The cover this month features three generations of West Highland White Terriers bred by Kennels of the Rouge, Regd.

Eldest of the trio, at left, Megaera of the Rouge represents older Rouge breeding since her sire, Ch. Shipmates Demosthenes, was by the late Fons of the Rouge C.D. out of his niece Teena of the Rouge. Teena's dam, Ch. Fanfare of the Rouge, and Fons were out of the first litter sired in North America by Ch. (Can. Am. Eng.) Cruben Dextor; their dam, Rossarden Marie, being an English import whose background featured prominently a number of the great Wolvey (English) Champions.

Megaera's dam, Pixie Phebe, was a daughter of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Shiningcliff Symmetra Statesman out of Tyndrum Glen Etive, thus constituting line-breeding through Am. Ch. Mallaig Brilliant Monarch back to Eng. Ch. Leal Sterling and a son of Eng. Ch. Hookwood Mentor (who was Ch. C. Dextor's sire).

In the centre is Meg's son, Ch. Gallant Lad of the Rouge, who repeats intensification of the Dextor line through his sire, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Roseneath Gallant Knight, and the puppy at the right, Galahad of the Rouge, also continues on this theme, being a son of Ch. Gallant Lad out of Aphrodite of the Rouge, who was another daughter of Pixie Phebe by our Ch. (Can. & Am.) Shipmates Hannibal; Hannibal's dam was a full sister of Ch. Shipmates Demosthenes and his sire Roseneath Gay Kilt, was equally strong on the Dextor line.

This trio therefore represents intensive line-breeding within the bloodlines on which Kennels of the Rouge has been concentrating for some 17 years.

Litters currently expected include one by our Ch. (Can. & Am.) Mercury of the Rouge (a Ch. S. Demos-thenes son out of Am. Ch. Klintonloch Moment) out of Cooper's Annie Laurie, a spectacular young bitch, daughter of Am. Ch. Wigtown Talent Scout, who acquired several points towards her title at the recent C.N. Sportsmen's Shows; also one out of Ch. Vigil of the Rouge, another Talent Scout daughter whom we bred to MacMorr Gregor, he being a great-grandson

TO THE EDITOR

HIP DYSPLASIA

... a dread thought has appeared ... a lot of "great" dogs are being destroyed or sterilized for no reason at all. Hip dysplasia is a serious problem ... But there are other factors that should not be overlooked. We find the same condition in humans and other animals ... with better nutrition, conditions ... and that is "worn out" hips before he has even matured.

Some of these dogs punish themselves terribly because they don't know when to quit. Their exuberance is phenomenal and their bones and body just can't take it. If x-rays were taken of all the "hard-going dogs" I'm sure we would find evidence of damage. But should these marvelous dogs be destroyed just because a diagnosis between hard work and disease cannot be very easily differentiated. ... When a dog goes through a hard life for six or more years he's just like humans at an equivalent age — he gets a little creaky in the hips. He's entitled to it — but let's not destroy our best. When a young dog is lame, look carefully at his circumstances and extra carefully at his x-rays. Be sure!

Mrs. M. E. Moerman

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

... Stop worrying about dysplasia? I can't. Those that can should come with me to the vets where I worked. I wonder if they too would want to cry for the puppy or dog being "put to sleep" because of dysplasia, hysteria or some hereditary defect a thoughtless breeder decided not to worry about. Would they weep too for the heartsick owner losing a loving and loved pet?

All young creatures have to battle many things to reach maturity. It seems a pity defects we might in time help control aren't worried about enough.

Dawn Topalian

... I suppose there is not much use in answering the letter written by Mrs. Moore in the March issue since she disagrees with the majority of the veterinarians and geneticists all over the world ... Two of her facts seem right — namely hip dysplasia dogs often make excellent pets and some HD animals have become champions and keep on winning. Where she found the rest of her facts I do not know. Personally I have several letters from veterinarians stating that my dogs have hip dysplasia and I for one believe it immoral to breed from these dogs. Here in my kennel my breeding record (via the use for breeding of only HD free stock as proved by WRITTEN reports from Dr. Schnelle) has changed from HD puppies in every litter to none at all in the last three years. Over the years only one of my puppies has ever been put to sleep as a result of having proved to have HD.

Mrs. Carleton Howe

Manchester Depot, Vermont.

... I feel that Mrs. A. Mary Moore's letter re "Stop Worrying About Dysplasia" needs a very definite rebuttal.

She doesn't mention a specific breed. If she is raising Greyhounds, she hasn't a worry in the world, she can keep her head buried in the sand as nature seems to be looking after that breed dysplastic-wise, but if she has German Shepherds and is interested in the future of the breed, she would be well advised to get her head out of the sand and take a good realistic look at the x-ray picture of hips.

I too, feel that it is time we stopped all the clucking and headshaking about hip dysplasia and did something constructive about it in the form of a breeding program to eliminate it.

Science, through the various research departments, almost world wide, such as the British Veterinary Association, the American Veterinary Medical Association and the Armens Hundskola, Overgard, Sweden, as well as our own Research Department at Guelph, all come up with the same answer — hip dysplasia is hereditary, it is increasing but it can be eliminated, or at least greatly reduced by breeding to dysplasia-free stock and the only way to be sure your breeding stock is free is by x-ray.

What satisfaction is there in having a champion that has hip dysplasia that he will pass on to his progeny? What good are dogs with "excellent points" if they are carrying hip dysplasia which they will certainly pass on to future generations and thus contribute to the future degeneration of the breed?

Any person or kennel that breeds from dysplastic dogs is contributing to a future breed of cripples.

D. Lichtfeld

Calgary, Alta.

... Regarding Mrs. Moore's article ... I feel compelled ... to answer Mrs. Moore's "facts".

(1) Since we have to start somewhere to weed out this dread condition it is only common sense to start with a dog which comes supplied with a guarantee that it does not have dysplasia.

(2) No veterinarian need fear signing a statement that a certain dog has dysplasia when he has x-ray plates to prove his statement ...

(3) It may not be immoral or illegal to breed from dysplastic animals but it is downright stupid and cruel.

(4) A dog with dysplasia could possibly prove a satisfactory pet "if" the owners could bear to watch it stumble through life.

(5) Dysplasia may not prevent a dog from attaining its Championship title or Best in Show but neither one of the former will prevent a dog from possibly passing dysplasia on to its progeny ...

(6) Perhaps the use of x-ray could very result in some dogs being termed dysplastic the veterinarian supervising such a program not fully versed in what he was doing. However, most will call for a second or even a third opinion if some doubt exists. If a dog shows an abnormality of the hip and pelvic joints whatsoever all the other excellent points it may possess are useless. This is especially so in the working breeds.

If Mrs. Moore has any doubts as to the pain suffered by these unfortunate animals would suggest she enquire into the lives of numerous humans who are afflicted with this condition. The operations they have to undergo along with months, years and in some cases a lifetime of wearing cruel braces to support their body weight. This should give anyone a good idea as to the suffering a poor animal has to endure when it has dysplasia.

Our veterinarians have just started to make some impression on breeders regarding the seriousness of this disease and any forward looking breeder will applaud their efforts and admit that although some of us may have been fortunate enough up to the present not to be plagued with dysplasia (as far as we know) there is always the possibility of it rearing its ugly head ...

Helen Watling

Thornhill, Ont.

... Your correspondent, Mrs. A. Mary Moore is apparently adopting the attitude that if you ignore a problem it will just go away. Unfortunately, hip dysplasia is a genetically transmitted fault and genes can only be eliminated by selective breeding over a prolonged period.

Regarding the individual points raised by Mrs. Moore, I would like to make the following rebuttal.

1. Presumably this statement means that an animal certified to be free from hip dysplasia both clinically and radiographically, may be the parent of a dysplastic puppy. This may occur, but relatively infrequently. However, if an animal which is clinically and/or radiographically positive for hip dysplasia is used for reproduction, then the dysplastic gene is certainly being perpetuated. The clinically and radiographically clean animal is the only possible starting point to eliminate the problem.

2. Veterinarians, including the writer, throughout the world are regularly certifying in writing that certain animals have hip dysplasia when the physical and radiographic examination shows this to be true. In fact, official schemes for certification exist in both Sweden and the United

FROM THE EDITOR

"CHILDREN in Tears as Police Slaughter Dogs". This heading led off a story in the Toronto Telegram April 7. Datelined Halifax, it described the "annual dog shoot" of the city police and how children of Africville, a neglected and blighted Negro section of the city, cried themselves to sleep. Leon Steed, a life-long resident of the section, described the killing of the family dog, a pet of his deaf mute son. The shooting, said the article, netted an estimated 70 dogs and a police spokesman stated the killings were carried out because of complaints about packs of wild dogs running loose near the city dumps.

"A schoolteacher also complained that several of her pupils had come to school yesterday morning crying about the killing of their pets. She told how one Negro child cried all morning. His dog was shot under his eyes while the child was walking to school ... Steed said a policeman tied a rope to the dead animal to haul it away. The officer told him the dog was not licensed and could therefore be shot."

Apart from the fact that the above-mentioned child was close to his dog when it was shot and that Mr. Steed pointed out his 18-year-old daughter was hanging the family wash at the time of the shooting and could have been hit, this would seem to be brutal proof of some glaring inhumanities.

Why do the Halifax city fathers so loosely permit policemen to roam the streets with guns and shoot at single dogs — not vicious dogs running in a pack — at will?

Does not the Humane Society or other municipal organizations raise their voice in the matter? According to report this is not a new form of action against stray dogs. It is termed an "annual event".

Where are the "thinking people" who have a fondness for animals? Isn't anyone going to protest?

What about the breed clubs in the city of Halifax and in the province of Nova Scotia? Many who read this are members of such clubs. Is your group planning to protest? We who are interested in the development of purebred dogs have an onus on our shoulders to show active concern for less fortunate dogs.

What is occurring in your own community? What happens to dogs on the loose and without a license? Do you know? Do you work with and give encouragement to your own Ha-

Kingdom. In Sweden the scheme operates through the University of Stockholm, and in the United Kingdom through the British Veterinary Association.

3. It is not illegal to breed animals with hip dysplasia. However, in the writer's opinion, it is certainly immoral to perpetuate deliberately such a serious weakness.

4. The only point to which the writer agrees, provided that the dysplasia is not too severe. In very severe hip dysplasia the victim is in so much pain that it is cruel to permit it to survive.

5. This point merely illustrates that judges are human! Unless the dysplasia is extremely mild the dysplastic dog will not win very often. Peculiarities in gait frequently indicate to a veterinarian the necessity for a radiographic examination for hip dysplasia.

6. A thorough clinical physical examination, supported by diagnostic pelvic radiographs, as currently adopted in both Sweden and the United Kingdom, is the only practical approach to the elimination of hip dysplasia. As mentioned under point four (4) this does not necessarily mean that the dysplastic animals must be destroyed. Many of them will make excellent pets but if used for reproduction, then the genes for hip dysplasia must inevitably be transmitted to future generations under the extremely well proven Mendelian laws.

Not until breeders are willing to face up squarely to the existence of the problem and its genetic origin is there any hope of a constructive scheme for its elimination.

Unfortunately, as in so many fields, Europe is showing the way and, in a few years, (if the opinions of Mrs. Moore survive), the results will indicate that Canadians have again "Missed the boat".

BOOK ON TRAINING

... After following the remarkable obedience training achievements of Mrs. Winifred Strickland for many years I was indeed pleased to purchase a book written by her at your attractive and well-stocked Sportsmen's Show booth.

This book, published this year, "Expert Obedience Training for Dogs" backs up my firm conviction that so-called new "Methods" which utilize drastic measures for relatively simple training problems are not only cruel and degrading to dog and trainer, but are totally unnecessary.

With love, respect and kindness Mrs. Strickland trained one of her German Shepherds, earning all his degrees, CD, CDX, UD and Tracking in under six months with an average score of 199 points out of 200! This is just one of many accomplishments which include training and handling America's Top Obedience Dog, five years in a row.

I can heartily recommend this pleasant training book to all my fellow obedience enthusiasts now in the ring and to all those interested in either formal dog training or simple good behavioural conditioning.

THE LAST SHALL BE FIRST

... but when — will this happen to obedience? I have often wondered!

In my wandering around waiting for the Obedience Trial to commence on the last evening of the Sportsmen's Dog Shows I walked into an exhibitor's dream of an ideal location for holding all obedience classes. There was already a fenced off regulation ring in this arena-like section of the Sheep Building with the proper seating arrangement for the spectators. And guess what these heavenly quarters were being used for — grooming no less!

ARTICLE ON THE NON-SPORTING GROUP

I'm sure all red-blooded, Canadian Dalmatians (like me) were delighted with Mr. Charles Kiel's comments on us in his article... in your March issue.

I agree absolutely with him that we're lovable, clean, marvellous house dogs and easy as pie to prepare for the ring, but must object when he states (in black and white if you please), "... there are so few showers".

My stamping grounds extend from Kingston to Three Rivers... and in my two years of showing I have always met plenty of friends and relatives. I had a four point win and two three pointers for my championship in 1963, and for that, sir, you need competition. Last year there were 15 of us at the Montreal show (by far the largest entry in Group VI), 11 at Ottawa, eight at Three Rivers, and nearly all of my competitors were good enough to give my human moments of great trepidation, causing her to consume quantities of her favourite alcoholic beverage before venturing into the ring.

I might also mention, sir, that there are occasions when (if you will pardon the expression) we knock spots off the Poodles in the Group, and the Boston Terriers, Bulldogs, Chows etc. etc.

In short, Mr. Kiel, if you want to see Dais, come to the Montreal/Ottawa area — we're out in force.

REPEAT MATINGS

Enclosed please find two articles concerning the breeding of dogs. One of the articles is from your publication, the other is from the English paper, Dog World.

Being a beginner in the breeding of dogs, Bull Terriers in my case, I was wondering if the subject of repeat matings could be discussed by some of Canada's leading as well as successful dog breeders, giving their opinions as well as experiences on this matter.

I think such a discussion would be of great value to beginners as well as to some of our old hands in the breeding field.

Hoping to see articles on this subject in future issues...

SHELTIES ON TABLES?

In reply to Mr. Stephen's comments in the March issue re Shetland Sheepdogs being placed on the table to be judged, may I say I disagree with him?

Shetland Sheepdogs are a hardy breed, a working breed and should NEVER be treated as Toys. I feel there is enough of this impression when they are referred to as "Toy Collies". If we start judging them on the table, the next thing we know we will be classed as a Toy breed, not a Working breed.

Please, let us keep the Shetlands where they belong, in the Working Group, on the floor.

Ella Wheeler Wilton

"It looks as though clubs will have to take steps to protect themselves," said the Old Timer. He was thumbing through premium lists taking particular notice of the judges for the shows.

"Against what," I asked.

"Protect themselves against duplication of judges," he said "or rather against the same judges judging two shows in the same area over a comparatively short period of time."

"But why?" I asked "surely there is a Canadian Kennel Club rule that prohibits a judge accepting an assignment in the same area during a three month period."

"There used to be," the Old Timer said "but that rule has been rescinded and as a result this has happened."

He picked up the premium list of one of Canada's major dog shows and ticked off three names of judges.

"Got that first name in your mind?" he asked.

I told him I had.

He handed me a second premium list. It was for a show just four weeks following the first and just 125 miles distant from it. Sure enough the name of the first judge was listed as a judge at the second show. He asked me about the second judge at the major show, then handed me a third list. This was for a show about 275 miles from the first and five weeks following it. Again there was a duplication of judges. Finally the fourth premium list disclosed that the third judge he had ticked at the first major show was again judging all breeds. This show was about 230 miles from the first and followed it by six weeks.

I was startled and said so. The Old Timer drew out his pipe and filled it carefully.

"I would predict," he said "that those three shows are going to suffer."

In shows only 275 miles apart there is usually a large duplication of entries. In fact the shows in the smaller centres cannot survive unless they can draw entries from the larger cities. So, you have shown your dog under these three particular judges at the first major show. They make it apparent that they are not too fussy about your dog. Are you going to travel 125, or 225 or 275 miles to show under any of them again?"

I told him I certainly would not but suggested that at these other shows the competition probably would be different and the same judge might like my dog on that day.

"Quite true," the Old Timer said "but bear in mind for every dog that got points at the major show there were probably five or six which were turned down and a fair percentage of those owners would not give that same judge a second chance to show he disliked their dog. But there's another side to the picture and this affects those dogs that got the points at the first show."

"What's the other side?" I asked.

"Under Canadian Kennel Club rules, before a championship is confirmed the dog must take its points under three different judges. So you've made a three point win under one of these judges at the big show. There are a lot of shows coming up in your area. Are you going to spend a lot of money in travelling, in motels, in entry fees and in meals to show under this same judge and get points which may be useless to you in confirming your championship when in any event you have to show under two more judges at least?"

I admitted I would probably have to think about that a long time.

"But why hasn't one of the clubs protested to The Canadian Kennel Club?" I asked.

"One did," the Old Timer said. "I happen to know that in this case they'd engaged a so-called 'American-name judge' 18 months before their show. They were paying him a fee of approximately $500. They felt that having engaged him so far in advance they were entitled to protection. So they wrote to the directors of The Canadian Kennel Club asking that consideration be given to re-instatement of the former rule. Their letter was discussed at the annual general meeting."

"And what was the result?" I asked.

"It's in the minutes. In effect the decision was that it is up to the club to protect themselves. In other words when they engage a judge they must get an undertaking from the judge that he will not judge within a certain distance of their show during a certain period before their show."

"That could fix it," I commented.

"In most cases," said the Old Timer "but suppose the judge is money hungry. A second club wants him and is willing to pay a higher fee. So six weeks in advance of the show for which he was originally engaged he notifies that club that circumstances have arisen which make it impossible for him to judge the show. Or perhaps he doesn't bother notifying and the first word to the original club

JACK SMYTH

It was with deep regret that his host of friends learned of Jack Smyth's death from cancer at the age of 60 on December 1, 1964. He is survived by his lovely wife Helen and two daughters, Mrs. Donald Brown and Mrs. Robert Christie.

Jack was born in Ireland at Crevamoy House in Ballamina, coming to Canada when he was 22. His was a personality that made itself felt. His Irish wit, temper and warmheartedness will long be remembered and missed.

His success as a breeder and trainer was remarkable and his enormous experience and knowledge made his advice on the subject of Retrievers and field trials invaluable. Jack became a professional in 1946. Dogs were a business but he was always ready to help educate inexperienced handlers, with never a thought of monetary return.

The kennel names of Crevamoy and later of Jack's and Helen's showplace, Country Club Kennels, appear in the pedigrees of top field dogs throughout Canada and the USA. There is not space here to list the dozens of winning dogs that Jack bred, trained or handled. A few Retrievers containing Jack's breeding were Natl. Ch. '58 Sinser's Bulldozer of Crevamoy, F. T.

Ch. Country Club Jet Pilot, F.T. Ch. Ace of Country Club, F.T. Ch. Joey of Country Club, F.T. Ch. Country Club's Juneau, F.T. Ch. Cowman's Black Atom, F.T. Ch. Timbershed Totem of Nascopie 2nd, F.T. Ch. Moose of Lomac, F.T. Ch. Mossbank's Black Viking and F.T. Ch. Captain of Lomac. Some that he trained included F.T. Ch. Westhaven Pride (one of the two first Retriever field champions in Canada), Natl. Ch. '52 Oakcreek's Van Cleve (one of the greatest Golden of all time), F.T. Ch. Crevamoy Pride, F.T. Ch. Timberland Boy, F.T. Ch. Crevamoy Black Devil, F.T. Ch. Duckeye Penny, F.T. Ch. Glenmore Jock, F.T. Ch. Walker Kim (a Golden), F.T. Ch. Chuck of Bracken and Chuck's son F.T. Ch. Craigend Rock, that great gentle Labrador Jack loved so much.

Jack was a founder and pillar of the B.C. Gun Dog Club and many times President and F.T. Chairman; he was made a Life Member in 1959. He was one of the founders of the National Retriever Club and among his frequent judging assignments he officiated when the National was held in Ontario for the first time in 1954 and again in Vancouver in 1963.

Jack was a talented gardener and the flower beds and grounds at Country Club were beautiful. He loved children and among his friends were many young people. He was an active Mason and served as Master of Progress Lodge Number 87 from 1962-63. He was Boxing Chairman of the B.C. Amateur Athletic Union and helped to get the 1964 Olympic Trials for Vancouver. Jack sparked the idea of a Top Dog Award to provide funds to assist the British Columbia top point Open Retriever to attend the National. From 1955 on, a trial was held each June at Country Club Kennels to raise money for this purpose.

If there were a Retriever Hall of Fame, the name of Jack Smyth, moulder of great Retrievers, would be in the front rank.

GOLDEN RETRIEVER CLUB OF CANADA
Vancouver will be the site of the seventh Licensed Trial on June 5 and 6. Chief organizer is long time Golden fancier Col. C. R. Burton.

VANCOUVER ISLAND ACTIVITY

The Vancouver Island Retriever Club's first licensed trial in April is hoped to be the forerunner of many more. F.T. Chairman Lou Yellowlees will be remembered in Ontario.

SOME WINTER WINS IN USA TRIALS

First Quebec owned Retriever to earn a Canadian field title, F.T. Ch. Du Cap's Black Beauty, owned and handled by Gerry D'Aoust, came first in a field of 42 dogs in the Amateur All-Age Stake at the Mobile Amateur Retriever Club's February trial. In the same stake Lloyd Jarvis' two year old, Westview Pintail Pete, got a C.M. In the Derby, Anthony Grossi's Great Gunner of Golden Creek was second in a field of 36.

From the west coast comes the news that Ken Gibson handled Rudy Deering's Labrador, F.T. Ch. Captain of Lomac, to a C.M. at Corona, Calif. and a Second in the Open at Hallister, Calif. Ken won two Qualifying Stakes in a row with Don Mann's Smokey of Jetcin at Southern Arizona and Corona.

WESTERN JUDGES FOR ONTARIO TRIAL

Mr. Gordon Lindemere from Vancouver and Glen P. Sutherland of Brandon, Man. will be the York Club's judges. Mr. Lindemere was one of the 1964 National judges.

CONSERVATION SHOULD BE A NATIONAL IDEAL

"What would the world be, once bereft Of wet and wildness? Let them be left, O let them be left, wildness and wet; Long live the weeds and the wildness yet."

from "Inversnaid" by Gerard Manley Hopkins.

If future generations are to survive, and we are to pass on to them a civilization that includes some of the harmony, beauty and blessings of nature, we must finally stop blighting, polluting, wasting and destroying all that is lovely. The day of reckoning is overdue. Leadership is urgently needed and public willingness to support and pay for vastly accelerated programs of education, legislation and allocation of taxes to conserve and restore wildlife, forests and clean streams and lakes.

CANADIAN NATIONAL SPORTSMEN'S SHOW

This organization has donated over a million dollars to conservation.

Of special interest to Retriever owners are the Booster Shows for Retrievers at the final Saturday Dog Show. This year there were 22 Labradors and 13 Golden Retrievers. Labrador BB was Kay Robinson's yellow dog Ch. Braemar Bounce of Willowmount, sired by her F.T. Ch. Don Head Barley Sugar. BW and earning five points was James M. Thomson's black dog F.T. Ch. Stormy of Spirit Lake Gal, handled by Bob Blyth. Miss Sandy Briggs took WB, BOS and completed the title of Champion with Wimberway's Welcome Venture; her dog Ch. Wimberway's Wateaki, C.D. was BB on Wednesday.

The Field Trial demonstration and competition took place very effectively this year in the Coliseum, where large audiences could be seated. The Saturday playoff, judged by Mr. H. George De Young, was won by that grand old veteran, Nat. Ch. '60 Smudge's Pitch, owned and handled by Clifford Hunt.

JUDGES' CLINICS

The idea of holding something of this sort in Ontario has from time to time been discussed, and finally has been launched, mainly due to the efforts of Mr. Robert L. Blyth. Bob was Chairman of the CKC Retriever Field Trial Council in 1963 when one of the Council's recommendations was that such clinics in Canada should be encouraged. Meetings were held in January and March which were attended by members and delegates from all clubs. A third clinic will be held at Kingston at 8.30 p.m. on Friday, April 30 on the eve of the Eastern Ontario Retriever Club's Licensed Trial. These meetings are open to all. Tape recordings of the proceedings are available to interested clubs. For information contact the Secretary, Miss Vivienne C. Muller, Helen Apts. Office, Helen St., Dundas, Ont.

HUMANELY "SPEAKING"

BY TOM HUGHES

Room 201, 696 Yonge St., Toronto 5, Ont.

Whelping time is a period for pondering, says the General Manager of the Ontario Humane.

I'm writing this article sitting in a fairly comfortable chair waiting for my Labrador "Gay" to whelp. I suppose it's a situation all breeders are quite familiar with. I've done everything I can to prepare for the litter. Gay is lying in a really 'posh' whelping box. I made the box myself and I'm as proud of my handiwork as Gay will be of the puppies — but then I'm no carpenter.

The floor of the whelping box is covered with clean paper. An old drawer is neatly lined with towels over an electric heating pad. An Infra Red Heat Lamp is standing by — just in case. On a bench nearby is cotton wool, a thermometer, vaseline, blunt scissors, disinfectant, iodine, cotton thread. The maternity ward is ready. And I'm my usual cool, poised, alert self. Oh yeah!

There is nothing more I can do now except wait. The rest is up to Gay. Approximately 61 days ago she was served by F.T. Ch. Timbershed Totem of Nascopie II. Both dogs have been X rayed and found to be clear of hip dysplasia. Both dogs have good records in field trials. The cross is good line-breeding in that the sire of the dog is the grandsire of the female and he appears again on both female sides. I hope the results will be spectacular.

When you are waiting for puppies to arrive is as good a time as any to philosophize!

What will the future hold for the puppies waiting to be born? Will they find good homes with people who will give them an opportunity to develop and use the instincts which many generations of careful breeding have produced? Will the owners allow the pups to share their lives and so enable the dogs to develop that remarkable understanding that only close continuous contact can produce?

The water bladder has come. Not long now — I hope.

Or will the puppies be unwanted or at least not wanted by people who deserve such terrific, outstanding, remarkable pups? It's a grim prospect.

For humane dog clipping you'll do better with Oster Model A-2

Humane, efficient clipping and surgical shaving are easier, faster and more profitable with the smoother-running OSTER clipper. Detachable cutter head permits use of all sizes of cutting blades to do all clipping jobs the professional way.

The contractions are more frequent now. I hope it's all worth it.

What methods of selling the puppies are justified? Only the other day I read the following advertisement in the classified column of "The Times" of England:

"Will exchange a very well bred puppy for a 1928 Rolls Royce"

The first puppy arrived with very little trouble, at least to me, a beautiful black female.

The following advertisement appeared in the classified column of the Vancouver Sun:

"Will swap purebred puppy (the breed shall be nameless) for a guitar".

Come to think of it, I could use a yellow Rolls Royce, but I'm not so keen on guitars.

The next puppy came 15 minutes after the first, a beautiful, remarkable, black dog puppy.

And then there was the advertisement in the Toronto paper:

"Pups of all breeds available, purebred, guaranteed against distemper. '$15.00' If that isn't misrepresentation, what is?"

The third puppy took her time. How very feminine.

And what about the auction of purebred dogs scheduled to be held recently in Ontario? Somehow I don't think I would like to see the beautiful, noisy, black puppies now struggling round their dam, standing up for an auctioneer to sell, in the hope that someone, attracted either by the novelty of the idea, or the prospect of a "cheap" bargain pup, would be moved to make a bid.

Upstairs, the Leafs are battling the Canadiens for a berth in the Stanley Cup finals. I can tell when a goal has been scored. I hope there are more puppies than goals.

The Canadiens are two goals up.

The fourth puppy is a female.

Red Kelly has scored for Toronto.

The fifth puppy is a female.

The Leafs have tied it up.

The next puppy must be a male!

The next puppy is a female!

There can't be many more, five females and one male!

The Leafs have scored!

Another puppy — a male!

The Leafs have won!

The eighth puppy is a female!

It's 2 a.m. I'm tired. It's all over, or is it?

Not quite.

Two more, quickly, both dogs!

Six females, four males.

Gay well!

I'm well!

After a terrible wrestle with my conscience, I've had four female puppies put to sleep by my veterinarian. It's a tough decision to have to make. Apart from the fact that Gay couldn't rear ten puppies properly. It's wrong to rear a lot of female puppies that will be difficult to place.

Some breeders of purebred dogs resort to a variety of methods to dispose October 12, 13, 14 and 16, 1965, are days when your dog may win an International Championship. Days for you to revel in a Bermuda holiday—at special group airline and hotel rates.

Competition will be keen. Canine elite from the U.S., Canada, and Bermuda will enter.

Bermuda's Botanical Gardens provide the lovely setting. Hospitality takes over the moment you arrive. Begins with a welcoming party. Continues with boat trips and tours—and time out for all the fun Bermuda is famous for. Winds up with a gala banquet on the evening of the last show.

Give your dog, yourself, your family a Bermuda holiday! You're welcome at our finest hotels, cottage colonies and guest houses. No quarantine problem—either on arriving in Bermuda, or returning to the U.S. and Canada.

SANCTION SHOW A "JUNIOR" TRIUMPH

The skill with which a group of teenagers, albeit under expert guidance, handled this big show augurs well for the future of Canadian dogdom.

Information for this dual event was provided by Mrs. Edna Joel, CKC director and Mrs. Marion M. Postgate, director of the Juniors' obedience activity. Photographer Wynne Powell was one of the original members.

ONE of the largest and most efficient 'doggy' associations on the Canadian west coast is totally comprised of children. Ranging in age from seven to 18, they recently showed their real capability in staging a sanction show which drew no less than 303 entries. The big show was held March 7 in the Queen's Park Arena, New Westminster.

The plans for their crowning event began last Fall, with the various committees set up. When the annual meeting took place the officers remained intact in order not to upset committee plans. The timing permitted directors of The Canadian Kennel Club, who were assembled in Vancouver at the time for the annual general meeting, to enjoy the show. Senior members called for the directors at the hotel, as well as the judges.

From the outset the show was run beautifully and smoothly, and kept scrupulously clean. Every youngster knew his responsibilities and carried them out.

Announcing was capably handled by Gerry Duncan. The ring stewards, Steven Williams, Marilyn Tkachuk, Tracy Mercer and Susan Campbell worked efficiently. Tim Brazier cleverly created all the signs and breed sketches on the ring posts denoting the Group being judged in the various rings. The beautiful trophies were organised by Marilyn.

Carol Michels artistically arranged most of the decorations. And in the kitchen Norma Scott did a magnificent job.

The judges for the Junior Handling Competition were all Senior members of the Junior Kennel Club. Money for the skirt and top of the trophy table was donated by the B.C. Ladies KC. At the close of the show every judge was presented with a dogwood tray with the history of the dogwood (emblem of British Columbia) printed on the reverse side.

In the obedience department two separate trials were held — one a mock trial for anyone who wished to enter and another where only trainers 18 years of age and under could enter with their dogs. Most of the entries were from the Junior Kennel Club and the 4-H Doggoners from Bellingham, Wash., another active young group.

Top prize went to Steven White and his Prizmatian, Lady, in the novice class. Top scoring dog and handler were from Bellingham.

Much of the work during the trials, and before, was done by Miss Norma Scott, one of the club's obedience instructors. Misses Lavinia Gordon and Doreen Marsh, also club instructors, aided by taking entries and ring-stewarding along with club members Susan and Mike Brown, Stephen Eric and Col White and Steven Williams. The Vancouver Juniors also demonstrated their training class in action. Among the more interesting handlers were Sue and Mike Brown who showed their tri-color Sheltie, Jock, through to CD last year with good scores and trophies — taking turns in showing him. Problem: one always wins two "legs" and the other only one. Now, however, Sue has started her own Schipperke pup in Novice work while Mike and Jock learn the Utility exercises.

Most unusual participant in the class: the Skye Terrier, handled by Christine Minshall. Totally against walking on leash last November, it showed great improvement. Stephen Williams' champion Chow, which earned a CD last Fall, has a strong will of his own but is training to jump the required heights and if successful Stephen plans to try for a CDX. A new eye-catcher is tiny Elizabeth Watson with her ten-year-old border Terrier, Emma, who did well in the beginners' class.

Among the Junior Kennel Club youngsters who were absent for these trials but have done well in Canadian Kennel Club shows last year were Denize Zora who finished a CD on her Samoyed and Jill Hylton, who also earned a CD with several "top-in-class" trophies with her six-inch white Toy Poodle, Mimi. Club secretary Marilyn Tkachuk also was successful with her brown Miniature Poodle. The Misses Marsh (with her Miniature Poodle) and Gordon, with her female champion Sheltie, finished their CD's last year.

Mrs. Postgate writes that "it is a pity that many of our members do not own registered dogs." She has noted however that children have returned to the class, sometimes three and four years later, with a registered dog and are eligible to compete later with adults in regular obedience trials.

Boundless credit is due Mrs. Elsie Murray of Vancouver who, ten years ago, formed the club under the sponsorship of the B.C. Ladies KC. With great patience and perseverance and assistance from loyal helpers Mrs. Murray has seen the club grow to an active membership of more than 100. Meetings are held three times a month. Lectures are given by breed experts. Handling classes are under the tutelage of Mrs. Murray and obedience classes are conducted by Mrs. Postgate. Examinations on the breed lectures are held annually. Ring stewarding classes are held for the

SPORTSMEN'S SHOWS — 1965

If a show ever received an award, the five Sportsmen's Shows would rate blue ribbons. Multitude of spectators flocked daily, enthralled with the conformation, obedience and field trial events.

THE 18th Sportsmen's Championship dog shows, held in conjunction with the Sportsmen's Show at the Coliseum mid-March, more than lived up to the committee's slogan, "Canada's Finest Dog Shows." They were great shows. More championship titles were gained March 11, 13, 17, 18, 19, 20 at this annual event than at any one time in Canada. More conformation shows, obedience trials and retriever trials were held under one banner than at any time. More dogs were in competition—a grand total of 2,722 dogs were assessed in conformation alone. Nearly 100 dogs had to be refused because of late entries.

Normally the crowd of onlookers would have dwindled by nine o'clock. This year crowds still thronged four and five deep at ten o'clock to watch obedience contestants rise or fall during their exercises. Unfortunately, a circumstance which appears to be standard at most shows prevailed: When it came to the awarding of Best in Show, only a few witnessed the occasion which, to most dog people, is the crowning point of their years of showing dogs.

An innovation this year revealed the excitement of field trials to thousands of spectators for the first time. The indoor invitation retriever trials were held in the main arena of the Coliseum every afternoon. During the evening arena show the day's winner performed with two birds thrown and a blind retrieve on the stage. On the final Saturday the daily winners played off for the top dog of the show. The coveted Gold Whistle fell to F.T. Ch. Smudge's Pitch, owned by Cliff Hunt of Grimsby. This skilful worker was the 1960 National Winner.

Thousands of spectators were awed by the demonstration of the German Shepherd at work as presented by the German Shepherd Dog Association the first day of the show. Members, looking smart and trim in their crested red shirts, put their dogs through their thrilling paces, climbing high ladders, jumping and in guard work.

Several of the Best in Show dogs have an interesting background. Newton, the amiable Newfoundland, for example, who carries the titles of Can. Am. and Bda. champion, started his career at the Sportsmen's Show here four years ago. Bred in Newfoundland by the late Hon. Harold McPherson, Newton has earned a BIS in each of these countries. Three years ago Newton arrived here bruised in body and suffering from a cut in his head, due to air turbulence. For the return trip to his owner, Melvin Sokolsky of New York City, a stronger crate was built. Newton somehow escaped and, in high spirits, chewed up a shipment of lingerie. At Westminster, 1965, he went BB.

The English Setter, Am. Ch. Candlewood Distinction, owned by Mrs. Cheever Porter of New York, captured the BIS Award on March 19. This stylish Setter won the specialty for English Setters which preceded the 1965 Westminster Show and was BB and Group 1st, Sporting Dogs, at the show itself.

The Golden Retriever, Am. Ch. Sun Dance's Vagabond Lover CDX, who, in three consecutive obedience trials scored 199, 199½ and 200, also acquitted himself well in breed competition.

This was a show in which working dogs appeared in wonderful quantity and quality. On March 20, 288 working breeds were competing—a figure many all-breed shows would like to obtain in total.

And the five shows revealed an abrupt change in the popular size of dog. For some years the medium sized dogs were by far in the majority. Due to concentrated efforts and teamwork by clubs and individuals during the past few years, the large dog was again in the fore.

It was a real pleasure to note the quantity of Great Danes—24 at one show; 17 Doberman Pinschers, 32 Collies (Rough); 21 Newfoundlands; 32 Samoyeds; 27 Siberian Huskies and 27 St. Bernards. Old English Sheepdogs, which for years have appeared singly or in twosomes, numbered ten. Not more than a few years ago Belgian Sheepdogs were a rarity at a Canadian show—only 19 were registered in Canada in 1963, let alone shown! It was good to see an entry of 14 Kerry Blue Terriers and a total of 36 American Cocker Spaniels, a breed that has slacked off in showing.

Labrador Retrievers, which not too long ago were in the minority in numbers shown, led the entire field this year, with 45 entered March 20, closely followed by 33 Golden Retrievers. Some of these sporting dogs were vying for honors in obedience and the retriever indoor trials as well.

Competition from the United States was formidable (no less than 14 States were represented). In the Group placings, however, Canadian dogs more than held their own.

SIDELIGHTS

The show itself is memorable for many reasons. It was spacious and kept clean against many odds. The Stoodleigh snack bar, tables and chairs created a welcome respite; excellent snacks and coffee were served from early morning until late night.

The policemen and commissioners were efficient and above all, polite and helpful.

A few weeks after the show, while chatting in Chicago with Bedlington breeder Marianne Cummings, Dogs in Canada was given her impression of her first experience showing in this country. Other breeders, she said, had asked her why she bothered to go all the way up to Canada to show. "I told them," she said, "to go to the Sportsmen's Show and see for themselves what real efficiency, sportsmanship and good manners are really like."

The children's handling classes provided considerable interest this year. To Frank Jones, who judged one of the classes, the complete candor of one young miss was delightful. While assessing her entry, he lifted a front paw and carefully placed the foot in a proper stance. "Oh, he'll never stand right," she told him, "he's fiddle-fronted." "Can you imagine," remarked Frank later, "a grown-up being that truthful?"

In the raffle held by members of the Trio KC, Art Walford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Walford of Sudbury, Ont., held the winning ticket on the "spring basket". Proceeds are earmarked for ring equipment for the club.

Real artistic talent was evidenced in the attractive benches decorated by individuals and clubs. Mrs. Joan Morden's Tannenbaum bench drew a great deal of admiration, as well as the prize on the opening day. Of all the club benching efforts the committee awarded the $25 prize to the Irish Setter Club of Canada. The Saluki Club benching was attractive and interesting as always, and the St. Bernard breeders erected a miniature chalet.

A pleasant innovation was a snack table set up by the recently formed International Samoyed Society to which friends were invited on the day of their booster show. The displays of a wide variety of garments made from spun Samoyed hair were a constant attraction, as was the demonstration of the actual spinning by Dr. Tremere of Bowmanville, who not only spins but dyes the yarn in rich coloring from dyes she creates from various weeds. □

ON TERRIERS

THE increase in the number of purebred dogs and the establishment of dogs as "big business" has one unhappy side effect which is of concern to the breed clubs of almost every Terrier breed (and possibly others too). The wholesale importation of litters, sometimes at cut-rate prices, into the USA from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, has started some breeders wondering whether representation could be made to Congress to have a ban put on the importation from overseas of dogs under one year of age. (I cannot ascertain whether the situation is as serious yet in Canada but we should be forewarned about it). These puppies are coming in duty-free ostensibly "for breed improvement", and actually all shades of quality as well as the best are being brought in and widely distributed, many among them being pitiful specimens of their respective breeds.

Another suggestion, made by the Bedlington correspondent in Pure-Bred Dogs, is to ask for a quarantine on shipments of puppies coming in for resale.

I know of one case in point where an established kennel in one breed, wishing to go into Westies and not being able to procure a litter of Westie pups from the USA or Canada, has arranged through a veterinarian, at a total cost of about $800, to import an entire litter of five 5½ month old puppies which they plan to keep until nine months of age and then sell ("not at bargain prices" they state) those not suitable for breeding, while retaining what they, as novices in the breed, will consider suitable for breeding stock. Yet these people state they want to breed good quality stock and say they would like to have advice regarding suitable bloodlines when they breed the females they keep.

Other importations I have heard of have been of shocking quality passed off as show prospects and, regrettably, being used for breeding, while others have not the proper export certificates and cannot be properly registered.

The fault of the matter is largely one of ethics. It is hard to believe that reputable breeders overseas can send over whole litters, many of which are being offered as show stock, if they have any care at all for the good of their respective breeds. The pet shop, whose business is to make itself an income, is not to blame provided it keeps really clean premises and offers healthy stock at fair prices. But people with dirty kennels and doubtful breeding practices do the cause of purebred dogs no good and many breed clubs are beginning to screen membership applications more carefully. The puppy mill has become a real Terrier problem. The unscrupulous breeder, thinking of dog breeding only as a way of making money, and therefore cutting corners by keeping his dogs in dirty quarters and neglecting health rules and good breeding practices, is in the long run the person who is responsible for the disillusionment about purebred dogs of the pet owner who should be actually the backbone of our trade. It would be foolish to pretend that the majority of our puppies are top show and breeding prospects—we all hope to breed a few really good ones now and then!—but those who buy our pet average-to-good-puppies solely to provide themselves with the companionship, and if necessary the guarding qualities which a dog gives so richly, should be given consideration by the breeders, since their dogs are, to many people, the breeders' shop-window.

For this reason I think it important that breeders selling Terriers (all of whom need proper coat care during the year) should do everything possible to have the owners bring the dogs back, if they are within reach, or take them to someone who can properly "tidy up" more on page 56

ON PEOPLE

MRS. PERCY ADAMS, Talisker Skyes, Reg'd., Manitou Valley Rd., Ste. Agathe des Monts, P.Q. is considered the dean of Skye breeders throughout the world, and is undoubtedly one of the most famous terrier breeders. She has been faithful to this one breed for 60 years. She first became interested in dogs in 1904. Her first show was Montreal in Pictured with four Talisker Skyes: Merrymount King's Council, Ch. (Can. & Eng.) Alison of the Mynd, Taliskers Agatha of the Mynd and Ch. T. Mr. Chips.

1909, followed by Westminster, New York the following year. She has shown a great deal outside of Canada, and in both this country and the United States has captured many BIS and Terrier Group wins.

Mrs. Adams has made Skye Terriers a lifelong hobby, with generous expenditure of long hours of work, study and research to produce her famous strain. She has not been afraid to introduce qualities from other strains and has imported a great many from England, Scotland, Austria, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

In assessing Skyes in general, she feels the quality of the breed "has improved very much in type, soundness and disposition." Her own show all these qualities, and the reputation has spread throughout the world. In the past few years she has had a total of 1,242 inquiries for Skyes from all parts of North America, Europe, Japan, Mexico and Cuba. The name Talisker Skyes is registered in Canada, the States and England. In addition to exporting to nearly every American state, she has also exported to England, France, Austria, Italy, to Alaska, Newfoundland and Labrador.

Among her most famous dogs carrying the Talisker prefix: Ch. Sky High Lady Fay, Ch. George of Merrymount, Ch. Don Karin Lady Too, Ch. Fairy Wonder, Ch. Mister Chips, Eng. Ch. Alison of the Mynd and Eng. Ch. Rhosneigh Redoubtable.

This famous breeder is generous in giving credit to excellent kennel help and to her handlers of the past few years, Walter J. Martin and William J. Trainor. Much of the credit is due to her own personal care of the dogs—the exceptionally well-built kennels and runs, and diet. All the puppies are personally reared and kept in her own home until three months of age.

Mrs. Adams' beautiful home is located in the Laurentian Mountains. Her interests extend in many directions; her beautiful gardens, her stamp collection and a collection of costumed dolls from many parts of the world.

IAN BREAKKEY of Breakeyville, Que. is one of Canada's best known Fox Terrier breeders. Under the prefix of Breakeyton he has been devoted to the Smooth Fox Terrier from 1932 to 1939 and from 1945 to the present time, a total of 27 years. Interested in dogs from childhood, he obtained his first registered Smooth Fox Terrier in 1927, a male, and five years later when he left college he purchased a female and started breeding in a small way and showing. He showed his first entry at the National Kennel Club Inc. show in 1933. His most outstanding dog was of his own breeding, Ch. Breakey-ton Kip, who took BIS at the Truro KC show in 1954.

During army service in 1940 he disposed of all his dogs except three, a male and two females which he kept with the hope of resuming his kennel in civilian life. When he arrived home from overseas at the end of 1945 he had a great disappointment. The two females had died and the male was too old for breeding. So he had to begin building his kennel once more. A close observer of the breed over the years, he does not find much change has taken place in the breed. He has imported a total of six dogs; three from England and three from the United States.

Mr. Breakey's occupation is threefold: farming, raising sheep and ornamental waterfowl. The latter is also his chief hobby other than his dogs.

MRS. J. H. (DOROTHEA) DANIELL-JENKINS of Kennels of the Rouge, Reg'd., Rouge Hill, Ont. has been known for three breeds: Papillons, Bullmastiffs and West Highland Terriers. She still breeds Bullmastiffs occasionally, but is now best known for her Westies. She has been active in Terriers for the past 18 years and at one time was active in Cairns. Although she has owned dogs since 1934, she became actively interested in 1947 and began to show in that year. To date her two greatest dogs have been the Westie, Ch. (Can., Am. & Eng.) Shiningcliff Sprig, and the Bullmastiff, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Robin of the Rouge. Each earned a BIS in Canada and Sprig chalked up numerous Group 1sts. Mrs. Daniell-Jenkins is well-known as an exhibitor in the States as well as Canada. In addition to developing her own strain she has imported dogs from the United States, England and Europe.

Although she has observed little change in the breed during the past ten years, she can attest to considerable improvement over 20 years ago, as evidenced by old show photographs. "There is much more uniformity in type; ears are smaller and better set, muzzles are a little shorter, dogs are shown in better coat. The modern style of grooming shows them to better advantage. Their general character and temperament are still most attractive."

While her dogs are her chief occupation, Mrs. Daniell-Jenkins is extremely active in many fields of endeavor, including the Red Cross. Her hobbies include music, books, gardening and cooking.

She is currently President of the West Highland White Terrier Club of America and of the Terrier Breeders Association of Canada. At the same time she is President of the Pickering Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society and a member of the Ontario Executive of the Canadian Red Cross Society and is a past President of the Canadian West Highland Terrier Club and of the Bullmastiff Fanciers of Canada.

An extremely well-travelled and interesting woman, she has lived in what is now known as the Mau-Mau territory of Africa and holds a degree from Oxford University.

Now an accredited judge of Group IV in Canada and of Bullmastiffs, Cairns, West Highland Whites and Papillons in the United States, Dorothea is studying for further breeds in both Canada and the USA.

MRS. BEATRICE EVERETT, whose Acadia Lodge, Reg'd. kennels are located at Richelieu, Que. has been active in five of the terrier breeds for about 25 years. These include Scotties, Wire-haired Fox Terriers, West Highland White Terriers, Sealyhams and Dandie Dinmonts. In addition she is known as a breeder of Basset Hounds, Cocker Spaniels, Dachshunds and Poodles. She first became interested in dogs in 1922, but did not show in Canada until around 1940. Since that time her greatest show dog has been a Bedlington, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Canis Prior who won two BIS awards, about 79 Group placings and 84 BB's. She has competed in around 14 shows in addition to Canadian events. A believer in introducing other strains into her kennels, she has imported 15 dogs from the United States, 24 from England and now has more on order.

Mrs. Everett's chief occupation is her kennels.

MRS. CATHERINE (CASEY) GARDINER, and her husband Dennis of Kerrycroft Kennels, Reg'd., Orono, Ont. have been in Canadian dog news recently as winners of the Eileen McEachren Memorial Trophy (Dogs in Canada, April, 1965).

Mrs. Gardiner received an early education in dogs by simply growing up with them in the family. The purebred Boston Terriers, Collies, Pomeranians which her mother favored were of good quality and Casey and the other children were as familiar with the schooling of dogs and horses as they were with their "three R's." Casey's father had both polo and hunting horses in his stable and naturally his canine interests were with hunting dogs such as a variety of setters, Curly-Coated Retrievers and several types of hounds.

Purebred goats were a breeding interest of Casey's for some time, as were Poodles, Border Collies, Beagles, and Maltese Terriers. But her great love has been for Kerry Blue Terriers, with which she has had outstanding success. For the past 12 years Kerrycroft Kerries have been among the outstanding winners, both in Canada and the United States.

Casey's tireless research on the structure and proportion of the Kerry Blue Terrier has borne fruit in the handsomely illustrated book recently produced (in a limited edition of 100 copies), Record of Canine Characteristics. This is a major contribution to the breed, and an inspiration to breeders of all breeds.

In many ways it is a good thing to raise a breed which virtually no other breeder in the country has, but it can also tax the courage and patience. MR. AND MRS. A. J. HORN, Patty's Kennels' Reg'd. Milton, Ont. have this experience with their fine Staffordshire Bull Terriers. On the other hand, when a dog lover explicitly wishes this breed, there is an advantage in being virtually the sole source.

The Horns have been involved with terriers for the past 18 years, primarily the Staffordshire Bull Terriers, then Wire Fox Terriers and Cairns. They have also raised Bull-dogs.

Interested in purebred dogs all their lives, they first began to show in 1948. Two of their outstanding dogs have been Ch. Patty's Oky Barney and the female, Ch. Red Rali of Bandits. They have imported dogs for the purpose of improving their own bloodlines.

As the Staffordshire Bull Terrier is not too well known in Canada and is at times confused with the Bull Terrier and with the Staffordshire Terrier, they find it necessary to expend time to help people distinguish the three different breeds and to explain the qualities peculiar to their breed to which they have devoted 20 years. Although they have nine true Staffordshire Bull Terriers in their kennels at the present time, they find each has his own distinctive peculiarity.

By occupation Mr. Horn is a chef and Mrs. Horn is a secretary. As for hobbies other than dogs, "Are there any other hobbies?" they ask.

MRS. BETTY HYSLOP's Cairndania Kennels at Brockville, Ont. are famed for both Great Danes and Cairn Terriers. Of the former she still raises a few. And in the latter breed she is one of the most exceptional breeders on this continent. She is accredited to judge both breeds.

Mrs. Hyslop first became interested in dogs in 1927 and has shown extensively in both Canada and the States ever since. In 30 years Cairndania has made 60 dual champions (Canadian and American) 64 American champions and 62 Canadian, of which at least 47 are homebred. Her imports include 20 Cairn Terriers, plus about ten Great Danes from Germany.

Her late Ch. (Can. & Am.) Kelmit of Cairndania, a beautiful red male Cairn, won BB 1943, 1944 (no show 1945), 1946 and 1947 at the Cairn Terrier Club of America Specialty shows and was BB at Westminster 1946, 1947, 1948 and won seven Terrier Groups in Canada. Her late Ch. (Can. & Am.) Tam's Grey Girl of Cairndania was considered by the old timers in Cairn Terriers as one of the greatest females. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Hyslop's present Ch. (Can. & Am.) Cairndania Clansman's Grey Girl, was BB at the 1961 Westminster. She in turn is the dam of the present outstanding Cairndania McBrigand's Brigey.

Another of her exceptional dogs is Ch. (Eng., Can. & Am.) Redletter McRuffie, winner of seven Terrier Groups in the States and nine in Canada. He is ranked as top sire, having at least 23 champion sons and daughters and 40 or more champion grandchildren, plus many champion great grandchildren. McRuffie is grandsire of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Ross-mar's Clanruf O'Cairndania, winner of five BIS in Canada and four Terrier Groups in USA and many other major wins. A grandson was BB at Westminster this year and a granddaughter Best Opposite.

There are many other Cairndania Cairns with almost equally enviable show records. Of her importations of Cairns from Scotland and England Betty considers her Ch. (Eng., Can. & Am.) Redletter Miss Splinters the most exceptional, with a list of incredible wins to her name. She was shown fearlessly in both the USA and Canada. She won three Cairn Specialties and two Westminster, as well as three BIS in Canada. She is the dam of McRuffie's Splinter and Miss Ruf and Ch. (Can., Am. & Eng.) Redletter McBrigand, winner of one BIS in USA and two in Canada. She is also the dam of Eng. Ch. Redletter Mc-

Bryan, one of the top sires, if not the top, in England today. She is also the grand-dam of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Cairndania McBrigand's Holbrig, also a BIS winner in USA.

Although breeding and showing Cairns understandably demands the major part of Betty's time, she enjoys a good game of golf.

GEORGE KYNOCH, best known as a terrier man and all breed judge, has shown under the Silverdale prefix since 1911. He now lives in Vancouver.

A successful breeder of Airedales, Wire-Haired Fox Terriers, Irish Terriers, Scottish Terriers, he has also bred Cocker Spaniels, Springers, English Setters and many others. Among them were many BIS winners. Two of his most outstanding dogs were Ch. Ace of Aces, a Bulldog and the Old English Sheepdog, Ch. Broodlands Blue Bob. Way back in 1904 he became interested in dogs and they have been his work and his hobby ever since. Cocker Spaniels were his first breed, which he began to show in 1906. He did not restrict himself to his own breeding but imported about 40 dogs during his breeding career.

In his opinion "Airedales have gone back, also Wires. They have lost their terrier spirit and coats, also type."

George, who was born in Scotland, came to Canada in 1904. He served five years apprenticeship with the late J. S. Clark of the Deer Park Kennels, Toronto at $15 per month, which was considered big money in those days. He started his own kennels in West Toronto in 1909 and moved to Winnipeg the following year where he launched his Silverdale Kennels. Eventually he had the three largest kennels in Canada. At one time he had 842 dogs, including Mr. E. Chevrier's Springer Spaniels. He raised, boarded and handled most of Mr. Chevrier's dogs for 40 years and considered the Avandale Kennels the greatest Springer kennels in the world.

Although now retired, George still judges and enjoys good dogs. Other than service in the First World War, his life has been with dogs. He is a long-time member of The Canadian Kennel Club (55 years) and sports an Old Timer's (Dog World) button for 50 years in dogdom. He is the proud possessor of a plaque awarded him by the City of Fort William for attending 50 dog shows there.

Among his champion Airedale Terriers, Ch. Clipstone First Show won 23 BIS awards, Ch. Silverdale Tornado won many BIS awards and Ch. Martley Squire was also a BIS winner. Among his titled Wire Fox

Terriers, Ch. Wendy St. George once took the Fox Terrier Breed Specialty in New York. There were innumerable other great terrier champions owned and shown by George throughout the years.

JAMES G. (JIM) MCFARLANE of Badenoch Kennels, Thornhill, Ont., is a young-looking man to have been in terrier for 50 years but that is what his records show. Cairns are his first interest; Scotties come next. Other than these two breeds he has been interested in Springer Spaniels.

Jim first became concerned with dogs in 1914 but did not show until five years later. Of all the Cairns he has successfully shown he considers his Ch. (Can. & Am.) Badenoch Hamish Ruadh his greatest dog, particularly as the sire of some of Canada's top Cairns of today. In addition to Canadian shows, he has exhibited frequently in the United States and has done well in severe competition at some of the largest American shows.

A textile salesman by profession, Jim came to Canada from Badenoch, Inverness-shire, Scotland in 1927. "This is where our kennel prefix originated, and where we actually worked the Cairns." He married Kay, who originated from Tipperary, Ireland, in 1930. "She is the other side of the partnership and although she won't admit it, she enjoys the Cairns," says Jim. Both are active workers in breed clubs.

As for changes in the breed during the past ten or 20 years, Jim states: "while many attempts have been made and are still being tried to produce Cairns away from the Standard, we believe it is one of the few breeds in which the persistence of the true breeders has maintained the correct appearance and Standard."

While not occupied with dogs, Jim's hobbies are golf and fishing.

For MRS. ENA STEWART, Tynedale Kennels, Reg'd., West Vancouver, B.C. there was no such thing as "becoming interested in dogs." As a daughter of the well-known Joseph Dodds, one of the most outstanding dog men of the Canadian West, she was born to the knowledge of purebred dogs.

Wire-haired Fox Terriers first, and Bedlington Terriers secondly are her terrier interests. She has also raised

NOTICE

SUBJECT: PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO DOG SHOW RULES

In the December (1964) issue of "Dogs in Canada" notice was given of 10 proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules submitted by members of the Club eligible to do so.

These proposed amendments were referred to the annual general meeting held at Vancouver on March 6, 1965 for discussion, as provided in Article XXXVIII, Section 4 of the Club's By-laws.

A resumé of the discussion at the annual general meeting on these proposed amendments is published on this and succeeding pages.

All ordinary members of The Canadian Kennel Club are requested to submit, at their option, but not later than May 31, 1965, written opinions with regard to the original proposed amendments, the suggested changes, and any other relevant comments or suggestions they may wish to make. For ready reference the proposed amendments in their original form are also published in this section of this issue.

Resumé of Discussion on Proposed Amendments Presented at the Annual General Meeting held at Vancouver on March 6, 1965

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1

CHAIRMAN: That just means that any suggestions coming from the floor come as a recommendation to the Amendments Committee to consider should the prescribed wording in these Amendments as presented to you differ with your advice. Is Mrs. Agnes S. Simpson, the proposer of proposed amendment no. 1, here?

MRS. SIMPSON: Yes.

CHAIRMAN: Do you wish to speak on the Proposed Amendment No. 1, Mrs. Simpson?

MRS. SIMPSON: It occurred to me and quite a number of other people that such a Miscellaneous class would enable people to introduce new breeds to Canada and show them at recognised Shows if they are recognised by Kennel Clubs in other countries, with the introduction of this and the details could be left to the Board to work that out but the idea was that a Miscellaneous Class be inserted in the Rules.

CHAIRMAN: Thank you, Mrs. Simpson. Mrs. Anderson, would you care to speak on this matter?

MRS. SHEILA ANDERSON: I have not a great deal to add to what Mrs. Simpson has said, she has outlined the thoughts behind the idea of introducing Miscellaneous Class. It is quite true that until a breed is recognised by the Canadian Kennel Club, there is no shop window for it, in fact you can't even put it in a Sanction Show so it is rather difficult to get the public to know your breed. You can have people buy them and breed them and possibly then get the number that will persuade the Canadian Kennel Club that they are a breed that should be recognised. We thought this Miscellaneous Class would help those enterprising, energetic people who spend their money on dogs not, at the moment, recognised in Canada. This is not a revolutionary idea at all, all people who are familiar with the American Kennel Club know that the Miscellaneous Class in the United States seems to work quite well. There is no question at all of wanting to keep people for a long time in this particular class. It is just really to give you a shop window, a show window, right away — immediately.

CHAIRMAN: Anybody wish to discuss this proposed amendment?

MRS. ELSIE MURRAY: Talking of the Miscellaneous Class, I can't see what they hope to gain from it. It is just more work for the Secretary, more printing, more expense for a club. If these people buy these breeds and they want to make them popular, I can't see where the Dog Show is going to do it at all. It's an added burden to any club and more expense and I would be against this proposal.

MRS. PAMELA MACK: I think as to the cost of a Miscellaneous Class, it is one class, it is not separate classes for each different breed. It is just a matter of a few ribbons and a few lines in your list, it is a very slight cost and only breeds which are approved by the Canadian Kennel Club will be able to go in that, not any breed that anybody chooses to put in it. There will be certain breeds designated by the Canadian Kennel Club as eligible to compete in the Miscellaneous Class and it is simply a class until such time as they become officially approved to compete in Championship Shows. We have an example in Montreal of an excellent Bearded Collie which has won a 'C.C.' in England but because the breed is not of sufficient number yet in Canada to be officially recognised, that dog cannot be presented at any Show for everyone to see the breed and I think it is one of the major ways that you can popularise a new breed and let people see examples of the breed. It is a very slight cost to a Show-giving Club.

MR. R. G. SLESS: Mr. Chairman, while I am in favour of the Miscellaneous Class, I think it is quite vague. It just says, "there shall be no further competition for dogs entered in this class.", it doesn't say whether they are going to get just, say, a Winners Bitch or a Winners Dog or Best of Breed, it doesn't say anything. We have got three different interpretations of it now and if we are going to get them now what is the Secretary going to get if it is passed. I think it should be a bit more specific.

MRS. SHEILA ANDERSON: The idea was that to have the Class to begin with, it would be optional for a Club if they decided to have a Miscellaneous Class. I can envision that a Club would realise there was no benefit for them to advertise the fact that they would have a Miscellaneous Class, or they may decide they didn't wish to have it, so it was considered it should be optional. If the Club wished to have this Class then they could have it so you don't have to spend the money if you don't want to. As far as cost is concerned, of course, the additional entry fee should take care of all that. Now the Miscellaneous Class we felt, should be treated so that the breeds would compete together and the ribbons would be different to what are in use in the ordinary Championship Shows. 'There will be no further competition' meant that the winner of the Miscellaneous Class would not go forward into the Group. I think that perhaps this answers Mr. Sless' enquiry. There are reasons for considering perhaps it shouldn't go forward into the Group. The main idea of the Miscellaneous Class is to get a shop window. Now, it is possible the judge and many people might feel that the dogs from the Miscellaneous Class shouldn't be in the Group because the judge really might not be familiar with that dog, it is probably a really rare dog, a Bearded Collie for instance, perhaps many judges would not know how to judge it in relation to when Championship points are involved. This is why there is no further competition.

There has been some criticism and it was specific criticism from somebody in Ontario who has a breed of dogs which at the moment is not recognised in Canada; she can't show her dogs. Now, at first when she heard of the Miscellaneous Class she was very worried, she said, "You have a Miscellaneous Class, my dogs will go into the Miscellaneous Class and they will never get out of it, they will stay there forever." When it was explained to her that the Miscellaneous Class would not alter the fact that the Canadian Kennel Club has a policy that when there are seven dogs of that breed in Canada, then the Board takes a decision whether or not to recognise that breed. But it takes a while to get seven dogs, especially when people don't see these breeds, to decide they are going to go in for it. I hope I have made this clear.

MR. GORDON ASHCROFT: Just a word to clarify. This has to do with section 4, chapter 4, which heads up by being "Unofficial Classes" and many of these are 'Brace Team' and so on like that. In other words, there are a great many Show-giving clubs in Canada that do not hold even these classes, in other words, 'Brace Team', 'Exhibition Only', many clubs don't have these classes and this Miscellaneous Class follows along with that. If a Club does want to hold the Miscellaneous Class, fine. If they don't, that's fine too and going back to the previous chapter, there are many classes there that are not held by Show-giving clubs.

MRS. JOAN ESARY: Having exhibited in the States in Miscellaneous Class in several Shows, it seems to be up to the Show-giving club down there whether you enter the ring as a breed or as one of many breeds. I think this should be standardised, whether they are allowed to enter the ring individually or with a group. I think if they pay the same entry fee as any other dog in the Show it should be allowed to enter as a breed not one of many. But I would like to know what judges are going to qualify to do this Class?

L/CDR. D. G. ANDERSON: Relative to the remarks of the previous speaker but one, he pointed out that this Class would be included in the Unofficial Classes — Awards and Entries — Section 4. I would just like to point out that in this we have a Brace Class and a Team Class and in both cases they say a show-giving club may schedule a Brace Class, a show-giving club in its classification may schedule in this classification a Team Class. However, in the proposed amendment, we only say this Class shall be open and the chapter does not say that these are the classes that may be scheduled, they are pointed out individually in each Class, so altogether I am all for the Miscellaneous Class, I feel that the wording should include 'may be scheduled' to following the wording of the other items.

MRS. PAMELA MACK: I think the remark has been made on how would the judges know how to judge these dogs. It was agreed when this was brought up at the Board Meeting and it was discussed and I think the Secretary could give the exact wording which we did agree upon — "That the breed standard of the country of origin of the dog would be used by the Canadian Kennel Club to judge that dog and where Miscellaneous Classes were set up in a Show, a copy of those standards would be sent to the judge who was judging."

MR. W. J. MONAGHAN: Mr. President, analysing the wording of this and listening to the comments I would like to suggest that probably some of the doubts might be resolved if there were a slight rephrasing, and this of course is up to the principal proposer and the co-proposers. I would like to suggest, in keeping with the general wording of section 4, probably the principal proposer and her co-proposers might consider the wording along these lines, of course I point out the principal proposer does not have to accept this, nor does she have to give a decision today as this decision doesn't have to come until I think September. Something like this, "Miscellaneous Class — only if scheduled by the Bench Show Committee". Put in there something to give them the option either to have it or not to have it. Then say, "this Class shall be open" — if the Committee says to have it open it will be open, the next wording can cause a little confusion. Although we may divide the breeds by sex or we may combine them on a sex basis, suppose that the C.K.C. agrees that there should be 12 breeds eligible for entry in the Miscellaneous Class, does this mean that all of these twelve, if we are going to divide them by sex, but the specimens of all the 12 breeds the males will be in and then the females, or does it mean that they will be in breed by breed and I suggest if this were rephrased a little better it would take care of this confusion because I know from experience that some people on a Bench Show Committee would say, well you put them all in together — others could say, well, no, they don't do it that way in the States, or they do do it that way in the States. So this Class shall be open to such breeds of dogs, breed by breed, as designated or something similar. Now I am not trying to tell anybody how they should word it but I am making this suggestion in the hope that it will make it a little easier to interpret.

MRS. SHEILA ANDERSON: I feel perhaps we should not take up too much time in spelling it out letter for letter, this can be implemented. The main idea is to have a Miscellaneous Class so we can take care of the dogs that don't get a chance to appear before the public. There are proposals, I think, which would take care of this. The mechanics of it could take us an awfully long time to work out.

MRS. T. H. MCGUIRE: I would like to speak to the Miscellaneous Class, Mr. President. Two years ago a member entered a dog in the Miscellaneous Class and we got into a lot of trouble over this. The idea of having the Class was to bring this breed to the attention of the public and it did, it brought the breed to the attention of the public but the party who owns these dogs, she now has three, feels it would be very foolish to pay an entry fee of $4.50 or $5.00 if she isn't going to obtain any points and she can pay $1.00 and enter her dog for exhibition only and it will be on the Bench and the public will see it and she feels that is just as satisfactory.

MRS. EDNA JOEL: I hate to do this Mrs. McGuire, but if the breed is not recognised by the Canadian Kennel Club it cannot be benched at a Show, even for exhibition.

CHAIRMAN: That's the potential advantage to this ruling so that we can bring them on to be a recognised breed.

MRS. EDNA JOEL: Mr. Chairman, in fairness I think perhaps we should elucidate on this. It would allow you, Mrs. McGuire, to enter them at Shows but at the present time with the Miscellaneous Class you would not pick up Championship points. Unless they are recognised by the Kennel Club they cannot be accepted into a Show anyway.

MR. WM. McDERMENT: At the semi-annual meeting this was discussed and was recommended by the Committee that was drawing up amendments to the Dog Show Rules and the definition — it was passed by the Board and it hasn't been finalised yet — that we had in the Miscellaneous Class was "at the option of the show-giving club Miscellaneous Class may be offered. It shall be open to such breeds of dogs that may be designated from time to time by the Board and shall be judged according to the Breeds standard or description as may be approved from time to time by the Board. No Championship points shall be awarded and there will be no competition above the breed level. Ribbons will be provided as shown in chapter 5, each breed to be combined at the discretion of the Show-giving club but the number of entries to be fewer than four. A copy of the Breeds Standard and Breeds Description will be sent to the judge assigned to judge this class of Show by the Canadian Kennel Club. All breed judges should be given a copy of this description and it is preferable that all breed judges be assigned to this Class but anyone who can judge any breed at Championship Show level may be assigned to judge it." Now, that is under review at the present time but we haven't finalised it. In this section it also covers for the ribbons — in the Miscellaneous Class shall be first, second, third and fourth and shall be coloured pink, green and gray in that order.

MR. W. J. MONAGHAN: Following what Mr. McDerment has said, a great deal of time has been spent on this and every point that could be thought of at the time has been covered. I feel that this draft made last summer covers the situation to the degree that there cannot be misinterpretation by a Bench Committee but the proposed amendment is a little too short, too compact, and then even though, with the care exercised last summer, I notice now that one very important thing has been left out. It does not say either in what we did last summer or in this proposed amendment, at what spot in the judging schedule the judging of this Class will take place and I think this should be in there, it does say in here when the other Unofficial Classes will be judged and I feel that the proposers might take that into consideration and indicate when the judging will take place.

MR. GEORGE FROST: I don't doubt that everybody is in accord with this particular Miscellaneous Class and I do believe there are other problems on the floor so if this could be resolved, it is consuming a lot of time and it may be jeopardising other people. I grant you everybody here has the right to be heard and I would like to bring this point up. I know this Miscellaneous Class is quite important to a lot of people but I am also thinking of these other people so if you could do something about it I think it would be appreciated.

MR. V. L. LOVE: I make a motion that we vote on this, leave it up to the committee that the gentleman over there was talking about to iron all the facts out and bring it up for the satisfaction of the Club.

CHAIRMAN: In other words, you move concurrence to the principle of it.

MR. LOVE: Yes, and I think we have a Committee working on it and I think they should finish it off.

CHAIRMAN: Any second for Mr. Love's motion?

MR. OSWALD BALSHAW: I second that.

CHAIRMAN: Will all those in favour, please signify. Stand up please. Any opposed?

Your vote is 82 in favour and two opposed. I declare the motion carried.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2

CHAIRMAN: Amendment No. 2 is more or less self-explanatory, it just refers to the ribbons award in this Class. The purpose of this meeting is either to concur or not concur. The amendment will go forward regardless but the purpose of the discussion here is to get a record of your thoughts by way of votes as a guide to any future assessment of this matter.

MR. SLESS: I move to concur.

MRS. STEWART: I will second that.

CHAIRMAN: All those in favour please signify. Please put up your hands.

56 in favour and two opposed. I declare the motion carried.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3

CHAIRMAN: Proposed Amendment No. 3. What is your pleasure?

MR. R. G. SLESS: I move that this proposed amendment No. 3 be not accepted on these grounds. We have just spent quite a while on a vague amendment and in my opinion on studying this and I studied it for about three weeks now and it is just as vague inasmuch as it doesn't tell you in your "Eligibility" as it is in this proposed amendment — it says, "Any resident who is in good standing with the Canadian Kennel Club and has the necessary qualifications". Now, since it has deleted chapter 7 of the original one can anybody tell me what those qualifications are because they have already proposed in this that they delete what other qualifications there were and we are back to what are "qualifications".

MR. TOM WELLS: I would like to answer that, Mr. Chairman. If you will go down to the fourth paragraph it says, "It is the sole responsibility of the Club holding a Show under these rules when selecting a judge or judges to select only those persons having the necessary qualifications" and the sponsors of this amendment feel that nobody is more qualified to select a person who has qualifications to judge than the show-giving clubs. They are running sanctioned shows, they are seeing people judge these shows and if they are not qualified to pick these up, I don't know who are. Chapters 7 and 8 have been contentious ever since they were brought about. I think you will all agree that it has shown no improvement in any of the judging, there is just as much dissatisfaction with it and I think in view of the fact that we originally — you have got to remember that all the judges, the old time judges before this came in, who are doing most of your all breed judging never took an examination in their lives. Now, if the present generation can't come along and be just as good dog judges without examination, then there must be something wrong with the present generation but I do feel that the clubs are the people who put the shows on, they take the responsibility of making a success of them and we limit them to a certain selection of judges, that is the Canadian Kennel Club does. Therefore that is the idea, to give this offer to the members whether they want to make this change or not, there is nothing settled, it's an amendment, you vote on it, if you don't wish to change it you don't have to and if you do wish to change it, you can.

MISS FRANCES CLARKE: Mr. Chairman, I have studied this proposed amendment and I am not in favour of it. I would like to second Mr. Sless' motion that we not go forward for several reasons. I do feel that we are only going to lessen our stand as a show-giving country by being able to go out and take a man off the street — now you may say "Wrong, not quite taking a man off the street" but just about, you say some of your clubs are not fully qualified to say whether a man has a lot of experience but the main contention I have against this: If the Canadian Kennel Club wants more judges which we obviously need — more and better judges — you would be much better to appoint your Director in each Province to possibly set up a Committee — or do it on his own — to select the breeders who have proven their ability in breeding and selecting of their breeding stock — the quality dogs, possibly encouraging them in sanction shows or those who have been judging in sanction shows, to take these people, help them, train them, do everything you possibly can to encourage them and assist them in passing proper examinations. Then we will have more judges, it is just a simple matter of getting out and saying to her or somebody else, "Look, I think you have the ability or qualifications to make a good judge. How about studying? How about working with us and becoming a judge." This is what we need to do, not go out and just because one club thinks "Well, I like Mrs. Smith, we'll have her judge." It doesn't mean to say she is a better person or able to select a dog in the ring when it should be done. I don't think everybody is capable of doing this job, even some of your breeders. I think they must pass some form of examination, be put through some test. After all, if you are going to make judging so easy that there is no challenge to it, it is not going to be worthwhile and you are not going to get the respect of the American Kennel Club by putting in a proposal like this. You can't go to them and say, "Look upon us as your equal" if we have no qualifications, no examinations or tests at all when becoming a judge. So, I am not in favour of it, I think it is up to the Kennel Club to go out and help those — maybe some people need a bit of prompting, I can think of many people in our area who would be capable of judging. Take your Director and appoint people to go out and say, "You have qualifications, how about giving it a try, start studying?" Help them, but don't put through this amendment.

MRS. W. WARTNOW: When this amendment was proposed to us we were under the impression that not one person was going to assign himself to doing all the breeds. Take, for instance, myself, I have Miniature Pinschers, I would breed Miniature Pinschers and judge those. Maybe somebody else will have another breed, a Basset Hound, and let that breeder judge that dog. Maybe we would have a longer show and maybe we would have a show that was having more judges but we could have a much better place to put our dogs in because our fees for our judges would not be one half as high as they are now. So I think the different people who own these dogs are qualified to breed and judge their own animals. Different people here I know are qualified for judging and another thing there are many judges right now that are doing judging for our show who are not and did not go under the same rules that we have to go under now.

MR. ROBERT LITTLE: Mr. Chairman, along those same lines and suggestions I have gone out to some of our better breeders and I say, "You are qualified, in my mind, to start judging". And they look at me and they say, "You're crazy, under this present system that we have to become a judge." So there is something wrong somewhere and we should be getting something on the table that we can work with and approve these people.

MRS. EILEEN ANSON: I have put my signature to this proposal because I feel that we have got to do something to get new judges in Canada. We are complaining about the cost of judges but we are never going to get new judges — genuine breeder-judges — I don't think on the principle of this exam. I think it puts people off, it puts the people that we want off. I think there are a lot of people who don't really know, who are capable of taking a book and memorizing it and who can pass that exam with flying colours and you can put a dozen dogs in front of them and they wouldn't know top from bottom. I don't think you will ever do it with writing or exams. You have got to do it with experience and unless you give people experience you are never going to get judges. It is experience all the way and I think it is wrong to expect a person to go in and judge a whole group. A lot of genuine people will say they wouldn't mind judging half a dozen breeds but they will not do all the breeds because they know they don't know and they are too honest to go in and say they do know but there are quite a lot of people who don't know and who say they do know and that is where we are making our big mistake. I think until we get a system that encourages the people who know to come forward and give of their experience we are not going to get the judges we want — we will get judges but we are not going to get the judges we want and I feel that is what we have got to solve more than anything else.

MR. G. T. BARNETT: Fellow members, as our system today has been proven for the last 50 years, we are just following on. Our Dog Shows aren't getting any better today than they were years ago. I would like to ask how many all-breed judges have we got in Canada?

MEMBER: All-Breed judges — 55.

MR. BARNETT: How many of those 55 judges have written an exam?

CHAIRMAN: I wouldn't say more than five, as an estimate.

MR. G. T. BARNETT: Five. That's a small percent. Therefore, if a young person today wants to be a judge he has got to write an examination. How many of the 50 could pass examinations or know 123 different breeds of dogs. We buy and sell dogs and raise them according to a standard, therefore our dogs are never judged by the standard if they don't know it. Therefore the C.K.C. gives a license to a judge for what they don't know rather than what they know. For instance, you can have ten different Shows on a circuit, how many of our present judges will put up the same dog — at ten different Shows, every day you have a different Show? Chances are the best dog in the Show never got out of the Puppy Class, so I think we are all for a change in this judging.

MRS. ELSIE MURRAY: Mr. President, talking to this judges proposal. I have felt for a long time that the written exam is wrong. I agree with some of the previous speakers. One thing I have thought for a long time about Sanction Shows — we get judges in there, we give it a lot of thought and we put them in and they do a nice job, or maybe they are not so smart on their ring procedure. I think we want some new judges and that sanction shows are the place for them to prove their metal and I would say three to five Sanction Shows with two or three all-breed judges sitting on the sidelines and watching them, I don't mean to make them nervous, but to ask them afterwards, "Why did you put that dog over this dog?" and you get a cross-section of opinions. Then when the show-giving Clubs or the Director, or those clubs feel they want to write to the Director and say "so and so is doing a very good job, they know their standards, they are getting dogs, they are finding faults" — anybody can pick faults, I mean picking the good ones. Then write to the Director, then coach that person. This is my idea of finding judges, this I have proved in the Junior Kennel Club. I have four to five children who can go out and judge, they wouldn't attempt all-breeds, neither would I let them but on certain breeds, and this is the way I have watched them — from their exam papers and from them talking about dogs around shows and I think if you took some judges from the sanction shows and coached them afterwards there would be your foundation for your judges. I am not all for this written exam.

MRS. JOAN ESARY: I don't feel that written examinations or apprenticing is the answer for good judges, I don't think this qualifies a good judge. I think that competition is the only thing that will weed the field down to the good ones.

MR. GEORGE KYNOCH: Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen, I am not going to say very much. I think the only way to find out who knows dogs and who doesn't know dogs and those people aspiring to be judges should be placed in a room with ten or twelve dogs of the breed that they say they know and get them to judge them and write a critique on each dog and say why they put that one first and that one second and so on. If they qualify, I say give them another breed and before they have gone very far you will catch them if they don't know.

MR. J. C. ANDERSON: With all due respect to the proposers of these proposed amendments to our Dog Show Rules, to me they only indicate that there is considerable dissatisfaction with our rules and this I agree, personally I disagree with any proposed amendments to our Dog Show Rules at this point for this reason. We have two Committees functioning now on this, Mr. Dawson as Chairman of the Approval of Judges, his Committee is working on proposed amendments to chapter 7 of our Dog Show Rules and there was a Dog Show Rules Committee chaired by Mr. McDerment that did considerable work on proposing amendments to our entire Dog Show Rules. This Committee has submitted its report to the Board and its job is finished but we now have the Dog Show Council which was set up by our referendum ballot a year or so ago and we now have this Council. The Board has appointed a Chairman who has authority to go ahead and to my mind the practical way to do this is to allow these Committees to come up with recommendations and they then be discussed. To me, any group of members across Canada should submit their constructive criticism or suggestions to these Committees and allow these Committees to come up with something for your consideration. There is no emergency in any of this, we have stumbled along all these years with dissatisfaction, to me it seems more progressive to allow these Committees to finalize things and present them properly to you and then you give it consideration.

L/CDR. D. G. ANDERSON: I agree, Mr. President, with the previous speaker. Mr. Dawson, I believe, in the October issue of "Dogs in Canada" came up with some recommendations to the Board which the Board kicked around, if you will pardon the expression, and suggested that they be tidied up. I would think in view of this being prepared to come before the ballot, this would in fact give us a good indication as to which way we should go and in fact if it is adopted it will probably be a reasonably good procedure. In view of that, I would like to second the motion that the first speaker on this subject made.

MR. R. G. SLESS: Mr. President, I would like to go on record by saying I am not in favour of the present judges standard, the way we have them, no more than anyone else is, but I do think that we shouldn't jump out of the frying pan into the fire. We have a thing now that we jumped into both feet first, without thinking, if we jump again on this then next year we will be up here arguing again — or you will in Toronto — and I think if there is a Committee on this, if it has been proposed there be a Committee why shouldn't we give them the confidence that they deserve and let them bring up a good one. While I have every respect for the proposers of these things, right now I can ask Mr. Wells or Mr. Anson what they mean by a certain thing and they can tell me but why didn't they put it in here? If I am Show Secretary, I can't everytime I want to get a judge keep phoning these proposers and asking, "What did you mean by that?" All of these proposed amendments to me are too vague. We have to think on a national basis not in B.C. or Saskatchewan or Alberta, we have to think on a national basis and I realize what is good for B.C. might not be good for Saskatchewan or Quebec and I feel that this Committee that you have, this Dog Show Council, has this national feeling because they come from all over Canada and I think we should leave it up to them and bring it up for amendment and that is one of the reasons I proposed we didn't accept this.

MR. WM. DAWSON: Mr. Chairman, there is one point I would like to briefly put over. I have heard a lot said about the judges, I have never heard anyone come up and say "How are we going to judge the judges?" Ladies and Gentlemen, let me tell you there is only one way to judge the judges and that's you, the exhibitor, who is the judge of the judges.

CHAIRMAN: We have a motion on the floor, moved by Mr. Sless, seconded by Miss Clarke, that we do not concur with this proposed Amendment No. 4 as presented. All those in favour, please signify. Opposed? The count on the motion as made by Mr. Sless, is 44 in favour, 5 against.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4

CHAIRMAN: Amendment No. 4, dealing with Chapter 8, 'Selection and Approval of Judges'. What's your pleasure on this one?

MR. TOM WELLS: Mr. Chairman, this chapter 8, if there is no alteration made in chapter 7 then this motion will not be necessary but this amendment would be necessary if you make any alterations to chapter 7. One complements the other.

MR. W. J. MONAGHAN: Mr. President, in the light of the remarks of the principal proposer, I move non-concurrence of the Proposed Amendment No. 4, that puts it in the same category as the other one.

MR. R. G. SLESS: I second that.

CHAIRMAN: It has been moved by Mr. Monaghan, seconded by Mr. Sless, vote of non-concurrence with Amendment No. 4. All those in favour, please signify. Opposed? 49 in favour, 3 opposed. I declare the motion of non-concurrence carried.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5

CHAIRMAN: Any of those present and wish to speak on it?

MR. R. G. SLESS: I move concurrence.

MRS. ENA STEWART: I will second it.

MRS. PATRICIA POWER: I disagree with this proposed amendment on the grounds that it could pass inflection from dog to dog.

MRS. ENA STEWART: I would like to disagree with Mrs. Pat Power on this because if you are judging a dog, you are handling the dog anyway so therefore if there are any germs from one dog to the other, those germs are going to be passed on. Plus the fact that if a judge is not allowed to open a dog's mouth and the owner is only allowed to do it, how can you tell whether the dog's mouth is right or it is wrong?

MR. R. G. SLESS: Mr. President, I have always been a great believer in if there is a rule, let's obey it and I believe in every Dog Show I have ever been to if there are 180 dogs in the Show, 100 times this rule is broken and it just makes the rule stupid in the first place. I am not a judge and I don't at the present time have any aspirations to be one, but if I were and a green handler came in the ring with a dog, and he could not open the mouth for me, then as the system stands now I must assume that that dog has a bad mouth. That's the way I interpret judging. Now that dog could be the best dog in the show but because you can't see its mouth you must assume that it's bad so the dog gets dumped but the main reason is that we are breaking the rule now and to me it is just stupid to have a rule that you keep breaking.

MR. PATTERSON: I think it is most important that the mouth of the dog be examined but regarding the possibility of transmission of disease, would it not be possible for the Vet. to examine the dog's mouth with a judge standing by before the dog goes in the ring, with a representative of the Kennel Club making sure that the standard of the mouth is in order. It would save the judge the bother and if there are a lot of puppies there he would be wasting a lot of time.

MR. GEORGE KYNOCH: Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen, in my opinion this present rule is crazy because we proved beyond any doubt. I say if there is any disease on that dog by opening its mouth people are crazy because it is all over the dog. To judge a dog you have got to take hold of its lips and find out a lot of things — take these German Shepherds lacking molars and things like that, they will open and show their tonsils, never mind their teeth, and I say they should be absolutely done away with and the judge allowed to open the dog's mouth and then you know you are not getting fooled.

MRS. EDNA JOEL: I think anyone that judges runs into this problem. By opening a dog's mouth, what do you mean, a closed bite? Or do you want them to stretch the jaws? I don't think any judge wants to put their hands right into a dog's mouth, they just want to see whether they have the type of bite that the standard says that they should have and whether the teeth are all there. I maintain that a dog just walking around the show, even in the exercise ring, will pick up hepatitis a lot faster than any judge can give it to in the ring. You take a Whippet, if it has a wrong bottom jaw and you hold it here at the back of the bone you can project it to get this kind of bite, if you look at it afterwards you can get a bite like this. Now, I think that if we are going to judge dogs it is essential that you take all aspects into consideration and I must agree that I am in favour of a judge being able to look directly at a dog's bite and mouth.

MRS. PAMELA MACK: I am sure a great many of you from here go down and show in the States and I don't suppose that many of you stop and say, "Will I go to an American Show, the judge is going to handle my dog's mouth?" I don't think it debars you going down to a show or makes you think about it. If it is alright for your dog to have its mouth handled once he crosses the border, why is it any different and any more dangerous for possibly that same judge to come up into Canada and handle your dog's mouth?

MRS. R. BRUCE: I think this should be the judge's prerogative to either ask the breeder to open the dog's mouth or open it by himself.

CHAIRMAN: We have a motion on the floor we concur with this amendment No. 5. All those in favour, please signify. Opposed? 65 to 3. I declare the motion carried.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 6

CHAIRMAN: Any of the sponsors wish to speak on the motion?

L/CDR. D. G. ANDERSON: I am one of the proposers of this motion. One of the reasons I signed it was that we had a case where the veterinarian missed the particular dog. The final say should be with the judge whether the dog is disqualified or not. That's all I want to say.

MR. GEORGE KYNOCH: As a point of information; a qualified Veterinary Surgeon has passed the dog in at the gate and the judge finds that the dog has got one testicle when he comes to judge in the ring, has he got the authority to overpower the Veterinary Surgeon and chuck him out? It has happened many times around this city that the Vets. passed a dog into the Dog Show and when it came in the ring it was a cryptorchid or monorchid and then the judge disqualified the dog and he got into trouble over it. Now, who is right and who is wrong? Has the judge got the authority over the Veterinary Surgeon to disqualify that dog? I say, yes.

MRS. PAMELA MACK: It is a disqualification for all breeds in our rules and the judges agree to judge by the standards in the rules so therefore the judge has to disqualify the dog if he finds it is a cryptorchid or monorchid, it is right in our Standard.

MR. W. J. MONAGHAN: Mr. President, if I could just say a word, I think what Mrs. Mack has said is the proper way to interpret the rules which we have but from time to time an incident arises wherein the Veterinarian has evidently missed examining this particular dog and it is noticed then by the judge that this male dog does not have two normal testicles normally located in the scrotum and some judges, to my knowledge, have taken the attitude, "Well, it's not up to me now, the Vet. passed it".

My opinion is that the judge still has a responsibility and that, if for no other reason, this proposed amendment.

should go to the ballot because then it will make sure there is no arguing or passing the buck. Purely for clarification.

MR. R. M. WEBSTER: Mr. President, I would like to propose a small amendment to this amendment in that in the last sentence it calls for two normal testicles normally located in the scrotum. May I suggest that that second word 'normally' is altered to 'properly'. We breeders do know that with some young dogs their testicles are liable to behave somewhat erratically and I think if they are properly located rather than normally located, the amendment would be more definite. It is rather vague as it is.

MR. R. G. SLESS: While I am in favour of this motion I think we should lay the blame where it belongs. Two people have spoken about the Vet. not inspecting the dog properly but to my knowledge or to any of you Board member's knowledge, when was the last time any information was sent to Vets. about what they are supposed to look for? A Vet. is not a Show Dog person, he is a Vet. and he doesn't know. He has to rely on the Secretaries of the Clubs to tell him. I proposed this last year, I spoke to our Director about this, whether it could not be brought up that a pamphlet be made, surely we could pay for a pamphlet to be sent to every Vet. telling them what they are supposed to do in their duties. To my knowledge this never was done, it just relies on the Secretary. We have had Vets. come in new to the area and they say, "Well, what am I supposed to do?" And if the Secretary is a little bit rusty, "Oh, just examine the dog."

MR. TOM WELLS: Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, it is rather unfortunate that this amendment came ahead of the next one. It would have been better if it followed because if you are in favour of the next amendment, this one would be absolutely necessary to be in the Rules.

MRS. C. WATSON: Mr. President, I feel that a judge judging the dog as he finds it in the ring at that time and if at the time he is judging the dog's testicles aren't present, then I feel they are not present. If he was judging a dog and it wasn't in coat that day he wouldn't put it up. He is looking at the dog today and if it has no testicles it has no testicles.

MR. W. J. MONAGHAN: Mr. President, with reference to the remarks by Mr. Webster in regard to the wording, I have a distinct recollection of the Annual General Meeting at which the original proposal was brought before the meeting and this was brought before the meeting by the then Director for British Columbia. There was some discussion about how this thing should be worded and the matter was referred to the Honorary Veterinarian of this Club and after some mature consideration he said that in veterinary phraseology this was the accepted way to express it and we followed his advice, so we had technical advice on it and I suggest that he must have been on the right track when he said that because we still have the same Honorary Veterinarian.

MISS FRANCES CLARKE: I don't mean to be in any way critical of some of our judges but I think I would like that amendment amended to this degree. I think that a Veterinarian should be called if there is one in the building. Now I realize that there is something before the meeting in regard to doing away with Veterinarians at Shows. I don't think this is a good thing. Now, I have watched personally instances during the year where one or two dogs have been questioned. These dogs were normal; what the judges were questioning them on is a good point because actually speaking the Veterinarian passed them and I know one Show where three different people were called into the ring as no Veterinarian was there and because the judge wasn't sure and yet the dog had two perfectly normal testicles properly placed, one, I don't think was quite as large as the other and yet were normal. Now, you are going to run into this — where a judge might disqualify a dog and not be right. This is, of course, going to mar a dog's record. I think in that case if it is at all possible, a Veterinarian should be called first, if there is no Veterinarian then the onus, of course, is on the judge but I think a Veterinarian is the one who should say whether or not a dog is normal.

CHAIRMAN: We had a motion by Mr. Sless, seconded by L/Cdr. Anderson, that we concur with proposed amendment No. 6. All those in favour please signify. Opposed? The count is 43 in favour, one against. I declare the motion carried.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 7

MR. TOM WELLS: Mr. Chairman, anybody who has attended the Shows as regularly as I have over the years knows what a ridiculous rule is the one we have about having a dog show Vet. The idea that a Vet. can examine 200 to 300 dogs in half an hour is about the most ridiculous nonsense I think you can possibly think up.

Another thing, anyone who talks about spreading disease — we stand with all these dogs in a crowd outside the door before they ever get to the Vet. so if a diseased dog is there he spreads it before he even gets to the Vet. and therefore I move concurrence with this amendment.

MR. R. C. NEWBY: I second that.

MR. R. G. SLESS: I definitely agree with what Mr. Wells said. In the proposed amendment it tells you everything you need to know about an examined Show but I am a great believer in rules being specific so nobody can say he looks at it this way and somebody else says he looks at it another way. I would like to make a suggestion to the Board that when they consider this they continue chapter 9 with chapter 8 because it has to be there and it would read "For non-examined Shows the dogs do not have to be examined on entering the Show building but the Club must have a Veterinarian within easy call." If you are going to make rules they should be rules that no one can twist around. We have enough of them already.

MRS. ELSIE MURRAY: On this chapter 14 — "Every Dog Show shall have one or more qualified veterinarians in attendance before and during the entire progress of the show or within easy call." The way I would like to see this worded would be, "until the end of the breed judging". You don't need a Vet. after the breed judging, you don't need him during the Groups and during the supper hour and I am looking at it from the point of view of the terrific cost. What are the Vets. going to charge us if they are through — if they come at 8:30 and are through at 11:30 or they come for a couple of hours in the morning and a couple of hours after lunch and then we are through with them? Now, if our breed judging went on from 9:30 to 6:00, that should be long enough but if we are going to have to pay them for supper hour and for Groups, this is where I would like to see it — "during the entire progress", I would like that "until the end of the breed judging".

CHAIRMAN: Are you ready for the question? All those in favour please signify. Any opposed? There being none opposed, I declare it a unanimous decision.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 8

L/CDR. D. G. ANDERSON: I would like to make a motion, Mr. President, that we concur.

MRS. J. F. O. WOOD I second that.

CHAIRMAN: Moved by L/Cdr. Anderson and seconded by Mrs. Wood that we concur with amendment No. 8. Any discussion? Are you ready for the question? All those in favour please signify. Any opposed? I see none opposed so I declare the motion carried.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 9

CHAIRMAN: This is complementary to the previous one.

Moved concurrence by Mr. R. C. Newby and seconded by Mr. Brown. All those in favour please signify. Any opposed? 30 in favour, none opposed. Motion carried.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 10

CHAIRMAN: Moved by Mr. R. G. Sless, seconded by Mr. D. G. Anderson that we concur with proposed amendment No. 10. Any discussion? Are you ready for the question? All those in favour please signify. Opposed? 46 in favour, none opposed. I declare the motion carried.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

Chapter 7, ELIGIBILITY FOR APPROVAL TO JUDGE, be deleted in its entirety, and the following be substituted therefor:

"Chapter 7. — ELIGIBILITY TO JUDGE

"Section 1. Any resident of Canada, who is in good standing with The Canadian Kennel Club and who has the necessary qualifications, may judge any breed or breeds, or make any awards provided for in these Rules, at any shows held under these rules.

Any resident of a country other than Canada who is in good standing with the governing body of the country in which he resides and who has the necessary qualifications, may judge any breed or breeds, or make any of the awards provided for in these Rules at shows held under these Rules.

The foregoing provisions of this Section are subject to the remaining provisions of this Chapter.

It is the sole responsibility of the club holding a show under these Rules, when selecting a judge or judges, to select only those persons having the necessary qualifications to judge the breed or breeds or make any of the awards provided for in these Rules.

Regardless of the circumstances the show-giving club must not select or permit any of the following to officiate as a judge at its show: the show superintendent of the show, the show secretary of the show, a veterinarian officiating as such at the show, nor any person officiating in any of these capacities whether officially designated as such or not.

"Section 2. The Board may from time to time as it deems advisable order the preparation and distribution of a list of persons who have, during the preceding five years, judged a breed or breeds, or made an award or awards as provided in these Rules, at shows held under these Rules. The non-appearance of any name on such a list, whether from inadvertent omission or other cause, shall not be grounds for claim against the Club, or any employee of the Club.

"Section 3. When the Board receives what is considered to be a well-founded complaint against a judge it may, at its discretion, debar (temporarily or otherwise) that person from further judging at shows held under these Rules, or it may, at its discretion, limit the breeds or awards which that person may judge at shows held under these Rules.

Before lifting a debarment, which has been imposed on a temporary basis or otherwise, the Board may require the person debarred from any breed and/or award to successfully pass an oral examination on breed standards and/or rules, a written examination on breed standards and/or a practical demonstration of his ability to judge, or all or any combination of these.

The Board shall determine the procedure to be followed in the handling of a complaint against a judge.

"Section 4. In this Chapter:

- the words "show" or "shows", when employed in this Chapter, mean any of the shows defined in Sections 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Chapter 2 of these Rules;
- whenever the context requires, or it is appropriate to so interpret, the word "breed" shall include the plural ("breeds")."

PROPOSED BY: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wells, Mrs. Eileen Joyce Anson, Mrs. Anne Bullock, Ford Flechar, Mrs. Winifred Wartnow.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

Chapter 8, SELECTION AND APPROVAL OF JUDGES, be deleted in its entirety, and the following substituted therefor:

Chapter 8. — SELECTION OF JUDGES

"Section 1. (a) After a club or association has been granted permission by The Canadian Kennel Club to hold a show under these Rules it must forward to The Canadian Kennel Club, at least three months before its show, a list setting forth the names and addresses of the persons which it has selected to judge at its show, giving in each instance the particular breed or breeds, and awards which it is proposing each person listed shall pass upon or make.

(b) Where the list referred to in (a) does not include, as a proposed judge, the name of any person ineligible to judge any of the breeds and awards listed for proposed judge, the show-giving club will be informed that The Canadian Kennel Club has noted its selection of judges, and the show-giving club will then confirm its judging arrangements with the listed judges, and may proceed to announce its selected judges.

Where, however, The Canadian Kennel Club, upon receipt of the list referred to in (a) notifies the show-giving club that one or more of its proposed judges is not eligible to judge any or all of the breeds and awards listed on its submitted list, then the show-giving club must make such other arrangements as may be necessary to complete its list of judges, and must again submit its list of proposed judges to The Canadian Kennel Club until it is notified that its list of proposed judges, in its entirety, has been "Noted" by The Canadian Kennel Club.

(c) The show-giving club must not advertise, or otherwise announce, the name of any selected judge until its entire list has complied with the requirements of (a) and (b) of this Section.

"Section 2. The show-giving club shall not add to or subtract from the number of breeds which a selected judge has agreed to pass upon without first notifying said judge and obtaining his consent in writing to the contemplated change in his assigned breeds, and the judge when so notified may refuse to judge any breeds added to his original assignment.

"Section 3. A show-giving club which is notified at any time prior to one week before the opening day of its show that an advertised judge will not, for any reason, fulfill his engagement to judge, shall substitute a judge but before confirming arrangements with the judge and announcing the substitution must secure from The Canadian Kennel Club advice as to whether or not its proposed substitute is eligible to judge. If advised by The Canadian Kennel Club that the proposed substitute judge is eligible to judge, it shall then notify those who entered dogs, for judgment at the breed level, under the judge who will not officiate, of the name of the substitute judge. All those who had entered dogs to be shown, at the breed level, under the advertised judge shall be permitted to withdraw their entries at any time prior to the opening day of the show, and all entry fees and listing fees, for the withdrawn dogs shall be refunded to their respective owners.

If an advertised judge is not present or is unable to judge his or her appointed breed or breeds at a show given under these Rules, the show-giving club shall provide a substitute judge in his place. In such cases the owners (or their authorized agents) may refuse to bring their dogs into the ring for competition and may withdraw them from the show and, providing notice is given before leaving the show, such owners shall be entitled to a refund of entry fees, listing fees and recording fees, for the dogs withdrawn from competition.

"Section 4. In case an advertised judge shall have judged part of the classes of a breed and then finds it impossible to finish, a substitute judge shall be selected by the bench show committee, and in that event the awards made by the regular judge shall stand and his or her substitute shall judge only the remaining classes and awards. No dogs entered under the regularly selected judge shall be withheld from competition if it has already been passed upon by the advertised judge, however, any dog which has yet to appear in the ring may be withdrawn from competition though the entry fee will remain the property of the club.

"Section 5. A substitute judge shall finish the judging of the breed or group classes he or she is adjudicating upon if he or she has begun to judge before the advertised judge arrives at the show.

"Section 6. In this Chapter:

(a) the word "show or "shows", when employed in this Chapter mean any of the shows defined in Sections 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Chapter 2 of these Rules.

(b) whenever the context requires, or it is appropriate to so interpret, the word "breed" shall include the plural (breeds").

PROPOSED BY: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wells, Mrs. Eileen Joyce Anson, Mrs. Anne Bullock, Ford Flechar, Mrs. Winifred Wartnow.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

Chapter 9, Section 15, be deleted in its entirety and the following be substituted therefor:

"Section 15. A judge shall be permitted to personally open the mouth of any dog at the time of judging, in order to examine it, if the owner or handler has not shown it to the judge's satisfaction."

PROPOSED BY: George D. Donaldson, Mrs. Elizabeth Burchett, Mr. and Mrs. Don Falardeau, Mrs. Walker L. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 6

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

A new Section be added to Chapter 9, as follows:

"Section 17. It shall be the responsibility of the judge, when examining dogs entered in the show, to disqualify any male dog that does not have two normal testicles normally located in the scrotum."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Barbara L. Mill, S. V. B. Roberts, Mrs. Dawn Topalian, George D. Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Anderson.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 7

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

Chapter 14 be deleted in its entirety and the following substituted:

"Section 1. Every dog show shall have one or more qualified veterinarians in attendance before and during the entire progress of the show or within easy call.

"Section 2. The bench show committee of an all-breed club or a specialty club holding a dog show must elect whether all dogs are to be inspected in respect to their apparent health before being admitted to the show or whether dogs will be allowed to enter a show's premises without such inspection. If the bench show committee decides that all dogs are to be inspected, the designation "Examined Show" shall be printed on the title page of the premium list and catalogue.

"Section 3. An "Examined Show" is one at which each dog is subject to a health inspection by one of the show's veterinarians before being allowed to enter the show's premises.

"Section 4. For an "Examined Show" a club must employ a sufficient number of qualified veterinarians to insure the inspection and admission of dogs without undue delay and shall arrange to have its full complement of veterinarians present during the hours of the show when dogs will be admitted. If dogs are to be admitted to a show's premises before the published opening hour, then the bench show committee of a club must arrange to have one or more of its veterinarians on duty during such time.

"Section 5. At an "Examined Show" the veterinarian must indicate on the identification card of each dog after examination, a certification of such examination, and no dog shall be considered officially admitted until this certificate is so attached. Any exhibitor must show the identification card of his dog to the steward upon entering the ring if requested to do so, by any competing exhibitor, and if the said card shall not contain the certification of the veterinarian the steward shall see to it that the said dog is removed from the show and the Show Superintendent shall within ten days after the show report all such cases to The Canadian Kennel Club. When appealed to by a judge or when giving an opinion on a protest to the show committee, he shall immediately render his decision in writing. The exhibitor shall be subject to disciplinary action if his dog enters a show without veterinary inspection.

Where, in the opinion of the official veterinarian inspecting the dogs before entry into a show building, a dog has distemper, other communicable disease, or any condition which is considered, by the official veterinarian, to be prejudicial to the health of dogs entering the show, he shall reject the entry of the dog and report such rejection to the Show Superintendent who shall following the show, report such rejection to The Canadian Kennel Club. The person presenting the dog for veterinary inspection, when advised by the official veterinarian that the dog has been rejected shall at once remove the dog from the show premises. No claim may be made against the official veterinarian, the show-giving club or any official, for such rejection, nor may entry fees be refunded.

"Section 6. At an 'Examined Show' the veterinarian shall sign every identification card after examining the dog or dogs covered by the identification card. Veterinarians also shall be furnished with a handy receptacle, containing a proper disinfectant for use after handling each dog.

A veterinarian who desires a dog's mouth to be opened may request the owner or person in charge to open it.

"Section 7. At an 'Examined Show' any person who takes any dog into a dog show without official veterinary inspection as above described, or who takes a dog into a show that has been rejected by the official veterinarian or exposed to any dog suffering from any contagious disease within thirty days prior to the show shall be subject to disciplinary action by the Board of Directors.

"Section 8. A report of any infraction of these Rules must be made to the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club within ten days after the closing of the show."

C.K.C. ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

RESUME OF PROCEEDINGS AT THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB HELD AT THE HOTEL VANCOUVER, VANCOUVER, B.C. ON SATURDAY, MARCH 6th, 1965

The President called the meeting to order and asked the members present to stand and observe one minute's silence in memory of those members who had passed away since the previous annual general meeting.

The President then said: "Fellow members, it gives me a great deal of pleasure to welcome you, one and all, to this 77th Annual General Meeting of The Canadian Kennel Club. This is, I believe, to be a record attendance and that in itself makes history. I hope our deliberations here to-day will be both amicable and instructive and that we shall all benefit from exchange of ideas. There is a folder on your chair, a memorandum with regard to your voting privileges and I would ask you to kindly read that and co-operate with us in this respect."

The President then introduced each member of the Board.

MINUTES OF PREVIOUS ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The minutes of the Annual General Meeting held at Toronto on February 22nd, 1964, were presented for adoption. On motion by Mr. Walter Brown, seconded by Mr. Wm. Dawson, the minutes were approved as presented.

REPORTS

In the absence of the Club's two representatives to the Canadian National Exhibition Association, Mr. Walter Brown, a member ex-officio of the Dog Show Committee of the C.N.E., reported that entries at the 1964 shows increased, that the 1964 shows were very successful and 'everybody connected with the shows seemed to be well satisfied'.

On motion by Mr. Tom Wells, seconded by Mr. Wm. McDermott, Mr. Brown's remarks were received as a temporary report.

Mr. Walter Brown reported that he and Mr. Morley Fisher, the Club's two representatives to the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, had approached officials of the Winter Fair with a view to obtaining a resumption of dog shows at the Fair. He related the arguments which PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Barbara L. Mill, Mrs. S. V. B. Roberts, Mrs. Dawn Topalian, George D. Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Anderson.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 8

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

The first sentence of Section 1, Chapter 16, be amended to read as follows:

"Every dog entered in Championship or Specialty Championship Shows held under these rules, except only those breeds designated by the Board as being eligible to compete in the Miscellaneous Class, must be registered or eligible for registration in the Stud Book of The Canadian Kennel Club."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Agnes S. Simpson, Mrs. Margot Bowden, A. H. Dodds, Mrs. V. C. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. F. O. Wood.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 9

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

A new subsection be added to Section 2, Chapter 16, to read as follows:

"(c) That it is one of the breeds designated by the Board as being eligible to compete in the Miscellaneous Class."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Agnes S. Simpson, Mrs. Margot Bowden, A. H. Dodds, Mrs. V. C. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. F. O. Wood.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 10

IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

The last paragraph of Section 2, Chapter 16, be amended to read as follows:

"Except in the case of dogs entered in the Miscellaneous Class, The Canadian Kennel Club shall have the right, at any time, to require the owner of a 'listed' dog to submit proof of the dog's eligibility for registration in the Club's Stud Book, and if the Board of Directors is satisfied that the dog is not eligible for registration in the Club's Stud Book, it shall have the right to order the cancellation of all wins, championship points, and prizes earned by the dog under these Dog Show Rules. By failing to comply with the Board's order to return ribbons and/or prizes to the clubs or associations concerned the owner of the dog automatically renders himself ineligible in any competition approved by the Club."

PROPOSED BY: Mrs. Agnes S. Simpson, Mrs. Margot Bowden, A. H. Dodds, Mrs. V. C. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. F. O. Wood.

he had presented at the Winter Fair's annual meeting in support of the effort.

On motion by Mr. R. M. Webster, seconded by Mr. V. L. Love, the report was adopted.

The Secretary read the written report of Mr. T. E. Gundersen, the Club's representative to the Central Canada Exhibition Association, and a letter from the General Manager of the Association, which reported that as a result of written and telephoned complaints regarding the facilities offered for the dog show, consideration was given to finding means of remedying the conditions, but after 'realizing that the Arena is used extensively during the Fair by the Horse and Cattle Department', the Board of Directors of the Association 'feel that this is not a proper place in which to conduct a Dog Show and therefore have instructed that the Dog Show be discontinued in 1965'.

On motion by Mr. Walter Brown, seconded by Mr. George Kynoch, Mr. Gundersen's report was received.

The Club's financial statements for its fiscal year ending December 31, 1964, were presented.

On motion by Mr. R. G. Sless, seconded by Mr. D. G. Grant, the auditors' report was adopted.

CORRESPONDENCE

Letters from the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association, the Nanaimo Kennel Club, the Alberni Valley Kennel Club, and the Western Canada Boxer Club were read urging that "an agreement be sought with the American Kennel Club whereby Canadian Kennel Club approved judges would be allowed to judge championship shows under A.K.C. rules in those breeds for which they are approved without further apprenticeship or examination".

After a lengthy discussion it was moved by Mr. R. G. Sless, seconded by Mr. D. G. Anderson:

"THAT, the Board of Directors give consideration to making representations to the American Kennel Club on a reciprocity agreement with regard to judges."

The motion carried on a vote of 72 in favour, 2 opposed.

ELECTION OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. George N. Mehlenbacher and Mr. W. J. Monaghan were elected the Club's representatives to the Canadian National Exhibition Association.

Mr. Morley Fisher and Mrs. Edna Joel were elected the Club's representatives to the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.
Mr. T. E. Gundersen was elected the Club's representative to the Central Canada Exhibition Association.

Following a report on resolutions adopted at previous Annual General Meetings regarding the Club's eligibility to have five representatives on the Canadian National Live Stock Records Board, Mrs. Pamela B. Mack was elected, for a five-year term, as one of the Club's representatives on that Board.

ELECTION OF AUDITORS AND ELECTION COMMISSION

The Secretary read a letter from Fairley, Welsh & Co., the Club's auditors and Election Commission for the past several years, in which they:

- (1) stated that they would be pleased to continue our association with the Club should the members again appoint us as their Auditors and Election Commission for 1965;
- (2) submitted the following recommendations:
 - (a) that the present Club requirements for quarterly detailed audits involving examination of all cash transactions during the year be removed;
 - (b) that the Auditors should, in two interim visits during the year, use current generally accepted audit procedures involving such tests of the accounting records as they consider necessary in the circumstances;
 - (c) that the Secretary-Treasurer be requested in future to prepare the quarterly financial statements rather than the Auditors;
- (3) stated that if elected as auditors and their recommendations are adopted their audit fee would remain at $600.00 annually, otherwise the audit fee should be increased to $900.00 annually;
- (4) set forth their reasons why the fee as the Election Commission should be increased from $500.00 to $900.00 biennially.

The meeting was informed that the Board (by an 8-6 vote) recommended the re-appointment of the same Auditors at a fee of $600.00 per annum for the audit and a fee of $700.00 for services as the Election Commission biennially.

It was moved by Mr. George Kynoch, seconded by Mr. R. Osborne:

"THAT, the same firm be re-appointed on the terms outlined by them."

An amendment, as follows, was proposed by Mr. Walter Brown, seconded by Mr. George Mehlenbacher:

"THAT, we adopt the recommendation of the Board."

The amendment was put to a vote (22 in favour, 56 opposed) and was declared lost.

The motion was declared carried on a vote of 68 in favour, 15 opposed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE DOG SHOW RULES

As provided in Article XXXVIII, Section 4, of the Club's By-laws there followed a discussion on ten proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules. A resume of the discussion may be found elsewhere in this issue.

NEW BUSINESS

Under the heading of 'New Business' a number of proposals (as set forth hereunder) were submitted for the consideration of the Board of Directors.

MR. V. L. LOVE: Whereas some Conservation Clubs are now holding licensed field trials as a source of funds for the membership, and whereas these clubs have no provision for dog activities, and whereas some of these clubs have at times only one C. K. C. member and whereas these trials tend to be conducted to benefit private clubs rather than follow the trend of C. K. C. regulations, and whereas such clubs do nothing to promote field trials because their membership is often big game hunters and fishermen; therefore, any and all clubs given a license to hold C. K. C. field trials, retriever or pointer breeds, should have a specified number of C. K. C. ordinary members or a certain percentage of their membership should be C. K. C. members, all clubs should have a club membership in C. K. C. and be receiving "Dogs in Canada".

MRS. ENA STEWART: Mr. President, I would like to recommend with your permission and read my proposal for a new points system.

In order to make our Canadian championships respected in Canada and respected and recognized outside of Canada, I recommend that the following system of awarding points be adopted by The Canadian Kennel Club by January 1st, 1966.

- 1) Retain one dog - one point but make the requirements a total of 15 points, including two three-point majors, to complete a championship.
- 2) The schedule of points in each zone to be revised annually by breeds, based on entries.
- 3) Combine the sexes in breeds with entries of four or less in any particular show.

MR. V. L. LOVE: This is dealing with points too in the Retriever trials. In Retriever Trials here in B. C. there is often difficulty to get the required number of qualified open All Age entries, whereas many young handlers become discouraged before reaching All Age stakes, whereas points towards championships are given for junior stakes in pointing breed trials and for young dogs in bench shows; therefore let us consider awarding points to dogs in junior and qualifying stakes in Retriever Trials. As it is now, to obtain a Field Trial Championship, you have to acquire ten points. I propose that instead of ten points make it 15 points. Five of these points would be picked up in your Junior and Qualifying stakes. At junior, a first would be one point and the maximum points in your Junior Stake would be two points. In your Qualifying Stake, your first would be one-and-a-half points and the maximum points would be three points. In the All-Age Stake, you could pick up your ten points which is the same as what you have now and the total of 15 points could be won in All-Age Stakes.

MRS. ELSIE MURRAY: Mr. Chairman, I would like to make proposals to be presented at the Annual Meeting of The Canadian Kennel Club, March 6, 1965.

This is regarding a C. K. C. representative.
1) Because the Dog Show is the focal point of Canadian Kennel Club activities it is felt that high standards should at all times be upheld to provide an element of control for Canadian Dog Shows so that they will follow and maintain that standard with the aims and ideals of the governing body. The aforementioned representative of, and the shows to be visited, should be designated by The Canadian Kennel Club at their discretion.

That's item 1 and item 2 we discussed but seeing I have several signatures on this, I think it is only fair for me to read it.

2) To take complete advantage of the services of the Show Veterinarian it is recommended that the veterinarian be on duty until the end of the breed judging in preference to the present system of door inspection.

3) Junior Kennel Club Inter-Provincial Competitions. In order to provide a wider field of competition for promising Junior Kennel Club members, it is recommended that the Canadian Kennel Club create a fund which will help to defray the travelling expenses of those taking part in Junior Kennel Club Inter-Provincial Competitions.

I have a few notes on Sanction Shows. I think there should be a few stronger teeth put into Sanction Show Rules. I like the idea that when you make your application for a Sanction Show, you write your Director and tell her you would like a Sanction Show and within 30 days the club send in three or four of the proposed names as judges. I would like to see either a judging class organized, a judging school, or something so that these people, before they step in there as judges at sanction shows, get a little bit on ring procedure and a little bit on breeds.

MR. BEN TAYLOR: Mr. Chairman, as the result of a meeting of Obedience personnel and by this I mean training instructors and club directors, I have been asked to mention two things for consideration by the Canadian Kennel Club. First, that all existing judges in British Columbia at least or on British Columbia mainland re-examine each and every five years. Now, naturally any person who is a judge could find nothing wrong with this - it will only take about an hour and a half of his time and we are going to clear up many faults that have been around recently, such as ringside criticism which is getting more and more and sometimes well deserved.

The other thing that was brought up at this meeting was the fact that training classes should at least be able to state that they are approved by The Canadian Kennel Club.

MR. WM. STRUTINSKI: Being the President of the Club that is going to hold two licensed obedience trials on the 14th March, we are running competition to an all breed show that day and possibly if we could have got together on a building we would have made out fine but consequently we were unable to get together on a building so we are bound to suffer quite a loss. I think that unless clubs can get together in the same area or building I think two different clubs shouldn't be allowed to hold licensed obedience trials and conformation show on the same day because somebody is going to suffer a loss.

I would like to recommend that obedience trials be allowed to go ahead without having to have a veterinarian.

MR. V. L. LOVE: I would like to make a recommendation to the Field Trials Council for pointing breeds to co-operate with clubs conducting these trials to revise and elaborate the rules and regulations for these trials. Any dog whose entry is accepted in the C. K. C. field trials should be registered in The Canadian Kennel Club.

MR. R. G. SLESS: I think you should allow a show-giving club to book its show date a year ahead, then we would have more time to plan and get the judges we want.

MR. WM. STRUTINSKI: When the new Tracking Test Rules finally come into effect for a person applying to make himself eligible to judge Tracking Tests, I would like to see the same rule apply to American judges seeking to make themselves eligible in Canada, that is have to go through the same procedure as our Canadian tracking judges.

MR. WALTER BROWN: Mr. President, before we adjourn I have something to bring up under 'New Business'. I refer to a representative from this organization, from this district who was a Director of The Canadian Kennel Club for 19 years. I refer to the late Mr. Jake Irving, who was a friend of mine and a colleague. Now this gentleman did a tremendous lot for the dog game, for you and for everybody in Canada. He travelled from the Pacific to the Atlantic at his own expense many times, he organized clubs and he helped every club that asked him to give them assistance. He went over to England and paid his own expenses, he visited clubs over there and brought back good information for the dog people in Canada both in regards to breeding and administration of the organization. I would like to see a memorial in his memory and my suggestion is that the committee comprised of our Hon. President, Mr. Wm. H. Pym; our President, Mr. Vic Williams; our Second Vice-President, Mr. Tom Wells, and our Director, Mr. S. Sheila Anderson; I would like to have them appointed as a committee because they are living here and knew him and I think that they should be the committee to do the work that I propose.

I am proposing that a memorial be made in some kind of a plaque to be put up in the office of The Canadian Kennel Club and the Committee to work out the mechanics and the inscription that has got to be on this plaque. I ask you to show your respect to a man who did as much for The Canadian Kennel Club, to my mind, as anyone I know.

(A motion "THAT the committee be formed as stipulated" was moved by Mr. Walter Brown, was seconded by Mrs. Ena Stewart, and carried unanimously.)

The meeting adjourned at 7:05 P. M.

BREED

NOTES

Readers are asking: why isn't there more about their breed? What are people doing in the many breeds? We need your help! Please send in brief items pertaining to your breed, Canadian wins in the U.S.A., imports, formation of new clubs, items of interest about various breeds you may find in your reading.

German Shorthairs Are on the Double

Considering the date the first litter of German Shorthaired Pointers known to have been whelped in North America was July 4, 1925, just 40 years ago, the interest in this breed has multiplied tremendously. In the United States 345 dogs were registered during January 1964. One year later, in the same month, 611 German Shorthairs were registered.

The historic matron Senta v. Hohenbruck, (Rih v. Hohenbruck ex Susi v. Hohenbruck) came to the States in whelp. She produced seven pups, six of which survived and were given the name of "Everyuse" by Dr. Charles R. Thornton of Montana, who imported Senta. The name bore out Dr. Thornton's faith in the unique quality of the breed.

Golden Retriever Basic Fundamentals

The Golden Retriever is a retriever of many admirable qualities, and it should be the aim of all Golden breeders to maintain these qualities.

It should be remembered that the purchaser of a new Golden pup may acquire the pup for various purposes, such as a companion, a hunting retriever, a field trial retriever, a show dog, an obedience competitor, a stud dog for breed improvements, a female for foundation stock or a gift for a friend.

Breeders should never lose sight of the motto of The Golden Retriever Club of Canada whose beautiful crest stresses Field, Show and Obedience. It should be the objective of all breeders to develop a strain of Golden capable of competing with the best of breeds in all phases of the CKC sponsored competitions.

In selecting animals for foundation stock the greatest consideration should be given to temperament, then conformation as these are both hereditary.

Labrador was Greenland's First Name

Greenland was the first recipient of the name "Labrador". It was initially spoken of people who also referred to Henry VII as lavrador. This is the Portuguese word for a laborer from an Azores island. Much later the name was given to the strip of coast so familiar to Canadians.

Labrador: the Breed of Many Purposes

Although the Labrador Retriever is recognized as a Canadian dog, he has become such a general favorite in England he is almost a national dog of that country by popularity. He is seen in tea rooms, at gasoline stations, railway stations, accompanying nannies and prams in the parks, sitting proudly and politely in subway trains en route to shows. The Labs have earned a great regard as Guide dogs, members of the London Police Brigade and as mascots and "service men" in the Armed Forces. Fortune for the Retrievers as well as the masters is the compulsive urge of the British to take long healthful walks.

Every English Setter Fan Should Own this Volume

The most factual, interestingly detailed book on the English Setter, The Complete English Setter, by Davis Tuck, has been revised by Elsworth Howell and again made available. If you own an English Setter or plan to, this book should be carefully studied.

One page, for example, is devoted to a list of English Setter faults. Numerous illustrations are exceptionally good in showing what to look for in this magnificent breed.

Particularly valuable for the novice is the section called the Blueprint of the English Setter, in which the Standard is broken down and analyzed in simple but specific terms.

Another very worthwhile section is that on training and trimming for shows. Every grooming step is illustrated by close-up photographs. The book is published by the Howell Book House and is available through Dogs in Canada Book Department, 200 Davenport Rd., Toronto 5. Cost is $9.95 and worth every penny.

Beauty and Brains Now BB Plus Field Skill

It's difficult to believe that the early members of the Irish Setter family were red and white and that in its initial popularity the glorious burnished red we see today was a rarity found only in a few Irish counties. In those days the Irish hunters maintained there was less time lag and eye strain in locating their two-tone dogs. It was at the turn of the 19th Century that the red Irishman caught the public fancy. The red and white field workers were placed in obscurity when the full red was bred for beauty and his original purpose forgotten.

About 15 years ago some limited and judicious crossing was done with the English Setter to bring back the hunting spirit and renew the instinct. And in 1951 a group of field-minded Irish Setter enthusiasts formed the National Red Setter Field Trial Club on a national basis with the serious objective of improving the breed as a shooting dog. The efforts have been worthwhile. In Ireland, the Red Ones, as they are often called, have made a noteworthy comeback as well.

Mr. A. O. K. Lives Up to his Name

The American Cocker Spaniel, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Abbi's Adored Mister A.O.K., who is well-known to Canadian breeders, went BB and 1st in Group at the Kent KC show at Chatham, Ont. April 10 under Judge John Lundberg. The following day he went BB and 2nd in Group. Abbi's Adorable Crumpet was WB and BOS each day. Both dogs are owned by Mrs. Harry Reno of Port Huron, Mich.

Canadian to Represent Weimaraner Club in Europe

Mrs. B. G. (Helen) Schulze of Niagara Falls, Ont., Governor, Region 23 of the Weimaraner Club of America, has again been named Chairman of the Standards Committee. A further honor sends her this Fall to Denmark, Germany and Austria as an officer of the club. She will attend some of the field trials in these countries. Again elected to the Executive Board, this marks Mrs. Schulze's sixth year on the board.

the annual meeting of the club in Chicago late in March. 'Our new Board is the best I have seen since 1952,' she reports. 'The men on it are of the highest calibre and are concerned about the welfare and betterment of the club and especially of the dogs.'

The standard has been approved by the American Kennel Club. Note: not disqualified is the blue Weimaraner "because there had been several other breeds who had found that a color distinction was difficult, if not impossible to enforce."

Region President Don Elliott planned another spring field trial, where the breed may be seen in action. Most people see the Weimaraner only in shows. Mrs. Schulze invites readers to write her for information on the breed.

mane Society or SPCA. Who more than the breeders, the "manufacturers" — those who have a human part in the creation of more dogs, should have heart and concern for the dogs who do not have a recorded pedigree? Have you thought of calling your local Society to offer any kind of assistance? Your knowledge and experience can be put to valuable use and your value as a citizen of your growing community will increase immeasurably.

AS announced in the April issue, the Eileen McEachren Memorial Trophy has been won in its present connotation for the last time. This handsome trophy will this year and in future years be awarded to the Dog Man of the Year and the Dog Woman of the Year. Further details will be included in forthcoming issues.

The announcement of the man and woman so honored will be made in the first possible issue of Dogs in Canada in 1966. The names of both will be engraved on shields to be added to the trophy which now bears the names of its previous winners. The Dog Man of the Year and the Dog Woman of the Year will each receive a miniature of the original trophy.

Throughout Canada there are many men and women who have devoted the better part of their lives to Canadian dogdom. Some are still active, others are now more or less retired and not in the limelight. This will be your opportunity to participate in calling attention to the many devoted breeders, exhibitors, club members, veterinarians and others who have given so generously of their time and knowledge over the years.

The Dapper Basenji: Quiet and Impeccable

Now that more apartment owners are permitting dogs, the Basenji is becoming better known on this continent. This classy, dapper little dog with the grace of a deer has many qualities in addition to the fact that he is famous as being "barkless". He's quiet, but not mute, as any owner will tell you, or any stranger at the door.

The Basenji is a welcome member of the family, particularly because of his insistence on being clean. An impeccable creature, he washes himself with the clockwork precision of a cat.

The breed is full of surprises, full of lithe muscle and the speed of lightning.

Notes Jeff Griffen in his new book, The Hunting Dog of America:

"One owner reported that her Basenji bitch was lying in the yard, prone, taking a sunbath. Within an instant, she went from this relaxed position straight up in the air and came down with a bird in her mouth. There were no trees or bushes within a distance of 25 feet from where she lay resting, so the bird must have been caught in mid-flight, a feat almost no other breed would be capable of."

The Laughable Lovable Basset is also a Hunter

To most people who recognize a Basset, there is but one type, seen on the street or in the show ring. Actually there are two types, the less familiar being the hunting Basset, so different from the show dog as to appear almost another breed. The Standard for the Basset head would not be entirely practical for the Basset in the field — "The whole of the head should be covered with loose skin, so loose, in fact, that when the hound brings its nose to the ground the skin over the head and cheeks should fall forward and wrinkle perceptibly." Imagine working with that superfluous epidermis! The hunting Basset's legs are also longer, enabling him to move almost with the facility of a Beagle, his only rival in the hunting of the cottontail.

Early English Royalty Loved the Little Beagle

Who was the English king who is said to have gone to the wars against France with 60 couples of hare hounds, undoubtedly Beagles? Who was the English Queen to whom this breed meant so much that she had one included with her in a portrait? And the later King of England, a devoted beagler, who had his pack of tiny Beagles painted with him in a famous portrait? The answers: (1) King Edward III (1312-77). (2) Queen Elizabeth (1533-1603). (3) King George IV (1762-1830).

The name of the Beagle as such first appeared in a book published in 1475, Esquire of Low Degree. The couplet reads:

*"With their beagles in that place
And seven score raches at his chase."*

The Beagle had several names before the name Beagle took hold. There was the Old French begeule, which meant open throat and probably referred to his musical call. And three different words, each of which meant small: the Celtic beag, the French beigh and the Old English begel.

The German Joke that Won North American Hearts

The Dachshund has probably been the butt of more jokes than any other breed, yet he has maintained his dignity throughout the centuries. Note the book illustrations and tapestries from the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries — there he is with the noblemen.

So familiar have become the various types of Dachshund in North America that it is hard to believe that only 11 appeared in the second volume of the American Kennel Club Registry in 1885 and that the Dachshund Club of America, organized in 1895, had very few members and dogs with which to start. A joke taken seriously and loved wholeheartedly, the Dachshund has remained consistently among the five most popular breeds registered by the AKC.

In Canada the Standard Smooth Dachshund regularly leads the Hound breeds in volume in the show ring, bested only by the Beagle.

The Whippet — Common Misconceptions of the Interpretation of the Standard

One of the most prevalent mistakes is the interpretation of the topline. This is the idea that the arch of the back should begin at the shoulder and extend past the loin. This is completely incorrect as the area over the shoulder blade should be completely flat with the arch beginning past the shoulder blade with a slight arch over the loin, the highest point of the arch exactly over the loin, all forms of exaggeration to be avoided. Thus, any marked degree of arch is incorrect.

considered are symmetry of outline, muscular development and powerful gait. These three factors should always be uppermost in anyone's mind when observing the Whippet. Another important fact to remember is the appearance of the Whippet. He must convey an impression of great speed and elegance. Thus, if you have any animal who is moving in a mincing or high stepping manner and who conveys an impression of being "pretty" it is incorrect. —J. L. Karas, President, The Whippet Club of N.S.W.

(from the Australian "Whippet World")

Westminster Winning Whippet Was Chosen by a Canadian

According to a usually reliable New York informant, the famous Whippet, Ch. Courtenay Fleetfoot of Pennyworth was originally selected from a portrait (Dogs, April, page 36.)

Mrs. Martine Collings, of Winterfold Kennels, Rothesay, N.B., a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe, owners of Ricky, writes that he was technically purchased from England "sight unseen" by Mrs. Newcombe, but that she personally travelled across England to inspect Courtenay Fleetfoot at the latter's request. Mrs. Collings, a Whippet breeder familiar with the variances in type on both sides of the Atlantic, was given the responsibility of deciding whether or not to bring the dog to the States. She decided in the affirmative and Ricky lived with her until she placed him on the jet for his new home.

"To state that Brad Newcombe is a professional trainer of racing Greyhounds is a further error. At the present time he is just setting out in his new found hobby of owning Greyhounds, which he hopes to race. However, with his boundless enthusiasm, one never knows what the future may hold!"

Flogan Full Sail, who will be a valuable addition to our stud force when he is old enough and Manderley Maid Marian of the Rouge (a granddaughter of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Elfinbrook Simon and Ch. Wendy of the Rouge), by Hodge's Trevithick out of Belle of the Rouge C.D. (This is a specially useful acquisition to us as H. Trevithick (by Ch. Manderley's Play-boy ex Shipmates Mauretania) goes back through both his grandmothers (Shipmates Demeter and Ch. Shipmates Empress Eleanora) to Fons and Teena and so ultimately to Dextor again).

Also arriving soon will be a puppy from Megaera's daughter by Ch. (Can. & Eng.) Stoneygap Bobbin of Gillo-barr, Natalie of the Rouge, who was bred successfully to Am. Ch. Rannoch-Dune Down Beat. Natalie is owned by Vancot Kennels in Michigan and gained several points toward her USA title, including a major, from the puppy classes.

of unwanted, surplus stock. If this were not true, such things as "Dog Auctions" simply wouldn't exist. Obviously any person who sells his stock at a public auction is more concerned with the financial aspects than in ensuring that his pups will be placed in good homes! After all, the owner can hardly intervene during the bidding and say that he doesn't like the look of the person bidding! And imagine "swapping" a dog for a guitar! I'd rather have a clear conscience! See you on the highway. Don't look for a yellow Rolls Royce, I drive a Ford! □ is the premium list of the second one. Sure the first club can say he breached his contract and notify him his services no longer are required. But have you ever tried to get an all-breed judge on six weeks' notice? Have you ever tried to notify a couple of thousand potential exhibitors that the judge announced in your premium list will not be judging? In my opinion there should be something to protect show giving clubs. □

Boxers in Basketball Shorts Prove They're Good Sports

It's great fun to watch a troupe of Boxers playing basketball, of all things. The show is sometimes seen with the Shrine Circus and a year or so ago was an attraction at the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show. This innovation was the idea of Rudy Docky, a native of Austria. On the basis of his war service with the United States Army in Germany and Austria he became an American citizen. A real Boxer buff, he turned his stage experience as an acrobatic comedian and clown into a fast and furious act with 14 Boxers. A fancier in Europe, he chooses his cast mainly from the Mazelaine line.

Apart from the fun of the show, the game attests to the qualities of the Boxer: quick, energetic, intelligent, and best of all the great good nature. Other animals in show troupes allow hidden jealousies to come to the fore. In the free-for-all which closes the act Boxers are allowed to chase each other and break as many balloons as they wish. But never, during the hotly contested game or in the frolic does any meanness show. Docky's additional pride is in the fact that the older dogs take loving care of the youngsters on the road.

Expensive "Sit"

According to the New York Times (12/22/64) Philip Terman spent $500 to have his Doberman Pinscher trained to react instantly to his every command. The dog did just that and cost his owner $3,740 more. Mr. Terman got in his car and commanded the dog to sit — which it did. A robber who had previously entered the car stuck a gun in Mr. Terman's ribs and told him to drive around and keep the dog friendly. Half an hour later, the thief emptied Mr. Terman's pockets, took a brown paper bag which contained money just withdrawn from a bank, handcuffed his victim to the steering wheel and escaped. Mr. Terman attracted attention by sounding his horn. The trained Doberman Pinscher continued to sit — contentedly. —Courtesy DWA

Color of Eyes in The German Shepherd

Visible eye qualities play an important part in the entire animal kingdom, man included. Apart from its basic purpose of enabling its owner to see, the eye plays a great part in the overall expression. From expression we gain an insight to personality.

In some breeds, the eye color must be light. But the German Shepherd Standard states the eye should be dark.

Experience tells us that dark eyes, for the most part, belong to the most stable dogs and often goes along with a good "I.Q."

Sometimes German Shepherds possessing very light eyes have won top awards in obedience and otherwise demonstrated that eye color is not a certain guide to anything.

If your dog has a big heart it will be reflected in his eyes, whether they be light or dark.

Canadian Newfoundland was A Celebrity Among Celebrities

Mungo, the famous Newfoundland, was at home with celebrities — actors, admirals, diplomats and generals. He was a Canadian — bred by the late Hon. Harold Macpherson at St. John's, Nfld. His grandfather before him achieved fame. Siegar's portrait appeared on the 14-cent postage stamp issued by Newfoundland prior to its becoming a province of Canada.

Mungo became the treasured property of the famous Dutch historian and biographer when journalist F. Fraser Bond brought him a "present" from Newfoundland. He named the pup after Sir Walter Scott's Newf. The new acquisition, who had never lived outside of a kennel, discovered he could throw his quickly increasing weight around and took over the author's huge sprawling house. He appointed himself the neighborhood coast guard and regularly rescued children whether they needed help or not.

During the war Mungo's appetite for meat was such that the rationing became a real problem. Although Mr. van Loon protested loudly, he finally agreed to let Mr. Fraser take the 200-pound pet back to Newfoundland temporarily. He had just readapted to kennel life when United States servicemen, based nearby, became acquainted with him. Lt. Nick Robson, for whom it was a case of love at first sight, begged that Mungo join the crew of his bomber on searches for German submarines. Fitted with his own custom-made oxygen mask and parachute, the dog shared the air crew's trips and leaves for months.

On leave in England he could be permitted out only at night when he was practically invisible — and thus avoided the quarantine. One night when he was enjoying brief freedom (he was the pet of the pubs the crew liked to visit) he pushed his luck too far and was incarcerated. On the next mission over Germany without the big mascot, the bomber was shot down. Robson and the crew survived and were imprisoned. The lieutenant spent a great deal of time writing friends to arrange the release of Mungo. After a year Mungo was safely in Robson's home — surrounded by a 10,000 acre farm. Robson counted the days until their reunion. But when he arrived, the dog who had chased subs under anti-aircraft fire and survived bombings in England was not there to greet him. He had died of poisoning on the farm.

Newfoundland Promoter Is Duly Honored

Mrs. S. J. (Nona) Navin, Pickle Crow Gold Mines, Pickle Crow, Ont. has been made a life member of The Newfoundland Club of Canada. The honor has been conferred in recognition of Mrs. Navin's faithful and devoted work on behalf of the Newfoundland dog and as a particular appreciation of her time and effort in setting up the organization. The inaugural meeting took place at her home, at that time in Gormley, Ont. Mrs. Navin, a treasury of knowledge of the breed, has unceasingly publicized the great dog and its devotees.

Mr. William Clark was named an Honorary Associate member in appreciation of his talk at a meeting last Fall, at which he discussed judging dogs in Group III and using members' Newfoundland pups to demonstrate, commented on special points of the breed.

The Advancement of "Saintsmanship" in Canada

Today's Saint Bernard is more pampered than in a position of peril, but this does not make him any less the great dog of former generations, nor is he less capable and courageous. About 30 members of the St. Bernard Club of Ontario are tirelessly devoted to keeping the breed in the foreground and are successfully doing so. Because most of the members live on the outskirts of cities, there is little rescue or hauling work for them to do. Members keep him in the public eye by means of goodwill visits to hospitals and charitable institutes for children. The latter make a marvelous audience and delight in rides in gaily festooned carts, some of which are made at home and others authentic Swiss imports.

The club members are able to prove that a Saint need not eat one out of house and home. The cost of required good dog food is but 50 cents a day.

One of the members, with whom Dogs in Canada enjoyed a chat several years ago, is Forest Ranger J. Elliott. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, who live in the mountain area in northern Alberta, maintain they are never lonely. Their three Saints pack supplies and tools wherever they are required. Their Jiggs of the Hills is also a champion.

Clancy is a "Saint"

Len Cozens Wins Mrs. Bremner's Trophy

The first winner of the beautiful Challenge Trophy, presented to the BB Samoyed, at the International Samoyed Society's Booster Show held at the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show, was Ch. Questor's Kristoff of Samoyedena. Proud owner and breeder is L. P. Cozens, RR 2, Stouffville, Ont. There were 30 entries.

Ch. Questor's Kristoff O'Samoyedena appears justly proud of the handsome trophy he has just won. Left is the noted judge, Mrs. Demidoff, right is breeder-owner-handler Len Cozens.

Mrs. Dorothy Bremner, who has been gravely ill for some time, is the donor of this spectacular trophy. A great lover of Sams, she was thrilled at the phone call from her husband, Bob, to tell her that their first Sam, Ch. Tosca Snow of Samoyedena, now eight years of age, took BOS to her younger brother. These winning Sams, from Snowland imported stock from England, were chosen by Judge Mrs. Nicholas Demidoff, noted breeder of Siberian Huskies.

Ziska Kennels Makes 22nd Sam Champion

The Empress of Britain recently carried a snowy Samoyed which has joined the Ziska Kennels of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dickson, Dorchester, Ont. Snow Sportsman of Carwood, whose sire, Ch. Snowking of Carwood, is the Top Samoyed in the British Isles, is the 12th English import brought to Canada by Ziska.

With the earning of two five-point wins at both the International Samoyed Society's Booster Show (30 Samoyeds) and the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show Booster (31 Sams) taking BW in both to earn her championship, Ziska's Zaramauch makes Ziska's 22nd championship since the Dicksons came to Canada in 1948.

How Standard and Miniature Schnauzers are Similar

The Miniature Schnauzer is placed in the Terrier Group while the larger breed is in the Working Group. The miniature height ranges from 12 to 14 inches with 13½ considered ideal. The Standard, more heavy-set, ranges from 18 to 20 inches for males and from 17 to 19 for females. (The Giant's height averages 23 inches).

Otherwise they have the same level, direct look, the strong, slightly arched neck set cleanly on the shoulders. The harsh coats are similar, both in texture and coloring.

High-spirited in temperament, alert and eager for action, both breeds are imbued with a good, fun-loving nature.

Where the Miniature has soared in popularity in the past ten years, the Standard has been slower. However, at major American shows in recent years, the entries have increased strongly and it is now no longer a rarity to see Standards at Canadian events.

Sheltie Matron Specializes In Setting up New Kennels

A matron given to setting up Sheltie families is Ch. Astolat Glengowan Stardust, who has returned to her native United States, this time to a ranch. Bred in 1956 by Ann G. Dudewicz, Mt. Pocono, Pa., she was later brought into Canada by Mrs. Phyllis K. Egerton, London, Ont. From there she joined Mrs. Lucy Kerfoot's Okopaw Kennel, Reg'd at Okotka, Alta. "Now having 'set us up' with fine matrons", reports Mrs. Kerfoot, "she is starting another rural kennel for the Wittkopps with the young male, Browne Acres Bright Banner, where she has immediately won over both children and adults."

Sheltie Color

The standard: black, blue merle, and sable (ranging from golden through mahogany); marked with varying amounts of white and/or tan. Faults — Rustiness in a black or blue coat. Washed out or degenerate colors, such as pale sable and faded blue. Self-color in the case of blue merle, that is, without any merling or mottling and generally appearing as a faded or dilute tricolor. Conspicuous white body spots. Specimens with more than 50 percent white shall be so severely penalized as to effectively eliminate them from competition. Disqualification — brindle.

Sable is dominant to all other colors and therefore is the most common and also probably the most popular. In the show ring most judges appear to be fully aware of the color faults relating to tricolors and blue merles but it appears to be very questionable if any sable has ever been penalized for paleness. Last year a number of exhibitors and breeders were astonished to hear a prominent judge say that she had seriously faulted a dog for a smutty muzzle. This is not a fault mentioned in the Standard and is a legitimate inheritance of the Sheltie from its Yaki ancestors. It is extremely doubtful if anyone can identify brindle in a long-haired dog. Brindle is very close to what is known as shaded sable. It would be a very brave judge who would disqualify a dog on this point.

Sable is, by definition, a lacing of black hair in or over a lighter ground color. A variation of this is with grey hair replacing the black. One overseas breeder in whose kennel this appears euphemistically refers to this as wolf sable. It is extremely doubtful if this is an allowed color.

Black and white and black and tan are recessive to all other color combinations and therefore are rarely seen. Both are recognized colors and should not be penalized in the show ring.

Irish Setters, Afghan Hounds and Whippets. She first began showing dogs at a very young age 40 years ago in Vancouver. From this early start, she has grown to have a fine reputation as a breeder and exhibitor and is one of Canada's respected all-breed judges.

Outside of Canada she has exhibited from coast to coast in the United States. Her greatest dogs to date: Am. Ch. Tynedale Desire and Ch. (Can. & Am.) Tynedale Bold Ruler. Ruler won his American title in three shows, while Desire earned her American championship in four shows in Eastern United States. Both have won many Groups. She has imported dogs from England and Holland, as well as the United States.

In the opinion of this breeder-judge, terriers have improved by way of shorter backs, better necks and shoulders and cleaner heads.

Mrs. Stewart is kept busy as a housewife and also finds time for gardening.

TED WARD's life work is dogs. His kennel prefix, Albany, has appeared on countless pedigrees and in innumerable shows during the past 63 years. His home and kennels are located at Hornby, Ont.

Ted expresses no preference for breeds. He simply prefers all terriers.

Apart from this he has successfully bred a total of 48 different breeds, including breeds from all six Groups. As a child, he inherited a great interest in dogs from his father, a noted dog man in his day.

And carrying on the interest, his son, George Ward, is one of the best known handlers in the United States.

From the time he showed his first dogs 63 years ago, this exceptional breeder-handler has bred more outstanding dogs than he can remember. Suffice it to say his entries have captured numerous BIS awards.

Where most businessmen count themselves fortunate to make one or two overseas trips, Ted has made 32 round trips to Great Britain for the purpose of purchasing dogs. He has imported literally hundreds — all breeds.

Asked if he had noticed an improvement in Terriers in the past ten or 20 years, he states simply: "I would say in some breeds, considerable." He judges occasionally.

MRS. L. MELITA WOOD of Victoria, B.C., whose kennel prefix is Of Melita, broke into showing dogs the hard way. Her first show was Crufts, in 1924.

A Foxhound kennel stimulated her first interest in dogs. She has had Golden Retrievers, Great Danes, Brussels Griffons and Affenpinschers. Of the terrier breeds, the Cairns are her first love. She has been active in terriers since 1932. Although she does not judge dogs in Canada, she has her permit to judge Cairns in the United States.

Mrs. Wood's most outstanding dogs include Ch. (Can. & Am.) Gina of Melita who won BB at Madison Square Garden. Her Ch. (Can. & Am.) Mars of Melita also did well in Obedience. And her Ch. (Can. & Am.) Woody Woodpecker of Melita had taken 36 BB and two Groups, as well as WD at Westminster by the age of 2½ years.

A frequent exhibitor in the States, she has also imported a number of dogs. In her opinion, the Cairns have "come up in leg" in the past ten years or so. "The Scotch ones are larger, the English smaller, but all have improved," she observes.

Mrs. Wood is a member of the Dog World Old Timers and has received additional personal honors. Her early training in working with dogs began in England at the kennel of a veterinarian.

"My belief is one learns the hard way by doing. I'm keen on records and genetics and have very decided opinions on whys and wherefores," she remarks.

the dog as he should be trimmed from time to time. It is heartbreaking (and moreover, unkind to the dog) to see a Westie or Cairn, for example, taken down to the skin by clippers, including the distinguishing ruff and furnishings which will take a good year to renew themselves and give the dog back his character. The double coat is given these dogs for protection from sun as well as from cold, and all Terriers need the comfort of having dead coat removed properly so that the new jacket can grow in without irritation, or unnecessary skin trouble.

In the show world I hesitate to give much report in detail, not having the time to delve into official records and fearing to mention some names lest inadvertently I leave out others equally worthy of mention and so cause more chagrin than pleasure. But it was most gratifying to see two Canadian bred and owned dogs (the Cairn and the Skye) representing their breeds in what was a very fine Terrier Group at Chicago this year, and Canadian bred terriers continue to hold their own both at home (including some of the top wins across the country) and in AKC competition.

It is interesting to note from the show statistics published in March Dogs in Canada that the first six Terrier breeds in competition in 1963 and 1964 remained the same—1st and 2nd being switched from Miniature Schnauzers to West Highland Whites, and 3rd and 4th from Scotties to Kerry Blues, while Wire-Haired Fox Terriers and Cairns maintained 5th and 6th respectively. Ontario and British Columbia between them accounted for more than three-quarters of the Terriers shown in 1964, and it is also of interest that with 92 more Terriers shown in '64 than in '63, British Columbia had an increase of 185 in this respect. Airedales having 7th place, surprisingly Lhasa Apsos came 8th in line. This breed (which is assigned to the Non-Sporting Group in the USA) has come up very quickly in numbers and entries were recorded in every Provincial area listed, compared to no entries in more than two areas for at least five of the older established breeds.

It is disappointing to see such breeds as the Border Terrier, the Dandie Dinmont, the Norwich and the Sealyham represented so rarely in Canadian shows, or for the most part in the USA either. The Eglinton Hunt at one time imported Border Terriers because of their reputation as working Terriers and it was hoped a fancy for them would develop. But a number of them developed undershot mouths, and huntsmen whose hounds were used to white Terriers, such as the original Sealyham (which, as I remember it from otter-hunting in South Wales, was a much smaller animal than the modern show-type Sealyham), felt the hounds could easily confuse the Border Terriers with their quarry. Currently I believe there is one Canadian-owned Canadian and American Champion Border Terrier, owned by the present President of the British Columbia All Terrier Club, who has also made some recent imports.

Speaking of rarer breeds and early types leads me, for those who have not yet seen it, to John Marvin's latest Book of All Terriers (pub. Howell, New York). I can heartily recommend it, not only for up-to-date and helpful breed information but for a fascinating study of the origins and history of Terriers and in fact of dogs in general. You don't need to breed or even own Terriers to enjoy this book. □

A Terrier Breeder Learns How it Feels to be a Judge

What happened after my column on the condition of Terriers at Sanction shows? I was asked to judge Group IV at the next one! I was taken completely unaware and before I could catch myself, I said "Yes" — an answer which until the day I die I will never regret and, most certainly, never forget!

Now, I'm sure you're asking, why does she burden us with her sentiments? It's much like the person who has stopped smoking and feels that everyone should join him. This is the way I feel about judging. Everyone should try it once. Some of you braver ones might even want to continue. All the better, as we must have new judges coming up all the time. Even if you don't want to continue, try it once; it's an amazing feeling to be on the other side of the dog!

I was quite calm till the last few days before the show. I did my homework diligently, reading and re-reading the Standards, but with each reading became more and more convinced that I knew even less than when I started. The day of the show loomed closer and closer and I knew I was in real trouble!

We arrived at the show at the specified time but found that due to an enormous Working Group it would be at least two hours before a ring would be available. Now real panic set in. It was much like going to an Obedience Trial — if you're the first dog in, you don't have time to get nervous, but the longer you wait the shakier you get.

The next two hours were spent in a lovely little French restaurant which at any other time I would have adored. Now I had nothing in my mind but 22 jumbled Standards. I had Bull Terrier fronts on Wire, Skye coats on Manchesters, and vice versa. Half way through lunch I turned to my husband and begged him to tell me the specific differences between the Scottie and Westie. With a completely cherubic smile he replied, "The Scottie's black!" Well, that did it, I was going home, I was far too ill to judge anything — if he knew so much, he could judge!

At this very moment I got a run in my stocking. If that wasn't an omen that this whole thing was ill conceived, what was? After prolonging lunch as long as possible, I was literally dragged out by Ross to return to my task. When we arrived back at the show the Working Group was still in, but lovely people that the UKC club members are, they managed to get me into a free ring.

All I could think of was I must make sure all the dogs have teeth and are "fully equipped". As an exhibitor I tend to classify judges in terms of Coat men, Movement men, Temperament men. I bet you never thought you'd have a Teeth and Testicles woman amongst you!

The breed turned out to be fairly easy, as most breeds weren't represented by more than one dog. But now we come to the Group, which I thought would be a cinch! Unfortunately, this wasn't quite the case. There were several little dogs that I liked and only four places to put them.

I had always thought it terribly impressive when a judge asks to have all the dogs in the Group gaited around the ring after he's gaited them individually. Here, I assumed, he's weighing the various merits of each dog and judging one against the other. As my poor exhibitors and dogs moved round, round and round again, all I could think of was "Lord how did I ever get into this!"

During the individual gaiting I had almost settled on my four dogs, a Scottie, a Schnauzer, a Welsh and a Cairn but again, how do I place them? Each of the four dogs was well put down and well handled and crowding into these thoughts was a little three month old Westie pup, showing lots of Terrier spunk and ready to take on the whole world, a sturdy little Australian and an Airedale pup who, with a little more handling and trimming experience on its owner's part, could be very nice. At this stage of the game, those poor exhausted souls had no idea how close I came to just leaving them all trotting round and round to sort it out for themselves.

It's just a Sanction show, I reminded myself, though it seemed like Westminster. But a Sanction show should be taken at face value as training grounds for those up-and-coming puppies and a place for poor souls such as myself to learn to have empathy for any future judges that I show under.

It was a decision I shall never regret, forget or repeat. Thanks to the UKC I learned my real place in the ring!

This winning Cairn went WD with five points and repeated the following day at The Western Pennsylvania Kennel Association in Pittsburgh. Judges were Mrs. Lydia Hutchinson and Mr. Alva Rosenberg. Subject to AKC and CKC approval, Goldspur is now a Canadian and American champion. He has had three majors in his last three US shows. He finished his Canadian title this year at the CNSS under Judge Earl Adair. BB in the Specialty was Milbryan McGillicuddy, a grandson of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Badenoch McSue of Cairndania. The Jaunty Irish Terrier's Gait

The gait of the Irish is unlike the gait of other terriers. His legs, like his body, are moderately long and the elbows work clear of the body when the dog is in motion. The feet are moderately small with well arched toes and sound pads; all these features, together with muscular quarters, make a jaunty, easy-moving gait that allows the Irish Terrier to cover long distances with the least effort.
His gait is much like the gait of a well-conditioned athlete. The Irish Terrier is always ready for a romp but keep a wary eye for possible danger to himself or anything that is his master's.

—J. E. Burns

1333 Birmingham St., Halifax, N.S.

Irish Terrier Temperament

For a fair description of the temperament of the Irish Terrier, let us refer to him as a "Sporting Companion" because he is just that, insofar as this hardy and versatile son of the Emerald Isle possesses a keen sense of responsibility to those of his master's household.

He is sensitive but completely reliable and has a keen sense of discernment, but he is still an affectionate and loyal companion.

The fact that the Irish Terrier has served on the battlefields of both world wars speaks well for his temperament, as he is a determined protector of whatever or whoever may be trusted to his care.

Anyone owning an Irish Terrier can be justifiably loud in the praises of the Mick from the "Auld Sod".

—J. E. Burns

Preparation of the Kerry Blue Terrier For the Show Ring

Important factors in the preparation of a Kerry Blue Terrier for the show ring (after obvious items like optimum good health and peak condition) are the after-bath rinse and the brush-out.

It is simpler to block out the trim before bathing, doing a thorough job on ears, cheeks, throat and back of tail, followed by a rough all-over trim which will leave less hair to shampoo and will take a shorter time to dry.

The rinsing process is of vital importance. Using a spray attachment, rinse until there is no shampoo residue; then rinse again!

After blotting as much water from the coat as possible with terry towels, use your electric dryer if you have one (if not, this is a worthwhile investment). When the dog is nearly dry, brush out his head furnishing employing the dryer as you work.
This will help to straighten the brow and beard, leaving no "bumps" to spoil an attractive outline. A dab of hair cream rubbed between the palms, applied to head furnishings and thoroughly brushed in, can prevent the hair from "flying away" when the Kerry is gaited.

Now, take your slicker brush and lift the entire coat, working out all tangles. With a coarse steel comb, "set" the waves by repeatedly combing from neck to tail until the coat fits the dog. Brush out the legs again, lifting every hair until it stands off.
To ensure a thorough job, comb the legs — a sure-fire way to discover any elusive tangles!

For the final trim, stand back and mentally superimpose on the dog your picture of the ideal Kerry. Then using scissors and comb, remove any hair which projects outside this imaginary frame (unfortunately, one cannot fill holes — so work carefully).
When you think you have finished, allow the dog to relax on the floor for a few minutes, to shake and to stretch his legs. Then return him to the grooming table where you once again brush out the coat and cut off the new crop of tufts and wisps which will now, inevitably, spoil his outline.

On the day of the show, all that should be necessary is a slight dampening of the coat with either spray or sponge, a brushout, a final combing and the "tipping" of any stray or straggling hairs. —Miss L. A. Longley

The Ideal Miniature Schnauzer

I have been handed a difficult if not impossible assignment. I have been asked to describe the ideal Miniature Schnauzer. But where can you find even two people who agree as to what constitutes the ideal dog?

Probably the easiest solution would be to copy the Standard. But this wouldn't do either because no two breeders, fanciers or even judges interpret the Standard the same way.

In addition, as a breeder I have a fixed type in mind when I breed. As a judge I am all too often compelled to award winning ribbons to specimens that I wouldn't own or use in my breeding plans.

To clarify a bit, as a judge I try to keep an open mind and give other breeders the credit for knowing as much as I do and allowing them the privilege or right to breed, produce and show dogs of a type different from my ideal. Therefore, when dogs of a type I don't really care for are exhibited under me, I have to be impartial and put up that one which best exemplifies the ideal Miniature Schnauzer as described in the Standard.

But now you will ask, why should there be more than one type? I can't answer this question. But this situation exists in every breed and actually is a logical one. Because of necessity, the Standard is a loosely woven description of the so-called ideal specimen, it is open to different interpretations.

All too often, people will buy a pet that is really only a pet, read the Standard, look at their dog and then are convinced they own the perfect specimen. The Standard describes him perfectly. In no time flat, they are convinced that the miracle has happened, the breeder goofed and they have the world's greatest dog.

They show the dog and one of two things happens. Through luck, poor entries, etc., they win and eventually they own a champion. They soon buy a female similar in type to their great one and are happily in the dog game breeding garbage. They even have a kennel name. However, as entries increase they no longer win and of course the judges are crooks, the other exhibitors know the judge or fixed the show, or any one of a dozen good reasons except the real one, that their dogs are of poor quality.

The other thing that happens is that right off the bat they don't win and of course they go through the same routine as the fellow in the preceding paragraph and quit the game.

In fairness however, there is a third category, the fellow who goes to a few shows, visits kennels and realizes his is not a great dog. This fellow eventually buys a good one or two, learns the game and becomes an asset to the dog world.

What has all this to do with the ideal type of Miniature Schnauzer? Nothing and everything. I am attempting to show why there are so many types being shown and most of them fit into the official "Standard of Perfection."

My interpretation of course follows the Standard. I want a dog that looks like a Schnauzer. There are too many which, if painted white, would look like Fox Terriers or Bedlingtons. Do you recognize the difference of type here? Well, of course you do. The Schnauzer also is a different and distinct type.

I want a dog that walks into the ring and stands four-square, a cobby dog with his short tail up, and his neck arched, his back short and his ribs well sprung; a little dog built like a big one, not coarse but never racy or toyish. His very demeanor should say "I am a Schnauzer, I'm the greatest." The true Schnauzer expression is not a mean one but still it is a scowl. He should scowl at the world, cocksure and self-satisfied. And when he moves he should move like a Miniature Schnauzer, not like a Bedlington or Fox Terrier. If he has the correct lay back of shoulder and proper angulation in the hind-quarters he will move like a Schnauzer.

Of course I want all that the standard wants, the correct eye and the right coat and the right size but I want all that on the dog that looks and acts like a Schnauzer.

What to Look For When Buying a Westie Pup

For the purposes of this article we will assume that the puppies in the litter are three months of age and the time has now arrived to select the puppy which you wish to keep.

It must be realized that at this age the selection of puppies cannot help but be somewhat of a gamble. What looks to be the best at this age can fall far short of expectations at a year old; however, the gamble one takes adds a little more to the interest and excitement of making the selection. Set out below in order of importance are the main characteristics to look for in the puppy.

Temperament. Avoid shyness at this age as it is most likely inherited.
Shyness developed later I would say is due to environment.

Overall conformation and balance — the body being short and compact.

Substance — with particular attention being paid to bone, since the Westie is a digging dog and must have strong legs.

Coat is very important, but at this age it is difficult to tell what the adult coat will be like. A fluffy puppy after being stripped out can grow a proper straight, hard, double coat;
then again it could be a soft wavy one. There is a lot to be said on this subject but in short, since space is not allotted, I would look to the ancestors for type of coat.

Medium sized dark almond shaped eyes not too closely set.

Good dark pigmentation. A rather large black nose sets off the entire face of the Westie.

Small well placed ears set wide apart.
However, I would not reject a puppy whose ears appear to be large, or tail long on an otherwise promising one, as Westies have a tendency to grow into these.

Straight front legs with elbows tucked in, feet turning neither in nor out.
Hind legs should be fairly close, standing or in action with hocks bent under.
Avoid cow hocks or long straight hocks.

Strong square muzzle not exceeding length of forehead. Mouth neither overshot nor undershot, although if not excessively overshot the mouth will sometimes correct itself after second dentition.

—Mrs. T. S. Adams
R.R. 1, Unionville, Ont.

Judging the Perky Brussels Griffon

By make and shape this is a square, cobby little dog; quick, gay, with the sound action as found in a free-moving spaniel — not stilted. Although the size ranges from three to 12 pounds, a medium weight of seven to nine pounds is preferred.

The head is most quaint and interesting. The large skull is nearly flat between the ears, with a very full forehead. The nose is set right back between the eyes, with large, open nostrils. As for muzzle, the shorter the better. The fairly broad lower jaw is well turned up, from point of chin to top of forehead at a 70-degree slope. The chin is actually undershot; neither the teeth nor tongue should show when the mouth is closed. The eyes are very large and dark, set well apart, looking straight forward, but never pop-eyed. The ears may be cropped or shown natural (but any dedicated breeder will breed in the correct ear). They are small, V-shaped, set high and are semi-prick.

The neck should be clean of line without excess fleshiness. The front legs are set moderately wide apart and straight from the point of shoulder (which has a fair lay-back). The chest shows a medium width with a broad, deep brisket and a moderate spring of rib. The back is short and level. The tail is set high and carried upright — or "ten past 12 o'clock".
There is no slope to the croup. Contributing to the cobby shape are the rear quarters with strong well muscled thighs and a moderate bend to the stifle, the hocks well let down. The feet turn neither in nor out, giving a strong firm action; they are neat and round. Black toe nails are preferred.

Watch for these faults: Lack of type, weedy or coarse, loaded shoulder, over or under-size. Poor showmanship. Unsound front or rear. Poor color, coat and texture. Low-set tail and carriage. Large, poorly carried ears. Roaching back. Light eyes. Flat or wrinkled forehead. Lack of turn-up to lower jaw. Teeth or tongue showing. Splay feet. Too much tuck-up in a mature dog.

The Memory of Chihuahuas

I have often been amazed at the memory of these little dogs. Most of my stock leaves at the tender age of eight weeks, very few much older.
The proud new owner returns to show the dog at perhaps a year old. In a few moments it runs to me and jumps up on my lap. This has happened many times . . . A classic example is Tulita whom we sold to Mrs. Whitford, (Valleja Kennels, Reg'd.) at Sutton, Que. She came back to us to

Canadian-Bred Minpin Wins Major at Chicago

A Canadian-bred Miniature Pinscher went WD for a five-point major at the Chicago International Show last month, in an entry of 41. Koka's Red Pegasus, owned by Mrs. K. B. Lane of Gables, Mich., formerly of Vancouver, B.C. Mrs. Lane is the mother of George Wynne Powell, talented young photographer and breeder of this outstanding MinPin. The dam is Ch. (Can. & Am.) Airlane's Falcon and the sire is Am. Ch. Rebel Roc's Casanova Von Kurt. Handler Pat Tripp showed him to this win.

The Papillon Appears In Many Masterpieces

A dearth of books on the Papillon in this country has now been remedied. The hard cover book, The Papillon, by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Russell Roberts, is now available through Dogs in Canada at the price of only $1.50. The authors have bred successfully under the prefix Picaroon.

In addition to the origin and history of the breed, the care and feeding and finally the showing of this beautiful little creature, the book includes a number of photographs of masterpieces, particularly in Italian, French and Flemish art, with a table showing the present location of these works of art.

How to Brush Your Pekingese

Daily brushing of the Pekingese would result in fewer hairs on the furniture, maintains Dorothy Quigley in her book, The Quigley Book of the Pekingese. In kennels housing long-haired dogs a certain hour is set aside for the routine.

"Brush before combing," she advises. "Brush first every section of the body, the ears, the tail, to separate each hair and to stimulate the circulation by the massaging action on the skin. If the dog has a long plume, make the most of it by keeping it brushed forward on the back, that is, toward the head especially where the body coat may be lacking. Then comb carefully, gently removing any tangles which the brush has not succeeded in straightening out." This invaluable book is available through Dogs in Canada for $8.75.

About the Pomeranian

This little breed inherited its name from Pomerania, in Poland. It was in this locale that the breed was dwarfed to a smaller, although by no means a toy, size. Later he was again reduced to the size we know today. The breed, as such, is not as ancient as some of the other breeds but his general shape and style have been retained as to be easily identifiable with his forebears.

The Pomeranian first competed in England in 1870 and thereby gained publicity and popularity so that he was welcomed in the States in 1900. The American Pomeranian Club was formed in 1911 and he has been steadily popular ever since.

He is a real Toy but the alertness and hardiness of his ancestors, a group of arctic spitz dogs, make him a watch dog as well as a pet.

Six Bulldogs Imported

With the purpose of improving bloodlines here, Mr. Reg. P. Sparkes, Kamel Bulldog Kennels (Reg'd.), Thornhill, Ont., has imported six female Bulldogs. These were purchased by him on his recent judging trip to England. The females, which arrived in top condition, are: Strawbyn Spray (Imp.), Strawbyn Stella (Imp.), Strawbyn Sparkle (Imp.), Strawbyn Sweetie (Imp), Strawbyn Sharron (Imp.) and Overfen Topsy (Imp.).

Canadian Judge Finds English Bulldogs Improving

Mr. Reg. P. Sparkes, who judged the Specialty of the Bulldog Club Inc., held in London, England, February 27 informs Dogs in Canada that he was pleased to note that both the quality of the males and females was a little higher than on his previous visit to England when he judged in Birmingham. He complimented the manner in which exhibitors presented their dogs and the manner in which they accepted his decisions.

The results were as follows (critique by Mr. Sparkes) —

Chow Chow Puppy Leaves Adults Behind

A Chow Chow puppy placed BIS at the All-Breed British Columbia College Club Sanction Show held March

20. Owner-breeders are Kurt and Irmgard Blease, Van Rhoden Kennels, South Burnaby, B.C. Under Judge Mrs. Gwen Appell, Van Rhoden's Dee-Go went WM, BW, BB, Best Puppy, took the Group, then BIS.

At the March 7 Sanction Show under the sponsorship of the Vancouver Junior KC, the puppy took Best Puppy and BB under Judge Wm. McDerment. He is sired by Randee, a grandson of the three-time all-breed BIS winner, Am. Ch. Ghat de la Moulaine.

Imports Keeshond Puppy

Mrs. Betty Olafson of Point Claire, P.Q. has imported a five-month-old female puppy from England. The puppy is Rugosa of Rhinevale, by Eng. Ch. Rahida of Rhinevale, who was BB at Crufts, 1964, out of Raphaella of Rhinevale, a daughter of Ch. Randalone of Rhinevale who also sired the famous Ch. Monarch of Merrybelle. Betty is new in the breed but is a most enthusiastic breeder and exhibitor and is doing her best to improve her kennels, writes Mrs. Barbara Pirrie of Baie d'Urfe, P.Q.

The Poodle Specialty Club of British Columbia

This newly formed club, organized by a group of 80 Poodle fanciers, has as its objectives the improvement of show conditions, encouragement of better breeding through greater participation of members in the show ring and the overall promotion of the breed. Two Fun Matches are to be followed by a Sanction Show early this month.

The first annual general meeting elected the following slate of officers for 1965: R. A. Boulter, President; M. Carmack, Vice President; Carol Boucher, Secretary; Bern Watts, Treasurer; Directors: Arthur Blake, Janice Bridgman, Mollie Hamilton, Joan Helm, Gino Gemma, Marilyn Tkachuk, Robert Watford, Lee Watts.

The plans for the club include an educational program of selected speakers, films and demonstrations, a bulletin of current events and educational topics to be edited and printed by Janice Bridgman. A Poodle Booster show will be held under the auspices of the North Vancouver Kennel Club.

Enquiries about the club should be directed to Carol Boucher, P.O. Box 51, Richmond, B.C.

Miniature Poodles Win In Major American Shows

Shown primarily in the States by handler Barbara Humphrey, the white Miniature Poodle Am. Ch. Plaza-Toro White Spice was shown at the Sportsmen's Shows in Toronto in mid-March and obtained his Canadian title in three straight shows. Just prior to the Toronto events he won the Breed at Detroit March 7. This was his first competition as a special. Six of the 46 Miniature Poodles entered were specials but he bypassed them all. Ch. (Can. & Am.) Plaza-Toro Snow Fantasy, father of the Spice, has now joined the Donicraft Kennels of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Ferguson, Toronto. Fantasy has sired nine champions.

Handled by Donald C. Fitzsimmons, the only two Canadian male Miniature Poodles entered at Westminster brought back ribbons: Ch. Kizilay's Kubla Khan went 1st in Bred by Exhibitor Male and Ch. Tophill Topflite was 4th in the large Open Male class. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons' Kizilay Kennels Reg'd. are located at 1113 Minnetonka Rd., Ottawa 5, Ont.

Poodles and Personalities

Lowell wrote: "The idol is the measure of the worshipper." This must surely be true in the case of the Poodle, for with three sizes from which to choose, size must be the point of choice; the quick, joyful personality being the magnetism of all three types.

Louis XIV loved white Standard Poodles. Quentin Reynolds for years could barely stand to think about Poodles — until a four-pound Toy Poodle named Folly, who had enough wrong with her to be excused from a ring, turned him into an ardent worshipper. Ilka Chase has written some of her best work under the bright eyes of her Poodle. Famed mystery writer Mignon G. Eberhart claims never to have owned a Poodle. "But Poodles have owned me." Joan Crawford has spent many a long hour on movie sets accompanied by Cliquot. Writes Cobina Wright, Sr.: "Poodles are people."

IMPORTANT!

Have you imported an exceptionally "well-bred" dog from the United States or abroad? Have your dogs been doing some unusually good winning in American shows? If the fact hasn't been mentioned in Breed Notes, more than likely it is because we haven't received the news from you.

Have you made a particular study of some aspect of your breed? Be sure to send in your findings (not more than 300 words) for possible use in Breed Notes.

Or have you come across some interesting items on your breed or others in other magazines (other than dog publications) or newspaper? We'd be pleased to see such items and will credit the sender and the publication, if used.

Water Dog, by Richard A. Waters. Clarke, Irwin & Company Limited. $7.50

Just off the press, this generously illustrated book is being snapped up by retriever men. It thoroughly demonstrates a revolutionary rapid training method. It is, state the publishers, the first book written for the man with limited time who wants to train a working retriever fast; the first book in this field containing new scientific information on the mental development of the dog; the first written for the retriever with new commands and using the Retriever-Trainer, a new training device developed by the author; the first book to show the complete training procedures step by step in picture sequence. You are shown not only what to expect of your dog but what it can expect of you. You will be able to see how to do it and enjoy the humorous style of writing.

The Complete Afghan Hound, General Publishing Co. Ltd., By Constance O. Miller and Edward M. Gilbert, Jr. $9.95

After having been asked so many times for a book on this aristocratic beauty it is a pleasure to announce that this excellent new volume is available here and now.

Painstaking research has gone into providing an accurate story of the background of the Afghan, in contrast with the often contradictory stories previously given. Specific problems of the breed, such as finicky eating habits, are discussed thoroughly.

The book is copiously illustrated with photographs and a number of drawings done especially for this book by Lois Gossner.

The authors spent virtually two years of full-time work in compiling this valuable book. It's worth every penny!

The Official Book of the Schipperke. General Publishing Co. Ltd., $7.50.

Here is the book Schipperke lovers have long awaited. Sponsored by the Schipperke Club of America and edited by Vella M. Root, it is dedicated to the memory of Miss F. Isabel Ormiston, who established the Belgian Schipperke in the United States and whose research contributed greatly to the valuable information in this book.

Among the interesting and useful chapters are those on the Standard, another on the ideal Schipperke, in which the Standard specifications are amplified. Another chapter deals with the unique character of this little utilitarian breed with the admirable sea-going background.

RECOMMENDED READING

D is for Dog, by Frank Manolson, DVM, MRCVS. General Publishing Company Limited. $5.50.

You won't agree with some of the comments in this book, but even these are worth consideration. Dr. Manolson, a veterinary surgeon, Canadian by birth, trained on both sides of the Atlantic, has practised in New York, Central America and Southern Europe. For the past several years he has been working in a large London, England animal welfare clinic. In this volume he touches on breeds, ailments, technical terms from A to Z. He writes with the courage of his convictions and says things that have needed saying — by a practical authority. This is a book for the experienced breeder; and if a would-be dog purchaser makes a mistake in the breed he buys, it will not be the fault of the author. Illustrations by Harry Titcombe are expert and appealing. This is a book you will want to add to your collection.

Danny Made Three by D. M. St. John. Pageant Press, Inc. $3.50

Is it possible for a dog to break up a happy home? Yes. Dana von Cedarstone, gypsy, clown, German Shepherd, nearly did terminate the home of public relations man St. John and his wife. This is a book of conflicts, excitingly told. You'll enjoy the ironical and not-so-funny incidents, the conflicts between man and dog. The dramatic and frightening real-life climax of this book, an incident where dog and master come close to death because of the lack of understanding which was not fully dissipated, is an exceptionally skillful rendering of how

DOGS & PEOPLE

Travellers: Among readers who vacationed recently in Florida were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Trowell, Toronto. Mrs. Trowell (Corinne) is a valued member of The Canadian Kennel Club staff. Another Florida vacationer was Mrs. Mary Weller, Toronto, long-time German Shepherd breeder.

Although exhibitors travelled from far and wide throughout the States and Canada to visit the Sportsmen's Shows, the most distant traveller was Mrs. John Openshaw of Bermuda. The Openshaws were also at Westminster . . . Mr. and Mrs. Nevil Thomas of Peterborough, Ont. have returned from their annual vacation in Mexico. They were accompanied by Mari's father, Mari, who has assiduously studied Spanish, found it paid off this trip in unusual courtesy and service from shop owners . . . Mrs. Meta Loveridge of The Canadian Kennel Club staff jetted to Vancouver where she attended the annual general meeting of the CKC and the members' luncheon. She also attended a few of the cocktail parties given in honor of visiting Directors by British Columbia clubs, also by Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Osborne who loaned their home for a large party. A few days later they entertained at a reception on their beautiful yacht.

Mrs. Mowbray, wife of Dr. G. V. M. Mowbray of Bellacana Kennels, Reg'd., Truro, N.S. paid a visit to Mrs. Grace E. Probert, Willowdale. Outcome of the visit is another "feeler" put forth in a further attempt to cement Welsh Corgi relations with the hope of forming a breed club in Canada. Mrs. Mowbray was visiting her mother in Toronto.

Died: Mr. Jack Smyth of Vancouver. Tribute appears elsewhere in this issue . . . Mrs. Bonham B. Barton, better known as Bonnie, well-known American obedience trainer and exhibitor. She became ill following the Kansas City dog show on March 14 where she and her Pug, Lottie, had won the highest score in obedience. Mrs. Barton had completed some 13 obedience titles in the United States and six in Canada on her own dogs. She had also scored two perfect 200 scores and won several Dog World Awards with her dogs.

Disaster: The kennels of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gouin, St. Timothee, P.Q. as well as their home, equipment, ribbons and trophies were completely destroyed by fire several months ago and the Gouins are bravely struggling along. They have lost by fire seven dogs, one a female champion. Three puppies were lost and not found at the time of writing. Another female is ill, presumably through shock. They still have their male champion American Cocker Spaniel in service. Under the prefix Hope, the Gouins breed American Cocker Spaniels and Miniature Poodles. Sympathy is extended to the Gouins in their sad loss.

The four men who left Sudbury at the end of March to blaze a 300-mile trail for Canada's longest dog-sled race were forced by illness and a breakdown in one of their snowmobiles to return home after covering only 32 miles. When Hector Dubois became ill the group asked for a helicopter to pick them up. When none arrived they returned in two of their three snowmobiles and a 12-dog sled. The men had set out to blaze trail for a proposed world championship dog sled derby to be run as a centennial celebration project in 1967. A first prize of $10,000 is being planned.

Mrs. Dorothea Daniell - Jenkins, Rouge Hill, Ont. has been invited to judge the regular classes of Bull-mastiffs, Cairns and West Highland White Terriers as well as the Puppy Sweepstakes of the Papillon Club of America Specialty at Trenton, N.J. May 9. She also judged the Puppy Sweepstakes of the Scottish Terrier Club of Chicago Specialty on April 2.

In the news: Dogs, whose liberty in Toronto parks has been protected after much controversy, are again the subject of controversy at council meetings. Controller William Dennison's complaint was of dogs paddling in the children's wading pools at Toronto Islands. He'd liked them banned.

In Yokohama, Japan, a mongrel dog lay in critical condition after being bitten by a man. According to police a newspaper vendor, after having had a few drinks, passed a yard in which the dog stood and barked at him. The man opened the gate, grabbed the dog and bit it. The dog, understandably, bit back. The man bit the dog again and again. Man and dog had to be separated by two policemen.

Tracker dogs were used to help rescue men buried by the avalanche at Ketchikan, Alaska when a mining camp slid half a mile under its impact. The only way one of the victims realized he was alive was when he woke up with a dog licking his face.

Career in dogs: Sue Frelinghuysen, a stunning blonde, collects five dogs from five midtown Manhattan apartments and hikes them for a fast 12 miles in Central Park. Come rain, shine or snow she does the same thing for another pack every afternoon. She is one of a team of 16 girls organized by Jim Buck, all hardy hikers, nearly all college girls, who would rather hike 25 miles a day with dogs than be confined to an executive suite. Buck, who is 33, left his $15,000 a year job as a Wall St. shipping executive to turn his love of dogs into an occupation. Not long ago he began with one dog client. Now he has 145 on his list and 20 persons on his payroll. He takes in up to $1,500 a week in addition to the fees from the dog-master training classes he conducts himself. □

Mrs. Dennis Gardiner left, Kerrycroft Kennels, Orono, Ont., was the winner of the Eileen McEachren Memorial Trophy as the Canadian breeder who had bred the greatest number of dogs in one breed to complete their Canadian Championship during 1964. Editor Kaye Peer made the presentation at the Sportsmen's Show.
