Big food for small puppies

Growing puppies need almost 3 times more energy per pound than fully mature dogs. That's why Purina created Puppy Chow, a new special formula food that meets a normal puppy's high nutritional need. Vital statistics: 27% protein, 9% fat, delivering approximately 2,200 calories per pound, plus all the required vitamins and minerals.

Puppy Chow is made in the shape of tiny milk bottles with holes in their centres for maximum absorption of the milky sauce which is made when water is added. These puppy-size pieces make for easy eating and digesting. Puppies love the exceptional flavour and texture. Tested and proved to be a favourite at the Purina Dog Centre where puppies of many breeds showed sound weight gain and growth from weaning through their first year.

CANADIAN CHAMPION LENAIR'S LONGJOHN

Lenair began raising Standard Smooth Dachshunds 25 years ago. Scores of Champions have been bred in our kennel. John (Can. Ch. Lenair's Longjohn) was one of a litter of nine. He is a delight to show.

John is shown on the cover winning the Group under Judge Dr. Rex B. Foster. He is handled by Mrs. O. R. (Helen) Langford. Two weeks after this Group win, John took Best in Show all-breeds under Judge Maxwell Riddle.

His show career includes two Best Canadian Bred Bests in Show, four Group 1st, three Group 2nd and two Group 3rd.

John's litter sister, Ch. Lenair's Harmonia, had a litter of six at home. Lenair also has ten yearlings that are now starting their show careers.

We have Standard and Miniature Wires and Miniature Longhairs at our large modern country kennels.

John is semi-retired at three years of age, but we will campaign him in the States in 1970. He is at stud at Lenair.

We have recently added Miniature Smooth Dachshunds at our kennel, one from Florida and one from Hubertus Kennels in Pennsylvania.

CREDIT WHERE IT'S DUE

. . . To lose is easy, as we all know. To complain following the loss seems to have become part and parcel of the phenomenon. Goodness only knows we hear enough of it in this day and age. The "Protest Syndrome" is thought to belong to the young people of our society but I, for one, hesitate to even suggest such a thing. If you happen to be a good listener, or even look like you might be, I am sure you have heard it . . . many times.

Be that as it may, there are still a few of us who, loosely classed as losers, or non-winners if you will, can and will give credit where credit is due.

The point in fact being the latest Forest City Kennel Club show held in London, Ont., during the month of May. Barring the odd hang-ups, which seem to find their way into any well organized event such as this, and a couple of small rings, the show as a whole was most enjoyable. We are looking forward to a repeat performance later this summer.

Credit must also go to Mr. John McNicol of Gormley, Ont., who had the task of judging some 107 Sporting Dogs. This group was second only to the Working Dogs in total entry. English Setters, which go to make up part of Group I, were well represented and amongst them was our own entry.

Standing at ringside, before our class was called, we had a chance to watch what I would consider to be one of the most comprehensive and business-like exhibitions of judging it has ever been our privilege to observe. We may not have won our class, but so what! Having our faith restored by this gentleman is well worth any winner's ribbon. The pleasure was all ours.

MONTREAL VIA PARIS

. . . I shipped a Labrador bitch from Toronto to Montreal last week after getting her bred. It took her over 24 hours to reach Montreal — she went Toronto-Montreal-Paris (France)-Frankfurt (Germany) and back to Montreal. They forgot to unload her at Montreal!

Needless to say the owners were most upset with Air Canada and the only consolation is that the bitch was exercised in Paris! As this dog was a poor traveller we are keeping our fingers crossed that the upset doesn't prevent her from carrying and whelping a litter.

The week previously a bitch was shipped to me on a direct flight from Albany to Toronto, via Rochester. She was due in on the flight arriving Toronto International Airport at 3.20 p.m. I went to pick her up at 4.15 p.m. No dog! After many inquiries it was discovered she had gone to Buffalo and would not get back to Toronto until 6.30 p.m. I drove out to the Airport again after 7 p.m. to get her and finally found her.

As we live 35 miles from Malton I drove a total of 140 miles there and back — twice!

WHAT ABOUT BEAGLES?

. . . I don't wish this letter to seem like a complaint but I find your magazine lacks in one department which is of much interest to me and that is the field trial beagling. There must be somebody who could be approached to write a column such as those for other breeds. The article about obedience training is the type of article I have in mind. As a judge, breeder and most of all a lover of the field Beagles, I feel this would add considerably to your magazine. There is very little Beagle news and almost none concerning field trials.

GARRY McLAUGHLIN

Pierrefonds, Que.

(A few years ago Mr. Tiede contributed a column on Beagles for our 'In the Field' department which appeared in the March, July and November issues, alternating with Retrievers and Pointing Breeds. We would be happy to revive this arrangement and perhaps Mr. McLaughlin could get it started with our November issue? — Ed.)

JOLLY RODGER'S SON WINNING IN ENGLAND

. . . The sensational Boxer puppy, Gremlin Jolly Swagman, continues his top winning at England's largest championship shows. A son of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Gaymitz Jolly Rodger, out of his first English litter, his latest wins are, x, 1st Puppy and Res. C.C. to the winner, Ch. Seefield Picasso who later won BIS all breeds. Swagman is the top winning Boxer puppy in England. His litter sister, Gremlin Jolly Stroller, also a big winner, was 2nd Puppy at this Bath show, which had a total entry of 9,000. His wins have been at shows with larger Boxer entries than total entries at Canadian shows and with famous international judges, including Stanley Dangerfield, who have forecast championship honors for him.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ENGLISH COCKER

. . . With reference to Mr. Douglas E. W. Lennox's letter in the May issue, while I sympathize with him over his disappointment at this his first venture in the show ring, I do feel that the last paragraph of his letter calls for clarification as to what an English Cocker is, its advantages and its limitations.

It may not be widely known that the appellation "cocker" is derived from that game bird, the woodcock (or " 'cock" for short). Not a great deal larger than a quail, woodcock in England lie up in dense patches of trees and bush or copses. If a Pointer or Setter were sent in, it would point possibly for several minutes unseen and the woodcock would eventually rise unexpectedly for the guns on the outside. So sportsmen developed a little dog with a keen nose which would worm his way into the cover, flush the game and give warning by a short, sharp bark which is the characteristic of a good Cocker.

In the course of time, certain standards were laid down for these 'cock spaniels or Cockers: they should not be more than about 16" at the shoulders or weigh more than about 30 lbs.; their body cobby with the length from shoulder to base of tail roughly the same as the height to shoulder; their eyes should never be prominent; their coat not too long; their skin loose; the tail docked. All in fact so that they should be well equipped to flush woodcock in heavy cover.

Cockers were never meant to hunt large birds such as pheasants, or to retrieve duck over water or to range widely in open ground. Other dogs were bred for these duties — Setters, Labradors, Pointers.

It is up to us breeders to produce English Cockers that are as near to the ideal type as possible — neither undersize Springers nor oversize King Charles. Nor some of those exhibited with far too long coats almost approaching their dandified cousins, the American Cockers.

As regards our own Cockers, we show them with good success and also train them in obedience. I hunt with them for pheasant, chukar and grouse (but do not mind if they are unable to retrieve a winged 5 lb. cock pheasant with the same aplomb as a Golden Retriever). At all times they are the most delightful of companions. And five or six settle in the back of our car without trouble. There can hardly be a more attractive breed, let us keep it as it is.

FAMILIARITY BREEDS CONTEMPT

. . . This may sound repetitious — but, have your readers been warned about the dangers, now that summer is here, of leaving your dog in a closed car on a hot day? While shopping, getting your hair done, or at a field trial for instance. You say, "Don't be silly, I am an old hand at looking after my dog, I make sure they have lots of air coming in the windows; besides, this is my third dog and nothing has ever happened to my dogs from being left in my station wagon".

This is exactly the feeling of three "experienced" dog handlers who lost four dogs from heat and suffocation in a "Travel-All" wagon in Edmonton while attending a Field Trial. The wagon was left on a parking lot at a lake not far from the Trial site, while the three went fishing in the morning. Normally, the electrically operated rear window is left half open when the dogs are in their kennels but for some unknown reason it got closed. All windows were closed. The veterinarian guessed the dogs were dead within an hour. One Lab — C.D.X.; two Chesapeakes — C.D.; one Lab — Novice Course completed.

TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS

BY JAKE GIACOMELLI

Think this month we'll cover some of the boners I see exhibitors pulling all over the place in both countries. Handler errors that cause them to lose points in every exercise.

The shocked and hurt looks from these handlers upon receipt of their scores is something to behold — they simply cannot believe they only made a score ranging between 190 and 194 when normally they rarely receive a score as low as a 196. Unfortunately, some exhibitors become a little spoiled, so when occasionally they come under a Judge who may be perhaps a little more observant and more aware of infractions that should be penalized they are a little upset at the resultant scores! Believe me, any score you earn in the 190's or over is a good score! If you suddenly receive a score in the low 190's instead of your usual high 190's don't crab — try to analyze why you've lost your points. Study the standard for your particular class — it may reveal where you may have lost your points.

I'll list some of the most common ones and perhaps you'll recognize some of your own mistakes:—

(1) The Judge says "Forward", the exhibitor says "Christopher, Heel". This seems O.K., but let's look at what actually takes place. As the handler starts to say "Chris - -" he takes off like he was jet propelled, so that by the time "- - topher, Heel" is out of his mouth and the dog gets the message, the handler is already two paces ahead of his dog, automatically forcing himself into a lagging situation and the Judge has no alternative but to penalize you for it.

Try this next time — "Christopher, Heel" in a nice, clear voice and after the statement is out step out in a normal brisk walking manner, and you will usually find your dog is with you. Give him a chance to understand what your command is, and then give him a moment longer to react with you as you step off. This is one handler error I see repeated over and over again — so let's start doing something about it from now on.

(2) Here's a good one brought to my attention by my judging friends in Victoria, B.C., the "Hudsons". It is a handler error that is one of the more prevalent.

The handlers who, constantly, from the moment they say "Fido, Heel" never take their eyes off their dogs. They walk with their heads bent and cocked in a most unnatural manner with their eyes fixed on their dogs the whole time; especially when the Judge gives the command "Halt" — I swear to you it reminds me of the T.V. program "StarTrek" when the handler's eyes and stern countenance beam a visual Sit command that is as loud as any verbal command could ever be!

Perhaps this may explain why your score was lower than you expected — your Judge has been hitting you for what he considers are extra signals to your dog to do certain things, and in the States both as extra signals and an unnatural manner of walking. If you walked this way in the outside world a handler could get himself killed!

In fact, I sometimes wonder how they know where they're going in an inside ring when they are so intent on watching their dog.

(3) (a) Another of the very common errors is the adapting pace to their dogs such as slowing down on the outside turn of the Figure 8 so the handler doesn't get too far ahead of his dog (to prevent losing points for lagging) so the handler is hit for adapting instead.

(b) adapting pace with the slow dog on the straight-away of the heeling pattern, such as slow walking or flailing of the legs on the fast and not really going anywhere.

(c) the one, two, three and sometimes four, five beat of pace on the about turn before stepping off again; thereby allowing the slow responding dog time to make the turn and catch up with his handler again — this, too, is adaption and is penalized!

Many handlers do this unknowingly, some should know better — practice the about turns — in a short while you'll get to do them smoothly and without hesitation. If your dog is inclined to lag in this situation, proceed once again on lead with a normal about turn, but then take off with a driving run — do a series of this type of turn and he'll soon learn to follow you quickly around the turn; especially if he wants his body to be where his neck is!

I'll continue in this vein for next month! □

Jake Giacomelli, 51 Wardrope St. S., Stoney Creek, Ont. is much in demand as an Obedience judge. His wealth of experience in this phase of dogdom, combined with his sense of humor, ensure a lively series.

Housetraining A Problem? Not So, According To New Booklet From Gaines

Housetraining is painless for dog and owner when approached the right way, says the Gaines Dog Research Center's new 24-page booklet, "How to Succeed in Housetraining Puppies and Dogs."

Stressing the use of prevention rather than punishment, "How to Succeed in Housetraining Puppies and Dogs" has suggestions for all dog owners, whether housetraining a new puppy, an adult dog, or retraining a dog that needs a refresher course in good manners.

Guidelines are offered for a variety of situations: housetraining and care of dogs whose owners are away at work during the day, curbing the city dog, coping with nervous wetters or too-well trained dogs that won't adjust their habits when necessary, and special care for aging dogs.

What about the problem pet? "How to Succeed in Housetraining Puppies and Dogs" gives advice on handling deliberate soiling, stool eating, wetting at night, and other undesirable behavior.

The booklet is illustrated with pen and ink sketches by artist Scott Johnston.

Copies may be obtained free of charge by mailing a request to "How to Succeed in Housetraining Puppies and Dogs," Gaines, 2200 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont.

in putting on as nearly perfect a trial weekend as they can. In 1969 Michigan's only trial-giving obedience clubs both made the top ten in the nation, Sportsmen's in 4th place and Southern Michigan in 10th, and if ideal conditions and top judges have anything to do with it, 1970 will be another successful obedience doubleheader.

In their fifth joint venture, the Sportsmen's trial will be held on Saturday, September 26, in the Dairy Cattle Building at the Michigan State Fairgrounds, and the Southern Michigan trial will be in the Agricultural Building, also at the Fairgrounds, on Sunday. This location is easily accessible from all major highways, on Woodward Avenue just south of 8 Mile Road, in Detroit.

Starting time both days will be 9 a.m., and out of town exhibitors should remember that Michigan is one of the few places in the nation where Eastern Standard Time prevails.

Classes offered are Novice A and B, Open A and B, Utility A and B, Graduate Novice, Brace, Team and Veterans.

C.N.E. Dog Swim

The Lake Ontario Dog Swim, the only annual race of its kind in North America, will be a highlight of Labour Day events at the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

Sponsored by the Toronto Academy of Veterinary Medicine, this canine event brings together dogs of all sizes, colors and breeds in open competition with valuable awards for the winning owners.

All races are over a distance of 300 yards. Boats and oarsmen are supplied gratis by the C.N.E. Owners are required to have two persons with the dog, one to handle the swimmer at the start line, the other to coax the entrant from the boat.

Special classes for children 16 years and under have races for dogs under 25 pounds, 25 to 45 pounds and over 45 pounds. All weights in the Labrador Retriever class race together.

Open classes for adults have the same weight limitations with the addition of an All Weight German Shepherd class. Dogs winning First and Second in all events will compete for the Grand Challenge Championship in both Lightweight and Heavyweight categories.

Entry forms are available now. Write the Sports Department, Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto 2B, or telephone (416) 366-7551. Local 344. A fee of $1.00 per entry is charged, and is donated to the Toronto Humane Society. A limit of 100 entries only will be accepted for this September 7 classic.

The Exercise Pen

by DOUGLAS STEPHEN
Mgr., CKC Shows & Trials Division

Remember the old quotation "Theirs not to reason why . . ."? Well, sometimes administrators tend to be so flooded by paper that they forget that most people want and need to know "why". Sure, it saves time not to explain the thinking behind official decisions and sometimes it's safer too! But here are a couple of explanations for CKC procedures that may help to clear away some of the mystery. At the same time, it may be that airing the principles we work under in the office may turn up a few cumbersome or obsolete ways of doing things. If you think we're on the wrong track, drop a line to say so.

Recently, we've returned draft copies of premium lists to clubs with the notation, "We suggest that a veterinarian be on hand or on call". Some clubs have queried this and I'd like to set the record straight. First, we suggest, no more. No club has to comply but we feel it is very much in the interest of dogdom to have professional help on tap. Recently, an outstanding field dog was lost due to a gun accident. That dog could have been saved by veterinary help if it had been close at hand, and that isn't the first such incident in the history of shows and trials either. What's the answer? Well, if possible, arrange to have a veterinarian at your event. Request him on a strictly professional basis and pay his regular rate. Admittedly, there are many clubs which simply do not have dollars in the kitty to adopt this approach. But perhaps they have friends in the veterinary profession, or at least they could say to Doctor X, "We're having a field trial (or whatever) on June the umpteenth between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Could you arrange to let us know where you can be reached in an emergency and will you take note of our location so that if we have to call on you, you'll be able to respond?" My experience of the veterinary profession is that they are a fine group of people who will bend over backward to accommodate any reasonable request. Isn't it worth some extra organizing to save a dog's life? It could be yours, you know, which is hit by a stray pellet, gets hung on a jagged stub of tree-branch or rusty barbed wire, or goes into shock or heatstroke at a dog show. It is my belief that show giving clubs should consider this a normal part of the sport and allow for it in some way.

There have been a fair number of questioners too, who want to know why we bother to check Premium Lists in the first place. There is a simple answer, and no, it isn't because CKC Head Office wants to do the "Big Boss" act! It is because the Premium List is your club's official form of advertising and is a solicitation of the general public. On that account, errors in the Premium List could become the subject of legal complications and the basis for court action. The CKC is not a legal office but it does, as a service to clubs and the dog show public, try to use its fund of experience to catch any clinkers before they get into print. Some of the "old hands" clubs with Show Secretaries grown grey in office put out a just about flawless Premium List, but even they blow a point now and then. The clubs which are new themselves and rely on enthusiastic but inexperienced officers to organize shows can easily make dozens of tiny mistakes. No one of these need be much to worry about, but almost all of them could generate ugly and costly situations which might kill off a promising new club and even blacken the dog game throughout Canada. □

NOTICE

From time to time our attention is drawn to the practice of some breeders who, when advertising or otherwise offering dogs for sale, indicate in some way that the purchaser of a dog sold as pure-bred will be required to make a higher, or additional, payment in order to be furnished with a certificate of registration. Such persons should note that the price at which a dog is sold, or the purpose for which a dog was purchased, has no bearing whatever on the obligation of the seller to supply the purchaser with a certificate of registration issued by The Canadian Kennel Club for a dog sold as pure-bred.

The Live Stock Pedigree Act, a federal statute, requires that when a person sells a dog as pure-bred, or contracts to sell a dog as pure-bred, he must furnish, or agree to furnish, a certificate of registration, together with fully-recorded transfer of ownership to the buyer.

Article XXXI, Section 3 of the By-laws of The Canadian Kennel Club reads as follows:

> "A member may be suspended or expelled, or a non-member deprived of the privileges of the Club, if it is proven to the satisfaction of the Board that when selling, or otherwise disposing of a dog for a consideration (monetary or otherwise), the person disposing of the dog has asked or required the new owner to make any form of payment specifically for the purpose of being furnished with a certificate or registration."

To avoid possible prosecution under the Live Stock Pedigree Act and/or possible disciplinary action by The Canadian Kennel Club, members and others engaged n the selling of dogs as pure-bred are cautioned to refrain from the practice of quoting two selling prices for the dogs, one "with papers", the other "without papers", or to in any other way indicate that an additional payment is required for a certificate of registration.

This notice is published by an order of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club.

MID CANADA '70

by ALAN JENKINS Photographs by THE MATTERNS

■ Mid Canada '70, Manitoba's Centennial year dog show, was, as had been promised a year in advance by the Show Committee, "bigger and better than ever". The fifth edition of this popular annual event had more of everything: more dogs, more exhibitors, more spectators, more excitement and, very strikingly, more color. Indeed if one were restricted to the use of a single word to describe the event, the most fitting would have to be 'colorful'.

The Mid Canada is the only remaining benched show between Toronto and Vancouver and while it is generally conceded that a benched show is not an entirely unmixed blessing it should also be admitted that it does create an atmosphere of excitement that no unbenched can ever equal.

This year the six rings were not marked off by the usual ropes but by small, brightly painted fences and the whole ring area was framed by large screens made from multicolored draperies. More of these screens were used to provide a large private rest area for the judges and the hard working Show Committee which was comfortably furnished and equipped with sandwiches, coffee and soft drinks. Moments of relaxation do not come often at such a show for either judges or committee members but when they did come this pleasant and restful haven offered instant balm. Each year something new like this is added to ensure that the Mid Canada continues to be one of the nicest shows in the country.

A great deal of the credit for the increasing success of this dog show must go to the Women's Auxiliary. A letter of appreciation is addressed to them in the program from Dr. R. Gordon Mitchell, Chairman of the Mid Canada Dog Association, Len A. Reece, President of the Fort Garry Kennel Club and Laurie A. Diamond, President of the Gateway City Obedience Training Club. It is a tribute which was well and truly earned. For with a zeal to equal that of today's youth embarked upon a 'March for Millions' and with the bulldog tenacity of Girl Guides selling cookies from door to door for some meritorious cause, these dedicated ladies have raised thousands of dollars by way of sanction shows, dances, teas and other happenings and have turned every dollar of it over to Mid Canada for the express purpose of producing improvements for the show. Whether we realize it or not, all exhibitors and spectators are deeply indebted to them.

Traditionally, the show opened with a kilted piper leading a march-in of local dignitaries, show judges, committee members and special guests. A few short speeches were made by representatives of the various levels of government followed by a formal welcome from Dr. Mitchell, Mid Canada's chairman, and the show was declared officially open by Mrs. E. B. Osler, wife of the Federal Government member representing Winnipeg South Centre. The two special guests included in this group were Mrs. Hilda Pugh, President of The Canadian Kennel Club and Mrs. Barbara Eamens, the only remaining active charter member of the 51 year old Fort Garry Kennel Club.

This year's judges were Glenn R. Stephens of Toronto, Ellsworth C. Gamble of Fremont, Calif., Mrs. Marie A. Moore of The Plains, Va., William D. Nixon of Winnipeg, Kurt W. Mueller and his daughter Mrs. Bonnie Gulseth both of Manitowoc, Wisc., Jake Giacomelli of Stoney Creek, Ont., Mrs. Yan Paul of Willowdale, Ont., T. E. Gundersen of Ottawa, Mark Gordon of Winnipeg, Laurence Wach of Victoria, Mrs. Monica Torrance of Headingly, Man., and Harry J. Watson who replaced Harold K. Robinson of Halifax because of a last minute illness.

On May 8, General Specials' Judge Ellsworth C. Gamble awarded BIS to Susann Hearne's Pekingese Ch. Su Lan Sung Zu-Zee of Mingulay; BCB in Show to the German Short Hair Pointer, Ch. Gail'Don's Rebel owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jensen and BCBP in Show to Mr. and Mrs. A. Horton's Standard Smooth Dachshund, Hort-View's Luba.

May 9, Harry Watson awarded BIS to Bonnie Fellows and George Jacobs' Skye Terrier, Ch. Paquebot; BCB in Show again to the German Short Hair Pointer and BCBP in Show to Susan Berst's Doberman Pinscher, Pyrmont Cyrus Von Alarich.

May 10, Glenn R. Stephens made the Mid Canada a real triumph for the German Short Hair Pointer Ch. Gail'Don's Rebel by awarding him BIS and BCB in Show (the BCB award for the third straight day) and gave BCBP in Show to the Norwegian Elkhound Valgtor-Donbert Maegtig Tordne owned by Robert J. O'Connor.

In the Obedience Trials on May 8 highest score was awarded by Judge Jake Giacomelli to the Shetland Sheepdog, Truly Yours of Meridel owned by Kathy Laska. On May 9 the high score winner was the Golden Retriever, Beckwith's Royal Radiance, owned by Rita and Daniel Herald. On May 10, highest score was awarded to the Samoyed, Am. Ch. Snow'Flurri's Turk V Gloritrane UD, owned by LeRoy and Dora Berke. The Samoyed's score was 199 which was the highest score of the three trials.

The Red River Terrier Association Specialty Show, held Saturday, May 9, was judged by Mr. Cliff Tushingham of Toronto. Best Terrier and also Best Canadian Bred went to the Kerry Blue, Ch. Rollicking Peter Patchet, owned by Mrs. Edward B. Alberico. It was a good win in a show which provided strong competition.

MID CANADIANA

A highlight of the judge's reception on Saturday night, May 9, was the presentation to a very special guy, Jack Carlton of Dr. Ballards, of a silver tea service. The presentation was made by Dr. Gordon Mitchell and Mr. Laurie Diamond and the occasion produced very mixed emotions. For years

Dog health seminar . . .

■ A Dog Health Seminar, with emphasis on conditioning, skin problems and eye diseases, was held in Chicago May 21 and judged a rousing success by the 82 mid-western breeders who attended the one-day scientific meeting at O'Hare Inn.

Chaired by John T. Pirie, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Carson Pirie Scott and Co., and sponsored by Morris Animal Foundation of Denver, the Seminar is expected to be the first of many, all designed to bring the latest scientific developments in canine medicine to the dog owner and breeder.

Robert Kirk, D.V.M., professor of small animal medicine at Cornell University, spoke on Skin Problems of Dogs and Fitting a Dog for Show. Summary of his material will be presented in our August issue.

Discussion by Milton Wyman, D.V.M,. chief of ophthalmology section in veterinary medicine at Ohio State University, is summarized in this issue.

COMMON EYE PROBLEMS IN THE DOG

THERE are many varied ocular diseases which cause dog owners concern and their pets discomfort, and it is possible to discuss but a few at this time. In order to present a cross section of eye problems, I have chosen to discuss some of those we see most frequently in our practice, and then allow a question and answer period at the end of my discussion. I would like to start with diseases that affect the lids and drainage of tears.

The normal dog has eyelashes on the upper lid only. They are in 3-4 rows so close together that they appear as one single row. They are directed away from the cornea. In abnormal conditions, several lashes may be misplaced. These hairs are located so that they are directed toward the very sensitive cornea. The initial irritant may not be associated with these hairs but will act as the exciting mechanism of a vicious circle. The irritant causes the animal discomfort and produces blinking. The blinking produces increased pressure by the lids on the cornea leading to further irritation induced by the aberrant eyelashes. This irritation further aggravates the blinking and spasms of the muscles of the eyelid occur thus completing the cycle. The end result is severe corneal irritation which requires veterinary attention. The object of treatment is to interrupt this vicious circle by determining and removing the initial irritant if still present. The defect that is present is treated also.

One method used to eliminate the aberrant hairs is "electrolysis", in which the hairs are destroyed by electrically produced heat. Our preference is to remove surgically the entire row of abnormal hairs.

I would recommend strongly that professional help be sought to treat this problem. The use of home remedies and pet store drugs may be the most devastating mistake that you can make. All medications used for eye diseases should be discarded when therapy has been completed. All medications should also be kept out of reach of children. Many medications that are used routinely are extremely toxic when ingested and we cannot afford to risk our children's well being by careless handling of any drugs.

A condition of great concern to fanciers of the Poodle, Maltese, Shih Tzu, and other small light colored dogs is epiphora or excess tearing. It is a problem primarily in the lighter colored dogs; however, we see it also in dark colored dogs, but it is not as noticeable.

Many things may be responsible for this very distressing problem. Among them are: 1) misplaced eyelashes (discussed above), 2) the tear duct which drains the tears from the eye may be abnormally positioned, 3) a small island of hair which may grow from the corner of the eye next to the nose, may act as a wick and tears will then overflow, 4) there may be an overproduction of tears without apparent irritation, 5) there may be an abnormal position of the inner corner of the eyelids next to the nose referred to as "medial entropion", and 6) there is recent evidence of a potential metabolic defect associated with porphyrin metabolism. When one reviews all the possible causes, it becomes apparent that there is no single treatment that can cure this condition. Some authorities recommend low levels of oxytetracyclines in the food daily, and others recommend surgical removal of the gland in the third eyelid. It is my opinion that thorough evaluation of the entire condition is necessary in order to arrive at a definitive diagnosis and a specific treatment. In summary, there is no therapeutic panacea for abnormal tearing and much more research is necessary to illucidate all the mechanisms predisposing to it, as well as treatments that will prove effective in the majority of cases.

Another problem facing some breeders is cataract formation. It is wise to review with you some of the aspects involved with this disease. The lens is a refractive structure within the eye. In health it is optically clear. It continually grows throughout life, but it does so in such a way that the center becomes more compact. A normal change with age then is a condition called "lenticular sclerosis". This is not, however, a cataract, but a senile alteration of lens fibers resulting in an absorption of some of the wave lengths in the visible spectrum. The animal's vision is not changed significantly.

In contradistinction to lenticular sclerosis, a cataract is an apparent opacity within the lens that will not allow the passage of light. Many false concepts have occurred due to nomenclature. I would like to classify the various types of cataracts at this time. In general most authorities agree on the following chronological classifications, in other words, according to the age of the animal:

a. Congenital — born with
b. Juvenile — occurs in a young dog under five years of age
c. Senile — occurs in an older dog over five years of age

Geographical category:

a. Anterior
b. Nuclear
c. Posterior
d. Polar
e. Equatorial
f. Subcapsular

State of progression:

a. Incipient — early

Conferring at the Seminar, left to right: John T. Pirie, chairman of the Seminar and a trustee of Morris Animal Foundation; George H. Gardner, M.D., who was cited for many years of service to dogs; and John M. Olin, breeder of Labradors, president of the Orthopedic Foundation for Animals and a trustee of Morris Animal Foundation.

b. Immature — advancing
c. Mature — complete opaque lens
d. Hypermature — liquefaction of lens material and Morphological category:

a. Punctate
b. Cupeuliform (saucer type)
c. Crystalline
d. Water clefts
e. Water slits
f. Spokes
g. Cuneiform
h. Others

The cause, whether hereditary or acquired, may be influenced by many factors including the effects of inflammations, toxins, metabolic defects, trauma, radiation, and many more.

It becomes obvious that the term juvenile cataracts only means that a young dog has cataracts and that the condition could be either acquired or hereditary. Much work is necessary to illucidate the potential hereditary mechanism which may be present. There is substantial evidence to incriminate a hereditary basis in several breeds but, again, no definitive statements can be made concerning the method of genetic transmission. It would be wise to curtail the use of animals (from constructive breeding programs) who have demonstrable lens opacities.

Medical therapy is of no avail and surgery is necessary if restoration of vision is to be accomplished.

The Collie Eye Anomaly is also a problem of genetic predisposition. We were successful in determining its genetic mode of inheritance and it is a simple recessive autosomal gene. The syndrome has been "graded" unfortunately, and this is one of the worst mistakes that can be made in eliminating such a disease. We presently diagnose dogs as affected or unaffected regardless of the variation of eye lesions present. We have demonstrated that all the lesions are related to one another and that the presence of any lesion incriminates the genotypes. Because of the recessive gene, a mating of dogs with normal eyes may produce affected offspring.

Progressive retinal atrophy is a disease which is manifested in dogs usually four years old or older. It has been reported in dogs as young as seven months. It is seen in English Setters, Springer Spaniels, Labrador Retrievers, Poodles, Elkhounds, Cocker Spaniels, Beagles, and others. It is transmitted as a simple recessive autosomal gene.

The first clinical sign which may be observed is a widely dilated pupil which is nonresponsive to light. The dog will then display signs of decreased vision at twilight (Nyctalopia). The animal's vision progressively decreases until he is completely blind. Nothing is effective in prevention of inevitable blindness, but there is some evidence that Vitamin A therapy may delay the end stage blindness; however, this is controversial. □ the popular "Doctor" Jack Carlton has worked the shows in this area and has become a good and trusted friend to most of the regular exhibitors and a friendly advisor and kindly mentor to all neophyte exhibitors — and, from personal experience, the writer knows whereof he speaks. His company recently delegated other responsibilities and duties to Jack which will no longer require his presence at the shows in an official capacity. All who know him wish him well and hope that this will not mean he will not turn out to as many shows as he possibly can in an unofficial capacity. The inscription on the tray reveals in part the affection in which he is held by the dog show people. It reads: "Presented to 'Uncle' Jack Carlton by the Mid Canada Dog Association, May 1970, in recognition of his many years of outstanding service." Farewell and Hail, Jack!

There were 15 Booster shows this year and many of them were the first ever held for their breed in Manitoba. The Mastiff Booster Show, with an entry of nine, is believed to be the first ever held in Canada. Hugh Crozier, who should know, says the Labrador Booster, with an entry of 15, is a Manitoba first and it is fitting that the Best of Breed in that Booster, Ch. Castlemore Brandy of Cordova, owned by Lee Belton, bred by Elizabeth Jenkins and sired by Mr. Crozier's famous import, Irish, Can., and Am. Ch. Castlemore Shamus, was handled by Hugh Crozier, himself. The Doberman Pinscher Booster, another first for Manitoba, had a whopping entry of 20. Great credit for the success of this show must be given to Ted and Barbara Kiesman.

There were two outstanding displays this year. The Samoyed Association of Manitoba again produced a striking display of dog sleds and furs against an icy Arctic background and when it was photographed this year, three club members and two live Sams were positioned in the display. The other display was produced by the Manitoba Pointing Dog Association. This arresting and clever display was largely the work of the talented Dorothy Basler who, with her husband, is a devotee of the Vizsla breed. This display was also photographed and, by some sort of black magic, a live German Wire-haired Pointer was conned into taking part in the action alongside of a papier mache pointer.

This year exhibitors came to the Mid Canada from every Province except Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. And from nine of the United States including such southerly ones as Louisiana, Missouri and Texas. What will happen in 1971? Will more Provinces and States be represented? They should be because the 1971 Mid Canada will be the best one yet for the Women's Auxiliary told me so.

Presented at the 1969 annual meeting of the Morris Animal Foundation

■ I have been invited to speak for a few minutes this morning about research on diseases of the dog. As we review research in general, it becomes apparent that such activity is either basic or applied. By basic, or fundamental research, I mean the study of an aspect of science for the sole purpose of understanding a natural phenomenon. In applied research, the goal is to discover how to control natural phenomena. In the context of the dog owner and the veterinarian, the natural phenomena with which we are concerned are diseases of the dog. And the research of most interest to us is that which has the potential for adding to our ability to control the many illnesses that plague dogs. It is often difficult to predict which studies will contribute the most to the eventual solution of the problems which affect the animal. The more practical research is of obvious necessity. One may forget, however, that these practical studies are, in turn, based on an understanding of basic phenomena which resulted from previous, more fundamental research. Research must be encouraged at both levels — improving an understanding of the basic mechanisms which control the normal and abnormal function of the dog, and then learning how to use this information to maintain the health of dogs, preferably by improved treatment of their diseases.

■ Historically, the greatest emphasis in research on canine disease has been in the area of contagious diseases, and this has been necessary. These diseases, of which canine distemper is the most notorious, can spread rapidly in severe epidemics, and cause illness and death of large numbers of animals. As a result of hundreds of research projects in the past 20 to 30 years the cause and natural history of most of the common contagious diseases of the dog have been studied and described. Considerable progress has been made in the prevention and treatment of these diseases. Good vaccines have been developed which can prevent these diseases in most dogs to which they are given. These vaccines are not 100% effective, however, so additional work remains to be done in this area. Furthermore, new diseases of this type appear from time to time. Although they may not be widespread initially, an effort must be made to understand them before they become serious problems. Studies on canine babesiosis that have been supported by this foundation are but one example of work in this area.

The next most important area for canine medicine research is the group of diseases that appear to be inherited. These diseases do not spread rapidly due to contagion. However, the potential is great for the dissemination of these problems very quickly to large numbers of dogs through careless or uninformed selection of breeding stock. It is important that diseases suspected of being inherited be investigated thoroughly with four questions in mind:

1. What is the nature of the disease?
2. Is the disease truly inherited?
3. Can carriers of the undesirable trait be identified?
4. Can the disease be treated successfully?

■ At the present time we are studying a disease in this group. Several years ago we observed several Basenji dogs that had a very peculiar type of anemia. Since this disease had not been reported in other breeds of dog and since two of those we had examined were littermates, we became suspicious that this was an inherited disease. Since that time we have studied several more Basenjis with the same disorder and we have acquired more evidence to indicate that it is inherited. Our principal purpose, in the research we are doing at the present time, is to find out what the basic nature of the defect is. If this can be identified, it may make possible a means of recognizing carrier individuals and in this or some other way, result in the prevention or elimination of this problem.

Numerous other studies are in progress on diseases of the dog which have been considered genetic in origin. Hip dysplasia, elbow dysplasia, and ocular abnormalities of several types are a few of the problems of this type which are being studied.

■ The third group of diseases which merits considerable research is composed of those problems which, although not transmissible from one dog to another, are such common afflictions of the dog that they are a constant concern of the veterinarian and a constant threat to the animal and to its owner. Skin disease is one example of this kind of problem. Diseases of the skin are more common in the dog than in other domestic animals. It has been said of the human dermatologist: "His practice is ideal; the patients never die and they never recover, they just keep coming back for treatment." A similar comment might be said about canine dermatology. However, it is certainly not an ideal practice. It is very discouraging for all three parties involved: The patient, the owner, and the veterinarian. Skin disease is a serious problem. Although some work is being done on it at the present time there is a long way to go yet.

Gastro-intestinal disturbances are also common problems in dogs. The cause of some of these have been studied quite thoroughly — others remain very poorly understood. Dr. Van Kruiningen's work on diarrhea in German Shepherd Dogs, which has received support from the Morris Foundation, should be as rewarding as his previous work on another gastroinestinal problem in Boxers has been.

A fourth large area for investigation is the subject of reproduction in the dog. It is a matter of great disappointment and loss when a breeder, either an experienced professional or an individual with a family dog, who wants to raise a litter of puppies, cannot do so. The possible reasons for failure in this venture are many, and each of them is worthy of careful study. Infertility in the male may be associated with various abnormalities in the semen or with physical or psychological abnormalities which prevent normal breeding from occurring. Infertility in the bitch may be related to abnormalities in ovulation, abnormalities in the estrus cycle, behavioral idiosyncrasies, or abortion.

Even when conception and pregnancy have been normal, the breeding program cannot be considered successful unless a normal litter is raised to weaning age. The problem of death in newborn puppies has been a serious one. One specific disease problem has only recently been identified, herpes virus infection. More work must be done to recognize other causes of infant puppy disease.

■ The fifth area for special study is canine geriatrics. The most distressing losses of all are those of dogs who have been companions and members of a family for a long period of time. In a typical case it is an 80-year-old person whose sole companion is a 12-year-old dog. When this dog develops a disease of old age it is heartbreaking for the veterinarian to suggest that "since there is no cure for this disease, perhaps the dog should be put out of his misery." The diseases of the aged are a challenge to the veterinarian as much as to the physician. Much more knowledge is needed concerning the fundamental nature of some of these diseases as well as improved methods of treatment. Such diseases as chronic kidney failure, heart diseases, and malignant tumors, have been studied in the past but they are difficult problems — there is still more to be done.

You will have noticed that many of the challenging problems in canine medicine are areas of active research in human medicine as well. This common interest is fortunate for man as well as for the dog. The information gained by veterinary research often contributes to improved understanding of human disease. More importantly, the vigorous efforts being made to solve these problems in man will, inevitably, result in rewards of improved understanding of canine diseases.

Although much can be learned about disease in the dog from studying similar diseases in man or any other species in which a specific disease is better understood, extrapolation of knowledge from one species to another is fraught with many potential errors. No two species are exactly alike. Even the body temperature, the heart rate, and the hemoglobin vary greatly among the different species. While the previous research in another species often suggests an explanation for phenomena observed in the dog, and at least suggests a useful approach to the study of the problem, one can only be confident of his knowledge of canine disease when the experimental evidence on which his conclusions are based has been obtained from canine studies. Thus, each advance in human medicine which may be applicable to the dog, instead of making corresponding canine research unnecessary, often opens new and rewarding areas for research by those interested in canine health.

■ One of the many revelations that came to me as I became acquainted with the nature of research was that it is an expensive undertaking. When a seemingly tiny problem is to be solved, it may necessitate years of work by one or more persons and the use of expensive equipment or supplies. No one knows at the beginning which research efforts will be rewarding and which will contribute little. Fortunately, research is being done on canine diseases and improvement in the health of dogs is resulting.

My principle occupation is diagnosis of the nature of an animal's illness through the use of laboratory tests. It has been a continually stimulating occupation because I can see the changes in the quality of medicine we practice with each new year. New laboratory tests have been devised to permit quicker, more economical or more accurate diagnosis of the diseases which have troubled us for years; as more laboratory tests are used in the difficult diagnostic problems, new diseases are recognized; new treatments also are developed which improve the prognosis for recovery. As each of these developments become a part of everyday practice, the health of dogs is improved — some diseases are prevented by new control measures, some deaths are prevented by new treatments, some perplexities are removed by improved understanding.

Each of these changes is the result of research. □

BREED NOTES

SPORTING GROUP

Victoria, B.C., Pointer Wins Group in U.S. Debut

At his very first American Show, Mr. and Mrs. William Brennan's black and white Pointer, Can. Ch. Grousemoor Linton Magnate, Imp. received five points by winning the Group at the Tacoma KC Inc. show on June 7. Handled by Bob Schaefer, "Buck" won the breed under Judge Harold F. Hardin, of Warsaw, Mo., and the Group under the noted Sporting Dog expert Gordon M. Parham of Flint, Mich. This dog, imported from England, is sired by Eng. Ch. Blakeshay Avant Tout, who was reserve BIS at Crufts in 1966 and was the No. 10 All Breeds in Canada in 1969. Not yet three, Buck already has sired four champions from his first two litters and has eight more with points. A daughter won the Group at the Saskatoon KC show on May 17, just 13 days after her first birthday.

First in Canada?

The Golden Retriever, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Beckwith's Malagold Flash, Can. & Am. CD, owned by Marv and Carole Kvamme of Alderwood Manor, Wash., who was not only BIS at the Kiwanis Club of Kerrisdale Show at Vancouver, April 18, but Highest Scoring Dog in Trial as well, may have set a record. Writes Mrs. Kvamme: According to a reply we have received from The Canadian Kennel Club, he is believed to be the first dog in Canada to go BIS and Highest Scoring Dog in Trial at the same show.

Moncton Retriever Club

Marian L. Wait
1700 Manawagonish Rd.
Saint John W., N.B.

The Moncton Retriever Club, comprising a group of sportsmen interested in entering their dogs in field trials and using them for the purpose of retrieving birds in the marshes, was recently founded in Shediac, N.B. Field Trial Representative for N.B. is Jeremy Newhouse, Shediac, N.B. Officers elected at the initial meeting were President, Wilfred Terris, Moncton, N.B.; Secretary Treasurer, Edvard O. Landry, Dorchester Crossing, N.B.; Vice-President, Con MacIntyre, Moncton; F.T. Chairman, Jeremy Newhouse. The first official function was a fun-match held on April 26, with top honors for Senior Retrievers going to the Chesapeake Bay "Molly", owned and trained by Wilfred Terris. The Junior Contest was won by a Labrador Retriever, "Chief", owned and trained by Maurice Kelly of Tracadie Crossing, P.E.I. The Junior Dogs were judged by Willard Hines, New Glasgow, N.S., and Ernie MacDonald of Moncton, N.B. Judges in the Senior Class were Mike Bailey, Moncton and Doug Waite of Shediac. The dogs were reported to have shown excellent style, making all retrieves on both land and water and thus showing the effects of fine training.

On May 10 a Sanction trial was held. The Moncton Retriever Club was delighted to have 17 entries coming from N.B., N.S., and Maine. Judges for the Junior Stakes were Harry MacPherson, Antigonish, N.S., and Mr. Paul MacDonald, Bath, N.B. There were no placings in this class.

The judges for the Qualifying class were Mr. Harry MacPherson, Antigonish, N.S., and Charles Landry, Cap-Pele, N.B. The three placings in this stake were (1) Labrador Retriever Abeweit Jet, owned by Willard Hines, New Glasgow, N.S.; (2) Labrador Retriever Blue Point Marksman (Jake) owned by Del Phinney, Perry, Maine, U.S.A.; (3) Labrador Retriever Hineside's Stormy (Stormy), owned by Cecil Ash, Sydney, N.S. Gun Captain for the event was Andy Cormier.

Plans are now underway for more activity in the fall of the year. This new organization has received a good deal of publicity in all local media and I am sure all N.B. dog enthusiasts join me in wishing them the best of luck.

IRISH

The Irish Setter Club of Canada has announced the 1969 awards. This year all five awards were won by only two members. The Champion Dog and Best of Breed awards went to Cdr. and Mrs. Threlkeld of Nova Scotia and their Ch. Draherin Bachelor Boy, while the Champion Bitch, Best of Opposite Sex and Breeder of the Year awards came to Calgary to the O'Leprechaun Kennels of Lorne and Avis Mackie. Lorne and Avis have made this column before as being very busy both with their own dogs and with helping the owners of pups from their 1967 "A" litter. Apparently all their efforts have been well worthwhile. Congratulations to both families, and good luck for 1970.

On the local scene a youngster named Darcy Ronald has really been going to town with her Irish, also a youngster. Darcy and her Glenappin Aran Scarlet Lady have been in almost every handling class in both Sanction and licensed shows in Alberta this spring, and have marked up an enviable record of wins. Darcy has done all the training herself, putting in long hours both at training classes and at home. Darcy also competes in conformation classes, and she and Lady are beginning a collection of ribbons that would Still local, Bill Elser and his Bayknoll Happy Jack took a couple of really nice wins at Calgary in May to finish up Jack's title. Bill is an old hand at the shows here, having finished his bitch, Bayknoll Flaming Mame, a couple of years ago and then gone into Obedience with her too.

GORDONS

Mrs. Margaret Bocking (Grianan Reg'd.) wrote a month or so ago complaining politely that there had been no news of Ontario Gordons in the column, and enclosing some bits and pieces that she hoped I could use.

There are two imported pups in the Ottawa area, and although Mrs. Bocking did not have details, Joan Detmold mentioned one as being from Yorkshire. Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Eric Johnson of Iroquois, he is Deerwood Pintail (by Crakehall Lionharted and out of Borderland Orina). Since there are several Borderland and Crakehall dogs in the area, he should be of some influence in the future.

Margaret Bocking is an avid booster of Gordons, and she was thrilled to see first five and then 11 Gordons at Sanction shows in the Ottawa district. This has to be some sort of a record for the breed, and it's to be hoped that it is the start of a trend.

Grianan Morag McTay came west this spring, first to Winnipeg and then to Saskatchewan. Margaret hopes that this will help the breed a little in those areas too. Gordons are scarce in Saskatchewan recently since the demise of the Glentanar Kennels of James Forbes and the only ones that I could find that have been shown were Judge Walter Nelson's Ashmeadow Exile last summer, and Sun-Yak 49'er about six years ago. Not really a crowded field.

The lack of Gordons in Alberta can be judged by the fact that a recent litter of seven rated a photo in the local newspaper about six inches high and the full width of the page! Luckily, since we were inundated with visitors, three of the pups were still here waiting to be picked up by their owners and we had an adult and a half-grown female about the place also so we were able to present sort of a tableau of Gordons. Reactions ran the gamut from "Aren't they queer looking" to "Aren't they beautiful"; but at least the visitors now know that there is such a thing as a Gordon Setter.

ENGLISH

Not too much news of ES this month, although there are to be some imports in the near future, and someone must be doing something.

I did hear that Dawn Lee's Apricot Brandy, who finished her Canadian title in jig time last year, is now being shown in the States and picking up points there too. I had her owner's name on the tip of my tongue, but swallowed it, and so must offer apologies for my lapse.

WORKING GROUP

Doberman Pinscher Notes

Pat Blenkey of Wrath Reg'd. Dobermans, Ancaster, Ont., tells us Joey Purdy, Schauffelein Kennels, Cheltenham, Ont., recently sent four puppies to the States, one to Lewiston and three to the Detroit area. The latter went to Carole Silverman and Jackie Rowe, both well-known in Obedience circles for their top working dogs. "However, I understand these girls are interested in showing too, so maybe we'll be hearing about Canadian dogs winning at the U.S. shows pretty soon."

TERRIER GROUP

Let's Talk About Terriers

Barbara G. Pirrie
58 Wolfrey Ave., Toronto 6, Ont.

Golly, it seems every time I write this I'm either freezing or frying — the latter is the case today. Somewhere there must be an in-between!

Before looking through ye olde newsbagge I'd like to comment on the Terrier Breeder's Specialty Show which transpired this past weekend. What an outstanding success — clean, attractive, little or no griping, an entry of 143 terriers and judging par excellence. As you know, I seldom comment on judges, good or bad, but if any of you have the opportunity of showing under Mr. Robert Braithwaite, do take ad vantage of it. I don't know if he' licensed for all breeds, but as far a terriers are concerned, he's had unlim ited experience — coming to the U.S in '28 from Scotland to manage man of the great Wire, Smooth, Welsh an Scottie kennels. He made his presenc felt in the ring more by his gentlenes than anything else. Mind you, th authority was felt as well and the dog seemed to sense it. I went in in th morning with three puppies who ha never been to a show before an weren't too pleased by the whole situa tion. After a session in the ring wit Mr. Braithwaite they all came ou like seasoned veterans. If all judge could earn the respect of their dog in this quiet, but knowledgeable man ner, wouldn't dog shows be much nice places. This was Mr. B's first assign ment in Canada, let's hope it won be his last.

Here I'm afraid I'm going to hav to turn into just a bit of a fashio commentator. Joanna Griggs' Schnau zer, Mittens, is just an exquisite blac and silver puppy, but Dorothy Grigg (Joanna's daughter) complemente him to the nth degree with the mo gorgeous red crocheted dress over flesh colored material. The combinatio was absolutely spectacular and understand Joanna made the dress - a real family affair! It might just l something that you all remember - not only do clothes make the man, bu on many occasions they make the do as well. Show a black dog with blac pants or dark dress and see how lon you can make the back and vice vers in a light colored dog — contrastin colors are so important.

The Puppy Sweeps, judged by M Sidney Berryman, was won by th Scottish Terrier, Cricket's Kilt, owne by Mrs. Harold Mayville, over an entr of 45.

Before leaving this show I mu mention their lovely trophies — a Wedgwood. They were offered not on in the Group, in the breed, but in th classes as well. I know, I came hom with five of them and they must ha cost a fortune.

As we're talking about shows might just as well continue with t Red River Specialty in Winnipeg a I tell you, talk about raves about show! Cliff Tushingham judged t Terrier Specialty and I've never hea anyone so enthused about a show and I'm sure he's seen them all. J just didn't have a bad word to s about it. One thing that caught m attention throughout his glowing r port was what they called a "rea ring" where all the dogs for the ne class waited to go into the ring. Te rific idea; this way you don't have fight through the mob at the la moment! Tell me, why does everyo have to congregate at the ring e trance? Terribly frustrating wh you're trying to get through with dog that you've just spent a half ho attempting to make look gorgeo Cliff's entry, by the way, was 104 terriers. Both he and Betty Golby, Florian Kennels, (there just as a spectator) commented on the decorations, cleanliness, room, eating facilities. It just sounded fabulous. Why don't we get together and work on a chartered flight out there one of these days? There are three shows for terriers and two all breed. One of these days we've all got to get together and meet one another!

Now to the mailbag and a letter from Madeleine Worthington, Kerworth Reg'd., which was just filled with delightful news, but unfortunately all Canadian so here again I'm afraid you'll have to consult the Show Results. To the Worthingtons, who have done such a marvellous job on their Airedales, my congratulations.

Still on Airedales and a lovely visit with the Cummings during their trip up for the Terrier Breeder's show accompanied by their two little girls and two lovely Airedales — one of their own breeding, Am. Ch. Roi-Ayr Fuslier and a pretty imported English bitch they're handling, Am. Ch. Siccawei Russet. They seem to be having great success in their "chosen" country, but it's great fun to have them up here once again, even for a short visit.

Now to a letter from Bob Duguid which just broke me up: "Dear Barb, Just finished reading your May column in Dogs re the 1937 Stud Book and Airedales . . . Who was a Child in 1937? Only you and a couple of other cute "babies"! Get a Stud Book of the years of my childhood and you will find that in 1919, 1920-1-2-3-4 Airedales led in registration in Canada, the U.S. and England. They gradually diminished until their ebb in the '30's. Now we're starting to gradually go back. P.S.: If you want a loan of the 1886 Westminster show you may have it (I wasn't there — no Junior Showmanship or Airedales)!"

Sorry Bob, I goofed, but then I thought handsome and all as you are, you couldn't possibly be older than I! You're really sure you weren't at that Westminster show?

Some more good news for Bob's Ch. Navaho Indian Puddin' — WD at both the Detroit and Progressive shows in Michigan, BOW at the Toledo, Ohio show, the Oakland, Mich., show, the Canandaigua show and BB and Group 4th at the Batavia show. He's been unbeaten in his class in both Canada and the U.S. I have a feeling that he's also not much more than a puppy as I'm sure I saw him at the Sanctions this winter. The Duguids really cleaned up at the Canandaigua show as they also took BB and Group 4th with their Ch. (Can. & Am.) Navaho Warrior's Ruffian and Cathie took 1st in Junior Handling. Terrific news, Bob, and I swear I won't start messing around with Stud Books again until I consult you!

Now to some great news from Jack Cowans. His Ch. (Can. & Am.) Glenfox Billy the Kid was rated third Best Smooth Fox in the U.S. for 1969 by

OUR DOGS ARE GETTING BETTER

In 1968 we bred and/or finished

Obedience:

Walsh's Expert Flirt C.D.

Conformation:

Ch. Priam's Polyxena Anfinger (salt and pepper)
Ch. Eastwight Sea Voyager (black and silver)
Ch. Sylva Sprite Frills and Jade (black and silver — now in Switzerland)
Ch. Sylva Sprite Benjamin (black and silver — owner Chris Swackhamer, Acton)

AND BETTER

In 1969

Conformation:

Ch. Sylva Sprite Spoilt Rotten (salt and pepper)
Ch. Sylva Sprite Happy Time (salt and pepper)
Ch. Sylva Sprite So Engaging (black and silver)
Ch. Sylva Sprite Mountaineer (black and silver) — owner: G. Tegman, Stony Mountain, Man.
Ch. Sylva Sprite Rebecca (black and silver) — owner: G. Tegman, Stony Mountain, Man.

AND BETTER

In 1970 — in less than 3 months of showing

Obedience:

Ch. Eastwight Sea Voyager C.D.
Sylva Sprite Carissima C.D.

Conformation:

Ch. Sylva Sprite Meadowrue (salt and pepper)
Ch. Sylva Sprite Namuth (salt and pepper) two Group 2, one Group 4, BoB at Min. Schnauzer Booster Show March 22/70, BCB in Gr. March 20/70.

and the fairest of them all —

CH. SYLVA SPRITE SNOWY MITTENS

Finished in two weekends with one Group 2 and one Group 3, repeatedly winning over Canadian and American Champions at Breed level. In less than one month of showing 4 BCBP in Group plus BCBP at Terrier Specialty on June 7/70 — BoB Miniature Schnauzer Booster Show, June 7/70.

This beautiful Black and Silver is all we are aiming for. A superb mover, barely 13" tall with extremely heavy bone, hard jet black coat and profuse snow white furnishings, the sweetest disposition, AND elegance, AND showmanship. We know we have bred a good Schnauzer; hopefully, we have bred a great one.

We are grateful to all the Judges who, by approving of our dogs, have given us encouragement and the desire to continue to breed with care and lovingly raise the Phillips system. That's quite an honor. Congratulations.

Next to Wires and A. J. Saunders, Hi-Tom Kennels. On his recent visit to England he returned with some Wires. One, Newmaidley Rocket, has been purchased by Dr. Ellen Brown. This young male has had some outstanding wins in England including RW twice to BIS and six times BB. Another Wire, a bitch, Wytwyre Morgorinene, was purchased by Andy Prinsen, Kingsville, Ont. As I remember Mr. Prinsen is a Bouvier fancier, so it looks as if we might have another terrier convert.

Now for news that I just hate reporting and unfortunately it's all in Kerries. The multi-titled Carholme Charles is dead at eight, apparently of heart failure. During his time in this country and in the U.S. he had a great influence on the breed and his record both in the ring and as a producer was quite phenomenal, having titles in six countries and siring two international champions, eight Canadian, ten U.S. and two English. Although Knut Egeberg no longer owned him I'm sure he'll be feeling the loss just as greatly as if he did.

To continue on this sad note Larry Alberico tells me that her dear "Chet", Ch. (Can. & Am.) Rollicking Raconteur, 5½ years old, died last week of cancer of the liver. Not only was he a much loved housedog, he was also a BIS winner and sire of two BIS winners: Ch. (Can., Am. & Bda.) Rollicking Peter Patchet and Ch. Bluestone's Bridal Lace.

Not that I think it will console Larry or Ted in any way, as "Chet" was their "baby", but it is nice to know that Peter is continuing in his "old man's" winning ways placing 9th for '69 in the U.S. by the Knight system.

On now to some more of Robbie of Balmoral's Scottish Terrier escapades in Europe. I tell you, the tales that dog will have to tell his children when he finally gets home will most likely make a Best Seller. Imagine having affairs with all those foreign gals! Wow! After Graz, Austria, Robbie and the Barlows went on to Budapest and here I'll let Mr. Barlow take over. "This was a very large and very well run show (2,478 dogs) with 12 Scotties and some excellent ones. Here Robbie, to our mind, reached the peak of his career when he won the International CACIB, The Hungarian National Championship, the Budapest Derby Award against the Seiger Class in the final judging. Ironically, his toughest competitors were from an Austrian Kennel, a father, mother and daughter trio who originated from Westpark breeding which Robbie carries from his dam." After Budapest the Barlows went on to Subotica, Yugoslavia where Robbie received the CACIB Ch., CAC Yugoslav Ch. Best of Terriers Award, Medallion of Subotica. At Nurnberg Robbie celebrated his third birthday by again taking the CACIB, CAC W. Germany National Ch. Winners Class of Honor (which is a form of BIS).

Next to Skyes and the news than Jen Edmunds has a new one in tow, again brought over from England by Mr. Saunders. Unfortunately I don't have his name, but we'll wish Jen the best of luck with his young male.

On now to Westies and some lovely wins for Ch. Windemere Gay Gordon, co-owned by Mrs. Keith Balsdon and Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins. This young male was BW at Butler County, Pa., BW, BB over Specials and 3rd in Group at Warren, Ohio and BW and BB, again over Specials, at Erie, Pa. At this rate it shouldn't be too long before this young man adds an American title to his name.

Well, that's the news for this month and as I'm getting hotter by the moment (excuse me, my husband tells me I should say "warmer"), I'll love you and leave you.

Yorkshire Terrier Origins Are No Mystery

Fay Gold
503 West 45th St., New York, N.Y. 10036

Contrary to the popular conception that nothing is known about the origins of this breed, there is a particular document which clearly states the names, physical characteristics, owners, places of origin, number of get, etc. This is part of an article written by a Mr. Ed Bootman in a magazine called "The Stockkeeper", an English publication. The date is 1887. This document is included in a book by an American writer, among others, Mr. G. O. Shields. The name of the book is "The American Book of the Dog", published by Rand McNally in 1887. Evidently the origins of the Yorkshire Terrier are not shrouded in mystery as it has been claimed. If readers would like to look this article up, they can find it in the section by P. H. Coombs, pages 437-455.

". . . Mr. Ed Bootman furnished an article on the breed for publication in the English "Stockkeeper", which that journal "feeling the importance of the facts relating to the origin of the breed," published as follows:

'Swift's Old Crab, a cross-bred Scotch Terrier, Kershaw's Kitty, a Skye, and an old English Terrier bitch kept by J. Whittam, then residing in Hatter's Fold, Halifax, were the progenitors of the present race of Yorkshire Terriers. These dogs were in the zenith of their fame 40 years ago. The owner of Old Crab was a native of Halifax, and a joiner by trade. He worked at Oldham for some time as a journeyman, and then removed to Manchester, where he kept a public House. Whether he got Crab at Oldham or Manchester, I have not been able to ascertain. He had him when in Manchester, and from there sent him several times to Halifax on a visit to Kitty. The last visit would be about 1850.

'Crab was a dog of about eight nine pounds weight, with a good terri head and eye, but with a long bo resembling a Scotch Terrier. The le and muzzle only were tanned and t hair on the body would be about thr or four inches in length. He has sto for years in a case in a room at t Westgate Hotel, a public House whi his owner kept when he returned his native town, where, I believe t dog may be seen today.

'Kitty was a bitch different in ty from Crab. She was a drop-eared Sk with plenty of coat with a blue sha but destitute of tan on any part the body. Like Crab, she had no pe gree. She was originally stolen fr Manchester and sent to a man call Jackson, a saddler in Huddersfie who, when it became known that five pound reward was offered in Ma chester for her recovery, sent her a person named Harrison, then waiter at the White Swan Hotel, Ha fax, to escape detection and from Ha rison she passed into the home of M J. Kershaw of Bishop Blaise, a pub house which once stood on the North Bridge, Halifax. Prior to 18 Kitty had six litters, all of which w by Crab. In these six litters she h 36 puppies, 28 of which were dogs, a served to stock the district with risi sires. After 1851, when she pas into the possession of Mr. F. Jagg she had 44 puppies, making a to of 80.

'Mr. Whittam's bitch, whose na I cannot get to know, was an English Terrier, with tanned he ears and legs and a sort of grizzle ba She was built on the lines of spe Like the others, she had no pedigr She was sent when a puppy to the l Bernard Hartley, of Allin Gate, Ha fax, by a friend residing in Scotla When Mr. Hartley had got tired her, he gave her to his coachm Mason, who in turn gave her to friend Whittam, and Whittam used for breeding purposes. Although t bitch came from Scotland, it is belie the parents were from this district.

". . . The last named writer has fully identified the three dogs f employed to manufacture the br together with their names, owners characteristics, and other facts c cerning them, that there can be doubt as to the authenticity of history, although published in 'Stockkeeper' in 1887, has never b contradicted, and it is evident t there can now be no grounds for lowing the reasoning of writers claim that the origin is a mystery

Just to be sure as to the sour Mr. P. H. Coombs is the author of article in Mr. G. O. Shields book, " American Book on the Dog", on Yorkshire Terrier.

Have you heard?

by H. CABALLERO

■ The comparative age of dogs in relation to man has always been a question of interest, and the old rule of thumb was that seven years of a dog's life equalled one year of a man's. This never seemed quite right, however, and a more recent assessment was a comparative age of 16, 24, and 30 for the first three years in a dog's life, with each additional year counting as five in the human scale. David Willoughby, writing in the December 1969 Natural History, describes how he arrived at a "prediction formula" for estimating the potential maximum age of a mammalian species, from an analysis of various physiological factors. Using the formula, he gives the relative ages of man, dogs, cats, and horses as follows:

Man	Dog	Cat	Horse
20	1.2	0.7	4.6
25	2.8	2.6	6.6
30	4.5	4.6	8.7
35	6.2	6.5	10.6
40	7.8	8.4	12.7
45	9.5	10.3	14.8
50	11.2	12.2	16.8
55	12.8	14.1	18.8
60	14.5	16.1	20.9
65	16.2	18.0	22.9
70	17.8	19.9	24.9
75	19.5	21.8	26.9
80	21.2	23.8	29.0
85	22.8	25.7	31.0
90	24.5	27.6	33.0
95	26.1	29.5	35.1
100	27.7	31.5	37.1
105	29.4	33.4	39.1
110	31.1	35.3	41.2
115	32.7	37.2	43.2
120	34.4	39.2	45.2

The table agrees approximately with the old rule of thumb for a four year old dog, but gives a different picture for a dog which is younger or older. □

Believed to be Canada's only mother and daughter public relations team, Beth and Sherry Slaney, Toronto, are actually a foursome. Their white Miniature Poodles also serve on the staff.

"Misty", Beth's pet, has been active in her office since its inception 14 years ago. Some six years ago we watched her in action, cheerfully and promptly carrying memos from one office to another and returning for the next assignment. Sherry's pet, somewhat less outgoing, is in charge of the petty cash, Beth tells Dogs.

Troubles: Laura Treble, whose Tanhardt Kennels at Georgetown, Ont., were long noted for German Shepherds and more recently for Keeshonden, lost part of her kennel recently through fire. She was away at a show in the States at the time. A litter of puppies and mother were lost but the other dogs were saved . . . Fortunate through thousands upon thousands of miles of driving, Lorna Jackson, well-known handler, ran into misfortune returning from Montreal when a truck hit her station wagon. The car is in bad shape but Lorna got off with a painful neck and arm . . . Cairn Terrier breeder Mrs. L. A. Atkinson, Carronade Kennels, Delaware, Ont., was taken to hospital when she fell ill at the recent Oshawa, Ont., show.

Retired: John Royston, Killane Kennels, after ten years with the Customs and Excise Department, Port Credit, Ont., now can spend more time with his Irish Setters. He might return to the business world on a part time basis in the fall. His mailing address is now R.R. 6, Mississauga, Ont.

Diamond magnate Raymond Oppenheimer, owner of the famous Ormandy Kennels (Bull Terrier) has given away 25 acres of his estate in Berkshire, England, reports Globe and Mail columnist Zena Cherry. "It will be for the world's first dog centre, to be run by dog owners for dog owners." Mrs. Judy de Casembroot, noted judge (three times at Crufts, including all groups) according to Zena, was named chairman when the dog centre was formed in 1969. The organization's first activity was to take 98 English breeders to the Westminster Show. The First Birthday Show of the dog centre is slated for July 12 at Ascot Wood. The centre is to include an exhibtion hall with nine indoor rings, outdoor rings, a circular track for Whippet racing, a straightaway for terriers, clubhouse, 30,000 volume reference library, motel, restaurant, trailer park, veterinarian office plus hospital. And further, a travel agency for pets and owners and a Hall of Memory museum. Ground for the new club is expected to be broken this summer. The membership has already reached 500.

Travellers: Living the life of gypsies and loving every luxurious mile of it, Tim and Henriette Reid stopped in at the office of Dogs to tell your editors of the magnetism of Mesa, Ariz., and the beauties of the Rideau River as seen from their home at R.R. 3, Merrickville, Ont. While in Mesa Tim judged several breeds at the Superstition KC show, including an entry of 38 Miniature Schnauzers . . . Returned to their home at Keppoch, P.E.I., after wintering at Scottsdale, Ariz., are Mr. and Mrs. James Dempster. Prior to moving to P.E.I. these longtime Poodle breeders were involved in Montreal area doggy activities and were instrumental in the organization of the Island's club . . . Inveterate traveller Mrs. Blanche Roberts, Toronto, has again flown to New Zealand to visit her sister, Mrs. Clarence Beesom.

Crufts, anyone? For the first time in years, Crufts and the Westminster Show are ten days apart. Crufts dates are February 5 and 6 and Westminster February 15 and 16, 1971. Which makes it possible to take in both. Aennchen Antonelli, Vice-President of Dog Fanciers Club, Inc., and co-Chairman of the DFC Crufts Trip, writes that members of the club are planning to leave for England February 3 and return to New York February 9. Trip: six days all-inclusive price, round trip airfare to England, transfers, half day sightseeing, hotel, all meals except lunch, only $276. Requirements: you must be a paid-up member of the Dog Fanciers Club by August 1, 1970, dues $5. Write Virginia D. Bull, Chairman, Dog Fanciers Club, Crufts Trip, 257 Wales Ave., River Edge, N.J. 07661.

Accredited: Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins, Kennels of the Rouge, West Hill, Ont., is now licensed to judge all Toy breeds and the Group in the United States, which now gives her two Groups (Toys and Terriers) plus Bullmastiffs. Cedar Rapids, Iowa and the Cape Cod shows are two of her recent assignments. She judges at the Ventura County show late this month and will stay over to take in the Santa Barbara show where the entry usually runs to 3,000.

Summer sessions: Many London, Ont., dog enthusiasts are enjoying a well-rounded course on doggy topics at Fanshawe College. The ten-session course includes lectures, films and discussions led by experts.

Symbol: The 1971 Canada Winter Games Society is using the St. Bernard to promote the Games, slated for Saskatoon, Sask., in February.

Saskatoon-area members of the Canadian St. Bernard Club are providing the dogs for "live" publicity stunts. Six of the members' dogs are Obedience-trained.

In Memoriam

Alford Kennels, under whose prefix we first became acquainted with Shetland Sheepdogs, has lost another of its founders in the death of Mrs. William Henderson, Toronto, whose husband preceded her not long ago.

Veteran breeder of Scottish and other terriers, Harry Fraser, Ottawa, passed away in the Tri-Services Hospital. A veteran of World War I and father of four sons, all of whom served in World War II, Mr. Fraser was a familiar figure at the ringside whenever terriers were being judged. While Scotties were his first love, as they were with his father, Wire Fox Terriers and Airedales were also bred by him. On the occasions when he consented to judge, Mr. Fraser's opinion was highly valued. He is survived by four sons, Fred of the Ben Braggie kennels, third generation of terrier breeders; George, Donald and Neil, and one daughter, Marjorie.

A longtime devotee of the Boston Terrier, M. T. Girouard of Ottawa, has passed on. He and his wife Mary, known as an efficient and charming ring steward at Ottawa shows, bred many top specimens of the Boston.

James Albert Hussey, husband of Edith, succumbed recently to a heart attack. He had been retired for just one year. Mrs. Hussey, a Maltese breeder, is a member of the Toy Dog Breeders Association. The Husseys have one daughter.

Mrs. Virginia Frederic of Niagara Falls, N.Y., passed away recently following a lingering illness. A well-known breeder and exhibitor of winning Chihuahuas in both the United States and Canada, she will be sadly missed by all her friends.
