TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS

BY JAKE GIACOMELLI

If you recall, last month we began teaching your dog the Directional Jumping by placing him just in front of the High Jump. After he has done this about five or six times, use the bar jump instead of the High Jump (set it very low, so he can't go under it), jump him a few times over and back on lead at first and then set him up as in the start of teaching Directional Jumping. You should experience no problem if the jump is low and easy to jump. All the way through your teaching of the Directional exercise, do half his jumps over the High and half over the Bar — this way he'll gradually get used to jumping the bar. Set the Bar Jump in such a way that if your dog hits it, it will fall off without disturbing the uprights.

After a week at each Jump separately we should now be ready to combine the Jumps.

Step No. 1:

(a) Place your Bar and High Jumps about 3′ apart at a very low height.
(b) Set your dog about 4′ back of the Jumps and facing them.
(c) Place yourself in a position facing your dog and about 4′ from the line of the Jumps.

Step No. 2:

When you have decided which Jump you intend to send your dog over, do the following movements in the order given.
(a) Turn your head and look in the direction of the Jump you are going to send your dog.
(b) Take a small sideways step in the same direction.
(c) Lean your body in the same direction.
(d) Raise your arm and hand level with your shoulder also in the same direction.
(e) Now! — give the command "Over" — Please make sure all the movements are completed before giving the command "Over".

The above may sound a little complicated but if you practice it a few times without your dog, you'll find you will be able to do the movements in an almost continuous motion. Steps (a), (b) and (c) and (d) give your dog four separate indications of what direction you want him to go — and if your dog has had his previous individual Directional Jumping properly instilled he will not be the least bit confused, if you give the Directional signal as outlined above.

As you widen the jumps gradually place your dog a little further back until you have finally reached the depth you will want him to go when doing your complete Directional exercise, and, of course, you should back up proportionately as well.

If, in spite of all these precautions, he still heads for the wrong Jump, intercept him with a sharp "No!!". Coax him over to take the proper Jump, and praise him as soon as he has taken it. If your ground work has been well laid you shouldn't run into much difficulty in your dog taking the wrong Jump. Place your dog in position each time while your dog is being steadied for both Directionals.

PLEASE NOTE:

Do not place the Jumps any wider than 3′ apart to start with. When the dog is absolutely steady at this width, gradually start widening the Jumps over the training period until you have reached the width you want your dog to jump.

Remember also to gradually cut down on all the extra motions or signals to indicate which jump you wish your dog to take until you've reached the point where you are doing the actual signal permitted by the Obedience Standard.

Do not combine the whole Directional routine until your dog is absolutely steady in this phase of the training.

Final Stage — At this point the dog should be doing a substantial "Go" and capable of taking a good wide directional.

Step No. 1:

(a) Place your Bar and High Jump about 10′ apart.
(b) Set your dog about 2′ back from the line of the Jumps, facing the direction he will be sent to on the "Go".
(c) Give your dog a "Stay" command, go out to where you want him to go and let your dog see you place the little piece of mat — (as we are combining the whole exercise, we wish to aid the dog all we can. Once he is steady to the combined routine the mat can be eliminated).
(d) Walk back to your dog, and when ready give him the command and signal to "Go".
(e) As your dog is going out quickly and quietly take a half dozen or more backward steps and come to a halt before your dog has been called out to and told to "Sit".
(f) When ready send him over the Jump of your choice.

Perhaps you are wondering what this standing close to the line of the Jumps and backward running is all about.

Up to this stage of training the dog has been taught the Directional Jumping and the "Go", as two separate exercises. The sudden emergence of the Jumps on his first "Go" with the Jumps set up in place may cause him to take them on the way out. To prevent this happening, the dog is set up as outlined in the "Final Stage" (a) to (f) explanation.

By setting the dog up in this way, it is very unlikely he will or is able to take the Jumps on the way out, and yet, when he turns around to face you on the command to "Sit" he will become accustomed to seeing you where you would usually be in the normal performance of the Directional Jumping exercise.

Continue training the combined exercise as described, but gradually place your dog slightly further back from the line of the jumps slowly, but surely, until you have reached a point that is approximately 20' back of the line of the Jumps as called for in the Obedience Standard.

Remember, nice and easy does it!!

When your dog is capable of doing the whole exercise correctly, merely review it once each time you train, followed by plenty of praise and you'll end up with a dog that will do you credit.

Next month we'll test your knowledge of the obedience standard. At the start of the article I'll describe an unusual occurrence that has happened in the ring, and at the end of the article I'll give you an answer based on the interpretation of the rules as printed in the Obedience Standard — no peeking!! Come up with your answer first, then look at the answer in the column. MONDO CANE!! □

THIS MAY HURT BUT IT IS ABSOLUTE FACT

Each winter in Canada, millions of fur-bearing animals will die slow agonizing deaths in leg-hold traps, unless we do something about it.

People like you and me cause this suffering because we forget what happens between the time the trap is sprung and the time (perhaps many days later) when the skin is collected to make the coat we wear with pride.

Our Association is promoting, by every means possible, the use of humane instant-killing traps.

We need your support, your interest, and above all your membership ($1.00 a year). Donations are deductible for income tax purposes.

LONDON CALLING

BY Stanley Dangerfield

Seventy-five years ago the top Bulldog in Britain was Champion Dockleaf.

Then, as now, the breed had its detractors. And when 'Dockleaf' won Best in Show at the London Bulldog Society's first championship show in 1891, up spoke a Mr. Murrel, owner of an indifferent pet. "Champion Dockleaf is a deformed monstrosity, incapable even of walking."

The incensed breeder of 'Dockleaf' promptly challenged Mr. Murrel and his dog to a ten mile walk for a £5. bet. Sad but true, the pet dog won comfortably but the champion at least acquitted itself honourably.

On the last Sunday in April this year the London Bulldog Society, as part of its anniversary celebrations, staged a commemorative walk, thereby achieving the most imaginative doggy publicity stunt for years past.

The walk, open to all comers, attracted Bulldogs from all over England. Over 100 took part and another 50 puppies and matrons attended to decorate the scene. As a concession to modern, car-bound owners, the course was reduced to three miles. Six times round a marked circuit in Regent's Park right in the centre of London.

The result, thousands of Londoners, who might have forgotten the breed existed, saw them puffing, blowing and gambolling along in a never ending stream.

Even more important, every newspaper in the country sent reporters and photographers as did the newsreel and television companies. Which means that by the next day everybody in the land knew that our national breed was still very much alive and kicking. It just shows what can be done.

Our Dogs, a weekly British canine newspaper, has just published a remarkable editorial.

In commenting on a recent Kennel Club swoop on a dog show, when the coats of Poodles were checked to see whether or not dye had been used in preparing their coats, it went on to ask "whether there is any real problem to solve".

Enlarging the point it said, "We are confident that faking such as took place years ago when Fox Terriers were changed to Welsh etc., is a thing of the past. Any preparation of coats today is cosmetic and is not intended to deceive and does not deceive anyone. It is not on a par with the doping of race-horses which affects the result of races."

It finished by asking, "Where it is almost impossible to draw a definite line between cosmetic preparation and faking, and where nobody is a penny the worse for whatever preparation of coats may take place, would it not be better for the K.C. to accept the position?"

This will probably raise a storm. Correspondence columns will nearly catch fire and nobody can foretell the outcome.

One bet I will take. It is that those in the habit of using a 'rinse' to help the odd white hairs will be the loudest in their proclamations that they intend no harm!

At least this will take people's minds off the Cruft's qualification plan for 1967.

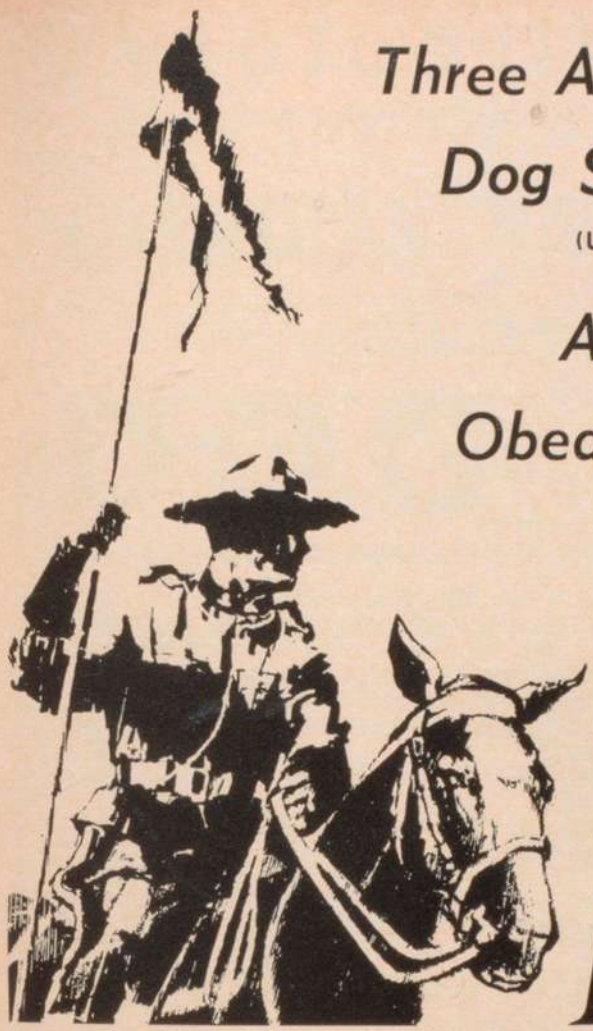

The background is that Cruft's, held each February, has a problem. The unusual one of how to restrict entrants! When it started after the war, around 4,000 dogs turned up. Fortunately Olympia, the hall in which it was held, is pretty big. A series of increases however found even this vast cavern bursting at the seams when by 1964 the number of dogs had increased to a little over 8,000.

In 1965 puppies under eight months were barred. This cut out about 500 dogs but the inevitable annual increase kept the total at around the same. In 1966 entry fees were increased by some 20% which once again resulted in the status quo being maintained.

These were at best mere pallatives. The organisers still faced the alarming fact that the number of dogs could increase to 10,000, even 12,000 within the foreseeable future.

They therefore decided that before a dog can enter next year he must have won a first, second or third prize at a championship show here during this current year. This may sound easy but we only have 24 championship shows a year and some breeds' classes may have up to 25 dogs in a class.

We shall not know the effect until the entry goes in. Although the idea is to hold numbers at around 8,000 dogs, it could reduce it more severely than the organisers want. On the other hand, it could stimulate the owners of dogs which have qualified to enter at Cruft's merely because they have qualified!

But if the future is uncertain the present is not. At three of the first four championship shows held this year, entries have shot up in the most unexpected fashion.

Of course this can be interpreted in many ways. More cash, more interest or more attractive judging panels.

Another possibility is that exhibitors are determined to show at Cruft's next year. And equally determined to qualify every dog in their kennels! □

FLEAS MAY BE CAUSE OF SKIN TROUBLES

One of the most bothersome of all problems to dog owners is one of the smallest insects, the flea, states the Gaines Dog Research Center. Although the fleas are not limited to any season of the year, the heat and moisture of summer hatch them in droves, and they can cause the unprotected dog much anguish.

Some dogs can carry fleas and not be overly troubled by them, but on the other hand many dogs are so acutely sensitive to flea bites they will itch and scratch incessantly from a single bite. By thus causing irritation and inflammation, fleas are frequently responsible for the skin condition known as "summer eczema."

There are ways to recognize the skin-sensitive dog. He will usually chase buzzing insects and show great excitement in their presence. He will snap at the air and shake his head vigorously, trying to stop the annoying pests. Almost any kind of insect bite will cause the skin-sensitive dog acute distress.

If your dog is skin sensitive he may develop the exasperating habit of rolling in filth. He seeks it out and then, to your dismay, rolls in it. Since it is well known that blood sucking parasites are repelled by a dead host, this may be a means of concealment and an escape from the "enemy."

Treatment of the dog alone won't solve the problem of a large colony of fleas. The dog's house and his bed must be thoroughly cleaned and sprayed with an appropriate insecticide. If he spends time indoors, carpets, rugs, and upholstered furniture should be cleaned with a vacuum cleaner, and the contents of the bag destroyed, not just thrown in a trash barrel. Such areas as baseboards, and cracks in the floor should be treated. For your pet's safety, always follow instructions on the label very carefully. The application of a good flea powder every night for a period of two weeks should rid your dog of the pests and break the breeding cycle of the flea. Daily use of a flea comb will help you to determine your progress. □

Lady Veterinarians Lured by Wildlife

Girl graduates from the Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, Ont. are extending their usual interest in work with cats and dogs to pioneer in new projects in veterinary medicine as well. Others are embarking on research in the heart rate and nervous system of the seal, in the study of the kidney worm in the mink and other diagnostic services in such animals as bears and fish. Seven women graduate this year to exciting posts.

Show Records

How do you keep the records of your dogs' wins? St. Aubrey, of the famous grooming preparations name, has produced a smart little booklet in which the date and name of the show, judge, points scored and awards earned by a competing dog may be neatly recorded.

The Miniature Poodle Ch. (Can. & Am.) Poodanne's N-V-Me, owned by Max Magder of Oakville and handled by Carol Hollands, judged Best in Show at the club's first evening point show. Judge is Harvey Gratton, trophy is being presented by Dr. F. George Walker, president of this progressive club.

Here's the story of a club that offered points instead of pre-show Friday night motel boredom.

OTTAWA STAGES EVENING SHOW

Photos by A. Crombie McNeill

IT was approximately 9.40 p.m. Six finalists for Best in Show honors were at ringside waiting to enter the ring to compete for best dog in show.

This of course is not an unusual situation, for it is not unusual for Best in Show dogs to be going into the ring at 9.30 or later.

What made this particular situation noteworthy was that these six were the survivors of 306, the first of which had gone into the ring just four-and-a-half hours earlier, at 5.10 p.m.

This evening championship show, staged by the Ottawa Kennel Club on Friday, May 6, (a curtain raiser to their normal two daytime championship shows on the Saturday and Sunday) if not unique, was at least the first such event in recent dog show history in Canada. This progressive club, which in 1965 brought a return of puppy sweepstakes to all breed shows, and which of recent years has introduced a number of innovations, had some doubts as to whether such an idea was feasible. The success of the Friday evening event has dispelled those doubts, according to the enthusiastic executive, and the comments of exhibitors backed up the executive opinion.

"Recently", said Dr. George Walker, "the Ottawa Kennel Club adopted a new slogan — 'Where the Exhibitor is Top Dog'. We've been trying to justify that slogan, and racking our brains to find ways to make the shows a pleasant experience, even for the losers. We've tried to think of the little things, such as group hosts and hostesses to circulate among exhibitors in the particular groups and provide information about things such as motels, good restaurants, places of interest in the capital and, for Americans, even information about how to register a dog in Canada. We provide trophies out of club funds for every Best of Breed and Best of Opposite Sex, regardless of the number of entries. We keep four sweepers busy all through the show so that the show premises will be as neat and tidy as possible. But we were worried about this Friday evening show. Everything had to go 'bang, bang, bang'. To keep the exhibitors and their dogs hanging around till midnight or perhaps later would have meant pretty tired people and dogs on Saturday and Sunday."

What gave rise to the evening show idea was the experience of Ottawa Kennel Club members attending out of town weekend shows. Usually they left Ottawa at noon or earlier on the Friday preceding the shows. And usually it meant an evening in a motel with nothing to do until the show opened on the Saturday.

BCB in Show, Doberman Pinscher Konigshausen Inspiration, owned by Dr. and Mrs. G. J. King. Judge, Harvey Gratton; presentation by Cecil McCooeye, widely known Ottawa sled dog driver and racer.

BCBP in Show, Boxer Jandaire's Gallant Rogue, owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Halliday, of Scarborough. Judge, Harvey Gratton; presenting trophy, Mrs. E. B. Reid, immediate Past President of the club.

"We wondered," commented E. B. 'Tim' Reid, show committee chairman, "if the exhibitors, instead of sitting around a motel Friday evening, wouldn't rather have a chance at another set of points. It meant with three shows, and three different judges, they had a chance to finish the championship of a good dog on just the one weekend. Our largest entry over the three shows was on Sunday, with 383 dogs. We had 306 on Friday, so the figures would indicate that better than three out of four exhibitors liked the idea and took advantage of it."

Dogs in Canada was told something of the planning that went into the show. The club realized that six rings and seven judges (one a German Shepherd specialist) were the first essentials. New ring equipment had to be bought, and it was. Ring stewards were another problem. With over three days of showing, many stewards would be needed for this tiring and exacting job. So classes were held for stewards, and club members co-operated wonderfully, with the result that each ring was staffed by a competent ring steward.

The show area itself is large, but six good size rings would use up all the space. This meant that additional space, the Annex to the Coliseum, was rented to provide a large, well lighted area for the exhibitors and their dogs.

But this created a further problem. If the show was to be over in reasonable time, exhibitors had to be at ringside when the class was called. Loud speaker service was extended to the grooming area and runners were trained. The result was that delays in the rings were very few and very far between. Cooperation from the exhibitors, who realized the club's problem, was excellent.

The show, Dogs in Canada found, was an attractive one. Floor space in the building is adequate for six good size rings, and even the larger breeds such as German Shepherds had enough space to really open up. Matting in every ring provided sure footing at any spot the dog was asked to gait. The separate grooming and exhibitors' area meant the judging area was reasonably quiet, while wide aisles from the grooming section, kept as clear as possible of spectators, resulted in easy, speedy access to the rings.

At first children are confused and reluctant to cooperate. Then Mrs. Slater starts a song. The Poodles, in costume, willingly allow themselves to be transported. Then Mr. Slater helps move them into position. And finally they are confident enough to parade, to help each other.

The Poodles who help children find their way back into the world.

DOGS PLUS CHILDREN = MIRACLES

POODLES pampered? Not the Pu-del Villa Poodles of London, Ont. They're a lively, hard-working troupe with a special insight into the needs of some very unfortunate children who are residents of the Children's Psychiatric Centre in Bryon, near London, Ont.

Some of them cannot even walk upright alone. One or two, lovely youngsters, are too disoriented to play or even talk to the other children. Sensing the problems, the Poodles accept the loving, the grasping, the inadvertently rough treatment.

But the children are responding incredibly to visits by the dogs, hospital officials tell Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Slater, the enthusiastic duo who arrange and underwrite the visits. Ordinarily the attention of the children can be held about ten minutes. The Slaters and their Pu-del family keep them active and attentive for an hour. Mrs. Slater is the proprietor of a busy Poodle salon and a purposely limited breeder of white Miniature Poodles.

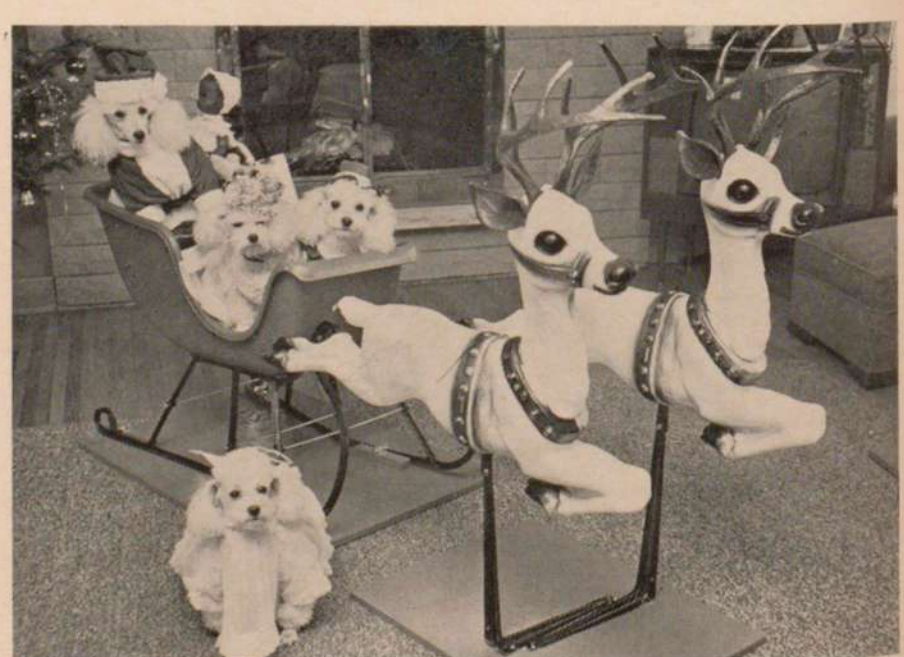

The Slaters, out of their own pocket, provide tricycles, doll buggies, toy musical instruments and treats as well as appropriate decorations for their own and other forms of entertainment.

For the sake of the children the Poodles go through antics most dogs would deplore. For each holiday event they are dressed up in appropriate costumes. They allow themselves to be wheeled in buggies, hauled in wagons, pushed on tricycle seats or in baskets.

The cooperation of the dogs helps inordinately with their coordination. Pat Slater, at the St. Patrick's event, caught the children's interest by leading them off on McNamara's band. With the instruments and wheeled toys as props they got the children more or less lined up for a parade. The effect was miraculous. One kiddy who had shut herself off from the entire world came to life, pushed a doll carriage and Poodle "doll" around and even sang a song. Another child, confined to a wheel chair, wanted to hold Fifi in her poor little arms. Fifi, with rare understanding, looked up and licked her face. The child was so thrilled with this unexpected display of affection she nearly cried.

Although the Centre takes excellent care of the children, they are well-dressed, well-fed, taught manners, given love and protection, their life is necessarily limited. They love to have visitors.

There are many items the Centre needs for the children, such as movie projectors, therapy equipment. If individual readers or show-giving clubs wish to contribute as a worth-while project enquiries and/or cheques should be addressed to the Children's Psychiatric Research Centre, Byron, Ont., attention Mr. V. Gilliss or Mrs. McKee. □

Of excellent lineage, these Poodles are in a show — bringing Christmas cheer.

R.O.C. Deviations

PART SEVEN:

A series by Mrs. Dennis Gardiner, Kerrycroft Kerry Blue Terrier fame, on "Common Deviations which Arise When Appraising Dogs for R.O.C.". Readers are invited to forward their comments directly to Mrs. Gardiner at Appleby Line, R.R. 6, Milton, Ont.

4-SIZE

Size was discussed in relation to height in the April issue of Dogs in Canada. It was stressed how vitally important the height at the withers is in the conformation of any breed and that all other measurements which produce a balanced dog must be in ratio to this height.

LENGTH OF TOPLINE NO. 5

The topline is that portion of the spinal column between the base of the neck and the base of the tail. It consists of the thoracic, lumbar, sacral and coccygeal vertebrae. Its length should be in balanced ratio to the height at the withers. It also has similar convex and concave curves to the spinal column in a human being which is designed to absorb the shock of walking etc. The topline is similar in all breeds, and is completed by the tail, which is carried according to the breed Standard.

DEVIATIONS

TOPLINE TOO SHORT — in ratio to the height at the withers, one can give a dog a well pulled together rather attractive look when it is standing. If it is extreme the dog presents the appearance of a caricature of the breed.

1 — a too short topline usually shows up by producing a short, choppy or mincing gait.

2 — a dog that has long lower legs and a shallow chest will give the optical illusion of having a very short topline.

3 — a short head and neck are often observed when there is a short topline.

4 — overly strong or tense spinal muscles can shorten the topline by producing a roach.

TOPLINE TOO LONG — in relation to the height at the withers.

1 — this can give a dog a loose, rather sloppy look.

2 — the gait is easier and smoother but in extreme cases can lack control.

3 — a short lower leg and deep chest will give the illusion of length.

4 — a long head and neck most commonly accompany a long topline.

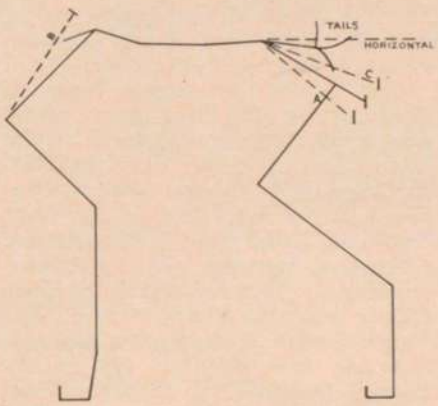

5 — steep shoulders and low tail set give the illusion of greater length.

6 — if the intercostal spaces (the space between each vertebrae) are too wide, or the spinal musculature is too weak to hold them firmly and a long sagging topline is the result. This can also happen if the dog is tired and bored.

OVERALL LENGTH NO. 5

The overall length of the dog is measured from the foremost tip of the dog, (either the tip of the sternum or point of the shoulder joint) to the pin bones (the lower tip of the pelvic bones).

The length of the topline and the overall length of the dog are two measurements which are very controversial, misunderstood and misinterpreted. Therefore it is advisable to measure many dogs, until the eye can accurately visualize and understand the well balanced dog with a 45° layback of shoulder and a 30° tilt of pelvis moving with effortless grace. This is shown in the accompanying illustration by solid black lines.

TOO SHORT OVERALL —

1 — if the topline is too short, then naturally the overall length is short, and the distance between the fore and hind legs will be too short.

2 — if the tilt of the pelvis is 40° as shown by dotted line A in illustration, the overall length will be approximately an inch shorter. That is, the greater the tilt of the pelvis the shorter the dog overall, in relation to the height at the withers.

3 — for some reason, a steep shoulder, as shown by dotted line B in illustration, gives the illusion of shortness, perhaps because it can produce a straighter front.

4 — the illusion of shortness can also be achieved by curved lines, that is, a good spring of rib sloping into a well defined flank, curving out over a broad rear.

TOO LONG OVERALL

1 — again, if the topline is too long, the overall length will be too long.

2 — the less tilt there is to the pelvis the longer the dog. The dotted line C in the illustration shows a tilt of 20°, and an increase of at least one half an inch in length.

3 — an illusion of length is created by the use of straight lines, therefore a dog lacking spring of rib and a well developed rear will look much longer than it measures.

4 — a short lower leg and deep chest also creates an illusion of length, greater than the actual measurement.

READER COMMENT

A few years ago when 'Casey' started to work on the R.O.C. for Kerry Blue Terriers she also measured dogs from other breeds and found that their angles and proportionate bone lengths to their height at the withers, were similar to those of the Kerry Blue. Other breeds in which this was discovered included the Bullmastiff, Westie, Great Dane, Dachshund, Papillon and Labrador.

Consider the Labrador. In outward appearance one would be tempted to say that there was no resemblance between the Labrador and the Kerry, but look again. The angles between the bones remain the same, and many of the bones that were equal in the Kerry are also equal, or nearly equal, in the Labrador. There is a change in the actual bone lengths in proportion to the height at the withers, as is required to give the Labrador a few more inches in height and length. To do this article a good number of Labradors, both male and female, were measured, and they ranged from 21" bitches to oversize 25" males. On the whole we found that the Labrador's overall length (from sternum to rear of pelvis) is approximately one to one and a half inches longer than the dog's height at the withers. Almost regardless of size, the dogs had the same approximate length of neck, and all had a 6" measurement from the hock joint to the ground. The shoulder blade and upper foreleg were equal to each other, while the lower leg tended to be about an inch longer. In the hindquarters, the pelvis measured a little less than the upper thigh bone, and the lower thigh bone was an inch or so longer than the upper thigh except in a few dogs which had no drive at all in their gait.

Another point which became clearer as the number of dogs measured increased, was that there is a vast amount of optical illusion present in looking at the dogs and trying to judge them by eye. Take for instance two dogs, both of whom appear long in back. One measures 24" at the withers and 27" long, and the other stands at 22" with a length of 23". The latter should appear in proportion by all accounts, but being thin and lean and not having the width of chest, rib spring, and amount of body that the really long dog has, the eye is deceived. The length of loin between the ribs and hindquarters can also make the dog appear longer than he really is. Similarly, stand the dog that has the same height and length beside one that has an inch or so more length than height, and the 'squared' Labrador does not present quite as well a proportioned picture as the one with a little more length. The better moving of the two tends to be the longer one, as the 'square'

United Kennel Club Marks Half Century

Little did the ladies realize, when they set the pattern for this club, how well they planned.

Gold was the key color of the Golden Anniversary Championship Dog Shows held by the United Kennel Club Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1. The events, held in the Town of Mount Royal Skating Arena, Town of Mount Royal, Montreal, were actually the club's 54th and 55th All Breed championship shows and obedience trials.

The club had its origin in the minds of a group of ladies in the Montreal area during the wartime winter of 1916. Until just a few years ago the Ladies' Kennel Club of Canada was purely feminine. With the decision that the addition of male membership would be of value, the club name was changed to the United Kennel Club Inc.

Mrs. C. de P. Doniphan, holding one of the club's lengthiest memberships, was the first secretary. At that time she was Miss Camille Laviolette. Some of Dogs' more senior members may recall some of the other inaugural officers: Mrs. J. A. Pitt, President; Mrs. G. E. Sancton and Mrs. Amedee Trudeau, Vice-Presidents; Miss Vera Robson, Treasurer.

Marking the anniversary, the catalogue cover was in gleaming gold. Inside, the cover for the 1918 show was reproduced. Profits from the earliest shows, held at the Hunt Club Kennels, St. Catherine Rd., were donated entirely to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Under the meticulous care of Mrs. Irving Diamond, Show Secretary, and Miss Joan Kyle, Assistant Secretary, plus an active show committee and assistants, the shows went well. The total of 465 entries was a record for the club. Showing a flair for publicity professionals would envy, Mrs. Diamond was successful in gaining a full page story with exceptionally fine photographs in the front page, second section of the April 30 edition of the Montreal Star, which undoubtedly contributed to the flow of spectators. Dalmatian breeder Jane Bedard also showed publicity talent with her bench display. Applause from late showgoers marked the exit of Jane and family as the Dals stepped smartly into the chill Spring night wearing brilliant red coats.

Among the highlights: a thrilling showing of nearly 50 entries consisting of more than 30 different breeds in the Parade of Champions. In the finale the handlers gaited their dogs in a fast pace in a pinwheel circle. The dogs and people loved it! Owners were presented with green rosettes.

The 50th Anniversary show had a special significance for Valerie Reid of Dorval, Que. as her Old English Sheepdog, Ch. Fezziwig Mighty Manfred, earned his 51st Best of Breed on Sunday. He has now 15 Group 1sts to his credit.

Spectators were treated to the sight of an exceptionally large number of Pulik; possibly the ten were a record for Canadian shows. Talisker Skye Terriers made an impressive entry, with Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Taylor's entry of Talisker background.

Undoubtedly the largest entry of Staffordshire Bull Terriers in many years brought this rare breed to the attention of the public when the Staffordshire Bull Terrier Club of Canada held its first Booster Show the first day. Eight were in competition.

Sunday brought an unexpected windfall to Barbara Pirrie of Baie d'Urfe when the Welsh Terrier, Wil-Wag's Scotch N-Soda, bred by her, won the first prize of $84 in the Puppy Sweepstakes. Seventy dogs competed. Mrs. C. B. Mack of Dorval is the owner.

First Show: Best in Show was the American Cocker Spaniel, Magicours Monitor, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Donderwitz of Massena, N.Y. B.C.B. in Show went to the stunning young West Highland White Terrier, Ch. Dreamland's Cyclone, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kaye, Thornhill, Ont.

Second Show: Nigel Aubrey-Jones' Pekingese, St. Aubrey Manikin of Elsdon walked away with BIS and Best Canadian Bred in Show.

Obedience: The top Obedience Dog at both shows was the German Shepherd, Pat Raydenia, owned by Andre Bourgie, Montreal.

Under the direction of Mrs. James Dempster, President, who was also in charge of trophies, the awards were particularly exciting. Among those most cherished were the tiniest — gold medallions cast to mark these shows, and presented as Best of Breed awards.

Lining the wall back of the official desk was a display of paintings by Canadian animal artist Patricia Detmold and handsome dog photographs by A. Crombie McNeill of Ottawa, official photographer for the show.

The Dogs in Canada book display drew continuous interest as well as interesting conversations. A lady from Quebec city purchased a book on novice sled dog training. Asked if she owned sled dogs, she said no, but she lives in a sled dog area where owners feed their dogs during competition time and neglect them when the snow goes. She and her husband feed hungry racers all summer long. "And so I'm going to learn," she told Dogs, "just how sled dogs should be treated." □

Dermatitis

(Article by Dr. Fawcett, reprinted from Prairie Barker (formally K-9 News) November issue, Regina, Sask.)

Skin diseases of dogs are so complex that many textbooks have been written discussing the subject, and it continues to be one of the most frustrating problems facing the veterinarians today.

Skin conditions of dogs can be separated into two main groups; non-parasitic and parasitic. The non-parasitic group contains the larger numbers of problem dogs and is usually the most troublesome to the practitioner. This group can again be subdivided into: "Dermatoses of the Immature Dog" and "Dermatoses of the Mature Dog."

Some chronic skin conditions develop in the young dog, perhaps even prior to birth and continue on into its adult life. Often bitches are bred when they are themselves immature or are in poor condition and are inadequately nourished during the gestation period. The owner may, through ignorance or misinformation, fail to supply the dam with adequate diet before, during and after pregnancy. It is thought by some researchers that newborn pups are deficient in Vitamin "A" and this predisposes them to eye and skin diseases, since Vitamin "A", as well as being important in the stimulation of appetite, is known as an anti-infective vitamin.

Hygiene of the whelping pen and nursing area is also extremely important and cleanliness cannot be overstressed, particularly if the facilities are out of doors in the warmer weather, and easily accessible by flies.

The mature dog is subject to a number of skin conditions due to variable causes which are either external, such as parasites, burns or abrasions which become infected, or internal due to hormonal, dietary or metabolic upset. These are the conditions which are most difficult to diagnose and treat. Skin conditions due to hormone deficiencies or excesses are caused by upsets, in particular glands such as the pituitary, thyroid, pancreas, testicles or ovaries. Many of these appear in older dogs or in ones which have been neutered. However, the results of thyroid problems are often seen in young animals. The problems caused by nutritional deficiencies are commonly seen by the practitioner and are very often due to an inadequate supply of essential insaturated fatty acids in the diet. These are most readily available in many of the vegetable oils or rendered fats. Their lack causes a chronic dryness of the skin and hair due to water loss from subcutaneous tissues. This results in constant shedding, itchiness and injury from scratching.

Some foods may cause allergic reactions in dogs, which appear as sudden eruption of bumps all over the dog's body, or even more alarming a swelling of the face, lips and eyelids and in more acute cases swelling or edema of the respiratory tract with consequent embarrassed respiration. Spoiled foods such as garbage is often the cause. Less severe cases often rectify themselves, but prompt treatment by a veterinarian saves the dog much discomfort.

Many dogs past the age of five to six years suffer from a chronic inflammatory condition of the kidneys which often manifests itself in the skin, which becomes lustreless, dry and dehydrated. When pulled up in the hand it remains in a ridge rather than falling quickly back into place. When seen early in this stage, the practitioner can often prolong the animal's life for many years by suggesting proper diets which place less stress on the kidneys.

Parasites, both external and internal, are a never ending problem, particularly where sanitation is not the best. Fleas and lice are the most common external parasites although ticks are common in some areas. In my opinion the incidence of all three are somewhat less in the more extreme climate of the prairies than in some of the more moderate areas of the country. The louse is relatively easy to deal with since it completes its life cycle on the dog and can usually be eliminated by giving three or four baths at two week intervals with a good insecticide shampoo. Their contribution to dermatitis is through irritation caused by biting and sucking blood from the host which in turn mutilates itself by constant rubbing and scratching.

Fleas are more difficult to eliminate since part of their life cycle is completed off the dog. The eggs are laid in cracks and crevices and in the bedding. The adult flea bites the dog to obtain the blood which it digests and passes on the skin of the host. It can be seen as cinderlike material when the hair is parted and is diagnostic even if a flea cannot be found. This material drops off of the dog and is utilized by newly hatched flea larvae as food.

They can be controlled by exchanging the bedding and cleaning the premises along with regular insecticide baths or spraying with a good insecticide spray recommended for this purpose. Where they become a severe problem the dog can be vaccinated with a flea antigen, or it can be placed on an oral insecticide which in proper dosage is harmless to the dog but kills the flea when it bites. This is also effective against lice and ticks.

Many dogs develop an allergy to fleas and once sensitized by its bite will break out in an acute moist dermatitis or eczema whenever it is bitten again. This type of dermatitis is extremely painful to the dog and spreads very rapidly. This condition is often seen in heavily coated dogs in the summertime without the involvement of the flea. Lack of proper grooming and dietary deficiencies are the primary cause. Besides its other accomplishments the flea is the intermediate host of one of the most common types of tapeworm in the dog.

Ear mites and mange mites are the other two most common parasites in the dog. Both cause severe irritation, the one through its activity in the ear and the other through burrowing in the skin. The host is caused considerable discomfort and responds by rubbing and scratching, often opening areas of the skin to bacterial infections which further complicate the situation. It is most important that these conditions be diagnosed early and proper treatment instituted early in order to save the dog much distress, and the owner considerable money in trying to cure an advanced case.

Internal parasites can cause severe upsets in young dogs particularly, which are often reflected in the appearance of the skin. A dry scurfy coat more often than not accompanies worm infestation. There is considerable nutritional loss and in the case of the hookworm and coccidiosis considerable hemorrhage. The resulting weakened condition produces a lack of resistance which renders the dog less resistant to infection, particularly distemper, even if vaccinated. Microscopic examination should be done routinely at weaning age.

It has often been said that the skin is the mirror of a dog's health and well being, and it is very pleasing and all too uncommon to see a young dog with a shining healthy coat, and a loose resilient skin which can be pulled up from the body and fall quickly back into place when released. □

Obedience Success Story

One year ago, April 25, at Peterborough, Mrs. T. Philip, (Phyllis) of Ro-Shan Kennels Reg'd., Oak Ridges, Ont. entered Obedience for the first time with her young Labrador Retriever female, Trievendale's Happy Im a Triever. Happy received her first leg that day plus highest scoring sporting dog and highest scoring Novice A. Phil also won highest scoring lady handler. Happy gained her C.D. in three consecutive trials and before the year was over also her C.D.X.

At the Kitchener show August 14, 1965, with a Samoyed, Ch. Bri-Pen's Tamika of Zemi, owned and bred by Mr. and Mrs. G. MacDonald of Bri-Pen Kennels, Tamika acquired her first leg and highest scoring Novice B. At Oshawa, September 5, 1965, this Sammy repeated winning the much coveted Master silver rose bowl for highest scoring novice dog. At Oakville, in September this young female gained her final leg for her C.D. title.

March 15, 1966 at Toronto with a Samoyed, Bri-Pen's Cappy Carlo of Bois owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carlo, Cappy took his first leg and 2nd highest novice B. At Oshawa, March 6, Cappy took his second leg and again at Peterborough, April 24, Cappy finished his C.D. title with a score of 193½ under Judge Jake Giacomelli.

An interesting feature is that all three of these dogs won their C.D. in three straight trials and all with average scores over 190 and these are, up to this date, all that Phyllis has entered and shown in obedience competition. Nice going.

Dogs Fly Higher Than any Astronaut

Having flown higher than any astronaut (560 miles maximum) two small Russian dogs appeared to be well and lively, according to a recent AP Cablephoto. After 22 days in orbit and frequent transit through the hazardous radiation ringing the earth, Ugolek (Small Lump Coal) and Veterok (Breezy) suffered no serious ill effects from their more than three weeks of weightlessness in the Satellite Cosmos 110, states Tass. However eight or nine days were required to adjust their muscular coordination to the strange circumstances.

This is a black and white rendition of the color shot of "Rusty," which won a special prize of $150.00 in the color category for Pierre Manley of Detroit, Mich., in the 1965 dog photo contest sponsored by the Gaines Dog Research Center.

BREED NOTES

Readers are asking: why isn't there more about their breed? What are people doing in the many breeds? We need your help! Please send in brief items pertaining to your breed, Canadian wins in the U.S.A., imports, formation of new clubs, items of interest about various breeds you may find in your reading.

Heredity Main Factor In Pointers' Behavior

Emotionally stable and unstable lines within the Pointer breeds suggest the influence of genetic determinants of conditioning and other behavior, states a report received by Drug Trade News.

Two psychiatric doctors, while maintaining that the dog is exceeded only by man in the emotionality of his behavior, have attempted the development of two lines of Pointers, one breeding true for fearfulness and lack of friendliness and the other breeding true for the opposite traits.

Behavioral tests given the offspring of these two groups revealed surprising within-litter similarities and between-litter differences. The investigators subjected the groups to tests such as reactions to noise, brief exploratory activity, and reactions to humans assuming various roles such as neutral, friendly and hostile.

Admitting litter differences can stem from either heredity or environmental causes, the investigators pointed out that since the environmental factors were kept the same for all the dogs, "there is little doubt but that the litter differences are of a hereditary nature."

Further studies will determine the nature of the hereditary as well as the environmental differences, they believe.

Apart From His Dog, Here's the GSP Owner's Best Friend

In recent years, as more German Shorthaired Pointers are seen in the field and in the Canadian show ring, fanciers of the GSP are desiring further knowledge of the breed, past, present and the future, (as puppies are coming along).

The New German Shorthaired Pointer, by C. Bede Maxwell, has been released in its second edition by General Publishers in Canada and is available through the book department of Dogs in Canada at $9.95.

The earlier background of the breed, of course, is centered in Germany. But since the first German Shorthaired Pointer was registered by the American Kennel Club in 1930, the breed has been making its own history in North America. Actually, Dr. Charles R. Thornton, a Montana doctor, began establishing the breed in that state five years previously.

Except for actual field training, this book contains virtually everything a GSP devotee would wish to know, including a chapter on German titles and vocabulary.

New German Shorthair Club Will Help Further the Breed

In a recent issue of Dogs I read of the formation of the German Shorthair Pointer Club of Ontario. This is a great forward step and the founders are to be congratulated. The G.S.P. has had a slow steady rise in Canada which is the reason why the quality of the breed is so high, with no separation along field and show lines.

Temperament of the Shorthair is second to none; I have never seen a mean one. For that matter the dedication and good sportsmanship of Shorthair owners and breeders is unusually high in this very competitive game and we have met and competed with them from Calgary to Toronto in the past year. In general, exhibitors show anywhere, anytime, regardless of who is showing what dog, under what judge.

It is to be hoped that the new club in Ontario will bring the breed more to the public eye in the future, with perhaps the desire to form such a club in Manitoba in the not too distant future. As the only active Shorthair breeders in Manitoba, until very recently (when some of our happy clients decided to try a litter) we have found it difficult to get the breed before the public. Prophets are without honor in their own land so it was necessary to campaign some of our dogs extensively to prove that we were breeding top quality dogs that could compete with the best anywhere. The results have been very gratifying with our home bred Ch. Shadeland's Breechs Buoy being top winning G.S.P. and placing sixth in the Sporting Group in 1965. It was during the past year that we were able to meet the many wonderful people who exhibit and breed Shorthairs. The combination of high quality breeding stock and sincere breeders indicates a bright future for the German Shorthaired Pointer in Canada.

Labradors and Kerry Blues Take the Breed at US Shows

gressive Dog Club of Wayne County, Detroit, Mich., April 30 were: Ch. Wimberway's Wanda, CD, Labrador Retriever, who went WB, BW and Best of Breed for three points and Ch. Wimberway's Wateaki, CDX, who went WD and BOS for three points. Both are owned by Sandy Briggs of Markham, Ont.

At the same show Mrs. Dennis Gardiner's Ch. Kerrycrofts Confidence Man, Kerry Blue, earned WD, BW and BB ribbons, while her Ch. Kerrycrofts Cara went WB and BOS.

The following day at the Toledo KC show, Toledo Ohio, Wanda was named RWB while Teaki went WD and BW to take Best of Breed. The Kerry, Confidence Man, took Best of Breed over two Specials and Carousel was RWB.

In reporting the wins Sandy noted Mrs. Shirley DeBoer of Toronto, Mrs. Mildred Kussmaul of Unionville and Standard Poodle breeder Abe Zvonkin of Hamilton, Ont. at the shows.

It's Here: Latest Edition of The Complete Labrador Retriever

In demand by Labrador Retriever breeders and sportsmen is the comparatively recent second edition of The Complete Labrador Retriever by Helen Warwick. A handsome red covered volume bearing a noble head (Ch. Banchory Cottager) this book belongs in the home of everyone who owns, breeds, shows or hunts with the Lab. An encyclopedia on the breed, it is written by a dedicated author who has delved with rare dedication and love into records both British and North American. She quotes from leading authorities on both sides of the Atlantic.

With the assistance of registrar Ted Gundersen of the Canadian Livestock Records, Ottawa, she has produced some interesting facts about Canadian Labradors as well.

Mrs. Warwick urges readers to also give consideration to other Retrievers, even though devoted to the Labrador. "I feel one should learn to appreciate them all. This holds for novices and breeders alike. I do not share the view of some specialists who, in their narrow-minded and insular approach, feel there is only one. The Retriever family is large and contains varieties to suit all tastes. The elegant Flat-Coat, the bright Golden, the rugged Chesapeake and Curly — all these have much to offer."

Published in Canada by General Publishing Co. and available through Dogs in Canada Book Department at $9.95 plus postage.

Irish Setter Awards Presented at Dinner

Presentation of the 1965 annual awards for members of the Irish Setter Club of Canada were a feature at the annual dinner meeting held April 30.

Provided by the club, the awards were: Best Opposite Sex, Kluremac Maureen O'Shannon, owned by Mrs. J. B. Gardiner, Winnipeg, Man. Champion Bitch Award: Ch. Red Barn Royal Cedar, owned by Mrs. R. Dafoe, Burlington, Ont. CD Obedience Award: Challenger's Me Pride and Joy, CD, owned by Mrs. R. E. Allen, Burlington, Ont. UD Obedience Award: Challenger's Bronze Knight, UD, owned by Mr. J. McCallum, Berkeley, Calif.

Last year there were no winners for the Best of Breed, Breeder of the Year, Champion Dog, CDX Obedience and Field Awards.

Mrs. R. Dafoe and Miss Barbara Allen gave an interesting talk and obedience demonstration on Station CKCO-TV, Kitchener, earlier in the month.

The club's Spring Field Trial was held at Wynfield Farms, Georgetown, Ont., May 28.

Who Is This Lady?

She is the oldest continuous breeder of Irish Setters (exclusively) in Canada. She has imported for the improvement of the breed: three from England, one from Scotland and 20 from the United States. Recent import of a male and female from the famous Tirvelda Kennels of Mr. and Mrs. E. Irving Eldredge in Virginia brings the total to 22, which may be a record for the breed.

Her choice of these last two from a number of pups available was partly because they are from experienced and reputable breeders and partly because there was no history of any outstanding faults in the background and no history of cowlicks for at least seven generations. The pups are now ten months old, this outstanding breeder tells Dogs in Canada and are extremely promising. "I am confident their good qualities and those of their forebears will be repeated in their offspring."

The breeder is Mrs. Gertrude Drew, Wildair Kennels, Toronto.

Import from Wales

Gwibernant Gariad, year-old female English Springer Spaniel, has been imported from North Wales by Lester Zimmerman (Breezy Point), Medicine Hat, Alta. Her sire is Hales Smut. Her Dam, FT Ch. Dinas Dwi Sele, has more wins in Britain than any other Springer living, states Mr. Zimmerman.

Beef-Flavored Dreams

Thoughtful Mary Goodyear of London, England, is making travelling cushions impregnated with meat smells for dogs who get jumpy while travelling, according to the Ladies' Home Journal, May issue. Inventor Goodyear tried the beefed-up pillow idea on her own Poodle, who travelled "calm and relaxed" on long journeys. "He just lies there, dreaming of the next mess stop."

Ottawa Evening Show

And a word about the rings. Composed of a framework of easily erected and dismantled aluminum, they have been beautified as the result of the devotion of a group of the club's women members, who sat at their sewing machines and produced roughly 400 yards of rich, blue draperies, which added greatly to the beauty of the show.

Competition in the show ring was keen. The six survivors to face Judge Harvey Gratton, out of the original 306 entries, were:

Sporting Dogs — Ascob American Cocker, Ch. Abbi's Adored Mister A.O.K., a gay moving little guy owned by Mrs. Harry Reno of Port Huron, Mich.

Hounds — An aristocratic Borzoi, Sirhan Borya, owned and shown by Luc Boileau of Pointe Claire, Que.

Working Dogs — Newfoundland, Ch. Edenglen's Banner, an unusually true member of this large breed, owned by Rev. Gordon Smythe of Ottawa.

Terriers — The perky West Highland White Terrier, Ch. Roseneath Gallant Son, owned by Mrs. Thelma E. Adams, of Unionville, Ont.

Toys — The Maltese, Ch. Poodhall Euripedes, owned by Mrs. Justin Morgan, a United States exhibitor.

Non-Sporting — The Miniature Poodle, Ch. Poodanne's N-V-Me, owned by May Magder of Oakville, Ont.

For Best in Show it was keen competition, but when it was all over the white Miniature Poodle was top dog in show.

The other top winners were: Best Canadian Bred, the Doberman Pinscher, Konigshausen Inspiration, owned by A. V. Auclair of Toronto; and Best Canadian Bred Puppy, the Boxer, Jandaire's Gallant Rogue, owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Halliday of Scarborough. □

Rules for Whelping

Dr. Robert C. Williams in his column in a recent issue of the Toronto Star listed these 14 rules to help take the worry out of whelping and raising puppies. Although the pointers are primarily for pet owners, many of Dogs' readers are facing canine family problems for the first time.

1. If necessary worm the female the day she comes into season and again in three weeks. Breed the female during the 9th to 14th day after she comes into season.

2. Continue to feed the normal maintenance ration quantity of food for the first 45 days after breeding, then increase the amount by 20 per cent. The female should have plenty of exercise during the whole pregnancy.

3. Place the female in an isolated place at least one week before she is due (approximately 63 days) so that she is accustomed to her new surroundings.

4. Provide a heating pad to prevent chilling of the pups.

5. A few days before whelping bath the female in warm water and good quality shampoo. If she is long haired clip the hair from around her breasts and hind quarters. Thoroughly scrub and disinfect the whelping box.

6. Observe the female for normal activity, feed and water intake. If there is any deviation she may be ready to whelp and this necessitates closer watching.

7. After whelping see that the pups' navel cords are cut (3" from body), noses are clear and pups are huddled together.

8. Leave the female and pups alone for the first few days except for two or three observations per day.

9. Remove dewclaws when desirable at three days and tails during first week.

10. Feed the female all she will consume during the time she is feeding the pups. Start puppies on solid food at three weeks (pablum).

11. Check pups for round worms at four weeks if necessary and worm if necessary at four and six weeks.

12. Wean pups at six weeks.

13. Restrict female's food to nothing on day of weaning, ¼ ration the second day, ½ on the third day and ¾ on 4th day and normal maintenance after.

14. As pups grow follow with good vaccination program to protect pups against distemper, hepatitis and rabies. (Measles vaccine for distemper protection can be given at three weeks.)

Afghan Zooms to Big U.S. Win

Can. Ch. Horningsea Tzaama started off his 1966 show career in the grand manner. Competing in the U.S. for the first time, this young 15-month-old beat 80 Afghans at the Detroit Afghan Specialty Show on March 6 by picking up Best of Winners for a 5-point major under renowned breeder-judge Mrs. Kay Finch. Owner-handled by Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Phillips (Kophi Kennels) Tzaama was bred in England by Mrs. Marna Dods.

The Detroit Afghan Specialty, with an entry of 95 Afghans, ranked as one of the largest Specialties in the East and Mid-West. Best of Breed was taken by Ch. Sahadi Shikara. The Specials class also included BIS winner Ch. Holly Hill Desert Wind and Ch. Ammen Hall Judas who won this year's New York Specialty. Mr. Phillips reported that it was "quite a thrill" to be in the same ring with these great champions!

The Phillips were also thrilled with their ten-month-old homebred, Kophi's Mystic Kiisha, who came second in a Puppy Class of ten at the Detroit Specialty. Kiisha is a daughter of Am. Ch. Djandji Radja of Stormhill and Ch. Kophi Sultana Mystique, and will be campaigned in Canada this season.

Advice on Permanent Homes for Bassets and Other Breeds

How can a breeder avoid making the error of selling to undesirable, "change-of-mind" types of purchasers? From the calls we get for puppies, we have found that these "poor risk" prospects can be divided into five main categories, listed below. As members of a specialty club, one of our main functions should be to create as fine a public image for our breed as is possible: we should aim to see as many of our dogs as possible placed in good, permanent homes. A year old dog uprooted out of one environment and forced to learn to conform to a totally new set of "house rules" rarely ever makes a perfect adjustment, and often creates a bad impression of our breed. If we could manage to cull as many bad prospects as possible, we might prevent a fair proportion of these re-sales. Here are the types we would avoid if at all possible.

(1) The buyer who has not taken the time to acquire even the most basic knowledge of the breed. These are generally 'impulse buyers'. They are the same people who go out and buy a two-seater sports car for their six-member family, and then trade it in six months later when they find the size doesn't suit them. They are fairly easy to spot . . . they rarely know just how big the adult dog is going to be, or what requirements of exercise are necessary. As soon as the dog becomes nearly adult in size, and needs a fair amount of walking, they sell the dog, meanwhile complaining to all and sundry that the breed is too large for the city . . . should be on a farm (Utter nonsense, as we all know!) They are notable for never asking any sensible questions before buying the puppy; their only question is "how quickly can they get it?" Far better is the customer who comes well-read on the subject of the breed, full of questions about how to give the puppy the proper care, slow and careful as to which puppy he chooses, and willing to wait for delivery.

(2) Price hagglers are the second offensive types. If they can't afford the initial cost, surely they can't afford the upkeep! Just let food or veterinary bills run a trifle high and out goes the dog to another home!

(3) Avoid the fussy people who spend half the time they are looking at the puppies removing practically invisible dog hairs off their clothes. They'll never last long with the dog . . . it's too much of a nuisance to clean up after it!

(4) One of the commonest, and saddest prospective buyers to see is the person who is choosing the dog for himself over the objection of their husband or wife. I'm willing to wager that three-quarters of these puppies will soon be put up for sale again shortly, as soon as the objecting husband or wife can find some small excuse to force the dog back out of the house! Psychologists tell us that many of these people are actually jealous of anything that takes attention away from themselves — and if anything is an attention-stealer, it's a puppy! What is really sad is that, often, the other partner gives in to these petty demands to preserve peace in the house, even though they themselves are true animal-lovers, and would have given the puppy an excellent home.

(5) The last of the five problem types we have met are the "puppy-lovers". Now this title may sound odd, but it describes them perfectly. They never think in terms of the mature dog. To them a puppy is a cute 'plaything', and when it outgrows its novelty, good-bye dog! These people are sometimes difficult to spot, but if they give you, as they seem to tend to do, an overly long list of the many assorted breeds of dogs which they have owned — beware! Also, they won't appear particularly interested in looking over your adult dogs thoroughly, as any sensible buyer would.

I hope that none of your dogs are unfortunate enough to end up with these kinds of owners . . . our dogs are just too good for them!

Young Basset Earns CD

Believed to be the youngest Basset ever to accomplish this win at such an early age in Canada, Mellowboys Sir Winston, 13-month-old male Basset, gained his CD degree at the United KC Obedience Trial held in Montreal, April 30. His owner is Mrs. G. Moore of Pierrefonds, Que. All the Basset lovers in Montreal were very proud of him. He was bred by Mr. R. G. Sless of Vancouver.

Dachshunds on the Move

Believed to be the first time Canadian-reared Dachshunds have been exported to Italy, two members of Mrs. Patrice Fisher's Wunderbar Kennels at Ancaster, Ont. left recently for a new life in that country. Pacer, an 18-month-old champion and Chloe, a five-month-old pup, flew from Toronto International Airport in a specially chartered aircraft to be with their new owner, cattle-breeder Attilio Landina of Pandino. The Hamilton Spectator ran a four-column by 16" picture and story on their departure. An exceptional photograph by Jack Hourigan showed the two Standard Smooth Dachshunds with a poster of a famous Italian fountain in the background, contemplating their belongings wrapped in a big kerchief on a long stick marked "Italy . . . Express."

Mrs. Mini Soeters of Miniam-Teckel Dachshunds, South Edmonton, Alta., has sold a Standard Wire-haired Dachshund to a forest ranger at Jasper National Park. The 11-month-old puppy, sired by Mrs. Soeters' Ch. (Can. & Am.) Duffy of Denali, will be trained for blood-trailing wild game. His new owner, formerly a forest ranger in Germany, claims the Wirehair will do any type of hunting, with the exception of pointing.

Now Dachshund Devotees Can Read the Famous "Der Dachshund" in English

Until recently, of all the special works on the Dachshund, Dr. Fritz Engelmann's book Der Dachshund, has been virtually unusable by the North American breeder and fancier because it was published in German. Mrs. Leonore Loeb Adler, whose kennel bears the v. Hohenhorst prefix, has done a masterful job on this all-round book on all the Dachshund breeds. In addition to a variety of offices in Dachshund clubs, she is a frequent contributor to American and German magazines, and is a research assistant at the American Museum of Natural History.

In her translation of this famous book she has revised obsolete sections and added a new chapter on the fundamental principles of heredity, its practical application and research in the field of behaviour genetics.

This is the Dachshund deals with every aspect of the breed and its variations in coat and size. It is of fascinating interest to the greenest beginner and the most seasoned breeder.

One theme is apparent throughout the book: The Dachshund is a hunting dog. An entire chapter describes various types of hunting and training procedures in natural and artificial dens. One of the most informative chapters deals with all phases of heat, breeding, whelping (photographs depict the entire procedure) foster mothers, raising and training puppies.

Generous sketches and photographs

Miniam-Teckel's Defender made his show debut at 9 months of age, under Judge Mr. W. Jacob, on March 12. This red Standard Smooth Dachshund captured: BB, 4th in Group, BCB in Group, BCB Puppy in Group and BCB Puppy in show. Handled by breeder-owner Mrs. Mini Soeters, R.R. 1, South Edmonton, Alta.

liven the book, showing the Dachshund in the hunt, the show ring, the home. Many of Dogs readers will recognize friends in the Dachshund circles: pictured are such "names" as Dorothy and Frank Hardy, Nancy Onthank and many other famous judges, owner-handlers and handlers. Canadian Dachshunds are represented in pictures showing Mrs. K. J. Clement and Ch. Yclept Russett Bingo; Charles and Evelyn McCullough's Ch. Karleve's Strictly Informal, handled by Ruth Mingie Lane, Ch. Di-Mar's Amber, owned by Mrs. Sarah Diamond and five generations of Miniature Smooth champions owned by Mrs. Sarah Diamond and one of Helen Sinclair handling the successful Redenhall Briar Rose of Tornquist. Mrs. Diamond also contributed a section on Canadian Dachshunds.

This is the Dachshund is available through Dogs in Canada Book Department at $6.00. Book is handsomely bound with white cover bearing color head study of a Smooth Dachshund.

Latest Edition of the Complete Irish Wolfhound

Newly on the market is the second edition of The Complete Irish Wolfhound by Alma J. Starbuck. Sporting a spanking white cover with title and an engaging head study of an Irish Wolfhound all appropriately in green, this volume is a real textbook of the breed. In fact it is a book that should be read thoroughly before and after purchasing a member of this great breed.

In addition to the history and a record of important wins, it contains a review of the Standard, as well as a number of chapters on the general care and health of the Wolfhound.

Released by General Publishers and available through Dogs in Canada book department at $6.00.

Boxer Kennels Prove Breed's Obedience Talent

When Ch. Hidlj's Maico received the Obedience Dog Trophy of the Year at the Western Canada Boxer Club annual dinner and award event, the pleasure of his owners was tripled by the fact that this is the third consecutive time Mike has earned this trophy, twice in CDX and this year in UD. To the knowledge of owners Mr. and Mrs. J. Sorensen of Sor-Lar Kennels, Richmond, B.C., this is the first conformation champion Boxer to gain a UD degree.

Since the event, Sor-Lar has two more conformation champion Boxers who have gained Obedience degrees. Ch. Two for Tea of Blossomlea has earned a CDX and Ch. Sor-Lar's Magic, CD (awaiting CKC confirmation).

The Sorensens and their Boxers have proven this breed can compete successfully in Obedience.

Canadian Judges Top U.S. Shepherd Specialties

Obedience judge and German Shepherd Specialist Mary Southcott of Milton, Ont. had the honor of judging females at the German Shepherd Dog Club of Long Island Specialty the weekend of May 7. This is a prestige show with a total entry of 292 German Shepherd Dogs, 125 females, 104 dogs, eight Specials, 50 in Obedience and five entries in the Tracking Test.

Mrs. Southcott was elected to judge the female classes at the German Shepherd Dog Club of America National Specialty (largest Specialty on this continent) which is being held November 13 in Kansas City. William Goldbecker, author of the popular book This is the German Shepherd, will assess the males and Ernest Loeb will handle the inter-sex competition.

Shepherds Lead in Obedience

The German Shepherd dog led all breeds in Obedience degrees earned in the United States during 1965, reports The New York Times. Total degrees earned by Shepherds last year was 1,205. The three varieties of Poodles followed with only 153 fewer of the titles. Shetland Sheepdogs placed third with 346 degrees.

New Committee Heads Valuable Program

At this year's general meeting of the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada, the newly formed Breed Improvement Committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Alex McCrory, was given the "go ahead" on two ambitious programs.

First: The making of educational movies which can be loaned to club branches.

Second: an attempt to eliminate dysplastic animals from breeding programs, this to be achieved by members on a voluntary basis, by the x-raying of their stud dogs and brood bitches. The Breed Improvement Committee will keep a record of radiographically normal animals which would be publicized at intervals — without favour or prejudice to any particular animals in the club magazine and in Dogs in Canada.

Each animal being x-rayed is to be accompanied by its registration certificate; its tattoo marks to be verified by the technician. In cases of illegibility, or of nose-printed dogs, the owner is to use an identifying number, issued previously by the committee on request, to be tattooed on the animal at the time of x-ray.

By using this plan there would be no suggestion of pressure on owners, but breeders and clients will at last have a real choice of using animals "Certified Radiographically Normal".

Since confusion can arise if many people intepret many x-rays, all plates, marked with the individual dog's registration number and tattoo mark, should be sent to the Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, Ont. with no accompanying opinion, for the attention of Dr. A. J. Cawley, the recognized authority in this field.

Dr. Cawley has offered to assist us in this way. He tells us that at this time the incidence of hip dysplasia is 23%, but if breeders ensured radiographically normal hips in sire and dam and in the grandparents also when possible, it could be reduced to 2% or less.

Dr. Cawley also informs us that the male is the greater risk in passing hip dysplasia to the progeny, which points up the need to inaugurate this program without delay, to eliminate disappointments and loss of revenue to serious breeders.

What I Look For In German Shepherd Movement

PART TWO

A. THE FRONT

Looking at the front from the front while the dog is standing, should give some idea as to how it should move. The picture should look hard and straight rather than bulgy. The shoulders should seem to be a part of the body, they are so flat against the sides. Then the legs should just drop, right out of this body — shoulder picture, on the outer sides, forming an equilateral upside down 'U'. The pasterns attached to the lower ends of the legs rotate slightly out, denoting the sign of a trotter and take slightly away from this picture of straightness.

When this Shepherd moves towards you, the shoulders should continue to be flat, the elbows tight and the legs and pasterns straight and perpendicular. However, as the dog gains speed, the feet converge inward to a center line of gravity and yet maintain a straight column of bone to the elbow where the convergence of the feet has the effect of putting the elbow on a slightly different plain. This slightly points the backs of the elbows out of line. From the rear, the elbows must still appear close to the body at all times.

Viewing from the rear, it appears that the pasterns turn in, which indicates they move actually on a slightly off straight front course, as from the rear we wouldn't see the front reach of the pasterns, only the follow through. This idea is supported by the tendency of the best trotters to stand slightly bending out at the pasterns. This is probably a balancing factor. Dogs that show either bulging in the shoulders or flabbiness, usually have this accompanied by loose or off-course elbows. The elbows will flip out or there is just too much action in the shoulder assembly when the dog moves. This also is best seen from the front. Sometimes a severe turning in of the pasterns could indicate rather improper shoulder muscling which throws out the legs as the dog moves and the pasterns turn so severely in to bring the dog back on to a center of gravity. Such action can only be weakening and although these animals might reach well because of a pliability in the shoulder muscles they couldn't be expected to endure and the action must be heavily penalized.

Returning to the bulgy or powerful looking front, it might look good on a Bulldog but on a Shepherd it only takes away from his working ability and hinders the movement in this way: bulgy muscles on top of the shoulder blade are matched by bulgy muscles underneath, in fact bulgy muscles usually accompany short bones. This mass of muscles not only restricts the normal rotation of the blade but throws it out of line with the humerus (upper arm), which in turn affects the action of the elbows. Also accompanying this build is usually a chest which is too broad, which also forces out the elbows or at least restricts them. In short it forces the front away from the desired straight column of bones coming at you.

Let me return once again to the pasterns. Dogs with too much give or soft in pastern will flip them out as they come at you, and from behind you can see them turn sharply inwards. From the side this is recognized by a complete giving of the pasterns on the forward reach and flipping up on the follow through.

The shoulder blade meets the upper arm in a ball and socket joint which allows rotation other than back and forth. The other end of the upper arm is connected at the elbow in a hinge joint to the lower leg. This hinge joint, although somewhat flexible, is only capable of back and forth movement. So any untrue movement attributed to the elbows must originate with an improper rotation of the upper arm, rather than in the elbows, e.g.: flip your elbows out and the joint rotation comes from the shoulder. This improper rotation of the upper arm forbids it to extend its normal distance which restricts the reach of the front legs. In some cases, once the upper arm has rotated beyond a bulky chest, it swings the elbow back in to line and normal reach is obtained for awhile but the extra work tires the muscles.

Shoulder blade and upper arm work most effectively being approximately the same length and being proportionately long for three reasons:

1. The long bones having to be placed within a given area (the depth of the body approximately) they provide greater angulation, greater extension with the same rotation, therefore greater reach.
2. It is agreed that long bones grow long muscles which are desirably flat around the blade and upper arm.
3. The two bones are in balance and one shorter than the other throws out timing.

INTRODUCING TO CANADA
AM. CH. LLANO ESTACADO'S PERDIDO

PERDIDO began his show career at 11 months of age with — BEST-IN-MATCH — Big Spring Kennel Club, Big Spring, Texas
— BEST-IN-MATCH — San Angelo Kennel Club, San Angelo, Texas

Finishing his AMERICAN CHAMPIONSHIP in a blaze of glory with three (3) BEST-IN-SHOWS from the Classes.

BEST-IN-SHOW	—	Lubbock, Texas — Heart of the Plains Kennel Club, Judge Haskel Schuffman
BEST-IN-SHOW	—	Houston, Texas — Houston Kennel Club, Judge Derek Rayne
BEST-OF-BREED	—	German Shepherd Dog Club of Houston, Specialty Show, Judge George Collins

As a stud we recommend PERDIDO for improvement of bone, substance, pigment and balance. His puppies also show his beautiful head, neck, strength of back, short loin, depth of body, correct rear and fore assemblies and full dentition. In motion, his floating gait is effortless, beautifully balanced, coordinated and true. PERDIDO is a powerful masculine dog of ideal proportions and faultless in temperament.

PERDIDO will reside with his co-owner Jack Summy in Calgary, Alberta during the summer months and will be shown exclusively by Mary Anne Summy. Then he will be returned to the States for future showing in the Fall.

It is noted that excessive angulation and length of bones will cause undesirable effects in the opposite direction, but this is seldom if ever seen in the front.

From the side when one front leg reaches forward the upper arm swings forward, the point of the shoulder blade rotates up and the tip rotates back. Muscles seated in the neck pull the upper arm forward and muscles on the back of the upper arm tighten and pull on the back of the elbows straightening the lower leg and pastern. The whole straightening of angles and operation of the levers by the muscles gets the dog in motion. The harder the muscles tighten, the faster the dog goes within the limitations of the joints which prevent a complete straightening. A complete straightening would be undesirable in any case because of 'shock absorbing' difficulties. Limitations of the front are: the upper arm cannot rotate forward beyond perpendicular and the shoulder blade can only rotate 15° each way from its fulcrum center. This rotation of the blades is responsible for a slight action over the withers. However, an excessive roll could indicate loose blades, or increasing roll over the withers is cause for further investigation as to the cause.

The front legs reach far forward but they must be close to the ground. A hackney action is a lifting high of the front legs and is a method of coping with insufficient front angulation in relation to rear drive. These dogs are usually short in upper arm and the rotation upward of the point of shoulder beats the tightening of the muscle pulling the elbow tight and the leg is pulled high. This action often fools judges.

Bobtails Bounce Back

It is with continuing interest that we watch the increase in the number of Old English Sheepdogs making their appearance in the shows of Central Ontario over the past few years.

The entry at the Sportsmen's Shows on March 12 (13) and 19 (12) were gratifying and, we might add, spontaneous as these shows were not billed as Booster shows and there was no pre-arrangement amongst the members of The Old English Sheepdog Club of Canada. Entry at the mid-week shows was halved which only proves that most Bobtail owners still belong to the nine to five day-a-week set.

Four years ago, when I first decided that I was going to own an Old English, I had never seen a live one first hand. We did a good deal of travelling over Ontario that summer trying to track down the three that the CKC Stud Register showed were in Ontario. When we got our first puppy from Tara-Wood in Edmonton the following Spring, he was the first OES pup we had ever seen and we weren't quite sure what to expect when we picked him up at Malton.

Since 1963, several imports from England and the USA and the formation in 1964 of the National Club have seen increasing numbers of the OES at the shows. The rise in popularity and numbers of OES in Ontario can be attributed, we think, to three totally unrelated events. Firstly, Walt Disney's Shaggy Dog movies — and there were more than one — coupled with television's Ladadog and the general use of the Sheepdog to sell everything last year from bedsheets to station wagons. Secondly, Tara-Wood moved from Edmonton to Montreal and more recently to Caledon, Ont. Thirdly, was Ken O'Hearn's (Toronto) litter last July of 11 — seven bitches and four dogs.

We are now known, in behind-the-hand whispers, as the "Sheep People" and all short-haired dog owners agree that we are truly quite mad. And when I start to groom my 'mutties' after a couple of weeks of neglect, I am inclined to agree with them. But when groomed to perfection, the Old English Sheepdog is a source of great pride and their clowning nature endears them to their owners, especially those that fancy themselves as lap dogs.

Samoyed Youngster takes BIS at Sanction Show

Surprise element at the Comox Valley Obedience Kennel Club Sanction Show held in the Spring at Courtenay, B.C. was Nina, 4½ month-old Samoyed female who went Best in Show and Best Puppy in Show under Mrs. J. Anson of Vancouver and Mrs. T. Arthur. In an entry of 50 dogs Nina went over eight Samoyeds shown for Best of Breed. Delighted owner is Mrs. Juliette Chessor of Campbell River, B.C. She is her fourth generation breeding out of her import Silver Rocket of Wychwood, inbred and linebred. "Nina was superbly handled by Peggy Bishop of Totem Samoyed Kennels who, three years ago, handled her own Ch. Mr. Showman to a BIS at a Sanction Show at 3½ months."

Mrs. Chessor's pleasure has been somewhat dimmed in the loss of Nina's grandmother, Ch. Frosty Ledge's Cheeta Dvina, who died suddenly a week after Nina's victory, "in the midst of playing like a six-month-old."

to the 15th Century and has appeared in many paintings of that period. Albrecht Durer used one of his own dogs as a model between 1492 and 1504. Rembrandt painted many of them and Lucas Cranach the Elder showed one in a tapestry in 1501. One even appeared in a canvas by Sir Joshua Reynolds done in the 18th Century.

The breed, strong and compact, stands from 17" to 20" at the shoulder. It is covered with a harsh, dense coat, usually pepper and salt, although some are a pure black. It is more or less agreed that the breed originated by crossing the black German Poodle and the grey Wolf Spitz with the old Wirehaired Pinscher stock. They were first shown in Germany in 1897 as Wirehaired Pinschers, and the winning dog, "Schnauzer" was responsible for the name by which the breed has since been known.

It is believed one was shown in Miscellaneous at the Westminster Show in 1899, but the first recorded importation was that of Fingal by a Mr. Leisching of Rochester, N.Y., in 1905. After World War I they were more in demand but have never reached great heights of popularity, a fact which has helped keep up the standard of the breed.

The Standard is the original Schnauzer, after which there was developed the Miniature, a perky terrier which has gained much recognition in the last few years, and the Giant, a working dog like his predecessor.

In his native land, the Schnauzer was noted chiefly as a ratter and guardian, especially of the carts that brought produce to market. During the first war Germany used him as one of the basic breeds when it built up its dog platoons, chiefly as messenger and Red Cross aid. He also has been used in police work at which he has been very adept.

Intelligent and adaptable, he possesses a reliability that is amazing. Once he has been taught anything he never forgets, and the job is well done. More and more Standard Schnauzers are appearing in Obedience Trials and are among the top-scoring performers.

Called "the dog with the human brain", he is all things to all people — a guardian, a hunter, a worker but above all, a good companion. With his luxurious whiskers and quizzical eyes peering out under arched brows, he is ready for whatever his master requires — a true and loyal friend for young and old.

Keep That Sheltie Reserve: It's a Desirable Characteristic

Why is it that so many people who do not really know Shetland Sheepdogs claim that they are timid or shy, just because they do not enthuse over every stranger they meet?

The Standard states, under temperament: "The Shetland Sheepdog is intensely loyal, affectionate and responsive to his owner. However, he may be reserved toward strangers."

A truly shy Sheltie is rare; sensitivity or reserve are more correct terms, for the trait is the result of intelligence rather than timidity. Reserve with strangers is a distinctive quality of the original Sheltie and, if it is entirely bred out, one of the desirable characteristics of the breed will disappear.

Because of this reserve a Sheltie rarely wanders from its own property. He does not make a nuisance of himself with guests in your home, who are not always dog lovers.

Yet, with his own family, whom he adores, he is the gayest and gentlest of playmates. My Shelties will retrieve for hours, never tiring of their joyous game.

Please, Sheltie breeders, let's not lose this wonderful personality which endears the breed to its owners. Keep the Sheltie who is a trifle reserved with strangers. He will make by far the most loyal and loving companion.

Having Fun Working A "Working Dog"

One of the pleasures of owning a dog is to train it to do the work for which it has been adapted by generations of selective breeding. Although the Siberian Husky has long been noted for its ability to win dog sled races, the thought of owning and handling enough dogs to "field" a five to 13 dog team is enough to dampen the enthusiasm of most dog lovers, especially those parents who feel that their dogs should not outnumber their children. Nevertheless, a lot of fun can be had with a one, two, or three dog team and the experience gained can make one feel almost a "pro" when talking to such noted drivers as Lombard, Belford and McDougall at the big races.

For dog sledding, one must obviously have a dog and a sleigh; actually any of the larger breeds can be used, but first of all he must be eager to go. The family pet who rolls on his back to play as soon as you give him a command will make for a frustrating time. Then, once you have got him to "go ahead", the problem is to teach him to "gee", "haw" and "whoa" since sled dogs are directed by voice signals alone (except for a handy brake on the sled, as often as not the driver's foot). My solution for preliminary training has been to lead the dog while riding a bicycle in the non-snow weather, giving signals and turning and stopping frequently — a procedure which calls for quiet roads, good brakes and an eagle eye for cats, squirrels and other interesting fauna. A more orthodox solution is a long rope and a course laid out in your back yard. I have found that my "lead" dog Nina will not ordinarily turn on command unless she sees a reason for it — an obstacle, an intersection of a road or trail, or the neighbor's garbage pail. This is handy on the trail since I can give her plenty of warning before a turn, but rather disconcerting for her and for me in an open field — I usually end up taking the lead!

Fortunately, we are the owners of an Alaskan type (or racing) sled; one stands on the backs of the two runners and grips a handle about waist high. These two features are necessary if one wishes to do any serious sledding — after running behind a child's sled or a toboggan for a few blocks, one realizes that one is definitely not ready for the four-minute mile.

Although dog harnesses may be bought at most shops dealing in tack for horses, the most satisfactory is the Siwash type (pattern on request) which can be easily made at home using nylon webbing and nylon fleece for padding. It has a single trace, so it is a simple matter to adjust the hitch for any number of dogs.

We are lucky here in Baie d'Urfé to be only a few miles from the Morgan Arboretum and Demonstration Wood Lot of McGill — a large tract, mainly in woods, interlaced by several miles of trails, some of which are packed for the wood-cutting operations. When a two-dog team and several horses pass on a snowy woodland trail, one feels quite removed in time and distance from our modern civilization. But then a jet from Dorval passes overhead and the illusion is momentarily shattered.

One of our more amusing encounters was when we came upon a Basset and a Scottie out for a leisurely stroll in the woods. They took one look at the two Siberian Huskies bearing down on them and fearing, I'm sure, that the hounds of hell had been unleashed, they fled along the trail ahead of us. After about a half mile of nervous glances over their shoulders at this apparition that was gaining on them, they took to the woods. We haven't seen them since.

So there you have it — the fun of working with a working dog — with the bonus of fresh air and exercise for both dogs and driver, a chance to explore the countryside and to enjoy the pleasures of nature in winter, and a daily outing for our three-year-old son.

English Corgi Import Winning Here

Mr. and Mrs. A. Huggins, Corgana, West Vancouver, B.C., have imported Eng. Ch. Flanagan of Wey, a richly marked tricolor and 1965 English champion. At his first show on this continent at Seattle, Wash. in late February, Flanagan was Best of Breed in an entry of 14 under Corgi specialist Judge Mrs. Eileen Pimlott. With four well-known English champions as grandparents, he has already sired a CC winning son in England. At Leeds Championship Show (3,000 dogs including 233 Corgi entries) Flanagan won the dog CC and BB.

Good News for Fox Terrier Owners

The long-awaited second edition of the Complete Fox Terrier by Evelyn L. Silvernail, is now released by General Publishing Company in Canada, and is available at $7.50 through Dogs in Canada Book Department. This 288-page book deals with the history of both the Smooth and Wire Fox Terrier, development of the breed in North America through outstanding kennels, hundreds of other desirable facts and records. Particularly helpful is a comparison of English and American kennels, Fox Terriers and judging. Part II is devoted to the care and training of the Wire and Smooth.

Fox Terrier Notes

All Wire Fox Terrier lovers will know by now that one of our breed took BIS at the 'Gardens' . . . 20 years after another English import, one of the breed's acknowledged 'greats', Int Ch. Pendley Calling. This bitch won it two years in succession.

A tremendous press and television coverage has been given to Moormaides Magic and the public have been made aware once again of the perky little wirehair.

Whether the spotlight shining so brightly on our breed has brought a new awareness to our judges, I do not know . . . but suddenly the spotlight was on us at the Sportsmen's Show in Toronto. The Westie Group monopoly was broken at last, when two judges awarded first place to two different Wires!

One was my Ch. Stoneygap Latest Edition and the other Doug McLean's charge, Am. Ch. Ryburn Rhythm. Between us we defeated some of Canada's, the United States and U.K.'s top terriers.

All this was very exciting and encouraging for the breed, so soon after Westminister, until one suddenly noticed the pitiful Wire entry in comparison even to Welsh and Staffordshire terriers, breeds way down in the registrations. It was noticed also, that very few wire breeders in the area were even sufficiently interested to visit the show as onlookers. How different the atmosphere at the Wire ringside in 'the old country'.

We are at the top of the registrations in the Terrier Group, proving the popularity of our dogs as a pet. Surely among so many breeders, in comparison to Westies or Miniature Schnauzers, who have such large entries, we can find some true fanciers who have the welfare of the breed at heart.

It seems left to a few of us to show our dogs and keep the greatest of all terrier showdogs before the public eye!

Two years ago we had some keen newcomers, able to trim and present their dogs well. It would have been only a matter of time before they could have hit the high spots. Where are they today? And why have they faded out? Why cry "quits" before putting up a real fight?

Perhaps those of us who stay with dog showing must have a true vocation or are a little mad! We don't want madmen in Wires but we could use a few with a real vocation!

Many of our great old-time Wire fanciers have passed on. Ted Ward, who showed so many how to present a Wire. Mr. A. Roberts, the well-loved Jack Treleaven, and now Jack Fry. Most of us went down to defeat to these gentlemen, but we kept trying. Perhaps the younger generation lack the sporting, competitive spirit of these old timers; whatever it is, we need new blood in our breed, to carry on where they left off.

Perhaps the recent spotlight on our breed will spark new interest and ambition in some of our semi-retired exhibitors. Perhaps they will dust off their trimming tables, find their show leads and favorite trimming knives, and 'get cracking'. There is time still to get your dogs ready for the two Wire-breeder judges who are doing the Terrier Specialties in Toronto. Let us give them a good entry of quality. We have made a start at the Sportsmen's, but, we need help from some of you. The spotlight has been on our breed, let's keep it there and make them the "in" breed for 1966.

STOP PRESS: News has just reached me that three new Wires have arrived from U.K. to the kennels of Mr. J. Fuller and Mr. Alf Veale. The Wire ring should have some interesting 'goings on's' this year.

A Characterization of the Kerry Blue

PART TWO

Then there was Murphy. Murphy chose a Mr. and Mrs. Clark to be his human parents, a dear couple with a well-developed sense of humor. They took their Vet's advice very seriously, and after an attack of tonsillitis, brought Murphy to visit me. For some reason known only to Murphy, he used to travel half in, half out the front window of the car, which was probably the main cause of his tonsillitis. However, this time he was wearing motorcycle goggles and a red bandana tied under his chin. (To protect his eyes and ears of course). Being their only son, his parents bought him a wristwatch for his 21st birthday, which he wore on his front "wrist" until the novelty wore off. Murphy is presently residing in Montreal, so he can be closer to the ski-slopes.

There is Penny, who lives in Arlington, Va. with her little sister Molly. On an occasion when I visited them, Penny wouldn't go to sleep until she was allowed in to my bedroom for one last goodnight kiss. She goes to the office every day with her master, but I don't think she types, just acts as receptionist.

Cricket goes for a walk with her parents daily and since she has what may be called "taking ways", it's surprising the number of children's toys and other objects she has accumulated. On one occasion she presented to her mistress not one, but a pair of beautiful french kid gloves. I took a six-month old puppy for a walk recently, and enjoyed the expressions on my neighbors' faces when they saw him dragging home a piece of 2 x 4 as long as himself. He wanted to build a new kennel I guess.

They are so full of wonderful ideas for having fun, that it certainly makes up for the odd inconvenience. I'm not really complaining, but you know, there are times. For instance, when Billie II suffered a fractured leg at the tender age of seven weeks, and had to wear a plaster cast, I really felt sorry for her the first night, naturally she had to be kept separate from her brothers and sisters. She didn't cry very loudly, only loud enough to wake me, so I invited her to sleep with me, just for that night. I already had a crowd sleeping in my room, but there was room for a little puppy. But have you ever tried to sleep with a puppy on your head? The pillow was the softest place, and in order to get her leg with the cast in the right position, she was practically forced to sleep with the rest of her on my head. After that she couldn't see why she should go back to the kennel, so one more place was reserved on my bed, but not on my head.

At this time we had a little problem on our hands, since we were housetraining her, and her mother was much too young and gay to have any consideration for a puppy who was silly enough to wear a cast. So we decided that Francie was the best companion, being not so frivolous and much too dignified to play with puppies that weren't even hers. Francie used to give us dirty looks as we let her out with her little charge, but she was very patient and used to sit just outside the door and wait until little Billie was ready to come in. Then she would continue on with her own business. From that day to this, Billie will not go out until she first entices Francie to go too. Poor Francie has been wakened from sound sleep many a time, to accompany her "niece" to the cold outdoors.

And that brings us to Francie, who was literally dropped into the midst of my Christmas Eve gift wrapping nine years ago. She likes people, rubber balls, any size, Readers Digest and TV Guide and cigarettes (any brand), and will present you with any of these items in exchange for a biscuit. She is very fond of this gift-giving idea, and rarely comes in from the outdoors without a leaf, pebble, rock, piece of paper, or anything that may catch her eye on the way in, and you must accept it. She will not take no for an answer. It's for you.

I could go on and on, but these are a few of the highlights that have stayed in my memory over the years that I have been raising the Kerry, and I hope they will give you a little insight into their character.

Harris-Shire Imports Wheaten Male

Mr. and Mrs. John Harris (Harris-Shire Kennels Reg'd.) Komoka, Ont., have imported a wheaten male, Gayclan Golden Nugget and the famous Glas-Mac's Sailor of Seaglen, who went Best in Show in 1965 (Spring shows) over 149 dogs under Mr. Robert Sharp. He has seven Canadian points. Sailor was co-owned by Mr. Sharpe and Glad-Mac Kennels, Wash. Both males are two years old and are proven studs and imported from Mrs. W. M. Robertson. They should do much to help improve Scottish Terriers in Canada.

Westies on East Coast

The West Highland White Terrier is now being bred, apparently for the first time, in Newfoundland at the Avalon Kennels of Mr. and Mrs. David Cook, St. Johns. The family is from one of the Westies purchased from Kennels of the Rouge-bred stock.

Labrador lacks the reach and drive when he moves. This is not only a fault of Labradors, but is appearing in many other breeds today, and if you look carefully at your breed, you will find that the original measurements taken for "What is a Kerry Blue" will come close in proportion to fitting your breed too, even though it may have no external resemblance to either a Labrador or Kerry Blue.

How to Understand and Raise Toy Breeds

One of the pitfalls of owning Toy breeds, states Viva Leone Rickets, author of the new book All About Toy Dogs, is feeding baby foods too long. "A Toy dog matures at anywhere from ten to 18 months, yet seems a baby to many because of its diminutive size, and the feeding of baby food to a dog nearing maturity is sheer folly. They need body and bone building foods and vitamins from an early age on for the very reason that they do mature at such an early age."

This and many other gems of information are contained in this interestingly written and generously illustrated book.

Because they are so tiny, many new owners of Toy breeds are apprehensive about their care and possible illnesses. Some of the smallest breeds are remarkably healthy, but it's just as well to anticipate vicissitudes and handle them knowledgeably.

Because of the ease with which she imports valuable information, it is not surprising to learn that Mrs. Ricketts has had several careers in addition to being a breeder of Pomeranians and Italian Greyhounds. She is a former writer of pulp fiction, a public relations director, a radio station announcer, a women's editor on a newspaper. She has been a dog writer since 1944 and a book reviewer since 1956. She is also the author of the Pet Pomeranian and the Complete Miniature Pinscher.

Published in Canada by General Publishers, All About Toy Dogs is available through Dogs in Canada Book Department at $8.75.

Notes on the Brussels Griffon Standard

I have been asked by a Brussels Griffon fancier to describe this breed in detail. Briefly, if you have your March, 1965 copy of Dogs in Canada you will see the smooth red female, Ch. Oakcrest Sunni Cecile, said when pictured in the English Breed Club publication to be outstanding by English, Canadian and American judges. Being a smooth red, it is easy to see the points referred to, both strong and weak, always the same Standard of the breed, whether the rough coat or smooth variety.

A large skull is a must, to balance the cobby shape. Breed Standards everywhere require an only slightly rounded back skull, to give the impression of being flat between the ears. The dome is in the very full, high forehead only, in the French Standard termed 'Bombe'. The very steep stop, full rounding, to high forhead gives the face effect needed in a quality Brussels Griffon head.

The forehead is clear, free from frown and wrinkle. At maturity (the second teeth come at two years) the nose has been pushed back to set with the level of the eyes, into deep stop. The nose is black, with wide nostrils, a must for good breathing in a short-nosed breed.

Chin is prominent, without showing teeth or tongue, up-turned wide lower jaw, but not as wide as a Pug, to give true monkey expression required. Upper lip short and free from "lippy" effect that hides turn-up of lower jaw.

Eyes are large, round and as nearly black as possible, never protruding (popped).

Last, but not the least, a bred-in, small V-shaped Terrier ear, high-set, breaking just above the top of the skull and over, gives the correct expression sought by judges. This is a live, active ear, that cannot be gained by cropping. A good breeder takes pride in breeding in the right ear for this breed, just as in any other breed, plus kindness, to these under 12 lb. Toys.

A neck of medium length, free from excess fleshiness, dewlap, is the right setting for the Brussels Griffon's lovely quaint face and head, so full of expression.

Ch. Individualist had stern competition to beat: 14 Long-Coats and 29 smooths. His owner, Sandra Nelles of Brecon Kennels, Unionville, also won Winners Male, Long-coats, with Brecon's Rough 'n Ready Luce for a three-point major.

Ch. Individualist had previously won BIS at the Chihuahua Club of Metropolitan New York over a large entry of 59 in February, 1966, just before Westminster. He also won Best of Variety at Westminster.

On May 14 he won BOV at Scott County KC, Iowa under Judge John A. Cuneo. The following day he repeated the win at the Tri City KC, Rock Island, under Judge Earl Adair. Individualist was Canada's top Smooth-Coat male Chihuahua for 1965. So far in 19 shows in the USA in 1966 he has won 15 BOV, two BOS and two BIS.

Canada's top Smooth-Coat female Chihuahua, Ch. Gehlsen's Jeanie, was also at these two shows and proved herself a very worthy competitor by going WF under Judge Cuneo for two points and BW under Mr. Adair for a three-point major. This gives her eight points and one major in just six shows. She has won four out of the six on her way to gaining her U.S. title.

Both these outstanding Chihuahuas are owned by Sandra Nelles and handled by Mrs. Lorraine Heichel, Cedar Lake, Ind.

tioned by the American Kennel Club was listed under Class 91, Miscellaneous. It was Fred Wood's Fannie, show as a Chinese Edible Dog. Was this a Mexican Hairless, a Chihuahua, or Chinese Crested?

Although more than 200 Chinese Crested are now known to be in the United States, the breed is no longer shown in the Miscellaneous class. Nor is it recognized in any way in Canada.

The distinctive features of this rare breed are its lack of hair, except for the topknot, known as the "crest", a brush on the end of its tail and the hair on the feet, called "socks".

Owners claim they are affectionate, intelligent and loyal, and certainly simple to bathe and groom. So sensitive are the puppies' skins to sun they have to be protected with suntan oil.

Irritations of the Screw Tail

Some of the Toy breeds such as the Boston Terrier and the Pug, as well as the English and French Bulldogs, occasionally suffer from sore spots or minor infections under their curly tails. This can happen if the tail interferes with the bowel movement. From the time you first spot any irritation, apply a mild antiseptic followed by a medicated powder daily. Although this home treatment will relieve the irritation and probably prevent infection, be sure to consult your veterinarian if the problem increases.

Toy Manchesters Show as Tiny Teamsters

An attraction at the 1966 Sportsmen's Show in the Kitchener, Ont. Auditorium was a dog demonstration sponsored by the Kitchener-Waterloo KC. Spectators were delighted with the contribution of Mrs. Cora Smith and her husband: two diminutive Toy Manchesters pulling another in the cart. Pictured here are Mr. Smith with Laura Midge, 5½ lbs. (and seven points toward her championship) and right, Glen-Aubray Night Star. In the cart is Little Lucy of Hart-Car, who weighs 4½ lbs.

Mr. Smith made the cart from doll buggy wheels and an orange crate, painted silver and decorated with red curtain fringe. He also made the harness, except for collars and leashes. For the two days of the Exhibition Lucy never leaped out of the cart except when invited. The team stands, when commanded, without being held on leashes.

Dalmatians: "A Show Wherever They Go".

Looking through several issues of dog magazines, I find little information on the Dalmatian, a truly beautiful and versatile breed.

Dalmatians are distinctively marked, either with rich black spots on a white background or lovely brown spots known as liver. They are absolutely unlike any other breed in appearance and if I may quote an American breeder, "a show wherever they go."

These dogs excel as companions; are clean and seldom bark unless it's warranted. They can also be easily trained to hunt, a little known fact about the breed. A Dalmatian is a born guardian of his master's home and property and has the inborn quality of gentleness with small children. They adapt themselves to their surroundings, be it either apartment or farm life.

A clean, groomed coat, neat toe nails and the tiniest amount of trimming is all that's necessary to take your Dal into the show ring, provided of course, he has been initially trained to stand and gait. He's proven himself a deft pupil in all phases of showmanship, be it conformation or obedience.

So if you are considering the purchase of a dog for your family, why not make it a lovely little "polka-dot" puppy?

ment the official yardstick for the evaluation of the Keeshond, it need not be the last word. It did not come to us, like the Gospel, through the ages, but was put together in the rather recent past.

As most breeders know, it was back in 1902, when Mrs. Wingfield Digby brought a grey Spitz-type dog to England, after she had noticed them on ships in Holland and named them Dutch Barge Dogs. Later she also imported from Germany, where registers were already kept. Then came the First World War and anything "German" was a dirty word. The German Shepherd became an Alsatian and the Grey West-European Spitz was labeled with the Dutch word Keeshond.

We should bear in mind however, that if you tell a Dutchman that you own a Kees(hond), he expects to see a rather small white dog. What we know as a Keeshond, you will have to specify as a Grey (or more desirably a Blue) Kees.

We come now to the '20s and the role of the Baroness van Hardenbroek. It was and still is her hobby to revive lost breeds which means, and rightfully so, that if two alike-looking mongrels breed true to type, they are no mongrels but species of a breed and entitled to a label.

C.K.C. ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

RESUME OF PROCEEDINGS AT THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB HELD AT THE KING EDWARD SHERATON HOTEL, TORONTO, ON SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1966

The President called the meeting to order, welcomed the members present, introduced members of the Board, and called for a minute's silence in memory of those members who had passed away since the previous Annual General Meeting.

MINUTES OF PREVIOUS ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The minutes of the Annual General Meeting held at Vancouver on March 6, 1965, with a correction requested by Mr. Tom Wells, were adopted.

PRESENTATION TO MR. WALTER BROWN

As authorized by the Board of Directors, the President made a presentation to Mr. Walter Brown "who has served this organization for so many years and has done so much for dogdom".

PRESENTATION OF PLAQUES TO PAST PRESIDENTS

The Board having decided in 1965 that to each living Past President of the Club a plaque would be presented commemorating his or her term of office, the President presented (or arranged for a plaque to be forwarded) to each of the following: Mr. Walter Brown, Mr. J. J. Farmer, Mr. J. W. MacCallum, Mrs. Alva McColl, Mr. W. J. Risewick, Mr. Reg. P. Sparkes, Mr. H. L. Walley, and Mr. V. W. Williams.

REPORTS

On behalf of the Board the President reported briefly on a number of decisions reached by the Board at its current annual meeting which had commenced on February 23rd.

Following the adoption of a motion to receive the President's report a discussion followed with regard to the management survey conducted by Warnock Hersey Management Consultants, a synopsis of the report of the Management Consultants having been published in the October (1965) issue of "Dogs in Canada".

The discussion on the management survey included the matter of its cost, the question which had prompted the Board to decide to have such a survey, and the Board's appointment of a Committee to engage the Management Consultants and set their terms of reference.

The discussion concluded with the adoption of two resolutions: the first being to refer the entire matter back to the Board for further consideration; the other, a motion of thanks and confidence in the Committee (Messrs. J. C. Anderson, G. N. Mehlenbacher, and Walter Brown) which with the Board's authorization, had engaged the consultants and set their terms of reference.

A discussion followed on that section of the President's report regarding the Board's adoption of "Proposed Regulations regarding the Formation of Clubs and Recognition of Existing Clubs". The discussion concluded with the adoption of a resolution of non-concurrence in such regulations. (NOTE: These proposed Regulations were published in full on page 10, buff section, of the May issue).

The Club's Representatives to the Canadian National Exhibition Association in 1965 were Messrs. G. N. Mehlenbacher and W. J. Monaghan. Mr. Mehlenbacher presented a brief report on the Association's shows in 1965. On motion by Mr. Gordon McDonald, seconded by Mr. John Devlin the report was adopted.

The Club's Representatives to the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in 1965 were Mrs. Edna Joel and Mr. Morley Fisher. Mrs. Joel reported on efforts put forward to obtain a resumption of championship dog shows at the Winter Fair and concluded "At the present time there is no indication that we will get a dog show at the Royal Winter Fair until they have more space".

On motion by Mrs. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins, seconded by Mr. Carter, the report was adopted.

Mr. T. E. Gundersen, the Club's Representative to the Central Canada Exhibition Association, Ottawa, reported that for lack of suitable space the Association did not hold any championship shows in 1965, but space for dog shows had been allotted in a new building which it is expected would be erected by the fall of 1967.

On motion by Mr. Carter, seconded by Mrs. D. T. Weir, the report was adopted.

The report of the Club's auditors and the Club's financial statements for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1965, were presented. On motion by Mr. Gordon McDonald, seconded by Miss Laura Treble, the report was adopted.
(NOTE: The financial statements for 1965 were published in the February issue of "Dogs in Canada").

The report of the Election Commission on the election of the Club's Board of Directors for 1966 and 1967 was presented. On motion by Mr. Walter Brown, seconded by Mr. Carter, the report was adopted.
(NOTE: The report was published in the February issue of "Dogs in Canada").

The report of the Election Commission on the results of the voting on proposed amendments included in the 1965 regular and special referendum ballots was presented. On motion by Mr. Walter Brown, seconded by Mr. Gordon McDonald, the report was adopted.
(NOTE: The report on the voting was published in the February issue of "Dogs in Canada").

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The President reported that:

(1) at the Annual General Meeting held at Vancouver in March (1965) the members by resolution urged the Board of Directors to "give consideration to making representations to The American Kennel Club on a reciprocity agreement with regard to conformation judges";

(2) as a result of that resolution the Board had arranged to discuss this question with the Executive Vice-President of The American Kennel Club during its semi-annual meeting in June (1965) and a formal presentation had been submitted to The American Kennel Club following the semi-annual meeting of the Board;

(3) at the same time the Board had asked The American Kennel Club to make it possible for titles granted by The Canadian Kennel Club to be shown on certificates of registration issued by The American Kennel Club and for Canadian titles to be allowed in catalogues for shows and trials held under A.K.C. rules;

(4) a recent communication from The American Kennel Club reported that:
   (a) after a study of the practical aspects of including Canadian titles on A.K.C. registration certificates, it was apparent that it would not be feasible for The American Kennel Club, under its present procedures, to undertake the inclusion of such titles;
   (b) the possibility of a change in policy whereby Canadians might be accredited to judge shows in the United States on the same basis as are persons living in Great Britain and Australia is still under study by a committee of the Board of Directors of The American Kennel Club.

On motion by Mr. Walter Brown, seconded by Mr. A. H. Lake, the report was received.

ELECTION OF REPRESENTATIVES TO OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

Mr. Philip Jacobi was elected the Club's representative to the Canadian National Exhibition Association.

Mrs. Edna Joel and Dr. P. A. Wright were elected the Club's representatives to the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

Mr. T. E. Gundersen was elected the Club's representative to the Central Canada Exhibition Association.

APPOINTMENT OF AUDITORS AND ELECTION COMMISSION

On motion by Mr. W. J. Monaghan, seconded by Mrs. Edna Joel, Fairley, Welsh & Co. were appointed the Club's auditors and Election Commission for 1966.

NEW BUSINESS

Mrs. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins reported that she had been asked by "three small show-giving clubs to ask the Board if they would consider changing the regulations governing the appalling number of ribbons which are supposed to be supplied for sanction shows".

Following oral representations by Mr. Paul Robins, President of the Barrie Kennel Club, and on motion by Mr. John Devlin, seconded by Mrs. Mary Southcott, the Board was asked to approve the applications of the Barrie Kennel Club to hold championship shows in August, 1967.

A motion, moved by Mr. Harry Watson, seconded by Mr. John Devlin, asking the Board to include in the next referendum ballot a proposed amendment to the Dog Show Rules requiring that to be entered for "Specials Only" a dog must be a Canadian champion of record, was defeated.

Mrs. D. T. Weir urged that the Board "take under consideration that where a specimen is entered for five consecutive shows or three consecutive shows, if it makes its championship, if in the opinion of its owner and The Canadian Kennel Club it has made its championship on the first day, that it be allowed to be benched or marked absent". During a discussion which followed it was suggested that in such a case the owner (or agent) should be permitted to transfer the entry to "Specials Only".

On motion by Mrs. K. Gardiner, seconded by Mrs. D. T. Weir, the Board was asked to consider these suggestions.

Mr. Harry Wilkinson, speaking for the Obedience Association of Ontario, urged that arrangements be made for the Association to obtain information on obedience matters in order that it may arrange for such information to be distributed to its member-clubs and others.

Mrs. Mary Southcott urged that the policy, established in 1965, of requiring each approved obedience trial judge to be re-examined every five years be withdrawn. On motion by Mrs. Southcott, seconded by Mr. Thomas Joel, the Board was asked to withdraw the resolution authorizing this requirement.

Before the meeting adjourned, Mr. F. G. Hodgkin, Director of Canadian National Live Stock Records, spoke briefly on the methods of assessing affiliated associations for the work performed by the Records Office on their behalf, and on the Articles of Affiliation which provides for the fixing of the charges against affiliated associations.

(NOTE: A C.K.C. member may obtain a copy of the report received from the chartered stenographers employed to record proceedings at the Annual General Meeting. An order for a copy with covering payment of $2.00 should be addressed to: The Secretary, The Canadian Kennel Club, 1173 Bay Street, Toronto 5, Ontario).

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A regular meeting of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club was held on Wednesday, April 6th, with the following members of the Board present: J. C. Anderson (Chairman), Robert L. Blyth, Mrs. Pamela B. Mack, William McDerment, George N. Mehlenbacher, Mrs. Hilda F. Pugh, Mrs. Phyllis Smith.

There follows a summary of business transacted at the meeting.

FINANCIAL MATTERS

APEX PUBLISHERS AND PUBLICITY LTD.

A Committee consisting of Mrs. Hilda Pugh (Chairman), J. C. Anderson, and George N. Mehlenbacher, was named to meet with Miss Elizabeth Dunn and Miss Kaye Peer for the purpose of reviewing the present agreements between the Club and the publishers of "Dogs in Canada", the Committee to submit its report and recommendations to the semi-annual meeting of the national Board.

INTERNATIONAL MATTERS

CARIBBEAN KENNEL CLUB

A letter from the Caribbean Kennel Club inquiring about the possibility of there being a reciprocal agreement between that Club and The Canadian Kennel Club, was ordered referred to the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

REGISTRATION, STUD BOOKS AND RELATED MATTERS

KENNEL NAMES

The Board accepted a report of the Kennel Names Committee, the report indicating that the Committee had:

(1) rejected the following names as being unsuitable or as being names commonly used in the naming of dogs: BLACK HAWK, GOLDEN LADY, BLAZE, GUSSIE, EMILY, LADY SATAN;
(2) rejected the following name on the grounds it is a trade name: ROTHMAN;
(3) rejected the following names on the grounds of similarity to kennel names already registered (as shown in brackets): CASA MIA (CARA MIA), ROCKWELL (ROCKWALL), FRASERFIELD and FRASER-CREST (FRASER'S), STONEY BRAE (STONE BRAES), KEBEC KOPPER (COPPER);
(4) rejected the following as being unsuitable as kennel names: KEBEC, KEBEC KIWI, OF THE WOODS, LITTLE LION.

IDENTIFICATION

Left in the Secretary's hands for development was a proposal of the Secretary that where any club conducting a championship show or licensed trial under the Club's rules is prepared to arrange for one or more of its officers or members to noseprint dogs entered by those wishing to register their dogs with the Club, arrangements be made to supply such clubs, at no charge, with noseprint forms and noseprint ink.

CATAHOULA LEOPARD STOCK DOGS

The Board considered a request that it proceed to recognize the Catahoula Leopard Stock Dogs. On the grounds that the breed is considered indigenous to the United States, the Board agreed that it would not authorize recognition of the breed until it is first recognized by The American Kennel Club.

COMPLAINTS, CHARGES AND PROTESTS

SPECIFIC CASES

In the course of dealing with files on complaints and protests the Board:

(1) gave one breeder fifteen days in which to return certificates of registration which had been cancelled;
(2) authorized the Secretary to ask the Chief Registration Officer of the Department of Agriculture to arrange for an investigation by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police or Departmental fieldman of a particular kennel and its owner's private breeding records;
(3) did not sustain a protest of the decision of the officiating judges' with regard to an award in the Qualifying Stake at a licensed Retriever field trial;
(4) did not uphold the appeal of an exhibitor from a decision of a bench show committee on the exhibitor's protest with regard to an alleged violation of Section 1 of Chapter 19 of the Dog Show Rules.

INTERNAL AND ADMINISTRATION

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE MANAGER

The Secretary was authorized to replace a postage meter machine purchased on May 14, 1958, with a new electric postage meter machine at a cost of $730 less an allowance of $100 on the turn-in of the old machine.

BOARD MEETINGS

The Board decided that its next meeting would be held on May 4th.

PROMOTION, PUBLIC RELATIONS AND PUBLICITY

In response to a letter from the Media Relations Division of the federal Department of Trade and Commerce, the Secretary was authorized to provide the Division with information about the Club, its registration records, its connection with the Department of Agriculture, and information about those countries from which dogs have been imported to or exported from Canada within the preceding two years.

MEMBERSHIP MATTERS

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP

Applicants for membership as reported on three lists mailed to all members of the Board, were admitted to membership. One application was held in abeyance pending clarification of an answer given on the application by the applicant. Two applications were held in abeyance pending a further report to the Board on complaints against the applicants.

DOG SHOWS

JUDGES

Referred to the semi-annual meeting was the question of whether the application to establish eligibility to judge should be varied when the applicant is a resident of the United States.

DATES

With 1967 being Canada's Centenary Year, it was agreed that the Secretary would address a memorandum to clubs advising that the Board is prepared to consider applications for dates more than one year in advance where clubs find it advisable or necessary to fix the dates for their shows and trials more than the customary one year in advance.

INTERPRETATIONS

In the course of dealing with a number of questions regarding interpretations of the Dog Show Rules, the Board made the following rulings:

(1) Where a dog is owned by a partnership, the Canadian Kennel Club will not withhold or cancel awards earned by the dog even though one (or more) of the dog's owners does not wish it entered at shows or trials held under the Club's rules.
(2) When the officiating judge disqualifies a dog as a monorchid or cryptorchid, the disqualified dog shall be counted when championship points are computed.
(3) When a dog is weighed or measured out by the Show Superintendent, the provisions of Section 5 of Chapter 9 do not apply, and the dog would not be counted as being in competition when championship points are computed.
(4) Section 4 of Chapter 17 of the Dog Show Rules does not apply when a Chow Chow is disqualified on the grounds that its "tongue was lacking in typical Chow pigment", nor in such a circumstance need the officiating judge have sought the opinion of the official Veterinarian.

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

JUDGES

The Board considered and concurred with the recommendations of the Obedience Council in connection with three applications to establish eligibility to judge one or more obedience classes. In all three cases it was the recommendation of the Council that the applicants should obtain additional experience before being permitted to take written and oral examinations.

LATE RETURNS

The Board imposed a fine of $10.00 on a club whose returns for a licensed obedience trial and tracking test had not been received within the period prescribed in the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards, and instructed the Secretary to notify the club that no further dates for shows, trials or tracking tests would be considered if the club failed to submit the required returns within ten days of such notice.

FIELD TRIALS

FIELD TRIALS FOR BEAGLES

Mr. Robert Youngman was appointed a member of the Field Trial Council for Beagles.

FIELD TRIALS FOR FOXHOUNDS

The Board considered a proposal received from Mr. W. J. Monaghan who suggested that the running rules for Foxhound field trials as drafted by the All Canadian Fox Hunters Association be published, comments invited, and the rules considered by the Board at the next meeting of the full Board. This proposal was referred to the Field Trial Council for Foxhounds for consideration.

FIELD TRIALS FOR RETRIEVERS

After discussion it was left to the Chairman of the Field Trial Council for Retrievers to decide whether he would attend the Retriever conference to be held near Toronto on April 16th and 17th by the National Retriever Club of Canada.

The request of a club conducting two single-day licensed Retriever trials in June that it be permitted to hold three stakes on each day was considered, and the Secretary was instructed to inform the club holding those trials that the Board did not consider it a practical arrangement for three stakes to be scheduled for a single day's trial.

GOOD AND WELFARE

DOGS AND RESEARCH

Ordered referred to the semi-annual meeting of the Board was a letter received regarding a Bill in the Alberta Legislature, which would make it mandatory for a municipality to hand over its unclaimed dogs for teaching and research in medical schools.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A regular meeting of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club was held on Wednesday, May 4th with the following members of the Board present: J. C. Anderson (Chairman), Robert L. Blyth, Mrs. Sarah Diamond, Mrs. Pamela B. Mack, William McDerment, George N. Mehlenbacher, Mrs. Hilda Pugh, Mrs. Phyllis Smith.

There follows a summary of business transacted at the meeting.

FINANCIAL MATTERS

APEX PUBLISHERS AND PUBLICITY LTD.

The Secretary was instructed to have properly signed by the authorized officers of the Club and Apex, a supplementary agreement with Apex, as drafted by the Club's solicitor, increasing to 25¢ per copy the price paid Apex for each copy of the magazine ordered by the Club for distribution to members and for other purposes.

The Board considered the report of the Special Committee appointed to meet with Miss Elizabeth Dunn and Miss Kaye Peer for the purpose of reviewing the present agreements with Apex regarding "Dogs in Canada".

It was agreed that after consultation with the Misses Dunn and Peer the Secretary would arrange for the Club's solicitor to write proposed revisions of the agreements, which proposed revisions would then be reviewed by the Special Committee, and the Committee would then present its report to the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR FIRST QUARTER

The Board received the financial statements for the three months period ending March 31, 1966. (Note: These financial statements are published elsewhere in this issue).

REGISTRATION, STUD BOOKS AND RELATED MATTERS

KENNEL NAMES

The Board adopted a report of the Kennel Names Committee, which report indicated that the Committee had:

(1) rejected the following names on the grounds that they are commonly used in the naming of dogs: ADONIS, OLWEN, HEATHER;
(2) rejected the following name on the grounds that it is not considered suitable for use as a kennel name: BAY BEAUTIES;
(3) rejected the following names on the grounds that they are considered too similar to kennel names which are already registered (shown in brackets): LEN-BAR (LEN-MAR); JO-MAR (GEOMAR); DIAMAR (DI-MAR); ELEGA (ELEDA); CEDARCOVE (CEDARGROVE); SILVER FLAKE (SILVER LAKE); RIDEAU (RIDEAU-MAC); DERRYDOWN (TERRYTOWN); TIMBER LINE (TIMBERLANES); KILTARRA (KILTEERA); RICKY'S (RICK-O'S); HUMBER (HUMBER TRAIL); AUSTRAL (AUSTRALTERR);
(4) sustained objections to the following names on the basis of objections received (registered kennel name in brackets):
Mrs. Alice F. Simpson (ROSEHILL) to ROSEVILLE);
Mr. & Mrs. Charles F. Rowan (KNOLL TOP) to HILL-TOP;
Mr. Walter A. Jacob (WALMAR) to WILL-O-MAR;
(5) rejected objections to the following names on the basis of the objections received (registered kennel name in brackets):
Mr. William Burr (NIA-ROO) to IRA-RO;
Mrs. Elsie Winterbottom (HARTWIN) to MARWIN and STARWIN;
Miss Daphne & C. O'Dare & John Harton (KEL-LANI) to TAM-O-DAER and TAM-O-DARE;
Mr. & Mrs. M. Latreille (VOIX DES BOIS) to OF THE WOODS;
Misses Jean & Grace Harrison (ABERFOYLE - lapsed) to ABERFOYLE;
Mr. W. T. Watts (NIGHT WATCH) to BLACK WATCH;
(6) sustained A.K.C. objections (A.K.C. names in brackets) to the following: SHON (SHOON).

REGISTRATION COMMITTEE

The Board received the report of the Registration Committee on 17 files. In the case of a registered litter which the Board had reason to believe was not composed of pure-bred dogs, the Board decided that the owner of the litter at birth would be given fifteen days in which to provide information as to the present location of puppies in the litter, and in the event that such information is not forthcoming, a recommendation would be submitted to the Chief Registration Officer of the Department of Agriculture that the registration of the litter be cancelled.

IDENTIFICATION

The Board received the report of the Secretary that because of leakage of the tubes containing noseprint ink it was felt a cleaner method of packaging should be obtained, and that arrangements were being made for noseprint ink to be supplied in plastic bottles in future.

COMPLAINTS, CHARGES AND PROTESTS

POLICIES

The Board approved a recommendation of the Complaints Committee that a notice be published periodically in "Dogs in Canada" (and otherwise distributed) drawing attention to Section 3 of Article XXXI of the Club's By-laws which provides that: "A member may be suspended or expelled, or a non-member deprived of the privileges of the Club, if it is proven to the satisfaction of the Board that when selling, or otherwise disposing of a dog for a consideration (monetary or otherwise), the person disposing of the dog has asked or required the new owner to make any form of payment specifically for the purpose of being furnished with a certificate of registration."

SPECIFIC CASES

The Board received and considered the reports of two different Advisory Committees which it had appointed to investigate and report on alleged violations of the Dog Show Rules. The reports were referred back to the Committees with a view to obtaining their specific recommendations as to possible penalties which may be imposed on the defendants.

The Board took what it considered to be appropriate action on two other investigations with regard to alleged indignities to officiating judges.

The Board considered the report of another Advisory Committee which it had appointed to investigate a number of alleged violations of the Dog Show Rules by a show-giving club. The club in question was fined $50.00 for accepting entries after the closing date of entries as stipulated in its premium list, for permitting a dog to be transferred from one class to another class, and for permitting a dog to enter the show following the deadline stipulated in its premium list. The Board also decided that the Show Superintendent of the show in question would not be approved to act as a Show Superintendent at a championship show held under the Club's rules for a period of one year.

The Advisory Committee's report referred to a report of cases where three dogs were removed from the show before the stipulated hour at which dogs may be removed, and directed that the owners of the three dogs be given fifteen days in which to elect a formal hearing or to elect summary action by the Board.

DOG SHOWS

JUDGES

The Board authorized the Secretary to make temporary use, pending further consideration at the semi-annual meeting of the Board, of a form suggested by the Dog Show Council for use by those appointed to observe and report on persons approved to judge on a one-time basis at a championship show held under the Club's rules.

The Board considered the applications of a show-giving club for approval of three English judges, and decided that a resident of the United Kingdom may be approved to judge only those breeds for which the English judge had been approved by The Kennel Club (England) to judge at championship shows held in the United Kingdom.

DATES

The Board approved the applications of the Canadian Save the Children Fund to hold championship shows on June 10th and 11th, 1967, at Ottawa.

INTERPRETATIONS

Following a consideration of an interpretation of Section 1 of Chapter 16 of the Dog Show Rules, the Board ordered cancelled the awards earned by a dog whose owner had failed to properly complete the entry form to the extent of showing the class in which the dog was to be entered.

Following its interpretation of certain sections of the Dog Show Rules the Board issued the following rulings:

(1) in view of the provisions of Section 4 of Chapter 17 of the Dog Show Rules the officiating judge must obtain the written opinion of the officiating veterinarian that a dog is a monorchid or cryptorchid before the judge may disqualify a dog on account of either condition;
(2) when a dog is disqualified as a monorchid or cryptorchid, Section 4 of Chapter 17 of the Dog Show Rules does apply;
(3) if the officiating veterinarian gives the written opinion that a male dog is a monorchid or cryptorchid, the officiating judge must disqualify it.

ENTRY FORMS AND SUPPLIES

In view of a letter received from a show-giving club regarding the difficulty of arranging for entry forms and other supplies customarily provided by dog food companies, the Secretary was instructed to communicate with the various dog food companies and seek to ascertain their future policy in this regard.

INTERNAL AND ADMINISTRATION

BOARD MEETINGS

The Board decided that its next regular meeting would be held on Wednesday, June 1st.

APPOINTMENTS FOR 1966

The Board considered a letter received from Mr. Ed O'Brien, advising that because of ill health it would not be possible for him to again accept the appointment as Obedience Representative for Ontario.

During a discussion which followed the Board noted that Section 11 of Article XIII with regard to the appointment of Obedience Representatives now permits of the appointment of more than one Obedience Representative for each electoral zone and it agreed that, with a view to easing the burden on individual Obedience Representatives, the Board, at its semi-annual meeting, would be asked to consider the possibility of making additional appointments in each electoral zone. In the meantime the Secretary was instructed to communicate with Mrs. Audrey Langford and inquire whether she would be prepared to serve as the Obedience Representative for Ontario until the semi-annual meeting of the Board commences on July 18th.

The Board approved the recommendation of Mr. William Dawson that Mrs. Eleanor Pawson be appointed the Obedience Representative for Saskatchewan.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP

With one exception the Board approved applications for membership reported on lists #20, #21, and #22 mailed to each member of the Board.

The Board instructed the Secretary to refund the initial membership fee which had accompanied an application for membership received from a person having an overdue account with "Dogs in Canada".

Two applications for membership were ordered held in abeyance pending reports on complaint files.

The Board noted the Secretary's report that applications for membership reported on lists mailed to the Board between January 1st and April 28th included 331 applications for ordinary membership, 647 applications for associate membership, and 7 applications for non-resident membership.

DATES

In view of past reports on obedience trials held by a particular show-giving club, the Board decided that the club in question would not at this time be granted permission to hold licensed trials independent of its customary championship shows.

VETERINARY INSPECTION

The Board considered the action which should be taken on the Secretary's report that the recently approved amendment to the Dog Show Rules with regard to optional veterinary inspection at championship shows apparently had led some clubs holding licensed obedience trials to believe that veterinary inspection was now optional in respect of dogs entered at licensed obedience trials.

It was agreed that the Secretary would address an appropriate memorandum to clubs holding licensed obedience trials, drawing their attention to Section 7 of Chapter 1 of the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards which requires veterinary inspection at licensed obedience trials whether held in conjunction with, or independent of, championship shows. The Board also directed that this question be referred to the Obedience Council for consideration and report to the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

SHOW AND TRIAL RESULTS

The awards at shows and trials reported in this issue are in accordance with official returns received by the Canadian Kennel Club. As such the reports are subject to any necessary corrections, and to such cancellations as may be required by the applicable rules and regulations. Any correspondence regarding these published reports should be addressed to:

T. S. Adams, Office Manager, The Canadian Kennel Club, 1173 Bay St., Toronto, Ontario.

It was not only the Kees, or rather the Grey Kees, that had her attention. I remember well other local breeds, then unrecognized, now well established, she used to come to the shows with in those days.

The Grey Kees was a rarity and worth reviving. The white one however, was so common that it was not worth a second look. This is how it happened that only the Grey Kees was pushed into recognition to the exclusion of other colors, while the grey and white appear in the same litter, not as parti-colored.

I personally have never seen a black one, but it is common knowledge that there are real gems in Germany, which may very well account for them also being excluded when the Standard was drawn up. As I have reported last year, the FCI has decided on Germany as the official country of origin of the Keeshond, but not under that name and not for grey only. Personally, I would be delighted if that word Keeshond would be replaced by "Grey West-European Spitz". Nobody can pronounce it properly or even half properly, without instruction and it is pure snobbery to label this breed with an outlandish word, as it is only a "local Spitz" as is the Finnish Spitz, the Pomeranian (Spitz) or the Chinese one, called Chow-Chow, which means "eat"!

Should we call any color but grey a miscolor? Yes, as long as we realize that we are speaking about the grey variety of the West-European Spitz, which cannot but outlaw all other colors.

Should we make provisions for the other colors of the West-European Spitz? That is another question altogether!

Booster Show for Schipperkes

A record number of 18 Schipperkes were entered for the second Canadian Booster Show for the breed on April 9 in Lethbridge, Alta. Only one absentee left an impressive bench of 17 dogs ranging from Junior Puppies to eight-year-old Ch. (Can. & Am.) Schipholm Binkie UD, Am. CD on exhibition only. Nine dogs competed in conformation, three in the Obedience Trial and the remainder on Exhibition.

The Schipperke bench was decorated in the club colors of red, yellow and black and drew much favorable comment from spectators.

Best of Breed trophy was in memory of Mr. D. J. Lonsberry who introduced the breed to Lethbridge some 30 years ago and who did so much to bring the Schipperke before the public in western Canada.

Two of the three Schipperkes entered in the Obedience Trial on April 9 qualified.

Schipperke exhibitors spent the evening after the show at the home of the S.C.C. Alberta Director, Mrs. J. Karen Coaker and some of the West Coast Schipperkes spent the following morning hunting the prairie gophers which they had not had the opportunity to confront before. Gophers have temporarily stumped the Schips with their many-entranced underground homes but much fun was had by all.

Vice-President, Schipperke Club of Canada

Husband: I see by the paper that was a tremendous dog show we attended yesterday.
Wife: Yes, I had no idea we were enjoying it half as much at the time.

DOGS & PEOPLE

Published six times a year, the Belgian Sheepdog Club of Canada Newsletter is bright and informative, and an inspiration to breeders of the Belgians. Editor is L. E. Stanbridge, Duff's Corners, Ancaster, Ont.

Judge Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins, (Kennels of the Rouge) Rouge Hills P.O., Ont., judged Bullmastiffs, West Highland White Terriers and Papillons at the Long Island KC show May 22. Following a judging assignment in Winnipeg at the end of May she has been invited to assess Bullmastiffs, Westies, Papillons and Cairn Terriers at the Canandaigua show June 11.

Honored: by the Morris Animal Foundation, for his work with diseases and surgery of animal eyes — Dr. William G. Magrane. Earlier this year he established the Animal Eye Clinic at Mishawaka, Ind. Previously he was a practitioner with his father and brother, who are also veterinarians.

Appointment: Pet food specialist Wayne Campfield has been named manager of the Gaines Professional Service Centre in Toronto. For the past three years Mr. Campfield has been associated with the Gaines pet food research activities in Kankakee, Ill. He served one year as director of the Gaines Kennels, where studies of current and new pet foods are carried out. Mr. Campfield is working with veterinarians, breeders and veterinary colleges, providing up-to-date information on dog care and nutrition developed through Gaines research activities.

New career: Bonnie and Malcolm Fellows leave their Quebec associations for a new life in Taunton, Mass. Mac takes up the post of assistant manager at the Sheraton Biltmore Hotel in Providence, R.I. He and Bonnie will also manage the famous Quibbletown Great Pyrenees Kennels owned by Edith and Seaver Smith.

Died: Miss A. Elsie Mayhew of Markham, Ont., for many years a successful breeder and exhibitor of American Cocker Spaniels, operating a kennel under the prefix Glen Rouge. Although she had not been a member of The Canadian Kennel Club since 1954, she was a Director of the CKC in the years 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945 and 1947 and was club Representative to the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in 1945-46. . . . William Gibson, husband of Mrs. Mercedes Gibson, May 1. The Gibsons' Perivale Kennels at Cowichan Station, V.I., B.C., are undergoing many changes. "After 35 years in very active breeding and showing Newfoundlands I find myself obliged to discontinue," Mrs. Gibson tells Dogs in Canada. She is retaining her interest in the breed on a limited scale. This famous kennel, during the past 16 months, has shipped dogs to Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, three to Alaska and two to Missouri. Mrs. Gibson plans to carry on actively with her Shetland Sheepdogs and Maltese . . . Thomas Ward, R.R. 2, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., May 3. Mr. Ward was well-known among field trial followers. He bred, trained and judged Pointers and Setters for many years, then turned his interests to Labradors. "He was an honest, sincere, quiet-spoken English gentleman," notes Henry P. Nicholson. "A gentleman in every respect of the word, loved and respected by all who knew him." . . . Sympathy is extended to the bereaved families.

Recuperating from a session in the Northwestern Hospital is Weimaraner breeder (Ghost Inn Kennels) Tom Carter, following a heart attack. He expected to return to his home in Downsview, Ont. early this month. Mr. Carter is one of The Canadian Kennel Club members of the Board of Directors of Apex Publishers and Publicity Limited . . . On the way home from an insurance conference in Washington, D.C. with husband Douglas Weir, Susie Mae Weir was taken suddenly ill and spent a day in hospital. She is well again . . . Mrs. Peg Nansen of Ottawa is recovering from a heart condition at the home of her son, Mr. E. Ricker, Lenester Ave., Ottawa. Mrs. Nansen is a leading authority on the Siberian Husky and imported the first of the breed to North America. She is a daughter-in-law of the late Nansen of Arctic fame and Nobel Peace Prize winner . . . Miss Sandra Nelles, Brecon Kennels, Unionville, Ont., following a bout of pneumonia.

Babe, a partial Labrador Retriever, was among the guests attending first day ceremonies at the Waldorf-Astoria for the United States Humane Treatment of Animals commemorative postage stamp. Her likeness appears on the five-cent stamp, which is being issued to mark the 100th anniversary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Babe's master, Norman Todhunter, art director for a New York advertising firm and member of U.S. Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee, designed the stamp.

Travellers: Mrs. Charlotte Walker, belle of the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show (where she celebrated her 97th birthday this Spring), announced not long ago that she planned to fly to England. Many of her friends didn't quite believe she meant it. But she did. Prior to being met at the Airport in London, England by friends and relatives, she objected mildly to being transported from the plane to the reception area by wheelchair. She was assured, however, that it was merely routine for senior air travellers . . . Mrs. Freda Clementi did not stop off in Toronto as planned on her return to Canada from England. She was understandably anxious to reach home in Alberta after a number of months away. (See Dogs and People, May issue).

Reg. P. Sparkes, Kamel Bulldog Kennels, Thornhill, Ont., internationally renowned judge and breeder, was forced to decline an invitation to judge the early Bermuda shows July 7 and 9 due to a prior judging commitment. The regard in which he is held was demonstrated by the Bermuda Kennel Club asking him to come to Bermuda in July to judge one of the two shows — on July 7. He'll leave the Island July 8, flying directly to Fort William to officiate at the Lakehead KC shows.
