This month's cover features seven dogs either owned or bred by Manderley Kennels Reg'd. (Mr. and Mrs. Bud Flanagan), R.R. #1, Brooklin, Ontario, five of which completed their championships during 1963.

Ch. Manderley Snowflake, white Miniature Poodle, is a daughter of Int. Ch. Summercourt Square Dancer and Champagne de la Fontaine 2nd. Snowflake showed great promise as a puppy by taking Best Miniature Poodle in Show at the 1962 Annual Poodle Puppy Match sponsored by the Poodle Advancement Association. (Her mother, Champagne, had taken Best in Show at the same show the year before). Snowflake picked up her first two points from the Puppy Class under Judge Alva Rosenberg at the age of six months, took two successive majors at the Ladies Kennel Club shows in Montreal, under Judges Tommy Joel and James Trullinger, and finished with another three-point win under Col. Frank Foster Davis at Kingston. Bred to Mr. Stan Jones' Int. Ch. Estid Fanfare, Snowflake has produced a beautiful litter of puppies, one of which will be making her debut in the States this summer.

The West Highland White Terriers, Ch. Manderley's Annie Laurie, owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McNicol, of Pointe Claire, Quebec, and Ch. Manderley's Merry Dancer, owned by Miss D. J. McLean, of Oshawa, Ontario, are litter sisters out of Shipmates Demeter, CD, by the late Pierre O'Petriburg, an English import. Both these Westies were owner-handled to their championships.

The Standard Poodle, Ch. Bibelot's Magnificent Maxine, is out of Int. Ch. Lady Joan of Lowmont, by Ch. Wycliffe Virgil, a mating which is consistently producing outstanding puppies. Maxine's 1963 wins included three Best Canadian-Bred Puppy in Group awards, and she is now being readied for the Obedience ring.

old timer signs off

. . . It is with a great deal of regret that after so many years, I find it necessary to discontinue my column "The Old Timer" in Dogs in Canada.

I am taking this action as a result of the decision of the Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club to request you, as publishers, to ask me to refrain from dealing with matters such as proposed amendments to dog show rules in that column; and your apparent assurance that you would do so.

I am referring, of course, to the report of Mr. Anderson as it appears in 5F2 of the minutes of the meeting of the Directors on December 18, 1963.

Believing as I do in the freedom of the press, I cannot agree to censorship of news or opinions in regard to matters that affect the breeders and exhibitors across Canada. Nor do I believe that the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, who were elected to serve the interests of members across Canada, should be in a position where there can be no published comment on the manner in which they serve those interests.

I have never played personal or petty politics in The Old Timer column but have tried to be constructive and to write in the best interests of breeders and exhibitors. That my comments have been valid and constructive is best proved by the fact that prior to the 1962 ballot, I publicly opposed the amendment to measure all dogs at each show and the amendment which would prevent stewards showing. As you know, steps were taken by the Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club to rescind both these amendments on the 1963 ballot because both were found to be completely impractical.

Similarly, I have questioned the legality of putting the club to the expense of referendum ballots in off-referendum years. In view of this, it is interesting to read that the legality of the 1963 referendum ballot has now been challenged.

As stated, I regret the necessity of ceasing this column, which has had such loyal support from breeders and exhibitors over the years. I am asking for publication of this letter, not to provoke controversy but because I believe an explanation is due those many persons whose support made the writing of The Old Timer column worthwhile.

problems for potential judges

. . . In a recent issue of the Obedience Link, it gave the number of Obedience judges in Ontario as 18, of whom three are inactive. This means less than 25% of the Obedience judges in Canada come from the Province which had over 40% of Obedience Trials, in 1962—1963, I believe.

A quick check of the area surrounded by these judges gives a very interesting picture, almost in every case, they are within 15—25 miles of Hamilton.

The Ontario Obedience representative gave these figures. Judging classes are sometimes organized, but this information is not for general knowledge. One becomes aware of it by accident, by which time the classes are over, or none being held at this moment. So interested parties cannot avail themselves of this experience.

During the past year, possibly more, objections have been raised as to the capabilities of people who were interested in trying for their exam, or were turned down flat by the Obedience representative. The very person who is bemoaning the lack of Canadian judges? Why are obstacles, not necessarily legitimate, placed before people who are really interested in trying for their judging exams? Why also are not the judges in Ontario assigned an equal number of opportunities to judge, rather than a select few of the total of 15?

ear cropping

. . . Ref. "Humanely Speaking" in the issue for February. Closer investigation will show, no doubt, that cropping is not illegal in Britain but that entries with cropped ears may not be exhibited at EKC shows.

And it might be considered by CKC whether to require owners of cropped entries at our shows to produce a signed certificate that the operation had been performed by a certified veterinary surgeon under anesthesia; in fact such a requirement might be extended to entry into the register as well as transfer of ownership.

Such a ruling would remove a segment of Canadian dogdom from the not always tender mercies of the "do-it-yourself" fraternity,

FROM THE EDITOR

As a progressive individual in your home and your business, you have undoubtedly protected your family in the event of death by means of life insurance and a will.

But what protection have you made for your dogs? Who among us have not known members of the dog fancy whose trips to a show, a club meeting or other dog business have ended in tragedy.

This column has touched on the subject before. But a motor fatality a few months ago has sharply pointed up the need for serious thought on the part of every dog owner. Without relatives in this country, and having left no will, the disposal of the deceased's property and magnificent dogs rests in the hands of a public trustee. While the affairs are being settled in such a case, who looks after the dogs? Who re-imburses the person boarding them? In what manner will these award-winning valuable dogs be sold — to merely anyone who has the price? And at what price?

A will stating, in effect, "I leave all my worldly goods to my husband and children", or wife and children, as the case may be isn't good enough. It can create a whole chain of problems, if not real hardship.

Supposing both husband and wife are killed in the same accident. What on earth could small or teen-age children do with the dogs?

Or in the event of no children, the survivor might have no interest in the dogs. This is not an unusual occurrence.

Another poser. In the case of dual ownership of a dog, for breeding or showing purposes, would the surviving owner automatically become the sole owner? Possibly. But unless it is absolutely spelled out, the heirs might lay claim to the valuable dog. This could be problematic enough if the co-owners are both Canadian. But what if one owner is Canadian and the other American? And what if only one partner's name appears on the ownership papers?

Speaking of papers, if your dogs were sold, would your papers, bills of sale, pedigrees and other matters be in order? What is the sale value of your dogs — not sentimental value, but likely market value. Have you considered, for your own interests, as well as any future emergency, recording this vital information?

Identification is another important factor. Your dogs are more than likely noseprinted. But in an emergency prov-

a "change" for the better

. . . It is good to see that Dogs has taken up the work toward humane treatment of animals. I agree with Mr. Tom Hughes' article in October Dogs that legislation is the only method that will make an overall improvement on the deplorable pound conditions.

Perhaps the biggest improvement would be to curtail the constant breeding of thousands of unwanted animals . . . (and the variety of heartless death sentences —Ed.)

Cities and towns could well place a very high tax on uncastrated males and unspayed females with (we hope) concession to registered breeding kennels whose stock is kept up and at home.

People who keep animals as playthings or slaves and then brutally dispose of them . . . are the ones who will treat their fellow man in similar fashion if given "safe" opportunity, as witness the SPCA's original name SPCA and C (for children). I wish to say God bless you, SPCA — keep up the good work.

If such legislation ever does go into effect it might necessitate the CKC including classes for "changed" in the shows.

the loving cat

. . . Last June my dear Dad passed away very suddenly and unexpectedly. Mother has placed a picture of him on the combination radio and T.V. Lately "Spooky" jumped up on the combination and sat for some time looking into the face of my dad's picture. Then very gently he leaned his head over as if to kiss the picture and then pulled back again to sit and look. He did this several times and then laid down beside the picture. We are now wondering — can cats recognize pictures, etc.?

OBEDIENCE

Ed. O'Brien, Canfield, Ont., is well-known as Canada's leading professional trainer of dogs in Obedience work. He is a licensed Judge, one of Canada's first. He began his career in the West, training dogs for herding and other farm work. Since moving to Ontario he has specialized in training dogs for police and guard work and for disabled people. Mr. O'Brien also breeds German Shepherds and Dobermans.

"REVISED RULES: U.S.A. AND SOME THOUGHTS THEREON"

A copy of the new American "Proposed Revision of the Obedience Regulations" has been sent to me and while I haven't yet been able to study it in detail, I have noted some points which may be of interest to my readers. This will be especially so if the new Canadian Regulations and Standards proves to be practically a copy of the American one. Some of the proposals and definitions are good, while in my opinion others leave one a bit confused.

There may be some good reason for instructing a judge "not to permit a dog to compete if it has been dyed or colored in any way," but at first glance it seems curiously unrelated to Obedience.

The majority of our Trial-giving clubs have for some time specified that trophies would only be awarded to dogs with qualifying scores: A point on which opinions seem to differ. This is taken care of in the new American revision by the statement that all trophies and prizes must be given to the dog obtaining the highest number of points "without regard to more than 50% of the points required for a qualifying score in each exercise." Thus, dog No. 1 could obtain a leg on a degree with a score of 170, while dog No. 2, with a score of 185, could fail but would be given the trophy. Whether or not we agree with the American proposal, it is good to have a definite ruling on these matters.

One small point I noted is that while dogs in "Novice" and "Open" may be guided by the collar between exercises, no dog can be picked up or carried in the ring. That question, in the form of a complaint, was put to me while judging a Trial. This seems a small thing to argue about yet a ruling gives the judge the answer when the question arises.

Among other things listed under "misbehavior," all calling for points to be deducted from the total score, is "fouling the ring." While accidents do happen at times, if this ruling were included in our Canadian book of rules we would have, I am sure, fewer of these embarrassing incidents.

Signals are described in such detail that no handler could have a legitimate excuse for giving a signal in an improper manner. The dog can be dropped with either the upswing or the downswing of the arm, but "any pause in holding the arm upright will be considered as an extra signal."

I am sorry to find that in the "long down," not only is no rule given in regard to touching the dogs, but the downing of the dogs is left in even more confusion by this proposal: the handlers, "on order from the judge, will down their dogs, if they are not already down." This is one we can well get along without in Canadian trials. One can just picture the confusion and the effect on new spectators if this sloppy rule is put into effect. Fifteen dogs in the ring, next exercise the "long down," half the dogs along the line already lying down, the judge finally orders the rest to put their dogs down! Then, to make matters worse, the proposal is: "the judge shall not attempt to judge the dogs or handlers on the manner in which they are made to sit or down." So the dogs that were not already lying down can go down instantly on order, or they may have to be wrestled down, yet all dogs in such a class could have perfect scores if they stayed down for the required length of time. This is a proposal for Obedience rules?

Continually, over the years, there has been pressure from certain elements to make the Obedience Trial work easier. This is all wrong: our standards should be higher, not lower, than when we started. One of the first things dropped was the "left about turn." The cry went up that it was too hard for the novice handler. This turn demonstrated that the dog really knew on which side he should heel, as the handler turned to the left and the dog had to turn to the right to find his proper position. Next we allowed the dog to be posed for the "stand for examination." Previous to that, all dogs were trained to stop on signal while the handler continued walking, turning to face his dog only when he reached the end of the leash. Next we dropped bringing the dogs to a sit both after the "stand for examination" and the "long down," so now, in place of a good precision-like finish, both dogs and handlers appear to be lost.

It is hard to understand the demand by some owners for what amounts to another Obedience Degree, yet in some cases they are the very ones who wanted the work in the existing Degrees made easier.

BEAGLES

IN THE FIELD

A big voice booming out over the fields, a roaring laugh and a personality merry as a Beagle's. That's Joe Tiede, founder of the Beagle Association of Ontario and for many years the representative for Beagles for The Canadian Kennel Club. A judge of Beagle Field Trials, he is one of Canada's top working Beagle men.

BACK-TRACKING

It is doubtful if ever a Beagle hound lived and hunted that did not at some time or another run a back-track. Still there are some who own Beagles that swear cannot be made to run a back-track and have never been found guilty of such a despised fault.

Undoubtedly, it is the custom of Field Trial judges to penalize hounds more for back-tracking than any other one thing. Many a hound that has stood head and shoulders above all the rest in the field has been dropped completely from further consideration because he had been caught in the act of back-tracking. Sometimes this happens where the judges are not certain and even when the hound corrects his mistake by going in the proper direction and has not hindered his bracemate or the pack.

To me, personally, back-tracking has been a cardinal sin and once I was absolutely sure this is what the hound did, he was no longer on my scoring sheet. I must admit that in the last few years I have had to take another look at this major fault. I can recall a Pack Trial I judged a few years ago and it was very close to the time of the completion of this stake which was the 15" bitch class, when I caught our top hound coming backward on a line where I had been just moments before, and saw the hare travelling in the opposite direction. After consultation with my fellow judge we ordered the hound up immediately, the gallery being only a short distance away and had witnessed the entire exhibition of a great piece of hound work bringing the pack through this small meadow then turning around and going backwards.

The irony of the entire situation was this, that this particular bitch was so superior to any of the other hounds in this class that none of them could have possibly built up the score this hound had up to this time. To make matters worse, when the pack did get the line moving once more, they only went a short distance and could not proceed further. The other judge and myself wished to see this remaining pack on a fresh hare, so one was jumped and needless to say, once the leader had been picked up, the line could not be followed in any methodical way at all.

Since the event described above has happened, I feel a second look should be taken if a hound makes this mistake once, and can correct itself. The hound should be severely cut in points but still allowed to continue in the stake.

Hound can run over turns and past the checks, drawing their bracemates off the line, prolonging the race and making it jerky and uninteresting; still these same hounds can win or be awarded a place in the stake; they may even use their tongue too much, or too little, enough to disturb the chase, not once, but continually and be awarded a place, but let a hound take a back-track and then do sensational work, and he may be dropped in a class of four starters.

Back-tracking habitually done has no place whatsoever in the placed hounds and must be eliminated from the chase but a one-time offender I feel should be drastically cut but given another chance.

Nearly every hound owner will blush to the roots of his hair when one of his pet hounds is caught committing this error, especially so if it happens to be a hunter not long experienced in beagling; but there are occasions when trails cross or when hounds are given a hot line in an excited manner, or when hounds have been excited in some unusual circumstance that will cause them to go in the wrong direction.

There are days when scent is puzzling. Sometimes it is so faint that the best-nosed hounds will repeatedly go backwards, instead of forward. A couple of weeks ago, while out hunting with other hounds that have proven themselves capable, we hunted on a dry, powdery type of snow where the poorer-nosed hounds could not smell the line at all and the good-nosed hounds ran backwards as often as forwards. Some of these hounds did not back-track for good reason – they did not have enough nose to smell anything. This, I feel, proves another good point; these hounds with the superior noses are the ones caught more often.

At one of the trials I attended this fall with some of the best bitches in the country competing, in every brace I followed either one or both of the hounds back-tracked. I talked with another beagler who followed every brace, a fellow who has many Field Trial Champions to his credit, and he told me he followed every brace and all but two braces had become confused and been caught back-tracking.

Was there any reason for it from con-

"THE DOG BUSINESS"
Douglas Appleton has filled one notable gap in the list of books covering virtually every aspect of dog breeding and management.

From his experiences in his successful dog shop in London, Eng., supplying dogs for film and TV, the operation of a large boarding kennel, the running of a kennel of winning show dogs, his judging in England and abroad and as master of a Beagle pack, he is well prepared to write a book on this subject.

Chapters on kennel premises, breeding and showing, boarding kennels, dog services and feeding are all written from a sensible business point of view. $4.95

HUMANELY "SPEAKING"

Don't be too quick to condemn, says The General Manager of the Ontario Humane.

In any activity involving animals there are bound to be certain aspects of that activity that can lend to cruelty to animals. I can think of a number of pursuits that would be typical. For example, horse shows, thoroughbred racing, pigeon racing, field trials, rodeos, sled-dog racing and dog shows.

All these activities are perfectly legal and anyone participating in them is not automatically 'hard', 'callous', or 'rough'.

As a matter of fact, I would say that by far the vast majority of the supporters of such activities are perfectly normal, everyday people — just like you and I. To condemn the people who take part in one or more of these activities simply because they do participate is narrow-minded bigotry of the worst kind. And yet, that is exactly what some members of the public would have the Humane Society do as a matter of policy.

It is perfectly true that there are individuals who are callous, cruel and indifferent to suffering of animals. And it is these people who, by and large, give various sports or hobbies such a bad name. Often, these people are arrogantly indifferent to the opinion of the general public as a whole, taking the attitude that 'they' (meaning all those people who don't agree with them) are just a bunch of stupid screwballs or fanatics. It is true that there are indeed a number of irresponsible citizens who have earned such a description by their actions but they are in as small a minority as are the 'cruel' dog or horse enthusiast!

By and large most people, irrespective of their ideas, are reasonable, decent people who will listen to the other fellow's point of view, and if they don't agree with him, will nevertheless respect his right to have his own point of view and not abuse him for it.

It is equally true that there are certain phases of many animal activities that, in themselves, are questionable and can be criticized, without necessarily criticizing the whole activity of which it is a part.

For example: I think few people would find much to comment on when they watch a horse show. How many of the spectators at the Royal Win Fair are upset over the horse's con tion? Most of the general public wou if asked, say that the horses were beautiful condition. How true! But wh about the American saddle bred hors whose tails have been 'set'? Most hors men I have talked to all agree that t setting is a cruel thing in itself a should be abolished. But no one do anything about it, and every year hors whose tails have been set are exhibit to the 'oohs' and 'aahs' of the crowd who don't recognize it.

Another example is horse racing. F the most part there is little to criticis about a group of well trained thoroug breds in top condition doing what th have been bred to do — race around dirt or grass track for distances fro six furlongs up to a mile and a hal carrying a very light load. Is this crue Obviously not. And yet the system som times encourages undue harshness an even deliberate cruelty to these animal Perhaps this only applies to one in thousand, but the danger is there jus the same.

Dog shows are hardly the place on would expect to find cruelty to dog But it can happen, as everyone who ha any experience of dog shows know Some exhibitors seem to very easily for get that they have a dog on the benc and never go near the dog once it i benched and until they are ready t enter the ring. I know such people ar in the minority, but they do exist

And what about the professional hand ler who transports large numbers o dogs to various shows, travelling thou sands of miles with his dogs in sma cages in the back of a truck or van Again, I don't have to labor the poin to those who are experienced.

And what about the refined result of Greyhound racing. As a result o continuous inbreeding, and continuou kennel life, the average racing Grey hound in the United States is simpl not fit to be a domestic 'pet' when it racing days are over. As a result, hun dreds of these beautiful dogs are kille every year when they are in the prim of life for normal 'companion' purposes but past the peak for racing. Human Societies in the United States try to d what they can about the situation, bu there is little they can do except fac up to the facts realistically. And s each year, they kill thousands of Grey hounds that were bred to race and ar condemned to die at the end of thei racing career.

But it is wrong to condemn all thos men and women who support these ac tivities because these abuses exist. I is even more wrong to suggest that a such activities should be abolished be cause of these possible abuses. And t suggest, as some do, that the Crimina law should be invoked by the Human Societies to try to produce a chang in the way these activities are carrie on is to suggest a misuse of the la enforcement system.

I have enforced the Criminal laws

FLASH! GERMAN SHEPHERD OWNERS

The newly revised "COMPLETE ALSATIAN" by Nem Elliott is now in stock.

This book is truly "complete" for Mrs. Elliott gives you guidance on choosing a puppy, diet and exercise of young and adult dogs, treatment of common ailments, mating and whelping, establishment of a kennel and a full account of training for character, the show ring, competitive obedience and working qualifications.

Experienced breeders will find essential chapters on modern bloodlines in which all the most important animals are mentioned; charts of bloodlines and lists of British, German and American award winners from the first shows that were ever held; and an extensive section on practical breeding which includes a scientific analysis, by Malcolm C. Willis, of genetics in relation to the Shepherd.

Above all, the author has aimed, in her picture of current breeding stock, to provide a basis for understanding the necessity for breed improvement as a whole.

Kingston K.C. Sanction Show

As a featured attraction during the two weeks of the second Kingston Winter Carnival the KKC sponsored a sanction show on January 29, with gratifying results and a 'bolt-the-doors-to-keep-them-out' attendance.

How long is it since (if ever?) a show had a class of six Great Pyrenees, parading their combined half-ton of white beauty around the ring? This entry by C. C. Loan, of Ivanhoe, Ont. was almost a show-stopper, due to be repeated at our June 21-22 Championship shows.

A total entry of 109 dogs, quite strong in puppy-classes, faced our three judges, Lorne Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hayes, all from Ottawa. The northern portion of New York State was well represented with dogs from Watertown, Massena, Cape Vincent and other points.

A good local entry was challenged by strong contingents from Belleville and Tweed with Ottawa and Brockville also competing for honors. This was almost beyond the capacity of the hall, but is fine evidence of the "dogginess" of the Thousand Island-Quinte region.

Starting at 6:30 on a snowy night, our judges began the task of weighing the merits of a widely diversified entry. A generously-stocked trophy table, in addition to the show ribbons, brought anticipatory smiles to the faces of the exhibitors.

Did you know that show-ribbons originated in Kingston?

Almost four hours later the regular groups were each being represented by a fine specimen for the top awards.

Gr. 1 winner was a Cocker Spaniel (D. Mountney, Ottawa); Gr. 2 by a Beagle (R. Silver, Odessa); Gr. 3 by a good Doberman Pinscher (J. Munroe, Ivanhoe); Gr. 4 was won by a Scottish Terrier (M. Manfredi, Carthage, N.Y.); Gr. 5 by a Miniature Pinscher (R. Hewitt, Tweed) and Gr. 6 Standard Poodle (Mrs. L. R. Curry of the host Kingston Kennel Club).

Lorne Moore awarded BIS, BCB and BPIS to the eight-month Beagle "Runaway Miss Pixie" to conclude an exciting night for his owner. The club members had worked hard and happily to give every dog his day.

The local radio and press gave us good publicity and the T-V station showed film of the event next day. See you at our June shows, remember — if you don't possess a "Kingston" ribbon you don't possess the "original" of all ribbons – your collection is incomplete.

Humanity to animals is a great point. If I were a teacher in a school, I would make it a very important part of my business to impress every boy and girl with the duty of his or her being kind to all animals. It is impossible to say how much suffering there is in the world from the barbarity or unkindness which people show to what we call the inferior creatures.

People may talk as much as they like about their religion, but if it does not teach them to be good and kind to man and beast it is all a sham.

A JUDGE OFFERS

ADVICE TO EXHIBITORS

What is really going on in the judge's mind when he assesses dog and handler?

Mr. Robert Waters, author of this article, is internationally known and respected as a leading judge. In 1945 he received approval from the CKC to judge all breeds and in 1949 received his all breed licence from the American Kennel Club. Since that time he has judged in every state of the United States, four times in Honolulu, twice in Anchorage, Alaska. Upon his retirement from the Police Department in 1966 he is planning to fulfil several invitations he has received to judge in England, Europe, South America, Australia and New Zealand. Mr. Waters is particularly well qualified to offer "advice to exhibitors".

As can be imagined, in the course of fulfilling judging assignments, many amusing situations occur. For example, one time, on the Texas Circuit, I recall a certain judge who was judging the miscellaneous class when a lady stepped forward with her dog and said "Judge I have a Shih Tzus." He replied – "You go right ahead lady, I'll hold your dog till you come back."

DOUBLE HANDLING

I can't approve of double handling. We have enough trouble with exhibitors in the ring with squeaky mice, bouncing rubber balls and feeding liver. When the judge tries to examine a dog's head and the dog thinks you have a piece of liver, he makes a grab for your arm and almost swallows it up to your elbow. If the dog is eating liver you have to wait until he gets finished eating to get a head study. I'd hate to think what would happen to the spectators around the ring if double handling was allowed and there were from 10 to 15 owners on the outside of the ring trying to attract their dog's attention, it would be nothing short of mayhem.

OVER HANDLING

When over handling, the judge seldom gets a chance to see the over-all picture as the handler is so busy, either trying to cover up the dog's faults or trying to show the judge what a good dog he has by pointing out the dog's good points. This does not impress the judge at all. It is an insult to the judge's intelligence and in some cases they may be left out of the ribbons completely.

UNDER HANDLING

This is just the opposite of over handling. It might be the exhibitor's first time in the ring, never having been to a training class with his dog, trying to follow the action of the others in the ring, trying to set up his dog and getting little or no cooperation from the dog. I feel that the judge should take the dog in hand and in just a matter of seconds the exhibitor has some idea of what he has to do to set up his dog. The exhibitor is thereby put at ease which reflects on the dog and, in many cases, the dog ends up in the ribbons. A little help to an exhibitor can be much appreciated.

GROOMING YOUR DOG

Grooming is one of the most important features in showing a dog. In many cases it is the difference between winning and losing. Everything being equal, the best groomed dog will win. Faulty grooming would jeopardize a dog's chance of higher placement even though he was a good specimen of the breed. The faulty grooming would not make him conform to the standard and he would have to be penalized for it.

SHOULD AN EXHIBITOR SPEAK TO A JUDGE IN THE RING

I have no objection (if the time can be spared) to an exhibitor speaking to a judge, but only after the class is judged. While the placements are still fresh in the judge's mind, approach the judge and ask him if he would fault your dog, and I am sure in most cases he will oblige you. Don't ask him after the show is over. He probably wouldn't even remember what breed you had.

LATE ARRIVAL

There is no excuse for being late in the ring unless you have had an accident on your way to the show. You always receive a judging program, stating where and when the show starts and the approximate time your breed will be judged. If you are a handler, sometimes the times of judging conflict with your breeds, so make sure you have someone standing by at the ringside to take your client's dog in. Don't be marked absent.

WEARING APPAREL

Wearing apparel in the ring is the subject of many remarks and unsightly scenes. First of all, be neat and properly dressed. I am referring more strongly to the women than the men. How often have you seen a woman exhibitor showing a small dog, bending full over or squatting – if she could see herself as the Judge and the people at ringside do, I'm sure she would be most embarrassed. Then there is the buxom woman with a loose blouse. When she bends over her dog, you can see down to her waist or else you are afraid that her bosom will fall right out of her blouse. It is most embarrassing for the judge and I know from experience that he doesn't know which way to look. More than once I have had to ask my lady ring steward if she would mind asking the exhibitor to adjust her dress. Slacks (and I don't mean skin tights), or cullotts (split skirts) are very nice or a full skirt, if you know how to wear them with a modest sweater or blouse, are very acceptable clothes for the show ring. Choose colors that complement your dog. If you have a brown dog, do not wear a brown dress. It is difficult for the judge to see your dog. Do not wear high heels. Wear an oxford with a low heel with a crepe or ripple sole if possible so you are not likely to slip when gaiting your dog at a running pace. Nothing looks nicer than a well groomed dog shown by a smartly dressed exhibitor.

MISBEHAVING DOGS

This is the fault of the owner of the dog and it should be trained at home rather than wait till it gets to the show. Other dogs and exhibitors become upset and the owner of the untrained dog becomes very unpopular. The Judge does not have time to spend on a dog that is not under control so make sure your dog is trained before you bring him to the show.

The Virtues of Inbreeding

"Genetics is never a simple subject that can be simply explained," states Philip Onstott in The New Art of Breeding Better Dogs, which he recently revised from the original classic work of his father, Kyle Onstott. "Not only is genetics a science, the determining units of which — the genes — are intangible . . . it is not a science of individual cases. The laws of genetics rest upon statistical probabilities." Herewith presented in a very much condensed version is one of the chapters in the book which does explain a subject faced by the novice, and sometimes the veteran, breeder.

Among dog breeders, wherever two or three are gathered together, there is likely to arise a discussion of inbreeding, line breeding, and outbreeding and of their respective merits and dangers. Some breeders outcross their dog (or think they outcross them) through fear of the degeneracy that they believe results from all inbreeding. Others line breed (or think they do) in an effort to obtain the good results of inbreeding, without assuming its alleged, and sometimes real, hazards. There are others who accept inbreeding uncritically as a matter of policy. They inbreed merely for inbreeding's sake. A fourth class inbreed one generation to obtain their type and outcross the two following generations to restore to their stock whatever stamina may have been lost by the inbreeding process. All of these kinds of breeders sometimes produce good dogs although all of the policies and reasons for them are ill founded.

There are, of course, a few breeders who know exactly what they are doing. They inbreed when inbreeding is indicated; they line breed with a purpose; and they outcross to obtain certain characteristics which they desire to annex to their stock.

A sound working knowledge of genetics and of the theory of the genes will enable one to comprehend the reasons why inbreeding, line breeding, and outbreeding, should produce their respective results. It is necessary to keep in mind that the breeder is not mating dogs but is joining together sets of genes enclosed in their chromosome capsules.

It is impossible to make any hard and fast definition of the three terms; first, because writers have been given to differ somewhat in their application of the words, and secondly, because a given degree of relationship between two dogs might be greater or less than two other dogs. Remote cousins may be, although they are not usually, more closely related genetically than are full brother and sister. Thus the matings of cousins may be close inbreeding while the mating of full brother and sister may be line breeding. This, it is to be understood, is not usually true and is cited only to show why it is impossible to declare exactly where line breeding becomes inbreeding.

Outbreeding, literally speaking, is the mating of unrelated animals. However, within any purebred variety of dogs absolute outbreeding is all but impossible. This statement will seem a heresy. It is none the less true.

Within every generation of every breed there are fashionable or prepotent sires which are much used and which influence the breed's destiny. Not only is it unnecessary to consider thirty generation pedigrees, each with its two billion names, but a six generation pedigree of any two contemporary dogs of the same breed will reveal the name of one or more dogs as the common ancestor of both.

Outcrossing, as generally discussed, is the mating together of animals whose pedigrees list no ancestors in common. Line breeding is the breeding together of animals whose kinship is shown by their pedigrees to be more or less remote. Inbreeding is the breeding together of closely related mates.

Both the latter terms are loosely used and what one breeder may consider to be rather close inbreeding, another may think of as only line breeding. Matings such as brother to full sister or to half sister, parents to progeny, full uncle or aunt to niece or nephew, respectively, are almost universally accepted as inbreeding. The mating together of cousins (animals with one or two grandparents in common) and of animals of more remote kinship, is usually considered as line breeding.

A consideration of genetics and the genes leads to the conclusion not only that it is undesirable to draw too sharp a line of demarcation between line breeding and inbreeding, but also that such demarcation is impossible. It is neither necessary nor desirable to abandon the terms, but they do demand to be clarified.

The true relationship between animals is determined by the likeness of their chromosomes and the genes within them. When like alleles from a common ancestor come together from each gamete to form a zygote, inbreeding occurs, although the parents of that zygote may be but tenth cousins. When unlike alleles unite to form the zygote, even if the parents are full brother and sister, outbreeding occurs.

Except in identical twins, which are always of the same sex and cannot be mated together, it is for practical purposes impossible to find two dogs with all genes of identical origin. Such a mating, if it were possible, would be the most intensive inbreeding and would result in progeny almost exactly like the parents. Since it is not possible, the breeder who chooses to inbreed his stock intensively can approximate such matings only so far as his perception in choosing mates genetically alike, and his good fortune in the reduction of the basic sex cells will permit.

If line breeding succeeds in intensifying and purifying the attributes of the line-bred strain, it is because it functions as inbreeding, and its hazards are as great as inbreeding.

The line breeder is like the urchin who goes to the creek the first sunshiny day of spring and is reluctant to plunge into the cold water. He splashes a foot in the stream tentatively while he stands shivering on the bank. He wants to swim but is afraid of the coldness of the water. The inbreeder taunts that the last one in is a sissy, and dives in. He may get cold but he has had his swim. In breeding, as in anything else, one cannot make an omelet without breaking some eggs.

A clear comprehension of the behavior of the chromosomes and their genes enables one to realize just how and why the results of inbreeding are what they are. Such realization is impossible without a knowledge of the gene theory. Those who have mastered that theory can, and will, make their own deductions from it as to the policy of inbreeding.

Long before genes were known, inbreeding of plants and animals was practiced, even in the wild state. It may be argued that natural selection eliminates the weak and the unfit, to which replication is to be made that in artificial selection, the will of the breeder does or at least should do the same service to the species.

Early breeders employed inbreeding empirically. It worked. They knew not why it worked. Often it failed, and they knew not why it failed. They could make no progress without inbreeding, and yet the sorry results, often enough produced, frightened them. They had not the theory in the light of which to analyze these results, good or bad. Seeking the benefits of inbreeding, while abjuring its injuries, these early breeders invented line breeding. They only knew that less degeneracy resulted from it, despite that improvement was less likely to be rapid. They were content to crawl ahead with line breeding, rather than run forward with inbreeding, since the danger of stumbling was not so great. They made haste slowly. But they were not avoiding the pitfalls as they believed they were. They were only covering up recessive faults with hybrid dominance.

Degeneracy is purgation of the strain. Inbreeding brings it to the surface, where it may be skimmed off and got rid of. In the long run, degeneracies are a blessing to the breeder. It is by their expression in the phenotype that they can be eliminated from the stock and its purity fixed.

When absolute outcrosses do succeed in producing typical stock, the explanation lies in the phenomenon of heterosis. Heterosis, the hybridization of unrelated strains or varieties, produces great vigor and stamina for a single generation in the burying of undesirable recessive factors in each line under favorable dominants from the other line. The recessives are, however, only buried, not eliminated, and may crop out alive and kicking in subsequent generations. We cannot cheat nature as easily as we think. Mules are useful animals and their stamina is proverbial. It is just as well that they are not fertile, however, because their stamina of hybridism would be lost in the progeny of such hybrids as are able to produce offspring.

Bad results from outcrossing can be eliminated through persistent inbreeding and selection, and the good results so derived may be retained and perpetuated by the same means. Outcrossing is for the breeder who is willing to devote generations to the addition to his strain of a virtue which it lacks. If possible, that virtue should be brought into the strain through only a partial outcross, since outcrossing is quite likely to destroy virtues already possessed as to add others that are wanting and wanted. It is a risky expedient for the breeder who wants immediate, first generation results or for one who does not know exactly what he is about. If such a one succeeds in getting what he wants in the first generation, in all likelihood it is because the two so-called strains are so closely related that the results may be attributed to line breeding rather than to outbreeding.

It is not the experienced and informed breeders who are forever experimenting with outcrossing. It is rather the novice and inexperienced who hope to garner in one generation all the virtues of both strains and to eliminate their faults.

The fear of inbreeding and the ignorant prejudices against it are widespread. And, in fact, there is some justification. The perils of inbreeding are, however, much more apparent than real. It is at once the surest means of establishing the breeding purity and desirable attributes and the means of bringing to light undesirable recessive factors which may lurk in the germ plasm of the strain. If those animals which show the defective traits are eliminated from the breeding program and are not permitted to reproduce themselves, generation by generation, those undesirable qualities can be cast out of the strain, their appearance being less and less frequent until the strain is finally purged of them.

Meanwhile, the desirable dominant factors are changed from hybrid-dominance to pure dominance, and desirable recessives are captured and retained. Thus is developed the prepotence of the members of a strain. For that, indeed, is what prepotence amounts to — the possession of like genes in the two haploid sets of chromosomes that form the zygote.

Are there then no hazards in the inbreeding of dogs? Is inbreeding the infallible prescription for the attainment of perfection? It is by no means so simple. There are hazards involved but not so great as is sometimes believed. Ill-considered inbreeding is the worst possible policy in an effort to produce fine dogs. Inbreeding is a loaded gun which must be pointed in the right direction to accomplish the purpose for which it exists.

PROSECUTIONS under the LIVESTOCK PEDIGREE ACT

REGINA vs. GRAVEL

In Magistrate's Court at Toronto, Ontario, on October 8th, 1963, Claude Gravel of Toronto was convicted of the charge that unlawfully he did "sell as pure-bred an animal of a class or breed in respect of which an association has been incorporated without furnishing or agreeing as an integral part of the contract of sale to furnish the certificate of registration, together with the duly recorded transfer of ownership thereof to the actual buyer, contrary to The Live Stock Pedigree Act, R.S.C. 1952, Chapter 168, Section 17(1)(e).

Magistrate R. B. Dnieper sentenced Mr. Gravel to a fine of $50.00 or to imprisonment for a term of ten days.

Upon receipt of certification of this conviction the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club subsequently deprived Mr. Gravel of all the privileges of the Club.

REGINA vs. HOWLETT

In 1960 The Canadian Kennel Club received a complaint with regard to four Pomeranians sold by Mrs. Bertha Howlett, Brantford, Ont.

The complaint was referred to the federal Department of Agriculture and an investigation followed. The report of the investigation was referred to the federal Department of Justice and in due course six charges, under the Live Stock Pedigree Act, were laid against Mrs. Howlett.

The following appeared as witnesses for the Crown; Mr. Roy Steffler, Waterloo, Ont. Mr. Finlay Stewart and Mr. J. E. Brown, of the federal Department of Agriculture; Mr. Walter Brown, Mr. Wm. McDerment, and Mr. W. H. MacKendrick (members of the C.K.C. Complaints Committee in 1961); Mrs. F. M. Peacock, Burlington, Ont.; Mr. T. E. Gundersen of the Canadian National Live Stock Records; and Mr. N. F. Brown, Secretary-Treasurer of The Canadian Kennel Club.

The trial resumed on November 21st at the conclusion of which Magistrate Shillington rendered the following decisions:

HIS WORSHIP:

First of all, I wish to take this opportunity of expressing to both counsel my appreciation of the efforts they have put in on this case. It has been an involved, long, drawn out affair and in order to be able to give proper study to the case itself this had to be done, of course.

I am going to deal first of all with two charges dealing with "Ricky Ricardo of Cantoy". The three people, Mr. Walter Brown, Mr. McKendrick and Mr. McDerment examined this dog with the others and who recognized the dogs here in court were of the opinion that that dog could be the dog referred to upon the certificate. Certainly, with that evidence coming from Crown witnesses the doubt is very large indeed and the benefit of that doubt is therefore, given to the accused on these two charges, the first charge under Section 17(1)(b) of the Livestock Pedigree Act and the second under Section 17(1)(a) of the Livestock Pedigree Act, dealing with the dog known as "Ricky Ricardo of Cantoy". The finding of these two charges will be that of not guilty.

With regard to the other four charges – that is, the charges under Section 17(1)(b) of the Livestock Pedigree Act referring to the dogs, "Rosita of Cantoy", "Miceleia of Cantoy", "Tombalina of Cantoy" and "Rosita of Cantoy", I have to take a different view. I don't intend to go into the facts at length. We have listened to it now for two days and it would be superfluous to go into it again but I do intend to touch briefly on one or two things that impressed me insofar as these charges are concerned. First, we have the purchase of the dog known as "Beland My Beauty" from Mrs. F. M. Peacock, according to the copy of the certificate, Exhibit #24. This dog was purchased by Mrs. Howlett on August 17th, 1954. The dog was one born on October 20th, 1949, so that at the time of purchase it was at least five or nearly six years of age, maybe seven, – both years are inclusive. This dog's nickname was "Queenie" and called "Queenie" from the time that Mrs. Peacock sold it to Mrs. Howlett and therefore is known to Mrs. Peacock as Queenie. She sold it to a Mrs. Sheppardson at first, it subsequently came back to her and it was sold at a later date to Mrs. Howlett.

At the time Mrs. Howlett purchased "Queenie" or "Beland My Beauty" it was apparently about the time that Mrs. Howlett decided to carry on with a kennel she had started three or four years previously, branching out into Pomeranians. She bought numerous dogs from Mrs. Peacock, at that time. Then, in 1955, there was an application for registration, for a specific registration, known as "Rosita of Cantoy", for which was given a birth date of January 1st, 1955 and the application was completed on the 21st of January, 1955, twenty days after the birth of this dog and the application indicates that this dog has been tattooed and the tattoo number applied to the dog and at a subsequent date, Mrs. Howlett received from the Department a certificate of registration which is under here as Exhibit #6. It shows on this certificate that there is a tattoo mark on the right flank of this dog. Up until the time of sale of this dog to Mr. & Mrs. Steffler, there was no evidence that this dog was known as "Queenie" but at the time of the sale to Mr. & Mrs. Steffler they were advised by Mrs. Howlett that this dog was nicknamed "Queenie". "Miceleia of Cantoy" was another dog born in the same litter as registered on January 1st, 1955, application for registration made again on January 21, 1955, twenty days after. On this application it was registered that the dog had been tattooed and the tattoo number was given to that dog, CKR 2K was supposed to have been tattooed on the right flank. This is in 1955, five years after Mrs. Howlett has been in the business of running a kennel and raising dogs.

Then we have an application of and registration of a dog named "Tombalina of Cantoy". Application for registration of this dog was not made until some one year and one month after its birth. This dog has the nickname of "Shirley". Nothing indicated that this dog was known as "Shirley" from the time of birth until its sale when the name was put on the certificate for registration which was passed on to Mr. and Mrs. Steffler and these nicknames were written in there by Mr. Howlett.

I find that Mr. Howlett was an assistant of his wife, Mrs. Howlett in this business of operating a kennel and that anything he did he did with her knowledge, sanction and consent so that because of her ownership of the kennel anything that he did would have been done with her knowledge, sanction and consent, the same as her own act. I also find as fact that Mrs. Bertha Howlett is the proprietor and owner of the Cantoy Kennel which is registered with the Canadian Kennel Club.

We then come to the question of tattoos. Compliance with the acknowledged bylaws of the Canadian Kennel Club must be maintained with regard to the identification of these dogs whether they be toy dogs or Great Danes. The method is apparently an accepted one – there are two methods – a tattoo on the ear, right or left flank or the other of taking a nose print of the dog. One witness apparently expressed a bit of squeamishness at performing the operation of tattooing and he used the method of nose print, but it is generally accepted that tattoos of the dog is a method which is generally in use by kennels.

Nearly all of the witnesses who have anything to do with kennels, with the exception of one, used the tattoo method. I don't think that it is material whether or not one or two hands are used to operate this machine. Mr. F. Stewart said he held the machine in one hand and the dog's ear in the other hand or the dog's flank, whichever it was. Also, the evidence was given that the skin on this type of toy dog is very fine and soft and I think it's quite within the realm of reason that it would not take too much pressure of the very fine, pointed, needle-like dies to puncture the skin. Mr. Howlett said that he stopped the pressure when the dog started to squeal and bark and that it did not squeal or bark until the pin pricks were felt, so sufficient pressure was being brought to bear if the tattooing was done at all.

If Mrs. Howlett had only gone into the business of operating a kennel last year, I could probably give credence to her evidence that all of these dogs were tattooed and that from inexperience from handling the tattoo machine it did not take effect so that the dye could not get into the broken skin, but having operated a kennel and having given evidence that all these dogs were tattooed by her husband on her instructions, we find that these four dogs, Tombalina, Ricky, Miceleia and Rosita, with no tattoos and then we find fifteen more dogs in the kennel at the time of the visit from the officers of the Department without tattoos, all of which were supposed to be tattooed, I think that the credulity of the court is being strained if the court is expected to believe that. I find that none of these four dogs were, in fact, tattooed. That is additionally borne out by the condition of the tattoo machine. The evidence was given by Mr. Brown, Mr. McKendrick, Mr. Stewart and even Mrs. Peacock – all of them gave evidence that there was some residue of ink or dye left on the machine. Mr. Earl Brown stated that once the machine was used the original lustre was gone and it could never be replaced again regardless of the amount of cleaning and the type of material used to clean it, even though he stated that he was not a metallurgist.

With all that evidence, it would be quite reasonable for the court to reach the conclusion that a machine purchased in 1950 and used on so many dogs over so many years is not going to look like a brand new machine. I am being asked to believe something that I cannot believe.

I feel satisfied from the evidence with regard to the ages of the dogs examined by Mr. W. Brown, Mr. McKendrick and Mr. McDerment on the occasion that they saw these dogs could only lead the court to one conclusion and that is that the dog whose name was shown on the certificate for registration was not the dog that was sold to Mr. Steffler. I am satisfied, in my own mind, with regard to a person who owned for a period of one year or two, that in this particular case, as far as "Beland My Beauty" was concerned, owned by Mrs. Peacock from its birth in 1949 up until the dog was sold in 1954, that any person who had a dog that long in his or her possession is still going to know that dog and be able to recognize that dog two or three or five or seven years after, within a very short period of observation. It would be a different matter raising a puppy and selling it as a puppy and trying to recognize it four or five years afterwards but when a dog has been in your possession for four or five years, I don't think you would ever forget it and particularly a dog that had a nickname. Now, Mrs. Peacock saw this dog that was alleged to have been Rosita of Cantoy and she identified it as being "Beland My Beauty". Is it not strange, indeed, that "Beland My Beauty" and "Rosita of Cantoy" have the same nickname as well as the identification made by Mrs.

(4) stated that he felt that this exhibition would afford an excellent public relations opportunity for The Canadian Kennel Club and that towards this end he would be prepared to make available, at no cost to the Club, a suitable booth, provided that the Club undertook to man the booth during the period of the exhibition, the Club to be otherwise responsible only for such literature as it may wish to make available to those visiting the Plaza during the course of the exhibition.

9 A 31. BOARD MEETINGS

SUBJECT: The Secretary pointed out that Section 2 of Article X of the Club's By-laws provides as follows:
"Each new Board at its first meeting shall set aside a specific day in each month on which all regular meetings of the Board shall be held, if necessary."
DISCUSSION: During a discussion of the motion (#16-64) set forth hereunder:
(1) Mr. Monaghan stated that he found it necessary to travel by day because he needed to have proper rest and that he preferred meetings on a Friday so he would not have to lose too much time away from his other duties.
(2) Mrs. Mack suggested that meetings be held on a Wednesday in order that those members of the Board wishing to attend shows and/or trials would have the Friday free for travelling and/or preparation of dogs;
(3) Mrs. Joel stated that volunteer work elsewhere would not permit of her attending Board meetings on a Friday before 2:30 p. m.;
(4) Mr. Brown suggested that in setting a day each month consideration should be given those members of the Board who have the greatest distance to travel;
(5) Mr. Mehlenbacher expressed the view that an effort should be made to reach agreement on this question, and stated that he would not find it possible to attend meetings if set for a Saturday or Monday.

MOTION #16-64
Moved by Mr. Monaghan, seconded by Mr. Mehlenbacher:
"THAT, the second Friday of each month be the specific day in each month on which regular meetings of the Board shall be held, if necessary; the Board to decide at each meeting when it will be necessary to hold the next regular meeting."
FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Monaghan.
AGAINST THE MOTION: Mrs. Joel, Mrs. Mack.
ABSTAINED: Mr. Mehlenbacher.
The Chairman cast a tie-breaking vote against the motion.
Motion lost.

DISCUSSION: Mr. Monaghan stated that defeat of motion #16-64 exhausted discussion on the question at this meeting and suggested that it be referred to the annual meeting of the Board.

MOTION #17-64
Moved by Mr. Monaghan, seconded by Mr. Brown:
"THAT, the matter dealt with in Section 2 of Article X be referred to the annual Board meeting."
Motion carried unanimously.

REPORT: Mr. Monaghan gave notice that at the annual meeting of the Board he would move the following motion:
"THAT, the President and the Directors for Ontario be and are hereby designated the members of the Board who shall be eligible to attend regular meetings of the Board at the Club's expense."

9 A 81. REFERENDUM BALLOTS

SUBJECT: The Secretary read the following letter (dated December 30th) received from Mr. Monaghan:
"This will acknowledge your Note of December 24, 1963 and the enclosures: (1) a copy of the 1963 referendum ballot;
(2) a copy of the report on the voting.

"I note that the referendum booklet has the words 'Special Referendum Ballot' in large, black-face capital letters on the front cover and inside I see there are proposed amendments from No. 1 to No. 29.

"I also note the booklet includes no other proposed amendments and we do know there were no proposed amendments on the agenda of the annual general meeting held in March, 1963. This is proof there was no regular referendum ballot for this Special Referendum Ballot to be concurrent with, or for the 29 proposed amendments to be 'included in' - the Notice on page 30R of the October 1963 issue of Dogs in Canada to the contrary.

"I therefore ask if it really was a Special Referendum Ballot that was conducted.

"If it was, where is the text and date of the Order of the Board to be found, where is the thirty days' notice that a Special Referendum Ballot was to be conducted to be found, and isn't your statement in the last sub-paragraph in the Note under acknowledgment in error when it indicates an effective date of January 1st, 1964?

"If it is not in error, then by what line of reasoning are the provisions of the fifth paragraph of section 17 of Article XXXVIII of the Club's By-laws made to apply?

"I am attaching a copy of this letter for the Club's Solicitor, Mr. Peter Wright, Q. C.

Will you please advise?"

The Secretary read the following letter (dated January 2nd) which he addressed to Mr. Monaghan in reply to the foregoing letter:
"This will acknowledge your letter of December 30th, which I shall refer to the Board at its next meeting, on January 4th.

"In the meantime, and for your study before the Board meeting on January 4th, I am enclosing copy of a letter which I addressed to the Board of Directors on October 9, 1963, to which was attached copy of my letter to Mr. Peter Wright, dated October 7th, a copy of his reply, dated October 8th, and a copy of the information which I forwarded to Mr. Wright with my letter of October 7th.

"I may say that this correspondence came about as a result of your letter to this office with regard to comments appearing in 'The Old Timer' column in the September issue of 'Dogs in Canada'.

"Your question with regard to the effective date of amendments to the Dog Show Rules, Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards, and the Field Trial Rules and Regulations is well taken."

DISCUSSION: Upon the reading of these letters Mr. Monaghan said: "I challenge the constitutional validity of the Special Referendum Ballot conducted during November and December, 1963", and gave notice that at the annual meeting of the Board in February he would move the following motions:
(1) "THAT, motions 249-63, 250-63, 246-63, 247-63, 252-63, 245-63, 253-63, 336-63, 248-63, 370-63, 344-63, 356-63, 19-63, 350-63, 352-63, 387-63, 317-63, 327-63, 335-63, 321-63, 348-63, 251-63, relating to Proposed Amendments No. 1 to No. 29, and either directing or authorizing that a proposed amendment or the proposed amendment or this proposed amendment or proposed amendments be included or directing or authorizing the Secretary to include or directing he be instructed to include proposed amendments in the next referendum ballot be and are hereby declared nullities on the grounds that at the time they were passed there was no 'next referendum ballot' legally in existence or being processed";

(2) "THAT, the Special Referendum Ballot conducted during November and December 1963 be and is hereby declared a nullity on the grounds that all formalities and requirements under the Club's By-laws have not been complied with."

DISCUSSION: The Secretary:
(1) suggested that the opinion of the Club's solicitor be sought before the annual meeting of the Board;
(2) stated that if the matter is referred to the Club's solicitor, the solicitor should be provided with all possible information, and enquired whether Mr. Monaghan would be prepared to put in writing all the points on which he based his challenge.
Mr. Monaghan stated that upon his return to Ottawa he would communicate to the Secretary all those points which he felt should be considered.

MOTION #18-64
Moved by Mrs. Mack, seconded by Mrs. Joel:
"THAT, this matter be referred to the Club's solicitor, and the Secretary be and is hereby empowered to take no action to implement amendments approved on the last referendum ballot until further instructions are given at the annual meeting of the Board."
FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mrs. Joel, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Mehlenbacher.
ABSTAINED: Mr. Monaghan.
Motion carried.

9 A 108. APPOINTMENTS FOR 1964

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter (dated December 21st) from the Cornwall Beagle Club Inc. strongly urging "the newly elected Board of Directors of the C.K.C. to consider leaving the same set-up and the same group of beaglers to look after the affairs of the Canadian beagler for the year 1964" and stating that "we feel that great strides have been taken by this group and they have created harmony and good-will amongst the beaglers and the beagle clubs".
DISCUSSION: During a discussion which followed:
(1) it was suggested that the letter should be referred to the annual meeting of the Board for its consideration when appointments for 1964 are considered;
(2) Mr. Monaghan stated that the appointments referred to in the letter should be left strictly to the Ontario Directors to discuss and decide.

MOTION #19-64
Moved by Mrs. Mack, seconded by Mrs. Joel:
"THAT, the letter be read at the annual meeting of the Board."
FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mrs. Joel, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Mehlenbacher.
AGAINST THE MOTION: Mr. Monaghan.
Motion carried.

"THAT, applications for membership reported on lists #29 and #30 be admitted to membership except where any member of the Board submits an objection before the prescribed deadline."

REPORT: Mr. Mehlenbacher, Chairman of the Obedience Council:
(1) reported that the Mountain City Obedience Club had sought permission to stage a "Beginner's Novice Class" at each of its trials to be held in May, an unofficial class for which the Board had not yet prescribed rules;
(2) suggested that the matter be referred to the Chairman's Standing Committee for consideration, a report to be presented at the annual meeting of the Board.

DISCUSSION: During a discussion which followed Mrs. Mack agreed to ask the Secretary of the Mountain City Obedience Club to forward details of the class to the Chairman of the Obedience Council.

REPORT: Mr. Mehlenbacher reported that he had received a letter from Mrs. Durrant of the Vernon & District Kennel Club enquiring whether a dog having its C. D. title and with a leg on its C. D. X. title is eligible for entry in the Novice Class at a sanction obedience match.
ACTION: It was agreed that such a dog would not be eligible for entry in the Novice Class at a licensed trial, and such an entry is prohibited according to the rules laid down by the Board for sanction obedience matches.

We feel that "Mush" exemplifies the following excerpt from the Cocker standard. "The Cocker Spaniel's sturdy body, powerful quarters and strong, well-boned legs show him to be a dog capable of considerable speed combined with great endurance. Above all he must be free and merry, sound, well-balanced throughout, and in action show a keen inclination to work; equable in temperament with no suggestion of timidity."

british columbia

JOAN RAILTON, c/o Sir Charles Tupper Secondary School, 419 East 24th St., judge and Bulldog specialist. Vancouver, B.C. Popular teacher,

B.C. GUN DOG CLUB

The regular meeting was held in February at the Wm. Sinser's Realty in Burnaby, B.C.

Discussion took place on changing the day of the meeting, which conflicts with the T.V. show, "Tides and Trails." Ted Peck is now on a world tour and there will probably be some interesting shows that members would like to see. The club hopes to be able to show some special films and bring speakers of interest to the meetings.

The club has published a tentative test of trials to be held from January to September. Secretary, Mrs. Kae Cox, 12583, 113th Ave., North Surrey, has the details.

The following is taken from the Niagara Peninsula Retriever Training Club Bulletin and published in the B.C. Gun Dog Club News: "New members, old members – any members with pups — remember, please, your young dog is not expected to sit and stay – retrieve blinds or do triples! I know I'm not alone in this – too many owners rush their pups or expect too much of him (almost like trying to keep up with the Jones' dog!). Maybe that flashy little pup running after your "crazy mixed-up pup" (who ran away with the bird) will turn out to be not so flashy in the Junior or Open series just when your plodding little pup reaches maturity and takes all that in his stride. Do you see what I'm trying to say? Anyone? Many members contend a puppy trial doesn't mean anything – with this I heartily disagree. I believe it gives a young dog (seven or eight months up, of course) a taste of what is to come. A sense of excitement and competition he'll have to participate in when he's catapulted into the Juniors. A young dog that is not pushed, learns to love that retrieving game if he is handled properly. New owners who get discouraged because their pride and joy can't do what older or more experienced pups can do – please don't! Don't go home and try to beat it into the pup whether by force or overtraining — time will show you whether he's got "it" or not; time and short training sessions, always quitting before that one last throw, while he is still fresh and eager. So John Doe next door hardly trains at all and his dog is a whiz while Joe Dokes across the street trains every day for two hours and his dog does doubles! So what! Your dog will set his own pace and chances are when he matures he'll be just as good or better! A word of warning though – if the dog can't give you what you want from him – start over! Don't keep hitting your head against a wall trying to push him beyond his capabilities. (I'm referring to a mature dog.) If it is a Field Trial Champion you want, don't settle for a mediocre dog. If it's companionship, hunting or just a family pet you want, while you have a little fun dabbling in trials – O.K. – But you should know what you want when you buy so you don't take out your disappointment and frustration on the dog – O.K.? Enough lectures for 1964."

JUNIOR KENNEL CLUB

The club held its 1964 election of officers in January with the following results: President, Myrlin Thachak; Vice-President, Obedience Representative, Norma Scott; Secretary, Janice Turpin,

Membership in this very active organization is increasing steadily.

The club has been honored by having three of its members asked to judge the 4-H Club Fun Match in Bellingham, Wash. in May. They will do breeds and Groups and all classes in Obedience. The club is very proud of this invitation and is sure that the three chosen will do a good job.

Several members of the Senior Division have acted as ring stewards for all-breed clubs this winter. This is part of their advanced training.

The next club projects are examinations and the All-Breed Sanction Show in May. There is great activity in the Obedience department with Miss Marion Powell as instructor and Mrs. Murray taking the handling classes.

Mr. Dufton sends the following report of the Vancouver Island Dog-Fanciers' Sanction Show held on Sunday, January 19: In spite of the blustery weather (winds up to 60 miles an hour)there was an entry of 110 dogs and an attendance of between 200 and 250 people. Judges were: Lieu Comm. D. G. Anderson, Groups 1, 2, 4; Miss V. Lyne, Groups 3, 5, 6; Mr. G. Donaldson, Best in Show and Best Puppy in Show; Mr. J. McCoy, Children's Handling Class. Pre-handling instruction prior to the show was given by Mrs. Bates.

Results were as follows: BIS, Irish Wolfhound, "Sprite", owned by Mr. Wm. Brennan, Victoria. BPIS, Basset Hound, "Dumpling", owned by Mr. Ron Sless. Gp. I—Pointer (German Short Haired), "Bole", owned by Miss L. McCoy. BP, Labrador Retriever, "Sandy", owned by Terry Gaines. Gp. II—Hounds, same as BIS and BPIS. Gp. III—Working Collie (Rough), "Jamie", owned by Miss L. McCoy. BP, Corgi (Pembroke), "Perky", owned by R. Panting. Gp. IV—Terrier, Cairn, "Red Flash", owned by Mrs. L. M. Woods, also BP. Gp. V—Toys, Pomeranian, "Martini", owned by Mr. and Mrs. D. Chaplin, also BP. Gp. VI—Non-sporting, Dalmatian, owned by Mrs. C. D. Blinko, also BP.

The success of the show was the result of a great deal of hard work by many people. Among these were the club Secretary-Treasurer, Lieu. Comm. Anderson in charge of the administration; Mrs. Thelma Anderson, who handled door receipts; Mrs. Heather Armstrong in charge of the kitchen; Mr. Don Falardan, Bench Show Chairman.

COASTAL CANINE ACADEMY

The Secretary, Ann Whitton, reports that 45 dogs are entered in the present course. Three out of the 15 in the advanced class are nearly ready for the Utility ring. Anyone interested in the next course which starts on March 17 is advised to register ahead of time. This applies especially to those interested in intermediate and advanced work.

Two members, Mrs. Lou Riel and Mr. Don Holland, are starting to train to be instructors.

About 25 members attended Miss Blanche Saunders' lecture. The evening was both pleasurable and profitable.

At the last executive meeting, organization began for the two trials to be put on by the club on October 4. Two mock trials for the training of ring stewards and other officials will be held before then. Two trophies will be donated again to the Kiwanis Obedience Trial.

WORKING DOGS ASSOCIATION OF B.C.

Miss Chris O'Dare is the new Dog in Canada secretary of the Association and sends in the following news: All 1963 club officers were re-elected for 1964. President, Mr. Al Stubbs; 1st Vice President, Mr. Bob Watford; 2nd Vice President, Miss Chris O'Dare; Secretary Miss Frances Clark; Treasurer, Mrs. Jean Fletcher.

The year 1963 was climaxed by the annual Christmas Party which was well attended and a tremendous success.

Mrs. Evelyn Oberg has won the competition for the design of a club pin. Twenty-eight different designs were submitted.

Plans are well underway and everyone is working hard for the spring show.

B.C. COCKER SPANIEL CLUB

Mrs. Pat Power reports for the club (English and American Cockers).

The annual Christmas party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Esary. It proved to be a very enjoyable event.

Plans are well underway for the club's 3rd annual Specialty Show to be held in April.

Points are being totalled for the Top Dog of the year and for the Top Canadian Bred Dog. These dogs must have been shown in B.C. but not necessarily have been owned by members of the club. Awards to these dogs and to member-owned dogs which finished their championships from June, 63-64, will be presented at the Specialty Show.

NANAIMO KENNEL CLUB

The following is from the "K-9 Report" of the club. Editor, H. Tyrrell: The 1964 obedience classes are in full swing with a good number of registrations. The Beginners class was so large that it had to be divided in order to give the handlers and their dogs individual attention and tuition. The clubs feel that the pre-training meeting held without dogs was well worthwhile. It was a chance for trainers to explain the fundamentals of training, the use of collar and lead, etc., to un-dog distracted future members.

The club has come a long way from the days when the members wondered if there would be a class big enough to pay the rent, when they split their own wood to fire up an old drum heater, and often trained with large pools of water on the floor.

The secretary has asked me to make the following correction to the January notes. "We alluded to the Mirdinon trophy as "Victoria D.O.T.C.'s Mirdinon Trophy". Victoria Club now reminds us that this is not actually their trophy, although they handle all the competition for it, and Mr. Hudson usually presents it. It is donated by Major A. E. Smart, of Mirdinon Kennels, Sidney."

The club was surprised and very pleased to hear from Mrs. Grace Probert, Editor of the"Ontario Obedience Link" who sent complimentary copies of "The Link" to club members.

RICHMOND DOG TRAINING CLUB

The club held its annual election of officers on January 24 at the home of Miss Eunice Smith in Ladner. Elected were: President, W. Strutinski; Vice President, J. Rogalsky, Secretary, B. Rogalsky; Treasurer, E. M. Smith.

Two very successful Obedience Trials were held in December and plans are now underway for the club's March trials.

Would anyone interested in furthering Obedience in B.C. send comments to the secretary at 10336, 149 A St., N. Surrey, B.C.

B.C. LADIES KENNEL CLUB

The club held its annual meeting in January and returned the full slate of officers as follows: President, Mrs. Elsie Murray; 1st Vice President, Mrs. Gwen Appel; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Jean Fletcher; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. Dolly Wall; Club Secretary, Mrs. Mavis McArthur.

The club has had a very successful year and has been able to send substantial cheques to the Vancouver Humane Society, the Crippled Children's Hospital, and the Junior Kennel Club.

Cards and flowers have been sent to Older Fanciers and exhibitors who are not so active but still retain their interest in the dog game. This is a much appreciated service which has been carried on since the club's beginnings.

ECONOMY TO THE DOGS

by CARLYLE DUNBAR

Your wife and children want a dog, so you buy one—and a license for it.

To some analysts of business and the stock market, your action has a significant meaning for the future.

In fact, some of these experts say they can tell whether stocks—or the economy—are going to rise or fall by merely studying the trend of dog-tag sales.

Sounds crazy, but more exotic data than this are used by people in North America to forecast the future.

Some of these: horse-race betting, lake water-levels, volcanic activity.

Economists normally use such facts as new orders for manufacturing, new business incorporations, bankruptcies and the average factory workweek to help determine the trend of business. Investors often use similar data to try to buy the right stock at the right time.

Trouble is, these basic reports on what's happening in business often fail to give a clear or reliable green — or red — light.

That's why some businessmen and investors start to look for more subtle guides to the future.

Dog-license sales, for instance.

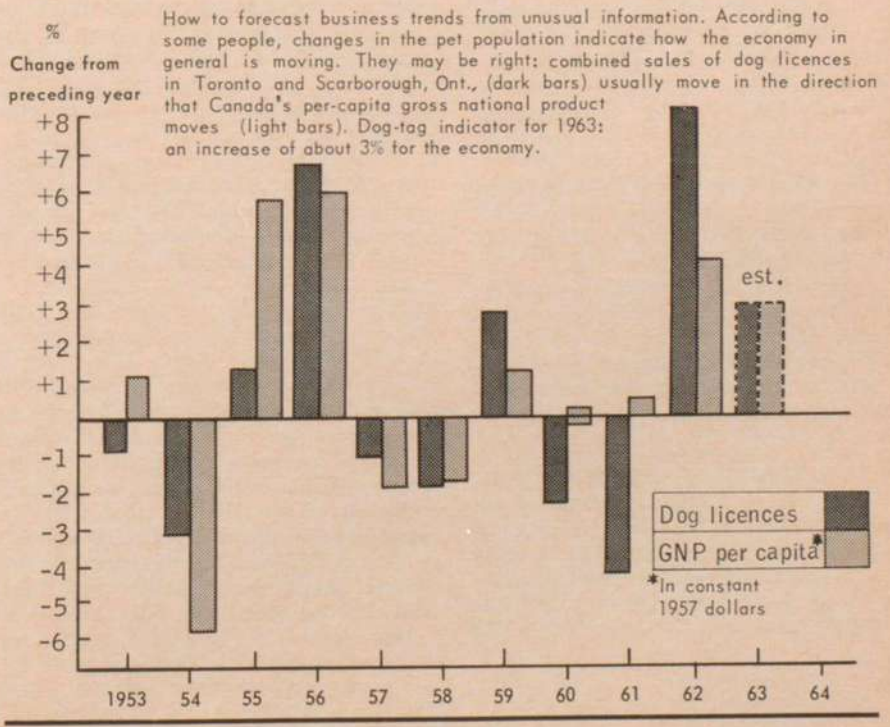

The relationship between pet ownership and national production of goods and services seems nebulous, yet a user of the dog-tag theory argues this way: People will spend money on a luxury like a pet when they feel optimistic and prosperous, therefore pet sales should show how the economy generally is moving.

By this reasoning a cross-section of pet ownership in a metropolitan city and one of its suburbs indicates that Canada's total production per person will show a 3% gain this year. (see chart)

From an article in
The Financial Post, Jan. 4/64.

ECONOMY TO THE DOGS?

How to forecast business trends from unusual information. According to some people, changes in the pet population indicate how the economy in general is moving. They may be right: combined sales of dog licences in Toronto and Scarborough, Ont., (dark bars) usually move in the direction that Canada's per-capita gross national product moves (light bars). Dog-tag indicator for 1963: an increase of about 3% for the economy.

GATEWAY CITY OBEDIENCE TRAINING CLUB

Class Secretary, Mrs. Beverley Allen reports that for the winter classes there are 31 dogs enrolled for Beginners. Of these, 23 are registered dogs, a much higher percentage than usual. Novice has 23 dogs, and this class is split for convenience, as is the Beginners; 12 dogs and handlers are entered in the Open Class. This is the club's largest 'Open' to date.

One of the three St. Bernards entered in Beginners had to be carried downstairs the first night. Being an outdoor dog completely, he simply would not walk in himself. However, once in, he enjoyed himself immensely. Miss Jane Owens has a dog entered in all three classes. Waiting List for March classes is almost full, and members are urged to get their applications in early.

Congratulations and best wishes to Training Chairman, Mrs. Mary Ann Monkman, on the birth of a baby boy. Mrs. Marion King is substituting for her on Monday evenings while she is absent.

1963 has added eight dogs to the club's list of Obedience Title holders. Two of these also added "Champion" to their names.

MOOSE JAW KENNEL CLUB

Any dog can be trained — a well-trained dog makes dog owning a pleasure: This statement is exemplified by club President Mr. Ron E. Andrews' dogs, Vale Park Melodie, CD and Duke. In his opening address to the club Mr. Andrews stressed the need to attract new members. With membership growing the club extended plans for the new year to include films on Obedience training and the showing of dogs.

The club will hold an extra meeting in the home of a private member the last Tuesday of each month. Since many of our members are specialized, members will bring dogs to each meeting to feature discussion on one particular breed.

Dog Show Secretary Mrs. Mary Miller reported dates and judges for the club's Spring shows have been approved and an Obedience Trial will be held.

Mrs. Hilda Murphy, Vale Park Kennels, welcomed home her Ch. (Can. Am.) Clareton Copper Glow, Collie, after an absence of 18 months.

Mr. Jacob Ruckabeb, well known Boston Terrier breeder, was welcomed to the club.

REGINA KENNEL AND OBEDIENCE CLUB

Helen Wilson, Secretary, reports as follows: "Well, the New Year is here and speaking of newness, how about coming to the meetings and acquainting yourselves with your new officers? Participation in your local club meetings is not only a privilege but a responsibility.

The installation of officers for the club was conducted by John Machalek, Chairman of the Obedience Committee for 1964. The duly elected and installed officers are: President, Syd Shoom; Vice President, Lola Hoff; Secretary, Helen Wilson; Treasurer, Harvey Mabson; Executive: Verna Galbraith, Don Dorsey, John Machalek.

On December 19 the club held a Xmas party and dance at the Blind Club Rooms. A cold turkey supper was enjoyed by a small but active group. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of plaques to four long-time members of the club, Mr. and Mrs. John Dudley and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duckworth. The presentation was made by our Past President, Tony Bast, who gave a background and history of their many years of devotion in the cause of "man's best friend".

We are looking forward to and planning for the Dog Show to be held in Regina May 23 and 24. We will be holding two champion All Breed shows along with two Licensed Obedience Trials.

Our Obedience classes started on January 19 with 25 dogs enrolled. This is our main source of revenue and all who are connected with it have worked hard to make it a success."

THE ALL TERRIER CLUB OF CANADA

The club was saddened to hear of the tragic death of Mrs. Betty Hyslop's only son and they all join with her many friends in expressing deepest sympathy.

Two of the club's members have been hospitalized — Mrs. Mildred Black with pneumonia and Mrs. Edna Joel for surgery. Both are recuperating at their homes and are wished a speedy recovery.

Travellers include Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner in Florida for a vacation and a couple of shows. Their Kerry puppy female, Kerrycroft Caroline, went WB for a four point major win at one of the shows. Jim McFarlane is in Scotland on family business and hopes to attend Crufts. Westminster visitors — Mr. and Mrs. Ab. Kaye, Westies. Kudos to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Betts — Ch. (Can. Am.) Tregoad's Vicky's Cappy became the first North American bred Kerry to finish his English title and this he did in three shows. Cappy, now owned and shown by Mr. David Roche of Australia, formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sayers of California; bred by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Betts of Richmond Hill, Ont. is truly an international Kerry.

The ATC Sanction Show was a huge success with an entry of 130 dogs. BIS went to the Boxer, Haviland's Gai Ensign, bred by Stan Whitmore and owned by Mr. and Mrs. Quinn. BCBPIS went to the Betts' Kerry female Tregoad's Career Girl. Many thanks go to the judges, Mrs. S. DeBoer, Miss J. Grant, Mrs. S. Weir, Miss Jay Whalen, Mr. H. Hood and Mr. W. Clark; to the ring stewards Mrs. P. McKenzie, Mrs. Yan Paul, Mr. S. Whitmore; and to the judge of the Children's Handling Class, Mr. N. Ford, who had an entry of 20 "future" handlers vying for top honors. Without these people giving freely of their time and energy this show would have been impossible. Many thanks as well to club members who donated both to the trophy table and to the basket and to all those who worked so hard to get this show on the road. And hats off to Ab Kaye who pulled it all together and made it such a success.

THE AURORA AND DISTRICT KENNEL CLUB

The club held its annual meeting on January 7 at which time the following officers and directors were elected: President, Mr. W. J. A. Luckins; Vice-President, Mr. S. Lewis; Secretary, Mr. A. R. Sacre; Treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Luckins. Directors, Mrs. J. J. Eyles, Mrs. M. Hamilton and Mr. A. Smith.

Two shows will be held by the club — on May 30 and 31 — at the Bradford Arena for which the following officers were elected: Show Superintendent, Mr. W. J. A. Luckins; Assistant Show Superintendent, Mr. A. Smith; Show Secretary, Mrs. A. R. Sacre; Trophy Secretary, Mrs. J. J. Eyles. Veterinarians will be Dr. Boisclair and Dr. Edith Brown.

BASSET CLUB OF CANADA

Its first quarterly meeting of 1964 was held at the Estaminet, Burlington, January 25. The new executive is: President, Mr. Fred Carter; Vice-President, R. F. (Dick) Henderson; Secretary, D. F. "Mike" Knott; Treasurer, Isobel Henderson. Directors: Shirley DeBoer, Dick Pike and C. G. "Chris" Teeter. Results of the findings of the Awards Committee were submitted and the highest scoring Basset (member's dog) in Canadian shows last year was Fred and Betty Carter's Ch. Schauffelein's Logy. Runner-up Dick and Isobel Henderson's Ch. (Can. Bda.) Gremlyn's Aida. Highest scoring member's dog in Obedience went to John Orendorff's Ch. Fargo.

Recognizing that among the members the club has some of the best known breeders, exhibitors and handlers the executive is promoting the use of members' talents by having them talk about some subject of concern or interest to Basset fanciers. This talk will be followed by a question-and-answer period and those questions and answers deemed the most appropriate and of most general interest will be included in the club's next quarterly bulletin. Speaker at this meeting were Chris Teeter

"pedigrees and breeding', and Shirley DeBoer on "handlers — amateur and professional". The questions asked by members were evidence of the interest created.

The club is sponsoring a Booster Show at the Sportsmen's Show in Toronto on March 21. Judge will be Mr. Haskell Shuffman. A good turnout is hoped for.

THE DOMINION COLLIE AND SHETLAND SHEEPDOG ASSOCIATION (ONTARIO BRANCH)

The club held its first meeting in 1964 at the offices of Elliot-Hayes in Toronto. The executive for this year are: President, Mr. B. W. Clark; Vice-President, Mrs. Betty Thomson; Secretary, Mrs. Sheila Norman; Treasurer, Mrs. Marg Carlson. Two-year Directors: Mrs. Pat Clark and Mrs. Vi. Baillie. One-year Directors, Mrs. Allie Smuck and Mr. Roy Kress.

After a short business period the guest speaker, Dr. Ken Easton, well known veterinarian from Clarkson, showed the interesting film called "The Thread of Life". Dr. Easton answered many questions on this vital and enlightening subject of genetics.

Several new members were present. Refreshments were served by the entertainment committee which gave all present a chance for a friendly chat. The Specialty is being held at the Aurora show, end of May. The Collies and Shelties are in splendid coat in the spring, so a "Really Good" show is expected.

THE HAMILTON KENNEL CLUB

The club started the new year with a good turnout to their first meeting. Some of the familiar faces were missing due to illness. One of the members, Mrs. Blanche Cole, had an unfortunate fall but it is hoped she will be back shortly. Mr. P. Marshall, another member of long standing, has been in hospital but is due home soon. Mrs. T. Culp is progressing very well.

Two new members were welcomed. A number of business items were dealt with to everyone's satisfaction.

It was decided to send a representative to the monthly meetings of the Obedience Association to keep informed of business going on there, in the interest of the club. Miss E. Burgess gave a very interesting and informative talk on the work of the Ontario Humane Society. Her remarks were of great concern to animal lovers.

THE IRISH SETTER CLUB OF CANADA

Tentative plans were made for the Sportsmen's Show at the club's January meeting when the new executive and convenors met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dafoe in Burlington. Arrangements were made for a parade of the Irish at the Hamilton Shopping Centre Mall on March 14 to commemorate St. Patrick's Day. Put on your green hat and tie and bring your favorite Irishman to meet at 7.30 on March 14. There will be two demonstrations of show and Obedience. Many thanks go to the club editor, Roy Dafoe, for a very fine edition of "Paw-Prints". The club extends appreciation to Roy for the long hours he has spent on this publication.

At the January meeting a fine film was shown, entitled "Pointing Dogs Afield", courtesy of Ralston-Purina. A calendar of events was set up for 1964 and members were divided into groups for a questionnaire to round off the evening.

Best of luck is wished to the club's executive and convenors for 1964: Past-President Mr. E. McGowan; President, Mr. Roy Dafoe; 1st Vice-President, Mr. R. E. Allen; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. R. Knowles; Treasurer, Mrs. E. McGowan; Secretary, Mrs. R. Dafoe, 3047 Woodland Pk. Dr., Burlington, Ont. Field, Mr. R. Allen; Obedience, Mr. R. McCormick; Trophy, Mrs. R. McCormick; Membership, Mrs. P. Forrest, 3047 Balmoral Ave., Burlington; Social, Mrs. R. Allen; Awards, Mrs. K. Honsberger; Publicity, Mrs. P. King and editor of "Paw-Prints", Mr. M. Knowles.

NEWFOUNDLAND CLUB OF CANADA

Fourteen members turned out for the February meeting held at the home of Mrs. Sandy Latimer in Gormley, Ont. Minutes of the December meeting were read and approved. The Treasurer's report was adopted as read. The club will be offering a BB trophy at its Booster Show in conjunction with the Canadian National Sportsmen's Shows, to be known as the Topsails Trophy, honoring Mrs. Lillian Page who died recently. This will be an annual trophy presented at the club's Booster Show. A show will be put on by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Garnsey of Mattydale, N.Y. at the Booster Show March 21, with their dogs. The show is formed around the "history of the Newfoundland Dog by cart". Acts include a Newfie hauling an Indian covered with furs and will be led by a young girl dressed as an Indian, showing the first beast of burden in North America: a cart loaded with fish net and simulated fish; a milk cart bearing six milk cans and a seven-year-old milk maid; another cart bearing a mail bag and lifesavers (there are countless stories of Newfs' heroism in mail delivery and sea rescue, and lastly a covered wagon with a painting of a Newf's head on either side. Mr. and Mrs. Garnsey will also demonstrate the proper way to train a Newf for cart and simple type of harness.

The proposed new Standard was partially gone over and discussed and will be completed at the next meeting.

NORTH YORK OBEDIENCE CLUB

January 5 was "first night" and all that goes with it for the club's new training classes. Sizes ranged from a tiny Chihuahua to a pair of 36" high Irish Wolfhounds, with a Lhasa Apso for variety. January 13 saw a good turnout for the monthly meeting when business was kept to a minimum as all were anxious to greet guest speakers Phyllis (Walker) and Frank Laventhall.

Three new members were accepted. Photos of the Munnekes, judging at our 1963 show, were sent to them as mementos. Jean Younkie's offer to store bulky equipment at her home is greatly appreciated.

Topic of the guest speakers was "grooming" and members found it of personal interest as questions answered covered a wide range of breeds. Unfortunately, these interesting sessions are never long enough.

Thanks to Hazel and Gord Mitchell for the use of their home. The June Trial Works Committee met on January 29.

OAKVILLE & DISTRICT KENNEL CLUB

The first general meeting of the club for 1964 was held January 14. The first part of the evening was devoted to clearing up last year's business. Mr. Ernie McGowan, 1963 President, occupied the chair. It was decided that $150. from profits made from the '63 shows be donated in six grants of $25. each to the following organizations: The Oakville & District Humane Society; The Salvation Army, Oakville, Ont.; The United Appeal, Oakville, 1964; the St. John Ambulance, Oakville branch; The John F. Kennedy Memorial Fund for Retarded Children and the remaining $25. to be held in reserve for some possible emergency or worthy cause to be determined prior to the end of the year. Mr. McGowan then thanked his officers, directors and members for their cooperation and support during the past two years. He extended congratulations to the new President, Mr. George Kennedy, and expressed the hope that he would enjoy a successful tenure of office. The new President then assumed his office and introduced the other officers and directors for 1964: Vice-President, Mr. Ernie McGowan, Oakville; Secretary, Mrs. A. J. Horn, Milton; Treasurer, Mrs. Ethel McGowan, Oakville; Directors, Hank Bennick, John Broders, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Carter, Lt. Col. M. Drury, Mrs. Jas. McKechnie, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Veale.

Following the close of business, the members enjoyed an enlightening talk by Dr. Wilfrid Shute of Port Credit who, with the aid of diagrams and slides, employed his medical knowledge in illustrating the bone structure of various breeds of dogs and how faults or excellence tend to affect the balance, gait and general well-being of the animal. Dr. Shute stated that, in his opinion, there never has been a perfect dog, but that by careful breeding selection good points may be emphasized and faults eliminated. A vote of thanks was extended to Dr. Shute and a general discussion and interesting talk went along with coffee and cakes.

A Christmas card was received by the club from former members Sally and Vince Furlong who have now moved from Mexico and are residing in Buenos Aires, Argentine. It is understood that their well-known Sealyham "Fuddy-Duddy" is now a Mexican Champion. The club welcomed the arrival of a new Canadian in the person of a six-month old Staffordshire Bull Terrier imported from England by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Horn. The pup left London Airport at 7 a.m. and by 8.30 p.m. that evening was a visitor at the meeting in Oakville.

THE OTTAWA KENNEL CLUB

The club informs us that all previous Sanction Show records went by the boards when it held its first Sanction Show of 1964. With a total of 112 dogs competing, Judge Frank Florence found his BIS in a new English imported West Highland White Terrier, owned and shown by Fred W. Fraser. It was the dog's first appearance in a Canadian show-ring. Best Puppy in Show went to a Kerry Blue Terrier bred by Mr. and Mrs. Betts and owned and shown by Miss Joanne Boyce. It was Miss Boyce's first time in a show ring. Other winners were: Best Sporting, parti-color American Cocker owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. Donderwitz of Massena, N.Y.; Afghan Hound, owned and shown by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Lovett of Stittsville; German Shepherd owned by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lacroix of Stittsville; Toy Poodle owned and shown by Mrs. Len Courtney of Stittsville; Dalmatian owned and shown by Mr. and Mrs. Pat Dewar of Ottawa.

Many changes have been made by the club for its 1964 Championship show. While benching will be provided for the convenience of exhibitors the shows will be run with the object of giving visiting exhibitors free time in Canada's capital. Judging will not start until 12.30 noon and on Friday, Groups will follow the breeds with dogs not required for further judging excused as soon as they have been judged. On Saturday all breeds will be judged before the Groups but all dogs not required for judging will be excused at six o'clock. An innovation in the club's program this year has been classes for stewards, organized and conducted by Mrs. A. E. Bales and W. J. Monaghan. Their value was demonstrated when all rings at sanction shows were staffed by novice stewards who got the dogs into the ring on schedule and in spite of it being their first time out. In the planning stage are handling classes for new exhibitors and for potential judges.

With regret the club reports the death of two people long associated with the dog game in Ottawa — Mr. W. G. McDougall, a former officer of the Ottawa and Hull Clubs was the husband of Mrs. Marjory McDougall and for many years showed Cairn Terriers and Dachshunds; Mr. T. F. Argue, an American Cocker fancier, former President of the Ottawa club and one of the club's life members.

1964 officers are: President, Mrs. E. B. Reid; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. W. G. Walters; 2nd Vice-President, Dr. Quentin LaHam; Directors, Mr. A. Bruce Benson, Mrs. R. W. Dockrill, Mrs. Doris Courtney, Mrs. D. R. Hayes, Mr. D. R. Hayes, Mrs. R. H. Hills, Mr. Dennis Mountney and Mrs. A. E. Bales. Secretary is Mr. E. B. Reid; Treasurer, Mr. J. W. Goodmark.

With approximately 450 cases reported since April 1, 1963, the incidence of rabies in Ontario is the highest of any province in Canada, Dr. W. A. Moynihan, of the Health of Animals Division of the Department of Agriculture told 60 members of the club at a regular meeting on February 5. Of these 450 cases 51 had been in dogs.

Dr. Moynihan traced the spread of the disease through Canada since it was first identified in the Northwest Territories in the early 1950's and said that one of the peculiarities was that it seemed to be centred in certain sections with other nearby sections almost clear. While the cause of this was not established the availability of food for wild life, with a consequent concentration of fox in certain areas, might be one explanation.

He told of control methods and experiments which had been tried including poisoning and trapping. Insofar as dogs are concerned he said that purebred dogs were not the problem as purebred owners normally exercised control of their animals and vaccinated against the disease. Dogs permitted to run wild were the problem and consequently programs of vaccination clinics could not be fully successful unless accompanied by enforced municipal dog control by-laws.

Replies to questions from the members brought the following information; temporary immunity is transmitted to nursing puppies from an immunized dam; about 75 per cent of vaccinated dogs are effectively immunized against the disease for a period believed to be two years but yearly immunization is recommended; fox and skunk are the main carriers; no evidence has been established to support a belief the disease can be spread by carrion eating birds; treatment for infected dogs can be given on the same basis as treatment for infected humans, but such treatment is costly and the cost does not appear justified by the results; on occasions dogs do recover from a mild attack and to be effective vaccine should not be given to puppies until they are at least three months of age. Later vaccination is believed more effective.

In addition to the talk by Dr. Moynihan the club decided on a program of establishing an approved list of judges for sanction shows. Club members will be given time to study the breeds in which they are interested and then will sit for a written examination under supervision with reference books barred. Those qualifying will be asked to serve with a qualified judge as an apprentice at one sanction show — with the judge being instructed to give them an opportunity to learn — and from the list of successful candidates a panel of sanction show judges will be established. It was felt that this might encourage new, qualified persons to seek a CKC license to judge at championship shows.

THE OTTAWA VALLEY BEAGLE CLUB

Following is a list of officers for 1964: President, G. A. Hunt; Vice-President, Rick St. John; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Gail Latreille, R.R. 1, Bell's Corners, Ont.; Field Trial Chairman, Rick St. John; Awards and Banquet Chairman, Mrs. Anne Hunt; Newsletter Editor, H. G. McConnell; Catering Committee Chairman, Mrs. Lee Doddridge.

THE OTTAWA VALLEY GUN DOG CLUB

Following officers were elected for 1964: President, W. A. McClure; Vice-President, Byrne Scott; Secretary-Treasurer, Jack Bradley. Plans were drawn up for the spring Field Trial to be held May 16 and 17. Constant improvement in the quality of dogs being run in the club's trials was noted. Ontario Pointers are competing successfully in some of the better U.S. trials and the club's events are attracting some top competitors from the States. Concern was expressed at the meeting over the differences existing outside Ontario and Quebec in the point system in Point dog Field Trials. The Eastern and Western provinces are still operating under the old system of point scoring and as a result, finish more Champions in a season than Ontario and Quebec have in five years. It was proposed that the club make contact with other clubs to get their views on a standardization of a point system for Pointers in Canada.

THE ST. BERNARD CLUB OF ONTARIO

January meeting was held at the Thistletown Hospital for emotionally disturbed children. Dogs of all ages – 12 weeks to six years — were represented. Although the snow was scarce and soft the dogs pulled the children on sleds and toboggans for several hours and all had a wonderful time. A short discussion was held over coffee and plans for the St. Bernard Booster Show at the Sportsmen's Show are coming along nicely.

THE ST. CATHARINES & DISTRICT KENNEL & OBEDIENCE CLUB

The club held its February meeting at the Canadian Corp's Hall which it has been using since fire curtailed activities at its regular "home" — Lincoln Park Community Centre. Training classes are being held at the Queen Elizabeth Community Centre. Next month it is hoped everything will be back to normal. Plans are well underway for the club's show to be held in April at Merriton Community Centre. In an effort to have more club members help steward, Show Chairman Terry Wilkes has invited Audrey Langford to conduct several classes for training stewards. The publicity gleaned by the Drill Team is always good and Ken Sorenson has several dates for future demonstrations. The Drill Team will hold a St. Patrick's dance and buffet supper on March 7 with Mrs. Anne O'Malley as convenor, proceeds to be used to outfit the team with new uniforms. The Spring Trial date has been set for May 24. Judges have not yet been chosen. The Trial will be the same as the successful one held last fall — a single trial with two judges. The present training class is one of the largest and presents quite a challenge to the instructor, Tony Van Alden. The club has several training class graduates interested in obtaining Obedience degrees and it is expected more will be ready for the Spring Trial. Tracking enthusiasts are wondering why there isn't more tracking among Obedience members. A demonstration of necessary

DIED

E. L. (Jim) Taylor, renowned animal photographer whose untimely passing was mentioned in Dogs last month, was a man of many interests, with a passion for humanity to animals. He was one of the most active workers in the interest of animals since 1955 when he resided in Oakville. Among his drives: humane slaughter for cattle and hogs, proper care for bush ponies and humane trapping of animals. As past chairman and later as an executive of the Humane Slaughter Committee of the Ontario SPCA, he urged legislation for sterner penalties in convictions of cruelty to animals. His wife, Jane, an equally hard worker in the interests of children, tells Dogs a collection of Jim's best animal photographs is being put in book form by some of Toronto's leading photographers. Proceeds will go to the Ontario Humane Society.

equipment and outline of requirement was given, hoping to create more interest. Guest for the evening, Mr. G. Welch, General Manager of Lincoln Feed and Supply, showed two films from Ralston Purina on training bird dogs. There were three nice door prizes donated by Mr. Welch.

SKYWAY OBEDIENCE CLUB

The children's Christmas party was a big success for parents as well as the small fry. Santa's visit was the highlight of the evening. To add to the entertainment, a clown and magician were on hand. Smiling and cake-smeared faces were the result of it all. Elections were held December 14 and all offices were filled. The new year is starting off with a roar. January classes showed a larger turnout than expected. Pete and Dorrie Kirk are proud owners of a new Corgi pup while Jim and Carole Villiers are sporting a new Dobe pup.

Show training classes, under capable instructors Valerie Reid and Joan Kyle, started February 3 in Valois and will continue weekly until April 20. These handling classes have been very popular in the past, furnishing all novice exhibitors and owners of new puppies an opportunity to prepare their dogs to meet the tough competition encountered when the show season opens.

THE LAKESHORE DOG TRAINING ASSOCIATION

Demonstrations of all types of training were provided by members Frances Walker and Miniature Poodle, Gigi, CD, Bill Cavers and Dobe, Fesch, CD, and Helen McGill's Collie, Pal, UD, Am. CDX, at the recent graduation exercises of Canine College. Ginger, a Dachshund owned and trained by young Lynn Bannister of Pointe Claire, was top dog in Basic, with Michael O'Neill of Roxboro and his German Shepherd, Esca, a close second. First choice for advanced work was an Irish Setter, Red, owned by Douglas Scott of Hudson Heights, while Pat Murray's Sheltie, Braedean's Kiltie Piper, took second place. The judge was Marg Hamilton, so well-known for her top-notch obedience Cairns.

Jo and Fred Grant (Glanrobin Kennels) have the first registered litter of Harriers in Canada. Thirty years or so ago about 25 Harriers were brought in to the Toronto area, but no subsequent litters were ever registered. It would be interesting to know what happened to those pioneers of the breed.

M. CARROLL

146 Bellamy Rd., Scarborough, Ont. (AM 1-4143)

Keep on eye on Audrey Benbow (Laurie) in '64! The gal has plans cooking not only in Breed but in Obedience. Will it be one of the Italian Greyhounds? A Saluki? The Scottish Deerhound arriving shortly from England? Or a "dark horse" from her infinite variety of interesting breeds.

Speaking of varieties, Tanja, a Norwegian Elkhound from the Vakkerlund Kennels, has arrived to join the other canine members of Vi Dery's household.

For those who may not have seen January issue of Popular Dogs, good news about the Komondorok headed for the dog pound. Through the tremendous efforts of Mrs. Neverth of Ohio, a Puli breeder, and Mrs. Benninger of West Va. the story has a happy ending. It was no easy task to place so many huge dogs in so short a time but these ladies accomplished it. (The average weight of the Komondor is 100 lbs. He was developed about 1000 years ago in Hungary as a guard dog for sheep.) The article concludes with the hope that the new owners will show the dogs as so very few ever appear in the ring.

Another Liz in the news: — Liz, a five year old Beagle, has been nominated for the "Research Dog Hero of 1963", an award given annually by the National Society of Medical Research. In the name of science, Liz has had four litters of 28 puppies in three years and a total of eight litters — all worm free. That's her distinction.

Look back over the years, long-time breeders and obedience enthusiasts. You will remember a young, eager girl and an equally eager German Shepherd puppy forming a team that has never been duplicated. Hitch-hiking to shows — sleeping in the car — training and practicing in all kinds of weather — off to South America, and starting obedience there — learning and growing up together — an inseparable pair, each giving so much to the other. After 15 years of such close companionship, Sheila Houstoun is finding it very lonely without her beloved Tosca of Frazerbruck, U.D.

Sad as it is to report the deaths of so many old and beloved dogs lately, it is heartwarming to know that, weary and no longer useful, they have been loved and cherished to the very end.

Too many so-called dog-lovers are too eager to rid themselves of the aged and infirm when these pets have out-lived their usefulness.

They say there is a time for everything, and now the time has come to write Finis to what has proved to be a very interesting and happy assignment. My thanks to all of you who have contributed so much — both clubs and individuals. Without your calls, suggestions and bits of news this would have been a dreary column indeed. Your help and encouragement have been greatly appreciated.

NOVA SCOTIA

Evangeline K.C. slate of officers for 1964: President, Mr. E. St. John Green; Vice-President, Miss B. Bethune; Secretary, Mr. Wm. Schroeder, Jnr.; Treasurer, Miss E. Manning; Directors, Mrs. Atkinson, Mr. A. Wilson, Miss M. Jodrey, Mrs. Goulden, Mrs. Peel.

E.K.C. first monthly meeting of the current year took place in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson in Middleton, where also the February meeting will take place, in an effort to equalize the driving distance for all members of this club, which covers a territory extending from Windsor to Digby, over 100 miles.

CKC approval of dates for Evangeline KC all-breed championship shows has been received and the dates are set for Friday June 26, with Mrs. P. A. Margeson judging and for Saturday 27 with Mr. Harry Story donning the ermine. The club has sustained a very real loss in the resignation as Show Secretary and Chairman of Mr. James Meagher and it is feared that other resignations may be expected if the ruling is maintained that show secretaries, ring stewards and superintendents may not enter exhibits at shows at which they are officiating, and no advice to the contrary has yet been received.

Dina-Ken's Little Pip, (who needs no introduction), was the 1963 winner of the Manderley Puppy Challenge Trophy, offered through the Canadian West Highland White Terrier Club for the Westie Puppy of the Year. Her wins during 1963 included five Best Canadian-Bred Puppy in Group awards and two Best Canadian-Bred Puppy in Show awards, the latter under Judges John Lundberg and Mark Gordon.

Ch. Chiffon's Cirrus, owned by Tontine Kennels Reg'd., (Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shewring), of Taunton P.O., Ontario, is a son of the late Wonderful Guy of Manderley, our prolific stud who sired 52 puppies during his short span of life. "Chris" captured his championship in spectacular style, taking two four-point wins at the 1963 Sportsmen's Show and C.N.E. respectively, under Judges Lawrence Garvie and Ed Williams. Full credit must be given to his owner-handler, Mr. Frank Shewring, who did a magnificent job in exhibiting his first show dog.

Finally, we have Maejen's Tontine of Coronet, a brown Miniature, who, after being campaigned in puppy clip, and winning Best Canadian-Bred Puppy in Breed nine times, and Best Canadian-Bred Puppy in Group three times, climaxed the season with a four-point win at the Group 6 Canine Breeders

Although Manderley Kennels is a comparative newcomer to the dog game, we would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank all the experts and veterans in the fancy who have so generously donated advice and assistance in both West Highland White Terriers and Poodles, and without whose help we could never have achieved the successes listed above.

ing identity even by noseprint takes time. A tattoo mark assures immediate identification.

Some kennel owners have stipulated in their will that in event of the death of both husband and wife, or owners the dogs are to be put to sleep. This, on the surface, seems pretty cold-blooded. But given further consideration, and providing there is no one who can and would willingly take over the dogs, it has merit. These thoughts are not the most cheerful, and are written with the sincere hope such forbodings never come to pass. But if you love your dogs, do consider leaving them well looked after.

ditions or did all the hounds have their back-tracking attire with them. If more was known by humans regarding the scent, maybe someday someone will have an answer to this complex phenomenon.

I do not wish to take the attitude that there are no hounds around that have never back-tracked. This may be a possibility, but if they have been hunted in all types of weather and followed enough and have a superior nose then the possibility of never having back-tracked is next to impossible.

If your hound is a good one, if you hunt him in all kinds of weather and if you are one of those kind who cannot see one of your own hounds make this mistake you will admit it didn't keep you awake that night unless it happened at a Field Trial in front of a large gallery.

This article is not written in an attempt to place faulty hounds but to draw attention to the fact that possibly too much emphasis is placed on certain faults and not enough on some of the others.

It is well and proper to use our Field Trials for the purpose of development of faultless hounds, but not to the extent where exceptionally good hounds are dropped for mistakes after accomplishing a lot, in favour of perfect hounds that cannot run a rabbit out of the garden.

A couple of years ago, not finding a rule calling for an about turn in the "seek back," I decided simply to halt the handler and his dog and send the dog back to see if he knew enough to deliver to the front of the handler. Well, one dog made the attempt to get there, the rest simply sat behind their handlers. Anyway, the American proposal is set to take care of that kind of nonsense, for it asks that an about turn be given after the article has been dropped and dog and handler have proceeded 30 feet. So now our utility dogs can rest easy, they are not going to be driven to mental exhaustion by learning they must deliver a glove to the front of their handlers. Happy Day!! ●

Humanely Speaking

Canada that protect animals more than anyone else in Canada today. I make this claim merely as a statement of fact and not as a boast. But I disagree with the use of the Criminal Code to attack well-meaning people with a good reputation in the community; people who have never had any other contact with the law than a speeding ticket, simply to prove the letter of the law. This would indeed be an abuse of the law enforcement process. There is enough genuine, terrible, cruelty to animals taking place in the world today without looking for a technical 'loophole' to persecute well-meaning people.

All this doesn't mean that nothing should be done to try to effect a change in certain types of activity. On the contrary, it is all the more important to try to introduce change by persuasion and logical, reasoned argument.

A good example is the recent way in which field trial clubs have agreed to certain regulations or the way in which live birds will be used in trials. These regulations were drawn up by a committee representing the field trial clubs and the Ontario Humane Society. These new ideas will do more to reduce

Which simply proves my original point: that most people are pretty decent, responsible people, if they are just given the chance.

TEMPERAMENT

In some breeds, when dogs growl and snap when examined, the standard calls for a disqualification. In other breeds, it shows signs of poor temperament and are penalized accordingly. When dogs growl and snap at one another, it is not always a sign of poor temperament as upon examination they show no signs of either. If one dog persists in carrying on and upsetting the other dogs, this comes under the heading of misbehaving and the exhibitor may be asked to leave the ring.

GAITING YOUR DOG

I like to gait my dogs to the end of the ring and back again and have the dog stopped on a loose lead in front of me where I can see many faults before the exhibitor sets up his dog. If time allows I like to gait the dog down and back again so I can see him from the side. From this angle you can tell by the reach of the dog's front legs if he has a steep or good lay back of shoulder, and whether he has a good reach and drive with his hind legs, and if he over treads his front legs.

SEGREGATING FOR JUDGING

I do not segregate dogs into groups according to quality. If I have a very large class I like to keep the good ones in front where I can compare one with another. I never like to embarrass anyone by asking them to leave the ring, unless I have a large class and a small ring; then, after having gone over all the dogs thoroughly, I will explain to the exhibitor the reason for excusing his entry. This will leave plenty of room to re-examine the remaining dogs.

SOME THOUGHTS IN GENERAL

My advice to a new exhibitor is to make sure that he has a dog that is a good representative of the breed. If he is going to go in for breeding he should get the best female he can afford to buy. (Better start with a good one than to try to breed one from second rate stock — it takes years). When it comes time to breed her, send her to the best producing stud dog of that breeding.

If the exhibitor is only interested in showing his dog, the first thing to do is to learn how to show the dog. You can learn this at any training class. Learn how to groom and trim your dog. It depends on what breed you have, but usually a professional handler will be good enough to give you some tips on trimming and grooming and conditioning your dog for the shows. Take in a few sanction shows where you will learn the ring procedure. When you have competed against your fellow exhibitors and you feel that your dog is ready to show and you are confident that you can handle your dog, you are ready for the championship show.

When you go to the show, the minute you take your dog into the show grounds he is on parade. You do not know who is watching your dog, it may be the judge coming into the building. He may be impressed at seeing your dog standing properly and alert and will be looking for him in the breed judging. Before going into the ring for your class, make sure you have groomed your dog to perfection. You want to win, don't leave anything undone. Always remember, keep your dog on parade at all times. Go into the ring and do your best. If you don't win, you know that you have done your best and tomorrow there will be another dog show.

Congratulate the winner and be a good sport at all times and you will find that there are a lot of nice people and dog shows can be a lot of fun.

Peacock? It's true that if only one of these items was given in evidence, I would have doubts in my mind but taking all of the things we have heard and the weight of the facts, I can only reach one conclusion and that is that the dog, "Rosita of Cantoy" was not "Rosita of Cantoy" but was some other dog and possibly was "Beland My Beauty" — very probably, "Beland My Beauty". That "Micaleia of Cantoy" was not "Micaleia of Cantoy". That "Tombalina of Cantoy" was not, in fact, "Tombalina of Cantoy" and that the sale of the dog "Rosita of Cantoy", or of a dog purporting to be "Rosita of Cantoy", under Section 17, sub-section (a) certificate of sale or transfer, naming it as being "Rosita of Cantoy" was a statement that was false, and was an improper and false registration. Therefore, on these four charges, I have to register a conviction of guilty.

On the charge under Section 17(1)(b) of the Livestock Pedigree Act regarding "Rosita of Cantoy", the sentence will be $100.00 and costs or thirty days, payable by December 5, 1963.

THE BEST OF VARIETY

It's a dog's life

On the last day of our holidays this past summer we attempted to drive all night, but finally stopped at 3 a.m. off the road. I let my Golden Retriever, Ch. Reid's Goldrange Blonde Bomber, out for a run. A few minutes later he came back. I reached down to pat him and felt something in his mouth. It was a tiny Persian kitten whose eyes were not yet open. It was so thin its ribs and spine could clearly be seen through its fur. I put him in the back of the car with Bomber. He promptly snuggled up to him, certain he had finally located his mother. For the next three weeks he was bottle fed, and at last learned to eat by himself. Although he would spit at other dogs, he would sleep under Bomber's elbows forever, except our other cat is usually there first.

June Dewhurst, West Vancouver, B.C.

Five Dollars will be paid to the sender of an authentic anecdote selected each month to appear in this department. Items, which must not exceed 150 words, may tell of an heroic action, an hilarious incident concerning your dog, or describe an incident where a dog used real ingenuity to solve a problem. Items submitted cannot be returned unless accompanied by a stamped self-addressed return envelope. Address, "It's a Dog's Life", Dogs in Canada Magazine, 1173 Bay St., Toronto, Ont.

The mother was puzzled by her little boy's actions. Every time a middle-aged neighbor lady walked her new puppy past the house, the boy would rush outside, stoop over the puppy, and receive something from the lady. Finally the mother asked what it was all about, and the boy proudly displayed a shiny dime.

"I got a job," he said. "Mrs. Canfield's dog wants to bite little boys, so she hired me to pet him every day till he gets used to them."

Irish Setter Club of the Pacific Bulletin.

Duly considering his responsibilities, the professional breeder decided to add to his life insurance.

"Now," concluded the insurance salesman briskly, "that amounts to a premium of $10.00 per month on straight life. That's what you wanted, wasn't it?"

"Well," replied his prospect wistfully, "I do like to fool around a little on Saturday nights."

Life must be worth living. The cost has doubled and we still hang on.

It takes more understanding

Whether it's a routine checkup, immunization shot or preparation for surgery, the veterinarian must have a lot of patience and understanding to win the confidence of his canine patients. By questioning you he learns about any changes in your dog's behaviour pattern. By examining your dog, he can detect symptoms of disease and can then take remedial action. When you have a particular problem with your dog and you want professional advice, see your veterinarian.
