossible situations and to help the good breeders of high quality dogs get rid of the puppy factories.

FROM THE EDITOR

COMMENCING with the May, 1964 issue, the space presently occupied by Club Roundup will be used to present up-to-date news items, articles and statistics on the breeds. This changeover is being implemented as the result of your recent majority vote.

May we enlist your whole-hearted cooperation in supplementing our own information with items of interest you might come across concerning your breed: interesting statistics, major wins outside of Canada, acts of heroism, dogs in the news; imports, exports; in fact, any and all information of this nature that you feel would make interesting reading.

The amount of editorial that we can carry on a breed must, of course, be directly related to the amount of advertising for that breed appearing in an issue.

If you find a shortage of space devoted to your breed (or no space at all) advertising, or rather lack of it, will be the reason.

Obedience news should be sent directly to Mr. Ed O'Brien, Canfield, Ont. Field Trial news should be mailed directly to the editor of your Field Trial division: Retrievers, Mrs. Ruth Copeland, 159 Main St. W., Grimsby, Ont.; Setters, Mr. Harry Dean, R.R. 2, Saskatoon, Sask.; Spaniels, Mr. George Tabner, R.R. 4, Komoka, Ont.; Beagles, Mr. Joseph Tiede, R.R. 8, London, Ont.

And to make the "Dogs and People" department of greater interest to everyone we would appreciate receiving news from you about who's doing what, going where, being honored, moving, deaths, births, marriages.

In the dog fraternity what you do is of great interest to others — so let's hear from you.

The sudden passing of E. L. (Jim) Taylor, well known Toronto animal photographer, was a blow to the countless admirers of his work. Readers of Dogs in Canada are particularly acquainted with his remarkable portraiture. Apart from his photographic fame, Jim was a ceaseless and successful fighter for animal welfare. Tribute will be paid in the March issue to this man who gave so much of himself and expected so little in return.

At the time of his death legislation was under way as a result of his virtually battering at Parliamentary doors. His humane efforts will remain a constant memorial to him.

the old
timer

"Taking that young dog of yours to the show next Saturday?" the Old Timer asked.

I'd been sitting watching him put the finishing touches to a dog he was trimming for a client, and with the job ended he was ready to gossip.

"Do you mean the sanction show?" I asked. "If you do why bother? There's nothing in it. The judges aren't experienced. Why take the trouble?"

The Old Timer can say a lot of things with just a look and the look he gave me made it pretty easy to see that in his opinion, at least, I'd pulled a booboo. So I hastened to explain.

"What I mean," I said "is that there are no championship points available. The judges are just amateurs — none of them eligible to judge point shows. If they make a mistake and put up the wrong dog, then it's a mark against my youngster — and I think too much of that little fellow to have him knocked down by somebody who may not know a Beagle from a Basset or a Poodle from a Puli."

I got that look again — but this time there was no opportunity to explain.

"Son," he said "you sit there and listen. It seems to me there are a lot of things you need to have straightened out."

I sat while he reached for his pipe, filled it carefully and got it going. I still sat while he made himself comfortable in his old barrel chair and tilted the battered fedora to the back of his head.

"Now get this straight," he finally said, "sanction shows are the foundation of the whole dog game. They serve at least three important and essential purposes and in addition they provide a lot of fun for a lot of people."

"I'm listening," I said.

"First of all you say there's nothing in a sanction show," the Old Timer said. "Now you take that young dog of yours."

Our neighbor fell for a black puppy in a pet shop and inquired about its pedigree. The clerk told her, "The mother is a purebred Beagle, and the father comes from a good neighborhood."

The dog went home with our neighbor.

—MRS. THOMAS R. BOWERS
Reader's Digest

You've never had him out. Sure you know he looks good in the kennel. But how's he going to look in the show ring? Is he going to stand up to handling by the judge? How's the noise at the ring-side going to affect him? Will he move along confidently or will his tail go down and will he dog it on the lead?

"We'll find that out when the time comes," I said.

"And the time should be next Saturday's sanction show. If he needs ring experience, the sanction show will make that clear, and he'll be showing his lack of experience where no points are at stake and where the entry costs you only a dollar instead of five. Taking him to sanction shows could turn him into a seasoned campaigner before the time ever comes when he has to look a point show judge square in the eye. One out of three or four dogs may be natural showmen, but believe me the others will all benefit by the experience that only a sanction show can give."

"And you talk about your sanction show judges. True, many of them are amateurs who would not be approved for championship shows. But believe me, I've sat on sanction show committees and nobody is invited to judge unless the committee is satisfied he'll do a good conscientious job. We've got to keep on making new judges and where better to develop them than in the ring at sanction shows. That's reason number two why sanction shows are essential to the welfare of the dog show game."

"You said there were three good reasons," I suggested. "How about the third?"

"I'll ask you," said the Old Timer. "What percentage of exhibitors each year are novices?"

"Okay you win," I said "it's high. And what better place for a novice exhibitor to gain ring experience and confidence than at a sanction show."

"You're right," said the Old Timer "and I'll go on a bit further. Take a look at the number of people needed to put on a show. Where do ring stewards learn the fine points of their very important job? Where do show superintendents and show secretaries gain the experience they need to do a competent job at championship shows? Where do all the other people needed to put on a smoothly functioning point show learn the requirements for success? The answer is in the sanction shows. In my opinion they are the foundation on which the whole dog show game is built. So son, don't sell them short."

I struggled into my overshoes. I reached for my hat, muffler and coat. "Where you off to?" the Old Timer asked.

"It just occurred to me that young dog of mine needs a little tidying up and a little lead time," I said. "See you at the sanction show on Saturday and I'll have the young dog with me."

OBEDIENCE

Ed. O'Brien, Canfield, Ont., is well-known as Canada's leading professional trainer of dogs in Obedience work. He is a licensed Judge, one of Canada's first. He began his career in the West, training dogs for herding and other farm work. Since moving to Ontario he has specialized in training dogs for police and guard work and for disabled people. Mr. O'Brien also breeds German Shepherds and Dobermans.

An editorial in the December issue of Dogs in Canada refers to a letter which appeared in the Toronto Telegram, on October 21, 1963, in which the writer expressed very strong feelings about keeping pets of any kind indoors, even going so far as to say that there is no difference in sharing one's home with a dog than with a pig. A similar letter, written to the Toronto Daily Star about two weeks ago, while not comparing the dog and pig as house companions, nevertheless maintained that in a modern city there is no place for dogs.

Now we certainly cannot go along with either of these gentlemen, but the fact that they are not the first to take a similar stand should make dog owners take a good look at the situation. Only a couple of years ago, the mayor of one of our Northern towns stated publicly that if he had his way there would be no dogs at all in his town. While dog owners in the cities are certainly not going to get rid of their pets to oblige the dog haters (including the fanatic who sees no difference between a dog and a pig as members of one's household) perhaps some of this resentment may be justified. In my opinion there is no place in the city, or in the country for that matter, for a dog kept as a companion who lacks general Obedience training. Kennel dogs, on the whole, do not have much contact with the general public, so are unlikely to influence public opinion either for good or ill. The kennel dog is usually kept under control and we have found, here at Edlyn, that the average kennel dog coming here for training is better behaved than the house pets.

A few months ago I complimented the Bytown Training Club on the excellent booklet which is given to all who enter their training class. Those of you who have read it will notice that, among other stipulations, all dogs must be housebroken before they can join a class. The Bytown Club is showing good sense here. The dog with an Obedience degree who is still not clean has little to recommend him to those who may not like dogs. Furthermore, the dog-owner who hasn't managed to housebreak his pet by the time he is old enough to join a training class is not likely to be successful in the rest of the training. This business of allowing a dog to relieve himself wherever he feels inclined cannot fail to encourage bad feeling toward dogs in general. Scoring high in an Obedience trial is fine, but is it not also our duty as Obedience folk to train our dogs not to use the neighbor's lawn or the sidewalk when he finds he has to have a bowel movement? The well-mannered dog will always be admired and is the best answer to the cranks and dog-haters.

To change the subject, my opinion has been asked about a matter on which I believe The Canadian Kennel Club and the Obedience chairman have also been questioned. Possibly, like myself, they feel this is one for a legal adviser or for the long overdue Judges' conference. Anyway, I think it could be dynamite! The problem is one in which a handler has a disability which causes him to stagger, and to have some difficulty in coming to an instant stop. As I understand from the letter, this handler had some difficulty in making a left turn in a recent trial. I take from this that he means that he was forced to make some extra steps before being able to turn. The writer says he always informs the Judge of this disability beforehand, explaining that he may not be able to stop instantly, and may appear to be stepping in toward the dog. The question is: what should the Judge do in a case like this? The writer says he is prepared to secure a certificate from a doctor, if necessary.

I have questioned a few judges about this person's problem and their opinions varied all the way from making allowances for anyone claiming a disability, to demanding equal handling from all contestants, on the grounds that they must know that Obedience work calls for precision, and in fairness to the other handlers everyone should be physically able to compete on equal terms. There would appear to be no cut and dried answer to the question which would cover all situations. For instance, in one trial the handler of a good working dog walked with the limp usually characterized by the loss of a foot or even a leg. In scoring, I made allowances for this handler both on turns and changing of pace in the heeling. We happened to finish the Recall at the opposite end from the entrance, and as soon as it was completed the handler ran with the speed of a rabbit across

SPANIELS

IN THE FIELD

George Tabner, a well-known breeder and exhibitor of Springer Spaniels in both show and trial, is a firm believer that show Springers must also be able to give good account of themselves in the field. He is President of the English Springer Spaniel Club of Canada and sparked the establishment of Ontario's only Spaniel Specialty Show for all Spaniels.

Congratulations to Julian T. Collins; owner, handler and breeder of the 1963 Can. National Spaniel Field Trial Champion Apache Clipper's Brown Ghost. Mr. Collins' dogs have won this title three times in the four years that it has been held. Brown Ghost is a daughter of the 1960 winner Nat. F. T. Ch. Apache Magic Clipper. Her dam is Apache Sky Hi of Huntersfield. A litter sister, F. T. Ch. Apache Clipper's Gay Lady, won the top title in 1962.

Canadian-owned dogs have placed as winners regularly at the American Trials last fall. E. H. (Ted) Haggis and George Webster jointly established their kennel at Delaware last year. They have an excellent set-up for training dogs and plan by next fall to have sufficient cover to stage first class trials on the grounds. They maintain a stock of birds and a daily training program has been put into practice.

This daily workout is showing results. The winner of the first U.S. Amateur All Age Spaniel Championship held at Hazard farms, Wilmington, Ohio, November 30 to December 2, was F. T. Ch. (Can. and Am.) Pam's Aphrodites of Camden, owned and handled by George Webster. There were 45 entries, 42 starters in the stakes. All had previously qualified by wins in Amateur All Age Stakes. "Pusher" was just 19 months old at the time. She was acquired a year before from her breeder Lou Craig and trained by Mr. Webster. Sired by Rocker of Camac Scot, her dam is Jill of Bexhill Cabo. She was also the runner-up of the 1963 Canadian National trial. She qualified for the U.S. National Stakes by virtue of winning the Ohio Valley English Springer Spaniel Club Amateur Stakes over 20 starters, October 5 and 6.

At the same Ohio Valley Trial, Denalisunflo Sam, another of George's Springers, celebrated his first birthday by winning the Puppy Stakes. He repeated this win two weeks later at the New Jersey Spaniel F. T. Club trial. The next weekend, at the Maumee Valley Springer Spaniel Club trial at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, he placed third in the puppy stake. November 2 and 3, he placed second at the Valley Forge F.T. Ass'n trials. One week later he won the Puppy Stakes at the E. S. S. of Mich. trial. The Breeder of Denalisunflo Sam is Lou Craig. His sire is F.T.

Ch. Kansan (winner of the 1962 U.S. Nat'l). His dam, F an W Inc. Competition in these trials was some of the toughest seen in recent years in Puppy Stakes.

George's English Cocker Spaniel, Windfall Beth, bred by Ted Haggis and sired by F.T. Ch. Purkiss Place Nipper out of Camino Rockenroll, has been called one of the best Cockers seen in recent years at the Eastern trials. Although just one year in July, she has earned her F.T. Championship in four trials, with two firsts and a second place. She won the Open All Age Cocker Stake at Bushy Hill F.T. Ass'n. trial September 28 and 29 over 12 starters. She repeated at the Valley Forge F.T. Ass'n. trial November 2 and 3, at Ringoes, N.J. At the Albany Spaniel F.T. Club in October she placed second in the Open All Age Cocker Stake.

Ted Haggis' end of the team has been held up by F.T. Ch. Sam Dooley, a liver and white dog bred by Lloyd Farrar. His sire is Intrinsic Biff and dam A bar D Maria. This rangy, good-looking dog received first place at Ravenna, Ohio F.T. Club Amateur All Age Stakes over 30 starters. Judges Maxwell Riddle and James Weitzel said Sam put on a flawless performance. HUMANELY "SPEAKING"

The General Manager of the Ontario
Humane asks
"should animals be altered?"
by tom hughes

At a recent meeting I was asked what is the attitude of the Humane Society towards the cropping of dogs. It was a fair question prompted by the concern of the breeder to know what his position would be if his premises or kennels were inspected under the "Kennel Inspection Scheme" and the Inspector noticed puppies which had just been cropped.

The question gives me a perfect opportunity to discuss a number of aspects of the practice of "cropping".

First the Inspector who visits kennels does so only at the request of the kennel owner, and at the convenience of the proprietor. The kennel operator has, therefore, the opportunity to ensure that he or she will be at home when the Inspector arrives. It is only human nature that the kennel owner will see to it that the kennels are at their best possible condition at the time of the inspection. This is expected and taken into account by the Inspector.

The Inspector is there only to examine the physical set-up of the kennels and to determine the basic method of operation. He is not and cannot concern himself with any other matters. It is not his function or responsibility to concern himself with matters such as whether or not dogs should be cropped, or their tails docked, or their dew claws removed, or whether dogs are trained for various purposes and if so, how. These are matters of policy which are set by the members of the Society, in the normal way.

However, the Inspector has exactly the same duty as any other citizen to take certain action if he or she witnesses a crime or breach of the law. In other words if a kennel owner is planning to replenish the liquor supply by operating a home "still" he would be well advised not to stoke the fires up on the day of the inspection. If your kennel is also a "bookie joint" try not to accept any bets at the time. In other words, use some discretion.

Apart from anything else, it's not fair to tempt the Inspector. Play it cool.

Of course, cropping of a dog's ears is a slightly different matter. The present position is somewhat ridiculous. The standards of a number of breeds permit "cropping". As far as I know, cropping is not mandatory. Except of course that no dog of certain breeds could ever hope to win in the show ring unless cropped.

The majority of veterinarians will not crop a dog's ears. Some will. One or two veterinarians do a good job of cropping, others by inexperience are competent from the veterinary point of view but unsatisfactory from the breeder's angle.

The B.C.S.P.C.A. prosecuted and convicted a breeder some years ago for causing unnecessary suffering to a dog by the way he cropped a particular dog. It is important to remember that the case was not taken on the fact that the man cropped his dog, but how he did it.

To put it another way, cropping, as such, is not specifically prohibited by any law in Canada. It is, therefore, a perfectly legal thing to do, providing that the operation is performed on the dog by a competent person, who can do the job without causing any unnecessary suffering and pain to the dog.

But if anyone crops a dog's ears without taking the necessary precautions to ensure that the dog will not suffer, then that person is liable to be prosecuted if his actions or lack of them were intentional, as opposed to accidental. But then exactly the same reasoning applies to any activity, treatment or mistreatment of any animal.

TOYS

To acquaint readers with the current status of the smallest members of the canine kingdom, Dogs queried five well-known breeders of five of the Toy breeds. Below are the questions they were asked — topics of vital concern to all who breed, exhibit, or merely have a big feeling for the "little" dogs.

1. How long have you been breeding ()?
2. In your opinion, has your breed changed during your years of breeding? If so, how — size, weight, color, etc.
3. Was your breed as popular, or more popular, with the general public when you first started in the breed?
4. Were more of them being shown?
5. Who were some of the leading breeders in Canada in your early days?
6. If you think the breed has changed, what do you think influenced the change? Did American breeders influence this change? And when did this first occur?
7. Do you think representatives of your breed, shown in the ring today, are as good as they were ten to 15 years ago? If not, what prominent fault or faults must breeders correct?
8. If they are better today, how and when did this improvement take place?
9. Do you feel that dogs of your breed do their share of group winning, and if not, why not?
10. What do you think are the prospects for the breed in the future?
11. What general remarks do you care to make about the breed?

chihuahua

by Clare Smith, (Clarewood's Kennels), Toronto, Ont., who has been attending shows since 1930. A Collie breeder originally, she was advised by her doctor to take an interest in smaller dogs. Pictured below are representatives of her famous kennel.

- (1) Have been breeding Chihuahuas for 33 years. Began showing Collies in 1930. Last Collie, Clarewood's Major, is one of a group of dogs on display at the Royal Ontario Museum.

- (2) Thirty-three years ago the Chihuahuas were not as compact as they are now. They featured long legs and a long nose.
- (3) Very few Chihuahuas were shown three decades ago. In fact, when Mr. George Henry showed this breed in Winnipeg, people used to crowd around to see the tiny dogs. As a pet the Chihuahua was a complete rarity.
- (4) For a long time Clarewood's Chihuahuas were the only ones being shown in this area.
- (5) Among the earlier breeders were Mrs. Bernice Paine and Mrs. James Turner. Mrs. Jessie Carr began breeding Chihuahuas about 16 years ago.
- (6) The breed has changed, and certainly the American influence is apparent. This is partially due to the fact that most stud dogs have been imported.
- (7) It's hard to say. Some of the Chihuahuas we call the "old-fashioned" type are seen in the ring today. On the other hand, there is the more cobby, more sturdy, straight-backed type, and then there is the skinny small type, which is getting a good deal of attention. I believe a good Chihuahua should weigh three to four pounds.

- (8) There appears to have been improvement in all three directions over the past 15 years.

(9) I have won some Groups, but it is hard for a Chihuahua to go up in the Toy Group, particularly if there is a good Poodle in the Group. They are more showy and eye-catching. If a Chihuahua is cold, he just stands there and shivers and doesn't show at all well. If he's nervous, and many Chihuahuas are, he does the same thing. You rarely get a smart little dog that's not afraid of anything, especially in the ring.

- (10) As to the future, I think there are going to be too many Chihuahuas which, of course, brings the price down.

(11) Breeders are not studying the breed. And for the sake of the Chihuahuas, I feel they should. One still often has to import to get the good stud dogs. I would urge breeders to study and select. Too many are breeding for the sake of selling and are not at all interested in showing and improving. Some people are selling Chihuahuas as low as $35, which is neither good for the breed nor the breeder. However, a number of today's good breeders, who began with Clarewood stock, are doing everything in their power to breed well for show and the breed.

miniature pinscher

by Winnifred Wartnow, (Airlane Kennels), North Surrey, B.C., one of the prime promoters of Miniature Pinschers, particularly in the West. She has also shown successfully in the East and in Bermuda. Pictured below is Ch. (Can. Am.) Airlane's Tell-Star.

- (1) I first became active in Miniature Pinschers ten years ago.
- (2) Yes, I feel that the breed has changed greatly since I became interested in it. Reds were the most prominent, the dogs themselves were smaller and lacked correct development in chest as well as being too high on leg.
- (3) The Miniature Pinscher was not as popular then because few of the general public knew anything about the breed. Many would ask what breeds they were a "cross between". Seldom were Min Pins available in this area, at that time. Since then I have found that interest and general knowledge of the breed has improved and sales for these easily cared for, short-haired, alert little dogs have increased greatly.
- (4) There were very few Min Pins being exhibited here, then, and it was while visiting in the United States that I first saw one, fell in love with it and was fortunate enough to be able to convince the owner to let me have it.
- (5) Few Min Pins were being bred in Canada ten years ago . . . they were mainly in Ontario and some in other provinces. Mrs. F. A. Barton of Golden Circle Kennels was one of the early breeders of the East, Fay-Don Kennels another.
- (6) Yes, I feel that the breed has changed, particularly in the last five years. Canadian breeders striving to breed the very best possible Min Pin have carefully blended their stock with additions thoughtfully selected from American strains, with the resultant improvement which has been noted in recent years.
- (7) The Min Pins that are being shown today are greatly improved over those shown ten to 15 years ago. In that period, many were shown which did not conform to the Standard, in size (being too big or too small) or type. The breeders, exhibitors and judges of today have a greater understanding of the "ideal" as described by our Standard — than they did then. Now they are striving to show the small, compact individual of around 11 to 11½ in height — a square, deep-chested dog with a well-arched neck, balanced head with well-set-on ears, well angulated with tiny cat feet and a true hackneyed gait. No paddling or crossing of feet.

- (8) As mentioned earlier this improvement in the breed has taken place in the past five years, as breeders have striven to breed and show the best possible Min Pin.
- (9) While Min Pins have had increasing success in the Toy Group in recent years, I feel that the present quality representing the breed in the Groups could bring yet greater honors to our breed. A smooth-haired dog, such as ours, is at a disadvantage on many occasions, in competition with the long haired breeds, as coat impresses. However, there is truth, too, to the saying that "coat often hides a multitude of sins". The Min Pin has no such coat and must stand on what he actually has for the eye to see.
- (10) I believe that the Min Pin is just beginning to come into his own. If we can eliminate those people who are breeding puppies for money alone, and not for the good of the breed, it would help our progress greatly. I look forward to the day when the Min Pin will be called the "King of the Toys".
- (11) Those who have the pleasure of owning their first Min Pin have many moments of joy ahead of them — for the Min Pin is a clown (you never know what he is likely to do next), as well as a clean, intelligent companion — a delight to own.

by Carita Grieve, (Kee-Ting Pekingese Kennel), Saanichton, B.C. Mrs. Grieve was the recipient of the 1962 Ken-L-Products Bench Show Award for Western Canada, as owner of Ch. (Can. Am.) Kee Ting China's Toni, pictured below.

- (1) I bought my first pair of Pekingese in 1927 and bred them occasionally. In 1955 I started my Kee-

Ting Kennels and in 1958 began to show Pekes and have won well.

- (2) The show Peke of today is smaller and more compact, shorter in back and weighing about ten pounds, whereas my first champions were larger dogs, weighing 12½ pounds. The trend to smaller Pekes appears to be the style.
- (3) Having only shown for five years it is difficult for me to say whether there are fewer now than years ago. I would say the number at the majority of shows would be the same.
- (4) Pekes seem to hold their popularity through the years.
- (5) I can only recall the local breeders of ten to 15 years ago: Mrs. Eva Lambert, San-Lu Kennel, Sidney, B.C.; Mrs. Castle, Shantung Kennel, Victoria, B.C. and Mr. Duke, Bushy Ruff Kennel, Victoria, B.C.
- (6) In my opinion the breed has changed for the better with the many beautiful English Pekingese having been imported by most of the well-known kennels in both the United States and Canada. The top winning Pekes today in both countries are either English imports or first generation homebreds from English stock.
- (7) The Pekes shown today have much better heads and flatter faces than their ancestors of ten to 15 years ago. But most breeders have to be on the lookout for serious faults such as lack of underjaw and width of muzzle, too much length in body and neck, loose shoulders and weak back, as well as legs with little or no angulation. Many Pekingese in the ring today have lovely heads and gorgeous coats under which is a shapeless body instead of the desired lion or pear shape with the heavy front, well defined waist and narrow hips. Under all this one requires four strong, heavy bone short legs, the front legs well bowed with tight shoulders, the back legs of lighter bone with good angulation. A Peke needs this angulation as much as any hunting dog for the drive to propel him forward. He cannot roll correctly without it.
- (8) Speaking about my own dogs, in 1960 I went to England and came home with seven lovely Pekes. These imports have most definitely improved the shape of body and given my Pekes their tight shoulders and strong legs. My American imports have imparted beautiful coats and glamour.
- (9) I cannot complain about my share of Group wins, and other Pekingese certainly get their share of these. But they have to be of top quality. A good illustration is my homebred Ch. (Can. Am.) Kee-Ting China's Toni, who has been shown in Canada at 34 All Breed championship shows and has to his credit: ten BIS, 28 BCB in Show, 31 Group 1sts, two Group 2nds, 33 BB and the 1962 Western Ken-

L-Award. This is a spectacular record in view of the fact that Toni has just celebrated his 3rd birthday. Many people believe that our competition is poor out here in the West. This is not the case, as we have many excellent dogs of all breeds and we also get a great many entries from California, Oregon and Washington — American champions trying for their Canadian titles.

- (10) I believe the future for Pekes in Canada to be excellent.
- (11) Pekes are lovable and fearless and take people by their hearts. My husband, who is not a great dog lover, when asked by someone at a dog show "which other breed of dog he liked," turned to them in surprise and replied, "There is only one breed, the Pekingese."

toy poodle

by Ford Flechar, (Wesbrook Poodles), West Vancouver, B.C., who has displayed a real flair for presentation of Poodles. Below is his Ch. (Can. Am.) Fireflys Buddy of Wesbrook.

- (1) About eight years ago I first tried my hand at the breeding of Toy Poodles.
- (2) In that time many changes have been seen in the qualities of the dogs. When I started with Toys the only specimens available were the "old fashioned Toy Poodle" type, rather long in body, low on leg, high-set ears, big round eyes, very short foreface and very apple-headed. Coats were more like those of the Maltese than Poodles. These little fellows, in their fancy clips and rhinestone collars, were as cute as a bug's ear but not the type we look for today. These dogs were available mainly in white, with the silvers and blacks virtually impossible to obtain, and the few there were were of poor color. In the past years breeders have been on the whole more conscientious about breeding these colors pure, and as a result we find our silvers producing pups born silver instead of the usual changing black.
- (3) Toy Poodles have certainly come to the top in popularity in the past years. Perhaps this is why they are being bred in such quantity by anyone who can get an open bitch, regardless of quality.

- (4) I miss very few shows as a handler and exhibitor in the northwest, and I saw more Toy Poodles out last year than previously.
- (5) This challenging breed has, of course, only been bred in Western Canada for the past 12 years. Mr. Ron Thompson of Abon Hassan Kennels brought in some of the first Toy Poodles from New York. Ch. Zsa's Cherie of Abon Hassan and Can. Am. Ch. Lisettes Jabot of Abon Hassan were two of his better known Poodles. Mrs. Betty Sylvester's Can. Am. Ch. Sylvesters Cheries Zsa (whom I had the pleasure of showing) and Can. Am. Ch. Sylvesters Cream Puff (owned by Mrs. Pam Reid) were two more of the "well knowns" in the show world of the Northwest.
- (6) I feel the greatest influence on our Toys today came from two sides — the English Toy Poodle and the American Toy Poodle. I feel the combination of the two has given us some very fine results. An excellent example of this was my Can. Am. Ch. L'Erees Fascination, a product of English and American breeding.
- (7) Of the Toy Poodles I saw at shows last year, there was a lot to be desired in quality. I am a bystander at so few shows, that I really enjoyed the last show I attended from the ringside, south of the border. I was disappointed, though, in the Toy Poodles. Of the 15 shown, only two were sound.
- (8) This is answered above.
- (9) I do think on the whole that Toy Poodles do very well in the Group. But they would do even better if they were considered on the basis of how good a specimen is, compared to the rest of its breed on the whole, instead of on the same points with an older established breed, i.e. how outstanding is this Toy Poodle, for a Toy Poodle, as compared to how outstanding is this Min Pin, for a Min Pin, instead of how does the head of this Toy Poodle compare with the head of this Min Pin, and so on.
- (10) I feel that Toy Poodles will definitely be "with us" in the future. They are a real challenge, and a lot of work can be done, moulding and setting a better type of Toy Poodle.
- (11) Backyard breeders are finding little market for their poor quality pups as the general public becomes more familiar with the breed and know what they are looking for. We have not found this type of "pet factory" too much of a problem as sales competition for this reason. The general public look for a "good looking" specimen, even for a pet. A cheap dog of any breed is never a good buy, so why should it be expected in the case of a Toy Poodle? Come on, "Toy Poodle People". Let's keep improving our wonderful breed instead of repeating mistakes made previously — over and over again!

pug

by Winnifred Steggall, (Winna Pugs), Ville St. Pierre, Que. one of North America's most outstanding long-time breeders of Pugs. Pictured below: Ch. (Can. Am.) Winna Prince Charmer.

- (1) Since September, 1928.
- (2) By and large the Pug has changed little during the past 36 years. However, certain refinements have taken place such as more uniformity in size, soundness, color and conformation. In the show ring one does not notice so many various types and evidently judges are beginning to judge a Pug as such rather than in comparison with other short faced Orientals, which unhappily was our lot in the past.
- (3) The Pug at present, is enjoying great popularity on both sides of the Atlantic and at last this delightful breed is coming into his own again as it was in Victorian times. For a time it was pushed out of its prideful place by other Toy breeds and when I was looking for my foundation stock 36 years ago it took me 18 months to obtain what I considered to be suitable bloodlines on which to found a kennel.
- (4) Quite a number in Britain but apart from imports, the North American Pugs were spotty.
- (5) The Premier Pugs owned by Mr. Hipkiss of Toronto; Mrs. Sancton's in Montreal; Dr. C. Y. Ford and his Otterburn Pugs of Kingston; he and his mother before him had had them for many years. On the West Coast Mr. Joseph Loukes had the Powell River Kennels which I believe he inherited from his father, Mr. Bob Loukes of Nanaimo, B.C.
- (6) I believe that the change for greater uniformity was in no small way influenced by British imports. In fact, these imports are still the backbone of the finest stock today,

KENNEL CONSTRUCTION

PART TWO — CONCLUSION

by James Corbin, Ph.D., Manager Dog Research, Ralston Purina Co. and Bob Mohrman, M.S., Assistant Manager of Dog Research

RUN SURFACES

Gravel, sand, concrete, asphalt, and dirt are being used successfully as runway surfaces.

River Gravel can be used satisfactorily where ample drainage is present. Gravel lets parasite eggs and urine leach through and be washed away. Dogs on round river gravel appear to have fewer ascarids (roundworms) than dogs that are housed on concrete or any other type of surface, unless the surface has been sealed. On hot days dogs can and will usually dig down through a few inches of gravel into the cool layer underneath. When ample slope is provided for the efficient use of gravel runs, there is a tendency for the dogs to work the gravel from the highest end toward the low end. In some runs that are almost level, it is not unusual to see gravel piled a foot or more higher at each end than in the center; dogs running and turning sometime pile the rock in this manner. It is easy to pick up the dog droppings from gravel runs, sometime taking a little gravel with the droppings. Dogs may consume some gravel but in 36 years and with many thousands of dogs, we have only had one death in the Purina Dog Care Center that was directly attributable to gravel consumption. One pup swallowed a stone too large to pass through the pyloric sphincter or the passage from the stomach into the small intestine.

Sand is used in many kennels where there is good drainage through porous soils. Sand tends to be cool below the surface since it seldom dries very deep in dog runs. In the winter feces and urine tend to freeze to the sand and cleaning may become somewhat difficult. In non-freezing weather it is easy to clean sand runs, sometimes taking a little sand along with the droppings. It is necessary to add sand (or gravel) in the runs sometime to replace that removed during cleaning.

Dirt is used successfully in some kennels where the runs are large and long. Dogs usually dig holes and create low places in dirt runs where puddles form after rains; less digging occurs in large runs. Dirt runs are frequently unsanitary and do not appear to have a place with most kennels.

Asphalt has been used for kennel runs but it is generally unsatisfactory. Asphalt absorbs a lot of heat and becomes extremely hot in the direct sun on clear summer days. It also harbors worm eggs and is difficult to seal. Some asphalt that "weeps" in the summer may cause phenolic burns on the dog's skin.

Concrete is the surfacing of choice for most kennels; it has a low maintenance cost and looks attractive. The use of concrete permits droppings and urine to be washed into a gutter at the end of the runway where it can be flushed away. The pores in concrete are numerous and, unless sealed, harbor roundworm eggs and provide excellent conditions for the worms to mature and re-infest the dogs.

DRAINAGE

Concrete and other hard surfaced runs should contain a fall of $\frac{1}{8}$ " per foot. This amount of slope helps eliminate surface pockets in which water may be retained and the runs drain and dry rapidly. Cross drains at the end of the runs catch the droppings, urine, and wash water which is flushed into catching basins and on into sewers.

Inside pens can drain toward the center hallway or to the outside runs. A general plan incorporates both with pens having the highest floor level about $1\frac{1}{2}$ " from the door. (Pic. #1 — X Section Drawing) The portion next to the door drains to the outside and the remaining portion drains toward the hall. This arrangement helps keep the inside pens dry when blowing rain and wind forces some moisture into the inside pen.

Outside runs are usually $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2" below inside pen levels if the "dog" door extends to the floor. If a "rain barrier" or sill is used, then both surfaces should be the same level and the inside pen will by necessity flow toward the center hall.

CURBS

Curbs help prevent the spread of diseases that might be present by preventing urine from passing from one run to another and helps in keeping pens dry when washing runs. (Pic. #2 and #3 Curbs) that are 6" high are generally satisfactory for kennels in which the dog population is relatively constant. When boarding dogs it is generally desirable to increase the curb heights to 24-30". This prevents most male dogs from urinating into the next pen. This will help prevent the spread of Leptospirosis, a disease of dogs usually spread from dog to dog by urine contamination.

Curbs, instead of following the same slope of the runs, can be constructed on a level; this makes the installation of fence panels much easier and neater.

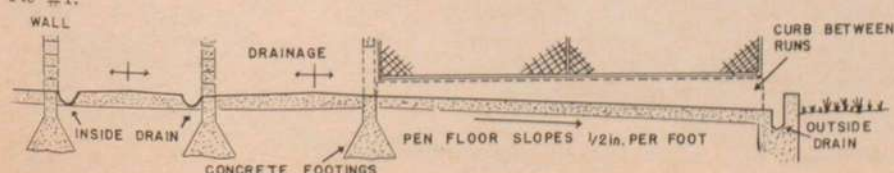

RUN SURFACE, TEXTURE AND SEALING
Concrete surfaces should be rough enough to prevent excessive slipping and sliding of dogs especially when the runs are wet. Broom finishing concrete applies a texture which generally creates a satisfactory surface.

FENCING

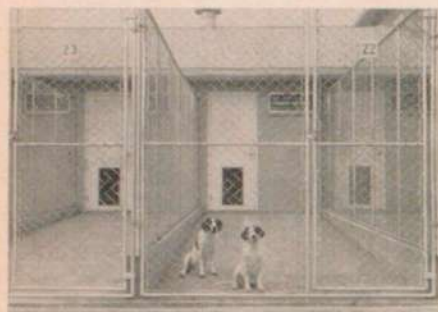

Kennel fencing can be simple or elaborate. (Pic. #4) In general chain-link-type fence with steel posts or panels produce one of the most attractive, long-lasting, relatively non-climbable fences.

Local conditions and construction labor can influence the type of fence that might be installed. Sometime chain-link fence with steel posts and fabricated gates are slightly less expensive than ready-built steel panels laced with chain-link wire and can be installed by local fencing contractors. Other times steel panels containing chain-link wire may be purchased from several companies at prices equal to or sometime much less than the installed fence, posts, and gates. Panel fences fabricated according to the kennel blueprints are ready for erection when they are delivered on the site. The makers of fence panels claim that kennel runs can be bolted together by unskilled workers at the new kennel in a matter of a few minutes per run. These claims are true and 40 complete pens each 7 x 20' were assembled in less than two days by workers performing this job for the first time.

Pic #4.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL

Droppings and other waste disposal in a kennel can present real problems. (Pic. #5 - Outside Drain) In some areas these waste products can be flushed down the drains into municipal sewers; in rural areas, the droppings can be flushed into sewage lagoons. Sewage lagoons are being used on farms for home and livestock sewage disposal and as municipal sewage disposal units in some small communities.

At the Purina Dog Care Center, a sewage lagoon for approximately 400 dogs has been in operation for over four years and is working very satisfactorily. (Pic. #6 - Sewage lagoon) During October, 1961 another lagoon was constructed and is now in operation for an additional 150 dogs.

Location: The sewage lagoon should be low enough to have good drainage from the kennel to the lagoon. It can be as close to the kennel as is desired. All surface drainage should be diverted around the lagoon by either a terrace or ditch.

Size: The size of the lagoon will vary with the number of dogs in the kennel.

The lagoon which has operated successfully at the Purina Dog Care Center for the past four years has provided almost 50 square feet of surface area per dog; it is not known exactly the minimum requirement for surface area per dog. A lagoon of 40 x 100' should take care of 80 dogs of all ages adequately.

Construction: The floor of the lagoon should be as level as possible. Avoid areas of gravel or limestone where seepage might be encountered. If the soil is porous, an artificial sealer may be necessary. The embankments should have about a 30° slope. It is a good practice to seed embankments above the water level to hold the banks and prevent soil erosion into the lagoon.

Depth: The water level will vary from 3' to 5'. It may be necessary to allow a certain amount of surface drainage into the lagoon temporarily to provide initial filling. The accumulation of solid material should always be covered with water.

Sewage Inlet: The pipe or tile that discharges sewage into the lagoon should be 6" in diameter and have enough slope towards the lagoon so that there will not be a build-up of solid material anywhere along it. The pipe does not rest directly on the floor of the lagoon, but should be set on concrete blocks 17-24" off the bottom. By constructing it in this fashion, solids won't build up at the end of the pipe.

Outlet or Overflow Pipe: The overflow pipe has a right angle elbow pointing towards the water. The water will not start to run until it is well up on the pipe and then siphoning action starts. Usually it will run until the water level is just below the pipe, thus lowering the water level 3-4". An overflow pipe of this kind eliminates the small, almost continual trickle that could come from a straight pipe if the lagoon collected too much water.

Maintenance: Little maintenance is needed if the lagoon has enough water area for the number of dogs. The solid material is broken down by bacterial action which starts a few days after the solid material first enters the lagoon. When cleaning is necessary, it can be done by the use of a liquid manure pump, an auger run at high speed, or the lagoon can be drained and the solids removed with a scraper after they have dried.

In winter low water temperatures may prevent efficient bacterial breakdown of sewage in northern climates, but spring warmth can hasten bacterial action.

If properly constructed there will be little odor from the lagoon and it should not be necessary to clean it more than every 10-15 years.

Mosquito Control: Mosquitoes can be a problem in lagoons. The Missouri Conservation Commission recommends a mixture of ½ diesel oil and ½ used motor oil for the control of the larvae in fish ponds. One pint of this mixture spread along the upwind edge of a 40' x 100' lagoon has effectively controlled the larvae in the Purina Dog Care Center lagoons without apparently affecting the bacterial decomposition.

Caution: If an excessive amount of disinfectant or detergent enters the lagoon, bacterial action may be slowed or even stopped. A small amount of these may not be harmful but the amount that drains into the lagoon should be kept to a minimum.

A fence should be erected around the lagoon to keep children, dogs or other animals out of it.

DOORS

Dog doors between inside pens and outside runs can be a source of constant worry. Good service can be obtained with simple swinging doors hinged from the top. If these doors are made of plywood, wood or fiberboard, it is necessary to trim the edges with sheet metal or the dogs will chew on them and make a ragged door. Some hanging rubber doors are fabricated with steel re-inforcing which discourages chewing by dogs. These rubber doors tend to expand and if fitted tightly in winter may have to be re-fitted in the summer.

Dog doors of other types include flexible shutter-type doors and a two-way door that is durable and relatively airtight. One of the most practical doors of this type contains a hard plastic door set in a cast aluminum outer shell. When the dog enters the pen only the plastic portion opens in. When the dog goes out, the plastic portion and the aluminum frame opens out. This makes a relatively airtight door which helps conserve heat in winter and is a necessity in air-conditioned kennels in the summer.

Guillotine doors are advantageous for restricting passage in and out of the kennel. These doors are simple to construct of plywood or masonite and can fit into sliding frames. Combination inserts are available which combine guillotine and swinging doors and make the construction of walls using this type of door relatively simple.

Top-hinged swinging doors of plywood, fiberboard, or fiberglass sometimes catch puppy tails and if they are close fitting can either cut or break the tail. This problem can be solved by cutting the door horizontally in half and placing a double action hinge on both halves of the door. Then if a puppy's tail is caught, no harm can be done.

Inside pen doors between halls and inside pens can be fabricated locally or purchased from manufacturers of fence panels and gates. These gates, like those at the outer end of the run, should have well-made catches that prevent them from being opened by jumping or extremely intelligent dogs, yet enable a person working in the pen to open them.

WATER

Dogs need fresh, clean water. Ample water can be provided by the use of pails, drip valves, and automatic watering devices.

Pails offer simplicity and freedom from plumbing troubles. With pails it is easy to estimate or measure the water consumption of dogs; pails set in rings mounted on the wall are used in many laboratories and kennels where it is necessary to measure water intake. Pails generally require a lot of time for the collecting, washing, refilling and return to the pens.

Two different types of drip waterers are used in dog kennels. One operates on low pressure and is regulated so that a small constant drip of water continually seeps out of an opening in a pipe. The dog can lick water from the pipe or perhaps drink from a pail or dish placed below the drip. The other type of drip waterer operates on the normal pressure system. A valve with a projection hanging down is activated when the dog's muzzle moves the projection in any direction. Water is released and the dogs can obtain part of the water. Both systems keep pens damp and are not generally recommended.

Automatic watering devices are numerous and any of several systems can be used for dogs. Some kennels use a "thru-flow" system which lets water enter a waterer at a slow rate and the unconsumed excess flows on out through an overflow tube. These can be made of concrete and are relatively trouble-free but do tend to keep the pens damp, especially if the dog kicks litter into the bowl and the overflow becomes plugged.

Stock waterers such as those used for swine are very satisfactory for dog pens but most of them are relatively bulky; some are expensive but in general they work well. An inexpensive efficient waterer for kennels is an adaptation of a poultry waterer mounted in a wall bracket. This operates on normal city water pressures (20-60 lbs.) and is easy to keep clean. The inside bowl can be picked up, washed, rinsed, disinfected, and replaced rapidly.

FEEDERS

Feeders can save a lot of time if well planned.

Dry feeders of either the hanging type or wall type enable enough feed to be added to pens to last the dogs several days. Hanging feeders permit dogs to eat from all sides and are advantageous in multiple housing of dogs. Shy and aggressive dogs can eat from both sides of hanging feeders, sometimes shy dogs will be kept from feeders when there is only one feeding space. This can be prevented by using two feeders, two pans, or a hanging feeder.

heart surgery in dogs

BY J. HAROLD REED, D.V.M.

Associate Professor, Dept. of Medicine & Surgery, O.V.C.

Heart surgery in dogs is being performed by many veterinarians. The type of surgery is, by comparison with human surgery, rather simple but as each year goes by more and more operations are done. This is made possible, in part, by the development of less expensive equipment and, in part, by the improved surgical training of the veterinarian. This is not to say that open heart surgery is performed routinely in dogs. It is not, except perhaps at research institutions during the course of a research project to develop new techniques for use in humans.

An example of the development of heart surgery in dogs is the perfection of operations to remove heartworms from dogs. This parasite is frequently found in dogs living in the Southern United States and operations to remove the worms from dogs' hearts are done in many veterinary hospitals in endemic areas.

The increasing scope of veterinary education is also leading to the recognition of many heart diseases that can be treated surgically. Of these, the congenital heart diseases are most common. Dogs suffer from many of the heart defects that humans suffer and a few of these can be corrected by comparatively simple and inexpensive operations. Unfortunately, only a few dogs ever receive medical aid in time to benefit from it. Probably many pups die of heart disease without anyone knowing why. Others are presented for treatment but too late for surgery to be effective. Then, there is a group of complicated heart defects that necessitate complex diagnostic tests, expensive equipment and highly specialized human skills to correct them. Perhaps such heart defects are best not treated for undoubtedly the propagation of animals with such physical deficiencies can only lead to more of their kind. Certainly, few veterinary hospitals will ever be equipped to diagnose and treat these complex heart diseases for the cost of equipment, alone, is staggering.

The congenital heart diseases that can be easily corrected are: Pulmonary Stenosis, Patent Ductus Arteriosus and Persistent Right Aortic Arch. A brief description of these diseases may help in their recognition. Generally, dogs with severe congenital heart disease will be thin and rather weak. There are two general divisions. Some defects result in cyanosis, that is, a lack of oxygen in the blood, leading to blueness of the membranes, while other diseases do not. A Pulmonary Stenosis (obstruction of blood flow to the lungs) is characterized by a typical heart murmur, cyanosis and poor exercise tolerance. An affected dog will collapse occasionally.

A Patent Ductus Arteriosus will affect a dog by causing fainting periods. The membranes are not blue but a typical heart sound is present.

The final outcome of these two heart defects depends on the severity of the handicap they place on the heart.

If only a small handicap is present, then a dog with Pulmonary Stenosis or Patent Ductus Arteriosus might well live a normal life. If the handicap is great, then the dog's heart will fail early in life, perhaps even at one year of age. Surgical treatment of course will prevent the premature death of such animals.

A Persistent Right Aortic Arch is different, in that the heart action is normal but the great vessels at the base of the heart are in the wrong position. This causes an obstruction of the esophagus. The affected dog vomits. Vomiting usually begins about the time the pup begins to eat solid food. A cure can only be achieved by opening the chest and dividing the obstructing vessel, so that food can pass freely to the stomach. Without surgery, such a dog would surely starve to death.

In conclusion, there are a number of heart diseases of dogs which can be treated surgically. Some veterinary hospitals are equipped to do heart surgery, but it is doubtful if the exotic type of heart surgery done on humans will ever be performed on dogs.

NEW PRODUCTS

As a result of years of research, Purina announced in their Kennel News that they are marketing a new Purina dog meal. Dr. Jim Corbin, head of Purina's Dog Research, said "this product was developed to provide extra strength and stamina for dogs with high energy requirements. New Purina Dog Meal is fortified with the high protein and calorie power needed to keep hard hunting or working dogs in top condition . . . is the ideal ration to serve puppies." Within weeks it will go on sale in Purina dealerships in Ontario, Quebec and Maritimes.

WESTMINSTER BIS JUDGE

Len Carey, Honolulu advertising executive, will judge BIS at the Westminster Kennel Club dog show, Madison Square Garden, NYC, February 10-11. He replaces Francis F. H. Fleitmann who had been announced but who is confined to a hospital in Switzerland. Mr. Carey is licensed by the AKC to judge all of the Working breeds and a half dozen of the Terrier breeds. Another change in the judging panel has been made necessary because of illness. Charles H. Werber, Jr., New York, is now scheduled to judge Scottish Terriers.

Ch. (1960) Smudge Pitch is sent to retrieve by owner Cliff Hunt, Grimsby.

The fourteenth Canadian National Retriever Trial Stake was held on October 4, 5 and 6 in the Pitt Meadows and Haney area just east of Vancouver, B.C. and hosted by the B.C. Gun Dog Club.

The judges were: Mr. L. M. Roberts, Willowdale, Ont., Mr. Gordon Bryce, Winnipeg, Man., Mr. Jack Smyth, North Vancouver, B.C.

Thirty dogs were entered and there were no scratches. There was one dog from Quebec, 14 from British Columbia, three from Alberta, one from Saskatchewan, two from Manitoba, six from Ontario and three from the United States.

It was a lovely sunny morning as the large caravan of cars wound its way up the highway from trial headquarters at the Leon Hotel in Port Moody to Colonel Wallace's beautiful Minnekada estate on the banks of the Pitt River.

FIRST SERIES

The first series was a double pheasant mark in a field with cover of moderate depth and a blind being planted by the farthest thrower as the dog was returning with his last marked bird. The right mark was approximately 40 yards, the left mark 100 yards, and the blind about 110 yards down the middle.

Four dogs were dropped. These were F.T. Ch. Country Club's Juneau, owned and handled by Jim Powers, Port Coquitlam, B.C.; F.T. Ch. Carmoney Billy Jo, owned and handled by Charles L. Bjork, Calgary, Alta.; Black Mike of Lakewood, owned and handled by Andrew Pruitt, Tacoma, Wash.; and Erin O'Moore, owned and handled by Gene Moore, Seattle, Wash. This left 26 dogs.

SECOND SERIES

It was a pheasant mark about 25 yards over a ditch with a blind approximately 100 yards to the left. As the dogs were returning over the ditch from the mark a diversion shot was fired. Only a few dogs took a good line to the blind and many were drawn over towards the mark and had several whistles to get them over to the blind.

There were three dogs not called back and these were Joey of Country Club owned and handled by Pat Crammond, North Vancouver, B.C.; F.T. Ch. Cowman's Black Atom, owned and handled by Robert A. White, Vancouver, B.C.; Green Timber's Jewel, owned and handled by Mr. William Jamieson, Port Moody, B.C.

There were only two series this day as it was getting quite late. Twenty-three dogs were still in competition.

The second day of the trial was held at the Sturgeon Slough Game Club, situate near the easterly end of Pitt Lake.

THIRD SERIES

It was a water blind of about 75 yards. There was a gunner in a boat as a diversion on the left. The dogs had to be handled past a small point of brush to the blind which was beyond this in heavy tullies on the shore. Some handlers let their dogs get onto this little point with the result that they ran the bank and out of sight.

The following nine dogs were not called back — Sunny Knoll Gold Pilot, the only Golden Retriever in the trial and owned and handled by Mrs. Pauline Ouimet of Westmount, Que., the only woman competitor; F.T. Ch. General Brock of (Explanatory notes: Commencing in 1951 adjustments were made in the rates on which the Club was charged with certain items. For example, in 1950 and previous years the Club was charged one full operational item for each notice of transfer of ownership which the Live Stock Records Office sent to the Secretary, but in 1951 the charge was decreased to 1/4 item per notice; thus, while there were 3,644 transfer notices in 1951, we were charged with 911 operational items. The charge for such notices was decreased to 1/6 item in 1953. The Club is charged at the rate of 1/2 operational item for each re-issued certificate of registration. The Secretary is provided with a carbon copy of each certificate issued for dogs individually registered in the Club's records. Previous to 1953 the charge was 1/4 item for each such copy; but this charge was decreased to 1/6 item in 1953. Previous to 1955 the Club was charged 1/3 item for recording an agreement re conditional sale of a dog; this was changed to 1/2 item in 1955. Each extended pedigree issued by the Records Office is charged to the Club at 2 items. Commencing with 1958 the Club was charged at the rate of 1/2 item for each Import Certificate issued by the Records Office. The issuance of litter kits commenced in 1959 and the Club was charged at the rate of 1/6 item for each such kit in addition to 1/10 item for the litter certificate included in the litter kit. The additional charge to the Club for the issuance of a litter kit was reduced from 1/6 item to 1/10 item in 1960. Previous to 1955 the Club was charged at the rate of two items for the posting of a title on the records at Ottawa; this was reduced to 1 item in 1955. In 1960 the charge for Secretary's duplicate copy of registrations was reduced from 1/6 item to 1/10 item; however, the Club ceased to obtain these copies, and also Secretary's transfer copies in March, 1960, hence a considerable reduction in the number of these items charged against the Club in 1960.)

MINUTES OF BOARD MEETING

SUBJECT: Mrs. Mack:

- (1) reported that she had been asked by Mr. Okill Stuart, Quebec Field Trial Representative for Beagles, to point out that contrary to what is stated in paragraph (6) immediately preceding motion #419-63, he had not made any recommendations in his letter of July 2nd with regard to the appointment of Official Measurers but had merely reported on the appointments made in 1960.
- (2) reported that Mr. Stuart had intimated that he would submit recommendations.

DISCUSSION: During a discussion which followed Mrs. Joel, Chairman of the Field Trial Council for Beagles reported that:

- (1) Mr. Stuart had raised this question at the meeting of the Field Trial Council for Beagles held on December 8th at which time he had stated that he wished to substitute other names for some of those appointed as official measurers in Quebec by the Board at its meeting on October 16th;
- (2) at that time she had informed Mr. Stuart that on receipt of the names of those he wished appointed she would be pleased to refer his request to the Board;
- (3) previous to the Board meeting held on October 16th she had written all Beagle Field Trial Representatives seeking their recommendations with regard to the appointment of Official Measurers, and she had interpreted Mr. Stuart's reply of July 2nd as being in response to her request for recommendations.

GOOD & WELFARE

14 G 15. FELLOWSHIPS

REPORT: The Secretary:

- (1) reported that, in accordance with resolution #451-63, he had written all members of the Board with regard to the recommendation of the national Board that another $500 be added to the existing fund in order that research would be continued with regard to the preservation and storage of dog semen;
- (2) read letters from Mr. Williams and Mr. Wells, who were of the opinion that this matter should be referred to the annual meeting of the Board;
- (3) read letters from Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Little, and Mr. Mac-Killop, who were in favour of an addition $500 being provided.

DISCUSSION: Mr. Brown expressed the opinion that little was to be gained by discontinuing the research at this point, and pointed out that, having in mind the unanimous adoption of motion #451-63 and the response from members of the Board by letter, the majority of the Board favour the remittance of the additional $500 to the Ontario Veterinary College.

MOTION #489-63

Moved by Mr. Brown, seconded by Mrs. Joel:

"THAT, in view of the majority vote, a further $500 be remitted to the Ontario Veterinary College in order that this research may continue."

REGISTRATION, STUD BOOKS & RELATED MATTERS

7 R 10. BREED STANDARDS

REPORT: The Secretary read the following report (dated November 26th) received from Mrs. J. W. Anderson, Chairman of the Breed Standards Committee:

During the past few months the Breed Standards Committee has received letters and verbal requests that CKC adopt some uniform policy regarding Breed Standards.

As there seemed to be merit in these requests the Breed Standards Committee requested Mr. N. F. Brown to write to Mr. Neff, of the AKC, to find out what, if any, policy the AKC had adopted.

The answer from Mr. Neff, coupled with the Breed Standards Committee's own deliberations has resulted in the following report being compiled.

The Breed Standards Committee respectfully recommend the following policy for CKC.

- The revision of a breed standard must be undertaken by the breed club(s).
 - it must be passed by at least a two-thirds majority of the breed club(s) members.
 - it must be edited by the CKC Breed Standards Committee.
 - any changes the Breed Standards Committee suggest must be referred to the breed club(s) for ratification.
 - before the adoption by CKC of the revised standard it must be published in "Dogs in Canada".
- CKC should standardize the format of breed standards.
 - length (approx.) of standard.
 - paragraph headings and sub headings.
 - suggestions regarding terminology.
- CKC should not allow standards to be changed so that height and/or weight be a subject for disqualification.
- There should be a minimum of interference by CKC regarding the intent of a breed standard.

- No new breed should be recognized by CKC unless registered with The Kennel Club (England), or the AKC.
 - Those breeds registered with a kennel club recognized by CKC (other than The Kennel Club or AKC) must have a minimum of fifty registered dogs, the property of a minimum of ten owners, before CKC will publish a breed standard, or accommodate the breed at shows or trials.
 - A miscellaneous class might be considered.
- When a club is formed for a new breed it shall be considered the parent club. As far as possible the CKC will deal with the parent club regarding standards.

Memo: It is realized by the Breed Standards Committee that in certain well-established breeds there are many breed clubs. Therefore there is no parent club for CKC to deal with. In these cases when a standard revision is undertaken it will be necessary for CKC to deal with all the breed clubs.

It is the Breed Standards Committee's opinion that CKC should not encourage the revision of standards.

The members of the Breed Standards Committee would be pleased if breed standards in Canada do not differ much from the standards in use in Great Britain, and the United States of America. They can see much merit in an international agreement regarding breed standards.

DISCUSSION: During a discussion it was agreed that Mrs. Anderson's report for the most part dealt with policy and that therefore the report should be submitted to the annual meeting of the Board.

MOTION #455-63

Moved by Mr. Brown, seconded by Mr. McDermont:
"THAT, this matter be referred to the annual meeting of the Board."
Motion carried unanimously.

7 R 24. KENNEL NAMES

REPORT: The Secretary pointed out that in a report to the Board dated December 5, 1963 the Kennel Names Committee had:

- considered the application of Mrs. Keith Baisdon for registration of the kennel name WINDEMERE and had noted that there is at present registered with the Club the kennel name WINDERMERE. The Committee recommends that Mrs. Baisdon's selection of WINDEMERE (one word) be not approved but her second choice WINDE MERE (two words) be approved if no objection is received from the person who had registered the kennel name WINDERMERE;
- recommended that the objection of Mrs. G. Devine (BONGA) to the application for registration of the name BON GAI (second choice of Mr. & Mrs. R. J. Wakfer) be sustained;
- recommended that the objection of Dr. C. Elizabeth & Miss Eleanor C. Mahaffy for registration of ELIZMAH be not approved on the grounds of its phonetic similarity to the kennel name ELIZMAR registered with The Kennel Club, England, and that the third choice NORWISIA be published in the official magazine;
- agreed with the view of the Club's Registrar and recommended that the application of Mr. Harry W. Hayter for registration of LADY MARGARET be refused. The Committee also recommended that his third choice WINSTONIA be not approved on the grounds of its phonetic similarity to the kennel name WISTONIA registered with The Kennel Club, England and the kennel name WILSONIA already registered with this Club;
- agreed with the view of the Club's Registrar that the application of Mrs. Mary J. Vosper for registration of GIDGETTE as a kennel name be not approved (that being a name commonly used in the naming of dogs) and recommends the rejection of Mrs. Vosper's third choice ACE-HI on the grounds of its phonetic similarity to the kennel name ACE-HIGH which is already registered in the Club's records;
- recommended that the objection of Mr. Osmanchenko (DONDEL'S) to the application of Miss Edith C. McConnell for registration of RONDEL be sustained and that, if there is no objection within the time limit to either of Miss McConnell's second or third selections then either one be granted;
- recommended that the objection of Dr. B. D. Jaffey (HEATHER RIDGE) to the application of Mr. & Mrs. David Kaplan for registration of HEATHERCROFT be not sustained;
- considered the letter from Mr. A. E. Row requesting a change in his registered kennel name from RO-DANE to ROW-DANE. In 1952 the application for registration of RO-DANE, submitted by Mr. Row, was approved and the Committee recommended that Mr. Row be permitted to submit a new application and a new fee, after which the application would be published and the decision rendered after the expiration of the deadline for objections.

MOTION #456-63

Moved by Mrs. Joel, seconded by Mrs. Mack:
"THAT, the recommendations of the Kennel Names Committee be approved and implemented except for any recommendation to which the Secretary receives, before December 21st, an objection from any member of the Board."
Motion carried unanimously.

7 R 25. REGISTRATION COMMITTEE

REPORT: The Secretary reported that the Committee had:

- authorized the recording of transfer of ownership of the Pomeranian LOR-AL-MAR'S LITTLE MISS CUTIE (392512) from the name of Don McKenzie, Port Colborne, Ontario, to the name of Mrs. Marie Armstrong, Dunnville, Ontario;
- declined to authorize the registration of the German Shepherd Dog BRUNO LAZO DEL PLATA, registered with the Asociacion Argentina de Criadores de Perros Ovejeros Alemanes (ACOA), imported to Canada by Mrs. Donald M. DOG SHOWS

11 D 1. JUDGES

REPORT: The Secretary:

- (1) read a letter (dated November 27th) received from Mr. W. G. Spilstead, Hurtsville, N.S.W., Australia, reporting that he had been invited to judge at the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association championship shows to be held May 8th and 9th, and seeking recognition as a judge of all breeds;
- (2) read a letter from the R. A. S. Kennel Club, Sydney, Australia, advising that Mr. Spilstead is an "Official All Breeds Judge in Australia";
- (3) reported that Mr. Spilstead's letter had referred to judging engagements in the United States, and he had therefore sought information from The American Kennel Club, their reply advising that Mr. Spilstead is currently eligible to judge all breeds except for ten breeds rarely seen at shows in Canada.

MOTION #479-63

Moved by Mr. Brown, seconded by Mrs. Mack:

"THAT, Mr. W. G. Spilstead be considered eligible for approval to judge all breeds."

Motion carried unanimously.

SUBJECT: The Secretary sought a ruling on whether, as Rule #4 in the Sanction Show Rules reads, it is necessary for a club holding a sanction show to secure C.K.C. approval of its selected judges.

ACTION: The question was referred to the annual meeting of the Board.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter (dated December 11th) from Mr. MacKillop suggesting that immediate steps be taken to discontinue the oral examination in connection with those seeking to establish eligibility to judge one or more breeds.

ACTION: The question was referred to the annual meeting of the Board.

11 D 25. DATES

SUBJECT: The Secretary:

- (1) reported that the United Kennel Club Inc., formerly the Ladies' Kennel Club of Canada Inc., had applied for permission to hold championship shows and licensed obedience trials under the Club's rules;
- (2) because the new name of the Club may cause confusion, there being a United Kennel Club in the United States, he had taken the matter up with the Director for Quebec;
- (3) read a letter from the Honorary Secretary of the United Kennel Club Inc. who reported that the change of name had been approved by the Secretary of State for Canada and who pointed out the difficulties which may be experienced if now requested or required by The Canadian Kennel Club to select another name.

ACTION: It was agreed that the applications received from the United Kennel Club Inc. would be processed in the usual way.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada who enquired whether The Canadian Kennel Club would be prepared to approve a proposal, now receiving their consideration, to hold an "International German Shepherd Dog Club Show" in the fall of 1964, at a border city such as Buffalo, Detroit, or Rochester, the show to be recognized by both The Canadian Kennel Club and The American Kennel Club.

ACTION: The Secretary was instructed to inform the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada that the policy of The Canadian Kennel Club must be that it will not grant permission for the holding of a show or trial under its rules if such show or trial is to be held in the United States.

REPORT: The Office Manager reported on correspondence with the Barrie Kennel Club in respect of its application (not approved) for permission to hold a sanction show on January 26th (a date previously granted to the All Terrier Club of Canada), and read a letter (dated December 9th) in which the Barrie Kennel Club asked that the following dates be reserved, for sanction show purposes, in its name: November 22nd, November 29th, and December 6th, 1964, and January 16th, January 23rd, and January 30th, 1965.

DISCUSSION: During a discussion which followed:

- (1) the Secretary stated that it had been the practice to withhold approval on a sanction show date (for a show in Ontario) until four months in advance, it being felt that it would be best to hold dates available for championship shows as these were of more importance;
- (2) the Office Manager stated that until this year he had experienced little difficulty in finding suitable dates for sanction shows in Ontario;
- (3) it was agreed that as much as possible every club in Ontario should have an opportunity to reserve a suitable date for sanction show purposes, even if to accomplish this it meant restricting each club to one sanction show per season.

MOTION #480-63

Moved by Mrs. Joel, seconded by Mr. Mehlenbacher:

"THAT, sanction show dates in Ontario be not granted more than four months in advance, and only one date be granted at a time, and no application for sanction show date in Ontario be considered if submitted more than six months in advance."

Motion carried unanimously.

11 D 42. JUNIOR SHOW COMPETITIONS AND JUNIOR KENNEL CLUBS

REPORT: The Secretary read a letter (dated December 11th) from Mrs. Elsie Murray, Chairman of a special committee appointed at the last annual general meeting, to which letter Mrs. Murray had attached suggested "junior kennel club rules".

MOTION #481-63

Moved by Mr. Blyth, seconded by Mr. Mehlenbacher:

"THAT, this report be referred to the annual meeting of the Board."

Motion carried unanimously.

11 D 70. INTERPRETATIONS

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from Mrs. Susan R. Fraser, Toronto, seeking a ruling on whether a particular dog is considered Canadian-bred. Mrs. Fraser having provided the following information about the dam of the dog in question: Dam registered in the records of The Canadian Kennel Club as the property of Mrs. Fraser at time of service; dam registered in records of The American Kennel Club, at time of service, as joint property of Mrs. Fraser and Bel Tor Kennels (Conn.); litter whelped in the United States and all registered individually in the records of The American Kennel Club.

ACTION: It was agreed that inasmuch as the dam of the dog in question was not wholly Canadian-owned at time of service, the particular dog referred to by Mrs. Fraser is not considered Canadian-bred.

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

12 OB 8. REPORT OF CHAIRMAN OF OBEDIENCE COUNCIL

REPORT: Mr. Mehlenbacher, Chairman of the Obedience Council:

- (1) pointed out that at the last meeting of the Board it had endorsed his selection of the following as a special committee to review the tracking test rules: Mr. Warren Parkinson (Chairman), Mr. Walter Konradt, Mr. David White, Mr. Gerald Charter;
- (2) reported that this committee had held three meetings, it had reviewed all of the replies received in connection with the proposed tracking test rules published in the July issue of "Dogs in Canada", and it had prepared its suggested tracking test rules;
- (3) suggested that the committee's draft be published in "Dogs in Canada" in the hope that at its annual meeting in February the Board of Directors may be in a position to adopt new tracking test rules governing 1964 tracking tests;
- (4) paid tribute to the time and effort of the special committee, particularly its Chairman, Mr. Parkinson.

DISCUSSION: During a discussion which followed:

- (1) the Secretary pointed out that the deadline for the publication of official business in the January issue of "Dogs in Canada" was such as to rule out the possibility of publishing the committee's draft in the January issue, and pointed out that if the material is published in the February issue it would hardly reach all interested clubs and individuals in time for them to have an opportunity of considering the material and submitting their views, criticisms and comments in time for consideration by the Board at its annual meeting in February;
- (2) it was agreed that it was highly desirable that the Board deal with these proposed new tracking test rules at its annual meeting and that the only alternative would be a mail distribution of the committee's report.

MOTION #482-63

Moved by Mr. Brown, seconded by Mr. Blyth:

"THAT, a copy of the Committee's recommendations be forwarded to all Obedience Representatives and all clubs holding obedience trials and tracking tests, with a request that their views, suggestions and criticisms be addressed to the Chairman of the Obedience Council so as to be received by February 10, 1964."

Motion carried unanimously.

MOTION #483-63

Moved by Mr. Mehlenbacher, seconded by Mr. Brown:

"THAT, a message of appreciation be addressed to the members of this Special Committee, especially its Chairman (Mr. Warren Parkinson), for the work already accomplished on this project."

Motion carried unanimously.

13 FT 29. FIELD TRIALS FOR BEAGLES

REPORT: Mrs. Edna Joel, Chairman of the Field Trial Council for Beagles, read (as a report to the Board) the following minutes of a meeting of the Field Trial Council for Beagles held on December 8, 1963:

A meeting of the Field Trial Council for Beagles was held at the offices of The Canadian Kennel Club, Toronto, Ontario, on Sunday, December 8, 1963, with the following members of the Council present: Mrs. Edna I. Joel (Chairman), Mr. Okill Stuart, Mr. Hardie B. Brown, Mr. Ray Yearwood, Mr. Robert Youngman.

The Chairman pointed out that at the Council's last meeting, held on June 30th, the Council had then decided on a number of proposed amendments to the Field Trial Rules for Beagles, on the understanding that Beagle field trial clubs would be informed of these proposed amendments, their comments and reaction would be sought, and if the majority reaction was such as to indicate that a majority of those replying were in favour of the amendment, the Chairman of the Council would place these before the semi-annual meeting of the Board held in August, and seek ratification of these amendments by the Board on the understanding that these amendments would become effective on January 1, 1964.

For the Council's information, the Chairman read the following letters received from Clubs and individuals in response to the distribution of the minutes of the Council meeting held on June 30th:

Letter from Wentworth Beagle Club, dated August 11th;
Letter from the Atlantic Beagle Club, dated August 7th;
Letter from the United Counties Beagle Club, dated August 14th;
Letter from Frontier Beagle Club, dated August 14th;
Letter from Thames Valley Beagle Club, dated August 12th;
Letter from Central Ontario Beagle Club, dated August 6th;
Letter from Bluenose Hare Club, dated August 5th;
Letter from Elgin County Beagle Club, dated August 6th;
Letter from TA-I-O Beagle Club, dated August 5th;
Letter from the Cornwall Beagle Club, dated July 24th;
Letter from the Highland Creek Beagle Club, dated August 7th;
Letters from Robert Youngman, dated July 2nd and July 27th; Letter from G. Warren Anderson (F. T. Representative for Nova Scotia) dated August 6th; also a letter from the Lachute Beagle Club, dated September 26th, received after the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

The Council agreed that, in view of the letters received the Chairman was quite justified in seeking ratification at the Board's semi-annual meeting of the proposed amendments discussed at the previous Council meeting.

A letter dated November 18, 1963, addressed to the Secretary-Treasurer by Mr. D. H. Duff, C. K. C. Director for Newfoundland and Nova Scotia, was read.

The Council agreed that official measurers appointed by the Board are appointed only for the purpose of measuring Beagles whose owners have applied for official determination of height and the issuance of an Official Measurement Certificate. These official measurers are not to be considered the persons who measure dogs at each individual field trial, for it is the responsibility of each field trial club to appoint their own measurers for the purpose of their own trials. Likewise, the official measurers appointed by the Board are not, so far as the Council is concerned, appointed for any purpose but the official determination of height of Beagle hounds to be entered in licensed Beagle field trials.

The Council agreed that the following should be the procedure followed when a Beagle is measured:

The measuring gauge shall be loosely placed across the shoulder blades at the highest point. The dog must stand in a natural position with his feet under him on a level, non-slippery surface. Height is determined by a line perpendicular to the ground from the highest point of the shoulder blades, the dog standing naturally with the four legs and lower hind legs parallel to the line of measurement.

The Council agreed that it would recommend to the Board of Directors that all measuring standards owned and/or used for measuring at field trials, be sent to The Canadian Kennel Club for official approval, and if approved, embossed with a C. K. C. approval stamp. They suggest that no sawtooth blade be allowed on official measuring standards, and that the drop bar must be free-moving. (Note provisions of the fifth paragraph in Rule 4 in Section 1 of Chapter 13).

The Chairman of the Council reported that one Beagle club had applied for priority rights on three sets of dates in a calendar year and another had applied for two sets of dates. The Council agreed, and will recommend to the Board, that priority rights be not granted to any Beagle field trial club for more than one field trial per calendar year, and this regardless of the type of trial it holds. It is the feeling of the Council that to grant more than one set of priority rights to any individual Beagle club may, as more and more Beagle clubs come into being, create difficulties in the grant of suitable dates to Beagle Clubs.

The Chairman read letters dated September 19th and November 26th from Mr. B. L. Yearwood, Field Trial Representative for Ontario (Pack), reporting on the apprenticeship of Mr. Ernest Youngman, Mr. Gerry Heffernan, and Mr. Maurice Hamel, in connection with the applications of these gentlemen to establish eligibility to judge pack trials for Beagles. It was unanimously agreed that at the next meeting of the Board the Chairman would recommend that the Board authorize the placing of the names of these gentlemen on the list of approved judges for pack trials for Beagles.

It was agreed that the Chairman would report to the Board at its next meeting that she had not received replies to letters addressed to Mr. Wm. Trevena, Ontario Field Trial Representative for Beagles (Brace), nor had any reports been received of any trials which Mr. Trevena may have attended this year in his capacity as a Field Trial Representative.

The Chairman sought the views of the Council on a question raised by the Secretary as to the meaning of the words "officially measured" in Chapter 14, Rule 2, Section 1 of the Field Trial Rules. It was unanimously agreed that before a decision is reached on whether or not a dog has attained Field Trial Championship status, having competed in both height divisions, then the owner would have to apply for an Official Measurement Certificate and the dog would have to be officially measured, as provided in the Field Trial Rules.

The Council unanimously agreed that the sworn declaration provision on the application for official measurement should be dispensed with, and asks that the Board take appropriate action to eliminate that requirement. The Council feels that since a dog must now be officially measured by three official measurers, the sworn declaration is no longer necessary. It is also suggested that a supply of applications for official measurement be supplied to Field Trial Representatives for Beagles.

The Council approved the suggested outline of a procedure to be followed in connection with a person seeking to establish eligibility to judge brace or pack trials, and the Chairman is to recommend that this procedure be approved at the next meeting of the Board, along with the application to establish eligibility to judge at a Beagle field trial.

Discussion followed as to the proper interpretation of Rule 8 in Chapter 13. It was agreed that the Chairman would seek to get an official interpretation of that Rule, and here attention was drawn to the provisions of paragraph "F" in the "Additional Standard Procedure for Beagle Field Trials Run in Large Packs on Hare" as it appears in the A.K.C. Beagle Field Trial Rules.

Samples of suggested written examination papers to be taken by those applying to establish eligibility to judge pack trials were presented by members of the Council. The Chairman was authorized to refer these to the Secretary, with a view to having two separate examination papers prepared for future use.

It was agreed that the suggested procedure in connection with applicants, that the arrangements for the written examination would be made by the F.T.R. or, if the F.T.R. could not personally supervise the writing of the examination, this would be under the supervision of the C. K. C. Secretary, or any person whom the F. T. R. might appoint for the purpose. (Change Section 11 of the procedure to carry out this requirement).

The Council reviewed a list of approved judges and authorized the Chairman to ascertain when a number of these judges had last officiated, the list to be reviewed at the next Council meeting. The Council discussed the possibility of having removed a number who are no longer active in connection with Beagle field trials. It was suggested that anyone who had not been active as a judge within the last three years should be removed. This question will be reviewed at the Council's next meeting, after the Chairman has obtained the information desired by the Council.

The Council discussed the standard premium list as approved by the Board at its semi-annual meeting, and agreed that rather than a casting time it would be preferable to give the time at which entries close. In addition, a sample of this standard premium list should then be forwarded to all Beagle field trial clubs for their guidance.

The Council unanimously agreed that it should recommend to the Board that no person may seek to establish eligibility to judge Beagle field trials who is under 21 years of age at time of application.

The Council unanimously decided to recommend to the Board that a newly-formed Beagle club must be required to run two sanction trials before it is granted permission to run a licensed trial. For each of the two sanction trials it must send out a premium list, it must measure hounds correctly, it must arrange for a properly-marked judge's book, it must use marshals, etc.; in short, a full dress rehearsal for a licensed trial (except no championship points given) is considered highly desirable in order that a club may be better equipped to run a licensed trial.

Having regard for Section 17 of the procedure which apprentices will follow, the Council agreed that a particular type of judge's book must be used by apprentice judges. An example was the "Kasco" book used for hare trials, although a separate type of book would be required for brace trials.

DISCUSSION: The Board discussed that section of the report recommending that all measuring standards owned and/or used for measuring at field trials be submitted to The Canadian Kennel Club for official approval.

MOTION #485-63

Moved by Mr. Blyth, seconded by Mr. McDerment:
"THAT, we endorse the recommendation of the Council re submission of measuring standards for C. K. C. approval."

Motion carried unanimously.

DISCUSSION: The Board discussed that section of the report dealing with applications for priority rights on dates for Beagle field trials.

MOTION #486-63

Moved by Mr. Mehlenbacher, seconded by Mr. Brown:

Moved by Mr. Blyth, seconded by Mr. Mehlenbacher:
"THAT, Messrs. Ernest Youngman, Gerald Heffernan and Maurice Hamel be added to the list of approved judges for Beagle field trials (pack)."

Moved by Mr. Brown, seconded by Mr. Blyth:
"THAT, the remaining parts of the Chairman's report be referred to the annual meeting of the Board."

There were no dogs dropped.

SIXTH SERIES

This was a water test. This was a triple with one bird along the shore about 20 yards to the left, one diagonally across a large pond and up a bank about 100 yards and a short one in front about four yards in among decoys. The difficult bird seemed to be the long one and quite a few dogs swam across and turned to the right of the gunners instead of left and had to be handled to the area of the fall.

By the time the last dog had run it was raining very hard and the wind was blowing. This was the last test of the second day of the trial.

There were no dogs dropped.

The third day of the trial began in a field about 10 miles east of Haney.

SEVENTH SERIES

This was a land test with a short diversion bird which was not to be retrieved and a blind at about 45° angle, 160 yards up a slope. Only two dogs, F.T. Ch. Tar Baby's Little Sweet Stuff and F.T. Ch. Irwin's Toby took a direct line to the bird without any handling.

After this series, the following three dogs were dropped — Int. F.T. Ch. and N. Ch. 58 Sinsler's Bulldozer of Crevamoy, owned by Evelyn Sinsler and handled by Bill Sinsler, North Burnaby, B.C.; F.T. The Law And You as A Dog Owner

by Eugene W. V. Scott

It would appear that few dog owners are clear on their responsibilities and liabilities in connection with the ownership of a dog or dogs.

Apart from municipal by-laws providing for taxation and prohibiting dogs from running at large, few dog owners have much to do with the law in connection with their pets.

In the search for the law on this subject, one is amazed at the development of the law as there are so many cases in connection with horses and cattle but so few in connection with pets.

Animals have been classed as ferocious, dangerous, mischievous and harmless. The first are of wild nature and the last of tame and gentle disposition, either naturally so or because they have been tamed subservient to the use of man. The law varies considerably because it may be lawful to keep and use, for the purpose of gain or amusement, certain wild animals such as bears and monkeys, but the onus is then on the keeper of these animals to make certain that they do not escape or cause injury because the keeper will be responsible for any injury inflicted by them without proof of negligence. Domestic animals include those which are tame by nature or, from time immemorial, have been accustomed to the association of man or by his industry have been subjected to his will and have no disposition to escape.

In an action by a person for injuries inflicted on him by a dog it is necessary to allege and prove that the defendant had knowledge of the animal's vicious propensity. When that knowledge is shown or proved the same responsibility attaches to the owner of the dog to keep him from doing mischief or damage as the keeper of a naturally ferocious animal would be subject to, and there is no necessity for proving negligence of the person injured. If a person keeps a dog which he knows to be of a ferocious or vicious disposition, or from its nature is liable to attack any member of mankind, he keeps him at his own risk. The cases are quite clear that in order to maintain an action against the owner or keeper of a ferocious dog it is not necessary to show that the animal had actually bitten another person before it bit the Plaintiff. It is sufficient to show that the dog has to the knowledge of its owner, evinced a savage disposition. An owner of a dog known to be vicious has no right to chain the animal so close to the doorway of his house as to allow the dog to attack an innocent person lawfully approaching the house. To avoid liability, a person who keeps a dog knowing it to be liable to bite human beings must make absolutely certain that he gives a warning of such a character that the person injured must be taken to have fully appreciated it, and voluntarily to have incurred the risk.

Where the defendant allowed his dog to be on the highway, knowing that the dog had long had a mischievous propensity for and habit of running after and barking at horses and carriages travelling upon the highway, the defendant was held liable in damages for injury caused by the running away of horses frightened by the actions of the dog. In view of this case it has been suggested that owners of dogs who have a mischievous and dangerous habit of running after automobiles might be liable in damages if the driver of the auto is frightened and an accident ensues.

Where a person is keeping a dog of another owner, knowing that the dog had vicious propensities, it has been held that there was evidence on which a jury might find that the person keeping the dog is liable in damages to any person who was attacked and injured by the dog, even though he is not the owner.

In an action in 1912, the plaintiff's Collie was killed by the defendants on their farm where sheep were kept. A by-law, passed by the council of the township in which the farm was situated, provided: "It shall not be lawful for any dog to run at large unaccompanied by its owner or by some member of such owner's family; and any dog found so running at large at a greater distance than one half-mile from the premises of its owner and unaccompanied therewith, may be killed by any resident ratepayer of this municipality." But it was held upon the evidence that the killing of the dog was not justified under the by-law because it was first found upon the highway which was within a half mile of the Plaintiff's premises, and was not at first found upon the defendant's premises.

It should be pointed out that the dog has long since recovered from his common law degradation, and is now on a higher plain and is by both the criminal and civil law regarded as a domestic animal, and as "dog" simply his owner has been titled to treat him as property in the widest sense of the term, and to have for him the protection of the criminal law.

Most dog owners, and especially ordinary household pet owners, are unaware of the wide scope and authority of one of the shortest acts on the statute books of the Province of Ontario which is now known as Chapter 418 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1960, and is as follows: "Where a dog is alleged to have bitten any person, the owner of the dog may be summoned to appear before a magistrate to show cause why the dog should not be destroyed and, if from the evidence produced it appears that the dog has bitten any person, the magistrate may make an order that the dog be destroyed." This act gives the magistrate wide power but it is to be noted that it is permissive, not mandatory, to order the killing of the dog and in most cases coming before the courts the owner of the dog does not have the opportunity of seeing the incident complained of in the courts. In many cases a child may be annoying or teasing a dog, not being familiar with the method of reasonable treatment of a pet because the particular child's parents do not have a dog and would prefer that the child play with someone else's dog.

We are all familiar with the fact that the municipality has the power to tax dogs, but in most cases in the application of law, municipal by-laws do not necessarily infer negligence if there is a breach of the same in connection with an action for damages, but in 1915 it was held that: "Where a valuable

Meetings for the coming year are being planned to include interesting films and lectures. A 75% attendance is necessary before a member is eligible for election to a club office.

The Sanction Show held in October was enjoyable and financially profitable. Mrs. Young earned the thanks of the club by travelling such a distance to do a grand job of judging. Mrs. Bristowe worked equally hard in the show ring.

Plans are well underway for the May Specialty Show. The aim is to make it the biggest and best in the Pacific North West.

Mrs. Ena Stewart recently organized a meeting on behalf of the B.C.A.T.C. Subject: The new amendments to the C.K.C. Constitution. Present to answer questions were Mr. V. Williams, President C.K.C.; Mr. T. Wells, Vice-President C.K.C.; and Mrs. S. Anderson, C.K.C. Director for B.C. Mr. Newby was chairman. A very interesting evening ensued and the club thanks Sunnyslope Kennels for the use of their hall.

Mrs. Sally Hudson's West Highland White Terrier Ch. (Can. Am.) Whitebriar Journeyman, has really reached the top by first winning the largest Westie Specialty of the W.H.W.T.C. of America, 63 entries. He then went on to capture BIS all Breeds under Judge Alva

Mrs. Terry Bryant's Wire Fox Terrier, Facsimile of Cavalier, took BB at the Tacoma Show under Dr. Mitten.

Mr. and Mrs. Herwig have a new addition to their Kerry Blue family. Just arrived from California is Am. Ch. O'Tamarac's Statutory Merger.

An interesting note from Mrs. Leola Harper, Washington. At the Harbour City Show, Los Angeles, entry 2689, a Cairn from the classes, went BB and then on to win Group 4! This is almost in the miracle class!

Mrs. Florence Houston is making satisfactory progress at home after a spell in the hospital as a result of a motor accident.

NANAIMO KENNEL CLUB

The monthly Newsletter has a new name. Don Bassett's suggestion of "K9 Report" received the most votes from members attending the November meeting.

Dog owners are reminded that a "sustaining" membership ($5.00 a year) in any branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals covers the member up to $10,000 in any one instance against legal liability incurred through the activities of his own domestic pet damaging property or injuring people.

The club's obedience classes commenced with an organizational meeting on January 6.

In 1962 there were 33 Championship Dog Shows in B.C. with a total of 4,695 dogs shown. In the same year, there were 27 licensed Obedience Trials with 730 dogs in competition.

The Cranberry Trophy has been won by Flash (Springer Spaniel) Lynde. Blackie Werner has won the Anne Hocvor Trophy for CDX and also a trophy for highest score in open A at the Mt. Brenton trial.

The Heel Free team brought the trophy back to Nanaimo. The highest scorer of the team was Asta Perry, who also made the highest score in Open A at both the Cowichan and Nanaimo Club trials.

The Mirdinon Trophy was awarded by Dr. Johnson to the Standard Poodle handled by Mrs. Petersen of Duncan. Other winners included: Prince Put, highest local Novice A; Golden Retriever handled by Mr. T. Sibbald, highest Victoria Novice A; Corgi handled by Mrs. S. Roberts, highest Novice B; Shann Mitchell, highest Utility. Nicky Nicholson, Flash Lynde and Nicky Baxter all made their first Club ribbon.

GREATER VICTORIA DOG OBEDIENCE TRAINING CLUB

Mrs. Mollie Hudson reports for the club. The club sends its best New Year wishes to all the other clubs and to those who show so much interest.

The fall term ended with a Christmas party which proved to be a delightful evening. Presentations seemed to be one of the highlights as 14 club awards were made and two more dogs were welcomed into the ranks of UD.

An omission was made in the account of the club winning the Nanaimo Free Heeling competition last spring. Mr. W. Pumfrey was on the team with his Basset Hound, Caesar IV CD. The club is very proud of this dog as he is such a jolly person, really enjoys himself and gives a performance any dog would be proud of.

In spite of last minute substitutions, the GVDOTC placed 2nd to Nanaimo in the Fall Competitions.

JUNIOR KENNEL CLUB

Karen Knight, club secretary, sends a report of the club's annual Christmas party.

Competitions were held as usual for Best Handler, Best conditioned dog, and in obedience classes. Handling classes were judged by Mrs. O. Balshaw, Vancouver, Mrs. Appell, Burnaby and Mr. Childers, Seattle. Winners were: Best Boy Handler, Robert Watson; Best Girl Handler and Best Handler, Karen Knight. Best conditioned classes were judged by Mrs. D. Wall, Vancouver, and were won by Karen Knight with a Smooth Dachshund and by Jacque Elgaard with a Toy Poodle.

MINIATURE DACHSHUND CLUB OF CANADA

Kitty Wake, Victoria, reports for the club. The club warmly congratulates Mrs. Fern Bodrug, who, for the second year in succession, has won the club's trophy for highest score. This year her Nodakora's Petite M amassed 20 points to end quite a long way ahead of the runner up, Mrs. D. I. Stevenson's Little Miss Muffet with a total of 8 points.

An interesting letter from Mrs. R. Barnes, Vel-Bar Samoyed Kennels, Kamloops. Some B.C. readers may recall Mrs. Barnes as President of the Alberta Kennel Club before moving to B.C. from Calgary. Samoyed breeders will remember Mrs. Barnes' dogs and in particular, her five-year-old winning female of which she writes. (Sorry, I don't have the name.)

GATEWAY CITY OBEDIENCE TRAINING CLUB

Mrs. Monica Torrance reports that the New Year activities for the club began with an Instructors' meeting on Monday evening. Classes commenced January 13. It was decided to divide the Open into three grades—first for those who have just come up from Novice; second for repeaters who have not mastered all the exercises and third for those dogs brushing up for trials. Instructors assigned by Mrs. Mary Ann Monkman, the Training Chairman, are as follows: 1st half of Beginners, Mr. Ron Hamel, Mrs. Joan Lawrence and Mrs. Rebecca Hawley. Second half of Beginners, Mrs. John Lawrence, Mr. Ron Hamel and Mrs. Betty Moorhouse. Novice Class, Mr. Doug Lawrence, Mr. Jim McKay. One of the club's early canine students, the Norwegian Elkhound Ch. Bairnley's Leif of Norfin CD, owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Torrance, was put to sleep in December after several years of indifferent health.

Congratulations to Mr. Gordon Ashcroft, elected Manitoba Director for the CKC. Gordon succeeds Mrs. Gove who has held this office for many years.

Film night on December 9 was the best yet. Program Chairman, Miss Jane Owens, arranged for Professor Stewart of United College to bring his Seeing-Eye dog along and give a talk. Marion King then spoke briefly on the conformation of the German Shepherd dog.

Dr. Stewart Reid, who was an early member of the club and one of their instructors, as well as a breeder of Shetland Sheepdogs, died in Ottawa. He was Professor of History and Chairman of the Department of History at United College, University of Manitoba, from 1947 to 1959. He wrote a number of books and a history of events connected with British Columbia's Fraser River. He was awarded an Honorary Doctorate of Laws by the University of Manitoba last summer for his work in the field of education.

gree pins. The tables were decorated with Christmas candles made by Thelma Ward and were later raffled. January 2 was registration night for the winter training classes. Gil Marcotte is in charge of these classes. Coffee and cookies were served at the end of the evening, giving members a chance to talk to the new handlers.

THE METROPOLITAN GREAT DANE CLUB

The November meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yorke in Brooklin, Ont. Among members present were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watling, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Townsley, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simpson, Mrs. Joyce Atkinson, Mr. John Egerton and Mr. Peter Tingle. After the routine club matters had been disposed of the main topic of discussion was the Booster Show to be held on Saturday, March 21 at the Sportsmen's Show. It is anticipated that there will be a good number of Canadian entries this year and plans are being made to encourage American breeders to exhibit their dogs, with a record turnout being anticipated. It was mentioned at the meeting that there seems to be a revival of public interest in the Great Dane which is good news to all Dane fanciers. A most appetizing buffet supper, served by Mrs. Lois Yorke, brought the evening to a close.

MINIATURE SCHNAUZER CLUB OF CANADA

The December meeting took the form of a Christmas party in the luxurious surroundings of the Ontario Club. Following the cocktail hour, members and guests enjoyed a scrumptious repast followed by the highlight of the evening, a visit from Santa Claus (Doug Weir) and his Miniature Schnauzer (Bernice Akitt) who turned out to be a demonstrative and affectionate personality. Santa's gaily decorated and seemingly bottomless dog crate contained gifts for all present and the greeting, read by Santa with each of the eminently suitable and useful gifts, followed by the presentation of his Schnauzer and the opening and examination by the recipients, kept all assembled in very high spirits and added to the jollity. The program convenor, Mrs. D. T. Weir, and her assistants earned the appreciation of all present for the conception and execution of the entertainment while the President, Mr. Charles Carter, earned their gratitude for the provision of the venue and the planning of the beautiful dinner which was enjoyed by all present.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND CLUB OF CANADA

The December meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Irwin, Oak Ridges, Ont. Mr. Joshua Loring was elected 2nd Vice-President and Mr. Don Purdy as Public Relations Officer. A committee of Mrs. Pollie Loring, Mrs. Sarah Jennings and Bill Gibson was formed to look into the manner of procurement of dogs by the medical and research laboratories. All humane and conservation officers will be alerted to be on the lookout for unfamiliar Newfoundlands in their areas and information supplied to them so they may contact a club or committee member so that the dogs and owners may be reunited as soon as possible. Through the club's efforts one of the three missing Newfoundlands has been found. Mrs. Dorothy Daniell-Jenkins will be reporting at the next meeting on a code of ethics and Mrs. Pollie Loring on proposed changes to the Newfoundland Standard as being considered by the Newfoundland Club of America. The Constitution and By-Laws, as submitted to the membership, were read and passed with a rider that will permit suggestions and recommendations to be considered at the next annual meeting. A much enjoyed lunch and social get-together followed the meeting.

NORTH YORK OBEDIENCE CLUB

December 7 was the date of the club's Christmas party. Grace Edwards, a very energetic hostess, saw that all present enjoyed an evening of dancing and an old fashioned barber shop quartet sing-song. Graduation, on December 15, was the best to date with seven dogs passing scores out of ten. Top honors went to a Sheltie, German Shepherd and a Poodle, in that order. A roaming Boxer failed to disturb any of the dogs in the long down. This was praise of the highest sort to a seasoned trainer let alone the novice trainee. Mrs. Bea Bentley had the spirit of Christmas in her attractively arranged trophy table. Mr. Archie Warnock judged the classes, taking time to explain why and where each trainee lost points. The next class was held January 5. In spite of the usual rush during the Christmas season some members found time to promote obedience. Mrs. Hilda Pugh headed a demonstration on December 20 for the children's party in the Church of the Redeemer. Mr. Archie Warnock, Grace Edwards, Becky Pennycock, Marjory Parkinson and Walter Konrad demonstrated at a bazaar held by the Pioneer Women of Canada in the exhibition grounds. A baby daughter on Christmas Day was Santa's gift to Mr. and Mrs. Warnock.

OAKVILLE AND DISTRICT KENNEL CLUB

The annual Christmas party was held at the Oakdale Restaurant, when over 50 members and guests enjoyed a dinner of turkey and all the trimmings. The President, Ernie McGowan, presided and extended a welcome to members and their guests. He also gave a brief resume of the club's successful year and expressed his thanks to the club's officers and members for their support. After dinner, Christmas presents were exchanged and all participated in games and dancing. All voted the evening as one of the club's best efforts. General arrangements for the evening were in the capable hands of Mr. Fred Carter, assisted by his able committee. Ballots in connection with the election of club Directors, which had been sent in by mail, were opened and counted. Officers for 1964 are: President, Mr. George Kennedy; Vice-President, Mr. Ernie McGowan; Secretary, Mrs. Myrtle Horn; Treasurer, Mrs. Ethel McGowan (all by acclamation). Directors (elected): Mr. H. Ben-nick, Mr. John Broeders, Mrs. Betty Carter, Mr. Fred Carter, Col. M. Drury, Mrs. James McKechnie, Mrs. Vi Veale and Mr. Alf Veale. The new officers assumed their duties at the January 21 meeting.

SCARBOROUGH KENNEL CLUB INC.

On December 6 some 76 members and guests gathered for the club's annual Christmas party. An excellent dinner followed the usual cocktail hour at which Mr. Ed Holdham acted as M.C. and carried out his duties faultlessly. Howard Hood, President, recapped the past year's activities and future plans which he hopes the club will fulfill in the coming year. According to the club's constitution Mr. Hood, having run for two years, cannot stand for the office of President this coming term but will remain in the capacity of a Director for 1964. Club members will be sorry to see Mr. Hood step down for his term of office has been a difficult one in the club's history and one which he has handled most capably. For the first time, Award Certificates were given to four members for outstanding service in the club and in the canine field. Dr. Fred Clement, for his devotion to canines and the work he has done in that field; Mr.
R. Lawrence, first President of the club and now residing in the United States, in recognition of the work he did in organizing the club; Mr. Wm. Clarke, the club's second President, for his work and untiring efforts and to Mr. J. W.
MacCallum, for his work in the field of dogs. A life membership was bestowed on Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Palmer in appreciation of the assistance they have given to the club. The news that Scarborough was top show for 1963 was received with joyous ovation from those present. About 128 dogs, all breeds, gathered at the evening Sanction Show for the approval of judges, Mrs. E. Joel, Mr. S. Back, Mr. Glen Stephens and Mr. T. Joel. This show, held in conjunction with the annual bazaar of the Pioneer
Women's Council, was a great success.
Best in Show went to the Chow Chow owned by Mr. and Mrs. Garwood of Toronto. FooH'Sing's Fu Tu, as this dog is called, was also Best Canadian Bred and Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show.

THE MONTREAL DOG OBEDIENCE TRAINING CLUB INC.

starts 1964 in new quarters, the Herbert Symonds School in N.D.G., where both the club training and basic obedience classes will be held on the same night.
Judging by the large and enthusiastic turnout the first night, the new location and curriculum meet with the approval of one and all.

TA-I-O BEAGLE CLUB OF MONTREAL INC.

The Quebec & Eastern Ontario Beagle Ass'n Derby & Championship Trial at Iberville attracted a large number of entries despite the inclement weather.
A cold and rainy Saturday for the derby classes gave way to a snowy, wind-blown Sunday which the older hounds quickly unravelled, turning in a performance befitting their experience and prestige. A wide representation of beaglers made every class one in which a placing hound had to prove himself one of the best. Such competition gives a particular pleasure to those who participate and well justifies the holding of this annual event.

A misplaced Beagle pulled into a Lachute farm recently for refuge and sustenance. Having checked the ears for a tattoo, the proprietor called George Coombs whom he knew owned such dogs. Not being one of his kennel, George passed the information on to Okill Stuart thinking he might recognize the OJC5R. A call to Livestock Records in Ottawa revealed that a Poodle breeder had been allotted OJC.
However the obliging employee offered to check thoroughly for a resembling allotment among the Beagle breeders.
A card arrived the following day giving the names of the breeder and owner of OJE5R. A quick telephone call confirmed the supposition and re-united a happy hound and owner in Huntingdon.
Once again one of the values of the tattoo method of identification has been proven. Owners of hunting dogs have particular reason to be grateful for it,
for every gunning season a few Beagles are recovered who might otherwise remain unidentified.

THE UNITED KENNEL CLUB

After some set-backs and unavoidable delays, the club is now in full swing and plans for the Spring shows are well underway. The last weekend in April will again be the date, with Breed and Obedience as usual, and two Specialty shows (The Bull Mastiff Fanciers of Canada and The Dominion Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Ass'n) added attractions. The location? The Hussars Armoury on Cote des Neiges Rd. The Show Superintendent will once again be Hudson Kalloch, who has run so many fine shows here in the past. For you beginners with new pups, plans are underway to run handling classes, so all should be ready, willing and able to support this show — one of the few held annually in the Province.

DR. AND MRS. H. C. WALKER
Route 2, Box 34, Maple Plain, Minn. (473-6768)

has just completed a very successful year, reports Secretary Cookie Dubney. Activities included two All Breed Sanction shows in January and October; two Club Matches, one in June at Lennoxville, and the September one at St. Andrews East; the Third Annual Collie & Sheltie Specialty held in conjunction with the Ladies' Kennel Club Show in April with a record entry; and many meetings, one highlighted by a very informative talk by Ted Gundersen, Registrar of Canadian National Live Stock Records. Handling classes were offered to the public and well attended, and a record number of Obedience spoons were given out at trials across the country. Mac Stephens (who is in charge of this ever-growing project again this year) reports 66 spoons given out, with winners from every province except the Maritimes and Manitoba, and from the following States: New York, Illinois, Oregon, New Hampshire, Michigan, Ohio and Connecticut. Two new items were added, club pennants to be used on benching at shows, and club pins for members.

POT-POURRI

So nice to see Dick McLellan (long-time member of the MDOTC) back in obedience again with two of her Pulik, after a very long hiatus.

Valerie Reid, a name to contend with in White Miniature Poodles, now has a new color scheme at the kennels, her first litter of blacks having arrived.

Quite a number of Quebecers have received confirmation of their entries at Westminster. As it is being made increasingly difficult for Canadians to enter this show of shows here's hoping our competitors bring home the ribbons!

Many well-known and beloved obedience dogs have died within the past year leaving wonderful memories behind. Perhaps it is just that obedience was so new and the participants so eager that each and every one of these early contestants seemed to be outstanding not only in performance but in personality. One of the best-known in the Montreal district was that vivacious brown Miniature Poodle, Boo of Woodlands.

Exactly 13 years from the day Boo arrived, an eager and animated bundle of fur, at the home of her new owner, May Birch, she quietly and peacefully died in her sleep. Not only will obedience folks remember her remarkable antics and polished performance, but many a sick child in hospital or a lonely old man or woman has been cheered

Fellow at dog club party: "May I join you?"

Girl member: "What's the matter? Am I coming apart?"

and entertained over the years by her tricks and friendly disposition. Although many of her pups and grand-pups remain to carry on, there can never be another just like Boo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McKinney of Saint John have received confirmation from the American K. C. that their silver Miniature Poodle, Peter Pom Pom of Kris-croft has earned an American CD title in three consecutive Novice B trials at Portland, Maine with a score of 189; Lewiston, Maine 192 and Providence, R.I. 192. Their silver Miniature, Kris-croft Petite Princess, has earned a Canadian championship in conformation and is believed to be the first New Brunswick-owned Poodle to have gone BIS, which this female did at the Tantramar show in Amherst, N.S. in May, 1963. The prefix/suffix of these silvers indicate that they were bred in the kennels of Mrs. Willson and Miss Rugan of Houlton, Maine, who in turn spent seven weeks last summer motoring to California and took in the Santa Barbara show.

NOVA SCOTIA

Mr. and Mrs. Meagher of the Nova Kennels, Berwick have acquired a five-month-old Bulldog female from the Kamel Kennels of Toronto for show and breeding and have on order another female puppy from the Overfen Kennels in England, which in recent years has sent a number of Bulldogs to the U.S.A. where they have done some good winning.

The Cedarcrest Kennels, Kentville, owned by the noted all-breed judge Mrs. P. A. Margeson, has been very active this winter; a recently acquired English-bred Peke has whelped a litter of four, in addition four other Pekes are nursing litters and a home-bred Silver Toy Poodle is nursing a litter of four sired by a seven inch silver stud in Ontario, while a new venture is a black U.S. bred Miniature Poodle male acquired as a puppy in the late summer, so that it is expected to see entries from the Cedarcrest Kennels back in the show rings in force.

Another member of the Evangeline K.C. who may be expected to again be an active exhibitor is Mrs. Robb Peel, Berwick, who is grooming and training a Rough Collie and a Great Pyrenees for the spring shows.

Reginald Cleveland, Vermont, who judged the N.S. German Shepherd Dog Club Specialty show in Halifax in August, writes a most complimentary article of considerable length about the club and the dogs entered, for the November issue of Popular Dogs, U.S.A.

DOGS & PEOPLE

As the result of the Bermuda visit of Ch. Fireside Chat of Blossomlea, outstanding seven-year-old Boxer owned by Miss Jean Grant of Richmond Hill, three enquiries have been received for one of her puppies. "As this is Chat's last litter," writes Miss Grant, only one can be spared. It will go to Bermuda when old enough, as a replacement for a beloved pet now dead."

Columnist Irwin McIntosh devoted an entire column in the North Battleford, Sask. News-Optimist following the purchase of a bit of golden fluff for his family in lieu of the Great Dane or St. Bernard he had in mind. Following the advice of Fred Longstaff, President of the Battleford Kennel Society, he called on Bill Dawson of Prince Albert, Sask. and immediately succumbed to the romping Cocker Spaniels. "Tosh" appeared proudly in a portrait on the family Christmas card. Writes Bill: "A breeder's dream!"

The moment Maple Leaf hockey star Eddie Shack scored his 20th goal this season, he became the proud owner of this engaging Afghan puppy. Awaiting him in the Leaf's dressing room was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holloway of Brampton, Ont. The Holloways combine their fondness of sports with that of dogs. One of their champions, named Boom-Boom, received an autographed photo from Montreal Canadiens star, Boom-Boom Geoffrion. Another resident at their kennels is Ch., Can. Am. Queensway Yama Bahama (named after the American prizefighter) whose trophies and ribbons virtually cover one wall in the Holloway home.

Rochester's Cathedral Bell, also known as Softee, or Barry the Soft Drink Dog, has been awarded an International Press Pass by Hugh Swofford of the Publications International Division, Swofford and Ware, Inc., Chicago, as the most publicized dog in 1963. Barry is a familiar figure welcoming VIP's, wearing his coat with samples of the "refreshments". He was recently seen on television parading with Miss Canada contestants.

Last Spring his picture appeared in the United States when he was shown sitting at the head table in the Royal York Hotel at the Soft Drink Convention. He is believed to be the only dog allowed in the main dining room of the hotel. Owners are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Seaman of Markham, Ont.

Died: Dr. J. H. Stewart Reid of Ottawa, executive secretary of the Canadian Association of University Teachers, a quiet-spoken, tenacious fighter on behalf of university teachers. He was a breeder of Shetland Sheepdogs and a member of The Canadian Kennel Club.

When Mr. and Mrs. J. Rogers of Edmonton, Alta. purchased a Samoyed puppy from Betty Dickson of Dorchester, Ont. six years ago, and lost it through an accident at an early age, they were heartbroken. Following a pathetic plea for another pup, Mrs. Dickson relinquished one she had planned to keep. Its name was "Delightful" and she became "Dee-Dee". Recently she arrived back at Ziska Kennels for a three-year visit while her owners are in New Zealand. A crayoned sign on the top of her crate read: "My name is D.D. Please take good care of me. I am going to London Airport to be met by the Dicksons of Ziska Kennels. Two children are very fond of me, so take good care of me." The signature was a little sketch of a Samoyed head.

In hospital: at the time of writing, Mrs. Edna Joel, Toronto an Ontario Director of The Canadian Kennel Club, for surgery. . . . Mr. Jake Giacomelli, Stoney Creek, Ont., popular Obedience Judge.

American wins: Another BIS for Mrs. Percy Adams with her Skye Terrier, Ch. Talisker's Fairy Heir, at Beaver Valley under Dr. E. Montgomery. Handler was Bill Trainor.

NOTES TO A DOG SITTER

(While baby sitters are quite accustomed to receiving a variety of notes ranging from apprehensive to couldn't-care-less in attitude, dog sitters are still not as numerous nor case-hardened. Here is a sampling of some they are likely to receive.)

Dear Barbara:

This is the very first time we have ever had a dog sitter for little Foo Yung Hi.
If he is at all disturbed, here is the number of our veterinarian. If you can't reach him, call the breeder, who is very understanding. Here is her number. If you have any problem at all, please telephone us. We are at the Jordans, next door.

Dear David:

I know you are busy trying to study for your examinations, but would you please be sure to take Sandaman for a little walk two or three times before 11 o'clock, his bedtime. If you speak any Italian or Latin, it might make him feel at home, as he is an Italian Greyhound.

Dear Sandra:

On the second shelf in the fridge you will find a piece of steak for Bridget. She is only a little Chihuahua, I know, but this is what she likes as a bedtime snack.
Please do not use the roast chicken and Chableau, as that is for Mr. Harkness.
He is going fishing early in the morning.
Here is a chocolate bar for you, in case you haven't had supper.

Dear Mary-Ann:

It is so nice of you to come and dog-sit for us. Dodi is very appreciative (she is most appreciative for a Dalmatian) and so are we. If you are not too busy studying, and after you have fed her and taken her for a walk, you might look in on the children and see if they are sleeping. If they are hungry you might like to make a sandwich for them. And you could sweep off the walk a bit, as the leaves are falling. And you could bundle up those papers and magazines for the Boy Scout drive. Do hope you won't be bored.

A CASE FOR NOSEPRINT

The noseprint of Monty, a Pomeranian, was instrumental in the arrest of a 25-year-old Hamilton, Ont. woman charged with possession of stolen goods. Monty was part of the loot. Detectives stopped the woman who was carrying the dog under her coat, and took his noseprint.
It matched Monty's.

HOW MUCH IS TOO MUCH?

Although she keeps 57 dogs at her home, Mrs. Agnes Petrie, Swindon, England, wants more. This despite the fact that her collection has posed a problem of money, licences and neighbors' complaints. A policeman investigating found in the front room, 15 dogs; in the kitchen, 22; dining room, 18 and in the yard, two. The Petries also have a duck, a canary and two cats.

A DOG'S PRAYER

We are the little brothers. Homeless in cold and heat.
Four-footed little beggars roaming the city street.
Snatching a bone from the gutter. Creeping through alleys drear.
Stoned and sworn at and beaten. Our hearts consumed with fear.
Is your heart too hard to listen. To a starving puppy's cries?
Or too gay for the patient pleading. In a dog's beseeching eyes?
Behold us, your little brothers. Starved, beaten, oppressed.
Stretch out a hand to help us. That we may have food and rest.

ATTENTION

SHETLAND SHEEPDOG FANCIERS

The same breeding program has been applied to our Shelties that has long made SOVEREIGN a respected name in Collies. It has taken many years to fuse the qualities we demanded into dogs who would reproduce their type, quality and uniformity.

What does this mean to you, the serious breeder?

It does not mean we have cornered the market on all the good qualities without flaws of any kind. It does mean, however, we can offer you, in these wonderful youngsters we have on hand, a strain purity for the following traits — HEAVY COATED RED SABLES AND CLEAR SILVER BLUE MERLES, CLASSIC HEAD QUALITY WITH GOOD EYE AND NATURAL EARS, AN ELEGANCE OF BEARING WITH UNQUESTIONABLE DISPOSITION.

Just watch for these gay youngsters in the show ring.

OUR 1964 BREEDING PROGRAM INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING LITTERS YOU MIGHT BE INTERESTED IN:

Sov. Legacy ex Sov. Blue Patches — blues & Tris wh. Jan.

Ch. Sov. Fire Chief ex Ch. Sov. Victorious — all red sables.

Stateside NEWS

The registration figures for 1963 have just been released by the AKC. They show a growth of almost 10% over those for 1962. Poodles again led all breeds by a wide margin with German Shepherd Dogs coming up from fourth to second place. Beagles were third and Dachshunds fourth (it must be noted that there is only one breed of Dachshunds for registration purposes in the United States, as is the case with Poodles).

The AKC has revised the paragraph on size in the standard for the Vizsla. It now states . . . males 22" to 24", females 21" to 23" at the shoulder. Any dog over or under these limits shall be considered faulty. Any dog that measures more than two inches over or under these limits shall be disqualified.

George M. Beckett Memorial: Mr. Beckett was a well known and respected judge of all breeds. To honor his memory The Bulldog Club of Conn. will accept contributions to a fund to be used for awards to the breeder of the American-Bred Bulldog Sire and/or Dam producing the greatest number of Champions over a five-year period. The first award will cover the period from January 1, 1960 through December 31, 1964.

Miss Hermione Gingold, internationally known comedienne, is also a dog fancier and owner of two Yorkshire Terriers. She will be the guest speaker and make the presentations at the Ken-L Ration dinner to be held Saturday, February 8 at the Astor Hotel, New York.

The AKC will move on February 1 to 51 Madison Ave. where they will occupy the 19th, 20th and part of the 21st floor. It is interesting to note that these new premises are on the same site of the first New York Dog Show held in 1877 at Gilmore's Garden.

Obedience exhibitors and Club Secretaries, especially in Ontario, will be pleased to hear that Louis Menninger has now been approved to judge the Utility class as well as the Novice and Open. Mr. and Mrs. Menninger are well known as exhibitors in both obedience and conformation with their Vizslas.

Another well known Judge on this side of the border who has been approved for additional breeds is Chris Teeter. "Chris" formerly judged Spaniels and has now added Bassets to his approved breeds.

the ring with no sign of lameness. So now, what? Once bitten, twice shy? Luckily we do not have many handlers of this calibre, but it does put the judge on the spot if he has to measure the amount of allowance to be made for any disability.

Another man I know has trouble hearing, even with a hearing aid. He always brings this to the judge's attention, with the result that the judge gives all the commands in a louder tone than usual. It is not so hard for a judge to deal with disabilities of the above nature, loss of an arm or lameness, but the writer of our letter has a more complicated case. And this is the way in which I would deal with it, if I were judging: I would prefer him to have the doctor's certificate, which he offered to get. Then my attention would be more on the dog than the handler. If the dog sat instantly when the handler did stop, even though a couple of steps had been taken after I had ordered a stop, I wouldn't make a cut. The staggering caused by the disability would have to be ignored, provided the handler gave no evidence of always staggering in the direction favorable to the dog! While a dog working for a handicapped person may be a better worker than the dog handled by the physically able person, it is debatable if a perfect score should ever be given if the handler himself is unable to do the precision work required by the trial rules. What is your opinion? Let's have it, and soon! •

Two dogs met on the street . . . one said to the other . . . How have you been Fido?

Lousy . . . said Fido . . . I've been irritable, jumpy, and very nervous.

Well why don't you see a psychiatrist?

I can't do that, said Fido . . . You know I'm never allowed up on couches.

ond place at the Bushy Hill F.T. Ass'n. trial in Connecticut. Dooley and Ted managed a fourth place in the Open All Age, competing against some of the top professional handlers at the Albany trial. Sam completed his Amateur F.T. Championship at the New Jersey F.T. Club trial, where he topped 20 starters to place first. This gave him a win at the largest Eastern and Mid-western Amateur All Age stakes this fall.

Ted's home-bred Springer, Annie R, came along to round out the team with a fourth place at the Bushy Hill trial Amateur All Age Stake. She was third at the Albany Spaniel F.T. Club Amateur All Age. At the La Grange, Ohio trial, she turned it on to triumph over 16 starters at the Euclid F.T. Club meet. Annie was two years old in January, sired by Waveaway's Wilderness Brian out of Thames Trinket.

Congratulations also to Don McNeeley of Toledo, Ohio, one of our favourite competitors and humourists at field trials. His Colmere's Bright Son of Lariot completed his F.T. Championship at the Albany trial by winning the Cocker Open All Age. "Cowboy" is a really good looking black and white parti-color and has show points to his credit, if he hasn't already finished that title too.

Another familiar figure at Canadian trials is Clarence Wingate, handling for Wm. E. Lane of Detroit. He managed to stay in all five series of the U.S. National Open Championship Stakes to win that title, with Waveaway's Wilderness Maeve.

This is written at New Year's, so all the best to everyone in 1964. •

Humanely Speaking

But cropping as such is legal.

So if you operate a kennel and you have had a litter of puppies' ears cropped and you have also invited the Inspector to come along at the same time, don't worry. But watch that "still".

But should we crop dogs at all?

I remember the controversy in Britain over the same subject. As you all know, cropping is illegal in Britain. The change has not affected dogs or the showing of dogs in the U.K. The majority of breeders and showmen of the affected breeds in Britain would never go back to cropping. I bred Boxers immediately after the war in 1946. Some very good dogs were imported to Britain at that time by members of the Armed Forces who had "obtained" their dogs in Europe by various means. Comparison between "cropped" "imported" dogs and local "uncropped" dogs always seemed to favour the latter.

Cropping is really an illogical way of treating a dog. The same argument could be used to justify adding appendages to dogs. For example, why not add a few inches of false tail to a setter? Or if a certain bone formation was wrong, why not have the offending bones broken and reset more in line with dictates of fashion?

Because "cropping" is only a "fashion". It has no other useful purpose.

Let's face it — the original reason of cropping was to help a dog while fighting. Or to make it more difficult for a fighting dog to get a hold on the other dog and so throw him to the ground where the grip could be switched to throat. And that's where it began, a long way from the dog fighting pit the modern show ring but at least cropped ear and sometimes the saw is the same.

Docking the tail and removing dew claw are both sound ideas with the dog has to earn its living in the ring or as a working dog. For the same reason I would never ask any Retrievers to be in any form of collar.

But I am "agin" any practice that alters the natural shape of a dog by surgery procedure without any valid reason. And I suspect many breeders of breeds concerned are against it too. The problem is how to effect any change. Where does the change begin?

The big objection is that the United States will not change over and many Canadian exhibitors want to be able to sell and show their dogs in the States.

I cannot think of an answer other than to suggest that perhaps the American Kennel Club could be persuaded to accept Canadian dogs, uncropped, at Stateside shows without loss of points for that one feature.

It would be interesting to see the effect of uncropped dogs being shown alongside cropped dogs.

Who knows, the result might be a swing in opinion to the "natural look." I'll bet an awful lot of puppies of various breeds would be in complete favour.

The Pug

although in many cases little credit is given where due. The breed in Britain took a bad beating during the War but to their everlasting credit saved their key bloodlines and came back magnificently, that in Pugs and in many of the breeds they are still tops.

(7) On the whole I think yes, but they are still basic and difficult things to correct such as bad action, bulging eyes and pinched muzzles.

(8) I believe that I have answered this in No. 6.

(9) I like to believe that Pugs do their share of Group winning. As for other short-haired breeds, it is impossible to conceal faults in a Pug and if a judge knows Standard and conformation and is honest, I believe that a good Pug will be placed where he belongs.

(10) From present indications the prospects for the Pug are bright. He is an ideal size, requires no special grooming, expensive hairdos, and putations or other artificial means to make him acceptable. He is just as the Bon Dieu made him: charming, easy-to-live-with, a little gentleman. Serious breeders would be well advised for their own sake to be wary of the inevitable "dog hucksters" who will surely ruin the Pug.

handled by Doug Orr, Seattle, Wash.

EIGHTH SERIES

It was a triple. This was an over-and-under to the left and a short bird to the right. The short bird was approximately 45 yards on a thick, grassy knoll. The long bird of the over-and-under was 125 yards thrown into short brush, the short one thrown into average cover about 50 yards. Some of the dogs didn't mark the long one and had to be handled. The following three dogs were not called back — F.T. Ch. Irwin's Toby, owned and handled by William Hutchinson, Hamilton, Ont.; F.T. Ch. Moose of Lomac, owned and handled by Pete McClellan, Ladner, B.C., and Olrega's North Arm Rip owned and handled by Bill Wells, Richmond, B.C.

Now there were six dogs left.

The convoy of spectators and handlers now moved about a mile to Mr. Kearsley's property. This was a beautiful little lake dotted with lily pads, situate in a little valley with the undergrowth cleared away some 30 yards from the edge of the water and giving the effect of a beautiful little park. Toward one end of the lake there were two islands having cover of tullies, grass and a few shrubs. The place provided a most appropriate setting to complete this National. The brilliant autumn sunshine bathed a large gallery as the judges called up the dogs and handlers in an atmosphere that was getting progressively more exciting and tense.

NINTH SERIES

This was a triple water mark. The first mallard dropped was 125 yards across the lake 10 yards back from the bank, the next on one small island at about 70 yards and the third about 40 yards distance dropped on the other island. After returning with the birds from the two islands if the dog took them in sequence, it then had to remember a mark across the lake making it a series that thoroughly tested a dog's memory.

There were two more dogs dropped. Olrega's Siwash Rocko, owned and handled by Reg. Williams, Richmond,

TENTH SERIES

This left four dogs to go into the tenth and final series which was a water blind. The bird was planted on the far bank about 120 yards which required the dogs to take a line by water between the two islands where they had just retrieved marked birds in the last series. F.T. Ch.
Black Squeek of Netley Creek, owned and handled by George Duganis, Winnipeg, Man., did not complete this test, leaving the following three dogs who finished all series of the 1963 Canadian National Retriever Trial — F.T. Ch. Tar Baby's Little Sweet Stuff, owned and handled by Ken Carpenter of White Rock, B.C.; F.T. Ch. Jet of Spook, owned and handled by Gordon Lindemere, North Vancouver, B.C.; F.T. Ch. Captain of Lomac, owned and handled by Rudy Deering, West Vancouver, B.C.

After this final series, Bob White,
President of the National Retriever Club of Canada, announced that Tar Baby's Little Sweet Stuff was the new 1963
National Retriever Champion of Canada.
This dog, already an American F.T. Ch.
and a Canadian F.T. Ch., now had one more title to add to his credit — that of winner of the Canadian National Retriever Championship of 1963, and indeed a great champion carrying on the tradition of his grandsire, Rip of Holly Hill, the first Canadian National Champion in 1950.

To Tar Baby's Little Sweet Stuff or
'Shorty' as he is affectionately called and his owner, Ken Carpenter, our warmest congratulations.

Tribute must be paid to The National Retriever Club of Canada and in no less measure to the host club, the B.C. Gun Dog Club, for having staged this great annual classic of the Retriever world in a manner that not only was fitting, but indeed will help make the event a memorable one in the years to come.

To the judges, congratulations for having presented a most interesting and challenging set of tests that thoroughly tested the dogs over the three days. ● dog was killed in the streets of a large city by being run over by a street car, although the motorman was found to be negligent, the plaintiff was found guilty of contributory negligence. The contributory negligence consisted: (1) in allowing his dog to run at large in the face of a by-law of the police commissioners prohibiting a person from allowing his dog to run at large in the city and providing that a dog shall be deemed to be running at large when found in the street or other public place and not under the control of any other follow him on a street car track, at a distance of 100 feet or more."

A Statute that every dog owner and especially owners of purebred or valuable dogs should read and become accustomed with is known as The Dog Tax and Cattle, Sheep and Poultry Protection Act, being Chapter 111 of the Revised Statute of Ontario, 1960. This Act may be obtained free of charge from the Livestock Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto. The first part of the Act deals basically with dog tax, tags and the methods of collection and fixing the fees and the provision for an offence with a fine of not more than $50.00.

It is felt that every dog owner should be aware of section 10 which reads as follows: "Any person may kill a dog, (a) that is found killing or injuring cattle, sheep or poultry; (b) that in a township or village is found between sunset and sunrise straying from the premises where the dog is habitually kept; (c) that is found straying at any time, and not under proper control, upon premises where cattle, sheep or poultry are habitually kept."

All persons dealing with dogs and especially breeders or persons selling dogs of all description, should become familiar with the Livestock Pedigree Act and the most important section would appear to be section 17, which is reproduced on the back of The Canadian Kennel Club applications for registration and applications for transfer. Any person can sell a dog, but the moment the dog is so described by breed, a purebred or comes within the sections of the Livestock Pedigree Act, severe penalties are possible if the Act is not complied with. One information was laid as a fraud charge and the breeder was convicted, where the purchaser claimed that he did not have a certificate for the dog. During the course of the proceeding, the breeder produced the certificate which stated that certain tattoo marks were on the dog, but the dog did not appear to have such tattoo marks and the Magistrate registered a conviction.

It would appear that the proper procedure would be to have a charge laid actually under the Livestock Pedigree Act, as is done from time to time. In a recent case-certificates were given, but the purchaser had reason to believe that some of the dogs were older than the certificates would indicate. An investigation revealed many startling facts. The court was satisfied that the dogs did not comply with the registration certificates and several convictions were registered against the same person.

When shipping dogs to a show there is always some anxiety by the owner as to whether the dogs will be properly cared for or whether they will reach their destination on time. A railroad was held liable in damages by a dog exhibitor as the company agent was told that the dogs must be delivered at a specified address by a specified time for a show. On appeal it was held that the exhibitor had a right to ask for damages, including his anticipated profits and increase of custom in his business, and to also include his expenses for entrance fees, railroad, and hotel expenses.

In a Manitoba case, valuable dogs were sent to an exhibition, were exhibited and later returned to the owners. After a short time the dogs had contracted distemper and the disease spread to other dogs. It was held that in order to succeed the Plaintiff would have to prove that the defendants were guilty of negligence and that as a result of that negligence the dogs contracted the distemper. It was clear that the animals may have contracted the disease otherwise than at the show, therefore the action failed.

It is felt that exhibitors of dogs which have any degree of the vicious propensities mentioned earlier in this article should be extremely careful to warn the public and to take every possible precaution to avoid damage. There is always the danger that the dog will even turn on a dog show judge or another animal in the ring. The possibility of a few points does not seem to be worth the risk of a damage action.
