DOGS IN CANADA

MAY 66. VOL. 56, NO. 8, APEX PUBLISHERS AND PUBLICITY LIMITED

cover story

This month's cover features some of the young stock typical of the Rouge breeding and import program.

The puppy at left, Gale's Bright Gem of the Rouge (at five months), is a home-bred daughter of our Wigtown Nightingale (one of the puppies featured on Dog's cover two years ago as a daughter of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Shipmates Hannibal) by Wigtown Ruffy (a young import by Am. Ch. Flogan Full Sail ex Am. Ch. Wigtown Lover Girl).

Next is Glen Oak Blitzen of the Rouge (at three months), a male stud-fee puppy bred by Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacKay of Oakville, sired by our Ch. (Can. & Am.) Mercury of the Rouge out of Souvenir of the Rouge (a daughter of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Wigmac O My Joshua ex Ch. Philomel of the Rouge) whom we feel should make a welcome addition to our breeding stock.

Third from the left is Ch. Cooper's Annie Laurie, who completed her title at this year's Sportsmen's Shows. 'Annie', bred by Wm. E. Cooper of Indianapolis, (by Am. Ch. Wigtown Talent Scout ex Tammy Lassie O, she is a litter sister to W. Ruffy's dam), and imported at eight weeks of age, has already raised two fine litters of six and five puppies, and will be campaigned in the USA this summer. Her background is interesting as she has strong lines back to that great old-timer Ch. (Can. & Am.) Highland Ursa Major and Am. Ch. Edgerstoune Radium, and to Eng. Ch. Melbourne Mathias and some of the old Wolvey Champions.

At right is Forest Glen Hannipeg, who was the third Hannibal daughter featured on the May '64 cover. Bred by Mrs. C. C. Fawcett of Kirkwood, Mo., she is out of Am. Ch. So-Eagerly of Forest Glen, a bitch with a strong Shiningcliff background. 'Hannah' raised a fine litter last year and gained her first point at the Sportsmen's Shows this year, but as she is currently in whelp to Ch. (Can. & Am.) Danny Boy of the Rouge she will not appear in the show ring again until late fall. Even this informal photograph shows the beautiful shoulders and straight fronts of both these bitches, points of which we are proud in all Rouge stock.

During the past year we have been gratified at the progress of Rouge-bred dogs in Canada and the USA. Ch. (Can. & Am.) Danny Boy of the Rouge (by Ch. (Can. & Am.) Shipmates Hannibal ex Am. Ch. Klin-

NO "LIFE" FOR DOGS

. . . I am enclosing an article from Life magazine. This is a tragic story and I am pleading with Dogs to print a warning or get permission to print the article from Life. Have you looked at our 'Lost and Found' columns in the newspapers? Around Xmas there were five to ten and sometimes 15 dogs missing a day. Where are these dogs going? Do we have a racket the same as this in Ontario? I very sadly believe we do! Is our area SPCA doing anything or are they even aware of these people? I tell you it positively makes my heart bleed when I look at something like this article.

The story of Heidi made me weep. It was very tragic but I feel this (the article in Life) is worse. Please set the public wise to these people. Purebred or mongrel they are all God's creatures.

. . . My ad brought tremendous response and letters; a sign of your readers' interest and the growing demand for a splendid magazine. Keep up the good work . . . Am working in new mediums — ceramics and sculpture for bookends and hope to have some ready for the Canadian shows.

ENJOY BREED STANDARD QUIZZ

. . . Just a note to let you know how much fun and enjoyment we received from your two Breed Standard Quizzes and will be looking forward with anticipation to the rest of the series.

Would this be of any interest to your readers: From the old "Book of Explorers" by Arthur Hayward — Captain Scott Reaches the South Pole:

The return journey to the camp was marked by an exciting episode. One day, as they were speeding over the snow, the dogs racing along at full tilt, and the men running alongside, Wilson suddenly shouted 'Hold onto the sleds'. The next instant the whole team disappeared through the snow into a vast crevice which had been but lightly bridged over and hung dangling by their harness, howling and barking with fright. The sled was hauled clear and anchored and the animals were drawn up carefully in couples. But two had fallen out of their collars and were barking far below on a ledge of snow upon which they had fallen. With an Alpine rope tied around him, Scott was lowered into the abyss and rescued the two dogs. But it was all his companions could do to haul him up again, so badly were all their hands bitten with the frost. He might easily have lost his life but all he thought about, once the dogs were safe, was to seize this splendid opportunity of examining the sides of a crevice.

CORRECTION IN MANCHESTER TERRIER ITEM

. . . Thank you so much for printing the article on Manchester Terriers in your April edition — page 42.

There is one point however which I would like you to correct (this error was either caused by myself in the excerpt I sent you or else it was caused in your typographical room) and that is in column 3, the sixth line which reads "finally down to 12 lbs.". This should read "finally down to 2 lbs.".

CONCERNING HIP DYSPLASIA

. . . It seems that the time has come to stand up and be counted on the question of hip dysplasia.

In the March issue of Dogs we find the opinions of two German Shepherd Dog breeders, Mr. Gordon Garrett, a greatly respected Shepherd man in this part of Canada, and Mr. G. W. Frost who, with 30 years of breeding behind him must certainly have a following.

How confusing for comparative newcomers to the breed, like myself. We look to the oldtimers and dedicated breeders for guidance and advice and wonder how there can be any disagreement on what seems to be a basic truth. A working dog is either sound or unsound so why all the "agitation"? The faults "which are so obvious" are ones we can learn to avoid in our breeding programs, or maybe even take a risk with one if a dog or bitch has other fine qualities to offer, but let us not be in the dark about this fault.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett, in acting on their convictions, obviously suffered considerable loss, not only because they loved their little bitch, but right where it hurts — in the pocket book. And they would surely have had no difficulty in selling puppies from a bitch that looked and moved so well. Other breeders have made similar sacrifices in the cause for better German Shepherd Dogs and they, with their proven-normal animals, should be known, so that in selecting our stud dogs and brood bitches we can calculate our chances, not only of long coats, soft ears etc., but of dysplastic hips also.

Let us X-ray and have the plates read by one authority in the field of hip dysplasia approved by the G.S.D.C. of Canada. We may not always care for the opinions we get and it is possible that some errors may be made in borderline cases but obviously we must start somewhere, so let's get up off our hips and on with our efforts to improve our wonderful breed.

NASSAU-VANCOUVER HANDLER "THE BEST"

. . . With reference to your article "The Most Fantastic Show", Mr. Stanley Dangerfield's comments in the English Magazine Our Dogs will, I am sure, be of interest to your readers:

"There were other good dogs there. And not all of them fared so well. For example Pat Tripp, a handler now living in Vancouver but originally from England brought down a team of 10 which everybody confessed was the best team in the show. She had quality in depth and given luck might have won the show. The luck turned the other way. She did not have one in the final! She finished with something which may be more durable. Our respect. She also left us with the thought that although not a "fashionable" handler, she may well be the best on the entire North American continent".

WINNING ISN'T EVERYTHING

. . . I find your magazine very informative and an excellent means of communicating with other enthusiasts and have several of your attractive binders full. . . I have particularly enjoyed and benefitted from Mrs. Dennis Gardiner's series on ROC . . . she was very helpful to me at a recent show and even though my dog didn't do any fantastic winning, I left the show feeling that I'd had far more than my money's worth. I go to shows to learn and have found many of the experienced breeders helpful and interested . . . one once told me that when you get serious about winning, it's time to stay home for awhile. This person has done a great deal to improve her breed and has several champions of note, and yet after many years of showing, she still goes primarily because she enjoys it.

QCT & TA HITS NEW HIGH

. . . A new record has been set by the Queen City Training & Tracking Associates in the club's third year. Forty-eight dogs were registered in this Spring session.

This is the second largest training organization in Ontario that we know of; the GSDC of Canada is first in registration. We have 36 beginners in the Novice work, six dogs in the Advanced Class (Open work) and three Shepherds who have been qualified for Tracking Tests. Plus the three dogs, Miniature Poodle, Airedale and St. Bernard from South Porcupine, Ont. the writer is training along with the classes to show how it should be done. . .

The QCT & TA is one of the most unique dog organizations . . . a small group of workers, banded together in the name of Obedience . . no officers, no club meetings.

The graduation exercises offer trophies to the 4th place for qualifying scores, also for Most Improved Dog and Most Improved Handler in each of the classes; breed trophies (for two or more competing in the Combined Classes); qualifying ribbons as earned and diplomas to all trainees on graduation night.

We attribute at least a part of our success to our advertising in Dogs in Canada.

KENNEL NEWS

DR. JIM CORBIN MANAGER DOG RESEARCH

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT SUPPLEMENTS

Many dog owners, breeders and veterinarians feel that commercial dog foods must be supplemented to provide complete nutrition. Research at the Purina Dog Care Center — with 9,000 dogs — has shown that Purina Dog Chow requires no supplementation. In fact, supplementation may actually cause nutritionally induced abnormalities. Here's how a few of the more frequently used supplements can produce imbalances.

Raw eggs are sometimes fed continuously to add luster and firmness to the dog's coat. However, they can actually cause hair loss and dermatitis and affect growth in puppies. This is because egg whites contain the enzyme avidin which ties up the vitamin biotin, an essential to good coat condition and growth. If eggs are cooked the avidin is rendered harmless.

Calcium: The addition of excess supplemental calcium to an adequate diet can produce hypercalcemia, causing abnormal bone and teeth development. An example of this, especially in young, growing dogs, is rickets. For normal development in dogs, a calcium-phosphorous ratio of 1.2 to 1 is optimum. Additional calcium may throw this delicate ratio off and also prevent efficient assimilation and utilization of other minerals.

Cod liver oil as a source of vitamins A and D may, when fed in excess, produce Vitamin D toxicosis. For normal bone and teeth formation, vitamin D must be supplied in proper proportion along with calcium and phosphorous. Abnormal bone development in growing dogs and soft tissue calcification can take place with excess vitamin D.

Vitamin A: High levels of supplemental vitamin A can cause toxicity and death. Hypervitamintosis A can cause osteoporosis in bones making them highly vulnerable to erosion and injury. Curiously, the symptoms of hypervitamintosis A are similar to those found in deficiencies.

Purina Dog Chow contains sufficient quantities of vitamins and minerals, plus other natural ingredients necessary for normal good health. Occasionally, an individual dog may have a need for a specific nutrient that is higher than average, but these cases are exceptional. More and more, dog owners discover that supplementation offers no particular advantage to their dogs and may actually prove harmful.

HOW MANY PUPPIES WILL THERE BE?

Most pet owners are interested in knowing how many puppies can be expected after their bitches have been bred. The number of puppies born to each litter is influenced by the age of the bitch, number of pups in earlier litters, physical condition, breed and strain, and previous and present nutrition.

A study of 3,251 English Setters born alive at the Purina Dog Care Center in 410 litters shows that maximum puppy production per litter was attained about the sixth litter. Eighty-four bitches averaged 7.1 pups in the first litter; the average increased with each succeeding litter, reaching a high of 9.0 for 35 bitches at the sixth litter. After the sixth litter, the average declined sharply to a low of 3.5 puppies born at the thirteenth litter for two bitches. Some bitches consistently produced litters larger than the average while others produced smaller litters.

Similar trends are being observed in other breeds. There are 17 breeds at the Dog Care Center ranging in size from Great Dane to Chihuahua. It has been observed that smaller breeds of dogs, in general, tend to have fewer pups. In all, more than 8,300 pups have been used in nutrition research since Purina's Dog Research program was initiated in 1925.

Practically all of these puppies were produced on rations of Purina Dog Chow, Purina Dog Meal or experimental rations. No supplements were used. Normal, well-managed puppies fed Purina Dog Chow or Purina Dog Meal develop into sound, healthy dogs ready for home pets or for farm or field work.

the old timer

"Of course it's going to take time," said the Old Timer.

I'd been leafing through his premium lists to see if there were any I had missed and his comment took me by surprise. My surprise probably showed on my face, for the Old Timer gave a quiet chuckle, pulled up his chair and sat down.

"I was thinking of that new Miscellaneous Class," he said "but from what we've seen of the shows this year it doesn't seem that it is going to be an overnight sensation at Canadian dog shows."

"Miscellaneous Class?" I asked.

The Old Timer gave me that particular Old Timer look.

"Surely you know that we've now got a Miscellaneous Class in Canada," he said "for certain of those breeds not recognized as registerable by The Canadian Kennel Club. Surely you know it was on the last referendum ballot and that the class was approved by the members."

When he reminded me of it I remembered it vaguely but had to admit that it had slipped my memory since the result of the balloting had been announced.

"But what do you mean it's going to take time?" I asked.

"Time for the word to get around that these rare breeds can be shown even though they don't accumulate championship points, time for the clubs to make provision for their showing and, above that, I would say, time for there to be enough of the breeds to make the class an interesting one.

"Even in the United States, where the class has been provided for, for some time now, I've only seen dogs in competition in it in the larger shows. But it's been an interesting class, any time I've seen it. You see breeds that you never see in Canada and some of them have merit. But, unless United States exhibitors move to popularize the breeds in Canada I see very little likelihood of the Miscellaneous Class drawing many entries, for the time being at least. We just don't have the representatives of the breeds in this country."

"What about the long term view," I asked.

"Certainly," said the Old Timer "before people buy any of these rare breeds — let's say a Miniature Bull Terrier which could be a quite interesting breed — they are going to have to see them. The same would go for a Tibetan Terrier or the Soft Coated Wheaten Terrier — and incidentally I'm not sure that these are among the breeds which may be shown in Canada — because I'm talking about those Miscellaneous Classes I've seen in the States. And if none of these breeds are owned in Canada who is going to give the public a chance to see them, unless the American exhibitors come up? And I doubt they'll make the trips to Canadian shows when there are no championship points in it for them."

"Well, if they can be shown, and if they can be popularized, wouldn't it mean that eventually some of the breeds — the more popular at least — would eventually be recognized by The Canadian Kennel Club?" I asked.

"Perhaps eventually," he said, "but eventually could be a long, long time. I'm basing that on the experience of the Shih Tzus in the United States. As you know, they've been recognized for quite some time in Canada, without the benefit of any Miscellaneous Class. In the United States they are not recognized yet although they have been shown in the Miscellaneous Class for quite some time now.

"However it can be an interesting development. I'm glad the class is now provided for. But if it is to mean anything I think there's got to be much more aggressive promotion. I'd suggest the CKC might do a little more publicizing. They might impress on show-giving clubs the desirability of featuring the class in their premium lists. Without this aggressive promotion I think we may have opened a door through which nobody will ever pass." □

Don't Let Your Dog Near a Bucket of Beer

Some dogs, according to a recent article in the Chicago Sun Times, have a problem with alcoholism. Dr. Harry W. Boothe of La Grange, Ill., speaking at the Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association convention, described some of his patients. Most came from honky-tonks or wealthy homes, but their problem was similar. Here's how some dogs got off the wagon: Bar girls, working on a percentage system, would dump unconsumed portions of their drinks bought by customers into a bucket behind the bar. Bored and thirsty, the customers' dogs would at first quench their thirst from the bucket but later, through sheer enjoyment, would return — too often.

Dr. Boothe was most concerned about owners (usually showoffs themselves) who give their dogs beer in a saucer. Sometimes, to get the dogs back in condition, medical treatment is required — and a stiff talk to the owner.

TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS

BY JAKE GIACOMELLI

In last month's issue I promised to cover points to watch when teaching the "Go", and also teach the Directional Jumping portion of this exercise.

POINTS TO WATCH:

(1) Every time you send your dog out on the "Go" — never call him back to praise him. Go out to where he is, squat down beside him and praise him plenty. The exercise of walking out to where he is and squatting down beside him will do you a world of good. If you start the habit of calling him back after he has gone out on the "Go", it will have the effect of your dog starting to anticipate the Recall order you are going to give him, as well as tend to induce a short "Go". It is time enough to call him back when the Directional Jumping starts.

(2) Never settle for a shorter Go than you ask for. If your dog has had enough training to go the distance you want him to and he doesn't comply — then swiftly and firmly apply the correction necessary to get him there — NO ANGER, PLEASE — JUST A FIRM CORRECTION.

(3) Don't rush teaching the Go, do it in small easy stages — constant repetition will create miracles — if you praise often enough, that is!!

TEACHING DIRECTIONAL JUMPING:

All trainees, please note — we are not interested in height at this stage — just direction. For little dogs, set your jump about 6" high; for the larger dogs, about one foot high. You are going to spend one week on the right hand directional, second week on the left directional, and the third week onwards, both directionals. Any CDX dog that has learned to jump on command will not attempt to go under the bar jump if it is set quite low to start with. Later, when he has learned his directional jumping well, you can start raising it an inch or so every other night, and before you know it he'll be jumping his prescribed jumping height. If you set your bar jump too high at the start your dog will probably walk under it instead of going over.

1st Week — Right Directional:

Let's start with the High Jump — your dog is familiar with it.

(a) Place your dog about four feet back of and facing the low set High Jump — give him a "Stay" command and go to a position where you will stand about one foot to the left of the left side post of the High Jump and three feet back of the jump, facing your dog.

(b) When you are ready and in this order —

(1) Lean your body to the right as far as you can and raise your right arm and hand simultaneously pointing in the right direction.

(2) After you are leaning to the right and your arm and hand are fully extended, then give the command "Over". (Any dog that has its CDX and is sitting this close to a low set jump will do it immediately on his handler's command to "Over" or "Jump", or whatever command you give to get your dog to jump.)

(3) As your dog starts to gather himself to go over the jump — add a second command such as "Hup" — (The regulations state that if you use a second command at this point — (and you are allowed to) — it must be a different command than the one used to start your dog towards the jump. This "Hup" command at the jump can be the difference between qualifying and failing. I have seen dogs, my own and others, who, as they were approaching the designated jump, were distracted enough that it was quite obvious they were going to pass just short of the jump — and only that additional "Hup" command snapped them out of it and saved the day.

(4) When your dog is in mid-air over the Jump, turn to face him, and after he has landed call him toward you, order him to sit in front of you and pour on the praise. Don't bother with the finish at this stage — let's keep it as happy as we can.

You will find that in a short while, after repeat performances, your dog will automatically come to you after taking the jump, and will sit facing you.

(c) When your dog is doing the preceding jumping setup with no difficulty, it is time to place him still four feet from the Jump, but in such a position that the Jump appears about a foot to his left. Place yourself in the same place as outlined in (a) above — this will have the effect of placing you and your dog facing each other about seven feet apart with the High Jump slightly on one side.

Now, repeat step (b) in its entirety. If your dog takes the Jump and comes in and sits in front of you — praise like the dickens — you're on your way to teaching the right directional.

Should your dog attempt to come to you, move in quickly to intercept him and make sure he takes the Jump. As a rule, if the distance from the side of the Jump is moved over very gradually, your dog will not come toward you, but will take the jump.

With only one jump to take and decide on, there's really not much to confuse your dog — it's like learning a new single obedience exercise.

If you practice the outlined routine about ten times each day — at the end of one week your dog and you should be about ten feet from one side of the jump — and he should have no problem in being able to take a ten foot wide directional — it's steady, regular practice that does it!!

2nd Week — Left Directional:

Same as all the steps explained in (a), (b) and (c), except all the movements and directions are just opposite to those explained in the Right Directional.

During the second week review one or two right directional, but concentrate the steady practice for the new left directional you are teaching.

Next month we'll combine the jumps and then put the complete Directional Jumping exercise together.

22 Days "Up in the Air" Space Dogs Return Safely

Altitude record breakers recently were two dogs, Veterok (Blackie) and Ugolek (Breezy) who on February 22 rocketed into an orbit from 116 miles to 562 miles above earth — an altitude never approached by manned Soviet or U.S. flights, according to the news agency Tass. The agency announced that the dogs were in good condition after landing, and according to published pictures they appeared to be. Corset-like contraptions equipped with scientific measuring equipment were part of their garb. Paste food was assimilated through tubes inserted in their stomachs.

I prefer Milk-Bone to a T-Bone any day

Milk-Bone Dog Biscuits provide all the chewing exercise I need. And they're plenty nourishing, too. For example, Milk-Bone Biscuits contain, ounce for ounce, twice the protein of the average canned dog food.

How about that! Not to mention all the other ingredients Milk-Bone has that are important to a dog's vitality. And chewing Milk-Bone helps whiten my teeth, sweeten my breath.

Be sure your dog gets proper nourishment. Supplement his daily feeding with Milk-Bone Dog Biscuits.

And for a change of flavors, give him Milk-Bone Brand Flavor Snacks. Same nourishment, six different flavors in every box.

MILK-BONE BRAND DOG BISCUITS

INGREDIENTS: Unbleached Wheat Flour, Whole Milk, Soybean Oil Meal, Meat Meal, Wheat Germ, Liver Meal, Animal Fat, Tomato Pomace, Calcium Carbonate (Limestone) Bone Meal, Salt, Leavening, Riboflavin, Vitamin A Concentrate, Irradiated Brewer's Type Yeast.

LONDON CALLING

BY Stanley Dangerfield

Tea merchant turned dog specialist, Mr. Dangerfield's early interest in Wire-haired Fox Terriers has expanded to embrace all breeds, but widespread commitments have curtailed his breeding and exhibiting activities. He is one of the most widely travelled dog judges in the world; in the past few years he has judged in 30 different countries. He is also a familiar figure on British television, in both editing and appearances. In addition to magazine work he has authored six books on dogs. Chief steward at Crufts for 12 years, he is now on the committee. He has been a member of the English Kennel Club since 1952.

Maybe a writer introducing a column should first declare his prejudices. That way, his readers would know when they had to take notice and when he was merely riding an old hobby horse. When to accept his words as unbiased truth and when to add a pinch of salt. They could even decide if he was worth reading at all!

If I wrote all mine down I suspect my readership would drop to nil right away. So I'll settle for a few dislikes instead.

I dislike the beaten exhibitor who asks the judge what was wrong with his dog when not seeking knowledge. Judges who apologise afterwards. Owners who discreetly acquaint a judge of a dog's record before he officiates. Judges who prove their honesty by putting their friends' good dogs down the line. Show officials who consider themselves before the society they pretend to serve. Rain. Dogs which bite me. Fools who pretend the world of dogs is perfect. Knaves who wilfully make it less so. The use of the word 'fabulous' to describe living dogs. Being told that something is impossible. And writers who compose long and complicated paragraphs.

Did you see the Wall Street Journal's piece on dogs?

It somewhat regretfully doubted the possibility of reducing the sum of one and a half million dollars a year which Americans allegedly spend buying British dogs.

It went on to say that dog imports increased by 18 per cent last year and advanced two theories. That first it was smart, chic and very snob to own a dog wearing a 'made in England' label.

My response is brief, expressive of disbelief and unprintable.

The second point was that regular replacements are necessary because dogs tend to grow too big in the States. This contention is nearer the mark. But oddly and perversely enough it applies principally to the breeds which we particularly want to keep small. Certainly second and third generation Whippets, Fox Terriers and Poms, to take but three examples, are on the large side in America.

Perhaps the climate affects them. A more simple explanation could be that many American judges will accept dogs a size larger than we will. On the whole it is judges who set the pattern because exhibitors, being human, tend to show what they can win with.

They are also human enough to be indignant when a judge cries: "Halt. You have gone too far. This is a giant". They are scornful. So and so is getting old. Losing his grip. And his eye.

Then they go shopping for new stock of the right size!

Talking of exports, it is not generally appreciated, even here, that Canadians buy more of our dogs per head of the population than do Americans.

The actual figures of exports for 1965 were 2,709 dogs to the United States and 590 to Canada. As a matter of interest our next best customer was France with 442. Our total exports for the year were 6,247 dogs and it's a safe guess that around a million pounds changed hands.

Maybe dogs will solve our balance of payments crisis yet. If, that is, we can persuade them not to insist upon eating wheat (in the shape of biscuits) meat and fish, most of which has to be imported!

Still on the subject of what we call exports and you imports. Let's admit that not every customer is satisfied. Sad but true I would not expect them to be. Hope, yes; but not expect.

Doubtless we have some breeders here who are not too scrupulous. Maybe you even have some in Canada. But on the whole they are not a bad lot. If I thought they were, being conceited enough to believe that I could earn a living elsewhere, I should quit. Imagine constantly associating with rogues!

They do however, make mistakes. The biggest in my opinion is to send fair and modestly priced specimens to countries like your own where standards are high. A £50 dog cannot beat your best although it might well be a sensation in Burma. If I had a dog worth £50 I would not sell it to you because I know you would grumble like crazy every time you got beaten.

Importers also make mistakes. First, not all being millionares, some try to buy brilliant animals at modest prices. Sometimes they succeed. But it is an accident and one which reflects on the judgment of the thousands of fanciers in this country who dearly love a bargain themselves!

Their other mistake is not allowing for genuine differences of opinion.

The fact that you think a dog is great does not make it great. Even if honestly held, your opinion could be wrong. It works the other way as well.

Frankly I think that to buy a dog unseen is crazy. It's even crazier to complain when the dog does not suit your taste.

But the craziest of all is to sell a dog across an ocean. You often part with something you like and believe in and in return you get abusive letters and a sharp decline in business.

Fortunately, knowing that a system is crazy will not stop dog people operating it. Indeed it seems to spur them on. Especially when they have no reasonable alternative! □

Trio's First Sanction Show and Obedience Match Huge Success

The Trio Kennel and Obedience Club held its first Sanction Show and Sanctioned Obedience Match at York Market, Thornhill, Ont., on February 27, with well over 200 entries. Most of The Canadian Kennel Club's directors attending the club's annual meeting were present.

Mr. Vic Williams (CKC President) judged Group III and BIS, which latter award was won by Della Ray's Hamlet, a white male Standard Poodle owned by Mrs. Dorothy Sugden of Stouffville. Bred by Mrs. D. MacRae, he was handled by Lorna Jackson.

Entries at the Sanctioned Obedience Match were very good — over 20.

The club wishes to thank all those who helped to make its first show such a success. —Mrs. Hilda Pugh

RETRIEVERS
IN THE FIELD

Ruth Copeland is well qualified to comment on Retriever Field activity in Canada. Her column appears regularly in the January, May and September issues. Address all correspondence relating to this department directly to her at 159 Main St. West, Grimsby, Ont. Your views and opinions will be welcomed by her.

OF CANADA
The 1966 National Championship Stake will be held Thanksgiving on October 5 to 9; hosts will be the Edmonton Sporting Dog Club. National Vice President Dr. Brian L. Dunsworth and his committees have plans well in hand to ensure good grounds and an excellent trial. For those who can stay for hunting in this fabulous area trips will be arranged.

The Montreal Gun Dog Club has entered a strong bid to bring the National Stake to the Montreal area in the Centennial year of 1967. A successful and colorful trial and Expo 67 nearby should prove an irresistible combination to draw contestants.

OTTAWA RETRIEVER CLUB
This new club held its first training trial in April with Puppy, Junior and Open All-Age stakes. Retriever fans look forward to the success of a club in the capital city and welcome additional trials in the Montreal-Kingston circuit. For further information, contact the Secretary, Mr. Frank O'Reilly, 2419 Heaton Ave., Ottawa 8, Ont. (telephone 731-5717).

YELLOW LABRADOR DUAL CHAMP
Ch. & F.T. Ch. Onnie of Grainger's will be 12 years old on May 6, 1966. He is owned by Mr. Don R. Brooks of Calgary. In the field Onnie won 26 Open points, including three firsts. His son, Ch. Brookfields Kissaddens Little Squeak, a black Lab, is ½ field point away from a Dual Ch.

DEATH OF F.T. CH. BILL'S BELLE OF PENFIELD
Field trialers were shocked to learn that Roy Walker's lovely female Labrador Belle died suddenly in April. She was in whelp when she became ill and was found to have had a kidney malignancy. Among her Canadian Open placings last year were two firsts in strong competition at the Montreal Gun Dog Club's trial and the Niagara Peninsula Retriever Training Club's Fall trial. Belle was eight years old.

UNITED KINGDOM RETRIEVER CHAMPIONSHIP
Reported to be one of the best on record. Held in December of 1965 by the International Gun Dog League near Bourne, Lincolnshire at Grimsthorpe by permission of the Earl of Ancaster. Nineteen dogs competed — two Goldens and 17 Labradors; five were females.

First place went to Mr. R. S. Wilkins' black Labrador male, F.T. Ch. Sendhurst Sweep, handled by R. G. Baldwin; second was F.T. Ch. Berrystead Bee, black Lab female owned by Mr. W. C. Williams (R. Male); and third to F.T. Ch. Cornbury Tweed, black Lab male, owned by Mr. O. V. Watney (A. C. White-Robinson).

Judges were Mrs. M. Atkinson, Lady Aukland, Mr. H. Churchill and Mr. G. Meldrum. Mr. Churchill, who has twice judged the Championship Stake, is the father of Mrs. Lloyd Jarvis of Grimsby, Ont.

1965 OPEN ALL-AGE WINNERS
Two black Labrador males competing in Western trials made last year's highest scores. An American dog, F. T. Ch. Raven Mike of Stonegate, chalked up 32½ point for owner-handler Mr. Lyle Knight of Minot, N.D.

The Carling Trophy for the Canadian-owned Retriever with the most points for the year in Open Stakes went to F. T. Ch. Mixed Up Mortie of High Noon (F.T. Ch. Smokey Boy x Flashy Girl). Bred by Lyman Turner, owned and handled by Dr. Brian L. Dunsworth of Edmonton, not so Mixed Up Mortie made 27 points during 1965.

TOP 1965 JUNIOR
Highest Junior score, of 24½, was made by an eye catching black Labrador born in November of 1963, Buck of Ghent (Dual Ch. Blyth's Pat ex Sheena of Ghent), bred by Phil Kettle and owned, trained and handled by Len Tkonen of Galt, Ont. This young Lab now has also made an excellent start in handling, and undoubtedly will be heard from in Open Stakes.

CANADIAN NATIONAL SPORTSMEN'S SHOW
The daily field trials held in the Coliseum were again an attractive part of the show. Many people in the large audiences had their first glimpse of Retriever working, and as a result some become Retriever owners, perhaps because they want to have one of these conservation specialists with them when they hunt.

The Golden Whistle awarded the finalist winner in the indoor trials went to Mr. Peter Roy of Parry Sound, owner of Canuck Crest Dirke, a stylish black Labrador male.

VOLUNTARY HIP DYSPLASIA CONTROL

In the view of many interested breeders, immediate CKC backing would be welcome in setting up a certificate of soundness and official list of sound certified dogs — at least for those who at this stage voluntarily wish to participate in such a project.

If the Ontario Veterinary College is the logical center for research and x-ray diagnosis, could not a Veterinary Radiologist be appointed as soon as possible at the college, x-rays and data be recorded there on dogs owned by people wishing to participate, and publicity and information be increased to encourage others to support a program of dysplasia control.

MIGRATORY BIRD "STAMP" IN EFFECT THIS AUTUMN

Actually it will be a wallet-sized permit costing $2.00, and purchased at post offices by all who hunt geese, brant, ducks, sandhill cranes, rails, coots, gallinules, snipe, woodcock, mourning doves and band-tail pigeons.

It has previously been estimated that there are about 344,900 waterfowl hunters in Canada. It will be interesting to find out the exact number.

Revenue from the sale of these permits will be plowed back into wetland work to protect waterfowl breeding habitat.

COMMANDMENTS POUR RAPPORTEURS FRANCAIS OU BILINGUES

(Merci à M. Clement Séguin, Montreal Gun Dog Club)

For the first 18 months of her life, Mr. Séguin and his family communicated with their Labrador pup Fanny in English. Eventually they decided that this "English" member of the household should become bilingual, which she now is; except that on the rare occasions when her transgression is especially wicked her master speaks firmly to her — in English.

FIRST ANNUAL RETRIEVER CONFERENCE

The National Retriever Club Directors have been interested in holding a Retriever Conference similar to the Mid-West Retriever Conference carried out so successfully in the United States for the past four years.

At the annual meeting held in Sault Ste. Marie this year the President, Mr. J. F. Kelleher, appointed a committee of the three Southern Ontario Directors, Messrs. Cliff Hunt, Lloyd Jarvis and Mark J. Seguin, together with the Secretary, Mr. R. K. Moore, to organize the first Retriever Conference to be held by the National Club in the Toronto area. The Conference took place on April 16 and 17. It is hoped to report some of the highlights in a forthcoming issue of Dogs in Canada. □

CORRECTION

The Moncton Kennel Club Inc., is holding two Trials at the time of their August shows, and not three as reported in their April advertisement.

Pickles is Soccer Hero

Current hero of the soccer world is a Thames River bargeman's mongrel named Pickles who located the stolen World Cup, soccer's revered solid-gold trophy. Pickles, out for a walk with his master, nosed out the trophy (insured for $90,000) from a bundle of newspapers. He will receive a silver medal and will likely share the $18,300 reward money with his master.

THIS MAY HURT
BUT IT IS ABSOLUTE FACT

Each winter in Canada, millions of fur-bearing animals will die slow agonizing deaths in leg-hold traps, unless we do something about it.

People like you and me cause this suffering because we forget what happens between the time the trap is sprung and the time (perhaps many days later) when the skin is collected to make the coat we wear with pride.

Our Association is promoting, by every means possible, the use of humane instant-killing traps.

We need your support, your interest, and above all your membership ($1.00 a year). Donations are deductible for income tax purposes.

PETS NOT A MENACE TO HUMAN'S HEALTH

Rely on your veterinarian to answer any questions you may have in connection with "scare" articles you may see regarding pets being dangerous to children's health, states the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York. The hazards, relatively slight by even the most exacting standards, can be a needless worry. If you take simple steps to safeguard the health of your children and your dog, there should be no problem at all. Whatever you do, before you consider giving up your dog because of fears of possible infection, talk it over with your veterinarian, advises the Center.

Misconceptions about the origin of pinworms, tapeworms and roundworms in children have erroneously placed the blame at the feet of the family's silky coated friend. Don't accept half-truths! According to the Journal of Small Animal Medicine, pinworms never live in dogs but a child can contact them from a playmate. Tapeworm, the type commonly found in dogs, seldom affect man, and when they do are likely to cause nothing more than a mild enteric disturbance. A person would have to swallow an infected flea to become infected. Obviously, the chances of this are slight. To become infected with roundworm, a human would have to swallow ova of the worm and even if this happened, the parasite would find no advantage.

If you make yourself aware of the medical and hygienic needs of your puppy or dog you will have a healthy animal and be able to view "scare" stories in their proper perspective. The need for regular visits to your veterinarian to have your dog checked cannot be over-stressed, states the Center.

Sometimes a judge must feel like a person who has just swallowed a mouthful of scalding coffee — no matter what he does next it's sure to be wrong.

Five Great Shows

FIVE all-breed championship shows and five obedience trials attracted a grand total of 2,866 entries to the 19th consecutive Canadian National Sportsmen's Dog Shows held in Toronto mid-March. This grand total of actual dogs entered is up by 144 over last year. On the final day, Saturday March 19, an inspiring total of 914 dogs were entered. Boosters and specialties helped swell the competition. A record number of specialties, 23 in all, attracted an exciting number of breed entries rarely seen at Canadian shows. In fact, the events brought an exceptional number of American entries, with about 200 kennels represented.

The shows were anything but repetitious. Several Best in Show winners were bested by other dogs in the breed under other judges, to the disappointment of the owners and the elation of the victors.

March 12: Judge J. P. Hackett selected for his Best in Show dog Ch. Gaymitz Jolly Rodger, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Northover of Stouffville (his breeders) and Miss Jean Grant of Richmond Hill.

March 16: Judge Thomas Quilley gave his final nod to the young Shetland Sheepdog (not quite a year old) Cee Dee's Squire, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Don Henderson, Livonia, Mich.

March 17 and 18: The Keeshond Nederlan Herman v Mack, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Emerson P. Hempstead of Greenwich, Conn. was named BIS by Judge Alva Rosenberg and Judge Albert Van Court, respectively.

March 19: Judge Joseph C. Quirk selected the outstanding Pekingese, Ch. (Can. & Am.) St. Aubrey Debonaire of Elsdon as BIS. Owner is Mrs. Vera F. Crofton of Los Angeles, Calif.: Nigel Aubrey-Jones and R. William Taylor of Montreal are the breeders.

Another unusual aspect was the entry in the Hound Group of three Scottish Deerhounds, one of which, Timber of Gayleward, took the Hound Group twice and placed 3rd in another show. Breeder-owners are Gayle and Edward Gerber of Millbrook, N.Y. The Gerbers are of the famous Gerber baby food family. Belying the theory that a lesser known breed doesn't stand much chance, the Otterhound, Skye Top's Cedric Vikingsson, owned by Shirley and Albert Dodge of Pattersonville, N.Y., took the Hound Group once and in other shows placed 2nd and 4th.

This year the Working Group outshone all other groups in entries. In many a previous Canadian show both spectators and competitors expressed disappointment at the few German Shepherds competing. This year the picture changed with 45 Shepherds competing, to lead the breeds in the Working Group. Labrador Retrievers maintained their reputation of recent years for high entries with 40 competing. American Cocker Spaniel entries, which a few years ago had dipped, came out strongly with 34 dogs. Afghan enthusiasts brought out 27 slim beauties, artistically benched. Officials feel this must surely be a record Afghan Hound entry for a Canadian show. Basset Hounds, a breed which has had its ups and downs, had a strong showing of 16 of the appealing sad-eyed philosophers. Officials also expressed pleasure (as did devotees and spectators) in the Dachshund entries. Five of the Dachshund breeds were represented, to ring up a total of 35 entries. Drevers, seen but little in recent years, were shown by P. A. Thompson of Uxbridge, Ont. Accustomed to seeing one or two Vizslas at the most, fans of the breed were delighted to see 12 at the specialty.

Through energetic publicity on the part of breed club members, the big dogs in the Working Group made a mighty showing. Newfoundlands were next to German Shepherds with an entry of 25 of the black beauties. Great Danes made a surprise showing with 24 dogs, and St. Bernards 21.

SIDELIGHTS:
With his seasoned staff operating as usual from a huge white trailer at one end of the floor, Show Superintendent Hudson Kalloch kept the big show moving smoothly.

Among the most-appreciated features: spaciousness for spectators and grooming; privacy of the exercise ring, cleanliness of the show and the delicious hot and cold snacks served at the Stoodleigh bar by a pleasant, efficient staff from early morning to late night.

Five days of dog shows can become wearing. But the tension broke just after one of the children's events when about 30 handlers staged an impromptu show with Debbie Duguid, winner of the Children's Handling class, acting as judge.

showing a tiny Chihuahua tucked inside his coat. And Lorna Jackson parading a Newfoundland ambling in a red smock; Doug. McLean doing a pantomime of almost every mistake a handler could make in the ring and Parker Harris showing a Chihuahua on a mink lead, ignoring his charge while he continually brushed the lead!

PERSONALITIES:
It was somewhat startling to see women familiar in the show ring for years with their own blonde or black hair, suddenly appearing with white or red hair. Wigs with black bands which slip on like a hat were being sold elsewhere in the Sportsmen's Show.

A real pleasure to meet Mrs. Robert Nutbeem, Harbour Beem Kennels, Harbour Grace, Nfld., after corresponding for years. Mrs. Nutbeem showed her Newfoundland, Harbour Beem Christopher Robin, and planned to continue to Chicago to meet her husband and show at the International. Her travel experiences between home and Toronto were shattering but hilarious in the recounting.

Belle of the show was Mrs. Charlotte Walker, Toronto, who was feted Saturday, March 19, on the occasion of her 97th birthday. "Happiest day of my life," she beamed.

Two Bermuda kennels were represented: Lady Florence Conyers had her homebred Miniature Pinscher, Greta V D Westerleigh, in conformation and in obedience the Ernest Voisey's handled their Golden Retriever, Ch. Byxfield, Bda. CDX, Can. CD.

John and Jane Devlin, Toronto sported the new Maple Leaf tartan, he in jacket, she in smart suit.

Winner of the Trio KC draw was Saluki breeder A. C. Landel of Buffalo, who will put the prize, a flower garden kit, to good use when he starts his garden.

GERMAN SHEPHERD DEMONSTRATION
The following description of the thrilling show presented by the demonstration team of the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada was submitted by G. R. Johnson, Chairman, Toronto Obedience Branch:

Canine members of the team amazed and delighted about 1,000 spectators every night of the five dog shows. The Shepherds, with seeming aplomb, performed breathtaking feats. One handler demonstrated Shepherd efficiency in a phase of police work by attacking on command an assailant who knocked a woman to the floor and snatched her purse. With a single command the dog released the "assailant" and escorted his quarry away with the handler. The audience was even more amazed at the friendliness of the dog after the attack.

Another Shepherd unhesitatingly climbed a ladder set at 80 degrees to a platform eight feet above the ground. He then walked 12 feet across two 1" ropes above the heads of the audience to a second platform. The acrobat was handed a raw egg which he carefully carried, making the return trip across the tightropes, down the ladder, returning to present his master with the unbroken egg.

The final act every evening was even more astounding. Rory, a male Shepherd owned by George Low, scaled a wall measured at 9' 1¾" in height. The measurement was verified by Obedience Judge Peter Kirk. The club believes this height to be a Canadian record and welcomes any other verified attempts to break it.

The demonstration closely follows the concept of the Royal Tattoo in the United Kingdom. Its presentation to the public is valuable in proving the merit of the Canadian-born German Shepherd. More performances may be anticipated during the year.

Presentations were made in the show ring during the Sportsmen's Show. The awards were presented by Mr. Archie Warnock representing the Quaker Oats Company of Canada Limited. Also present at the presentation were Mr. Dave Enns, of the Quaker Oats Company and Mr. McDerment, Canadian Kennel Club.

Winners of the Ken-L Awards have received the highest honor of showmanship for dogs in Canada. They are known as the Academy Awards of the Dog Kingdom.

The Western Canada regional award winner is Ch. Allegiance of Claradar, owned by Miss C. Nott of North Vancouver, B.C. "Alley Cat" is a Miniature Poodle and had five Bests in Shows, ten group firsts and five seconds, for a total of 85 points.

The mid-Western regional award winner was Ch. Wycliffe Demosthenes owned by F. N. Campbell and G. E. Smith of Winnipeg, Man. "Denny" stacked up six Bests in Show, 12 group firsts, two group seconds and one group third, total of 98 points.

The mid-Eastern regional award winner is Ch. Westacres Hugo the Red, owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. Carter, of Oakville, Ont. "Hugo the Red" a Basset Hound, won two Bests in Show, 17 group firsts, six group seconds, one group third and one group fourth for a total of 116 points.

The Eastern Canada regional award winner is Ch. Haviland Battle Chief 2nd, owned by Mr. W. W. Stacey of Sydney, N.S. "Battle Chief", a Boxer, had two Bests in Show, three group firsts, three group seconds, and two group fourths for a total of 36 points. □

R.O.C. Deviations

PART SIX:

A series by Mrs. Dennis Gardiner, Kerrycroft Kerry Blue Terrier fame, on "Common Deviations which Arise When Appraising Dogs for R.O.C.". Readers are invited to forward their comments directly to Mrs. Gardiner at R.R. 2, Orono, Ont.

3 — COAT and COLOR

Coat and color are major factors in establishing the identity of a breed and very much dependent on the vagaries of man. It is difficult for even the most highly skilled and trained persons to consistently and accurately grade the pelts of animals. But this being a very lucrative industry nothing can be left to chance, consequently they have laboratories equipped with the most modern devices for studying and measuring color, length, texture and type of the coats or pelts. They even have an instrument for taking a ¼" circle of skin from which they can measure the density of the coat by the number of follicles per square inch. Thus their fieldmen, graders or judges can be provided with detailed charts of the coat and color of the majority of the furbearing animals.

Dogs are not raised solely for their coat and color, therefore this extreme detail is not absolutely necessary. BUT — a concise and comprehensive written word picture along with samples of the most desirable coat and color, would definitely lead to a greater uniformity of these characteristics within a breed.

It is ncessary to have a detailed description of COLOR — SKIN — LENGTH — *TEXTURE 'the feeling of' — *TYPE 'distinguishing characteristics' — for the COAT and COLOR of every breed.

DEVIATIONS: It is difficult to pinpoint the exact deviations in Coat and Color due to the fact that no two people will visualize the same range of colors without the aid of a color chart. Nor will they agree on the degree of fineness, coarseness, curliness, density etc., unless they have a range of approved specimens for comparison.

4 — SIZE

SIZE is a most vital characteristic and the first step toward breed uniformity and identity. Size is also an important factor in the type of work the dog was originally bred to perform. Most dogs today are pets, yet it is surprising the number of pet owners who will go to the Library and read up on the breeds, then buy a puppy of a breed whose size etc., suits their needs and taste. Naturally, they fully expect it to mature at approximately the size stated in the book. This makes it the responsibility of all reputable breeders to do everything in their power to keep their breed as close to the desired size stated in the Standards.

This responsibility also rests very heavily on the shoulders of the judges, as the top specimens of the breeds used for breeding are usually exhibited in the show ring. The desired height at the withers is stated in most Breed Standards. This is the height desired and it is not necessary for some breeds to use the word DISQUALIFICATION, or have vague size ranges.

The same format should be used in all breeds to describe size.

1 — The desired height at the withers of the male is stated.

2 — The height of all bitches will be 5% less, and more refined in overall appearance.

3 — There will be a 5% leeway in both sexes. Hence, if the desired height of a male is 10", a dog over 9½" or under 10½" is acceptable, similarily if the height is 34", there will be a range from 32½" to 35½". Dogs that do not fit into this breed range are simply not good examples of the breed.

Measuring the height at the withers in dogs is a simple and quite accurate procedure if the AKC or CKC rules and equipment are used. Dogs that are on the borderline could be given certificates after they have been measured three times on reaching maturity.

Height — #1 Tip of Withers — #2 Tip of Shoulder — #3 Base of Withers — #4 Tip of Pelvis.

These numbers above refer to the measuring points used in "How to Measure" as published in January Issue of Dogs in Canada. It might be wise to keep it near by for reference as we continue on Size.

If the hand is placed on the topline of the dog at the base of the neck, the tip of the withers (first nine thoracic vertebrae) should be easily felt above the tips of the shoulders. When the dog moves his head up and down the smooth free action of the vertebrae and governing muscles should be felt. If the hand is moved along the topline, there should be a slope from the tip of the withers to the tail, according to the requirements of the breed. The topline is not level, the withers slope into a concave curve which has its base in the back (last four thoracic vertebrae) or base of the withers; it then gradually rises up to form a convex curve which peaks at the tip of withers and slopes down the croup to the tail.

DEVIATIONS — the deviations will be covered very fully under the appropriate sections, Forequarters, Body, Hindquarters and Gait. A few to note are:

1 — OVER OR UNDER THE DESIRED HEIGHT AT THE TIP OF THE WITHERS IS VERY SERIOUS.

2 — Tips of shoulders level or below the tips of the shoulders — This condition is easily felt especially when the dog raises or lowers his head. When the head is raised there is not sufficient space or sufficient flexibility of the muscles to allow the withers to move freely between the tips of the shoulders. As the head lowers the tips of the shoulders come together and rise over the withers and can definitely interfere with the dog lowering his head. These deviations are also reflected in the gait. The deviations are caused by:

a — steep shoulders,

b — the entire forequarter assembly too far ahead on the body.

c — a combination of both 1 and 2.

d — flat withers.

3 — The tip of the pelvis level or higher than the tip of the withers. In most breeds this does not present a very pleasing picture and is easily noted.

It can be caused by:

a — the front legs too short or the angles in the forequarters too acute.

b — the hind legs too long or the angles in the hindquarters too great, causing a lack of angulation.

4 — The tip of the pelvis too low — causes too much slope to the topline, and is equally displeasing to the eye. Caused by:

a — short hind legs

b — over angulation, crouching. □

Chicago Show

DESPITE the rail strike which threatened to paralyze the States, last year's record attendance of 41,000 spectators was nearly matched at this year's International KC Show. Held in the ten-acre International Amphitheatre in Chicago's famed stockyards, the 26th annual event attracted an entry of 3,420 dogs; a record for American indoor shows, according to officials. A total of 29 different breed Specialty shows fired the competition.

Best in Show, selected by Judge William Brainard, Jr., was the Old English Sheepdog, Ch. Fezziwig Raggedy Andy, homebred and owned by Serena and Hendrik Van Rensselaer, of Basking Ridge, N.J. Bob Forsyth handled.

This is the second time this breed has topped the Chicago show. The first was Ch. Ideal Weather, owned by Leonard Collins. And that win took place at the very first International KC show in 1938.

Only Canadian to judge at the 1966 event was Bulldog specialist Reg. P. Sparkes, (Kamel) Thornhill, Ont., who was greeted with an entry of 46.

Canadian entries again made a formidable showing. Among Group wins, Ch. Gaymitz Jolly Rodger placed 3rd in the Working Group. He is owned by Jack and Doreen Northover of Stouffville, Ont. and Miss Jean Grant of Richmond Hill, Ont. In Toys the Canadian-bred Pekingese, Ch. St. Aubrey Debonaire of Elsdon, owned by Mrs. Vera Crofton of Los Angeles, Calif., placed 2nd in the Group. Breeders were Nigel Aubrey-Jones and R. William Taylor of Montreal. Also of their breeding and owned by Mr. and Mrs. V. Alan Hearne of Stittsville, Ont. was St. Aubrey Mariona of Elsdon who was Winners Bitch.

Ch. Trefonen Marallal, Rhodesian Ridgeback owned by Dr. F. George Walker of Ottawa, Ont., was Best Opposite Sex. In Kerry Blue Terriers Catherine and Dennis Gardiner of Orono, Ont. won the Brace Class with their Ch. Kerrycroft's Confidence Man and Ch. Kerrycroft's Columbine.

The homebred Skye Terrier, Ch. Talisker's Fairy Fortune, owned by Mrs. R. Percy Adams of Ste. Agathe, Que., went Winners Bitch and BOS.

Mrs. Betty Hyslop's English import, Lofthouse Davey, was Winners Dog in Cairn Terrier. BOS was a female of her breeding, under later ownership.

This is a truly thrilling show, spacious, well-lighted, with 15 large rings in action in conformation alone. The ring for Group judging seems about an acre in space. And yet, with 26 Terrier breeds in for this crucial time, it seemed not too large.

Poodles led in entry with a massive total of 202, of which 75 were Toys, 68 Miniatures, 59 Standards. Great Danes were in second place with 149, followed by German Shepherds with 136.

The now famous Whippet and Afghan Hound races, North America's largest indoor dog show race, attracted thousands of spectators to the 600' dirt track. Exhibitions of gun dogs in action in field and water trials drew sporting dog fans. Another feature was the spectacular demonstration of sheep herding by the two Supreme Champion winners of last year's National Sheepdog Trials for Border Collies. Performances by the Chicago Police Department's K-9 German Shepherds won enthusiastic applause. □

The Great Pyrenees Club of California Interviews Wayne Riser, D.V.M. on Canine

Hip Dysplasia

1. QUESTION: Since we have many new club members, please define in lay terms the condition known as hip dysplasia, including the causes and its importance to the breed.

   ANSWER: Briefly, hip dysplasia is an abnormality of the hip joint in which the head, or ball, of the femur, or thigh bone, does not fit well into the acetabulum, or hip socket. The condition is usually present in both hip joints. It is usually the large or giant breeds that are affected.

   All the reasons for the condition are not known. In the affected dogs of all breeds there appears to be a shortage of pelvic muscle, especially of those muscles which hold the head of the femur in the acetabulum. It is a crippling abnormality that causes the dog to be unsound, and in some instances the condition greatly restricts the movement of the dog.

2. QUESTION: We are aware that in the German Shepherd Dog at least 50 percent of them are affected. Does this ratio hold true for the Great Pyrenees?

   ANSWER: We have not worked with the Great Pyrenees, but it has been reported that the incidence in this breed may be high. We have worked with the St. Bernard, Newfoundland, and Great Dane breeds, and there is a high incidence of hip dysplasia in these. The conformation of these breeds does not vary much from that of the Great Pyrenees.

3. QUESTION: Should a dog with hip dysplasia be bred?

   ANSWER: Hip dysplasia is widespread among the affected breeds. The defect is transmitted by mating affected dogs. If we are going to get rid of the abnormality, the breeder must take the responsibility of restricting the mating of affected dogs. In America, we have never been satisfied with second rate schools, products, athletics, livestock, or living; why should we be satisfied with second rate dogs?

4. QUESTION: What is the probability of a dog of one of the large breeds having hip dysplasia, if the parents have normal hip joints? if one parent is normal, and the other affected? if both have dysplastic hip joints?

   ANSWER: The best information comes from Sweden, with regard to the German Shepherd Dog breed: Both parents normal — offspring 37.5 percent affected. One parent affected — offspring 44.7 percent affected. Both parents affected — offspring 84.1 percent affected.

5. QUESTION: We hear a lot of genetic terms, such as 'intermittent, dominant, and recessive characteristics,' applied to hip dysplasia. How is hip dysplasia classified?
ANSWER: Professor Fred Hutt of Cornell University puts it this way: 'Hip dysplasia has been attributed by various writers to a simple recessive gene, or to a dominant gene with incomplete penetrance, but the available evidence indicates that it is more likely a polygenic or multigenic trait resulting from the interaction of an unknown number of genes. With such a mode of inheritance, the ultimate expression of the character is usually dependent upon in part heredity and in part environmental influences.'

6. QUESTION: Even with veterinarians agreeing that hip dysplasia has a high incidence in most breeds, an owner reports that nine out of ten veterinarians maintain that the seriousness of the disease is 'blown up' out of proportion. Why the discrepancy in the two statements?
ANSWER: I am not aware of any veterinarian taking this attitude. The interest of most veterinarians about the best methods of taking and diagnosing radiographs has increased greatly in recent years. In March, 1965, at a meeting of the World Small Animal Veterinary Association, a resolution was unanimously passed condemning the breeding and sale of all dogs with congenital and acquired defects. Plans for a meeting in Paris in 1967, to discuss the subject further, are now underway. This is evidence that interest in raising sound dogs is increasing and that buyers of dogs are becoming more discriminating.

7. QUESTION: Professional kennel owners have said that they do not radiograph for hip dysplasia because their experience has satisfied them that only a small percentage of dogs are actually crippled by the disease. How would you answer this statement?
ANSWER: I have indicated that a dysplastic dog is the victim of a crippling disease. At least two countries, Britain and Sweden, now have plans for certification of breeding stock free from all congenital and acquired defects. Sweden has had such a program in effect for six years, and Britain for two years. As a result, the quality of their dogs has increased tremendously. When it is discovered that dogs from these countries have better quality and can be bought for the same prices as American dogs, there will naturally be discrimination against American dogs.

8. QUESTION: Can any person, even one who has studied hip dysplasia, tell for sure whether a dog is affected by watching the dog's gait, agility, etc.?
ANSWER: No. The only positive way to diagnose hip dysplasia is by use of a good quality diagnostic radiograph, with the pelvis and hind legs positioned correctly. Only a few dogs, with badly subluxated hip joints, can be detected without radiographing.

9. QUESTION: Can a veterinarian trained in radiology tell if the film was taken properly?
ANSWER: Yes. Film showing the pelvis and leg poorly positioned, or film that is poorly processed, is readily detectable, and such film is non diagnosable.

10. QUESTION: Do most veterinarians have equipment suitable for taking x-rays of the pelvis of the Great Pyrenees?
ANSWER: Since these dogs have thicker pelves than most dogs, large-sized plates and an x-ray with more penetration power are needed. If a veterinarian does not have an x-ray table with sufficient length to stretch out the dog, or an x-ray machine with sufficient penetration power, he will refer the client to a colleague who does.

11. QUESTION: Is it necessary to give large dogs like the Great Pyrenees an anaesthetic or tranquilizer when they are radiographed? Is there danger of a bad reaction to these drugs?
ANSWER: There are a number of short action anaesthetics and tranquilizers that have a wide range of safety; these are easily available and to be recommended.

12. QUESTION: At what age can hip dysplasia be diagnosed by a radiograph?
ANSWER: Usually by six months of age it is evident whether hip dysplasia is present. In a few instances, when the lesion is mild, opinion is delayed until the dog is 9 to 12 months of age.

13. QUESTION: Is there any danger of radiation damage from x-raying the pelvis of a dog?
ANSWER: With present equipment and fast film, a dog can be radiographed daily for months without danger from radiation damage.

14. QUESTION: What about dysplasia in the shoulders and elbows of a dog?
ANSWER: Shoulder and elbow dysplasia of large dogs is seen occasionally. Both of these conditions are caused by injury, and probably have no relation to heredity, except in so far as a big and heavy dog is concerned. It is assumed that this condition has no relationship to hip dysplasia.

15. QUESTION: Are there any clubs in America taking steps to eliminate hip dysplasia?
ANSWER: Several clubs are encouraging their members to have their dogs radiographed and to mate only sound dogs. Sweden and Britain have well organized plans now in operation. The Swedish plan has been in operation for six years and has shown promising results.

16. QUESTION: Since most pups are sold when they are six to eight weeks of age and hip dysplasia is not detectable at that time, how liable is a breeder to replace a pup if hip dysplasia should occur?
ANSWER: This depends upon the sales agreement. Most pups are sold to be healthy to the best of the owner's knowledge. Since hip dysplasia is not diagnosable until 8 to 12 months of age, most breeders can hardly be expected to replace a dog at a year of age, unless this was in the sales agreement. The wise breeder should make this clear by a written statement at the time the pup is sold. Most dysplastic dogs make satisfactory pets and can be trained and worked when mild dysplasia is present. Only dogs with acceptable hip joint should be bred. Finally, if a show or breeding stock is sold at a year of age or older, sound hip joints will probably be demanded, and should undoubtedly be a part of the sales agreement.

17. QUESTION: Since the Great Pyrenees are in small numbers in the United States, and the stock cannot be followed for more than four generations, how long will it take to establish a line of dogs free from dysplasia?
ANSWER: I do not know, but when the dog has pelvic muscle mass equal to that in the Greyhound, hip dysplasia will disappear. The Swedish work on the German Shepherd Dog has shown a marked reduction in the incidence of hip dysplasia by mating normal-to-normal dogs. Now that they are selecting for more pelvic muscle mass, the incidence of affected offspring should be further reduced, and at a more rapid pace. □

When my aged father was followed home by a bulging stray female dog, I banished her to the basement for the night, planning to get rid of her as soon as I could. But the next morning we looked down upon four tiny newborn puppies, and Father was delighted.

"Now," he said softly, "we can have something running around this house that doesn't have to be plugged into the wall first."

U.S. American Cocker Gains Title in Four Shows

Well-known to Canadian Cocker Spaniel competitors, Mrs. Norma Donderwitz of Massena, N.Y. handled her black Magicours Monitor to his Canadian title in four straight shows, starting with the March 12 competition of the Canadian National Sportsmen's Shows, Toronto. Nicky, who finished on Friday, March 18, won two Sporting Groups (subject to Canadian Kennel Club confirmation). He will be campaigned in Specials and shown for his American title, on which he already has a 3-point major.

Interest of Judges Could Help Irish Water Spaniel

"I recall only one," states Mrs. Denise Gray, writing as a breeder and exhibitor of this sporting breed, "that actually achieved stardom." In July 1963 Badger's Ch. Ringleader O'Randy, masterfully handled, came under the eye of a judge at a Winnipeg show who knew the breed. Unfortunately Ring's life terminated a short time ago.

"From my past experience in handling Irishes," she continues, "most judges know very little about the breed. We realize it has been difficult to follow up, as being an almost extinct breed . . . we Irish fanciers hope our judges will study the breed carefully and more deeply so that in the future deserving Irish may achieve titles . . . we hope our judges will rally and take more notice, which will encourage people to choose, train and show an Irish.

"This is not a criticism, but written with the hope it will be justly interpreted. After all, a good pioneer could make a comeback."

MARK TWAIN

The pain which it inflicts upon unconsenting animals is the basis of my enmity towards it, and it is to me sufficient justification of the enmity without looking further. I have tried to understand why it should be considered a kind of credit and a handsome thing to belong to a human race that has vivisectors in it.

ST FRANCIS CLUB HOLDS SUCCESSFUL SANCTION SHOW

The St. Francis Kennel Club, which is located in the Eastern Township region of the province of Quebec, held its second all breed sanction show, at Cowansville, on March 26. There were over 120 entries representing about 40 breeds. The judges were Mrs. Pamela B. Mack of Mackson Kennels, Director of The Canadian Kennel Club for the provice of Quebec and Mrs. Lorraine Hartglass, who is well-known for her Northgate Collies.

BIS winner Miss Hope poses on the trophy. L. to r., Judge, Mrs. Pamela Mack; Rev. Sister Ste. Angélie, Director, Ste. Thérèse School and Mrs. Steele.

Best in Show went to 'Miss Hope' a West Highland White Terrier, owned and handled by Mrs. Charles T. Steele of Springfield, Vermont. She was awarded a Canadian hard rock maple cribbage table, made and donated by Vilas Co. in Cowansville.

Reserve was won by Miss Vera Hampton's Afghan Hound, 'Zarada's Salar Khurran', handled by Miss Doreen Hampton, Beloeil, Que.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club was held in the Club's office, 1173 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario, commencing on Wednesday, February 23, 1966, with the President in the Chair and all members of the Board present.

There follows a summary of decisions of general interest reached at the meeting.

MINUTES

MINUTES (POLICIES)

The Board approved a recommendation of the Secretary that the minutes of Board meetings held in 1965, maintained in loose-leaf form, be now suitably bound.

Following a discussion as to the advisability of publishing more detailed minutes of proceedings at meetings of the Board, the Board decided to appoint a committee to study this question and present its report at the semi-annual meeting of the Board. Mrs. Phyllis Smith was appointed Chairman of the committee.

FINANCIAL MATTERS

INVESTMENTS

The Board received the report of the Investments Committee to the effect that it had ordered the sale of $5,000 Dominion of Canada 4-1/2% Bonds maturing on December 15, 1966, and the purchase at 99-1/2 of $5,000 The Bell Telephone Company of Canada 6% First Mortgage Bonds dated April 1, 1966, to mature April 1, 1981.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR 1965

The Board received and, after discussion, referred to the Annual General Meeting, the financial statements for 1965.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (POLICY)

The Board directed that until it orders otherwise, the Club's financial statements shall follow the format established with the 1965 financial statements.

The Board considered the "NOTE" which the Club's auditors had seen fit to include in the Balance Sheet in the financial statements for 1965 and reviewed the standing resolution fixing the inventory, for purposes of such financial statements, of forms, books, and office supplies at $1,500. It decided to delete the standing resolution and establish a policy of eliminating the inventory at any book value.

The Board noted that salary costs in 1965 were higher because of the 53 pay days in 1965, rather than the customary 52, a condition which occurs every six years. To overcome this the Board agreed that henceforth the Secretary, when preparing the annual financial statements, would accrue the extra day's salary (two days in a leap year).

APEX PUBLISHERS AND PUBLICITY LTD.

After considering a submission received from Apex Publishers and Publicity Ltd., publishers of "Dogs in Canada", the Board directed that commencing with the May issue the publishers would be paid 25¢ per copy for copies of each issue ordered for distribution to members and for office use.

ACCOUNTS WITH CLUBS HOLDING SHOWS AND TRIALS

The Board considered the Secretary's proposal that a club holding a championship show or a licensed trial or a licensed tracking test be no longer required to post a date fee with its application for date, and also his proposal that a club holding a show or trial be not required to remit recording and listing fees until the club holding the show or trial receives a statement of account from the C.K.C. Secretary.

Proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules, as drafted by the Secretary, with a view to implementing these proposals were considered by the Board, and the Board decided that such proposed amendments would be considered in the event a special referendum ballot is ordered by the Board. The Board directed that the several Field Trial Councils, the Tracking Test Council, and the Obedience Council would be asked to draft, for the Board's consideration, similar proposed amendments to the rules governing field trials, tracking tests, and obedience trials.

CANADIAN NATIONAL LIVE STOCK RECORDS

The Board noted that the net operating costs of the Canadian National Live Stock Records in 1965 totalled $305,734.36, that the 1966 budget for the Records Office provided for estimated net operating costs of $321,414 (an increase of 5.128% over 1965), and that the monthly levy for the C.K.C. had been set at $6,945 as compared with $6,345 in 1965.

INTERNATIONAL MATTERS

DOGS CROSSING THE CANADIAN-AMERICAN BORDER

Some months ago it had been brought to the Club's attention that the United States Department of Agriculture is now requiring that if the duty payable by the American importer is to be refunded a registration number must be shown for each and every dog on the three generation pedigree included on the certificate of registration for a dog which has been or is about to be exported to the United States. This has presented a number of difficulties where the pedigree included the names of dogs which had been imported to Canada in that registration numbers were not immediately available for the ancestors of such imported dogs.

With a view to eliminating this problem the Board had asked the Federal Department of Trade and Commerce to make appropriate representations through the Canadian Embassy in Washington, and every effort had been made in those actual cases brought to the Secretary's attention, to obtain and include registration numbers for all dogs in the three generation pedigrees.

The Board decided that hereafter the Club would require registration numbers for all dogs in the three generation pedigrees required for imported dogs, this in order that such information would be immediately available when certificates are prepared for dogs to be exported to the United States.

The Secretary was also instructed to approach The American Kennel Club seeking their co-operation in furnishing registration numbers when required by the Live Stock Records office.

THE AMERICAN KENNEL CLUB

The Canadian Kennel Club has asked The American Kennel Club to consider the possibility of arranging for titles granted by The Canadian Kennel Club to be included in its records and on certificates of registration which it issues, and to permit the showing of Canadian titles on entry forms for dogs entered at events held under American Kennel Club rules. The Board noted a reply from The American Kennel Club to the effect that after a study of the practical aspects of including Canadian titles on A.K.C. registration certificates, it was apparent that it would not be feasible for The American Kennel Club, under its present procedures, to undertake the inclusion of such titles.

With regard to an approach which The Canadian Kennel Club had made to The American Kennel Club regarding recognition of Canadian show judges, the Board noted a reply from The American Kennel Club to the effect that the possibility of a change in policy whereby Canadians might be accredited to judge shows in the United States on the same basis as are persons living in Great Britain and Australia, is still under study by a committee of the Board of Directors of The American Kennel Club.

REGISTRATION, STUD BOOKS AND RELATED MATTERS

KENNEL NAMES

The Board authorized the Kennel Names Committee to deal with and reach final decisions on applications for registration of kennel names, and any objections which may be received to any kennel names applied for.

The Board decided that a transfer fee will not be required when a registered kennel name is being transferred to include the name of the spouse of the person in whose name the kennel name stands registered.

The Board also decided that, as indicated on the Application for Registration of Kennel Name form, no consideration would be given an application for registration of kennel name if the application does not include three choices of kennel name.

BREED STANDARDS

The Board noted the approval which the Minister of Agriculture for Canada had given to an amendment to the Club's By-laws which provides that the standards of breeds recognized by the Club shall be those standards published in the current edition of the Club's "Book of Breed Standards" and any changes therein which have received the approval of the Board. The Board decided that the Club would not recognize those changes which The American Kennel Club had seen fit to adopt in connection with its recognized breed standards since the last annual meeting of the Board.

The Board referred to the Breed Standards Committee for consideration a proposed new standard for the Vizsla as submitted by the Vizsla Club of Canada. If so recommended by the Breed Standards Committee, this proposed standard will be published in a later issue of "Dogs in Canada" with an invitation to those interested to submit their comments for the consideration of the Committee and the Board.

The Board noted the several amendments to the Dog Show Rules which had been approved by majority affirmative vote on the last referendum ballot, these amendments making provision for a Miscellaneous Class at championship shows held under the Club's rules. The Board decided that until it orders otherwise, the Miscellaneous Class shall be confined to those breeds which The American Kennel Club permits to be entered in the Miscellaneous Class and to accept the A. K. C. standards and/or descriptions for such breeds.

REGISTRATION COMMITTEE

The Board decided that where puppies in a litter are born on different dates, the official date of birth for the entire litter will be the date on which the first puppy was whelped.

Following an inquiry and upon the voluntary submission of the owner of the litter, the Board recommended to the Chief Registration Officer that the registration of a particular litter be cancelled on the grounds that it is believed that puppies in the litter are not pure-bred.

The Board referred to the Registration Committee for appropriate action the application for registration of a litter sired by a dog whose owner had failed, upon request, to sign the application for registration of litter form certifying the mating.

The Board reviewed the resolution adopted by the previous Board requiring a minimum of five generations in certified pedigrees for a breed about to be recognized by the Club. Mr. Duff and Mr. Frost gave notice that at the semi-annual meeting of the Board they would move for the rescission of the resolution in question.

In connection with an application for registration of litter where forgery is believed to have taken place, the Board received the report of the Chief Registration Officer of the Department of Agriculture to the effect that the file had been referred to their legal advisor for recommendation as to prosecution proceedings.

The Board noted that The Kennel Club (England) recognizes the Norwich Terrier and the Norfolk Terrier as two separate and distinct breeds, the only difference being in ear carriage. The Board decided that for the time being a Norfolk Terrier imported to Canada would be registered as a Norwich Terrier.

The Board decided that detailed reports of decisions of the Registration Committee would no longer be published in "Dogs in Canada" except that the summary published may include items which the Board feels would be of general interest to the membership.

EDITORIAL IN "DOGS IN CANADA"

The Board agreed that the "Memo from the Editor" as published in the January (1966) issue of "Dogs in Canada" included much useful information to members and others selling and registering dogs, and instructed the Secretary to obtain the permission of the publishers to reprint the editorial for distribution with each litter registration certificate and to the defendants in cases where purchasers are complaining of the alleged failure to supply certificates of registration for dogs sold as pure-bred.

COMPLAINTS, CHARGES AND PROTESTS

POLICIES

In order to expedite the processing of complaints and charges, the Board delegated to the standing Complaints Committee those of its powers which it is specifically empowered to delegate to that Committee according to the provisions of Section 4 of Article XV of the Club's By-laws.

The Board approved a recommendation of the Complaints Committee that clubs holding shows and trials under the Club's rules are free to place in their premium lists a requirement that all entry fees shall be paid by cash or by certified cheque or by money order.

SPECIFIC CASES

Following consideration of a number of files on complaints the Board:

(1) expelled a member following an investigation of a number of alleged irregularities with regard to registration and identification;
(2) deprived a non-member of the privileges of the Club for failure to furnish to a buyer a certificate of registration for a dog sold as pure-bred;
(3) declined to reinstate a person previously expelled following an investigation;
(4) received the Secretary's report on his participation with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in an investigation being conducted with regard to the failure of a seller to provide certificates of registration for dogs said to have been sold as pure-bred;
(5) instructed the Secretary to refer to the Department of Agriculture with a request for an R. C. M. P. investigation, a number of complaints against a non-member for alleged failure to supply certificates of registration for four dogs said to have been sold as pure-bred;
(6) directed that a warning be addressed to a member in connection with delays in supplying certificates of registration for dogs sold as pure-bred.

The Secretary was instructed to inform the S. P. C. A. and Humane Societies of the provisions of the Live Stock Pedigree Act with regard to the supplying of certificates of registration for dogs sold as pure-bred.

INTERNAL AND ADMINISTRATION

ANNUAL MEETINGS FOR 1967

The Board decided that the next Annual General Meeting of the Club would be held at Ottawa on Saturday, February 25, 1967, and the annual meeting of the Board would commence on Monday, February 20th.

PRESENTATIONS AT 1966 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

Upon the Secretary's report that through the co-operation of Mrs. Pamela Mack he had obtained plaques for presentation to Past Presidents of the Club, it was agreed that the President would present these plaques at the Annual General Meeting.

The Board, by resolution, authorized a formal presentation to Mr. Walter Brown for his long years of service on the Board.

QUINQUENNIAL ADJUSTMENT

The Club's By-laws provide that every five years calculations shall be made with a view to determining the number of Directors to be elected in each electoral zone in the succeeding five years. When the Secretary's report on the number of Directors to be elected for the years 1966 to 1970 inclusive was considered by the Board at its last semi-annual meeting the Board noted that the province of Quebec was now entitled to elect two Directors, although the province of British Columbia with more members in 1964 than Quebec, continued with but one Director. The Board appointed a committee consisting of the Club's solicitor and Secretary to review the matter and to present a report, which report was presented at this meeting.

The Committee submitted the following various possible arrangements for the Board's consideration:

(1) To maintain the present provisions of the quinquennial adjustment, although here it should be noted that with the Board now being elected for a two-year term, the quinquennial adjustment should be altered to one made every four or six years.
(2) To delete Section 5 of Article XII in its entirety, and substitute a new Section 5 which will prescribe the exact number of Directors for each of the electoral zones presently listed in that Section.
(3) To delete Section 5 and substitute a new Section 5 which will provide that proportional representation shall be based solely on the number of members in each zone rather than on a combination of members and registrations.
(4) To divide Canada into a specified number of electoral zones (disregarding provincial boundaries), each electoral zone to have approximately the same number of members (based on a five-year average), this redistribution to be calculated every five years by an independent committee appointed from time to time by the Board.
(5) An arrangement which would provide for: every voting member regardless of his location in Canada to participate in the nomination of the entire Board; a single election ballot on which the names of all candidates would appear regardless of their location; every voting member to have the right to participate in the election of the entire Board; the candidate with the highest number of votes to be President; the candidate with the next highest number of votes to be Vice President; the candidate with the next highest number of votes to be Second Vice President; and the next twelve candidates with the highest number of votes to be Directors; any electoral zone not represented on the Board to have the right to an "associate Director" appointed by the Board, although such associate Director would not be entitled to attend meetings of the Board nor have voting privileges as a member of the Board.

The first of the committee's recommendations was not approved except that the Board agreed that arrangements should be made for a proposed amendment to the Club's By-laws providing that the adjustment as to the number of Directors be made every six years starting with the adjustment in 1971 for 1972 and the following five years.

The Board rejected alternatives #2 and #5 of the committee's proposals and appointed a committee consisting of W. Jacob (Chairman), R. B. Laskey, D. H. Duff, and George Frost to study and report to the Board on the redrafting of Section 5 (2) and 5 (3) of Article XII of the By-laws on the basis of proportional representation by membership in the electoral zones already stipulated in Section 5 (1) of Article XII.

MANAGEMENT SURVEY

The Board received and considered the report of a Special Committee (J. C. Anderson (Chairman), Walter Brown, and George N. Mehlenbacher), which it had appointed to prepare a comprehensive report for the consideration of the Board at this meeting on the report and recommendations submitted by the Management Consultants.

The Board reached the following decisions on recommendations of the Special Committee:

(1) The Board did not approve a recommendation of the Committee that the Board take all necessary steps to have the By-laws and any relevant rules amended in order that the Board would become essentially a planning and policy-making group while maintaining full responsibility for the management of the Club's affairs yet turn much of its routine and detail work over to various committees and councils.

(2) The Board approved a recommendation of the Special Committee that when appointing a committee or council the Board will appoint the entire committee or council and set down its terms of reference, its powers, its duties, its responsibilities, and specify the date or dates on which it expects a report or reports.

(3) The Board approved a recommendation of the Special Committee that the Board arrange for an amendment to the Club's By-laws to provide for a disciplinary committee of three, who would be fully responsible for all disciplinary matters, including the setting up of advisory committees and meting out of penalties, on the understanding that any disciplined person may appeal to the Board, in which case the Board would be free to quash the finding of the disciplinary committee or mete out such other penalty as it deemed advisable.

(4) The Board approved a recommendation of the Special Committee that the Dog Show Rules, Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards, and the Field Trial Rules and Regulations be reviewed with a view to deleting conflictions and making them less complex, and that the final authority to decide on any proposed amendment to any of these rules should rest with the appropriate council with the Board having veto power. For the purpose of implementing this recommendation the Board directed that the various councils proceed with the review suggested by the Special Committee, the Secretary to draft the proposed amendments referred to in that recommendation for the consideration of the Board at its next semi-annual meeting.

(5) The Board approved a recommendation of the Special Committee that the Board arrange for an amendment to Article XXXVIII of the By-laws to provide for the holding of a special referendum ballot when 2/3 of those present and voting at the annual or semi-annual meeting of the Board are in favour of holding such a ballot and are in favour of asking the members to vote on a specific proposed amendment or amendments.

The Board also approved the recommendation of the Committee that the quorum Board may order the holding of a special referendum ballot if not less than 2/3 of the entire Board vote affirmatively (by mail) on a proposal that such a special referendum ballot be conducted.

The Secretary was instructed to prepare proposed legislation in this connection for the consideration of the Board at its semi-annual meeting.

(6) The Board rejected a proposal of the Special Committee that the Board appoint a data processing committee to thoroughly analyze the practical application of data processing for the maintenance and registration records, show and trial records, production of stud book copy, membership records and accounting, the proposed data processing committee to eventually place before the Board a program for the utilization of data processing equipment and the costs that would be involved.

(7) The Board rejected a recommendation of the Special Committee that the Club's registration records be transferred to the Club's head office, effective January 1, 1968. (The Committee's report in this connection outlined the steps which it believed should first be taken to find the most practical and economical methods of maintaining registration records, determining the data processing equipment, files, staff, etc. which would be necessary to carry on an effective system of registration, and determining the costs which would be involved and the services which could be provided breeders before proceeding with such transfer.)

(8) The Board rejected a recommendation of the Special Committee that the Board consider arranging for an amendment to the Club's By-laws which would make the initial membership fee $20.00 and at the end of the first year of associate membership the associate member may apply for ordinary membership, there to be no change in the present fees for ordinary membership.

(9) The Board rejected a recommendation of the Special Committee that the Board take under consideration the determination of whether or not it would be both practical and desirable to establish a single scale of fees for registrations, transfers, etc.

(10) The Board approved a recommendation of the Special Committee that the Board appoint a committee which would study all aspects of the housing of The Canadian Kennel Club, including the Club's offices as presently constituted or as it may later become should the Club's registration records be transferred to Toronto. The Board appointed Mr. Wm. McDerment as Chairman of this committee with John Devlin, Thomas Joel, J. W. MacCallum and George Kennedy as committee members.

(11) The Board approved a recommendation of the Special Committee that it arrange for a thorough review with the Misses Dunn and Peer of Apex Publishers and Publicity Limited of our present contracts with them and any other aspects of our relationship as it concerns "Dogs in Canada". The Board named a committee for the purpose of this review.

STANDING RESOLUTIONS

The Board directed that the following resolutions be included in the Book of Standing Resolutions:

"THAT, a person officiating as a judge at a championship show or licensed trial held under the rules of The Canadian Kennel Club shall not act in any other capacity at the show or trial. "THAT, the Secretary advise show-giving clubs that a schedule in the form approved by the Board must be sent out to exhibitors, after entries close, along with the acknowledgement of entries and identification cards, the schedule to be drawn on the basis of 20 dogs per hour on breed judging."

The Board discussed the duties, powers, and responsibilities of the several operating Councils, and adopted the following as Standing Resolutions:

The Board decided that the Dog Show Council would be asked to draft the duties of Dog Show Representatives. Pending the setting of the duties of Dog Show Representatives it was decided that it "shall be the duty of Dog Show Representatives to assist the Dog Show Council in their review of the Dog Show Rules", and all Directors of the Club were appointed Dog Show Representatives. The Board also decided that legislation would be sought to increase the number of members on the Dog Show Council.

In response to a letter which had been received from an Obedience Association, the Board ruled that neither the Chairman of the Club's Obedience Council nor the Obedience Representative for Ontario should be required, by reason of their position as such, to become officials or members of any obedience association.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

The Board considered letters received from the Lakeland Kennel Club and the Thunder Bay Kennel and Training Club regarding representation on the Board for "North-Western Ontario". The Secretary was instructed to inform the clubs concerned that the zone arrangements for representation on the Board are as prescribed in Section 1 of Article XII of the Club's By-laws, and until the By-laws are amended there can be no change in the present system of representation.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS

The Board noted that while a recently approved amendment to the Club's By-laws provides for the Board to deal with proposed amendments to the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards, such amendment is not consistent with the provisions of Section 1 of Article XXXVIII of the Club's By-laws.

The Secretary was instructed to take this matter up with the Chief Registration Officer of the Department of Agriculture.

The Board noted that while Article XII of the Club's By-laws provides that once balloting closes the Election Commission may proceed immediately with the tabulation of voting in connection with the election of Officers and Directors, this is not consistent with the provisions of Section 12 (2) of Article XXXVIII of the By-laws which provide that envelopes containing referendum ballots returned by voting members may not be opened and tabulated until after the last day for receiving referendum ballots. The Secretary was authorized to draft for the future consideration of the Board a proposed amendment which would enable both tabulations to proceed immediately upon the close of balloting.

BOARD MEETINGS

The Board decided that the next regular meeting of the Board would be held on Wednesday, April 6th, and that the semi-annual meeting of the Board would be held at the Club's head office at Toronto commencing on July 18th.

The Board rescinded a resolution (#517-65) adopted at the meeting of the Board in December, which would have limited the consideration of the Board at its annual meeting in connection with those matters not included on the agenda forwarded to members of the Board prior to the meeting.

BERMUDA KENNEL CLUB

The Board received the report and recommendations of the Secretary following the Secretary's meetings with officials of the Bermuda Kennel Club in Bermuda last October. The Secretary was authorized to seek the reaction of the Bermuda Kennel Club to the proposed new arrangements between The Canadian Kennel Club and the Bermuda Kennel Club with regard to the holding of dog shows and obedience trials and the registration of litters and individual dogs born in Bermuda or imported into Bermuda.

PROMOTION, PUBLIC RELATIONS AND PUBLICITY

The Board received the report of Mr. Gordon Ashcroft, Chairman of the Promotion, Public Relations and Publicity Committee, with regard to an advertising campaign being conducted through the classified advertising columns of the larger newspapers across Canada, drawing attention to the provisions of the Live Stock Pedigree Act and the necessity of sellers providing certificates of registration for dogs sold as pure-bred.

Proposals submitted by Mr. Robert B. Laskey with regard to the preparation and distribution of films on shows and trials and the processing of work through the Club's head office were referred to the Promotion, Public Relations and Publicity Committee for consideration and report to the Board.

STAFF

The Board authorized the Secretary to proceed to implement a resolution adopted by the previous Board authorizing him to engage an Office Administrator to assist him.

MEMBERSHIP MATTERS

MESSAGE TO MEMBERS

The President was authorized to address his customary year-end message to members of the Club.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Board directed that applications for associate membership received from clubs and associations be held in abeyance pending the formulation of regulations concerning membership of clubs.

Applications for membership reported on lists #1 to #16 inclusive, distributed to members of the Board, were approved and the applicants were admitted to membership.

A number of applications for membership were ordered held in abeyance pending further reports to the Board. One such application was received from an applicant with an overdue account with "Dogs in Canada"; two applications were from applicants who apparently failed to keep complete private breeding records; two applications concerned persons against whom complaints had been received regarding alleged failure to deliver certificates of registration to purchasers; and another application was from a person believed to be engaged in the breeding and selling of dogs which are not pure-bred (an investigation was ordered in this case).

In the case of a partnership membership where the husband had died, the Board ordered that the ordinary membership in the name of the partnership be changed to the name of the surviving wife.

DOG SHOWS

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO DOG SHOW RULES

The Board considered a proposal advanced at the Annual General Meeting that a dog entered in class competition for a series of shows, but completing its championship before the end of the series, may be benched at the remaining shows but withheld from competition, or alternatively, transferred to "Specials Only". The Board also considered a proposal advanced at the Annual General Meeting that each show-giving club be authorized to provide an "in transit" area for dogs not entered in the show but whose owners (or handlers) wish a place to keep such dogs while a show is in progress.

These proposals were referred to the Dog Show Council for consideration and report.

The Board discussed that section of a report of the Dog Show Council in which the Council recommended that the Board give serious consideration to conducting a special referendum ballot as soon as possible, with a view to having amendments to the Dog Show Rules no longer dealt with by way of referendum ballot but rather in the fashion followed for the past several years in connection with amendments to the Field Trial Rules and Regulations. The Board concurred with this recommendation in principle and directed that the Dog Show Council draft the necessary legislation for the consideration of the Board at its semi-annual meeting.

At its previous semi-annual meeting the Board had asked the Dog Show Council to consider the advisability of an amendment to the Dog Show Rules which would delete any provision for challenge trophies. The Board concurred with a recommendation of the Council that provision for challenge trophies remain in the Dog Show Rules.

Acting on a recommendation of the Dog Show Council, the Board directed that clubs holding shows and trials under the Club's rules be informed that approval of their respective dates is on the distinct understanding that they will not conduct or allow to be conducted at their events a lottery for dogs.

The Board concurred with a recommendation of the Dog Show Council that the Dog Show Rules be not amended to provide that a dog eligible to compete in a Group or for General Specials may be withheld from such competition at the option of the owner or handler.

STAKES AT CHAMPIONSHIP SHOWS

The Board reviewed a memorandum addressed to show-giving clubs in December (1965) regarding the staging of stakes (including puppy sweepstakes) at championship shows held under the Club's rules, and after discussion directed the Secretary to inform show-giving clubs of the following new policies with regard to such stakes:

(1) Any person in good standing may be approved to judge stakes at dog shows.

(2) The time of judging of a stake is left to the discretion of the show-giving club, but it must not conflict with the regular order of judging and the time of commencement of the judging of a stake must be announced in the judging schedule mailed to exhibitors.

(3) The official placement ribbons (1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th) may be used.

INTERPRETATIONS

In response to a question which had been raised, the Board ruled that the removal of a hernia is regarded by the Board as a necessary operation and does not require disqualification under Chapter 17, Section 2 of the Dog Show Rules.

The Board ordered the reinstatement of a dog which had been disqualified at a championship show on the grounds of mild lameness, and referred to the Dog Show Council the question of a suitable revision of Section 4 of Chapter 17 to provide that temporary lameness, while disqualifying at the time such lameness exists, shall not permanently disqualify or require reinstatement by the Board.

JUDGES

As requested by the Board, Mr. Dawson, Chairman of the Committee responsible for the implementation of Chapter 7 of the Dog Show Rules, presented his recommendations with regard to desirable changes in Chapter 7. These proposed changes were discussed at some length and were referred back to the Committee for reconsideration on the basis of the Board's discussion.

The Board decided that when a person is a judge on a one-show basis for the first time and under the observation of an observing committee, the ring steward for said judge must not be an approved C.K.C. judge for the breed or breeds to be judged on a one-time basis by the apprentice judge.

After discussion, no action was taken on a proposal that when conducting oral examinations of applicants seeking to establish eligibility to judge one or more breeds, the examining committee must use a series of written questions provided for it by the committee responsible for the processing of such applications.

The Secretary was instructed to be guided by information obtained from the Australian National Kennel Council when processing applications of clubs seeking approval of an Australian dog show judge.

The Board considered the written appeal of two applicants (seeking to establish eligibility to judge) from decisions rendered by the committee responsible for the implementation of Chapter 7 of the Dog Show Rules. On one appeal the Board decided that the decision of the committee would stand. On the other appeal it directed that the applicant's application for approval to judge an entire group be approved and his name placed on the list of approved judges for that Group.

ENTRY FORMS

Because some show-giving clubs are apparently finding it necessary to have their own entry forms printed, it was agreed that the Secretary would obtain quotations on the printing of entry forms and would present a report to the Board for its consideration.

BOOSTER SHOWS

After considering a query as to whether a club conducting an all-breed championship show in Canada may permit an American specialty club to consider the classes for its breed at said show as a "Booster Show", the Board decided that the matter of booster events at championship shows would be left to the discretion of the clubs conducting such shows.

SANCTION SHOWS

The Board considered a question as to whether a club holding a sanction show may prescribe additional rules, i.e. may stipulate that a dog which has earned one or more championship points is not eligible to be entered at its sanction show. The Board ruled that a club holding a sanction show under the Club's rules cannot prescribe any additional sanction show rules.

Referred to the Dog Show Council for consideration and report was a proposal, advanced at the last semi-annual meeting of the Board, that the reference to "sanction shows" in the Dog Show Rules be amended to "sanction matches"

The Board confirmed a previous policy decision that the granting of a sanction show date to a club in Ontario rests with the Secretary, and the granting of a sanction show date outside the province of Ontario is at the discretion of the local Director, and directed that the sanction show rules be amended, effective immediately, to include this policy.

The Board ruled that no club is to be granted permission to hold two sanction shows within the same day.

With a view to assisting clubs which hold sanction shows and trials, the Secretary was instructed to obtain prices and samples of sanction show or trial ribbons from different companies.

The Board considered a request from a show-giving club that arrangements be made for sanction show dates to be granted more than four months in advance of dates applied for, but decided that it would not change the present policy, believing that all dates should be held available up to the last minute for championship show purposes.

CHAMPIONS AND CHAMPIONSHIP REQUIREMENTS

The Board received and considered the report of the Dog Show Council with regard to a submission which Mrs. Ena Stewart had submitted at the 1965 Annual General Meeting on possible changes in the present championship requirements and the allocation of championship points. The Board noted the Council's recommendation that the Board give consideration to altering the present schedule of point ratings from "one dog, one point" to "two dogs, one point" but after discussion decided that it would not consider taking steps to alter the point ratings as recommended by the Council.

A notice had been published in the last October issue of "Dogs in Canada" seeking the comments of those interested on a proposal of Mr. George Frost that Chapter 21 of the Dog Show Rules be amended to require that a German Shepherd Dog, in order to attain championship status, must "obtain three of the ten points from a judge recognized as a specialty judge for German Shepherd Dogs". The Board considered the replies which had been received in response to the invitation published with such notice, and at Mr. Frost's suggestion agreed that at this time no action would be taken on this proposal.

The Board referred to the Dog Show Council for consideration, letters protesting the change of the schedule for Chow Chows from "one dog, one point" to "two dogs, one point", and a proposal submitted by the Poodle Advancement Association requesting that the Board consider altering the ratings to "require two dogs of either sex to qualify for a Winners ribbon".

The Board referred to the Dog Show Council for consideration, a proposal submitted by Mr. Robert N. Phillips, on a proposed new system of awards and championship requirements.

DATES

The Board at its semi-annual meeting in 1965, decided that it should give consideration to providing for an amendment to provide that clubs or associations be allowed to hold only such championship shows as designated in the name of the club, association or organization. For example, only an all-breed club should hold an all-breed show, and in the case of a specialty club, a specialty show only for the breed or breeds for which the specialty club was formed to promote (note the provisions of Section 3 of Chapter 2 of the Dog Show Rules regarding specialty championship shows). At the same time the Board noted that with an ever increasing number of clubs and applications for show dates, practical difficulties were being experienced in some areas in finding suitable dates for all clubs wishing to hold championship shows. It directed the Secretary to prepare and submit to this annual meeting of the Board proposed policies on the granting of show dates, and the Secretary's report in this connection was considered.

Following discussion the following rules for the granting of dates were approved and declared effective January 1, 1967:

1. Except in the cases of exhibitions, fairs, service clubs, and organizations holding comparable types of events, only if the constitution and/or by-laws of an associate member club indicates that it is operating for the purpose of sponsoring and furthering the interests of all breeds of pure-bred dogs will permission be granted to hold an all-breed championship show under the Club's rules.

2. Only a specialty club will be granted permission to hold a specialty championship show.

3. A specialty club will be granted permission to hold a specialty show only for the breed or breeds whose interests it sponsors, and it will not be granted permission to hold an all-breed championship show.

4. As soon as possible after the 1966 annual meetings all clubs will be invited to submit applications for priority rights for the five-year period commencing January 1st, 1968. A deadline of four months to be set for the submission of renewal applications to the C.K.C. after which deadline dates previously reserved on a priority basis may be granted to other clubs.

5. No club shall be granted priority rights on more than two championship shows in a calendar year and the same shall apply to obedience trials and field trials.

6. Before priority rights are granted any club notice of its application must first be published in the official organ with an invitation to those interested to submit their comments (in support of the application or opposition thereto) within a thirty-day period following publication after which the application will be referred to the appropriate council (with comments received) for approval or rejection. (Dog show applications to the Dog Show Council; obedience applications to the Obedience Council; field trial applications to the appropriate Field Trial Council).

7. Except in the case of a fair or exhibition or comparable organization, no club will be granted permission to hold more than two shows on consecutive dates (Sunday will not be considered a "consecutive date" in the case of a club not holding a Sunday show immediately following its Saturday show). Additional dates may however be granted at the discretion of the appropriate council, but every effort should be made to space out shows datewise in order to avoid confliction.

As the current five-year program on priority rights on dates expires on December 31, 1967, the Board agreed that the Secretary would proceed as soon as possible to implement section 4 of the above-stated rules on the granting of dates.

The Board considered the request of a specialty club seeking approval of its proposed "annual non-point puppy specialty show". It was agreed that this type of event does not come within the jurisdiction of The Canadian Kennel Club and there is no provision for C.K.C. approval or recognition of such event.

The application of an all-breed club for priority rights on a show date in 1967 was considered, and it was agreed that, as the current program of priority rights expires on December 31, 1967, it would be inadvisable at this time to grant any further priority rights on dates in 1966 and 1967.

The Board decided that it was not prepared to grant to a specialty club permission for it to hold specialty shows for its breed on consecutive dates.

The Board noted that the United Kennel Club held priority rights on April 29th and 30th, 1967, and as 1967 is EXPO Year, it approved the application of the United Kennel Club to hold an additional championship show on April 28th.

The Board approved the applications of the Barrie Kennel Club to hold championship shows on August 5th, 6th, and 7th, 1967.

The Board upheld the decision of the Secretary in rejecting the applications of the Bermuda Kennel Club for dates in May on the grounds that such applications had been received within four months preceding the dates applied for.

POSTING OF SHEETS FROM JUDGES' BOOKS

The Board considered the report of the Secretary concerning requests for corrections in awards at shows and trials, as published in the Club's official magazine, and noted the difficulty which is experienced when these requests concern awards apparently incorrectly marked in the judge's book but not drawn to the Secretary's attention in most cases until long after the awards were made. Section 19 of Chapter 20 of the Dog Show Rules requires that a show-giving club shall post in a prominent position in its show as soon as possible after the breeds in each group are judged, the completed pages from the judge's book marked "office copy", and agreed that it is the responsibility of exhibitors to check these pages, and wherever errors occur, to promptly draw the matter to the attention of the Show Superintendent. The Board ruled that the Secretary is not to entertain any requests for correction in awards as marked in the judge's book if the Secretary receives the request for correction more than one month following the publication of awards in the official magazine, and then only if the officiating judge specifically and conclusively authorizes the correction requested.

MEASURING STANDARDS

Having regard for the difficulty which some show-giving clubs are experiencing in acquiring acceptable measuring standards, the Secretary was ordered to obtain quotations on the manufacture of measuring standards, secure orders from show-giving clubs and then place a firm order for the delivery of measuring standards to those clubs which placed orders with him.

SHOW SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

The Board decided that pending a further review of the question the Secretary would not implement a previous decision of the Board requiring each Show Superintendent to submit a report on a championship show held under the Club's rules.

LATE RETURNS

The previous Board had imposed a fine of $25.00 on each of two clubs for failure to submit their returns for championship shows within the time stipulated in the Dog Show Rules. The Secretary reported that these fines had been paid.

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

AMENDMENTS TO OBEDIENCE TRIAL REGULATIONS AND STANDARDS

The Board noted that pursuant to an instruction given by the previous Board, notice had been given in the October and November (1965) issues of "Dogs in Canada" that at this meeting the Board would consider a number of proposed amendments to the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards. The Board considered a further report of the Obedience Council in this connection and also letters which had been received in response to the invitation published with the notice given in the October and November issues regarding these proposed amendments.

Each of these proposed amendments was considered separately and a decision was reached on each. A notice is published elsewhere in this issue of those proposed amendments which received the Board's approval and which become effective on January 1, 1967.

Inasmuch as the Board did not approve the proposed amendment which would have required that entries for a licensed obedience trial close ten days in advance of the trial, a number of proposed amendments reported in the November (1965) issue of the magazine were referred back to the Obedience Council for redrafting.

JUDGES

The Board considered a policy established in 1965 requiring that obedience judges pass a written examination every five years. It decided to further consider this subject at its semi-annual meeting in July, and in the meantime further implementation of the policy established in 1965 would be held in abeyance.

For the purpose of financing seminars for obedience trial judges set up under the jurisdiction of the Obedience Council through Obedience Representatives, the Board allotted funds not to exceed $500 per calendar year.

In order to ensure uniformity in the marking of examination papers written by applicants seeking to establish eligibility to judge one or more obedience classes, the Board altered the procedure previously prescribed on the processing of such applications to require that the examination papers be marked by the Obedience Council.

OBEDIENCE TRIAL OFFICIALS

The Board established a policy requiring that where a licensed obedience trial is held independent of a championship show, the person designated as the Obedience Trial Chairman shall act as the Superintendent of the trial.

TRACKING TESTS

The Board received the report of George Frost, Chairman of the Tracking Test Council, which report suggested that the new Tracking Test Council consider the possibility of requiring that before a person may proceed to establish eligibility to judge tracking tests he must have qualified a dog in a licensed tracking test.

FIELD TRIALS

FIELD TRIALS FOR FOXHOUNDS

The Board received the report of W. J. Monaghan, Chairman of the Field Trial Council for Foxhounds, outlining Foxhound activities in 1965, and also the report of E. D. Bonnyman reporting on the activities of the All Canadian Fox Hunters' Association in 1965.

FIELD TRIALS FOR BEAGLES

Arising out of a report submitted by Mrs. Edna Joel, Chairman of the Field Trial Council for Beagles, the Board:

(1) instructed the Secretary to give notice in "Dogs in Canada" of a proposed amendment to the Field Trial Rules for Beagles in connection with championship requirements for Beagles competing at field trials held in the Maritime Provinces;
(2) appointed Donald Currie as an Official Measurer in Nova Scotia, replacing James Poirier who had moved to Ontario;
(3) appointed the following as Official Measurers in the province of Quebec: Ronald Delisle, Leighton Watson, Edward Akester, Keith Boa, Vincent Neville, Frank Kleindienst, Laurier Piedalue;
(4) instructed the Secretary to prepare a time and cost analysis for the consideration of the Board at its semi-annual meeting in connection with a proposal that when reporting awards to dogs at licensed Beagle field trials, the report include the name of the sire and name of dam of each placing Beagle.

For the purpose of financing judges' seminars for Beagle field trial judges, the Board allotted funds for 1966 on the basis of $100 for each of the following zones: Ontario, Quebec, and Nova Scotia.

The Board noted that when a Beagle obtains championship points in two height divisions at licensed trials held under the Club's rules the dog must be officially measured before a championship certificate can be issued. It ruled that this official measurement must be conducted by three Official Measurers appointed pursuant to the provisions of the Field Trial Rules for Beagles and the owner of the dog must submit, with the required fee, the formal application for official measurement.

FIELD TRIALS FOR RETRIEVERS

The Board received the report of V. W. Williams, Chairman of the Field Trial Council for Retrievers, who reported on the views of the Council on the following questions:

(1) That at all licensed trials embodying stakes carrying championship points, no judge be allowed to judge more than two trials for the same point stakes in any one year, excluding out-of-province, amateur, and the National stakes, and not judging on consecutive days.
(2) That The Canadian Kennel Club rules pertaining to judges be changed to qualify only amateurs to judge the licensed trials; this would then bring our rules in line with The American Kennel Club on the same subject.
(3) It is also asked that we consider that to obtain an amateur field trial championship, the contestant has to win an amateur all-age stake before attaining that title.

After discussion the Board decided that:

(1) notice of proposed amendments to the Field Trial Rules for Retrievers on questions No. 1 and No. 3 would be published in "Dogs in Canada" pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 31 of the Field Trial Rules and Regulations;
(2) decided that for the time being a national ruling would not be made on the second of the two questions reported above.

The Board decided that for the purpose of financing judges' seminars or Retriever field trial judges, funds would be allotted on the following basis: British Columbia $200.00; Ontario $300.00; and each other zone (Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Quebec, New Brunswick & Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia & Newfoundland) $100.00.

FIELD TRIALS FOR SPANIELS

The Board noted that pursuant to an instruction given by the previous Board, notice had been published in the October (1965) issue of "Dogs in Canada" regarding the following:

(1) proposed "Special Regulations applying to the National Championship Spaniel Stake" (as a proposed addition to the Field Trial Rules and Regulations);

(2) a proposed amendment to Section 13 of Chapter 11 of the Field Trial Rules and Regulations setting forth a new definition of the Puppy Stake;
(3) proposed "Instructions for the Handling of Birds at Field Trials" for Spaniels;
(4) regulations on a "Proposed Working Test for Spaniels".

The Board approved and declared effective on July 1, 1966, the amendments regarding the National Championship Stake for Spaniels and the new definition of the Puppy Stake (see notice in this connection published elsewhere in this section of this issue).

The Board directed that the "Instructions for the Handling of Birds at Field Trials" be mailed to each club holding a licensed trial for Spaniels when approval is given its premium list, and decided that a final decision regarding the proposed working tests for Spaniels would be deferred until clubs conducting licensed field trials for Spaniels have been approached and their views on this subject sought.

For the purpose of financing judges' seminars for Spaniel field trial judges, the Board allotted funds for 1966 on the basis of $100 for each electoral zone.

FIELD TRIALS FOR POINTING BREEDS

The Board received the report of Donald H. Duff, Chairman of the Field Trial Council for Pointing Breeds, and noted the Council's recommendation with regard to a proposed amendment to Chapter 9 of the Field Trial Rules and Regulations in connection with judges' decisions and the withholding of championship points and ribbons at the discretion of the officating judges. The Board approved the proposed amendment outlined in Mr. Duff's report and declared the amendment effective July 1, 1966. (This amendment is published elsewhere in this section of this issue).

After discussion the Board referred to the Council for consideration letters received from W. A. McClure, J. A. H. Bradley, and H. Lindsay Beaman.

For the purpose of financing judges' seminars for Pointing Breeds field trial judges, the Board allotted funds for 1966 on the following basis: Alberta, $200; British Columbia, $200; Ontario, $200; New Brunswick & Prince Edward Island, $200; Nova Scotia & Newfoundland, $200; and each of the remaining zones, $100.

PREMIUM LISTS

The Board decided that field trial clubs would no longer be required to include in premium lists, notices regarding indignities to judges and the use of drugs.

GOOD AND WELFARE

JUNIOR KENNEL CLUBS

The Board directed that to each organized Junior Kennel Club in Canada there would be donated six copies of the C.K.C. Book of Breed Standards.

The Board referred to the Committee on Junior Kennel Clubs, a proposal that the Club set up a travel fund to assist Junior Kennel Clubs when interprovincial competitions start, and also proposals regarding arrangements for a national competition for junior handlers.

REGULATIONS REGARDING THE FORMATION OF CLUBS AND RECOGNITION OF EXISTING CLUBS

At the semi-annual meeting in 1965 the Board of Directors discussed the possibility of adopting regulations regarding the formation of clubs and the recognition of existing clubs by the C.K.C. The intent was to provide a means by which clubs could obtain the formal recognition of The Canadian Kennel Club and partly to discourage the indiscriminate formation of clubs in areas and/or for breeds already adequately and satisfactorily served by existing clubs. The discussion concluded with an instruction to the Secretary to prepare and submit to this annual meeting of the Board proposed regulations regarding the registration of clubs by The Canadian Kennel Club and the allocation of show and trial dates. The Secretary's proposals were placed before this meeting when, after discussion and in view of the criticism of the Secretary's submission, the Board appointed a committee consisting of Mr. Walter Frost and Mr. William Dawson to review the submitted proposals and present a revised draft for consideration by the Board later in the meeting.

Later in the meeting the report of Mr. Frost and Mr. Dawson was received and their recommendations were discussed section by section. A number of changes were made and at the conclusion of the discussion the Board, by resolution, adopted the following regulations, to be effective July 1, 1967:

(NOTE: The following does not apply to an exhibition, fair, club, or an organization holding an exhibition or fair or comparable type of event in conjunction with which it wishes to hold a dog show, obedience trial, or field trial. In the following regulations the word "club" includes an "association").

1. To obtain recognition by The Canadian Kennel Club a club must apply for and be admitted to associate membership in The Canadian Kennel Club. Recognition will continue only as long as membership in the C.K.C. is maintained in good standing.

2. The application for associate membership must be accompanied by:
   (a) A complete list of the officials of the club designating in each case the office held, and address.
   (b) An up-to-date copy of the constitution and by-laws of the club.
   (c) A membership list of members with full membership privileges.

3. In its application for membership the club must agree to forward the following to the Secretary of The Canadian Kennel Club within ten days following its annual meeting:
   (a) a complete list of the officials of the club, designating in each case the office held and address;
   (b) a copy of all amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the club.

4. No club will be granted associate membership until notice of its application (giving the name, area to be served, and breed or breeds involved) has been published in the official organ with an invitation to those interested to submit their comments (in support of or opposition to) within a thirty day period following publication of the notice. All comments received within the stipulated period will be referred to the Board with the application for associate membership.

5. Before accepting a club as an associate member of the C.K.C. it may require the club applying to amend its constitution and/or by-laws where it is felt that any part of the constitution and/or by-laws is not suitable or practical or blatantly inimical to the interests of pure-bred dogs. The C.K.C. may terminate the membership of any club which fails, within a four-months period of being notified that an amendment to its constitution and/or by-laws is not acceptable to the C.K.C., to process an amendment which is satisfactory to the C.K.C. unless already incorporated for a period of one year.

6. No club whose name includes "Canadian" or "Canada" as a part of its name will be recognized unless the club has members in at least five of Canada's ten provinces and its constitution and/or by-laws provide for a controlled mail vote of its entire voting membership* in connection with the election of its officers and directors and other club officials and on all proposed amendments to its constitution and by-laws.
(*Voting privileges of a person residing in Canada are not to be restricted on the grounds of geographical location in Canada).

7. Where a specialty club whose name includes "Canadian" or "Canada" as a part of its name has been recognized by the C.K.C., no other specialty club sponsoring the same breed or breeds will be permitted to obtain recognition if its name includes "Canadian" or "Canada".

8. The word "Royal" shall not be permitted as a part of the name of a club.

9. In the case of a specialty club its club name must not conflict with any part of its constitution and/or by-laws as to the breed or breeds whose interests it is operating to promote.

10. Each club, in order to obtain recognition, must include in its constitution or by-laws, a statement of the geographical area from which it will admit members.

11. The club's secretary will automatically be the "authorized representative" in connection with the club's associate membership in The Canadian Kennel Club.

12. With a view to discouraging the indiscriminate formation of clubs in areas and/or for breeds already served by an existing club which has obtained C.K.C. recognition, The Canadian Kennel Club may require evidence of the need for or usefulness of a club applying for associate membership.

CENTENNIAL MEDALS

A sample of a medal offered by The Canadian Kennel Club many years ago was exhibited, and it was suggested that consideration be given to awarding such medals in 1967 by way of celebrating Canada's Centennial Year.

It was agreed that the Secretary would look into the matter and present a report at the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

HIP DISPLASIA AND OTHER HEREDITARY DEFECTS

The Board considered a further report (dated November 11th) on "Control of Hip Displasia in Dogs" as received from Dr. A. J. Cawley, Professor and Head of the Small Animal Division, Department of Clinical Studies, University of Guelph, and a resolution, adopted at the meeting of the Board on December 10th, that the Board take the necessary steps to implement a program of hip displasia control along the lines recommended by Dr. Cawley. Following a discussion the Board directed that a grant of $1,000 be provided for continuation of research at the Ontario Veterinary College on displasia and other bone abnormalities in dogs.

ADJOURNMENT

This annual meeting of the Board adjourned at 3.01 p.m. on March 3rd.

3. Owners of dogs qualifying for entry in this Stake shall be invited by

4. Ribbons: for first, second, third, and fourth places.
5. Championship points will be as for an Open All-Age Stake, along with such prizes as may be offered in the premium list for the Stake.
6. The Stake must have at least six tests or series, five on land, and one on water.
7. Two judges only shall officiate. Each judge must have previously judged at least two Open All-Age Stakes at licensed Spaniel trials.
8. The organization staging the Stake shall name a committee to manage the Stake, and will be held responsible for enforcing the rules and regulations as laid down by The Canadian Kennel Club.
9. Within ten days of the completion of the trial, the organization staging the Stake shall submit the following to The Canadian Kennel Club:

   (b) a full list of the owners who entered dogs in the Stake;
   (c) all entry forms;
   (d) the name and full particulars of the placed dogs certified to over the signatures of the officiating judges;
   (e) all recording and listing fees set by The Canadian Kennel Club;
   (f) information regarding each of the tests conducted on land and water.
10. Except where such Field Trial Rules and Regulations are inconsistent with these rules, the Field Trial Rules and Regulations adopted by The Canadian Kennel Club shall apply in connection with the Stake.
11. Regardless of any wins earned by their dogs, no person denied the right, by The Canadian Kennel Club, to enter their dogs at trials under Canadian Kennel Club rules shall be entitled to enter dogs in this Stake.
12. After the Field Trial Committee for the National has selected the trial grounds on which the National is to be run, no competing dog shall be trained on that part of the grounds to be used for the National. The word "trained" as used here does not include licensed field trials.

NOTICE

SUBJECT: Amendments to C. K. C. Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards.

The following amendments to the C. K. C. Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards were approved by the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club at its 1966 annual meeting. The amendments as outlined hereunder will come into effect on January 1st, 1967.

CHAPTER I

1. Insert the following, as a new paragraph, between the 2nd and 3rd paragraphs in Subsection 1 of Section 12 (PROGRAMME OF JUDGING):
   "A judge shall not judge more than forty (40) dogs in a six hour period."

CHAPTER II

1. At the end of the second paragraph in SECTION 3 add the following: "The leash used in the Novice classes shall be about six feet long. Dogs shall not be picked up or carried in any obedience ring."
2. In the third paragraph of SECTION 3 add the words "fouling the ring," after "unjustified barking,".
3. After the first sentence in SECTION 6 (STAND FOR EXAMINATION) add the following: "The method by which the dog is made to stand or pose is optional with the handler who may take any reasonable time in posing the dog before deciding to give the command and/or signal to Stay. The leash shall be held clear of the floor when the handler is in position."
4. In SECTION 8 (RECALL) alter the second sentence to read as follows: "Upon order or signal from the Judge, 'Call your dog', the handler calls or signals the dog, which in the Novice Class must come straight in at a smart pace and sit STRAIGHT immediately in front of the handler, and close enough so that the handler could readily touch it without moving his feet or having to stretch forward."
5. In SECTION 12 (RETRIEVE ON FLAT) delete the last two sentences and substitute the following: "The dog shall sit straight immediately in front of its handler and close enough so that the handler can readily take the dumbbell without moving his feet or having to stretch forward. The dumbbell must be approved by the judge. It may be painted or varnished but shall have no decorations or attachments. The size of the dumbbell shall be proportionate to the size of the dog. The judge shall require the dumbbell to be thrown again before the dog is sent if in his opinion it is thrown too short a distance, or too far to one side, or against the ringside."
6. In SECTION 16 (SEEK BACK) delete the words "an article" after the words "surreptitiously drop" and substitute "a plain glove", and thereafter in the same section delete the words "the article" and substitute the words "the glove".

CHAPTER III

1. Delete the present SECTION 9 and substitute the following:
   "SECTION 9. Announcement of Scores. The judge shall not disclose any score or partial score to contestants or spectators until he has completed the judging of the entire class or, in the case of a split class, until he has completed the judging of his division; nor shall he permit anyone else to do so. After all the scores for the class are recorded the judge shall call for all available dogs that have won prizes or qualifying scores to be brought into the ring. Before awarding the prizes, the judge shall inform the spectators as to the maximum number of points for a perfect score, and shall then announce the score of each prize winner, and announce to the handler the score of each dog that has won a qualifying score.
   Explanations and Errors. The judge is not required to explain his scoring, and should not enter into any discussion with any contestant who appears to be dissatisfied. Any interested person who thinks that there may have been an arithmetical error or an error in identifying a dog may report the facts to one of the stewards or to the Superintendent or Show or Trial Secretary so that the matter may be checked."
2. To SECTION 12 add a new paragraph reading as follows: "A qualifying score must never be awarded to a dog whose performance has not met the minimum requirements, nor to a dog that shows fear or resentment, or that relieves itself at any time in an indoor ring, or that stops to relieve itself while performing any exercise indoors or outdoors, nor to a dog whose handler disciplines or abuses it in the ring."
3. Add a new SECTION 14 (remaining Sections to be appropriately renumbered) reading as follows: "Ring and Equipment. The Superintendent and the officials of the club holding the obedience trial are responsible for providing rings and equipment which meet the requirements of these Regulations. However, the judge also must check the ring and equipment provided for his use, and must report to The Canadian Kennel Club after the trial any deficiencies that are not promptly corrected at his request."
4. In SECTION 24 (SEEK BACK) delete the words "the article" and substitute the words "the glove".

NOTE: Consideration will not be given to an application for registration of any of the following as kennel names: (1) any name which is registered as a kennel name with The Canadian Kennel Club; (2) any name which is registered as a kennel name with The American Kennel Club; (3) any name which is phonetically identical toa name registered as a kennel name with The Canadian Kennel Club; (4) the word "Royal" either as a whole or as part of a name; (5) a colour, by itself; (6) one or more individual letters; (7) a numeral, or includes a numeral; (8) any name exceeding twelve letter spaces; (9) any name which, if brought to the attention of the Board, is considered to be misleading or confusing or unsuitable as a kennel name.

NOTICE

There appears to be some confusion as to what actually constitutes the INDIVIDUAL registration number of a dog registered individually in the records of The Canadian Kennel Club. On the certificate of registration issued by The Canadian Kennel Club the INDIVIDUAL registration number appears in brackets immediately following the name of the dog.

In the case of a dog born in Canada there will also appear on the certificate the litter registration number of the litter of which that dog was part. The litter registration number can be recognized because the last two digits in the number represent the year in which the litter was registered. For example, litter number 7237 registered in 1965 would appear as #7237-65.

When completing applications for registration of litters and individual dogs and transfers of ownership or corresponding with the Canadian National Live Stock Records or The Canadian Kennel Club it is the INDIVIDUAL registration numbers which should be shown or quoted in connection with dogs named on the applications or in the correspondence.

STANDARDS QUIZZ

Standards Quizz No. 10. Compiled by H. Malcolm Stephens. Object is to match the first set of numbers (which relate to various parts of the dog) with the second set of numbers (which describe that part of the dog). For example: 18 — 1 Topline — moderately sloping. Scoring: 22-24 correct — you could be judging. 19-21 correct — you should start thinking about judging. 16-18 correct — good if you are in another breed. Less than 16 — you must be in another breed. Answers on page 81.

Best Puppy in Show went to Mrs. Romélia Aalders' Keeshond, 'Kayzenburgh's Angelface Dennis'.

This show had several unique features. About $500.00 worth of prizes and equipment were donated to the club by the local business people, who really made it a community effort. Mayor Rolland Desourdy, of Cowansville, spent the better part of the afternoon at the show. His two young sons paraded a pair of Ibizan Hounds during the show. Mr. Desourdy is breeding these unusual hounds and has 11 at present.

The town turned out, en masse, to see the show and to meet the famous Silver, the 'Wonder Dog' and his owner-handler, Bill Short. At the conclusion of their spell-binding demonstration, Silver presented Mayor Desourdy with an honourary membership in his special fan club. Mr. Desourdy is the fourth Quebec Mayor to receive this honor.

Trophies were presented at the conclusion of the show by Rev. Sister Ste. Angélie, the Director of Ste. Thérèse School where the show was held. The Sisters of the Presentation of Mary, who teach at the school, were very helpful.

On the Sunday preceding, every member of the local clergy, both Catholic and Protestant alike, read our notices from his pulpit. The night before the show, the Scouts turned out to help set up the hall. The Sisters too, turned out to help. Our Ralston-Purina Dealer, also turned out to help in any way he could.

The show was conducted in both English and French. Peter Erdos of Knowlton and Gaston Nolin of Napierville, as commentators, kept up a bilingual description of the events.

With so much enthusiasm from exhibitors and spectators alike, we were very short of space. We have already been promised a much larger hall for next year's event and it would seem that our local friends are looking forward to another show.

A delightful cocktail party and dinner was held following the show.

Imports Dachshunds From California

Mrs. Mini Soeters, Miniam-Teckel Dachshund Kennels, South Edmonton, Alta., recently imported two black and tan Smooth Dachshunds from California. The year-old female, Brucetta v d Daniels, sired by the late Ch. Brucie v d Daniels ex Herzi Buffon of Gera, is a sister of the winning Am. Ch. Red Brucie v d Daniels and was bred by Mr. and Mrs. Buffon of Santa Cruz. The male, Barton v d Daniels, was also sired by Brucie, ex Della v d Daniels and was bred by Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Daniels.

At his very first show, Mrs. Soeters' homebred, nine-months-old Miniam-Teckel's Defender, red Standard Smooth, recently placed Best of Breed, 4th in Group, BCB in Group, BCB Puppy in Group, BCB Puppy in Show, all under Judge W. A. Jacob.

Hazards for the House Whippet

Rearing your Whippet in the house, principally as a pet and companion, is often more "hazardous" than rearing the same dog in a kennel. Very often, the home is full of "hazards" that are extremely inviting to puppies and grown dogs and in this age of miracle solutions, fabrics and household items, their normal curiosity and chewing can be dangerous or deadly, especially for the puppy. Generally speaking, a kennel-reared Whippet is not exposed to the same items that can be found in most homes, and as a result is not chewing upon these man-made products.

Regardless of the breed or variety, most puppies are inclined to chew on things while they are cutting their teeth and growing up. This can be dangerous if the house-reared Whippet chews on some of the items found inside most homes. As an example, hexachlorophene is an ingredient in one of the readily available toilet soaps and if a dog chews or eats a bar of soap containing this ingredient, it will be sure death for the dog unless you discover it in time and rush him to your veterinarian. I understand hexachlorophene is one of the ingredients used in embalming and when this ingredient is taken internally it paralyzes normal digestion, drinking and elimination. Several years ago, a friend of ours discovered her young dog had eaten a section of soap containing hexachlorophene. She phoned her veterinarian in a nearby town and casually asked if the animal would be harmed. The veterinarian's reaction was immediate, and he requested she drive the dog to his office at once, for every minute was important in saving the dog's life! She rushed her young dog to the veterinarian and the stomach was pumped of its contents and the dog lived.

Most house-reared Whippets must take their exercise on all sorts of ground and very often city dogs, living in apartments or close quarters, must take their exercise on whatever is available. Usually kennel Whippets have a safe area for exercise and though it might not be too pretty, it is probably not dangerous. Very often, city dogs must be exercised on the street, along sidewalks and in the city park. Throughout the summer most institutions and some city parks, have a weed control program and, it is dangerous to exercise your Whippet in these areas. The varieties of weed poisons are usually harmful. This is especially true immediately after solutions have been applied. Dogs "sweat" through the pads of their feet and weed poisons can be taken into their foot pads. Frequently, dogs lick the pads of their feet to cleanse them and usually, they will do this immediately after being exercised. If they have recently exercised on a lawn that was sprayed to kill weeds, your Whippet could lick a harmful amount of weed poison into his system or the exposure could cause skin trouble. Institutional lawns look very inviting, for their maintenance is usually excellent and the large, grassed-in areas bordered with trees are very attractive. However, it is not usually a safe area to exercise your dog because of the weed poison that may have been sprayed on the grass.

New Virus Found As Clue to Ills in Newborn Pups

A newly recognized viral disease may prove to be the answer to one of the dog breeder's most perplexing problems, sudden fatal illness in seemingly healthy young puppies.

Discovery of a canine herpesvirus which causes early mortality, was reported by Dr. I. E. Carmichael of the Veterinary Virus Research Institute, Cornell University at the 15th annual veterinary symposium sponsored by the Gaines Dog Research Center, and held at the University of Missouri School of Veterinary Medicine.

An enigmatic condition, commonly called "fading puppy syndrome" is frequently cited as the cause of death in young puppies but, said Dr. Carmichael, it is not clear whether this is a distinct disease or just a term descriptively applied to puppies which appear healthy at birth, then suddenly die without indication as to the cause. It is clear, however, from recent studies made, that a canine herpesvirus can affect puppies fatally from a few days after birth to two or three weeks later.

The cases studied were similar. The mothers were apparently healthy, milk production was adequate and the puppies were normal until a few hours prior to death. The causal virus proved to be a member of the herpesvirus group and not related to canine distemper or canine infectious hepatitis, two diseases most commonly associated with puppy mortality.

The herpesvirus group, explained Dr. Carmichael, is an ubiquitous family of viruses whose members cause disease in various species, including man. In humans, herpesviruses cause such diverse conditions as cold sores, fatal neonatal infection, chicken-pox and shingles. In contrast to the fatal illness that occurs in young puppies, in adult dogs the disease appears to be mild or inapparent. Only limited information is presently available concerning immunity to this virus and prerequisite to consideration of a vaccine is a further study of its significance and extent of occurrence. □

"TO APPRECIATE YOUR DOG"

By Jack Baird

The old Scot that broke me into dogs in 1901 (training my Gordon Setter in the field) taught me a lesson that I remember to this day. "Laddie, you'll never know what you have until you can appreciate the dog the other man owns and cares for as much as you care for this dog or any other you may own. You'll never know how good your field of activity is, until you have seen why the other chap likes that which he is doing with dogs."

Think well on this point. Maybe you've been sensible enough to have studied well your particular breed, through reading the experts, or talking with those of success in your breed, through watching and trying to understand those judges that you've had in your rings. BUT, you still are not going to have a true evaluation unless you watch other breeds in action or being judged, or even as house pets. Get to know the breeds within your own variety group, and then go watch the others. Until you have that, you are NOT a dog person.

Suppose you are primarily a show person, and most who read these lines are just that. You are never going to fully appreciate the joys (and the heartbreaks) until you take an interest in what Joe Smith and Suzy Blank are doing over there in the obedience ring. Their dogs are working at something more real than the show, and they have their ups and downs, and even if you only got a smattering of obedience with your dog, you and said pet would understand each other better.

If you have a chance to watch a field trial of any type, go do so; and if none are available, you must have someone that works a dog in the hunting field. Well, go out and see the why and wherefore, and you'll come back a better man or gal. You can't be in everything, but you must learn of the other phases to appreciate your own.

Stick by your own, but stick with more sense because you have learned what the other breeds are for and can do. It will broaden your outlook instead of your fanny to move about, and to get along in this mixed up old world in which dogs display more judgment than humans, you need more understanding of your relaxation side of life.

What is a Belgian Sheepdog

When you meet a Belgian for the first time, you are immediately impressed by his alert, "Heads Up" stature, his keen, steady gaze and the grace with which his every movement is endowed.

His guardian nature and surprising speed enhance his playful, happy disposition, as he displays his worship of the master — should you take a stroll with him — always circling back to you, assuring himself of your well-being and for the caress of your hand.

He stands about 25" at the shoulder, with a body of equal length, weighing from 65 to 70 lbs. His erect, pointed ears and attentive, almond-shaped eyes are very keen, conveying an inquisitive expression.

Clothed in a long, heavy coat, he has a well-feathered tail reaching to the hock, in a graceful descending curve. It is the length, texture and color of coat that distinguishes each of the four varieties, of which the black is best known.

If you are fortunate enough to see two of them at play, you'll agree it is "pure poetry", in every movement.

Puppy Match Expanded

The Boxer Club of Canada this year extends its annual Puppy Match to include an extra class. Puppies will be judged in the usual two to 12 months bracket. In a second class Boxers 12 months and upward (excluding champions) will be judged.

The event takes place June 5 at the Canadian National Exhibition Grounds, Toronto, via the West Gate, at 2 p.m.

Boxer Exports

Gaymitz Kennels, owned by Jack and Doreen Northover, Stouffville, Ont., have been exporting Boxer puppies to the United States. Among the new owners of Gaymitz representatives are Mrs. William Anderson of Hoffmans, N.Y. well-known Boxer judge, Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Kramer of Jacksonville, Fla., who purchased two pups and Mrs. Anna Nelson of Cincinnati, Ohio. In addition, several stud services have been required for American bitches.

Collie Nose: Its Treatment and Prevention

by H. R. Spira, B.V. SC., H.D.A.

An inflammatory process of the skin of the nose, lips and foreface sometimes occurs in Collies which is loosely termed "Collie Nose" and which, to the best of my knowledge, occurs only in this breed. The condition may be seen by a generalized reddening and swelling of the skin over the affected area and the hair over that region becomes sparser and sparser until eventually the whole of the area is denuded of hair. The affected animal usually paws at the inflamed region, or rubs its face along the ground, thereby rawing the areas and causing the skin to break. Not frequently an infection then penetrates into the rawed skin setting up a secondary condition and resulting in the formation of pustules, sores, etc. Unless this infection is controlled, further self-mutilation will occur, thereby setting up a vicious cycle.

Cause

The actual cause of Collie Nose is hypersensitivity of the skin of the face, lips and muzzle of some Collies to exposure to sunlight. The sun's rays, which will not harm the face, etc. of most Collies will set up an inflammatory reaction in the case of some of the extremely sensitive ones, usually starting with the bridge of the nose and gradually extending to the side of the face, lips, etc. It must be remembered that while the initial cause of Collie Nose is exposure to sunlight a great deal of the subsequent spread and injury is due to rubbing and scratching, on the part of the irritated patient.

Symptoms

These have already been discussed in part in the introductory paragraph and briefly, they consist of:

1) Redness and slight swelling of the stricken part.
2) Gradual spread hair loss over the affected region.
3) Loss of pigment all over the affected area, so that the bridge of the nose, lips, etc. may become entirely flesh colored, and
4) In time the skin becomes thickened and leathery and if irritated or scratched will allow pustules and pimples, to make their appearance.

Diagnosis

This is based on the above symptoms, keeping in mind that Demodectic Mange may produce similar symptoms; this latter condition, however, is not confined to the same areas as Collie Nose and may appear on other parts of the body, as well as the head, e.g., elbows, hocks. Should Demodectic Mange be suspected, veterinary advice should be sought as soon as possible, as this condition can only be diagnosed accurately by demonstrating the mange mite microscopically subsequent to a skin scraping.

Treatment and Prevention

Treatment. This may be discussed under the following headings:

1) Systemic treatment, using an anti-inflammatory agent, e.g. cortisone, prednisolone to limit the spread of inflammation and soothe the affected area. These drugs may be given either by injection or in tablet form, but only under veterinary supervision.
2) Topical treatment usually consists of:
   a) Thoroughly cleansing the affected areas twice daily with an antiseptic detergent, e.g. Phisohex (to remove all the dead skin and breakdown any pustules, pimples, etc.)
   b) The application of soothing, bacterial and anti-inflammatory ointments or lotions two or three times daily until all signs of infection have gone and the skin once again takes on its normal appearance and texture; ointments used for this purpose include Dermobion (Ward), Neocortef with Tetracaine (Upjohns) and others.
   c) When severe secondary bacterial infection is present a drug sensitivity test should be run to find the antibiotic of choice, and the correct treatment instituted. This, of course, is a matter for the attending veterinarian.

Prevention

This based on preventing, as much as possible, exposure to direct sunlight, thereby eliminating the prime cause of the complaint; this may be achieved in a number of ways, namely:-

   a) The use of tablets of Para-Amino-Benzoic Acid (PABA) given twice daily is useful by screening out the sun's harmful rays, thereby allowing the dog to live normally without having to be shut up in a kennel or shaded area for long periods. While PABA is of value during treatment, it is of far greater use in stopping the recurrence of Collie Nose.
   b) The use of various modern sunscreen ointments or pigments, e.g. stove black to prevent exposure; these ointments should be used in conjunction with PABA.

Therapy and subsequent prevention of recurrence of "Collie Nose" by use of modern drugs is quite successful, providing treatment is instituted suffi-

Ethics and Sportsmanship

(PART TWO)

I went back to my dictionary for "sportsmanship" and cheered when I found after the words "character" and "practice" this "or skill of a sportsman." It's all very well to feel one is being a good sport by embracing the winner. Personally I don't do it in the ring because I haven't had the experience of being happy that someone beat me. However, I can and do admire (and I hope, say so) the dog that is beautiful to look at, faultlessly groomed and shown to advantage. That is skill from the whelping box to the trophy table! Sportsmanship is more in evidence at the show ring — outside as well as in — but it is equally important on the street corner or visiting one's neighbor. It is not sportsmanlike to allow Collies to be a nuisance nor is it the character of a sportsman to make derogatory remarks about the neighbor's pet! However, in the ring and outside of it ethics and sportsmanship go together and we must judge ourselves. I do not consider it ethical for me to show a Collie full of tranquilizing pills but if I can beat you by presenting my dog just enough better to cause the judge to give me the nod over your better dog, of course I'll do it. I'm in there to win! And I'm not going to say, "oh you should have had it!" Conversely if my dog is better than yours and does not win I hope I'm sportsman enough not to come out of the ring yelling about bad judging.

There is a definite place for sportsmanship in the judge-exhibitor relationships. As many of you know, judging is taxing, b o t h mentally and physically. Furthermore judges are human beings with feelings. If a judge lets a ring get out of control in any manner, that is his fault. He has the full backing of the AKC (or CKC) to enforce order, including courtesy. On the opposite side of the ledger the judge can create a feeling of dignity, order and pleasant association. Exhibitor sportsmanship starts with cooperation with the judge and should include one's fellow competitors. It's little things like picking up one's bait, staying in line and not talking to distract the other fellow's entry that mark the good sport.

I'd like to take a moment to discuss sportsmanship at dog shows. As with any sport dependent upon human decision there will always be difference of opinion. Right? But dog shows complicate the matter by being conducted partially as a livestock exhibition and partially as sport. In football the umpire blows the whistle, down goes the red flag and he says "15 yards for clipping", that's his opinion, he saw the action. At the rabbit table the judge says "and I give this one second because his color isn't as clear", that is as he sees it. In the sport the player did something. In the livestock competition the specimen was something. We poor judges of dogs must determine what they are in relation to each other, plus how they act and in addition run head on into the very personal relationship that exists between man and his dog. Is it any wonder that all kinds of differences arise?

Most of the time the exhibitor does not actually want the honest answer to his question. He really needs encouragement and guidance. The judge is quite within his rights to say nothing. He is a fool if he says more than is necessary and he has the wisdom of Solomon if he can hit upon the right answer. I question the advisability of a judge handing out a critique along with his ribbons unless it is confined to what might be termed a sporting comment. "Your dog is beautifully put down", or "what a lovely shade of blue." It doesn't do any good to say "lousy backskull" or "never will be right behind." The exhibitor is going to find that out for himself soon enough. His immediate and instinctive reaction is going to be "that's what you think"

Let's face it, most exhibitors do not show under a judge for his opinion. They show because it's fun. I might be called an old hand at exhibiting and I make entries for several different reasons. There are a few judges under whom I enter to get their opinion of my Collie in comparison to other Collies currently being shown. There are many judges under whom I send my Collies for the fun of competition, win, lose or draw, because I know they are capable and fair. There are a very few under whom I enter as an experiment. Those under whom I do not show are few and far between. Only two judges over the years have I considered r e a l l y crooked; one asked me why I hadn't sent him a present as he had put me up twice; the other caused me bitter tears, but the story is too complicated to go into now.

The ethics and sportsmanship of exhibitor toward exhibitor should be practiced more on the telephone even than in the ring. There isn't an AKC standing watchfully over our dialing system. The telephone has made an enormous difference to dog showing and breeding. People can communicate with terrifying speed, minimum accuracy and no record of what's been said. Yes, telephone ethics is right at the top of my list.

I would like to point out the tremendous importance of the Collie Club of America to the attitude of the whole nation towards Collies. Here is where ethics must be of the very highest and sportsmanship the very best.

Years ago the C.C. of A. chose its path: to turn from a social club concept to become a service organization. This service must come first, its direction determined by its leaders but always with the same goal of service.

Illustrious Background Shows in Winning Young Dobe Import

Having reached the age of six months one week before the Thunder Bay Kennel and Training Club's two obedience trials in late March, Cheatah vom Sirrawald, Doberman Pinscher female purchased by Mrs. Susan Berst of Port Arthur, Ont., qualified in both trials. In the first trial she earned a score of 197½, a bare half point behind the two highest scoring dogs, both from Minneapolis. In the second trial the youngster went Highest Scoring Dog in Trial with a score of 189½.

Cheatah is simply living up to her background of Doberman celebrities. Mrs. Berst states that both parents are outstanding German imports out of the famous kennel "V. Furstenfeld", renowned for top Dobermans in Europe. "Her dam is Am. Ch. Helga v. Furstenfeld, her sire Kerry v. Furstenfeld, whose early show career was ended by his untimely death. Kerry's red full brother, Meckie v. F. was Germany's 1965 Sieger and his black and rust litter sister Mascha v. F. was the 1965 Siegerin. The black and rust Sieger in 1965 was sired by Jago v. Furstenfeld.

Cheatah's double grandmother is the famous Citta v. Furstenfeld, Bundessiegerin 1960, CACIB Sg. and the Champion of Europe. At that time she was considered the most beautiful bitch in Europe and was presented with a gold medal in 1961 by Queen of Holland. Cheatah is linebred to World Sieger Lump v. Hagenstolz and the outstanding European champion and Bundessiegerin Carmen v. Felsingpass . . . She will be shown in conformation as well as in obedience trials here in Canada and across the border."

These Long-nosed Cops are Real Crime-Stoppers

Called Canada's nosiest policemen, the dogs of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police give a wanted man small quarter. Their uncanny scenting powers take up where man is forced to leave off.

Today 20 RCMP dogmasters and their German Shepherds are stationed across the Dominion, handling more than 1,400 cases a year.

The intelligence of the dogs, and their innate commonsense, command admiration. The canine policemen are trained never to accept food from strangers, and of course to keep their noses out of garbage cans. In one instance, when a team was called to investigate a bank robbery, the dog persisted in sniffing a garbage container. His master, embarrassed and cross, pulled the dog away. But the animal stubbornly went back to the can. The handler yanked off the lid, discovered sacks of missing money. The dog got praise from the policeman and an engraved collar from the bank.

Strangers, or even another policeman, are discouraged by the dogs themselves from making friends with them. And yet, when Constable Don Marston, stationed at Sydney, with his companion Sultan, discovered a little lost girl, the child threw her arms around the dog and kissed him. Sultan gently licked the tears away.

The dogs have an uncanny nose but no taste for bottled liquor. At Trois Rivieres, Cpl. David McLean was ordered to search for a cache used by a bootlegger. The area was narrowed to one street. McLean told the dog, "Search booze, Ace." Within minutes Ace had decided on a nine-door garage, scratched at one of them. Upon forcing the door open, the corporal discovered 100 gallons of illicit hooch.

Prior to 1962 tracking evidence was not admissable in Canadian courts. The evidence turned up by the dogs, even from 40-hour-old scents, however, has been so accurate and so convincing that it is now accepted.

The dogs are playing a valuable role in finding missing persons. Criminals who, just a few years ago, stood a good chance of making a getaway after their crime, now face a slimmer margin.

Warrior, on duty in the West, was assigned with Constable Roy Murray to capture a dangerous armed man who was firing from behind a barn on an Alberta farm. In but a few seconds after Murray released the dog on attack, a scream was heard and Warrior pranced back to his handler, proudly carrying the revolver.

The dogs are so well-trained that they will not touch their dinner without a command. One constable, working from the training kennels in Nova Scotia, carefully set out food for his dog, then went home for his own dinner. It occurred to him that he had not given the command. Sure enough, when Sgt. Kehoe drove back to the kennels, there was the Shepherd sitting staring hungrily at the bowl.

What I Look For In German Shepherd Movement

PART ONE

The word movement was chosen for this topic rather than 'gait' as all the moving parts of the German Shepherd will be considered rather than just the motion back and forth of the front and rear legs.

Gait of the Shepherd is almost a study in itself but its importance is inclined to get out of proportion when evaluating the whole dog. Often when the Shepherd is judged by supposed experts, dogs that are inclined to reach out or up in front or follow through behind (the latter often excessively to the point of kicking up) are selected, in spite of: weak backs, loose or loaded shoulders, hitching in the stifles, cowhocks, rolling bodies or unnatural action in the pelvis hip area. All these are basic weaknesses in the structure and balance of the animal and should be considered when judging the German Shepherd. When they are not, winners dog suddenly seems to tire when going for Best of Winners or similar situations. This leaves the judge in trouble — he's already lost his better dogs!

Before we go into the Shepherd moving, let's get something clear. Some dogs are not worth looking at, moving or otherwise, so the following prerequisites are essential:

1. Temperament. If they haven't got that I'm not interested. Surely we are beyond the stage of improvement so that we don't have to look at 'screwballs' or anything close to it.
2. It is really questionable whether it is worthwhile to look at unhealthy, unthrifty animals with fine weak bones (be sure it's not just close-coat) weedy bodies with little lung or heart room or generally a picture of weakness.
3. Wash out — floppy ears, serious dentition problems or anything else highly untypical of the German Shepherd, then we'll get down to our study of the German Shepherd Dog in Motion.

Is Black Really Black?

When choosing our first Dane, it just had to be a black but of course, just like everything else, there simply was not one to be had. At that time I did not appreciate just how hard it is to breed a good harlequin "black".

Since then I have learned that many "blacks" bred today are actually the result of cross color breeding with fawns and brindles.

I must presume that these "blacks" were of harlequin lines. The reasons for this cross color breeding are, in many ways, not to be overlooked. For example, the chances of darker eyes and less white spotting would be much higher. I would presume further that the prospects of breeding a "show quality black" would be much greater in the combination of fawn or brindle with black.

However, does this new system of color crossing tend to deprecate the breeder who still strives through years of hard work and planning to breed "the black of pure harlequin bloodlines"?

Or should the "old-fashioned" harlequin breeder get with it and introduce mixed color breeding into his stock? I would suggest, however, that this cross-color breeding be kept between fawns, brindles and blacks.

I am still interested in an "ebony boy" and perhaps one day I shall have the privilege of owning a good one. But you can be sure I will be fully educated on his genetic background before I purchase him.

Farewell To Newfs

Many times in my more than 35 years of owning Newfoundlands I have been asked, "Is there any special reason why you chose this particular breed?" I tell them of the circumstances under which I first saw a Newfoundland. I was ten years old and attending a day school in Surrey, England. During the mid-day luncheon break we heard fire engines and in those days fires held a special attraction for children because they were horse drawn. We all ran to watch the fire, which had a good start on the end house of a long row of attached houses. In the crowd I heard a woman screaming and crying, "My baby! My baby! Won't someone save my baby?" A few minutes later out of the burning house came a big, black dog and in his mouth, dangling from its long robe, was the child, which he laid at the feet of the mother. I have never forgotten that incident.

A few years later, while we were living in Buckinghampshire, we used to go shopping in the village and often saw three members of a family — two spinster sisters and their bachelor brother — who were always accompanied by two magnificent Newfoundlands, each carrying in its mouth a wicker basket with the groceries. They always looked so dignified and under control — no leash, just walking beside the owners.

After I married in 1929 and went to live in Woodstock, Ont., I decided to buy a Newfoundland. I then owned a Great Dane and was ignorant of what to look for. I bought a female puppy for $25 from a farm-raised litter. She had about everything she ought not to have — rickets, lice, fleas and worms — but she had tremendous substance and a great constitution. Dinah was bred to Mr. D. R. Oliver's imported and well known Ch. Baron and although she was not the very best of Newfoundlands, her background was good and her puppies were a great deal better in type than she was. She always had very big litters, never less than 12, of which we used to raise eight or nine. I thought I was doing well to sell her first male puppy for $35 way back in 1930. She had 53 pups in 23 months at one interval in her life and was in Ripley's "Believe It or Not" column, pictured against a background of sea and rocks. Her biggest litter was 16 and her daughter Vesta had 17 in her second litter. When Dinah was around ten years old she had to have a Caesarian. I almost lost her but she made a good recovery from a heart attack she had the morning following the operation. I did not breed her again after that.

When Dinah was 13 years old and I had just had to have her grandson Ch. Coastguard King put to sleep because of a heart condition, I called in the veterinarian to look at growths that were forming on her breasts. He told me that while they were not bothering her then, and in fact she had never looked in such marvellous condition, it would not be long before they would cause her pain and as the winter was coming on and we had the grave dug for dear King and knew we could not dig one for her in the middle of an Ontario winter I told the veterinarian, "I suppose I had better have her put to sleep now." I was sitting on the dining room floor with my hands in my lap and as I said these words I am sure Dinah knew what I had said for she came over to me and laid her head in my lap. I am not ashamed to say I broke down and wept. Dinah had been my constant companion for over 13 years and I am sure she knew every word I said. I do not remember her ever doing an unkind thing in her life and although I have had many Newfoundlands since I can say that Dinah was the most loved of them all.

My first imports from England were three lovely Landseers, brought over in 1932. They were litter brother and sister, Daventy Grace Darling and Daventy Coastguard, and their sire, Harlingen Baronet. Grace and Checkers had great promise of show careers but I lost Checkers when he was a year old from pneumonia contracted at the Royal Winter Fair dog show in Toronto and Grace only had two litters and then died. She had become a Canadian Champion. The dog, Checkers, was judged at ten months by well known all breed judge Charles Hopton, who predicted a great future for him and said he was the best Newf puppy he had ever seen. Baronet never sired a litter for me after I imported him.

In 1947, I came to British Columbia to live and had at that time just one male, purchased from Dr. Oliver Shelton. Commondore was then getting along in years. After his death I imported a dog from Harlingen Kennels but he had evidently acquired a virus before being shipped to me and finally I had to put him down. I then imported two, a dog and a bitch, from Sparry Kennels in England. Stormy Petrel of Sparry gave me some very fine litters, although she had small litters, her biggest being seven.

My best early dogs after coming to B.C. were sired by Neptune 2nd, who gave me the winning team of Grace Darling and Sea Ranger. They were owned and campaigned to their American championships by Seaward Kennels. It was a big thrill for me in 1956 to be at the Westminster KC show and see Ranger take Best of Breed under Major Godsol in an entry of 29, a senior puppy bitch of my breeding win her class, W. F. Cochrane's Perivale's Sir Timothy take the points in Open class, my Ch. Perivale's Sea Urchin take 2nd in Open, and Grace and Ranger take third best working brace. Sir Timothy later took Best in Show at an all-breed Canadian show and a Best in Working Group. His dam, Perivale's Sea Urchin, took Best in Show under her then owner, the well known J. J. Paterson of 'Mill Creek' fame, in Edmonton, Alta. I am sure that Sea Urchin and her dam, Coastwise Shore Leave, were my best producing bitches in point of show and good stock.

Ch. Perivale's Moby Dick had three group placings in four shows. His sire was Can. Ch. Mill Creek Domino. Moby Dick was the sire of the well known dog Am. Ch. Perivale's Uncle Remus, who was one of the three top winning Newfs in 1964, although he was only shown from May to the end of that year. He died the following February after completing his American Championship with a second in group under Mr. A. Rosenberg. All of his group and other wins were up from the classes and at his death his handler wrote, "It is with great sorrow I write of Remus' death for I had grown to love this great dog, not only for his top quality but also for his great energy and love of life and above all for his magnetic appeal to all dog folks".

Now, after more than 35 years in Newfoundlands, which have gone out to all parts of Canada and the United States and to South America, I find I must give up the care and work attached to this wonderful, big breed. They have brought me so much pleasure and, of course, some great sorrows and I have such wonderful friends amongst those who have owned or sold me the Newfoundlands I have had. I trust with the going out of my last litter by Can. Ch. Perivale's Sailor Prince that there will be some that will carry on the great

Many Terrier Breeds Show Breeding Increase

Terrier breeds are having their ups and downs in registrations. For example, Wire Fox Terriers showed a slight decrease in 1964. In 1959, 457 were registered; 629 in 1962 and 487 in 1964.

Lhasa Apsos have made remarkable progress. With only 33 Lhasa puppies in the total litter registration in 1959, the number rose to 116 in 1962 and to 165 two years later.

Miniature Schnauzers have steadily increased: 117 registered in 1959, 184 in 1962 and 333 in 1964.

Scottish Terriers: 482 in 1959, 523 in 1962 and 559 in 1964, a small, but steady increase.

The West Highland White Terrier is steadily increasing in numbers, popularity and important show wins. In 1959 176 were registered; in 1962, 316 and in 1964 the figure rose to 348.

Figures for 1965 are not yet available for publication.

Three New Books on Terriers

Three new books on terrier breeds have come to hand within the past month. All are available through Dogs in Canada Book Department.

The Book of All Terriers, by John T. Marvin, General Publishing, $8.75.

At first one might think that this book might mainly be of interest to a prospective purchaser of one of the 23 members of the terrier family. It would be invaluable, certainly. But it is much more than that. Terrier specialist and judge Marvin pleasantly goes into the origins, anatomy, conditioning, trimming of the various terrier types. His text is substantiated with more than 100 paintings, photographs and drawings. He gives alternate names for breeds, and how they were derived.

Author Marvin and his wife have been involved with breeding Fox Terriers, Scottish and West Highland White Terriers for more than 30 years He is a judge of all terrier breeds and Group IV.

Th New Complete Kerry Blue Terrier, by Dr. E. S. Montgomery. General Publishing. $9.95.

Canadian breeders and Kerry Blue Terrier devotees will find this long-awaited book particularly interesting, not only for the extremely valuable information on the breed, but for the fact that Canadian kennels and their dogs come in for a fair share of comment. More than a page and a half are devoted to the famous Tailteann Kennel top dogs campaigned to BIS by the late Mrs. Eileen McEachern. The Kerrycroft Kennels of Mrs. Catherine (Casey) Gardiner of Orono, Ont., come in for mention as do those of another Canadian, now resident of California — Mrs. Harold Betts and her Tregoad Kennels.

A chapter is also devoted to Mrs. Gardiner's monumental work, the Record of Conformation, and a description of recommended tools and method of using the ROC chart. This is a book every Kerry Blue Terrier breeder will want to own.

The Complete Fox Terrier by Evelyn L. Silvernail. General Publishers. $7.50.

Author Silvernail has judged in the United States and in England for well over 25 years. In her most active breeding and exhibiting years she has owned Wire Fox Terriers, Poodles, Dalmatians, Great Danes, Boxers and Welsh Terriers. She writes in a very practical style about leading breeders and their top dogs over the past several decades, with a pictorial section on grooming the Wire, a chapter on the blueprint of the breed, and many other important areas.

A Characterization of the Kerry Blue

PART ONE

This article is written in the hope that you will derive therefrom some of the joy, entertainment, and yes, amazement that I have encountered since I first met the Kerry Blue Terrier. These facts and incidents related are all true and not embellished in any way.

A lover of animals and particularly dogs, all my life, I was brought up to my teens without ever actually owning one. My "sire" was very adamant and positive in his ideas, and when my longing for a dog of my own became so acute that it could not be avoided any longer, I was given a puppy, and have not been without one since.

I first met the Kerry Blue in 1951. The date is not important, but this little furry six-week-old bundle of personality completely fascinated me and changed my life completely. Winkie, you don't know what you started.

Billet Doux was introduced to me one September evening, shook "paws" with us all around, examined a big soft hassock very carefully, tried it on for size, and decided to stay with us.

Sixty-three wonderful days later, she decided to have a family. Having no previous experience or any inkling of what to expect when this miraculous event took place, I had invested in the writings of a veterinarian. In order not to be caught napping, I prepared a "maternity corner", with the open book in a prominent place, and the various accoutrements which the writer said were advisable to have in readiness, including a box lined with hot-water bottle and woollies to keep the babies warm until mother could settle down and look after them. The first baby arrived in due course, and without any fuss or bother on my part. According to instructions, I wrestled him away from Billie so he could be attended to as the Vet said. She allowed him to stay in the box for the few minutes it took her to look after the next puppy, when she very efficiently went back and removed him, throwing a look over her shoulder at me, telling me to mind my own business. The next five babies came into the world with me an amazed spectator, strictly delegated to the sidelines. I could look, but not touch, said mama. And she proceeded, during the next six weeks, to demonstrate to me "how to bring up a litter of puppies." My first lessons were well learned.

There came a time, however, when I was privileged to pass on a little help and a few little odd tips to Mitzi, a daughter of Billie's who was whelping for the first time. That cardboard box with the hot water bottles and sweaters had seemed to me a very good idea, whether or not Billie thought so. When Mitzi's time came, I thought I would see what she thought about it. To my delight, Mitzi thought it such a good idea, that she dropped pups No. 2, 3 and 4 directly into the box, this accomplished in a rather odd fashion, by poising hindquarters directly over the box and depositing puppy in a bee line straight for the warm sweaters. It must have been quite a shock to the little ones already in the box, but no harm done.

Granddaughter Billie II makes use of my famous "box" in a rather different fashion. It must be available nearby when nature indicates that she absolutely must go outside for a few minutes, and her pups are kept safe and warm until she returns. This was her idea. I wasn't smart enough to think of that.

I must tell you about the incident of the "big cheese". After a visit to the market one Saturday, Bruce and I put a lovely big cheddar cheese on the coffee table in readiness for a little snack. I went downstairs to feed and tidy up the puppies and when I returned, after a few minutes in the kitchen, all that was to be seen was an empty plate. By this time I'm getting pretty smart in the ways a Kerry thinks. The picture that faced me down in the kennel was this: Mama Mitzie sitting in the whelping box (just cleaned, thank goodness) with six puppies in a semi-circle, and in the middle, the cheese. Never having seen such a sight, the puppies were gazing in wonder, with Mitzie waiting unselfishly for them to help themselves first. The cheese itself, after such a surprising adventure, was trimmed down a little and returned to its proper place, with only me the wiser.

Facts About the Miniature Schnauzer

Although the Miniature Schnauzer was bred down from the Standard Schnauzer, this breed is entirely free from some of the defects often associated with the diminishing of a breed.

While the coat color of the Schnauzer is generally called "salt and pepper" it is a blending of a mixture of light and dark banded hairs. Called agoutez, it is peculiar to the breed.

It is necessary to have the show Schnauzer plucked about twice a year. In order for the new coat to come in to a proper length have the plucking done a minimum of 90 days before the show. Clipping a Schnauzer's coat tends to make it wavy and soft. For show purposes the Standard calls for a length not less than ¾" except on neck, ears and skull. While furnishings may appear more attractive when soft and silky, they should be fairly thick and a little coarse.

The Miniature Schnauzer was first shown as a distinct breed at least as early as 1899.

The Miniature has a little more latitude in color than the Standard Schnauzer. The official Standard limits the larger of the breeds to pepper and salt or similar equal mixtures, light or dark, including pure black. Although rarely seen in the show ring, tan shading is permissible in the Miniature. Black is the only solid color allowed; pure black with no gray hairs or brown tinge, other than a slight discoloration on the whiskers. A small white spot on the chest is permissible.

The Staffordshire Bull Terrier Club of Canada

Formed in December 1965, this club is off the ground and starting to work in the best interests of Staffordshire Bull Terriers. Partly as a result of the formation of the club the largest known showing of Staffords in Canada occurred on March 12 at the Sportsmen's Show when nine were exhibited. Ch. Patty's Red Oky Spivvy took Best of Breed. April 30 marked a red letter day for the Club — our first Booster Show — held under the auspices of the United Kennel Club. It is hoped to hold a second in September in the Toronto area. The two Booster Shows will constitute the club's major efforts in this our first year.

The club has launched a Newsletter to keep the members informed about the activities of Staffordshire Bull Terriers, their owners and the club. The first issue has been sent to all members and known owners of Staf-fords. It is estimated that there are only about 60-70 Staffs in Canada — a far cry from the numbers in England where it is one of the more popular terriers and where 60-70 are often exhibited in a single show — 76 at Crufts this year.

Interest has been rising in this breed, however, with more being shown and in a wider area. Until recently Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Horn with their Patty's Kennels in Milton, Ont. have been the sole breeders in Canada and have done a lot towards getting this wonderful breed known. About a year and a half ago the Cookes started breeding Staffs and now with Terrco are the second breeders in Canada. Others too are interested and the next few years should see a marked increase in Staffords in Canada and many more Canadians will recognize the breed and its merits as a pet, as a guard dog, as one who can be trusted with children and as a show dog. The club will certainly do everything it can to encourage Staffs and to help attain and maintain a high standard in the breed.

Anyone who is interested in the breed and/or the club can contact the Secretary, Dr. P. M. Cooke for assistance and information at 3482 Grey Ave., Montreal 28, Que.

A Word About the Westie

Terriers got off to a slow start in English shows. In 1860 a Birmingham show held a class for "Scotch Terriers" in which there was real confusion as to type. Scotland's first show, held in Glasgow in the early 1900's featured six Terrier breeds and at the turn of the 20th Century the Edinburgh show listed the West Highland White Terrier as the Poltalloch Terrier. Three years after the formation of the West Highland White Terrier specialty club, Cruft's listed classes for the breed (1907) and in the same year the English Kennel Club included the Westie in its stud book. Although no Westies were registered in that year, the following year 141 were listed.

Americans took to the breed about that time. As early as 1906 the Westminster KC held classes for what was known as Roseneath Terriers. Talloch, owned by Mrs. Clinton E. Bell of Springfield, Mass, was the first of the breed to be registered by the AKC.

First Canadian-bred dog to be registered with the AKC was a dog named Brose. Whelped September 6, 1909, he was bred and owned by a Montreal lady, Miss Ida W. Eadie.

In his book, The Complete West Highland White Terrier, terrier expert John T. Marvin gives well-earned commendation to a number of Canadian dogs, their owners and breeders, who have made headlines in West Highland White Terrier circles in Canada and the United States.

"Affenites" Form Own National Club

Last November a group of Affenpinscher devotees met with the purpose of forming a club for owners of this unique breed. And at the International KC Show in Chicago in April the club was organized. Officers are: President, Joe Magliano, Des Plains, Ill., 1st Vice President, Rev Zarski, Barron, Wisc.; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Robert Kinsley, Easton, Pa.; Treasurer, Ed Hanlon of Easton; Secretary, Lucille E. Affenpinscher owners interested in joining the club may obtain details by writing the secretary.

At this year's International, Affen breeders produced a record entry with 21 competing in this show.

Specific Comparison of the Silky Toy Terrier to the Yorkshire Terrier

Canada's newest addition to All-Breed dog shows, the Silky Toy Terrier, has a great many similarities as well as differences to the Yorkshire Terrier. The Silky's other side of the ancestoral tree is the Australian Terrier. I should like to emphasize at this point that my comments on the Yorkshire Terrier have been reached only from study and observation of the breed as I am not a breeder of this type of dog.

General Appearance: Comparatively speaking the Silky is a larger dog (Standard calling for an 8-10 lb. dog) than the Yorkie. In appearance the Silky has a shorter coat, longer body and, generally speaking, more "terrier" than "toy". The general coloring is the same in both breeds in that both bear the colors of blue and tan (color described later). Both animals are compact, have an important air, move freely, and light footed with an alert terrier air. Actually the Silky looks neither like a Yorkshire Terrier nor an Australian Terrier. They are a distinct breed and according to officials in the United States difficulty has been experienced in reaching the 'in-between' combination.

Head: The head is stronger in a Silky — moderately long and wedge shaped. A Yorkie bears a short muzzle whereas the muzzle of a Silky makes up 2/5 of the head. Their likeness is shown in the fact that both call for a flat skull and black nose.

Ears: In both specimens — small, v-shaped, not too far apart. A Yorkie can carry an erect or semi-erect ear whereas a Silky must have a pricked ear.

Eyes: In both breeds — dark, sparkling and keen intelligent expression. Eyes should not be prominent in either, but Yorkies eyes comparatively speaking to over-all size are slightly larger than that of a Silky.

Mouth & Teeth: Both breeds display an even bite. Teeth are possibly more strongly criticized in a Silky Toy Terrier.

Body: Both are low set, and a straight back line. Both carry an air of a compact dog and possessing good loin. A Silky is definitely longer in body.

Tail: This is very similar; both docked, plenty of hair but not to form a plume. The Yorkie should carry the tail higher than the back whereas the Silky can possess an erect or semi-erect tail. Tails of both dogs call for darker coloring.

Feet: Both possessing small, round and compact feet bearing black toenails.

Coat: Hair in both specimens; soft, silky, straight and glossy. Yorkies have a longer coat, again comparatively speaking. Yorkies, as are well known, possess a sizeable topknot. Both dogs are clean pointed, hair parted from nose to tail. A Silky is never seen wearing tied-up top-knots or ribbons. I feel the tan points on both are identical i.e., tan on chest, tan not extending occiput, tan legs, Silkys do possess tan spots over each eye. The largest difference appears in main coloring. Yorkies show a dark steel blue with no tan, fawn, etc., inter-mingled. The Silky does have the same identical blue but this can also range down to a light pigeon blue. In fact at least 35 shades of blue would be acceptable. Neither

The Skye Terrier, Ch. Butterfly's Dancer (pend. CKC conf.) is shown completing her Canadian title at the Victoria City KC show, Vancouver Island, B.C., March 11, under Judge, Mr. George Kynoch. Give Your Boston A Chance in the Ring

Showing a Boston Terrier should be a joy to the handler. The Boston is a lively, intelligent animal, ready to please and always reflects the treatment he receives. Too often, however, the breed ring sees dogs who cringe, too scared to walk and on occasions it has been impossible for a judge to give an honest opinion of the dog. This has been put down as a fault of the breed at large, but is definitely not true. In our short time in Bostons, we have yet to handle a dog who was not proud to be shown. This, we believe is a result of early and continuous training, infinite care and patience and above all, a genuine love of animals.

The Boston is a man-made breed and should convey the traits of his ancestry, the gaiety of the terrier and determination and steadfastness of the Bulldog. There are many good specimens of the breed in Canada today, but unfortunately, very few are shown. This results in so called "cheap" championships which actually no breeder really wants. A dog shows to much better advantage with several others of his breed. At this time, let me issue a plea to Boston breeders and owners. If you are proud of your breed, and you should be, get your dogs out where they belong, in public and raise their rating to that of previous years.

There is a great deal to showing a dog to his best advantage and indeed, much to learn in that regard. Both my wife and I feel as if we have two left feet in the show ring and that, on occasions, we do not do our dogs justice. However, one can learn a lot from watching experienced handlers in the ring and by talking to them. Many a handler has beaten a better dog by making his dog look good. This is especially true of Bostons who have no thick coat to hide faults. However, a dog who acts as if he is proud of himself (and Bostons usually are) can show himself despite his handler. Why not give your Boston a chance to see what he can do, you may be surprised!

— Harry C. Merchant
Brights Grove, Ont.

A foster mother came to the rescue to assist in feeding these nine puppies born to Boston Terrier owned by Mrs. N. Bogue, MacGregor, Man.

The Bulldog's Disposition

Recently I read a clipping from a western paper, in large headline type, Pet Bulldog Kills Child. Reading further, the dog involved was called a pit bull. The American Kennel Club lists no dog as such. At other times a caption on the front page will accuse the Bulldog of attacking his master, child, or other person. When further investigated, it isn't a Bulldog, but some other breed of dog. Why do people persist in using the Bulldog as the "fall guy" — possibly because of his ferocious appearance! To my knowledge, in better than 40 years of having and knowing the breed there has never been a case where one has gone berserk.

Today's Bulldog is one of the most docile and friendly of any dog in existence — not the bully so many think. He will bypass or ignore any dog his size or smaller, but will warn off the fellow larger or even twice his size.

For the neophyte — be you one interested in a Bulldog as a pet or perhaps eventually want to join the ranks of dog show exhibitor, but have hesitated because you lack knowledge of this ancient and honorable breed, the following will brief you and you can then readily understand why those of us who are owners feel as deeply about this breed.

Many breeds of dogs are well-behaved and of sound temperament, but one has to have a Bulldog to realize the full meaning of the words. When we consider his disposition today, he has come a long way from the ferocious dog of years ago.

Let us briefly review his ancestry. According to historians the Bulldog came down from AIaunt, through the Mastiff and Dogue de Bordeaux. However, when the Bulldog breed first became established in England is not known. From the description of the fighting dogs Julius Caesar brought back from England it could well be the ancestor of the Bulldog.

Bull baiting began early in the 15th Century and was a popular sport from then until the 18th Century. During that period, the Bulldog was bred and perfected to where it had a massive underjaw to grip and hold, the nose short so it could breathe while holding on, the wrinkled folds to carry off the blood away from its eyes, the massive low front so it could come up in under its opponent, and the rear of its body smaller than the front with strong thick hind legs for sudden jumping at or away from the bull.

From the foregoing one can readily see the Bulldog of that era was developed solely for fighting. When bull baiting was abolished, the breed would have become extinct had it not been for the few men who saw in him his wonderful characteristics and thus perpetuated the breed to save it from oblivion.

How can a fighting dog be so docile as our present day Bulldog? Personally, I think it is character — something the breed has never been without.

The present Bulldog is more than a faithful animal, can be trusted with a baby and in more than one instance has defended his charge against anything foreign. There is no dog to compare with him as a pal — if you just let him become one. There is something uncannily human about them, which is hard to describe to one who has never owned a Bulldog. He will, without moving his head, turn those soulful eyes in your direction as you prepare to depart. The noise from his throat — a sound synonymous with the breed — when he wants to tell you something special. Just to be near you, his massive head will rest on your knee for hours.

Bulldogs, by nature, are or can be somewhat stubborn, but never let it be said you cannot teach them anything. There are a number of the breed obedience-trained. I have a friend whose Bulldog has a parakeet as a pal. She will go toward the bird's cage and beg to have the bird taken from its cage so they can play together.

A Bulldog is quiet and dignified, distinctive in appearance. He barks only when there is reason, never aggressive or quarrelsome. He is very courageous and knows no fear or defeat. He loves his home and doesn't roam about the neighborhood, as many other breeds. He asks only for affection and a slight caress and returns that a hundred fold in boundless devotion. He adapts himself to any surroundings — be it small apartment or a large estate. He is normally a good traveler and companion on trips and you can proudly take him with you anywhere.

He can be taught to be a good watch dog — that depends on how you raise him. Generally he has a keen sense in discerning character and will usually wait until a stranger is accepted by the family before he is willing to extend the hospitality that is bound to win admiration. He is easily kept in good condition with a good daily brushing, balanced nourishing diet and some out of door exercise. He enjoys his walks on a leash, which keeps both him and his master in good condition.

Do not misjudge him, because of his sour or dour expression. Nothing could be more erroneous. He has a beautiful disposition and on short acquaintance he will make you his slave for life. You have never known the equal of his companionship and once you own a Bulldog, you will always have one.

Stories about the Bulldog's disposition and temperament are legion. Mr. Enno Meyer, animal artist, sculptor, judge, and breeder, whom I had the good fortune to know, sums it up in two paragraphs so well that I have taken the liberty to quote from his book "The Bulldog". "There is little doubt that the Bulldog is one of the most interesting dogs produced today. Why is it? Possibly because he is such a mass of contradictions! At first glance he looks cross, even forbidding, yet he is abnormally kind. He seems stodgy, lazy, too tired to move: quite to the contrary, he is active and agile, if he is allowed a normal life of freedom. But he is so utterly removed from the natural dog type! True, but so are several other breeds which have not enjoyed the bulldog's consistent popularity.

"Take the matter of disposition, that all important common denominator which, perhaps more than any other dog trait has, since the beginning of pure-bred dog interest, been responsible for the steady hold of the breed upon the public affection. The Bulldog is one of the most amiable, even tempered dogs in existence. He is not moody or snappy: he doesn't wear you out with incessant nervous goings-on. As a rule, he is an extremely quiet gentleman, a good companion. He is easily groomed and kept clean. He is an admirable children's pet and, to the contrary notwithstanding, he can come and play and run with the best of them! . . . if he is given half a chance."

Choice Bits About Chows

When Clara Bow, the "It Girl" was at the height of her career she had seven reddish Chows to match her flame red hair. The flapper died last fall at the age of 60, a recluse.

While anyone acquainted with the Chow Chow knows it is the only breed of dog with a blue-black tongue, it is not generally known that with the exception of the bear, which has a dark brown tongue, the Chow is the only animal in the world with a tongue other than pink or red.

Chow Chow Notes

Since 1963 the number of Chow Chows males has increased by 23% over females. The number of Canadian bred puppies has also increased greatly from 1963 when no Canadian-bred puppies where shown, to this past year when 11 were shown, states Fred Peddie, Publicity convener for the Chow Chow Fanciers of Canada.

Canadian Poodle Tops Big English Show

Currently being campaigned in England, Susan Radley Fraser's outstanding black Standard Poodle, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Bibelot's Tall Dark and Handsome went Best in Show under Judge Leo Wilson at Kensington Open Show in London, March 26. Tramp, in taking the award, defeated more than 900 dogs.

The win is doubly exciting because of the victory taking place in a country famous for its Standard Poodle bloodlines.

L'Information Canine de Montreal

This new venture, instigated by M. J. M. Surprenant and brought about with the assistance of veterinarians, trainers and breeders, will bring information on dogs and their care to French-speaking owners and prospective owners. To date very little information in French has been available. Mr. Surprenant plans to make available books on many breeds and develop an information centre where prospective buyers may be put in touch with kennels and breeders. Advice will be given on the care and feeding of pets, general health of the dog and inoculations required. Dr. Villeneuve, a Montreal veterinarian, will be on hand to help with the enquiries and examinations.

Mr. Surprenant explains that while the facilities he is offering are directed to the French, English-speaking people are welcome to avail themselves of the services. He believes a whole new group in the Montreal area will become dog-conscious with more information available and will be encouraged to apply its interests in worthwhile directions.

DOGS & PEOPLE

Having made a remarkable recovery from a serious illness Mrs. Freda Clementi, formerly of Milk River, Alta., returns to Canada from England the early part of this month. She plans to visit friends in Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto before returning to Alberta. She and Dr. Clementi are re-locating in Medicine Hat. Mrs. Clementi has long been known for her Yclept Russet long-haired Standard Dachshunds.

City number: Bobbie and Ken Ellis, De la Fontaine Kennels, now have a Toronto telephone number as well: 677-2930.

Honored: Dr. Oscar W. Schalm, Department of Cinical Pathology, School of Veterinary Medicine, University of California, has been named America's Veterinarian-of-the-Year for 1966. The presentation of the award, which is sponsored by the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York, was made recently by Walter N. Chimel, director of the Center.

Exhibitors and spectators are still talking about the Lakeshore Dog Obedience Training Association event held in March. The first licensed trial staged by this club attracted a large entry, and earned compliments for fine organization, spacious rings, superb hospitality. The club also scored what is believed to be a first . . . .the first time a Harrier has ever been entered in an obedience trial in North America — and furthermore, it qualified! Owner of Glanrobin Vixen is junior member Gail Wormington.

Out of work: As a result of a CBC producer's allergy to dogs, Bill Short's uncanny Silver has had to be removed from a regular spot on the show Steve's Corner, emanating from Montreal.

B.C. notes: the B.C. Ladies KC has embarked on the worthwhile project of providing several good breed, obedience and general dog books for the libraries of some of the local hospitals. Next year more hospitals will be included. . . . Mrs. Elsie Murray recently visited the new Junior Kennel Club formed on Vancouver Island. Membership is now 40, with a waiting list of eager children. The Vancouver Junior KC, of which Mrs. Murray is a founder, held its annual sanction show April 3. . . . Mr. R. C. Newby's Wire Fox Terrier, Roxville Royal Gem, took the breed and placed 4th in Group at Vancouver, Wash. recently. In his next show at Seattle, Wash. he went Best of Winners. At the Vancouver, Wash. show VenRo's Ambitious Tyro, an 11-month-old German Shepherd, owned and bred by Mrs. A. Brisbin of Burnaby, B.C., startled owner and competitors by taking the breed in an entry of 69.

New address: Lorna Jackson moves her Lorn-Hall Kennels from Zephyr, Ont. to R.R. 1, Seabright, Ont. The location is past Beaverton, but can be reached via highways 48 or 12. A number of Lorna's stable of canine actors are being seen on such television shows as Razzle Dazzle and Miss Julie.

In hospital: Wilf Lawson, Samoyed breeder (Koweeka Kennels) Mono Road Station, Ont., suffering from a steel splinter which pierced his eye.

Out of hospital: Airedale breeder Jack Stewart (Crackerjack Kennels), Aurora, Ont., for treatment of a long-time shoulder problem . . . Mrs. Millie Kussmaul, Dachshund breeder (Donnerswald) Unionville, Ont., following treatment.

Recuperating: Mrs. Pamela Arthur, Whippet breeder, (Rockabye), R.R. 3, Abbotsford, B.C., following treatment in hospital.

Proprietor of a busy pet shop and owner of Atina Kennels, Toronto, Anita Chapman enjoys the sun on her patio with some of her Poodles.

Travellers: Standard Poodle specialists Florence Mason and Susan Radley Fraser, Toronto, to England for a three-week "doggy" holiday to visit Ch. Bibelot's Tall Dark and Handsome, Susan's well-known winner who is doing nice winning in English shows. In addition to the reunion with Tramp they will visit outstanding Standard Poodle kennels and attend the Bath, WELKS and Scottish KC Championship shows . . . Boxer breeder Jack Northover (Gaymitz), Stouffville, Ont., has neatly solved the problem of travelling with dogs with his new spanking white Chevrolet van-style station wagon. Back of the driver's seat is space for dogs, a mattress, an armchair, a stove and ice-box. On a trip Jack and Doreen and passengers spell off on driving . . . Mrs. Hilda Driver (Manville Kennels, Collins Bay, Ont.) leaves for England May 19 with Mrs. Edna Joel who is judging Poodles at the Leeds Championship Show, where she is also doing Best in Show.

Quebec Notes: That man-about-Canada, Malcolm McDougall (Malamak Kennels, Ste. Agathe, Que.) is rapidly carving a niche for himself in the sled-dog racing field. Running a team of 14 Siberian Huskies (all but the lead dog, Sockseye of Minto, homebred) he came in 13th in the 100 mile North American Championship race recently in Alaska, competing against top North American teams. The race, run in three phases of 40, 30 and 30 miles, found him on the last lap with his lead dog giving out. After placing her on the sled he picked an untried dog, Jet, from the team, put him in lead position, and came in only nine minutes after the winner, the famous Dr. Lombard of New Hampshire. Malcolm's post-race remarks "— very pleased with the stamina, strength and speed of the team, which seemed to improve rather than slacken with each mile run".

Malcolm has purchased, from one of the Eskimos north of Nome, a Siberian Huskie imported from Siberia.

Friends of Mrs. Audrey Laurie Benbow of Montreal, breeder of Borzois, Poodles and Miniature Dachshunds under the Sirhan prefix, will be happy to hear she is recuperating in Bermuda after being in a very serious automobile accident. She and her daughter were hospitalized when a taxi came through a red light and hit their car broadside.

Recently, at the home of Muriel Radnor, Montreal, Collie members of the D.C. & S.S.A. (Montreal Branch) had a special treat. (Judging by the turnout, a great deal of interest was expressed by Sheltie owners and breeders, too!) Two films were shown, The Whelping Box from the Collie Club of America, and the 1964 Riverhead Specialty Show. There were also slides of the 1965 Denvor Collie Club of America Show. On view, also, was Muriel's Bearded Collie — one of the few such on the Continent.

Obedience demonstrations are becoming increasingly popular in the Montreal district. A recent demonstration put on by members of the Montreal Dog Obedience Training Club in Beauharnois, organized by

May Birch, drew a record crowd, with M.C. George Wegg adroitly fielding questions from the floor on all phases of training and care of dogs. A feature of the evening was an eight months Poodle puppy, never before on leash, handled by Roberta Oliver, demonstrating the very beginnings of obedience with a completely novice dog. Sponsored by the St. Edwards Presbyterian Church, the educational and entertaining evening culminated in a large spread in the local paper (a major feat in itself around these parts!).

The D.C. & S.S.A. (Montreal branch) has been holding classes to prepare novices and novice dogs for the Spring shows. Conducted by Sheila Houstoun and Hazel Slaughter, these handling sessions, primarily intended for Collies and Shelties, have been attracting a variety of breeds, with about 40 turning out for each lesson.

Died: William E. Cooper of London, Ont., one of the long-time members of The Canadian Kennel Club (since 1919). He had remained a member in good standing until the time of his death. Mr. Cooper was well known as one of Canada's oldest Bulldog enthusiasts, breeding and showing under the name Piccadilly. Sympathy is extended to his family . . . Also to Mrs. E. B. (Tim) Reid (Oak Gables Kennels) Stittsville, Ont., whose mother died, in England, following a lengthy illness . . . Mrs. Dorothy Bremner, wife of Bob Bremner, Gormley, Ont. at York Central Hospital, Richmond Hill, Ont. Although unwell for the past number of years, Dorothy kept up her interest in her highly respected Brem-Do Samoyeds. Deepest sympathy to Bob and Lawrence in their loss . . . Mrs. Mary Matchett, one of Canada's best known dog women, as a result of leukemia. She had recently moved her El Myia Afghan Kennels to Markham, Ont. Best known for her elegant Afghans, and as a breeder of note long before the breed attained its present popularity in Canada, she was also highly regarded as a breeder of Keeshonden and Whippets. Mrs. Matchett was a respected judge, accredited for breeds in the Hound Group. In addition she operated a large boarding kennel . . . Jack Fry, long-time terrier breeder and exhibitor, one of the remaining few in Canada. Originally a baker, he had lived in the Toronto area for many years. He was born on the East Coast and was buried in the Maritimes.

Toronto bound: two families resident in Quebec. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pavey of Richelieu, Que., Collie breeders, return to Toronto in May. Welsh Terrier breeders Barb and Ross Pirrie, Montreal, return with their Wil-Wag Kennels in July.

Convalescing: Mrs. Muriel Dove, formerly Mrs. Boughs, long-time breeder of Boston Terriers, recuperating at the Brockville, Ont. Hospital. She would very much appreciate hearing from readers of Dogs in Canada. Correspondence should be addressed to her home at R.R. 3, Prescott, Ont. Mrs. Dove, prior to her illness, judged all breeds in Groups V and VI . . . Harry Fraser, father of Fred Fraser, Ottawa, at the Tri Service Hospital. Another of Canada's best-known terrier men of earlier years, particularly noted for his Scottish Terriers . . . Now out of hospital, Bob Hills, of Carp, Ont. Bob and Betty are owners of top-winning and top-producing English Setters.

Careful, there! An accident suffered by a six-months old puppy at the recent Peterborough show may well serve as a warning to owners handling tiny dogs. Mrs. Ethel Sipes, Middleport, Ont. opened a crate door and out leaped her Miniature Pinscher youngster who landed on the floor and fractured a tiny leg . . . In a different kind of "accident" which should also serve as a warning, Mark Cuddy, II, returned to Toronto from Florida to find he no longer owned his pet. Taffy, a Pomeranian boarding at the Beau-A Dog Motel, Scarborough, Ont., was picked up by a man who paid the $10 weekly boarding fee. Two days later, the real owner arrived. "Nothing like this has ever happened before," states Mrs. Marjory Beaumont, who is well known to readers of Dogs in Canada. Never again, she avers, will she allow a dog to leave the kennels if the claimant cannot provide a slip proving he left the dog there. She has offered Mark another Pomeranian, but the heart-broken boy only wants his Taffy.

Economics Professor: Give me an example of indirect taxation.
Student: The dog tax, sir. The dog does not have to pay it.

I LIKE

by Jean Roselle

I like the snow in the winter
And the warmth of a fireplace
I like to run through the woods in the spring
And smell the sweet wild flowers
I like to feel the grass beneath my feet on a summer's day

I like the shade of an old oak tree when it's hot
I like a piece of steak now and then—
Or a lick of an ice-cream-cone
I like the laughter of children at play
Or a knock at the door

I like car rides and ball games
And hunting
I like the blind and the old and the lonely
And babies

I like the opposite sex
I like rainy lazy days

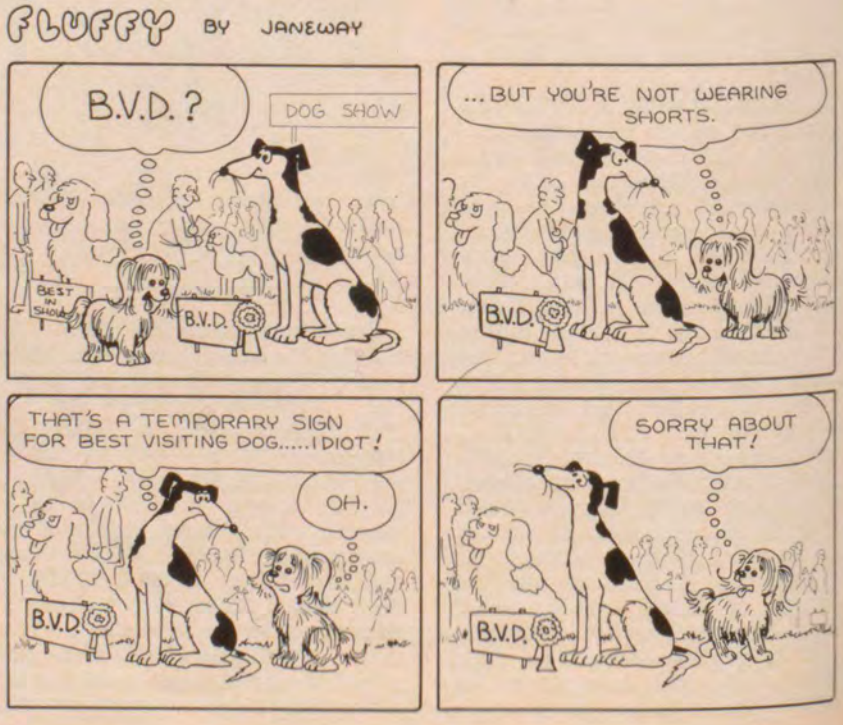

I like attention when I am ill
Or praise when I have done a good deed
I like surprises
Or an old friend come to visit me

I like the smell of chicken and dumplings and fresh baked bread
And when I am old
I like tenderness and care

Am I so different than you?
I like all the things you like
Yet I am but a DOG.
