The beautiful brown Toy Poodle puppy pictured on the cover has had a short but fabulous show career.

Bred and handled by Mrs. Ken Ellis, she was first shown at the Canadian National Sportsmen's show on March 13, 1965.

Shown eight times to May 8, she finished her championship, while still a puppy, by going Best of Breed and fourth in the Group at Sarnia.

Trouble went Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show twice at the Sportsmen's shows, was Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Group 5, seven times out of the eight times shown and was not defeated once by a puppy of her own breed. She collected her points by way of two four-point wins and one of three points. She also went Best Canadian Bred in Group 5 once at the Sportsmen's shows.

Sired by an English import (Tophill Petit Morceau belonging to the de la Fontaine Poodles out of a granddaughter of Ch. (Can., Ir. & Am.) Firebrave Anthea owned by de la Fontaine), she is a typical Poodle bred down to Toy size. De la Fontaine has been selectively breeding Toys for the past seven years, but only during the past two years have they felt that they have bred real Toy Poodles. Their record of five Toy Champions in the past 18 months bears this out.

Meanwhile their Miniatures still continue to win in the show ring (five champions in 1964) with many of the progeny from the k e n n e l winning right across Canada. Last year the kennel exported Miniatures to the Phillipines and Italy where they are doing well. Progeny from the famous white standard de la Fontaine Poodles continued on their winning ways both in Canada and the USA, winning groups and many Bests of Breed.

De la Fontaine Poodles, owned by Ken and Bobbie Ellis, are located at R.R. 3, Streetsville, Ont. and have been breeding Poodles for the past 20 years. □

TO THE EDITOR

If you have any suggestions, any comments or constructive criticism to make concerning articles in this magazine, or with regard to shows, your opinion of what is happening to various breeds with regard to size, color, coat, etc., write a brief letter to the Editor. We must reserve the right, however, to edit same. Opinions expressed in this department do not necessarily reflect those of the publishers.

REPRINT REQUEST

. . . We are writing to request permission to reprint a short article which appeared in the January, 1962 issue of Dogs in Canada . . . Our Poodle Club publishes a small monthly paper, and we feel that this article would be of great value to our club.

We have just recently come across back issues of your magazine and are enjoying it very much, and finding much that is helpful and informative.

John and Elizabeth Campbell

Bonita, Calif.

Permission promptly granted. The Memo dealt with methods of preventing troubled waters in relationships with individual members in a club.—Ed.

THE MERIT OF MERIT CERTIFICATES

. . . re the Merit Certificates, what a wonderful idea! Have talked to so many who received them and they are really thrilled and proud of them . . . It is one of the best promotions I've heard of. It gives the breeder a reason for showing the less popular breeds and a pride in the popular ones . . . Congratulations!

. . . Was a little surprised in your feature on Terrier people in May that two of our outstanding breeders had no mention — Jack Treleaven and George Davies, two who have done so much for the breed and produced some top homebreds.

Lorna Jackson

Lorn-Hall Acres, Zephyr, Ont.

These two well-known "terrier men" and many others were written for information, but no acknowledgment was received.—Ed.

MORE ON THE WAY

. . . What has happened to the Obedience Column? We sure miss it. In our St. Catharines club the obedience page was always a topic for discussion. Among the members we sincerely hope it isn't being dropped, as it was read religiously by the folks interested in obedience.

Hugh T. Monro

Thorold, Ont.

More aspects on obedience will be discussed in forthcoming issues—Ed.

. . . Was sorry to see Mr. Ed O'Brien's column discontinued in Dogs,, simply because he didn't "open up" on obedience. Without making any further comment, Ed, we wished rather . . . you hadn't skirted the subject of obedience so deftly. For we all have yet so much to learn.

For the second time around (to our knowledge) obedience has lost out in Canada's one and only dog magazine.

Grace E. Probert

Willowdale, Ont.

Mr. O'Brien has temporarily ceased writing obedience material for this publication at his own request, due to ill health and lack of time.—Ed.

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR

. . . We really enjoy your magazine. It is read from cover to cover by every member of the family, so we're really miserable if we miss even one issue!

Roy L. Smith

Creston, B.C.

PITY FOR PUPS

. . . I should like to congratulate you and The Old Timer on his recent article on raising pups and the importance of weaning at the proper time. I had heard this information a couple of years ago from Dr. Alan Secord when he spoke at our Maritimes Veterinary Convention and have since followed it and tried to broadcast the news. And yet it is pitiful the number of pups taken from their mother at three or four weeks of age.

I shall have the Old Timer's article duplicated to hand out to clients and puppy purchasers.

Alison J. Mowbray, DVM

Truro, N.S.

WHY NOT MORE AIREDALES?

. . . We eagerly awaited the arrival of your April issue devoted to Terriers. However we were sorely disappointed to find nothing about Airedale Terriers.

We bought two, two summers ago and we're quite sold on the breed. Why are there not more of these dogs in Canada? People seem to think that these dogs are too vicious to have around a home or young children. We find them friendly and lovable and excellent with children . . .

Is there anybody, an Airedale breeder, perhaps, who could write an informative article about Airedales in your magazine? It seems as though they are such a minor group that they will soon be extinct.

We enjoy your magazine very much, and read it from cover to cover, and we certainly would appreciate some articles on Airedales in the near future.

Mrs. Sheila Lancaster

Transcona, Man.

Mrs. Lancaster raises a sound question. In all of Canada in 1963 only 28 litters of Airedales were registered; in 1962 only 30. During 1964 a total of 216 Airedales were shown, including seven in Bermuda.—Ed.

"BUT SPELL MY NAME CORRECTLY"

. . . re the article in the March issue on the Keeshond, by Mrs. Stovin. As is natural, when one does not speak from personal experience, one has to rely on the written information as being correct. In this case it is the name of Baroness van Hardenbroek and not van Hardencroek. This mistake originates, to my knowledge, in the American Complete Dog Book and has spread into literature distributed by individual kennels and now also into Canadian "official" print.

Mrs. Romelia G. Aalders

Baie d'Urfe, Que.

. . . Glancing through the February issue and noting that Mrs. Aalders was discussing the correct way to pronounce the word Keeshond brought to my attention the pronunciation of the name Samoyed. Is the last or first syllable stressed? . . . This may seem like a minor point, but it has puzzled me for quite some time.

I am enjoying your magazine very much. Keep up the good work.

Brenton Wright

Richmond, B.C.

Webster's dictionary gives the emphasis on the third syllable: Sam"o-yed'. Most breeders simply run the syllables together, like Sam-yed'.—Ed.

HOW MUCH TO DOCK?

. . . I wish to congratulate you on a wonderful magazine. From beginning to end it is both pleasurable and informative.

I also wish to find out the proper length to dock a Boxer's tail. I have asked many people, all of whom have different ideas. Please, if anyone can tell me the proper length (e.g. the number of vertebrae) I would be most appreciative.

Mary L. Davidson

Cedar Valley, Ont.

Most books on the Boxer assume the reader knows the correct length and neglect to give any help on this vital topic. Mrs. Eve Whitmore, Haviland Kennels, Toronto, comes to the rescue with the information that Boxer puppy tails should be docked at four or five days. The length of tail left should be ½ inch, absolutely no longer. —Ed.

AN AMERICAN WRITES

. . . I was told by a kennel owner to obtain a copy of Dogs in Canada because of all the help it would give me in choosing a dog suited to my family.

Mrs. Jeanne Helms

Malone, N.Y.

CUSTOMS ELSEWHERE WRONG HERE

. . . I was very glad that Mr. Caccamo should write to Dogs in Canada as a result of one of my recent articles . . . in which I described a disgraceful and irresponsible incident which occurred in a shooting park or preserve in Ontario. I described how four Italian hunters shot two dogs in the park because the dogs were not hunting satisfactorily. The dogs in question were their own, which makes the incident even more disgraceful.

I carefully considered whether I should reveal the country of origin of the four hunters. I particularly did not wish to offend the countless memo

FROM THE EDITOR

WHEN a case of poison ivy is contracted by a member of a large office staff it is not too upsetting, except to the victim of the mean tri-leaved weed. But when it happens to one of a small staff, at a critical time, it can be nearly disastrous to production as well as to the sufferer. In this instance, publisher Elizabeth Dunn is the casualty, suffering the daily misery of blistered hands and arms and sleepless nights at the time of making up one of Dogs in Canada's largest issues. The misfortune, in addition to the countless time and detail involved in producing an issue of this stature, accounts for the short delay in the mailing of this month's special number.

A QUESTION concerning a facet of showing dogs arises from time to time which bears examination.

Should professional handlers compete at sanction shows? At first thought the answer is no. Generally speaking a sanction show is a training ground for novice dogs and novice people — that is, amateur handlers.

What place, then, has a handler who takes other people's dogs into the ring and is paid for the service? Or for that matter, why would a man or woman of long experience appear in the sanction show ring?

Does the expert showmanship of an experienced handler rock the already shaky confidence of the newcomer? Wouldn't the beginners feel more at ease if all the others were equally lacking knowledgde of ring procedure and manners?

Perhaps. But it would be about as profitable as playing tennis exclusively with someone far less competent than yourself.

A beginner exposed to an experienced handler can learn plenty, especially if that handler is kind enough to offer a few helpful hints in setting up or grooming one's dog.

Exactly what is a sanction show? The Canadian Kennel Club states that "a sanction show is an informal meeting at which only purebred dogs may compete, but not for championship points, held by a club or association obtaining the sanction of The Canadian Kennel Club, and such show shall be held under the sanction show rules adopted by The Canadian Kennel Club." No champion may compete in a sanction show.

What purpose does a sanction show serve other than providing a means for novice dogs and people of "get-thousands of Italian immigrants to Canada who are keen and responsible sportsmen in every sense of the word. Nor did I intend to provide ammunition for those bigots who deliberately encourage inter-racial disagreements . . . It would have been very easy to write the column without any reference to the nationality of those concerned. I was aware that I risked the charge of racial bigotry and of arousing the wrath of many of our citizens. Nevertheless, I felt it my duty to be factual and in fact, to face up to what is a real problem.

The problem is that many recent immigrants from Italy have a different concept of certain sporting activities. Unless these people are educated to the Canadian approach, they will continue to arouse Canadian sportsmen, and indeed all Canadians who are interested in the problem. I do not blame the Italian immigrant, in fact I do not blame anybody. When peoples of different nationalities live together in a new country there are bound to be many areas where the immigrant's idea of what is normal differs remarkably from the accepted normal that already exists in that particular country.

In at least Ontario the better organised hunters and anglers associations have recognized this problem and are providing special training classes for Italian immigrants to teach them the Canadian concept of "sportsmanship". For example, it is quite common to shoot song birds in Italy. This is simply not done in Canada. It will be a long time, however, before all the Italians who come to Canada have realized this and discontinue this particular form of continental behavior which is found to be distasteful in Canada.

Again, I appreciate Mr. Caccamo's letter and I hope you will accept my assurance that I had no intention whatsoever of smearing what is, as he says, the fifth largest population group in Canada. It is perhaps because I spent so much time with Italians and know them so well that I am concerned to think that very few of them, compared to the total number of immigrants to Canada, are creating a reaction for the whole ethnic group which they do not deserve.

Finally, I know Mr. Caccamo will be glad to hear that I received many letters as a result of the column and that the majority of them support my point of view. It is not strange that of those who support the column, the majority were written by Italians.

Million and a half Dollars Given Conservation

In the article "In the Field—Retrievers" by Ruth Copeland, which appeared on Page 10 in the May issue, it was stated that the Sportsmen's Show had given over a million dollars to conservation. Mr. H. V. P. (Bumpy) Lewis informs Dogs that the correct amount is in excess of $1,500,000. In this, the 18th consecutive show, the five dog shows drew record numbers in both entries and spectators.

TO MY VERY DEAR FRIEND

Though fate may bloodily bludgeon my head,,
And butcher me like a hog,
I always shall have one friend at least—
A friend in the form of my dog.

While others laugh, he licks my hand,
To show me he doesn't care.
Though others shout, and cast me out,
I know that he'll always be there.

They boast they do, my fellow man,
That they're made in the likeness of God,
But a greater gift has my faithful friend,
For backwards, HIS name spells "Dog".

the old timer

"Something should be done about it," said the Old Timer.

"Done about what," I asked. We'd just come back from a show and I knew the Old Timer had not been too happy about it. The judging had been a bit slow — two judges had carried a very heavy load—they were judges we'd both been under before a few weeks earlier and we'd been late getting away. By the time crates and tack had been stowed away and the dogs taken care of it was past midnight.

"Done about what?" I repeated when the Old Timer was a little slow in answering.

"The judging situation," he finally said. "There aren't enough new faces coming into the ring. A few judges seem to be getting a majority of the assignments and the result is the clubs are paying heavy judging bills because the judges know their numbers are limited."

"You're not suggesting we go back to the old system are you?" I asked. "You're surely not suggesting that anybody be licensed to judge simply because a club asks for his or her services?"

The Old Timer shook his head.

"No," he said. "I think the present system is sound basically although there are a few improvements I would suggest. What I'm complaining about is that not enough qualified young people — and I emphasize the word qualified — are coming forward and taking the examinations. I think they should be encouraged to do it and I think a more streamlined system of examinations should be set up."

"Alright," I said, "how would you encourage them to come forward and how would you streamline the system?"

The Old Timer was tired. That was obvious. But he sat down, lighted his pipe and thought for a minute.

"You'd agree," he said, "that much of the success of dog shows depends on the judges."

I said I would.

"And you'd agree that judges are becoming a pretty expensive commodity and that if the number of available judges could be increased the law of supply and demand would operate, with one probable result a lowering of fees and with clubs able to engage more judges, some of them specialists, for the same money they are paying now?"

I agreed with this too.

"Then I suggest that the first responsibility for encouraging more qualified younger people to come forward — and again I emphasize the word qualified — properly lies with the individual directors. They know the people in their area. If they are doing their job they attend a lot of shows. They get a chance to size up the qualifications of people breeding and exhibiting. They should be able to come away from a show and say 'Now there's a younger man, or younger woman, who has judging potential'. Then they should go out and encourage that person to apply for a license."

"But are these people going to go to all the bother, are they going to wait around to get approval to take the written exam and then wait around until an oral board can be set up? It takes time and it's a bit discouraging."

"That's where the streamlining could come in. It's quite okay for the written examination to go to one central agency but then I think improvements can be made in the procedure for the oral test."

"All right — your suggestions for the oral improvement," I prompted.

"Well, what would be wrong with dividing the country up into comparatively small regions. Appoint an examining chairman for each of these regions along with a permanent panel of examiners. The panel would consist of good practical dog people, each a specialist in one particular group. When the chairman was advised that someone in his region had qualified for the oral it would be a simple matter to convene a board of experienced examiners who could meet at a time and place convenient to all parties. It would mean that there would be a uniformity in the oral boards. It would mean that a board could not be loaded for or against one particular candidate — and this can happen if there is local favoritism and local prejudice. But the main thing is to encourage the applications. Without applications you don't get judges."

"And the basic improvement," I asked.

The Old Timer thought for a minute.

"In approving the right to try the examinations," he said, "make this first hurdle a really tough one. Demand that before anyone is permitted to apply for approval to judge they have a good background in dogs. Make sure they've been breeders. Make sure they've been exhibiting long enough that they know their breeds. Weed out those people who

IN THE FIELD

George Tabner (pictured here) regular editor of this Department, relinquishes his post this month to Mr. Fred Plunkett, one of the more active Spaniel Field Trial enthusiasts in the Toronto area. Mr. Plunkett operates a Pheasant shooting preserve and dog training area. Address all correspondence to Mr. Tabner at R.R. 4, Komoka, Ont.

It would appear that a great number of (former) Springer Spaniel Field Trial supporters have come to the conclusion that the Springer as a popular breed of gun dog, in Canada, will never make the grade and that field trials for such might just as well be forgotten.

It is my personal opinion however that quite the opposite to this reasoning is the truth.

If the Springer is at the bottom of the gun dog ladder (this is an assumption I will never agree to) there is only one way for him to go and that is up. It is my firm belief that within the next five years the good working Springer will be one of the most sought after dogs in the field. And why not? Anything any other gun dog or retriever can do the Springer can and in most cases does a better and more thorough job. This fact is being realized by an increasing number of hunting enthusiasts and the demand for Springers from Field Trial stock is definitely increasing.

A few enthusiastic owners within a given area can very easily form a club and it is only a matter of time before this club is organizing Field Trials. This is exactly as it should be. There is one point that should be borne in mind however. No single club can ever be successful without the support of the other clubs running field trials.

News of the formation of a new Spaniel Field Trial Club should be received with the utmost enthusiasm and support if the club, and consequently the Springer, is to flourish.

The Central Ontario Spaniel Club includes the following in its constitution.

"Its objects shall be the advancement in every legitimate manner possible of the breeding, training, showing and trials of purebred SPANIEL BREEDS of DOGS, the protection of the interest of their breeders and owners, the dissemination of knowledge regarding the same and the Conservation of Game and Wild Life and cooperation with others of like interest. Furthermore, it shall be the duty of every member of the Club to practice only the highest standards of breeding and the distribution of knowledge in the interest of bettering the breed."

This club's objects are no different, I believe, to the objects of other Spaniel clubs. What is needed, however is for the members of the different clubs to live up to this particular section of their constitution.

It stands to reason that the club that gives support will receive support and the idea can work just as well the other way.

In any Spaniel Field Trial there is always a stake in which even the most novice handler can enter a dog. The more trials entered the more experience is gained by both dog and handler and the more experience one gains the more confidence he will have. The stakes usually run in a Spaniel Field Trial are Puppy, Novice, Limit, Gun Dog and Open All Age. If a club cannot produce a dog that is ready for any one of these stakes then it is doubtful if they will ever have a dog ready for anything.

All of our clubs in the past have benefited to a very great extent by the entries in our Field Trials of dogs from the U.S. In fact, on numerous occasions the U.S. entries in our trials were in the majority. During the past two years, however, U.S. interest in Canadian Trials has become less and less. This is extremely unfortunate but let's face it, we have only ourselves to thank for this state of affairs. Over the past several years the Western Ontario Spaniel Club is the only club to have given active support to any U.S. Field Trial and both Ted Haggis and George Webster have proved beyond doubt that Canadian dogs can more than hold their own when they do enter U.S. trials.

There is, however, another reason for lack of U.S. interest in Canadian Trials. Up until two years ago there was only one Open All Age stake in U.S. Field Trials with Amateur and Professional handlers competing against one another. It was difficult, therefore, for the amateur handler to gain recognition for his dogs, consequently he entered Canadian trials where he felt he was coming up against more even competition and he had a fair chance of gaining Field Trial titles for his dogs.

Now the situation has been changed. A separate stake has been established in some U.S. trials open to amateur handlers only, with points awarded towards Amateur Field Trial Championship culminating at the end of the year with the "National Amateur Field Trial Championship," which title, ironically enough, has been won both years by a Canadian, George Webster of London, Ont., with two different dogs: 1963 U.S. Am' National F.T. Ch' Pams Aphrodite of Camden and 1964 U.S. Am' National F.T. Ch' Denali Sunflo Sam.

The establishment of Amateur All Age Stakes, however, does not bar the amateur handler from entering Open All Age Stakes if he wishes and the majority of Field Trial clubs in the U.S. now hold trials for both Amateur and Open.

Trials in the U.S. this year are being held in both spring and fall with a great number being held in the Mid-western States. Under the circumstances, therefore, it is not surprising that there is less American interest in Canadian trials. On the other hand it is time a few more Canadians took a more active interest in U.S. trials. Personally, I have had a wonderful time at any trial I have attended in the U.S. and I believe the experience has helped me tremendously. No one can observe the work of men like Cliff Wallace, Elmore Chick, Steve Studnicki and the handler of the 1964 American Open National Champion Gwibernant Ganol, Mr. David Lorenz, without being enriched by the experience.

To repeat what I have said before, if a Canadian Spaniel Club wants to run a successful Field Trial, and I imagine they do, then they must rely on and actively support one another. Once we realize this I am sure it will be only a matter of facing up to our responsibilities and acting accordingly. Breeders of top class working Springer in Canada are very few and the responsibility is very real.

At the time of writing there is news of only three Ontario Clubs holding trials in 1965:

Central Ontario Spaniel Club at Oakville, Ont.
May 29 and 30
2 trials. Information contact —
Mr. Leslie Bunker, Sec.,
R.R. 6, 1st Line West,
Brampton, Ont.

Sudbury and District Kennel Club at Azilda near Sudbury, Ont.
August
2 trials. For information contact —
Mr. W. Watt, Sec.,
388 Marttila Dr.,
Sudbury, Ont.

A new Spaniel Club has been formed in the Ottawa District and a trial is scheduled for some time in September. For information contact —
Mr. J. E. Berndt,
1205 Soderlind St.,
Ottawa 5, Ont.

As I have mentioned previously, when a new club is formed it should be received with the utmost enthusiasm and support. Each of the clubs in Ontario should have dogs entered in this club's trial to show them we are interested in their efforts and to give them the encouragement that any new club needs and is entitled to expect. □

The capacity for love that is possessed by dogs is almost beyond understanding. It is truly said that here is the only love that money cannot buy.

Their gentleness with children, their forgiveness of harsh treatment, set examples for all of us.

THIS MAY HURT BUT IT IS ABSOLUTE FACT

Each winter in Canada, millions of fur-bearing animals will die slow agonizing deaths in leg-hold traps, unless we do something about it.

People like you and me cause this suffering because we forget what happens between the time the trap is sprung and the time (perhaps many days later) when the skin is collected to make the coat we wear with pride.

Our Association is promoting, by every means possible, the use of humane instant-killing traps.

We need your support, your interest, and above all your membership ($1.00 a year). Donations are deductible for income tax purposes.

HUMANELY "SPEAKING"

BY TOM HUGHES
Room 201, 696 Yonge St., Toronto 5, Ont.

Standard is needed as to what is "adequate" treatment: the General Manager of the Ontario Humane.

Would you consider that it is cruel to deprive a dog of protection against the weather, particularly in the Eastern half of the country? And in winter?

A few months ago, Brian Davies, Secretary of the New Brunswick S.P.C.A. found a German Shepherd dog fastened to a wooden box. The box was completely open to the weather and provided no protection against snow, rain etc. Mr. Davies very rightly came to the conclusion that this was not adequate shelter for a dog and accordingly charged the person responsible with neglect. Evidence was given by a so-called expert that it was quite normal for dogs in the Arctic to live their entire lives without any protection whatever. In fact, he testified that many Arctic sled dogs spent 95% of their lives chained to a stake in the ground. This person also testified that these animals are frequently not fed for many days, and that in his opinion this was the normal way to treat a dog.

I am sorry to have to report that the Court in question agreed with this "expert" and dismissed the charge !

Identical cases have been taken in Ontario by the Ontario Humane Society and convictions have been obtained. In fact, some magistrates in Ontario have made it very clear that they simply will not condone this form of abuse of a dog.

I could give many other instances of wide differences in the attitude of Magistrates' Courts in various parts of Canada towards cruelty to animals.

It seems, therefore that the definition of what is "adequate" and what is "inadequate" rests entirely on the opinion of the Magistrate in question. Surely this is an extremely undesirable state of affairs. Apart from everything else it makes it impossible for the Humane Societies in Canada to know what set of standards should be considered as normal and by which they can judge whether or not a prosecution should be lodged.

I realize that it would be extremely difficult to specify what exactly is "adequate" accommodation for an animal and what is not. But it would be a definite step towards a uniform standard if we could agree that the standards which are accepted as normal in the Arctic are not the standards which are normal in southern Canada! Obviously many phases of life have a different meaning in the rigorous climatic conditions of the Arctic. It would be difficult and even ridiculous to try to enforce in the Arctic the type of laws that we enforce in Southern Canada. For example, the Motor Vehicle Act would be redundant in great stretches of the Arctic. It would be rather stupid to give a man a ticket in Iklavik for 'jay walking'. Similarly I don't suppose that many tickets are given out in Baffin Island for having dirty number plates on a motor vehicle. These are rather extreme and perhaps even farcical examples, but they do illustrate the point. Equally valid is the argument that animals are entitled to adequate shelter, food and water and care and that just because animals are neglected in the Arctic does not mean that we have to accept these conditions as normal in Southern Canada.

There are many other similar differences of standards which could be given as examples of the problem.

A few weeks ago a man was found "Guilty" of cruelly ill-treating a dog because he castrated the animal without using any anaesthetic. In this case the man was found guilty after three veterinarians had testified that this particular operation would cause the animal a great deal of pain and suffering. In this particular case the dog was held on its back by two men while the owner performed the rough surgery. As I said, no anaesthetic was given. Yet, on many ranches and farms throughout Canada, thousands of animals are castrated every year under similar circumstances. The big difference, of course, in the case of the ranch animals, is that the practice is commonplace and customary. It is also necessary in modern farming practice. However, the Magistrate very rightly concluded that the operation to the dog was not necessary, and that if it had been it could have been performed without pain by a qualified veterinarian.

Perhaps one day 'normal' standards will reject the thought of farm animals being altered without benefit of anaesthetic in some form or other. Certainly the Magistrate is to be commended for convicting the man for his brutal and unnecessary abuse of a dog.

I cannot help wondering, however, if the same case had been brought before some Magistrates whether they might have been informed by "expert" witnesses that this was a customary practice on ranches in Western Canada and that therefore there was nothing wrong with a similar operation being performed on a dog. It is a disturbing thought. Magistrates by and large, few of whom pretend to have expert knowledge of animals, although occasionally this situation may occur, are dependent upon the advice of people who claim to be 'experts'. Often, in fact, they are nothing of the sort!

The definition of an 'expert' is difficult to arrive at. I have heard a person testify in Court that he had spent a summer holiday building a barn for a circus. This apparently made him an expert in the care of wild animals!

I have also heard in Court men and women claiming to have expert knowledge of dogs, when questioning has revealed that the extent of their knowledge was that they simply owned one or two dogs for a number of years.

I have even heard both men and women testify that they were experts in the housing and breeding and care of dogs because they were members of The Canadian Kennel Club!

The trouble is that the whole world is plagued with a surfeit of experts. Which does not help the Magistrates in their quest for unbiased, impartial opinions and advice to assist them in reaching a wise judgment.

Since the majority of the prosecutions, in fact 99.9% of all prosecutions, in Canada alleging cruelty to animals are laid by officers of Humane Societies and S.P.C.A.'s, then obviously the Court will always consider the opinions of these people as somewhat biased. This is natural.

The only person left to guide the Magistrate in his Court is a qualified veterinarian. But even here we have to be careful that the veterinarian has practical experience of the animals in question. It is quite feasible that a veterinarian who has spent his life in Government service such as Public Health or some similar Department may have little practical knowledge of certain phases of animal husbandry. By and large, however, a qualified veterinarian with practical experience is the best expert opinion available in Canada today.

Unfortunately, testifying in Court can be a frustrating and financially expensive form of public service.

Witnesses in a case may spend one or two days sitting in a court room waiting for the case in which they are involved to come before the Magistrate or they may be involved in a case which is adjourned and adjourned and adjourned. Why should qualified professional men be penalized in this way because they are making their services available to assist the course of justice?

Yet we have seen that without the veterinarian the courts are almost unable to obtain unbiased, genuine, expert advice.

I don't blame the veterinarians for being reluctant to be involved or to advise in a case. I blame the system which penalizes the veterinarian in this way. Somehow we have to find a method by which a veterinarian can testify without undue loss of time and money. If we could find a solution I think we would see a much better reaction on the part of the veterinarians. In the interests of justice and in the interests of protecting animals against cruel abuse, some solution to this problem has to be found.

Until the solution is found, then we will have the so-called experts cropping up all across Canada testifying that a dog does not need protection against the weather, that it does not need feeding more than once a week and that you should never give a young dog water in case it develops distemper.

These are three examples of the "expert" opinions I have heard in Canadian courts ! !

I'm glad I'm not a dog in the care of such an expert! □

Zeropest Products Ltd., 4669 Kingsway, Burnaby 1, B.C. has a line of equipment for the scientific control of flying insects, operating on the basis of attraction and destruction. Oh, What A Beautiful Show

"This show could be a model for all of Canada, "remarked Judge Reg. P. Sparkes following the recent Ottawa Kennel Club Show held April 30 and May 1.

Mr. and Mrs. John Diefenbaker presented the Best in Show award and Best Brace in Show. The conclusion of the show was dramatic. The six finalists competing for BIS were lined up outside the ring. The Coliseum was darkened. In the glow of a spotlight the first dog entered the ring, while Archie Warnock gave a commentary on that breed as it moved around the ring in the circle of light. As the commentary concluded the ring was in darkness. The spotlight then picked up the next finalist. When the six dogs had been thus presented the lights went on and the judging proceeded.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SHOW:

- Souvenir maple leaf pins presented to each exhibitor, particularly appreciated by Americans.
- A Puppy Sweepstakes that attracted 67 entries, with cash prizes of 1st, $80; 2nd, $50; 3rd, $30; 4th, $20. Specially engraved plaques with special rosettes were presented to the winners.
- Best of breed and Best of Opposite Sex plaques and prizes in each breed regardless of the number of entries.
- An official host or hostess for each Group to assist out-of-town exhibitors in finding out about motels, restaurants and points of interest. Their names and breeds were included in the catalogue and were identified by badges.
- Entirely new ring equipment consisting of aluminum tubing and uprights with handsome blue drapes around the three large rings, decorated with large club crests in blue and gold, with the same decor for the ring tables. (Lady club members sewed no less than 250 yards of material for the drapes).
- Heavy carpeting material within the perimeter of each ring and also placed diagonally so that the dogs were never gaiting on bare, slippery wood.
- Tables for judging of Toy and other small breeds were covered with material on which the dogs could get a secure footing while being judged.
- A pamphlet on how to understand a dog show (courtesy Ralston Purina Co. Ltd.) was given to each spectator along with the admission ticket.

The show committee efforts have been well rewarded with pleased comments and letters of praise. "And there are more improvements planned for our November show," states a club official. □

BAHAMAS PLANS RICH SHOW

With prize money totalling more than $11,000, Nassau's first all-breed dog show is igniting interest around the world. The Bahamas Ministry of Tourism is launching the most lavish show to date, which is billed as the first International World's Championship All Breed Dog Show. It is sanctioned by The Bahamas KC.

The event will be held on the exotic grounds of one of the luxury hotels in Nassau, January 10 to 20. Entries are on an invitational only basis. It is expected that entries accepted will number between 1,500 and 3,000 dogs of all breeds. Twenty-five noted dog judges from Canada, the United States, Mexico, Germany and England will assess the events.

The Ministry of Tourism has authorized a three-year schedule for the event under sanction of the Bahamas K.C. In January two international all-breed shows will be held on two weekends with specialty shows of various breeds going on throughout the week.

Leading dog clubs throughout the world have been notified of the exciting Bahamas event. They will be invited to enter their members' winning dogs of 1965.

The event, states Capt. Sherman F. (Red) Crise, chairman of the show, will undoubtedly cap all shows to date in "entries, entertainment, complimentary offerings and atmosphere."

A round of social events will be crowned by an international championship ball.

Owner of the dog named the world's champion will win, in addition to lesser awards, the top prize of $5,000. Six international champions will receive a minimum of $250 each and $5,000 will be offered in cash and trophies to the various class winners. □ die lingering deaths from exposure and starvation.

"One cannot imagine the suffering of these animals, nor the anguish and heartbreak of those who try to find homes for them, when there are no homes.

"We are trying to educate our public to their moral responsibility to these animals, and the terrible suffering they contribute when they allow their pets to breed. Breeders of purebred dogs are asked not to breed unless they are assured of sales.

"This then is an appeal to the British, who are famed for their love of animals: Please help us stop the suffering, by not sending any more dogs to our shores. Our shelters are crammed with the purebred as well as the mixed. Many of our shelters sell to laboratories. Should your puppies find their way into them, they might well end up as experimental animals.

"If an appeal to the humanitarian instincts of the British breeder fails then we shall have to seek action by our Congress to stop the inport of all dogs into the United States."

EVERY SERIOUS BREEDER SHOULD HAVE A KENNEL EXECUTOR

H. M. (Mac) Stephens, author of this invaluable article, emphasizes the importance of having a will and detailing the exact disposition of your dogs.

PERSONS who have made names for themselves in the field of letters and those who have achieved fame in other fields and then written successfully about themselves and their work almost invariably appoint someone to go through their papers after their death. This appointee is usually known as a literary executor. His responsibility is to arrange for the publication of any unpublished work which may merit publication and, if thought desirable, to gather together in one edition all previously published work into a complete collection of the deceased's writings. If the literary person dies without appointing a literary executor the executor who is administering his monetary estate will frequently appoint a literary executor.

Dog breeders almost invariably die leaving young dogs for which they had plans for future breeding. In many cases these young dogs represent the distillation of many years' work. In some cases, possibly one more generation of some long term plan might produce an outstanding dog. Is there not, therefore, a prime need to appoint someone in your will to take over your dogs and dispose of them, if possible, in a manner which will permit the best use to be made of the work and thought which has gone before?

Most kennels operate on the basis of a two person partnership. One stays home and looks after the dogs and the other goes out into the world to earn the money to support the dogs. In this case the death of one is not as serious a problem as is the death of a person who is operating a kennel on his own. Nevertheless these two partners frequently travel together and the dangers of today's highways are so great that the sudden and tragic death of both partners in a highway accident is not impossible or even unlikely.

Before you read any more of this article, pause for a few minutes to consider what would become of your dogs in the event of your death.

Since the law says that dogs are property, the disposition of your dogs upon your death is covered by the provisions of your will. If your will directs that your property be converted into cash and the proceeds distributed among your heirs, then your dogs must be sold even if it means selling them to the nearest pet shop. It is important therefore that your wishes with regard to the disposal of your dogs upon your death be mentioned in your will. Since your dogs are going to require food and care until they are disposed of your executor should be given specific authority to spend your money to provide this care.

YOUR NOMINEE'S QUALIFICATIONS

With the above outline of the problem, consider if the executor named in your will is also the proper person to dispose of your dogs. In most cases the executor which you have named in your will is not "doggy". His other attributes as an executor of your estate are probably excellent but he is not doggy. He does not know a bloodline from a clothesline. He does not know an Affenpinscher from a Weimaraner. Furthermore his wife will positively not let him take your 23 darling Shih Tzus home with him. All of this does not alter his fundamental suitability as the executor of your estate other than your dogs.

What then are the qualifications of the person whom you should ask to look after the disposal of your dogs in the event of your death? First he must be someone in whose integrity you have reasonable confidence. Not only must you have reasonable confidence in the integrity of your nominee but he also must be well regarded in doggy circles throughout the country. Next he must be willing to assume the responsibility. He must also be able to assume the responsibility. This means he must be able to take some of your dogs into his kennel at once and be able to place the remainder in suitable kennels until they have been sold. He must know your dogs. Positive identification of any dogs offered to other breeders is imperative. In Canada we are fortunate that most breeders tattoo for identification. We all know however that there are, in every kennel, dogs whose tattoo is not as readable as it might be. He must know your breed well enough to know which breeders might be interested in any particular dog. In addition to all these things he should be sufficiently literate to be able to make a monetary accounting to your executor and to be able to write letters and advertisements which will interest serious breeders in the dogs which are for disposal.

It is quite obvious that a stranger cannot be expected to be able to do all the things outlined above. Likewise your closest friend cannot do these things unless he is completely familiar with your dogs and your breeding plans. The ideal person appears to be one who has the integrity and the physical facilities. Consider the people whom you know who are active in dogs. He need not be active in your breed but he should know it well enough to distinguish amongst the three dogs in your kennel who look most alike. Having found the person whom you consider might be suitable, you should ask him if he would be willing to assume the responsibility.

YOUR ESTATE SHOULD PAY

Your estate is going to have to pay such a person for doing these things for you. Think what you are asking him to do. He must assume the responsibility for the care and feeding of your dogs. He must locate purchasers who will make the best use of them. This will involve advertising and letter writing. During all of this he must render an accounting to your executor of monies received for any dogs sold. To care for a large breed will cost more than a small breed. A popular breed will be easier to dispose of than will an unknown breed. For a breed such as Shelties, six months to dispose of six dogs and 12 months to dispose of 20 dogs might be a fair estimate. Larger kennels might take two years to dispose of. What is this worth to you and how much should you instruct your executor to pay out of the estate for this service? Again using Shelties as an example, you might provide a fee of $50 per dog plus twenty-five percent of the proceeds which exceed the fee. e.g. For a kennel of 12 dogs which is sold for $800, the fee would be 12 x $50=$600 plus 25% of ($800 – $600) = $50 or a total fee of $650. The net remaining to your estate would be $150.

At first sight such a scale of fees may seem rather excessive. For this, your kennel executor (I think we have described him sufficiently to now give him a title) has probably spent at least 50 hours listening to you tell of the merit of this dog and that and your plans for each. He has rushed to take over your dogs immediately upon your death or even fatal illness. He has fed them; advertised them; offered them at stud; bred bitches if he considered it desirable; found homes for the pensioners or tearfully put them to sleep if no other solution has presented itself in a reasonable time. I think the fee is much preferable to letting some estate officer from the trust company send them to the nearest pet shop. It is also preferable to instructing that they all be put to sleep. If you make no provision and leave their disposition to cousin Mabel, she may ask the SPCA to take the lot.

To appoint a kennel executor will require a clause in your will such as the following:

"With regard to my kennel of (name of breed) I appoint (name of kennel executor) as my kennel executor with full power and discretion to assume immediate custody of all my dogs in the event that my wife shall have predeceased me or in the event that we are both killed in a common disaster or in the event that she shall die within thirty days of my death. I direct my kennel executor to care for my dogs until such time as he may be able to dispose of them individually or collectively in such manner as he in his sole discretion may consider desirable having regard for the best interests of pure bred dogs in general and (name of breed) in particular. He shall account to my executors for monies received from the disposal of my dogs. During the time my dogs are in his custody pending disposal he may carry on the activities of a breeding and exhibition kennel including offering dogs at public stud, breeding any bitches which he considers desirable and selling puppies. For these services my kennel executor will receive a fee of fifty dollars per dog for every dog alive at the time of his assuming custody plus twenty-five percent of any sale proceeds which may exceed this fee plus sixty percent of any stud fees earned plus sixty percent of the proceeds of the sale of any puppies which may be born after the kennel executor assumes custody of the dogs. This fee payable to my kennel executor shall be a charge against my estate in the same manner as my burial expenses and other liabilities existing as of the date of my death."

We believe this is the first article which has ever been published on the subject of kennel executors in any dog paper anywhere. The above clause for a will is therefore only a suggestion. It should not be written into your will verbatim. Your own requirements and circumstances should be taken into consideration. You must also consider the requirements of the law in the particular jurisdiction in which you live. There might also be a sentence giving the kennel executor a certain time within which he must dispose of all the dogs with power granted to your executor to extend this time limit if requested so to do by your kennel executor. For all these refinements you must first discuss the problem with the person whom you wish to name as your kennel executor and subsequently with your lawyer or the estate officer at your trust company.

For those readers to whom all this talk of death and dying seems morbid, let me say to you that for this problem, as for all estate planning, a proper discussion of the problem and the possible complications will not kill you off any sooner. The object is that you may leave behind you an estate which can be administered rationally and sensibly. Throughout the article I have assumed that you have a will. If not, get one written right away. If you are a serious breeder of dogs you should include in your will arrangements which will make it possible for others to carry on where you have to leave off. □

BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK

BY MRS. ALEX CASGRAIN

Be Kind to Animals Week, sponsored by the Canadian SPCA, featured demonstrations of dog Obedience training: two at Place Ville Marie and one at Place Versailles.

At Place Ville Marie, 24 dogs and their owners went through a drill which demanded perfect control and strict attention on the part of the dogs.

To open the performance, Reverend Cecil Randell, rector of St. Stephen's Church in Fort Chambly, recited a prayer for animals and blessed the dogs. Then several members of the German Shepherd Dog Club of Montreal gave a demonstration of how an Obedience class is conducted; followed by members of the Montreal Dog Obedience Training Club, the Mountain City Obedience Club and the Lakeshore Dog Training Association, whose more experienced dogs carried in their mouths little yellow pennants labelled SPCA while giving a display of heeling: the 24 dogs off leash and walking close to the owners' left sides. Then they did a Drop-on-recall, in which the dogs were called individually and told to lie down on route.

Junior SPCA members set up the jumps for the next exercise. These jumps were bright yellow banners lettered with "SPCA" and "Be Kind to Animals" in both English and French. The dogs did a recall over the jumps, lined up in three groups (small, medium and large) one behind the other, and with the owners facing them on the other sides of the respective jumps. The dogs were supposed to wait their turns, but in their enthusiasm, a number broke their places and came tearing over the jumps (or around them) to their owners. We expected this to happen in the general excitement, and the audience loved it.

Then came the highlight of the exhibition — the Relay Race. Three teams competed, and at a signal, the first dog of each team was sent out over two jumps in a row to retrieve a dumb-bell. The other dogs followed in turn. The race was fast and hilarious and the first team to complete the retrieves were declared the winners. The little dogs won the first race and the large dogs the second one.

The finale was a demonstration by five Obedience Trial Champions. They did the Signal Exercise together, obeying commands to heel, stay, sit, stand, down and come given by hand signals only. Then they did Scent Discrimination, picking out from a number of lettered dumb-bells the letters CSPCA. This was a real eye-opener for the spectators.

Only half the number of dogs went to the Place Versailles Shopping Centre in Ville d'Anjou, because of the restricted indoor space. Here Father G. Picard of College Ste Marie opened the drill with a talk and his blessing. The dogs did essentially the same routine, including a gay relay race between two teams, which the large dogs won. This exhibition was also well received by an appreciative audience. The equipment was handled by members of Les Jeunes amis des bêtes.

Our SPCA Booth was on hand at all three exhibitions.

We are very grateful indeed to all who helped with these events in promotion of the 51st anniversary of "BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK". □

DC & SSA SPECIALTY SHOW

by MRS. HAZEL SLAUGHTER

THOUGHTS of firelight, hot toddies, warmth and good cheer were brought to mind by the theme of copper on the trophy table at the DC&SSA's 5th annual Specialty Show in Montreal. The trophy tables were truly beautiful and our trophy committee must receive a "well done" for their eye catching display this year. The warmth and good cheer followed right through the Specialty, spilled into the cocktail party after the show and flowed right on into the buffet supper — and if numbers are an indication, the evening can only be spelled S-U-C-C-E-S-S.

The success of the show can also be determined by the numbers of exhibitors and spectators, apart from our own staunch members, that return to the show every year — Mary Van Wagenen, Sea Isle Kennels, Mass., Helen and Earl Davidson and the Kruinas' from Schenectady, N.Y., Helen Lovett from Stittsville, Ont., Ruth and Red Lane from Cape Cod; and from the Toronto area, Betty Thomson and Gladys Taylor; Allie Smuck coming just to enjoy the show and Reg and Helen Scott with Mr. and Mrs. Wise (Reg handled Bit O'Brass to BB in Shelties).

Haworth Hoch of Villa Ridge, Mo. picked as his Best of Breed in Collies, Josephine M. Kruinas' Ch. (Can. & Am.) Schonowe's Prima Donna and Best Opposite Sex was kennel mate Ch. (Can. & Am.) Four champions were made up on the weekend of the Specialty—Audrey Gray's Collie Ravensglen Mist of Grayfield completed her championship in 24 hours, climaxing with Best Puppy in Show at the United Kennel Club's All-Breed Show, and three Shelties — Mary A. Hayes and Sea Isle Kennel's Malpsh Great Scott; Hazel Slaughter's and Ruth Lane's Meridian's Miss Behave and Ariel Sleeth's Sovereign Victory Maid.

REGARDED as the "Academy Awards" of Canadian dogdom, the handsome silver ice buckets offered by Ken-L Products were awarded delighted owners of dogs earning the most points in their respective regions. The presentations were made during the Sportsmen's Show week in Toronto.

This is the seventh year in which Ken-L Products has so honored outstanding Canadian dogs. Normally the Pet Food Division (Ken-L Products) of the Quaker Oats Company of Canada Limited makes the presentation to four top winners. This year, for the first time, there was a tie in the Mid-Western Region, with five owners coming in for the awards.

The country is divided into four sections: Western, British Columbia; Mid-Western, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and the Lakehead; Mid-Eastern Section, Ontario and Quebec; Eastern Section, the four Atlantic Provinces. This year the Mid-Western area produced a tie between the Beagle, Ch. Jacobi's Jamboree owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. McKillop of Edmonton and the Standard Poodle, Ch. Wycliffe Demosthenes, owned by Messrs. F. N. Campbell and G. E. Smith of Winnipeg.

Finishing first in the Mid-Eastern Region was the West Highland White Terrier, Ch. Stoneygap Sugar Candy of Mahnraf, owned by Mr. Fred Fraser of Ottawa, Ont.

Points are awarded only to dogs who win in their respective areas.

Labrador Puppy BIS In First Show

Not quite one year at the date of his first show, on May 1, the Labrador Retriever puppy, Knoll Top Happy, went right up to BIS at the Moncton KC show under Judge Harold Robinson of Timberlea, N.S. He is pictured here with owner-breeders, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rowan of Knoll Top Kennels, Fredericton, N.B. and Mr. Robinson, and his BIS and BCB awards. Writes Mr. Rowan: he is so much like his famous father, Ch. Lisnamallard Limelight, you must look twice to tell them apart."

The Golden Retriever

Here is the best concise description of the Golden we have seen. Quoting The Treasury of Dogs by Arthur Frederick Jones and John Rendel: "The Golden is a noble dog. His strongest character traits are admirable ones. For all his strength, he is a gentle fellow. He is loyal, earnest and willing. His intelligence makes him easy to train; he scores consistently well in obedience trials. Some Goldens are guide dogs for the blind. Perhaps most endearing is his enthusiasm. He loves his work. Waterfowl retrieving is his forte. He is a powerful swimmer; his dense lustrous coat is virtually waterproof and he has the stamina to take the roughest going. He has a tender mouth and a good nose. He can wind his quarry from 50 yards. He also is well regarded as a retriever of upland game and birds. His sweet nature and attractive appearance are making him enormously popular as a companion dog as well."

Canadian-Bred Wins Gordon Setter Specialty

As was recently mentioned in Dogs in Canada this breed is on the upswing. At the Gordon Setter Specialty Show held at Trenton, N.J., 72 Gordons were entered. Best of Breed was the home-bred Ch. (Can. & Am.) Hickory Smoke's Wild 'N' Wully, CD, owned by Mrs. Allen D. Ruess of Norristown, Pa. Wully and a "close relative" of his were the only Canadian-bred entries in the show. His daughter, Hickory Huntress, topped the classes by winning WB of the large entry of 38 females. In a highly competitive Stud Dog Class Wully placed 1st, represented by Huntress and her half-sister, Ch. Ger-Don's April. Writes Mrs. Ruess: "Wully is now busy with gun-dog training for field trial competition. (He has Derby wins). He is also completing CDX training in obedience."

Differences Between the Two Cocker Breeds

Offhand do you know some of the major differences between the American Cocker Spaniel and the English Cocker? The skull of the American is more domed than that of the English. The English female's minimum size of 15" is the maximum for the American male Cocker. The English is longer in back, legs and jaw, which enables them to cover the ground more quickly and carry their quarry more easily than the American, although the latter have outdone their English competitors in trials. The American and English Cocker color scheme is very similar, but you are more likely to find dogs with white and colored hairs intermixed in the English Cocker.

Differences Between the English and Welsh Springers

Until 1902 springers and spaniels were considered together. Then the English and Welsh Springer Spaniels came into their own. The English type varies from the Welsh in that, being one of the larger spaniels, it stands 18 to 20 inches at the shoulder and weighs 40 to 55 pounds. The Welsh, more stolid and with a more sober personality than the English, stands 17", weighs 35 to 45 pounds.

Actually, the two Springer breeds are not very close. The Welsh was developed in Wales about 100 years before British sportsmen became interested in his fine performance. He is always red and white in color, while the English Springer may be black and white, white with liver, liver and white, black, or tan markings.

Although Imports Limited The Grey Ghost is Climbing

While it is said that at no time were there more than 1,500 Weimaraners in Germany (due to stringent restrictions of the German Weimaraner Club) this breed now ranks among the first 20 purebreds in popularity in the United States. And on this continent breeding and culling are pretty well controlled, in fact more so than any other popular breed. Even now there is a certain exclusiveness about owning a "Gray Ghost", stemming back to the time the breed was the exclusive property of the Thuringian nobles.

Memo From The Editor

ting their feet wet" in the exciting realm of showing?

Judges selected by the show-giving club have the opportunity of helping the novice set up and move the dog. There is nothing to prevent a judge from giving advice to the novice while actually examining the dog. The new judges, or those learning the intricacies of judging, are also given an opportunity to gain experience at these shows.

Sanction shows are also a proving ground for executives of show-giving clubs in producing a well-regulated show.

Usually sanction shows are held earlier or later than the regular shows, providing an opportunity for people to get together outside of the regular show season. And many a breeder, who might bewail the lack of time during the busy show season, welcomes a pre-season show or two.

During the winter season most arenas are booked up with sports events, making it virtually impossible in most communities to obtain the required space. Smaller halls, sufficient for most sanction shows, are more readily available.

Special puppy classes are provided, which are not a part of championship shows; that is, one for male and one for female puppies three to six months of age. Separate classes are held for male and female puppies six to 12 months, a total of four classes (if sufficient entries), otherwise age groups may be combined.

Sanction shows sometimes provide funds with which to aid regular point shows. Although it is not so much the case now, sanction shows have been credited with actually saving breed clubs from going under during the depression, when there was little money available for special interests.

Prize ribbons or cards given out at sanction shows must have the words "sanction show" printed on them. Trophies given at these events are often comparable with those of smaller shows and highly desirable. Should a professional or thoroughly experienced handler accept the trophies for top wins? Or should they merely accept the experience gained for their novice entry and leave the silver for the novice next in the winning? That's a matter of individual judgment. But imagine the thrill for a first or second-timer.

Do not underestimate the value of a sanction show for all concerned — novice people, novice dogs, novice judges and novice show committee members. And it is the place to learn the fine art of being not only a good loser but a good winner. □ buy a dog, who are one year wonders while exhibiting that dog and then, on the strength of one year of exhibiting, apply for and get a judging license. Under our system anyone with a photographic memory can memorize the standard and qualify as a judge. Now I agree that a knowledge of the standard is a must. But judging goes far beyond that. The judge must be able to relate the standard to the dog. To do a job he must be sincerely interested in dogs; he must be prepared to make a contribution to the game. He must have in his mind's eye a picture of a top dog of the species he is judging. He can't get these things in a year of exhibiting with a dog he has bought from some other breeder. They come only with experience. And, if the first hurdle is made tough enough, the other things will come." □

Little Dachshund Born to be a Hunter

Contrary to popular belief, here in the Americas, the Dachshund is not created to be a household pet of the middle classes. He was born a fighter and bred a hunter.

The Germans in the late 1800's took great pains to improve the breed as hunters, regardless of size or coat. This trend continued until Hitler came into power in the 1930's, and interest in the breed waned.

The English also imported and trained the Dachshund as a hunter. But they preferred the heavy, plump Basset-like type to the light whip-like dogs the Germans used. It wasn't until the latter part of the 19th century that the agile, intelligent, quick little types began to be seen.

Both standards and miniatures were used in Europe for underground and surface work; the miniature or small Dachshund being confined to underground work, while the standard was used above ground to capture and kill the prey, usually badgers. The badger is noted as a strong, ferocious little animal. Consequently, the dog would require strength and courage, two notable traits of the distinguished breed.

Dachshunds are also noted for use in tracking and flushing wild boar. Their stamina and sharp noses make them superior in bringing the animal to bay. Their "lowness to the ground" and versatile agility provide them with the necessary equipment to keep out of harm's way when the wild boar charges.

It seems rather a shame that the average Dachshund on the Continent doesn't seen to be bred to have the qualities necessary for its hunting heritage. Granted, the breed still shows many of the desired qualities but the emphasis is put mainly on those desirable for a placid existence as companion, rather than an exciting, danger-filled occupation as a hunter.

—Mrs. A. M. Faulkner

Bits About the Boxer

How to remember the proportions of the Boxer: He might be called a square dog. According to the Standard he stands 21 to 24" high at the shoulder and is the same distance from the front of the chest to the farthermost part of the upper thigh.

The Boxer was first registered in the United States in 1904. The first Boxer championship in the USA was made in 1915, by a dog owned by the late Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York, one of the early American devotees of the breed.

For about two decades little interest was evidenced in the breed until an outstanding German import, Ch. Check von Hunnenstein, won a BIS at a major show and was such a hit with the public he immediately put the Boxer in business in North America.

Bullmastiff Specialty Has International Flavor

An interesting entry at the recent Specialty Show of the Bullmastiff Fanciers of Canada was a young female, bred in England, owned in Fredericton, N.B. and at the show on her way back home from having spent the winter in Mexico with her owners. Other entries were from Vermont, Philadelphia, Montreal (where the show was held), Ottawa and Clarkson. Two absentees included one from beyond Chicago and the other owned in Alberta but currently being campaigned in the USA. Quite a continental flavor!

Also of interest is the fact that both the top Bullmastiff in the USA for 1964 (Philips rating) and the top Bullmastiff in Canada for 1964 were two different dogs both bred by Mrs. Geri Powell of Vancouver, B.C.

Canadian Again Elected Collie Club Director

Of special interest to Canadians in the recent annual elections of the Collie Club of America is the re-election of Mrs. Kay Anderson of Ashton, Ont., as District Director for Canada. This is the second year that Canada has been privileged to elect a Director.

The Collie Club of America, with a total membership of over 1,700, has a substantial membership outside the confines of the United States. Canada leads with 17, closely followed by Japan, while Puerto Rico, The Netherlands, Italy and Germany also have enthusiastic members.

The Collie Club of America is one of the most active breed clubs in North America. It is hoped that, with an increase in membership, Canadians will be able to take an increasingly productive part in its various programs. Canadians from coast to coast who are interested in learning the advantages of membership should write to Mrs. Kay Anderson, District Director for Canada, R.R. 3, Ashton, Ont.

First Great Dane Specialty A Success

The first Specialty Show of the Great Dane Club of Canada, held May 8 at London, Ont., drew an entry of 31, many from the United States. Judge Allen Jensen officiated.

The trophy table, with its handsome trophies topped by the golden statue of a Great Dane, was photographed on instructions by President Ian Stewart with a copy to be sent to each trophy donor. The presentation of the trophies was made by Mrs. Elsie Keen who retired her Elm Haven Kennels a few years ago and is now Honorary President of the club.

Among representatives of other Great Dane associations at the dinner following the specialty were Miss Leona Robertson, Mr. James Holliday and daughter Diana, members of the Great Dane Club of Western Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Gil Dolan of Detroit, members of the Great Dane Club of Michigan and Miss Anne Houston, Old Bridge, N.J., member of the Great Dane Club of America, who was visiting with the Stewarts at Zordane Kennels.

Yarn Spinning Demonstration

In the report on the Canadian National Sportsmen's show, May issue, it was stated that Dr. Tremeer of Bowmanville demonstrated the spinning of yarn from her own Samoyeds. This was mentioned in conjunction with the International Samoyed Society. The remarkably talented doctor gave the demonstration the second Saturday of the Sportsmen's Shows for the Canadian Samoyed Club.

If A Shepherd Moves Well it is Built Right

The world owes a debt of gratitude to Capt. Von Stephenitz, the founder of the German Shepherd Dog breed. Regardless of their original purpose as sheep and cattle herders, their versatility has been proven by the many ways they have been trained to assist mankind.

They more than proved their value during the bombing in the last war, many lives were saved by dogs of this breed by indicating where people were buried in the debris, caused by the bombing. Their actions would indicate to the dog handler whether the person or persons buried were dead or alive. This in itself proves the German Shepherd Dog possesses an intelligence rarely found in other breeds. I have no wish to slight other breeds of dogs, as we all know there is a tremendous potential in all dogs, if we only have the patience and training ability to develop it.

There is a noticeable tendency for people and breeders of the German Shepherd Dog to base their opinion of what constitutes a good specimen of the breed, on what wins its class, or Best of Breed at the local shows. They (the people) overlook one important point, and ignore the fact this winning dog could, and usually does, have an obvious fault, but in the opinion of the judge this winning dog had less of a fault than the other dogs competing.

Genetics prove that what you can see in a dog (phenotype) is no indication of its capabilities as a producer. So before rushing to breed to the winning dog at least check its pedigree and the dog's value as a producer.

If we understand the function of each part of a dog in relation to the dog as a whole, we will then be in a better position to judge for ourselves what does constitute a good specimen of the German Shepherd Dog Breed. Many a good book has been written on this subject.

It is interesting to note that all dogs, regardless of breed have the same basic construction. Granted there are variations but the tiny Chihuahua has the same construction and forces to contend with as the Great Dane.

When assessing a German Shepherd Dog its original purpose should always be kept in mind, its value as a working dog, its ability to cover ground without wasting energy. It has been said, and it is true, if a dog moves right, it is built right. Too few German Shepherd enthusiasts know when a dog moves right, why he kicks up behind, why he pounds in front, which is indicated by the movement of the withers. They rave about rear angulation, which without a shoulder assembly to balance the rear, is worthless. If a dog is not balanced fore and aft and not coupled right, faults will show and the dog will use excess energy to compensate for its inherent faults.

The prime purpose of the shoulder assembly is to maintain balance and stability of the dog when in motion. The rear is for drive only, with one exception, which concerns the centre of gravity of the dog when moving. The muscles operating the forward and rearward action of the shoulder assembly are in balance at a certain point, this is the point when a dog's pad should touch the ground. If through some malfunction of rear assembly or body structure the dog has to place his pad on the ground at the wrong time, the forces generated by these muscles will cause the dog to pound, and the withers will heave up and down. If a dog is too short coupled it will invariably be a crab runner.

Many a judge has condemned a dog for moving too close. This is wrong; in order to maintain balance when in fast motion, a dog must bring his feet into the centre line of his body, if he does not, his back will roll or whip.

To compensate for these various faults a dog uses excess energy and will tire rapidly. Few realize a dog uses excess energy to compensate for a too long or hooked tail. A good tail has a distinct purpose in assisting in balancing the dog in motion.

We all know chest capacity, long or short backs, rib structure, splayed feet, depth of pad, all have a bearing on the dog's performance, but the point I am trying to make, is, if the dog is built right it will move right.

One other point, if you do not have good temperament in a German Shepherd Dog, you do not have a German Shepherd Dog.

The Blue Merle Shetland Sheepdog

The blue merle Sheltie is rare and different, greatly admired by many and a great challenge to breeders, as a perfectly colored blue merle is not easy to achieve. The color is a soft blue-grey, flecked with black, with white collar, legs and tail tip and tan markings on the face and legs. The eyes may be brown, or blue, or merle (brown flecked with blue), but the dark brown eyes are preferable.

Ideally, the blue merle should be bred to a tricolor, but for some inexplicable reason a really good tricolor is hard to find, particularly one with the correct dark almond eye. This leaves two alternatives, either to breed the merle to another blue merle, or to breed it to a sable.

Many breeders are reluctant to breed a merle to a sable because of the likelihood of getting sable pups with blue eyes; these, of course, cannot be shown, but they can be sold as pets. Merle to sable breeding is not for the novice but can be done and often is very successful.

Ch. (Can. & Am.) Blue Quest of Pocono, a several times BIS winner, a blue merle, has sired at least one sable champion. Three merle to sable breedings have been made at Ronas Hill. The first, in 1952, produced a dark-eyed sable bitch that won three championship points and was BCBP in show, at six months of age, the only time shown in Canada, was then exported to the States, where she won her American title quickly. The next such litter, in 1953, produced a blue bitch that won her American championship at eight months, a tri bitch that became a Canadian champion and two sable males that won points, one in Canada, the other in the States. The third merle to sable breeding, in 1959, produced a tricolor champion bitch and a blue champion male that now is more than half-way to his American title.

In England, merle to sable breeding is frowned on and, instead, merle to merle breeding is practiced but this can produce a certain percentage of defective white puppies which are blind or deaf (or both) and must be destroyed at birth. Such a breeding is less likely to produce the preferred dark-eyed merles.

CANADIANS SENSATIONAL AT CHICAGO

THE immense crowd filling every seat and inch of standing space in the huge auditorium of the Chicago International Amphitheatre cheered wildly. The object of their unrepressed enthusiasm was the glorious Irish Setter flying down the vast auditorium floor. Handler Larry Downey and Marion T. Darling's Ch. Blaneywood Country Squire moved as one.

It took a brave judge to decide against the applause of the spectators. But Judge Joseph C. Quirk, after a time of obvious debating, decreed otherwise.

The obedience-trained Doberman Pinscher, Ch. Ru-Mar's Tsushima CD, owned by Margaret Carveth of Portal Valley, Calif., was named Best in Show over an entry of 2086 dogs, a record high for this show. The statuesque Dobe kept her eyes steadily on her handler, E. R. Hastings, anticipating his slightest move. She was a picture.

Canadian-owned and bred dogs made a proud showing, with Best of Breed wins: Ch. Talisker's Fairy Wonder, Skye Terrier owned by Mrs. R. Percy Adams, Ste. Agathe, Que.; Greer's Tiny Satin Sal, Chihuahua owned by Mrs. Sandra Thallon, Unionville, Ont. In going BB Satin, not quite a year, went up from the classes over eight specials. She is a champion in Canada, USA and Mexico. Ch. Cairndania McRuffie's Splinter, Cairn Terrier owned by Mrs. Betty Hyslop, Brockville, Ont.; Ch. Goofus Buggati, Pekingese owned by Mrs. Vera F. Crofton, Nigel Aubrey-Jones and R. William Taylor, Montreal; Ch. Karasea's Silver Nikki, Samoyed owned by Mrs. Vera E. Johnson, North Burnaby, B.C. Bred by the late Mrs. Eileen McEachren, the Kerry Blue Terrier, Ch. Tailteann's Blue Crystal, owned by Mrs. Marie G. Greene, Huntingdon, West Virginia also went BB. Koko's Red Pegasus, Miniature Pinscher owned by Mrs. Kendrick B. Lane of Gobles, Mich., was bred by her son, Wynne Powell of Vancouver, whose fine photography frequently appears in this magazine.

Roxanne Zero, Bouvier des Flandres owned by Mr. Ken E. Nelson of LaSalle, Ont. went WD. Meridian's Miss Behave, Shetland Sheepdog owned by Mrs. A. E. Slaughter of Bois des Filion and Mrs. A. C. (Ruth) Lane of Centerville, Mass., went WB. Mrs. Hyslop's Cairn Terrier, Felshott Captain Marryat went BW. Navaho Warriors Shawn, Airedale Terrier, owned by Robert Duguid, Toronto, was BW.

This was the largest show in the 65-year-history of Chicago dog shows.

Judge Joseph C. Quirk presents BIS award to sensational Doberman Pinscher, Ch. Ru-Mar's Tsushima, CD, shown with handler E. R. Hastings and Mrs. Charles S. Potter.

It was held in the largest amphitheatre in the United States, a 13-acre building, ample space to keep 19 rings and 24 judges busy.

Thrilling spectacles were the daily Afghan and Whippet races over a 600-foot track, field trial exhibitions in a natural setting featuring gun dogs in action in both field and water work, and the fascinating Border Collie sheep dog herding exhibitions. The speediest Afghan was clocked at an incredible 39.2 miles per hour, in the short 200-yard sprint.

The displays took on the air of a country fair. In addition to the usual grooming equipment, crates, leashes and ash trays for sale, you could buy peacock feathers, smoked cheese, luscious apples, Hawaiian jewellery and Mexican items. A new dog publication was introduced: American Dog Reporter, a weekly in newspaper style.

This year the Chicago Stock Yards celebrate a century of continual operation since Christmas Day, 1865. More livestock has been traded here than at any other market in the world. □

Bull Terrier Movement Requires Sound Action

Here are some thoughts by T. Horner, which appeared in the Dog World (England) in the February 26, 1965 issue.

"After every show the judges of Bull Terriers make adverse criticism of the breed's movement, particularly hind movement . . . A glance at pictures of top dogs of 20 years ago confirm that top dogs of today have more bend of stifle, better let down hocks and more muscular second thighs and yet many of them on the move continue to give a fair imitation of a ruptured duck.

"We know it is not weakness or lack of exercise—many of the worst movers are strong and active, hard and muscular — far more so than many dogs of other breeds which move with absolute precision and soundness. What then is it that bedevils the hind action of the breed?

"The veterinary surgeons tell us it is not hip dysplasia.

"If it is not make and shape, not condition and not hip dysplasia is it the method of rearing? Are our feeding methods all wrong? Do we force our puppies to grow too fast by feeding them too rich a diet at an early age? Would we get sounder young stock if we grew them more slowly and allowed them much longer to mature than is the custom these days? Is heavy feeding of meat and other proteins and the liberal addition of vitamins and minerals as practised by most breeders the cause of the hindquarters of the breed going wrong? I think there is enough evidence to refute this idea. Many puppies sold as pets are not reared in accordance with approved feeding programmes and

...and nobody asked me to dance!

Don't let your dog be a "social failure" because of bad breath or yellowed teeth caused by poor diet! Give your dog Milk-Bone every day. Milk-Bone Dog Biscuits are an essential part of a dog's daily diet. They're important for nutrition and for the good, hard chewing your dog needs for strong teeth, healthy gums and a pleasant breath. Milk-Bone Dog Biscuits come in regular size for small to medium dogs and large size for bigger dogs. No matter what else you feed your dog, give him Milk-Bone every day!

though they grow up lacking in the bone and substance of their mothers brought up with the showring in view they do not show any marked improvement in hind action. On the contrary, lacking the muscular development of their carefully reared brothers, they often move even worse, clearly indicating that the condition is hereditary and not acquired.

"Let's face it, this bad hind action is unsoundness, something we should not be willing to tolerate in the breed as long as there is anything we can do to alter it. Many years ago the Bull Terrier Club sought the help of a distinguished veterinary professor on the matter of deafness in the breed. The results of his work evoked a ban on breeding from deaf Bull Terriers with immense benefit to the breed so that today that is the least of a breeder's worries. Is it not time that we sought the help of the veterinary profession on this matter of hind action with which we have struggled for so long with little success?"

Cairndania Kennels Has 61 "International" Champions

Mrs. Betty Hyslop, (Cairndania Kennels) Brockville, Ont., Canada's best-known breeder of top-winning Cairn Terriers, has been singled out as an incredible breeder and winner in the annual awards by the Cairn Terrier Club of America. Betty had no less than ten champions in the list of dogs that had won Best of Breed in the United States, ranking close to the top. The awards were for members only.

When she finished her Cairndania Chipper's Diamond at Peterborough recently, the number of "international" Cairndania champions totalled 61. This includes Canadian and American champions, English and American or English and Canadian. Her homebred champions now number 48.

She recently went 4th in the Terrier Group with Brigrey at Springfield, Mass. and won four points with a female puppy, Cairndania's McBrigand's Brigbet. Her Cairndania's McRuffie's Bruff went RW.

Jim McFarlane Judges at Genesee Valley Sanction

Cairn breeder Jim McFarlane, Toronto, judged the Terriers and the Terrier Group at Genesee Valley KC Sanction Match, May 2, at Vinces Fifty Acres, Rochester, N.Y. The entry of 50 terriers included nine Cairns. His first in Group dog was a Bedlington.

Irish Eyes are Smiling

The eyes of the Irish Terrier should be dark hazel in color, small, full of fire and intelligence but with a friendly expression except when aroused. Then the eyes take on a serious and challenging expression, for after all the Irish Terrier is a determined protector of himself and of those of his household.

The expression of this rough-coated Terrier changes with his moods and being of a sensitive nature he may show sorrow, playfulness or courage, as the occasion necessitates.

But whatever his expression may be, he is still a most loyal companion and a true friend.

If a dog from Ontario was shown in Halifax or Vancouver, the points he might win in either of those shows would not count, due to the fact that he was being shown out of the Mid-Eastern Division.

Only wins in all breed shows count. The reason for this ruling is that there are more Toy breed specialty shows than, for example Group I or Group II specialties.

The points are scored as follows:

Best in Show	— 5 points
Group First	— 5 points
Group Second	— 3 points
Group Third	— 2 points
Group Fourth	— 1 point

When a dog goes Best in Show he earns five points for being 1st in Group as well as the five points for going BIS, a total of ten points.

Ken-L Awards winners for the past six years are detailed in the accompanying chart.

Brecon Chihuahuas Continue US Winning

Brecon's Individualist, Chihuahua owned by Mrs. Sandra (Nelles) Thallon of Unionville, Ont., went BB over a special for two points at the Mid-Kentucky KC show May 8, while her Brecon's Rik-O-Shay Romance went BOS for two points, also over a special. Judge was Mr. William L. Kendrick. Handler was Mrs. Lorraine Heichel, who also piloted Individualist to BOS to Sandra's Ch. Greer's Tiny Satin Sal, who went BB under Judge Heywood Hartley. Individualist now has a total of 16 American points plus one major.

Brecon's Rik-O-Shay, competing at the Tri-City KC show at Rock Island, Ill. May 16, took 4th in the Toy Group under Judge Haskell Schuffman. This youngster is only eight months old.

The Pekingese, Ku Jin's Colonel Junior, owned by Mrs. Sandra (Nelles) Thallon, Brecon Kennels, Unionville, Ont., moved to BW for a 3-point major under Judge William L. Kendrick at the Mid-Kentucky KC event May 8. Next day at the Lexington KC show this perky Peke went BW for a 4-point major under Judge Heywood Hartley. Handler was Mrs. Lorraine Heichel.

You can tell when you're on the right track: it's harder going.

The Boston Terrier is America's Own

The Boston Terrier is one of America's few native breeds. He was actually developed in and around Boston, Mass. from English and French Bulldog stock with the introduction of some terrier strains. An important date in the history of this dapper little breed was the year 1865 when Bostonian Robert C. Hooper imported an English crossbred named Judge. Mostly Bulldog and part terrier, Judge became the foundation sire. Much later, in 1889, a sufficient number of breeders were in business to found the American Bull Terrier Club. The breed was shown as Round Heads or Bull Terriers. Two years later the breed was renamed the Boston Terrier, and in another 24 months was recognized by the AKC.

Are Bulldogs Really Cow-Hocked?

Where or how such an idea originated I cannot fathom. Still it seems to be gaining in popularity among some of our new breeders and supporters of the breed.

A Bulldog who has a true gait and is sound would find it impossible to be cowhocked. The very position of his legs would prevent this fault. For his hind legs are large and longer in proportion than his front, thus raising the loins, giving him his famous "sailor's roll". His hocks are bent and well let down; the lower part should be short, strong and straight. His stifle is rounded and seems to turn out a bit from his body, thus causing his hocks to approach each other and the hind feet to turn slightly outward. These (the feet) are round and compact with toes well split up and knuckles prominent.

All these features or points cause his heavy constrained gait, seeming to walk with short quick steps, on his toes, and hind feet not lifted high.

Now if his hindquarters resemble those described above and a breeder wishes to show a dog thus endowed, he must remember his dog is not a Greyhound or working dog, and adjust his own gait to the one that shows his dog to best advantage. Most Bulldogs are best shown at a slow measured tread and a medium jog, unless the judge indicates a faster pace. The faster clip of the working breed throws a Bulldog off pace and distorts his frame and gait.

Perhaps these comments, plus careful inspection of the breed Standard and study of show dogs in the ring will erase the false impression of the Bulldog as being "cowhocked". A truly outstanding lesson in Bulldog anatomy may be found in Popular Dogs in the June 1955 issue. It is one all breeders should clip and frame for reference.

Silver Miniature is Citizen of Three Countries

The Silver Miniature Poodle, Ch. Tophill Eclipse, was imported at the age of eight months into the United States from England, where his outstanding wins as a puppy were noted in the English Dog World. In his background are nine generations of silver breeding, majoring in the Burdeisel and Piperscroft lines. He was handled by Mrs. Andrena Brunotte to his Canadian championship in four straight shows. In his last one he earned a five-point win over specials. Tophill Eclipse has been imported into Canada by Mrs. Anita Chapman, Atina Kennels, Toronto.

Poodles in America, A Book You'll Crave

If you are a serious breeder of Poodles, Standard, Miniature or Toy, this is a book for your library. With it you can be more knowledgeable about bloodlines, you can win many an argument hands down and you'll have an endless treasury of knowledge at your fingertips.

Published by the Poodle Club of America, Inc., the book deals with Poodles on this continent from 1929 to 1959, and touches on Poodles here prior to 1929.

The photographic presentation of Poodles of Today, all three breeds, is a lesson in itself. One hundred and forty-four pages are devoted to pedigrees of champion Standards, Miniatures and Toys. Five pages of drawings by Robert F. Way, VMD, MS leave no doubt about the anatomy of the Poodle.

Available through the Book Department, Dogs in Canada, this 519- page well-bound volume can be ordered at a cost of $6.75, plus 25c for mailing and handling. Highly recommended for birthday or Christmas gifts, and most desirable as a trophy.

ONTARIO OBEDIENCE PHILOSOPHY

by GRACE E. PROBERT

"It WAS ONCE SAID;— 'We owe it to ourselves and the Dogs we have trained, to give a bit of our Time, to help others — as we were helped!' "
This spirit of friendly cooperation, if developed, can go a long way in helping to make all clubs — GOOD CLUBS! It will also take them far along the path of success in Obedience. We know Obedience is here to stay with the ever-increasing number of Obedience training clubs in Ontario . . . holding more and more Licensed Trials. But, at the risk of rousing the ire of some of my readers, I'd like to raise this point for group discussion.

Are we not overdoing it . . . just a little? Are we being wise in filling the calendar year, month after month, weekend after weekend, with official Trials? Will the number of dogs and Obedience converts continue to increase, to keep pace? In all fairness, as an equalizer and stabilizer, shouldn't the licensing of Obedience Trials be brought under stricter controlled supervision?

No one club can interest the average trainee in sufficient numbers to support their trials at any time, therefore we are dependent upon one another for entries to assure the success of our own efforts. But, what used to be looked forward to as the main event in club programming, has now become a full time occupation, for some! Remember the work, the planning, the work, the sweat, the work, and even tears in some cases, which go into the making of Official Trials. Downgrade entries are pretty bitter pills to swallow, simply because too many licenses have been handed out in the surrounding area, at one specific time period. As a reactionary measure, clubs could join forces and hold combined Double Trials — reasonably spaced of course, as a safeguard for their operating costs.

The clubs, generally speaking, are forgetting the main reason for their coming into existence, first promoting obedience within their circle of members, friends and the community . . . by holding Matinees regularly, to advance their fellowmen in the exacting stages now called for at Obedience Trials. The holding of Licensed Obedience Trials should be a secondary objective!

Believe me when I say what we sadly need lots more of are Matinee Work-Outs!! They are far more relaxing, educational and fun as well as a welcome opportunity to ready our dogs for Licensed Obedience Trials . . . without depleting our pocketbooks! □

THE GOVERNMENT MUST ACT

READERS, who are mainly breeders of purebred dogs, may wonder why this article should appear. The dog pictured is probably a mongrel.

And here lies the reason for the reproduction of this article from the March, 1965 issue of The Animals' Voice, published by the Ontario Humane Society. As breeders and lovers of fine dogs, it would seem to be a responsibility of the "producers" of a treasured product to see that it goes into the right hands. A purebred puppy can be purchased as a present for Jimmy or Janey who (or the parents) before long tires of the helpless dog. From that time on, who knows into what kind of hands it may fall.

This is a plea to breeders of purebred dogs to take greater steps to educate and urge the public, through their own efforts and that of their clubs, to purchase purebred dogs. It is a well-known fact that any possession for which money is paid receives better care. It is a further appeal to your sense of civic cooperation to aid and encourage the animal welfare association in your own community in every way possible. The Humane Societies and workers in the SPCA have scant funds with which to do an immense and often thankless job. Your encouragement will mean so much to them.

Your letter or call to the member of parliament in your community may also help. May we suggest you clip and mail this article to him.

"On February 8, 1965, John Callaghan of Hamilton, Ontario, appeared before Magistrate Walter Tuchtie, in Hamilton Magistrate's Court.

"Callaghan was charged with 'wilfully permitting to be caused, unnecessary pain, suffering and injury to an animal, namely a dog'.

"The charge was laid under Section 387 1(a) of the Criminal Code by Inspector W. Shaw of the Hamilton S.P.C.A.

"The case was prosecuted for the Crown by the Crown Attorney, Mr. Hugh Brown.

"Evidence was given by Mr. Norman Denman, employed by the Hamilton SPCA, Dr. G. Dudley Collins, DVM, and Constable N. Thompson of the Hamilton City Police. The evidence was that the dog had been tied to a dog kennel at the rear of Callaghan's house. The rope was tied tightly round the dog's neck and was embedded deeply into the skin. The wound was open and bleeding. The rope was matted with blood and hair. Muscle and tendon could be seen in the open wound. Dr. Collins testified that the wound was two inches wide and circled the entire neck. He said that the wound was putrid and had existed for at least two weeks.

"Callaghan was fined $15.00. The Crown Attorney suggested this fine because he thought that Callaghan was more stupid than intentionally cruel. The convicted man is also a recipient of public welfare.

"Under the circumstances it wouldn't have achieved anything to fine the man more than $15.00. Presumably the Magistrate was not prepared to impose a prison sentence.

"But what of the future? Is this man, described by the Crown as "stupid" to be allowed to have another dog? There is absolutely nothing to stop this happening. The courts in Canada, unlike other civilized countries, have no power to order a person convicted of cruelty to animals not to possess animals for a stated period of time.

"Two years ago the Ontario Humane Society submitted a brief to the Minister of Justice in Ottawa asking that the Criminal Code be amended to permit magistrates to make such an order.

"Despite generally sympathetic assurances by the Minister and officers of his Department, that our recommendations would be given "every consideration", nothing has been done!

"The remedy lies with the Government of Canada. A bill to amend the Criminal Code could be passed through Parliament in a matter of days if the government so wished.

"If you don't like this shocking picture you can only take one course of action:

"WRITE NOW to your member of parliament urging him to demand immediate action to amend the Criminal Code." □

Sidelights on the Top Winners For 1964

In perusing the breeds which ranked among the Top Ten, All Breeds, some interesting facts come to light.

Among the top winners, for example, no Sporting Dog was represented. This is unique in that Group I, along with Group III, Working Dogs, forms the largest of the Six Groups, each comprised of 28 breeds.

Also noteworthy is the number of top winning dogs from each province competing in All Breed shows, as compared with the actual number of dogs shown. Here is a breakdown of the number of winners in each show area:

Province or Area	Dogs Shown in 1964	Top Winners in 1964
B.C.	6,515	53
Alta.	2,306	20
Sask.	1,319	2
Man.	1,062	13
Ont.	11,775	89
Que.	891	17
Maritimes and Nfld.	2,253	18

Of the total of 310 Top Winning dogs, 98 are owned by American exhibitors, indicating a strong interest by American owners in Canadian dog shows.

DOGS & PEOPLE

Died: George E. (Ted) Ward, one of North America's best known terrier men, passed away May 5 at the Oakville - Trafalgar Memorial Hospital. Born in Sheffield, England, he came to Canada 54 years ago. His grandfather, a great dog man in his day, observed his aptitude when Ted began showing dogs at seven years of age. He sold a treasured bicycle to buy one female he wanted to purchase so badly. His grandfather allowed him to do this, figuring if he made this sacrifice, he would last. Ted did and his son, George of Constantine, Mich., is following in his footsteps. The Ward family is considered by old-timers to be the oldest dog-showing family in North America, with more than 100 years of showing dogs.

In recent years Ted made the raising, showing and purchasing of dogs his entire occupation. In the 1920's he and his father were in the real estate business. When this was terminated in 1930 he moved to Clarkson and later to Oakville. Prior to the real estate venture Ted was in the insurance business, with little time to show dogs. The late Bert Swan, one of the old timers who passed away in the mid-thirties, was a well-known handler at that time and took over most of the showing.

One of the most widely travelled of dog men, Ted made 32 round trips to Great Britain, attending Crufts and other major shows. With him went orders to purchase dogs for other people. He imported many hundreds of dogs and in the 1930's would return with as many as 15 or 20 different breeds on one trip. Since World War II he curtailed his travels and judging, which he had done on a limited basis, primarily due to his first coronary attack 23 years ago.

The family has always been close-knit, with the first death occuring last December with the passing of Mrs. Ward (Louie). Surviving are children George, Mildred (Mrs. James Sherry) of Punta Gorda, Fla., Viola, (Mrs. Raymond Daley of Oakville) and Louise (Mrs. Jack Thorndike) of Port Credit, Ont. (Jack Thorndike at one time was known for his winning Irish Setters). Louise accompanied Ted to many shows and at one time owned a BIS-winning Wire Fox Terrier. Mildred was with him at many dog shows in the States and was constantly with him at shows here. After she went to the States she would arrange to meet him at American shows.

During his long career in dogs Ted had successfully bred a total of 48 different breeds, with representation in all of the six Groups. Although he had never expressed a preference for breeds, his real love was for terriers. During his 63 years he had bred and shown more outstanding dogs than he could recall, with a full share of BIS wins.

. . . Mr. John Bull of the famous Bull family of Brampton, Ont., on whose estate excellent dogs shows were held. Mr. Bull and Mrs. Bull bred Weimaraners and Dachshunds under the prefix Weimadachs. Mrs. Bull will carry on with the breeding of both breeds. Just at the time of his death, one of his best dogs was killed . . . Mr. Leonard Lamb, well-known Toronto breeder and proprietor of a boarding and grooming business. Originally he bred English and American Cocker Spaniels and changed to English Bulldogs in 1950. In 1956 he then majored Poodles in his kennels. Ill for some time, Mr. Lamb died suddenly April 26 of a heart attack. As far as is known Mrs. Lamb will continue the boarding and grooming business. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved families.

Ill: Mrs. A. E. Bales, long-time chief steward for the Ottawa KC shows, suffered a heart attack following the show on April 30. She was taken to the Ottawa Civic Hospital where her condition showed improvement.

Injured: Mrs. Jeanne Fawcett, wife of Clarence C. (Tex) Fawcett of Ralston Purina, St. Louis, Mo., in Chicago, May 4, when their car was hit by a truck behind them on the Expressway. Tex was uninjured, but Jeanne is suffering from a severe whiplash neck.

Visiting: Miss Carol Nelles of London, England is spending about three weeks with her sister, Mrs. Sandra (Nelles) Thallon (Brecon Kennels) Unionville, Ont. . . Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jenkins of Alicante, Spain are spending the summer in Montreal and Toronto areas and will also visit friends in Boston and New York. Mrs. Jenkins was well-known as a successful breeder of Basenjis when she lived in the Toronto area, just over five years ago. . . . visitor with Mr. and Mrs. James McFarlane, (Badenoch Kennels) Thornhill, Ont. was the noted Cairn expert, Mrs. Ross Obenauer of Skaneateles, N.Y.

Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Keith Balsdon of Lindsay, Ont. (nee Mary Daniell-Jenkins) a third son, Alan Clare, on May 19. Mary is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins, (Kennels of the Rouge) Rouge Hill, Ont. and granddaughter of Mrs. H. L. Jeudwine.

Visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Osborne of Vancouver to Regina, Sask. in early June . . . To Dogs in Canada during a trip through Western Canada, terminating in Toronto: Major Anthony (Tony) Marsh of the Bermuda Trade and Development Board. Tony and wife Priscilla are active in Boxer breeding (Priscilla also in obedience) and Bermuda KC work.

An insight into the enjoyment and training of the family dog was given recently by the Trio Club in conjunction with the Queen City Tracking Association at the Lorne Park Public School to 75 Cubs and Boy Scouts in the Port Credit area. On May 24 these obedience enthusiasts also gave a demonstration as part of the May 24 celebrations for the Albion Ratepayers Association. At the close of the demonstrations Mrs. James Pugh (Display Kennels) Toronto, gives a brief talk, promoting interest in buying a purebred dog and knowing how to contend with the new dog. □

THE TOP TEN DOGS, ALL BREEDS
THE TOP TEN DOGS, EACH GROUP
THE TOP THREE DOGS, EACH BREED
PICTORIAL GALLERY OF MANY OF THESE DOGS

The honoring of Top Dogs is an annual feature of Dogs in Canada, appearing in the June issue. It is a fitting way to applaud the dogs who have so well substantiated the faith of their breeders, owners and handlers by their outstanding achievements during 1964.

The results were assessed by awarding one point for each dog defeated from Best of Breed to Best in Show. A history of each Best of Breed winner in 1964 was maintained by Dogs in Canada and the records compiled by Mrs. Phyllis Smith. The information was taken from the official Show and Trial Results as published in Dogs in Canada Magazine by The Canadian Kennel Club.

OWNER AND HANDLER, FRED WM. FRASER

BREEDER OF DISTINCTIVE SCOTTISH TERRIERS. WIRE-HAIR FOX TERRIERS. WEST HIGHLAND WHITE TERRIERS.

"RECORDS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS"

The prefix, BEN BRAGGIE, goes back many decades. Daniel Fraser, grandfather of the present owner, bred dogs for a number of years in Scotland before coming to Canada. His son, Harry Fraser, inherited his love and skill with fine dogs and bred and showed successfully for over 50 years. His son in turn, inherited his fondness of dogs and began showing his own dogs at the age of seven. He has always campaigned his outstanding dogs himself. In the sincere belief that "Records speak louder than words," he has shown Ben Braggie dogs with little fanfare.

Can. & Am. Ch. Stoneygap Candy of Alwyn kept pace with her famous brother Bobbin, by obtaining her Canadian title in a short space of time and winning her American title in a month.

CAN. & ENG. CH. STONEYGAP BOBBIN OF GILLOBAR, who was Top Terrier in Canada in 1963 and ranked 3rd in the Top Three dogs in Canada in that year, won 7 BIS, 15 Group 1sts and 1 Group in the USA, plus many other placements all within his first year in Canada. Bobbin won more BIS in 1963 than any Terrier in Canada. He also won the Ken-L-Products award of the year.
Stud Fee $100.00 to approved females only.

CAN. & ENG. CH. STONEYGAP COMMODORE earned 4 Bests of Breed in England as well as 5 CC's before coming to Canada. He is the grandfather of the outstanding Can. & Am. Ch. Stoneygap Candy of Alwyn, who is litter sister to Bobbin.
Stud Fee $100.00 to approved females only.

In Memorium

CAN. CH. WINDY HILL ANTONIO

One of the three top point-winning Miniature Schnauzers in Canadian show competition during 1964, whose tragic death in an auto accident on his way home from a show on April 11th of this year is deeply mourned by all who knew him.

TONY

If there's a heaven up in the sky,
Where loving dogs can run and play,
Then that's where our sweet Schnauzer went,
When God took him that day.
How broken-hearted can we be?
For his charming whiskers, his bark of glee.
That salt and pepper little guy,
Why did God take him?
Why, oh why?
Oh, Tony, our wonderful little dog,
We miss you so we cry,
But we know you'll be happy where you are,
Above the sky so high.
And never ever forget shall we,
The greatest happiness we've received from you,
And forever Tony, shall live in our hearts,
The memories of Tony,
Both old and new.

LITA MARIE GARAY

"Tony" is pictured above taking Best in Show at the Moose Jaw K.C. show under Judge, Mrs. Alva McColl, with handler Paul Booher. Born May 6, 1962, he was sired by Ch. (Can. & Am.) Windy Hill Defiance ex Windy Hill Moonglow.

Kennel Tests Prove New Burgerbits gives dogs the taste they really like...the solid nutrition they need.

The Great New Taste* of Burgerbits

now in "flavour-kernel" form

Here's the dog food that kennel tests proved superior to all others in palatability and nutrition.

Dogs tested preferred new Burgerbits . . . thrived on new Burgerbits.

Here's why:

Increased Fat Content, with an improved fat-protein ratio, gives unsurpassed palatability, maintains glossy coats and healthy skin, helps prevent shedding.

New Flavour-Kernels. Smooth preformed kernels of uniform size and shape eliminate jagged, uneven particles and dust of ordinary dog foods. Spray coating of natural meat fats locks in flavour, protects nutrients.

Aids Digestion. New Burgerbits is expanded to gelatinize starches for easier digestion.

Less Porous. Crunchier consistency helps keep teeth, gums and jaw healthy . . . absorbs liquids without getting mushy . . . feeding pans clean easily without scraping or scouring.

Exceeds NRC Requirements for daily nutritional intake, providing a complete and balanced diet.

Feed Dry or Wet. Kennel tests prove that many dogs prefer Burgerbits dry. Fed wet, Burgerbits retains the crunchy texture and meaty aroma dogs really enjoy.

Special Professional Discounts. As with all of Dr. Ballard's Dog Foods, new Burgerbits carries a special Kennel Discount. Your local representative will be pleased to provide you with details.
