Kennel Tests Prove New Burgerbits gives dogs the taste they really like...the solid nutrition they need.

The Great New Taste* of Burgerbits

now in "flavour-kernel" form

Here's the dog food that kennel tests proved superior to all others in palatability and nutrition.

Dogs tested preferred new Burgerbits . . . thrived on new Burgerbits.

Here's why:

Increased Fat Content. with an improved fat-protein ratio, gives unsurpassed palatability, maintains glossy coats and healthy skin, helps prevent shedding.

New Flavour-Kernels. Smooth pre-formed kernels of uniform size and shape eliminate jagged, uneven particles and dust of ordinary dog foods.

Spray coating of natural meat fats locks in flavour, protects nutrients.

Aids Digestion. New Burgerbits is expanded to gelatinize starches for easier digestion.

Less Porous. Crunchier consistency helps keep teeth, gums and jaw healthy . . . absorbs liquids without getting mushy . . . feeding pans clean easily without scraping or scouring.

Exceeds NRC Requirements for daily nutritional intake, providing a complete and balanced diet.

Feed Dry or Wet. Kennel tests prove that many dogs prefer Burgerbits dry.

Fed wet, Burgerbits retains the crunchy texture and meaty aroma dogs really enjoy.

Special Professional Discounts. As with all of Dr. Ballard's Dog Foods, new Burgerbits carries a special Kennel Discount. Your local representative will be pleased to provide you with details.

"Goofus Buggati is one of the most exquisite youngsters I have seen since the day a youthful Caversham Ku Ku of Yam burst upon the scene and took the ticket while still a puppy. Ideal size, correct proportions everywhere, wide, deep chest, excellent ribs with the true tapering body, broad shallow face with no exaggerations, beautifully fringed ears, perfect tail set and carriage on top of all these qualities what a showman, his behaviour in the drizzle in the Best in Show ring was a credit to the breed", so wrote Mrs. Nora McFarlane when awarding the first championship certificate to Int. Ch. Goofus Buggati, depicted on the front cover of Dogs In Canada. Buggati won his second certificate at the world famous Crufts Dog Show where he was Best in Breed in a record entry of 494 under the distinguished breeder and judge, Mrs. Stains. His third ticket and crown was won at the Pekingese Reform Association Championship Show where he swept through to Best in Show under Mrs. Ailison Wilson. In Canada, Buggati gained his Canadian Championship in three straight shows. He is at present in the USA being handled by Clara Alford to his American championship, being well on the way to that title having been Best of Breed at his first show. Before leaving for America, Buggati was mated to some of the top bitches and there is some lovely stock by him which should be heard from later. Buggati is owned jointly by Vera F. Crofton, Nigel Aubrey-Jones and R. William Taylor.

Very few shows were attended this year, yet Pekingese from this kennel kept the flag flying high. Ch. (Can. & Am.) St. Aubrey Eloise of Elsdon completed her Int. title by being twice Best in Show all breeds in Canada while Ch. (Can. & Am.) St. Aubrey Tinkabelle of Elsdon was Best Toy Dog at the two all breed shows she attended going on to Best Canadian Bred in Show at the Scarborough Kennel Club Show. Tinkabelle was Best Bitch at the Pekingese Club of America Specialty for the third straight year and has been Best of Breed at her other three shows in America going on to win a strong Toy Group at Syracuse under the noted all rounder, Mr. Alva Rosenberg, whose opinion of Pekingese is so well respected.

Can you tell me if there are any breeders in Canada of Bernese Mountain Dogs? . . . We would very much like to buy one or two.

to alleviate suffering

I've just read the show results in the October issue of Dogs and — I cried. An unusual reaction, you say? Does it sound maudlin? Perhaps, but some will understand because among the many shows listed was Hamilton Kennel Club, June 27 and a Golden Retriever dog, Mel-Bach's Golden Explorer, went Best of Breed and Fourth in the Group. A very ordinary listing to most, but to us the mark of a true champion for, you see, just a little over two weeks later 'Rusty' died resulting from a growth in the pancreas. And now, several months later, a simple show result listing brings the memory of his courage and loyalty flooding back and causes me to wonder just how many of our dog show people are breeding, training and showing dogs for the betterment of dogdom and the love of dogs or, as I so often suspect, how many have other, more selfish motives?

Just watch a breeder, trainer or handler in the ring, or out, at a show and the answer is usually quite apparent. Every day we read articles such as "In the Advancement of Science"

If you have any suggestions, any comments or constructive criticism to make concerning articles in this magazine, or with regard to shows, your opinion of what is happening to various breeds with regard to size, color, coat, etc., write a brief letter to the Editor. We must reserve the right, however, to edit same. Opinions expressed in this department do not necessarily reflect those of the publishers.

(October Dogs). This is revolting to most of us and should be doubly so to dog lovers. What are we, as breeders, trainers and handlers doing about it? What can we do?

We mourn the loss of our own beloved dogs but what of the hundreds, yes, thousands who are wilfully and deliberately mistreated?

Some of us "Don't want to become involved" or "It is none of our business" but we are involved. We aren't living if we aren't involved in life. As my memorial to 'Rusty' and to the many who I know will follow him, I want to be involved and will, at every opportunity, do what little I can to alleviate unnecessary animal suffering. Shouldn't we as breeders, trainers or handlers lead the way?

the case for the larger samoyed

. . . It is about time something was said in defense of the so-called larger Samoyed being shown in conformation. I know there is a great deal of controversy as to the judging seen in the show ring today. I think it is past time it was brought out into the open . . . Above all, the Samoyed is a working dog. Of what use is a small, fine-boned Samoyed on a sled team or for that matter a huge clumsy one. How many have seen a dog sled race? Is it the small dogs that win? Do they have the reaching, beautiful flowing gait and the stamina to withstand a race? I think you'll have to agree that they couldn't possibly be expected to keep up or even win against the competition seen today.

I think it is also time more confidence is put in our judges, after all what are we paying our entry fee for. Certainly not to have them influenced by letters re size only. If they didn't know the standard they wouldn't have been granted judging licences. There is no disqualification on size in our Samoyed standard.

I don't mind a large dog being penalized for size but let's not forget the other penalties in our standard such as cowhocks, straight stifle and choppy or stilted gait, which is more detrimental to the breed.

Perhaps it is time our standard be revised with more complete information as to what is a slight or heavy penalty in the general conformation of our beloved Samoyed. Above all, let us see the soundest dogs being placed in that coveted winners' circle and not being judged on size alone. I would like to hear comments from other breeders and handlers. It might be interesting to know what the judges are thinking.

FROM THE EDITOR

THIS year . . . take time for Christmas. Take time to make Christmas for you. Just for you, in your mind, in your heart. Selfish? Not really.

Take minutes and hours if need be, to think about what you are going to give to others. Gifts, magnificent, glamorous, presented in artistic wrappings almost too beautiful to disturb. For a few special people, yes. But conversely the most appreciated offerings are rarely the most costly. They are the gifts born of thoughtfulness, the main ingredient of which is time, the imaginative extension of yourself into the lives of others; to try to think what would please them most. Little things they might enjoy, functional, decorative or both, for their homes or kennels. Small items they do not have time to buy or prepare, some new discovery you have made.

Of these ingredients — your time, your thought, your money, the least vital is the third.

And the exciting thing, the element of mystery that thrilled you as a child, shall be yours again. Because these gracious gifts are not the kind you mention to others. You simply think and quietly do.

Through this form of giving evolves your gift to yourself. "Joy to the world," the angels choralled. "Peace, good will on earth."

Without peace in your heart, peace toward your fellow man, Christmas giving can be a sham. Without this inward strength, what is money, what is position? What but a momentary pleasure is the defeat of a competitor?

Peace is not a solitary thing. It expands into good will. And good will is contagious. We are part of a gregarious society. We cannot live as isolationists regardless of whether we agree with rules, regulations or points of law. Nor can we live in good will in a vacuum. It is an ongoing, a respect and appreciation of others in their striving, a gladness in their accomplishments.

Take time to think about it. Are you making the most of your time? Not in hurrying to do more and more but in your attitude toward it. Do you brood about what the fellow is doing when you could be making constructive plans about tomorrow, next month, next year?

These are times of turmoil, of change, of seemingly endless change. But you are you. And if you allow the light of peace and good will in your heart, nothing can dim the gift of joy which you must allow yourself, before you kindle for others.

I would have liked to salute them on either one, or both, of their exalted shoulders — or maybe even give a slight tap in between.

In our last show, the exercises were done on gravel, and in the show previous to that, on sticky tar paper. Must be the new rules.

Just in case the dog show sponsors didn't think of them, might I offer some other suggestions?

How about ground glass? It would be a good test of the toughness of the dog's paws. Or better yet, glowing coals could really test the stamina of a dog. Then how about in mud; I understand that mud baths are healthy, also. Or in a newly plowed field, should demonstrate the dog's jumping ability by gracefully going over each of those cute furrows. Or suggestions are helpful to those who on a newly laid roadbed, would help the road builders by packing down the road materials . . . Hope these run the shows and are at a loss for ideas.

That show on gravel, previously mentioned, was as much fun as the one on the newly polished and waxed basketball floor, or that one in the busy shopping center parking lot.

You would think that I have covered about all imaginable circumstances. Just to show you there's room for progress, the show I attended today was on plastic sheets!

You should not always expect the ultimate in the form of sawdust or cold concrete floors or wet grass, though . . . As one male dog summarized it all for me recently: "Rrrrrrr-rough!"

greetings from California

...hello to all my friends in Ontario. Since Jim Shaeffer and I moved here after selling our home and kennel, we do miss our friends in Canada. The friendly people and the weather help us both to like this part of California. We shall not be opening a kennel operation, but working for awhile and then we shall open our own trimming salon. Jim and I find the area so full of different breeds of dogs, it's a trimmer's heaven. May I wish you and the staff and all our friends in Canada a very happy Christmas season and the very best for this coming year.

The Old Timer had that faraway look in his eyes as I came into the kennel office. I knew he had something in his mind and I'd get it when he was good and ready so I sat down and waited. Sure enough he reached for his pipe, filled it carefully and when it was drawing to his satisfaction he tilted back in the old barrel chair and pushed his hat on the back of his head.

"You know," he said "I've been doing some figuring."

"Yes," he said "I've been thinking about these so-called cheap champions in Canada and I'm not convinced they are any cheaper than a lot of the championships won by dogs in the United States."

"Whoa back," I said, "down there they at least need two majors which is a guarantee that they've beaten dogs. They can't get their championship a point at a time and never beat a dog of their own breed."

"Agreed," he said, "but there's another side to the picture as well. Have you realized that in the States a dog can become a champion by beating only 15 other dogs. And it doesn't even need to be Best of Breed or Best of Winners. It can be beaten every time out by the opposite sex in its own breed and still be a champion."

"Now wait a minute," I said "beat only 15 dogs and still be a champion. Not even a Best of Winners—not even a Best of Breed. You're kidding me."

"Not even a little bit," he said. "It's a fact and I'll show you just how it works."

"As in Canada," he said, "point ratings in the States are set by zones and breeds and as in Canada the rarer breeds are lumped together in the point rating as 'all other breeds.' In many of the zones a major for these breeds in the 'all other breed' category is four dogs of sex. So the dog I'm talking about would get his three point major by defeating three other dogs of its own breed and sex. To get his two majors he need defeat only six dogs of his breed and sex. He can get the other nine points he needs by defeating one dog of his breed and sex at another nine shows. In other words he need only defeat a total of 15 dogs of his own breed and sex."

"But that's the rarer breeds," I argued. "It's not the Boxers, the German Shepherds and the Collies for instance."

"True," the Old Timer admitted "but let's take a look at our own situation here in Canada."

He leafed through his pile of Dogs in Canada and came up with the June, 1964 issue. He turned to the tabulation showing the records of the top dogs in the breeds in 1963.

"Let's take a look at some of our top winners," he said. "We'll take the more popular breeds first. The top-winning German Shorthaired Pointer, for instance, defeated 417 dogs during 1963. Here's an Irish Setter that defeated 961 and a Beagle that was tops over 735. And the top Boxer for the year defeated 818, the German Shepherd 504 and the Collie 386. Are those dogs cheap champions?"

"Now," he said, "Let's take our rarer breeds, bearing in mind that their opposite numbers in the States can get a championship by defeating only 15 dogs of their own sex and breed. Here's a Chesapeake Bay Retriever with three Bests of Breed and two group placements to defeat a total of 22 dogs. And here's an Irish Water Spaniel that defeated 117. And how about this Bouvier des Flandres with 44 dogs placed behind him and the three top Old English Sheepdogs that among them have defeated nearly 2,500 other dogs. Here's a Dandy Dimont Terrier with two group placings and 45 dogs defeated out of his five Bests of Breed and a Welshie that had to defeat 44 of other breeds before its title was confirmed. And here's an English Spaniel that has defeated 31 other dogs and still isn't a champion and an Italian Greyhound with five group placings and 95 dogs defeated in its 10 shows."

"I could go on and on," said the Old Timer. "Yes, in the States the rare breeds must defeat three of their own breed and sex on two occasions to get their majors — but here, dogs of the breeds I've mentioned in the rare category rarely meet one of their own breed or sex. Most of them have their championships confirmed by placing in the group. That, I suggest to you, is a much tougher test of quality than taking Winners Dog or Bitch over three others in your own breed because, when you place in the group you're beating the best of breeds of all the breeds behind you."

"Now I'm no longer convinced that we make cheap champions under our present system in Canada. Read those records of the top dogs in the breeds in the June issue of Dogs in Canada and I think you'll agree that we've no reason to be ashamed of our Canadian dogs of distinction."

OBEDIENCE

Ed. O'Brien, Canfield, Ont., is well-known as Canada's leading professional trainer of dogs in Obedience work. He is a licensed Judge, one of Canada's first. He began his career in the West, training dogs for herding and other farm work. Since moving to Ontario he has specialized in training dogs for police and guard work and for disabled people. Mr. O'Brien also breeds German Shepherds and Dobermans.

Two items in the October number of Dogs in Canada are of particular interest to me: Mrs. Kay Robinson's article, "Can Labs Be Dual Purpose Dogs?" and Mrs. Lorna Casgrain's letter commenting on an article written by Miss Bay Meyers in a recent issue of Dogs.

Mrs. Robinson points out that there seems to be a tendency to divide Labradors into two distinct breeds: the Bench (or Show dogs) and Hunters (or Field Trial dogs). She is recognised as an authority on her favorite breed and for this reason I was a bit disturbed on reading her comments about the lack of ability in field performance in the average Show Labrador. Although this is not our main work at Edlyn, we usually train three or four retrievers each year, nearly all of them of championship breeding. Our experience has been that these have made good gun dogs. Of course, we do not claim to be trainers for Field Trials but we do finish up with a good dog for the average hunter. In any case, the retrievers that have come to us have been so well-balanced and were so easily trained that I have been under the impression that they had retained more of their working qualities than almost any of the other breeds.

Mrs. Robinson points out the physical differences between the Field Trial Labrador and the average Show specimen, also the lack of speed and fire in the Bench-type dog. I think it is good to have these points brought out for discussion while the breeders are still able to do something about it.

Years ago, when I was interested in poultry, the poultry breeders also were bothered with what was referred to as a "false standard". This meant that a hen which was built according to the standard set for Show birds would be physically unable to produce many eggs. This eventually did the different breeds a lot of harm because, as has happened with some of our working dogs, the breeders kept Show points paramount. In poultry, the cross-breeds took over because they could produce, and so as far as the working dogs (especially herders) are concerned one only needs to talk to farmers, or to read the ads in the agricultural newspapers that unregistered dogs are being sold by the hundreds and guaranteed to work. Some time back, there was talk of The Canadian Kennel Club coming up with a new breed, just for herding. I felt this was a straight admission that we, as breeders, had ruined the good herding breeds we already have. Very likely most of my readers will feel that there is nothing they can do to remedy this situation. They may own one of the herding dogs but, living in town, they naturally do not own any sheep or cattle, so there is no herding for the dog to do. Yet, those of you who are breeders can do plenty to retain and strengthen the qualities in your favorite breed that made it popular in the first place. This applies especially to those taking part in Obedience Trials, for they can and should breed the kind of dogs that walk into the Trial ring with pride and a look of intelligence. Let us breed dogs able to work with confidence and gaiety. In other words, let us produce working dogs with more guts before the small dogs and toys make us look ridiculous. I believe it is possible to have good Show dogs who are also good workers, both in Field and Obedience Trials. Whether or not we intend to work our dogs, surely the Show dog should be mentally and physically able to do the work he was originally bred to do! Always bear in mind when breeding that an intelligent, well-trained dog will do more for his breed than the champion who is only a beautiful moron.

Mrs. Casgrain, in her letter commenting on Miss Meyers' article, brings out some points with regard to Training Classes which are well worth considering, and her letter could profitably be read by all who take an interest in training. Mrs. Casgrain believes that to train a dog in 10 weeks so that he could be assured of winning a score of 190 in the CD class would only be possible if he had a capable handler. I don't think this means that the handler need necessarily be an experienced dog trainer. As a matter of fact, no professional trainer in business could afford to take ten weeks to train a

HUMANELY "SPEAKING"

BY TOM HUGHES
50 Maitland St., Toronto 5, Ont.

Let's wage war on the killer, skin disease, the General Manager of the Ontario Humane urges.

Are you one of the countless thousands of dog owners who has a dog that is suffering from some form of skin condition? The chances are that if not you soon will be! I doubt very much if any breeder of any experience can say that he or she has not had some experience with skin disease in some form or other. Sooner or later everyone runs into it.

Skin diseases can and do take many forms. Until Veterinary science "grew up" and until the emphasis switched from large to small animals in the last quarter of a century little was actually known of the various and numerous forms that skin conditions can take. Most people classed skin problems into neat parcels. The dog suffered from "eczema" or "mange" and that was that. The remedies were almost as simple and generally consisted of epsom salts and sulphur in a mixture applied as an external treatment. Quite often the remedy produced good results; often, more often, the animal either "grew out of it" or deteriorated and was put down.

Nobody seems to know the actual cause of many of the conditions to this day. The practising small animal veterinarian can and will go through a number of procedures designed to eliminate the possible causes rather than to identify the actual cause. The Vet will then try certain approaches hoping that he will find the right one.

Obviously a skin condition can be caused by parasites. These can be quickly and easily identified and the appropriate action taken. But very few owners of purebred dogs ever allow their dog to suffer from parasites to such an extent that the animal develops a skin condition. The neglect, for that is what it is, has to exist for some time for that to happen. At least parasites can be identified.

Another basic cause of skin condition is believed to be a deficiency in the diet. A poor diet with insufficient fat, or lacking in certain vitamins, is believed to cause the coat to shed excessively and lead to worse and more serious problems. But the deficiency can be recognized and the diet changed and adjusted accordingly. If the results are good then everyone rejoices, your Vet more than anyone.

Perhaps the most important and certainly the most serious cause of skin problems are the "fungus" growths which are now well known to veterinary science. These are the growths which cause many of the incurable conditions. Incurable because although they can be identified in the veterinary laboratory they resist all known treatments. As one leading veterinarian told me quite recently "I dread seeing a dog with a bad skin infection." Perhaps because he knows that his chances of curing the dog completely are pretty slim. The best he can hope for in many cases is to find a means of holding the condition in check to the point that the dog can live a fairly comfortable life without suffering to any extent and the dog's owner can accept the appearance of the dog. In this connection the same veterinarian emphasized that while many people can and will, quite cheerfully, accept the appearance of a skin condition in themselves or of their relatives, they will not accept the blemish of a similar condition in their dog. It seems as if part of the pleasure of owning a dog is derived from the glossy, immaculate coat of the dog and anything that mars that appearance is most unwelcome.

My own experience bears out this belief. In countless occasions I have asked the owners of dogs brought into an S.P.C.A. Shelter why they wanted the dog put down, to be told that the dog had a "skin condition" and they had tried to "cure" it without success. Frequently I could see little wrong with the dog and would say so. I would be told that while the dog looked quite normal that "it would soon break out again and they couldn't take it anymore" . . . So because they couldn't take it the dog had to die. Not because he was suffering.

I would go so far as to say that more dogs are destroyed for this reason than for any other single reason. Don't get me wrong. If veterinary medicine has done all it can and the dog is miserable and suffering then I would be the first to agree that it should be given a humane end.

On the other hand I have met and talked with numerous people who have spent a small fortune in their attempts to cure their pets. Make no mistake about it the treatment needed to attempt to identify and then cure skin conditions can be and frequently is very lengthy and expensive. Remember the chances of success are not good. But you must try. But the answer isn't how much money you are prepared to spend.

The veterinary profession knows perfectly well that the only answer to the whole problem is research. But research, whether it is veterinary or any other science, is most expensive. It is not a simple matter of "experimentation." If it was, the answer would have been found a long time ago. It is quite wrong to say that given a certain amount of money the answer will be found in a certain time. It's possible to spend a fortune and find nothing. Except that no research is wasted from one point of view. Once a certain procedure has been followed the knowledge gained is invaluable. Even a negative result at least narrows the possibilities.

"by their fruits ye shall know them"
There is no substitute for good breeding.

Countless millions of dollars are spent on scientific research for human benefit involving the use of animals in one way or another. It seems entirely wrong that funds cannot be found to finance veterinary research into what I am convinced is the biggest dog killer of all, "skin disease." Surely the many thousands of dog lovers throughout Canada could raise enough money to make some research possible? Why can't a special fund be created, perhaps under the administration of the CKC, to which public donations could be made. Clubs and other groups could hold one effort a year for this special "Fund." The money so raised could be used to finance a specific research project. The actual allocation could be decided by a special committee which could include representatives from the CKC, the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association and other interested groups. I'm convinced that the humane movement would be glad to support such a plan in any way they could. The practising veterinarians would undoubtedly support the scheme as would the large feed manufacturers.

All that is needed is for someone to start the actual fund. I am willing to help in any way I can. Perhaps the first thing to be done is to form a small committee to set up the ground rules and produce some concrete down to earth plan with a realistic objective and some idea of the amount of money needed. I am certain that if the money could be found that the facilities could be provided at the Ontario Vet. College in Guelph. I don't think the manpower would be a problem. All that is needed is for a group to decide on an objective and organize the necessary action. Will you help? If so would you write to me c/o "Dogs in Canada" 1173 Bay Street, Toronto?

Remember that if you haven't run into the problem yet you certainly will do so eventually. There is nothing more certain.

CORRECTION

Mr. J. E. Burns, 1333 Birmingham St., Halifax, N.S. (see Judges Gallery, Dogs, October, 1964) has approval for all breeds in Groups 1, 2, 4, 5 and 6, as well as the Groups. He has judged since 1933.

Whosoever on ye night of ye nativity of ye young Lord Jesus, in ye great snow, shall fare forth bearing a succulent bone for ye lost and lamenting hounde, a wisp of hay for ye shivering horse . . . gay arias of lute and harp for all huddled birds who thought that song was dead . . .

To him shall be proffered and returned gifts of such an astonishment as rival the hues of the peacock and the harmonies of heaven, so that though he live to ye greate age when man goes stopping and querulous because of the nothing that is left in him, yet shall he walk upright and remembering, as one whose heart shines like a greate star in his breaste. . . . from "Ye Miracle of Ye Seasons"

This Really Happened

The young lad piled my groceries in the car, and noticing my dog, started to tell me of his own.

"We had to give my dog away to my grandmother," he said. "We couldn't house-train him. It wasn't that we minded in the house, but one day he lifted his leg against my mother's negligee and that was it! Actually, we didn't mind about the negligee, but my mother was in it at the time —"

LOVE IS FOR THE LIVING

by KAYE M. PEER

THERE are times when a man, in sheer desperation, knows not what to do nor where to turn for help. Times when neither the comforting words of a minister nor the solace of church seem capable of more than diminishing the ache of a severe loss.

Such was the plight of the Amsdens. It was centered on Teddy, a joyous, almost elegant child of three whose infectious chuckle was stilled by an inebriated driver.

Ted, a young insurance executive destined for a top position in his company, and Ruth, not beautiful, but compelling in her sunny ways, were welcomed everywhere. Together they would build the kind of family that others would envy, that husbands and wives would observe, and looking at each other silently wonder, "Why couldn't our lives be like that?"

And just by looking at young Teddy, friends and neighbors said, you could tell he'd grow up the same way, and his family would follow and it would go on like that. Thoroughbreds.

"PUREBREDS," Ted would have corrected them with his gentle humour. Which gave a clue to the one mild dissention in the Amsden trio. Ted, who had grown up with his father's fine kennel of Collies dearly wanted dogs of his own. Even one dog.

For some obscure reason Ruth wouldn't hear of it. Wait till we have a house, dear, she'd say. Ted agreed to wait. Within a few years they bought a large old house with a garden. Wait until we have a child, demurred Ruth. It would be such fun to watch them grow up together. And so in time they also had Teddy.

Carefully Ted brought up the topic for a dog once more.

"The baby's so young," protested Ruth. "Tiny children can be cruel to little dogs." And once more, whatever it cost him, Ted acquiesced. Three innings, no hits.

BUT when Teddy grew to be young Ted, he'd make sure he would have the joy of a dog of his own and perhaps he'd understand the pride of raising and bringing along handsome dogs to their championship. This dream could wait. Ted was that optimistic. He even began thinking of kennel names and how he would teach Teddy how to care for his very own dogs and how to handle them in the ring.

Then in late September there was that careening car. The agonized shriek of brakes echoed in a moment by Ruth's own scream. And that bouncing little body was still and white, with barely a mark to show that the life was snatched out of it. Ted recalled the phone call at the office and how he had calmly asked a policeman to make way with his motorcycle as he sped home. How they'd rushed Teddy to the hospital just in case there was a spark of life that could be strengthened into steady breathing. And how the doctor, who knew it all along, had so quietly told him there was not the remotest chance.

The trial by fire came in the succeeding months. Ted had an inner strength that Ruth had not. He tried to get her to acknowledge, even a little, the horror of the driver of the car, who had just lost his own wife and was seeking doubtful comfort in too many brandies. How he had called on them to somehow say how sorry he was, how his own business would surely be wrecked as he fretted away years in the penitentiary.

He tried, almost with a blighting feeling of helplessness, to suggest that maybe there was a purpose in their loss. That perhaps it was part of a greater Plan, that they had the blessing of their little boy for such a short three years. And that maybe in time they'd understand.

"THAT'S all right for you," Ruth would shake her head hopelessly. "If you can believe that, you can believe anything."

Ted would come home haggard at night. The sympathy of office associates was almost more than he could bear. He couldn't wait to get home. And then he felt impatient for the kindly neighbors to leave after vaguely trying to offer comfort. For the woman he came home to was no longer his merry, outgoing wife. She was a stranger, bitter, cold, almost cruel. When the neighbors' children unknowingly came knocking at the door for cookies, as had been their morning habit, she told them to go home and not bother her. Her formerly shiny blond hair had a dulled look and the creamy skin a gray tinge.

Finally the hopelessness began to creep into Ted's veins as well. A man could carry the entire load for two people only so long. He had battle enough to keep up his own spirits sufficiently to face his clients. The progress chart in the main office was beginning to dip and his seniors, kindly enough not to mention it, looked as though they were seeking some way to tactfully point it out. "Amsden, fellow," they'd begin sooner or later. "All right, all right", he could hear himself saying as he tossed and turned at night, "go ahead and get someone else before the volume drops any further. I can't keep up this pretence."

But he knew that once he slipped in any direction recovery would be difficult. Although he never mentioned it to Ruth, knowing by now that she would flare up at him, he could feel at least a bit of sympathy with the man who, in his sorrow had hit the bottle.

HE knew that Ruth would lash out at this very human thought even as she had the day he dared to suggest that perhaps it would help to have another child.

"We're still young," he tried to reason. "We could have another boy, or maybe a little girl, and our lives would go on."

"You," Ruth ground out between clenched teeth, "would dare to suggest that. How callous can you get! You're out in the world every day, seeing people, you can forget. You'd put me through this again." Ted tried to hush her, but there was no breaching that impenetrable wall.

The sombre weeks grew into months and it was a fortnight before Christmas. What, Ted asked himself again and wearily again, can I possibly get her for Christmas? What on earth could make her smile again, even a little. Bring back a semblance of the sunny girl he had married. Neither diamonds nor gold jewellery, neither the convertible she had always wanted nor the mink stole he had meant to give her would work the necessary miracle.

AND then he had a daring thought. While Ruth had never seemed to want a dog in the home, it might nevertheless be a turning point. Some little thing to care for, a tiny tyke that needed and depended on her. A bouncing ball of fluff that would, by his clowning antics, make her laugh.

He almost laughed himself, in sheer relief at this very plausible solution. Before he lost his courage or common sense made him doubtful, he left his office early and drove out to the kennels he had occasionally visited.

This time he strode in purposefully "I want a West Highland White Terrier about ten weeks old," he announced. He would normally have referred to the breed as Westie, but he carefully enunciated so that the sound of his own voice would keep his courage flying. "I want to look over every puppy you have. The puppy I select is to be delivered to my home on Christmas Eve. He will have every care and will be raised in a loving home. We have a garden and it is well fenced in. Please give me a diet sheet and any necessary instructions."

The kennel owner looked at him oddly, and Ted nearly blushed as the sound of his stilted speech came back to him. But knowing of the tragedy, the breeder took special care to present the cream of the litter.

HIS heart lifting at last, the man was like a boy, impatiently waiting for the 24th of December, proud of his daring.

Eventually came the Eve and the hour. Almost stumbling in his effort to seem nonchalant, he opened the door at the stroke of eight to receive a bundle of bristly white flicking his chin with a tiny red tongue. He paused for a second, glanced into the livingroom where he had carefully lit a flickering fire, set up a tray of mulled wine with background music (not Christmas carols, for fear it would hurt too much) and at Ruth, wearing the gold-colored lounging pajamas, his pre-Christmas

You haven't lived joyously until you've experienced a fabulous Bermuda Dog Show.

UNDER the distinguished Patronage of His Excellency the Governor, Lord Martonmere P.C. and the Lady Martonmere, the Bermuda Kennel Club held their annual Fall Breed and Obedience Shows on the grounds of the Botanical Gardens, with a record entry of 230 dogs, representing Bermuda, Canada, the U.S., and Venezuela. Many titles were earned and all have returned home with memories of the most fabulous dog shows of all time. Where else could one finish a dog, make new and renew old friendships, have a standing invitation to "Club 7007", sample island delicacies, be daring on a red-licensed motor bike (meaning "Bermudians beware!"), and as night falls, swiftly and softly, the stars hanging so low one can almost touch them, swizzle swizzles and enjoy the Limbo dancers and Steel Bands at one of the many night spots or in the comfy lounge of one's own hotel.

What can be crammed into one wonderful glorious week is unbelievable. Swimming, sunning, sailing, (ever try a Catamaran?) golf and fishing, the glass-bottom boats and underseas gardens, where you'll find fish who surface to be spoon-fed with, of all things, dog food! (dogfish, maybe?) bus and boat tours to the historical spots in which the Island abounds, and throughout the week the graciousness and hospitality of the Bermuda Kennel Club members, with cocktail parties, Guy Fawkes gaiety, and a bang-up show dinner to wind up an unforgettable visit.

It is impossible to capture in so few words the wonders of Bermuda. Why not plan now for next year's dog shows and a magnificent holiday to boot.

SHOW RESULTS

Best in Show, November 3 and again November 4 was taken by the Pekingese, Am. Ch. Mandarin's Kentucky Colonel, owned by Mrs. Ralph O'Daniel of Owensboro, Ky., and handled by Lorraine Heichel. On November 5, the Canadian Bred Newfoundland, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Newton, owned by Melvin Sokolsky of New York City, handled by Alan Levine, took the coveted award, while the last show was topped by the Manchester Terrier, Chatham's Mitzie, owned by Charles H. Turner, Jr., of Newton Square, Penna.

Mrs. Vera Johnson's home-bred Samoyed, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Karaseas Silver Nikki, won the group the first and second days, placing second to the Newf, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Newton at the next two shows, to complete his Bermuda championship. Another dog to get his championship was Mrs.

THE CANADIAN NATIONAL RETRIEVER TRIAL '64

*John Sellen is the author of this detailed report of the exciting
National that will be of interest to all enthusiasts*

THE Canadian National Retriever Championship Trial was held in the Brandon, Manitoba area on October 2, 3 and 4, 1964. It would be safe to say, without fear of prejudice, that the area around Brandon is unsurpassed anywhere for a National stake. Pot holes and sloughs are to be found everywhere for ideal water tests. Stubble fields, buck brush, alfalfa and hay fields situated on rolling or flat land gave the judges all that could possibly be asked for in the form of good test sites.

The trial itself, due to the untiring efforts of Glen Sutherland and his very capable committee, was mechanical perfection from start to finish.

The judges, Cliff Hunt of Grimsby, Ont., Lyman Turner of McGrath, Alta., Gordon Lindermere of North Vancouver, B.C. tested all dogs thoroughly on land and water before arriving with the eventual winner in a trial closely contested to the final test.

A total of 50 dogs were entered for the 1964 National and 48 started the trial, a record entry since the inception of the National stake in 1950.

A special note of thanks to the Carling Breweries who provided the sound car for the trial. The company has long supported conservation and dog clubs in Canada. Also our thanks to the Doctor Ballard dog food company who fed the dogs during the trial.

Special hunting licenses were provided by the Manitoba Game Branch to all participants from the USA and out of province handlers. These were put to good use as the hunting was excellent and good shooting was enjoyed by all who cared to partake of this opportunity.

Roast cornish game birds featured a Thursday night banquet, and a barbecued beef banquet with entertainment followed on Saturday night.

FIRST TEST 8:00 A.M.
FRIDAY OCTOBER 2
48 starters. Dog #1 ran first.

Land double and blind. Dogs were run from top of low hill. Crosswind blowing. Bird on right was thrown first to land in small clump of willows 100 yards from dog. Bird on left thrown second to land in short thick grass cover about 80 yards from dog. Blind planted to the right of dog and behind right hand bird about 150 yards from running dog.

The overall work in the first test was disappointing, many dogs having to be handled on left hand bird. The strong wind seemed to whip the scent completely away from the dogs. Several dogs being handled forward and back within a few feet of the bird and the dog unable to home in on the bird.

Dogs # 2, 4, 5, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 17, 23, 31, 39, 43, 50 were dropped for poor work.

SECOND TEST 1:00 P.M.
FRIDAY OCTOBER 2
34 starters. Dog #7 ran first.

Land triple and honor. Wind blowing from behind dog. First bird thrown off line to right of running dog. The bird landed about 10 yards out directly in front of running dog and sharply downhill. Second bird also thrown directly in front of running dog to land 90 yards away in buckbrush and light grass cover. Third bird thrown to land 50 yards away and angling to the right of dog. This bird was thrown in heavy buck brush cover. This test was run in typical Sharptail hunting area on the side of fairly steep hill with a variety of cover. The overall dog work began to pick up considerably in this test.

Dogs # 26, 28, 38 were dropped after this series because of low grades in first two tests.

THIRD TEST 4:00 P.M.
FRIDAY OCTOBER 2
31 starters. Dog #19 ran first.

Water Blind 50 yards distance. Dogs were sent off a gravel road through a fence in the water and angled back to a blind planted on the far shore. Stiff crosswind blowing. Wind died down as test progressed. Latter dogs had trouble scenting birds. What appeared to be a fairly simple water blind proved the undoing of some dogs who were lined directly on blind with the result of some shore running and dogs getting out of control in heavy tubes. The overall work on this test, however, was very good.

Dogs # 3, 7, 8, 9, 18, 34, 40, 41 were dropped for below average work.

FOURTH TEST SATURDAY MORNING
OCTOBER 3, 8:00 A.M.
23 starters. Dog #27 ran first.
Double land blind. One blind planted on left hand side of a patch of low growing willows and buck brush across a ploughed stubble field 130 yards from line. The second blind planted on the right hand side of willow patch 110 yards from line. The dogs were run from a dirt road across a shallow ditch straight downwind which was a brisk and cool 20 miles per hour. Some dogs were let run too far and got into trouble by running the edge of a large bush some 50 yards behind the right hand blind. Overall work, however, saw some very sharp handling and several dogs lining both blinds.

Dog #22 was dropped after this test.

FIFTH TEST SATURDAY OCTOBER 3, 11:00 A.M.

22 starters. Dog #36 ran first.

Double on water crosswind blowing. Decoys on edge of water slightly to left of dog. First bird thrown to land at 45° angle to running dog and landing in a pocket of open water just outside of heavy and high reed cover 115 yards from line. Second bird thrown straight away from line to fall in heavy and high reed cover 75 yards from line. Some dogs experienced real trouble on this test. A very strong wind whipping a chop on open water and very heavy cover proved to be too inviting to several dogs and they were lost for a short time in dense tubes. By and large, however, the front running dogs at this stage handled this test in their stride.

Based on below average grades dogs # 1, 24, 36 were dropped after this test.

SIXTH TEST SATURDAY OCTOBER 3, 2:00 P.M.

19 starters. Dog #47 ran first.

Four bird water mark and Honor. Crosswind blowing. First bird thrown off line to land to left of running dog 10 yards from line in light tube cover. Second bird thrown to land in heavy cover 45 yards from line. Gunners retired on this bird. Third bird thrown to fall 40 yards to left of line landing in heavy cover almost at right angles to line. Fourth bird thrown in heavy reed cover to right of line at 45° angle to line 15 yards distant.

Work in this test was in general very good, most dogs proving they had a good memory in pin-pointing these birds in heavy cover and with a retiring gunner. With this result only dog #46 was dropped following this test.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH TEST SUNDAY, OCTOBER 4, 8:00 A.M.

18 starters. Dog #20 ran first.

Triple on land with a very strong downwind. Immediately following the pick up of triple a double blind was planted for the ninth test. Gunners and throwers held their positions and running dog was taken behind blind while birds were planted.

Test was set up in a very large stubble field, rolling land on a downhill slope for running dog. First bird thrown to land 140 yards away and angling to left of line. Second bird thrown to right of line at a 45° angle 40 yards from line. Third bird thrown in line with second bird 120 yards from line and landing on a small knoll.

One blind was planted to right and back of third marked bird 140 yards from line. The other blind was planted to the left and back of the first bird thrown and 175 yards from line.

This double test left plenty of room to run in this very large stubble field with a downhill roll. Dogs having to come back after completing marks to pick up double blind made for an interesting test. Once again the top dogs handled this test quite well, a few dogs lining both blinds. Based on below average grades for eighth tests the following dogs were not called back for the ninth series. # 6, 19, 27, 30, 32, 35, 42, 45, 47.

NINTH TEST SUNDAY OCTOBER 4, 12:30 P.M.

9 starters. Dog #29 ran first.

Crosswind blowing. Triple mark. Two birds on water and one on land. Test run from a hill sloping down to a pothole surrounded by extremely heavy cover of reeds. Dogs were started about 30 yards from water. First bird thrown to land in heavy cover 100 yards away from line and straight away from running dog. Second bird thrown on land in light grass cover at 45° angle to right of line 30 yards from dog. Third bird thrown from near shore of pot hole 30° to left of line and landing in heavy cover 60 yards from line. This was a truly tough marking test. Birds landing in the water in rough cover and the dogs had to run through several yards of high cover before reaching open water on their way to pick up marks. Dogs # 20 and 33 were picked up before completing test. All other dogs were called back for tenth and final test.

TENTH TEST SUNDAY OCTOBER 4, 3:00 P.M.

7 starters. Dog #21 ran first.

Triple blind on water. Dogs run from a hillside on stubble field. Dogs were started 50 yards from the water's edge. They had to run through stubble swamp grass and reeds before reaching water. First bird planted on far shore in tall grass slightly to right of line and 100 yards from dog. Second bird planted in heavy tubes at water's edge of far shore 140 yards from line and at 45° angle to running dog. Third blind planted in heavy cover on far shore at water's edge 60° angle to line and 175 yards from dog. Strong crosswind of 25 miles per hour blowing.

The tenth test proved to be a fitting climax to three days of demanding series. A combination of a very strong wind and the long distance from water that the dogs were started from meant a test that only dogs of National calibre belonged in. Dogs # 25 and 29 failed to complete this test.

HONOR ROLL OF FINALISTS

Dog #21, F.T.C.L. Irwins Toby B.L. M. 1-15-58 F.T.C. Van Wagner's Kernel ex Kim of Brimherst. This beautiful black Lab, whose tail never stopped wagging, did some sensational work for his owner Bill Hutchinson. He lost a little ground over the three days but it took the tenth and final test to really count him out.

Dog #44, F.T.C. Du Caps Black Beauty B.L.M. 9-13-59 F.T.C. Timber-shed Totem of Nascopie ex-Ducap's Ch. Witch of River. This fine Labrador and his very congenial owner and handler were riding a high crest coming into the final two tests. Considerable trouble on short bird on land in ninth series and tenth test proving just a little more than he could handle on this particular day.

Dog #48, F.T.C. Rathrippens Black Star (Tarzan) B.L.M. 4-11-56 F.T.C. Sommer's Rusty Boy ex-Crooked Kreek's Kadi. Like any other dog that finished this exacting trial he had done some splendid work over

FUN COMES FIRST

BY MR. & MRS. A. R. MILLER
REPRINTED FROM "POPULAR DOGS"

Your reasons for going to dog shows can determine how much pleasure you get from them—and how much pleasure other people get, too. I once read an article that said the basic reason for breeding dogs should be 'to have fun.' Improvement of the breed is a goal and should be the aim of every breeder but pleasure in the dogs themselves should be the motivation.

This should carry over into showing dogs, as well. Winning may be the goal but fun should be the reason. There are many pleasures to be found in dog shows—the fun of seeing old friends and meeting new ones; of 'talking dogs' and exchanging ideas; of seeing and comparing dogs from other parts of the country; of presenting your own well-trained and well-groomed dog; of testing your opinion against that of the judge; even of just getting away from home cares and problems for a while. It can be stimulating, interesting and educational. A win should be the 'icing on the cake' but a loss should not destroy the other pleasures.

There is a too-prevalent attitude that anything less than winners is a complete failure. This is nonsense! There are too many really good dogs being shown today for anyone to win all the time. Many good dogs must be content with class placings; so if your dogs are consistently near the top, you are breeding successfully and can take pride in that. (Of course if you never win and are consistently out of the ribbons, you need to re-evaluate your program or buy better stock.)

Dog show pleasure is increased when class wins are considered worthwhile. This is true at large specialties where the entry is more evenly divided among the classes. The entry is distributed because exhibitors think those class wins important. It could and should be that way at all-breed shows, but, when the attitude is 'winners or nothing' the entries go into the open class and a win in the other classes, with little or no competition, becomes meaningless.

Going to a show only to win spoils your own fun if you lose and it spoils the fun for others, even when they win. Doesn't it take the edge off your pleasure when your dog has won and a disgruntled exhibitor rants on about the 'horrible' job of judging? All of us want to win (or we wouldn't go to shows) but there is a difference between wanting to win and the obsessive need to win OR ELSE.

I think the trouble lies with people who turn to dogs to make up for a basic lack in themselves as individuals. They have not succeeded as human beings so they try to compensate with success in dogs. These are the ones who put all-out emphasis on winning and who take a loss as a personal insult. If they win, the judge is great and the show is marvelous; if they lose the judge is crooked or blind, their dog was robbed and the whole show is sour. These people are more concerned about what they can achieve with their dogs than they are about the dogs.

There is no way to keep such people away from shows. They usually have very good dogs and they do win—or else they soon lose interest. But each of us can examine his own motives. If we find that the win is the only thing that matters, we should strive to become 'whole personalities' so that we do not need wins to boost our own egos. Just understanding our attitudes can result in improvement, and understanding others can make us more tolerant. We can realize that winning or losing does not make either our dogs or ourselves any better or any worse. We can do our level best to win in the ring without carrying the competition into personal areas. We can give value and recognition to placings in all classes. We can feel quiet pride when we win and can find pleasure in other aspects of a show when we do not win. Above all, we can go to a show with the attitude that it is, primarily, a sport and, win or lose, we are going to have a good time!

HEREDITARY DEFECTS

PART II: Second in a series of five articles from the joint memorandum from the British Veterinary Association and the Kennel Club on hereditary defects in dogs. Next month: Entropion.

DISLOCATION OF THE KNEE-CAP

Dislocation of the knee-cap, or patella luxation is the name given to a condition of the stifle or knee-joint. The knee-cap itself is a small bone somewhat saddle-shaped, which lies in a shallow groove at the lower end of the thighbone and glides in it when the knee is bent and straightened just as the human knee-cap does. This groove has a ridge on either side, higher on the inner side than on the outer, and the ridges help to keep the knee-cap in its place. Should they be too low or the groove too shallow, owing to developmental defects, the knee-cap will slip out of its groove fairly easily and the dog will then run on three legs, that of the affected side being carried. The dislocation may occur on the inner side, towards the mid-line, or outwards, away from the mid-line. In the majority of cases it is inwards and in congenital cases it frequently occurs in both legs.

This condition is particularly common in small breeds of dogs, Miniature and Toy Poodles, small Terriers and Pekingese. It is most often congenital but may be acquired as the result of injury.

In some cases the dislocation occurs repeatedly during movement; in others the dislocation is complete, and even if the knee-cap is manipulated back into position, the dislocation immediately recurs.

In some cases of recurrent dislocation the dog is able to replace the knee-cap by stretching the limb backwards and rotating the lower leg. The knee-cap often remains in position while the dog is running but dislocation recurs at the walk. In other cases the limb is used normally at the walk for several paces, then carried as dislocation occurs. When carried the limb is noticeably bent, the stifle joint is turned inwards, the hock turned out, and the paw pointed diagonally inwards.

When double dislocation occurs both stifles and hocks are bent and the dog moves in a crouched position, while some will move quite considerable distances on the forelegs with the hind legs in the air.

The knee-cap can often be felt to dislocate by alternately bending and stretching the leg, holding the fingers lightly over the area of the knee-cap. During such movements the knee-cap can be moved out of and back into position with ease.

WORM-FREE LITTERS

Any manufacturer enjoys seeing letters from customers volunteering praise for a product, but few people actually write. In the office of W. K. Buckley, Ltd., manufacturers of Zev, conditioner for animals, and dogs in particular, your editor was interested to note the constant stream of correspondence requesting increasing amounts and mentioning litters born actually worm-free.

BREED NOTES

Retarded Who?

Quote from "Dear Abby": About the "retarded" Poodle who piddles: the owners sound retarded to me . . . If a dog is taken for a walk the first thing in the morning and rewarded with a kind word or a biscuit for having accomplished the purpose of the walk, then turned out a time or two during the day and walked in the evening, the carpets and furniture would be safe.

I worked in a resort motel, and half the people with dogs who checked in for the weekend would get stoned in the evening, then sleep off their hangovers until noon. By that time the poor dog would have answered Nature's call on the carpet. But why blame the dog if the owner has no sense? Yours for a better deal for dogs. — Mrs. R.M.H.

Chesapeake Bay Retriever

A quality which makes this breed an exceptional one for rough and cold water work is his astonishing love for water. Seldom do you see a Chesapeake walk into water. Instead he leaps far out, sometimes becoming completely submerged. Cold water and bad weather never dampen this great enthusiasm in work or play.

The dense oily coat prevents the dog from getting wet through and allows it to be entirely freed from ice and water with a couple of vigorous shakes.

Breeding For Size in the Golden Retriever

The Golden Retriever Standard, 23" to 24" at the withers for males and 21½" to 22½" for females, allows an inch over and under before the dog is considered a disqualification. To those who have hauled a 25" wet dog aboard a boat or travelled in a small car, no reason is required as to why the Standard height is 24". To the hunter whose small dog gets tangled up in the reeds or has to be assisted over rocks and obstacles no explanation is necessary for the minimum 21½" in the female.

The most simple way to breed for size is to breed from dogs that are within the Standard. This may not always be possible, but the breeder should know the size of the parents, whether they are both large or small or one of each.

The litter should be examined at birth, after the first week the litter should be weighed and recorded, and the weight checked each week. Pups can be identified by shear marks in the hair.

From large parents, pups with large feet, bones and body should be set aside. The medium sized pups should be selected and fed well. This works for all combinations of parents except small parents from small strains. From small strains the large pups should be retained.

—Alex G. Wilson

Labs in Western Canada

"The general appearance of the Labrador should be that of a strongly built, short coupled, very active dog". The introduction to the Breed Standard may not be the snappiest of prefaces, but the Standard is nonetheless an incisive document. The structural criteria it lays down reflect primarily a functional aim. It is as difficult for a Labrador to achieve optimum function with improper structure as it is for an inferior performer to convince a good judge of his structural soundness.

In approaching the ideals of the Standard, Labradors in Western Canada have one major advantage and one major disadvantage. There is a demand for well-trained retrievers, both as working or "meat" dogs and as field trialists, and it is a healthy sign that a number of these dogs are also entering conformation shows. Louis Turenne's black female, Dart of Netley Creek has already won her field championship and is well on her way to completing her championship on the bench. The fact of participation in both spheres is a sure way of keeping the Labrador Retriever honest: most breeders do not want black lap dogs.

The major disadvantage in the West is the distance between show centres and the consequent tendency to isolation of different strains and blood lines. Regional eccentricities are thus more conspicuous than in more densely populated areas, and the tendency to "kennel blindness" is a constant danger. The effect of wartime restrictions of travel on English Labrador standards has been well described by Mrs. Warwick in her recent book, and is certainly food for thought.

Several conspicuous names emerge in current show reports from Western centres. Crozier's Castlemore Sean from Winnipeg and Ch. Baker's Laika 2nd from Calgary have both done a lot of winning in their respective centres. The use of "Western Lab" as a term of deprecation, if a good-natured one, among Eastern enthusiasts seems unlikely to survive as a justifiable description.

—Stuart C. Laughlin

Early "Irish" Coloring

At one time Irish Setters came in whole-color or white with red markings. White-and-red predominated at the Dublin Show in 1874 when two classes were given for the two-toned dogs and only one for the reds. At Cork, Ireland, the following year provision was also made for the parti-colored. At the Dublin show a year later the breed was simply recognized as Irish Setters. In the year following, the same show classified the variations as red, red-and-white and white-and-red, the consideration being that the red-and-white dogs were but lightly marked with white. Just after 1877 the color distinctions disappeared altogether.

Infant Cocker Takes BB

This type of item is usually covered by the official CKC Show and Trial Results. However, when a 4½ months old Cocker puppy is judged Best of Breed and Best Sporting Dog over a large entry of mature dogs, it is worthy of additional mention. The winsome little girl is a daughter of Ch. Kobytown's Shades of Parade ex Ch. Glenarden's Wish Come True. The show was the United KC of Montreal, held October 24. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dondewitz of Massena, N.Y. are the owners.

Color Breeding in Cocker Spaniels

The four color varieties in American Cockers add greatly to their attractiveness and the line-up for Best of Breed of a top representative of each variety is an eye catcher at dog shows.

It is generally admitted that the Blacks are the foundation of the breed and occasional black breeding in the other varieties makes for better conformation. Breeding buffs to black tends to lighten the color and produce the creams and silvers which are so popular. In the resultant litter one can expect both black and buff pups.

In most parti pedigrees solid breeding both black and buff will be found and is necessary occasionally to maintain conformation, stamina, coat and disposition. This breeding will probably produce some mis-marked pups which can be sold as pets or if particularly good specimens kept and bred back to a parti. What parti breeders both here and in the States aim at are black and whites with open markings (i.e. not too much black) and open marked red and whites. Well marked tri-colors are also very popular.

The black and tan variety is unique in that one cannot get black and tans from buff to black breeding. There must be black and tan in the inheritance. The Canadian Standard is now quite rigid with regard to black and tan markings and must be adhered to.

The effort of all sincere breeders is to produce a sturdy, well marked cocker in all varieties with good coat

BOV And Nothing But

A joy to own and show, the young Ascob male American Cocker Spaniel, Abbas Adored Mister A.O.K., went Winners, BW and BOV at the Lavonia KC show in Lavonia, Mich. under Judge Jerome Halle early in September, and in subsequent Ontario shows went BOV, BB and placed in Group with thrilling consistency. In six months of showing he captured two BIS, ten BB, including a specialty, eight Group 1sts, two Group 3rds and 20 BOV's. On October 10, at the Mad River Valley KC in Springfield, Ohio, "Mister" went from the classes, over specials, to 1st in Group under Judge Ray Beale. Surely a Cocker cocking many an eyebrow. Owner is Mrs. Harry Reno of Port Huron, Mich.

Oldest Authentic Record Of English Springer Bloodlines

Even the most conscientious researchers are hard put to establish the exact origin of the Springer Spaniel. Today's Springer is undoubtedly the merger of the blood of numerous old type Spaniel hunting dogs. Most credit for standardizing the modern Springer goes to the Boughey family of Aqualate, Shropshire, England. They appear among the first to establish their own studbook and breed records of what we know as the Springer Spaniel. The family attempted to firm hunting characteristics, size and color. Their studbook, dating back to 1813, constitutes the oldest authentic record of Springer Spaniel bloodlines. If you see a Springer pedigree which shows the name Aqualate, it undoubtedly indicates a descendant of Mop I, Mop II and Frisk, some of the early inmates of the Boughey's Aqualate kennels.

Weimaraner Progress

Thanks to the notice in Dogs in Canada we have aroused interest in Vancouver, Newfoundland and Saskatchewan and are delighted with the progress the club is making. One of our Fall meetings was in the form of a corn roast.

Andre's Amy, CD, CDX, owned by Dr. H. K. MacHemer, Vancouver, B.C., has completed her Tracking Dog Excellent. She is believed to be one of the first, if not the first, Wymer in Canada to obtain this title. The Canadian-bred female, Shadowmar's Sue's Bonnie Lass, owned by Dr. P. Teer of Alabama, has completed her American championship.

—Evelyn A. M. Carter

The Afghan Hound Expression

The Standard for the Afghan Hound specifically mentions "the exotic or Eastern expression, eyes dark, almond shaped, gazing into the distance, as if in memory of ages past".

Many breeders, and most judges, tend to ignore the importance of the correct, dark almond eye. The large, light, round, sometimes bulgy, eye so prevalent in the breed today gives a common or plain expression.

The head should be of good length, showing much refinement, skull evenly balanced with foreface, little or no stop, and slight prominence of the nasal bone, giving a slightly Roman appearance. No mention is made of a dark mask or ear fringes, and these are not at all necessary for the proper exotic look; in fact, a black mask on a very light colored dog often imparts a sinister appearance.

Two years ago, at an Ontario show, a prominent American judge put a six-months puppy over a well-known champion for Best of Breed. When asked by the champion's owner where he faulted her dog, the judge replied that it did not have a black mask. Such an opinion is, of course, a personal prejudice, and should not be tolerated. The Standard was written to serve as a guide to breeders and judges alike, and is of little use if not adhered to.

The Afghan Hound is an aristocrat, his whole appearance one of dignity and aloofness, with no trace of plainness or coarseness. This desired appearance simply cannot be achieved if the eye is large, bulgy and light in color, or the skull coarse, with a deep stop.

—Helen Lovett

The Most Common Fault In Bassets Today

The most common faults in Bassets today, to my mind, are males with small or feminine heads, which are out of proportion to the overall size of the hound, taking away his masculinity and the head of great nobility one looks for in the males.

What causes this I do not know, but believe it could be caused by breeding out. By this I mean, a small female to a large dog or vice versa of different bloodlines, looking for good medium-sized hounds. Instead one gets a split litter.

I noticed this over the years with Beagles when a small one was bred with a good big one, not of similar bloodlines, long-bodied 13" or short-legged 15" often resulted.

My next comment concerns the fronts. The Standard states: the chest should be deep and full, the body long and low, the forelegs should be short, very powerful, very heavy in bone, close fitting to the chest, with a crooked knee and wrinkled ankle ending in a massive paw. I notice too many high in front, with bone and forefeet far from massive, with the crooked knee and wrinkled ankle, well below the brisket. The latter, to my way of thinking, should not be more than four to six inches from the ground. This will slow him down a bit, but sturdiness rather than speed is the mark of a true Basset.

However, our Bassets can't be too bad. When we look through the show results in Canada and the United States we find a lot of Group firsts, and BIS wins.

Bloodhounds' Incredible Scent

The oldest and coldest recognized trail Bloodhounds have followed was in October 1954 when a trio found the bodies of a family who had been lost in Oregon for two weeks. A husband and wife and their teen-age son entered a remote forest for a day's deer hunting. When they had not returned a week later a search began from their parked car found on a secluded logging track.

The first week of heavy rain was followed by torrential storms and frost the second week. All efforts of the concentrated search failed in the impassible undergrowth. The police were about to abandon the search when young Norman Wilson volunteered the help of his Bloodhounds, Queen Guinevere of Laurelock, her son, Doc Holliday and another hound, Kate. With skepticism, searchers saw them take to a track, heading into dense bush. Before long the handlers noted a woman's foot prints. After going over a railway track, across streams and through more bush until the handlers were all but exhausted, the leashed dogs stopped and sniffed near some ferns. There lay the dead boy, and his parents nearby. They were but 2½ miles from the car and close to a logging road. The bodies were hidden from the eye, but the hounds had scented the trail and finally located the bodies.

Borzoi Puppy Imported

Borzoi In The 1880's And Today

Evidence that Borzois can get along well together even in the heat of the chase is that the Grand Duke Nikolai Nikolaivitch of Russia, who used to maintain over 150 in his kennels at one time, would run three together on a leash. When the quarry was sighted, they were slipped off the lead. Two would overtake the wolf, the usual quarry, while the third would hold him by the throat until the hunter on horseback rode up and pinioned the wolf.

Bourtai of Malora was the first American and Canadian U.D. Borzoi. Owner Gordon Sohr trained and handled him.

Dachshund Club Election

At the annual election of the Dachshund Club of Canada held at the Chatfield's in London, Ont. on November 1, the following were returned to office by acclamation: President, Stuart Roberts; Secretary, Kay Barnes; Treasurer, John France. Directors: Mesdames Chatfield, Mansefield, Roberts and Sharen. Mr. Henry Mueggler was elected Vice-President.

25th Anniversary Issue

The American Dachshund Magazine marked its 25th anniversary with one of the most handsome issues ever produced by a breed magazine. It is beautifully designed and laid out, with exceptional reproduction of photographs. Congratulations to publishers Stanley and Carol Orne. The magazine was established in 1939 by the late Grayce Greenberg, noted Dachshund specialist and author.

Miniatures Are Not Runt Standards

There has been much discussion recently on the subject of interbreeding of Miniature and Standard Dachshunds, and while there are many pro's and con's to this proposal, perhaps a timely word of caution is advisable.

Miniatures are dogs who have been selectively bred for many generations. They are not chance bred from indiscriminate breedings, neither are they runts from Standard litters. The breeding of two runts will not produce Miniatures.

While it is possible to get some small individuals from this type of breeding, always remember that the canine species throw back many generations, and much harm can be done to subsequent breeding programs.

If, for example, a small male from a cross size breeding is bred to a pure miniature bred female, she could quite easily carry one or more Standard size pups, with disastrous results.

With selective breeding dogs can be bred down to size, but it must be remembered that this takes many generations, and this type of breeding is not for the hasty.

Novice breeders should think carefully, and take a second look before they buy. While in some countries it is not possible to get a Kennel Club pedigree stating the size background of the stock, any prospective purchaser should beware of a breeder who will not, or cannot, give a size pedigree on the dogs he is offering for sale.

The Board interpreted Article XXX of the Club's By-laws to mean that a dog (not born in Canada) purchased or otherwise acquired by a Canadian or other resident of Canada, may be registered in the Club's records only by the Canadian or other resident of Canada who first acquired the dog. If the dog was later acquired by another Canadian, the Canadian or other resident of Canada who first acquired the dog would proceed to record transfer in favour of the second Canadian who acquired the dog.

KENNEL NAMES

The Board received and approved the recommendations of the Kennel Names Committee arising out of its meetings held on August 27th and September 24th, the reports setting forth the recommendations of the Committee with regard to objections to applications which had been received and reported in "Dogs in Canada" and its recommendations with regard to a number of applications for names considered to be similar to kennel names already registered.

STUD BOOKS

The Board noted that the printing order for Vol. 67 (the 1963 Stud Book) had been substantially increased over printing orders placed for stud books in recent years and yet all of these had been sold, orders for the volume having far exceeded expectations.

The Board noted that volumes for a number of years (1953, 1956, 1958, 1959, and 1962) were no longer in stock, and the Secretary was instructed to publish a notice in "Dogs in Canada" with a view to locating available copies of these volumes in the hands of those who no longer wished to retain them, it being intended that this information would be made available to those members who were still anxious to obtain any one or more of these volumes.

DOGS SOLD AS PETS UNDER AGREEMENT

The Secretary reported on correspondence with the Canadian National Live Stock Records with regard to the placement and text on certificates of registration issued for dogs sold on the understanding that they would not be used for breeding purposes, and reported that he had placed an order for 30,000 of these agreement forms, which will be made available at no charge to breeders.

The Board decided that where a dog which has already been registered is sold under such an agreement, the original certificate would be returned to the Live Stock Records office and a new certificate (carrying the statement that the dog is not to be used for breeding purposes) would be issued upon payment of the required fee for a new certificate ($1.00 to a member of the Club, $2.00 to a non-member).

COMPLAINTS, CHARGES AND PROTESTS

SPECIFIC CASES

The Board considered and took appropriate action with regard to 24 files having to do with complaints, charges and protests. On one file the Board ordered a certificate of registration cancelled if the owner of the dog at birth failed to satisfactorily reply to a communication addressed to him regarding identification of the dog. In another case the Board ordered cancelled, the registration of a litter, following an investigation which included an examination of puppies in the litter. Three complaints were ordered referred to Advisory Committees for investigation and report. In still another case the Board authorized an inspection of a number of dogs with a view to determining whether they had been properly identified, as required by the Club's By-laws.

COMPLAINTS REGARDING NON-DELIVERY OF CERTIFICATES

The Board authorized the Secretary to prepare, for its consideration at a later meeting, information and forms to be supplied to those who complain that a vendor has failed to supply a certificate of registration for a dog sold as pure-bred, this information to advise such complainants of the means which they can use to lay a charge under the Live Stock Pedigree Act.

INTERNAL AND ADMINISTRATION

APPOINTMENTS FOR 1964

- During the discussion of a particular file it was:
- (1) pointed out that the amendment (to the By-laws) which received Ministerial approval on May 25, 1964 including in the By-laws provision for a Dog Show Council, requires that, at its annual meeting each year, the Board shall appoint the Chairman of the Dog Show Council and when appointing the Chairman, it may appoint the remaining members of the Council or may delegate that duty to the Chairman which it has appointed;
 - (2) stated that there is no provision in the new By-law for the appointment of the Chairman or any members of the Council at any other meeting of the Board and submitted that, inasmuch as the requirements of the new By-law had not been wholly complied with, there is no Dog Show Council.

Mr. McDermont pointed out that while the new By-law requires that the Board from time to time prescribe the duties of the Council and the procedures to be followed in the discharge of its duties this had not as yet been done by the Board.

Mr. McDermont was urged to replace Mr. T. Joel as a member of the Council. He stated that he was not prepared to make any change as this was a matter that could only be dealt with by the national Board. He pointed out that he was appointed by motion #144-64, at the annual meeting of the Board, as Chairman of the Council, that at its semi-annual meeting the Board, by motion #306-64 authorized him to appoint the Dog Show Council, and he tendered his resignation as Chairman of the Council.

DOG SHOWS

ENTRY OF DOGS AT SHOWS

The Secretary was instructed to place in "Dogs in Canada" a notice pointing out that when an entry of a dog is made at a championship show the name of the agent or handler must be set forth on the entry form if there is to be an agent or handler.

The Board felt that this information would be invaluable to the Show Secretary, ring stewards, and those responsible for arranging for dogs to be available when required in judging rings.

INTERNAL AND ADMINISTRATION

BOARD MEETINGS

The Board decided that the next meeting of the Board would be held on November 11th.

SALES TAXES ON DOGS

Mr. Mehlenbacher, who with Mr. McDermont constituted a committee authorized by the Board to make representations to the Ontario provincial authorities with regard to the sales tax on dogs, read the following letter, dated July 21, 1964, which he had received from Mr. James N. Allan, the Provincial Treasurer for Ontario:

"I wish at first to apologize for the delay in writing to you with respect to the Sales Tax on dogs as discussed with me some time ago.

"I had hoped before this time to have had the opportunity to review the policy of other jurisdictions in this regard, and am now making arrangements to visit the Sales Tax offices of some of the larger jurisdictions in the United States and Canada. It is also my intention to discuss this matter with Professor John Due, a recognized authority on Sales Tax matters, during the month of August.

"Following such consideration I will be in touch with you again."

C. K. C. ARCHIVES

The Secretary reported on a letter received from Mrs. J. W. Anderson, in which Mrs. Anderson suggested that the Board consider the possibility of forming "a modest archive collection, this to be housed at the Club's headquarters and managed by a committee.

The Secretary was instructed to forward a copy of Mrs. Anderson's letter to every member of the Board and place it on the agenda of the next annual meeting of the Board.

DOG SHOWS

DOG SHOWS AT ROYAL WINTER FAIR

Mr. Walter Brown who, with Mr. Morley Fisher, represents the Club at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, reported on conversations with those who may be able to assist in the resumption of dog shows at the Winter Fair.

The Secretary was authorized to advance an amount not exceeding $50.00 in order that the Club's representatives may make a report to C. K. C. members in the Toronto area regarding their efforts in this connection.

MEMBERSHIP MATTERS

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Board confirmed the approval given on two lists of applications for membership reported to each member of the Board, and dealt with nine files regarding specific applications for membership, one application being rejected, and three others being ordered held in abeyance pending further reports to the Board.

SHOW DATES

The Board considered the applications of the Toronto branch of the Dominion Collie & Shetland Sheepdog Association to hold a specialty championship show for all breeds in Group 3 on February 13, 1965, and an application to hold a specialty championship show for Collies and Shetland Sheepdogs on February 14, 1965, and having regard for an earlier decision of the Board with regard to the application of a club to hold two different types of championship shows, decided that the entire Board would be polled on whether to allow the appeal of the Association that it be permitted to hold both shows.

With regard to the applications of the Working Dog Society, a newly-formed organization, to hold a specialty championship show for all breeds in Group 3 and a licensed obedience trial on October 17, 1965, and an all-breed championship show and two licensed trials on October 18, 1965, decided to grant only the Society's application to hold an all-breed championship show and one licensed obedience trial on October 18, 1965.

It was agreed that, in view of the previous experience of the officials of the Society, the necessity of holding two sanction shows first would be waived.

INTERPRETATIONS

The Secretary was instructed to consult every member of the Board on the question of whether or not a dog may be entered in an official class and also for Specials Only at a single championship show.

The Secretary was also instructed to provide every member of the Board with a copy of the letter received from Mr. E. B. Reid, Secretary of the Ottawa Kennel Club, who reported on his experience in implementing certain dog show rules about which a memorandum had been addressed to all show-giving clubs as a result of an instruction given by the national Board at its semi-annual meeting.

OBEEDIENCE TRIALS

DATES FOR OBEEDIENCE TRIALS

The Board noted that the Windsor and District Kennel Club had applied for permission to hold championship shows on July 17th and 18th, 1965 and to hold two licensed obedience trials in conjunction with each show. It decided that the Windsor and District Kennel Club would be granted permission to hold only one licensed obedience trial in conjunction with each of its two shows.

FIELD TRIALS

FIELD TRIALS FOR POINTING BREEDS

The Board approved the Secretary's reply to a letter received from Mr. M. H. Babcock, Vice President of the Nova Scotia Field Trial Association, with regard to a decision that the Association be asked to make another selection of judges in connection with its trial held on September 19th and 20th, 1964, and instructed the Secretary to inform Mr. Babcock that The Canadian Kennel Club is not obligated to approve any application to hold a licensed trial under C. K. C. rules and regulations.

FIELD TRIALS FOR RETRIEVERS

The Secretary reported that, in accordance with policies set by the Board at its last annual meeting, information had been supplied all clubs holding licensed Retriever trials with regard to the previous experience of those who had officiated at trials held under the Club's rules during the years 1954 to 1963 inclusive, and it was agreed that the Secretary would bring the list up to date by adding the statistics for judging engagements at licensed Retriever trials held under the Club's rules during 1964.

The Board considered and ordered referred to the Chairman of the Field Trial Council for Retrievers, an exchange of correspondence with the Calgary Retriever Club regarding procedure followed by the Board at its last annual meeting in adopting new policies regarding the eligibility of persons to judge at licensed Retriever trials.

GOOD AND WELFARE

HEREDITARY DEFECTS IN DOGS

The Secretary reported that he had obtained from The Kennel Club, England, copies of the "JOINT MEMORANDUM FROM THE BRITISH VETERINARY ASSOCIATION AND THE KENNEL CLUB ON HEREDITARY DEFECTS IN DOGS", and The Kennel Club had granted permission to reproduce it.

The Secretary was instructed to forward a copy of the memorandum to every member of the Board, along with a letter received from Mr. E. A. Moore, Calgary, regarding hip dysplasia in German Shepherd Dogs imported from Germany, and to invite Dr. Cawley, of the Ontario Veterinary College, to meet with the Board at its next meeting.

LIFE SAVING DOGS

The Secretary was instructed to provide every member of the Board with a copy of a communication received from the Federal Department of External Affairs, from the Life Saving Dog Brigade of the Netherlands.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A meeting of the Board of Directors was held in the Club's offices, Toronto, on November 11th, with the Vice President, J. C. Anderson, in the Chair, and the following members of the Board present: Walter Brown, Mrs. Edna-Joel, Mrs. Pamela B. Mack, William McDermont, George N. Mehlenbacher, and W. J. Monaghan. The meeting commenced at 9:30 a.m. and adjourned at 11:10 p.m. There follows a summary of business transacted at the meeting.

At the commencement of the meeting the Secretary reported that Mr. Walter H. Reeves, a former Vice President of the Club and internationally known judge, had passed away, as had also Mr. E. Holland Buckley, Secretary of The Kennel Club (England).

GOOD AND WELFARE

HIP DYSPLASIA AND HEREDITARY DEFECTS IN DOGS

On the invitation of the Board, Dr. A. J. Cawley, Professor and Head of the Small Animal Division of the Ontario Veterinary College, met with the Board of Directors and a very thorough discussion took place with regard to hip dysplasia, more particularly in connection with research which has been conducted in Sweden, the effects of this condition on dogs depending on its degree of severity, and possible steps with regard to controlling the spread, and possible elimination of the condition through well-conceived breeding programs. The discussion concluded with an agreement that Dr. Cawley would prepare and submit for the consideration of the national Board a suggested program for dysplasia control.

FINANCIAL MATTERS

APEX PUBLISHERS AND PUBLICITY LTD.

The Board considered the request of the Scarborough Kennel Club Inc. that The Canadian Kennel Club publish in "Dogs in Canada" photographs of the winners of the children's handling classes at its September show. The Board agreed that without discriminating between clubs it could not grant the request.

The Board received the report of Mr. Mehlenbacher, who, with the Club's solicitor, represents the Club on the Board of Directors of Apex Publishers and Publicity Ltd., publishers of "Dogs in Canada", regarding financial matters discussed at their recent annual meeting.

INTERNATIONAL MATTERS

THE AMERICAN KENNEL CLUB

The Board granted the request of the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association that there be included on the agenda of the Annual General Meeting of The Canadian Kennel Club (to be held at Vancouver on March 6, 1965), a proposal that an agreement be sought with The American Kennel Club whereby Canadian Kennel Club approved judges would be allowed to judge at championship shows held under A.K.C. rules in those breeds for which they are approved by The Canadian Kennel Club, without further apprenticeship or examination.

REGISTRATION, STUD BOOKS AND RELATED MATTERS

KENNEL NAMES

The Board received and approved the recommendations (as set out in the report of the Board dated October 23rd) of the Kennel Names Committee with regard to nine different applications for registration of kennel names.

REGISTRATION COMMITTEE

The Board received and ordered incorporated in the minutes, the following decisions of the Registration Committee, which had:

- (1) authorized the registration, under Article XXVIII, Section 1 (d) of the Club's By-laws, of the following Lhasa Apso bred by and whelped the property of Mr. & Mrs. James Roberts, Abbotsford, B.C.: MAHHAARODI OF ABBOTSFORD, LHOTSE OF ABBOTSFORD, TIWI OF ABBOTSFORD, LOHNOF ABBOTSFORD, YU LA OF ABBOTSFORD. (RC-265)
- (2) decided that it could not assist Mr. & Mrs. Clinton Barkhouse in connection with their desire to obtain a certificate of registration for a St. Bernard purchased from the late Mr. Geo. Brink; (RC-271)
- (3) decided that before the Club may register a Poodle purchased in August 1961, by Mr. Michael McIntyre of Toronto from Mr. A. J. Nelson of Baldwin Park, California, an A.K.C. certificate of registration in Mr. McIntyre's name would be required; (RC-274)
- (4) authorized the issuance of a duplicate certificate of registration for the American Cocker Spaniel TENEGA'S KINGSLEY (504275) and the recording of transfer of this dog to the name of Mr. & Mrs. Paul Sandor, Richmond Hill, Ontario; date of transfer, April 3, 1962; (RC-276)
- (5) instructed the Secretary to inform Mr. & Mrs. F. Hueston that the Live Stock Pedigree Act does not cover advertising of dogs for sale but does refer to the sale of pure-bred dogs as such. (RC-275)

The Board referred to the Registration Committee for consideration a query with regard to the eligibility for registration in the Club's records of a dog imported from England for which The Kennel Club (England) is in a position to issue a three-generation Export Certificate although the sire of the dog imported from England had not been registered in the records of The Kennel Club.

The Board considered a report, received through the federal Department of Agriculture, of the Crime Detection Laboratory of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in connection with an apparent case of forgery on an application for registration of litter. The file was referred to the Club's solicitor with a request that he communicate with the Commissioner of the Quebec Provincial Police for the purpose of having an investigation conducted, on the understanding that if the evidence obtained warrants it, The Canadian Kennel Club would initiate prosecution proceedings.

BREED IMPROVEMENT

Mr. Mehlenbacher and Mr. Brown gave notice that, at the coming annual meeting of the Board, they would move a motion calling for the appointment of a Special Committee, to be known as the Improvement of Stock Committee, the duties of which would be to recommend from time to time, policies designed to further the activities referred to in Article XXXVI (Improvement of Stock) of the Club's By-laws.

COMPLAINTS, CHARGES AND PROTESTS

The Board considered and took appropriate action with regard to 13 files having to do with complaints, charges and protests. The Board referred to the Complaints Committee for further consideration, a recommendation of the Committee, previously considered by the Board, with regard to the handling of protests at dog shows re dogs alleged to be vicious. The files considered by the Board included the report of an Advisory Committee appointed to investigate and report on the alleged sale of a dog, for which a certificate of registration had been provided, the complainant alleging that the dog was not a pure-bred dog. In another case the Board appointed an Advisory Committee to investigate and report on the complaint of a Field Trial Superintendent regarding the alleged conduct of a competitor at a licensed field trial.

BOARD MEETINGS

The Board decided that, unless the President felt that an earlier regular meeting of the Board is necessary, the next regular meeting of the Board would be held on Saturday, January 9, 1965.

REFERENDUM BALLOTS

The Board ruled that a notice of proposed amendment received by the Secretary on October 14th could not be considered acceptable on the grounds that as of the closing date for receipt of such proposed amendment, the notice had not been signed by five ordinary members of the Club, as required by Article XXXVIII of the Club's By-laws.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Board confirmed the approval given on three lists of applications for membership reported to each member of the Board, and dealt with two specific applications for membership, one of which was rejected.

DOG SHOWS

JUDGES

Pending submission to the national Board for consideration at its annual meeting, to be held in March, of a program regarding the apprenticeship, when recommended by examining committees, of applicants wishing to establish eligibility to judge one or more breeds, the Chairman of the committee responsible for the processing of applications was authorized to prepare and implement such a program.

SHOW DATES

The Board approved the recommendation of Mr. Duff, Director for Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, that the Shearwater Kennel Club be allowed to re-establish priority rights on July 1st of each year.

The Secretary reported that Club Six (a specialty club for Group 6) had sought permission to hold two sanction shows in order to qualify to hold a Group 6 specialty show. Because of the multiplicity of applications for sanction show dates in Toronto and area during the winter months only one of these two dates had been granted. Club Six had therefore sought the Board's consideration of its desire to proceed with the holding of a Group 6 specialty show without the necessity of holding a second sanction show. Having regard for the Secretary's report and the experience of the officials of Club Six, the request was granted.

The Board considered a letter from the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association concerning the approval granted the Victoria City Kennel Club's applications to hold championship shows on April 9th and 10th, 1965, in view of the proximity of these dates to their shows to be held May 7th and 8th. The Secretary was instructed to include on the agenda of the next annual meeting of the Board, the question of whether the Board should adopt policies with regard to the number of shows in a zone and the spacing of these shows (as to time and distance) so as to avoid conflict.

The application of the Dominion Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Association to hold a specialty show for all breeds in Group 3 on February 13, 1965 in conjunction with a specialty show for Collies and Shetland Sheepdogs to be held on February 14th, was approved. However, the Secretary was instructed to include on the agenda of the coming annual meeting of the Board, a proposal that: (1) a specialty club would be permitted to hold a specialty show only for the breed or breeds indicated by its club name; (2) permission to hold an all-breed show would be granted only to exhibitions, fairs, and clubs and associations recognized as all-breed clubs.

INTERPRETATIONS

The question having been raised as to whether, at a single championship show, a dog may be entered in an official class and also for "Specials Only", Mr. Monaghan gave notice that he would move the following motion (as a standing resolution) at the next annual meeting of the Board: "THAT, Section 2 (b) of Chapter 4 of the Dog Show Rules be interpreted to mean that it restricts a dog, except a Veteran in some circumstances, to being entered only once, either in one of the regular official classes or for "Specials Only" or for "Exhibition Only".

It was agreed that in the meantime and in the computation of championship points, a dog entered and competing in a regular class as well as for "Specials Only" would be counted in competition but once, and that at the class level. It was agreed that, although the dog may also have competed for "Specials Only" it could not be counted at that level.

The Board interpreted the provisions of the Dog Show Rules regarding the brace class to mean that the ownership of the two dogs constituting a brace must be identical and that two dogs, each of which is owned by a different partnership, although part of the partnerships may be identical, are not eligible to compete as a brace.

The Board ruled that, for the purposes of Section 5 (c) of Chapter 21 (Champions and Championship Points) of the Dog Show Rules, a dog would not be considered as having defeated "at least one dog in its own breed" at a show if at that show the only other dog in competition in the breed was a dog from which the judge had withheld a Winners award.

AMENDMENTS TO THE DOG SHOW RULES

The Chairman suggested that in the preparation of the agenda of the next annual meeting of the Board the Secretary include a report on the decisions reached by the Board at its last semi-annual meeting with regard to desirable changes in the Dog Show Rules.

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

The Board considered the application of a specialty club to hold a licensed specialty show and two licensed obedience trials in conjunction with the show, all on the same day. SUBJECT: Proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules.

PURSUANT to the provisions of Article XXXVIII, Section 4 (1) of the By-laws of The Canadian Kennel Club, the following proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules will be placed on the agenda of the annual general meeting of the Club to be held at Vancouver on March 6th, 1965.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

A new subsection be added to Section 4 of Chapter 4 to read as follows:

"(h) Miscellaneous Class. This class shall be open to such breeds of dogs as may be designated, from time to time, by the Board. The class may be judged either on a divided by sex or combined sex basis. There shall be no further competition for dogs entered in this class."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Agnes S. Simpson, Mrs. Margot Bowden, A. H. Dodds, Mrs. V. C. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. F. O. Wood.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

A new paragraph be added to Section 1, Chapter 5, to read as follows: "Ribbons awarded in the Miscellaneous Class shall be for First, Second, Third, and Fourth and shall be coloured rose, brown, light green, and grey, in that order."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Agnes S. Simpson, Mrs. Margot Bowden, A. H. Dodds, Mrs. V. C. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. F. O. Wood.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

Chapter 7, ELIGIBILITY FOR APPROVAL TO JUDGE, be deleted in its entirety, and the following be substituted therefor:

"Chapter 7. -- ELIGIBILITY TO JUDGE
"Section 1. Any resident of Canada, who is in good standing with The Canadian Kennel Club and who has the necessary qualifications, may judge any breed or breeds, or make any awards provided for in these Rules, at any shows held under these Rules.

Any resident of a country other than Canada, who is in good standing with the governing body of the country in which he resides and who has the necessary qualifications, may judge any breed or breeds, or make any of the awards provided for in these Rules at shows held under these Rules.

The foregoing provisions of this Section are subject to the remaining provisions of this Chapter.

It is the sole responsibility of the club holding a show under these Rules, when selecting a judge or judges, to select only those persons having the necessary qualifications to judge the breed or breeds or make any of the awards provided for in these Rules.

Regardless of the circumstances the show-giving club must not select or permit any of the following to officiate as a judge at its show: the show superintendent of the show, the show secretary of the show, a veterinarian officiating as such at the show, nor any person officiating in any of these capacities whether officially designated as such or not.

"Section 2. The Board may from time to time as it deems advisable order the preparation and distribution of a list of persons who have, during the preceding five years, judged a breed or breeds, or made an award or awards as provided in these Rules, at shows held under these Rules. The non-appearance of any name on such a list, whether from inadvertent omission or other cause, shall not be grounds for claim against the Club, or any employee of the Club.

"Section 3. When the Board receives what is considered to be a well-founded complaint against a judge it may, at its discretion, debar (temporarily or otherwise) that person from further judging at shows held under these Rules, or it may, at its discretion, limit the breeds or awards which that person may judge at shows held under these Rules.

Before lifting a debarment, which has been imposed on a temporary basis or otherwise, the Board may require the person debarred from any breed and/or award to successfully pass an oral examination on breed standards and/or rules, a written examination on breed standards and/or a practical demonstration of his ability to judge, or all or any combination of these.

The Board shall determine the procedure to be followed in the handling of a complaint against a judge.

"Section 4. In this Chapter:

- (a) the words "show" or "shows", when employed in this Chapter, mean any of the shows defined in Sections 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Chapter 2 of these Rules;
- (b) whenever the context requires, or it is appropriate to so interpret, the word "breed" shall include the plural ("breeds")."

PROPOSED BY: Mr. & Mrs. Tom Wells, Mrs. Eileen Joyce Anson, Mrs. Anne Bullock, Ford Flechar, Mrs. Winnifred Wartnow.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

Chapter 8, SELECTION AND APPROVAL OF JUDGES, be deleted in its entirety, and the following substituted therefor:

"Chapter 8. -- SELECTION OF JUDGES

"Section 1. (a) After a club or association has been granted permission by The Canadian Kennel Club to hold a show under these Rules it must forward to The Canadian Kennel Club, at least three months before its show, a list setting forth the names and addresses of the persons which it has selected to judge at its show, giving in each instance the particular breed or breeds, and awards which it is proposing each person listed shall pass upon or make.

(b) Where the list referred to in (a) does not include, as a proposed judge, the name of any person ineligible to judge any of the breeds and awards listed for proposed judge, the show-giving club will be informed that The Canadian Kennel Club has noted its selection of judges, and the show-giving club will then confirm its judging arrangements with the listed judges, and may proceed to announce its selected judges.

Where, however, The Canadian Kennel Club, upon receipt of the list referred to in (a) notifies the show-giving club that one or more of its proposed judges is not eligible to judge any or all of the breeds and awards listed on its submitted list, then the show-giving club must make such other arrangements as may be necessary to complete its list of judges, and must again submit its list of proposed judges to The Canadian Kennel Club until it is notified that its list of proposed judges, in its entirety, has been "Noted" by The Canadian Kennel Club.

(c) The show-giving club must not advertise, or otherwise announce, the name of any selected judge until its entire list has complied with the requirements of (a) and (b) of this Section.

"Section 2. The show-giving club shall not add to or subtract from the number of breeds which a selected judge has agreed to pass upon without first notifying said judge and obtaining his consent in writing to the contemplated change in his assigned breeds, and the judge when so notified may refuse to judge any breeds added to his original assignment.

"Section 3. A show-giving club which is notified at any time prior to one week before the opening day of its show that an advertised judge will not for any reason, fulfill his engagement to judge, shall substitute a judge but before confirming arrangements with the judge and announcing the substitution must secure from The Canadian Kennel Club advice as to whether or not its proposed substitute is eligible to judge. If advised by The Canadian Kennel Club that the proposed substitute judge is eligible to judge, it shall then notify those who entered dogs, for judgment at the breed level, under the judge who will not officiate, of the name of the substitute judge. All those who had entered dogs to be shown, at the breed level, under the advertised judge shall be permitted to withdraw their entries at any time prior to the opening day of the show, and all entry fees and listing fees, for the withdrawn dogs shall be refunded to their respective owners.

If an advertised judge is not present or is unable to judge his or her appointed breed or breeds at a show given under these Rules, the show-giving club shall provide a substitute judge in his place. In such cases the owners (or their authorized agents) may refuse to bring their dogs into the ring for competition and may withdraw them from the show and, providing notice is given before leaving the show, such owners shall be entitled to a refund of entry fees, listing fees and recording fees, for the dogs withdrawn from competition.

"Section 4. In case an advertised judge shall have judged part of the classes of a breed and then finds it impossible to finish, a substitute judge shall be selected by the bench show committee, and in that event the awards made by the regular judge shall stand and his or her substitute shall judge only the remaining classes and awards. No dogs entered under the regularly selected judge shall be withheld from competition if it has already been passed upon by the advertised judge, however, any dog which has yet to appear in the ring may be withdrawn from competition though the entry fee will remain the property of the club.

"Section 5. A substitute judge shall finish the judging of the breed or group classes he or she is adjudicating upon if he or she has begun to judge before the advertised judge arrives at the show.

"Section 6. In this Chapter,

- (a) the word "show" or "shows", when employed in this Chapter mean any of the shows defined in Sections 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Chapter 2 of these Rules.
- (b) whenever the context requires, or it is appropriate to so interpret, the word "breed" shall include the plural ("breeds")."

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

Chapter 9, Section 15, be deleted in its entirety and the following be substituted therefor:

"Section 15. A judge shall be permitted to personally open the mouth of any dog at the time of judging, in order to examine it, if the owner or handler has not shown it to the judge's satisfaction."

PROPOSED BY: George D. Donaldson, Mrs. Elizabeth Burchett, Mr. & Mrs. Don Falardeau, Mrs. Walker L. Taylor, Mr. & Mrs. Walter Stewart.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 6

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

A new Section be added to Chapter 8, as follows:

"Section 17. It shall be the responsibility of the judge, when examining dogs entered in the show, to disqualify any male dog that does not have two normal testicles normally located in the scrotum."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Barbara L. Mill, Mrs. S. V. B. Roberts, Mrs. Dawn Topalian, George D. Donaldson, Mr. & Mrs. D. G. Anderson.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 7

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

Chapter 14 be deleted in its entirety and the following substituted:

"Section 1. Every dog show shall have one or more qualified veterinarians in attendance before and during the entire progress of the show or within easy call.

"Section 2. The bench show committee of an all-breed club or a specialty club holding a dog show must elect whether all dogs are to be inspected in respect to their apparent health before being admitted to the show or whether dogs will be allowed to enter a show's premises without such inspection. If the bench show committee decides that all dogs are to be inspected, the designation "Examined Show" shall be printed on the title page of the premium list and catalogue.

"Section 3. An "Examined Show" is one at which each dog is subject to a health inspection by one of the show's veterinarians before being allowed to enter the show's premises.

"Section 4. For an "Examined Show" a club must employ a sufficient number of qualified veterinarians to insure the inspection and admission of dogs without undue delay and shall arrange to have its full complement of veterinarians present during the hours of the show when dogs will be admitted. If dogs are to be admitted to a show's premises before the published opening hour, then the bench show committee of a club must arrange to have one or more of its veterinarians on duty during such time.

"Section 5. At an "Examined Show" the veterinarian must indicate on the identification card of each dog after examination, a certification of such examination, and no dog shall be considered officially admitted until this certificate is so attached. Any exhibitor must show the identification card of his dog to the steward upon entering the ring if requested to do so, by any competing exhibitor, and if the said card shall not contain the certification of the veterinarian the steward shall see to it that the said dog is removed from the show and the Show Superintendent shall within ten days after the show report all such cases to The Canadian Kennel Club. When appealed to by a judge or when giving an opinion on a protest to the show committee, he shall immediately render his decision in writing. The exhibitor shall be subject to disciplinary action if his dog enters a show without veterinary inspection.

Where, in the opinion of the official veterinarian inspecting the dogs before entry into a show building, a dog has distemper, or other communicable disease, or any condition which is considered, by the official veterinarian, to be prejudicial to the health of dogs entering the show, he shall reject the entry of the dog and report such rejection to the Show Superintendent who shall following the show, report such rejection to The Canadian Kennel Club. The person presenting the dog for veterinary inspection, when advised by the official veterinarian that the dog has been rejected shall at once remove the dog from the show premises. No claim may be made against the official veterinarian, the show-giving club or any official, for such rejection, nor may entry fees be refunded.

"Section 6. At an "Examined Show" the veterinarian shall sign every identification card after examining the dog or dogs covered by the identification card. Veterinarians also shall be furnished with a handy receptacle, containing a proper disinfectant for use after handling each dog.

A veterinarian who desires a dog's mouth to be opened may request the owner or person in charge to open it.

"Section 7. At an 'Examined Show' any person who takes any dog into a dog show without official veterinary inspection as above described, or who takes a dog into a show that has been rejected by the official veterinarian or exposed to any dog suffering from any contagious disease within thirty days prior to the show shall be subject to disciplinary action by the Board of Directors.

"Section 8. A report of any infraction of these rules must be made to the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club within ten days after the closing of the show."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Barbara L. Mill, Mrs. S. V. B. Roberts, Mrs. Dawn Topalian, George D. Donaldson, Mr. & Mrs. D. G. Anderson.

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

The first sentence of Section 1, Chapter 16, be amended to read as follows:

"Every dog entered in Championship or Specialty Championship Shows held under these rules, except only those breeds designated by the Board as being eligible to compete in the Miscellaneous Class, must be registered or eligible for registration in the Stud Book of The Canadian Kennel Club."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Agnes S. Simpson, Mrs. Margot Bowden, A. H. Dodds, Mrs. V. C. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. F. O. Wood.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 9

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

A new subsection be added to Section 2, Chapter 16, to read as follows:

"(c) That it is one of the breeds designated by the Board as being eligible to compete in the Miscellaneous Class."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Agnes S. Simpson, Mrs. Margot Bowden, A. H. Dodds, Mrs. V. C. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. F. O. Wood.

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

The last paragraph of Section 2, Chapter 16, be amended to read as follows:

"Except in the case of dogs entered in the Miscellaneous Class, The Canadian Kennel Club shall have the right, at any time, to require the owner of a 'listed' dog to submit proof of the dog's eligibility for registration in the Club's Stud Book, and if the Board of Directors is satisfied that the dog is not eligible for registration in the Club's Stud Book, it shall have the right to order the cancellation of all wins, championship points, and prizes earned by the dog under these Dog Show Rules. By failing to comply with the Board's order to return ribbons and/or prizes to the clubs or associations concerned the owner of the dog automatically renders himself ineligible in any competition approved by the Club."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Agnes S. Simpson, Mrs. Margot Bowden, A. H. Dodds, Mrs. V. C. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. F. O. Wood.

WUNDERBAR DACHSHUNDS

Dachshunds are our business — our only business

Warmest holiday greetings to our many friends across Canada

CHAMPION WUNDERBAR'S CRUSADER 'LOUIE'

Handled exclusively by Mr. A. Burden.

AT STUD

BY RESERVATION

FEE SEVENTY-FIVE DOLLARS

'LOUIE' was an all-time Dachshund puppy winner and he has continued taking top honors as 'an under two year old'.
Shown fifteen times under fifteen different Judges who were from the U.S.A. and across Canada.

HIS SHOW RECORD STANDS:

15 times shown — 15 Best of Breed (UNDEFEATED).
9 Best Canadian Bred in Group — 7 first in Group — 2 second in Group —
3 third in Group — 1 fourth in Group — and BEST IN SHOW (ALL BREEDS).

We offer two outstanding red male puppies sired by 'LOUIE' and out of our lovely Ch. Wunderbar's Salute (a Britto daughter) also one cherry red male puppy out of the repeat mating that gave us Ch. Crusader (Louie), Ch. Krista and Ch. Red Daemon. Wunderbar's Louie Too is a duplicate of his older brother — same fabulous head with the body to match. We feel that he is better than 'Louie'. These puppies will be sold only to "show" breeders.

CONGRATULATIONS TO —

Wunderbar's 'Tis Moe, owned by Mr. Zimmerman, Medicine Hat.
Wunderbar's 'Tis Louie, owned by Mr. Phillips, Calgary, on their recent wins at Edmonton, Alta. These eight months old puppies are 'Louie's' first get in Canada.

HAPPY LANDINGS TO —

Wunderbar's Hi Falutin, Mrs. Jean MacQueen, Glace Bay, N.S.
Wunderbar's Gai Trouper, Mr. Avon Baker, Fallmouth, N.S.

Our grateful 'THANK YOU' to the Judges who found 'Louie' outstanding and especially to Mr. A. Burden who made his outstanding show career such a pleasure.

and Afghan Races before a crowd of upwards of 30,000 at The Empire Stadium in Vancouver, B.C.

The occasion was a Western Conference Football Match between the B.C. Lions and the Saskatchewan Roughriders, and the racing was scheduled as the pre-game entertainment.

Twelve racing Whippets, four Afghans, and three Borzois provided the entertainment, and each hound was handled by Junior Members of the club, and a team of handlers provided by The Vancouver Junior Kennel Club. All handlers were dressed in white and wore colored sashes to match the color of the racing blanket of the individual hound being handled.

The program comprised two Whippet, two Afghan races and a demonstration by the Borzois.

The crowd reaction was most enthusiastic, and many appreciative comments were received after the game; which, incidentally, was won by the B.C. Lions.

The club membership may be very satisfied with the reaction to just one more effort to bring their hounds to the notice of the public.

Background of a Top Boxer

Ch. Bonnie Lee's Sweetie Pie, owned and bred by Mr. and Mrs. Scott McNair, Bonnie Lee Kennels, Reg'd., Ilderton, Ont., born September 20, 1961, is one of the top Boxers over the past 2½ years. She is the progeny of some of the top dogs in the breed.

Her dam, Havilands Primadonna, is by Ch. Haviland's Storm-away, who is the son of Ch. Bang Away of Sirrah Crest; Primadonna's dam goes back to Ch. Jered's Spellbinder line.

The sire of Pie, Haviland's Sir Echo, also goes back to Ch. Bang Away, and his dam goes back to Ch. Southdown's Vido, who was a great specimen of the breed.

"Yes, he's a Dachshund. How did you guess?"

The Rare White

A beautiful color of Collie rarely seen is the white. This is one of the four colors recognized in the Standard, but has long been subject to debate.
While the white is predominantly white, preferably with sable or tricolor markings, blue merle coloring is undesirable in the white. The color-bred, color-marked white, maintains Grace Clark Seaman, is not a new color in the breed, but actually one of the oldest of the Collie colors. For many years the sable and white and the tri-color stole the popularity from the white. However, some breeders have retained the lovely white. Do not, urges Oren D. Kem, be "horrified at mating white to white". If there is no albino involved, he points out, why should there be any more worry about mating one kind of piebald than another? (Both sable and white and white with sable markings are classified generically as piebald.)

The Incomparable Ace

The magnificent orange sable Shetland Sheepdog, English Champion Helensdale Ace, was whelped April 26, 1949 and from the first, this spectacular showman made history.
He was the youngest Sheltie ever to win a Challenge Certificate, which he did at his first show, the Scottish Kennel Club Show, October 30, 1949, at the tender age of six months and four days. He won his second Certificate at Birmingham on December 15, 1949, also winning Best of Breed. He completed his championship, winning his third Certificate, as well as the Junior Warrant, at Crufts in 1950, at the age of nine months. On January 1 1951, Ace won Best in Show, all breeds, at Aberdeen and his greatest triumph was Best in Show, in an entry of over 2300 dogs, at Birmingham September 1, 1951. He won another Best in Show at West of England Ladies' Kennel Society in 1955, and won a total of 11 Challenge Certificates.

Ch. Helensdale Ace was bred by James G. Saunders, of Cults, Aberdeen, Scotland, and was a product of a mother to son mating. His dam, Helensdale Gentle Lady (daughter of Ch. Nicky of Aberlour) was bred to her small, shaded sable son, Ch.

Beautiful litter (4 males, 3 females) sired by Canadian Grand Victor and Canadian and American Champion HARRY VOM DONAUKI, Sch. H.III out of TOSCA DE LA GASCOGNE, our Caesar great-granddaughter — tremendous possibilities. 3 males and 1 female for sale priced from $150 to $200.

9 Pine Avenue, St. Basile le Grand
Quebec, Canada (OL 3-4512)

Helensdale Bahn, and Ace was the lone survivor of the litter of six. Ch.
Bahn himself was a top sire and won the Stud Dog Trophy in 1950. Ace resembled his grandsire, Ch. Nicky, from whom he inherited his glorious orange coat, with snowy white markings and his superb showmanship and air of distinction.

Ace was unparalleled as a show dog, but even more successful at stud.
He sired 11 British Champions and two American Champions. The best of his champions was considered by many to be his daughter, Eng. and Can. Ch. Helensdale Wendy, winner of four Challenge Certificates and the Junior Warrant by the time she was 18 months old. She was exported to Canada at the age of two and a half years, and was the dam of five
standing son in England. Helensdale Frolic, who has sired five British Champions to date. Ace's best son was Champion Alasdair of Tintobank, sire of nine Champions. Another outstanding son is Champion Laird of Whytelaw.
Mr. and Mrs. Saunders considered Wendy's younger sister, Helensdale Wanda, to be Ace's best offspring.
Wanda, now 10 years old, was shown very little, but she has produced several winners, including the lovely Ch. Helensdale Vanessa, who won the bitch Certificate at Crufts in 1961, when just 10 months old. Vanessa's daughter, Sumburg Flame, is now in Canada.

Ace was also a stage star, as he appeared on the stage of His Majesty's Theatre in the Harry Gordon
"Half Past Eight Show" as the Shepherd's dog, and he loved it. He had a happy, outgoing temperament, and his owners adored him. He died tragically on May 22, 1957, of weed killer poisoning and his sire, Ch.
Bahn, died a month later, as he never recovered from his grief at Ace's death.

This fabulous dog made a terrific impact on the breed and it would be difficult to find a winning strain in Britain that does not carry his blood.
The top-winning young dog in Britain
today, Ch. Antoc Sealodge Spotlight, winner of 10 Challenge Certificates to date, is a great-grandson. A great-granddaughter, Eng. Ch. Francehill Dry Ginger, exported in whelp to Canada this year, is already a Canadian Champion as well. She was shown only six times, while completely out of coat due to whelping her litter. A lone pup, Ronas Hill Fiona, survived from Ginger's litter and she is sired by Nutshell of Whytelaw, he by Ace's son, Ch. Laird of Whytelaw.
Another Ace descendant, Eng.
Ch. Honey Boy of Callart, exported to Canada this year, is now a Canadian Champion too. Thus, these many imports ensure a good concentration of Ace's blood in Canada.

Jim Saunders was an inspired and dedicated breeder, and his contribution to the breed will never be equalled, as his Helensdale Champions have dominated the show rings of the world from 1920 until 1961, from his earliest Champions, Eng. and Am.

Ch. Helensdale Laddie and Eng. and Am. Ch. Rob Roy O'Pages Hill, to the last, Ch. Helensdale Vanessa.

Both Ace and his breeder are gone now, as Jim Saunders passed away in his sleep on March 1, 1964 but they live on in the memory of all fanciers and breeders of the Shetland Sheepdog.

— by Helen Lovel

Temperament in the Shepherd

Temperament is a word that is bandied back and forth by all breeders, both novice and veteran, yet it is doubtful if all or half know what the word implies, for all breeders have their own interpretation. Few aspire to achieve the strict German thoroughness, which demands rigid attention and immobile nerves under improbable duress, i.e. guns fired overhead, dish pans rattled behind unsuspecting dogs. Nor do we want a return of the shy fear biters of the thirties. Instead we want to try for a happy medium.

Our ideal dog is alert and fearless but not a friendly fellow, one who will meet strangers with neither a growl or a kiss but with dignity and reservation.

To produce such dogs we must choose our female with greater and greater care, for she lays the foundation not only for ourselves but for countless others. What she produces in her first few litters must guide us in later selection of studs for her and her progeny. Long before her time of breeding we must study her pedigree and select one of her ancestors who we know to have a reputation for steadiness of temperament and who is prepotent for it. He must also have type, character and intelligence. If he is also endowed with show points, so much the better. Then we must find one of his progeny who combines these attributes and who is free from whatever fault or faults our female has. Then we are ready for our first mating. An inbred or line bred animal will be more prepotent than one of any chance breeding, and will give us greater scope in plotting our breeding program.

Now if we happen to have one female and find that she is nervous the best remedy is to give her away or spay her. If her capital outlay was such that this seems impossible, then search her pedigree with a very careful eye, and when she has been bred and has her litter, let her alone with her brood, for a day or two. Then handle them whenever possible, and take them away from her as soon as they are weaned, and put them with a gay and friendly dog. Make sure they are handled with extreme gentleness but by yourself and all visitors.

In any litter temperaments will vary, for no two dogs receive the same degree of each hormone, so each dog reacts to every situation completely independent of litter brothers and sisters. We must watch the puppies when they play and look for signs of the over aggressive pup, the whiner, loner and biter. All these want and need more individual attention. The aggressive one must be controlled in his play from the first and learn that no means no. The loner must be loved and petted and taken in company and learn to meet crowds before he becomes set in his ways. No puppy is hopeless but all need different treatment and kind firm voices.

I think if all breeders would read our breed Standard on temperament, cut it out and frame it, and study it we would be on the path to producing dogs that would make the "sixties" the best decade yet for the Shepherd.

—Mrs. James Meagher

Can A Shepherd Be Shown And Trained At The Same Time?

I have heard comments from German Shepherd owners, among other breed owners, that they wouldn't put their dogs in Obedience as it spoils them for showing.

In my opinion a Shepherd can be shown and trained at the same time. Obedience is of great importance in showing dogs. Even if we don't go to Obedience classes, we are still more or less training our dog to stand up for conformation showing. Taking young Shepherds to classes accustoms them to other dogs and people. The Long Sit and Down in a row is a fine education for the very young and helps the shy ones get over their stage fright in show rings.

The dog learns the Stand at Obedience among other things and when you show him he does it automatically. He will stand and stay for the judge, who can go over him without any trouble. This makes showing a pleasure for dog, judge and owner.

At a recent breed survey in Winnipeg I heard Judge Grant Mann telling some owners: "Your dog is fine, (but) you should give him some Obedience training."

— Mrs. R. Koski

Memory Like A Great Dane

In addition to the many other qualities attributed the Great Dane, the breed has an exceptional memory. From Rotterdam, Holland comes the story of a Dane whose master had to take him to the veterinarian for treatment of a severe sore throat. The two men had extreme difficulty in holding the dog while the throat was painted with nitrate of silver. The veterinarian was astounded one day several months later when the dog appeared at his doorstep, begging to be admitted. The Dane did everything he could to call attention to his throat, putting his head on the doctor's knee, opening his mouth wide. The veterinarian understood, and while he repeated the disagreeable and painful treatment, the dog was perfectly quiet and co-operative. For a joke the doctor slipped a bill for services underneath the dog's collar. In this way the owner was aware for the first time of the repetition of the sore throat.

Newfoundland Dog On Stamps

The Newfoundland was the first dog ever to be shown on a stamp. First issued in Newfoundland, in 1887, it is known as the "half-cent rose". The stamp was reissued in 1894 as the "half-cent black" and once more in 1896 in an orange-red tone, now a rarity.

The Newfoundland government issued another stamp honoring its native dog in 1932. Known as the "14-cent black", it was reissued five years later as part of the coronation series and bore the head of the then new monarch, King George VI.

Model for the stamp was Ch. Westerland Sieger, from the kennels of the late Hon. Harold Macpherson.

edge of the St. Bernard Club of On-

New Samoyed Club Formed

Born: a new Samoyed club with an overseas affiliation. The International Samoyed Society has just been formed by a group of well-known Samoyed enthusiasts. It is affiliated with the British Samoyed Club whose membership numbers 8,000 around the world.

President of the new club is Mrs.
Lorna Jackson, Lorn-Hall Kennels, Zephyr, Ont.; 1st Vice President is
Mrs. Betty Dickson of Ziska Kennels, Dorchester, Ont.; 2nd Vice President,
Len Cozens, Samoyedena Kennels, Stouffville, Ont. Secretary is Mrs. M.
Lawson, Raweeka Samoyed Kennels,
Box 1, Mono Road Station, Ont. Honorary Life President is Miss Marion Keyte-Perry, owner of the world-famous Arctic Kennels in England, and President of the British Samoyed Club. She is also an aunt of Mrs.
Dickson. The initial executive will hold office for three years.

The President informs Dogs that serious owners and breeders of Samoyeds, judges, handlers or persons who have owned a Samoyed or are vitally interested in the breed for its betterment and to promote the present day dogs as close to the original standard as possible, are invited to write the Secretary regarding membership. The invitation is extended to Americans as well as Canadians.

Prime purpose of the club is "to help educate new owners, breeders, judges, to the best of all our members' capabilities as to correct type, soundness, etc., and above all, interested in each other."

In a letter to the members of the new club Miss Keyte-Perry stated:
"I feel very honored you have asked me to be an Honorary President — which I accept, with every good wish for its success, which I am certain is assured . . . I appreciate the wonderful work Mrs. Jackson has done for the Samoyed and all Nordic breeds, and you could not possibly have a better President."

Samoyeds In B.C.

"The big white dog which carries in its face and heart the spirit of Christmas the whole year through." This is the Samoyed.

This lovely breed has come a long way and many a judge will agree. The Group winning of the Sams of today does not take a back seat to any other working dog.

Breeders have shown over the past few years their earnest attempts to learn, to improve and to present their fine specimens in the show ring.

They have done well in sled racing, Obedience and show rings and are to be commended on their efforts to uphold this loyal breed.

Now we find ourselves at the crossroads. We Canadians have a breed Standard which varies considerably from that of our friends across the border. This presents many problems for our judges, American judges on Canadian circuits and certainly the exhibitors from either country.

This situation has reached great proportions with regard to entering and exhibiting in both countries. We welcome U.S. competition but we cannot expect it if our Standards are so different. A dog is a dog in any country and shouldn't be poor in one and a top Group contender in the other by just crossing an imaginary line.

If the breeder sincerely works for the betterment of this breed, we shall continue to improve our Sam, but with more freedom to do so. After all, the Samoyed is not a cross between two breeds; our problem should not be so difficult. Let us hear from judges, breeders and handlers and let us work without personal prejudice toward a sound, beautiful and intelligent Samoyed.

which they excel) that many people overlook their natural ability to work livestock.

Since our kennel is on a small farm we have excellent opportunity to observe the natural inclinations of these active little beauties. Their tendency is definitely to herd (or bunch) anything from chickens to horses. However, it is easy for them to "chase away" on command, it is easier to teach them to "bring" to you the stock in question.

We sold a pair to the Wood Echo Dairy Farm. One is the children's companion, the other the cattle dog; both will manoeuvre the cows and save their owners endless steps. Now their puppy, age seven months, is right on the job too.

Another pup, with the little flock of Skye Glen sheep, will follow them to pasture to keep them herded as they graze, for hours at a time.

It would be good to see more of these dogs getting out onto the farms and ranches. As long as we breed good Shelties, keeping clear of highly nervous or timid dogs, we certainly have potential workers.

The Dog That Wears Its Own Sleeping Bag

Without such sturdy sled dogs as the Siberian Husky, wrote Admiral Peary,
"it would be folly to think of attempting the conquest of the 'Great Ice'."

"It's easier to train the dogs than the drivers," states Mrs. Milton Seeley, owner of Chinook Kennels, Wona-lancet, N.H., famous kennels where innumerable sled dogs have been raised and trained for Antarctic expeditions and wartime search and rescue missions.

The Siberian Husky, speediest of the sled dogs, is truly built for his work. He has a "snowshoe foot" with thick fur between the toes, and a plumed tail. His heavy double coat serves as a natural sleeping bag.
Some strains of the Husky have blue eyes, which appears to immunize them against the sled dog's occupational hazard, snow-blindness.

Both sexes should be sturdy, well muscled and boned."

In the past ten or more years that the writer has been observing this breed it is a rare good specimen which came even close to the Standard in height. All the outstanding ones were either over 23" and this includes some females, or more than slightly under the desirable height.

Ch. Bengal Sabu with several Best in Shows to his credit is a good little dog who invariably is made to look even smaller by being confronted by several much larger daughters at the same show, if not in the ring at the same time. Most of the recent imports from England are predominately larger with a few females being even bigger than the males.

We have noticed that not only one type of Airedale is shown and wins but venture to say there might be as many as four good types:

1. The shorter cobbler dog found in the mid-western States.

2. The taller, rangier but all terrier from the West Coast.

3. The finer elegant ones from the eastern part of the continent.

4. The coarse-headed chap with maybe the best body of all.

All are good types, but it takes a good judge to assess the value of each and sort them out, should he meet all four of them in the same class. We would venture to say this happens often at Canadian shows today, as we import more than we are sending away.

Selective breeding might tighten the mold but the human factor of preference is always present. Called the King of Terriers, we hope he always remains so. For in all types one finds the same loyal sweet-tough dog able to adapt to all situations.

From the breeding point of view I would say that the big ones have given the breed most of its quality. There are some good little ones, which have gained their championships but it is the larger studs and females which have produced the top ones of today.

— Mary E. Curran

Australian Terrier Temperament

The Australian Terrier is one of the quietest of the Terriers. He is not a yappy, snappy or quarrelsome dog. He minds his own business and does not take part in any barking or scrapping in the show ring. Should the need arise, he is more than able to take care of himself, as only a Terrier can.

Anyone that has seen a Terrier fight will know what I mean. The Aussie is a wonderful, loyal and loving family dog. He can be a quiet loving companion for Grandma and Grandad and turn around and be a rough and tumble playmate for the wildest of little boys. He will attend a tea party with little girls and be a perfect little guest and enjoy every tid bit.

Should you live in the country where there are gophers, woodchucks or even mice and moles, watch him take after them and go to ground. I have seen one owned by Mrs. Kelway work a field and put up a bird that would make a bird dog sit up and take notice. The Aussie is a grand little watch dog, barking to warn you of visitors then being still when the company is accepted.

To sum up the Aussie temperament, is to say he will adapt himself to what is required of him.

— Mrs. Rose Parker

New Bedlington Manual

Nicest possible gift for a Bedlington owner (other than another Bedlington), is the new 1964 edition of the Manual of the Bedlington Terrier Club of America, Inc. Containing a wealth of information, it is in a format designed for individual reference and use and comes in a loose leaf form with a good-looking vinyl cover and ring capacity to insert your own notes.

Among contents: origins of the breed, Bedlington Terriers in North America, resumé of breed growth, all about dog shows, the Bedlington and obedience, trimming, grooming and many other important sections. For your copy, write Mrs. Seeley H. Brewer, 230 Main St., Ovid, N.Y.

Preparing The Cairn

On being invited to write on Preparing the Cairn for the Show Ring I must point out that every one has tools he likes best. Some take off more than others. Fortunately our breed needs the least trimming of any terrier.

It is easier to do the job in front of a mirror. Strip off all long hairs on the ears. Brush head furnishings forward and trim those that come to the nose. Trim around the face to look like a halo. A neck is improved by using trimming shears back to the shoulders and down outside of front legs. Make the tail a nice tidy V and take down hair under the tail. Show off the cat feet by trimming around, and be sure the nails are kept clipped.

"He's almost human, isn't he?"

Stand sideways. Does the back appear to rise near the tail? Use the thinners to pluck out the long hair near the tail till you have a level back. If the dog wears a bustle, thin out and pluck out the lower busy hair to give nice balance. Remember the back line must look level when the dog is standing naturally.

If you have to pull out the back legs, a la Great Dane stacking, then the stifles are too straight to begin with, though a Cairn is never as "tucked under" as a Westie.

Last, but not least, do not bath within four days of a show.

— L. M. Wood

Should Wire and Smooth Fox Terriers Be Interbred?

I can appreciate that to go into this subject would most certainly enliven the interest not only of the Wire and Smooth Fox Terrier breeders but also with the Dachshund breeders who, at this present time are having quite a holocaust regarding this very same subject and of registering the resultant progeny as purebred.

The Wire Fox Terrier Year Book for 1934 relates that interbreeding of Wires and Smooths was quite commonly practiced from the late 18th century up to the year 1913 in order to produce better coat and feet in the Wires, and of which the Smooths seemed to excel.

Not being a Wire breeder of long standing compared to such renowned breeders and judges whom I could name, and of whom I am proud to have had and still have as friends and teachers, I am loath to stick my neck into a noose by saying other than teachings: Breed for betterment by breeding the best with the best, each within its own class or coat.

Wires and Smooth coated Fox Terriers have not regressed in the past 50 years, but have progressed. Let us continue progressing without the 50-50 chance of all the troubles that interbreeding would entail.

Tibetan Indoor, Outdoor Guard Dogs

What dog comes from the land of mighty snow-covered peaks, a tiny dog known as the Lion Dog? The Lhasa Apso, who has known the luxury of noble Tibetan homes and for centuries has been the favorite in lamaseries.

You will recall the famous Sherpa guide who was the kingpin in the conquest of Mount Everest. Did you know that at least one of the Lhasa Apsos he raised in India was prominent at a show in London, England?

The Lhasa's exceptionally sharp hearing has made him invaluable over the centuries in Tibet where he is known as Abso Seng Kye, "Bark Lion Sentinel Dog."

The burly Tibetan Mastiff stands guard outside the house. Indoor sentinel is the exotic little Lhasa.

Preparing a Schnauzer For Show

It is impossible to over-emphasize the importance of adequate pre-show training. Particularly is this so in the case of the promising Miniature Schnauzer. It is unfair to rely solely on the Schnauzer's inherent will to please and obey, he needs show training. This means work but it could also mean the difference between a good Schnauzer and a real spintangler.

Consider the hours of handler-dog companionship our friends in Obedience spend before their first ring appearance, and learn from it.

Assuming you have a good Miniature Schnauzer, groomed according to the expert texts available through Dogs, are you and your dog prepared for the ring? Prepared to win? You are, if from young puppyhood you have held daily grooming and cage-training sessions; you have accustomed your dog to the sights, sounds and smells of a dog show at Handlers' Class, in modified Obedience training and at Sanction Shows; if you have taken the trouble to understand your Schnauzer's individual differences; if you have walked him among crowds and down busy streets and he stays steady and happy through it all; if you have encouraged his sense of humour and self-pride until his very bearing seems to shout: "Hey — look me over!" He is ready and so are you. And good showing to you both.

Miniature Schnauzers In Famous Paintings

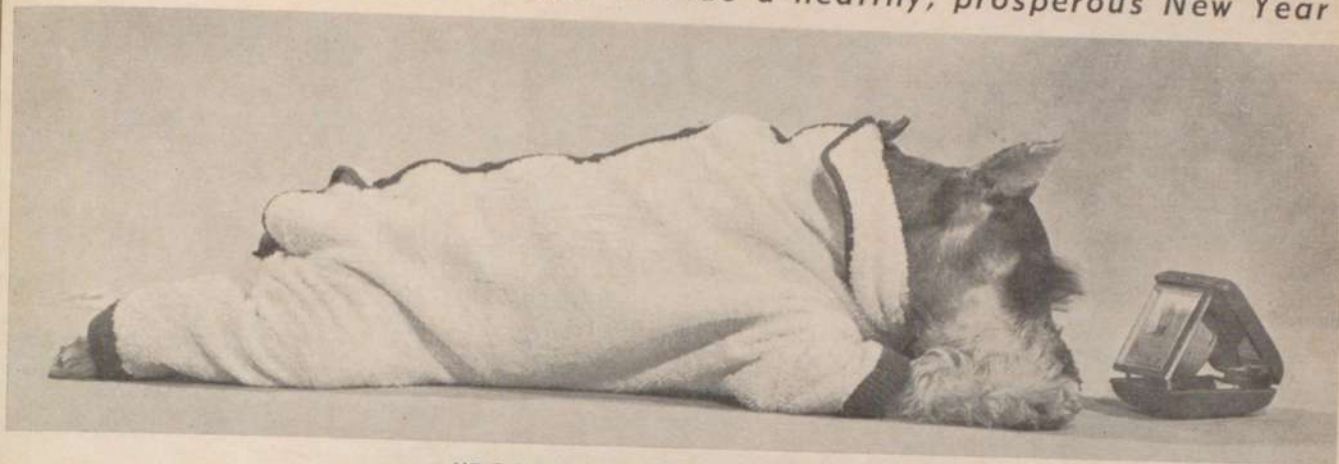

Have you noticed that dogs very similar to Miniature Schnauzers appear in a number of Rembrandt's paintings? Other painters of the early Renaissance also included dogs which closely resemble Schnauzers, among them the 15th century artist, Lucas Caranach the Elder, in his famed painting The Crown of Thorns. The dog depicted appears to be about 16" in height.

In a series of paintings spanning ten to 12 years, the renowned artist, Albrecht Dürer who lived from 1471 to 1528, showed the same dog in many poses. It is believed by art historians that the dog which appears in The Madonna With Many Animals (1492), Lovers (1496), in which the dog is shown with a couple, The Martyrdom of John, showing the dog appearing to be standing guard over the painter's initials and the Bearing of the Cross, was Dürer's own studio and companion dog. The final painting in which this particular dog appears is Christ Before Caiaphas (1504), at which time the dog would have been about 12 years old, a considerable age for those days.

Around 1880 breeders began systematically to breed the Schnauzer for type and size, and later the Miniature Schnauzer. One of the earliest breed-

A well-travelled Miniature Schnauzer, Valentina of Finbrooke, CD (Am. Can. & Bda.) went Highest Scoring Dog two days in a row in open Obedience competition recently. Valentina scored 199½ the first day and 198 the second. She is owned and handled by Joan Inman, Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

Scottish Imports

To help further the Scottish Terrier in Canada Am. Ch. Mel-Jean's Masterpiece (Mack) has been imported by Jack and Lucille Harris of Harris-Shire Kennels, Komoka, Ont. He is a son of Ch. Erin's Juggernaut, grandson of Ch. (Can. Am. & Eng.) Westpark Derriford Baffie, noted top winner and great grandson of Ch. (Can. Am. & Eng.) Westpark Romeo.

Still another sire was needed, so Madthorn and Harris-Shire joined in importing the vivacious Raven to complement the dignified Mack. He is Am. Ch. Reanda Royal Raven, son of Ch. Reanda Rohan, grandson of the famous Ch. (Can., Am. & Eng.) Westpark Derriford Baffie and great grandson of Ch. (Can., Am. & Eng.) Westpark Romeo.

Their progeny will be shown in the Spring, state the new owners.

No Color Change In Welsh History

While color changes have taken place in numerous breeds over the years, the Welsh Terrier black and tan or black grizzle and tan has remained the same. The style, however, has changed considerably from that of Ch. Bangor Dau Lliw, the first Welsh Terrier champion, a female, bred by Mr. W. A. Dew in 1885.

The skull has departed from the apple shape to a more refined appearance. The original round cheeks are flatter and more commensurate with the muzzle. The mouth appears more firm and strong. The beard, of course, absent in the first show Terriers, further enhances the impression.

The original Welsh Terrier was a little longer in leg, and for a practical purpose. Many of the hunts used the Welsh to run with their hounds. The slim Welsh could squeeze into narrow apertures in the wild rocky mountain areas, close after the hunted fox or otter. He was quick and active enough to leap onto ledges as well.

In the early days pedigrees were not kept until around 1850. But the lack of transportation necessitated breeding to local females and almost every district developed its own strain.

Preparing The West Highland White Terrier For Show

Four months before the show, using finger and thumb or stripping knife, pull out the hard outer coat, starting at back of neck, down back, tail, neck, chest, sides and rear, to an imaginary line from chest bone across to rear, leaving the skirting.

Tidy face, legs, by pulling out longest hair only. These latter parts take a long time to grow.

Keep brushing as often as possible, always keeping hair flat, never letting the hair on chest and neck get too thick, but making sure it blends into the rest of the body. The tail should be spear-shaped.

A few days before the show, with finger and thumb, trim around the edge of ears, and one inch down from tips, until smooth and velvety.

Clip nails, trim feet with scissors to a neat round shape, clean teeth and inside ears.

Bathe the dog, rinse well, rub with towel almost dry. Brush him all over lightly, the way the hair is supposed to lie. Dust him over lightly with chalk. Dry with dryer, keeping every hair flat.

Be sure before going into the ring that the dog is brushed and combed, and that all chalk has been patted out of coat, as many judges take a dim view of getting chalk on the hands.

Chihuahua Club of America Specialty

The annual specialty show was held at the La Salle Hotel in Chicago, Sunday, November 15. Besides their regular show they also held a Puppy Sweepstakes for the second year in a row which was a great success. Puppy Sweepstakes judge was Mrs. Eunice B. Clark from Hinckley, Ohio. There were 14 Long Coat puppies and 24 Smooth Coats.

The regular show was judged at noon following the Sweepstakes and the judge was Mr. Percy Roberts from Connecticut. There were 51 Long Coat (15 dogs, 21 females, 13 Specials, one Stud Dog Class, one Brood Bitch Class) and 75 Smooth Coats (27 dogs, 34 females, 19 Specials, three Veterans, one Stud Dog, one Brace Class), making a total of 126 Chihuahuas being judged.

Canadian exhibitors did well, placing in the show. Judith Finch from Unionville, Ont. (Long Coat) won RW in the Puppy Sweepstakes with her homebred Arriba's Butterfly, as well as RW female with her Ch. (Can. & Bda.) Luce's Empress Carlotta (over 20 other females). Arthur Samuels, from Mimico, Ont. (Smooth Coats) won the Puppy class, six to nine months, over six other puppies with Shillmaine's La Sortija Plata and also RW with his Can. Ch. Shillmaine's Pocohontas, over 33 females.

Sandra Nelles, Unionville, Ont. (Smooth Coat) won the Novice and came second in American Bred and Open, defeating 25 dogs with her Can. Ch. Marie's Wee Scallywag, male.

Results of the show were as follows:

A MinPin Breeder Writes

On the Breeding of Good Dogs

The basis of a good breeding program is a working knowledge of genetics, plus care in the selection of all breeding stock and the planning of the matings.

An understanding of the transmission of hereditary characteristics from generation to generation in the form of both dominant and recessive genes, is important. While dominant genes will be shown on the surface (being present in the dog thus able to be seen) the recessive genes may remain hidden for several generations until a common gene is encountered, thus bringing the fault or quality to the surface. It must also be understood that on occasions mutations will occur.

Selectivity is very important to a good program. The mating of a female should be planned long before she comes into heat. Be sure that the male chosen is the most suitable one available, who does not possess common faults. Line breeding is the best way to gain the desirable results, intensifying the qualities of the background and coupled with care in selection can give you a most successful program. Avoid doubling on serious faults either possessed by the individuals being bred or by their common ancestors.

It is not necessary that a dog be a champion to be a good producer, as it has been proven over and over again that a dog of good breeding, that has never obtained a title, has produced champions of top quality.

Breeding is, in the overall picture, only part of the art of producing quality . . . the care and feeding of the female during her pregnancy and of the puppies after whelping, training, all contribute to the making of a champion.

— Mrs. W. Wartnow

Preparing a Peke for the Show Ring

There are many methods, and we have tried many of them, but have found the following the easiest and most practical for us.

We actually start the intensified care months before the show. We make the coat dressing we use, from equal parts of bay rum and rosemary water, then strained through cheese cloth before putting it in our sprayer. This spray will not dry the coat which many of the coat dressings on the market do when used daily. We spray the coat lightly and rub it into the coat, leaving the dog to dry for an hour. Then brush, starting behind the ears, brushing always towards the head, brush the hair layer by layer as you work down the body and sides.

We train our Pekes to lie on their backs completely relaxed, so they can be brushed from under their chins down to their tails. The ear fringes, skirts and tail plume are sprayed with a light oil, we use Vam, then roll up the hair in cellophane and held by a rubber band. These rolls must not be left in longer than three days as the hair above the roll tends to matt.
Brush feathering carefully, re-spray and re-roll, always checking that the ear leather or tail bone are not held in the band as it could cause serious trouble if this happened and the circulation were cut off. This care of feathering will pay off in extra length and thickness as you avoid any breakage of hair.

Always check the Peke's eyes to see they are bright and free from foreign matter. Clean wrinkle and stop with a damp cloth. Once a month, we cut the hair from between the toes and pads, being careful not to cut their toe feathers. And check their toe nails for correct length.

Three days before the show we fill the dog's coat with Johnson's Baby Powder and leave it in for several hours to absorb all oil and dirt out of the coat. Put extra powder in all feathering which has been kept in oil. The powder will clean the coat beautifully. Brush as usual until all traces of powder has gone. It may take more than one brushing to eliminate the powder. We keep the rolls done up, without any oil spray, until five hours before showtime. We undo the rolls which will be quite curly, brush them out carefully.

There is nothing to do now but wait. One hour before ring time spray the dog lightly with the bay rum, leave till dry and as usual brush and brush. Before going into the ring, check the eyes and wipe face gently to be sure that the mask looks clean, set your lead in and away you go into the ring.

And may the best Peke win.

— Carita Grieve

Import BIS Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hueston of Peterborough, Ont. have imported a Pekinese from the United States. She is a daughter of the winning Peke, Ch. Nia Jai Niki of Orchard Hill, who took BIS at the Pekinese Club of America Specialty Show, Bronxville, N.Y.

Purchasing a Peke

For exhibition purposes, suggests Rose Marie Katz in her book This is the Pekinese, it is advisable to purchase at over two months to a year, at which time its approximation to the Standard can be best evaluated.

"It has been said the best time to select the best puppy from the litter is at the age of 11 months, 29 days and 23 hours. In other words, one can never really be positive of how a puppy will mature until he has already done so."

30 Years of Breeding Pomeranians

Pomeranians, one of the loveliest of dogs, have been my hobby for some 30 years. I have been breeding and showing Poms both in Canada and the States, have many Canadian champions, and two well on their way to becoming Canadian and American champions.

Pomeranians make wonderful little pets, very spirited and saucy, cute and appealing. They are easily trained and good in the home.

One of the many good things about breeding and showing dogs are the people one meets. While attending the Pomeranian Specialty Show in New York, where I have been fortunate enough to have two wins, I met the Baroness Levi, of Florence, Italy, who had all her dogs confiscated during the war and had to start over again. It has been my pleasure to help her with five of my little dogs.

While my main interest is showing, my husband is very interested in Obedience, and has put two of our dogs through to their CDX.

I do not know if this is any kind of record, but our Pom-Pom of El-mack produced a litter of one at the ripe old age of 13. Her daughter, now seven, is still with us.

— Elsie McDermott

Pomeranians Increase

About ten years ago many Canadians asked Dogs in Canada where they could find a Pomeranian. They had had them at home, they said, and wanted their own children to know the pleasure of this little dog. At the time there were only a few kennels who had faithfully kept up the breed in its fine quality.

It is a pleasure to note that in 1962, 484 litters of Pomeranians were registered. The total of 566 males and 590 females brought a total of 1,156 Pomeranians registered. In that same period ten champions were made. The year before, although registrations were slightly lower, 21 Poms earned their championship.

Pugs Rate "A Plus" In Personality

If dogs were judged purely on personality, one of the top contenders would be the Pug. A great favorite of the "Gay '90's" period, he disappeared from fashion for a number of years, but is now climbing steadily upwards. An ideal dog for the small house or apartment, he is nevertheless a sturdy, husky fellow. Behind that black mask and those serious dark eyes is a clown, a creature curious as a cat, a little show-off who adores to learn tricks and perform. He is like a dignified little old lady who loves to rhumba.

Surprisingly, the Pug is a real hunting dog, if given the chance. This little society companion can, if called upon, give a good account of himself in a fight, but he is not a fracas starter. It is said that the male Pug is a gentleman, the female a real lady.

Peeves about Pugs

I appreciate being asked by the Editors to comment on Pugs — particularly my "pet peeves"!

Quite often one sees articles on size in Pugs; some breeders pleading for smaller specimens — and others, equally enthusiastic about the larger type! Frankly, size is not one of my peeves! I feel that (unless too great extreme in over or under size) this fact is not too important, providing the Pug is well balanced and in proportion. Over the years I have seen both types deservedly winning.

My particular "peeve" is the seemingly utter disregard, by many judges, of the points in the Pug Standard. I fully realize that, to a great degree, it is the overall picture that influences a judge. But I do feel that, in the case of our breed, the matter of black toe nails, a well defined trace, and the dark eyes emphasized in the Standard, are of importance. To me, light eyes in a Pug present a most glaring fault and one difficult to breed out. It keeps cropping up for many generations.

If such points as white toe nails, no trace, light eyes, are not considered faults in our show rings, the Pug of the not too distant future will have lost its characteristic difference and be a rather nondescript dog!

— Mrs. M. Cooper

the case with many of the Terrier breeds, Spaniels and others. He has never become common and consequently his evaluation has never dropped through the centuries. He has always been associated with affluence. Dutch Pugs were introduced to England about the time William and Mary of Orange were elevated to the English throne. Since that time, however, the Pug has become refined in body and head, they are smaller and less leggy.

The Ups And Downs Of The Toy Manchester

This diminutive dog was named for the city of Manchester, England, where he was most notably bred in the mid-Victorian era. He was first known as the Black and Tan Terrier and is thoroughly described as early as 1570 by Dr. Johannes Caius, renowned writer on dogs.

Around 1840 there was a tremendous demand for tiny Manchester Terriers. At 2½ pounds they were tiny, all right, but their lack of stamina diminished their popularity. Today's Standard allows a weight of up to 12 pounds, and the result is a healthy little dog.

The Face of a Boston

Face markings, according to many Boston Terrier fanciers, are the most critically marked of all the breed's trimming. If he possesses proper markings on the face, he is likely to be considered acceptable. Requirements are a definite blaze and two-sided muzzle band. However flashy a Boston may appear, this particular form of style must not blind the eye to the conformation. The Boston, with his clear outline unsoftened by luxuriant hair, must be good. His faults and his qualities stand out for all to see.

Bulldog Items

When a litter of Bulldog puppies, owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McCutcheon of Schomberg grow up, no doubt they will boast to their rivals that they were inspected and admired by the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario. This took place when the Hon. Earl Rowe, who is a cousin of Mr. McCutcheon, visited them recently at their new residence.

Most recent wins of the outstanding Bulldog, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Lakeland Invicta include BB at the BCA Specialty Show in Detroit, October 3, a repeat of 1963. Also BCB in Show, October 24 and BIS, October 25 at the Forest City and Sarnia KC shows held at London, Ont.

CANADIAN EXHIBITORS AND SPECTATORS

From: British Columbia: — Mrs. Vera Johnson and daughter Roxy, with their Samoyed; a Miniature Pinscher entry of W. Wartnow, shown by John Openshaw of Bermuda, and Clarice Nott's Miniature Poodle entry, handled by Pat Tripp. The only Canadian handler present, Pat, I believe, finished four dogs on this trip.

From Ontario: In Obedience, Herb McEachern and his Dachsie, and Annie McGhee with her Chihuahua. In Breed, Judith Finch and Sandra Nelles with twelve Long and Short Coat Chihuahuas, Ruth Robinson's Kerry Blue entry, and the Thorogoods with their Chihuahuas.

From Quebec: Mr. and Mrs. Irving Diamond, sole representatives, with a Miniature Smooth and Miniature Wire Dachshunds.

Also present, to cheer and encourage their countrymen, were Mrs. Tim Reid, Mrs. Dockrill and Gerry Duracher of Ottawa, with Bill Burr, Jack Brown and Mrs. Roberts representing the Toronto-Hamilton area.

Breed judge, Tim Reid and Obedience judge George Taylor, covering their assignments excellently, were fine representatives of our country and withstood the elements nobly throughout the first day's show.

Spotted at ringside — Jim Trullinger, Popular Dogs' Alice Wagner and hubby, Mrs. Ed. Pickhardt, and Joe Stetson and his bride — all well-known to the Canadian dog fancy.

Although the entry from Canada was small, Publicity Chairman Jim Hadley has great hopes that next year will see a bumper crop of old and new friends back to attend what promises to be an even bigger and better show.

Consider The Dalmatian

It would seem logical that if only Dalmatian breeders would publicize their breed more, the demand would increase. Here is a grand dog whose history as the Spotted Dog goes back though centuries. He lived two roles in the early days, as stable companion to the horses and as a dashing accompaniment to the handsome carriages of the wealthy.

Today, as a companion, he is gay, friendly and gentle and is especially good with children. For show purposes, he requires no special effort. He likes work of any kind and can be successfully trained for rabbit and gundog work.

Consider the Keeshond

This appealing breed deserves more publicity and therefore more popularity. His size is such to make him welcome in both city and country surroundings. His lush coat is easy to groom, and both inner and outer coat require a good brushing but once a week to keep healthy and beautiful. Another quality in favor of this ancient breed: he does not have a "doggy" odor.

How The Kees Was Named

Friend of the Dutch bargemen, the little Kees derived his name during the political unrest which preceded the French Revolution. Holland at the time was cleft in two: the middle class patriots and the upper-class partisans of the Prince of Orange. Cornelis van Gyselaer, leader of the popular party, did not do much to alter the course of history, but his little dog achieved undying renown. Kees, which is a nickname for Cornelis, bequeathed his name to the entire breed. Hond is the Dutch word for dog. Hence, Keeshond.

White Miniature Poodle Photographed 100 Years Ago

In the British Columbia Archives is a photograph, reproduced here, of a mining camp at whose doorstep sits a little white Poodle, appearing very much as do our Poodles today. The picture was taken about 100 years ago, in the early days of photography.

How did this elegant little creature happen to share the rough, tough life of the gold rush camp? Note the saddle burns on the dejected-looking pack horses.

This unusual photo was obtained through the B.C. Archives by Mr. James Roberts, Miniature Poodle breeder of Abbotsford, B.C.

"It is possible the Poodle travelled with its owner from San Francisco to Victoria, by riverboat northward, then via stage coach over some of the world's roughest terrain to Barkerville," surmises Mr. Roberts.

Bookkeeping versus Backyard Breeders

Although I am primarily interested in Poodles, I hope all breeders of purebred dogs will read this article and give these suggestions serious thought.

It seems strange that so many articles in American magazines show distress at the degeneration of the beautiful and noble Poodle, but little or no alarm is apparent on this side of the border. Is it because we have not yet begun to feel the bite? It will come soon, and we are all equally responsible. The American articles primarily blame the "backyard breeder". This is ridiculous. Who made the backyard breeder? We all did, in one way or another. A conscientious breeder sells his culls as pet stock to someone with no intention of breeding, but the idea of making a "fast buck" places greed over discretion and a large percentage of pets get bred — to the dog down the block.

What can we do to stop this? In the operation of a grooming salon there is good opportunity to evaluate the situation, as I see dogs from many kennels sold privately and over the garden fence.

With this article I am open to discussion and sincerely hope it will arise. First of all, how many breeders pay income tax on their profits from puppy sales? Or rather, how many file returns? Not too many, is my guess. I know that this question alone will cause indignation. Most breeders of any repute have very slim black sides to their ledgers. The red columns carry most of the action. Therefore if income tax returns were filed, careful bookkeeping would allow you to balance expenses with profits. If everyone who bred a female had to claim the puppy sales as income, perhaps some would hesitate to breed. And what of sales tax? How many of us charge this tax? Most breeders, of course, but what of Mrs. So-and-so down the street? She does not bother. What of kennel licenses? Do you not think anyone who intends to breed purebred dogs for profit should have a kennel license?

One breeder, unable to secure a kennel license in Markham Township, found it necessary to move a considerable distance at much inconvenience to herself and family. Several breeders located in the city have more dogs in their basements than this breeder has in her entire kennel. Is this fair? These people not only do not have a kennel license, but it is likely that not one of their dogs is licensed. What of The Canadian Kennel Club? I firmly believe that anyone breeding purebred dogs should be compelled to join the Kennel Club.

And what of business licenses? Business tax? How many are getting away without paying any of these?

Please hear me out, as I have been a licensed hairdresser and director of a school of hairdressing before taking over my Poodle Salon. At one time hairdressers were operating from their own homes, thereby cutting expenses. It followed that when expenses are negligible, prices are dropped. Soon it became difficult for the shop owner to compete. Eventually the trade banded together and put a stop to this practice. Now it is illegal for anyone to operate a business from home without a business license and business tax is applicable.

Now consider. If everyone who bred a female had to bother with income tax, sales tax, business tax, kennel license and business license, how many backyard breeders would exist? Considerably fewer, we'll wager.

As to the cost of all these extras — do you realize that one puppy sale will cover the extra expense? So you would have a little more bookkeeping to do — but wouldn't it be worthwhile? We would not only cut our sales competition in half, but of even greater importance, we would protect the future of the breed by allowing it to remain in the hands of people who care enough to make this extra effort. We could all but eliminate the unethical and the indiscriminate. Perhaps a number of breeders have not had the opportunity to see just how bad the situation really is. They have not seen the sickening specimens that have been sold as Poodles. Other salons will bear me out. I have seen Toys by the dozen, well under 10" in height. Everyone likes them tiny — but 29" long? I have seen many, many Miniatures 17" or more. In fact I have seen dogs sold as Miniatures from a Standard dam. What is worse, most people who own these freaks want to breed. Some bought their little horrors just as pets, from individual, house-raised puppies, a little cheaper, only to be bitterly disappointed when their cute little puppy matured into an ugly duckling. How much wiser to pay a little more to a reputable breeder and get a pet that not only looks but is a good Poodle, one that could be a source of great pride and enjoyment for many years.

Why couldn't breeders band together and investigate the possibility of putting our business on a business level. Please don't tell me that raising dogs is strictly a hobby. It is a business. No one is foolish enough to spend thousands of dollars on quality dogs, kennel construction, showing, veterinarians and other expenses.

He is one of the breed's great sires and stands at stud in these kennels along with his sire and grandsire, the famous Int. Champions, Rikki of Calartha and Calartha Mandarin of Jehol.

Doggy Variety Show

Midnight, a five-pound Chihuahua with a giant computer intellect, was the star of the 13th Annual Rittenhouse Square Dog Show held September 30 in downtown Philadelphia. The seven-year-old toy dog held spectators fascinated as she nonchalantly went over high jumps, broad jumps and other feats. Assisting Midnight was her owner-mentor, Mrs. Martha Kinginer of Morristown, Pa.

Square-dancing dogs and their human partners from the Dog Training School of Delaware County responded merrily to old-fashioned "fiddlin" and calls of headmaster Walter Ziegler, Media, Pa. Formal Obedience was demonstrated by a brace of Golden Retrievers with their owner, Mrs. Frederic H. Strawbridge, Jr. of Wynnewood, Pa. A handsome Collie named Pal, property of Homer Frantz, Reading, Pa., delighted his audience with original unorthodox tricks, some of which he taught himself.

The 200 gifted and glamorous canines provided a real variety show. Some top-winning show dogs were there purely for admiration. Other show-stopping acts included City and State K-9 Corps, a talkative Poodle, a costumed "lady and her dog parade", and a field trial. Mrs. Evelyn Monte of New York, staged her nationally-known field trial exhibition in which pointers, spaniels, setters and Weimaraners hunted and found captive birds safely hidden amid especially provided shrubbery in the center-city Park.

New Research On Canine Medicine

Seventeen projects on canine medicine were authorized by the trustees of the Morris Animal Foundation at the conference in Denver, Col. The studies represent a wide range of research investigations into ways to improve the health of dogs. In all cases these are studies for which funds are not available from other sources.

A Canadian veterinarian, Dr. T. Lloyd Jones, dean of the Ontario Veterinary College, was one of the members of the Advisory Board of the Foundation.

The new studies are all in schools of veterinary medicine under the supervision of a responsible investigator at each university. Included: a study of the essential fatty acid requirements of the dog; a study to determine the amount of nutrient solutions given intraperitoneally necessary to maintain dogs in good health; inflammation of the vertebrae in the dog; study of antibody transfer in newborn pups; birth processes in the female; joint diseases; bone transplants; a study of abnormal chromosomes in dogs, particularly those with heart conditions; enzymes in canine tumors.

CH. POODHALL THE PRETENDER

CH. POODHALL SALLY

These short-backed typy little dogs are both out of our CH. POODHALL GUSTAVIA, who is now the Dam of 5 Champions. Her mother, Yasmin of Montfleuri, produced 10 champions when bred to TRI INT. CHAMPION PIXHOLME FIREBRAVE GUSTAV, who was the sire of 24 Champions.

CH. POODHALL SALLY'S father is the great INT. CH. POODHALL GUS (26 BIS and 100 Group Firsts) who has sired some 15 Champions, four of which are BIS winners.

CH. POODHALL THE PRETENDER'S father (a Champion of course) is out of a Champion bitch who produced 3 Poodhall Champions.

INT. CH. POODHALL GUS congratulates his sister, CH. POODHALL YASMIN, on her Championship, which makes her the 44th Champion owned or bred by us.

CH. POODHALL CHARLES congratulates his daughter, CH. MAGGIE (owned by Mrs. Irene Pettinger) on gaining her Championship.

Poodhall Kennels' first venture into Maltese shows signs of being equally successful. INT. CH. POODHALL DIANA OF MAR-A-MOR was BoW at the International at Chicago for five points and so finished her American title undefeated in the Open Class. Since then, though still young, she has taken a BIS, 3 Group firsts, and many Group placements on both sides of the border.

Her brother, CH. POODHALL DEMOSTHENES, finished his Championship undefeated and also has some Group placements.

We also took pleasure in showing Int. Ch. Clavinelle Jolly Roger to total of 2 BIS and 10 Group Firsts.

Ch. Nancyn's Black Knight to 7 Group Firsts.

unless it pays. The proper government authority should be contacted and presented with a petition signed by several breeders to disallow the registration of litters by anyone without a license for the sale of puppies or a kennel license.

This article is not simply written by one who has licenses and taxes to pay, as do other salons. As I mentioned before, one puppy sale covers these costs. I am concerned only with preserving the Poodle image, protecting it from exploitation, keeping the breed on the top where it belongs, and preventing it from deteriorating into a nondescript dog of doubtful origin.

I feel certain that we all could benefit immeasurably by taking action, and if such action is possible, I for one am all for trying. The fact of adding a clause on a registration certificate to the effect that "This dog not to be used for breeding" is not enough. Not nearly.

How To Help The Judge Say Yes

Judges are sometimes hard put to answer a club when invited by letter, to judge at a forthcoming show. From the letter, they simply cannot tell what is expected of them.

Many of the letters, judges tell Dogs read something like this: "We are having a show, on such and such a date. Would you be available, and what is your fee?"

The letter fails to state whether the show is of one or two days' duration, whether it is a split show, how many dogs they expect each day, or whether the show is a one-day event and how many dogs the judge is expected to

Both time and correspondence would be saved if the clubs initially stated the essential facts, i.e. "We are holding a one-day show" and state the date, place and number of dogs they usually have entered. The letter would then ask the judge to quote his fee, including expenses. Or the letter might read: "We are holding two shows (date and place). Please quote your fee, including expenses. You would be doing (2) or (3) Groups each day, with approximately (number of dogs) and all General Specials (mentioning the day).

dog to a high CD standard: six weeks would be the limit. Those who have a knack with animals and confidence in themselves will, I believe, be capable handlers long before they finish a 10 weeks course.

In all Training Classes, there are bound to be some beginners who might just as well never start, for they are as totally lost as a tone-deaf person trying to learn music. Whether a class continues for 10 weeks or 10 months will be immaterial so far as some of the students are concerned; it just simply is not their field. Usually, the poorer the handler the less homework he does during the week and no one should expect to train a dog by simply attending weekly classes. This business of going around and round a hall with one dog following another has never appealed to me as being good groundwork for heeling. On the other hand, I feel that CD work is as near basic training as one can get and that the average dog and handler can master this in 10 weeks if the handler is really interested. Believing as I do in thorough groundwork, it seems essential to me that dogs should be taught to do each exercise properly from the very beginning. By all means give the new dog encouragement by talking to him etc. but teach him to do an exercise right, at the start, and there will be no need to retrain him later, to correct his sloppy work. So long as both Canadian and American Kennel Clubs insist that judges cannot disqualify a dog for refusing to lie down when ordered, surely 10 weeks' training should be sufficient time to prepare him for the Novice class! I note that in spite of the above ruling, the American Kennel Club has sent out a letter to all their Obedience judges advising them to tighten up on their scoring, feeling that they are being far too generous with high marks, and that few if any dogs ever really earn a perfect score. I understand that all Canadian judges have also received copies of this letter and I suggest that it would be a good idea for each Training Club to secure a copy for their members to read, mark, learn and inwardly digest.

Here's for better work . . . and better material! ■

the three days. He ran a good trial but not good enough to win.

Dog #49, F.T.C. Am. Ch. Captain of Lomac B.L.M. 4-18-59 Spook of Manhattan ex-Country Club's Little Deb. This very stylish Labrador with beautiful marking and precision like handling chased the winner to the wire. Handling on a mark in the ninth test no doubt hurt his chances. His tenth series on the triple blind was a joy to watch. It took the strongest of competition to edge this hard going dog.

Dog #13, F.T.C. & A.F.T.C. 61 and 63 National Champion and 1964 Canadian National Champion Del Tone Colvin. B.L.M. 4-10-57 F.T.C. A.F.-T.C. 55 National Ch. Cork of Oakwood Lane ex-Del Tone Bridget. What more can be said of this dog with a list of titles that won't fit in a field trial program. Twice winner of the U.S. National and winner of the Canadian National. Methodical marking and robot like handling. With the exception of a handle on a mark in the opening test this dog was as close to perfection as damn is to swearing throughout the rest of the trial. He needed to be good and he was just that good, the winner and new Canadian National Champion for 1964. ■ gift. She sat quietly looking into space, appearing almost relaxed. "This will do it," Ted bravely assured himself, "if anything will."

He took the last step into the room. "Merry Christmas, darling," he said, holding the spanking white puppy out to her. "He's yours. He's called Tambourine, Tammy for short, but you're to name him whatever you wish."

"What?" said Ruth blankly. "I don't understand."

"This puppy, Tammy," Ted stammered, suddenly feeling chilled. "He's to keep you company. You'll love him."

"I will?" echoed his wife. And then, suddenly firm. "I certainly will not. Get it out of here. Take it back."

Ted cuddled the puppy to him, speechless.

"Didn't you hear me," screamed Ruth. "Take it back. To wherever you got it. Take that thing out of my sight."

Stunned at the viciousness in her voice, Ted stood rooted.

"I mean it. And you'd better get out too, after pulling a crazy stunt like that."

"I think," the man addressed the puppy through stinging eyes, "she really does mean it. But I'm staying and so are you."

Outwardly he tried to make a stand. "Just try it, dear, for a while. Say a month. For your sake, and mine, for our home."

"No," said Ruth. As bluntly as that. And so was Christmas Day, just like that. A quiet, civilized nightmare.

By nightfall the outlook appeared permanently hopeless. Ted decided to make one more try. "If we just had another child, Ruth," he pleaded. "We can't cut off our lives like this. We'll grow to hate each other."

"I," Ruth bit off each bitter word, "do hate you now. I hate you and I hate this little thing you had the nerve to bring home."

At that moment the puppy crept out of Ted's big fur-lined hunting boot in the hall closet where, from the first moment, it had made its special place.

"I told you both to get out last night and I have not changed my mind."

In a blind fury she lashed out at the pup with her foot. Never in her life, she felt compelled to explain again and again later, would she have kicked a helpless puppy. She really meant to point vigorously at it, but in one of those freak accidents pup and foot connected and puppy went flying against a corner. After a wriggle it lay still. There was a moment of silence in which Ted thought all his bottled up sorrow and frustration would explode in delayed anger.

Then Ruth was on the floor cradling the puppy, crooning over it, crying.

"I'm sorry," she repeated over and over. "I'm sorry. So sorry."

Ted found himself holding the two in his arms. The puppy shook his head, looked up from under his shaggy eyebrows and tried simultaneously to lick both concerned faces. Then he leaped to the floor and began chasing his funny upright tail. With his little stand-up ruff he looked like an infant clown.

Suddenly Ruth started to laugh. Ted stared at her in stark disbelief, and then out of sheer happy shock began to laugh as well. The pup redoubled his antics.

"Let's have a drink and dinner," suggested Ruth as if this were any other night from happier times. "You take Tammy out for a walk while I get things ready."

Out in the brisk snow the tall man looked at the frisking little white Westie and then up at the starry sky. "Son," he spoke aloud, "you hear me? We've got a dog. And we've just had ourselves a miracle. A very Merry Christmas to the whole wide world!"

New Director Named for Gaines Research Kennels

Wayne W. Campfield, a technologist on pet food projects, has been named as the new director of the Gaines Research Kennels at Kankakee, Ill. He succeeds Robert W. Mellentin who is now section head in the new pet food products group at the Post (General Foods) Division's Research Laboratories in Battle Creek, Mich.

"What means this glory round our feet,"
The Magi mused, "more bright than morn!"
And voices chanted clear and sweet,
"Today the Prince of Peace is born."

Lowell — Christmas Carol

Died: Lewis S. Worden, Jersey City, N.J., at the age of 69. An all-round judge well-known to Canadians, he had judged at leading shows many times. Son of a breeder of fine horses, he owned his first dogs at five years of age. At 13, after working in the kennels for two years, he attended night school with the ambition of becoming a veterinarian. He did become a skilled veterinary surgeon, but devoted the greater part of his life to dog shows. He established his own Long Island boarding kennels in 1926, but an automobile accident precluded professional handling and kennels. During the 1930's he was an active surgeon in New York City's largest canine hospital. Mr. Worden entered his first dogs, Cocker Spaniels, in the Westminster KC show in 1907. During the First World War he trained German Shepherds for war duty and later imported Grand Ch. Dolf Dusenbrook, the first German Sieger, from Germany, who became the first of his breed to win BIS in America . . .

Walter Reeves, 80, Canada's most famous judge. Mr. Reeves, who lived in Clarkson until recent years, was known and respected wherever important dogs shows are held throughout the world, including Russia. Born in London, England, he made his first champion when he was 14. He was named Gaines Judge of the Year in 1955, and shortly after embarked on a 6,000-mile judging trip. His assignments took him as far north as Anchorage, Alaska. He was the only all-rounder to judge BIS at Westminster. During his time as a director of The Canadian Kennel Club, the name of this magazine was changed from Kennel and Bench to Dogs in Canada. Always interested in bringing children along in his profession, he judged the Chicago International KC Junior Dog Judging Contest for many years. This famous dog man was also a journalist. He was one of the founders of the English Dog World, originally called the Illustrated Kennel News.

. . . Arthur G. Goddard, 75, owner of the "Of Lynn" Kennels of Springer Spaniels in Saskatoon, Sask., for the past 33 years. A possessor of the 25-year button as a long-time member of The Canadian Kennel Club, he was made a life member of the Hub City KC of Saskatoon in 1960. He had judged Pointing breed trials in the West for over 20 years and was a trustee of the Saskatchewan Field Trial Association for Pointing Breeds for 14 years. Canadian dogdom loses another All Breed judge as well as the CKC Spaniel representative for Saskatchewan. Mr. Goddard, who also was devoted to English Setters in the late 'twenties, bought his first Springer Spaniel in 1929, and won his share of honors with his homebred Springers at many shows. He was an ardent sportsman and made many prairie trips hunting upland game. Deepest sympathy goes to his sons, Charles and George of Seattle, Wash. and their families. . . . Sympathy also to Mrs. Helen Bristowe of Vancouver and son in the loss of Mr. R. D. (Reg.) Bristowe, who passed away suddenly. A breeder and exhibitor of Wire Fox Terriers for more than 20 years in British Columbia he was well known to West Coast dog people. His interest ranged to all breeds and his knowledge was evident in his judging at Sanction shows. Mrs. Bristowe and son plan to continue his work with his kennel of Wire Fox Terriers, Dachshunds and Poodles . . . Mrs. Roy Isakson, President of the Old English Sheepdog Club of America, at her home in Bridgewater, Conn. A charming, generous woman, Mrs. Isakson, with her husband, owned and showed many Old English, among the most recent, Ch. Tara-Wood's Blue Baron, who to date, has won seven Bests in Show.

Am. Ch. Gene's Cavalier, Smooth Coat Chihuahua, owned by Miss Sandra Nelles, Unionville, Ont., finished his American title at the Lima, Ohio show November 14 under Judge Mrs. A. A. LePine. The following day, at Columbus, Ohio, her Canadian Ch. Miss Rockette of Son-Ko went BOS under Mrs. Hellerman.

Recovering from still another major leg operation is Mr. George Getty, Toronto, well-known Collie man, who has shown remarkable stamina in effort during this critical surgery.

Off to Spain: Mr. and Mrs. Conway Trott of Bermuda. Mrs. Trott, a former Torontonion, is the Chairman of the Bermuda KC Show Committee.

"I think my biggest loss to my side will be the dogs," said band leader Xavier Cugat after a six-hour legal combat with former wife and singer Abbe Lane. Although Cugat is famed for his long-time devotion to his Chihuahuas (from time to time he would break into print as having smuggled them into his hotel room via his coat pockets) Abbe keeps the dogs.

When Tom and June Bush, Ontario Labrador Retriever breeders and trial competitors had problems this past summer with rattlesnakes in the vicinity of their cottage, both their Labradors, Ginger and Taffy, suffered bites, but recovered due to prompt veterinary attention. Tom, one evening, spotted a rattler coiled to strike less than a yard away. He yelled for the dogs to heel. Taffy promptly sprang down between his master and the snake. While Tom turned shades of gray, Taffy remembered the command, calmly moved to the ordered position. Tom's blood began to circulate once more, he and the dogs moved to safety and dogs and family survived the summer.

Bob and Robbie Walker, Na-Robi Kennels, Hamilton, Ont., well-known German Shepherd breeders and exhibitors, have purchased the kennels of the late Horace King of Ancaster, Ont. In addition to their kennels they now operate Na-Robi's Holiday House for Pets. Of special interest to dog owners who are planning a winter vacation is the special winter rate for breeders.

The marriage is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Neil D. McKinnon of their daughter Marina Jean to Francis (Fran) Navin at Camp Chilliwack, B.C. Fran, a son of Dr. and Mrs. Navin now of Pickle Crow, Ont. and formerly of Gormley, Ont. The Navin family are best known for their Shipmates Kennels of Newfoundlands and West Highland White Terriers. Fran for several years was the cartoonist for the "Best of Variety" page of Dogs in Canada.

A well-dressed man clutching a very dishevelled - appearing black Poodle rushed into a dog beauty salon in Montreal, set it on the counter and said, "Cleaned and pressed, please!" and hurried out again.
