Ken and Bobbie Ellis acquired their first Poodle in 1944. Smitten quickly, they were soon showing Poodles in England. In Canada, from 1947, the Poodle family has grown considerably to one of the largest and most successful kennels in Canada breeding Standards, Miniatures and Toys and in most colors. They are close to their half century of Champions. De la Fontaine-bred or sired stock consistently come up with major wins in Canada, the USA and also Bermuda.

There is a very large stud force available to breeders in most colors and in the three sizes. The majority have proven their worth in the show ring and by their winning get.

Twenty years of serious breeding programs including the study of genetics, nutrition, the conformation and the preservation show results when you see a large kennel with such a great number of healthy old retired Champions enjoying life, young Champions busy making life, matrons tending their young and the youths being prepared for the show ring. A consistency of type is being maintained and improved.

The pictures on the cover show a few of the de la Fontaine dogs in their happy environment.

The latest venture by Ken and Bobbie is to enlarge the country kennels and grooming parlor and to open, in Toronto, a salon called Dog Maison de la Fontaine where all breeds are groomed and cared for. The salon is located at Bathurst and 401 Hwy., easily accessible, completely up to date, with the newest equipment and carrying an interesting line of the supplies necessary for the pet or the show dog.

Ken is doing a "dog service" from coast to coast supplying for breeders and exhibitors and the potentials show quality dogs of all breeds and the equipment necessary to the particular breed. This is proving to be a great help to the breeders and exhibitors who are not located close to the centres of dogdom and therefore unable to see for themselves prospective dogs. Ken will be pleased to hear from the breeders when they have top show stock for sale.

TO THE EDITOR

If you have any suggestions, any comments or constructive criticism to make concerning articles in this magazine, or with regard to shows, your opinion of what is happening to various breeds with regard to size, color, coat, etc., write a brief letter to the Editor. We must reserve the right, however, to edit same.

mrs. pirrie, I agree!

...I heartily concur with Mrs. Barbara Pirrie with regard to the new point system. ... Without the shows the CKC is not going to extract its further .50c per entry and very soon there will be no breeders who will be able to afford their purchases or paying for stud fees. We have paid high stud fees, due to noone's fault, have lost a valuable Ch. with majors in U.S. shows on the operating table together with a litter of two pups. This is the cheap Champions that one hears so much about.... I have been to U.S. shows where one breeder has brought out as many as seven of one sex and coat and four in each sex in another coat in order to try for a major. These dogs are handled by the whole family or friends, plus a professional handler. What chance does a lone two male entry have against this type of building up points with a single family entry. Cheap indeed — I hardly think that people who talk like this have any knowledge, or maybe care what the blazes happens to any other breed and this type of thing happening in a relatively popular breed, so what is going to happen to the lesser well known breeds? As Mrs. Pirrie says, we travel over a hundred miles for stud service or fly them for a four hour plane flight for stud service and then lose out completely, or if successful, with the new point system the money would have been better thrown out of the nearest window.

...It has long been my belief that there are three main reasons for holding dog shows. They should act as show windows in which to display our dogs before the public. They should be gathering places for dogs, where exhibitors can compare their dogs with others of the same breed. They should be a means of obtaining expert opinions (the judges) on the merits and faults of dogs as compared with the official breed Standards.

Are dog shows attaining these objectives today? I think not.

The advent and the ever-increasing popularity among clubs of Unbenched Shows has practically made them useless as show windows of dogdom. You can walk into an Unbenched Show at almost anytime and see only a small fraction of the dogs entered at the Show. The dogs that are present are to be found everywhere around the building — in stalls, in crates, on crates being groomed, in the spectator stands with their owners, walking about on leashes, both inside and outside the building, being examined by the veterinarian or in the ring. At no time is there an opportunity to see all the dogs of one breed together at one time for either the interested spectator or exhibitor. Even when several of a breed are in the ring together, it is next to impossible for an exhibitor to handle his own dog and properly see the others in the ring.

The Benched Shows with the benching systematically planned so that all the dogs in each breed are together gives everyone the opportunity to really SEE the dogs. Exhibitors can take their time to honestly appraise all the dogs and spectators can browse around, looking at those breeds they wish to see, not the ones that happen to be around the building when they drop in.

Unbenched Shows are for the convenience of exhibitors and the facility of show giving clubs. Is it not time we thought about the harm or perhaps more aptly, the lack of good these shows are doing?

Now to the third and most important reason for a Dog Show — namely to obtain the judge's opinion of the dogs as compared with Official Breed Standards. Are the exhibitors getting these o for which they pay their entry They are — if they only want to k their dogs are better or worse th others entered in the breed. They ar degree, if the judge is considerate to tell them his reasons for his pl They are, if they bring their dogs judge after the show and he is ki ough to give an honest appraisal. this good enough? How can it be enough to the serious breeder w honestly trying to improve his breed can the sincere novice learn anything his chosen breed?

There is only one answer, as I The exhibitors must be given wha are paying for — the judges' opini their dogs. Some form of marked sheet or chart, given to the exhibit each dog, has to be the only logic swer.

FROM THE EDITOR

While in many communities dog owners are merely requested not to let their pets run loose during the garden season, other municipalities are tightening their by-laws and affixing a penalty for negligence.

Some nature-loving dogs appear to think gardens were especially planned and nourished for their pleasure. Neither drought nor wind will help a shrub into oblivion faster than a dog. Dogs have an uncanny way of finding the exact spot containing the most prized bulbs in which to dig. Obviously it is the very location to plant a bone. If garden owners resent their lawns and gardens being damaged, they can hardly be blamed.

Because the majority of Dogs' readers are breeders and exhibitors, and the least likely to let their dogs have uncontrolled freedom, this column needs to say little on the subject.

On the other hand, most purebred owners and breeders are likely to be property owners. Would it not be considerate of parents to indocrinate in their children a healthy respect for other people's property?

Children will play ball in the street, dangerously close to house and car windows. If they are older boys sometimes nothing less than threatening to call the police will remove them. If they do create some damage these heretofore immoveable objects will melt into thin air. And then just try and collect.

A dog will usually trot through your garden. But watch a trio of children with sticks whack at your shrubs. Chastise them and they will look a with disdain.

If you shout at a dog to go more than likely he will turn tai leave your property. If you tell a to leave you can expect a rude to keep their dogs on a loose lead during the judge's examination. If he is afraid that his entry may bite the judge or shrink away from him, then that dog isn't worthy of being in the show ring in the first place. Wouldn't this be an ideal "test" of the dog's character which is so important.

The other very serious fault is the undershot lower jaw. The judge looks at the dog's mouth and teeth and he can quickly tell whether the animal is undershot or not. So why not the loose lead during examination whereas the experienced judge could evaluate the dog's temperament.

Is over angulation and fine boned males the fashion in German Shepherds?

new belgian sheepdog club

. . . On Sunday, April 26, following the Brantford Obedience Trial, nine people and one Belgian Sheepdog met to consider the formation of a Belgian Sheepdog Club of Canada. The possibility of publishing a monthly newsletter, of holding a Specialty Show in connection with the Canadian National Sportsman Shows, the ensuring of Belgian entries at certain shows throughout the year, and other matters were discussed at this meeting. It was agreed that a second meeting would be held on Sunday, June 7, at the home of Hugh T. Munro in Thorold, Ont.

Prior to this meeting, information concerning breed club constitutions, and the programmes of other breed clubs, is to be collected. Anyone wishing to attend this meeting or anyone interested in obtaining information concerning the club should write to either of the following people: Mr. Hugh T. OBEDIENCE

Ed. O'Brien, Canfield, Ont., is well-known as Canada's leading professional trainer of dogs in Obedience work. He is a licensed Judge, one of Canada's first. He began his career in the West, training dogs for herding and other farm work. Since moving to Ontario he has specialized in training dogs for police and guard work and for disabled people. Mr. O'Brien also breeds German Shepherds and Dobermans.

A LOOK AT THE NEW AMERICAN OBEDIENCE TRIAL REGULATIONS

In my capacity as Obedience Trial Representative for Ontario, I have been present at most of the trials held this Spring. My observation has been that while Obedience, so far as entries are concerned, is probably hitting a new high, it may be hitting a new low in other respects. At more than half of the trials I have heard competitors complaining (in some cases bitterly) about the scores they received, even going so far as to claim that they have been robbed. I feel that in most cases this is nonsense for, as I have said before, the judges hope all dogs will qualify. Naturally, being human, they do make mistakes occasionally but, I am sure, not wilfully.

For those of my readers who compete, but do not judge (except from the ringside!), let me suggest that you read the Regulations and Standards for yourselves, then, in your training classes, try to apply what you have read on just one dog for each of the degrees. Even if you have a photographic memory, I'll wager you'll be amazed at how often you'll wish you could have another peek at that book! Always bear in mind that when you make your entry you know who will be judging the show, and you are declaring yourself willing to accept that judge's decisions. Should the judging be poor, you can always enter under someone else next time!

Now, a few words for the judges. On the whole, I feel that judging in Ontario this Spring has been more consistent than for some time past. Some of us who were perhaps too easy (especially on the novice handlers) have tightened up a bit and this is making for better judging all round. But we still need to get together on such things as, for example, deductions for crooked sits. Naturally some difference in scoring must be made between a dog sitting just slightly off and one who sits at right angles to his handler but when one judge, in almost every case, makes only a reduction of half a point, while another deducts several points for the same offense, then we do have a problem. Such things as this confuse and even anger the handlers. Definite infractions are easily handled as a rule: it is this difference in marking minor faults which seems to arouse hostility.

I have just received a copy of the new American Obedience Trial Regulations, most of which I believe we will be adopting in a supplement to be added to our Canadian book. Perhaps there will be some help for us in the new rules. Here is a case in point: under the new American rules, no dog can receive a qualifying score if he relieves himself in an indoor ring or stops to do so while performing an exercise outdoors. Nearly all judges, at some time or another, have been faced with the problem of how to score under such circumstances. In my opinion, we would be well-advised to adopt the new, definite ruling.

The American rules also state that the judge shall require the dumb-bell to be thrown again if it has been thrown too short a distance or too far to one side. Perhaps it would have been better to have stipulated the shortest distance a dumb-bell can be thrown and, outside of its shooting right out of the ring, shouldn't the dog be expected to get it and return over the jump? The dumb-bell, by the way, must now be approved by the judge. It must be made of hardwood, in one solid piece, and must be proportionate to the size of the dog. This will rule out some of the very light dumb-bells with thin plywood ends that we have seen lately.

A recent trial brought out another point on which all our judges are not agreed, namely, if a dog knocks down the bar in directional jumping, must he be disqualified? Sec. 18, page 22 in our rule book says: "The dog shall clear the jumps without touching them." This seems to be quite clear and the fact that the regulations call for the bar jump to be so constructed that the bar can be easily dislodged would lead one to feel that it was intended that a dog knocking the bar down should be disqualified. It would be interesting to have the opinions of all our judges on this point. While we are on the subject of bar jumps, I am reminded that a great variety have shown up at trials lately. The black and white on one bar was striped like a barber's pole. Another had the uprights built with four feet, each 24" long, with a brace. This left two of the feet with their braces protruding under the bar and some contestants felt

HUMANELY "SPEAKING"

What about a dog area in parks? The General Manager of the Ontario Humane wonders.

I don't know if you have noticed it or not, but the opportunity to exercise a dog on safe and yet interesting ground is slowly disappearing. Or so it seems to me.

No one likes to just walk a dog around a block. If nothing else, it fouls up the pavements and invites the wrath of one's neighbours. I realize that sometimes and under some circumstances, this form of exercising is unavoidable, and even desirable, but not normally. And certainly every dog needs and enjoys a good run under natural conditions. But where can you find "natural conditions" these days.

I suppose one can sympathize with the parks authorities who bar all dogs from public parks; some parks permit dogs on a leash. But few parks, to my knowledge, allow dogs to run freely within their limits. It isn't very pleasant to share one's sandwiches with somebody else's over-friendly pooch or to have a picnic spoilt by foul ground. So I can see the argument against dogs in parks; people's parks, that is.

Horses were once given the undisputed right of way on our roads. They still are for that matter, but who in their right mind would ride a horse up the fast lane of the 401 and argue the point with a tandem trailer?

Horse owners, long ago, found a solution. A "Rotten Row" or reserved area in public parks where horses can be exercised without interfering with anyone. Surely what is needed is for similar exercise areas for dogs to be set aside in all our public parks.

The parks boards will simply say that there is plenty of waste, empty, unused land on which you can run your dogs.

Of course, there is a certain amount of land that can only be described as "marginal" or "unused". This land generally lies along the banks of rivers, creeks, railway lines, etc. It is here amongst the rotting garbage, the broken glass, the rusty tins with jagged edges, the rusty wire, and more broken glass, it is here that one finds the "desperate dog owner", and his equally frustrated and desperate dog.

Condemned to run among such dangers, is it any wonder that the average dog's feet resemble a hockey player's face – a mass of stitches and jagged scars. Which brings me round to the subject of glass again.

I hate glass; I hate it with a deep and growing anger. I find myself abusing glass. If at all possible, I like to kick glass; kick it out of my way, out of danger for my dog, or to just plain kick it. I'm rather afraid that this means something. Perhaps I was cut badly as a child (as a matter of fact, I was on at least two occasions). Perhaps I was deprived of something, and had to accept something made of glass as a substitute. Who knows? I do know that I am the organizor, President, Secretary, and the only founding member of the "Society for the Abolition of Glass in Any Form". The Aims and Objects of the Society are simple: to abolish or discourage the use of glass for any purpose whatsoever. We aim to persuade manufacturers to use plastic, metal, rubber – anything in fact but GLASS.

Glass is the veterinarian's friend. I think firms that make glass should receive an annual fee from the Veterinary Association, representing a percentage of the fees received by the vets for stitching up dogs feet. Not to mention the profits from the sale of the plastic "spray-on" bandage which is the only way a cut foot can be protected and yet still allowed to heal.

Perhaps I'm just bitter. My own dogs are the world's best glass finders. I can throw a ball into the most harmless looking piece of marsh. By the look of it, you would think that only wild birds, loons and lovers had ever intruded into its virginal purity. But not with me. Sure enough my dog will run smack into some idiot's beer bottles, thrown idly from a passing boat or out of a parked car. A cry or howl from the dog, a paw dripping with blood, and once again it's off to the vets for some more stitches.

River banks are particularly bad. Fishermen and those who like to row, paddle or power their boats, all seem passionately dedicated to the pursuit of broken glass. So, if you see a harassed "dog-man" wandering along with head hung down, occasionally kicking at the ground, especially along a river bank, don't worry too much. It's probably me, out at my favorite pastime of "glass-kicking".

"I think we've come up with the ultimate in this new dog food. Not only is it delicious but it gets rid of fleas."

SPANIELS

IN THE FIELD

George Tabner, a well-known breeder and exhibitor of Springer Spaniels in both show and trial, is a firm believer that show Springers must also be able to give good account of themselves in the field. He is President of the English Springer Spaniel Club of Canada and sparked the establishment of Ontario's only Spaniel Specialty Show for all Spaniels.

There are no Field Trials to report on this time. The only spring Licensed trial being held is the Central Ontario Spaniel Club's. That will be after my deadline for writing, and before this anpears in print. The dry fall, resulting in lack of cover, made most eastern clubs here and in the USA unable to hold point trials. There have been several Sanction events in nearby states, at which a goodly share of the places went to Canadian dogs.

The Spaniel Field Trial Association (of Ontario) seems to be functioning more as a debating club, if reports reaching me are true. The only point agreed upon was the need to change the age limit in Puppy Stake eligibility. This was settled two years ago but never carried further. Those of us who are in dogs for sport and pleasure are prepared to leave the arguments behind and if necessary travel across the border, there to be warmly welcomed, and despite other people's fears do a good accounting.

I raised the question of the "National Championship Stakes", now held by the above Association rotating to the Maritimes, as they too now run trials. This I am told would be unlikely as "no one would travel that far". "No one" I guess being of course from the member clubs. Nova Scotia C.K.C. members certainly have equal rights to becoming "National Champions" as do any others. The basic principle that the Association name be changed when areas elsewhere began Spaniel Trials, to include them, has, it seems, been forgotten. I will admit it is a long trip from Ontario to Nova Scotia. If the dogs can't travel, let's at least rotate the trial so everyone has equal chance and say in the title. Southern Ontario is not all of Canada even if some persons never leave it.

Now I have got most of the field trial people jumping next the show breeders. In March I had a man call around enquiring about having a Springer trained to hunt. We invited him out to Sprayturf Experimental Farm, with the dog, to show him a little and see the dog. Well, I arrived in a wet snow storm and saw the bitch, soaking wet and no show specimen. She was interested only in playing and jumping up on anyone. Even when Ted Haggis took her into the bird pen she paid them no heed. We took our Ch. Merry Friend (show dog) along. She had not worked since Thanksgiving Day when she was bred. She has a good nose and would retrieve anything and would give the young dog the bird when told. We could not even make his bitch touch a pigeon even if Merry retrieved it from directly under its nose.

The poor guy was very disappointed. He had paid a fair price but had nothing. I raise show dogs — but no one can believe any Springer not of show type can be sold as a hunting dog. Let's at least be fair to customers. Test out the pups and those with no aptitude must be pets. There are lots of families for them, but do not say they will hunt, on hope alone.

This guy hadn't even told us the truth though. He had made her gun shy by firing off three rounds over her head, and had never taken her out, even though she was six months of age last pheasant season. Well, he has a playful spayed bitch and no money. If you expect to have a dog to hunt, get one that shows some instincts and then you take it out in the field and give it some opportunities and training. It's a lot more fun as a do it yourself dog and you can't expect someone else to do it for nothing. Birds and shells cost money and dogs take time and patience to train.

On the subject of training let's see the dogs retrieve to hand. Make them sit and give you the bird. One wrestled from a dog is hardly worth eating, yet you see it at every trial. When I dropped a competitor at the Southern Mich. Sanction Club for this, he was surprised.

Here, before everyone shoots me, is a hint on tail docking. Give the pups five or six drops of whisky by an eye dropper in the side of the mouth. Twenty minutes later they are sound asleep. We hold the pup in one hand, squeeze the tail with thumb and finger at the proper (long) length and cut with shears. A drop or two of Ferrk Per Chloride cauterizes. The last seven pups were done and asleep again in 20 minutes. When the dam returned from her walk in the fields they were asleep. There was no blood and she lay down beside them to sleep too. There was even enough rye for me. ■

What some people don't know about dogs fills the veterinarians' hospitals.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP STORY

To help readers better understand the championship point system here is a history of the Canadian method to date.

During the 75 years that the CKC has been awarding Championships to dogs many different methods of obtaining this title have been tried and several revisions have been made. In the first volume of the official organ of the CKC, April 1889, there appears the following: "A dog to compete in a Champion class must have won four first prizes exclusive of puppy classes and classes not confined to one breed, at shows approved by the Canadian Kennel Club, a list of which, together with the rules, must be published in the premium list and catalogue of each show. In estimating the number of prizes a dog has won with reference to whether it should compete in a championship class or not, the number of prizes won shall be calculated up at 12 p.m. of the day preceding the closing of entries of the show".

From this one would presume that a dog had to win a class called the "Champion Class" before being awarded a Championship and could only enter this class after the quoted qualifications had been met.

The next change appeared in the May, 1901 issue which stated: "The Winners Class at any show be open to only the winners of first prizes at that show, and the winner of four first prizes in this class, two of which have been won at shows either giving $500.00 in cash prizes or having not less than 400 entries (in case of Manitoba and British Columbia, $300.00 in cash prizes or 200 entries), will thereby become a Champion of record".

A further revision was made in 1907 when the following scale was published: "Ten points, won under at least two different judges, constitute a Champion. The number of points allotted at any show will depend on the dogs actually benched:
Not less than 650 dogs — five points
Not less than 500 dogs — four points
Not less than 400 dogs — three points
Not less than 250 dogs — two points
Less than 250 dogs — 1 point
For all shows west of Port Arthur the scale of points are:
Not less than 300 dogs — five points
Not less than 250 dogs — four points
Not less than 150 dogs — two points
Less than 150 dogs — one point

This was for the winner in EACH breed and evidently the sexes were not divided.

A certificate of the dogs actually benched was signed by the President or Chairman of the Bench Show Committee, the Secretary or Superintendent of the show, and endorsed by one or more members of the CKC Executive Committee and had to be sent by registered mail before the close of the show to the Secretary-Treasurer of the CKC.

In 1914 the scale was again revised but still followed the same pattern. A good example of this is illustrated by the following entries and points allotted at shows held in 1930. In Ontario: CNE-560 dogs benched — 5 points; London-207 — 2 points; Kingston-153 — 1 point; Hamilton-167 — 1 point; Windsor-192 — 1 point; Toronto-452 — 4 points; New Brunswick-203 — 3 points; Nova Scotia-241 — 3 points; Quebec: Sherbrooke-154 — 1 point, Montreal-255 — 2 points; B.C.: Coast City-210 — 3 points, Victoria-256 — 4 points; Sask: Saskatoon-125 — 1 point; Alta: Medicine Hat-209 — 3 points.

The principle of the present point system was proposed to the Board of the CKC by the well known Walter Reeves in 1933 and came into effect in 1934. At this same time the Best of Winners Class was introduced and all classes were now divided by sex, where previously they were not.

The present scale came into effect in 1957 after a great deal of study, work and consideration. It was based on the average number of dogs, in each breed, in competition in each zone over the three year period 1953, 1954 and 1955. Thus at the time the entry of German Shepherds, Black Cocker Spaniels, Collies (rough) and Boxers warranted the increase of two dogs for one point. Others breeds remained the same for one point. This applied to Ontario shows only. The total of ten points for a Championship has been in existence for many years. But to obtain a Championship a dog must defeat at least one of its own breed OR place in the Group. The number of Judges required to allot these points varied, some areas requiring only two, others needing three.

During 1938, 294 Championships were awarded by the CKC and by 1963 this figure had grown to 959 confirmed Championships with many others awaiting the registrations of the dogs. This of course is another of the requirements, the dog MUST be registered with the CKC, although dogs can be shown as 'listed' dogs for any number of shows.

ENGLISH CHAMPIONSHIPS

In England the system is quite different. There a dog must receive three Challenge Certificates under three different judges to become a Champion. These certificates are awarded at Championship Shows ONLY and even at these they are not provided for every breed. The Kennel Club decides how many CC's will be given to each breed in the year and at just what shows these will be awarded. As an example, 28 CC's were offered for Afghans during 1962 (14 for each sex), so only 14 of the 158 Championship Shows offered CC's for this breed. Crufts are one of the few that are permitted to offer certificates for every breed.

AMERICAN CHAMPIONSHIPS

In the USA Championships are awarded in much the same way as they are in Canada. There are, however, a few exceptions: 15 points are required and six or more of these must have been won at two shows with a rating of three or more Championship points each and under two different judges, and some one or more of the balance of the points must have been won under some other judge or judges than the two referred to above. As in Canada, the dog must be registered with the AKC before a Championship will be awarded.

This issue of Dogs in Canada inaugurates what will be an annual feature, appearing every year in the June issue. It is a privilege to publicly applaud the outstanding achievements of these dogs who were campaigned so successfully during 1963.

The results were arrived at by awarding one point for each dog defeated from Best of Breed to Best in Show. A record of each Best of Breed winner in 1963 was maintained by Dogs in Canada. This information was taken from the official marked catalogues provided to Dogs in Canada by The Canadian Kennel Club.

NOTICE

SUBJECT: PROPOSED NEW STANDARD FOR BULLMASTIFF

In the December 1963 issue of "Dogs in Canada" notice was given of a proposed new standard for the Bullmastiff and at the same time an invitation was extended to those interested in the breed to submit their comments for the consideration of the Board of Directors.

A number of suggested changes in the standard as it was published in the December 1963 issue have been proposed and these proposed changes are outlined hereunder.

Any person or organization wishing to comment on these proposed changes is invited to do so and these comments should be addressed to: The Secretary, The Canadian Kennel Club, 1173 Bay Street, Toronto 5, Ontario, so as to be received by June 30, 1964.

BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK

BY LORNA CASGRAIN

Carefully the attractive young S.P.C.A. Junior member placed the scent articles in position—and then they were gone! Scooting right across Place Ville Marie Plaza in Montreal, propelled by a furious wind.

The occasion was an Obedience demonstration by 22 dogs from the three Clubs in the Montreal area, sponsored by the Education Committee of the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and highlighting Be Kind To Animals Week, May 3-9.

An estimated 1,500 people watched the dogs present two half-hour performances in defiance of a wind which upset jumps, blew down the loudspeakers, scattered scent articles and otherwise seemed determined to play havoc with our demonstration—but unsuccessfully, for the crowd loved it all, and the dogs distinguished themselves in a truly outstanding manner.

Eight members of the S.P.C.A. Juniors, working in pairs and each pair dressed alike, looking very smart indeed with their S.P.C.A. arm-bands, handled the jumps and other equipment. The S.P.C.A. booth was on hand to provide information and literature.

We were fortunate in having Rev. Gilbert Mai of the Franciscan Fathers open the demonstration with a prayer of St. Francis, followed by the blessing of the dogs.

With yours truly directing the drill and sharing the mike with S.P.C.A. General Manager Mr. Jacques Vallée, our "opening number" had 15 dogs lined up holding letters which spelled BE KIND TO ANIMALS. Reversed, the letters proclaimed in French, BONTE AUX ANIMAUX.

A large proportion of the downtown audience had probably never seen Obedience before, and they literally gasped when the 22 dogs did their group heeling and Stay exercises off leash.

The jumps consisted of bright yellow banners with red lettering: SPCA and BE KIND TO ANIMALS in French and English. Little dogs and big dogs retrieved their dumbbells over a small and large banner respectively. The dubious star of this performance was Gigi, a little Poodle belonging to Patricia Currie. Gigi rolled over on her back for the Juniors to scratch her tummy.

The Scent Discrimination would have been such a lovely exercise, as we had four dogs ready to pick out S-P-C-A from a number of other letters painted on outsize dumbbells but, made of very light wood, they all blew away!

The group Signal exercise by five dogs was a terrific crowd-pleaser, as was the Directed Jumping by Poodle "Judy" Tyner—in English first and then in French!

For our finale we had the dogs jump three hurdles in a row, carrying little yellow pennants with SPCA lettered on them, fluttering gaily in the wind.

H. C. ROWSELL, D.V.M., Ph.D., D.V.P.H.

BLOOD COAGULATION IN DOGS

Following is an excerpt from a report by Dr. Rowsell on "Hemorrhagic Disorders in Dogs: their Recognition, Treatment and Importance". Dr. Rowsell is Professor and Head, Division of Pathophysiology, Ontario Veterinary College.

The best known coagulation disorder is probably hemophilia. McKusick recently uncovered information which suggested the earliest record of hemophilia in man in the United States was in 1791. However, the first report in veterinary literature of hemophilia in dogs in the United States was by Field and associates in 1946. The strain of dogs on which this report was based were subsequently obtained by Dr. Brinkhous and a hemophiliac dog colony developed at Chapel Hill, North Carolina. These dogs have made a significant contribution in the study of blood coagulation and hemophilia.

There is little doubt that forms of hemophilia probably exist in all species of animals and only require recognition and diagnosis. Recently hemophilia has been reported in thoroughbred and standard bred horses, in Shetland Sheepdogs, Beagles, English and Irish Setters and Labrador Retrievers.

In 1958 at the Ontario Veterinary College we observed our first case of hemophilia in Cairn Terriers. This disease subsequently was established as Hemophilia "B" or Christmas Disease and was the first recorded case of this form of hemophilia in dogs. Working in cooperation with Dr. J. F. Mustard, a physician, we established a kennel of dogs affected with hemophilia. The use of dogs with Hemophilia "B" in comparative investigational studies has been reported.

Subsequently we have observed Factor VII deficiency in Beagle Hounds and Classical Hemophilia (Hemophilia "A") in German Shepherds and Collies. Currently we are investigating a bleeding tendency in Labrador Retrievers and Black-and-Tan Hounds which we have acquired in our kennel. When the necessary investigations are complete the variety of hemophiliac states observed in dogs may be increased. Therefore on the basis of our observations it appears that problems in blood coagulation are more widespread than previously believed and can present a challenge for the veterinarian in diagnosis, treatment and management.

HEMOPHILIA "B" (CHRISTMAS DISEASE, FACTOR IX DEFICIENCY)

Our initial studies were prompted when a veterinary practitioner referred to the Small Animal Division of the Ontario Veterinary College two Cairn Terriers which had bled excessively after minor surgery; in one case after the removal of the accessory digits and in the second after the removal of a temporary tooth. Two of the dogs investigated are living in homes as pets and they have had bleeding problems such as intraocular hemorrhage as the result of slight trauma to the eye, small cuts on the feet which bleed in spite of conventional therapy.

Within our kennel we have had many bleeding episodes from epistaxis to cord hemorrhages.

INHERITANCE OF HEMOPHILIA "B"

The inheritance of Hemophilia "B" is similar to that of Hemophilia "A" and the heredity characteristics appear similar in man and animals. The defect in both forms of Hemophilia is an X linked character, the males being affected and the females being carriers but showing no evidence of the defect.

The possible results of breeding hemophiliac animals are shown in Figure 1. [See page 48] On the basis of these observations we have established our breeding program in Hemophilia "B", one where affected Cairns are bred to Cairn carriers; the other, a cross breeding program where male Cairn Terriers with Hemophilia "B" are bred to normal Beagle females. The result is a "Keagle" and the females are carriers of the defect. These Keagle females have been bred to normal dogs and to dogs with Hemophilia "B". The results of such breedings confirm the Keagle female as a carrier. Unfortunately we have experienced some losses of male puppies in the first week of life in this cross breeding program due to internal hemorrhage.

The breeding of affected males to carrier females, as has been suggested has produced females with the defect. One such female was bred and unfortunately went into labour prematurely during the night before supportive therapy could be given. The dog bled to death before help arrived.

HEMOPHILIA "A" (CLASSICAL HEMOPHILIA)

This defect has been observed in the Collie and German Shepherd breeds in our laboratory. The Collie came to us from the University of Illinois and had many bleeding episodes before its arrival in our kennel. Subsequently many other hemorrhage episodes developed and in spite of therapy died as the result of cord hemorrhage. A second dog with Hemophilia "A" from this litter is being maintained in a home. The owners indicated recently that it was an extremely costly proposition to keep this dog alive. Fortunately, the veterinarian is well acquainted with the nature and treatment of the defect and is able to manage the numerous hemorrhagic episodes.

The original observation that these dogs had a bleeding tendency occurred when after vaccination one Collie pup developed a large swelling close to the site of inoculation. It was mistaken for a sterile abscess and was opened. Unfortunately the dog died as a result of fatal hemorrhage. However, it has been our experience that vaccination of hemophiliac dogs usually does not produce hematomas.

In no case could we uncover any history of a hemorrhagic tendency in other dogs, either in the kennel of the dam or in other kennels associated with the breeding program. The history suggested that a dog in a distant city may be the source. The sire of this litter had previously sired 25 normal litters. This was the first breeding of the carrier female.

The German Shepherds with the hemorrhagic tendencies were brought to our attention by a veterinary practitioner in Winnipeg, Man. The first affected animal had developed numerous hematomas over its body. In addition this dog has had hemarthroses similar to those seen in humans with Hemophilia "A".

Numerous hemophiliac dogs may be whelped by one carrier bitch. The carrier bitch in one case is not yet three years of age and all breedings have been made without the knowledge that the dam was a carrier of Hemophilia "A". The last litter, number III, is now in our kennel.

Coagulation studies in both the Collies and German Shepherds showed an abnormality in the intrinsic system of blood coagulation. By means of the thromboplastin generation test and suitable mixing experiments, the defect was shown to be present in the aluminium hydroxide treated plasma as opposed to the disease in the Cairns where the defect was located in the serum. It is noted in the results of coagulation tests in a Collie that in this defect platelet clumping is affected, thus suggesting inadequate platelet plug formation which may be one of the factors causing impaired hemostasis. The defect in these dogs appears to be pathologically similar to Classical Hemophilia in man and probably genetically similar; however proof of this latter point must be substantiated by future breeding.

FACTOR VII DEFICIENCY IN BEAGLES

Factor VII deficiency in Beagles is the third coagulation defect to be discussed. Defects of this type influence the extrinsic system of blood coagulation.

CLINICAL OBSERVATIONS

Defects in the extrinsic system do not produce as serious bleeding problems as defects in the intrinsic system. Initially we believed that there was little or no clinical problem associated with this defect in dogs. However, this was premature for in our kennel normal dogs show little or no reaction to injuries which produce extensive bruising in Factor VII deficient animals. An outbreak of lymphadenitis in our Beagles during the past year revealed an excessive accumulation of fluids which were blood tinged in Factor VII-deficient dogs. We have carried out surgical procedures such as cecectomies on these dogs without any problem. However, the procedure of ventriculo-cordectomy produced excessive hemorrhage in the soft tissues with subsequent death of the dog. Thus, canine Factor VII deficiency may not produce serious problems but the defect cannot be ignored.

INHERITANCE OF FACTOR VII DEFICIENCY

A family history was developed. Both male and female dogs are affected, the defect does not appear to be sex linked. The pattern of inheritance in this defect appears to be an autosomal recessive. We are carrying out additional studies to confirm this.

COAGULATION STUDIES

Blood coagulation tests are normal except the prothrombin time which was usually greater than 25 seconds as compared to the normal prothrombin time of 10-15 seconds.

TREATMENT OF HEMORRHAGIC DISORDERS

When superficial bleeding occurs, the application of topical thrombin and firm pressure to the site of bleeding is recommended. The use of pressure bandages is of assistance. Gauze should be applied to cover the area, making the application and removal of the adhesive bandage easier. Care must be taken not to cut off circulation or force blood into tissues. If thrombin is not available, other topical coagulants may be substituted. A tranquilizer is usually administered during the first 24 to 48 hours after a bleeding episode. Oral or intravenous medications should only be given. Intramuscular administrations should not be used in animals with bleeding tendencies.

When bleeding occurs in joints, quick action is necessary in order to prevent severe damage with resultant ankylosis. The application of cold compresses and a pressure bandage is useful. In some cases a foam rubber padded cast or splint may be necessary.

The most dangerous form of bleeding as far as the life of the dog is concerned, is that which may occur in soft tissues around the pharynx and larynx. It is not possible to apply pressure and the bleeding will often extend down around the loose tissue outside the trachea into the mediastinal space.

Once measures have been taken to control superficial hemorrhages then parenteral administration of blood or blood products must be considered. We avoid the use of whole blood unless, as suggested, marked blood loss or severe anemia is present and then only after cross matching has been carried out, for transfusion reactions due to blood incompatibilities do occur in dogs.

Unfortunately, we have experienced a loss due to a transfusion reaction. The Factor IX-deficient Cairn in which this occurred had been on a study and subsequently developed a skin slough related to the experimental procedure. One evening its condition became acute and without our notification a transfusion without prior cross matching was given. The dog subsequently died with all signs of transfusion reaction such as icterus, hematuria and uremia.

THE FUTURE IN HEMORRHAGIC DISEASES

It is anticipated that as the veterinarian becomes more aware concerning problems of hemostasis, the long list of diseases associated with impaired hemostasis, which have been recognized in man will be observed in animals. At the Ontario Veterinary College in four years we have observed both forms of hemophilia, Hemophilia "A" and Hemophilia "B", Factor VII deficiency, dogs with active fibrinolytic mechanisms, (which we have not discussed in this review) and, as well, numerous cases of thrombocytopenia. The recognition of such bleeding disorders permits the development of kennels of affected dogs which will assist in the study of the coagulation mechanism and the bleeding diseases. Undoubtedly, through research using these dogs a better understanding of treatment and management of hemophilia in man will come and bring with it a more normal life for the hemophiliac. ■

CHESAPEAKE BAY RETRIEVER

A story of the origin of the Chesapeake is recorded where a Chesapeake female, tied in a swamp, was bred by an otter. Although this seems rather absurd many references are made which refer to the dogs as Chesapeake-otter hounds.

ORBIT TO THE RESCUE

Holden Orbit Imp., Orbit for short, a black Labrador female owned by Ivy McLaughlin, Brampton, Ont., came to the rescue and became the heroine of the story. It all started when Knolltop's Ericci arrived at Malton airport from Winnipeg to be shown at the Ontario shows. Much to the concern of the officials of TCA the unheard of happened. Upon unloading the crate the door flew open and the frightened female ran away. RCMP and local police joined with the airport officials and the search began at noon on April 29. A week went by but no one had been successful in finding Ericci. Finally, Mrs. Stuart Lauchlan, the dog's owner, flew in and another party, together with Orbit, again began an extended search. Mr. Curry, of Brampton, reported seeing her in the woods at dusk. Orbit was put on the trail and after quartering back and forth she eventually emerged from the bush with the frightened, hungry, exhausted but happy Ericci.

FAMILIAR NAMES

Ballyduff, an English kennel highly respected in both the USA and Canada is owned by Dr. Acheson, whose principle is using only working blood for all his breeding. Both the Doctor and his wife are Championship show judges.

Blaircourt, a fairly recent kennel which made an outstanding start with three Champions in the first litter, Chs. Emperor, Empress and Echo of Lisnamallard. Owners are Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cairns of Glasgow, Scotland.

Ch. Curlywick Golden Boy, three year old Toy Poodle owned by Mrs. Joyce Elgaard, Geo-La-Jane Poodles, 2176 Duthie Ave., N. Burnaby, B.C., took BB and third in Group both days of the Working Dog Association of B.C. shows under Judges Mrs. Hilda Balshaw and Mr. E.B. Reid. Sire, Curlywick Sunglow of Greatcoats; dam, Curlywick Milky Way. Breeder, Mrs. D.H. Millea.

GOLDEN RETRIEVERS

Four Golden Retrievers have had the honour of going BIS. Ch. (Can. Am.) Speedwell Pluto in 1933, Ch. Toby of Willow Loch, 1938, Ch. Tonkakob Bang, 1945, and Ch. Czar of Wildwood won three during 1946-47.

IRISH SETTERS

The reputation of Irish Setters for being headstrong, hard to handle, difficult to train — is neither well founded nor deserved. Certainly several dogs imported from Ireland and England in the early eighties instigated this opinion. But, today, those who actually know the breed will verify that they have long since lived down this reputation. Today, the Irishman is as easily trained as any other Setter.

BIS AT ELEVEN MONTHS

A great thrill was experienced by the owner-handler, Mrs. Harry Reno, Port Huron, Mich., when Judge Stan Whitmore awarded BIS to Abbi's Adored Mister A.O.K. at Sarnia, May 10. This 11-month-old ASCOB took BIS after John Lundberg had placed him first in the Group the day before at London and five different judges had awarded him five BV's at the Sportsmen's and Chatham shows. This started his Canadian career. In the USA he came from the Open to BW for his first Major at the Specialty on May 3.

HOW TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Although it has been said that the greatest producing Cocker that "fixed" the breed many years ago was Obo 11, Baby Ruth is rated as the greatest in the generations to follow. Her sire was Fascination, a Canadian dog who was given a great deal of credit for the quality of Baby Ruth. American authorities have stated that they are amazed at how much they owe to the Canadian breeders for the establishment of the foundation Cockers.

LADY LUCK PLAYS BIG ROLE

When Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Roberts, Canidae Kennels, Maidstone, Ont., went to the Airport to greet their new English Basenji import, Eng. Ch. Eros Major of Basenlake, they saw him unloaded from the plane to the baggage cart and then watched in horror while a careless truck driver partially missed the baggage room door and dumped the whole load off the truck. When everything finally came to rest, Ero's crate was upside down on the floor with a sizeable hole punched in one side. Fortunately Eros was physically unharmed although understandably shaken by his abrupt and unexpected reception. The same cannot be said of his new owner, for Mr. Roberts, while trying to clear the counter, fell and badly tore the muscles of his left arm.

NEVER TOO OLD

Ch. (Can. Am.) Hi-Lo Superman (Dick) has completed his American Championship with four majors and a one point win. This fact would not be unusual except that this Beagle started his American career at the age of eight years and finished at the age of nine at Trenton, N.J., in a large field of young dogs, by going BW. Dick is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grant, Glanrobin Kennels, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que.

DACHSHUND CLUB

The Dachshund Club of Canada decided, at their April meeting, to hold a Booster Show with the Windsor and District K.C. at its July show. The club will be holding a fun match at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson, near London, Ont. on August 9, judge to be announced later. All owners of Dachshunds are invited to attend and bring a picnic lunch.

GOOD NEWS FROM FLORIDA

Joyce and Stu Roberts, Canidae Kennels, Maidstone, Ont. have been advised that Canidae's Aphrodite, a Longhair Dachshund female puppy they sent to Mr. Ed. Brannigan, Panama City, Florida had gone from the puppy class to BV and fourth in Group at Mobile, Ala., RW at Atlanta Specialty and BW and BOS at Atlanta K.C. (a four point win).

CANADIAN TO JUDGE SPECIALTY

Stu Roberts, President of the Dachshund Club of Canada, has been invited to judge the Dachshund Specialty at San Diego, Calif. August 22, 1964.

WHIPPETS

Although Whippets are somewhat of a rarity at Canadian shows, this does not hold in the USA. In 1959 the breed was exhibited at 58% of the all-breed shows, 1960-63%, 1961-78%, 1962-79% and 1963-81%.

Ch. Courtney Fleetfoot of Pennyworth, the English import who took top honours at Westminster, was just repeating an honour achieved at nine other shows. His record includes 10 BIS, 21 firsts, 11 seconds, three thirds and two fourths in Group.

NOTABLES AND THE BREED

About 20 years ago Bullmastiffs were a familiar sight around Hollywood and New York. Notables such as Harry M. Warner, Douglas Fairbanks, Gen. Elliot Roosevelt and John D. Rockefeller Jr. owned dogs of this breed and the latter was a well known breeder.

SMOOTH AND ROUGH ONE BREED

A question which has been found most difficult for authorities to answer. Some claim that they were separate and two different Collies. Others believe that in the beginning they were the same breed and the difference in coat was chosen for the specific job one wished them to do. The longer, rough coated dogs were used for herding while the shorter-coated ones were used for driving. It is an established fact that nearly all dogs used for herding were of the rough coated breed. However it is known that the two varieties have been inter-bred and that puppies of both coats appeared in the litter. This could account for the appearance of a smooth in a litter of roughs, of entirely rough breeding and vice versa, even after a century or more of pure coat breeding.

When the Collie was admitted to the AKC Stud book in 1885 it was found that most of the dogs to be registered were American-bred, which led authorities to believe that the strains had been held pure for some five or ten years previous.

DISTINGUISHED AUTHOR AND BREEDER

Practically every child has read the books of the Sunnybank Collies, written by Albert Payson Terhune. But perhaps few people of today know that Mr. Terhune was a breeder of great repute. One of his principles was that he would never ship a dog to a new owner. If you wanted one of his dogs, you would have to go to his kennel where he would help select the correct dog for YOU. The many stories on the breed that Mr. Terhune wrote have done a great deal to promote the breed in America.

DOBERMAN PINSCHER

It is probable that the early Doberman Pinschers were a mixture of gray and brown or variations of black and yellow. But the color and markings of today have been carefully bred and maintained through study and selected breeding. Dense black pigmentation produces the darker coat. Brown, blue or the unwanted fawns, are produced by less density in the pigmentation. It would appear that the blue color is a variation of the black, although some breeders aver it is the result of a breakdown in the recessive brown.

Clay Jackson Enterprises, has signed a contract with Mr. Marvel for three teams to work at night. Recently, at the Visual Aid Center, the sentry dogs, which have been used for patrolling the area, apprehended two men. Since dogs took over this area, no burglaries have been committed, although losses previously had been high and frequent.

OUTSTANDING DOG PASSES ON

Grand Victor Ch. Ero von Auwallenburg, one of the great German Shepherds of modern times, died early in May of this year. Imported from Germany by his owner, H. J. Watson, Beamsville, Ont., in 1956, he was bred by Richard Schenkel and was born October 18, 1953. Ero's sire was Axel v d Deininghauserheide ex Hanna v Equor. During his rather short show career (17 times shown between 1956 and 1959) he won three BIS, nine Group firsts, three Group seconds and one Group third with a total of 13 BB. Ero leaves many champion progeny to carry on his great name.

CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Canadian Samoyed Club announces its new list of officers for 1964: President, Mr. Ian Miller; 1st Vice President, Mr. Jack Hensley; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. Gordon MacDonald; Secretary, Mrs. Phyllis Burgin; Treasurer Mrs. M. Kempster.

COAT COLOR IN THE SAMOYED

It has always surprised me that the majority of all round judges rarely place a colored dog. Why this is so I do not know as for type, coat and pigmentation they are hard to beat. Their puppies carry a wealth of coat whether pure white or shaded. More use should be made of the colored dogs now in particular as we are getting judges remarking on poor pigmentation. I well remember someone writing to me after they had seen Saturn at a Scottish show. "Saturn was a picture as he stood in the ring with that glorious coat gold-tipped like the rays of a setting sun". I had never met the good lady but believe me it was a great consolation as at that show I had been told by the judge that he would never put a colored dog up although it is listed in the British Standard as one of the colors permitted. Saturn's dam, Ch. Mitzi of Hillgate, was a lovely cream color. Both she and his sire were by Int. Ch. Gogolev Corbesky who was colored in his later years. We notice that Saturn's coat deepens at each shedding. It is interesting to note that Best of Breed at Crufts the last two years under a Specialist judge was a colored dog, Mrs. Lewis's Ch. Snowcryst Sake, while at the recent Samoyed Association Ch. Show under another Specialist, Mr. W. L. Bowen, Mr. Stoker Sherriff's Culvers Prince of Kobe, a coloured, gained his qualifying CC and is now a champion. These dogs sire pure white as well as the shaded puppies and the white is really sparkling and the coats are really dense so I do not see why people do not like to use them.

—KAY WELLS

SHETLAND SHEEPDOGS

Although blue merles are not a common color today, even though many are bred and a number shown, it is one of the most common colors in the original Sheepdogs. The name given then to this color was "marled" meaning marbled, the "merle" was a blackbird and how the word became corrupted to this extent is very difficult to trace. The blue merle should never be bred to a sable dog although a sable bred tri-color could be used. But the true pattern cannot be achieved unless one of the parents is a blue merle. Some puppies have resulted from the breeding of two sables, when both carry the merling gene, to be blue mottled pups, but these cannot be termed a "blue merle". The breeding of a Sable and Merle will always produce rusty-colored merles and blue-eyed sables in either the first or succeeding generations.

SIBERIAN HUSKY

The name "Chukchi" periodically crops up in reference to the Siberian Husky. Being the name of a tribe of natives (translated it means "rich in Reindeer") it gives credence to the story that they were first used as nomadic herders of these animals.

WELSH CORGI

Ch. Rozavel Red Dragon, a Pembroke bred by Mr. Gwyn Jones and sired by Ch. Crymmych ex Felcourt Flame, is believed to be the most potent sire the breed has known. He was purchased by Mrs. P. Gray as a very young puppy and has been instrumental in promoting the good name of the Rozavel kennels. From 1934 to 1939 "Dragon" carried home 12 Challenge Certificates, an outstanding achievement in view of the fact that few dogs of the breed were shown at that period and thus few CC's were offered by the K.C.

AUSTRALIAN TERRIERS

One of the very few breeders of "Aussie's" in Canada, Mrs. Edna Lowe, Bradford, Ont., is a constant exhibitor at most of the Ontario shows. It is a common sight to see her, accompanied by her husband, with a display of five or six dogs at many of the shows and at least two or three at most. During 1963 Mrs. Lowe finished six dogs to their Championship, thus tying with Mrs. W. Wartnow for the Eileen McEachren Memorial trophy. She lost out by only a slim margin on the three point or better wins.

FOX TERRIERS

The American Fox Terrier Club, the first of the now many member clubs of the AKC, held their first show in 1886 with an entry of 75 smooths and four wires. In the Judge's remarks for that show he stated "Wire-hairs need not be mentioned as this breed does not appear to receive much favor here". How far wrong Mr. Francis Redmond, London, England was, as proven in 1929 when Westminster had an entry of 306.

KERRY BLUE RETIRES

Ch. (Can. Am.) Tailteann's Jim's Show-Off was retired from the show ring after winning the Group at Portland, Maine, under Judge Alva Rosenberg last October. He now has a new career ahead of him for he is used on many TV programs to promote the breed and local dog shows.

TWO EXCELLENT JUDGES DISAGREE

Show results for the Kerry Specialty and Westminster show that, although both had excellent judges of great repute, there was a great difference in their placings. The dog that took BB at Westminster was BOS at the Specialty (against the same competition) and all classes differed in the placings. The American Kerry Blue Club feels that this situation must be corrected and only by an educational program for judges can more consistent judging be accomplished.

CANADIAN JUDGES AMERICAN SHOW

Mrs. Ethel Gottschalk judged the Miniature Schnauzers at the Long Island K.C. Show on May 17. The 30 entries were double the entry of any other breed of Terrier.

COAT COLOR

As black is a dominant factor in Schnauzers, the mating of two all-black dogs will produce some, if not all, black puppies. The same may apply if only one of the parents is black and the other black and silver or pepper-and-salt. The "agouti" or pepper-and-salt (white hairs shading to black) and the "chinchilla" (black hairs shading to white) will produce puppies of the same coloring as the parents. The reddish undercoat seen in many of the modern Schnauzers is a genetic factor and is considered to be a throwback.

CANADIAN DRAWS RECORD ENTRY

The entry of "Westies" at the Specialty Show of the American West Highland White Terrier Club, judged by Mrs. J. H. Daniell-Jenkins, Rouge Hill, Ont., was a record entry of 63 with only two or three absentees. Held the day before Westminster, this New York show is always anticipated by many Westie exhibitors. Mrs. Daniell-Jenkins is also slated to judge, as well as Westies, Cairns and Bullmastiffs at the Macomb County, Mich., show July 15 and again at Woodstock, Vt., July 10.

GREATNESS PASSES ON

Mary Balsdon, Sunderland, Ont., had a very sad day recently when, of necessity, she had to have her beloved Westie, Ch. Bencruachan Tinker put to sleep. "Tinker", bred by the well known Victor Blochin, accompanied Mary when she left her parents' home after her marriage. He had reached the age of 16 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Cox have reported the death of Ch. (Can. Am.) Rannoch-Dune Deputy, also at a good age.

IS THERE ANOTHER?

It is believed that the Chihuahua (short coat), Ch. Wee Mites Chocolate Chips UD Bda CD is the only dog of this breed to have acquired both his conformation and obedience championship plus his Bermuda CD. This little showman, now six years old, finished for his Ch. at the tender age of seven and a half months. He is owned by Mrs. Mae Wilkinson, 143 Fairfield Ave., Hamilton, Ont. Mr. Wilkinson trained and handled the dog for his obedience degrees.

1963 TOP THREE

The top three Chihuahuas (short coat) in the USA according to the Phillips system were: Ch. Gene's Carla, one BIS and two firsts in Group; Ch. Weeville's Tis So Too, one first, one second and two fourths in Group; Ch. Frederic's Tinker Belle, two seconds and one fourth in Group. The latter dog is also one of the top dogs in Canada for 1963.

CANADIAN DOGS CAPTURE WINS IN USA

The Misses Judith Finch and Sandra Nelles took in the Michigan Shows during the weekend of May 17 and came home with several notable wins. At Lansing, Miss Finch got BB for her Ch. (Can. Am.) Luces Dona Daisy (Long coat) and in her first American show her Miss Rockette of Son-Ko took BB over Specials. At Detroit, Miss Nelles took BB with her short coat, Ch. (Can. Am.) Dartan's Bell de Oro.

PAPILLON

One of the oldest breeders of Papillons, Mrs. J. H. Daniell-Jenkins, Rouge Hill, Ont. has announced that she will be discontinuing this breed in her kennel shortly. With her many judging assignments in both the USA and Canada along with her various activities in charitable organizations she finds her time restricted and in future will limit her breed to the West Highland White Terrier.

GROOMING YOUR MALTESE

Because the Maltese does not have, as many other breeds do, a double coat of hair, it is advisable to start grooming the dog at an early age (three months) while the coat is still undeveloped. Using a stiff bristle brush the coat should receive a daily brushing and a spray with a good lanolin dressing. This prevents the hair from becoming dry and brittle which would have a tendency to break off the long silky hair.

POMS AND YOUNG CHILDREN

Because of the light bone structure, the Pom cannot, as a rule, take the abuse so often given small dogs by small children. The long coat is a great temptation for children to hang on to. This could cause the dog to get excited and in turn snap at the small hands clutched so tightly in his coat. It might be very wise to refrain from selling Pom puppies to families with very young children and encourage the new owners to wait until the children are a little older.

TOPS IN TOYS USA

The Pekingese hit three of the ten top placings for Toys in the USA although none of these are listed in the top ten All-breeds. Placing second among the top ten Toys was Ch. Mandarin's Kentucky Colonel with 5,400 points collected by going seven times BIS, 25 firsts, eleven seconds and three thirds in Group. Ch. Qu Jin T'Sun of Chintoi placed eighth in this same list with 3,127 points and one BIS, 22 firsts, 14 seconds, four thirds and two fourths in Group. Closely following in ninth place was Ch. Calartha Mandarin of Jehol with 2,706 points gained from his two BIS, eleven first, three seconds, one third and one fourth in Group.

DOG DISQUALIFIED

One of the early Pugs imported from England and shown at Philadelphia was disqualified by the judge for carrying his tail on the wrong side. At that time judges believed that all Pugs should carry their tail curled over on the left side. This belief developed because a dog of this breed imported into the USA by the United States Minister to the Court of St. James did so. Because of the greatness of the owner it was felt that his dog MUST be correct. Regardless of this first disqualification "Roderick" went on to do great things in the show world and received the nod for many major awards.

TOY MANCHESTER TO THE RESCUE

Ch. Glen-Aubrey Gallant Prince brought his owners, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Glenney, 21 Aubrey Ave. Oakridges, Ont., in from the garden by his incessant barking. When they entered the house they found a lamp cord blazing. The defective wiring and the burning lamp cord could have resulted in a drastic fire, except for the alertness of Prince.

BULLDOG

In a book published in 1534 the author speaks of the earliest of these dogs. He referred to them as 'Pugnaces of Britain'. There would probably be such a difference in this dog compared to the modern ones that one would hardly recognize the breed. The 1963 top three Bulldogs in the USA were: Ch. Taurus Trailblazer with 2,564 points collected by his one BIS, five firsts, eleven seconds, seven thirds and four fourths in Group. The second dog was Ch. Vardona Ideal Snowman with 2,100 points, one BIS, seven firsts, 15 seconds, five thirds and three fourths. Ch. Overfen Helen was third with 1,192 points from one BIS, three firsts and one second in Group.

She is sired by the top producing and top winning Keeshond in England, Eng. Ch. Evenlode Monarch of Merrybelle. The new arrival's grandmother was the 1957 Crufts BIS.

CANADIAN TOYS TAKES AMERICAN BOS

Antoine's ne Oubile, a silver Toy Poodle owned by Miss Sandra Nelles, Markham, Ont. took BOS at his first American show at Livonia, Mich.

WYCLIFFE SCORES AGAIN

Canadian-bred Poodles captured the first and third highest number of points for Standard Poodles in the USA for 1963. Ch. Wycliffe Xavier took first place with 1,909 points accrued from two BIS, five firsts, two seconds, five thirds and one fourth in Group. Ch. Wycliffe Thomas was in third spot with 897 points, one BIS, one first, one third and one fourth in Group. The second dog was Ch. Alekai Pokoi with 1,247 points, one BIS, nine firsts, four seconds and three fourths in Group.

saunders clinic

By LORNA CASGRAIN

A specially invited guest at the recent Blanche Saunders Clinic in Montreal was "Bill" Dunlop, retired General Manager of the C.S.P.C.A. It was a happy reunion of two people who launched Obedience in Montreal, under the auspices of our S.P.C.A., 18 years ago.

In 1946 Mr. Dunlop saw Miss Saunders in action with "Jester", and her films, at a Humane Society Convention in Columbus, Ohio. At his suggestion it was arranged for her to come to Montreal to talk about Obedience and show her films to an interested audience in Victoria Hall. From this visit, and a subsequent first class of nine pupils, grew the thriving Obedience hobby we have today.

This Clinic marked Miss Saunders' seventh visit to Montreal, when 38 dogs and many more spectators were treated to the incomparable "Miss Obedience" in action. It has to be seen to be believed. Dogs that sat crooked were made to sit straight. Dogs that walked in on recall were soon galloping. A dog that would not lie down on recall was dropping at a single command. Dogs that would not even take a dumbell were retrieving willingly over a low jump.

Miss Saunders also had on hand her latest film, "The Novice Obedience Course" in color, which will soon be available to the public.

Perhaps the feelings of all who saw her are summed up in this tribute from one of the participants:

"We all agreed that Miss Saunders is wonderful . . . It's a great privilege to have seen her work and I wouldn't have missed it for anything. Her smoothness and timing is just out of this world, and she is so gentle.

"Everything looked so easy, natural and logical. I was terrifically impressed by her use of the pulley. In what seemed seconds she had the dog going out gaily and quickly. No dog seemed a problem with her . . . she's a wonderful person, so natural and such a wonderful sense of humour. I hope that she comes back again soon." ■

CARE OF EARS

Never strike a dog on the ear — deafness may result as a dog's ear is sensitive. Examine the ears inwardly at least once a month, 'smell' them to learn whether or not infection is in the ear.

Ear mites may be present. Use a very slight solution of iodine every two days for 10 days. For canker, which is rather common and which cannot be cured readily or within less than six weeks, apply dusting powder such as iodized BSF or kaolin every second day. Sift generously into the ear. This will tend to dry the ear and fight the infection.

that this was partly defeating the purpose of the bar jump.

It will thus be seen that trial-giving clubs should be careful about the equipment used, especially the high jump, many of which have proven hard to adjust, either being too stiff or in some cases collapsing altogether. Long ago we discontinued the use of wooden uprights in favor of pipe, with the ends of boards finished with metal loops. These are easily adjusted for height and the whole jump can be dragged along the floor without falling apart. Some of the boards on high jumps I've seen haven't the width painted on them and in one case the measurements shown were incorrect. If we are to have precision work we must have correspondingly precise equipment.

In conclusion, may I say that I do appreciate the letters which have come to me from all over Canada and from the United States as well, for it is only in this way that I can learn of your feelings about Obedience. Once again, this is your column, readers, so send along your ideas, bricks, bouquets and beefs and we will present them to you ■

DOGS & PEOPLE

Harry Miller, popular director of the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York, received the AAHA Award at the convention of the American Animal Hospital Association at Bal Harbour, Florida. Mr. Miller attended the meeting to make the presentation of the 1964 Gaines "Veterinarian of the Year" award to Dr. Robert F. Knowles, Miami veterinary practitioner and researcher. About to leave the platform, he was surprised with a tribute to his 20 years as head of the famed Research Center.

When the Newfoundland, Harbour Beem Captain Laird, returned to his home soaking wet recently, his owners, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. C. Waller of Ottawa, thought nothing of it. But shortly after a neighbor came to the door with a big steak for the 2½ year old and tears of gratitude in his eyes. Captain, on hearing the distressed cries of children nearby, had leaped over a fence, into a well hole, grabbed the child by his parka and hauled him out.

Pictured above is Mr. Vic Williams, President of the CKC, making the presentation of the Eileen McEachren Memorial Trophy to the breeder of the year, Mrs. W. Wartnow, North Burnaby, B.C. for her six Champion Miniature Pinschers. The presentation was made at the All-breed Show held by the Kiwanis Club at Vancouver on April 17 and 18.

When losers leave a show ring congratulating a judge on a wise assessment, it's a rarity. This was the case when Mrs. Edna Joel of Toronto judged Miniature Poodles at the Trent to Tweed Poodle Show in Leeds, England. The 295 exhibits made a record entry of 456, half of which were Miniatures. The remaining Toys and Standards were judged by Lady Rennel. Both judges assessed Best in Show. Mrs. Joel's winning Miniature was chosen for BIS.

A salute to Mrs. R. Bollons of Kingston, Ont. who, at the age of 89, likes nothing better than to handle her daughters dogs. At the recent Montreal show she handled for Mrs. Elsie McDermott, well-known breeder and exhibitor of Pomeranians and Chihuahuas. Mrs. Bollons is one of the rare people who never grow old. Approaching her 90th birthday, she has retained her wonderful sense of humour, and still does not need to wear glasses.

The Rhodesian Ridgeback, Mr. Jones of Kraal, which took the breed at Westminster was bred by Dr. H. Hetherington of Kleinburg, Ont. Owner is Mr. James Herger of Pennsylvania.

Died: John (Jack) Dudley, 73, in Regina, after a lengthy illness. Mr. Dudley is one of the Canadian old-timers. He joined The Canadian Kennel Club in 1939 and for the past 25 years remained an active club member. His time was given to boarding and grooming dogs as well as his own Wascana Kennels. He made at least five champion American Cockers. Last December the Regina Kennel and Obedience Club presented Mr. and Mrs. Dudley with a plaque and life memberships, honouring their years of work with dogs . . . D. C. MacLachlan, Toronto, following a long illness. Mr. MacLachlan was a breeder and importer of Scottish Terriers and a member of The Canadian Kennel Club for many years . . . Norman Smith, of Burlington, suddenly in Montreal, April 26. Husband of Phyllis Smith, well-known in the Canadian dog field, Mr. Smith was for many years a Springer Spaniel enthusiast and exhibitor. A great sports fan in his later years, he was well-known earlier as an athlete and particularly as a football player. Until recent years he was an outstanding bridge player. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith have played in international competition against such celebrities as Gorin and Culbertson.

Exhibitors will be pleased to learn Mr. John Treleaven, Toronto, well-known Terrier breeder, has recovered from his illness sufficiently to attend a number of shows equipped with brace and cane, as a spectator.

George Getty (Quarrybrae Kennels) veteran Collie breeder, of Willowdale, Ont., attended the Stratford Show on the holiday weekend, looking very fit after the ordeal of a leg amputation . . . Anne Gerigs, of Pickering, Ont., recently recovered from severe injuries suffered in an automobile accident, is in England on an extended visit. While visiting with her aunt she hopes to attend some of the summer dog shows . . . Ray Robinson (husband of Kay, Willowmount Kennels) Richmond Hill, Ont., is again confined to bed, after progressing nicely from his recent heart attack.

Lou Carroll of the Labrador Retriever Club of Ontario, must undergo the discomfort of a cast for several more months. He fractured his leg during a training Retriever Trial in February at the Cold Creek Conservation Area.

When Toronto International Airport had its formal opening recently a handful of a puppy played a part in the ceremonies. Miss Anna Schachinger, 18, of Austria, official first passenger, was presented with the Toy Poodle "Tia" by Capt. Peter Lennie, pilot of the first plane. Tia wore a snug knitted sweater bearing the initials, TIA.

Died: Clarence Stevens, Toronto, who, with his wife, Mrs. Martha Stevens ranked among Canada's veteran Boston Terrier breeders. The dedicated pair were devoted and active club members. The Canine Breeders Association was started at their home and continued for about 15 years. They started the Oshawa Kennel Club and were members for years of the Hamilton KC. Mr. Stevens was President of the Progressive KC and both were active members and officers for many years. Their first Boston Terrier was purchased in 1920 from the Count Kennels of Mr. and Mrs. H. Shaw. Sincere sympathy goes to Mrs. Stevens and family.

The engagement is announced of Anne Hone Rogers, Mahopac, N.Y., renowned handler, to James E. Clark, also a professional handler.

Married: Dr. E. S. Montgomery of Tarentum, Pa., well-known Terrier judge and author. A medical doctor by profession, he has bred and exhibited a number of breeds and is noted as a breeder of Holstein-Friesian dairy cattle and Palomino horses. He is also the author of a text on arthritis.

Retired: John C. Neff of New York, executive vice-president of the American Kennel Club since 1951.
