TRUE FEEDING COSTS

So often kennel owners are offered dry dog food at what appears to be substantial savings on a cents per pound basis. Let's analyze these claims. Firstly, just how much dry food must you feed to provide complete nutrition plus caloric intake to sustain health, vitality and show condition. We know that 16 oz. of Purina New Dog Meal per day will maintain a 30 lb. dog, and that a 60 lb. dog requires 28 oz. Remember that 1 lb. of New Dog Meal delivers well in excess of 2000 calories, enough to sustain the average man for one day. Palatability is also an important consideration. Will the dog consume enough every day to provide adequate nutrition or must you supplement with meat, vitamins and minerals. Should this be the case, it would greatly inflate your true feeding costs.

Reproduction must also enter into your feeding cost. The number of puppies born live, weaned and sold is tremendously important to you. At the Purina dog care centre we have averaged 90.2% over the past 15 years. The national average is between 50-70%. We attribute this high livability to feeding unsupplemented Purina rations.

Highest quality ingredients are used in the manufacture of Purina Pet Products. Quality protein of an amino acid structure which is readily available to the dog guarantees optimum growth, reproduction and lactation. Purina "know how" in preservation of vitamins and trace mineral elements under conditions of manufacture and storage assures you that these nutrients are present at time of usage. The National Research Council recommends a level of 5% fat in a ration. Purina New Dog Meal contains 9% highly unsaturated fat which will not have a destructive effect on certain vitamins, especially vitamin E. To achieve normal growth and maximum life expectancy, dogs require a nutritionally adequate ration throughout their lifetime.

Excessive amounts of any nutrient can have an injurious effect, as can shortages. After the minimum levels have been satisfied, the most important factor in dog nutrition is the relationship of one nutrient to the other. The need for ingesting them in proper proportion is imperative.

STORING LARGE SHIPMENTS

In addition to the obvious hazards of mildew, mould and infestation with consequent loss, there is the more subtle one of vitamin loss. Purina dealers offer you fresh feed at all times, assuring you of maximum nutrition and minimum loss.

KENNEL MAINTENANCE

Have you considered this aspect of your operation under "feeding cost"? High palatability New Dog Meal enables you to maintain a large number of dogs at minimum cost with the use of self feeders. No mixing — no supplements — no feed pans to clean. Also, this high density product assures you of firm, well formed stools, keeping this arduous task to a minimum.

There is much more. Healthy, well formed puppies command a premium price. Veterinary visits are held to regular check-ups and vaccination when needed. The Purina Professional Courtesy Programme which brings you additional savings.

DOGS IN CANADA

APRIL, 1970. VOL. 60, NO. 7. APEX PUBLISHERS AND PUBLICITY LIMITED

"Obedience is fun!" maintains Mrs. Hilda Pugh. And every year she sponsors a Dogs in Canada cover to say it in print. This is her seventh.

No one could be more dedicated to an activity. However in the process of becoming immersed in the subject, she is far from being too deadly earnest about it. Sure, she'll tell you, it's work, but there's so much pleasure for the dog and owner in learning together, so many funny things happen in the process, it's one of the most gratifying experiences one could be lucky enough to meet with. The constant exploring and discovering, the mistakes and blundering are the most touching, heartswelling, perturbing, zestful, thrilling, back-thumping sensations for human and canine students. And the sense of teamwork in the beginning, through the advanced trials and demonstration work is well worth the effort.

Mrs. Pugh knows whereof she speaks. As President of The Canadian Kennel Club, all Obedience affairs receive her attention; as Chairman of the Obedience Council she is keenly aware of every aspect.

From this office she observes: participation in Obedience is increasing by leaps and bounds, both from the increased number of classes and on the other side of the ring — Obedience fans and first-time spectators.

"And I must say the calibre of Obedience is constantly improving." The Chairman also keeps a close eye on the new judges and with her committee tries to "upgrade all aspects of Obedience, keeping in mind it is a sport."

"Obedience is in a good healthy state. More and more exhibitors and good men and women to train them . . . And we, the dog people, have done a fantastic job of selling the public." There are now approximately 165 Obedience trials held annually across the country, and the highly demanding tracking tests are increasing as well.

This is the fifth consecutive year the Obedience Council has worked without change of personnel. Members are: Mrs. Mary Southcott, Mrs. Betty McHugh, Abe Zvonkin, Jake Giacomelli, with Mrs. Pugh.

NOTICE

From time to time our attention is drawn to the practice of some breeders who, when advertising or otherwise offering dogs for sale, indicate in some way that the purchaser of a dog sold as pure-bred will be required to make a higher, or additional, payment in order to be furnished with a certificate of registration. Such persons should note that the price at which a dog is sold, or the purpose for which a dog was purchased, has no bearing whatever on the obligation of the seller to supply the purchaser with a certificate of registration issued by The Canadian Kennel Club for a dog sold as pure-bred.

The Live Stock Pedigree Act, a federal statute, requires that when a person sells a dog as pure-bred, or contracts to sell a dog as pure-bred, he must furnish, or agree to furnish, a certificate of registration, together with fully-recorded transfer of ownership to the buyer.

Article XXXI, Section 3 of the By-laws of The Canadian Kennel Club reads as follows:

> "A member may be suspended or expelled, or a non-member deprived of the privileges of the Club, if it is proven to the satisfaction of the Board that when selling, or otherwise disposing of a dog for a consideration (monetary or otherwise), the person disposing of the dog has asked or required the new owner to make any form of payment specifically for the purpose of being furnished with a certificate or registration."

To avoid possible prosecution under the Live Stock Pedigree Act and/or possible disciplinary action by The Canadian Kennel Club, members and others engaged in the selling of dogs as pure-bred are cautioned to refrain from the practice of quoting two selling prices for the dogs, one "with papers", the other "without papers", or to in any other way indicate that an additional payment is required for a certificate of registration.

This notice is published by an order of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club.

WHELPING PROBLEMS

. . . I would like to take this opportunity to relate a recent experience we went through with our Siberian Husky bitch.

Our bitch, two years of age, was recently bred to a novice male, four years old. At the same time as this breeding my bitch's dam was bred to the same dog (this male being the property of my bitch's breeder). The dam was bred on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, my bitch was bred on Wednesday and Thursday, all breedings being supervised. All went well for the gestation period, and on the Wednesday, (63 days later) the dam whelped. On Thursday our bitch appeared to go into labor, but nothing happened. On Friday our vet was contacted and at 10 a.m. a precautionary examination was made. The vet found that the cervix was about one third open and the lead puppy was about three inches from the mouth of the uterus. He felt whelping would take place within 24 hours. This did not happen, the bitch was not in any pain, she was eating well, and passing motions normally, but she was becoming very tired. Saturday and Sunday was spent with telephone calls back and forth between the vet and ourselves. On Monday morning the vet again saw the bitch and found that the puppies were still in approximately the same place as on Friday morning, although the cervix was now fully dilated, and the puppies were all apparently strong. Due to the bitch's tiredness it was decided to give her an injection; a piturity derivitive was used and the bitch was kept for observation. The injection, which normally works in 30-45 minutes, had no effect. However the vet felt that another 24 hours would not hurt.

Tuesday morning we were again at the vet's and by this time we all realized that there might be some other reason for the bitch's failure to whelp. A final injection was given similar to the first but with negative results. This forced the vet to perform a Caesarian section in order to save the bitch and hopefully the puppies. The operation was successful and six live puppies were delivered. Both bitch and puppies are now doing well.

It would appear that the bitch was either suffering from an acute hormone deficiency, which prevented the uterus from contracting, or else complete uterine inertia, as when the operation was performed the uterus would not contract at all and was described as lifeless as a plastic bag.

The vet informed us that he had come across similar conditions in Basset Hounds, and in view of this I would be interested in hearing from any other breeders who have experienced this condition. I am led to believe by an American correspondent that this condition is becoming more prevelant; not only in novice bitches but in bitches that have delivered two or three litters normally.

Finally I would point out that our bitch, during gestation, was in excellent health, with good coat, muscle tone, and was eating well.

TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS

BY JAKE GIACOMELLI

Remember last month we had your dog taking the broad jump from a Sit, Stay, but still on lead because we want to be in a position to be able to control the situation at all times. Also, if you recall, the distance of the broad jump was still quite short, and as I've said before (and I'll say it again) — distance is unimportant at the early stages — let's get the format for the whole exercise down pat before we worry about distance! Okay, let's go!

Step No. 4: Continue repeating Step No. 3 mentioned in last month's column until your dog is doing this quite consistently — (and, I might add, happily, too, if you're honest and not stingy with your praise and affection.) When I say honest I mean the sort of praise that springs automatically from your heart when your dog has suddenly learned to do a particularly difficult exercise and you could love him to death for it, as opposed to a "Good boy" or "Good girl" just because your trainer or your training book tells you this is the correct procedure.

Some dogs may take a few days to perform Step 3 consistently, but after a week — (if you've followed instructions and have done your homework regularly), it should be an accomplished fact.

Step No. 5: Follow the whole procedure outlined in Step 3, except that we do not snap the lead to the dog's collar but lay the snap portion of the lead on the floor, slightly to the right of the dog and in line with his collar. This will fool him into thinking he's still connected to the lead extending from your hand. You will discover to your pleasant surprise that when you give the command "Fido, Over" or whatever your command is to jump — your pet will do it like a trooper! — alright now! When he's sitting in front of you, give him some of that heart and soul stuff type of praise I was referring to above!

Continue with Step No. 5 until you can gradually eliminate the lead altogether — however, do not be in a hurry to move away from the position of "standing at the right side of the jump facing the board furthest from your dog and right up close to it so as to prevent him cutting the corner when he jumps." Later when your dog has become very capable of doing this exercise you will gradually move into a position that is anywhere between the range of the first and last board and about 2 ft. from the side.

Step No. 6: When your dog can do Step No. 5 quite smoothly we move into the final phase of training for this exercise. Here's what it is — we gradually increase the distance to be jumped about one inch every third night or so until your dog has reached the distance he has to jump which is based on twice the height of the High Jump he has to jump measured in a lateral direction.

If you've followed instructions implicitly — you should have no problems — the whole exercise will fall into place as easy as pie. I know 'cos I've done it with young dogs still only part way through their Basic Novice and yet they learn this exercise quite easily because no pressure was put on them and they learned it in their own good time.

HOWEVER — in case you have problems I'll cover some. (Assuming, of course, that your dog has no physical disorder.)

(1) Q — A dog that has already been trained but has difficulty with the broad jump.
A — Go through the whole Broad Jump procedure as outlined in Dogs in Canada articles — step by step — and lots of praise.

(2) Q — Walks between the boards.
A — Spread chicken wire over the entire board area — as a rule, rather than walk on the wire your dog will jump over it.

(3) Q — Has trouble jumping a certain distance and as a result dislikes to jump the Broad Jump.
A — Reduce the distance until it's at a distance he can jump quite easily — remain at this easy distance for quite some time until you've restored his confidence in his ability to jump the broad jump again. Then gradually add about an inch every several days or more, depending on how he's coming along. Be very sure of your gradual increase of distance, this is very vital — if you suddenly increase it by six inches — you can upset the whole applecart and set yourself right back again.

(4) Q — Dog always steps on the first board before jumping.
A — Attach two small uprights

Jake Giacomelli, 51 Wardrope St. S., Stoney Creek, Ont. is much in demand as an Obedience judge. His wealth of experience in this phase of dogdom, combined with his sense of humor, ensure a lively series.

on the takeoff edge of the first board, about two or three inches high, and stretch a thin wire between the two uprights. When your dog either steps on or bumps into this wire he will more than likely decide to have no part of placing his feet there, but will decide to jump and clear it. The whole keynote of doing this exercise is — nice and easy does it, along with heartfelt praise!

Next month — Good Lord willing, hope to report to you about a Trial that will decide the top Obedience Champion of the year for the United States. As far as I know this is the first Trial of this type ever to be held in the U.S.A. and as a Canadian I fully realize what an honor it is to be permitted to share the officiating at such an exclusive event!

Needless to say, I'm very excited at the prospect of it all! ☐

POINTING BREEDS
IN THE FIELD

Shooting Dogs, Gun Dogs, All Purpose Dogs, Hunting Dogs, Field Trial Dogs, All Age Dogs, Amateur Dogs, Horseback shooting dogs, Versatile Gun Dogs, Southern All Age Dogs, Dual Dogs, Grouse Dogs, Cover Dogs, Gentlemen's Shooting Dog, New England Dogs, the multitude of terms to describe your pointer are endless. These expressions are bandied around by breeders and owners with the assumption that everyone knows what everyone else is talking about. To make things even more quaint we can abbreviate into a rural slang such as shootin' dawg. This sounds like we really are just country boys with an old country dog that every red blooded hunter would like to own. The buyer fancies bib overalls, double barrel gun, rail fence and the mystique of it all.

Probably the most maligned expression of all is "grouse dog". Now I pretend to know something about that one because I own one. I also am proud to say that I know two other fellows who own one each. I have heard of, but not seen, at least two other dogs that allegedly point ruffed grouse. Having owned one I wonder if I ever will own another one. I see by the ads that I can buy one from a variety of breeders! Burton Spiller, author of "Drummer in the Woods" and other excellent books on grouse shooting, bought many dogs before he got a grouse dog. It is not as easy as it sounds in the ads.

The Horseback Shooting Dog has always intrigued me. I assume this melodious expression recalls the glory of the old south, quail, broom sedge, colored retainers and bourbon. Who in the name of mercy prances around on horseback shooting birds? A judge at a recent trial said that what he was looking for in the stake was a horseback shooting dog. He of course was perched on the back of a horse and we handlers were on shanks mare.

Southern All Age is another pearl that was dropped at an Ontario trial. We all nodded knowingly. For one I didn't mention that I had never been (at the time) farther south than Niagara Falls. Since then I have been as far as North Carolina and outside of the field trial grounds the cover was thick and tight. I saw a couple of hunters working a setter near the North Carolina and Virginia line and their southern all age was flashing around the briar patches about 70 yards ahead of the shooting party. But they were on foot.

What used to be known as the All Purpose Dog is now the Versatile Dog. In the past this kind of pointing dog has been described as one of the Continental Pointing Breeds. In the flush of publicity that accompanied their arrival in North America extravagant claims were made of their versatility. Things are now getting back to normal and the term Versatile has been better defined as set out in this column several months ago.

Fancying myself as "one", I have always wanted to own a gentlemen's shooting dog. To date the problem has been that my dogs bring out ungentlemanly conduct in me. Just think of it for a moment though. A gentle man on a crisp October day, impeccably dressed in his shooting costume, his pointer casting ever forward. The point, the soft Toho from the master, the flush and a clean kill. The image makers.

Often tacked on the end of each descriptive phrase is the delightful "will do it all" or "does it all". This crisp little gem implies of course that the dog will point, back, retrieve and I imagine remain steady to wing. The best phrase makers always add "will do it all, in sight or out". When I read that one I am moving stealthily up to a dog that is somewhere around on point and I don't know where he is but wherever he is doing it all out of sight. My experience is what he is doing out of sight he wouldn't dare do in sight as his master would not be a gentleman if he did.

Or how about "personal shooting dog" as a word picture of the shooting scene. I have often reflected that this dog is so personal that you wouldn't dare let anyone else see him in action. But on the other hand it could ring of the all knowing sportsman who out of the entire kennel of excellence has a chosen one. You may on application and under scrutiny be able to buy a pup from this gem. Sounds good doesn't it? I'll take two pups. □

START PLANNING NOW FOR THE 1971 TERRIER STAMPEDE.

WHY?
One reason is all that silver plate hardware — BIS, BCB, BCBP, Group 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, BOB, BOS, BCBP in Breed.

And reason two — where else is there a Western terrier roundup this big?

One hundred and seven terriers in 1970. How about one-hundred and thirty in '71?

Finally, hang onto your horses. Third reason — distinguished judges.

Dr. T. Allen Kirk, terrier specialist from Virginia, this year. Next year, a judge coming all the way from England JUST for this show.

Also, the best of friendly Western hospitality.

by H. CABELLERO

■ Although frozen semen has been used with cattle for some years, attempts to preserve dog semen by freezing had been unsuccessful. After a two year search, researchers at the University of Oregon Medical School's animal farm have successfully impregnated a dog with frozen semen. The first births occurred in August • • • An interesting line of thought might be suggested to dog owners by the solution of a cat breeder to the problem of noisy restless cats when in season. A vasectomy was performed on a tom cat, resulting in sterility, but no change in sexual behavior. He was allowed to mate with females, thereby terminating the seasons as rapidly as possible. No phantom pregnancies occurred, and the tom cat developed none of the undesirable habits of normal tom cats, such as spraying • • • Responsible dog breeders may well be wondering what the decade of the 70s will hold for the animal companions of mankind. The pet population is growing three times faster than the human population, and pure-bred dog registrations have been climbing at a rate of 10% per year. Increasing urbanization; high rise living; the struggle of all forms of life for their share of the fragile earth's sustenance — these and other complex factors will surely affect the dog population. One writer pointed out that if man fails to solve the problems of environmental collapse, and fades from the scene, only the domestic dog will mourn his passing • • • On a more practical note, to avoid diarrhea in dogs when travelling, the veterinary profession recommends carrying a supply of their normal drinking water. If this is not possible, use bottled distilled water. An animal prone to car sickness should be offered chipped ice, which provides the necessary moisture without loading the animal's stomach with liquid • • • One reason why an undernourished dog has reduced immunity to infectious diseases, according to Dr. R. W. Kirk of Cornell University, is that antibodies are proteins, and when an animal is undernourished the body utilizes them to meet its demand for protein. In tips on canine nutrition, his recommended formula for orphan puppies is ¼ pint light cream, ¾ pint homogenized milk, and one egg yolk. He also suggests that when hunting dogs are worked, they should be fed ¼ of the day's ration two hours before they go into the field, and the remainder at the end of the day • • • In addition to professional journals, conferences, and other ways of keeping up to date, veterinarians can now buy a recording made by S. J. Ettinger, DVM, of 22 normal and abnormal canine heart sounds from clinical patients seen at the Animal Medical Center, N.Y. □

The Thousand Islands Kennel and Obedience Club

The following is a list of officers for 1970. Past President, Mrs. Joyce Bernhardt; President, Mr. Mal Richardson; Vice-President, Mr. Bruce Mason; Treasurer, Mr. Donald Moore; Secretary, Mrs. Jackie Dupont; Directors, Mrs. Clem Nixon, Mr. Ronald Gamble, Mrs. Jean Connell; Obedience Chairman, Mrs. Lillian Lowe; Show Chairman, Mr. Bill Hobbs.

— Mrs. J. Dupont

Essex County Kennel Club

The club will hold three all breed championship dog shows and three licensed obedience trials on September 5, 6 and 7 in Leamington, Ont. We have not held shows since 1963 due to conflicting dates in this area, but, we have held a very active club together, meeting twice weekly for obedience classes and for the past three years we have had a very interesting program working with the Boy Scouts and training them in all phases of dog care and obedience.

We consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining the dates previously used by the C.N.E., and we hope to make these shows an outstanding yearly event. As in any form of show business a star is a hard act to follow and the C.N.E. was certainly a star, but we shall do our best to live up to their standard. We hope to have an exceptional panel of judges and are off to a good start. Our trophy fund is progressing nicely with donations coming in from our well wishing friends. As exhibitors may remember, Leamington is a lovely little town with good motel accommodation and excellent camping grounds in Point Pelee National Park and several other camp grounds within a few miles of the show site.

The spacious Leamington arena is ideal for a well organized show and the snack bar opens early in the morning with lots of hot coffee.

Leamington is affectionately known as the Sun Parlor of Canada, so come one and all and help us get the Sun Parlor shows off to a bumper start. Bring the kids as the beaches and supervised swimming at Point Pelee are excellent.

For more information write to Mrs. Jeane Marks, 2559 Ida St., Windsor 20, Ont. who will cheerfully answer all of your questions.

Skyway Obedience Club

The following slate of officers was elected at the annual general meeting of the club on January 8. President, Mrs. Linda Lanto; Vice-President and Training Director, Mrs. Irma Dailey; Secretary, Mrs. I. Barradell; Treasurer, Mrs. V. Colotelo; Directors, Mr. G. Dailey, Mrs. B. Saunders, and Mr. T. Barradell.

"Skyway" celebrates its tenth birthday this April with a dinner-dance for members and friends. Although we are a small club, we are fortunate in having a hard-working membership which enables us to hold a double trial each September, put on demonstrations for various organizations and hold three sets of training classes each year. We are looking forward to a busy and successful second decade.

Computer Calls the Mating

Great Dane breeders Jim and Doris Strong, Nottinghamshire, England, decided they wanted to perfect a strain of blue and black dog. Said Mr. Strong: "I fed all the information about our dogs and bitches into the computer and then popped the question: Which dog shall we mate with which bitch to get the right color? Already it's worked twice."

Details such as color, shape of head, nose, ears, mouth, muscular development, carriage, height, weight and ancestry were fed into the computer.

OBEDIENCE 1969 in review

For the fourth year we present, for Obedience enthusiasts across Canada, a comprehensive analysis of Obedience activities. We gratefully acknowledge the tremendous effort of Mrs. Betty McHugh in compiling these valuable statistics.

■ Since this feature was started in 1966 Obedience has grown steadily in numbers of entries, numbers of trials, and titles confirmed. In 1966 there were 4,598 entries in Obedience and Tracking Trials as compared to 6,562 in 1969. In 1966, 132 trials were held, and in 1969 the figure was 165 trials. The only disappointing figure is in the number of titles confirmed, 657 in 1966 compared to 720 in 1969. Could it be that we are sacrificing quantity for quality? Entries in all classes are up, with the exception of Utility, which has dropped from 600 in 1966 to 572 in 1969. Tracking entries, which seem to drop back and forth with each year are up from 14 in 1966 to 66 entries in 1969.

The Montreal Dog Obedience Training Club Trials, in October, drew the largest number of dogs to compete in a single trial with a total of 131 dogs, an increase of 22 over last year's top figure of 109 dogs. Total dogs competing in their triple Trial was 376. This club had the largest entry in the Novice B class of 51 and Open B class of 29 for 1969. The Hamilton Dog Obedience Club had top entries in the Open A class of 17 and Utility class of 20 dogs for 1969. The Burlington Kennel and Obedience Club had the top entry in the Novice A class of 51.

The Calgary Kennel and Obedience Club trials, in May, again drew the largest number of dogs for this section, with an entry of 79 and a total of 193 for their three trials.

Class entries and degrees awarded were as follows:

CLASS	NUMBER	DEGREES
Novice	4101	540
Open	1823	136
Utility	572	33
Tracking	66	11
	6562	720

There were 720 degrees confirmed in 1969 as compared to 769 in 1968.

Titles confirmed in 1969 were down in all degrees except CDX which increased from 128 in 1968 to 136 in 1969. The number of CD's confirmed in 1969 as compared to 1968 decreased by 39, UD's by 11 and TD's 8. TDX's increased from none in 1968 to one in 1969.

The Working Group as usual led in the total number of degrees confirmed in 1969 with a total of 306 degrees being awarded compared to 341 in 1968. Second was the Sporting Group with a total of 165, an increase of 26 over the 1968 figure. The Non-Sporting Group was third with 123, a decrease of 49 over the 1968 figure. The Toys had an increase of six degrees, the Terriers were the same as 1968 with a figure of 42 degrees, and the Hounds had an increase of six degrees in 1969. In 1969, 73 breeds had titles confirmed, an increase of three breeds over the 1968 figure.

The Poodles again took top place with 122 titles being confirmed in 1969. Second again were the German Shepherd Dogs with a total of 117; third the Shetland Sheepdog with 72; fourth Labrador Retrievers with 53 and fifth, a change from last year, the Collies and Irish Setters tied with each having a total of 27 degrees.

There were six "200" scores awarded in 1969 as compared to four in 1968, and interestingly enough all in Ontario.

Obedience Trials drew a total entry in 1969 of 6,562, in the five regular classes and Tracking. This is a large increase of 1,072 entries over the 1968 figure of 5,490. This is almost double the increase shown in 1968 of 564 against the 1967 figure of 4,926 entries. There were 6,460 dogs exhibited in Obedience Trials in 1969, an increase of 1,074 dogs.

It is no wonder that entries have increased so much when you consider that in 1969, 165 Trials were held as compared to 138 (less three tracking tests) in 1968, an increase of 27 trials. In 1969, 3,731 dogs qualified compared to 3,144 in 1968, an increase of only 587. Tracking has taken another jump forward with a total of six Tests in 1969 over a total of three in 1968. Entries have increased from 24 in 1968 to 66 in 1969, and the number to qualify from 17 in 1968 to 24 in 1969.

Rearing Orphans

BY DR. A. J. MOWBRAY

■ The most important things to bear in mind in the raising of orphan puppies are temperature control, feeding and cleanliness. Newborn puppies should be kept at a temperature of 85°F for the first week of life. After the first week the temperature can be gradually reduced to 70°F by three weeks of age. Regular crying with each breath is a sign they are too cold and moving the pup to a source of heat will soon correct this. Hot water bottles changed frequently or a heating pad are probably the best source of heat. Personally I have found a heat lamp very satisfactory, but a lamp under certain conditions can cause the convection of cold air currents thus undoing any good it should be doing. Keep a thermometer beside the pups to check and get the correct temperature. An insulated box for the pups with a heating pad at low is probably the best arrangement.

Feeding every six hours or four times a day is quite adequate, in fact one can arrange eight hours sleep over night with no harm to the puppies. Stomach tube feeding is by far the easiest and simplest method. A number 9 urinary catheter is used for pups Corgi size and can be obtained from your veterinarian. I would suggest all breeders keep one on hand, along with the necessary syringe, as the cost is only a couple of dollars and so often a pup doing poorly can be helped by tube feeding. Your vet might not have a spare tube the day you need it and ordering takes awhile. Now hold the pup up in one hand and hold the tube against him with the other and measure how much is needed to go from his mouth to just behind his ribs. Then make a mark with a pen about one inch beyond this to allow a little extra tube. It is better to insert too much tube than too little — the excess will curl around inside his stomach. Now attach a 12 or 30 ml. syringe to the end depending on how many puppies you have to feed. Allow 5 to 6 cc per newborn pup per feeding. Now get together a small bowl of boiling water, a cup of warmed formula, the tube attached to syringe and the puppy. Rinse the tube, inside and out, with boiling water by sucking in a few ml. and squirting it out again. This not only ensures cleanliness but makes the tube softer and more pliable. Now insert the tube down the pup's throat until the mark you made is at his mouth. There may be a little resistance when you are part way down but gentle pressure will overcome this. If you have all the tube, up to the mark, inserted you need not fear being in his windpipe by mistake because that amount of tube couldn't get into his windpipe. However, one warning —

■ Refreshing as a Spring prairie breeze was the Alberta KC event February 14 and 15. This club is Canada's oldest — now in its venerable 69th year — and these were its 118th and 119th all-breed Championship shows and 40th and 41st Obedience trials.

So successful was this venture, for which large groups came from Winnipeg and the West Coast by train, that plans for next year's show include a target of 1,000 entries. Special train and hotel rates brought in welcome competition for Alberta exhibitors. Nearly 100 dogs came from the Vancouver area and about 50 from Winnipeg. Saskatchewan also had a good representation and American competitors from as far away as Spokane and Montana were noted. Susan and Bruce Ball were Ontario exhibitors. The Terrier Specialty, held the Friday night preceding the show, attracted 107 terriers, with 17 breeds represented. This is a feat for a Prairie show where competitors are so widespread. The All Terrier Club of Alberta is just three years old. The first specialty last year drew 83 terriers. Education is a prime object of the club and other clubs are invited to participate in its projects. More information on the specialty appears in Barb Pirrie's column in Breed Notes.

The Alberta Sporting Hound Association Specialty was another base of good competition. Ed. Dixon, who judged hounds, also reports on this event in Breed Notes.

Under the enthusiasm and guidance of club President, Dr. M. I. McArthur and committee, members threw themselves into the big effort with heart and mind and the results were evident in a well-organized show with some noteworthy innovations.

A floor plan of the Agricultural Bldg., Calgary Exhibition and Stampede Grounds, showed in minute architectural detail the entire show and grooming area. Ticket taking and funds were in the hands of an audit firm with 15 company members rotating and, explained club Treasurer, Mrs. Pat Beaton, no club member was burdened with that responsibility.

The office was a 50′ caravan trailer, the placement of which left mere inches between pillars — a miraculous piece of driving. A very expensive PA system proved its worth in clearly heard announcements.

Guarding the dogs was a security German Shepherd named Manka. Her uniformed handler told us she was so crazy about her work they had to insist she rest from time to time.

Trophies were handsome silver plate goblets, ranging from water and champagne size through wine and liqueur, with Best of Breed awards made regardless of the number of entries. Best Canadian Bred trophies were equally handsome punch bowls with ladles. BIS trophies are pictured. All are collectors' items and an incentive to complete sets.

At the stewards' tables were slotted wooden containers designed by a member. These kept the ribbons fresh and in order.

Of great assistance, sometimes hilariously so, were Scouts and Cubs. Famed Afghan breeder Kay Finch, great sport that she is, actually held up her judging briefly to show a pair of young sweepers how to wield a broom. They also served as runners, which freed members of the Junior Kennel Club of Calgary to assist stewards. The children, wearing monogrammed club jerkins, had their own display, served as an information bureau and assisted ring stewards. Their information sheet outlined projects which include grooming, handling, a field trip to the Guard School and to a local kennel. Next month they hold their annual Sanction show. A pen pal club is another interest.

In the matter of stewarding, good training was obvious. The club holds an annual five-month course.

You'll notice a fine display of Recent Winners from this show. This was made possible through the great cooperation of the Show Committee and photographer Stewart Wainwright who had Recent Winner forms at his table. (These are available to show-giving clubs on request.)

Some of us left for home the proud owners of White Stetsons. Judges, the writer and visitor Mrs. Blanche Roberts were each deputized as an Honorary Calgary White Hatter, and in a ceremony were "registered officially in the Book o' Friendly Folks at Hospitality Centre, Mewata Park, Calgary, Alta."

(1) before each dog was exported to Canada it was tattoo marked in accordance with the provisions of Article XXVII of these By-laws;

(2) the record of such tattoo markings appears on the certificate of registration (or export certificate) issued by a recognized Kennel Club or Stud Book in the country from which the dogs were exported to Canada;

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

It was agreed that the Secretary would provide each member of the new Board with a copy of the Club's contract with Grace Computer Services.
— Mr. Gale left the meeting.

SUBJECT: Dr. Walker, Chairman of Project Candor Committee:
(1) pointed out that the contract with Mr. Gale is due to expire on February 7, 1970;
(2) stated that the matter of possible renewal of the contract for a stated period of time had been discussed by the Committee in Mr. Gale's absence;
(3) stated that the Committee felt that there should be a four-month extension of the contract;
(4) reported that he had discussed the matter with Mr. Gale, who felt that there were about eight more weeks necessary to clean up the project, and then about four more weeks to prepare for the stud book for 1969;
(5) stated that Mr. Gale would be prepared to extend the contract for four months if salary was set at $1,000 per month, with a week's vacation for the extra four months.
Moved by Dr. Walker, seconded by Mrs. Joel:
"THAT, Mr. Gale's contract be extended for a period of four months, from February 7, 1970, at a rate of $1,000 a month, with one week's holiday pay at the end of the four-month period."
FOR THE MOTION: All present except Mrs. Diamond (against), Mr. Duff (abstained). Motion carried.

SUBJECT: Dr. Walker reported that it was the feeling of the Project Candor Committee that it would be beneficial if Mr. Gale was available to answer questions at the annual meeting of the Board and at the Annual General Meeting in Vancouver, and the Committee recommended that the Board authorize Mr. Gale to be in Vancouver for these meetings.
Moved by Dr. Walker, seconded by Mrs. Mack:
"THAT, Mr. Gale be authorized to be in Vancouver on March 5th, 6th, and 7th, for such purposes as may be agreed between Candor Committee and Mr. Sless."
FOR THE MOTION: All present except Mr. Ashcroft (against), Mr. Duff (absent). Motion carried.

5 F 68. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR 1969
SUBJECT: The Secretary:
(1) pointed out that the previous Board, at his suggestion, had authorized additional analyses, in the form of statements, included in the financial statements for 1969, these to deal with the conversion costs of the new registration system, and of the Registration Division at Toronto since it became operative;
(2) stated that the work involved would make it impossible to have the material ready for the deadline by which material must be completed for the February issue of "Dogs in Canada", in which such statements usually appear;
(3) recommended that sufficient time be allowed to prepare the statements as recommended, and these statements, after receiving the approval of the Club's auditors, be printed and then distributed by direct mail to all members of the Club rather than published in the official organ.
Moved by Mr. Dawson, seconded by Mrs. Diamond:
"THAT, the Secretary be instructed to send out the financial statements for 1969 the way he has suggested."
FOR THE MOTION: All present. Motion carried.
— Luncheon recess.

(2) reported that on December 10th the solicitors for Mr. Sless had reported that he intended to withdraw his application for the order;
(3) reported that, having regard for the authorization given by the Board at its previous meeting, he had consented to the dismissal of the action on condition that the plaintiff pay to the Club its party and party costs;
(4) reported that $1,000 had been paid towards the Club's costs in the matter;
(5) enclosed his statement of account in the amount of $1,000 and other disbursements totalling $528.80.

Moved by Mr. Blyth, seconded by Dr. McDougall:
"THAT, the letter be received."
FOR THE MOTION: All present except Mr. Duff (absent), Dr. Walker (absent). Motion carried.

Moved by Mrs. Diamond, seconded by Mrs. Mack:
"THAT, the exhibitor of the dog entered as a listed dog under the name NORTHWOOD'S GOLDEN CIRCUS BOY be informed that the dog cannot be registered with the prefix NORTHWOOD'S and that NORTHWOOD'S is not to be included in the name should the dog be entered again in a show or trial held under the rules of The Canadian Kennel Club."

During a discussion which followed, reference was made to the suggestions of the Club's solicitor as to the information which should be given a person suspended or expelled or deprived of the privileges of the Club if it is to be understood that the Club will not register any dogs born during that period and will not accord transfers on dogs sold during that period.
Dr. Walker requested, and it was agreed that the Secretary would prepare for the consideration of the Board at its annual meeting, the draft of a letter having regard for the advice of our solicitor.

9 A 7. AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS
REPORT: The Secretary:
(1) stated that in the special referendum ballot mailed to voting members of the Club in August, 1969, there had been four proposed amendments to the Club's By-laws, two of which (dealing with proposed increases in fees) having been defeated by majority vote, but two others having been approved by majority affirmative vote, and for these, application for Ministerial approval had been submitted to the federal Department of Agriculture;
(2) reported that Ministerial approval had been granted these two amendments on December 10, 1969, and notice of such approval would be published in the February issue of "Dogs in Canada".

SUBJECT: The Secretary:
(1) pointed out that on March 3, 1969 Ministerial approval had been granted to an amendment to the Club's By-laws which required that if an imported dog was to be registered in the Club's records the importer must furnish a three generation certified pedigree for the dog imported, and for every dog in that pedigree there must appear a registration number (not necessarily assigned by the Kennel Club in the country from which the dog was imported to Canada);
(2) read a letter (dated December 12th) from Mr. D. L. Currie, London, Ontario, seeking consideration of his request that a Poodle which he had imported from Great Britain be registered although a registration number did not appear in the pedigree certificate issued by The Kennel Club (London) for one dog in the third generation.
Moved by Mrs. Diamond, seconded by Mr. Ashcroft:
"THAT, this dog be not registered."
FOR THE MOTION: All present except Mr. Frost (against). Motion carried.

9 A 14. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE MANAGER
SUBJECT: The Executive Manager:
(1) pointed out that at the meeting of the Board of Directors held on November 26th he had reported that Mr. Adams wished to be relieved of all his duties at the end of January;
(2) reported that he had placed an advertisement in the December issue of "Dogs in Canada" seeking applicants for the post of Administrative Assistant;
(3) reported that replies had been received and the applicants would be interviewed;
(4) pointed out that when the Board had set up a Registration Division it had appointed a Registrar to head the Division, the Registrar being responsible for all matters relating to the Division, and responsible to the Board of Directors;
(5) recommended that the same policy be applied to the Shows and Trials Division, by authorizing the engagement of a Manager of the Division who would be directly responsible to the Board of Directors.
Moved by Mrs. Diamond, seconded by Mrs. Joel:
"THAT, we create a self-contained department for shows and trials, the Manager of which will be directly responsible to the Board, the Executive Manager to engage the services of a person to manage that department."
FOR THE MOTION: All present. Motion carried.

SUBJECT: A suggestion that a message of appreciation for services rendered the Canadian Kennel Club and the dog game be addressed to those members of the last Board who are not members of the current Board.
Moved by Mr. Ashcroft, seconded by Mr. Duff:
"THAT, the Secretary address, on behalf of the Board, a message of appreciation to those retiring members of the 1968-69 Board."
FOR THE MOTION: All present. Motion carried.

9 A 31. MEETINGS OF THE BOARD
SUBJECT: Article X, Section 2, of the Club's By-laws, reading in part, as follows: "Each new Board at its first meeting shall set aside a specific day in each month on which all regular meetings of the Board shall be held, if necessary."
During a discussion which followed it was suggested that the entire Board should be consulted before plans are finalized for regular meetings of the current Board.
Moved by Mr. Frost, seconded by Mr. Dawson:
"THAT, a regular meeting of the Board be held on February 4th if, in the opinion of the President, such a meeting is necessary, and the question of the remaining meetings of the Board for 1970 be placed on the agenda of the annual meeting of the Board."
FOR THE MOTION: All present. Motion carried.

10 MM 2. APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP
SUBJECT: The application for associate membership received from Miss Mary Beth Harris, Charlottetown, P.E.I. with a covering letter stating that she had recently imported a female Tibetan Terrier (a breed not yet recognized by The Canadian Kennel Club), registered with the Tibetan Terrier Club of America; and that section of the Club's By-laws which states that a person cannot become or remain a member of the Club if engaged in the breeding, buying or selling of dogs which are not pure-bred (a "pure-bred dog" being a dog eligible for registration or already registered in the records of The Canadian Kennel Club).
The Secretary was instructed to refer this matter to the Registration Committee for its consideration and report to the Board.

11 D 25. DATES
SUBJECT: A letter (dated January 7th) from the President of the Shoreline Kennel Club, Victoria, B.C. who:
(1) stated that because of The Canadian Kennel Club's Annual General Meeting at Vancouver on March 7th, the Victoria City Kennel Club had cancelled its shows scheduled for March 6th and 7th, and for the same reason the Shoreline Kennel Club had decided to cancel its shows scheduled for March 8th and 9th;
(2) inquired why the date of the C.K.C. Annual General Meeting had been set for March 7th, when a week before or after March 7th would not have affected the Victoria City and Shoreline Kennel Club's shows;
(3) inquired as to the delay in approval of judges.
During the course of a discussion which followed, the Secretary explained the time often required to process applications for approval of selected judges if any one or more of the judges selected fall into any of the following categories:
(1) a person who is seeking, through examinations, to establish eligibility to judge, where the application has not been fully processed;
(2) a person who has been approved to judge on a one-time basis, and has fulfilled an assignment, but a final decision has not yet been reached on his application;
(3) a person selected to judge on the permit system where the application of both club and judge must be processed through the Chapter 7 Committee.
Moved by Dr. Walker, seconded by Mr. Ashcroft:
"THAT, we write to the Victoria City Kennel Club and the Shoreline Kennel Club, explaining the situation and apologizing."
FOR THE MOTION: All present except Mrs. Diamond (absent). Motion carried.
Moved by Mr. Sless, seconded by Mr. Dawson:
"THAT, the priorities of the Shoreline Kennel Club be not forfeited, and that the date fees posted for March shows by the Victoria City Kennel Club and the Shoreline Kennel Club be refunded."
FOR THE MOTION: All present except Dr. Walker (absent). Motion carried.

11 D 1. JUDGES
SUBJECT: A letter (dated January 5th) from the B.C. Ladies' Kennel Club reporting that Mr. R. J. Clay of Birmingham, England, is eligible to award Challenge Certificates at championship shows in England for Chihuahuas and Pomeranians, and seeking approval of Mr. Clay to judge all breeds in Group 5 at one of their championship shows to be held in May, 1970.
Moved by Mr. Frost, seconded by Mr. Ashcroft:
"THAT, Mr. R. J. Clay of England be approved to judge all breeds in Group 5 at a championship show to be held by the B.C. Ladies Kennel Club in May, 1970, such approval to be entirely without prejudice to any policy which may in future be fixed by the Board of Directors."
FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Ashcroft, Mr. Dawson, Mr. Frost, Mrs. Getty, Mrs. Pugh, Mr. Sless.
AGAINST THE MOTION: Mr. Blyth, Mrs. Diamond, Mr. Duff, Mrs. Joel, Mrs. Mack, Dr. McDougall, Dr. Walker. Motion lost.

SUBJECT: A memo (dated January 8th) from Mr. Adams, who:
(1) pointed out that a judging permit had been issued to Mrs. Megan Nutbeem to judge all breeds in Group 6, and to Mr. R. W. Nutbeem to judge all breeds in Group 4 at the championship show to be held by the Newfoundland Kennel Club on May 31, 1970;
(2) reported that an application had been received from the Tantramar Kennel Club for approval of Mr. Nutbeem to judge the breeds in Group 4, and for Mrs. Nutbeem to judge the breeds in Group 6 at their championship show to be held on May 16th at Amherst, N.S.;
(3) stated that it was not clear as to whether, when a person has been approved under the permit system to judge for the first time, he may be selected to judge the same breeds or group at another championship show before completing his first assignment;
(4) pointed out that the Newfoundland Kennel Club may not be aware that the Tantramar Kennel Club would seek approval of Mr. & Mrs. Nutbeem to judge the same groups two weeks previous to their shows in May.
After discussion it was agreed that the issuance of the second judging permits to Mr. & Mrs. Nutbeem is automatic, and does not require that they complete their first assignment under the permit system.

SUBJECT: The Secretary reported that:
(1) Mr. Ed Dixon, Toronto, had been approved, under the permit system, to judge all breeds in Group 6 at the Sarnia Kennel Club's championship show held on October 18, 1969;
(2) a letter had been received from Mr. Dixon reporting that he had been invited to judge Group 6 at a show to be held by the St. Catharines Kennel Club on April 11th, and had received an invitation to judge the same Group at a championship show to be held by the B.C. Ladies Kennel Club on May 18, 1970.
It was agreed that inasmuch as Mr. Dixon is an approved judge of Group 2, not more than two judging permits would be issued for Group 6.

13 FT 34. FIELD TRIALS FOR SPANIELS
SUBJECT: Mr. Duff stated that because of an alleged shooting incident at a trial held by the Scotia Springer Spaniel Club on November 5, 1969, any application of that Club to hold trials under C.K.C. Rules should be referred to the Board for consideration.
Moved by Mr. Duff, seconded by Mr. Frost:
"THAT, any applications for dates received from the Scotia Springer Spaniel Club be referred to the Board of Directors for consideration."
FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Ashcroft, Mr. Dawson, Mr. Duff, Mr. Frost, Mrs. Pugh, Dr. Walker.
AGAINST THE MOTION: Mrs. Getty, Mrs. Joel, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Sless.
ABSTAINED: Mr. Blyth, Mrs. Diamond, Dr. McDougall. Motion carried.

BCBP in Show February 14 and 15, the Keeshond Picvale Pepper of Banks, with Judge Peter Smith, handler Betty MacKillop, and Dr. M. I. McArthur.

Mrs. Ayako Otsuda's Toy Poodle, Geo-Gi Lapeche CD, CDX, Am. CD, took highest score in trial February 14 with a 200 score. Presenting trophy Mr. Frank Kindred; Judge, Mr. Don Miller.

The distinctive logo of the AKC was cleverly designed not only showing the initials but also forming mountains and the Canada Goose.

Accidents to hands seemed to be the "in" thing. Afghan breeder Susan Ball showed Sinorama of Hindamere to top the Hound Specialty with her right arm in a cast. Agness Hammond is slowly regaining comfortable use of her left hand which was nearly severed by one of her pets, a monkey. She was alone at the time. Fortunately the snow plow had been through that morning, and she was able to get help from her nearest neighbor in her mountain retreat — nine miles away. The monkey is now a resident of the Calgary Zoo, although she wanted him back home. Miss Hammond, particularly noted as a breeder of Dachshunds, also has horses. Her nephew, Torchy Miller, learned to ride at her Ghost River Ranch at Cochrane, Alta. He was one of the Canadian Equestrian Team, winner of the Gold Medal during the Olympics in Mexico. A litter born at this time has the name theme of Gold Medal with team members' names worked in.

The first day's BIS win by Mrs. Pamela Arthur's Whippet was a nice touch, a ringsider remarked, in that she was one of the B.C. exhibitors who had worked very hard to get the trainload on the road.

Admiration was expressed for Judge Mary Thomas who gamely carried out her assignment while newly suffering the sudden loss of her husband a fortnight previously. The English judge, Mrs. Barbara O'Dell, was suddenly taken ill and unhappily spent the show weekend in hospital.

To make such tremendous strides in one year must surely gladden the hearts of the Alberta KC members. New strength was shown everywhere. The catalogue, for example, a highly professional job, jumped from 90 pages last year to 154. The list of agents numbered 60, which indicated that while many owners might have been confined to home, their kennels were well represented.

The stimulating competition mentioned earlier can be seen in this comparison of entries:

A Nova Scotia Duck Tolling Retriever, one of the rarest of breeds on this continent, was shown by B. W. Trites of Moose Jaw, Sask.

Now many fanciers are wondering if future train arrangements might not be made to economically bring more faraway exhibitors together. □ of Display Kennels, is active the year round. She does the initial teaching and training. Her staff, Mrs. Judy Rich, Gary Johnston, Jack Miller and Harry Dyk take over, and manage the school while she is away, mainly on Canadian Kennel Club matters. Outdoor classes are held in various locations and in winter in the Parish Hall, Church of the Redeemer at Avenue Rd. and Bloor, where Mrs. Pugh has been a member for more than 30 years. While some of the congregation were initially aghast at the idea of dogs in the parish hall, they have been won over. No smoking is permitted, students bring towels to wipe their dogs' feet and the janitor finds he has no additional work.

Highest score in Trial February 15 was won by Marshelt's Colonel, Shetland Sheepdog owned by Mrs. Pat Shierman, pictured with Judge Mr. Glenn Fancy.

In her kennels at 135 Macpherson Ave., Toronto, (telephone 922-8893) this active lady has a few pet dogs and carries on limited breeding in Weimaraners and Scotties. She has some of the outstanding Scottish Terrier stock of the late John Treleaven and tries to live up to his standards.

Because time is such a factor, she plans to do little showing, and does not intend to accept judging assignments except where she can help at sanction matches or Obedience trials. □ check the length of tube every few days as the pup grows and always mark off enough to reach from mouth to behind the last rib plus one inch. A 30 ml. syringe may be filled with formula, 6 cc injected into the first pup, the tube then dipped in boiling water and a second 6 cc injected into a second pup and so forth. This takes about one minute per pup, or five minutes for the litter, four times a day and makes hand raising no chore at all. For formula use Borden's Esbilac; Austin Lab's Canilac; or make your own.

When making your own, use utensils rinsed with boiling water and keep in sterile jar in the fridge. Take 1 tbsp. of cornsyrup, 1 egg yolk, ½ cup (4 oz.) of evaporated milk and ½ cup of hot water and a few human pediatric vitamin drops and mix in the jar. After feeding rinse the tube and syringe, as soon as possible before milk dries inside them, first with cold water, then hot water and detergent, then plain hot water. Weaning may be started at ten days to two weeks with milk and Infansoy baby cereal, but tube feeding should continue until pups are lapping well enough to clean up an ounce of milk and baby cereal in a few minutes, generally about four weeks of age. Increase the amount tube fed gradually to roughly 12 cc at one week and 15 to 20 ccs at two weeks. □

CANINE BREED IMPROVEMENT: selection and relationship

Part II — The genotype in variation

by LEE FORD, Ph.D.
Genetics Consultant Service
Rt. 1, Box 230, Butler, Ind. 46721

THE GENOTYPE

■ The genotype is the result of chance union of gametes produced by meiosis and Mendelian segregation, plus linkage resulting in fertilization and reinstitution of the diploid condition. Within this activity are the complications of mutations, chromosomal aberrations, gametic lethals, differential mortality of gametes or zygotes, developmental defects, and so forth. If any are suspected of operating, they must be carefully considered.

VARIATION

The genotype consists of the additive and non-additive parts of the variation, both of which result from the laws of Mendelian segregation. It is mathematically convenient to divide them into three parts: (1) contribution from the sire, which is constant for all gametes produced by him (2) contribution from the dam, which is constant for all gametes produced by her, and (3) the variable component due to the chance at segregation.

In a random bred population, there would be a correlation of .5 between the genotypes of full sibs. Interactions between these would contribute to the dominance and epistasis variations.

FERTILIZATION

The genotype or germ plasm or heredity of the individual is the result of the chance union of gametes from a male and a female parent, at the time of fertilization. These gametes were produced by a special kind of cell division that occurs only in the reproductive tissue, namely meiosis. The cells of the body contain two sets of chromosomes, the gamete cells contain only one set. Hence, when the gametes from two parents combine, the fertilization process restores the two set condition normal for all dogs. An understanding of the cell, of meiosis and mitosis, of the formation of gametes and fertilization, which is obtainable from any biology, zoology or botany text would be useful to the reader.

THE GENOTYPE CONCEPT

The concept of the genotype of the individual thus automatically involves an understanding of the gamete generation, which has only one-half of the heredity of the individual from whence it came, and an understanding of the zygotic or total germ plasm which is obtained at fertilization and continues on with the development of the pup into an adult dog.

We again point out that the gametes are formed by chance from the total germ plasm pool of the parent. No one has yet devised a method for control or selection at will of gametes. The union of the gametes is random, also, purely by chance. Hence, it should be apparent that the better the germ plasm source of the parent producing the gametes, the better chance you have to produce better offspring. For once the zygote is formed, and fertilization has occurred, that settled the genotype. Now all you can do is to ensure a good environment.

THE ENVIRONMENT

Even though this article is given to you to stress the fact that the genotype is the result of chance, which it is, we need to remember two things: (1) that chance can be influenced by selection of superior or desired genotypes in the parents producing the gametes and (2) a good environment can definitely bring out the best possible development of the given genotype, and a bad environment can definitely destroy its phenotypic manifestations.

MUTATION

Some breeders worry about mutations, and blame their failure on same. In actuality, few genes tend to mutate and those which do are apt to mutate on a low frequency rate. So although without a doubt mutation is operating within any given breed, its effects on any one breeder's dogs is apt to be almost nil.

HERITABILITY

Heritability is the portion of the total variance of the phenotype which is directly due to genetic differences.

IMPORTANCE OF HERITABILITY

Heritability is important because it is a measure of genetic variation. It is a measure of the variation upon which all the possibilities of changing the population by breeding methods depends. Changes in the genotype of the population can be obtained only through heritability. While selection and migration as genetic forces act on the phenotypic level, it is true that their effects on subsequent generations must come through heritability. Mutation and chance, while primarily affecting the genotype, are reflected on the resultant phenotype only by passing through heritability.

MEASURE OF WORTH

It is a measure of the accuracy with which a genotype can be identified from the phenotype of an individual or a group of individuals. No matter what system of breeding is used, the genetic worth of the animal must be judged either from its own performance or that of its relatives.

RATE OF CHANGE

The rate of change in a population is the function of heritability.

The amount of change possible in a population, related to the genetic variability available, is a function of heritability.

The value of heritability dictates the choice of the selection method and breeding system which will be of the greatest efficiency.

CONSTANCY OF HERITABILITY

Remember please that it cannot be assumed that heritability of different traits in the same population, or heritability of the same trait in different populations, or even of different generations of the same population, is a constant.

Note carefully also that the differences in heritability in the same trait, in different populations, due to variations in their genetic composition, or to the extent of uncontrolled environmental forces affecting them, is to be considered. This is the same in different generations.

CHANGES IN HERITABILITY

If a previously uncontrolled source of environmental variance is eliminated, then the heritability will rise.

If changes produce a greater environmental variability, this will also increase the total variance and thus reduce the heritability.

Selection may also cause an increase in heritability. Heritability for some traits is apt to be the highest when the incidence of the character is between 35% and 65% of the population. If the selection program is effective in raising the incidence of a desirable trait from below that level, the heritability will increase. A further rise in incidence will produce a drop in heritability.

GENE FIXATION

What is responsible for gene fixation? Not selection but consanguineous mating. However, inbreeding without selection will not cause any loss of genetic variability. The effect of consanguineous mating itself is merely to form a heterogeneous population of inbred lines. Actually, genetic variance of such a population is actually higher than that found under random mating. It is only when some of the inbred lines are discarded, for example when the population is subjected to selection, that a drop in genetic variance will follow.

INBRED LINES

Heritability between inbred lines is higher than the average heritability of the population or breed.

Man's best friend?

by ROSEMARY McKNIGHT

■ As a dog breeder and exhibitor for over 20 years, and also for several years a Championship Show judge in Britain, I still feel depressed, enraged and mystified when I read of the many cases of cruelty and abandonment of dogs which appear almost daily in the national press. What is the cause, and is there a cure for such heartless treatment?

At the dogs' home which I visited recently, pathetically thin scraps of dogs of all types and sizes raced hopefully towards the bars of the cages, among them Labradors, German Shepherds, Collies and even a Basset, that most soulful and aristocratic of hounds. At one time each and every one of them would be a prized possession — what went wrong?

I am of the opinion that not nearly enough consideration is given in the choice of dog. For example, apartment dwellers have a wide range of spunky Toy breeds from which they could make their choice, or small Terriers or the ever popular Poodle, but time and time again the person living in the smallest home with the tiniest backyard is attracted like a magnet to unsuitable breeds like Great Danes, St. Bernards, and Shepherds. Has he considered that the tiny, endearing puppy before him will eventually weigh over 100 lbs. and require lots of exercise to keep it in good condition? Does the lady who is entranced with exotic breeds like Afghans, Skye Terriers, Rough Collies and Old English Sheepdogs consider how time consuming is the grooming of these profusely coated breeds? The writer, a canine beautician for many years, has on numerous occasions had to remove matted hair, with knots larger than saucers, from the coats of neglected pets. If the prospective dog owner is not prepared to spend, on average, a quarter of an hour daily in grooming a long coated breed, he would be very wise indeed to turn his attention to a smooth coated companion, whose sleek short coat needs the minimum of care.

Having chosen the breed most suitable to his requirements, our enthusiastic new owner discovers that his work is only just beginning. It is very easy to spoil the tiny endearing puppy with the large soulful eyes, but allow him complete freedom of home and furniture now, with no chastisement whatever, then do not be surprised, a year or so later, if the same over-indulged puppy, now a mature 60 pounder, growls his defiance from the best brocade sofa, and takes a lump out of master's leg when he is hauled off. This is the dog reverting back to his ancestors, and guarding what he feels is his property. If a basket or box had been supplied for him from his first night in his new home, the dog would very quickly have come to recognize this object as his very own den, and would have had no inclination to leap on chairs etc.

This behavior pattern appears to be a very common reason for the parting of the ways between dog and owner, and from then on starts a succession of new owners, each one less able to control him, and with the inevitable tragic consequences. Britain, reputed to be the greatest nation of animal lovers in the world, throws out into the streets thousands upon thousands of dogs each year, and in the city of Glasgow alone over the Christmas weekend nearly 200 puppies and young dogs were abandoned and collected by the dogs' home. This figure is considerably higher in bigger cities and in less sentimental countries. Had greater care and a more responsible attitude been taken in the choice of dog, would these statistics have been so high?

Since coming to Canada two years ago and having read all the publicity in the English publication Our Dogs about the ill-treatment of animals in Japan, it has occurred to me, alas! that cruelty is indeed world wide and is not solely confined to the Orient. Conditions in which dogs are kept should be explored very thoroughly by any exporter — I include breeders and dealers under this heading as surely dealers are animal lovers at heart too, otherwise second hand furniture trading would appeal as just as lucrative a business, and with less responsibility attached. Thus the buying and selling of domestic pets at a profit should arouse concern in every compassionate human being, and no stone should be left unturned to ensure that each animal sold at home or abroad should have a happy life to the end of its days.

Conditions, even in a civilized country like Canada, differ greatly from those in Britain and I shall never get accustomed to the sight of dogs kept chained up in back yards, often on very short stretches of chain. Most towns have made it a by-law that all dogs must be confined all the summer months, and this is not hard to understand in a country where rabies is a common occurrence. Unfortunately, the same by-law does not insist, or even advise, that dogs should be kept on a running chain, or in an enclosure, or even have shade and shelter in all weathers, and be exercised daily. Consequently the Humane Society Inspectors must have a full time job following up complaints on this subject alone.

From my own observations, the lot of the Toy and small breeds seems to be the happier one here as pets than that of the medium and large sizes. They are too small to be chained, and in any case usually belong to owners who coddle and cherish them. Very few of these little ones are cast out to fend for themselves, but the other breeds are subjected to the same hard hearted abandonment which exists in Britain.

A short while ago, in near zero weather, my ten year old younger son and I observed a mongrel Collie bitch and her two puppies tear ravenously at garbage left out for collection by a neighbor. When we approached, the bitch raced off, followed by one of the pups, the other having bolted in the opposite direction when we appeared. After considerable coaxing we caught it and brought it indoors. It was no more than three months old, with icicles frozen solid into its skin and with paws cut and bleeding. The mother, thin and pitifully nervous of humans, came back the following afternoon to the exact spot where she had parted company from her puppy, and though she would not allow me near her, I was able to get near enough to grab puppy No. 2. Our local paper gave excellent coverage of the events, and no less than 86 telephone calls were received from people offering a good home — consequently, not only was the twosome fixed up, but also quite a number of strays from our Humane Society branch. We are convinced that the Collie and her pups were dumped from a car, a very usual form of relieving responsibility, I'm afraid.

The common enemy, the vivisectionist poacher, appears to be lucratively employed in this country too as the many advertisements in city newspapers for lost pets prove. The chaining-up by-law only exists for several months of the year in most townships, and the many loose dogs roaming around must keep this fellow in clover. This is where the medium and large breeds suffer most — too big for most fitted carpetted homes, and chained up outside all summer, many owners find it easier just to look the other way and turn their dogs loose when the colder weather comes. In the city, the dog catchers and Humane Society inspectors have a round the clock vigil and despite the hundreds of dogs and cats gathered in, still more and more appear to take their places.

The 'Pets for Sale' column in the Toronto newspapers is full of advertisements offering pet stock for sale from almost every known breed, and most unknown ones too. Ontario, at any rate, is certainly sufficiently populated in the pet market, with the usual surplus stock made available by its own breeders, without vast supplies of pet puppies being shipped in bulk from Britain. I do not know if Canada is yet included among the countries buying in great quantities, but already America, through its magazine Dog World, is expressing great alarm at the market in the States. It would be most unfortunate should the same situation ever arise in Canada. □

Cocker Notes

Liz Willis
Box 252, R.R. 1, Orleans, Ont.

The Ottawa KC February Sanction Match saw a good American Cocker entry with our red girl, Dankrist Cameo of Morganne taking home the Breed honors and a Group 3rd. Our b/t girl, Morganne's Mandalai brought home the Puppy in Breed award. This was the show for the debut of a number of Spring hopefuls, including the Mountneys' three-month-old "Clarence", a cute black fellow who walked into the ring as though he owned it. Dottie Willis had out her new silver girl Sarbonnah Happy Are We, while our Champell's One Too Many made his debut somewhat dubiously . . . Jean Palmer had another very nice Sanction win with her buff gal "Duchess", who brought home a Group 1st from her first show . . . From out west news of several Sanction wins by Morganne's Knight on The Prowl, who collected two group 3rds, a Best Puppy in Group and a Best Male Pup in sweepstakes from his last two shows. This little black fellow is owned by Dixie Ritchey and is a litter brother to our Mandalai.

On a tragic note, Pam Mack of Mackson Kennels, Dorval, Que., recently lost two of her old Cocker studs, Am. Ch. Juniper's Jamtime and Baliwick Bagpiper. Piper was the sire of Dottie Willis' lovely r/w male Nirvana Farm's Duan Juan . . .

In English Cocker news, BB at the Ottawa KC February Match went to Pam Sim's lovely young orange roan male. A new addition to the area English's with the arrival of Sylvia Crawley's English import Peasemore's Peter Pan, better known as Toby.

At the recent Crufts show Toby was highly recommended and has received several First in Exhibition in England in very large classes.

That about covers the news for this month, but would like to receive information on recent Canadian Cocker wins in the United States and imports and exports etc., as my grapevine seems to have suffered and the mail box is positively naked these days.

Sounding out on Hounds

Ed. Dixon
100 Moberley Ave., Toronto 12, Ont.

Each month I propose to feature a particular Hound breed as well as relate interesting items on other Hound breeds. This month I will feature Afghan Hounds and the grooming thereof, appearing later in this column under the breed name.

Well the 1970 show season started off with a blaze of glory for one of the members of the Hound Group. At the very first Championship Show of the year held by the Alberta KC in Calgary, a Whippet, Ch. Rockabye Folly, owned by Mrs. Pamela Arthur of Langley, B.C. and shown by Mrs. Anson was awarded BIS. Congratulations, and let's hope that this is only the first of many Hound BIS's to come this year!

Alberta Hound Club

Held in conjunction with the Alberta Kennel Club shows was the second Alberta Hound Club Specialty Show. A total of 86 hounds were entered for judge Mrs. Jean Fletcher, South Burnaby, B.C. to assess. Results will appear in official CKC show reports in later issue.

QUALITY INTEGRITY

We happily announce our return to the show ring after nearly two years absence.

We are PROUD to say we finished our lovely "Lisa" in five shows with a 4 pt. B.O.W.'s and two 5 pt. B.O.B.'s over the top winning Canadian bred and/or owned male and female among other worthy competitors.

"Lisa" is the first Canadian bred and owned offspring of the fabulous "Ch. Big Kim of Bella-Dane" to complete the title.

We can now offer at stud . . .

"Lisa's" litter mate . . . "Marksman of Dane-Acre's" . . . to STRICTLY approved bitches . . . 35" tall, deep clear red fawn (no white — no smutting). "MARK" offers much to be desired with his overall style, deep black mask, dark eyes, excellent bite, lovely long clean neck topped by a truly well balanced masculine headpiece, short backed and sound. "MARK" moves with grace and power.

In keeping with our past policy, "Mark" will be put to only those bitches with which we honestly feel he will best produce. "Mark" is the first Canadian bred and owned son of "Big Kim" (top winning male in the history of our breed) to be offered at stud.

If YOU would like to make your mark in Danedom, consider our "Mark"

"THE MARK OF QUALITY"

Now available:

Lovely litter of black masked golden fawns, sired by "Mark" out of our typy sound-moving golden fawn girl, "Dane-Acre's Carrie".

Congratulations are certainly in order to the members of the Alberta Hound Club for putting on another successful Hound Specialty!

While on the subject of Hound Specialties, what has happened to the Manitoba Hound Club? I know several people here in the east are very disappointed as many had hopes of again taking in this show in conjunction with the Mid Canada Show at Winnipeg in May. How about a great big revival for a 1971 show? Please don't make your club a dead issue!

Rhodesian Ridgebacks and Salukis

Hounds were out in full force again this year at the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show. However, disappointingly absent were the Booster Shows that were put on in previous years by the Rhodesian Ridgeback and Saluki clubs. The colorful display presented in the past by the Saluki Club will be greatly missed. We need more of that vibrant spirit at some of our dog shows!

While on the subject of Salukis, congratulations are in order to Mr. and Mrs. R. Webster, Aldergrove, B.C. for the success attained by their Ch. (Can. & Am.) Mackson's Mirzanna of Urray, who finished his U.S. title in 1969 and won three Group 1sts, three Group 2nds, two Group 3rds and one Group 4th, giving him more Group placings than any other Saluki shown in the U.S.A. during 1969.

For the following article I would like to thank Mr. Bill Milne, well known in Afghan circles.

GROOMING AN AFGHAN

Just as Moses stood before the burning bush outside Midian, trembling and with the fear of God in his heart, so stand I before owners of Afghan Hounds, supposedly with the ideal method of preparing and grooming their dogs for the show ring. Most of us have our own special methods and techniques and several of these may have the same end result. This being so, all I can hope to do is to pass on what I have learned from several others and some of the things I have picked up on my own which have helped to form my method.

First there are two things to remember and they should be foremost in your mind at all times. They are: be gentle with the hair, and keep the hair clean. The only tools I use are a stainless steel pin brush with rubber base and a wide-toothed stainless steel comb. I never groom with the comb. It is used only as a "finisher" to smooth the hair for that overall perfect look. For an animal to carry such an excessive coat as is required by today's showdogs, it is absolutely essential to "feed" the hair. Since hair is chiefly made up of protein, it is necessary to add protein to it. A protein shampoo and a protein creme rinse is the best (there are at least three good brands on the market) plus a pre-bath conditioning oil and an oil additive as a food supplement.

A show dog is bathed every week without fail, with very little or if possible no grooming whatsoever between baths. Certain coats are the exception and need brushing through every two or three days. For dogs that get sticky underneath, dust with cornstarch and gently brush out, or spray with the pre-bath oil daily and do not brush out between baths. Both methods work equally well. Because of the frequency of the bathing, the oils should not be left out. About 1½ teaspoons of oil in the food daily works best.

To prepare the Afghan for his bath we begin 24 hours before. (This does not mean the whole procedure takes 24 hours, it just seems that way. Three to four hours on a full show coat should be ample.) Put the dog on the table and lightly spray the coat with the pre-bath oil, brushing gently as you go, to work the oil into the coat. Do not go at this too tediously as it is only a light touch up. The hair is not clean and too much brushing will only result in the loss of unnecessary hair.

We are now ready for the bath. Be sure to wet the dog well and follow the fall of the coat. Never rub or go against the natural direction in which the hair grows. Next work in the shampoo, again with the grain, using as much shampoo as necessary. Again never massage the soap into the hair but rather work it gently down through. Rinse all traces of soap from the dog's coat and then rinse him again for good measure. Squeeze out the excess wetness and then liberally apply the creme rinse. The big question with a creme rinse is "whether you rinse or whether you don't" after applying. Many and varied are the opinions. I find that it depends on the texture of the coat on each particular dog. Generally only the very silky textures fare better with a good rinse with clear water. Every other texture seems to do better with just the slightest spray of clear water. Next squeeze out the excess water and then towel dry, again going with the fall. Now you are ready to groom and dry your Afghan! (Well perhaps you aren't ready but the dog is.)

Up on the table and turn on the dryer. Even if you who do not have a dryer, you must have a vacuum cleaner. Simply put your attachment on the opposite end and presto, one Afghan Hound hair dryer! I usually start at the shoulder and work along the side to the hind leg, the front leg from the bottom up and then the hind leg from the bottom up, leaving the head to the last. If your dog tends to have one part of his coat that is wavy, always dry that part first. Also sometimes it is necessary to do the ears first as they tend to go stringy faster than any other part of the coat, however if I can get away with it I usually leave them till the last as they seem to be the hardest, other than the feet, to get dry. Only through proper drying, moulding and manipulating of the coat can you attain the smooth satin-like finish for the ring. This of course is only obtained through the brushing along with the drying. Be sure not to jump from one part to another; never leave one particular spot until it is completely dry and always work in a pattern. If the dog is not completely dry when you are finished, you may as well not have bothered blowing him dry at all, as the aim will have been lost in the doing. Use only the brush for the drying and it is wisest to groom as you go. If you have kept the dog in shape and he was bathed the previous week, this shouldn't prove to be too much of a problem. Be very gentle with the brush and treat each hair with care. When you come to a mat work it apart with your fingers, then work at it with the brush until there is not even a slight tangle left. Think of the legs and ears as having four sides and brush the inside as thoroughly as the side you can readily see. After you have finished, lie the dog on the floor, and do between the legs, lifting the opposite one for easier access. Then stand him up and with a light touch of the brush you have the finished product. (Now crawl wearily to the couch and have a well deserved rest.)

Ch. (Can. & Am.) Satan of Knocknagree, Standard Long-haired Dachshund who was owned by O. R. Langford of Knocknagree and sold in late November to Miss Moore of Providence, R.I., has since had some nice wins on the Florida Circuit under the handling of Ted Young.

Candice Voegeli, handling her Miniature Long-haired Dachsund, Ch. Wunderbar's Tidbit Bobby K, won the Grand Champion Award at the College Royal, University of Guelph Dog Show March 6, 1970. The judge was Mrs. Malcolm Fellows. Candice, now 19, began handling at the age of 15 in Calgary, Alta. She has shown four Miniature Dachshunds to their Championship, three with Group placings. Under her kennel name, Longfellow, she has also bred two Champions. Now in attendance at Macdonald College, she is still active in the show ring between semesters.

I shall be glad to receive whatever news you can supply me regarding Hounds and Hound breed clubs, etc. I can only write about things I know, so don't leave your Hound news in your heads — put it down on paper and send it to me.

Thirty-eight Bullmastiffs were entered (25 class dogs) at the American Bullmastiff Specialty held March 8. Handled by owner-breeder Bob Dorsey, Bullhaven Kennels, Milton, Ont., Can. Ch. Collie and Sheltie Notes

Mrs. Ariel Sleeth
R.R. 6, Kingston, Ont.

Before we get into the "discussion matter" this month, I would like to thank you readers for the many letters from coast to coast. I do wish I could acknowledge each and every one but for the present it is not possible. So may I thank you all here for your kind comments.

One letter received this past month from a breeder having trouble with a puppy's "floppy ears" wrote she felt I had written the article especially for her. Well, I am very glad it helped.

So keep those cards and letters coming but don't forget to send news from your kennel. All news is welcome and will be included in the column with the exception of show wins or litter news which should appear in an advertisement.

In dealing with ear problems in the adult dog, we are not referring to the prick-eared dog or the low-eared dog, but to the dog with temporary problems in either direction.

Conditions that will cause correct ears to fly are many. First to be checked out is parasites (internal and external) and general health. As mentioned with puppies, health and condition are often the cause of prick ears. Climate and whether the dog lives outdoors may influence the ear carriage.

To be considered also is whether the dog is shedding, as loss of hair on the ear can lighten it enough to cause it to fly temporarily requiring weight or if you prefer, glycerine or cuticura ointment, as the dog will not be ready to show until back in coat.

Many bitches will fly their ears when in season or with puppies. At these times it is best not to ignore the problem but to weight the ear immediately either by using antiphlogistine or to massage with glycerine.

Males who have problem ears at show time or who carry their ears higher than usual when at a show, are generally excitable and tense and inclined to hold the muscles at the base of the ears tighter, which gives them a higher ear carriage. For this type of ear it is best not to use anything that will leave a residue but to weight the ear, the night before the show, with antiphlogistine which can be thoroughly removed before showing. Some breeders find taping the ears down at the show helpful, but I have found that the active, excitable dog who usually has this problem, will not tolerate the tape on his ears for any length of time.

In trimming the adult ear for show, my personal preference is for a neatly trimmed, natural looking ear. I do not care for the overtrimmed "terrier" ears on a Collie or Sheltie.

Before trimming, comb the hair in the ear area thoroughly. On the well set ear requiring no "created illusion" begin with the tiny flap on the inner edge, which is normally folded back against the ear leather. Using the thinning shears cut the fur on this flap close to the skin.

Next with sharp scissors, remove the inside hair from midway down to the base, being careful not to remove the tuft of hair growing from the skull. That we will leave for the final cut.

Pull the ear to the side and with thinning shears outline the inner edge down to the skull. Do the same on the outer edge but taper the hair from just below the break down to the base.

Trim the back of the ear by curving the ear over your fingers, rounding the area of the ear you will work on. Cut this hair with the thinning shears, at an angle, tapering so it will be longest where it meets the ruff.

The final step is finishing off the hair immediately in front of the ears with the thinning shears, on an angle parallel with the set of the ears on the skull.

Should you have low ears, each step of the trim should be from tip to base.

* * * Newsy Notes * * *

As there is no individual news this month, I would like to commend two breed clubs who deserve a resounding pat on the back for the service they are doing on behalf of Collies and/or Shetland Sheepdogs.

The Dominion Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Assoc. (Montreal & District Branch)

Beginning the new year in a forward fashion with a theme "Participation" for 1970, this most progressive club with a membership of 66, has left no stone unturned to provide a sound educational program for their members.

Since their conception, no expense has been spared in bringing to Canada the top Collie and Sheltie judges to officiate at their annual Specialty Show. This year, on April 25, Mr. Don Combee of Marietta, Ga., will officiate.

The Shetland Sheepdog Club of British Columbia

This club too has sought outstanding judges for their annual Specialty Show to be held this year, April 19, Mrs. S. R. Hendrickson, Hampshire, Ill., judging.

Perhaps among their g r e a t e r achievements is a very worthy Bulletin "Sheltie Tails" which is mailed free of charge to Sheltie fanciers throughout Canada and boasts a current circulation of 184.

TERRIER GROUP

Let's Talk about Terriers

Well, there are a few of you out there after all! I was beginning to fear that I was writing for my own amusement. Thanks so much to all of you who took the time to write, even if you didn't have any news, and to those who did have news, "Bless you"! On now to a rather plump ye olde newsbagge.

First to Aussies and a letter from Mrs. Maureen Bottinga, Montreal. "Although we only have a small kennel of Aussies we thought it would be fun to try our luck at the New York Specialty. We really enjoyed the show and as there were 50 Australians entered, I thought we did quite well. My home-bred puppy Whipton Star Boy, just seven months old and at his first show went 2nd in the Sweepstakes and 2nd in the Puppy Breed class, while my Tammikins Dudley Do Right was 2nd in a strong Open Class. What a pity we don't get competition like that in Canada. It's so much more fun." Congratulations, Mrs. Bottinga. I love to see Canadian Terriers hold their own with their American counterparts.

I'm sure the Bull Terrier people must be pretty pleased with themselves as at the Sportsmen's Show they had an entry of 14.

On now to Dandies and a note from "Mike" Macbeth saying, "The Dandie Dinmont Club of Canada will hold its Booster show in conjunction with the Terrier Breeders' show in June. It has been decided by the executive to award the club's perpetual trophy, the Bellmead Spellbinder Memorial Trophy, to Best of Breed at this show. This handsome 21" silver trophy was first won last year by Ch. Horizon's Autumn Haze. Maybe your Dandie will add his or her name to it in 1970?"

Mike adds a personal note and quite an exciting one, "Barb, we at Glahms Kennels are thrilled to announce that the '68 Cruft's BB Winner, Am. Ch. Salismore Mintlaw is now a member of our kennel. We are very grateful to Joan Rusznyak-Miller, who campaigned him to his American title and many wins via Peter Green, for allowing us the opportunity of purchasing him. We believe this magnificent mustard dog will be an important influence upon the future of Dandies in Canada."

Next to Kerries and a letter from Irene Smith, Bluestone, Reg'd. "At the German Shepherd Club of Manitoba Match, Bluestone's Pride of Armagh, seven months old, took 1st in the Group for his proud owners, Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas."

You must be pretty proud yourself, Irene, this must be at least the third or fourth 1st in Group for a puppy of Bluestone breeding this year. Congratulations.

Her letter goes on to say, "Mr. and Mrs. John MacDonald of Winnipeg are making a slow recovery after being involved in a head-on collision in January. Both had their jaws broken in the accident which completely demolished their new wagon." Let's hope by the time this reaches the MacDonalds that they've made a complete recovery and thank heavens it was just the car that was wrecked beyond repair!

Now to a letter from Jo Head, Headwyn Reg'd. Winnipeg. "Just thought I'd let you know that my new little Schnauzer import from Blythewood Kennels in Pennsylvania has come through her first litter with flying colors — six puppies (three boys, three girls) in one hour and 45 minutes with mother and puppies just fine. After "Taunus" finishes with her maternal duties she'll be heading for the show ring." Golly, Jo, if she's half as efficient in the ring as she was becoming a mother, she should be finished in no time flat — that must be some kind of a record as far as delivery time is concerned?

To Scotties next and a lovely letter from Mavis Ritchie, Devil's Own Reg'd., Calgary. Mavis was terribly concerned about my lack of news last month and has taken much time and effort to set down some thoughts from the Scottish Terrier book by Fayette Ewing from the chapter on Breeding Winners.

"With courage, patience and persistence, a breeder will stand the hard knocks and disappointments and will triumph in the end. Let him retain the best bitch or bitches produced from the mating chosen, continuing thus and in a few generations he will have acquired a worthy harem from which he may expect champions. It is commonly admitted that the 'strength of the kennel is in the bitches' and this is not only because the dams transmit as much of parental qualities as do the sires, but because great and suitable sires are available to all breeders, whereas all great bitches are exclusive, belonging to one kennel. A breeder may buy the services of almost any dog, but unless he has profitable bitches, regardless of the amount of the stud fee, he pays dear for the whistle.

"Whatever his financial resources, let him remember that inferior stock will not pay. The amateur may think that by mating a scrub to an internationally famous sire he will produce cracks, but the sire cannot do it all and only disappointment can result. The man with little money must be content to buy the best he can afford and remember that 'Rome was not built in a day'. Unless the young breeder is satisfied to follow this line of steadily breeding up and up he will find himself through the years floundering in a sea of disappointment and getting nowhere."

Thanks so much, Mavis, and how true. I can well remember many years ago when we were just starting out in Welsh that John Treleaven, who was certainly one of Canada's greatest Terrier men, offered us much the same advice.

On now to Westies and some show news from Thelma and Tom Adams. At Mansfield, Ohio their Thornemore Danelea Dawn took WB; at Detroit Progressive she took BW and BOS and she finished her American title at Saginau Valley taking BB from the classes. What a lovely way to do it!

Still more Westie show news. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins' Can. Ch. Dancing Hannah of the Rouge finished her American title at Troy, N.Y. with WB and her Can. Ch. Windemere Gay Gordon took BW at Albany, while at the Westie Specialty her Laurie's Piper of the Rouge took RWD. Even more good news for Dorothea as I hear from the new owner of Denisette Mandan of the Rouge, Lorne Gignac, that his puppy placed 4th in the Group at the Ottawa Sanction Match, an identical win that her mother, Can. Ch. Dancer's Eminence of the Rouge made last year. Congratulations all round!

On now to the Calgary Terrier Specialty, which I hear was a smashing success. Would you believe 107 entries with 17 breeds represented? I tell you, these Westerners really do things in a big way. Their trophies were worth more than $500. Unfortunately I don't have the Group winners, outside of Group 1st which went to the Cairn, Ch. Redstart of High Hedges. This I learned from the McFarlanes, who are more than a little pleased that the sire of this dog was their Ch. (Can. & Am.) Cannycairn's Fergus.

One class I found quite fascinating was called Parent and Offspring in which the sire or dam with any number of offspring were listed as a single entry and judged both for quality and typiness, that is, for how strongly the parent stamped its likeness upon its offspring. They had two Airedale entries, one Bedlington (this entry by Mrs. Margot Macdonald and Mrs. Ilsa Cleland comprised the sire, his son, and his two granddaughters by the son), one Smooth Fox, one Irish, one Kerry, one Lhasa and two Westies. The class was taken by Mrs. J. M. Lay of Winnipeg with her Ch. Watteau Kingfisher (Smooth Fox) and his three offspring.

I surely would have liked to have seen that class — it should be a part of every Specialty show. Maybe this will give some of the other Terrier Clubs some ideas in this direction. Thanks to Dr. Helen Molitor for all the news.

All of you Terrier Obedience enthusiasts mark June 7 down on your calendar. Milo and Margaret Pearsall are holding a clinic for the North York Club (see the ad in another part of "Dogs" for further information). If you've ever exhibited under these two or attended any of their clinics you'll know why this is a must for all Obedience types.

Would you believe 149 Terriers at the Terrier Breeders' Booster at the Sportsmen's Show? Keep that news coming and we'll see you next month.

CAN. & AM. CH. SNOWBELL'S D'ARCY

"D'ARCY" is pictured winning the Toy Group at Portland, Oregon, November 2, 1969 (147 Toys entered). Mrs. Albert E. Van Court was judging. "D'arcy" was shown only four times during 1969 in the U.S., but took B.O.B. each time shown, as well as one First in Group, one Third in Group and one Fourth in Group. His first in Group made him the only Canadian Bred and owned Maltese to take a Group in the U.S.A. during 1969, and owner-handled.

"D'ARCY" pictured left going B.O.B. under Mrs. M. Heald at Renton, Washington, August 17, 1969. Also placed 4th in Group this show. Mrs. Kay Finch gave "D'arcy" the B.O.B. at Monroe, Wash., November 16, 1969 and was placed 3rd in Group by Mr. Robt. Waters at this show.

DOGS & PEOPLE

"In a time of trouble, there's just no people like dog people," Mrs. Grace McKenzie tells Dogs in Canada. Remarkably recovered after a long session in hospital following the loss through fire of Dewsa Kennels at Locust Hill, Ont., she received encouragement through help and offers of assistance and plasma from kennels throughout North America and as far away as Europe and Australia. Her brother-in-law, Roy Dewsa, is now sufficiently recovered to join her in plans for a new home and kennels. They express to all their heartfelt gratitude.

The balancing act:

or, how to make sure that your dogs are being properly nourished.

EVERYONE TALKS about a balanced food. But few people know exactly what it is. So here is a clear-cut definition:

A balanced food is one which contains essential nutrients in the amounts that are necessary for proper growth and development.

That's the kind of food Gaines make.

A one-cup serving of any Gaines' food contains vitamin A, iron and calcium. (More calcium, for example, than you'll find in a pint of milk.)

That same serving also contains 10 other nutrients prescribed by the National Academy of Science. And all nutrients are in the amounts necessary for proper growth and development.

As we said, Gaines make very well-balanced food. In fact, we make four of them.

But we don't stop at perfecting a nutritional balance. Our four foods also incorporate:

1. A pairing of both caloric and nutritional needs so that the food is broken down and used properly.
2. The right number of calories as recommended by the National Academy of Science.
3. Appetite appeal so that your dogs will enjoy eating what is best for them.

Gaines four foods are: Gaines Meal (a dry kibble), Rally (a dry kibble in larger chunks), Gravy Train (a kibble that forms its own gravy when moistened) and Gaines·burgers (a semi-moist burger-shaped food.)

Each is economical. Each is convenient. And most important, each produces healthy, robust dogs you can be proud of.

If you aren't absolutely sure that your dogs are getting the nourishment they need, give any Gaines food a 35-day trial and see what a difference a well-balanced dog food can make.

Do you own a kennel of three or more dogs? If so, you are eligible to join the Gaines Professional Service Plan. It lets you buy Gaines' foods at reduced prices. You will also be entitled to many other benefits.
