DR. JIM CORBIN MANAGER DOG RESEARCH

SUMMER INSECT CONTROL FOR KENNELS

When summer flies, fleas and other parasites abound, they cause considerable discomfort to dogs. So, any extra care you can give your dogs will be greatly . . . although mutely . . . appreciated. Here are some hints on how and what to use.

For the control of adult house flies in and about kennels use Purina Cygon 4-E Insecticide. This product is mixed by using 8 ounces in 2 gallons of water. Thoroughly wet all fly resting areas to the point of run-off. Dogs must be removed from the kennel during the time of spraying. Wash the floor of pens after spraying and allow wall surfaces to dry before allowing dogs to return to building.

A supplementary fly control method is to use Purina Fly Bait. Scatter this dry, ready-to-use bait outside dog runways, on the windowsills, ledges and other surfaces out of reach of the animals.

For the control of dog fleas use Purina Malathion Spray. Mix 1 ounce in 1 gallon of water. Apply mixed solution thoroughly to the dog's coat. For treatment of quarters, mix 6 ounces in 1 gallon of water. Remove droppings before spraying kennels, pens, runs, and yard exercise areas. This product is also effective against roaches.

To control flying insects use Vapona Strips. Suspend 1 Vapona Strip for each 1,000 cubic feet of enclosed space.

Clean and disinfect runs using Purina Germicide at the rate of 1 ounce per gallon of water. Droppings should be picked up and disposed of daily, especially on gravel and sand runs. Prompt droppings removal aids in the reduction of internal parasites, flies and odors. (A simple way to dispose of droppings is to dig a pit and to cover the day's removal with a layer of dirt or lime.)

Clean waterers daily using Purina C & S Powder.

All labels should be read carefully before using products. Store in a safe place out of reach of children and animals. Avoid contamination of foods, feeders, waterers, and feed storage areas.

NOTE: Purina Health Aids are available only at Purina Dealers. Similar products are satisfactory.

Weeds and high grass around the kennel should be cut periodically. They look unsightly and are breeding grounds for roaches and other bugs and rodents.

If you are planning to build new runs or have special problems, write for helpful kennel plans and tips or information from Dog Research, Ralston Purina Company, St. Louis, Missouri 63199, U.S.A.

SHOW DOGS ARE NO ACCIDENT — YOUR CHANCES ARE BETTER WITH A PRODUCING LINE

It has always been our firm conviction that temperament is one of the most important single factors in the breeding of purebred dogs. A beautiful dog that moves well and has sound conformation is a pleasure to behold, but the illusion is often destroyed by snappishness and mean or uncertain temper. No other phase of dog breeding warrants more concern, research and interest than the selection of a stud.

We are proud to present four of our stud dogs this month. Our thanks to Miss Anneke Preyde, the gifted young artist who produced the three striking sketches. We consider these dogs embody all the most important qualities, and all are guaranteed free of subluxated patellas and hip dysplasia.

They are good companions to us and have given us countless hours of happiness and affection.

All are top sires, and all have progeny in the show ring both in Canada and the USA.

As you can see from the various kennel names on our dogs, we have endeavored to procure only the finest bloodlines in their color.

Ch. Mar-A-Mor's Rembrandt is an excellent black miniature and the son of Ch. Cappoquin Bon Feston, a top black producer in the USA.

This line is noted for their elegant heads and strong fronts, inky black coats, and are excellent also for producing dark browns even from brown to black matings.

Rembrandt's sons, daughters and granddaughters are being shown in Canada and the USA. He is the sire and grandsire of champions. A linebred black son of his is for sale, which we hope will go to a show home — Charlie is nine months old, in full show coat — elegant head, excellent conformation, and a very gay, happy dog, one you will be proud to own and show.

Ch. Tophill Eclipse is the son of Ch. Fortunehunter of Burdeisel, England's top producing silver miniature and the full brother of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Tophill Stargazer, a top winning silver miniature of all time in the USA. He has a strong, harsh coat of a pale silver smoke color. He is a very sound dog, with excellent movement and an excellent head. Several of his puppies will be shown this year. He is producing excellent puppies from several different bloodlines, and

ARTICLE IN DOGS BRINGS RESULTS

. . . I am sure you have heard this before, but — Dogs in Canada gets results.

Early in March I received a letter from Mr. J. Alidritt of Winnipeg informing me he had read my article in Dogs in Canada, February and saying he had Vol. I and Vols. IV through XVIII — and that he would consider parting with them for the Western Reserve Kennel Club collection in the Cleveland Public Library.

I phoned Mr. Alidritt, who seems a true gentleman, and we were able to settle on a price which we both thought fair. WRKC's board approved the expenditure and the books are already in the library's possession.

That still left us without Vols. II and III. Through the courtesy of The Canadian Kennel Club these are being microfilmed. In fact, the CKC is fortifying itself by ordering a photocopy of Vol. II — since there are only two known copies at the present time.

By coincidence, we have been able to complete, through purchase and further photocopying, our run of the AKC Stud Book. Our run of the EKC Calendar and Stud Book has been complete for several years. Now, all unbound copies are going to be bound — requiring an expenditure of approximately $300 more.

Everyone who finds it convenient to do so is invited to use this body of information — anytime.

I doubt that we could ever have reached this stage of completion if Dogs in Canada hadn't helped us find Mr. Alidritt.

WRONG AFGHAN NAMED AS WINNER

. . . It is incorrectly stated on page 4 of the June issue that the Terrier Breeders Association Sanction Show was won by an Afghan Hound owned by Greta and Myles Phillips. The Best in Show award was in fact won by Mozlim Kinz of Anis, handled by Bill Milne. This young Afghan Hound, a charcoal grey and cream brindle, is a daughter of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Smoke Dream of Stormhill. Entered in five Sanction shows last winter, "Tana" won four Hound Group 1st and one Group 3rd and at the last show on March 6 she went on to BIS. "Tana" was imported from the States at three months of age by Don and Doris Sansone and is now a Canadian Champion. She is presently at Kurram Kennels Reg., Stouffville, owned by Bill Milne and Gary Cooksey, and has been handled exclusively by Bill Milne.

BYTOWN CLAIMS LARGEST TRAINING CLASS

. . . Your May, 1966 issue carried a letter from Grace E. Probert of the Queen City Training and Tracking Association stating that this club has the largest number of dogs under training in Canada.

The Bytown Dog Obedience Club of Ottawa would like to point out that during its current Spring training session it has 84 dogs registered for its classes; this covers beginners, pre-novice and CDX. We even have one or two dogs busy qualifying for their UD.

POODLES! OVERSIZE TOY OR SMALL MINIATURE!

. . . Found the reading of "Canadians View Crufts" very interesting. Since I subscribe to Our Dogs I am familiar with their Group placements, etc.

I would like to mention that, according to the English Breed Standard on Toy Poodles, the height is 11" and the Canadian and American Standards are 10" so that only makes 1" difference, not 2" as stated by Mary Curran.

It seems to me all breed Standards should be the same in all breeds in England, America and Canada, since so much exporting and importing is done between the three countries.

To get back to M. Curran's remarks — it is a personal annoyance to me to hear "oversize toys" referred to as "small Miniatures". I realize that as our breed Standard reads it sounds correct. To me, if it was of "Toy" breeding and went oversize it would still be a Toy. When it in turn is bred you will get offspring anywhere from 8" to 11".

The term "small Miniature" should only be used when the accepted Miniature size are bred and there are small ones in the litter. When they are bred, they are capable of producing offspring from 12" to 15".

Isn't it time we got together on a little more practical size range for "show" prospects? As an example: Toys, 8" to 10"; Miniatures, 12" to 15", Standards, 23" to 28".

"JUNE" A JOY TO READ

. . . May I offer my congratulations on the excellent June issue, a joy to read. May I point out that "Temptor's" points, shown as 295, should have read 369. I spoke to Mr. McDerment (Editor's note: Mr. W. McDerment provided the June statistics) sometime ago and mentioned I felt Temptor was Top Dog as according to my calculations he had 369 points. Mr. McDerment verified this in our next conversation a few weeks later.

Mr. Taylor, Linda and I are scheduled to leave June 25 for Germany where we will visit with Mr. Taylor's brother (an officer in the Canadian Army, Soest, Germany) then we are renting a car and driving back through Holland, Belgium, France, leaving the car, crossing the English Channel and back into England for a few days, flying home July 16.

As you know, I had major surgery . . . . although feeling much better now . . . . the doctor feels this trip will help a lot . . . . Hope to resume showing dogs on my return from Europe. Miss the shows.

TOY MANCHESTERS SINCE 1943

. . . Having owned my first Toy Manchester Terrier in 1943, and having been an active breeder and dog show competitor for the past 20 years, I was very interested in the article on this wonderful breed by Mrs. Faith Bourne in the April issue. And, I am also interested in her "Letter To The Editor" in the May issue.

As we have had a great deal of experience at our Glen-Aubrey Kennels Reg'd., may I state that we have found the Toy Manchesters weighing from 7 to 12 pounds have the most strength. For our small variety of stud dogs we prefer their weight to be from 5 to 7 lbs. However, we have found that bitches under 6 lbs. invariably have to have caesarians. For the larger variety of our Toy Manchesters we prefer the weight of the stud dogs to be 10 lbs., and the bitches up to 14 lbs.

Over the past 20 years of breeding the Toy Manchester, we have had many experiences which have showed us the intelligence and the gameness of these great little dogs. And our latest experience has, again, shown us the wonderful qualities of the breed. Three weeks ago, early in the morning, I fell in the kitchen and was unable to move or get up . . . . four of our Toy Manchesters were in the room with me — Ch. Glen-Aubrey Gallant Prince and his daughters, Glen-Aubrey Glamour and Glen-Aubrey Mischief and, also, our Glen-Aubrey Mary-Lou. My husband, who is extremely hard-of-hearing and almost totally blind, was still sleeping. I was only semi-conscious most of the time and kept trying to call my husband. Prince kept up a steady barking from the kitchen to the bedroom to try to awaken my husband. Mary-Lou sat beside me, constantly licking my face and making little "moaning" sounds. Glamour and Mischief sat beside me, too; both of them tugging gently at the sleeve of my memo

FROM THE EDITOR

SINCE PUBLICATION of the "Blue Book of Top Winning Dogs, 1965", in last month's issue, we have received two calls from owners of dogs querying the total points awarded to their winning dogs.

As set out on page 72 of the June issue, the system used for establishing the top winning dogs is based on one point for each dog defeated from Best of Breed to Best in Show. This applies to All Breed Shows. It should also be understood that where Specialty shows are concerned (either Breed or Group Specialty shows) points are awarded for Best of Breed only.

MOST of us are fortunate enough to enjoy our work — most of the time. But we do have one pet hate. Your editors have one: we dread writing about tragic accidents and composing obituaries. You will make us and your friends happy by observing the rules of safety on land, and in traffic in particular, and the rules of Red Cross water safety this summer. You'll have a happier and longer life. A holiday near the water can be wonderful for you and yours. But a summer tragedy — usually so unnecessary, is never forgotten by those you leave behind. This year — think — don't sink. Be water and traffic-wise.

AT A TIME when animal lovers have at last been at least partially acquainted with man's inhumanity to animals by way of use in medical research and the nefarious manner in which dealers and traffickers often obtain and maintain the animals, it seems strange that owners of show calibre dogs have to be reminded to take care of their own!

Several instances have been brought to our attention in the past few weeks. At recent shows, when people were caught off-guard by a sudden warm day, several dogs perished through heat stroke. The dogs were left in the owners' cars while they exhibited indoors. These are shocking cases, not of deliberate cruelty but certainly of negligence. Normally, the general public needs to be reminded to park the car in the shade and leave the windows slightly open to allow circulation of air — and if they are going to be away some hours, to check the dogs occasionally and, if they have to remain away from the car, to figure where the sun dress as if to tell me to try to get up off the floor. Finally, after 1½ hours, my husband awoke to Prince's frantic barking in the bedroom. Help was summoned and I was taken to York County Hospital, Newmarket, Ont., where I will be confined for some time to come. So . . . again, and as always, we are proud of our Toy Manchesters.

May I wish you continued success with your excellent magazine, and I send you my kindest personal regards.

SHIPPING PROBLEMS

For the first time, I recently exported a bitch to the USA to be bred with an American Champion.

I ran up against many problems in this regard, as I know other breeders have done. After shipping this bitch (via air express) I phoned the other party to inform them on the time of arrival of my bitch, including flight number etc. However the bitch did not arrive and I received a call to this effect.

I immediately placed a call to the airport to have them trace to see where the bitch was and what time it would arrive. They told me it was shipped and now was not their responsibility and if I wished to know the whereabouts of the bitch, I would have to make my own trace.

I did this at rather great expense, placing calls to Chicago, Tennessee and other stopovers where the bitch might have been delayed. I was not able to locate the dog and the airports involved were far from helpful.

The bitch finally arrived in the receiver's hands more than 24 hours later, neither watered nor fed. The return flight went exactly the same way and we waited in the airport for over six hours after the bitch was to arrive. Although livestock is supposed to be priority shipping, I have my doubts, particularly as it happened twice to the same bitch.

Customs is also a facet of the operation which has me stumped. I was charged duty on my own bitch going into the States, even though the declaration definitely stated NOT FOR SALE, TO BE RETURNED. Canadian customs also tried to charge me duty, but didn't. Rather they changed the value from $200. for which she was insured, to $20 to avoid extra duty — on a bitch which was my own. I fail to see why I should have been charged any duty by either country. However, I was and it is now a matter of record.

This was a very expensive lesson for me, costing as much as the stud service, plus the worry of losing some of your stock and the potential therein. There must be a way to simplify the whole procedure. It is almost a necessity to deal with other countries to upgrade our stock with any result; also keeps conformity in the breeds, no matter what country they are found in.

JOHN G. McARTHUR
Taunton Rd. East, R.R. 2, Oshawa, Ont.

. . . Do you not think there should be more care exercised on the part of people who sell dogs, and send them by plane to a destination, than apparently is shown by some people?

Sunday last I was checking possible arrival of Chihuahua from B.C. at Malton and was asked "how do you feed a Chihuahua, what will they eat?" Having suggested what to do I asked why the question and was told that two Chihuahua were in transit approximately 18 hours without food, etc. Spent many hours trying to locate the consignees through many people, without success. Tried the CKC and Mrs. Pugh who gave me an address in . . . . Immediately phoned Malton Air Express, passed on the information, was thanked for my trouble and informed they would contact their agent in . . . . Finally, phoned Malton again. The dogs had been handed over to Airport Veterinary hospital as they were over 36 hours now, and the person to whom they were being shipped was on the way to pick them up.

How can a party shipping animals be so heartless as to not let the addressee know that they are on their way, or the addressee not, apparently, bothering to do any checking themselves. Surely they must have known that the dogs were coming to them.

Again, how could the shipper not give their address when shipping in case of trouble at which time they could be contacted. We have shipped by Air Express and had excellent service — all over Canada, to Bermuda, France. We have done our utmost to ensure that the addressee knew time of flight from Malton, time of expected arrival and indicated on Bill of Lading the telephone number to call with our card plainly visible with our address on it.

In the case mentioned above I was not trying to interfere but was doing my level best to help the animals and, I hope, the happy new owner.

ALL BREED CHAMPIONSHIP SHOW

in New Glasgow Stadium
AUGUST 20, 1966

Judge
Mr. Wm. McDerment,

Toronto, Ont.

an Ontario exhibitor of Samoyeds. The query: "I hear from a . . . judge . . . that Ontario Samoyeds plod when they gait (ours dance) and they have soft, woolly coats. Is that the reason Ontario Samoyeds do not get placed in the Group?"

The Samoyeds here, on the whole, are not wrong and any judge should be able to tell that if a Sam's coat was soft and woolly it would just be coming in coat, just out of coat or was a puppy. In Ontario we breed more to the Standard than they do in most other provinces. The same person states "where Samoyeds take the Group, the size is 27". That being the case and 'size' is not a disqualification, then my answer is "the Sam is not wrong, it is up to the judge".

Our Sams move easily, they do not dance, they are not circus dogs. And the majority of them have the harsh outer coats. As for them not going up in the Group, someone has missed the 'post'. First of all, let me point out that, as a rule, there are four to five times as many exhibits in our shows as in those out West where often the count of all breeds is 150 to 200 and sometimes only one judge.

At the Kitchener-Waterloo K.C. all breed championship show held in August of last year there were 484 dogs, 130 in the Working Group alone. A Samoyed, bred in my kennels, took two BB's the same day, under two judges (all breed and Specialty) and went on to 2nd in Group. This same dog took BIS out West.

The top-winning Samoyed in Canada for the last two years came from the same line here, being a grandson of my Ch. Ziska's Buster, a BIS Sam, and his sire, our well known Ch. Snowland Ziska Buck, also is a BIS winner. So, I state once again — it is not our Sams that are wrong.

Last year a young Sam took BB and 2nd in Group, his second show. This year, to date, our Ch. Ziska's Zaramouche, at the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show (21 Sams competing, 422 all breeds) took 4th in Group. Entries for the Canadian National Sportsmen's Shows this year: 1st show — 422 dogs; 2nd show — 452; 3rd show — 442; 5th show — 466; and on the last day, 750 dogs. Compare this with the "out West" shows: Edmonton entries — 163; British Columbia — 196. There is a difference. There were over 600 dogs competing at the Forest City K.C. show held in London last month — 18 Samoyeds. If there is a fault or reason why our Sams do not go up more often in the Group then the fault or reason could be with the judges, not our Sams.

Memo from the Editor

or shade will fall later in the day. But one would imagine exhibitors of dogs would be aware of how easily dogs can perish without proper air and in excessive heat.

Only those who have lost a fine dog in this manner can appreciate the heartbreak of unwitting thoughtlessness. This is written, not in the form of criticism but to alert owners of what can happen to animals in hot weather. The damage can be done only too quickly.

The second case concerns some helpless Chihuahuas who would surely have perished from neglect had not a Chihuahua breeder discovered and alleviated their plight inasmuch as he was humanly able.

Chihuahua breeder Arthur Samuels, of Mimico, Ont., expected a pair of his breed to arrive at Toronto International Airport the other weekend. In the meantime, a breeder had shipped two Chihuahuas to a person just outside of Toronto. The crate was improperly addressed and it appeared impossible to locate the addressee. The poor mites had been in transit 18 hours, with neither food, water nor exercise. Mr. Samuels was asked if he could help. From 5 p.m. on a Saturday afternoon to midnight he phoned every possible contact he could think of, including a nearby canine control officer who knew the addressee, and promised to try to locate him. Asked about feeding the starvelings, Mr. Samuels suggested the officials give them warmed milk with corn syrup to start rather than meat, to offset dehydration which would have occurred in the heat. A good tip to remember in a similar emergency.

It cannot be stressed too strongly that in shipping dogs, the recipient's name, address and telephone number must be plainly printed and attached securely to the crate. And that arrangements must be made that food and water will be provided. The shipper's name, address and telephone number should also be clearly provided in case anything goes wrong.

In shipping dogs, it would seem a common courtesy, in addition to being businesslike, to get the dogs on the plane or train at the agreed-upon time, and to wire that the crates have been put on a specified flight or train. It's a common occurrence for a breeder or purchaser to make as many as four or more trips to the airport in an effort to pick up a dog as promptly as possible. This is time-wasting and nerve-wracking, particularly the driving on busy highways leading to the airport. Can you compare the cost of a brief wire to the comfort of helpless, frightened dogs and the concern of the new owners? ■

"MISLEADING" ADVERTISING

The publishers of Dogs in Canada do not assume any responsibility for statements made by breeders in their advertising in this magazine. The onus of responsibility is on the advertiser to refrain from making misleading statements. the old timer

"Looks to me," said the Old Timer, "as though exhibitors are going to have to pull up their socks and that the secretaries of show-giving clubs will have to quit being as "cooperative" as some of them have been."

The day was hot and the Old Timer was perspiring. Part of the reason was the humidity. The rest was that he'd picked this particular day to go over the runs with the small flame thrower he used to disinfect and to prevent the possibility of parasite eggs, from visiting dogs, leaving infection for his own to pick up.

With the job done he was relaxing in the shade of a lovely old maple tree that framed the entrance to the kennel.

"What do you mean, exhibitors will have to pull up their socks and what do you mean club secretaries will probably be less cooperative?" I asked.

The Old Timer chuckled.

"The Canadian Kennel Club is getting tough, is the way I hear it," he said. "Clubs are getting fined for errors of omission or possibly commission."

"Anything new in that?" I asked. "Didn't they fine a dozen or more judges a year or so ago for failing to disqualify a dog which should have been disqualified according to the breed standard?"

Again the Old Timer chuckled.

"True," he said, "and they also fined the handler of the dog."

"Tell me more," I suggested. "I'm interested in secretarial cooperation and some exhibitors' socks that need pulling up."

The Old Timer filled and lighted his pipe. He leaned back in his chair enjoying a breeze that was starting to blow across the front of the kennel.

"If you read the minutes of the annual meeting," he said, "you probably noticed a couple of clubs were fined $25 for failing to get their show results in to the CKC on time. But the way I hear it, another couple of clubs have been fined because the club secretaries gave undue cooperation to the exhibitors."

"In what way?" I asked.

"If you ever acted as a show secretary, you'd have some idea of the way a lot of entry forms come in," he said. "In Beagles, Poodles and Cocker Spaniels, for instance, they'll fail to specify the variety. They fail to show, on the entry form, whether a dog is Canadian bred. They'll neglect to fill in the birth date and even fail to specify the class they are entering in.

"I know. I've done the job. I've looked through previous show catalogues to find whether Ooopsy Daisy, a Cocker Spaniel, has been entered previously and whether it's a black, an Ascob, a parti or a black and tan. I've tried to contact hard-to-get exhibitors by phone to find out whether the dog they entered was to go in Junior Puppy or Specials. I've sent entry forms back to exhibitors, when there's been time, in order to have them filled out properly.

"In one recent case, for example, the CKC fined a club for admitting a dog to a show after the time dogs were required to be present. In all probability this was the result of a kind-hearted impulse on the part of the offender, but nevertheless it was an infraction of the rules and consequently the club was penalized.

"In another instance that comes to mind, a change of entry was allowed at a show, for which infraction this club was also penalized. Again, this could very well have been a simple case of kindness obscuring good judgment."

"So what happens now?" I asked.

"My guess would be that club secretaries will adhere more closely to the rules and realize that a bend is as bad as a fracture," the Old Timer said. "The rule says the exhibitor is bound by any errors he makes on the entry form. After word gets 'round about these two fines I'm sure show secretaries will hesitate to make any changes in those entry forms received close to the closing date. I know I'd simply send the entry form back to the exhibitor, regretting the fact that incomplete information on the entry form made it impossible to accept the entry."

"Do you think it will do any good?" I asked.

The Old Timer relighted his pipe.

"A few years ago", he said, "at least ten, perhaps 20, per cent of any club's entries were received after the advertised date for closing of entries. Then The Canadian Kennel Club began to get tough. They made it clear to clubs they would crack down if they accepted entries received after the closing date. Clubs began returning late entries and now the number received late is negligible. It's my guess that, if clubs start sending back incomplete or wrongly completed entry forms, the exhibitors will get the message this time too. They'll pull up their socks. They just need to be told that at the moment the socks are hanging in wrinkles, down around their ankles." ■

TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS

BY JAKE GIACOMELLI

All rightee!! Judges, would-be judges and ringside quarterbacks, how would you score this situation?

This happened in the Open Class — Drop on Recall Exercise.

Situation:

(1) Judge tells handler to leave his dog.
(2) Handler gives his dog the "Stay" command, leaves him and goes to the opposite end of the ring.
(3) Judge then orders the handler to call his dog.
(4) Handler calls his dog, and when his dog reaches the previously designated dropping point, the handler commands his dog down.
(5) The dog immediately drops, remains fully down for about one second — then gets up and stands on the place at which he dropped.
(6) The judge waits for about five seconds, during which time the dog remains standing in exactly the same place.
(7) The judge then orders the handler to call in his dog.
(8) The handler calls his dog and the balance of the exercise is completed perfectly.

Question:

What penalty would you give? Zero? Less than 50%? Qualify him with a minor or substantial penalty? Or would you give him full marks?

Remember, whatever your answer is to this one you should be able to back it up by the application of the present CKC Regulations and Standards for Obedience Trials; otherwise your decision will hold no water.

No peeking, either!!

Kick this one around amongst yourselves and then see if your answer agrees or disagrees with the one actually given at this particular Trial. Oh, come on now!! I did say no peeking!!

A dear friend of mine from Quebec way once said to me, "Jake, why don't you tell all the obedience people through your column to smile once in a while when entering the obedience ring—tell them not to look so grim!!" She said that almost everyone going into the Obedience rings were so tense and terribly serious — (I should talk — I used to look like death heated over)!!

However, she does have a good point — if you really tried to relax and smile a little stiffly to perk yourself up, you'll probably be the only one around these parts in control of yourself when entering the Trial ring — the majority of us just become unglued at the seams. I wish somebody would remind me about this as I am about to enter the ring and I might be able to guarantee you one nervous giggle and a wan smile.

Take stock of your own grooming as well as your dog's, — a sloppily dressed handler doesn't do much to enhance the picture of Obedience. Smile now!! we're all watching you!!

Answer:

The dog was penalized five points for failing to maintain the Down position and earned a qualifying score of 25 marks out of a 30-point exercise, due to the fact that the rest of the exercise had been completed perfectly.

This decision was based on the following reasoning: First of all, what are the principal features of this exercise?

(1) The "drop".
(2) The "stay" as described under the Recall exercise.
(3) The prompt response to the Recall as described in the Recall exercise.

Secondly, what are the failing points to the exercise?

(1) A dog which does not stop and drop on a single command or signal must be scored zero.

(Also, all other deductions as listed under "Recall" above shall also apply, so let's look at the failing points of the Recall).

(2) A dog which does not come on the first command or signal must be scored zero.
(3) A dog which does not stay without extra command or signal, or which moves from the place where he was left, from the time the handler leaves until he is called, must receive less than 50% of the points.

Now, let's compare our dog "Fido" against the above conditions.

(1) Fido dropped (2) he stayed with reference to the stay as described in the Recall exercise which refers to stay of place, not position.
(3) Fido did both recalls promptly.

So it appears that Fido has actually done the principal features which is the stay, the come, the drop and the come again.

Let's see how he would fare penalty-wise:

(1) He came on the first command or signal (no penalty here).
(2) He stopped and dropped on a single command (no penalty here).
(3) In both cases he stayed in the place he was left and the place he was later dropped at (no penalty here).

Our Fido then is really only guilty of a break of position which I fail to see as a major disqualification. A substantial penalty, yes — but a failure, no!!

So, sue me if you don't agree!! □

LONDON CALLING

BY Stanley Dangerfield

THE current talking point here is the astonishing increase in entries received for shows. They are not merely record breaking. They are disturbing. As I write, Windsor, one of our brightest and best summer shows, has just closed its entry for its July 2 show. The number of dogs has increased by nearly 20%. That is from 3,955 dogs in 1965 to 4,652 dogs this year. Although the treasurer may be pleased with this news, it will bring headaches to the organizers. Seven hundred extra dogs cannot be lightly shrugged off.

The principal problem, apart from procuring and housing 700 more dog benches, is time. In Britain exhibitors firmly resist any start before 10 a.m. and they prefer 11 a.m. Additionally, any show (Cruft's only excepted) which tries to keep them after 6 p.m. courts mutiny. Thus if Best in Show is to start at 4.30 p.m. there are around six hours to do all the breed judging. In short, this year judges will have to do 20% more work in the same time. And they were not exactly idling last year!

Our Wire Haired Fox Terriers are incredible.

As a separate breed it's doubtful if they have existed in pure form for more than a hundred years. Few, if any, before the turn of this century were worth a second glance.

For the last 50 years however, they have dominated the dog show scene all over the world. For 50 years we have exported them in alarmingly high numbers and everywhere they have gone they have won. I say 'alarmingly' because in theory overexport achieves two certain results.

First it should enable the countries that buy them to build up a stock which is at least comparable with your own. Next it should, by constantly selling the best, slowly but surely lower the standard of those which remain. In some breeds this has been done. But not in Wires.

There's always a new one to come out. Always another 'flyer' to take the place of the one which has been sold. Always a ready buyer for a likely one and oddly, always a ready seller. They fetch money of course. Often big money. But otherwise their owners pay little regard to the quality and merit of their stock. They even get bored with them when they have done some winning and it's very unusual for a Wire to be campaigned for a second season.

At any and every show you see a dozen new ones joining the four dozen familiars. And believe it or not, the overall standard is so high that it would be no hardship at all to own the one that stood tenth in the line.

The future supply of All-rounders is a problem in Britain. Probably it is a problem all over the world. The game expands by leaps and bounds but the supply of all rounders dwindles inexorably.

As perhaps the case in these Islands is typical of many other countries I will outline it. When it all started 90 years ago, the comparatively few breeds being exhibited had specialists to judge them. Later came a need for general judges, principally to judge Best in Show and variety classes but also to fill in on the breeds when there were not enough specialists to go round.

These men were recruited from the ranks of old-time dog men. The system was haphazard but it worked. Later came the necessity for them to be given a status and approval by the Kennel Club. They both deserved and received it.

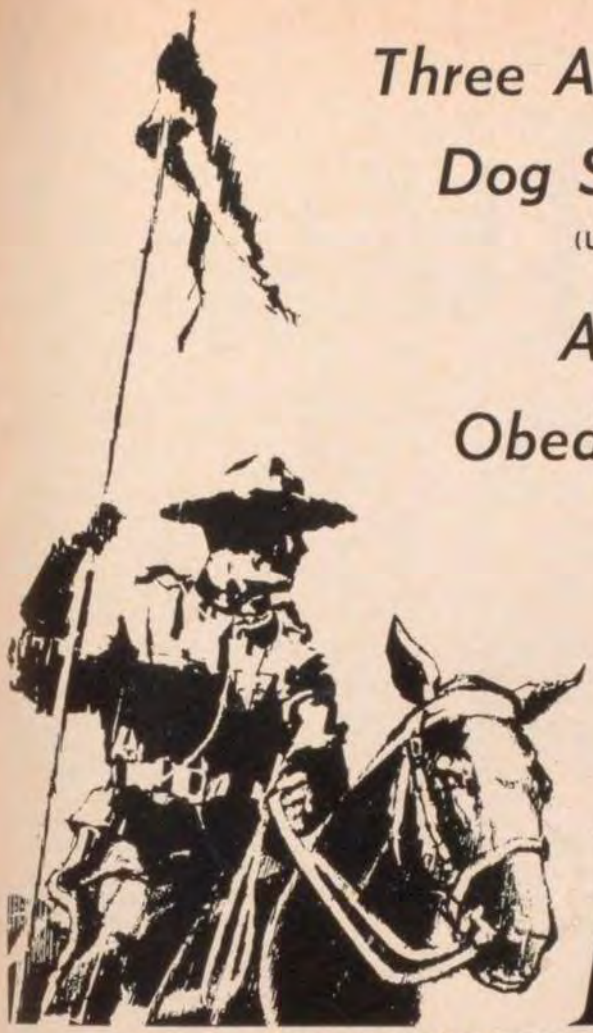

By the end of the war the position had changed. The old timers were dying out and the 'new timers' were having difficulties establishing themselves. Gone were the days when approval could be had for the asking. In my opinion the pendulum swung too far. Now the door seems if not shut, then certainly only occasionally opened a fraction of an inch.

For example I know of no judge in Britain younger than myself who has been given K.C. approval for even ten breeds. There may be one but I do not know him. Thus at the moment it appears that I am the last man to scrape through the screen and it gives me no pleasure at all.

As things stand now, the unfortunate newcomer must go through a long, laborious process of getting approval for one breed at a time, one after another. At a conservative estimate it would take a keen, knowledgeable and competent aspiring judge around 20 years to get approval for say 90% of the breeds!

Maybe it's not surprising that few of them are stepping into our ranks to run the gauntlet. They can become doctors in five years!

At last we are admitting a sixth group into our show set up. Previously our Non Sporting group included what you would call the working dogs and these latter are now to be hived off into a Working Group which corresponds very roughly to your own and indeed all trans-Atlantic grouping.

It's a welcome innovation. But I can assure you it does not mean that from now on all countries will adopt international procedures. Some European countries have a dozen or more groups and I must be pardoned if I confess to being unable to explain them to you. Within some countries' groups there are breeds which we both think most inappropriate. In Sweden, for example, Bostons and French Bulldogs feature in the Toy group, while a Spitz group contains Welsh Corgis. Beagles in the same group as Labradors and Cockers might seem odd to you but it seems to make sense in some countries.

Perhaps universality is not only unlikely but undesirable. Frankly I think we would rather leave the Commonwealth than come into line with Canada by including the Miniature Schnauzers among the terriers! □

Higher License Fees Bring Less Revenue

Under discussion in England is the matter of increasing dog license charges. Air Commodore J. A. C. Cecil-Wright, Chairman of the English Kennel Club, wrote to the Rt. Hon. James Callaghan, Chancellor of the Exchequer that "it is an historical fact that from 1755 onwards Parliament has consistently rejected the principle that taxation should be used as a method of controlling the dog population . . .

"The history of taxation of dogs clearly shows that as the rate of tax is varied there is an opposite and usually greater variation in the number of dogs licensed. In other words, a higher tax simply results in greater evasion, while a lowering of the tax reduces evasion."

Canine Contraceptive Removed From Market

Promone E, a birth control chemical for dogs and cats, which was gaining popularity, particularly among owners of show and field-trial dogs, has been taken off the market. Although thoroughly tested over a long period, Upjohn of Canada, Don Mills, Ont. has decided to withdraw the drug following reports of side effects in dogs, but no similar problem with cats. The concern is that more uterine abnormalities among females given the drug might occur. Company officials state that the specific side effect was cystic endometrial hyperplasia, a formation of growths in the uterine system, which disappear after withdrawal of the drug.

In a letter of announcement to Canadian veterinarians, it was stated that the firm is not entirely convinced that Promone E was responsible for all the side effects, but until such responsibility is established the company will not release the drug. Control studies are underway, an official stated.

How Did This Dog Know?

In Lourenco Marques, Mozambique, a dog limped into the hospital recently with a broken leg. He was unaccompanied. The day after it was released, following treatment of the fracture, it returned for post-operative treatment. And it continued to return until the leg was entirely healed.

THIS MAY HURT
BUT IT IS ABSOLUTE FACT

Each winter in Canada, millions of fur-bearing animals will die slow agonizing deaths in leg-hold traps, unless we do something about it.

People like you and me cause this suffering because we forget what happens between the time the trap is sprung and the time (perhaps many days later) when the skin is collected to make the coat we wear with pride.

Our Association is promoting, by every means possible, the use of humane instant-killing traps.

We need your support, your interest, and above all your membership ($1.00 a year). Donations are deductible for income tax purposes.

Please think this over

HUMANELY SPEAKING

BY TOM HUGHES

IT is incredible to think that in this day and age hundreds of dogs still die of starvation in Canada. True, this does not occur in southern Canada, but it happens in Canada nevertheless. Of course, I am referring to the very far northern parts of Canada, or in other words, the Arctic.

Every year the Ontario Humane Society makes an appeal to animal lovers and people who have a particular interest in dogs, to support "Operation Arctichow". Last year the appeal was answered most generously and we were able to send 12½ tons of dry dog meal to the eastern Arctic alone. Both individuals and the dog food manufacturing companies responded to our appeal most generously.

Of course, there are still many people who are just now hearing of the scheme for the first time and do not know that we have been operating it for four years. We still receive enquiries about whether the food will be eaten by Eskimos or whether it will be misused in some other way! Perhaps it will do no harm to restate the general principles of the scheme.

The whole scheme is approved by the Department of Northern Affairs who cooperate with this Society to make the distribution of the meal possible. Indeed, without the support of the Department of Northern Affairs the scheme could not operate at all.

The problem which we are trying to cope with is simply that at certain times of the year, in certain isolated Eskimo settlements, a situation can and frequently does develop in which the Eskimos become extremely short of food themselves. When this happens they invariably follow the philosophy of any basic people, i.e. that something will crop up sooner or later. Quite often, in fact generally, it does. Occasionally it does not. When the miracle does not occur the people become extremely hungry and the dogs become a great deal more hungry. The general routine is that the Eskimos naturally feed themselves before they feed the animals. As a result, the sled dogs become so weak that they are unable to pull the sleds to another settlement, where help could be obtained.

One of the functions of "Operation Arctichow" is to supply an emergency supply of dog feed to meet just such a situation. Bad weather in any particular area of the Arctic can cause the problem or a failure of, say, the whale hunt on which the Eskimos in some areas of the Arctic depend for a supply of meat.

Every year we receive letters from Northern officials commenting on the way the meal has been used.

For example, Mrs. J. B. H. Gunn, Acting Regional Administrator, stationed at Churchill, Man., writes that he would like to have five tons of dog meal shipped to Baker Lake in the Northwest Territories because there is a continuing need for dog food in excess of what is available locally."

Mr. A. Stevenson, Administrator of the Arctic, writes that at Sugluk there was a serious emergency last winter. Mr. Stevenson writes "The whale hunt this year was unsuccessful and the consequence of this was that the settlement ran short of dog food. Fortunately, we had 4,000 pounds of dog food available for emergency feeding of the dogs, thanks to "Operation Arctichow."

From Maricourt in northern Quebec, Father Dion writes "Dog food is needed for emergency purposes as many dogs died last spring from starvation."

The Department of Northern Affairs Representative, Arctic Bay, Northwest Territories, writes "Hunting was poor in the spring and the dogs 'usually starved at this time of the year.' The dog food from "Operation Arctichow" was very gratefully received and was instrumental in saving the lives of these dogs."

Finally, Mr. A. C. Wynne, Local Administrator, Wakehem Bay, writes "Last winter during a period of considerable hardship for the local people, many of the dogs upon which the people depend for travelling and hunting, would have died of starvation but for emergency supplies of dog food which we had obtained the previous winter under "Operation Arctichow.""

From these reports direct from the officials in the Arctic who are in a position to see, at first hand, the scheme in operation, it is obvious how important a part "Operation Arctichow" is playing in the northern communities.

The food that is sent to the north is only dry dog meal. It has to be packed in special containers which will stand the rather rugged treatment that they receive during transportation.

The meal for the eastern Arctic is shipped north on board the government supply ship the "C. D. HOWE". The "C. D. HOWE" visits the northern settlements, weather permitting, once a year, and uses its helicopters to transport the bulky load from ship to shore. Remember, there are no dock facilities or anything of this sort, and everything has to be man-handled. Sometimes helicopters are not available, or cannot operate, and the meal is taken ashore by small boats. This means additional handling of the bags.

The meal for the western Arctic and the Northwest Territories is sent by rail to Fort Churchill, Man. where it is distributed by a variety of means of transport.

It will be obvious, therefore, that the meal must be packed in special bags. For this reason we cannot accept donations of either canned food or packets of meal or biscuit.

In the first three years that the scheme was in operation we attempted to distribute the meal to as many settlements as possible. The theory was that we could never know which settlements were going to need the meal, and it was our idea to cover as many settlements as possible.

Experience has shown that this is not the best way to approach the problem and this year we are going to reverse the process and make fairly substantial deposits at, what we hope, will be key locations. The theory behind this is that a small amount of meal is not much use anyway in a settlement in which perhaps 40 or 50 dogs may require emergency feed.

We are gradually building up supplies that are safely stacked away in a growing number of settlements.

This is the time of the year that we make our appeal for "Operation Arctichow." If you feel that you can spare a few dollars to help this particular project, simply write to me at the Ontario Humane Society, 696 Yonge St., Toronto 5, and please mark your donation "Arctichow." I should add that this particular scheme is supported by people throughout Canada, not just the people in Ontario. I also want to emphasize that the Ontario Humane Society administers this scheme without any charge to the fund itself. Every penny received for this project is used either on the food or the cost of transporting it.

I know that many readers of the magazine will already be supporting a local branch of a Society. I have no desire to divert that support to "Operation Arctichow," but if you can spare an extra couple of dollars as an additional donation, naturally we would be grateful for your support. □

Mr. Hughes is the General Manager of the Ontario Humane Society. Correspondence should be directed to him at Room 201, 696 Yonge St., Toronto 5, Ont.

NOTICE

From time to time our attention is drawn to the practice of some breeders who, when advertising or otherwise offering dogs for sale, indicate in some way that the purchaser of a dog sold as pure-bred will be required to make a higher, or additional, payment in order to be furnished with a certificate of registration. Such persons should note that the price at which a dog is sold, or the purpose for which a dog was purchased, has no bearing whatever on the obligation of the seller to supply the purchaser with a certificate of registration issued by The Canadian Kennel Club for a dog sold as pure-bred.

The Live Stock Pedigree Act, a federal statute, requires that when a person sells a dog as pure-bred, or contracts to sell a dog as pure-bred, he must furnish, or agree to furnish, a certificate of registration, together with fully-recorded transfer of ownership to the buyer.

Article XXXI, Section 3 of the By-laws of The Canadian Kennel Club reads as follows:

"A member may be suspended or expelled, or a non-member deprived of the privileges of the Club, if it is proven to the satisfaction of the Board that when selling, or otherwise disposing of a dog for a consideration (monetary or otherwise), the person disposing of the dog has asked or required the new owner to make any form of payment specifically for the purpose of being furnished with a certificate or registration."

To avoid possible prosecution under the Live Stock Pedigree Act and/or possible disciplinary action by The Canadian Kennel Club, members and others engaged in the selling of dogs as pure-bred are cautioned to refrain from the practice of quoting two selling prices for the dogs, one "with papers", the other "without papers', or to in any other way indicate that an additional payment is required for a certificate of registration.

This notice is published by an order of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club.

BEAGLES

IN THE FIELD

A big voice booming out over the fields, a roaring laugh and a personality merry as a Beagle's. That's Joe Tiede, founder of the Beagle Association of Ontario and for many years the representative for Beagles for The Canadian Kennel Club. A judge of Beagle Field Trials, he is one of Canada's top working Beagle men. If you have questions, write him at R.R. No. 8, London, Ont.

FIELD TRIALS AND THEIR PLEASURES

What is the most delightful feature of Beagle Field Trials? Such a query with its ramifications cannot be answered positively by any one individual, for the pleasures of attending a field trial are numerous and varied and the delightful features of each may linger long after the results of the particular stakes have been entered into the records.

One of the most attractive features of Beagle trials is the friendship they foster, the opportunity for renewal of pleasant acquaintanceship. Attendance at a field trial not only serves to bring one into social contact with high class sportsmen and oftentimes charming lady devotees, but many profitable business relations are formed through an acquaintance made while the beaglers are following the running. The spirit of fellowship and camaraderie always pervades a field trial gathering. There is no class distinction. Everyone is on an equal footing and firm friendship formed, and many of those acquaintanceships are more firmly rooted through a pleasure-giving correspondence with beaglers one meets.

Isn't it interesting to communicate with the owner of a stud dog relative to breeding a bitch? — or to felicitate the owner of a winner on some future occasion? Yes, many and varied are the delightful features of field trials.

To attend a trial does not necessarily require a large expenditure of money, or does such attendance imply a great loss of time from business, for clubs are now found throughout the nation, and every section of the country is, at some time or other, the scene of a Beagle trial.

Attendance usually proves a profitable investment in thrilling recreation. Health is promoted, and one's physical welfare is ever of utmost importance. In Nature's Cathedral, warmed by the mellow rays of the flaming King of Day, worry and inhibitions of life are shed like an unwelcome cloak, and the Beagle lover revels in the sport. The performances of the competing dogs contribute to the pleasures. Renewal of old acquaintances enhances the new friendships formed. All in all, big dividends are paid sportsmen for the time and money expended.

What could be more interesting than selecting a stud dog to mate with your bitch, the consideration of individual excellence and the blending of bloodlines, the prospect of a successful niche, and when the little fellows come, the joy of nursing them through puppyhood, raising them into lusty rabbit-wise hunters, watching their development. What is there to compare to that? Finally, capping it all, starting them in competition with dogs owned by kindred spirits, other sportsmen and Beagle lovers who have brought their puppies along with equal hope and expectation of achieving eminence in the Beagle cosmos. When we make the most of these joys, and capitalize on the friendly contacts which come through field trials, we derive tremendous dividends in health, happiness and friendship.

Field trials are basically the sport of sportsmen. No two members of that great fraternity evaluate exactly alike any performance they witness. True, astute judges are able to discriminate with nicety between competitions but even the most experienced notaries of the sport are apt to disagree in their construction or interpretation of some piece of work. In a dog's actions, one judge may see an unmistakable manifestation of desirable natural quality, whereas another equally well qualified judge may conclude that the dog's exhibition was not of merit. Field trials, therefore, require of its followers a high sense of sportsmanship and fairness, a willingness to abide by the decisions of the judges. These latter are selected by the organization conducting the trial because of their qualifications. They are generally experienced, competent and unbiased. They are supposed to judge the dogs on the single performance of the work done before them on that particular occasion and though their decisions may not always meet with their unanimous agreement, nevertheless, they place the dogs upon what they witness, and in the last analysis that is what they are supposed to do. It is well, in view of what has been said, for all of us to abide by the judicial decisions. It may be that the judges saw something that you missed.

Another admonition that might be given before concluding, is that little credence be placed in harsh rumors. As such rumors circulate they take on an aspect of veracity and with each reiteration it is amplified by the narrator. Many are without foundation and the large majority of them are at most trivial. Sportsmanship should dictate a resistance and reluctance to repose any belief in these one-sided stories on the theory that repetition has enlarged them into distorted falsehoods. □

Why not combine your vacation with the Bermuda Kennel Club's 14th International Championship Dog Show?

November 1, 2, 3 and 5—these are dates when your dog may win an international championship! Days for you to enjoy a Bermuda holiday, at special group airline and hotel rates.

Judging of four all breed shows (unbenched) and five obedience trials will be under CKC rules. Breed judges: Mr. Virgil Johnson, Mr. John Cunneo, Mr. Robert Waters, Mr. & Mrs. A. E. Van Court, Mr. Hans Brunotte, Miss Virginia Sivori and Mrs. Elsie Sivori. Obedience judges: Mr. & Mrs. Albert Munneke and Mr. Jake Giacomelli. Judges will award silver trophies, rosettes and BKC silver medals to the winners in both breed and obedience.

BLOOD PROBLEM IN DOGS

Blood diseases, which have serious effects on the health of man, are equally serious in many animals. In an attempt to curb one of the most commonly occurring blood diseases of the dog, the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine has begun a research program on the canine affliction Babesiosis.

Canine Babesiosis is caused by a microscopic parasite which breaks down red blood cells and produces severe anemia. The parasite enters the dog's blood stream through a species of tick found in almost every state in the USA. Sporting dogs or dogs which romp in heavily tick-infested brush and thickets are more likely to have the disease.

Babesiosis is associated with a number of symptoms because its presence produces various side effects. Among other things, a dog may suffer from chills; pain and tenderness of the back, legs, or abdomen; vomiting; extreme listlessness; and eventually, the dog could die.

Dogs which do survive Babesiosis become undetected carriers of the disease and spread infection to other dogs.

A research team headed by Dr. Miodrag Ristic, Professor of Veterinary Pathology, is attempting to improve the test for diagnosis of Babesiosis and to develop immunizing procedures for prevention of the disease.

The development of a better diagnostic method and a preventive vaccine would be a major step in control of the disease.

The study is supported by the Morris Animal Foundation with partial support from The Seeing Eye, Inc.

focus on mid canada

Atop the parliament buildings in Winnipeg, Manitoba's capital city, stands the statue of a youth holding a torch, symbolizing energy and vitality. These surely were the qualities behind the Mid Canada Dog Shows held in that city May 27, 28, 29.

The first benched show of any size in the mid-west in some time was sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Winnipeg with the collaboration of the Gateway City Obedience Training Club and the Fort Garry Kennel Club. Well over 300 dogs were the average day's entry, with 65 American kennels represented.

This was undoubtedly one of the most luxurious indoor shows ever held, and as one of the deans of North American judges remarked, the cleanest he had ever encountered in 55 years of judging. The venue was the ultra modern Highlander Curling Club adjacent to the Airport, opened last October.

The huge rinks afforded seemingly acres of well-lighted space to the judging, benching and grooming areas. Wide, broadloomed stairways led to the second floor lounge where off-duty exhibitors and spectators would have a clear view of the six rings while sipping, dining and meeting friends. A special communication system enabled Chief Ring Steward Thomas Turnbull to quickly summon handlers to the ring. Even the opening was impressive as the Mayor of St. James and a representative of the Mayor of Winnipeg cut the ribbon in the ceremony. The benching, provided by the Kinsmen Club, was brand new, painted in a cherry lilac hue.

Other features included: Mid Canada Dog Show litter bags placed at every bench . . . ropes tied through chairs facing benches to keep spectators' hands away from the dogs . . . the best food ever at a dog show and the greatest variety, served rapidly at a spotless snack bar ringside, with tables behind floor to ceiling glass; handsome trophies bearing the buffalo emblem of Manitoba in uniform design, an 86-page souvenir catalogue.

Spectators were treated to an unusually interesting obedience demonstration which took the form of a precision drill, plus a few stunts. The Manitoba Gundog Demonstration drew equal applause as many spectators saw bird dogs in action for the first time.

Publicity-wise, this must surely have been one of the best-promoted canine competitions anywhere. A picture spread in the Free Press, radio spots, television, plus releases sent to 242 American newspapers by the Government of Manitoba tourist caravan crew while cruising through the States, plus a huge mailing. A pre-show Obedience demonstration was given in one of the big shopping malls. Throughout the show breed clubs had displays and personal representation, plus literature on the organizations. Of particular interest is the 13-part German Shepherd Dog Club Code of Ethics. The Manitoba Hound Club literature contained useful background on the hound breeds. At the door a double-page mimeographed explanation of a dog show was of immense help to visitors. A number of dog hotels and dog training schools combined to produce a good-looking four-page folder.

Sidelights: "Did they find Bandleader?" Constant concern was expressed for the welfare of the Miniature Poodle, Relle Easter Bandleader, who lived a frenzied, starving nightmare the entire weekend and had his owner, Mrs. Ronald Landry and friend, nearly sick with worry and exhaustion. Bandleader escaped his handler at the airport and became so frantic with fear and confusion he could not even recognize his owner's voice although she daily tramped the field from dawn to dark. He was eventually captured around 5 p.m. Sunday, checked by a veterinarian and was released from the show into the custody of his mistress.

One of the Kinsmen, knowing little of dog show business, did not have a ribbon indicating he was an official. An obliging dog club person pinned a pretty ribbon to his lapel. Much to his chagrin, he later was informed he was wearing an extra ribbon labelled: Best of Opposite Sex.

When an exhibitor was called into the ring she had no one to look after her two-year-old son. A quick thinker, she neatly placed him inside the crate where for 15 minutes he had a dog's-eye view of the crowd.

Next year's show is being planned to coincide with the Pan-American Games which take place in Winnipeg. Club officials and members assure exhibitors of a great warm welcome. □

COLLIE and SHELTIE specialty

by HAZEL SLAUGHTER

THE sixth Specialty Show of the Dominion Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Association (Montreal & District Branch) was held in a new location this year — Ottawa. Featured with the Ottawa Kennel Club's three all-breed shows, the venue was excellent, clean, with ample grooming quarters and spacious rings.

The sparkle of the beautiful crystal trophy table was reflected in the eyes of Helen Pavey. Her first Collie, her first point show, and the thrill of winning the coveted Best of Breed at a Specialty. Judge Edith Levine of Glen Head, N.Y. took this engaging puppy, Whitegates Canty Wynd, from the Junior Puppy Bitch class right through to the top. Not to be outdone in the sparkling eyes department were Ray and Lyne Wilde, who are the breeders of this puppy (their first litter) and it was a pleasure to see the joy on the faces of this happy group. Best Opposite Sex in Collies went to the well-presented Ch. The Wizard, owned by Jack and Elinor Hargreave from Toronto.

Adrian Tiemann, Burnt Hills, N.Y., judged the large Sheltie entry and awarded the red, white and blue to Betty Thomson's mahogany sable Ch. Twin Willow's Bright Future with Best Opposite going to the Winners Bitch, Solo of Torridon, owned by Irene Leduc.

Nearly 70 Collies and Shelties were entered with only four absentees. More interest is being shown in the unofficial classes; breeders taking pride in showing their veterans, brood bitches, etc.

The judges were presented with hand-hooked fireside stools, featuring a Collie and Sheltie head on each. The specialty was climaxed with a cocktail party and dinner.

Winner of the Brood Bitch class was Whitegates Blue-Mer Girl owned by Ray and Lyne Wilde with daughters Whitegates Canty Wynd and Hope's Dream Girl of Canty Wynd.

Helen Lovett's Ch. (Can. & Am.) Chatawae's Fox Fire was the winner of the Veterans Class. (Foxy had a wonderful time in the ring, suddenly remembering he had also received obedience training as well as show training, and deciding to combine both at once, much to the delight of the spectators.)

Dorothy Fountain and Gill Shield's Ch. (Eng. & Can.) Honeyboy of Callart proudly showed off seven of his sons and daughters to win the Stud Dog Class.

Little Miss Muffet owned by Sybil Jardine topped the Brood Bitch Class with Ch. Braedean's Dusty Miller and Braedean's Special Dividend.

And the final event of the show was the beautifully matched brother and sister brace Tommy Tucker and Sunday Surprise owned by Dorothy Richardson.

A credit to the DC&SSA breeders is the placing of Collies and Shelties in the new and very popular Puppy Sweepstakes held in Montreal and Ottawa. With 70 puppies entered in Montreal and 90 in Ottawa, four puppies placed in the ribbons. Hazel Slaughter's Sheltie Meridian's Summer Conquest, first in Junior Puppy Male class in each sweepstake and on to second in the finals at both Montreal and Ottawa. Alberta Bill Involving Animals and Research

Considerable controversy has surrounded Section 50 of Bill 77, the new University Act, Province of Alberta. In a reply to a letter your editors addressed to the Premier of Alberta, the Honourable E. C. Manning has provided us with the following statement and copy of Section 50.

In a letter which accompanied this material, Premier Manning noted that "while considerable controversy arose from misunderstanding of the intent of the legislation as originally introduced, this has all been resolved and at a recent meeting the S.P.C.A., Edmonton Branch, went on record as approving Section 50 of The University Act in its present form and agreed to suspend all official opposition".

STATEMENT

Basically, the legislation provides a method whereby the medical and scientific laboratories of our Universities may obtain unwanted, unclaimed, stray dogs which have been seized and impounded by public authority and would otherwise be destroyed.

This legislation also contains numerous essential safeguards whereby: the period of impoundment for these dogs has been extended to ten days; the Minister of Health shall regulate all matters concerning the health and welfare of these dogs received by our Universities; a system of inspection of our research laboratories has been introduced and the possibility of inadvertent purchase of a stolen family pet has been eliminated.

It is our feeling that this legislation, which is the first attempt by any Government in Canada to approach the problems involving animals and medical research, will not only assist our Medical Schools to provide the highest standards of medical services to the people of our Province, but will also provide further public assurance that our medical research programs involving animals shall be conducted in a proper and humane manner.

SECTION 50

(1) No university and no faculty or school of a university shall purchase dogs for research purposes.
(2) A municipality that operates a dog pound shall, upon the request of the faculty of medicine of a university, make available to the faculty for research and teaching purposes, all impounded dogs
  (a) that have not been claimed by the owner within ten days of the impoundment, and
  (b) that would otherwise be destroyed.
(3) A municipality is not required to maintain impounded and unclaimed dogs for a period of ten days unless a request has been made to the municipality under subsection (2).
(4) The Minister of Health, with the approval of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, shall make regulations respecting
  (a) the facilities in which animals acquired for research and teaching purposes shall be sheltered,
  (b) the care with which they shall be maintained, and
  (c) the manner in which any experimental work carried out upon them shall be conducted.
(5) The Deputy Minister of Health and the Director of Veterinary Services of the Department of Agriculture shall at least twice each year, inspect the premises in which the animals are sheltered and all areas in which medical research is being carried out and at the end of each year they shall submit a report on their inspections to the Minister of Health who shall lay the report before the Legislature at its next ensuing session. □

R.O.C. Deviations

PART EIGHT:

A series by Mrs. Dennis Gardiner, Kerrycroft Kerry Blue Terrier fame, on "Common Deviations which Arise When Appraising Dogs for R.O.C.". Readers are invited to forward their comments directly to Mrs. Gardiner at Appleby Line, R.R. 6, Milton, Ont.

5 — HEAD

The head of each breed of dog gives the appearance of being different. But the more dogs we measure (see January issue of Dogs) the more it is becoming apparent that the basic bone structure in many breeds is basically the same, differing only in size in ratio to the height at the withers. The difference is achieved by the amount of *flesh and skin covering the bony structure; the amount of coat and the trim job; the color; the shape and set of the eyes; the size, shape and set of the ears.

The head is divided into (a) *Skull and *Muzzle, (b) Nose, (c) Mouth, (d) eyes, (e) Ears, in order to achieve a uniform anaylsis of as many breeds as possible for comparison.

(a) *SKULL and *MUZZLE — are grouped together because to all intents and purposes they form a single unit — see The Anatomy of the Dog, by Miller. The upper jaw is rigidly attached to skull at the stop and to the Zygomatic Arch or Cheek bone which curves in to form the back portion of the Muzzle and the floor of the eye socket. The lower jaw articulates with the bones that house the openings for the outer ear and the joint is easily felt in front of the ear.

DEVIATIONS OF BASIC STRUCTURE — again refer to the measuring chart.

LENGTH OF HEAD (6) is in ratio to the overall Length (5) of the dog to achieve a *balanced picture. Bear in mind that the length of the dog is always in ratio to the height at the withers (1).

LENGTH OF SKULL (7) is in turn in ratio to the overall length and is neither too long or too short according to the description of the head in a given standard.

WIDTHS OF SKULL (9) (10) (11) — these measurements are designed to aid in learning the type of Zygomatic Arch or cheeckbone in your breed as it is this bone that governs the shape of the head. #9 is taken across the skull just in front of the ears; #10 at the widest portion across the cheekbones and #11 just above the eyes. If the cheekbone itself is long and reasonably flat the skull will be narrow in ratio to its length. If the cheekbone has a convex surface and #10 is the greatest measurement then the skull will either give the appearance or actually be wider in ratio to the length of the skull. It might be wise to note that the brain is housed in a bony structure somewhat behind and above the ears. Therefore only if the width #9 across the ears is excessively narrow could the old saying be true "the head is so narrow there is no room for brains". It is futhermore very doubtful if this type of head would *balance the overall picture of a well developed dog in any breed.

DEPTH OF SKULL (15). If the skull is either too shallow or too deep in relation to the Length and Width of the skull in a breed there is a lack of balance.

LENGTH OF MUZZLE (8) is measured and taken in ratio to the length of the skull and must be neither too long or too short.

LENGTH OF LOWER JAW (19). This is a most important measurement and is taken in ratio to the overall Length of Head (6) and Width of Skull (10). The dog was originally a carnivorous animal and had to kill to live. Thus the lower jaw, which is the working portion of the jaw, must be very powerful with sufficient room for teeth, to work with maximum efficiency.

WIDTH OF MUZZLE (12) and DEPTH OF MUZZLE (16). It was also necessary for the dog to have large, strong and deep molars for survival. This means a balanced breed ratio is necessary in relation to the Length of the Muzzle (8), Depth of Skull (15) and Width of Skull (11). The drastic lack of width and depth of the muzzle in relation to the skull is becoming a very serious and common fault in many of the breeds today. It also appears to be equally as prevalent in the short as well as the long-muzzled breeds.

WIDTH OF MUZZLE (13) and DEPTH OF MUZZLE (17) — are perhaps most important in the long-muzzled breeds. There is a desired breed tapering both in width and depth of muzzle from the molars to the canines. But it must not be an extreme falling away especially in width midway or at the premolar area. If this is encountered, it is best to check for missing teeth, usually premolars. This is a fault that is also becoming too prevalent.

WIDTH OF MUZZLE (14) and DEPTH OF MUZZLE (18) are taken at the canines. The tapering of a long muzzle in width is governed by the breed Standards in both long and short —muzzled breeds. All breeds appear to require long, strong canines in relation to their size. If this is true, then a good depth in correct ratio to the skull and muzzle would be more or less a universal requirement. If a lack of depth is encountered, examination for the most part will show a rather shallow lower jaw throughout, becoming most apparent at the canines and forward.

Before leaving the Skull and Muzzle it might be wise to recheck the breed Standard, then stand back and take a long look at the dog's head from both the front and side views.

FRONT VIEW. Most of the deviations have shown up in the measurements. A few of the exceptions could be; undesirable flat or domed skulls; or an extremely high *Occiput.

SIDE VIEW — can show up quite a few deviations not found in measuring. If the planes of the top surfaces of the Skull and Muzzle are not parallel, you have a down-faced appearance which could be undesirable. The type of stop is noted as to whether it is sufficiently marked or too much so, too steep or too slanted. The prominence of the bone which forms the upper housing of the eye should be noted. Again the undesirable flat or domed skull will be seen. The domed skull can produce or give the optical illusion of a receding occiput or lack of back skull. The undesirably high occiput is most obvious.

The Roman nose or dishfaced type of muzzle may not necessarily show up in measuring. If the neck is thick and heavy it may seem that the joint of the lower jaw is set back in the neck, producing the appearance of a short lower jaw, which is not necessarily so.

Denotes that the Dictionary, Anatomical or Doggy meaning of words thus marked will be found here or in previous articles.

*FLESH — the soft substance of the body between the skin and bones, especially muscles.

SKULL — is actually the entire head, as used here it refers to the CRANIAL portion which houses the brains, eyes, ears etc.

MUZZLE — the projecting nose and jaws of an animal.

BALANCE — the result of harmony of design.

OCCIPUT — is the bony project felt at the back upper part of the skull.

Mrs. Alice Wagner,

Dear Alice:

I have been giving considerable thought to our conversation on measuring at shows. I think I pretty well agree with you. I cannot help but think that it is more or less broadcasting to the world that breeders, handlers, etc., are dishonest and must be policed.

I am all for measuring, but measuring as a means of learning, a means of keeping records for posterity, etc. Reread "How to Measure" in July/65 P.D. a short quote "IT IS MEANS OF TRAINING YOUR

18-year-old Girl Shows Golden to BIS

Jennifer Peters of Edmonton, Alta., 18, surpassed a number of veteran exhibitors at the Calgary Kennel & Obedience Club shows May 8. Handling her Golden Retriever, Mel-Bach Curly, to Best in Show, she was further delighted when Judge Peter Smith of Woodstock, Ont., named the dog he considered the best Golden Retriever in Canada, who turned out to be Curly's litter brother. Miss Peter's identical twin sister in Hamilton, Ont. also shows Golden Retrievers in addition to Collies.

Judge Smith remarked that it is very rare to see a good Golden Retriever — but when he does, he again realizes how beautiful a good dog can be.

Labradors in Canadian Shows, 1965

Across the country 40 individual Labradors won BB awards or better during the year, and many of these dogs went on to place in the Group. Only one Labrador had a BIS award in the year and only two or three had Group wins, although several had Group 2nds. The highest scoring Labrador for the year came from Ontario where over a dozen Labradors had BB awards, thereby splitting the total points possible among them. Perhaps this is why the Labrador did not make it into the top ten of the Sporting Dogs and similarly, why other members of the Sporting Group did not make the Top Ten. Three Irish Setters all made the Top Ten, dividing a possible total of nearly 1100 points between them.

In the year many Labradors completed their show titles, 20 to be exact and some of these were Field Trial Champions or have since gained their field titles to build up an impressive number of Dual Champion Labradors in the country.

To start the 1966 show season off with a bang in Ontario, at the five Sportsmen's shows there were five different BB winners and all five went on to place in the Group, the largest Sporting Groups seen in the area.

Wimberway Retrievers Outdo "Water Dog" Dog

Owned by Miss Sandy Briggs, Markham, Ont., Ch. Wimberway's Wanda, CD, black Labrador Retriever, picked up six points at the Detroit show in May to complete her American championship. Ch. Wimberway's Wateaki, Can. CD, CDX, Am. CD, also picked up six American points, going BB one day and BOS to Wanda, who took BB the following day. Teak requires just three points to finish his American championship. Whygin's Raw Blackest Mistake (Jock) who went WD at the Sunday show, is featured in Richard Wolters' book Water Dog. "I understand he is writing another book on him, Show Dog," Sandy tells Dogs in Canada.

Mel-Bach Kennels, Reg.

Congratulations to Miss Jennifer Peters on winning BEST IN SHOW with CH. MEL-BACH'S CURLEY CDX at the Calgary Kennel Club All Breed show on May 8, 1966.

Ch. Mel-Bach's Golden Boy, CD (Bruce), Ch. Mel-Bach's Chalco Chips (Chips), Ch. Mel-Bach's Curley, CDX (Curley), Ch. Mel-Bach's Fair Flicka (Flicka) and Mel-Bach's Golden Gaye (5 points) are litter brothers and sisters, whose proud parents are Am. & Can. Ch. Gayhaven Lidiel, CDX and Ch. Saucy Sue of Mel-Bach, CD (Susie).

We are planning on repeating this breeding and reservations are now being accepted.

Tribute must be paid to Ch. Whistler Cove's Toffy, CD, Ch. Northland's Serena, Wilsonia Lady Marj, CD who are retired but well and healthy, and we will never forget Ch. Mel-Bach's Golden Explorer (Rusty) a true gentleman who passed away July 16th, 1964, for their contribution to the above litter.

In addition to Gaye, Flicka and Susie we have Ch. Beckwith's Destiny of Duluth, CD and Mel-Bach's Comely Contessa as matrons and a young promising mate dog, imported from the USA, Beckwith's Golden Galahad (Winners Male at St. Catharines in May).

annual Gordon Setter Specialty show, held at Trenton, N.J., May 8, the Ruess' Junior Puppy female, Hickory Smoke Gilda Cameraon, was the winner of the Best in Sweepstakes award. The entry of 65 Gordons at that show indicates the Gordons are enjoying a new popularity.

When Angela and Douglas Salter's Gordon Setter, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Ger-Don's Ambrose Hobkirk, won Best in Show May 28 at the Mid Canada Dog Show in Winnipeg, your editor checked with several of the old-timer judges at the ringside and found her surmise to be correct — it has been many, many years since a Gordon Setter has taken BIS honors at a Canadian show. Handled by Mrs. Salter, this Gordon is also proficient in field trials and obedience work. He led the breed in wins in Canadian shows in 1965. This was his first BIS.

Improved Irish Setters

Never give your heart to an Irish Setter for nine chances to one he will steal it from you anyhow.

It happened to me away back in 1930 when I purchased Mollie from John B. Sloan. The height of my ambition then was to own the loveliest pet in North Toronto. Mollie was beautiful to look at besides being coy and unaffectedly naive. She was courageous but never aggressive.

One never knows where a hobby may lead. In subsequent years I got talked into the breeding game with Mollie as my first pattern for reproduction. That was 36 years ago and here I am still an ardent fancier and breeder.

I have been requested to write an article on what changes have occurred in the breed in that time. There have been so many it is difficult to know where to start. In that time I have seen the Irish Setter literally made over and restyled.

Basically the Irish Setter is the same dog. The Standard has not changed much if one interprets it as it is written, but the dog has.

The size of the Irish Setter remains much the same with small, medium and large specimens to be seen in breeding kennels and frequently at shows. Strangely enough there is no disqualification where size is concerned, but it is generally conceded that dogs 30" and over are too large. However to counterbalance size the Standard is so flexible as to allow overall balance to take precedence over size.

Heads have improved almost 100%. Instead of the big, broad skulls, short muzzles and high-set ears we now have the lovely, long, lean head, classic chiselling at the stop and the desirable long, low ear and dark eyes.

Necks are longer and more graceful due to the fact that dewlaps have been pretty well bred out. Another former characteristic of the Irish Setter which has disappeared is the old-fashioned barrel-shaped body. This partly accounts for the flatter shoulder and correct angulation. The barrel-shaped body although rugged and strong was rather ugly. It had a tendency to make the dog look bulky and proportionately unbalanced.

This type of body was lauded by certain breeders because of the extensive capacity for lung room. This, they argued, was a tremendous advantage when hunting as the dog had better respiration and seldom got winded. Whether they were right or not is debatable, the fact is that this body is no longer in vogue and has practically disappeared. I have not heard of any dogs lacking stamina because of cramped lungs.

Today we have the improved wedge-shaped body with deep, sloping brisket. There is plenty of lung room as the ribs spring gracefully out from the spine then gradually narrow and deepen. Only very flat-sided dogs would have a deficiency of lung room.

Rear ends, probably the most important part of the dog, have undergone vast improvement. Well angulated stifles and hocks have added greatly to the symmetry of our modern dogs. It is here the dog gets his power and drive and the necessity of strong rear quarters is essential. Dogs with high hip bones and steep croups are seldom seen any more. The same applies to sway and roach backs. There were lots of cowhocks to be

CORRECTIONS

At the championship show held by the Canadian National Sportsmen's Dog Show on March 17th, 1966 published in the May issue of Dogs in Canada the award of Best Canadian Bred in the Breed in the Salukis was shown as being awarded to Mackson's Mirage Of Su Lan. Actually this should have gone to Ch. Kesari Tariya Sabura.

At the championship show held by the Canadian National Sportsmen's Dog Show held on March 16th, 1966 published in the May issue of Dogs in Canada the award of Best Canadian Bred in the Breed in the Chihuahuas (Short Coat) was omitted. This should have been awarded to Gyptim's Roxies' Toodles.

At the championship show held by the Canadian National Sportsmen's Dog Show on March 12th, 1966 published in the May issue of Dogs in Canada the placings of the Retrievers (Labrador) in the Open Male Class read as follows:

Blyth's Randy (D) R. G. Palmer...3.O
Wimberway's Wonder O Windswept (D) Dr. R. Chenoweth...4.O

Actually this should have read:

Wimberway's Wonder O Windswept (D) Dr. R. Chenoweth...3.O
Blyth's Randy (D) R. G. Palmer...4.O

At the championship show held by the Kawartha Kennel Club on April 9th, 1966 published in the June issue of Dogs in Canada the award of Reserve Winners Female in the Bulldogs was omitted. This award should have gone to Thelwall Sweet Babs 2nd.

In the June issue of Dogs in Canada under the heading of New Champions, the Basenji, HADRIAM OF BASENFIELD (641517) was shown as being awarded this title. Actually the correct spelling of this dog's name is HADRIAN OF BASENLAKE (641517).

At the championship show held by the Kent Kennel Club on April 23rd, 1966 published in the June issue of Dogs in Canada the point rating for the Poodles (Toy) read as follows:
POODLES (TOY)---4D, 8B, 1SO; Pts. -D2, B4.
This should have read
POODLES (TOY)---4D, 8B, 1SO; Pts. -D4, B4.
The reason for the change in the point rating is due to the fact that the Best of Winners award was omitted.
This award should have gone to Robin Of Peke-Aboo.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A regular meeting of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club was held on Wednesday, June 1, 1966, with the following members of the Board present: J. C. Anderson (Chairman), Robert L. Blyth, Mrs. Sarah Diamond, Mrs. Pamela B. Mack, William McDerment, Mrs. Hilda F. Pugh, Mrs. N. T. Smith.

FINANCIAL MATTERS

APEX PUBLISHERS AND PUBLICITY LTD.

The Board received the report of the Secretary to the effect that after discussions with Miss Elizabeth Dunn, details of proposed revisions of the Agreements between the Club and Apex Publishers and Publicity Ltd. had been prepared for referral to the Club's solicitor and consideration at the semi-annual meeting of the national Board.

INVESTMENTS

The Board received the report of the Investments Committee to the effect that it had authorized the purchase, on May 26th, of $6,000

Government of Canada 4-1/2% bonds, due September 1, 1983, at a cost of $5,265 plus accrued interest.

REGISTRATION, STUD BOOKS AND RELATED MATTERS

KENNEL NAMES

The Board accepted the report of the Kennel Names Committee which report indicated that the Committee had:

(1) rejected the following names on the grounds that they are commonly used in the naming of dogs: GOLDEN GIRL; BETTY LOU; ROSE LEE; ROSALEE; HEATHER LEA (HEATHER);

(2) rejected the following names on the grounds that they are considered too similar to kennel names which are already registered (shown in brackets): VADA (VALA); ARVA (ARVO); MAR-BAR (MARCAR); BURNHAMDALE (BERNANDALE); OLYMPIA (OLYMPIC); KOLRAINE (CULRAIN); KOLYNNE (CULINN); DERRYCROFT (KERRYCROFT); MATSON (MACKSONS); TERLAN (TERIAN); CULLODEN (COLLEDEN); LIZBETT (LISBETH); TIENA (TARNA); STARDUFF (STAR DUST); RIJO (RIDEAU);

(3) rejected objections to the following names on the basis of the objections received (registered kennel name in brackets): KINKELD, KINGSCLEAR (KINCAID); FALCONHURST (FALKINDALE); SHANLEE, SHAR-LE, SHAR-LOY, SHAR-LOT (SHARR-KON); DE LYNN (BEN-LYNN); TA-MAR (TRU-MAR);

(4) rejected the following names on the grounds that they are very well known English kennel names: AD ASTRA; CAIRNGORM;

(5) rejected the following names on the grounds of inclusion of names which are already registered (shown in brackets): SUNSET GLOW (SUNSET); MORLANDER, MORLANDCEDAR (MORLAND);

(6) rejected the following name on the grounds that it is a well known American kennel name: BETTINAS.

REGISTRATION COMMITTEE

Following receipt of a report of an inspection committee, the Board directed that a file be forwarded to the Chief Registration Officer with the recommendation that he authorize the cancellation of registration of a litter and the individual registration of dogs in the litter, the report of the inspection committee indicating that the dogs were not purebred.

REGISTRATION OF DACHSHUNDS

A member of the Board questioned the present policies on registration of Dachshunds in the case of a Miniature Dachshund imported from England whose Export Certificate, as issued by The Kennel Club (England) indicated that all but one of the 14 immediate ancestors of the imported dog were Miniature Dachshunds.

The Chairman ruled that this is a matter which should be considered by the Registration Committee with a view to the Committee placing a recommendation before the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

IDENTIFICATION

The Secretary reported on an exchange of correspondence with the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals at Montreal with a view to ascertaining the proposed plans of the Montreal Branch of the Society regarding the identification of dogs by tattoo markings, the correspondence having been prompted by the Board's concern that the Society does not adopt a tattooing system which may conflict with the tattooing system employed by breeders registering dogs in the Club's records.

COMPLAINTS, CHARGES AND PROTESTS

SPECIFIC CASES

The Board considered the report of an Advisory Committee which had been appointed to investigate and report on the alleged failure of a number of exhibitors at a championship show to bench dogs, as required by Section 1 of Chapter 19 of the Dog Show Rules.

The Board decided on the disciplinary recommendations which would be placed before the semi-annual meeting of the national Board for consideration.

The Board arranged for an inspection of the private breeding records and identification of dogs owned by two different breeders arising out of a complaint that a dog registered in the Club's records did not bear the tattoo markings reported on its certificate of registration, the other case having to do with apparent irregularities in a number of applications for registration submitted to the Canadian National Live Stock Records.

INTERNAL AND ADMINISTRATION

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE MANAGER

The Board ordered referred to the semi-annual meeting of the national Board, proposals advanced by the Executive Manager with regard to possible new methods of registration and registration procedures which the Executive Manager felt might be helpful to breeders.

Miss Helen Locke, having joined the Club's staff as bookkeeper-typist on June 11, 1941, a pendant watch was presented to her to commemorate twenty-five years of service as an employee of the Club.

BOARD MEETINGS

The Board agreed that there appeared to be no necessity to hold another regular meeting of the Board before the semi-annual meeting of the Board which commences on July 18th.

APPOINTMENTS FOR 1966

Mr. Ed O'Brien having declined re-appointment as the Obedience Representative for Ontario on the grounds of ill health, Mrs. Hilda Pugh, as Chairman of the Obedience Council, agreed to act in that capacity, pending a new appointment at the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

MEMBERSHIP MATTERS

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Board approved the admission to membership of applicants reported on four lists mailed to all members of the Board. Four applications were ordered held in abeyance pending reports on complaints against the applicants.

MISCELLANEOUS MEMBERSHIP MATTERS

The Board approved the action of the Secretary in rejecting the renewals of membership of two persons having overdue accounts with "Dogs in Canada".

DOG SHOWS

ENTRY FORMS AND SUPPLIES

The Secretary reported on replies received to letters which he had addressed to dog food companies seeking information about their future plans with regard to providing clubs with entry forms and other material.

The matter was held over for a more detailed report at the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

DATES

The applications of a specialty club to hold all-breed championship shows in 1967 were ordered referred to the annual meeting of the Board for review, along with the regulations adopted by the Board at its annual meeting regarding the granting of dates to clubs applying for permission to hold all-breed and and specialty shows under the Club's rules. (Secretary's Note: The regulations referred to were published on page 10 of the buff section of the May issue of "Dogs in Canada". The effective date of such regulations is January 1, 1967, not July 1, 1967, as reported in the May issue.)

CHAMPIONS AND CHAMPIONSHIP POINT RATINGS

A proposal advanced by the Secretary with regard to a new method of computing and allocating championship points was ordered referred to the Dog Show Council for consideration and report to the semi-annual meeting of the national Board.

INTERPRETATIONS

Awards earned by a dog at a championship show were ordered cancelled on the grounds that the entry form failed to show the class or classes in which the dog was to compete.

The Board agreed that an entry form is to be considered improperly completed if the wrong sex is given on the entry form, and awards earned by the dog at the show at which it was improperly entered as to sex would be cancelled.

The Board considered the Secretary's report on a case where a Miniature Poodle, which had been officially measured at a show and found to be 15" in height, had received awards at the show.

The Board ordered that the awards be cancelled, and the Secretary seek an explanation from the judge who had made the awards.

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

JUDGES

The Board received and confirmed the recommendations of the Obedience Council on three applicants seeking to establish eligibility to judge one or more obedience classes, the Council in all three cases feeling that the applicants should acquire more experience before being permitted to take written and oral examinations.

FIELD TRIALS

FIELD TRIALS FOR RETRIEVERS

The Board ordered referred to the Field Trial Council for Retrievers for consideration and report, the question of whether or not a club holding a single-day licensed trial for Retrievers should be restricted to two official stakes at the trial, the Council's report to be available for the consideration of the Board at its semi-annual meeting.

KENNEL NAMES

NOTE: Consideration will not be given to an application for registration of any of the following as kennel names: (1) any name which is registered as a kennel name with The Canadian Kennel Club; (2) any name which is registered as a kennel name with The American Kennel Club; (3) any name which is phonetically identical toa name registered as a kennel name with The Canadian Kennel Club; (4) the word "Royal" either as a whole or as part of a name; (5) a colour, by itself; (6) one or more individual letters; (7) a numeral, or includes a numeral; (8) any name exceeding twelve letter spaces; (9) any name which, if brought to the attention of the Board, is considered to be misleading or confusing or unsuitable as a kennel name.

WIMBERWAY LABRADORS
(Reg'd)

Since 1963, we have completed 8 Champions and 9 Obedience titles — all dogs of our breeding or ownership. Several others have points towards their Championships and are part way to their Obedience titles.
All breeding stock has been X-rayed, and is certified clear of hip dysplasia. We breed for quality, temperament, and ability, from stock which has proven itself through many generations.
We show all our dogs and train them for field and/or obedience trials.

Pictured: "The Twins", litter mates. Ch. Wimberway's Wateaki, CD, CDX, Am. CD. Top winning Labrador in Canada for 1965. (Teak has 12 points towards his American Championship.)
Am. & Can. Ch. Wimberway's Wanda, CD. (Group Winner).
Both dogs are proven producers of Show, Field and Obedience trial winners.

seen in the early 'thirties. This glaring fault was the downfall of many an otherwise good dog but happily these have been cleaned up if one is to judge from the specimens appearing at dog shows. The feet of the Irish Setter are smaller and neater; at least they appear so, which may be due to more foot care and better grooming.

The breed has been greatly enhanced by the improvement in coat and color. By selective breeding the texture and color of today's dogs leave little to be desired. Gone are the light-colored coats with the faded red and yellowish tones, skimpy feathering and rather coarse hair. White spots have almost disappeared, as well as white on the feet. The modern breeder looks to the mahogany-colored coat and the darker it is the more esteemed it is to the casual observer. It is not unusual to hear people exclaim "what a gorgeous color".

In temperament or disposition the Irish Setter of today is a tractable and compatable animal if taken the right way. He is full of moods, whims and humor and is smart enough to know when and how to apply them for his best interests. Previous records of Irish Setter disposition were not good. Thirty-five years ago many complaints and insults were levelled at this breed. Most of these complaints came from men who were interested in hunting and field work and if they tried to whip cooperation into an Irish they would undoubtedly have had a very rebellious dog on their hands. Abuse is just ruinous to his trusting and carefree nature. Accusations against this breed in the past are not given credence by present day fanciers.

I have always found these dogs to excel in temperament. In fact, I think their disposition to be one of their greatest assets. They are friendly and gay with a bit of the clown thrown in and they are seldom vicious. With the care, attention and companionship the Irish Setter gets today, his innate animation and ebullience have been toned down and he is in most cases a happy and contented dog. Neglect and indifference will make a tramp of any breed of dog.

With all these improvements is it any wonder that the Irish Setter is among the top show dogs of all breeds! He is always an imposing and competitive rival, a status not attained through mere chance. Long years of intelligent breeding and good care form the index to this breed's tremendous popularity today.

Basically the Irish Setter is the same dog but a greatly improved

ASCOB Puppy Takes Sweepstakes, Then BB in Cocker Specialty

Mrs. Harry Reno's American Cocker Spaniels, well-known in Canadian show circles under the prefix Abbi, came to the fore again June 4 at the American Cocker Spaniel Specialty, Zone III when her Can. Ch. Abbi's Catch You took Best Puppy in the Ascob Sweepstakes. She went on in the regular classes through to Best Opposite Sex in Ascobs, then to BOS and Best of Breed — at the age of nine months.

The English Cocker Spaniel Is an All-Purpose Dog

The following article appeared in Dogs in Canada 10½ years ago.

English Cocker breeder M. Prager, On Time Farm, Middle Valley, N.J., wrote Dogs some time ago that this article still serves his kennels well in providing information about the breed at shows as well as to purchasers of On Time puppies. "Nothing better has been written since."

It is becoming evident that in this day and age the average Canadian thinks of a dog merely as a pet; in many cases this means a sort of "live toy" for his children. Expendable and easily replaceable, this class of dog receives a minimum of training both in indoor and outdoor living. The result is a group of Canine Delinquents who can make life miserable in any community and cause an unjust stigma to attach to the responsible dog owner and fancier.

The reason for this development is not difficult to analyze. Our world has become so mechanized that more and more people are falling out of sympathy with those natural things which make their presence felt mainly by their nuisance potential. The pigeons which grace many an Old World square are driven from the modernistic courts of the New World as filthy pests; the plodding milk horses with whom we made friends as children are cursed at now by the impatient motorists we grew up to be. The dog likewise is maligned as a wrecker of gardens and an upsetter of garbage cans by a generation too heedless to correct these faults in their children's pets, a generation for whom, to a large measure, the dog has lost his usefulness.

Anyone who buys an "expensive" pedigreed dog (and, unfortunately, the average citizen considers even the fifty dollar puppy expensive) takes on a considerable responsibility. His valuable dog must be as well looked after as his children — otherwise the Modern Era (in the form of an automobile in a hurry) will probably liquidate his investment. Since most children are too careless to give a dog protective supervision, this takes most registered dogs out of the "Child's Toy" category and pushes them into that of an "Adult's Companion." Dog breeders must therefore direct their attention to an adult market for their dogs, and in doing so fare better if they have something to sell that is more than a good show prospect. In a utilitarian age the dog that is useful is at a premium over one who merely reflects the glory of his ancestors.

However, the machine age has caused other changes. With a steadily increasing amount of personal cars in use, more and more people are able to get out of the city to indulge in the hunting of waterfowl and upland game. Drive out of the city on Opening Day or on any long weekend during the hunting season, and the Dawn Barrage would put the Battle of Britain in the shade. Probably 50% of the birds shot down are recovered; the remainder fall out of reach in water, fall into thick swath or tall grass, or in the case of pheasants run hundreds of yards before their wounds overcome them; these are never found. Many of these wasted birds would be retrieved, and possibly more would be flushed to shoot at if the hunters had a dog for a partner. The day would be more satisfying from every standpoint. "If only I had a dog," is the most common statement one hears during the shooting season.

Here at last we find one of the few remaining non-sentimental uses of a dog left to the average city-dweller. As a member of a working partnership a good dog can pay for him — or her — self many times over by services rendered during a single season. Here again we can run into objections. The hunting season is a short one; most field dogs run to a large size with large sized habits and large sized appetites. "Why," asks the average citizen-sportsman, "should I maintain an undersized pony in my home for ten months of the year in order to increase the efficiency of my sport for the other two months? What's more, during the ten months when my dog is primarily a pet I would like to have him in the house, but my wife says that if that overgrown nuisance comes into the house he'll have to spend his time in the cellar unless I want to see my house wrecked. How will I exercise such a dog in the limited time I have most of the year? Sure I'd like a partner, but the way things stack up he won't have much of a life."

Now in case anyone was wondering what this has to do with English Cockers, this is the point at which they come into the picture:

The English Cocker Spaniel, though sadly out of fashion as a hunting dog, was developed primarily for just the above conditions. Somewhat larger than his American descendants, he has all the stamina of the larger Spaniel breeds and all of their versatility in being able to deal with any normal situation. Although he was originally an upland game dog, he is able to meet the needs of the duck hunter with all necessary efficiency. In a rigorous climate his staying power is admittedly less than a larger dog, but this is not as serious a bar as it would appear on first inspection. The usual city-dwelling Saturday morning hunter does most of his shooting between dawn and eight o'clock in the morning, nine perhaps in the later season. After that time the birds are generally flying high and out of range and most of us tend to call it a day and go home. For the all-day enthusiast with a boat, blind and decoys, the larger breeds are unquestionably the best — especially under very cold conditions. In field shooting, whether the quarry be ducks or upland game, the English Cocker will keep up with the best of them easily outlasting the liberated chairbound city-man.

The English Cocker has on the other hand many practical advantages over the larger breeds. On the way to and from a shoot he doesn't have to have the whole back seat of the car to himself. Curled up on the seat or on the floor he takes less room than the average suitcoat. Returning to a boat he is hardly likely to overturn it scrambling aboard. At home, off duty, he is as happy in an apartment as he would be in a three-storey mansion. At one time I lived in a small motel for eight weeks with three of them, without affecting their disposition by the crowding. To a Cocker a fenced back yard is as satisfactory an exercise ground as a ten-acre field. That is to say, he can remain sound in mind and body even in the protected confines of a city lot. A homebody, he will rarely stray far if he does get out, and when he returns he will probably be in one piece, and have forborn to upset every garbage pail in the neighbourhood. He isn't heavy enough to upset the usual "legal" garbage pail. His disposition is recognized as being the most trustworthy and loving of any breed known. He is not over-friendly, his alleged timidity being really a deep reserve, an advantage when any stranger might try to lure him off, or a distant acquaintance who doesn't like dogs drops in unexpectedly. The loyal and gentle qualities ascribed to the breed are accentuated in the bitches, who are, be it known, as keen in the field as the dogs. One last point, the English Cocker is no sissy. I have often seen our dogs, from puppyhood upwards, put to flight intruders many times their size, more by the valour and determination of their challenge than by the weight of their attack.

To conclude, I would say that the English Cocker stands out from all other breeds as an average man's dog. One has to go far to find other breeds who can match them for gentleness, loyalty, usefulness, and convenience taken together, and for the first two, one never would.

Thrilling Weimaraner Family

When Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Carter, Ghost Inn Kennels, Downsview, Ont., imported their male pup, Monomoy's Bravo Chipper, last spring from Mrs. J. A. Mason, West Hartford, Conn., they little realized that his litter mates (one brother and one sister) were to be so successful, as was Chip's mother Gronbach's Bewitching (a Weimaraner Futurity Winner in '63), and his Sire Gronbach's Aladdin CD (Group 1st Westminster '65).

Fifteen months after they were born, Chip's brother, Monomoy's Bravo Buccanneer, had his Mexican Championship. The same weekend that Chip finished his Canadian

Basenji Club of Canada

One of the newer breed clubs in Canada is the Basenji Club of Canada, which will be two years old this August. The club was pioneeered by a nucleus of British Columbia and Washington State Basenji owners and breeders following a large Basenji entry in the Hound Group at the North Shore Kennel Club All Breed Show, August 8, 1964.

The work and vision of these original founders has materialized in a national breed club with a growing membership that extends from coast to coast. Among those who pioneered the club are names well known in Basenji circles, not only in Canada but in the United States, Great Britain and elsewhere. Among them: Honorary President, Mrs. Sheila W. Anderson, Glenairly Kennels, Victoria, B.C., who is also well-known as a judge in Canada, the United States and Great Britain; Mrs. Margaret E. Robertson, President, known for her Merlea (Dancers) Basenjis. Mrs. Robertson also is the current President-Elect of the Basenji Club of America.

Vice-President Robert Patchell is well known in the field of television direction and production and is with Canadian Broadcasting Corporation television, Vancouver. He is associated with the club Show Chairman, John Fenney, in the operation of Xalmes Kennels. The success of several Basenji Booster shows has been greatly due to the efforts of Mr. Fenney.

Much of the success and development of the Basenji Club of Canada is due to the zeal and hard work of the inital Secretary-Treasurer, New Westminster Fire Chief, J. L. Pearson, owner of the Jinadoe Kennels, New Westminster. The club was fortunate to have Chief Pearson's guiding hand in helping it to become of age and it was with regret that the club accepted his resignation due to additional responsibilities.

The annual meeting of the club is held in the month of August and within 30 days after the close of any championship show which may be held by the BCOC. This has been following the Western Booster show which is held with the North Shore Kennel Club All Breed Show at North Vancouver.

An Ontario Booster show is to be held in conjunction with the Scarborough KC show, September 25, at Don Mills, Toronto.

The club's monthly newsletter, the Basenji Yodel, is edited by the energetic Basenji booster, Miss Diane Vieira, Toronto. Basenji fanciers are asked to send in news about Basenjis to Miss Vieira.

The purpose of the club is to establish contact between owners of purebred Basenjis, develop more interest in the barkless breed, promote and advise upon its fine points.

Information regarding the club may be obtained by writing to the undersigned.

Canadians Welcomed at America's Biggest Beagle Event

George and Lynn Beniston of Cooksville, Ont. attended the International Federation Beagle Futurity trials held through the first week of May near Pittsburgh, Pa. This is the biggest event in Beagling in the United States for Derbies and Futurities (two-year-old hounds). Beaglers come from all parts of the United States for this event and some from Canada. This was our first visit and the second visit for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Honsinger of St. Thomas, Ont.

The number of hounds entered were as follows:—
13" males — 47 15" males — 89
13" females — 135 15" females — 67

The International Futurity Committee should be congratulated on the fine organization of such a trial. The grounds were perfect, plenty of rabbits and each brace of hounds had ample opportunity to display their qualities. The club houses were very cozy where beaglers could get together and discuss their individual hounds and enjoy the fine meals served by the Women's Auxiliary.

The hospitality shown to us as Beaglers and Canadians by our American neighbors has left us with the desire to make this an annual trip.

We strongly recommend to any Canadian beagler who has the opportunity to attend the International to do so. We feel sure they will enjoy themselves and will want to return the following year.

This Boxer is Truly One of the "Jet" Set

The female Boxer, Can. Ch. Gaymitz Jet Action, more than justified her name by taking the Breed from the classes in two days handrunning in American shows. The first was June 11 at Canandaigua under Judge Mrs. William Anerson. She repeated the win June 12 at Batavia under Judge Phil March and now needs only three more points for her American championship. Owned by Mr. Michael Millan, Thornhill, Ont., she was bred by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Northover, Stouffville, Ont., and handled by Mr. Northover.

Canadian Boxer and Boxer Club Puppy Match Success in June

Ch. Jandaire's Fire of Standfast, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Boris Janda, Stouffville, Ont., took the Breed, over Specials, from the Classes at the recent Oakland County K.C. show in Detroit. Judge was Mr. Robert Kerns of Philadelphia. This 1½ year old female was handled by Mr. Janda.

Mr. Janda judged the annual Boxer Club of Canada Puppy Match held in Toronto on June 5. As mentioned in the May issue of Dogs, this year the Boxer Club's Puppy Match was expanded to include an Open Class, providing for competition of Boxers over 12 months of age. Winner of the Puppy Class (2 to 12 months) was Scher Khaun of Carousel, an eight months old female owned and bred by Mr. and Mrs. Ben DeBoer, Thornhill, Ont. Winner of the Open Class was Lynlea Merry Monarch. This young male was bred and owned by Mrs. Fred Smith of Burlington who went on to handle him to Best in Match. A warm, sunny day undoubtedly contributed to the success of this annual Match which this year drew 31 entries, four from the United States.

Mason-Dixon Collie Club Plans Second Specialty

The Mason-Dixon Collie Club plans a second specialty show this year for October 2, held in conjunction with the Old Dominion Kennel Club in Alexandria, Va., states Show Chairman Henry Dyson.

The innovation marks the 20th anniversary year for the Mason-Dixon group. W. R. Van Dyck, who was present at the organizational meeting July 4, 1946, has been invited to judge. The club's regular spring specialty, held independently for the last two years at Gaithersburg, Md., has topped the 100 entry mark.

What I Look For In German Shepherd Movement

PART THREE

B. THE MIDDLE PIECE

There is more to the dog beyond the front so let's go on to the body, without which in the proper proportions and shapes no Shepherd would be able to move with the ease and efficiency for which the breed is so well known.

The approximately pear-shaped body gradually curves out down from the backbone to a width sufficiently substantial but without a look of grossness. Then in a longer curve, almost flat, the sides swing inward, then sharply inward just before joining beneath the body approximately half the height of the dog.

These almost flat sides provide ideal foundation for the shoulder and upper arm to lie on and for the elbows to slide back along. In fact the ribs beneath the shoulder assembly are flatter and the body deeper to allow for the seating of the shoulder assembly. They spring out back of the working area of the shoulders and provide lung room, then gradually arch in longer arcs to provide protection for the organs, and stability to the body. Actually the rib cage is shaped somewhat like the front of a boat.

Reasonable compactness is also desirable in the middle piece which is usually provided through shortness of loin but a short loin with short ribbing or round ribbing will only create additional problems for the dog in motion. They can get too short!

Much of the quality of the middle piece can be established by the firmness. A middle piece that moves little in any direction while the dog is moving at any speed is probably built right for that dog. The reason for an instability in the body is not always easy to determine, but nevertheless there should be no bouncing in the back, nor roll anywhere along the body, nor the whole body. If the fault is not in the construction of the body itself, incoordination of front and rear can tear at the firmest body and make it shake and roll from side to side.

A round ribbed dog, because of its width, will restrict the front, increase the pull from side to side and whether it is the ribbing throwing the front out of time with the rear or whether the grossness of body causes the back to bounce is often hard to say. In any case, such a dog would be expected to move faulty before it takes a step.

A long-loined dog usually shows weakness over the loin because it is just too long. Sometimes these dogs fool, and in spite of long loin, if it is firm they can really move. Much reason for this is that front and rear legs are far enough away that even relative incoordination doesn't hinder a lot. Any weakness in the topline though, must be considered as a loss of power which hinders the efficiency. An overly compact dog, perhaps because of short ribbing and loin, will probably crab, bringing both back legs on the outside of either front leg. This makes the whole dog move on the bias or diagonal and it will roll. Sometimes excessive shortening of the loin will tend to restrict the forward reach of the back legs especially if it is combined with long ribbing and a steep croup. This dog would probably refuse to go beyond a certain speed because of his god-given encumbrances.

C. THE PELVIS

Attached firmly to the backbone with cartilage on either side and actually dropping over the backbone is the pelvis from which there are sockets or bowl-like holes into which fit the heads of femurs of both hind legs (femurs are thigh bones). Consequently, as one hind leg pushes the body forward, through one side of the pelvis, the other hind leg reaches forward to take the shock and get into position for its own push and is anchored to the other side of the pelvis at the hip. Therefore, strength, shock absorbing qualities and angle of the pelvis are very important. The pelvis bone, the outer appearance of which is called the croup, has a direct bearing on the functioning of the hind legs. A long pelvis increases the area for anchoring to the backbone through which it transmits the power it receives from the legs and increases muscle attachment area. A short pelvis can lose the power by giving under strain and time, not being firm. A steep pelvis will generally increase a dog's hind leg reach while restricting the follow-through. A flat or horizontal-like pelvis will restrict the reach of a dog and it will probably kick up behind. These last two examples are only listed as probables because other faults could possibly compensate which would at least give a different appearance; e.g. a straight-fronted, flat-crouped dog might not kick up but would not be going anywhere anyway. The steep-crouped dog can often present an appearance of follow through by lifting the leg at the stifle at the end of its would-be push. Don't fool yourself, this dog when pulling can look good! The breadth of pelvis has little bearing on the movement other than wide pelvis formation will create greater lateral displacement and cause a roll in the croup or loin. Narrow pelvis is poor as it causes dogs to travel unsoundly close, sometimes with hocks actually knocking. As in most factors concerning the German Shepherd moderation is the word.

The set of the tail can lead to misunderstanding as to the slope of the croup; 30 degrees off horizontal is considered ideal, but this angle should be considered from the top of pelvis bone at top of croup to the end of the tail bone or ishium tuberosity.

Another important function of the pelvis is the anchoring of the most powerful muscles in the body and it is through a sort of see-saw motion using the hip joint as fulcrum that these muscles vault the dog forward. No wonder they ask for a long sloping pelvis.

There is an action sometimes seen in the hip area that I am sure is not proper but seems to be either disregarded or unnoticed by many judges. I call it 'slippery hips' and the action appears to be just that — a slipping of something in the hip area as the dog pushes forward. Some of these dogs do quite well in shows but any lengthy gaiting seems to increase the action. To me, it is irrelevant how many x-ray experts proclaim these hips normal by x-ray, it is very unsound and shouldn't be taken lightly. Most of these dogs do experience difficulty when they go through strenuous gaiting, unfortunately too many times it is not before taking the prize.

D. THE REAR

The desirable hind leg construction has bones of the femur or upper leg approximately nearly as long as the length of the tibia or lower leg and a relatively short metatarsus. The femur is attached to the tibia at the stifle joint which includes the patella (or knee cap), the metatarsus is attached at the sharply defined hock joint. This hind leg construction should balance at rest the angles of the front assembly, keeping in mind that there are three angles in the rear and only two in the front. Geometrically, I don't know whether the similarity could actually be calculated, but I would say the degrees of straightening of the angles when the dog is trotting should nearly be the same front and rear, e.g.; REAR, hip 15, stifle 15, hock 15, total 45 FRONT, Shoulder 30, elbow 15, total 45.

The angulation in the rear must be definite, but too much bend at the stifle would be weakening when standing and does not straighten sufficiently in time to transmit the power snapped through from the lever back of the hock and in such cases the push bends the stifle again. As in so many facets of movement the timing is so set that one action triggers another and the relation and angle of one bone to another has to be right or complications arise. In the case of the hind leg the muscles and tendons anchored in the front of the pelvis tighten and pull the leg forward from muscles connected at the stifle and joining with the muscles and tendons stretched along the front of the tibia and continuing to the foot. When the foot strikes the ground the whole leg is relatively straight with the front of leg muscles and tendons tight which holds the kneecap firmly in its groove between the femur and tibia, which in turn makes the femur and tibia-fibia combination relatively strong as one bone and able to bear the weight of carrying dog forward. The hock is not so supported, however, and as the weight of the dog is above it, the hock joint bends under the weight but as it does the muscle-tendon combination in the back of the legs starts to tighten and by the time the metatarsus reaches the perpendicular the mighty muscles back of the thigh are combining to pull on the little handle back of the hock. As the metatarsus and foot are snapped back giving propulsion, the patella is tightened completely in the stifle through the momentum of carrying the leg, this time backward into its straightest line of bones. Now the timing of the foot snapping back has to coincide with the tightening of the patella so that the power is pushed right up through the leg, the pelvis and on to the backbone. The patella also acts to stop the femur and tibia bending backward but in the Shepherd with very reasonable angulation the legs never get quite straight enough for this to be a problem.

The whole action must be smooth without hitches or hesitations in any part of the leg and the whole picture of the rear working should be one of balanced smoothness, the fore motion balancing the rear drive and follow through and always close to the ground. Here is where the importance of trueness comes in, as each bone must push directly on the one next to it. A twist of the metatarsus, turning one foot out is sometimes seen. This not only will complicate the hock joint but also hazard the follow through. Looking from the front or rear the hind legs must move in two straight columns of bones and although at greater speed it is expected that the feet will converge towards a center line as do the front feet, the bones of the leg should still be lined up.

Cow hocks, crossing over and very narrow travelling would be more seriously criticized than wideness at the hocks but this too should be considered faulty. When determining trueness it is very important to have the dog going on a straight line away or towards you.

E. THE WHOLE DOG FROM FRONT AND REAR

As the dog moves in at a normal speed we should see the feet and legs, all four, coming at us relatively straight and converging towards a center line. In the best examples, it is hard to see why the forward reaching hind foot doesn't strike the following through front foot but the timing is so sharp that the front foot has just left the ground as the hind foot is striking.

Faults seen looking at the whole dog are:

1. When both hind legs travel on either side of both front legs it pulls the whole body onto a forward moving diagonal position which is called crabbing.
2. A dog travelling with both hind legs, one on either side of both front legs has to be wide behind which is also not desirable.
3. Both hind legs travelling within both front legs usually is due in part to wideness in the front which is undesirable but not as bad as some faults. The usual and quite acceptable is to find one hind foot striking between the front legs, one outside of either front leg.

Looking from the rear generally, the same picture is seen in reverse but take your eyes away from the legs and watch the body. It should be going straight forward without rolls or hitches from withers to tail. Look for co-ordination over the whole animal and when there is no twitch, hitch, hesitation or roll that might be there for the purpose of letting one part catch up to another, you are probably looking at a sound animal, at least from the rear.

F. THE WHOLE DOG FROM THE SIDE

Now we come to the final analysis of German Shepherd Dog Movement from the side. In our piece by piece breakdown we have nearly eliminated everything that is not a sound mover but there are some dogs with one fault balancing another that still must be considered because of their fine, ground-covering movement. Some that could be caught in a further elimination would be the quick-stepper who seems to have everything in proportion but does not use it. They take many quick steps and although they seem to be going very fast they are getting there no faster than a dog doing far less work. The easier moving dog is much to be preferred. Also there are dogs that look good when standing but as they take off, up come the rear or the back dips and away they go losing all the value of their work in a hole in the middle.

The dog we want will reach forward smoothly with one hind leg levering the body forward, and as the patella locks the hind leg as one bone the foot will push off into a low follow through and drive the power up the hind leg through the pelvis, a backbone that is now nearly a continuation of the upward sloping leg gently sloping up and forward. The shoulder muscles activate the opposite front leg which reaches forward to absorb the push from the rear and the whole coordinated process is in motion. Each front leg moving out low to the ground absorbing the shock of its alternate rear push that comes through a seemingly immovable middle piece that slopes gently to the rear and continues on to a rudder tail flowing behind, and on and on it goes, like a wonderfully efficient harmonious machine. This is what I look for in German Shepherd movement.

Club Hopes to Have Two Noted German Judges to Assess Specialty

In 1964 the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada instituted a FIRST in Canadian Shepherdom by importing from Germany, an authority on the breed to judge their annual Specialty Show. This idea was well received by the fancy and in 1965 Herr Christoff Rummel was brought from Germany. A new high in entries took place. The Show Committee for 1966 recognizes this as an overwhelming vote of approval for the German judge from the fancy generally and have invited the services of not one, but two, noted authorities on the breed. Their names, at the present time, must be withheld pending final approval from the CKC. Both men come highly recommended by Dr. Funk, the leader of the Verein fur Deutsche Schaferhund.

This show has always been Canada's largest single breed show and we hope, this year, to top our 1965 entry of 170.

Encouraging Showing of Great Danes at Specialty

The second Specialty of the Great Dane Club of Canada, held in conjunction with the Forest City KC, marked another success under the guidance of club President and Show Chairman Ian Stewart. Judge Mrs. Mary Johnston of Connecticut was greeted with an entry considerably higher than that of the first Specialty. While American competitors' Danes did some of the top winning, Canadian entries were a good match for them. Details of the wins will appear in the official Show and Trial events and are therefore not published in these columns.

At the close of the show members of the club and friends enjoyed dinner at the Holiday Inn, with arrangements by Mrs. Doris Tallon.

Sams Clear of Dysplasia Listed by Club

The Samoyed Association of Canada announces it has compiled a list of all Samoyeds X-rayed and shown to be clear of hip dysplasia. Anyone wishing to know of a Samoyed kennel in their area which has its dogs X-rayed or a specific dog X-rayed clear is invited to write to The Samoyed Association of Canada, 1157 Montreal St., Kingston, Ont. Some listings go back three or four generations.

Point System

The system of assigning one point per dog defeated for Bests in Show and group placements (and, in Canada, for Bests of Breed) is an equitable and highly popular method for determining top winning dogs in each breed . . . and among all breeds.

With this method, the individual's ability to defeat other dogs is measured. The system gives a more true picture of quality than the method of rating dogs purely on the number of wins which may have been obtained with little or no competition.

Canadian and American exhibitors are equally enthusiastic about this system, striving for the top winning spots for their dogs in the various breeds.

Of interest to Pembroke Welsh Corgi enthusiasts is a comparison between the 1965 results for Pembrokes in the USA and Canada.

Two of the three top Pembrokes in Canada are bitches, while no bitch is in the top three in the USA. No reason for this fact is apparent from the records. One might speculate that Canadian owners of outstanding bitches are more inclined to campaign them, possibly because there has been no consistent-winning and consistently-campaigned male Corgi in Canada for several years.

In the USA, with several winning and frequently-shown males throughout the country, there seems little chance for a bitch to win BB, probably due to the tendency to "send the male in the group."

Coastal Corgi Owners Enjoy Eventful Evening

Forty Corgi owners gathered at "Corgana", home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Huggins and their Pembroke Welsh Corgis in West Vancouver, B. C. The occasion was a visit by Judges Ken and Nan Butler "of Way", well-known English breeder-judges of Pembroke Welsh Corgis. On a round-the-world trip judging Corgis, Vancouver was their last stop after nearly three months away from England. During that time they had judged hundreds of Corgis in New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and California.

cluded competitors from as far away as Seattle, Victoria and Kelowna. "Ken judged the dogs and Nan the bitches, collaborating for Best in Match. Winner was Bud and Pat Brumpton's import, Peggysmill Clansman; BOS was Mrs. Betty Jamison's Corgana Ovation," Mrs. Butler informs Dogs in Canada.

Lively discussions followed a question and answer period after dinner. Guests enjoyed Mr. Butler's talk on his impressions of Corgis in Australia and New Zealand, illustrating with pictures of all the winning dogs. A few Corgis were placed on the table while the Butlers pointed out important aspects.

The Kerry Blue Terrier In California

In California we have two clubs: The Kerry Blue Terrier Club of Northern California and The Kerry Blue Terrier Club of Southern California. The first point show of the Northern Club was held in 1952 at Golden Gate KC. The Southern Club was formed in 1946 and is therefore celebrating its 20th anniversary this year. At their first specialty the entry was 42 and in 1961 the largest show was at Harbor Cities with 76 Kerries entered. The club holds a Specialty every year, usually at Santa Barbara with an average entry of 40. A puppy sweepstakes is held on the same day.

In April and October Puppy Matches and Futurities are held with average entries of 30-35 puppies. The Kerry Blue in California is basically the same lovable rascal. I have found the main difference in Kerries in California and Kerries in Canada to be in presentation. The ears are carried higher through being set higher in puppyhood. They are also trimmed in a much shorter style and in my opinion this detracts from their appearance as the beauty of a Kerry lies in its silky wavy coat. I have observed that in Canada Kerries would appear to excel in good heads and necks, whereas in California the hindquarters are better. Coats and color are much the same.

Most exhibitors in California show their dogs in Puppy Matches and Sanction Matches until they are really mature and only enter them in point shows when they are 18 months to two years old. Thus they do not make champions, as a rule, until they are approximately two years old or older. I must point out that many Sanction Matches have entries of 1,500 to 2,000, all breeds.

Of course, the climate is a great help as we seldom have to cope with a soggy wet dog or one with legs, feet and stomach smothered in snowballs. In fact the Kerry in California lives a good life in the sunshine and air-conditioned home or kennel.

Lakeland Terrier Tops More Than 5,000 Competitors

When 5,054 dogs at the Manchester Dog Show Society event met in Englang earlier this year, the show brought the Lakeland Terrier to the fore. Judge Manuel Ibarra Mora, of Mexico, gave BIS honors to Ch. Stingray of Derrabah. He is shown here, second from left. Sixty judges from England, Belgium, Finland, Sweden and Mexico assessed this two-day show, held annually at Belle Bue Gardens. Last October Mr. Ted Gundersen judged at a show in Mexico, of which Mr. Mora was an official, and both gentlemen judged in Nassau in January of this year.

Seaglen, Not Sailor

The wheaten male Scottish Terrier imported by Mrs. J. F. Harris, Komoka, Ont. as mentioned on page 32 of the June issue carries the name of Glad-Mac's Skipper of Seaglen, not Sailor, as previously reported to Dogs.

Staffordshire Bull Terriers

On April 30 an event took place which will become a landmark in the history of the Staffordshire Bull Terrier Club of Canada. The occasion was the club's first Booster Show, held under the auspices of the United Kennel Club in the Town of Mount Royal, Que.

At this first Booster Show there was a good representation of the Staffords of Montreal and environs with eight of the breed entered. This was a record for Staffords in this area; last year there were only two in the United Kennel Club shows and for many years prior to that none had been seen in shows in this vicinity.

In the section of the show where the Staffords were benched the club had its large framed sign with a yellow background and in the centre the club's crest: the name of the club and its motto, "Nemo me impune lacessit" encircling a painting of a Stafford. The sign was given to the club by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Horn, pioneers of the breed in Canada. In addition, each dog's name was printed and mounted on his bench.

Mrs. Faye Fitzgerald was the able judge. In the classes all the winners were presented with a china model of the Staffordshire Bull Terrier except for the Senior Puppy Male where the special prize of a set of mugs was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Horn.

Interest in the Stafford has markedly increased since the formation of the breed club. So far in 1966 (early May) there have been more Staffords shown than there were in all of 1965. Every effort will be made to continue this upward trend so that more people can become acquainted with this rather special breed — a Stafford is a real dog — loyal, courageous, affectionate and trustworthy — and one who, once known and understood, engenders the same loyalty and affection in its owner so that "once a Stafford fancier always a Stafford fancier."

EYE TO REACT AUTOMATICALLY AND VISUALIZE 6" as 6", 45 degrees as 45 degrees etc., WITH A REASONABLE DEGREE OF ACCURACY. An approach which, in the final analysis, will enable you to pick the same dogs as "the fellow with the eye". However you will have the "why" as well as the "eye". Which means you will AUTOMATICALLY REACT to an over or undersized dog.

I feel that the Standards, in many cases, are so frightfully vague with so much leeway or "ifs" and "buts", that the result is confusion rather than dishonesty.

A judge's lot could be made much easier if every breed had a DESIRED HEIGHT FOR THE MALE. The bitch would be 5% less and more refined. In both sexes there could be a leeway of 5% above and below the DESIRED. This gives a 10% range and anything outside this range is an automatic disqualification. I am quite sure most breeders feel that height at the withers in relation to size is just as important in their breed as in any other breed, but are simply trying to avoid this measuring in the ring bit.

In conclusion, the importance of size in the ring is being continually stressed, but it is the pet owner to whom we owe our prime responsibility. Most of us depend a bit on the funds from our pet puppies to help us improve our stock and produce show dogs. I find more and more people buying pets do quite a bit of reading and research before they buy. They naturally choose a breed which will suit their needs or desires when it matures. We should try not to disappoint them. □

Major Victory in Fight for Proper Care of Lab Animals

The Society for Animal Protective Legislation, Washington, D.C. announced in June that at last a major victory in the fight for decent treatment of laboratory animals has been won. The Senate Commerce Committee has approved Senator Magnuson's bill to require humane care and housing of animals inside laboratories as well as in dealers' premises and in transit. The next step is to obtain its enactment into law.

The Senate version of H.R. 13881 requires laboratories, animal dealers and persons transporting the animals to care for and handle them humanely. Dogs, cats, primates, rabbits, hamsters and guinea pigs will come under the protection of the Secretary of Agriculture, who will set and enforce humane standards including minimum requirements with respect to the housing, feeding, watering, sanitation, ventilation, shelter from extremes of weather and temperature, separation by species and adequate veterinary care. Dogs and cats sold by dealers to laboratories must be marked or identified in such humane manner as the Secretary may prescribe, and records must be made and kept by dealers and research facilities so that theft of these animals for sale to laboratories will become virtually impossible. All laboratories using dogs or cats are included in the bill, and they must humanely care for the other animals mentioned, too. No dog or cat may be sold or offered for sale in commerce at a public auction or by weight unless in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary. Dealers who violate the law may be fined $1,000 and/or imprisoned up to one year. Research facilities are subject to cease and desist orders by Federal Courts if found in violation by the Secretary of Agriculture. Compliance with the humane regulations will be mandatory on both laboratories and dealers six months from enactment.

It is genuinely hoped that the time is not too far away when the Canadian federal government will take a similar step and once legislation has been passed, make it law — with plenty of teeth.

More Pekes on the Prairies

"It is encouraging to see the increasing interest in the Pekingese in Alberta this year," writes R. E. Abrey of Calgary, "as is evident by the excellent quality of the English imports brought in by Mrs. Abrey and Mrs. Kertan and the quality of the Canadian dogs being exhibited . . . Lethbridge had its largest entry of Pekes this spring, with 12 entries and Calgary nine."

Must Dispose of Toy Manchesters

Readers will be sorry to learn that Mrs. Ida Glenney, Glen Aubray Kennels, 21 Aubrey Ave., Oak Ridges, Ont., must part with all but one of her beloved dogs. Mrs. Glenney, one of Canada's best-known long-time breeders of Toy Manchesters, writes from the Newmarket Hospital (Floor 4 E, Room 430) where she has been confined after a bad fall, that she would like "some honest person who is a real dog lover to take three good brood females on breeder terms for me where they wil be in heated kennels in winter."

She can be reached by telephone in her hospital room.

For Pomeranian Fanciers: A Very Desirable Book

Pomeranian specialist, former fiction author, radio announcer and editor Viva Leone Ricketts comes to the fore again as the author of The New Complete Pomeranian. This attractive book with its brilliant red cover bearing the portrait of an appealing Pom is a newly expanded edition of the original work.

Among other valuable segments the chapters on The Blueprint of the Pomeranian, Color Breeding, The Pomeranian and Obedience and Some Facets of Special Care and Handling of Pomeranians are outstanding.

First of the many illustrations is that of a pair familiar to Pomeranian and fanciers of other Toy breeds: Ch. (Can., Am., Bda. & Eng.) Pixietown Serenade of Hadleigh, only Pomeranian to gain its championship in four countries. He is bred by Mrs. G. Dyke of England and owned by Florence, Lady Conyers, Bermuda and Ruth Bellick of Baltimore, Md. Numerous other illustrations are of Poms who have earned their Canadian as well as American championships.

While one does not normally think of the tiny Pomeranian in the Obedience ring, the breed is noticeably successful in this field. An example is the photograph of a Pom (page 154) whose eyes and mouth actually appear to be smiling with mischief and winsomeness. He is Ch. (Can., Am., Mex.) Kavilla's Christmas Joy, Can., Am., Mex. CD, CDX. Bred by Mrs. V. G. Munz and owned by Mrs. Margaret Carlos, he must surely be the world's most titled Pomeranian.

Released in Canada by General Publishers Ltd., this attractive and informative book is available at $7.50 through Dogs in Canada Book Department.

is stamping his own quality that won him recognition when he was a youngster in England.

Ch. Atina's Little Caesar is a very elegant, typey 9¼" silver toy, which we are proud to have bred ourselves. Finishing as a very young dog, he will be brought out in Specials later.

Excelling in coat texture and tiny, tight feet and a nice small eye, he is noted for cutting size and producing strong fronts and short backs. We are bringing out a daughter of his, Atina's Marvellous Mavis, which we feel will do him credit. A full brother of his, Atina's Holy Smoke, will be shown and sold this year. Smoky has a beautiful miniature type head — very strong hindquarters and a full, deeply developed chest. At ten months he is mature enough to wear the very discriminating continental clip. We think he will be someone to contend with when he makes his debut.

Last, but not least, is Ch. (Can. & Am.) Plaza-Toro Snow Fantasy, a sire of nine champions to date, and one Best in Show winner, plus ten puppies now being shown internationally. Snow Fantasy is ice white in color and a Best in Show winner himself with an impressive show record. When specialed, he was never defeated for the breed, and always had group placings.

He was bred to Plaza-Toro Kiss-Me Quick last summer, and four puppies from that litter are now acquitting themselves well in the ring (Puppy Breeds and Puppy Groups). Kiss-Me Quick (who is a granddaughter of Int. Ch. Summercourt Square Dancer and a litter sister of Ch. Plaza Toro Rigoletto) has another litter sired by Fantasy which we are anxiously watching. They are eight weeks old. We have never bred for quantity, but have always striven for a quality breeding program.

As the owners of one of the oldest established Pet Shops and Clipping Salons in Canada, we feel we have the knowledge and the organization to serve in every way possible.

Females sent to us by air for breeding are met at Toronto International Airport and are kept at our home in especially constructed pens under our personal supervision.

We have puppies for sale for breeding — quality show prospects — or just loving companions.

Canine Capers For The Royal Party

Fort Langley, historical B. C. town, included a demonstration of Dog Obedience by Coastal Canine Academy in their May Day celebrations.

An Irish Wolfhound owned by Mrs. Messmer, and a Chihuahua owned by Mrs. Taylor, led on the parade of dogs that performed team heeling, signal exercises and jumping. In addition, there were a number of "quick tricks" which particularly pleased the large audience.

Mrs. Luke's two dogs raced over a set of hurdles, which delighted the crowd, as the Norwich Terrier was beaten both times by the Miniature Pinscher even though he "cheated" by going under and around most of the jumps.

Mr. Taylor's Welsh Corgi was nearly left without a seek-back article when a well-meaning youngster ran in the ring and picked it up. He finally relinquished it when he was convinced that it was "part of the act".

Two Weimaraners, owned by Mr. Moskaluke and Mr. Laboucane, held a long bar and Mrs. Prior's Hungarian Vizsla jumped it. These dogs also displayed excellent team-work when they retrieved simultaneously over three high jumps.

For a finale to the 20 minute performance, a number of lettered dumbbells were placed on the field and three dogs were asked by Mrs. Whitton, the commentator, to bring in certain letters; "L" for Langley, "M" for May and "D" for Day, as a final salute to the May Day Queen, her party, and the festivities. Scent discrimination? Certainly it was, but many people went home wondering whether these dogs really could read!

Perhaps this demonstration aroused curiosity and there'll be more people interested in training their dogs and deriving more pleasure from them.

Bulldogs

A truly great dog has passed on. Ch. (Can. & Am.) Vardona Frosty Snowman has gone. He completed his Canadian Championship in three successive shows, winning the Group in all three and BIS in one. I only saw him twice — Westminster, 1959 and Chicago International, 1960. Each time he was 2nd in the group to a Miniature Poodle. Each time I came away from the show thinking of the pleasure which I had derived from watching him in action. I particularly recall him winning the Breed at Westminster. I was watching the Collies in Ring 9 but my attention kept straying to Ring 10 where Frosty never stopped showing until he had won the Breed.

The next year at Chicago I spent considerable time studying him on the bench. This was a dog who could move, could set himself up and had a disposition which permitted him to look relaxed on the bench throughout a two-day show, yet full of resolution and vigor when in the ring. I hope that someday I may have the good fortune to breed a dog almost as good in any breed. To Dr. Vardon, his breeder and owner, all Canadians who have ever had the good fortune to meet him or know his wonderful Frosty extend their sympathy.

Poodles in England

POODLES, Poodles, Poodles. Standards, Miniatures, Toys; white, black, brown, silver, apricot, blue. Never have we seen so many Poodles of various ages and qualities. Florence Mason and I left our teacher husbands to fend for themselves while we took off on a three week doggy trip to England. We remembered to visit the popular tourist attractions and send the appropriate postcards, but actually our itinerary was from kennel to kennel, dog show to dog show. We made countless new friends and thoroughly enjoyed ourselves.

Our first championship show was Bath. We will never forget this one for it rained for several days prior, all the first day and most of the second. Mud — an unlimited supply — but nothing like enough soap to remove same. You should have seen the Old English Sheepdogs! At Welks the following week the weather could not have been better. Bright warm sun, all judging outside. These shows which were two-day events and had thousands of entries, were divided so that half the breeds were judged the first day with only the two top winners staying over to the second day

The Non-Sporting Group was by far the largest, containing most of our Working and Non-Sporting dogs. The BIS judging was called for at a definite hour even though all the breed judging was not completed. At Bath the judge was just about to make a final decision when the Miniature Poodle breed winner asked permission to join the group. It was her lucky day for she eventually went BIS. Miniature Poodles had two judges and it took them all day to complete their large assignments.

Ch. (Can. & Am.) Bibelot's Tall Dark & Handsome winning Best in Show in London under Leo Wilson. Handler Marilyn Willis.

We were impressed by the general set up. Huge white tents, where the dogs were benched similar to our shows, encircled an area of large judging rings. All the dogs had to pass the veterinarian, there being at least ten on duty. Entries closed about a month before the large shows and were about as expensive as ours but in some cases an additional benching fee was charged. Cash prizes were offered for 1st, 2nd and 3rd placements in each class along with a few trophies, mostly perpetual. BIS made about $75.00. Equipment stands, photographers, dog magazines, food stands and the bar were in a neat row in the centre of the grounds. Dog food of every conceivable kind was sold, not given out. Except for a few toy dogs in crates, all dogs were tied to their benches. There was no special grooming area, each dog being groomed on his own bench. My collapsible wire cage and sturdy folding grooming table brought many comments. People were surprised to see Ch. (Can. & Am.) Tall Dark & Handsome (Tramp) happily sleeping on his back in the cage or perfectly relaxed stretched out on his table being groomed and prepared as we do here with tender loving care. Their dogs are prepared and handled by their owners or kennel maids. Professional handlers are non-existent. Some breeders prepare their dogs magnificently. Too many looked as if the moths had been at them but everyone seemed to enjoy exhibiting. To place in a class is an achievement in all sizes of Poodles, let me tell you! Twenty or more in the class was common. The few that were well put down and skilfully handled stood right out. English Toy and Miniature Poodles, we felt, were of far better quality than Standards which seem to be of a completely different and varied type. We agree with Stanley Dangerfield's comments re the quality of Standard Poodles in England and here!

Each judge has a couple of efficient stewards and someone to write down his comments for 'the critique' which is published each week in the two dog magazines. These may or may not be the judge's own words that are printed for some judges will only give to one paper. We quickly learned to read between the lines. How can three dogs have "excellent heads" yet be so completely different? Seeing is believing and the best lesson we learned is that distant fields are not necessarily greener.

While Flo Mason went to visit another kennel I spent a few hours at the Toy Poodle Specialty at Windsor. It was held in a small hall, the judging ring being barely adequate, no place to groom, and it rained — but it was an eye-opener and fun. All dogs were measured. A stick which is set at ten inches is put over the dog's shoulders. If it touches the table the dog must be under ten!

Once you have been as far as London you might as well be crazy and exhibit at the Glasgow championship show too. This was also a two-day event and was held in Kelvin Hall, a huge, well-lighted building with adequate, spacious benching. However the rings were not large. We were up at 4 a.m.; on the jet by 7 a.m.; dog unloaded and off to the show grounds by 10 a.m. Judged by noon. Talking, sightseeing and still talking by dinnertime. Exhausted, we caught the midnight plane back to London and crawled into bed at 4 a.m.

We met so many wonderful Poodle people; talked for hours on end; looked at hundreds of Poodles critically; exchanged ideas and impressions. The trip only whetted our appetites to return again soon. Oh yes. Tramp was delighted to see me and did me proud by winning his first CC and Best of Breed at Bath, followed by a reserve CC at Glasgow. How I hated to say goodbye but it won't be long before he is home again.

ENG. CH. TOPHILL ORSINO

10 C.C.'s and 5 Reserve C.C.'s and 4 Best in Show

TOP WINNING POODLE IN ENGLAND FOR 1965

BEST IN SHOW, Leichester, Sept. 1965 (3800 dogs) Judge A. O. Grindey.

(Judge's Critique)

. . . My final selection was the Miniature Poodle Ch. Tophill Orsino who was looking absolutely superb with his glorious jet black coat and showing as though he really was enjoying life. He has a beautifully chiselled head, grand leathers and a well nigh perfect outline and to top it all, was right up on his well arched feet, showing every minute. He never let up and never put a foot wrong but went around the ring at what must have been the end of a most tiring day as fresh as a daisy and looking as though he had just stepped out of a band box. The enormous crowd loved him.

BEST IN SHOW, International Poodle Specialty Club, London 1966 (364 Poodles). Sidney Brice Smith, Breed Judge.

(Judge's Critique)

. . . Ch. Tophill Orsino — a truly outstanding Poodle in every way. In great bloom. I could not fault him and his personality and his showmanship were superb. C.C. and BOB winner, I was delighted but not surprised to see him go BIS.

(BIS Judge, L. F. Simpson's Critique)

. . . My choice for the premier award, Ch. Tophill Orsino was in splendid fettle. His sound construction and majestic elegance brooked no denial.

DOGS & PEOPLE

B.C. Notes: recuperating from surgery is the well-known Vancouver handler, Pat Tripp . . . The ambitious Vancouver Junior KC is starting a monthly news sheet which will be mailed to all Junior Clubs across Canada. Names of the secretary should be sent to Karen Knight, 1037 West 15th Ave., Vancouver. How can they afford it? A helpful dad is taking care of the printing. Club members visited the Bellingham 4H club in May. Karen and Evelyn Crawford captured the two top trophies. Dogs and handlers got soaking wet in the Obedience trial but had g o o d fun. Judge was Norma Scott of the Vancouver KC Obedience class . . . Best wishes to Susan Campbell of Vancouver who was married in May. One of the first members of the Vancouver Junior KC, she has piloted dogs to Best in Show and has been active in the Western Canada Boxer Club . . . American wins: Mrs. Eileen Fraser has won a trio of Best of Winners with her young German Shepherd, Ch. Cathy's Linden B., in strong competition. Mrs. Minnie Graham piloted her A l a s k a n Malamute, Bearpaw Geena, to a rapid American championship . . . Judge Jean Fletcher has had three American German Shepherd Specialty assignments to date this year, drawing entries of well over 100. Her Miniature Dachshunds, now with American owners, have been more than holding their own in the ring, even against Standards. One puppy gained Reserve Winners at a specialty. Mrs. Juliette Chessor of Campbell River showed a 4½ month-old Samoyed to Best in Sanction honors at Courtenay, B.C. under Judge Mrs. Anson . . . The Vancouver Island Junior KC staged its first Sanction Show May 29 and scored an entry of 100 dogs. Mrs. Elsie Murray and Miss Mary Wilkinson judged the show held under sunny skies.

Western Notes: Outstanding in quality and imagination, trophies and hospitality are highlighting Prairie shows this summer. At Lethbridge the Group trophies outshone many BIS prizes, writes Mrs. Elsie Murray. Officers of the club extended a personal welcome by calling on out of town exhibitors at their motels and hotels . . . The Regina Kennel & Obedience Club long-time planning was in evidence at the heavily laden trophy table set up just outside the ring. Busy as beavers were members of the Regina Junior KC, learning the ropes of a well-run show while giving appreciated assistance.

Interesting judging assignments: Art Burden, Toronto, judged in Bogota, Colombia, S.A. June 25, 26, 29 on the invitation of t h e Club Canino Colombiono. He judged two Groups a day. Because of the high altitude (9,000 feet above sea level) he left several days earlier to become acclimatized. He will also judge in Bermuda in July. Professionally, Art is a Pinkerton man, with the rank of sergeant. As such, his photograph appeared in the Globe and Mail with a D o b e r m a n Pinscher which he handled at the recent Mosport 200 races. Four Dobermans and handlers were on duty to control the anticipated unruly spectators, but surprisingly, the behavior was vastly improved over previous races.

Presentation: On June 11 Helen Locke celebrated 25 years of continuous service with The Canadian Kennel Club. When she joined the staff as bookkeeper in 1941 there were only three employees in the office, which was located on Melinda St. On June 1 Jack Anderson, 1st Vice - President of the CKC, presented Helen, on behalf of the club, with a stunning gold lapel watch, while Mrs. Pamela B. Mack, a Director from Quebec, presented Helen with a beautiful corsage of yellow roses on behalf of the office staff. A lover of dogs, as a child Helen owned a Cocker Spaniel. She told Dogs in Canada that her 25 years with the CKC have been enjoyable and rewarding particularly because of the congenial atmosphere and her great interest in dogs.

Travellers: Mrs. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins (Rouge Hill Kennels), Rouge Hills, Ont. as President of the West Highland White Terrier Club of America (second Canadian to hold this position and first Canadian lady prexy) leaves late this month to attend the club Specialty at the Ventura County Dog Fanciers Show at Oxnard, Calif. July 30. Next day she will attend the Westie Club of California Specialty and Sweepstake at Santa Barbara where she and Westie fanciers Mrs. B. G. Frame and Mrs. E. P. McCarthy of Indianapolis have Westies entered. The ladies are having their dogs flown to Santa Barbara and will drive home by way of Yellowstone National Park, San Francisco and Grand Canyon. Other Easterners are also planning to attend the show.

Correction: In the April issue of Dogs it was mentioned that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell, breeders of Great Danes under the prefix Countydane, had moved from Burlington to Snellgrove. This was an error and should have read "have moved to Millgrove, Ont."

Died: Harry Sangster of El Monte, Calif., one of America's foremost professional handlers, while driving home from a fishing trip in A r i z o n a. Travelling alone on a mountain road, he was helpless when a gust from a bad windstorm caught his small house trailer and carried trailer and car down a 1,000 foot canyon. Just last February S a n g s t e r retired from handling in order to qualify for judging. He was well known for the many excellent dogs he handled at the Westminster Shows in New York. Among the most outstanding was the Bulldog, Ch. K i p p a x Fearnought, owned by Dr. John Saylor, who won Best in Show in 1955 . . . Mrs. B. Procter, Harlow Kennels, a long-time breeder of Pomeranians, at the age of 84, at her home in Milliken, Ont. Her son, James Procter, will carry on with the kennels . . . Suddenly, June 8, at his home in Senneville, Roly Tyner, husband of Olive. Both Mr. and Mrs. Tyner have been well known around the Obedience rings in Canada and the United States with their Standard Poodles. Mr. Tyner was an active member of the Montreal Dog Obedience Training Club. Apparently in good health, he had hosted an inter-club competition at his home the previous Saturday . . . Mrs. Carl (Jean) Rabsey, secretary of the Bullmastiff Association in the States and owner of a fine Bullmastiff kennel at Bedford Hills, N.Y. Rabsey Bullmastiffs have been shown at both the Sportsmen's Show in Toronto and the United KC show in Montreal. An attractive, vibrant, enthusiastic person, she was killed recently when her car went out of control on the Sawmill River Parkway. She leaves her husband and three small children.

Perfect squelch: Normally a person of sunny disposition, Judge Virginia McCoy has an answer for disgruntled exhibitors who complain: "Madam, I agree entirely with your opinion. But unfortunately it's my opinion they have asked for today."

ROBERT BROWNING

"I despise and abhor the pleas on behalf of that infamous practice, vivisection.

"I would rather submit to the worst death, so far as pain goes, than to have a single dog or cat tortured on the pretence of sparing me a twinge or two."
