HOW TO BUILD STRONG PUPPIES INTO STRONG DOGS

As a breeder, you should determine what you are going to do with your new puppies. If you plan to keep one or two for breeding, working or other purposes, you may be interested in The Purina Dog Care Center's recommendations.

Puppies grow most rapidly between the ages of 6 and 20 weeks. Most breeds will continue to grow until a year old. However, some larger breeds may continue to grow until 18 months while some smaller breeds may reach full weight and height earlier.

FEEDING

Most pups start to nibble solid food at 3 to 4 weeks of age. This food can be the same ration as the dam receives.

Weaned pups can be fed Purina Dog Chow, or Purina Dog Meal, dry or moistened. Normally the pups will consume more if it is fed moistened. Between the ages of 6 weeks to 6 months, feed three times a day . . . from 6 months to one year, twice a day. Feed all the moistened ration the pups will clean up at each feeding. If you dry feed in a self-feeder, they can have access to their feed at all time. Be sure fresh water is always present.

Pups that are 8 to 10 weeks old consume the highest level of feed in proportion to their body weight . . . that is, with the exception of lactating females. As the pup grows older and adds weight, the amount of feed intake in proportion to body weight gradually decreases and levels off at maturity. If at any time during the growing period, the dog tends to become overweight, his feed intake should be reduced.

HOUSING

The type and/or amount of housing a growing pup requires depends upon its age and breed, and the climate. In cold weather, the pup should have a dry, draft-free area to sleep in. If the area is unheated, supplemental heat can be provided with heat pads or heat bulbs.

Various types of bedding can be used . . . shredded paper and soft grass hay being preferable. Do not use straw or other stiff and course materials that can irritate a young pup's skin. However, hay, straw or similar materials stuffed into sacks provide perfectly adequate bedding.

SANITATION

A good, regular sanitation program is the key factor in raising healthy, fast-growing pups. Cleaning up and removing droppings is the first step. Kennel runs should be hosed daily and disinfected weekly in good weather. Under snow and ice conditions, droppings should be scraped up regularly. Soiled bedding should be removed daily.

Keep feed and water pans clean: If a moistened ration is fed, feed pans should be washed daily. Resting platforms should be cleaned regularly also, especially when new pups are brought into the area. Not only does a thorough cleaning reduce disease spread, but it also reduces hiding places for external parasites.

Caution: Be sure all disinfectants or germicides are recommended for dogs and are used according to directions.

WORMING AND VACCINATION

The better the sanitation program of a kennel, the lesser the degree of puppy infestation by worms. If adult dogs are heavily infested, chances are their offspring will be equally infested. For example, the larvae of hookworms and roundworms can migrate through the placenta of the pregnant bitch to her developing pups, consequently, the pups can be heavily infected at birth. Most dog professionals work with their veterinarians in setting up a regular checking and treating routine for worms.

Vaccination must be done on a regular schedule also. Consult your veterinarian who will determine the type of vaccine to use and the best time to vaccinate.

GENERAL CARE

When a normal, healthy growing pup shows loss of appetite, weight loss, or any other abnormal condition take him to your veterinarian. Don't rely on your own diagnosis and remedy. Early treatment by a veterinarian offers a better chance of clearing up any abnormal condition in a dog.

Periodic checks for external parasites (fleas, ticks and lice) should be made with prompt treatment of any that are found. Treat both the dogs, and their resting area.

Bathing of growing pups is not recommended unless absolutely necessary. If bathing is done in cold weather, be sure the puppy is completely dry before being returned to an outdoor kennel. Whenever you bathe a dog, use a good dog shampoo.

Regular brushing is the key to keeping a dog's coat in good condition. Brushing with a good stiff brush helps keep the skin and coat clean, stimulates oil glands thus putting a sheen on the coat, and removes dead and shedded hair.

Dennis and Catherine Gardiner, 4981 Appleby Line, RR 6, Milton, Ontario. (416-878-6026).

The Kerries we have been raising since the early 1950's are not only our hobby but part of our everyday family life. We had this in mind when we designed our new home and they have an acre or so of fenced grass and woodlands in which to run and play, off their sleeping quarters, with covered runs for bad weather. The puppies are continually exposed to humon contact as we use their room for grooming and food preparation. They share their family room with us when we all watch T.V. together, which means the puppies have a minimal amount of adjustment when they go to their new homes.

We do not have many dogs, six brood bitches at the most, usually two studs, although we have five right now because we cannot bear to part with them, along with the young ones we are grooming for showing. They all run together in peace and harmony. This is a must, as dogs are not fun unless we can live with them and enjoy them. We aim for QUALITY not QUANTITY.

Although TEMPERAMENT is our main concern, our dogs are holding their own conformationwise in the show ring and are producing Kerries that continue to do so when they are bred to other sires and dams. In the latest list of sires and dams of Merit from the States, Kerrycroft is second only to the late Tailteann Kennels who hold the records to date. The one exception is Ch. (Can. & Am.) Kerrycrofts Irish Sheila who is top producing dam for this decade, and second for all time. Third place is Dorcliff Josephine sired by our Ch. Finian of Elm-Acres. To date we have about 35 Canadian Champions and 16 American with 5-6 more with points.

The above is the present day method of rating a dog's greatness, a system we are not too happy about. In fact we are very much in agreement with the article written by Mr. William Kendrick, noted American Judge, in the New York Times of March this year. In essence, if you have a fairly good dog who is a top showman, keep it well groomed, go to enough shows, if it starts winning it just seems to keep on and on.

PHONY CUSTOMERS

. . . I was glad to see that somebody else has brought up the subject of telephone calls from nonexistent customers . . . We have for many years suffered this type of bad manners . . . Phone rings when one is busy . . . (you) pick up the phone and tiredly say hello, a blank then a girlish giggle, more blank, in disgust (you) hang up and have it happen 20 minutes or so later . . . Now one, I'm afraid, becomes rather hostile to these plain nuisance calls and rather short in one's answers. Why should I give information to a party on how to look after their puppy, whom they have bought from another breeder . . . We have noted in the past four or five years an increase in these bad mannered calls . . . I am sorry to see that somebody new to the game is suffering, but after 13 years or more of it you gradually get used to it.

CHESSIES AS GUIDES

. . . Just a line to say how much we enjoyed the article by Mrs. E. Lavoy, "Chesapeakes Make Excellent Guide Dogs", in the July issue. We have four "Chessies" at Anjamar, along with our 22 Goldens, and certainly find them to be extremely clever animals.

It was just great to see the lovely little picture and news of Mr. and Mrs. George Mehlenbacher in Bermuda. The "Golden Retriever" people rarely make the news in Dogs. The Mehlenbachers have made a great contribution to the betterment of Goldens and O.B. in Canada.

SPRING SHOWS IN THE U.K.

. . . Owners of Oakcrest Kennels Reg., judges Kenneth P. Rickman and Agnes L. Wilkie, spent the spring seeing U.K. shows and kennels. Mr. Rickman judged at Dublin's largest championship international show on March 17 and later in England.

W.E.L.K.S. Ch. Shows April 28-29, England's prestige show, three dogs short of 7,000 . . . Ran like clockwork, situated in large flat grasslands area . . . 45 rings, tent village for benching, shops displaying every manner of doggy need, restaurant, bar, restrooms. PA system could be heard anywhere in the area or the parking lot.

First day: three Groups — Hounds, Gundogs, Toys and Poodles. Second day: Non-Sporting — Terriers and Obedience . . . High figures of dogs in many breeds . . . 227 Golden Retrievers, 139 Pekes, 329 Alsatians . . . Ring stewards superior; competition for money-prizes keen; show started each day at 11 a.m. and finished at 5.30 p.m. . . . breeders eager to sell to Canada. Many stressed careful selection and no inflated prices. However, they seldom sell their top dogs — too few of these in any breed.

EXPERT ADVICE WANTED

. . . I did enjoy Mrs. Daniell-Jenkins' July article about judging in Europe. Would like an article by Mr. or Mrs. Odenkirchen about show points in Holland.

Would like an explanation from Mr. Gordon Garrett and other old timers about bad shoulders and bad hind legs, bad movers. Instead of complaining about them, tell people why it happens and the way to prevent it . . . would like to hear what the experts have to say about it. That is the only way for people to learn.

MRS. MARIE TUYL

PEOPLE OF BARRIE JOIN SEARCH FOR LOST GERMAN SHEPHERD

. . . At ten a.m. on August 6 I received a phone call to say my German Shepherd bitch had escaped from her crate at the Barrie Championship Show, where I had sent her with a handler, and fled the show grounds. She had been gone since about 7 a.m. . . . I arrived in Barrie posthaste and the first thing I did was to go to the Barrie police, who in turn notified the OPP and radio station CKBB, and the search began. The Barrie police toured around all of the side roads, their kindness and concern was very touching. Not to be outdone for kindness was Mrs. Fels, the president of the Barrie S.P.C.A., and she notified everyone she knew who could help locate our German Shepherd. Members of the Barrie Kennel Club, participants, spectators and citizens all showed their concern and kept a watchful eye out and many followed false leads to no avail. A lot of credit goes to the official photographer at the show, Mr. Ed Beaulieu, who really went all out in the hunt and was so helpful in organizing a search.

Next day the confused unhappy Shepherd was sighted by a party of four trying to get through a fence heading back to the grounds. I raced down with the Shepherd's mother but she had gone. Then Mary Creamer, an exhibitor from Warren, Ohio, spotted her on a side street and chased the Shepherd into a fenced-in area. She came and told me and luckily I had the mother of "Marla" there, and there was a great happy reunion after 31 hours.

Homes and food were offered to us in Barrie, the place of human interest and kindness. To all the people of Barrie and the Show, for their great efforts, many thanks and my deepest appreciation.

Dear Editor, I would appreciate it if you could print this letter in the best Dog magazine there is.

COULD JUDGING SYSTEM BE IMPROVED?

. . . As a novice in the hobby of purebred dogs, about to enter my first show with my first home bred puppy, I am appalled by the apparent pettiness in the dog show world. The July issue of Dogs has reference to poor sportsmanship in connection with a highly praised obedience match. Stanley Dangerfield tells of the humiliation of obedience enthusiasts who became too cocky. Surely the ideal dog should be both beautiful and well trained. Why could this not be encouraged by an all-breed combination class — 50% conformation and 50% performance of basic obedience? This is common in horse shows. The dogs could be lined up in the ring, called forward for individual performance, and then judged for conformation as the different breeds are in Best in Show.

Another article describes judging in Europe where, except in enormous classes, the judge is required to make a written comment on each dog. Why could this not be taken one step further, and dogs scored according to the mathematical breakdown of the standard, plus a percentage for condition, way of going, etc.? It will be argued that this would take too long. It could save time, however, because all awards after the dog's original judging could be worked out from the scores, and presented in a grand finale of winners as described by Mrs. Daniell-Jenkins as drawing large crowds of spectators in France.

This would result in more objectivity in judging of conformation, which seems to be a beauty contest, since scientist Burns in Genetics of the Dog states that there is little direct relation between working ability and conformation, and working strains of dogs "unsound" by show standards do not appear in any way incapacitated. She further states that little is known of the genetics of the minor structural differences so vital in show conformation. In the absence of test-mating or veterinary examination of breeding stock, the title of Champion is not necessarily a guarantee of genetic superiority. It often tells more about the owner, handler, or judge, than the dog! An obedience certificate does not necessarily tell much about intelligence either (which is measured by problem solving and ingenuity) but it may tell a lot about the trainer!

In conclusion, and on a different topic, I would like to express my appreciation to Tom Hughes for his many fine articles. Oh Cruel Canada! in the June issue should be reprinted in every newspaper from coast to coast.

MORE CARE NEEDED IN LICENSING KENNELS

. . . Concerning the article "Where do you Belong", by Mr. Malcolm Stephens: Until recently I thought of the C.K.C. as a typical club, drawing together people of common interests and ideals for a particular purpose . . . I was shocked out of my naivete when I took the precaution of requesting a report from the Humane Society on a certain C.K.C. Registered Kennel before sending breeding stock there. This incident suggests to me that before condemning "those other kennels" we should clean our own house first.

Perhaps standardization by inspection is impractical but there is a way to give that "C.K.C. Registered Kennel" some meaning and respect.

Registration for ordinary members only. This will encourage early C.K.C. membership by prospective breeders and therefore an early introduction to Dogs in Canada. The period of associate membership will eliminate those who find themselves mis-motivated and reduce the requests for kennel names. (Are there any figures available on the number of names registered and those used for more than a few years.)

This waiting period will also enable the local Director to become acquainted with those members establishing reputable kennels. Approval of a Director could then accompany the application for registration. The breeders who become members of the C.K.C. for the advantages of reduced registration fees, etc., but have no interest in making a good image in the dog world will then not seek to register a kennel name.

When those who should set standards do so I am sure members of municipal councils, who may have little or no knowledge of dogs, will be encouraged to review their by-laws. Regulations pertaining to dogs and kennels will vary from coast to coast so I can only speak for this area, and I have studied those of 20 municipalities . . .

It is incongruous that a kennel breeding with mongrel stock can receive a license to operate. Let us at least leave the production of this type of dog to accident and the individual. Licence only kennels with obviously pure-bred, if unregistered stock. Then, until some recognition of responsibility can be instilled into the problem owner, let people apply for a licence to keep a dog in a developed area and receive one only when suitable means of confining the dog to the property can be shown. A simple procedure in those areas where a license inspector is employed . . .

Ontario members are fortunate if they pay only $10 in kennel fees. In this municipality, and it is rural, we pay $40. Let us not forget that the price of a pure-bred registered dog will and does encourage people to breed with no other thought than for financial gain. They do not consider the expenses and other factors involved in marketing such dogs. The sacrifices often made by the genuine breeder would be inconceivable to such a person and when his calculations come to naught, what of the puppies?

So let us do all we can to support a nationwide review of the dog's place in society today and not cry if we are hurt a little by those who are doing their best to find a solution. I would like to feel there are enough C.K.C. members to really help with petitions to their Members of Parliament and Ministers' of Municipal Affairs and let us see an end to this over-production and neglect of man's best friend.

INCREASED REGISTRATIONS

. . . With registrations on the increase and increasing delays it might be an appropriate time for CKC board of directors to consider establishment of a PET Register, whereby permission be granted the breeder to issue the buyer of a pet not for breeding purposes the Application for Registration of an Individual Dog form and allow the latter to make application, if so desired and at non-member fees; this file to be destroyed in 20 years' time.

At the same time, consideration might be given to setting up an ELITE Register for breeding stock which, on reaching full maturity — to be decided by the respective breed clubs — to gain entry must be shown in the Open class under three CKC designated specialist judges and placed not lower than second in a class of four, third in a class of six and fourth in a class of eight, or some such grading; yearly to be examined by CKC-approved vet. surgeon and declared sound of sight and hearing, free from hip dysplasia, slipped patella, have a full set of teeth and carry no scars indicating correction of eye, ear, testicle defects, etc. Name of the dog or bitch, together with sire and dam, gaining entry to this register to be published in Dogs in Canada, also the names of those being deleted and for what reason.

TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS

BY JAKE GIACOMELLI

Here's a rule that is constantly being broken at any Trial you care to mention, or are going to see — the use of the signal in obedience.

First of all, let's put down in print how our "Regulations and Standards for Obedience Trials" defines the use of the signal in Obedience.

"Where a signal is permitted and given, it must be a single gesture with one arm and hand only and the arm must be promptly returned to its normal position; except that BOTH ARMS may be used simultaneously to call the dog in the Recall Exercises." The Recall Exercises referred to here are the Novice Recall Exercise and the Open Drop on Recall Exercise, it does not include the recall portion of the Signal Exercise in Utility — so don't get any ideas!

Also, try and remember (especially you new obedience enthusiasts) that although your dog's name may be used once immediately before any verbal command it may not be used when a signal is employed even though the standard specifies "command and/or signal".

Possibly the most common infraction of them all is the bending at the waist of most handlers when giving their dogs the combined command and signal to "Stay" in the Recall and the Sit and Down Exercises — how does it go above? "A signal gesture with one arm and hand only, or a simultaneous gesture with both arms in the Recall Exercises" — there's no mention of body bending being allowed!

This rule infraction is committed by the owners of both small and large dogs; although I must admit the owners of the small dogs are in the majority. Now, just hold it before you climb all over me — I sympathize wholeheartedly with you and fully realize that your little Chihuahua or Toy would never see your "Stay" signal if you remained straight up (unless he was looking up at you when you gave it!).

I can hear the mumblings from here — "those lucky large breed owners merely have to flick their signal to their left at waist level and it's right across the front of their dog's face — how lucky can you get!"

Strange and unbelievable as it may seem to some of you, I often do see in Trials the handlers of Toy dogs giving excellent executions of the signals without any of the infractions mentioned. No, it's not impossible! If you so desire you can on the Stand, Stays, Sit and Down Stays, and the Recall Stays, teach your dog to stay by voice only or by voice and the combined use of a signal that does not involve body bending. It may take you a little longer to teach, but you can do it easily enough.

Most judges will ignore your body bending motion when you are giving your dog the command and signal to "Stay" — either because they are aware of the disadvantage the small dog owner has, or because they don't realize that a handler error is being committed.

If one of these days some judge nails you for bending over — don't start screaming murder; he's right and you're wrong! Just because you got away with it up until you met this judge, doesn't make you right, you know! Yes, I know we're supposed to have standardized judging, but some things are hard to legislate on; especially when sympathy is inclined to lean mostly in one direction.

My own personal views are that we should tighten up more on the type of signals being allowed in the Signal Exercise in Utility — the extra body motion and holding of signals that some handlers commit are fantastic! As far as the body bending motions given on the Stays for the Sit and Down Exercises and the Recalls, I'm not too particularly concerned (unless it is grossly exaggerated — then I will penalize) — the principle feature in these Exercises is that the dog stays until called or until the handler returns to his dog.

If bending to give a Stay becomes a disqualification in our Rule Book — you would probably see the handlers stop doing it overnight!

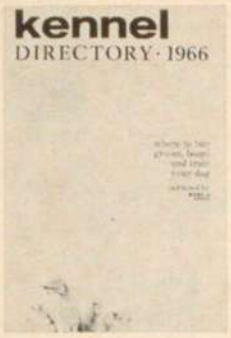

Now that I've got you all stirred up, how about trying to bend less and less at the coming Obedience Trials until you've developed a real polished professional look about you! You'll be pleased at the nice feeling it'll give you!

Hope you're enjoying your summer!

Jake Giacomelli, 51 Wardrope St. S., Stoney Creek, Ont. is much in demand as an Obedience judge. His wealth of experience in this phase of dogdom, combined with his sense of humor, ensure a lively series.

LONDON CALLING

BY Stanley Dangerfield

This month it might be a good idea to examine some of the ways in which the British shows differ from those in North America in general and Canada in particular. Before doing so I would say that it is both right and natural that there should be differences. Each system was devised to suit particular conditions. What suits us does not necessarily suit you and vice versa.

In fact I think that you have some rules of procedure which we could adopt with profit and pleasure. I also think we have some which could, with benefit, be exported across the Atlantic. I will not say which is which however. The prime duty of a journalist is to remain impartial. I therefore report the differences without comment and leave you to make the judgments.

First then, our own very restricted opportunities to win Challenge Certificates (call them 'majors' if it simplifies understanding) and thus make champions. Although we have nearly 2,000 all breed shows here every year, only 24 of them are championship shows. At these few you can win awards which count towards the title of champion. At the others, despite the fact that there may be a thousand or even two thousand dogs present, you go there strictly for fun. Even at the championship shows however, challenge certificates are not automatically available for every breed. Each breed earns these by dint of registering puppies. Therefore the most popular breeds, like Alsatians and Poodles, have certificates at all 24 shows. The less popular might have them at say 12. The really minor breeds do not have them at any. Thus, although we have had, for example, American Cockers here for many, many years they are so small in numbers that no certificates are issued. Thus there never has been and in the foreseeable future will not be an American Cocker with the title of Champion here. Lest this be thought anti-North American let it also be said that exactly the same applies to an essentially British and ancient breed called Sussex Spaniels. I could name a dozen others.

Now to the award of these Challenge Certificates. They are won in much the same way as are points in your country. That is by parading the winners of the various classes and handing out the top prize to the top dog. The vital difference however is that we do not have a 'Specials class'. Champions may and do compete however but the important point is that they have to enter the open class. Thus, to get a Challenge Certificate the lucky dog or bitch has first to defeat all the other existing Champions of the breed at the show. Thus, with us, as in boxing, you have to beat the reigning top dog before you get a title. With you the top dogs are withdrawn from the title competition as they are 'made' up, by being put in a separate class thereby giving lesser dogs the chance to win their titles also.

Next to the subject of professional handlers. It hardly needs to be said that a large proportion of the dogs in North America are handled by 'pros'. In Britain, despite a long and honorable history, they are rarely used. So little used in fact that their already small numbers are still dwindling because most find it difficult to earn a living. In what might be called the trimmed terrier breeds there are exactly six handlers still in business. In Alsatians there are two. In Poodles, one. In all of the other breeds they are completely unknown. There were approximately 7,500 dogs at Cruft's this year. A rough check reveals that approximately 70 were handled by professionals. Or put round another way, 99% of the dogs at Cruft's this year were handled in the ring by their owners.

Our Poodle measuring procedure differs from yours and this not only because our Toys may be up to 11" while your height limit is 10". Basically our approach is that the judge and the judge only is responsible for measuring and there is no such thing as a measuring committee. The rule on the subject in effect reads: "No prize will be awarded to a dog exceeding X inches in height." This means that if he wished, the judge need only measure the four placed dogs immediately before he hands out the ribbons. In practice all judges measure each dog as it is examined because this obviates switching the final line up about. The measuring is done by placing a steel hoop of the correct height on the withers. Either it touches the ground or it does not. Which means there is no attempt to ascertain his precise height. It is sufficient to know that either he is or is not eligible to compete and win. Finally, as with all things in the judging ring, the judge's decision is final. We feel that if he can be trusted to adjudicate on eye color, ear length, coat texture and a dozen other things, he should also be allowed to have the last word on whether or not a dog goes under the hoop.

And my last word this month is to tell you that I have exhausted my space and possibly your patience but not the subject of our little differences. Look out then for next month's thrilling instalment! □

Dog Hero Of The Year

Mijo, a powerful, 180-lb. St. Bernard from Anchorage, Alaska, has been named winner of the 14th annual Ken-L Ration gold medal as America's Dog Hero of the Year for 1967.

The gallant dog was brought to Chicago with his owner's family, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bennett and her 13-year-old mistress, Philiciann, to receive a gold-plated leash and collar, a gold plaque, a custom-made dog blanket, a $1,000 U.S. bond and a year's supply of dog food.

Mijo discovered young Philiciann mired in a water-filled gravel pit, and, unable to free herself, about to drown. The big dog swam to her rescue, pulled her free of the mire and towed her to safety. The desperate girl seized the dog's collar. The heroic deed also probably saved the life of brother Mitchell, 11, who was scrambling to reach his sister and would have been similarly trapped.

Second place in the awards went to Capus, a Springer Spaniel, who saved his owner's life on a hunting trip. When Stanley Soder suffered an epileptic seizure while hunting in a swampy area, Capus barked an alarm. A companion, some distance away, hurried to the spot and found the dog holding his stricken owner by the collar and keeping his head above water.

Heidi, a German Shepherd owned by Fillmore Coggeshall of Middletown, R.I., was responsible for the rescue of her 80-year-old master who had become mired in the soft ground of a construction site while taking a morning walk. He ordered the dog to bark from time to time, but no one heard. Heidi stayed with him, and around 7 p.m. heard search parties calling. She dashed away, located them, and led them to the spot.

Fourth award went to Bounce, a mixed breed, whose owner slipped on an icy sidewalk and was too badly injured to rise. Bounce, whose barking failed to alert neighbors, returned to her and pushed his body under her until he got her into a sitting position. She was then able to painfully make her way to a neighbor, who rushed her to hospital.

Another mixed breed placed fifth. When his master, 16-year-old William Tucker of Seeknonk, Mass., tumbled to the bottom of a sand silo, he was unhurt, but helplessly trapped. A search party, unable to locate the boy, noticed that Penny, barking and whimpering, had stationed herself near the base of the silo and refused to budge. Acting on a hunch, the rescuers found the worn-out boy at the bottom and lifted him out with ropes.

These two Bob Martin remedies take fuss and bother out of the age-old problem

Ridding puppies of roundworm and adult dogs of tapeworm is a problem that may always be with us; but it need not be a worry. With Bob Martin's round and tape worm remedies you can worm your dogs safely, surely and speedily.
There is no need to starve the dog or give an aperient—and in all but the most chronic cases, one dose given in accordance with the directions is sufficient. Both products are in tablet form. They are easy to give. And without fuss, bother or worry, you will find they answer the age-old problem in good kennel management.
Following worming, don't forget to put your dog on a course of Bob Martin Condition Tablets to restore him to perfect health.

RETRIEVERS
IN THE FIELD

Sandy Briggs is well-known to Retriever enthusiasts in both field and conformation activities. Her column appears in the January, May and September issues. Correspondence should be directed to her at R.R. 1, Markham, Ontario.

The geese and ducks will soon be flying south and the hunter will be out in the marshes. How many of you will be there? With the trained retriever it is now possible to go out hunting and almost fill your bag with game left in places inaccessible to the dog-less hunters. Many a young dog on his first hunt gets his first experience of game by flushing a wounded bird and catching it, or by retrieving a dead one. You may not fire a shot, but you'll see some good thinking and work on the part of your dog each time he brings in a cripple or a dead bird left by some dog-less hunter, or even by a hunter who has mistakenly thought that any dog will retrieve, then fires a gun over his pup's head for the first time when he sees the flight coming in . . . and the pup takes off in the opposite direction.

The problem of gunshyness crops up even among young field trial dogs that have done well as pups and Juniors. Such dogs, used to the gun well out in front, have not been as close to a gun as the first time they are shot over. However, with the Retriev-R Trainer and other similar products (or even home-converted shotguns which fire dummies), the dog can quickly become accustomed to being fired over from his early training days, and a smart pup at six months can retrieve a dummy fired with a light load without a second thought about the accompanying bang.

The National Championships are fast approaching . . . the dates are October 12, 13, 14, 15, and the trial will be held near Montebello on the Ottawa river between Ottawa and Montreal where the Montreal club held its licensed trials in the Spring. The location offers some excellent tests — there is plenty of space, plenty of cover and varying terrain for the judges to choose from. By October the woods should be in the glory of their fall coloring, so for anyone who is a keen photographer as well as a retriever enthusiast, there will be ample opportunity to combine the two hobbies and even include a last minute trip to Expo which closes soon after the National. If your dog is not qualified for the National, don't let that deter you. Why not take a week's vacation and come east, or west as the case may be, to watch the best at work. It will be a great experience.

"Time will tell", as the old adage goes. Time is certainly making a difference to the field trials in Ontario, as many of the top dogs have retired due to age. Such dogs as Dual Ch. Blyth's Pat, F.T.Ch. Rathrippen's Black Star, Nat. Ch. Smudge's Pitch, and F.T.Ch. Cedar Hill Lucky Black Banshee (all black Labrador males) are no longer running at trials, and of the top ten all-time point winners in eastern Canada only the top dog, Dual and Amat. F.T.Ch. Stormy of Spirit Lake Gal and F.T.Ch. Irwin's Toby are still running regularly but both are over nine years old.

From mid-Canada has come a trainer and handler who must surely be ranked among the greats in Canada, if not in all of north America. Scotty Gillespie of Ninette, Man., first trained Dual Ch. Happy Playboy and took him to his field trial title and to the eighth test in the 1965 Nationals before the dog was three. This dog went to the U.S.A. where he won his bench title undefeated, and then won his field title to make him an American and Canadian Dual Champion . . . then went on to complete the 1966 American National. Then, without taking time to rest on his laurels, Scotty took on Ch. Pelican Lake Peggy, a half sister to Playboy, and in 18 months of training made her into a field trial champion too. Both Peggy and Playboy are sired by Ch. (Irish, Am. & Can.) Castlemore Shamus who was imported by Hugh Crozier before he had completed his field title in Ireland. However, Shamus ran one trial in Canada after arrival and won it.

Happy Birthday to the Canadian Field Trial News which will be celebrating its second birthday this fall, and many congratulations to Al Bishop and his son, Charlie, who collect and report trial results, take pictures right at the trials, even in the coldest weather, and get the information to readers in double quick time.

It is with sympathy extended to his owner Wilbur Goode that we report the death of F.T.Ch. Paha Sapa Chief II this spring in the U.S.A. This dog sired several Canadian litters and one of the notable litters was one whelped at the Kranwood's kennels of Frank Attwood in Sudbury, Ont. in June 1964 out of Ch. Algo-Ken's Char Sue. In this litter there was Kranwood's Naqa-Pen-Kim who was the top winning Junior in the east in 1966, and Kranwood's Bollo of Wasi Falls who was placing in the

Predicted: Canadian Council On Animal Care

Veterinarians must become involved in setting standards for animal care and establishing liaison with groups such as humane societies, Dr. H. C. Rowsell told delegates at the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association conference held in Toronto in August. Dr. Rowsell, who is professor of Pathology at the University of Saskatchewan College of Veterinary Medicine, stated that many animals used for veterinary surgical practice are not allowed to live, and thus post-operative suffering is prevented.

"If the animal used is allowed to live, the student is made responsible for post-operative care," he stated. If the animal dies while under care the student doesn't get another one, he added, thus giving "every incentive for him to give conscientious care".

Dr. Rowsell predicted that a Canadian Council on Animal Care will soon be formed, with duties, among others, to set standards for animal care.

Water-Skiing Team

Fraser, a white cat perched on skis being towed down the Alouette River near the Lougheed Highway, B.C., by Simon, a Labrador Retriever is a most unusual sight. Owner Jim Sincock, an imaginative water-skier, has taught his pets to take part in his marine stunts.

Pets Can Now Travel In Style

An automobile pet carrier has just come on the market. Designed by a Canadian it is being manufactured by McFarlane-Gendron of Toronto. The new carrier comes in various sizes and provides comfort and safety for the travelling dog or cat. An adjustable strap, which can be fastened to the pet's collar, prevents it from running loose in the car.

Logger and Shepherd Friend Hike from Halifax to Vancouver

Hickory-tanned and foot-weary, Filip Moen completed his 4,283-mile hike from Halifax to Vancouver in 131 days. With him was Bruno, his German Shepherd, who appeared equally glad to get off his feet at the Boundary Road sign. Bruno wore felt shoes, ate a pound of butter a day, drank a quart of milk and ate as much dog food as he desired — and remained skinny. Logger Moen credits his canine companion with saving his life at least five times on the trip, frequently pulling him on to the road's shoulder when he was in danger of being run down from behind.

Subsidized Veticare Plan Proposed

A scheme whereby veterinarians could be subsidized and farmers, particularly in the West, could afford the necessary help, was proposed by Professor C. M. Fraser, head of the Veterinary Medicine and Surgery Department of the University of Saskatoon, at the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association conference held in Toronto in August. To encourage the use of professional care of animals in diagnosis, treatment, prevention and control of disease among livestock, Dr. Fraser suggested a scheme where the farmer would pay part of the fee and the government the rest.

NOTICE

From time to time our attention is drawn to the practice of some breeders who, when advertising or otherwise offering dogs for sale, indicate in some way that the purchaser of a dog sold as pure-bred will be required to make a higher, or additional, payment in order to be furnished with a certificate of registration. Such persons should note that the price at which a dog is sold, or the purpose for which a dog was purchased, has no bearing whatever on the obligation of the seller to supply the purchaser with a certificate of registration issued by The Canadian Kennel Club for a dog sold as pure-bred.

The Live Stock Pedigree Act, a federal statute, requires that when a person sells a dog as pure-bred, or contracts to sell a dog as pure-bred, he must furnish, or agree to furnish, a certificate of registration, together with fully-recorded transfer of ownership to the buyer.

Article XXXI, Section 3 of the By-laws of The Canadian Kennel Club reads as follows:

"A member may be suspended or expelled, or a non-member deprived of the privileges of the Club, if it is proven to the satisfaction of the Board that when selling, or otherwise disposing of a dog for a consideration (monetary or otherwise), the person disposing of the dog has asked or required the new owner to make any form of payment specifically for the purpose of being furnished with a certificate or registration."

To avoid possible prosecution under the Live Stock Pedigree Act and/or possible disciplinary action by The Canadian Kennel Club, members and others engaged in the selling of dogs as pure-bred are cautioned to refrain from the practice of quoting two selling prices for the dogs, one "with papers", the other "without papers", or to in any other way indicate that an additional payment is required for a certificate of registration.

This notice is published by an order of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club.

HUMANELY SPEAKING

BY TOM HUGHES

I think it's about time that the Federal Government of Canada helped some fellow Canadians to further the aims and objects of the humane movement in the Prairie provinces, in northern British Columbia, North West Territories, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland; in fact, everywhere except the populated part of British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec.

I am not criticizing the humane work now being carried on in those parts of Canada where I have suggested that Federal aid is needed, but the fact does remain that British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec have the majority of the population and the major share of the wealth of the nation. The people who live in the rest of Canada are entitled to share the good fortune of being Canadians. I do not mean that one part of Canada should be entitled to "hand outs" at the expense of the rest of the country. Far from it. But the Canadian who puts in a fair day's work in Nova Scotia or New Brunswick should enjoy the same basic standard of living as his opposite number in Montreal, Toronto or Vancouver. If this state of affairs cannot be created, then obviously, sooner or later, everyone will live in ten or 12 cities and the rest of the country will be empty of able bodied men and women; when that happens we will be in serious economical and political trouble. But, of course, the Federal, and most certainly the Provincial Governments, are perfectly well aware of all this and they have long ago devised a number of schemes by which the cost of certain programs are "equalized." This means simply that the wealthy provinces meet or accept a disproportionate cost of these programs. In some areas of public spending the Federal Government subsidizes some Provincial Governments and no one can seriously disagree with this basic principle.

But the Government of Canada spends many millions of dollars outside Canada. Vast sums of money are spent on foreign aid or to put it more simply, wealthy Canada helps underdeveloped countries which are populated by underprivileged people. For example, in the 1966-67 fiscal year the Federal Government donated 34 million dollars to 81 private welfare agencies operating in 103 countries outside of Canada. These Societies are working in Africa, Asia, Central America, South America and the West Indies. These private agencies include such groups as "CANADA-RWANDA Inc." which has 100 members and one office. Have you ever heard of it? Nor have I, and I bet nor has the vast majority of Canadians.

At the other end of the scale, there is the Y.M.C.A. "World Service Committee", which is also assisted. In between, 79 other private welfare agencies of every conceivable type and purpose. One thing they have in common is that they are all operating outside of Canada with Canadian Federal Government funds. I have no means of knowing whether all of these 81 private agencies deserve to receive such generous support. I can only presume that their needs and requests for Federal grants are closely scrutinized by competent civil servants.

That is only the help given to "private" agencies! What about the money poured into such schemes as the "Colombo Plan", various United Nations agencies, not to mention the cost of peace-keeping in Cyprus and the Middle East? Again, these expenses are undoubtedly given careful scrutiny, both by Federal budget officials and by Members of Parliament. In Canada itself, Canadian Federal funds are used on a vast scale to support the "humanities" and "social sciences." Last year, the Canada Council gave away 1.3 million dollars and intends to increase this to 12 million dollars during the next three years. Remember these figures when I tell you that to my knowledge, and with one minor exception, the Federal Government of Canada has never ever given one single penny, not a red cent, to any Humane Society or any program sponsored or supported by the Humane movement and designed to help to protect animals against cruelty or neglect.

There are vast areas of Canada where no Humane Society exists — and never will, unless Federal funds are made available in some form or another. Mark you, I am not suggesting for one moment that the Federal Government should subsidize the day-to-day operations of local Humane Societies. Obviously, this would be undesirable and in any case, impractical, although the Federal Government could well provide specific subsidies to Provincial Humane Societies for use by these Societies in certain areas of their work.

Mr. Hughes is the General Manager of the Ontario Humane Society. Correspondence should be directed to him at Room 201, 696 Yonge St., Toronto 5, Ont.

But the real need, and one which I do suggest most strongly, is that the Government should support a National Humane Organization. Since charity begins at home, I suggest that if we can afford to donate 34 million dollars to private welfare agencies abroad, that we could afford to give a relatively small sum of money to a National Humane Society which would encourage and foster humane principles in those parts of Canada where there is no effective humane organization at present.

A National Humane organization could only be effective if it received a basic operating grant from the Federal Government. Not millions of dollars, but enough to guarantee the expense of a small office and the cost of employing a small, efficient and experienced staff, including above everything else, an experienced, hard-working and successful Field Officer. A man who could travel to any part of Canada as necessary to investigate serious abuses of animals, to work with local Government officials and to organize Societies where none existed. The Federal grant would not be expected to meet all the operating costs of such a Society. Nor indeed, would this be necessary. Other funds would be given by existing Humane Societies, other organizations such as Service clubs and private individuals.

But the egg must come before the hen, and unless the Government of Canada lays the golden egg there will not be Humane Canadian Hen! □

Night Trial Slated for Novices Only

Slated for Novice A and Novice B Classes only, the Queen City Tracking Associates' first licensed Obedience Trial will be held November 27, at the York Farmers' Market, Thornhill, Ont. Mr. Glen Johnson, who has served the club at many Matinee Matches for Classes, begins judging at 8 p.m. "This will be in all probability the first evening trial ever to be held in Ontario and the first one the CKC has sanctioned as to its class entry," Mrs. Grace E. Probert tells Dogs in Canada.

Because of the post interferences, the Market does not lend itself to Open or Utility work ring requirements. It will, however, "serve Obedience well", and novices will see only contemporaries working, without having to wait for advanced classes to finish.

Teamwork Baffles Postie

Norman Walker, a Vancouver postman, has learned how to handle the dogs on his walk — mainly by staring at them eyeball to eyeball. However, a combined operation by Heidi, a Used, recommended by world's most successful breeders, exhibitors, handlers. Unique in Quality, Performance. Take the "weight" out of good grooming. Maximum performance, minimum effort. Super elasticized cushion. 15 rows nickel plated pins with rounded heads. Toydog size #101. Available in Canada from Hunter Brand Mfg. young Husky and Trixie, her crow friend, proved too much. Heidi, "who shows class but lacks experience" and the postie were matching eyeballs recently, when the crow began a series of dives from about 20 feet — calculated to take the man's mind off his defense. Owner Mrs. Thomas Gray broke up the contest by moving the strange pair into the house, where they celebrated their victory by sharing a dish of dog food.

"Good — Very Sophisticated"

The Selection Committee for the 1967 annual Exhibit of Marketing Magazine (the bible of Canadian advertising) named two of the Gaines Professional Service Centre advertisements carried in Dogs in Canada as among the outstanding advertisements in the "Outstanding Campaigns of 1966". The advertisements were headed "The Big Fat Lie" and "The Almost Forgotten Minerals". They were termed: "Good — very sophisticated."

Who Cares About Clean Windows!

Dorothy Fountain, editor of the Dominion Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Association, Montreal & District Branch, discovered this gem in Gladys Taber's book, "Stillmeadow Daybook":

"The old bubbly small panes of glass in the windows are part of the charm of the old house, and are simply maddening to wash. Half the time we finish one window and go for fresh water and Holly jumps up and leaves a goodly layer of spring mud right on the clean window. The only time there isn't a Setter looking in the window, I thought yesterday, is when we are all inside and she is on the sofa. Only one Cocker, Especially Me, is tall enough to reach the window sills and his blond velvet muzzle is pressed into every clean pane too, his golden paws smudge the white clapboards under the sill. 'All in good clean fun', his eyes say.

"So many people ask me about housekeeping with dogs. They track in mud, they shed, they chew things up when young. When Holly was six months old, we left her in the kitchen while we went to the village. She somehow managed to open the door and get into the rest of the house. Cushions and rugs and magazines made a potpourri everywhere. This place looks like the town dump, said Jill, with lights on!

"We have, at the moment, only nine dogs — eight Cockers and one Irish, Hollyberry Red. And the house reflects it. However, I feel a clean window is fine but isn't a precious memory to store away particularly, whereas the sight of a shining Irish Setter and a small black and white Cocker both trying to crowd on one deep window sill — well, there is something I can remember with pleasure. We can always wash the windows again another day.

"An immaculate house is a wonderful and elegant thing but it can also be an empty and a cold thing. I'll take mine with flying paws and whisking tails and eager, loving looks from dark earnest eyes. When the children go away to school and get married and move away there are so many little quiet corners in a house. A bevy of Cockers and an Irish or two liven things up considerably. It is hard to be melancholy with somebody playing leapfrog around the room."

Large Public Animal Hospital Considered Needed

A big public animal hospital was urged for the Toronto area during the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association convention held in Toronto in August. Drs. P. D. McCutcheon and W. G. Whittick averred that young veterinarians must start their own animal hospitals on a shoestring. Stated Dr. Whittick: "If you want to become a veterinarian you'd better have a millionaire family to build a hospital like the ones you are used to in your training . . . Toronto has 35 animal hospitals "which vary in quality as much as cars on a used-car lot".

NOTICE

The Canadian Kennel Club's Litter Record and Stud Book for 1966 (Volume No. 70) has recently been published. A copy has been mailed to each person who placed an order with The Canadian Kennel Club.

A few copies of the volume are still available and any C.K.C. member wishing a copy should address an order, with covering payment ($5.00 per copy) to: The Canadian Kennel Club, 1173 Bay Street, Toronto 5, Ont.

Orders will not be accepted after the present supply is exhausted.

NOTICE

The following person, having complied with the requirements of The Canadian Kennel Club, is eligible to judge at ONE licensed obedience trial held under C.K.C. Rules, the Class listed after her name:

SCOTT, Reg. A., 21 Broadview Ave., Port Credit, Ont.
Utility.

NOTICE

There appears to be some confusion as to what actually constitutes the INDIVIDUAL registration number of a dog registered individually in the records of The Canadian Kennel Club. On the certificate of registration issued by The Canadian Kennel Club the INDIVIDUAL registration number appears in brackets immediately following the name of the dog.

In the case of a dog born in Canada there will also appear on the certificate the litter registration number of the litter of which that dog was part. The litter registration number can be recognized because the last two digits in the number represent the year in which the litter was registered. For example, litter number 7237 registered in 1965 would appear as #7237-65.

When completing applications for registration of litters and individual dogs and transfers of ownership or corresponding with the Canadian National Live Stock Records or The Canadian Kennel Club it is the INDIVIDUAL registration numbers which should be shown or quoted in connection with dogs named on the applications or in the correspondence.

NOTICE

SUBJECT: PRIVATE BREEDING RECORDS

Article XXII, Section 1, of the By-laws of The Canadian Kennel Club reads as follows:

> "There shall be kept by each breeder a private record which shall contain full particulars of his breeding operations and identification of all dogs in his possession by reason of ownership, lease or agreement. These records shall be kept in the form as set forth in 'Canadian Kennel Club Private Breeding Record' or in some other suitable form that will contain the same information."

Any breeder who does not now have a private breeding record book may obtain one by forwarding an order with covering payment (50¢) to: The Canadian Kennel Club, 1173 Bay Street, Toronto 5, Ontario.

SHOW AND TRIAL RESULTS

The awards at shows and trials reported in this issue are in accordance with official returns received by the Canadian Kennel Club. As such the reports are subject to any necessary corrections, and to such cancellations as may be required by the applicable rules and regulations. Any correspondence regarding these published reports should be addressed to:

T. S. Adams, Office Manager, The Canadian Kennel Club, 1173 Bay St., Toronto, Ontario.

The higher revenue for stud books has been brought about by the higher charge per copy effective with the Volume recently distributed to those members from whom orders had been received.

The increase in miscellaneous revenue has been brought about by priority date fees, monetary penalties paid, and sale of measuring standards.

Half of the increase in salary costs at Toronto arises from the addition to the staff last December of an administrative assistant.

The increase in cost of magazines to members was brought about by an increase, effective with the May 1966 issue, of the amount per copy payable by the Club to the publishers.

All of the accounts payable and accrued expenses (see "Liabilities") have been included in the expense accounts reported above.

Professional Handlers Awards

The Professional Handlers Association (an American association) presented the first annual Pervinal Awards for excellence in dog handling when the annual meeting was held August 9 in Gaithersburg, Md.

R. Chasoudian of Sun Valley, Calif., one of the two winners, handled the Scottish Terrier, Ch. Revran Reprise, to Best in Show at the June, 1967 Beverly Hills Kennel Club Show. R. E. Cooper of Algonquin, Ill., handled Ch. Salilyn's Aristocrat, English Springer Spaniel named Best in Show, at the International Kennel Club Show in Chicago in July. The awards, specially engraved gold money clips, were presented at a banquet which ended the three-day educational conference.

The winning dogs, as well as those named BIS at 12 consecutive Westminster KC Shows (1955-1966) were conditioned with Pervinal, as were the braces judged BIS at both the 1967 International and Beverly Hills shows.

Traffic Takes Its Toll Of Unleashed Dogs

No matter how clever a dog is, he cannot protect himself from the dangers presented by traffic — or poisoners and dog thieves, either. He may be able to provide you with security by guarding your home, but he is no match for a two thousand pound automobile, states the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York.

The majority of accidents involving animals are unavoidable. Yet a large percentage of the drivers don't stop. Why?

Perhaps it is because they don't realize that the dog they injured is someone's pet, an important member of the family. Maybe they are afraid they might be held responsible for the animal's medical care. The truth is, that unless the owner can prove the act was intentional, he is held responsible, not the driver.

Why make it difficult for our Judges?

by H. MALCOLM STEPHENS

EVEN a most casual exposure to dog shows and doggy people can produce an exposure to criticism of conformation judges and their judging. The same does not apply to obedience or field trials. This article attempts to take a hard look at some aspects of the problem. The opinions expressed are critical but the author hopes that no one will consider it a personal attack on themselves. It is not so intended.

☐ Our judges are expected to judge dogs within the framework of the dog show rules. In each country these rules are the responsibility of the kennel club for that country. In Canada this responsibility rests with The Canadian Kennel Club. The task of judging would be made easier if we had fewer rules. How many of the existing dog show rules are really necessary? How many contribute anything to running a better dog show and making certain that the best dog wins? Until recently we had an annual plebicite to vote on changes in the dog show rules. It now happens every two years. How many of these proposed changes have contributed anything to conformation shows? To be fair to those we ask to judge our dogs we should reduce the number of rules and avoid frequent changes.

☐ Since our show dogs move from country to country and are shown under judges from various countries there is a very strong argument for keeping our rules in line with other countries. This is particularly true of United States and The American Kennel Club rules. Undoubtedly some of our rules are better than theirs but what have we gained by our differences? There is one international organization which attempts to achieve international uniformity. Canada is not a member.

☐ Given a set of dog show rules, our judges are expected to judge our dogs in accordance with the standard for each particular breed. These standards are the responsibility of the kennel club in the country in which the show is held. In all countries the same criticisms apply. Judges almost universally follow the same routine when judging a dog. General appearance, temperament, coat, color and size come first. Then the dog is gone over from head to tail. Some judges look at the fore legs after the neck and before the body. Others run right down the back and then look at the legs front and rear. It would seem logical that every breed standard be laid out in this order. Unfortunately this is not the case. With over 125 recognized breeds we have standards which go through the dog in at least 100 different sequences. Some standards are verbose to a point which can only be described as planned confusion. Others are so brief with so many omissions that they tell the reader next to nothing. Some standards contain descriptions which are obscure. Some are anatomically inaccurate. Almost all reflect ignorance on the part of both the authors and the governing body approving them.

☐ The task of our judges would be made much simpler if all breed standards were uniform from country to country. This will take years to achieve. As a first step the FCI (Féderation Cynologique Internationale) has approved a uniform arrangement for breed standards and set up a committee to bring all standards into this order. A few years ago the CKC approved such a uniform order, slightly different from the FCI, and ruled that all standards adopted subsequently should follow that order. The two breed standards adopted since then have not complied. It is difficult to justify criticism of judges for ignorance of standards when we make it so difficult to learn the various standards by sloppy editing and built in ignorance.

☐ Not content with making it difficult for our judges with complex and continually changing dog show rules piled upon a book of standards full of obscurities and pure gobbledegook, we are guilty of failing to provide any official form of education for our judges and would be judges. This criticism applies to almost all countries, not to Canada alone. In England there has recently been a study session for judges sponsored by The Bulldog Club. The Papillon (Butterfly Dog) Club has a much more ambitious conference planned for October 7. We have arranged to secure a full report of this conference for publication in our December or January issue. The conferences held by the Professional Handlers Association in the United States comes closest to a national educational program for all breeds. It scarcely seems fair to the present judges or to our future judges to be quick to criticize them, even fine them for giving a prize to a dog with a disqualifying dew claw, and yet make no provision by the organization which licenses them for any form of education or development.

In almost every country where dog shows are an organized activity the method of approval of judges is a source of dissatisfaction. The criticisms include: too few all rounders are being developed; too many all rounders are being developed; no all rounders are being developed. Anyone with any training in statistics or the theory of probability will recognize that this encompasses all the alternatives. The situation with regard to breed judges is a little better. In Canada we have a plethora of all rounders, very few of whom are held in high regard either at home or elsewhere.

☐ In conclusion, the judging situation is not good. The fault lies not with the judges but with the system. The following appear to be needed:

1. Stop changing the dog show rules.
2. Uniform standards in logical order free of gobbledegook.
3. An educational program for upcoming judges so good that existing judges will ask to be allowed to attend and participate.
4. A system of approving judges in which there is confidence.
5. Canadian cooperation with the Féderation Cynologique Internationale to keep our standards and rules somewhere close to the rest of the world. ☐

Centennial Spectacular

— from Ottawa, "where the exhibitor is top dog".

ON November 19, in this, our Centennial year, the Ottawa Kennel Club is holding a "Show of Shows", open only to dogs which have won B.I.S. in Canada in 1967.

In recent years, we have seen the "unusual" in dogdom become the "norm" in Ottawa — and we have come to expect it!

Puppy Sweepstakes — an innovation by the Ottawa Kennel Club in 1965, they have now been adopted by such progressive centres as The Greenwood Kennel Club, the Regional Fair of Trois-Rivières, the United Kennel Club (Montreal) and the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers Association. They will undoubtedly prove a lasting doggy drawing card.

Friday Night Shows — an innovation of the Ottawa Kennel Club in 1966, they have been adopted by the Kingston Kennel Club and The Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers Association. They are, we feel, a major advancement and will be attempted by more and more Clubs.

And now . . .

The SHOW OF SHOWS! — more innovations — all for the betterment of the dog game!

The date?	— November 19
The time?	— 5:00 p.m.
The place?	— The Coliseum — Lansdowne Park, Ottawa
The judges?	— Among Canada's best
The trophies?	— Tremendous
The prestige?	— Unlimited!

Read on!

After the C.K.C.-approved All Breed Shows and All Breed Puppy Sweepstakes to be held November 18 and 19, a separate Show of Shows, open only to dogs which have won B.I.S. in Canada in 1967, will be held. This show is the sole responsibility of the Ottawa Kennel Club. All entrants will be divided by "Groups" and each "Group" will be judged by three independent judges. Winners will be declared.

The final six (i.e. Group winners) will, in turn, be judged by three judges — The winner? The Ottawa Kennel Club's, and Canada's, "Centennial Dog".

The trophies? Already, the confirmed list includes:—

B.I.S.

1) Centennial Gold Cup — Value $100 — City of Ottawa
2) Dog Food — Value $100 — Ralston Purina
3) Full page ad — Value $115 — Dogs in Canada
4) Grooming Supplies — Value $100 — Full Bloom of Canada
5) Car Rental Services — Value $100 — Tilden Rent-A-Car
6) Cash — $50 — Ottawa Kennel Club

Group Winners

1) Dog Food — Value $50 — Ralston Purina
2) Cash — $25 — Ottawa Kennel Club

Many more major firms have been contacted and we feel that the final total value in prizes will exceed $150 for Group Winners and $1,000 for "Canada's Centennial Dog".

Negotiations are underway to have Canada's top dog appear in the Grey Cup Parade and in the "Grey Cup halftime Show" with "Miss Grey Cup". This, of course, would be with the consent of the owner, who would receive tickets to the Grey Cup.

An added extra will be the catalogue, listing all entrants and distributed to all kennel clubs in Canada, free of charge. Extra copies will be available at a nominal fee! And speaking of fees — the entry fee for this fabulous show of shows is only $5.00.

Back down to earth!

The panel of judges chosen for this show are Messrs. Sam Back, Albert Collins, A. M. Fitzgerald, Robert B. Laskey, Peter Smith, Vic W. Williams, and Dr. Wilfrid E. Shute.

Their assignments for Groups and B.I.S. judging will be decided by lot immediately prior to judging as will the order of Groups.

The Ottawa Kennel Club is attempting to contact all B.I.S. winners in Canada in 1967.

The dog does not have to be Canadian Bred or Canadian Owned.

If you own or handle a dog who has won a B.I.S. in Canada in 1967 and have not yet been contacted, please write D. Mountney, R. R. 2, Stittsville, Ont., for full details including entry forms and come to Ottawa — where the exhibitor is top dog.

The Ottawa Kennel Club is indebted to the Board of the C.K.C. who had no objection to this proposal. □

Overweight in Dogs Endangers Health

A large percentage of the canine population is overweight, simply because they are overfed and inactive. Of course, the female of the species never seems to lose her appeal to the male, no matter what shape she's in, but there are sound reasons why experts advise you to keep your dog slim to keep him healthy.

Excess weight is the villain in a great majority of internal ailments affecting the kidneys, lungs and heart. Just as in humans, an overweight condition in dogs hampers the normal functioning of the body and taxes the organs — sometimes beyond their endurance. These dangers increase with every excess pound gained as a dog ages. It becomes more and more difficult to develop a feeding plan which will remove the unhealthy fat, while meeting the nutritional requirements of the dog, but it isn't hopeless.

According to experts at the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York, to keep a healthy dog in good condition requires a routine diet and exercise; this should begin at weaning. A complete dog food can be fed as the sole ration throughout life. Variation can be achieved by adding soups or gravies in small amounts, or bits of meat or cooked vegetables. The amount of food you feed depends on your dog's weight, and most of all — his activity. Don't overdo tidbits, they tend to put weight on fast and quickly become a bad habit.

For the dog that is already overweight, the first step should be a check-up — just to make sure his condition is simply the obvious one. If the dog is ailing or aged, better let your veterinarian handle the problem. For the normal dog, begin the diet by listing what he is normally fed during the day. Quickly eliminate treats from the list, except a small, low-calorie one if you simply can't stand the "pleading" look in your pet's eyes. Cut down on the dog's usual ration and increase his exercise as much as possible.

BREED NOTES

Readers are asking: why isn't there more about their breed? What are people doing in the many breeds? We need your help! Versatility is His Forte

An often underrated quality of the Wire-haired Pointing Griffon and the all purpose dogs in general is their water work. Griffons are easily as at home in a lake or pond or in a marsh as they are in the field. Their unique double coat of dense, downy under fur and wiry outer coat of long stiff guard hair enables them to withstand prolonged exposure to the coldest water. Even at temperatures as low as 20 below zero, Griffons will retrieve the late season ducks from the fast flowing western rivers all day long with no ill effects.

Eleven-month-old Griffon retrieving duck from fast river in Western Montana.

The love of water, the natural bravery, the well adapted coat and webbed feet were contributed to the Griffon by the Polish Otter Hound, one of the progenitors of the breed. Except for the docked tail of most Griffons, many of them resemble closely their Otter Hound forbearers.

One great advantage the Griffon has over the retriever specialists is his nose. A part of the retrieving requirements in the master field trial in Germany is to follow the scent left by a crippled duck swimming across water.

Commonly thought of as a close working pointing dog, the Griffon, in addition to his water ability, is an excellent tracking dog with great courage. He has courage enough to track and kill a wounded deer and to trail wild boar in the manner of a hound. He is a truly versatile gun dog.

German Shorthaired Pointers

Two German Shoirt-haired Pointer puppies have arrived on Vancouver Island from one of Europe's leading German Short-hair kennels, Sylvanus, owned by Mr. P. O. Fehlmann of Binningen, Switzerland.

They are a three-month-old bitch puppy, Jacky Sylvanus, by an outstanding young stud dog, Nimbus von Wasserschling, D.la and she is out of Babs von Nuhnerbuhl, Derby la. and Solms La. Babs is from the great Swiss Kennel Patria Zurich, through its leading sire Vito Patria Zurich.

The other young dog is a six-month-old male, Ill Sylvanus. Ill is by Odin Rheinelbe, Swiss Champion and CACIB Champion. Among his Kurzhaar Awards are six la.'s — in Derby, Solms, and VJP. He also has a Verlorenbringen (retrieving) Award, and in his conformation rating he was each time awarded Vorzuglich (excellent). Ill Sylvanus is out of Kurzhaar Seiger Mascotte von Wasserschling, winner of the outstanding Diana Prufung prize. Mascotte is probably the most outstanding daughter of Axel von Wasserschling, Derby 1 and Solms 1 who, with Odin Rheinelbe, are probably the two premier German Short-hair Pointer producing dogs for field and bench in Europe today.

The Year of the Pelican?

Could this be the year that will come to be known as The Year of The Pelican? Well — perhaps only in Labrador Retriever circles.

Once upon a time I can vividly remember bull-throated drill instructors contemptuously eyeing raw recruits and, when the nervous neophytes anticipated words of command, bellowing, "WAIT FOR IT!" I should have had such a gentle mentor by my side a couple of months ago when I wrote some observations on the field trial exploits of a dog I have come to admire greatly; the black Labrador bitch Dual Ch. Pelican Lake Peggy, owned by Gladys and Scotty Gillespie.

At the time I wrote to Dogs in Canada Peggy had just earned her Dual title and had won three Open trials in a row. In six trials she had won a C.M., a third and three consecutive firsts and I considered this feat worthy of comment. And so it was, but, as any sergeant major could have told me, I should have waited for it — because Peggy was at that point just gathering up steam. She went on to extend her consecutive Open wins to FIVE and has placed no worse than second in her last ten trials. I don't know but I think this must be some kind of a record.

This year Peggy has run in 13 trials to date: in Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Weyburn, Brandon and Calgary, and has run up the following score: seven 1sts, three 2nds, one 3rd and Certificate of Merit. So far in 1967 (to the end of July) she has won a total of 45 points and now has a grand total of 53 points.

Dual Champion Pelican Lake Peggy has now reached the ripe old age of 3½ years. This is only her second year of Open competition. One wonders how many points she will have accumulated by the time she decides to take off her girdle and retire?

It is unfortunate that a derogatory note must now be introduced into this eulogy. It turns out that Peggy is not, alas, a complete paragon of virtue. A daughter of Scotty and Gladys Gillespie takes a hand in Peggy's training on occasion. Part of this entails the finding of dummies, artfully concealed by the young lady, around and about the Gillespie yard. As a necessary part of this exercise Peggy is firmly led into the summer house before the dummies are hidden. This has to be done, says young Miss Gillespie, because if given the opportunity Peggy peeks!

Congratulations to Scotty Gillespie and Pelican Lake Peggy. Long may they journey together on their winning ways.

Labrador Owners News

The Labrador Owners Club announces that Fall Obedience classes start September 11 in the Loblaw parking lot, Yonge and Meadowview Roads, vicinity Toronto. Club trainer is Phyllis Philip of R-Shan Kennels, Claremont.

The club plans a Booster show September 24. Club members Ken and Judy Olson have moved from Guelph to Belleville, Ont.

Rearing Your Vizsla Puppy

For the first two days after whelping the bitch should be kept on a very light diet. Liquids such as cereals in milk, or egg beaten up in milk is all that is required at this time. The liquid should not be stone cold from the refrigerator. On the third day more solids may be added in the form of dog meal but it is important that the bitch's stomach should not be over-loaded, as this can cause digestive upsets. The feeding of raw meat and other solids at this time will encourage stimulation of the milk glands before the puppies are vigorous enough to cope with the flow, and that may result in the formation of breast abscesses. By the end of the first week the youngsters should be feeding lustily and be able to take all the milk produced. From then on the feeding of the dam must be generous and include raw and cooked meat, eggs, milk and meal plus a daily dose of fish liver oil and a mineral supplement. In fact, at this stage, the bitch cannot be fed too well, providing she is given adequate exercise.

For the first three weeks of their lives the dam should provide all the food needed by the puppies but at the end of this time the puppies may be taught to lap. The best liquid food to begin with is egg and milk mixture. This should be given at blood heat on a shallow dish which should be placed in front of a puppy. He will probably sniff at it and get a drop or two on his nose which he will lick off, the taste making him eager for more. If there is any difficulty the pup's nose may be gently pressed into the dish; this may result in some spluttering and sneezing but with a little perseverance the pup will try tentatively to lap. At this same age the pups can have their first taste of raw, lean meat. This should be finely ground and enough for a pup of this age would be put in a teaspoon. One feed of meat a day is sufficient, but after a week or ten days two may be given. If a puppy is allowed to stuff itself with too much meat, as it may try to do, its digestion is likely to suffer, causing it to lose its appetite for the dam's milk and producing distended stomach, dehydration and irregular bowel action.

As the weaning process continues it may be necessary to keep the dam away from the puppies for gradually increasing periods of time until at the age of six weeks the pups are completely weaned. At this stage they should be getting five meals a day, the amount of food being offered varying according to the appetite and needs of the individual puppy. No more should be given at any one meal than is eaten readily without unduly distending the stomach. If the growing body becomes too fat, it may be too heavy for the immature limbs to support and result in faulty shoulders, pasterns and quarters, making the dog unsound for life.

Meat or its equivalent in protein value should account for from half to two thirds of the weight of food given. As the puppies grow their food should include less liquid and the meat may be ground coarser. Sloppy food should be avoided as soon as more solid fare can be dealt with.

Vizsla puppies should have their tails docked and dew claws removed when they are two days old. The accepted length for a Vizsla's tail is that one third of the tail should be removed. As soon as the puppies are weaned from their mother they should have a puppy immunization shot. As long as they are being fed by the dam they have a natural immunity to diseases such as distemper. Before the puppy goes to its new owner it should also be tattooed. Care should be taken to prevent the puppies having access to their own or their dam's excreta. As germs flourish in a stuffy moist atmosphere it is important that the puppies' quarters are quite dry and sufficiently ventilated to enable fresh air to circulate freely. All utensils used for serving their food must be kept absolutely clean.

When they are strong on their legs puppies should have access to the open air and be furnished with opportunities to play while enjoying unrestricted freedom. A warm, dry bed to which they may retire when tired must always be provided. Young pups should sleep at frequent intervals and rest after meals. If shut up in a small kennel through the day it will become bored and fretful, soon losing condition and appetite. Constant close confinement is very bad for puppies. It makes them nervous, lethargic and stupid, besides being a frequent cause of unsoundness.

To ensure that your Vizsla pups do not develop any gunshyness it is a good idea from about the fifth week on to discharge a starting pistol at the same moment they are given their food. In the beginning the p i s t o l should be discharged some distance from the place the puppies are being fed and bringing the noise gradually nearer to the pups as the days progress. In this manner the puppies very early in life will associate the sound of a gun with a full stomach and should help to make them very eager hunters.

Canadian Afghans to the U.S.

Word from Kophi Kennels, Clarkson, Ont. is that show puppies sired by Ch. (Can. & Am.) Horningsea Tzaama will be well represented geographically at least in the American show rings next season.

Recent exports from Kophi Kennels include Kophi's Princess Justine, a black and smoke brindle daughter of Tzaama and Horningsea Taduchepa. Justine has gone to Falamar Kennels Reg. in Kearney, Neb., where Mrs. Marion Farley reports that she and one of their young Borzoi have become "fast friends"!

Two black masked silver daughters sired by Tzaama out of Ch. Kophi's Mystic Kiisha have gone to the Eastern U.S. Kophi's Princess Candide is at Holly Hills Kennels in Somers Point, N.J. while her sister, Kophi's Princess Shandrea will make her home with Nancy and Harald Leuba in Alexendrea, Va.

Tzaama and Kiisha recently invaded the U.S. themselves. At the Williamsport, Pa. show held on July 30, Tzaama went Best of Breed while Kiisha contented herself with Reserve Winners Female!

Canadian Will Be Guest Speaker at Police Seminar

The National Police Bloodhound Association (formerly the Eastern Police Bloodhound Association) announces its sixth annual seminar to be held in Wilmington, N.Y. Speaking on the objectives, techniques and training of "Bloodhounds in Search and Rescue Work" are M. Nicholson, Director, Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Search and Rescue Unit, and Minor Harkness, Director Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Unit, California. Another major topic will be the objectives, techniques and training of Bloodhounds in State Law Enforcement Work.

Questions About the Greyhound

The Greyhound, once revered as a deity in Egypt, is the only dog named in the Old Testament. It is the second fastest animal alive (only surpassed by the Cheetah — and then, I believe, only on short distances), he is supposed to be and I quote Walt Disney: "The original breed of dog, the most intelligent and most affectionate of all breeds."

Why, then, do so many so-called dog-lovers look down on the greyhound? It is no more than 200 years ago that Greyhounds could not be owned by a commoner, but were strictly the property of royalty. It is the only breed of dog which has not changed its appearance over the past 7,000 years and even of this date, the human race has not interfered with the Greyhound, such as cutting ears and tails.

The Greyhound is a most affectionate house pet, needs love and demands it; without love he cannot survive.

The greyhound's royal stance, fleetness and proud bearing separate him from any other breed.

The breed has the longest tradition of them all and many breeds stem from it.

Why is it then that people are so disinterested in this breed?

It is true that the Greyhound is a fighter with other animals, but I have yet to see another breed that would stop fighting if a human interferes. With the Greyhound you can. There is no report of a Greyhound having ever attacked a human being — at least not to my knowledge.

Any answer you can give to my questions would be greatly appreciated.

First Edition of Arligg, Norwegian Elkhound Directory

"Arligg", the inaugural Norwegian Elkhound stud directory to be released in December, has a deadline of October 1, Mrs. Linda Ege, (1414 N.E. 160th, Portland, Ore., 97230) would like to remind Canadian devotees. In addition to pages of studs and brood bitches the directory will contain articles of value and interest written by knowledgeable, respected people in the breed.

Belgian Sheepdog Notes

Last winter I made the decision to add Belgian Sheepdogs Tervuren variety to my Sheltie kennel. Mrs. June Betsworth, Georjune Rancho, 17005 Forrest St., Saugus, Calif. 91350, who was eager to see the breed get off to an impressive start in a new area, sent her great homebred Am. Ch. Joker of Georjune to me to handle to his Canadian title. It was a tremendous thrill to be on the other end of the leash as Joker won his title here in slambang fashion, breaking breed records in the process. Entered in just ten shows, Joker started off with a Group 4th under Judge Forrest Hall at the Mid Canada show in Winnipeg. His next placement was a Group 3rd under Judge Elsie Murray in Moose Jaw, Sask. Then the terrific finale, as Judge A. M. Fitzgerald placed him 1st in Group at Regina, to finish his title; to really top it off he repeated his Group win the next day under Judge Thomas Joel. Joker thus became the first Belgian of any variety to win the Group in Canada, and the first Tervuren to win it in either the U.S. or Canada.

To the best of my knowledge, he now has the most Group placements of any variety in either country.

Joker's devoted, loyal, people-loving temperament matches his beauty, and he made friends for the breed wherever he went. Too soon, the time came to send him home, but as consolation I have his daughter, Chordeiles Ultra of Georjune and his grandson Chordeiles Valor of Georjune with me to stay. My grateful thanks to Mrs. Betsworth for sending Joker so far from home, and for letting me have the two youngsters who, we hope, will continue Joker's winning ways.

Buying a Bullmastiff

The increased popularity of the Bullmastiff, and of all large dogs during the past few years, is due to many reasons. More people are better able, financially, to support one or more large dogs. More people have more room for large dogs and more and more people recognize the need for more security and better protection under present day conditions — and what better means than with a watch dog or guard dog!

This increased popularity, and the greater demand for large dogs, has paved the way for unscrupulous breeders to sell more puppies at higher prices without regard to quality or temperament, and the unsuspecting buyer, having placed his trust in the seller, has little recourse should he find that his purchase does not develop as promised.

It is imperative then, that the prospective buyer knows something about the breed he is considering and that he knows what he wants. The first step is to read and become thoroughly familiar with the Breed Standard — and to read everything available about the breed. The second step is to look at and study as many specimens of the breed as is possible. This latter step may not be so easy, so a certain amount of trust must be placed in the breeder selected.

Then — be honest with the breeder. If you are looking for a dog that you can show with pride, tell the breeder. If you want a bitch with the idea of breeding at some future date, tell the breeder. The biggest and costliest mistake many buyers make in the hope of getting a "bargain" is telling the breeder that they just want a pet. So, a dog that might have a number of faults making it unfit as a good show dog, could become the most wonderful companion and guard dog anyone would want.

Selecting a puppy isn't easy. Few breeders can foretell what an eight or ten weeks old puppy will be at one or two years. A breeder with many

SOCIAL NOTE

The Gay Set

CH. GAYMITZ LEADING LADY

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peach of Calgary announce the marriage of CH. GAYMITZ LEADING LADY (2½) to CH. (CAN. & AM.) GAYMITZ JOLLY ROGER (2½) at the home of the groom, Gaymitz Boxer Kennels (Reg.) Stouffville, Ontario. Due to the unavoidable absence of the couple's parents, the bride's hand was given in marriage by her breeder, Jack Northover.

The groom is distinguished in Boxer circles as recent winner of the Centennial Gold Cup at the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show in Toronto. He was Canada's top-winning Boxer for 1966, second-highest working dog and third top of all breeds.

The bride achieved her Canadian championship at the age of nine months and has been awarded 3 Best Puppy in Show, 5 Best Puppy in Group, 12 Best of Breed, 2 Best Canadian Bred in Group, 11 Group placings. On the eve of her marriage she won Best Canadian Bred in Show at Calgary's International Centennial Show.

CH. GAYMITZ LEADING LADY has returned to her Calgary home where she is resting comfortably and to which she invites queries.

years' breeding experience is much better able to separate good from bad puppies, and if such a breeder promises that a particular puppy will develop into a top show dog, this is usually backed up with a replacement guarantee in the event that the dog doesn't develop. It can therefore be understood, that a puppy purchased under these circumstances will bring more money than one bought with no guarantee or simply for a pet. Naturally, it is very important, from the cost angle, for you to decide before you buy, whether you just want a pet, or one to show or possibly to breed later.

After your decision to buy a Bullmastiff — the next one you must make is whether you want a dog or a bitch. Bitches are a little smaller in height and weight than dogs, but many owners feel they are more tractable and lovable and even smarter than the dogs. This is your decision to make and a lot depends on what your future plans are. Dogs, as a rule, go farther in the show ring than bitches. Bitches can bring you puppies if that is what you want.

Once you start looking at puppies — remember, no dog is perfect. But by avoiding very obvious faults that cannot be outgrown, who knows, your mature dog may have developed into what every breeder hopes to attain — the ideal specimen. Look for a puppy that you can take home, cuddle, pamper and spoil to the point where you feel that you had bred it yourself, because the Bullmastiff needs and asks for this love and attention like no other breed.

It goes without saying that puppies found in a dirty kennel, or ones infested with fleas or ticks should not be considered. Look for a compact, sturdy, well-rounded puppy with bright dark eyes and a very dark mask, one with an alert expression and a little boldness of attitude. Avoid an excessively nervous puppy. One that approaches you bravely is worth a second look. Look for good bone and well rounded, well padded feet with black toenails. Look for a broad skull, closely folded ears and a well-defined stop. Avoid very light eyes, a brown or "dudley" nose, long coat, a narrow head or "snipy" nose, little or no mask, lack of a good square underjaw — and too much white.

Selection of color, as with sex, is up to you. If you'd prefer a red, look for red, but don't ignore a good fawn or brindle because puppies are not always available in variety. In fact, many good breeders are sold out before the puppies are even whelped.

Pedigrees usually mean little to the novice and the appearance of a number of champions in the lines doesn't necessarily mean that the puppy will develop into one. The breeder will gladly explain the merits of his puppy's breeding and why a particular puppy can be expected to inherit certain good or bad qualities. A copy of the pedigree should accompany the puppy — as well as the AKC registration certificate.

Most breeders are proud of the puppies they sell and keep a close watch on their progress and activities, especially if they are sold for showing. There is no extra charge for the AKC registration certificate you will receive with your puppy — and registration should be changed to your name as soon as possible after purchase. Only in the case where a breeder, knowing that a puppy should not be shown or bred, will he withhold the AKC paper — and this is understood before you make your final decision.

With the registration certificate and pedigree you should also receive from the breeder a list of whatever shots the puppy has had, a statement that it is free of parasites and most important, a feeding schedule and list of foods it should have. Follow instructions carefully.

Remember no dog is perfect. Each one has his own individual faults. But if you are careful in your selection of a puppy, it is possible that the choice you make will grow up and develop into a worthwhile specimen and whether you pick one for show or pet, this is as much as you can hope for. Bullmastiff puppies change from week to week and the thrill that comes with watching them grow and develop will more than make up for any inconvenience one may cause your routine.

Bullmastiffs can be trained for Obedience and they do exceptionally well. They are instinctively guard dogs and will protect you, your family and your property. For that reason, they should not be allowed to run loose. Some breeders will not sell to a buyer who isn't fenced in.

Watching a good, sound, healthy puppy develop into the ideal specimen for the first time, is a great thrill you will never forget. Good, sound, healthy puppies are not whelped in dirty, filthy, smelly kennels — nor do they grow up in one. They are naturally clean and require clean living quarters. They require very little care, a few minutes brushing each day — a few minutes exercise in the cool of the morning and evening. All they ask in addition to that is love.

Exceptional Obedience Wins for Doberman Pinscher

Susan Berst of Port Arthur, Ont., reports that Ch. and O.T. Ch. Berst's Palos v. Hoytt, Am. C.D.X., completed his Am. U.D. title August 5 at Twin Posts Dog Training Club in Duluth. "I believe this makes him one of the first, maybe the first Doberman to hold a U.D. title in both Canada and the U.S." Cheatah vom Sirrahwald, C.D.X., Am. C.D., earned her first leg in Open on that day, then Palos and Cheatah won the Obedience Brace class with a score of 197, first time ever entered in a brace class. "In fact, I never saw brace exercises performed before". The following day at the Duluth KC show Cheatah earned her 2nd leg in Open and went Winners Bitch and Best Opposite Sex for one point in conformation.

More About Canada's Famed Centennial Dog

Bruno, German Shepherd who hiked every foot-wearying step with his master, Filip Moen, in the 4,283-mile trek from Halifax to Vancouver (and saved his life five times), was the outstanding puppy winner in British Columbia in 1962. He took Best Puppy in Show at the Seattle World Fair in 1962.

Bruno, writes Mrs. Grace Falardeau, Gradon Kennels, Victoria, B.C. was bred by R. K. Fleury and was sired by Thor's Belres ex an Alert daughter, Bradmont's Cindy. "We chose Bruno out of the litter for stud fees. He will be six years in September, and is the sire of two champions. We sold Bruno to Mr. Moen of Smithers, B.C. but reserved breeding rights on him as he carries the genes for blacks."

Splendid Win for Canadian Saint

The large punch bowl holding his ribbons is the Ch. Nero von Holdt Challenge trophy. The large wine cooler with the cover on his right is the Solique Farm Challenge Trophy. These two trophies, open to all competition, are valued in excess of $200 and are held for a year with the smaller replicas being retained by the winner. They can be won outright by the same owner, although not necessarily the same dog, after winning it three times.

"We are justifiably proud of Frausty," Mrs. Alison Seaman tells Dogs in Canada, "but our greatest thrill was when it came time for Best of Breed and Frausty, under Lorna Jackson's guidance, was pulled out for Best of Breed over 16 other champions, and against the Am. Ch. Mardonof's Image of Figaro. After a great deal of deliberation between the two dogs the judge gave the nod to Image."

We proved this the year we took Brig up to 4th or 5th winning dog, All Breeds, in Canada, and his American title in two weekends. If you have the money to keep this dog with a top winning handler in the States it will very likely go even further. Which brings up the question — is the sport of showing dogs professional or amateur, or a rather mixed up confusion of both?

He has brought up the question as to whether Judges are influenced by all the advertising of wins, and ratings etc.? This is a moot question. Today's Judge is placed in a very difficult position. His name is advertised in the Premium list of the show. In actuality he is judged and rated by the entry he draws. Don't forget Judges are ordinary human beings. They want to draw entries not only to satisfy their own egos, but they have to if they want assignments. Yes, it is rather a nasty position. Nobody knows who the umpires at a baseball game will be till the game starts — why not announce the Judges when the entries are in. It would be much more impersonal and it should not be difficult as the CKC and AKC have to approve the Judges anyhow. It would simply cut down the paper work.

In conclusion, we are proud of our record, but not satisfied. THE DAY OUR DOGS AND THEIR PROGENY CAN BE CLASSIFIED BY, SAY, THREE EDUCATED AND TRAINED CLASSIFIERS WITH WRITTEN REPORTS SHOWING THEM IN THE EXCELLENT AND VERY GOOD RATINGS, WE WILL BE MOST PROUD AND HAPPY. □

Terrier Breeders' Fun Match

Forty-seven terriers were entered at the Terrier Breeders Fun Match held August 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Veale. Kerry Blue Terrier breeder Knut Egeberg of Windsor, Ont., winner of the Terrier Breeders' Championship Show held in June, judged the breeds and then commented on his placing.

Casey Gardiner topped the individual entry with five Kerries, but top entry of the day was Westies (seven), followed by Cairns and Airedales (six).

Thelma Adams' Westie puppy, Roseneath Scots Knight, was the Top Puppy in Show and Best in Show, while Dr. Ellen Brown's Lhasa Apso was Best Dog over 12 months.

Of 19 members in attendance, 17 joined the get-together after the show. Along with wives and friends the total number at the buffet supper was 38.

The day was perfect for an outdoor show and all the absentee terrier breeders missed a most congenial show.

Members at large wish to express their sincere appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Veale for the use of their lovely grounds and their home for this occasion.

All About Terriers

Hi Barb:

I haven't seen you since the All Terrier Show. Did I tell you I was going out to Calgary as the guest of the new Alberta All Terrier Club, to talk about Measuring and R.O.C.?

I arrived in time to see the Calgary Stampede Parade Monday morning and did not have to go to work till Friday night. It was quite a week. I was so impressed I had to get the dictionary out to find words that meant superlative. Good, better, best, BEST — it was the best in everything. We wined and dined in the most fabulous bars and dining rooms, where the decor was the ultimate in imagination and material. The City Planning reflected the same forward look. The freeways encircle the city in progressively larger circles to provide for future growth. They already encompass tremendous parks with riding trails, lakes for boating, the growing University, art centers, museums, and on ad infinitum.

We visited cattle ranchers, where we again encountered this same forward look. The breeding and marketing at these vast cattle ranches is done on a scientific level. The younger generation learn the approach as members of 4H Clubs. It is not surprising that it was here I found the greatest understanding of our desire for a scientific approach to breeding, classifying and judging dogs.

One of the members took me out to a beautiful horse ranch to watch him school his horse. The same atmosphere prevailed. Oh Barb, if you could have seen it, the man and his horse! It had never occurred to me, the amount of schooling that was required before a rider could begin to scientifically and skillfully train his horse. I learned that we cannot expect maximum efficiency, either mentally or physically, the way we raise our dogs today. This is an art in itself that will require considerable investigation. I can tell you one thing for sure; this trained horseman would make a more knowledgeable dog judge than many I have met to date. All he lacks are the fine points on heads, ears, eyes, coats etc. I am not too sure they are of that much importance, because the Standards are so vague; everyone has their own interpretation and no two people agree.

Friday night was the first of the three-day Symposium and Sanction show. It is hard to believe that a specialty club not yet a year old could or would tackle a project of such proportions. But I was in Calgary, and out there nothing is insurmountable. Needless to say they set a precedent as far as Canada is concerned.

I opened the session with an hour's talk on the reasons for Measuring and R.O.C. which was illustrated by slides made by Bob Dorsey and Barry Cook. The slides illustrated measuring gait, side front and rear views of our models of the "True Type" Kerry and Whippet done to scale. Through the courtesy of Dogs in Canada we had the artist's drawings of deviations. Also slides of the X-rays of the head and shoulders of Kay Bayliss's Dobe. In case I have not told you we are trying to set up a library of "True Type" head and body X-rays of all breeds.

This was followed by a discussion on congenital bone problems by a most knowledgeable and sympathetic veterinarian, Dr. P. Louisy. He also illustrated his talk with some excellent X-rays and bones. We ended the evening with a most enlightening question and answer period.

Saturday morning was spent measuring and discussing reasons for measuring the dogs. This period included group participation and I was thrilled how quickly they picked up the art of measuring. Also that they realized and understood how it could help them in their breeding programs. I am sure they realized measuring etc. is not the "end or be all'" but using the phrase you and Ross coined, that "measuring is a means of learning, so in the end you will have the why as well as the eye."

Saturday afternoon Dr. Wesley Combs, Assistant Professor of Animal Science at the University of Alberta in Edmonton and a geneticist, took over. He had attended all the previous talks, therefore he was able to not only elucidate on many of the facts discussed, but also to pull some of the loose ends together. His talk was really tremendous. In all, I learned a great deal from a trip designed to impart knowledge.

The remainder of Saturday afternoon was again taken up with measuring. I shall just have to repeat, it was a pleasure to work with such knowledgeable, enthusiastic people.

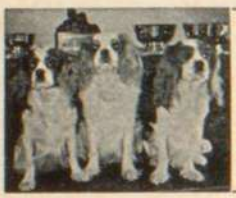

Sunday was the outdoor sanction match. Once again the ambitious effort put forth by this small, new club left me breathless. They put on a show that was as well-organized and run as any put on by professionals. They held it in a lovely park with indoor facilities in case of rain. I have never seen such a large turnout at a Sanction match.

I did the Terrier Group and really enjoyed it. The quality of the dogs entered under me was most encouraging. We used a critique sort of judging; we got permission from the exhibitors to discuss their dogs and allow the other exhibitors to go over them. So when it was all over everyone knew exactly how and why I had placed the dogs. They had been able to hear, see and feel the good and the weaker points in their dogs as they appeared. This is what I want when I am having a dog judged, and I really think the exhibitors both enjoyed and appreciated the experience. I know some did, as I have had letters to this effect.

The climax came later when I was challenged for putting a seven-month Airedale over his very pretty sister. She was pretty and short, but to me this effect had been created by a steep shoulder and a somewhat steep croup. Mind you she was balanced fore and aft, hence she gaited quite truely. But the brother, who had about the same length of spinal column, had one of the best layback of shoulders that I have felt on an Airedale. His entire front assembly was placed well back on the rib cage to give it the maximum of muscular support. No matter how he came to you and stopped, or on lifting and dropping him, those front legs remained upright and parallel; no hint of "the both legs coming out the same hole" effect. His rear assembly balanced the front, and this balance was reflected in his gait even at seven months and on rough ground. The problem was the fact that due to lack of maturity he was somewhat slab-sided, plus a long deep black saddle, which tended to give the illusion of great length and a weak flank. I rechecked his flank and found it in the neighborhood of 4" or so, which is not bad, taking into consideration the lack of rear muscle development. I gave him the Group. It was not much of a gamble as all the dogs were fairly young. The way he matures is anybody's guess, but I can tell you if I could find a comparable Kerry male of that age I would do all in my power to buy him. The Cairn was second. It was sound both mentally and physically but just a little less layback than the Airedale. The Norwich I placed Third. It was beautifully built, but due to the softness of temperament I just could not take it any further. Fourth was a flashy Kerry with a delightful temperament, but not put together quite as well as the others although her deviations, front and rear, did balance. As I said before, I found the quality of the dogs most encouraging, but I personally felt the first four had the slight edge on the others.

I must admit I was saddened by the fact that not one professional judge put in an appearance during the entire symposium. But I was not discouraged. This small enthusiastic group will go forward. And some day dogs will take a respected place in an educated world with their help.

— Casey Gardiner

Calling All Breeders and Fanciers of Cairn Terriers

It has been suggested by many new breeders and also some original breeders that we form a Cairn Terrier Club. The original club was in existence until 1956 at which time the writer was secretary-treasurer with some monies still in the bank account.

Please contact me by letter if you want a Cairn Terrier Club in circulation again.

Brussels Griffon

This charming breed with the quaint, quasi-human face, is steadily gaining admirers. Ontario fans, such as Mrs. Schavo, Mrs. McCartney, Mrs. Carlson are actively showing. Mrs. McCartney's Oakcrest Juli-Ann, a little red smooth, at the time of writing has one point to go for title earned under one year of age. This female has natural "up-and-over" terrier ears, indicating judges are the first to appreciate the natural, bred-in terrier ear.

I feel Canadians will shortly have to join the U.K., Sweden and Germany as well, working on the no-cropping of dogs' ears, as only fair to other breeds whose correct ears must be bred-in properly as to Standard — no resorting to cosmetic surgery at the cost of suffering and often the life of puppies.

Ears add much to the Brussels Griffon expression and general appearance. I do hope all breeders will try to select for breeding stock the bred-in, small V-shaped, high set, up-and-over terrier ear, correct by breed Standard.

British Columbia has a new breeder of the red smooth in Miss Grace E. Moses of champion Jersey cattle fame. She now has Oakcrest Della, sister of Juli-Ann and Oakcrest Crystal, from the lovely Ch. Oakcrest Sunni-Cecile, previously depicted in Dogs in Canada. We all wish Miss Moses happiness and winners from her foundation females.

Chihuahua Lives Up to Fastest Game Name

This little fellow, Fay-Don's Jai-Alai, named after the world's fastest game and pronounced Hi-Lie, is sired by "quadra-national" Ch. Brecon's Individualist out of Ch. Elmack's Golden Trinkett. He was whelped, along with an equally good sister, on November 25 as we were starting for Florida. He was outstanding from the very first, the sister also but she was so small she was rather overlooked.

His first show was June 10 when he was six months and two weeks old. From June 10 to June 18 he had been Best of Breed five times and Best Canadian Bred Pup in Show four times. Since then he has been shown seven more times, with six BB's, two Groups, two 2nds, two 3rds and a 4th in Group and three more Best Pup in Show. His record to date is as follows: 11 B.B. (1 Winners only) two Groups 1sts, three Group 2nds, two Group 3rds, two Group 4ths and seven Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show awards. And he is not yet nine months old!

Jai-Alai was bred by Fay-Don Kennels and shown exclusively by Faye FitzGerald. The sister will be shown soon in point shows, but in her first appearance in a match she won the Toy Group over some excellent competition.

Ont., with their Chihuahua, Forest View Willie, together with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Richards of Battle Creek, Mich. and their Miniature Poodles, Mademoiselle Shosette Noel (Mimi) and daughter, Lurich Dusky Down Star (Didi) departed for Mexico by auto and Airstream Trailer. The Third International Mexican Obedience Trials consisted of five trials over eight days, held at Mexico City (with two hours of live television coverage), San Miguel de Allende, Guanajuato, and Leon.

Willie attained the title of P.C.E. (Perro Companero Excellente) equivalent to our C.D.X. He was the hit of all the shows as far as the spectators were concerned, and all of the shows were well attended. Apparently, the Chihuahua is seldom seen in Obedience in Mexico, and he is the first Chihuahua to attain a Mexican Obedience Title states Mr. Richards. In honor of this achievement, he was presented at the final trial in Leon with a beautiful serape, or Mexican blanket. Willie now holds his Open title in Canada and Mexico, and the C.D. title in Bermuda and in the United States.

Mimi gained the P.C. (Perro Companero) or Novice title, and Didi the P.U. (Perro de Utilidad) or Utility title.

Tube Feeding Toy Poodles

After reading an article by Jean S. Whitford in the March, 1967 issue of Dogs in Canada, on her experience in feeding Chihuahua puppies by stomach tube it occurred to me that my experience in feeding Toy Poodles by this method might be of interest to other readers contemplating tube feeding. This method is particularly invaluable in the supplementary feeding of Toy Poodle puppies, which is so often necessary.

I use a commercial powdered preparation, mixed once daily and kept in the refrigerator until ready for use. The glass Luer syringe and the French tubes are washed in warm soapy water immediately after use, rinsed thoroughly and are then ready for re-use at the next feeding.

For the Toy Poodle puppies I use a No. 1732 "Bardic" feeding tube, size 5 French, 15" long. These tubes have a mark about 6" from the free end and are ideal for the purpose. Initially I use a 5 cc syringe, switching to a 10 cc as the amount of formula per feeding increases.

No difficulty is experienced in inserting the tube if the formula is taken from the refrigerator and drawn directly into the syringe from the storage jar. When the tube is connected to the syringe it is held up to bring any air to the tip and a slight amount of formula ejected through the tube. This not only expels the air from the tube but the cold formula entering the tube chills it so that it is sufficiently rigid to be easily inserted.

Just a hint here: The pup's mouth is held open with the thumb and index finger of the left hand. If the tube is grasped a minimum of two inches from the free end it can be inserted smoothly in one motion and down into the esophagus before the pup can react and gag. The remainder of the tube can then be pushed gently into the stomach and up to the mark without any danger. If, however, the tube is grasped too close to the end or if the first two inches of tube is not inserted smoothly, the pup may commence to gag and the tube could easily enter the trachea. As the tube becomes quite pliable from the warmth of the puppies' stomach I use a separate tube for feeding each puppy. I also refill the syringe for each puppy feeding.

While feeding puppies by tube may sound difficult, it is not and each puppy can be fed in a minute or so. Using the tube in the manner I have described, I have never experienced any difficulty in inserting it into the stomach and to the mark. If, however, due to a lack of confidence, the tube does not enter smoothly on the first try withdraw it and use another tube. Due to the small size of these tubes they warm quickly and then become rather too pliable to handle easily.

How Do They Win?

Dewsa Kennels, Locust Hill, Ont., have recently exported to Arizona a five-month old female Bulldog for show and breeding purposes. T. R. Dewsbury is the owner.

"Re Mr. Hughes' article regarding dogs in England and his remarks re Bulldogs," writes Mrs. Gertrude M. McKenzie (also Dewsa Kennels), "my English correspondents wonder where on earth he has been to make such sweeping statements. How is it then in the States in particular, the top Bulldogs of Best in Show calibre and fame, and bought at ages ranging from 18 months to four years, are all imported from Britain?"

Import Proves Winner

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hobson, the only Bulldog breeders in the Prince George, B.C. area, have just completed campaigning their new bitch Emanee Gently Sheba through to her Canadian Championship (awaiting C.K.C. confirmation). Sheba was purchased in May of this year from her breeder, Mrs. Mabel Ellis of Everson, Wash., (sired by Ch. (Eng. & Am.) Eastgate Stalwert Bosun out of Emanee Gentle Jane). She completed her championship at the age of one year, three weeks after a show career of only 1½ months.

Many nice compliments from fellow competitors were received during her brief appearances. Sheba is to be bred later this year to Hobson's other Champion, Goulceby Brave Boy (English import).

Data About Dalmatians

Breeder J. R. P. Powell has imported a male Dalmatian puppy, Duxfordham Cheers Hurrah, from England. His sire is the recent English Ch. Son of Alexander; his grandsire is the Int. Ch. Duxfordham Marvel.

Twin Dals: Mrs. Pat Gay's Ch. Peppermill's Fudge Sundae, in whelping her first litter, noted that two puppies were born in the same sac, a male and a female. Only the latter survived.

Mrs. R. J. White gives advice on raising top lines and improving fronts: "Eric's Corgi had a sagging back line as a puppy. It was suggested that if his dish was raised so that he had to reach to eat, it might help his back and preserve his front. We made a table high enough that Gust had to arch his neck to eat and drink and whether or not the table did it, Gust now at 14 months is a nice specimen and doing his share of winning. We did the same for Camosun's Big Ben (Benjie) and now at eight months looks really good.

"The tables had to grow with the dogs. Ours are very simple: orange boxes upside down with a rim nailed on to keep dishes from sliding off and legs nailed to the corners. The legs are moved or replaced with longer ones or strips of wood nailed on the bottoms as needed. The rim of Benjie's dish is now over 20 inches off the floor, about two inches less than his height at the withers."

Nemo, a U.S. Air Force sentry dog, who alerted his unit to a Viet Cong attack and suffered the loss of an eye during the action, received a unit citation along with his handler, Airman 3C Len Bryant on landing at Norton Air Force Field in Calif. Nemo will be retired with a purple heart.

Writes the editor of "Transcanadals": "Anyone ever experience strange behavior with the Dals in the presence of snakes? Two of my bitches discovered a little garter snake in the grass and after much cavorting and nipping at it, both tried rolling on top of it . . . "Missy" eventually picked it up and shook it, thus ending their adventure".

Poodle Advancement Puppy Match

Mrs. Gloria Kyle, (formerly Ambeault), Cherod Kennels, Toronto, reports that this year's classes were divided between orthodox and unorthodox clips. Cherod entered seven puppies, all from one litter, just three months old. Cherod's Spellbinder took Best Standard Poodle in unorthodox clip and then won Best in Show in that class, all sizes.

In the orthodox clip, 3 to 6 month classes in an entry of 12 males, the placings were Cherod's Houdini, Cherod's Black Wizard, Cherod's Madcap and Cherod's Black Magic, in that order.

Nine females, 3 to 6 months, were entered, with Cherod's Witchcraft and Cherod's Tahatha winning, respectively.

Houdini then took Best of Variety against puppies up to 18 months. The "witchy" names stem from their parents, Ch. Cherod's Rebel Juster and Ch. Bibelot's Samantha Bewitched.

Noted Standard Dies

Sympathy goes to Mrs. Jean Lyle, Wycliffe Kennels, Vancouver, B.C., in the loss through illness of her famous Ch. (Can. & Am.) Wycliffe Thomas. From his first shows, about seven years ago, Tommy was a headliner. His progeny carry on — he has sired over 50 champions.

Canadian Standard Puppies Winners at Chicago

Mrs. Florence Mason of Windigold Poodles and Mrs. Beverly Proctor visited Chicago for the International Dog Show and the Great Lakes Specialty (Poodle) July 21 and 22 along with four Standard Poodle puppies.

They are pleased to report that at the Poodle Specialty (total entry 43) Windigold's Red Ensign of Kelgor placed 4th in the class of 6 to 9 month puppies with an entry of nine puppies. He is owned by Mrs. B. Proctor. Windigold's Gold Dust, owned by Mrs. Patricia Reinholdt, took first in the Novice class.

Bibelots Wini Go Go, owned by Mrs. Mason and Mr. Jeffrey Crangle, placed 1st in the Puppy Bitch class under Judge A. J. Brueneman Jr.

On the following day at the International Kennel Club under Judge W. Fetner, Winnie again placed 1st in a very hot class of 14 puppy bitches.

DOGS & PEOPLE

Presentations: Mrs. Meta Loveridge, of The Canadian Kennel Club staff, who now takes up a more leisurely life (Dogs, August, page 72), was presented with a beautiful pin and earring set the day of her departure as well as a remembrance from the Board of Directors . . . Mrs. Hilda Pugh, Display Kennels, Toronto, an Ontario Director of The Canadian Kennel Club, was presented with an onyx desk set on the occasion of speaking on Obedience and the CKC at the Hamilton Obedience Club. The date coincided with her birthday.

Visitors: to Mrs. Blanche Roberts, Toronto, were the Misses Edith and Evelyn Silcock of Blackburn, England. They also visited in New York . . . Noted visitor with Miss Mary Jane Weir, Toronto, is Miss Ann Coppage, co-owner of the famed Vulcan Standard Poodle Kennels in England. Her schedule, during August 17 to September 7, in addition to visiting Canadian kennels, includes seeing a number of American kennels with Miss Weir . . . Guests from Singapore to the home of Bobby and Ken Ellis, Streetsville, include Mr. and Mrs. Tom DeBloeme, the former Far East Export Manager for Quaker Oats. Other guests hail from Aberdeen, Scotland, and still others from Dallas, Texas. The latter are Robert and Janet Burtt, Standard Poodle breeders, formerly of Toronto.

Travellers: Mrs. Ellis (Bobby) left for England with her two daughters August 29 to visit with friends and see some of the major kennels and shows . . . Judge Hans Brunotte (Poodhall Poodles) Caistor Centre, Ont., flew August 31 to Hamburg, Germany, to judge Poodles at the Bundessieger-Ausstellung 1967. This is Germany's greatest annual championship show for dogs of all breeds. His next assignment takes him to Brussels September 17 to the International championship show. In addition he will visit friends on the continent and in England . . . Judge

Wilfrid Shute, Port Credit, Ont., judges in Bermuda this coming November for the fourth time. He has also been singularly honored as the only Canadian selected to judge at the Westminster Show next February — in the new Madison Square Garden. Dr. Shute will judge his own breed — Doberman Pinschers — and several other working breeds.

Blind Obedience: Blind since birth, famed pianist George Shearing was refused admittance to the Little Embers Restaurant in Chicago, when he appeared with his Golden Retriever Guide Dog, Leland. "No dog", maintained the maitre d', despite Shearing's explanation of the obvious. Shearing was equally adamant. "I don't want any exceptions for me," he stated. "I want exceptions for every blind person and his dog." Chicago officials lost no time in agreeing. "To separate guide dogs from their masters would be like taking a person's eyes away from him," pronounced Health Commissioner Samuel Andelman. City General Counsel Allen Hartman went a step further with a ruling that Leland and other guide dogs are "not really dogs but gentlemen."

When New York Times writer Walter R. Fletcher interviewed Dr. Antonio Cabral, veterinarian president of the Clube Portugues de Canicutura, he noted a charter on the wall signed by the king, Don Carlos, in 1897, founding the organization. A picture portrays King Carlos with several of his hunting dogs. Although Portugal is tiny, 1,000 veterinarians are active.

More visitors: the traffic to and from Expo 67, plus the Skye Terrier Specialty Show this month, brings numerous Skye Terrier devotees to the famed Talisker Skye kennels of Mrs. R. Percy Adams at Ste. Agathe des Monts, Que. The club membership has more than doubled in the past year, she writes, an increase of particular note in that every member must own a Skye. Mrs. Adams' puppies, notably in demand throughout Europe, have been purchased this summer throughout the States, as far south as Texas.
