A WESTERNER'S VISIT TO THE EAST

. . . I wish to thank you for forwarding my July issue of Dogs in Canada during my recent visit East.

The 2,000 mile trip was very rewarding. As a member of the International Samoyed Society, I was most anxious to attend the club's first Specialty Show at Kitchener and especially to meet fellow club members and Mrs. Betty Dickson, breeder of my Clancy. Although I was a complete stranger to everyone, I was treated as an old friend from the West and made to feel very welcome.

Clancy was entered in both the Specialty and All Breed Shows and took BB in both and 2nd in Group. The trophies were just lovely and imagine how thrilled I was at receiving them — and so many.

I made the trip back to Alberta with "a smiling Sam", an extra box and happy memories of a most enjoyable visit with fellow members of the International Samoyed Society and the pleasure of meeting such an outstanding breeder as Mrs. Betty Dickson of Ziska Kennels Reg'd.

Thank you once again for my issue of Dogs in Canada . . . I have saved all copies since first becoming a member of CKC.

SIBERIAN HUSKY FUR CAN BE WOVEN TOO

. . . I noticed in your September issue a letter from Mrs. Robt. Hamilton. She mentioned that Samoyed fur can be woven into yarn.

I believe even fewer people realize that this is also true of the Siberian Husky. At this year's Toronto Sportsmen's Show, Mrs. Doris Tremeer of Bowmanville, who had a "Sam" display there, was good enough to take a sample of our Siberian's undercoat and weave it for us. We really appreciated Mrs. Tremeer's display of sportsmanship. Too many people are interested only in their own breed.

The difference between the Sam and the Siberian yarn is that the Sam's is white, while the Siberian's is a grey mix.

We always mention this fact to our prospective Siberian owners and felt it would be of interest to other lovers of this beautiful breed.

NEWFOUNDLAND RECORD

. . . With reference to the litter of 18 Newfoundlands born to a bitch owned by Mrs. Waller of Ottawa, who asks is this a record number . . . the reply is that years ago the late Hon. Harold MacPherson of the well known Westerland Kennels and breeder of the top-winning Newfoundland of all time, Ch. (Can. Am. & Ber.) Newton, wrote me he had had a litter of 20 and the extraordinary thing was there were 19 females and only one male . . . I might say that my first Newfoundland, Dinah 2nd, produced 53 puppies in 23 months and was pictured in Ripley's Believe it or Not. She never had less than 12 in her litters, and usually 13, 14 or even 16. Her daughter had 17 in her second litter. I only allowed Dinah, in those days, to raise nine in each litter, not having any foster dams, etc.

GERMAN SHEPHERDS IN B.C.

. . . I think we have enough German Shepherd competition to raise the point system to the USA standard, which is 15 dogs for five point win and two majors of three points or over. Too many Shepherds are gaining cheap Championships and kept in backyards because they are not good enough to be brought out in "Specials". Also, I would like to see the CKC not confer the title of Champion on any Shepherd until it has been x-rayed and has normal hips.

GOVERNING BODY ON DOGS

. . . It might interest the readers of Dogs in Canada that there does exist a governing body on dogs, the Federation Internationale Cynologique, of which some 36 countries in Europe are members. To become an International Champion a dog has to earn four C.A.C.I.B. (Certificat d'Aptitude pour Championnat International de Beaute), certificates in three different member countries; to be at least 15 months old when obtaining the first one and at least 27 months old when obtaining the fourth one.

Three years ago this Federation decided that each breed can have only one "country of origin", which is entitled to revise the Standard if it so wishes and dictate acceptable "clips" or reject others. By decree (Resolution 670B) the Keeshond has been allotted to Germany. At the same time the Poodle was pronounced "French". I understand that at least for the time being the English Saddle clip is out for the shows in the member countries.

FROM MY MOTHER'S SCRAPBOOK

. . . The poems which have appeared in recent editions of your magazine bring to mind a few lines which I have treasured for many years. They come from a scrapbook made by my mother over 60 years ago to save the "gems of literature" she loved as a young girl. Complete poem and author unknown.

'As is one gentleman toward another,
So was he to his dog, his peer and chum;
Shall we deny what we accord the other
Merely because one gentleman was 'dumb?'

I wonder if any reader knows its origin.

ON RECENT POODLE ARTICLES

. . . I enjoyed the Article "Keynotes Toward Perfecting the Poodle". This is much more interesting than a long listing of accomplishments by owners.

My particular interest is in Dalmatians and I was wondering if you have back issues I could secure with articles pertaining to the development and/or features to be avoided for this breed. If not, I hope you will schedule one for the near future.

Mrs. J. Pearson

2962-240th St., R.R. 3, Langley, B.C.

(— Sorry, but very short on back issues. Perhaps readers can help you. Our book list has several books on the Dalmatian which would be of great assistance, which list has gone out to you. — Ed.)

. . . I must tell you that I found the article "Judging Differences Canada — USA" very enjoyable. It is interesting to note that dogs must get two majors while here they just need 10 points. Maybe some of the popular dogs should be required to get at least one major before finishing their title. Of course, in the rarer breeds this could not be done.

Re "A Judge's Viewpoint on Handling" — some of Pat Randall's points were quite worthwhile. I think that many of us learned something from the article. Keep up the good work. I read every issue from cover to cover. The Old Timer has a very good way of pointing out what he feels about the dog game. Along with him, Show Results and Breed Notes, every issue of Dogs is tops.

DO YOU WANT PAPERS?

. . . I thoroughly enjoy every copy of Dogs in Canada . . . found Betty Dickson's article very instructive. . . .

Some kennels sell purebred dogs, then after the sale ask, "Do you want the papers? That will be $10 extra."

So most people, who have paid a large sum anyway, don't bother about papers. Is this fair and correct? . . . If a dog is purebred papers should be included with the price. . . .

I'd like to read others' opinions.

Mrs. Florence Reese

FROM THE EDITOR

THESE thoughts are set down with true admiration and affection for a handful of Bermudians who had the courage to form a kennel club with little beyond their ideals on which to build. Ten years ago, under the urging of the late Mrs. Eileen McEachren, the club was formed under the most difficult of circumstances.

Only a few of the original members really knew anything about dogs or dog shows. Most had one or more family dogs of mixed breeds, and some had a purebred or two of varying quality. Certainly only one or two could have been considered "dog-minded".

On the shoulders of Mrs. Paula McAteer, current club President, fell most of the onus of not only club organization but the business of an international show. For only by inviting dogs from Canada and the United States could a comparison be made. How otherwise could the ownership and improvement of purebred dogs be activated if members did not know what to look for? Lady Florence Conyers, noted for her exquisite Pomeranians, was another stalwart founder.

When the club was organized, it was wisely formed under Canadian Kennel Club jurisdiction and show rules. All records and official business are handled through the Livestock Records Office in Ottawa, as is Canadian dog business.

The time came for a first important show to which exhibitors from Canada and the United States would be invited. Would anyone come? They would and they did. This year a record number of dogs from both countries arrived, each year showing increasing interest and quality of dogs. By the same token, every successive year found Bermudians buying increasingly better stock and breeding better quality. They have been studying, weeding and producing until now they can hold their heads high in stern competition. In some of their winning stock can be found Canadian bloodlines.

How did this all come about? Through faithfulness, determination and generosity. Looking back on the club roster of ten years ago, one finds the original officers, directors and committee people still active, with new people coming along. From the first obedience training lessons given by Mrs. Alex Casgrain of Montreal they have developed a real and ex-orming an obedience affiliation to the riginal body.

Club officials and members have nown such an interest in learning very facet of the dog world that udges and other experts have gladly one out of their way to help.

Granted, the Bermuda Trade and Development Board has given encouragement and financial backing. In eturn the dog interests have brought new visitor interest and spending to ne Islands.

But the real backbone of the steady rowth of the club and its shows is asically due to the club members. 'he core of the club is principally eminine, but the interest and help f their husbands has helped provide uscle in more ways than one.

These women, although they live in n island paradise, are busy people. 'hey are active in church, humane nd welfare work, have hobbies such s the raising of exotic flowers and irds, some have horses and poultry, omes to run, children to guide, and any work one or two days a week o prevent being caught in the lassiude engendered by the balmy eather.

For the shows they give all. To egally entertain their guests from broad every year they completely acrifice their time and dip generously into their own pocketbooks to ake sure visitors have the time of heir lives. One can understand this ecurring the first year or two of a lub career. But the same royal treatent has continued year after year.

All this does not come about as imply as turning on a tap. Such mooth organization is the result of year's planning. Next year's shows re already being mapped. Nor is the roup a collection of yes-ladies and en. Far from it. They are both active and vocal and no decision is made ithout thorough and often heated iscussion.

The secret is in keeping the goal in ight and even raising it for every next year". As a diminutive advertising agency man once said to the riter, "Don't forget, I'm little, but 'm mighty!"

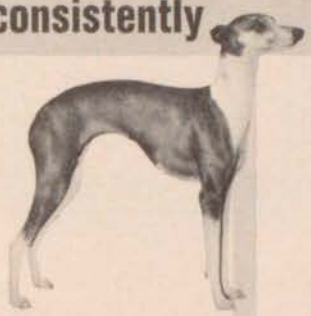

And so this is written as encouragement to some of the smaller clubs cross Canada who may feel they are emote from the core of the big shows nd happenings.

Where there's a will, there's a way, s one of the old worthwhile platiudes puts it. You don't have to have oney to create interest, although it oes help. Publicity is one of the reatest essentials to generate curisity and attract attention and help. 'ublicity does not cost money — only magination and effort. Has your club ver thought of going to the Board f Trade, the Chamber of Commerce, r the equivalent in your own comunity for financial and other backng? Dog people from other places ring money to your community.

"It gives a target to shoot at," said the Old Timer "and certainly it keeps the judges, the clubs and the stewards on their toes, but . . . . "

I looked up. The Old Timer was back to his old habit of pulling an idea out of the blue and throwing it at me without any preliminary warning. This time I decided to throw it back at him.

"I agree one hundred per cent," I said. "If we could get the judges and stewards on their toes as principal dancers that could be the start of a National Dog Show Ballet. Then if we could get the dogs up on two legs for the Corps de Ballet perhaps we could apply to the Canada Council for a cultural grant. All we'd need would be choreographers."

The Old Timer snorted.

"Funny — ha, ha" he said, "but what I was thinking of is this new judging timetable that suggests judges should judge at the rate of 20 dogs an hour. I've been noticing the schedules that clubs have been sending out and I'm just wondering, if judges keep to that schedule, whether the dogs are really going to be judged."

"Twenty dogs an hour," I said "that doesn't seem too many. If I remember rightly in the States the judges are expected to do about 25 an hour. So it doesn't seem to me that at 20 dogs an hour the Canadian judges are going to be overworked."

The Old Timer handed me a judging schedule.

"Take a look at that," he said, as he sat down and began to fill his pipe.

"Seems right on the button to me," I said. "The judge starts off at ten in the morning with 32 hounds. They've given him an hour and a half to judge those. Then at 11.30 he starts on his terriers. That doesn't seem too tough."

By this time the Old Timer had the pipe going the way he wanted. He leaned back on his chair and watched a couple of smoke rings drift away.

"Have you noticed one thing?" he asked. "Have you noticed that at this show they are judging the groups right after the breeds in the group so, according to the judging schedule, the judge in that hour and a half must judge, not only the 32 sporting dogs in the breeds but must get his group out of the way too. Allowing 15 minutes to do his group he's really judging the breeds at a rate of 25 dogs an hour — a trifle more than two minutes a dog. Can he judge a dog properly in that length of time?"

"They do 25 dogs an hour in the States," I repeated.

"The Old Timer thought for a minute.

"But can you compare the shows in the two countries?" he asked. "Sure, I admit that both have dogs and both have people, but to my mind the similarity ends there. Let's look at the shows themselves. First, most of the shows in the States are run by professional organizations, with long years of experience behind them. That makes for a tight run show. Here they are run by enthusiastic dog people and while many of the clubs run top flight shows that compare with anything in the States, the organizers are still amateurs. In the States you've got thoroughly experienced stewards and thoroughly experienced runners to get the dogs into the ring. Sure we have a lot of top flight stewards in this country also, but depending as we do on entries with our smaller dog population, it's a little harder to be really tough on an exhibitor who is slow getting his dog into the ring. We do, on the whole, have more delays between classes and between breeds than would be tolerated in the States. That's the beginning."

"There's more?" I asked.

The Old Timer grinned.

"I'm leading with my chin on this one," he said "but there is more.

Now, in the United States, when a judge picks his Best of Breed he is through with that breed and when he picks his dogs in the group he's through with the group. But not in Canada. When he's got his Best of Breed, unless he has happened to give the breed to a Canadian-bred puppy, he's only nicely started. If he gives the breed to an import then he's got to go on and find a Best Canadian-Bred and a Best Canadian-Bred Puppy. It's not always simple to figure out what dogs are eligible to compete for this award so he's got to stand by while the steward is sorting them out and getting them into the ring. And if he doesn't pick a Canadian-bred or Canadian-bred puppy he's got the same thing to do in the group. So actually he may well be judging each breed three times and each group the same number for best in those three categories. At 20 dogs an hour he's much busier than his United States counterpart doing 25."

"Are you suggesting we get rid of Best Canadian-bred and Best Canadian-Bred Puppy?" I asked.

The Old Timer hesitated.

"Not exactly," he said "although I do think that Best Canadian Bred in each breed and group is a rather empty honor that takes time and adds a fair amount to a club's cost for ribbons. But I like the Best Canadian-Bred Puppy class. What I am concerned about is this speeding up of the judges. I feel that every dog is entitled to be judged. I feel that even if obviously they are the worst dog in the class, the owner who has paid his entry fee is entitled to have the dog gone over just as carefully as a potential Best-in-Show dog. If judges are going to be asked to judge 20 class dogs an hour, plus all the Best Canadian Breds and Canadian-Bred Puppies, plus groups, they are being asked to work at a speed that does not permit proper selection. I'd say The Canadian Kennel Club might well take another look at the situation and clarify its instructions. □

Judges from Three Continents to Assess International, 1966

A panel of 25 internationally known judges from Canada, England, Australia and 13 of the United States has been assigned to assess the approximately 3,000 dogs at the 26th International dog show to be held in the International Amphitheatre, Chicago, April 2 and 3, 1966. Best in Show judge will be William W. Brainard Jr. of Marshall, Va., well-known breeder and judge. Among his assignments in the past are the International, Westminster, Crufts and the Royal Easter Show in Sydney, Australia.

Group judges are: Alva Rosenberg, Wilton, Conn, Sporting; Major Godsol of Dixon, Calif., Hound; Mrs. Augustus Riggs IV of Woodbine, Md., Working; William Kendrick, Devon, Pa., Terriers; Louis J. Murr, Spring Valley, N.Y., Toys; Mrs. Beatrice Godsol, Dixon, Calif., Non-Sporting.

Reginald P. Sparkes of Thornhill, Ont., will judge the Bulldog Club of America Specialty to be held in conjunction with the big show.

Judge W. A. Wheatland comes all the way from Victoria, Australia, to assess Cocker Spaniels and some of the Toy breeds. He has judged at 817 championship shows in Australia and New Zealand, passing judgment on more than 100,000 dogs and is the author of a book on the Australian Terrier and the Silky Terrier. From Carnforth, Lancs., England comes Mrs. E. H. Drummond to judge West Highland White Terriers.

Eastern Dog Club Show in Boston Showplace

Alva Rosenberg of Milton, Conn., well-known all-round judge, will select the Best in Show dog at the 52nd dog show and obedience trial of the Eastern Dog Club on December 18. The show will be held in the new $12 million War Memorial Auditorium in Boston, Mass. The obedience trial will again be conducted by the New England Dog Training Club. A panel of judges well-known to Canadians has been assigned.

Limestone City Obedience Club

Officers of this new club include: President, Hemming Hansen; Vice-President, Ron Storms; Secretary, Mrs. Ellie Vogeveen; Treasurer, Mrs. Sue McConnell. Directors: Mrs. Karla Hansen, Mrs. Vera Henriksen and Mrs. Hilda Driver.

The club, formed August 25, now has 22 members. Plans are to hold training classes, have monthly meetings, show films, give demonstrations and invite speakers. Address of the secretary is 59 Cranbrook St., Kingston, Ont.

B.C. Sanction Show Great Success

The Comox Valley Kennel and Obedience Club, Vancouver Island, B.C. staged a very successful outdoor sanction show on Sunday afternoon, September 5, at Courtenay, B.C. under the capable organization of young Joe Rowton, Whippet and Corgi fancier of Comox. (I believe this young man is only 17). All-rounder Judge Ken Rickman of Victoria awarded BIS to the lovely young Miniature Poodle puppy, Walditch Silver Troubadour, recently imported from England by Mrs. Agnes Simpson of Saanichton.

empty honor that takes time and adds a fair amount to a club's cost for ribbons. But I like the Best Canadian-Bred Puppy class. What I am concerned about is this speeding up of the judges. I feel that every dog is entitled to be judged. I feel that even if obviously they are the worst dog in the class, the owner who has paid his entry fee is entitled to have the dog gone over just as carefully as a potential Best-in-Show dog. If judges are going to be asked to judge 20 class dogs an hour, plus all the Best Canadian Breds and Canadian-Bred Puppies, plus groups, they are being asked to work at a speed that does not permit proper selection. I'd say The Canadian Kennel Club might well take another look at the situation and clarify its instructions. □

A panel of 25 internationally known judges from Canada, England, Australia and 13 of the United States has been assigned to assess the approximately 3,000 dogs at the 26th International dog show to be held in the International Amphitheatre, Chicago, April 2 and 3, 1966. Best in Show judge will be William W. Brainard Jr. of Marshall, Va., well-known breeder and judge. Among his assignments in the past are the International, Westminster, Crufts and the Royal Easter Show in Sydney, Australia.

Group judges are: Alva Rosenberg, Wilton, Conn, Sporting; Major Godsol of Dixon, Calif., Hound; Mrs. Augustus Riggs IV of Woodbine, Md., Working; William Kendrick, Devon, Pa., Terriers; Louis J. Murr, Spring Valley, N.Y., Toys; Mrs. Beatrice Godsol, Dixon, Calif., Non-Sporting.

Reginald P. Sparkes of Thornhill, Ont., will judge the Bulldog Club of America Specialty to be held in conjunction with the big show.

Judge W. A. Wheatland comes all the way from Victoria, Australia, to assess Cocker Spaniels and some of the Toy breeds. He has judged at 817 championship shows in Australia and New Zealand, passing judgment on more than 100,000 dogs and is the author of a book on the Australian Terrier and the Silky Terrier. From Carnforth, Lancs., England comes Mrs. E. H. Drummond to judge West Highland White Terriers.

Eastern Dog Club Show in Boston Showplace

Alva Rosenberg of Milton, Conn., well-known all-round judge, will select the Best in Show dog at the 52nd dog show and obedience trial of the Eastern Dog Club on December 18. The show will be held in the new $12 million War Memorial Auditorium in Boston, Mass. The obedience trial will again be conducted by the New England Dog Training Club. A panel of judges well-known to Canadians has been assigned.

Limestone City Obedience Club

Officers of this new club include: President, Hemming Hansen; Vice-President, Ron Storms; Secretary, Mrs. Ellie Vogeveen; Treasurer, Mrs. Sue McConnell. Directors: Mrs. Karla Hansen, Mrs. Vera Henriksen and Mrs. Hilda Driver.

The club, formed August 25, now has 22 members. Plans are to hold training classes, have monthly meetings, show films, give demonstrations and invite speakers. Address of the secretary is 59 Cranbrook St., Kingston, Ont.

B.C. Sanction Show Great Success

The Comox Valley Kennel and Obedience Club, Vancouver Island, B.C. staged a very successful outdoor sanction show on Sunday afternoon, September 5, at Courtenay, B.C. under the capable organization of young Joe Rowton, Whippet and Corgi fancier of Comox. (I believe this young man is only 17). All-rounder Judge Ken Rickman of Victoria awarded BIS to the lovely young Miniature Poodle puppy, Walditch Silver Troubadour, recently imported from England by Mrs. Agnes Simpson of Saanichton.

World's worst bore: He bores you even while talking about your own dogs.

THIS MAY HURT
BUT IT IS ABSOLUTE FACT

Each winter in Canada, millions of fur-bearing animals will die slow agonizing deaths in leg-hold traps, unless we do something about it.

People like you and me cause this suffering because we forget what happens between the time the trap is sprung and the time (perhaps many days later) when the skin is collected to make the coat we wear with pride.

Our Association is promoting, by every means possible, the use of humane instant-killing traps.

We need your support, your interest, and above all your membership ($1.00 a year). Donations are deductible for income tax purposes.

Please think this over

HUMANELY "SPEAKING"

BY TOM HUGHES
Room 201, 696 Yonge St., Toronto 5, Ont.

Change of Government means new letters to MP's: the General Manager of the Ontario Humane.

IT IS ODDS AND ENDS TIME

It is almost inevitable after some 40 columns written for Dogs in Canada that there should be a number of loose ends.

For example, I reported on the plan to introduce testing of pet foods. What has happened since? The Ontario Humane Society set up a Committee for this purpose and invited all Pet Food manufacturers in Canada to meet with it. In fact a number of meetings have already been held in Toronto. The meetings were well supported by the manufacturers, and much progress has been made. Arrangements have been made by the Ontario Humane Society to take care of the actual mechanics of analyzing and testing wet and dry pet foods. The big problem really revolves around the standards which are to be applied to the various foods.

A "Technical Advisory Committee" was set up, under the Chairmanship of Dr. G. C. Fisher, representing the Quaker Oats Co., Peterborough. The Committee included representatives from General Foods Ltd., Standard Brands Ltd.; Maple Leaf Milling Co.; Derby Pet Foods; and Canada Packers. The Secretary of the Committee was Dr. W. K. Myer. This sub-committee met on a number of occasions and produced standards for dry and wet dog foods.

In the meantime, the Ontario Humane Society has been in correspondence with other Societies throughout Canada, seeking and obtaining their agreement to participate in the overall scheme, and to support the "Seal of Approval". That is how the matter rests at the present time but I have every reason to hope that the scheme will shortly be finalized and put into action.

Nearly two years ago the Ontario Humane Society asked Kennel Clubs to support its approach to the Government of Canada, asking for amendments to the Criminal Code. In particular we asked for support for an amendment which would give Magistrates the power to order persons convicted of cruelty to animals not to own or possess other animals for a period of time as part of the sentence.

Many clubs gave their full support to this suggestion and wrote letters to the Members of Parliament. Despite heavy pressure, no action has been taken by the Department of Justice and the amendment has still not been introduced. There is no doubt in my mind that the work of the Department of Justice has been seriously hindered by the frequent change in the position of Minister of Justice. When we began this approach to the Department, the Minister was the Hon. Lionel Chevrier. He was succeeded by Mr. Favreau who in turn was succeeded by Mr. Cardin. Now we have another General Election coming up and who knows who the next Minister of Justice will be?

I am quite certain that all Canadians are concerned with the disclosures that have led to judicial enquiries, such as the Dorion enquiry. This must have created a tremendous burden of additional work for the Department of Justice. Nevertheless the rest of Canada must go on living, and the affairs of the country must be managed with efficiency and the minimum of unnecessary delay. I can see no reason why an amendment to the Criminal Code such as was recommended by the Ontario Humane Society and supported by other Societies in Canada, and other organizations such as the various Kennel Clubs, could not have been given consideration before now.

Some months ago, in an effort to determine the opinions of Magistrates, I wrote to every Magistrate in Ontario, giving him details of the proposed amendment and asking for his candid opinion as a person who would be responsible for administering such authority.

The response from the Magistrates was over-whelmingly in favor of the amendment.

I also wrote to every Member of Parliament giving details of the amendment.

Again the response was almost unanimously in favor of the amendment.

One would think that since the Societies who enforce the law — the Humane Societies; the Magistrates who administer the law; the Members of Parliament who make the law and the other organizations which are most concerned with animals are all in favor of the amendment that there could be no single reason why the amendment could not be quickly written in to this law. The only possible explanation is that the system in Ottawa is not geared to the opinions and feelings of the general public. When Parliament is unable to give expression to an overwhelming public opinion, then there is something seriously wrong with the system.

This is a very good time to revive the matter. Heaven knows that most of us are heartily fed up with elections and all the pre-election promises and campaign speeches. We may even feel that the Democratic system cannot stand the wear and tear of an over-use of the system.

Yet, whether we like it or not, we are faced with another election. Newspapers are full of election speeches and election promises. I believe that most Canadians are so politically cynical that they rarely, if ever, believe these promises. Whether that is true or not, this would seem a good time to ask would-be Members of Parliament if they will promise, if elected, to ask for an immediate Bill amending the Criminal Code to bring those Sections which concern themselves with cruelty to animals, up to date.

And finally, the threat to all dogs contained in the average Provincial Sheep Protection Act (and it may be called by slightly different descriptions in some Provinces) still remains with us. The other day I received a very distressing telephone call from an elderly lady who lives alone in a country district in Southern Ontario. She is not able to get around very well due to arthritis. From her window she watched two men shoot her dog, which was crossing the field at the rear of her home. She owns the field. But it doesn't matter; the men were exercising the drastic authority given to them by the Ontario Livestock Protection Act. It was after sunset. The law says that "any person may kill any dog found at large after sunset".

Another call was from a dog owner in Dundas, Ont., whose purebred Poodle was shot and wounded by a farmer despite the fact that he knew the dog, knew its owner and despite the fact that the dog was nowhere near any livestock and had never shown the slightest interest in stock. The dog was badly wounded and left to suffer by the man.

An even worse story comes from Kitchener, Ont., where a man deliberately shot and killed a dog that was actually accompanied by its youthful owner. Despite the tearful pleas of the boy the man simply shot and killed the dog. The dog had not left the boy's side and had done no harm at all. He had simply accompanied his master. Maybe the boy was trespassing but surely that can't excuse and justify the arrogant, brutal action that was taken. I wonder if the man would have been quite so tough if the dog had been with a man of his own size. Perhaps a gun made him feel ten feet tall.

But the tragedy of these stories is that, under the present wording of the Act, nothing can be done. The men responsible are within this disgraceful law.

Again the Kennel Club and breed organizations throughout Canada should combine together to approach the individual Provincial Governments to amend these vicious Acts. □

Winning isn't everything, but it sure does beat coming in second or third place.

CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION SHOWS

Photos by Alexandra Studio

Dog shows are never routine, as may be seen from this account of the big CNE competition: some of the usually big breed entries fell behind, while others were conspicuously scant.

Ch. Westacres Hugo the Red, Basset Hound owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter, was the first Canadian-bred Basset to go BIS in Ontario.

MR. and Mrs. Fred A. Carter of Oakville, Ont., had the joy of winning their first Best in Show September 2 with their homebred Basset Hound, Ch. Westacres Hugo the Red. Mrs. Carter handled.

Top dog in the second show, September 4, was no newcomer in that status. The Canadian-bred Newfoundland, Newton, with Canadian, American and Bermuda championships to his credit, has won at least one BIS in each of these three countries, and took Best of Breed at Westminster this year. Owned by Melvin Sokolsky of New York City and handled by Alan Levine, Newton was bred in Newfoundland by the late Hon. Harold McPherson. He will be seven years old on the sixth of this month.

Imported earlier this year from England by Albert Farrell, Toronto, the Bulldog, Ch. (Can. & Eng.) Outdoors Navarmy Bonanza, has more than justified the faith of the Farrells in this addition to their Nugget Kennels. The BIS award he captured at the September 6 show was his sixth since coming to Canada. He had been undefeated in the breed in the 21 times shown here from mid-March, until the Scarborough KC show September 26, when a Bulldog of the Farrell's own breeding surpassed him. He was just three years old last month. Readers may recall this winner was purchased sight unseen (Dogs in Canada, August issue).

Best Canadian Bred in Show dogs for the First, Second and Third shows respectively were the BIS-winning Basset, BIS-winning Newfoundland and the Boxer, Ch. Haviland's Rebel Rouser, owned and bred by Eve and Stan Whitmore, Haviland Kennels, Thornhill.

Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show for the three events were, respectively, the Doberman Pinscher, Konigshausen Inspiration, owned by Mr. A. V. Auclair of Toronto; the Scottish Terrier, Treleaven's Black Velvet, owned by John Treleaven, Toronto, and handled by John McNicol and the Chihuahua, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Brecon's Individualist, a home-bred youngster. Owner - breeder - handler Sandra Thallon of Unionville, Ont., suffering from a sudden cold so severe she found even breathing a problem, managed to stick it out to this final win of the CNE shows.

In some respects these were puzzling shows. American Cocker Spaniels, due to the "dogged" determination of devoted breeders, topped all breeds in numbers. They were followed by Boxers with 13 entries, Miniature Poodles, Chihuahuas (Short Coat), Shetland Sheepdogs, and Long Coat Chihuahuas. The latter have come well up the show scale (six years ago only 30 were shown in all of Canada in comparison to 300 Short Coat members of the tiny breed). And although in 1961, 1962, and 1964 the West Highland White Terrier was the leading terrier breed by entries in Canadian competition, only two dogs competed in the three CNE shows, one Canadian and one American. Many other well-known breeds were represented by only one or two dogs. A great number of States were represented, however, some competitors from as far south as Texas and Louisiana.

Hit of the shows was a thrilling presentation of nine Airedale Terriers, non-competitors. Seasoned breeders and exhibitors joined people who "just loved dogs" to admire the incredible exhibition of nine 9½-year-old Airedales from one litter, all champions. The dogs, owned and bred by John Stewart of Aurora, Ont., were handsomely presented. Jack, who for years has been one of the leading men in department store display work in Canada, built a long bench fronted with log siding. The flooring was covered with green grass matting. A large sign in the form of a Christmas cracker proclaimed Crackerjack Ken-

Ch. (Can. & Am.) Brecon's Individualist, son of a triple-titled Chihuahua, went BCBP in Show the final day. Owner-breeder is Sandra Thallon.

Ch. (Can., Am., Bda.) Newton, added to his string of BIS awards. He is the highest winning Newfoundland in the history of his breed.

This was the sixth BIS for this young Bulldog imported by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farrell of Toronto in March — and he looks ready for more.

nels, Reg'd. An extra touch was a piece of vertical driftwood amazingly true to the shape of an Airedale's head. The dogs, which have rarely seen strangers, revelled in the sudden glory. Rather than being shy, they were absolutely outgoing, holding out paws to admirers, wagging their tails constantly. In the condition of athletes, they remained bright and interested from early morning to the end of the show. They were on exhibit only on September 6, the day of the third show.

SIDELIGHTS:

Major and Mrs. Godsol of Dixon, Calif., who judged the first and second shows, have, between them, 67 years of breeding experience, he 30 and she 37. Both have judged for 27 years. They have judged throughout Canada and the United States, in Venezuela, New Zealand, Australia, and Mrs. Godsol has judged in Europe as well. They are ranchers, running 400 acres, specializing in Suffolk sheep and this year in a sugar beet crop.

Judge Mrs. Bea Godsol and John McNicol, shown with John Treleaven's Ch. Treleaven's Black Velvet, Scottish Terrier who went BCBP in the second show.

Major Godsol was a major in rank as well as in name during World War II when he rose to the rank of major as Commanding Officer, Ft. Robinson War Dog Center. Born in England, he was a retired stockbroker before he went into ranching as a profession. He has bred German Shepherds, Newfoundlands, Beagles, Shetland Sheepdogs, Golden Retrievers, Sealyham and Dandie Dinmonts, and has shown many dogs to their championship and obedience titles. He was one of nine original obedience judges and, serving on the American Kennel Club obedience committee in 1949, formulated the rules now used. In 1951 he was presented with the Quaker Oats Award for Distinguished Service to Dogdom.

Mrs. Godsol bred many champions in her raising of more than 26 breeds, including Collies, Dachshunds and Newfoundlands in which she specialized, as well as acquiring obedience titles in several breeds. She, too, served in the war as the head of the Red Cross Motor Corps in Hollywood. She was named the Pacific Coast Professional Handlers Judge of the Year in 1948 and the Gaines Judge of the Year the following year. She organized the first obedience class in the American West in 1937.

Since their marriage these great contributors to dogdom have raised and shown 26 different breeds with wide group representation. They no longer raise and show dogs. "I don't think judging and raising dogs mix too well," Mr. Godsol told Dogs in Canada.

A thoroughly interesting couple who can "talk dogs" for hours on end, or by the same token, talk for hours on many other widely diversified subjects, they have many other interests which demand their attention when they are not travelling on judging assignments.

Oldest exhibitor at the CNE shows, and one of the oldest still showing in North America, was Mrs. J. C. (Charlotte) Walker of Toronto, who showed her Joy of Pom Pom, homebred Pomeranian, in the third show. At the age of 97, she is a real trouper. When another dog challenged her Pom, she quickly scooped it up in her arms and received a slight graze. Concerned people made sure she had prompt attention by the St. Johns Ambulance emergency squad. But her only concern was that she get back to the show ring in time for her class.

Fewer headaches would come the way of both exhibitors and show superintendents, states CNE Show Superintendent Glen Stephens, if exhibitors would be more careful of their possessions. More exhibitors complain of show catalogues being stolen than virtually any other item. Dogs in Canada noticed a wallet left at a bench in full view of anyone who might have a propensity for lifting other people's belongings. the basic GAIT AND STRUCTURE of the dog

THE skeleton of the dog is fundamentally the same for each variety — only the size and shape of the individual bones vary. Nevertheless, there is a relatively BASIC SKELETON for a wide variety of breeds — those of the Great Dane, Doberman, Collie, Pointer, Setter, Fox Terrier, etc., varying very little in basic form. Then there are the short-legged breeds, such as the Dachshund, the Basset, and the Welsh Corgi, in which the only significant variation is in the length of the so-called bones of the legs. The Poodle belongs to the former group.

The skeleton determines the show quality of the individual dog. The relative length and width of the different parts and their relationship to each other are determined at birth, the only variables from then on having to do with the feeding of the dog so as to bring out the full potentialities of the animal, the condition of muscle, flesh and coat, and the freedom from stunting or crippling or deforming diseases — such as rickets, etc.

Apart from general condition, including that of coat, naturally all the terms used in the standard of a breed refer to the skeleton; the relative proportion, length and width of its component parts. So assuming the animal to be in good condition and bloom, then the knowledge of the parts of the skeleton is of basic importance.

The CERVICAL VERTEBRAE (neck) of seven bones, allows movement of the neck in all directions fully, and also some pivoting of the head on the first. This is possible because each one can move on the neck in all directions. There is a broad firm ligament along the back and front of these bones tying them together, and a somewhat elastic disc between, useful not only in helping the turning of one vertebra on another, but also as a shock absorber.

The THOPACIC VERTEBRAE are 13 in number. Similarly there is movement at each joint, both rotation and extension and flexion, but to a much lessened degree than that of the neck, since the 12 ribs are attached to the lateral processes of their vertebrae. They extend around the body, and the upper 10 are joined to the breast-bone. The vertical ends of the last two pairs end short of the mid-line, the so-called "floating ribs."

There are SEVEN LUMBAR VERTEBRAE between the last thoracic and the sacrum. These form what is called the loin. Their length is measured commonly by laying the hand in the loin between the last rib and front of the pelvis.

The SACRAL VERTEBRAE are three in number and fused to form a solid bone. Hinged to it in each side by a joint, which is normally rigid, is the ILIUM, and in front, the complete circle of the PELVIC GIRDLE is finished by the TWO PUBIC BONES, which unite in front in the mid-line through a layer of cartilege. This joint also is normally firm since the hip joint is formed by the union of three bones, the ilium, ischium, and pubes on each side. Since so much weight is borne by the hip joint, their union must be firm. However, the cartilege forming the pubic joint (symphysis pubis) softens and swells with pregnancy and allows an important increase in the size of the outlet of the pelvis. This makes delivery easier and in the case of those breeds where the head of the foetus is relatively large, such as the English Bulldog and the Boston Terrier, may make the difference between natural delivery and a Caesarian. This is one reason why the Bulldog is usually bred at her first season.

There is another way in which it is believed that pregnancy may improve the female's structure. A large litter forces the diaphragm upwards and forward toward the neck, and forces the animal to breathe in the upper ½ or ⅔ of inspiration. Following delivery there may be an apparent or actual increase in spring of the rib or breadth of chest. Since this occurs in the male at about the same age, it may be only the result of increased maturity.

There are 18 to 22 vertebrae in the tail, if it is left at full length, and these, as in the neck, are freely moveable in each other.

The mobility of the different vertebrae is important in this way. The neck and tail are freely moveable, but the rest of the back-bone forms a relatively rigid framework from which hang the rib cage, its contents, the abdomen and its contents, and the pelvic girdle. Attached in the sides of the front portion of the chest — by muscles and ligaments, are the front quarters, and attached to each side of the pelvis by a ball and socket joint, are the rear quarters. The thoracic, lumbar and sacrum therefore form a column supporting the body and transmitting the jars and propelling forces of the front and rear quarters. Its strong ligaments and muscles must then hold it relatively rigid when the animal is running. If the muscles are not in good condition and the ligaments not strong enough or tight enough, the backbone will flex and extend too much and the back will be seen to bob up and down. The extensor muscles of the neck and tail are much stronger than the flexors and are used to hold the head and tail up. When they tire they no longer do their jobs effectively, so that the hound, after an exhausting day in the field, comes in with his head and tail dragging.

BASIC GAIT

The standard of the Poodle requires sound movement, a straight forward trot with light springy action. Head and tail carried high. Forelegs and hindlegs should move parallel turning neither in nor out. SOUND MOVEMENT IS ESSENTIAL.

Let us consider the variations in gait one sees when the structure of the animal is not right.

To begin with, the shortness of back makes correct balance of front and rear more important still, since the commonest variation from the normal is an over-angulated rear with an under-angulated front or a front where the angle of shoulder and limb is less than 90 degrees. The result is rear feet which can reach too far forward and so pass the front feet during the trot. Such an animal, if he were to gait in a straight forward balanced trot would kick himself in the ankles. So he solves the problem in one of several ways, whichever is easiest for him. One way is to move in front with the feet apart enough to let his hind feet come close together between his front feet. Such a dog is wide in front and close behind — but moving in a straight line forward with a good firm back.

The alternative method is used by some dogs, particularly those with narrow chests and tight fronts. In this case he moves with his front feet close or crossing and the rear feet moving wide apart.

A dog too straight in front angulation, particularly if in addition the whole front assembly is moved forward on the chest, may have an engaging high stepping action from the side. The front feet come up in an effort to reach forward instead of going straight forward to reach the ground at a considerable distance ahead with minimum wasted effort in raising the feet any higher than necessary. The proper trot is attained with minimum effort, therefore, maximum smoothness, with the back firm and moving up and down very little.

A third common gait — perhaps the most often seen in the show ring — is a gait in which the front feet move nicely in a straight line with the back feet moving similarly in a straight line to one side of that of the front feet. Such a dog is said to be "sidewinding", "sidewheeling", or "crabbing."

Many of the old ideas of gaiting were based on comparison with the horse, since the original successful breeders in most of the sporting and terrier breeds were successful horsemen as well as dog fanciers. Their observations were reasonably accurate. However, the advent of the high speed camera with the chance to examine the dog's movement in slow motion and to freeze any phase of the movement in a still has revolutionized our knowledge of gait.

There should be no argument now as to the single-tracking theory of gait. A trotting dog, at the beginning, starts out with his feet front and back somewhat apart, but as he gains speed he is in danger of falling sideways, and so travels more and more in a straight line with the left fore and rear leg, one in front of the other, the rear foot stepping in or almost in the track just vacated by the front foot. Properly, the whole front leg moves as one unit, without the elbow out or in, but with the shoulder, elbow and ankle in one straight line. If the chest is too wide, or lacks a flattened area where the elbow normally moves, the elbow will be turned outwards. If the chest is too narrow, the elbows may be held so close to the chest that the front feet will not approach the mid-line, and will also turn out (east and west).

This will help explain two common gaits. Most standards call for a foot pointing straight forward, turned neither in nor out. This was based on old concepts of movement. Now it is obvious that with the elbows separated by the full width of chest and the pasterns approaching one another, the dog with the foot pointed straight forward will land on the outer side of his foot with a definite abnormal strain on the outer side of the pastern. As the dog gets older the pasterns may actually break down.

In one breed (Dobermans) one well established strain has a naturally mild to moderate incline of the pastern inward. Such animals move still more on the outside of the foot and may be virtual cripples by the time they are three or four years old.

Ideally, the foot, when the dog is standing with front legs parallel, should be inclined slightly outward. Such a foot will come down squarely when the dog tracks. However, this point is still not incorporated in most standards.

Cowhocks are common in most breeds. This condition should not be the least bit difficult to determine. When the hip, the heel, and the foot are in line, the dog is true, but when the hocks approach each other and the foot is turned outwards, and in gaiting there cannot be a straight forward drive of all members in one line — much of the drive is expended around a bend in the leg and the hocks knock or cross, and the feet are carried outward in the awkward Charlie Chaplin gait.

Now, fashion in the different breeds dictates an abnormal variation in the relationship of such parts. For example, the Poodle should have a short back, and a relatively long neck and head. Nature dictates a balance between the relative parts which allows a long back with a long neck and head. The breeders' ideal involves the selection of those animals which vary from the average in an abnormal way, and, by the breeding together of such abnormal specimens, the production of a majority of the puppies having the relatively short back to long head and neck proportion. Nature fights to restore the average — so here, as in all other characteristics of the ideal Poodle, the breeder by selection and culling is trying to force ideas on Nature.

Similarly, the characteristic Poodle gait and carriage demands an upright neck and nearly upright tail. This in turn requires a sharp angle at the junction of sacrum and tail, without a further curve in the tail. This exaggerated neck carriage is the reason why there must be a dip in the back, which the standard allows.

The front quarters consist of shoulder blades (scapulae) fastened on to the sides of the chest at an angle which in the BASIC skeleton approaches 45 degrees. The blades are held there by ligaments and muscles which are attached to the vertebrae from the base of the skull to the lumbar spines. The dog has no collar bones, to act as struts to the breastbone as in the human. The muscles and ligaments must then be tight enough to hold the shoulder blades firmly in position, but not so loose as to allow too free movement nor so tight as not to allow enough.

The humerus or upper arm bone joins the shoulder blade at its front end in a ball and socket joint, allowing movement in all directions but limited in its front extension by the lip of the socket. This is of prime importance in the gait of the dog — since with the shoulder blade at a true 45 degree angle, this lip of the socket allows the arm to extend forward to exactly the right degree to allow the foot to reach the ground at the maximum effective distance in front of the body.

The foreleg from elbow to ankle is a hinge joint, the pastern consists of eight small bones between the end of the foreleg and the foot, the toes are five in number — but the thumb is higher up in the foot and is usually removed.

The angulation of the two upper bones is of utmost importance in the movement of the dog. The ideal angulation in the BASIC skeleton is such that the upper arm and shoulder blade are about equal in length and the angle between them is as nearly 90 degrees as possible. The leg extends straight downward from the elbow to the ground with a firm pastern or wrist turned neither in nor out and a firm, well-cushioned toed foot.

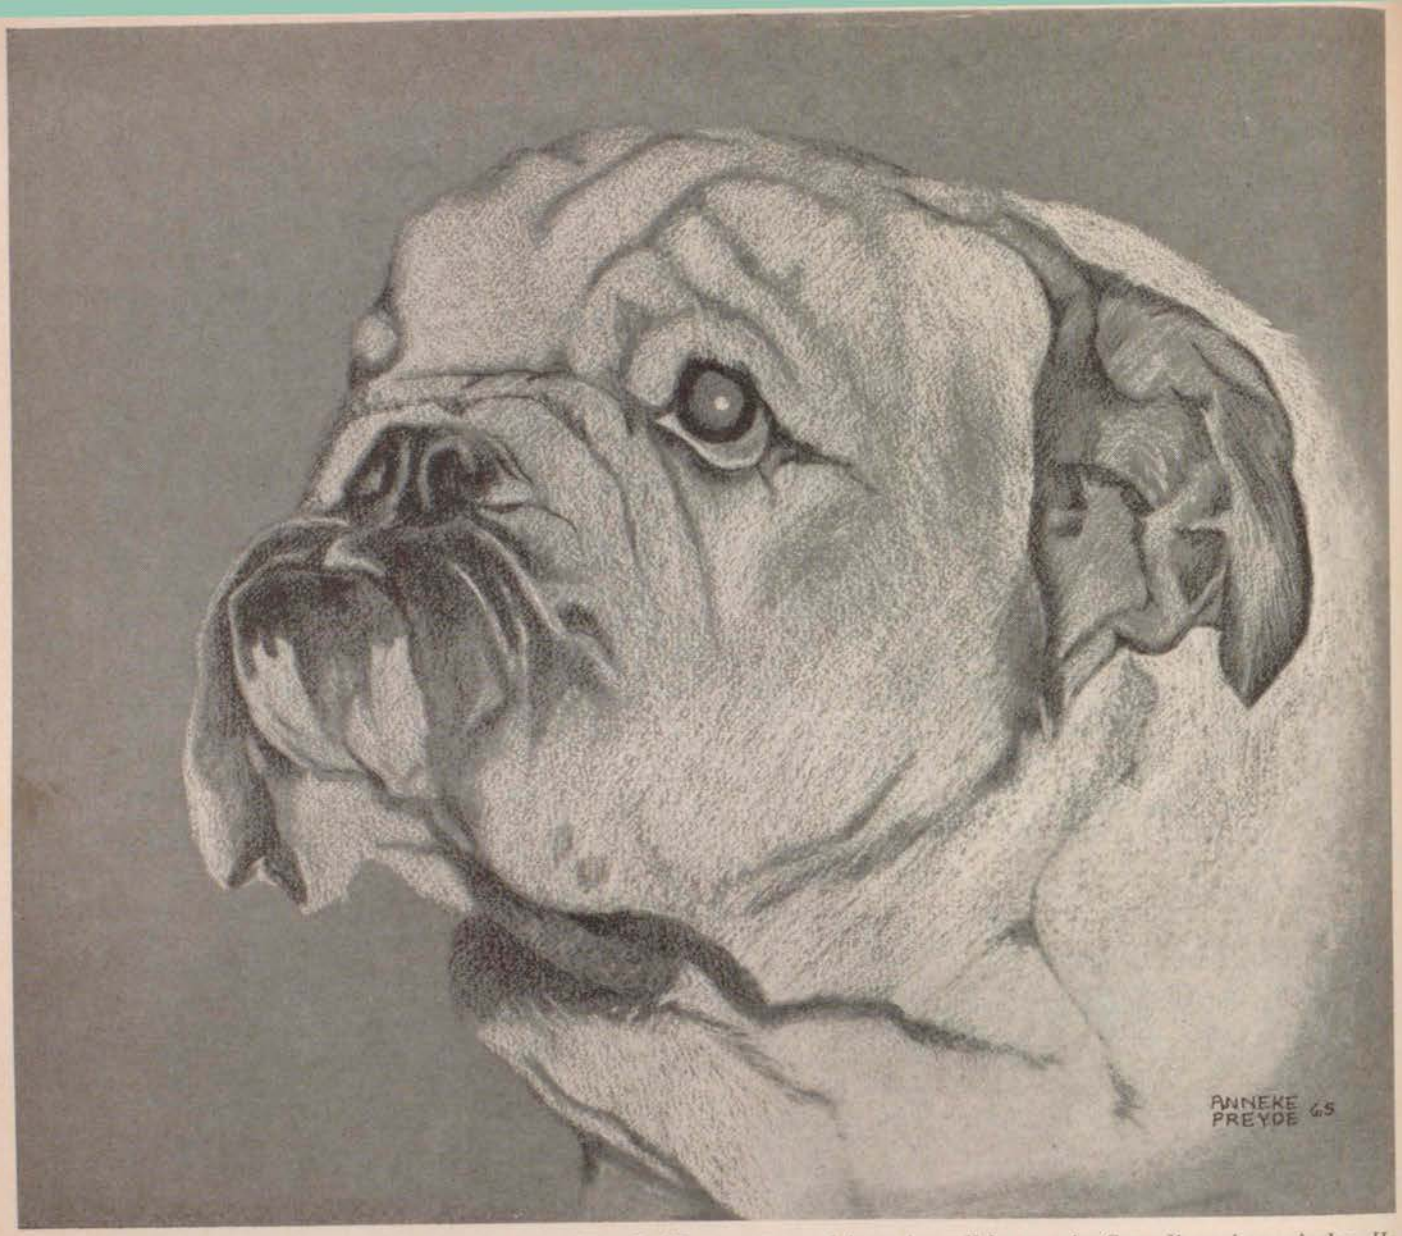

Such angulation brings the elbow well under the chest, close to the chest wall if the width of chest is ideal and supports the animal with minimal strain on the ligaments and muscles. It allows full reach of the leg forward, and the flexible firm pastern and tight well-cushioned feet add to the reach and give firm traction on the ground.

The hindquarters are similarly angulated and ideally match the angulation of the forequarters so that the hind foot will step in the print of the front foot just after the front foot has vacated the spot. The pelvis tips at a 30 degree angle backwards and down from the line of the spine. The femur or hip bone forms in standing a right angle to the pelvis, and the leg extends backward from the stifle or knee to the hock or heel which then drops to a perpendicular line with the ground.

When this angulation is right there is a substantial angle at the knee and this, when right, is referred to by the old time judges as a "nice bend of stifle." When the pelvis is too straight or the femur comes down at a smaller angle the stifle may be nearly straight.

One further point in structure — With the ideal placement of shoulder blade and a 90 degree upper arm, there will be a definite forechest. In other words, the anterior point of the chest will be in front of the two shoulder joints. When the front angulation is deficient, and particularly, as is so often the case, when this is accompanied by a shift of the whole front assembly forward, there will be little or no forechest and commonly the shoulders may project in front of the foremost point of the chest.

A firm back, head held high and tail well up with the above angulation front and rear, matching each other, give an effortless, smooth straight forward trot. □

DOG PORTRAITS BY ANNEKE PREYDE

SOME people say they love animals, and they do. Anneke Preyde not only loves them, but every living creature is something to pet, pick up, take home and sketch or paint. This includes practically anything that walks, runs, flies, swims or squirms, including snakes. From the time she could walk, she has been trundling home all kinds of "little people."

From the combination of a lively young girl and a compulsion to draw, has emerged a very fine depicter of animals, particularly of dogs, as may be seen from the sketches shown here. Anneke, of Dutch descent, is typical of the nicely dressed young business woman you would see on the streets of Amsterdam — fair of hair and complexion, fairly blooming with health, with a quiet but matter-of-fact manner of speaking, which gives the listener the impression she has now determined her goal and has set her sails to reach it — as a portraitist of animals.

From her talented mother comes her artistic bent; from her father a love of the outdoors, of growing things, and from both a good sense of color. Mrs. Preyde still carries out some portrait assignments, although she does not make a profession of her art. Mr. Preyde, now retired, comes from the Hague, where he grew masses of richly colorful tulips.

The family is a lively one of eight. Her sister and brothers all like animals; Mary's enthusiasm is almost a match for Anneke's.

Anneke's mother is very good-natured about having the girls bring home mice and snakes, but her grandmother finds it hard to adjust. The time Anneke brought a bat home was almost too much for everyone, including the winged mammal. The girls know that while they may give temporary refuge to the animals they must find a home as quickly as possible, unless the creatures are injured. "We've had many a bird and animal in splints," says Anneke. There was the time Mary returned from Girl Guide camp with an addition to the usual camp memorabilia. It was a stray Foxhound which had limped into the vicinity of the camp. Mary had removed a BB shot from his leg. Even the cat (one of the family collection of felines) brought home a mouse in its mouth, absolutely unharmed, as a contribution to the menagerie.

Legitimate residents have been the ring-necked doves and budgies which they bred for a time.

Through her absorption with animals, the promising young artist has developed the ability to catch color and proportion, with a real talent for bringing out the true expression in the eyes. "This is where the character comes out in a dog, as well as a person," she maintains.

And for this reason she prefers to paint or sketch from a good photograph of a dog rather than the live model.

"You can't expect a dog to sit in any position for any length of time."

She prefers to have several pictures of a dog, then choose the angle. Even a good photograph taken in the backyard is preferable to a flash shot, she says, because the flash so often robs the eye of its life, and shows only a blank.

While she has studied commercial art for six years, Anneke is primarily self-taught in the sketching of animals. She had been painting kittens, but found their little bodies hard to do — the anatomy simply doesn't show through.

She prefers not to work in full color, as colored photographs do not always reproduce in true color. Her method is simple, but works out unexpectedly well. She chooses a tinted background color which is roughly the tone of the dog, then uses white and black and blends in the background as the middle tone, or pen and ink. The medium she chooses is conte, something like charcoal. She then uses a fixitive and when the sketch is mailed out to the owner it is protected with a sheet of pliofilm.

Anneke only recently turned to sketching dogs. She gained permission to have some of her work on hand at the Kitchener, Oakville and Scarborough shows where some of the well-known breeders promptly became her customers. She requires a week to ten days to complete a sketch in conte or pen and ink. If the dog's owner lives a considerable distance from Toronto, she sends the completed portrait c.o.d. express.

At the present time her price is just $25, plus the cost of shipping.

Having viewed her portraits, however, Dogs predicts before long the demand for her work may affect this exceptionally reasonable price.

The beauty of her work lies not only in the fact that every hair seems to stand out individually, in the sketch, but there is no time or inconvenience in travel by dogs, owners or artist.

Anneke can be reached by telephone at HU 5-5460 or by letter at 40 Cheritan, Toronto. □

TREATMENT OF SPECTATORS AT DOG SHOWS

The creation of knowledgeable, dedicated dog fanciers demands tolerance on the part of those currently exhibiting. Treating spectators at dog shows with understanding in place of disdain and patience in place of petulance is more than just desirable: it's necessary

BY SEYMOUR N. WEISS

We dog fanciers are constantly admonished by the various publications we all read to be good sports, to shake the winner's hand, to applaud for the breed winner in the group and in all regards to be models of good sportsmanship for the fancy.

This is true, and I subscribe to this type of thinking wholeheartedly, but there is another side of good dog fancier manners which is seldom covered and usually ignored. This is our attitude toward the spectator, the man who pays his admission to admire our dogs.

Time and again we have all seen an interested dog lover walk up to an exhibitor, ask a polite question, and receive what could only be called the coarsest type of treatment in return for his trouble.

While it is true that the showing of dogs takes a great deal of physical effort on the part of the exhibitors, and during the course of a dog show day many of us encounter situations that try our patience, we must endeavor to show a pleasant face to the dog show gate.

These efforts on our part are necessary for a number of very good reasons. Perhaps the most important of these is the fact that this is where many people catch the "bug," and are transformed from casual observer to avid enthusiast. By our showing rudeness or at best annoyance and indifference to their requests for information we may be driving away future supporters of the very breeds we may be interested in.

Think about that for a moment the next time you testily answer, "yes, that is a Lhasa Apso." The person you try to get rid of may one day own a dog you might want to breed to, or may have the magic formula for producing champions. Wouldn't you look silly, after treating a person like a leper at his first show, going to him later and asking him, "how?"

Put yourself in this person's place. First of all he has something in common with you, and with all of us. He likes dogs. If he didn't the chances are he would not be visiting a dog show to begin with. He is a strange person, in a strange place, and he would like to feel that there are friendly people around him to answer his questions. If he is given a negative view of us, he is more than likely lost to the fancy forever.

Think back to the day you visited your first dog show. How did you feel? Did you understand what was going on? Were you able to recognize all the breeds you saw? Were you in the same position then as you are in now? I imagine that this was hardly the case.

I remember the first show I went to. I had done a little reading and could recognize most of the breeds I saw, but not all. Many exhibitors and handlers answered my questions and were quite pleasant. Some were not. However, I was determined to become a dog enthusiast and exhibitor and so I became one. Today, after what seems like a long time in dogs, I still see the same people I met on that first day. I compete with them in the ring, and I still carry the first impressions I had of many of them, good or bad. I think this can be said of all of us, but how soon do we forget our beginnings, and do the very same things to others we found so repugnant when they were done to us?

Even if the spectator does not become a fellow exhibitor, he may be a puppy buyer, or he may be a potential stud customer. Every one of us needs outlets for the quality pet puppies we breed. If not for pet buyers we'd soon be so flooded with geese that it would be impossible for us to cultivate the swans. Exhibitors who show this type of rude behavior to the dog show visitor are, in effect, cutting off their noses to spite their faces.

The show-giving club often suffers greatly as a result of the exhibitors' rudeness to the gate.

Every spectator represents the price of a ticket of admission. Many also buy catalogues and most will refresh themselves with food and drink before going home. This represents needed revenue for dog clubs to function with. It is the responsibility of each of us to make the dog show a place where the non-exhibitor or non-fancier will want to visit again and again.

Put it on a personal basis. Many of us are members of local all-breed clubs in our own communities. Would we want the impression of our efforts to be a distasteful one? Would we want people to have a bad time at our own show and so vow never to return? I am sure we would not like to see this happen. But it does happen, and all too often. This is directly caused by the unpleasant manners and bad attitude of exhibitors toward the dog-minded general public seen at the shows.

In our own best interests, let us take it easy on the spectators. An image is a very powerful thing for good or ill, and we owe it to ourselves to make sure that ours is second to none. □

American Kennel Club Registrations Go Up and Up

Based on totals for the first eight months, registration applications received by the American Kennel Club should be the greatest incoming volume in the history of the club, President William E. Buckley told the 105 delegates at the recent quarterly meeting in New York.

Delegates to the American Kennel Club represent the breed and specialty clubs which in turn are members of the AKC. There are no individual, that is personal, memberships.

All business handled by the AKC showed a considerable increase over the same period in 1964, stated Mr. Buckley. A total of 691,291 individual and litter applications for registration showed an increase of 11.1 per cent (the 211,240 litter applications were up by 8.5 per cent.

In breed popularity Poodles remain on top, with German Shepherds holding second place.

SHEPHERD SPECIALTY

Canada's largest single breed show

OFFICIALLY acknowledged as the largest single breed show ever held in Canada, the 43rd annual specialty of The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada attracted fine specimens from as far away as California. The show, which had an historic aspect as the first specialty show in Canada under the banner of Canadian Specialty Show, according to club president Harry Watson, was held September 18.

The venue, the grounds of the Casablanca Motor Hotel on the Queen Elizabeth Highway near Grimsby, was a welcome choice. Exhibitors could enjoy the beautiful landscaped property on the shore of Lake Ontario, have comfortable, well-appointed quarters, enjoy a swim in the pool when not required at the ringside, dash into the lounge for refreshment, have time to feed their dogs, bathe and change before dinner.

Twenty or more late entries had to be turned down, and yet the Shepherds competing totalled 174.

Canadian, American and German flags, as well as colored pennants and the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada emblems added a touch of pageantry to the show. Even the catalogue revealed showmanship. It was designed as a keepsake, carrying articles and a gallery of winners over the past several years, plus a list of the Canadian Grand Victors and Grand Victrix since 1943.

Dr. Christophe Rommel, German veterinarian and well-known Shepherd specialist, judged for the first time in Canada. (He has judged twice in the United States). Working steadily, he completed his assignment in daylight. Exhibitors at many previous specialties had finished the final judging by the light of cars drawn up to the ringside.

The Best of Breed dog, who earned the coveted title of Grand Victor, was Ch. Ero V. Zellwald, owned by Mr. E. Loeb of Smithtown, L.I., N.Y., who stated he didn't know the dog was entered here. A "fence runner," he was in the special care of Agent W. Doane. Handler was Jim Moses. Best of Opposite Sex, and the Grand Victrix, was Bianka Vom Pilgersberg, owned by Dr. and Mrs. William A. Lee of Clifton, N.J.

Brian Ashton of Agincourt, Ont. had the pleasure of seeing his Haus-Chloe's Friederich go Best Canadian Bred in Show. Breeder Gordon Garrett handled this lovely female.

Best Canadian Bred Puppy and Best Puppy in Show was Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Burrows' Bur-Hil Dolly M.

Speaking at the club dinner, Dr. Rommel said he was well pleased with the material he had judged during the day. He expressed the appreciation of the German Shepherd Club of Germany and especially that of Dr. Funk, world-renowned Shepherd specialist for the concentration on the development of Shepherds here. He stated he was very surprised and pleased with the manner in which the GSDC had organized the specialty and the large number of entries so well channelled in and out of the ring. (A special runway for the dogs entering the ring and an exit at the opposite side enabled the dogs to move in and out like clockwork and precluded confusion entirely). Dr. Rommel added he had never thought he would see a show he respected so much in quality, particularly that of the male dogs.

"The quality of Shepherds you have now is as good as, if not better, than those in Germany. If you pair them up properly and get the offspring, you'll have a breed in Canada of which you can be proud.

Peter Schmocker smoothly interpreted for the speaker.

Miss Marie Leary, internationally-respected German Shepherd specialist, who has previously visited and judged the GSDC specialties, congratulated the members and exhibitors. "This is the best show you have ever put on and one of the best I have ever seen. The quality was deep in the classes, especially the Canadian bred bitches — better than in the Open Bitch class." □

Our Money's Worth at Dog Shows

by MRS. ROMELIA G. AALDERS

On this Continent the champions in the animal world are established as if they were "sports champions". They have to prove themselves better than an undefined number of others. The trouble is, however, that the "sports champion" is not expected or even supposed to father other or better performers, (showing the "sire's titles" on his birth certificate) which is definitely our goal when we work so hard to get the title for our animals.

Although we have a nice book, in which to find the Standards for each of the recognized breeds (and we pride ourselves that we want to improve the breed, presumably towards that Standard) at the shows we are satisfied to be judged in comparison to whichever species happens to be also entered.

In the country of the blind, the one-eyed is king and it is easy to see that with management, money, time and perseverance a dog can become Champion, as long as it is better than still worse. This system is wrong! Since we allow only one dog and one bitch to bag the point(s), we suppose that the quality of the winner improves by the number of losers. This is unjust to the mediocre winner and unfair to the worthy loser, that hapless animal that always happens to be second best but worthy of a title.

In the Trials, (Field and Obedience) each entry is credited on its own merits, as it should be. Why is it that we grade carcasses and shy away from it when it is of the utmost importance to do so: when the animal is still alive and can be encouraged or discouraged to reproduce. Each entry should be graded against the standard.

Fellow-breeders tell me that too many judges are not capable to judge against the (absent ideal) Standard, but they can improve and the best judge can never do justice to the deserving second under this point-system. If we would grade each entry, each exhibitor would get his money's worth. Many a one-dog fancier enters a show to be judged. All he gets is nil if he loses and glory if he wins. In the first case he paid towards the glory of the winner; in the second case he cashes in on what the others paid. This is gambling and no judgment and to gamble, one need not hire an expert to sort out the winner. Gambling belongs at the race-tracks.

In breed shows we want to find out: how good is my animal and we should grade them, regardless of the other entries.

We should establish Excellent for those worthy of the champion title. We can allow Very Good for the next best, which is still Very Good. There is still room for the good and the fair, without being unkind! We should require a certain number of EXC. ribbons or cards to obtain the title and it might not be a bad idea, to introduce a minimum age of over two years, when the last was (or were) obtained, as condition to that title.

We still can enjoy the second step: who is best. This now becomes very interesting. First and second in the classes, best this and best that, only we no longer need specials, winners.

Grading would prove to provide several side-benefits:

THE PUBLIC will have some guide to go by, when each entry has a "token of quality" after it has been in the Ring.

Each animal over 6 months old can have its "officially established" token of quality, which should be of value in case of sale.

THE SHOWS will attract the top-animals longer, at least spread over the minimum of at least two years, and the one-dog fancier will be more encouraged to show and be judged, as he never goes home empty-handed, always instructed. □

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A regular meeting of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club was held on Friday, September 17th. The meeting reconvened on September 29th specifically for the purpose of dealing with a number of files on complaints referred to the Board by the Complaints Committee.

There follows a summary of business transacted at the meeting.

FINANCIAL MATTERS

APEX PUBLISHERS AND PUBLICITY LTD.

The Secretary placed before the Board, for its confidential information, a copy of the financial statements of Apex Publishers and Publicity Ltd. for their fiscal year ending April 30, 1965, which statements had been previously placed before the Annual General Meeting of that company held on September 8th.

The Secretary reported that since the annual meeting of Apex Publishers and Publicity Ltd. he had received a cheque in the amount of $5,042.50 representing declared dividends on the preferred shares and common shares held by the Club in that company. The Board noted that this was the first dividend declared in the ten-year history of the company, profits in previous years having been allowed to accumulate in order to improve the financial position of the company.

Mrs. Edna Joel, one of the Club's two representatives on the Board of Directors of Apex, reported on discussions at the Annual General Meeting with regard to the editorial content of the magazine.

As the Club's By-laws (Article VII, Section 2) provide that no person, partnership or company shall be eligible for or continue to enjoy membership if indebted to the Club or to the publishers of the official magazine for advertising or other services for a longer period than three months after the account is due, unless satisfactory arrangements have been made for the payment of same, the Secretary was instructed to write a number of members with regard to their delinquent accounts with Apex.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1965

The Secretary placed before the Board the financial statements of the Club for the six month period ending June 30, 1965, and reported on the additional information furnished members of the Board in order that they could compare the Club's present position with its financial position the preceding year. These financial statements were published in the September issue of "Dogs in Canada".

INTERNATIONAL MATTERS

DOGS CROSSING CANADIAN-AMERICAN BORDER

The Secretary reported on correspondence received with regard to the question of whether registration numbers would be required on the full three generation certificate of registration issued for dogs exported to the United States. After discussion it was agreed that the Secretary would approach the Minister of Trade and Commerce with a view to having representations made through the proper channels, for the purpose of facilitating the export of pure-bred dogs to the United States without the problems indicated by the letters tabled by the Secretary.

THE AMERICAN KENNEL CLUB

The Secretary reported that before leaving Toronto for Vancouver following the semi-annual meeting, the President had followed up the Board's discussions with Mr. Alfred Dick, Executive Vice-President of The American Kennel Club, during the semi-annual meeting, by addressing letters to Mr. Dick with regard to the Club's request that The American Kennel Club recognize titles granted by The Canadian Kennel Club to the extent of arranging for such titles to appear on A. K. C. certificates of registration and allowing such titles to appear in catalogues for shows and trials held under A. K. C. rules, and also with regard to the representations of The Canadian Kennel Club with regard to The American Kennel Club recognizing show judges approved by the C. K. C.

The Secretary further reported that in the September issue of "Dogs in Canada" there had been published a notice setting forth the new policies of The American Kennel Club with regard to the entry of Canadian-owned dogs, as listed dogs, at certain types of field trials held under A. K. C. rules.

REGISTRATION, STUD BOOKS AND RELATED MATTERS

KENNEL NAMES

The Board received and approved the recommendations of the Kennel Names Committee as set out in its reports to the Board dated July 15th and August 19th.

It was suggested that the Kennel Names Committee give consideration, with a view to submitting a report and recommendation to the next annual meeting of the Board, to amending the regulations on kennel names to prohibit the inclusion of the word "registered" (either in its full or abbreviated form) where a person chooses to add the word "Kennels" immediately following his kennel name. This suggestion was advanced on the grounds that although The Canadian Kennel Club may register a kennel name, it does not register a kennel as such. (See NOTICE published on page 79 of the October issue of "Dogs in Canada").

REGISTRATION COMMITTEE

The Board received the report of the Registration Committee and noted that the Committee had:

(1) authorized the registration in the Club's records of the Cavalier King Charles Spaniel KILSPINDIE PHILANDER owned by Miss Elizabeth I. Spalding, Portland, Maine, on the basis of its prior registration with the Cavalier King Charles Spaniel Club, U. S. A.; (RC-293)

(2) authorized the registration of the Cavalier King Charles Spaniel BARINGS BOWSTONES HAMISH owned by Miss Clara J. Tucker, Albany, N. Y., on the basis of its prior registration with the Cavalier King Charles Spaniel Club, U. S. A.; (RC-293)

(3) authorized the registration of the Cavalier King Charles Spaniels KRESTONE JE SUIS TITANIA, KRESTONE MI CHIAMO MIMI, and HEATHERTON CHARM, owned by Dr. Lois Stone, Scotia, N. Y., on the basis of their prior registration with the Cavalier King Charles Spaniel Club, U. S. A.; (RC-293)

(4) instructed the Canadian National Live Stock Records that each and every actual change of ownership of the German Short-haired Pointer SHADELAND'S DUCHESS (555432) must be recorded before it may proceed with the registration of a litter whelped by this female while the property of Mr. R. G. Fedyck; (RC-322)

(6) reiterated its previous decision with regard to the recording of transfers of ownership of GOLDEN MASKED REBEL (616003) before registration of two litters sired by this dog may be registered (see item 34 in minutes of June 1965 meeting of the Board); (RC-342)

(7) declined to authorize the registration of the Bullmastiff CHURCHILL OF RICHINGS imported from Jamaica by Mr. Maxwell Wolfe, Calgary, Alta. on the grounds that on the dam's side of the pedigree there is no evidence that the grandsire, granddam, great grandsire, and great granddam have been registered with the Jamaica Kennel Club or in the records of any other kennel club whose records are recognized by The Canadian Kennel Club; (RC-344)

(8) authorized the registration of the Brittany Spaniel BRONIE LASS bred by R. D. Lowe (deceased), Concord, Ont., and whelped April

4, 1962; and the recording of transfer of ownership of this dog to Sisto Beltrame, Toronto, Ont. as of September 15, 1964; (RC-345)

(9) authorized the recording of transfer of ownership of the Doberman Pinscher GYPSY BLUEBIRD V HAREL (463870) from the name of Gordon D. Kennedy to the name of Mrs. E. Shewfelt, as of February 1, 1962; (RC-365)

(10) authorized the recording of transfer of ownership of the German Shepherd Dog BUR-HIL THURO C (437765) from the name of Carl Moohs to the name of Miss Gertraud Elizabeth Senekowitsch, Toronto, Ont., as of October 13, 1959; (RC-358)

(11) authorized the registration of a litter whelped on April 20, 1965 the property of Stuart Roberts, Maidstone, Ont., by the Standard Smooth Dachshund Ch. CANIDAE'S CRUSADER V KEY (462851) out of the Standard Smooth Dachshund CANIDAE'S YAANNE (576674), the litter including four Standard Smooth males, one Standard Smooth female, and one Standard Long-haired female, and authorized the registration of the following dogs out of said litter: CANIDAE'S LANCER (Standard Smooth); CANIDAE'S HANS LOCHEM (Standard Smooth); CANIDAE'S LAVENDER (Standard Smooth), CANIDAE'S LUSCIOUS LOLITA (Standard Long-haired); (RC-359)

(12) authorized the transfer of ownership of the Poodle GAYBET'S FROSTY (458207) from the name of Mrs. Pamela Mackie, Toronto, Ont., to the name of Maurice Wallace, Toronto, Ont., as of March 1962; (RC-360)

(13) ruled that the Dachshund VIKING VIGOR V. D. ZEVEN BERGJES imported from Holland by Mr. & Mrs. K. Boskers of Clive, Alta. is not eligible for registration on the grounds that in the third generation of ancestry there is listed a Dachshund of a different coat classification; (RC-365)

(14) authorized the recording of transfer of ownership of the Poodle MON TRESOR DON JUAN (397908) from the name of Mrs. D. T. Barnes to the name of Milford Miller, Orillia, Ont.; as of May 10, 1961; (RC-371)

(15) authorized the recording of transfer of ownership of the Boxer SHASTA'S LADY LUCK (570020) from the name of James T. Senos, Edmonton, Alta. to the name of Charles S. Walker, Edmonton, Alta., as of September 15, 1964. (RC-373)

The Board concurred with the action of the Registration Committee in asking the Canadian National Live Stock Records to reject any noseprint form which included more than one noseprint.

The Board considered a letter from a member who enquired about the possibility of the Board advising all show- and trial-giving clubs to adopt a resolution providing for each such club to arrange, for a fee, the sale of dogs in the estate of a deceased person. It agreed that it is for each person to decide whether or not he will prescribe in his Will, the disposition of dogs which may be his property at the time of his death.

Reference was made to the decision of the Board at its semi-annual meeting, when the Board decided that in considering the recognition of a new breed (of which specimens have been imported) it would require a five-generation certified pedigree for imported dogs of the breed about to be recognized, and asked the Registration Committee to review this question and submit a report and firm recommendation to the next annual meeting of the Board.

COMPLAINTS, CHARGES AND PROTESTS

SPECIFIC CASES

In the course of dealing with a number of files on complaints, charges and protests referred to the Board by the Complaints Committee with that Committee's recommendations, the Board:

(1) received the report of an advisory committee which conducted an investigation of an alleged incident involving a judge and exhibitor at a championship show and re-appointed the same committee with extended terms of reference to continue its investigation;

(2) received the report of an advisory committee which had conducted an investigation and instructed the Secretary to poll the national Board on whether a non-member would be deprived of the privileges of the Club for failing to deliver a certificate of registration for a dog sold as pure-bred;

(3) received the report of an advisory committee which had conducted an investigation of a complaint with regard to the alleged trim of a dog competing at a championship show, and decided to consider the file closed, the complainant having failed to appear before the advisory committee to give evidence;

(4) received the report of an advisory committee which had conducted an investigation on several complaints regarding remarks addressed by an exhibitor to other exhibitors in the ring at a championship show, and directed the Secretary to address a letter of reprimand to the exhibitor who was the subject of these complaints;

(5) received the report of an advisory committee which had conducted an investigation of complaints regarding unbenched dogs and lateness of judging, etc. at a championship show, and instructed the Secretary to communicate to the show-giving organization recommendations set out in the report of the advisory committee;

(6) gave an exhibitor 15 days in which to elect a formal hearing of an allegation that he had subjected an officiating judge to an indignity;

(7) cancelled the certificate of registration of a dog which had been registered individually in the Club's records (the breeder of which had been previously denied the privileges of the Club following an investigation);

(8) appointed an advisory committee to investigate two complaints against a member who is alleged to have failed to supply certificates of registration for two dogs said to have been sold as pure-bred;

(9) gave another exhibitor 15 days in which to elect a formal hearing of a complaint that he had subjected an officiating judge to an indignity;

(10) gave still another exhibitor 15 days in which to elect a formal hearing of an allegation that he had subjected two officiating judges to indignities;

(11) gave each of six exhibitors 15 days in which to elect a formal hearing of a Show Superintendent's report that they had failed to bench dogs as required by Section 1 of Chapter 19 of the Dog Show Rules;

(12) gave a breeder 15 days in which to submit applications for registration, transfers and fees for two dogs said to have been sold as pure-bred, or to elect a formal hearing of the complaints received from the purchasers of said dogs;

(13) instructed the Secretary to poll the national Board on whether a non-member would be deprived of the privileges of the Club for failing to properly identify two dogs sold as pure-bred, and for which certificates of registration had been provided;

(14) instructed the Secretary to poll the Board on whether a member of the Club would be deprived of the privileges of the Club for failing to tattoo-mark dogs for which he had provided certificates of registration, said certificates having been issued on the basis of the breeder's applications having shown that the dogs had been tattoo-marked (the reports of inspection committees had indicated that no tattoo markings appeared on the dogs in question);

(15) appointed an advisory committee to conduct an investigation of two complaints against a breeder who is alleged to have failed to supply certificates of registration for dogs sold as pure-bred;

(16) received the report of an advisory committee which had conducted an investigation, and instructed the Secretary to poll the national Board on whether a non-member would be deprived of the privileges of the Club for failing to provide a purchaser with a certificate of registration for a dog sold as pure-bred.

The Board noted the Secretary's report that a $10.00 penalty imposed on each of the two show-giving clubs which had failed to mail judging schedules to exhibitors, before their respective shows, had been paid. It also noted that the $10.00 penalty imposed on a field trial club, for issuing a premium list without prior approval of its selected judges, had been paid.

INTERNAL AND ADMINISTRATION

REPORT OF MANAGEMENT CONSULTANTS

The Secretary reported on the steps which had been taken to implement the Board's decision that in the October issue of "Dogs in Canada" there would be published a synopsis of the report of the Management Consultants.

The Committee, composed of Messrs. Jack C. Anderson, Walter Brown, and George Mehlenbacher (with the President ex-officio) which had been appointed by resolution #381-64 at the semi-annual meeting of the Board on July 21, 1964, was authorized to carry on and prepare a comprehensive report for the consideration of the Board at its annual meeting in February, 1965, said report to be submitted, if possible, to members of the Board at least 30 days before the next annual meeting of the Board.

The Board reviewed the instruction given by the Board at its semi-annual meeting, that the Secretary "employ a capable office administrator", and instructed the Secretary to defer implementation of the instruction pending the receipt of the report of the Management Survey Committee.

SPECIAL REFERENDUM BALLOT - 1965

The Secretary reported that as instructed by the Board at its semi-annual meeting, he had polled the national Board with regard to the inclusion in the Special Referendum Ballot to be conducted concurrent with the next regular Referendum Ballot of a proposed amendment with regard to the Rules of Order governing meetings of the Club and Board, and reported that the following members of the Board had declared themselves to be in favour of including such an amendment (proposed amendment #14 as reported in the October issue of "Dogs in Canada") in the Special Referendum ballot: Mr. Williams, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Wells, Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Ashcroft, Mr. Brown, Mr. Dawson, Mr. Duff, Mr. Frost, Mrs. Joel, Mr. Little, Mrs. Mack, Mr. McDerment, and Mr. Mehlenbacher. The Secretary reported that on this question Mr. Monaghan had stated "This proposal is illegal".

The Board, by resolution, instructed the Secretary to include the proposed amendment in the Special Referendum Ballot.

As it is customary to include an explanation with each proposed amendment included in a Special Referendum Ballot, the Board reviewed explanations prepared by the Secretary, and instructed the Secretary as to the changes which it wishes made in the proposed explanations.

Mr. Monaghan gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the Board he would propose the following motion:

"THAT motion #329-65, reading as follows:

'THAT, the Secretary include the following proposed amendment in the special referendum ballot authorized by resolution #277-65:

"IT IS PROPOSED THAT:

Article X, Section 5, be amended by deleting the words:

'The Chairman of any meeting of the Board shall not vote except in the case of a tie in which case the Chairman shall have the casting vote.'

and substitute the following:

'The Chairman of any meeting of the Board shall have the right to vote on any motion presented at any meeting of the Board and in the event of a tie vote on a motion said motion shall be deemed to have lost for want of a majority. This shall also apply to the voting on any amendments to a motion'.'

be rescinded."

BOARD MEETINGS

The Board decided that its next regular meeting would be held on November 12th.

MEMBERSHIP MATTERS

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Board confirmed the approval given to applications for membership reported, by mail, to all members of the Board on eight lists of applicants for membership.

The Board rejected the application for membership of one person who had required the purchaser of a dog sold as pure-bred to pay for the certificate of registration which had been provided.

The Board approved the change from a partnership membership to an individual ordinary membership in a case where one partner had died.

DOG SHOWS

JUDGES

The Secretary was instructed to communicate with the judge and show-giving club in a case where a male dog was judged in the female classes.

The Board considered a letter received from a club inquiring what steps could be taken when it is clear that the number of entries under an advertised judge exceeds the sum total of dogs which, at the rate of 20 dogs per hour, that judge could be expected to judge over an 8-1/2 hour period. It agreed that there is no provision in the Dog Show Rules for a substitute judge to take over part of the assignment in this situation and that a show-giving club should carefully consider this possibility when it makes plans for its roster of judges and their assignments for a particular show or shows.

In response to a question, the Secretary reported that it is the custom to mail to all show-giving clubs not less than once a year, an up-to-date list of persons on the approved list of judges, including those who have successfully passed written and oral examinations and are eligible to take on a single judging engagement. It was agreed that when the name of a person is added to the list of approved judges this information should be published on "The Secretary's Page" in "Dogs in Canada".

DATES

The application of the Victoria City Kennel Club for priority rights on March 10th and 11th, 1967, was approved by the Board.

On the understanding that such approval is without prejudice to any policy which may in future be set by the Board, the Board approved applications for dates in 1966 submitted by the Ottawa Kennel Club, the Kitchener-Waterloo Kennel Club, and the Ontario County Kennel Club.

The Board approved the request of the Ottawa Kennel Club that its priority rights on the first Friday and first Saturday in May be changed to the first Saturday and Sunday in May.

Having regard for the possibility of confliction with the Saskatchewan circuit of shows, the Secretary was instructed to consult the Saskatchewan Director regarding applications received to hold championship shows at Winnipeg on May 27th, 28th and 29th, 1966.

SHOW ENTRIES

The Secretary reported on the action taken by the Office Manager, following consultation with the Board, in allowing a number of show-giving clubs to accept telephone entries and late entries because of the then existing postal strike.

LOCATION OF BREEDS IN GROUPS

The Board considered a communication, signed by four persons, urging the Board to consider transferring the Lhasa Apso from its present position in Group 4 to Group 6. The Secretary was instructed to acknowledge the communication and inform the signers that on a previous occasion the Board had considered such a proposal and it had decided that the Lhasa Apso would remain in Group 4, and that at the present time no consideration is being given to transferring the breed to another Group.

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

REPORT OF CHAIRMAN OF OBEDIENCE COUNCIL

Mr. Mehlenbacher, Chairman of the Obedience Council, submitted the following report (dated September 17th):

"At the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors in June, the Board sustained the ruling from the office that an Obedience trial held in the same building on the same day as an all-breed show, in conjunction with the all-breed show, was according to our rules, even though there were two different clubs operating the different events. The objection from the Obedience club was that they were unable to accept post entries for the trial. The above was referred by the Board to the Obedience Council for review and report to the Board.

"On Sunday, September 12th, the Council met, and after a thorough discussion on the above subject, have the following to recommend to the Board:

That we adopt the A.K.C. rule -- NO POST ENTRIES -- entries would close 10 days prior to the day of the trial in the case of all obedience trials whether held in conjunction with an all-breed show or as an independent event.

That a limitation be placed on the number of dogs a judge is expected to judge in a 6-hour trial. The recommendation that a judge should not judge more than 40 dogs in this 6-hour period. That all trials should be completed not later than 6:00 p.m. in the evening.

That we adopt Sections 36, 37 and 38 of Chapter 1 of the A.K.C. Obedience Rules and Regulations.

"The above recommendations are made in view of the increasingly large entries at Obedience trials this year. In one instance a club received 90 advance entries and 100 post entries, which meant an impossible task to prepare a catalogue in the hour before the trial commenced. Also it was necessary to use two emergency judges to complete the judging.

"The recommendation of accepting advance entries only would not affect other than Obedience clubs. The Council feels confident that all clubs would welcome this change, and it will certainly ease their burden."

Mr. Mehlenbacher reported that in preparing the report he had overlooked including the following statement: "The Council recommends that these be published and comments be received and referred to the annual meeting of the Board."

After discussion the Board received the report of the Chairman of the Obedience Council and directed that the two recommendations, together with the text of Sections 36, 37 and 38 of Chapter 1 of the A.K.C. Obedience Regulations be published in "Dogs in Canada", together with an invitation to interested parties to comment on or before December 15th; the whole matter to then be referred to the Obedience Council and placed on the agenda of the next annual meeting of the Board.

The Board received and endorsed the recommendation of the Obedience Council to the effect that it be ruled that a person who has campaigned a dog through its U.D. title in Canada, or elsewhere, is ineligible to enter a dog in either the Novice "A" or Open "B" Classes.

FIELD TRIALS

FIELD TRIALS FOR POINTING BREEDS

At the Ottawa Valley Gun Dog Club trial held on May 15th and 16th, 1965, the officiating judges had made awards of First, Second and Third in the Open Shooting Dog Stake with the added notation in the judge's book "all points withheld". At the licensed field trial held by the New Brunswick Field Trial Association on May 15th and 16th the officiating judges had made placements of First, Second, Third and Fourth in the Open All-Age Stake with the added notation in the judge's book "no points awarded". On the grounds that officiating judges do not award championship points and the allocation of championship points is an automatic step based on the awards made by the officiating judges, provided the requirements of the rules with regard to competition etc. are complied with, the Secretary had ruled that points must be awarded to the dogs placed in the foregoing Stakes.

In view of letters received from the clubs concerned and officiating judges, the question was reviewed by the Board. In the course of discussion the Board noted that a similar situation had developed at the Ottawa Valley Gun Dog Club trial held on May 16th and 17th, 1964, the officiating judges on that occasion having made placements in the Shooting Dog Stake but having withheld championship points, and on that occasion the decision of the officiating judges had been implemented (i.e. the awards were recorded but championship points were withheld).

The Board decided that in view of the fact that the judge's decision at the 1964 trial had been accepted, the same policy must apply to 1965 trials, but in order to remove the possibility of further misunderstanding the Field Trial Council for Pointing Breeds would be asked to suggest a rewording of the present rules, such rewording to be presented for the consideration of the Board at its next annual meeting.

The Board considered a letter received from Mr. H. L. Beaman, Victoria, B.C., who inquired whether The Canadian Kennel Club would be in favour of a "Western Canada trial for Pointing Breeds". It was agreed that the Secretary would suggest to Mr. Beaman that he submit detailed proposals which could then be referred to the Field Trial Council for Pointing Breeds.

Mr. Donald H. Duff was appointed Chairman of the Field Trial Council for Pointing Breeds to complete the term of the late Mr. Robert Little.

NOTICE

SUBJECT: PROPOSED CHANGES IN REGULATIONS AND STANDARDS FOR OBEDIENCE TRIALS

On page 55 of the October issue of "Dogs in Canada" notice was given of a number of proposed amendments to the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards which would be considered by the Board at its next annual meeting. The attention of those interested in obedience trials is drawn to the report of the Chairman of the Obedience Council as incorporated in the summary of proceedings at a meeting of the Board of Directors held on September 17th (see page 3 in the buff section of this issue).

Notice is hereby given that, in addition to the proposed changes reported in the October issue of "Dogs in Canada" the Board of Directors, at its next annual meeting, will give consideration to incorporating the following into the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards, re-writing sections where necessary and making deletions where appropriate:

(1) Entries shall close 10 days prior to the day of the trial in the case of all obedience trials whether held in conjunction with an all-breed show or as an independent event.

(2) That a limitation be placed on the number of dogs a judge is expected to judge in a 6-hour trial. The recommendation that a judge should not judge more than 40 dogs in this 6-hour period. That all trials should be completed not later than 6:00 p.m. in the evening.

(3) Judging Program. Any club holding an obedience trial must prepare, after the entries have closed, a program showing the time scheduled for the judging of each of the classes, and this program shall be printed in the catalogue. This program shall be based on the judging of no more than 8 Novice entries, 7 Open entries, and 5 Utility entries per hour during the time the show or trial will be open as published in the premium list, taking into consideration the starting hour for judging if published in the premium list, and the availability of rings. No judge shall be scheduled to exceed this rate of judging after allowance of at least one hour for rest or meals following five hours of judging as computed under this formula. (Section 36, A.K.C. Obedience Regulations)

(4) Limitation of Entries. If a club anticipates an entry in excess of the club's facilities, it may limit entries in any or all classes by prominent announcement on the title or cover page of its premium list, or immediately under the obedience heading in the premium list for a dog show, stating that entries in one or more specified classes or in the obedience trial will automatically close when a certain limit or limits have been reached, even though the official closing date for entries has not arrived. If entries are limited non-regular classes will not be approved. (Section 37, A.K.C. Obedience Regulations)

(5) Additional Judges, Reassignment, Split Classes. If when the entries have closed, it is found that the entry under one or more judges exceeds the limit established in Section 36, the club shall immediately secure the approval of The Canadian Kennel Club for the appointment of one or more additional judges, or for reassignment of its advertised judges, so that no judge will be required to exceed the limit.

If a judge with an excessive entry was advertised to judge more than one class, one or more of his classes shall be assigned to another judge, and the class or classes selected for reassignment shall be those with the minimum number of entries which will bring the advertised judge's schedule within the maximum limit. If a judge with an excessive entry was advertised to judge only one class, the Superintendent, Show Secretary, or Obedience Trial Secretary, shall divide the entry evenly between the advertised judge and the other judge by drawing lots.

Immediately after the drawing the club shall mail to the owner of each entry affected, a notification of the change of judge. The owner shall be permitted to withdraw such entry at any time prior to the day of the show, and the entry fee shall then be refunded. If the entry in any one class is split in this manner, the club in such notice to owners, shall also announce the judge for the run-off of any tie scores that may develop between the two groups of dogs, after each judge has first run-off any ties resulting from his own judging. (Section 38, A.K.C. Obedience Regulations, changing "The American Kennel Club" to "The Canadian Kennel Club")

All persons and clubs having an interest in the foregoing are invited to submit their comments and suggestions so as to be received by the Secretary, The Canadian Kennel Club, 1173 Bay Street, Toronto 5, Ontario, not later than December 15, 1965. When writing, please refer to file 12 OB 8.

CORRECTIONS

At the championship show held by the Canadian National Sportsmen's Dog Show held on March 18th, 1965 published in the June issue of Dogs in Canada the award of Best Canadian Bred Puppy in the Show was shown as being awarded to the Poodle (Miniature), Manderley's Fanfare. Actually this award should have gone to the Poodle (Toy), TROUBLE DE LA FONTAINE, owned by Annemarie Roebig.

At the championship show held by the Fredericton Kennel Club on August 2nd, 1965 published in the October issue of Dogs in Canada the awards of 3rd and 4th in the Sporting Group were omitted. This should have read -
3rd, Spaniel (American Cocker), Ch. Kobbytown's Shades On Parade .
4th, Pointer (German S. H.), Am. Ch. Robin Crest Bit Of Chip, C.D.

At the championship show held by the Kiwanis Club of Kerrisdale on April 17th, 1965 published in the June issue of Dogs in Canada the point rating for the Beagles (13" and under) read as follows: 1D; Pts. -D1. Actually this should have read - 1D; Pts. -D2.

At the championship show held by the Prince Albert Kennel Club on May 21st, 1965 published in the August issue of Dogs in Canada in the Boxers, Open female Class the awards read as follows:

Wildrock's Yum Yum (B) Wildrock Kls...1.O-W-BW-BO
Sor-Lar's Magic (B) Mr. & Mrs. J. Sorensen...2.O
Actually this should have read -
Sor-Lar's Magic (B) Mr. & Mrs. J. Sorensen...1.O-W-BW-BO
Wildrocks Yum Yum (B) Wildrock Kls...2.O

The Poodle (Miniature), JOAN'S JUMPING JILL MIMI was shown as having a qualifying score in the Novice Class "A" in each of the following Obedience Trials. Actually the correct breed of this dog is Poodle (Toy) and not Poodle (Miniature) as shown in these trials:
Moose Jaw All Breed Kennel & Obedience Club - May 27th, 1965.
Regina Kennel & Obedience Club - May 29th, 1965.
Regina Kennel & Obedience Club - May 30th, 1965.

At the field trial held by the Ottawa Valley Gun Dog Club on May 15th & 16th, 1965, the points in the Shooting Dog Stake were withheld and not as shown in the August issue of Dogs in Canada.

At the field trial held by the New Brunswick Field Trial Association on May 15th & 16th, 1965, the points in the Open All-Age Stake were withheld and not as shown in the August issue of Dogs in Canada.

NOTICE

SUBJECT: Entry of Canadian owned dogs that are CKC registered in Field Trials held under American Kennel Club Rules and Regulations.

The current American Kennel Club rules under which various types of field trials are held require that to be entered in a member trial or licensed trial a dog must either be AKC registered or part of a previously registered litter. However, provision is made in the rules governing the various types of trials, except Beagle trials, for the entry of a CKC registered dog by its Canadian owner in three trials before the dog is AKC registered provided that the CKC number and "Canada" are shown on the entry form. Further entries, however, would have to be on the basis of AKC registration.

Beagle field trial rules require that a hound be AKC registered or part of a previously registered litter without providing for the "three times" prior to AKC registration as is the case in all other types of AKC field trials. Thus a Canadian owned CKC registered Beagle must be AKC registered before it is entered in an AKC Beagle trial.

The American Kennel Club is prepared to give prompt registration service on applications that are made to it by Canadian owners of CKC registered dogs provided a note is attached to the applications stating that this special service is desired for the purpose of entering the dog in AKC trials.

The appropriate application forms may be obtained by writing to The American Kennel Club, 51 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y., 10010. They are also available at the office of the Canadian Kennel Club, 1173 Bay St., Toronto 5, Ontario, Canada.

Field trial competition is provided in the United States, under American Kennel Club rules for the following breeds and/or categories of breeds:

1. Basset Hounds.
2. Pointing Breeds:
   Brittany Spaniels, Pointers, German Shorthaired Pointers, German Wirehaired Pointers, English Setters, Gordon Setters, Irish Setters, Vizslas, Weimaraners, and Wirehaired Pointing Griffons.
3. Dachshunds.
4. Retrievers:
   Chesapeake Bay, Curly-coated, Flat-coated, Golden, Labrador, Irish Water Spaniels.
5. Spaniels:
   English Springer, Cockers, English Cockers.
6. Beagles.

Mother of Wimberway Winners Defeated by Ear Condition

Sandy Briggs (Wimberway Kennels) Markham, Ont. has had the sorrow of having to have put to sleep her Ch. Blyth's Niska, CD, one of the top producing female Labrador Retrievers in Canada. She was suffering from an incurable ear problem. Niska was the mother of the three winning Labs shown by Sandy at the 1965 CNE shows. Full brothers and sisters, but not of the same litter, all three now have earned a Group II or better. All are champions and all have an obedience title. Ch. Wimberway's Wateaki, Can. & Am. CD, completed his CDX at the recent Oakville show. He earned his CD title in both countries last year.

Wateaki, Ch. Wimberway's Wanda CD and Ch. Wimberway's Welcome Venture CD have all been bred, trained and handled through both conformation and obedience titles by Sandy, who thoroughly believes in training and handling her own dogs. Because she could not handle two dogs in competition simultaneously Lorna Jackson was handling Venture at the time she attained her Group II at the CNE. Venture has now returned to her owners, Mr. and Mrs. A. Taubman of Southfield, Mich.

In addition to these winning young offspring, Niska was the mother of several other Labs with points on their titles, some of whom have their CD and others coming along well in obedience work.

Watch This Lab Baby

A son of Ch. Wimberway's Wanda CD, owned by Sandy Briggs (Wimberway Kennels) Markham, Ont., the five months old Wimberway's Bushland Rebel, placed 2nd in the Puppy Stakes at the Niagara Peninsula Training Trial in August. This young Lab is the first retriever owner Norman Oldfield of Kitchener has ever trained.

Labrador Puppies' Mistakes Are Often Those of the Owner

Never, implores Helen Warwick, author of The Complete Labrador Retriever, throw a young puppy into the water, because shocks of any kind can ruin an otherwise top puppy for life. A dog's faults, she maintains, are usually the mistakes of his master.

"Labrador puppies have an innate instinct for bringing gifts to those they love; these can range from a pungent rat to a silver ashtray. Whatever it may be, control your distaste and accept it with grace and a word of praise. If he is continually nagged and chastised for bringing unwelcome offerings you will be sowing seed to sorrow, in that instead of laying the foundation for enthusiastic delivery when you want him to get your birds, you will be doing just the opposite by psychologically building up in his mind that the bringing of objects to you is wrong."

Lines to a Setter

My Setter ranges in the new-shorn field,
His nose in air erect; from ridge to ridge,
Panting, he bounds, his quartered ground divides
In equal intervals, nor careless leaves
One inch untried. At length the tainted gale
His nostrils wide inhale; quick joy elates
His beating heart, which, awed by discipline
Severe, he dares not own, but cautious creeps,
Low-cowering, step by step; at last attains
His proper distance; there he stops at once,
And points with his instructive nose upon
The trembling prey.

Cancer Traces Appear in Cigaret-Smoking Canines

While medical doctors are in divided camps as to whether or not heavy cigaret smoking is a cause of cancer, a test conducted by Dr. E. E. Rockey at New York Medical College has given some affirmative proof.

The assistant clinical professor of surgery reported early cancer cells found in five locations in the bronchial tubes of a dog which smoked 441 cigarets during a 193-day test period. He reported preinvasive cancer cells in the bronchial mucous membrane, indicating that the cells were still limited to the tissue of origin and had not invaded the underlying non-cellular layers, according to a recent report in the Toronto Globe and Mail.

Before undergoing the smoking session the dogs were given X-ray and other tests to indicate their lungs were healthy. The 23-pound dog who puffed on 441 cigarets was found, on post-mortem examination, to be not only showing the aforementioned cancer cells but inflammatory changes in 20 other sites plus other kinds of cell changes, some of which might have been the forerunner of cancer in a further 30 sites.

A 23-pound female, who in 99 smoking sessions smoked 358 cigarets in 189 days, showed inflammatory lesions and additional cell changes in 24 areas. Further, she showed emphysema in segments of the right lung. This is a lung condition in which the air sacs become distended, lose their elasticity and eventually break down so that the patient neither takes in sufficient oxygen nor completely expels the carbon dioxide.

Chronic bronchitis also developed in all the dogs taking these tests.

At first, smoke was carried into the dogs' lungs by making a window in the windpipe and inserting a glass tube cigaret holder. Later a new technique was developed in which glass tubing holding the cigaret was inserted into one nostril, while the mouth and the other nostril were kept closed.

While in the name of science these experiments are interesting, it is regrettable that dogs have to be subjected to pain and death to prove to man that he is over-indulging.—Ed.

Pets Living Longer Than 10 Years Ago

Dogs are now living to an average age of 14 years and cats to 12 years . . . an increase of two years above the 1954 life expectancy, according to the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York.

The fact that people are living longer today has made the study of geriatrics an important branch of human medicine. And just as in the case of human beings, in geriatric studies of dogs veterinarians are finding that it isn't just old age but a particular illness in the older animal which must be treated.

As with several other discoveries credited to veterinary medicine . . . the anti-coagulant, dicumarol, used in treating heart disease, the solving of the mystery of botulism, and fracture-immobilizing devices now widely used by bone specialists . . . it is hoped that the increased study of aging by veterinary researchers will help unlock secrets which will be of benefit to mankind, as well as to the nation's pets.

Dogs Find Much Favor Among Nation's Teens

Teenagers, particularly girls, are "dogs' best friends", according to the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York.

A tabulation of responses to a questionnaire sent out by the teen publication, Seventeen magazine, showed that in nearly six million homes where there are both teenagers and pets, it was the girls who wanted the animals.

This was true in seven out of 10 dog-owning families. In half of these families, the teenage girl is the dog's mistress, the person most attached to the dog and who looks after him. In addition to dogs and cats, which head the list of pets, teeners also own birds, fish, rabbits, mice, hamsters, horses and turtles, in that order of popularity.

American Cocker Show Statistics

Within the past 12 months American Cocker Spaniels have been commanding attention by their numbers and sheer beauty. In the United States last year 10,912 competed in all-breed shows, comprising more than one-quarter of all sporting dogs competing during the year. Broken down by color they numbered: Black, 3,758; Parti, 3,079; Ascob, 4,075. At the specialty shows, 2,144 Cockers competed. The number earning their championship aggregated 298—nearly 30% of all sporting dogs gaining their title.

Remarkably, of 71 BIS awards, (sporting) 38 were earned by Cocker Spaniels. One hundred and seven earned their CD in obedience, 22 their CDX, six UD and four TD.

Owners Turn Brendean Farm Into New Game Club

A new concept in game farms has just been established in the picturesque Dagmar Hills, some 40 miles northeast of Toronto.

On 250 acres of rolling land, Fred and Jean Plunkett are placing their Brendean Farm at the disposal of hunters who wish to teach their bird dogs how to point, flush and retrieve pheasant. If a hunter already has a trained dog, Brendean Farm is an ideal place on which to work it out. If he has no dog, one of several English Springer Spaniels is available from the Plunkett kennels.

Seeded in hip-high brome grass, timothy and alfalfa, the farm provides ideal cover for pheasants, presenting a sporting challenge to hunter and dog alike.

Unlike most game farms, Brendean Farm operates on a club basis, the annual membership fee being $125. An additional $3.25 is charged for each bird released.

Shooting was opened to the public September 1. The big opener was September 11, when a hunters' special all-breed gun dog field trial was held. Dogs were judged in pointing and flushing. Two birds and a handler were supplied with each entry and the hunter was allowed to keep both birds — providing he shot them.

While a provincial small game license is required, no special licenses are necessary in Reach township. Pheasant season on game farms in Ontario closes on March 31.

Canadian Springers Outstanding in US Trial

F.T. Ch. Trent Valley Better Bee and Trent Valley Dungarry, English Springer Spaniels owned by Mrs. H. S. Routley, Peterborough, Ont. distinguished themselves at recent American Field Trials. Bee placed 3rd, Amateur Open All Age Stake, 24 entries, at the Ravenna, Ohio Field Trial Club's Trial held at La Grange, Ohio. Dungarry finished in finals. Better Bee is now qualified for the English Springer Spaniel Field Trial Association's National Amateur Championship to be held at Annville, Pa. on November 19. She placed 3rd at the Canadian National Championship Field Trials in 1963 and has three firsts and one second in Open All Age Stakes. Both dogs were bred, trained and handled by Mrs. Routley. Their sire was the great F.T. Ch. Dungarry ex F.T. Ch. Breckonhill Brightest, both of which have several Field Trial champions to their producing bloodlines.

The Last Laugh Is Duke's

If dogs, like people, were inclined to laugh — instead of doing more sensible things like chewing bones and hunting game birds — there's a dog named Duke in Belle Plaine who would have the last laugh on some people.

Duke, whose registered name is Allamuchy's Triumph, has gone the full circle from being a homeless pup at the Humane Society to championship status as a show dog.

It became official when the Rosenbaums received their championship certificate from the American Kennel Club.

With Mr. Rosenbaum handling him, Duke shows the form that made him a champion.

Further coincidence is added to the story by the fact that Duke's home is now only a few blocks from where he lived as a pup.

As a pup, Duke was purchased by R. T. Stafford of Belle Plaine from Larry Atteberry, former Belle Plaine school teacher who raised dogs. It was not that Mr. Stafford didn't like Duke — in fact, he still takes an interest in the dog and stops by to see him once in a while.

But Duke, as many young dogs are inclined to do, acquired a series of playful and boisterous habits which complicated life for his owners in keeping him in town. The Staffords decided that the best thing to do was dispose of Duke.

Mr. Stafford took Duke to the Humane Society in Wichita. He took along papers attesting to the dog's pedigree, which made it certain that the Society would have no difficulty in finding a new home for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosenbaum were living in Wichita at the time and Mrs. Rosenbaum had been looking for a hunting dog for her husband. A friend called her to tell her that there was a dog at the Humane Society "with papers".

Mrs. Rosenbaum immediately went to the Humane Society and purchased Duke for $12.50. Today, using the rule of thumb value on show dogs, $100 per point, the 15 points that Duke accumulated to become a champion represents a substantial increase on the investment.

Mr. Rosenbaum was not impressed when he first saw Duke. The dog had been doing some hunting shortly before he was taken to the Humane Society. He had several scratches and sores that detracted from his appearance.

Since her husband was not sure he even wanted the dog, Mrs. Rosenbaum had him registered in her name.

As Duke was around the Rosenbaums, they began to acquire more respect for him. One incident that opened their eyes was when a man stopped by their house shortly after they had acquired Duke in the fall of 1963 and offered them $200 for him.

As they familiarized themselves with his pedigree, the Rosenbaums discovered that Duke had some impressive ancestors in his background. These included 11 champions in four generations. His grandsire was a grand national champion and his grandmother was a producer of national field and bench champions.

His bedraggled appearance from time spent in the fields hunting belied this background when Mrs. Rosenbaum picked him up at the Humane Society kennels, and the man at the kennels said apologetically, "If you don't want to keep this dog bring him back and we'll let you have another one."

In a short time, however, his new owners knew definitely that they wanted to keep Duke.

The Rosenbaums had no previous experience with showing dogs but they began to get interested and to talk with other owners.

Mrs. Rosenbaum entered Duke in three shows, but did not place. Then Mr. Rosenbaum said he would try showing Duke and if they had no success soon they would stop.

In the first show in which Mr. Rosenbaum entered Duke he won his first point toward the 15 necessary for the coveted championship status. It was in Tulsa, Okla., on April 26, 1964.

With this success, the Rosenbaums got the "fever" and began showing Duke in earnest.

He'd like to enter Duke in field trials, Mr. Rosenbaum said, but probably won't. Duke is an excellent hunting dog and some of the things he does as a hunter would conflict with the discipline and training he would need in field trials.

And, after all, it was a hunting dog that she was looking for when Mrs. Rosenbaum bought Duke for her husband two years ago.

First Vizsla Specialty

With interest in the breed slowly but steadily growing, the Vizsla Club of America staged its first specialty on the picturesque grounds of the Metropolitan Polo Field in Moreland Hills, Ohio August 29. The event was held in conjunction with the Chagrin Valley KC all-breed show. Judge Kenneth M. McDonald of Redondo Beach, Calif. assessed what was undoubtedly the largest assemblage of this hunting dog in North America.

The second national field trial held by the Vizsla Club of Canada north of Winnipeg, September 25-26, indicated a continuing development of the breed in Canada as well.

The Afghan Hound Club of Canada

As the final activity of the year the Afghan Hound Club of Canada will hold a Booster Show at the Ottawa Kennel Club show on November 13, under judge Kenneth Given.

Voting for new officers of the Club is now completed and the new slate of officers will be presented at the Ottawa Show.

Since its inception a little over a year ago, the Afghan Club has been slowly adding to its membership and the secretary has been kept busy answering numerous requests about the breed from all areas of the country, including northern B.C. As the breed is still so rare in Canada, Afghan owners are constantly asked for all types of information, ranging from "How do you tame an Afghan" ! ! ! to "How much grooming do they really need?"

The club is endeavoring to educate and to help all those owning or having an interest in the breed.

Afghan Breeder's Move Required Major Planning

When Mrs. Mary Matchett moved to Markham, Ont. after 20 years in Scarborough, she not only had to move furniture, but was responsible for a dozen Afghan Hounds, 18 Keeshonden, a dozen Whippets and about 20 cats. She did not attempt to care for them at the new location immediately — some are boarded at her partner's kennels in Montreal for a time. Mrs. Matchett is well-known as a judge and breeder of top-winning Afghans. Brought up around kennels, she was familiar with many breeds of dogs, but fell in love with Afghans when she saw a handsome picture, long ago. Among pointers in caring for these long-haired beauties: plenty of baths and brushing with a natural bristle brush, but never a haircut — it requires three years at least, to grow. Her Afghans have the suffix El Myia and her Keeshonden, originating in Holland, bear the suffix Van Myia. A stickler for good temperament and good manners, Mrs. Matchett keeps her large canine and feline family quiet, so that for years many people passed by without ever being aware of the kennel or its size of members and boarders.

Mrs. Matchett warns new owners of her Afghans never to allow them off the leash in public. Swift as an arrow, they pay little or no sense to direction.

Second Top Win in Ten Days For the Basset, Hugo

A Basset slow-moving, ponderous? Not Hugo. Within ten days after taking Best in Show at the CNE show September 2, Ch. Westacre's Hugo the Red went BIS again at the Oakville KC show, September 11. He was named Best Basset in Show at the 5th annual Basset Club of Canada Specialty held at Oakville the same day. Hugo is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter (Westacre's), Oakville, Ont.

Judge for the Specialty was Stan Whitmore, Toronto, who assessed Bassets from as far away as Massachusetts, Michigan and Arizona as well as Ontario dogs. Although the entry of 19 was down from last year, the quality was at least as high as in previous years.

Number of Beagle Trial Judges Shows Competition Size

At the time of writing, 73 men are eligible for approval to judge at licensed field trials for Beagles held under the rules of The Canadian Kennel Club, which gives an indication of the importance of Beagles and beagling in Canada. Of these, 12 are from Nova Scotia, 30 from Ontario and three from Quebec. No Beagle field trial judges reside in the other seven Canadian provinces.

The balance of the 73 men so licensed are from the northern States.

Sadness in Beagle Circles

Canadian Beaglers who have specialized in hare trials were saddened by the death of Leon Bigelow, one of the oldest harebeaglers in North America. Those who competed with him consider it a privilege to have known him, recalling his cheerfulness and fine sportsmanship. Another loss this fall in Canadian Beagle circles was that of John Labonte of the Cornwall Beagle Club whose death was caused by a drowning accident.

Tiniest Cowboys Move the Herd

On the Reiss farm at Kimball, Neb. the horses have helpers come roundup time. The Reiss family, breeders of Dachshunds since 1949, train the little ones to work cows before they are a year old. Nimpo, a Wirehair, is the most incredible of all. Their best "cowboy", he was also their first obedience dog. Just prior to graduation time, one obstinate cow pushed Nimpo against a snowbank in a position from which he could not move. The bovine stepped on his left hind leg and fractured it. But this did not daunt the Dachsie. Somehow controlling the heavy cast, he graduated third in class.

Occasionally when the dogs are out with the horses they take a little longer with their work — they suddenly give their attention to a rabbit.

"They are a big help moving cows from one corral to another or putting them in the chute for branding," Mrs. Reiss told The American Dachshund. "It would be hard to get along without a Dachshund around to help. There are other breeds that make good cow dogs, but we have never found any with more courage, persistence and intelligence than the Dachshund."

Strangers Donate Funds to Send Collie to Family

When Mr. Valentine Palk and family set off from England on a 12,000 mile journey to start a new life in New Zealand, their Collie, Sheba, was tearfully left behind. Sheba fretted so badly that Mrs. Edna Nall, owner of the kennel in which she was placed awaiting a new home, launched a drive for money to send her to her owners. Sympathetic contributors financed the six-week-long sea journey to Auckland. Undoubtedly fatigued and bewildered, Sheba did not at first recognize her adoring family. But when Mrs. Palk put on a coat she wore when walking the Collie from their former home, the result was electrifying. Sheba practically went into orbit. The reunited family have expressed their gratitude to the kind people who donated the £68 (nearly $200) which their own costly travel had made impossible.

Collie Expression

"It is the combined product of the shape of the skull and muzzle, the set, size, shape and color of the eyes, and the position and carriage of the ears." That is Expression as defined in the Collie Club of America Standard. Somehow or other we have become confused in our thinking and too many of us believe "expression" means "ears at attention". There is nothing in the Standard that says so, furthermore many of the most typical Collie expressions are obtained with the ears folded back into the frill.

The shape of the skull and muzzle has a great deal to do with expression. Granted, a Collie with a badly receding backskull can look like a million dollars with ears drawn up tight but has he true Collie expression when the ears are folded back? No, then the hound-like quality of the head is apparent.

Eyes contribute even more to general expression because here we have not only shape but the set, size and color as well. Many a large-eyed dog by the sheer muscular effort of pulling his ears up also pulls the corners of the eyelids so that the eyes do not appear so big. How about this Collie with his ears thrown back? "Soulfull" is the word that comes to mind. The reverse is found in the Collie with too small an eye. He has a mean, gimlet look, a far cry from that "look of eagles". But if the set, size, shape and color are correct the Collie does not have to lift his ears to look the part of companion and protector.

Ears are the crowning glory of expression at attention. Ears are the expressive finish of expression at ease. A Collie that cannot fold his ears back when at ease looks just as much out of place as a Collie at attention with ears flopping down.

I am not advocating that we show our dogs at ease, anymore than I think one should go to sleep at a party, but I do believe that every judge should take into consideration the expression of the Collies before him when at attention, when gaiting and when standing for examination. If this were done fewer Collies with receding skulls would be tolerated. A broad skull is better with the ears down than a receding one. Too much stop stands living with better than a lump between the eyes. If expression were studied in all poses foreign-headed Collies would disappear.

Three Shepherd Features Sparked Rittenhouse Show

German Shepherds received special tribute at the Rittenhouse Square Dog Show (reported in the October issue of Dogs in Canada) at the 14th annual show held in Rittenhouse Square Park in downtown Philadelphia, September 21.

The Delaware Valley German Shepherd Dog Club presented several outstanding specimens of show quality and displayed Shepherds trained in Armed Forces work. This feature was arranged and conducted by club president John Fairweather with the object of educating the public as to the intelligence and capabilities of this breed. On a return visit the State Police of Hershey and the Fairmount Park Guards, both of whom use German Shepherds in police duty, delighted the public with their demonstration of their elite K-9 Corps.

German Shepherd is Manitoba's First Tracker

Comparatively new, the German Shepherd Dog Club of Manitoba which has attracted a membership of more than 100, held its first obedience trials in June and the first licensed tracking test in the Prairie Provinces. Mrs. Darlene Ayre's Spike of Nassau Castle passed, in the competition of 11 dogs, and became Manitoba's first tracking dog. Gordon Ashcroft, CKC Director for Manitoba, presented owner and Spike with a handsome trophy to commemorate the achievement.

The club is dedicated to educating the public as to the merits of the Shepherd.

The newly appointed slate of officers includes: President, R. N. Malone; Vice-President, L. Kaneski; 2nd Vice-President, G. Bauknecht; Secretary, Mrs. D. M. Ayre; 2nd Secretary, Mrs. J. Lamont; Treasurer, H. Tesch.

The secretary's address is 551 Roberta Ave., Winnipeg 15, Man.

Newfoundland Kennels Visited by Club Prexy

Mrs. Katherine Drury, president of the Newfoundland Club of America and daughter Mary, accompanied by Susan Cluderbeck, all of Phelps, N.Y. motored more than 1,000 miles during the month of August, visiting Newfoundland owners and breeders in Western United States and Canada. Their Newf, Dryad's Mistleto, accompanied them as guardian and companion.

Unfortunately, while visiting the well-known judges Major and Mrs. Godsol in San Francisco, Mrs. Drury received word that her husband was ill and flew home. (The name of the Coastwise Kennel of Newfoundlands owned by the Godsols is well-known, but is now extinct.) See 1965 CNE show story in Dogs in Canada. Mary and Susan continued on the trip.

Among the kennels visited in British Columbia were Perivale Kennels at Cowichan Station and Dory'O Kennels in North Surrey. Mary took photographs and notes for a column to appear in the breed section of the American Kennel Gazette.

New Symbol for Newfoundland Club

The Newfoundland Club of Canada is sporting a new symbol — a Newfoundland against the background of the stylized maple leaf of the new Canadian flag. The dog portrayed is a famous one. He is Ch. Westerland Sieger, owned by the late Hon. Harold MacPherson. He was portrayed on two 14-cent stamps of Newfoundland which were issued in 1932 and reissued in 1937 as part of the coronation series.

under the Phillips system. Uncle Remus was not shown until May of last year, at the age of five. In his 11 shows to January of this year (at which he was 2nd in Group under Judge Alva Rosenberg and completed his American title) he was ten times BB. At nine shows where he was entered in group competition he received one 1st, four 2nd and two 3rd placings. All his wins were made from the classes and at large shows where there were never less than 350 to 400 working dogs alone. He was handled exclusively by William Kramer. It is with great sorrow that I write of Uncle Remus, for I had come to love this big dog, not only for his top quality, but also for his great energy, love of life and people.

California Competitors Promote the Sam at PNE

American competitors in the Samoyed breed in the Pacific National Exhibition dog show (August 21, 23, 24) not only showed fine Sams but captivated spectators by their energetic showmanship. The unusual entry of faraway Samoyeds was due in part to the American Samoyed Specialty held at Renton, Wash. close to the time of the PNE dates.

Mr. and Mrs. Sprock of Steamboat, Nev. brought their lovely champions and knitted away the spare hours using Samoyed yarn and displaying beautiful sweaters of combined Mohair and Samoyed hair. They wore blazers of woven Samoyed wool. Mrs. Dolly Ward of California modelled an exquisite sheath dress and full length coat. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Powell, also of California, wore blazers and sweaters of Samoyed yarn while exhibiting.

Working Breeds Work, But Where's the News?

Because of the many and varied activities in which the breeds of the Working Group participate, they just naturally make news. Canadian working dogs are making big strides in American shows as well. And due to the combined efforts of some of the breed clubs, the larger dogs are certainly back in the public eye, despite the fact that more and more Canadians are apartment dwellers. Please don't hide the news of your breed and your dogs in the kennel. Dogs readers would like to hear about it too!

The All Terrier Club of Canada Obedience Trophy — 1964

The All Terrier Club's third annual Obedience Trophy was this year awarded to Mrs. S. M. Luke, 7821 Nursery St., Burnaby, B.C. by the club President, John Devlin, Jr., for her Norwich Terrier, Whinvale Hercules Lucky Fluke, CD. His average score was 196.5. This little guy completed his CD in quite a spectacular manner. Competing in three trials on three consecutive days he scored 193.5, 198, 198 — quite a feat for any breed!

The two runners up were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Moggach's Miniature Schnauzer, Gay Meadows Miss Boo, with an average of 193.8 for the three trials and D. and F. Effinger's Miniature Schnauzer, Lo Maes Tanzer of Mary-O with an average of 193.7.

There were 25 Terriers competing for CD's this past year, six down from 1963, but of these 25, 21 completed their titles and as a whole the scores were up a good deal! The breeds were represented as follows:

Airedales	- 5	Norwich	- 1
Cairns	- 1	Schnauzers	- 9
Wire Fox	- 1	Scotties	- 1
Kerry Blues	- 1	Welsh	- 1
Lhasa Apso	- 1	Westies	- 4

The All Terrier Obedience Trophy (a permanent trophy, by the way) is awarded annually to the highest scoring Terrier CD in Canada. The score is averaged from the three trials required to achieve this title in a single calendar year from January 1 to December 31. These trials must be held in Canada, under the jurisdiction of the CKC and the owner of the dog must be a resident of Canada.

The 1962 trophy went to the Welsh, Tyrone Griffith, the 1963 trophy to the Scottie, Calico Glenna. What breed will it be in 1965 — why not yours?

Rockpiles Gave the Cairn its Name

Did you know that the spunky little Cairn Terrier takes its name from the word cairn, meaning pile of stones? Rock piles formed the major hunting ground in its earliest home in the Isle of Skye and its cliffs and ledges on the wild shores. The Cairn was a "working dog" in its own right.

The modern Cairn should have the spunkiness of its ancestors, even though not called upon to tackle vermin. Interesting is the fact that the breed seems to be extremely free from neurotic problems — undoubtedly due to the fact that the breeders, not too numerous, are dedicated to keeping the Cairn cocky and carefree.

gives satisfactory results. This, he states, is pure out-breeding and he considers you would be stacking your cards against you. He feels it is wiser to invest in one good female, then search carefully for a good stud service. You are then making one investment; and the price of a good stud service is far less than purchasing another male dog, better than the average small breeder could afford to buy or own. Since cost is a great factor, one must also take care and use perception in purchasing a great brood female. She should have proven her producing ability in at least two litters from different studs. This will take patience and study.

"While it is true that like tends to produce like, as evidenced by many of the best brood bitches winning top show honors, it is also true that there have been many well-bred bitches of only fair type that have been very successful brood matrons. This is so because a bitch's quality as a matron depends as much on the purity of the genes in her germ-cells as upon her own external appearance as an individual . . .

"The matron and the ancestry behind her, together, provides one-half of all that goes into a litter, one-quarter from the matron plus one-quarter from her ancestry. Visible good type in the matron is, of course, highly desirable but not indispensable, for at most it is not more than a quarter of the mating . . .

"The necessary sacrifice having been made in type rather than in family, the breeder is in a position to mate to a stud of excellent type and of the same general family as the bitch. Thus may the benefits of selective line-breeding be obtained, which in two or three generations may fairly be expected to provide matrons of far better quality than could have been originally afforded."

Lakeland Specialty Draws Unusually Large Entry

An entry of 36 Lakelands competed at the United States Lakeland Terrier Club specialty held in conjunction with the Olympic KC show in Renton. Wash. August 22. To the knowledge of the writer this was the largest entry of Lakelands at any show in North America. The show was climaxed with a parade of champions of four males and five females led by the club President, Mrs. Ethel St. Pierre and her first champion, Ch. Seascales Lady Amber, now 11 years old.

Ch. Redwood Highlight, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clive N. Pillsbury and handled by Fred Young, went Best of Breed. Best Opposite Sex was Ch. Seascales Sugar Plum, owned and handled by George R. Jones.

While members agreed at a meeting following the show they would like to hold next year's Specialty in the East just before the Westminster Show, the club must have more members in the East before the American Kennel were nowhere in sight, so the writer placed some literature over it, with the hope it would remain unnoticed.

Anyone familiar with dog shows is also familiar with the fact that many a long hour may have to be put in prior to showing, here or in the United States, and especially in the case of two-day shows. Mrs. R. Syme (Do.Ra.B. Kennels), Stouffville, Ont., comes up with one solution. The folding table fronting her benching is imprinted with a checker board and a horse racing game.

As far as could be seen, George Mehlenbacher of Fisherville, Ont. (Mel-Bach) and Mrs. James Pugh (Display) were the only competitors in the CNE shows who were exhibiting entries born of parents having both championship and obedience titles. George's homebred Ch. Mel-Bach's Chalco Chips is a son of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Gayhaven Lldiel Can. & Am. CDX, ex Ch. Saucy Sue of Mel-bach, CD. Mrs. Pugh's homebred Weimaraner, Display's Miss Drew, is a daughter of Ch. Von. Weimar's Spooky Shadow, CD, ex Ch. Robbie's Sheba, CD. □

These are the nine 9½ year-old Airedales who made such a spectacular exhibit at the CNE dog show. (See story page 10). All from the same litter, all are champions and frisky as pups, unwilted after a day of unceasing admiration on the part of exhibitors and spectators. Owner is John Stewart, Crackerjack Kennels, Aurora, Ont.

Urgently Needed: Interesting Topics About Terriers

Help us keep this department interesting and informative. Please be sure to pass on any unusual items concerning members of the terrier family that you may read or hear about. How do you know what will be of interest? Exactly the sort of news items that interest you. Unusual happenings, special stories, interesting background you may find in your reading, wins in American shows, unique litters.

Brussels Import Proving a Winner

Jim Terhune and Howard Robinson of Winnipeg recently imported from Barmere Kennels the winning Brussels Griffon male, Barmeres What's My Line. In his brief show career here, he has nearly completed his Canadian title. Jim plans to send him to the United States to gain his American title as well. Both Jim and Howard are expert photographers and have been taking photographs at most of the shows in the vicinity of Winnipeg.

Western Peke Breeder Imports a Winner

Mrs. R. A. Bird of Winnipeg has imported from Miss Gwenn Redwood of England the Pekingese, Ravenswood Carrou, who is sired by Goofus Caracciola, who in turn is the sire of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Goofus Bugatti. Carrou in his first show in Winnipeg took the Toy Group under Judge Harry Story.

Canadian Pekes Shine in Huge Toy Entry

Susann and Alan Hearne's Pekingese (Su Lan Sung Kennels, Stittsville, Ont.) are being a credit to Canadian Pekes in American shows. Their Ch. (Can. & Am.) St. Aubrey Marie Dee of Elsdon won Best of Breed (five Specials entered) at the Newtown KC, Conn. show under the English breeder-judge, Miss Noel Miller and a placement in the Toy Group (131 Toys entered) under Judge Maurice L. Baker of Minneapolis.

At the Newton KC show in New Jersey she won BB (three Specials entered) and again placed in an exceptionally strong Toy Group, both under the eminent Judge Robert R. Reedy of Reading, Pa. As always, she was handled by Susann Hearne.

Susann also handled the male Pekingese, Ku Chi's Kris of Orchard Hill to some remarkable winning in Maritime shows through to his Canadian title for Mrs. G. Blauvelt-Moss of New Jersey. He has returned to his American handler, Bob Forsyth. At the same shows Susann also handled the female, Ku Chi Noela of Orchard Hill, owned by Ronald Rella of Union, N. J., to Best Opposite in all five shows, to within one point of her Canadian title. (The exact wins may be seen in the official Show and Trial results in Dogs in Canada).

Canadian Pug Represents Standard

Ch. (Can. & Am.) Sabbaday Mac, outstanding Pug owned by Mrs. Pam Reid, Reidcroft Pug Kennels (c/o P.O. Box 9, Richmond, Vancouver, B.C.) has been chosen by the magazine Kennel Review to represent the Standard for the Pug.

Canadian Pug Winner at Finger Lakes Events

Ch. First Young Lord, male Pug owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Limoges, Ottawa, Ont. went Best of Breed over Specials and on to 4th in a very strong Toy Group at the Finger Lakes KC show held at Barton Hall, Cornell University, Ithica, N.Y.

CH. (AM. & CAN.) SABBADAY MAC, took the Toy Group at Canada's second largest show — "The North Shore Kennel Club" show held August 16.

He is pictured above with handler Pat Tripp and England's top judge and world renowned authority on dogs, Mr. Stanley Dangerfield.

In a very limited number of shows, "Mac" has had 2 Group 1sts, 2 Group 2nds, 4 Group 3rds and 2 Group 4ths. Mac is a consistent winner. He has great nobility and elegance, proper length of leg, a perfect topline, not to mention his outstanding showmanship.

He is at stud to approved bitches and puppies are available by him.

FLASH: Mac has just won the Toy Group at the Tacoma Kennel Club (USA) show on October 3 under Judge Derek Rayne.

The Poodle Deserves His Long Popularity

Hayes Blake Hoyt, author of Your Poodle, believes the reason the Poodle's disposition has been preserved without any radical change for the last three centuries can be summed up in three short words: "Poodles like people".

And perhaps people could learn a great deal from the Poodle. Poodle owners may have noted that this breed seems to like people better than their own kind. Not that they don't like other Poodles and dogs of other breeds, they just lavish more love on humans.

Poodles will knock themselves out to please. With their quick intelligence, they are quick to learn. Their sense of humor, which seems predominent in this, more than any other breed as a whole, makes them the best of companions. Few other breeds are such innate clowns.

And yet this breed, which comes from a working family, that is working in the sense of retrieving, is a hardy one.

Mrs Hoyt, one of the most famous of Poodle breeders in the world, has taken her dogs through top place in many of the largest shows in this continent, through obedience and field work. Her Ch. Blakeen Cafe Parfait, CD, an expert retriever, won at least three Best in Show awards as well as his obedience title. His exploits won him a story and photograph in the National Geographic Magazine.

A dog specialist all her life, Mrs. Hoyt has also bred Gordon Setters and Afghan Hounds. She is also an authority on field trial Pointers and Beagles.

What's Happening in the Non-Sporting Breeds?

This group is the smallest of the six groups in the dog family, and yet it contains some of the most unusual and interesting breeds. There's a great deal to talk and write about, if readers will cooperate and send in newsworthy items about their own dogs, other people's dogs and even other breeds. Please keep your eye open for items in your newspapers and magazines, for news of imports, dogs in heroic action, humorous bits, all the kinds of brief items you like to read.

New Version of Puppy Film Available

A completely new and revised version of a long-time film favorite, "Bringing Up Your Puppy," has been completed by the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York, for showings by dog clubs, schools, service clubs and various types of organizations.

The 16 mm film — in color and sound — runs about 30 minutes and presents advice on how and where to purchase a puppy, feeding, veterinary care, grooming, collar and leash training, and several other important aspects of looking after the new puppy.

Reservations for showings are being accepted and the Center recommends that in requesting the film to allow at least four weeks fulfillment time. A specific showing date is required plus an alternate, in the event the film is not available for the initially requested date.

Correspondence about the film should be directed to Gaines, General Foods, Ltd., 2200 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont.

You can't buy loyalty
they say
I bought it though the other day.

You can't buy friendship
tried and true
Well, just the same,
I bought that too.

I made my bid and on the spot
Bought love and faith
and a whole job lot
Of happiness;
so all in all
The purchase price was pretty small.

I bought a simple,
trusting heart
That gave devotion
from the start.

If you think these things are not for sale
Buy a brown-eyed pup with a wagging tail.

Dog research has advanced,
You'll agree;
What was once simply an itch
Is today called
An allergy.

Memo from the Editor

They have to spend to exist while away from home.

The other greatest essential, if your club is to grow, as has the Bermuda Kennel Club, is to put ambitions for yourself and your dogs in second place. Respect the ideas of others and if they have merit, give them your support. If you feel some of the ideas are not good enough, do some real thinking and come up with better ones.

Perhaps the whole secret of the success of a dog club is in one word — giving. Give of your own knowledge and experience to the club in general and to novices in particular. In doing so you are not draining yourself, rather you are, in a tiny way, building something of a memorial — for who knows what harvest may be reaped from the seeds of your time and help.

Happy anniversary, Bermuda Kennel Club. □

In dogdom, as in any other field, most prints on the ladder of success are left by work shoes.

DOGS & PEOPLE

Died: Mrs. James De Buts (Hilda May) Cowan of Kaslo, B.C., one of Canada's oldest and most famous breeders, at the age of 81. Mrs. Cowan, a grand old trouper who thought nothing of driving hundreds of miles through mountain roads in all kinds of weather with a load of magnificent Great Danes to show, was best known for her blue Danes. She had lived thoroughly and sometimes dangerously throughout her life. During World War I she served as an ambulance driver with the FANY Corps and in 1914 was decorated with the Military Medal while overseas. She is one of the very few women ever to be awarded this medal. Her kennel career began 62 years ago in England. She and her husband came to Canada in 1928, bringing their dogs with them. The Rungmook Kennels achieved their first blue Great Dane championship in 1908. Imports from England and the States were added to further develop the bloodline. Many times runners-up to the top dog, Rungmook Kennels achieved two Best in Show awards in Canada; two won the Blue Champion title at Topeka, Ka. in 1963 and in Pennsylvania in 1964. One of Mrs. Cowan's entries went BIS in the Philippines in 1951 and a BOS was earned in 1964. In addition to breeding an estimated 4,000 Danes, Mrs. Cowan in her earlier days was an accomplished horsewoman and gardener. Her husband, who attended many of the shows until ill health prevented travel, predeceased her in 1964. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Plucky little Mother Cecilia Mary, who at the age of 75 refused to knuckle under church orders to dissolve her animal shelter in Victoria, B.C. is again in the news. (She recently rated a picture story in Life magazine). With a little band of sisters equally devoted to the welfare of animals, she has switched her allegiance "to another part of the Roman Catholic Church" under which the nuns will have freedom to continue the work.

Among Canadians planning to attend the Bahamas KC show Nassau January 10 to 20, 1966 are Mr. and Mrs. William Gottschalk and Mrs. Blanche Roberts of Toronto. Mr. Gottschalk has been assigned the job of printing the catalogue for this show, as he has done for so many years for the annual Sportsmen's Dog Show.

Good wishes to Malcolm Fellows who not only embarked on a new life as a married man this summer, but has started a small kennels in Two Mountains, Que. as well. And now he is so busy handling dogs for clients he has little time to get his own in the ring.

With him is Carl Wood, a director of the American Boxer Club and a representative of the BKC. Mr. Wood is also a judge of Boxers and Doberman Pinschers.

Travellers: Reg. P. Sparkes, Toronto, of Bulldog note and well-known all-round judge, is equally well-regarded in another field, metallurgy. On a lecture tour in the Southern States a short time ago, he narrowly missed the holacaust created by Hurricane Betsy, only to run into racial trouble in Springfield, Mass. on a judging assignment. Springer Spaniel breeder Anne Snelling of Ottawa and others from that city were also in the danger area. When Mr. Sparkes went to the show venue the night before the show, he found a foretaste of a difficult affair — no benching, no catalogues. The colored labor had left their work in order to participate in the trouble zone. The show took place after a worrisome three-hour delay. . . . Undoubtedly one of Canada's most-travelled woman judges, Mrs. Mary Southcott, Milton, Ont. flies to Arizona the last weekend of this month on an assignment, followed by another in Hawaii the first weekend in December. She has judged as far south as Puerto Rico. In May, 1966 she judges the German Shepherd Obedience Specialty, Long Island. Guests of Mary and Jim for the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada 43rd Annual Canadian Specialty were two real Shepherd enthusiasts, the Amedons of Hawaii, who make a point of attending the Specialty every few years. . . . At the dinner following the Shepherd Specialty, GSDC president Harry Watson told Dogs in Canada he has travelled 17 times to Germany and Europe, taking in the major German Shepherd events, sometimes crossing the ocean several times a year.

In the News: Mrs. Herb Routley, Peterborough, Ont. was featured recently by Globe and Mail sports columnist Eldon Stonehouse. A delightful woman of whom Canadian dogdom can be justifiably proud, Mrs. Routley, at 74, is still winning field trials. While she no longer rises at four a.m. to train difficult dogs she can come out smiling after steady competition in 90 degrees heat. Her training secret is no secret: simply "patience, kindness and lots of work." . . . An excellent picture story on Mrs. Mary Matchett (El Myia Kennels), West Hill, Ont. appeared in the Scarboro Mirror, on the occasion of her moving her El Myia Kennels to R.R. 1, Markham, Ont. after 20 years in Scarborough. For further information on the activities of these two great ladies of Canadian dogdom, see Breed Notes in this issue.

Recuperating at home is Carl Pearce, Toronto, who was involved in a head-on collision September 9. He was hospitalized suffering from whiplash and multiple abrasions. Doctors hope he will be back to work at Pervinal within the next two months . . . Much luckier was Mrs. Andrena Brunotte, Caistor Centre, Ont., who on the way home from one of the CNE dog shows, had her Volkswagen van rammed in the rear. The engine, in the back of the van, was smashed. Neither driver nor dogs were hurt.

Travellers to England: Miss Mary Blackburn, Stittsville, Ont., where she visited some Yorkshire Terrier kennels. . . . Mrs. E. B. (Pudge) Reid, also of Stittsville, to London, to visit her sister and ailing mother, returning early this month.

Seen at the Montgomery County KC show at Gwynedd Valley, Pa., October 10, as exhibitors or visitors were Mrs. Ethel Sipes, Mrs. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins (who was ring stewarding), Barb and Ross Pirrie, Dr. Ellen Brown, Ethel and William Gottschalk, Mary Curran, Betty Hyslop, Elizabeth Golby and husband Eric, Cliff Tushingham, Barbara Meeker-Sully, Mr. and Mrs. Cummings and Hank Bennink. This annual All Terrier Specialty is a "must" for terrier enthusiasts. BIS judge this year was the noted English judge, Stanley Dangerfield. The show is held on the beautiful estate of Mr. G. Harrison Frazier, Jr.

It takes more understanding

Whether it's a routine checkup, immunization shot or preparation for surgery, the veterinarian must have a lot of patience and understanding to win the confidence of his canine patients. By questioning you he learns about any changes in your dog's behaviour pattern. By examining your dog, he can detect symptoms of disease and can then take remedial action. When you have a particular problem with your dog and you want professional advice, see your veterinarian.
