Tribute to the Greatest Of the Greats

Almost reaching his alloted life span, Zepton von Zordane, the one and only Great Dane on the North American Continent ever to become a Dual Can. and Am. Bench and U.D.T. Champion of Champions, gallantly crossed over his last barrier, in his own inimitable manner.

Always "on stage" in the ring, Zep was a born exhibitionist! Owned and trained by Mrs. Florence Westbrook of Brantford, Ont., he also gave outstanding performances with other handlers.

Only this summer, I was privileged to work him in Novice B at the Oakville Matinee held for Danes, mentioned in Dogs' November issue. Backing into a straight Sit at every Halt, he would first lean against me, then turn his head, looking up into my face, seemingly to say — "well, how are we doing?"

I cannot say, on that day, who actually got the most delight out of his behavior, but I can truthfully admit it was one of the most enjoyable experiences I have ever had in Obedience.

— Grace E. Probert

Yes, Black is Really Black!

Although I hold no degrees in physics, genetics or biology, I feel qualified to speak from many years of active breeding experience of BLACK Great Danes. Since the famous black American champion, Ch. Honey Hollow Rameses (the first one at that time, 1955) in 17 years there has been a veritable "black explosion" in the USA. The popularity of this color has been phenomenal, but this also sparked constant controversy, especially from those who have not been able to breed blacks that can hold their own in the show rings against fawns, brindles and/or harlequins.

We have bred more black champions than anyone in the USA and are proud of the fact that the top-winning black of all time, anywhere, is Ch. Honey Hollow Great Donner, a dog that also managed to become the top-winning Great Dane in the world in 1962.

These blacks, and others that carry the Honey Hollow brand, are bred from a background of fawn, brindle and black — and in a few cases, harlequin — but the least harlequin in the breeding of blacks the better, as it is difficult to attain proper type, elegance and solid color if there is too much harlequin in the background.

There is no special magic or trick in the breeding of top quality black Great Danes other than to start, as in any color, with a top quality bitch (fawn, brindle or black) and a top quality stud (fawn, brindle or black).

But what is most important to remember is that you must have ONE parent BLACK or BOTH parents BLACK to get BLACK puppies. Black is a dominant color and not recessive. In plainer language, no matter how many blacks appear in any pedigree, if fawns or brindles from this background are bred absolutely NO blacks will ensue. However, much to the consternation and amazement of Great Dane breeders throughout the world, the very best in fawns and brindles can come from black-to-black breeding, or black and brindle, or black and fawn matings. Although much has been written against this "mixed color" breeding, the critics do not have one valid or genetical leg to stand on in their detractions.

It is most interesting that the "stubborn" Germans have obviously succumbed to the value of "mixed color" breeding, as the first and only North American hemisphere - bred Great Dane to attain the title of Bundesiegerin in Germany is Eur. Ch. Honey Hollow Jacqueline, a fawn bitch of fawn-to-fawn parents but the sire came from line-bred mixed color

Corgi Captures Coveted Trophy

Furilows Tan Shell (Sheli), a Pembroke Welsh Corgi, won the Trophy for highest scoring dog in Trial. Competing at the Coastal Canine Academys' two licensed trials held in New Westminster, B.C., November 13, Sheli's score was 196 in the Utility Class.

Sheli won a total of four trophies by placing first three times, twice in the Utility Class and once in Open B. The little Corgi's owner is Mrs. Lawrence Brovold of Kelowna, B.C., who is the Training Director for the Okanagan Valley Obedience Training Club. Mrs. Brovold's Corgi, Mackson's Fudge of Paladin, was the first Obedience Trial Champion in the Okanagan Valley. Sheli is the second.

Congratulations to the Coastal Canine Academy for a well run trial. The friendly atmosphere, the excellent judging and beautiful trophies all added up to make a most enjoyable weekend.

Let's Look At Terriers

The editors of Dogs in Canada have asked this writer to compare the differences in Terrier Standards as stated in The Book of Breed Standards, an official publication by The Canadian Kennel Club (edition 1962) and the Kennel Club (England) Standards of the Breeds, Terriers Z (3) printed 1965.

The writer assumes interested readers will have the CKC Standards in front of him or her, as they read this. As the English version is harder to obtain only the English text will be explained when there are differences.

A modest aside from the writer. As most Terriers originated in Great Britain and Ireland, it is not surprising that in most cases a clear word picture emerges from the print. Canadians in following their lead, become somewhat more wordy. It is evident the two Standards are a labor of love, involving many long hours to try and get down on paper their love of these time-consuming friends. The English have a great devotion for their short-legged terriers. Living in a more rugged country, we maybe have a greater love of the long-legged ones.

The meaning of the word Terrier. "A small, active, wiry dog adapted to pursue burrowing animals, and noted for the courage and eagerness with which it 'goes to earth' in pursuit of vermin".

very important, where it isn't mentioned at all in the Canadian Standard. To quote: "Keen of expression, quick of movement on the tip-toe of expectation at any movement. Character is denoted and shown by the expression of the eyes and by the carriage of the ears and tail." I'm sure it is taken for granted by all Airedalers but is not stated, so 'any old dead-pan' could be acceptable.

The Movement of a well balanced dog as stated by the English Standard is the same as in the Canadian Standard except the English talk about power of propulsion being furnished by the hind legs, "perfection of action being found in the terriers possessing long thighs".

Size: Canadian dogs should measure approximately 23" in height; bitches slightly less.

English — Height about 23 to 24 for dogs, bitches 22 to 23. Weight to commensurate with height and type.

AUSTRALIAN TERRIER

The Canadian Standard is more explicit but generally the same specifications as the English, though the Canadian talks about the leather on the nose extending to the bridge of the muzzle.

Weight:— Canadian 14 lbs. English 10 or 11 lbs.

Height:— Canadian 10", English 10".

BEDLINGTON TERRIER

The Canadian Standard is almost a direct copy, except in Height. The Canadian Standard states 15" or 16", English 16" "allowing slightly less for bitches, and above in the case of the dog."

Weight:— Canadian — dogs 24 lbs.; bitches — 22 lbs. English:— 18 to 23 lbs.

BORDER TERRIER

Again very similar. The Border being a working Terrier — "should be able to follow a horse and must combine activity with gameness."

BULL TERRIER

Again the English Standard has been closely followed by the CKC, though the English stresses deafness is a disqualification.

BULL TERRIER (MINIATURE)

NOT GIVEN BY the Canadian Standards, the exception to the above being size. Height must not be more than 14". Weight should not be more than 20 lbs.

CAIRN TERRIER

The wording is again duplicated, but one gets a clearer picture of the dog from the English Standard. "This Terrier should impress with his fearless and gay disposition." Color — Canadian Standard states that any color except white is acceptable. English Standard — Red, Sandy, Grey, brindled or nearly black. Weight and Size is given as "Ideal, 14 lbs." While the Canadian Standard specifies only Height, Dogs 10", bitches 9½". The English fault a Cairn if any resemblance to a Scottish Terrier is apparent.

DANDIE DINMONT TERRIER

WORD FOR WORD THE SAME STANDARD.

FOX TERRRIER (SMOOTH & WIRE)

Given by the Canadian Standard combined, the English go into greater detail with the differences of coat by separating the two.

NOTE: under the heading Body, the English states "the Dog should be well ribbed up". (This might be a typographical error) because the Canadian Standard use the same sentence without the capital on dog. The wording of the two Standards in general is the same, with the Canadian elaborating almost every phrase in italics.

"General Appearance," in the English Standard is stated in the Canadian Standard under headings, "Symmetry", "Balance" and "Movement".

Height — not given for Smooths in the English Standard. Weight 15 to 18 lbs. Height for Wires is the same as Canadian 15½".

IRISH TERRIER

Very similar, the Canadian Standard going into greater detail of the same points.

KERRY BLUE TERRIER

Again the Canadian Standard is a little more explicit with size. The English prefer a 33 to 37 lb. dog while the Canadian allows the dog to go to 40 lbs. at maturity. The English height is given as 18-19" compared with the Canadian 18-19½", in each case the bitches being slightly less.

LAKELAND TERRIER

The English Standard will be given in full, as the Canadian is sparse of wording, with many differences.

General Appearance — Smart and workman-like, with gay fearless demeanour.

Head and Skull — Well balanced. Skull flat and refined. The jaws powerful and the muzzle should be broad but not too long. The length of the head from the stop to the tip of the nose should not exceed that from the occiput to the stop. Nose black.

Eyes — Should be dark or hazel.

Ears — Moderately small V-shaped and carried alertly. They should not be placed too high or too low on the head.

Mouth — Teeth even, closing scis-

CH. ZISKA'S HOUDA THOUGHT IT, born August 28, 1963, won his Championship at 8½ months. Winner of BB at the '65 Canadian Samoyed Club Specialty under Mr. G. McDonald, he took BB the same day under Mrs. M. Hart in the All-Breed show. After taking BB at the Collie & Shetland Sheepdog show, he retired until November '66 when he took BB at the Int. Samoyed Society Specialty and the next day, under Mr. T. Joel, he took BB, 2nd in Group and BCB in Group, also winning the British Samoyed Trophy for the second year running. He returned home with 15 trophies, 8 Rosettes and numerous other ribbons. Pictured above with Specialty judge Mrs. R. Smith, owner Betty Dickson and handler Lorna Jackson.

Neck — Reachy.

Forequarters — Shoulders well laid back. Forelegs straight, well boned.

Body — Chest reasonably narrow. Back strong, moderately short, well coupled.

Hindquarters — strong and muscular, thighs long and powerful, well turned stifles, hocks low to ground and straight.

Feet — Small, compact, round and well padded.

Tail — Well set on, carried gaily but not to curl over the back.

Coat — Dense and weather resisting, harsh with good undercoat.

Color — Black and tan, blue and tan, red wheaten, red grizzle, liver blue or black. Small tips of white on feet and chest not to debar. Mahogany or deep tan is not typical.

Weight and Size — The average weight of dogs is 17 lbs., bitches 15 lbs. The height should not exceed 14½" at the shoulder.

Faults — A true Lakeland Terrier expression is determined by head, ears and eyes. Too long a head, ears set on the top of the head, and slanting eyes are faults.

MANCHESTER TERRIER

The two Standards are similar except for cropped ears as a variation in the Canadian Standard. The English Standard gives Height only as 16" for dogs, bitches 15". The Canadian Standard gives Weight only as 12 to 22 lbs.

NORWICH TERRIER

The English Standard calls for an erect ear while the Canadian Standard says Prick or drop. Also the Canadian calls for a shorter neck. No weight is given in the English Standard while the Canadian asks for 11-12 lbs.

NORFOLK TERRIER

While very similar to the above dog, it is not stated by the Canadian Standard. General note — "Trimming is not desirable. Honorable scars from fair wear and tear shall not be counted against."

SCHNAUZER (MINIATURE)

THIS DOG IS NOT CLASSED AS A TERRIER IN THE ENGLISH STANDARD.

SCOTTISH TERRIER

In the English Standard, under the heading General Appearance, we get a very clear picture of what the breeders should see as a good show type Scotty. To quote — "A Scottish Terrier is a sturdy, thick-set dog of a suitable size to go to ground, placed on short legs, alert in carriage, and suggestive of great power and activity in small compass.

"The head gives the impression of being long for a dog of its size. The body is covered with a close-lying broken, rough-textured coat; with its keen intelligent eyes and sharp prick ears the dog looks willing to go anywhere and do anything. In spite of its short legs, the construction is such that it is a very agile and active dog. The movement of the dog is smooth, easy and straight forward, with free action at shoulder, stifle and hock." By breaking the parts up and assigning what points should be given for each, the Canadian Standard is not as clear, though they are similar.

SEALYHAM TERRIER

The Standards as set by Canadian and English would, in the writer's opinion, produce a slightly different dog. Canadian states Height at 10½" while English says not to exceed 12". Weight — Canadian 21 lbs. for dogs, 20 lbs. for bitches, English not exceed 20 lbs. for dogs and 18 lbs. for bitches. The English Standard gives a more stringently worded picture of a "freely moving active dog" Body, "very flexible". Hindquarters — "Remarkable powerful for the size of the dog." The Canadian Standard elaborates each part, but in the main they are similar.

SKYE TERRIER

Again the Canadian Standard goes into greater detail of each part. Height is the same at 10", but the English Standard states total length should be 41½". Weight 25 lbs. Canadian Standard gives no weight but breaks up the length measurement by stating; "chest bone over tail at rump 20"; Head 8½"; Tail 9", Bitches slightly less in all measurements. This would make a Canadian dog 4" shorter than his English relative, both being the same height.

STAFFORDSHIRE BULL TERRIER

Standards are identically worded, so if the reader has his Canadian Breed Standards open before him, he is with it. No standard given by England on the Staffordshire Terrier.

WELSH TERRIER

Before giving the physical description in almost all breeds the English Standard has a paragraph giving Characteristics or General Appearance. This gives in almost every case a clearer picture of the dog as a whole.

Characteristics — "The Welsh Terrier is of a gay, volatile disposition, and is rarely of a shy nature. He is affectionate, obedient and easily controlled thus making him an eminently suitable dog for town life. His size and color render him ideal as a house dog, as the former point is in his favor where accommodation is limited whilst the latter feature precludes the necessity for frequent washing as in the case of a white terrier. He is game and fearless, but definitely not of a pugnacious disposition, although at all times able to hold his own when necessary. He is ideally constituted to be a perfect town or country companion. Welsh Terriers are normally hardy and of robust constitution, and need no pampering whilst as working terriers they are second to none, being easily trained to all sorts of game and vermin to work with gun or ferrets and are generally found to be capital water dogs."

The Canadian Standard follows the English Standard closely until we get to size, the English allowing the dog a half inch in Height, Weight being the same in each Standard.

WEST HIGHLAND WHITE TERRIER

The Canadian Standard follows the English faithfully in almost every detail.

LHASA APSO

No standard given in the English Standard as they are not classed as terriers in England.

Canadian Chihuahuas In the USA

Canadians went home with some excellent wins from the Monroe Kennel Club show November 26. Ch. Brecon's Individualist took Best of Variety in Smooth Coat Chihuahuas and went on to a 3rd in a very strong Toy Group. Brecon's Demi Tasse, a six-months old puppy, in her first show went from the Junior Puppy Class to RW over six females. Both these outstanding Chihuahuas are owned by Sandra Nelles, Brecon Kennels, Unionville, Ont. The Toy Group was won by the Maltese, Ch. Aennchen's Poona Dancer, under Judge Melbourne Downing, and went on to BIS. Site of the Monroe show was Carleton, Mich.

The following day the Chihuahua Club of Michigan held its annual Specialty Show in the Detroit Armouries. Judge this year was Anthony Stamm, Kalamazoo, Mich. Thirty Long Coat and 31 Smooth Coat were entered, with seven Specials in each Variety. Canadians again fared very well with Ch. Brecon's Individualist winning the coveted Best in Show award over the other 60 contestants. Individualist's kennelmates all came away with 1st ribbons — Brecon's Demi Tasse (his daughter) won the Junior Puppy class and Can. Ch. Brecon's Precious Gem (his aunt) won the Novice and Bred by Exhibitor class. All three are owned by Sandra Nelles.

Mr. A. M. W. Samuels (Shillmaine Kennels), Mimico, Ont., was third in the Open Female class with Can. Ch.

Chihuahua News from Africa

Word has just arrived from Mr. Michael Hughes Halls of South Africa that the Smooth Coat Chihuahua female that was recently exported to him took Best of Breed in her first show in Africa, going over some English imports. From Germany, word has come that Tris Tans Uno-Pocora, a black and tan Smooth Chihuahua female, took the C.C. in Weidboden, and in Frankfort she took WB.

Both these exports were from the Tris Tan Kennels, London, Ont. and were bred by Mrs. Ellen Overby and exported by me.

Pekingese Win

Following up on the December Dogs in Canada cover story, St. Aubrey Manikin of Elsdon won a BIS in the U.S. just after December issue went to press. St. Aubrey Mari-Beau, owned by Carol Hollands, took BIS at Ottawa the same weekend, while St. Aubrey Debonnaire of Elsdon was winning two Groups in California. All were bred at St. Aubrey Elsdon.

Hats Off to Urray Kennels

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Webster, Urray Kennels, Aldergrove, B.C., deserve recognition for the work Urray Miniature Pinschers are doing in obedience. The wonderful temperament of Urray Min Pins has certainly made it easier for those of us who own, train and handle them.

Leading the list, of course, is Urray Big Bad John, UDT, Am. CD, owned by Mrs. Shirley Luke of Burnaby, B.C., one of the top winning obedience dogs in Canada. My own Urray Golden Penny 2nd., CD, Am. CDX, is working on her utility degree here in the States and her CDX in Canada and has been high scoring dog in trial several times both here and in Canada. Also here in Opportunity is Urray Spark of Fire, Am. & Can. CD, owned by Mrs. Barbara Vandever, working now toward her Am. & Can. CDX. A Urray granddaughter, Kapenni Kupfer Kricket, Penny's daughter, had both American and Canadian CD at one year and was high scoring dog in trial in her second trial (age seven months). Her brother, Kapenni Karmesin Korsar, has only been entered in two trials so has two legs toward his American CD. He'll be working on Canadian degrees, too.

These are just the ones with which I am acquainted. Possibly there are more of these grand little dogs doing a good job in obedience.

So, from those who love and work with Urray Min Pins, our thanks to the Websters for making it all possible.

Pomeranian First?

What in all probability is a first for Canada (CKC no doubt can affirm), was when on the 14th of November two little Pomeranians stepped out of their crate in Vancouver, B.C. after a flight over the polar cap from their land of birth — Sweden. Happy tails wagging and big kisses, they had taken the flight of more than 15 hours in their stride when I met them, for a car ride and a ferry trip to Victoria and their new home with me. They came from the famous Toyhomes Kennels in Sweden that can look back on some 40 odd years of successful breeding of Pomeranians and Pekingese and today houses some 20 or more dogs with Nordic, Swedish and International Championship titles. These two halfbrothers, representing the best bloodlines Europe has to offer (sire, Desire of Hadleigh), should be able to give Pomeranians here a very badly needed boost. They will eventually be at stud on a planned basis and to select bitches. Presently they are finding out that the grass is greener in Victoria, compared to Sweden, where snow soon will cover the earth. Bones here and there are all made for chewing and so are slippers and breakfast, lunch and dinnertime are still the highlights of any day.

Don't Let This Happen To You

My fateful day came some ten years ago. I bought a nice Pomeranian puppy and was patiently waiting for her to reach six months so I could show her. I had taught her to walk nicely on my left side and carried her to the corner store occasionally. I was afraid to let her walk for fear some big stray would have her for lunch. I held her in my lap and brushed her daily so her coat would come in nicely. Faithfully I made regular trips to the veterinarian until she had all her shots.

At last our first day at a show arrived and we were there bright and early for vetting, and my first rude awakening. I confidently put my little pup on the table as I had done at the vets, but my little dear started to balk and squeal. I really couldn't blame her. Here was that stranger in the white coat again that always gave her a pain in the posterior. We got that over with and it was time to go in the ring and my second lesson. The judge was on my right and I had only taught my pup to walk on the left. What did the judge see? Yes, of course, my bandy legs. You can bet I won't make that mistake again. Next was our little table experience, only this time she only had to see the table and she started to squirm. The judge tried his best to examine her, but finally ended up by saying, "I'm sorry, I can't judge your dog if I cannot get my hands on her". That ended our first day.

The second day I was feeling very small about all the things I hadn't taught my puppy, never dreaming there could be any more. We went to the vetting table. This wasn't quite as bad today as she did realize now that the table was not always painful. If only I had done her grooming on the table instead of my lap and have let people touch her, all this may not have happened. Again it was our turn in the ring. With my right side still taboo to my dog it was a game of peek-a-boo between dog, judge and my legs. Little did I dream the worst was yet to come. We were lined up waiting to make the "T". When my turn came I went to the middle of the ring in order to come straight to the judge. Oh yes: right in the middle of the ring — as the puddle grew bigger and bigger I realized I had forgotten to take her to the exercise ring. Red faced we went to the judge and was told to gait her straight down and back. On my return he said, "Did you know your pup should not have dew claws on her hind legs as it spoils her gait"? With that I went back to my place. I was down on all four trying to stack my dog and praying, "please dear Lord, don't let anything else happen". Then I heard a voice say "Evelyn come forth". I looked up and that's exactly where the judge placed me. Who was this man in the stiff collar that picked my puppy apart? I later found out it was Tom Quilley for whom everyone but me at that time seemed to have a lot of respect.

There is a happy ending here though, as ten years later that same little dog is strutting into the ring taken years to produce?"

It might be well to note that these back-yard breeders who want to breed are usually thinking of possible money profits rather than breed improvement. Not only are these so-called breeders interested in money profits, they usually wish the least possible cash investment for breeding stock, thus start (if allowed) with mediocre pet stock, and produce in quantity.

In referring to my stud books, I found that out of 147 Pug litters produced in 1964 only 49 of these litters were influenced by champions, and in 1965 Pug litters increased to 172, yet the influence of champions declined to 47 of those litters!

I have been using a non-breeding clause with every puppy sold as a pet, and in this way have known the dog would not enter a breeding program. However, should a person wish to purchase a dog for breeding you could pick a good specimen worthy of breeding and showing, and recommend the best lines to breed to etc.

Stud Fee $100.00

So you want to breed Fifi — your pride and joy — to the finest stud available. Will it be to Ch. Pompous Pierre or to Ch. Fabulous Freddie? Beware decision #1. Family conference. Fifi is off to visit Ch. Pompous Pierre who stands at stud at a handler's kennel.

Expense #1 — the long distance phone call — 'yes Ch. Pierre is available; yes I can meet your dog at the airport.' So a few days later you get rabies inoculation (expense #2), and health certificate (expense #3), send Fifi to beauty parlour (expense #4), and depart for airport. One new regulation size shipping crate (expense #5). Airfare (expense #6). Telegram advising flight arrival (expense #7), followed by a phone call six hours later (expense #8), to check that Fifi has arrived safely. Did you remember to send the stud fee? (expense #9).

A week later this is all repeated from the other end by the stud owner's agent and Fifi is on her way home, collect (expense #10). Did you fill out the B13 customs form before shipping so you would not have to pay duty on re-entering Canada? What, you forgot? And you valued your precious gal for all that? (expense #11). And to top that off she arrived after hours (expense #12). A few days later comes the stud certificate plus a bill for extra boarding at agent's (expense #13), pick up charge from airport (expense #14) because you did not ship on handler's 'free pick up day'. Next time you will know better!

So you add this all up and stud fee is more like $200.00. Next time you plan to use Ch. Fabulous Freddie.

But let's drop in on poor Mr. and Mrs. Smith who own Ch. Freddie. How exciting, Freddie has a new wife. $100.00. Let's see how we can spend that — no trouble here — new dress, an evening out. No, 'yes we will meet the plane. When is she due to arrive?" So, Mr. and Mrs. Smith take the afternoon off work (expense #1), fill the car with gas (expense #2) and drive the 60 miles to airport on toll roads (expense #3), leaving the youngsters and dogs in the care of a baby sitter (expense #4). After waiting around for plane to be unloaded, Fifi with the aid of a broker is now cleared through customs (expense #5). Knowing you will be worried, Mr. Smith phones to inform you of Fifi's safe arrival . . .

person to person daytime . . . (expense #6) and you of course chat on with 'please be careful with my precious darling'. However, bitch is not quite ready to be bred but you can't tell Ch. Freddie that! He howls. She howls. All the dogs bark. Kids scream. No one can sleep. Tranquilizers needed all round (expense #7). Fifi deposited at vet's (expense #8). Peace at any price!

Fortunately, Fifi loves Ch. Freddie (no expensive professional help needed here) and it's time for Fifi to return home. A few long distance calls to airport to check on flights (expense #9) and another call to Fifi's parents to advise time of arrival (expense #10) and oops . . . where is the stud fee? Back Fifi goes to vet's until this arrives (expense #11). A few tactful phone calls and off to airport again. Repeat — baby sitter, gas, tolls, ½ day off work, coffee, and goodbye Fifi. Sleep! So that $100.00 melted down to . . . oh, well, we all know we can't make money breeding dogs.

Overheard 63 days later. "My Ch. Freddie sired a lovely litter of". "My Fifi just whelped a beautiful litter of".

It was worth it wasn't it?

MY NAME IS BOBBI

by Barbara G. Pirrie

I'm four months old. I have pretty red curls on my legs, lovely whiskers on my face and a beautiful black saddle, so they tell me. Up until yesterday I lived a very secluded life with my family and thought the whole doggy world consisted of Charley, my father; Coke, my uncle; Brandy, my grandmother and Mafon, my great grandmother.

I had begun to become slightly suspicious during the last week or two that something was up when "she" kept interrupting my play by putting me on a table and getting all enthused about combing, brushing, trimming and other such silly things — up until this time this performance had been reserved for my father. Mind you, he seemed to enjoy it. I can't honestly see why except that he got a piece of cheese or some other goody after he was done and I must admit I found this rather tasty too.

When "she" finished this ritual, "she" then got out a funny looking piece of leather, put it around my neck and proceeded to march me up and down the living room, chattering all the time about what a good girl I was — I'm really not, but then again I was getting these lovely little morsels of cheese, so who's going to argue!

Well, I found out yesterday what all this was leading up to. I didn't suspect till "she" got up early on Sunday morning. This in itself is an

NOTICE

From time to time our attention is drawn to the practice of some breeders who, when advertising or otherwise offering dogs for sale, indicate in some way that the purchaser of a dog sold as pure-bred will be required to make a higher, or additional, payment in order to be furnished with a certificate of registration. Such persons should note that the price at which a dog is sold, or the purpose for which a dog was purchased, has no bearing whatever on the obligation of the seller to supply the purchaser with a certificate of registration issued by The Canadian Kennel Club for a dog sold as pure-bred.

The Live Stock Pedigree Act, a federal statute, requires that when a person sells a dog as pure-bred, or contracts to sell a dog as pure-bred, he must furnish, or agree to furnish, a certificate of registration, together with fully-recorded transfer of ownership to the buyer.

Article XXXI, Section 3 of the By-laws of The Canadian Kennel Club reads as follows:

"A member may be suspended or expelled, or a non-member deprived of the privileges of the Club, if it is proven to the satisfaction of the Board that when selling, or otherwise disposing of a dog for a consideration (monetary or otherwise), the person disposing of the dog has asked or required the new owner to make any form of payment specifically for the purpose of being furnished with a certificate or registration."

To avoid possible prosecution under the Live Stock Pedigree Act and/or possible disciplinary action by The Canadian Kennel Club, members and others engaged in the selling of dogs as pure-bred are cautioned to refrain from the practice of quoting two selling prices for the dogs, one "with papers", the other "without papers", or to in any other way indicate that an additional payment is required for a certificate of registration.

This notice is published by an order of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club.

unusual happening in our house! Then she started bustling around putting all those instruments of torture in a little bag and "he" put what they call the grooming table and my crate in the car. I must admit I was rather fascinated, as I seemed to be the complete centre of interest. Mind you, I was somewhat dismayed when I was unceremoniously plomped into my crate. You see, I usually get to ride in the back seat with "my" little girl.

I soon found out the reason for this performance when "my" people drove to a house down the road and two more crates were placed in the car. Well, I tell you, you should have seen what they put in those crates. WOWWWW! Certainly these people hadn't put in all those hours of trimming that "she" had put in on me and I thought to myself that someone should tell them about it — maybe "she" would! Strangely enough "she" kept on admiring all that sloppy hanging hair, was even enthused hearing about all the hours the other "she" had put in bathing those creatures. This really disturbed me, as in our house the word bath for us folks is absolutely taboo, something about ruining coats. Very, very odd!

On our trip into town I kept on sneaking glances at these odd looking representatives of dogdom and I must admit I felt rather sorry for them. Their "she" could have at least combed all that mess out of their eyes, poor souls, they couldn't even see me.

When the car finally came to a halt, everyone rushed around with crates and all that other junk, and we went into a very, very large house — why it was almost as big as the palaces in "my" little girl's fairy stories. All went well until we had climbed the second flight of stairs and there, in front of my eyes, were millions of hes and shes, and even odder, millions of dogs! There were big ones, small ones, shaggy ones and smooth ones. And here I'd thought everyone looked like me!

My companions and I were put back in our crates, while our "hes" and "shes" started rushing about looking for something called rings. Then back they came and put my companions on the grooming tables. Not that I like being groomed, but I must admit I was a bit irritated that these two should get all the preferential treatment. Mind you, it was rather fascinating watching and when you have a coat like mine, that's so wiry it even scratches me at times you couldn't help but admire those long silky tresses.

A great many things seemed to be going on in that thing they call a ring but I wasn't quite tall enough, even on my hind legs, to see what all the commotion was about. Then all of a sudden I heard them call Skyes, and off went my friends. I had hoped to catch a glimpse of them in the ring but no such luck. I now found myself being madly brushed and combed. Then I heard Welsh called and off went "she" and I to that spot that was so full of activity, the ring!

While we were standing there I peeked in, and lo and behold, there was another me, a bit bigger, but still a me, and I felt a lot more confident. Mind you, some terribly strange things were going on. The other me kept trotting around the ring with his "she", then he'd stop and a very imperious "HE", who was standing in the middle of the ring, started going over him, much like the Vet did to me, the last time I was in. Seemed rather odd though that the Vet had driven all the way down here to examine all these dogs, when he could have done it in his office. I watched a little more carefully now and decided he wasn't a Vet, at least not mine, and he seemd to be doing even stranger things than the Vet did.

Well, now came my turn, and we went through the same odd routine. Mind you, he was very nice to me. I couldn't honestly see though why he had to see my teeth — I'm just a little embarrassed by them — you see, I'm sort of at the in between stage, some baby teeth, some adult teeth, and some sort of half and half. After the teeth bit he proceeded to push and prod me here, there and everywhere and I can tell you, I had just about had it, when he finally gave up, and told my "she" that she should go stand in the corner. Now, this did seem a bit unfair, I hadn't really been that bad. Mind you, "she" didn't seem at all upset, and he came back with an odd looking strip of something or other.

I was all set now to leave the ring, when the other me came back and HE started comparing us. Very strange indeed, as I thought we looked exactly alike. We had to go all through that trotting around nonsense again, as well as the pushing, prodding and teeth examining, and I really was getting a bit exasperated, when all of a sudden, we landed in the corner again. Mind you, this time "she" seemed even more pleased when she got that silly little piece of material and I got a big hug and a lovely morsel of liver, so who's complaining.

Anyway, I assumed that was that, and I'd soon be back romping with Charley. Unfortunately, this wasn't quite the case. We roared back to the grooming table, went through that fool routine again and then back to the ring. Well, I tell you, you should have seen it this time, so many dogs that looked like me, I've never seen before. Mind you, they came in all different colors and sizes, but I know relatives when I see them, even distant relatives. Well, you wouldn't believe it, now "He" wanted us all to trot around at one time — it seemed terribly silly, but I must admit it was rather fun. I guess I was starting to get the fever. We went round, round and around. He went all over us again and all of a sudden pointed at four dogs and I heard him say, the Skye, the Bull, the Australian and the Lhasa, and they all trotted dutifully to that little corner.

This time I thought we would surely be on our way, but no sir, off we went again, something about "Puppy". Well, by this time I felt like an old hand, and started showing off for the benefit of some of the other puppies who weren't quite as experienced as I. Anyway, this whole affair was paying off handsomely, and was that liver good! We went round and round while the HE watched our every move and all of a sudden he pointed at ME and said, The Welsh, and off we went to our little corner, with me wagging my tail, looking terribly proud and waiting for some more of that lovely liver. This time the piece of material was even larger, and I must say, even I thought it was rather pretty.

Well, we'd certainly be off now, but no such luck. Off I went into my crate and as it seemed I was going to be here for life, I decided to catch a snooze. Rather noisy, but when you're tired, who cares.

After what seemed minutes to me, back came "she" and "he" and we went into the combing bit again and off to the ring once more. Well, this time you should have seen my ring companions, not one of them looked even slightly like me. There was one great big creature with a terribly noble face and flowing hair; a beautiful spotted dog, with the most beautiful fringe on its tail (I couldn't help thinking what fun it would be to swing on); a pretty little white character who looked like he had just come out of the beauty parlor; and a terribly serious looking chap who looked as if he should have been accompanying the policeman at the corner.

Well, you really won't believe it, but this "HE" made us go all through that nonsense again, and by this time I had just about had it. I mean really! Everyone seemed pretty tired at this stage of the game, but you'll remember I had a bit of a snooze, so I decided to stir it up a bit. Great fun, I can tell you, trying to back those big fellows down. My "she" didn't exactly seem to appreciate my boldness, but then again, she hadn't had a snooze either. After what seemed to be endless trips around that great big ring, the "HE" pointed to the big Oriental fellow and ignored me completely. Mind you, I couldn't complain, as "HE" had already pointed to one of my distant relatives of the long silky coat for what I heard them call "Best In Show", and after all, I was just here for experience, and did I ever get it!

Scoring: 30-32 correct — you could be judging. 27-29 correct — you should start thinking about judging. 24-26 correct — good if you are in another breed. DOGS & PEOPLE

Congratulations: to Mrs. G. F. Lovett's daughter and husband on their recent marriage. Mrs. Lovett is well known for her Ronas Hill Shelties at Stittsville, Ont.

Fire, in the home of Mrs. M. Symonds, Toronto, also the home of Mrs. Charlotte Walker, Canada's grand lady of dogdom, caused the people to spend the day in the hospital for smoke treatment. The Pomeranians were rescued.

Speaker: The talented and beautiful Arlene Dahl, stage and TV actress and internationally-syndicated beauty columnist, will be the principal speaker at the 12th annual Ken-L-Ration

Show Dog Awards dinner at Delmonico's Hotel, New York. This year's famed event is slated for February 11.

Winners: Mrs. Gloria Ambeault (Cherod), Toronto, a relative newcomer in showdom, can look back on 1966 with pride. She completed three Standard Poodle champions during the period July to November.

When the National Geographic magazine's film crew spent a week in Skagway last summer producing pictures to be used for a television movie, they wanted a sequence on the old Chilkoot Trail in the vicinity of Whitehorse. Mr. and Mrs. Garrett and sons and St. Bernard "Brandy" hiked over the trail, a trip they had done several years ago when doing a story for the magazine.

In hospital: at the time of writing, R. William Taylor, (St. Aubrey-Elsdon) Montreal. Bill had just arrived home from a fine trip to England, but suffering from a heavy cold. The following night he stepped over to the kennel to check a bitch in whelp. At 5.30 a.m. he was discovered unconscious in the driveway, badly cut from a fall on the ice. He is receiving medical attention for concussion and frostbite . . . Dr. Fred Clement, well-known for his work with dog clubs in the Toronto area, is confined to Riverdale Hospital. The address is St. Mathews St., Toronto if you wish to visit or drop him a note . . . Mr. Iden, father of Labrador Retriever breeder Jack Iden, in Sarnia . . . Reported as seriously ill: Jack Hargreaves, Elhara Kennels, R.R. 2, Uxbridge, Ont. A Collie breeder, his most recent successful dogs have been The Wizard and The Merlin. Thoughts of friends are with his wife, Eleanor, and children.

Out of hospital: Mrs. Clare Smith, Clarewood Kennels, Toronto. Mrs. Smith is known for two qualities: her startling jokes and her Chihuahuas.

Stuart Roberts, Canidae Kennels, Oldcastle, Ont., writes that because his wife Jean operates a boarding and grooming business, he has now been ruled ineligible by the American Kennel Club to judge at AKC shows.

Travellers: Sporting a healthy tan after ten days in Freeport, Grand Bahama and Miami are Robby and Bob Walker, Na-Robi Kennels, Hamilton, Ont. "Got caught in the middle of the airline strike and had to come home by an unbelievable route," says Robby.

Died: Mr. Fred Ward, Retriever Field Trial Representative for Manitoba, November 18. An ardent sportsman, Mr. Ward gave much time and effort to field trial work in Manitoba. He played an active part in the Manitoba Gun Dog Association and served in many capacities on the executive. In earlier years he was a familiar sight at trials in company with the last dog he ran, FT Ch. Stonegate's Pluto. Mr. Ward served in the First World War at the age of 16. He was wounded at Vimy Ridge. His wife and a host of friends mourn his passing . . . Word has just been received of the death last summer of Lieut. Col. Fraser M. Greig of Bracebridge, Ont. Col. Greig was admitted to Canadian Kennel Club membership in 1936 and except during World War II years, had been a member almost continuously. His early activity as a breeder and exhibitor was in American Cocker Spaniels. More recently he had been active in Chihuahuas.

Going to press notes: Recuperating — David Enns of Ken-L-Products, Peterborough, Ont., from a motor accident . . . Phyllis Morley, handler of Standard Poodles, after a session in the Private Patients Pavilion, Toronto General Hospital. Friends wishing to drop her a line may reach her at 6 Elliott St., Brampton, Ont.

Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carter, Downsview, Ont., a 7 lb. 13 oz. baby girl, December 15, at Northwestern General Hospital. Mr. Carter is one of The Canadian Kennel Club representatives on the board of Apex Publishers and Publicity Ltd.

Notice in recent Toronto paper offered Basset pups, male and female. No papers offered because they were not pure Bassets, but Basset Beagles, at $30. "Much better than real Bassets", the copy read.

Died: George P. Davies, R.R. 2, Gormley, Ont., just prior to Christmas. Mr. Davies was one of Canada's real old-time dog men and one of the most famous of the remaining terrier men. More details in the next issue.

Travellers: Dr. Tom DeGeer, Eglinton Veterinary Hospital, Toronto, to Nice, France, May 18, to attend the International Rotary Convention. Prior to leaving for home June 11 he will visit friends in Scotland . . . Wire Fox Terrier breeder A. J. Saunders, Hi-Tom Kennels, Richmond Hill, Ont., leaves February 8 for England to attend the Crufts Show February 10 and 11. He will later attend the Birmingham Show. Plans also are to visit Whit Wyre Kennels in Berkshire.

Dog of the Year: Ch. (Can., Am. & Eng.) Bibelot's Tall Dark 'n Handsome, famous black Standard Poodle bred and owned by Susan Radley Fraser (Bibelot) Toronto, has just been named Dog of the Year in England. "Tramp" has to his credit a total of 13 Best in Show wins and one Reserve BIS. At the recent Christmas Stakes at the Richmond Show he took another BIS and was presented with a purse of £50. As far as is known, Tramp is the first Canadian bred and owned dog of any breed to have done such spectacular winning in England. His offspring are already proving worthy of the father. Eight are now champions in Canada and the States.
