Ailing CKC needs funds if operations are to continue

OSHAWA — In a surprise move at the CKC Annual General Meeting in Toronto February 27, the Oshawa Obedience Association pledged $500 to The Canadian Kennel Club. "This motion from the floor to transfer funds to the ailing CKC is considered an investment in our future in the dog game," said Jim Newell, Oshawa Obedience Association President.

"The Canadian Kennel Club is in dire need of funds to continue operations and get back on its feet," he said. "The financial predicament did not develop overnight and we all have watched, dismayed, the events that led to this present financial state."

Mr. Newell cautioned that this is not the time for criticism or name-calling. Instead, he said, "think of what would happen without The Canadian Kennel Club. The answer is obvious — it would mean the death of the dog business in Canada.

"There would be no shows, trials, titles. There would be no central body, known and respected throughout the world, to register pure-bred dogs or record and issue titles for champions — whether show, obedience or field."

He was quick to point out that neither as an association nor as individuals, is the Oshawa Obedience Association attempting to tell CKC members what to do. He did urge, however, that all members stop and think how this situation affects them and to act accordingly.

In 1969 The Canadian Kennel Club recorded the results of 249 Championship dog shows, 165 Obedience Trials, 109 Field Trials and six Tracking Trials.

"If each of the clubs and individual members using the services of The Canadian Kennel Club would pledge any amount they can spare, we know that the CKC — your Club — could not only continue to function, but to flourish," said Mr. Newell.

"The situation is critical," he concluded. "This is not the time to be shy. This is the time to make an investment in your future."

Many Canadian winners at 95th Westminster KC show

NEW YORK — Canadian dogs, most of them owner-bred and handled, took home a gratifying number of ribbons and major awards from the Westminster KC show, February 15 and 16. As in previous years, Canadian-bred Boxers cut a formidable swath.

A crowd of 10,000 spectators jammed New York's Madison Square Garden Centre for the final judging of the 95th consecutive annual event. Best in Show judge O. Carley Harriman of Pebble Beach, Calif., required exactly 12 minutes to name the liver and white English Springer Spaniel, Ch. Chinoe's Adamant James victor over 3030 other champions and pointed dogs. This is the second English Springer to take a Westminster BIS. The first was in 1963. The 1971 victor is owned by Dr. Milton Prickett of Lexington, Ky., and handled by Clint Harris. Nearly half the entrants were champions, including 63 of last year's Westminster BB winners.

Two Canadian dogs bested their breeds in the Terrier Group: the Cairn Terrier, Ch. Cairndania Brigrey's Berry-Red, bred, owned and handled by Mrs. Betty Hyslop, Cairndania, Brockville, Ont., and the Sealyham, Ch. Polrose Pace Setter, owned by Mrs. Florence Houston of Surrey, B.C. and handled by Mrs. Pat Tripp. Pace Setter and a neighboring Bedlington friskily displayed Terrier temperament to the crowd's delighted applause. The Sealy was awarded a 4th in Group.

The Miniature Schnauzer, Tannenbaum's Sweet Bippy, bred, owned and shown by Mrs. Joan Morden of Burlington, Ont., was RW, Open, bitches. After topping the breed in the Airedale Specialty, Annual All Terriers competition February 14, owner-handled Avaricious of Tanworth went WD at Westminster the following day. Owners are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Worthington of Vankleek Hill, Ont. The West Highland Terrier, Dancer's Eminence of the Rouge, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lorne G. Gignac of Ottawa and handled by young daughter Laurie, took RWD. Breeder is Mrs. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins.

Ken-L Ration gives sterling silver for most Group wins

NEW YORK — Sterling silver trophies, emblematic of their triumphs, were presented in honor of the six dogs who won the most Best in Group titles in the U.S.A. during the past year, competing against dogs in their own Group only. The ceremony took place at the 16th annual Ken-L Ration awards dinner during "Westminster weekend", February 13. The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel was the locale. The Irish Setter, Ch. Major O'Shannon, owned by Albert M. Greenfield, Jr. and handled by Tom Glassford, both of Glen Moore, Pa., was the only 1969 winner able to repeat.

Winner of the Hound Group was the Norwegian Elkhound, Ch. Vin-Melca's Vagabond, owned by Mrs.

Prestige, glamour and organized confusion at THE Show

Long before judging begins two seemingly endless lines of visitors thread through the turnstiles into the vast exhibition hall. Dogs and their exhibitors arrive on foot, by bus, by taxi and, a favored few by private car. Mountains of show catalogues are quickly bought up and inside the Olympia takes on the air of a great marketplace. The newsboys, the banks, the concessionaires have opened shop. Organized confusion sets the scene. This is Cruft's — one of the world's great dog shows.

Fortunately the catalogue comes complete with a map of the show areas and, after a little study, one is able to orient oneself and cover the show in some sort of order. What the catalogue lacks, however, is a judging schedule. This is of no apparent concern to the exhibitors. They know that sometime between the hours of 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. they will be required in the ring. But to American visitors accustomed to complete scheduling it was frustrating in the extreme. Their enquiries as to when a particular breed might be in the ring was answered with: "On Monday." "But when on Monday?" Answer: "Most likely in the afternoon." Question: "But what time in the afternoon?" Answer: "Probably later on."

The catalogue itself took a bit of interpreting. Instead of alphabetical listing the Cruft's catalogue followed a pattern of listing by ring number. That is, those breeds to be judged in ring Number One were listed first, ring Number Two second and so on. So a mighty system of cross-reference became a must in view of the fact that throughout this enormous show area there were 39 rings operating simultaneously.

To see the whole show is a physical impossibility. After a quick tour of the benches which are adjacent to the rings, one must decide which breeds are of greatest interest and stay in the general vicinity where they are benched hopefully to be on hand when word of judging time is received.

Slowly but surely the judges sift through their awesome entries to name their breed winners. Many breeds had entries of over 100, a few plus on 200. The classes, 15 all told, are rather hard to follow. Entry qualifications in most cases are based on a dog's winning record prior to the closing date for entries for the show. Trophies at breed level were not in evidence. This is nicely taken care of in The Kennel Club's championship show regulations which state that: "There shall be three prizes in every class and the prize money must not be less than two pounds for first prize in all classes at the show - -" In the case of Cruft's, prizes were four, two and one pound for first, second and third placing respectively. This, no doubt, accounted for the appearance of the same dog in two or more classes within the breed. Veterinarian inspection of exhibits operates in a spot-check system. Dogs are selected at random throughout the show for examination and the veterinarians are, of course, on hand throughout the day to take care of complaints and emergencies. The show was remarkable for its scarcity of professional handlers. Most dogs are owner handled which is probably one of the reasons for the noticeable attitude of good sportsmanship in the ring. Once a breed winner had been chosen, however, he was returned to his bench and carefully guarded by his owner until group judging time.

By 6 p.m. all eyes were focused on the large center ring. Overhead spotlights were positioned, the V.I.P. stands were filled to capacity, carefully carpeted and decorated with hundreds of blooming daffodils the judging ring was readied to receive its first group competitors. Around ringside the crowd was 20 deep and above, thousands more watched and cheered from the gallery surrounding the great main hall. With pageantry and well-bred restraint that the English do to perfection the big show neared its climax. Group winners were greeted with thunderous applause and finally after the year's Supreme Champion, Alsatian Ramacon Swashbuckler was named, pandemonium broke loose. In a blaze of flashbulbs and smiles, handshakes and cheers, the big show was over and, as quickly as it had filled, the great hall cleared.

What is the strange magnetism of Cruft's? Why do pure-bred dog lovers travel literally from all the corners of the world to view this gigantic spectacle? And why do U.K. breeders leap at the chance to exhibit here once a dog has fulfilled the necessary entry qualifications? This year's entry of 8,431 was an all-time high.

The answer to the latter seems fairly obvious. This is a prestige show and it is an honor to be represented among the exhibitors. Then, of course, there is a chance to contact overseas buyers under the most favorable conditions. Dogs are an important export commodity and within the show area every service is laid on so that transfer and export formalities can be accomplished with a minimum of inconvenience. Also, because of the devalued pound, buyers are able to pick up good breeding and show stock at reasonable prices. But in our opinion this show's great attraction goes much deeper than a simple dollars and cents answer. Visitors, we believe, come because the U.K. is where so many of today's recognized breeds were evolved. This is the source. And despite the wartime depletion of their breeding stock the British have retained their breeding skills. Although many feign horror at their close breeding practises nevertheless, their method of matching type to type and deep culling of the inferior continues to produce many of the finest specimens seen in the dog show ring today — particularly in the terrier breeds. And after all, isn't this the way it all began?

Future charters planned

Dog fanciers visit to Cruft's is huge success

by JOAN MORDEN

England is not exactly renowned for its salubrious winter weather. So it was that 372 members of The Dog Fanciers Club prepared for the worst and arrived in London, bundled to the ears, to find spring. Under sunny skies the temperature was a mild 48 degrees. Yellow crocus shone in parks that were lush and green and full of songbirds. When we had left Kennedy airport the night before the chill factor was an uncomfortable minus 35. By comparison London seemed almost tropical. This delightful foretaste of spring continued throughout our five-day stay and, like the weather, the rest of the trip was pure gold.

This mammoth charter was organized by the Dog Fanciers Club and directed by good friends Bill and Ollie Moore, Travelmore Miniature Schnauzers, Trenton, N.J. Our final pre-trip bulletin had told us in very strong terms that the two TWA 707's would not wait on latecomers. Flight time was nine p.m. As early as noon on the day of departure small groups began arriving at Kennedy. Old friends met each other, new friendships were begun and by flight time a spirit of camaraderie and adventure prevailed. We were on our way to Cruft's, the world's oldest dog show and one of the largest. This year's entry was a record 8431.

Our group included judges, handlers, breeders and journalists. They came from every section of the U.S. as well as Canada, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and Hawaii. Our common bond was a love of pure-bred dogs and we were to see some great ones. For many of us it was our first charter experience. If we had any reservations about safety or comfort, they were quickly put to rest by the aircraft personnel. We were wined, dined, then watched a color movie. It was a very short night. At 4 a.m. eastern standard time we met an unbelievably brilliant sun at thirty-five thousand feet, below us the cloud cover fell away and we caught our first glimpse of the English coastline. Then it seemed only minutes until we landed smoothly at the London airport. We were shepherded quickly through the terminal and into coaches which were to take us directly to our hotel. Here we were assigned rooms and given a small brochure on the hotel which read in part: "We regret that animals are not allowed in the hotel." A rule that was not only broken many times, during our stay it was never kept! The lobby had the air of a 24 hour dog mart.

Each member of the tour was issued a badge to be worn conspicuously at all times. It was an identification and provided the entry to all events which had been scheduled for us. It bore our name and the inscription — DOG FANCIERS CLUB. One of our members, while ordering a drink at a bar, came under the close scrutiny of an Englishman. This chap read the badge, thought a minute then said: "Well, each to his own taste — personally I fancy girls!"

Bobby Laskey with piper and Air Canada stewardess on way to Cruft's.

But dog fanciers we were and bright and early the next morning we headed for the big show. Here we splintered into small groups, each to follow its chosen breeds through the day's judging. Many of us, in the tradition of ardent dog watchers, missed the last coach which was scheduled to return us to the hotel for dinner and stayed to watch group judging and eventually the selection of Cruft's 1971 Supreme Champion. Such truant behavior forced us to learn something of London's transit system. Thanks to the courteous personnel and excellent maps provided by this department we travelled faster and at about one tenth the tariff paid by our taxi-riding friends.

More than their dogs, the English love their Royalty. The greatest excitement of the first day of the show was provided when Her Royal Highness Princess Anne paid a visit to the show. Overhead spotlights shone, cameras flashed and a great gallery of onlookers followed the Princess and her company as they visited some of the exhibits. Then the Royal party took its leave and almost as an anti-climax the dog show continued.

Miraculously, by eight p.m. of the second day the big show was over — more than 8,000 dogs had been passed on and the Supreme Champion, Alsatian No. 7756, Ramacon Swashbuckler had been selected for top honors. Dogs of all sizes, shapes, colors and coats streamed out of the vast exhibition hall The Olympia. A cockney workman coming upon this wild outpouring of dog flesh was overheard to exclaim to his mate: "Crikey we've 'it the jungle!"

Two days of our visit still remained. Many used this time to call on nearby kennels. Others went on short side tours which had been arranged for us. A few really keen sight-seers flew to Paris for a day. We contented ourselves with a closer look at London. We toured it by day and after dark. We visited the wharf-side area of Old London where Oliver was filmed, fondled treasures in the antique markets, cruised the shops searching for goodies to take home, listened to the striking postal workers expound from their soapboxes in Stinkers' Corner and bought pink tulips from a 'flower girl'. We marvelled that so much of this beloved city had withstood the Blitz and we were shocked to learn that even now many of London's war wounds are still in the process of being healed.

Far too soon it was time to leave. With remarkable efficiency our directors organized departure procedure. Bags were packed, tagged and collected in the forenoon. Members of the tour gathered in the hotel dining room and were quickly put through preliminary departure formalities. Then there was a rush to the nearby shops to spend what little English money we had left. The hotel lobby became the gathering place for all manner of shopkeeper searching for his customers. We saw old dog prints, paintings, sculptures, jewellery and so forth change hands. Kennel owners arrived by the drove with puppies and adult dogs that were leaving for new homes in America. Although quarantine restrictions prevented our group from taking dogs into England with them, they certainly did not prevent them from taking them out. Altogether 60 dogs accompanied our flight on the return trip. There were Whippets, Chow Chows, Wire Fox Terriers, Poodles, Shih Tzu and Yorkshire Terriers to name but a few. The larger breeds were caged and travelled in the aircraft's hold. But the puppies and toys made the flight comfortably cuddled on their new owners' laps.

London airport provided the excitement of a security check. We were frisked and had to [illegible] through a weapons detecting gate before boarding. Then it was aboard for the homeward flight. Happy but tired and a little befuddled by two abrupt time changes within a week, we landed at Kennedy airport the evening of February 9. Our tour was at an end. It had swung a little, learned a lot and enjoyed every minute of it. Even now the Dog Fanciers have plans under way for future dog show charters — Windsor and Bermuda to name but two. Personally, we can hardly wait.

Pekingese Club

LONDON, ENGLAND — On Sunday, February 7, following Cruft's Dog Show, the committee of The Invicta Pekingese Club entertained overseas guests at a buffet luncheon party held in St. Mary Abbott's Church Hall. Among the hosts were well-known Canadians Nigel Aubrey-Jones and William Taylor who stated that this was the first such post-Cruft's party to be held and that they hoped other breed clubs would follow their example.

Hit of the afternoon was a centrepiece in the shape of a delightful pagoda which housed two toy Pekingese. These life-like little dogs had been made to order by Liberty's for the club. They were completely irresistible. They spent most of their time being passed from guest to guest. The pagoda was a magnificent affair designed and made by committee member Mrs. Palmer. The roof was a large lampshade-type frame covered in a blue Chinese brocade supported by brass posts which were topped with oriental-looking phineals. It was truly a gorgeous piece of work and the envy of all Pekingese fanciers present.

Among those present were Air-Commodore Sir Cecil Wright, President of The Kennel Club and Cruft's Best In Show judge, and Lady Wright, Canadian Kennel Club President Mrs. James (Hilda) Pugh as well as guests from Finland, Switzerland, U.S.A., the Channel Islands and Canada.

RECOGNITION: In appreciation of help and services "above and beyond the call of duty" the New Brunswick KC presented Ralston Purina of Canada Limited with a plaque. Purina representatives are well known for their willingness to give time and effort to dog shows, breed clubs and have rushed food to many kennels in trouble due to fire damage.

SPEAKER: Guest speaker at a meeting of the Toronto Anglers and Hunters Association, Mrs. Hilda Pugh, CKC President, was presented with a club pin, one of the very few non-members to be so honored.

"My lady dog-walker", she told Howard Thompson of the New York Times, "ran into somebody who told her about the show. All told, over recent years, this must be about my 94th comeback."

DIVERSIFIED: Irene Brown, sister of Dr. Ellen Brown is a winner in another direction, having come off with exciting wins in several recent cat shows.

Ruth and Red Lane of Centreville, Mass., known equally well to Canadians as well as Americans were also Cruft's trippers.

BREED NAMER: Rarely does one ever meet the individual who has actually named a breed. Noted judge Mme. Denise Nizet de Leemans of Belgium tells Dogs in Canada how she came to name the Bichon Frise. The breed, now coming into Canada, and expanding rapidly in the States, was thought to be Spanish but Spain declined the theory. Sailors from Spain used to bring them to other countries, simply calling them Bichon. The President of the Toy Club in Paris remarked to Mme. de Leemans that a proper name was essential. "Let's call them Bichon Frise — they're frizzy," she replied. She is pictured here following the match show of the Greater New York Bichon Frise Fanciers with, l. to r., Helen Temmel, owner of the Best French bred dog and Connie Busini, owner of the Best Belgian bred dog. The ribbons were from the Belgian club for the best Belgian and French imports. On the right is daughter Eliane de Leemans of New York.

He was a charter member and one of the founders of the St. Catharines District Kennel & Obedience Club, serving as an active member and for many years as President. Headhunters contribute to the ruining of breeds

Over the years dog judges seem to become known for their preferences. Thus they get dubbed: 'front man', 'gait man', 'coat man' and so on. Such identification may or may not be deserved and, in any case, causes no particular harm. But the fellow we would like to think is disappearing from the scene is the 'headhunter'.

Not that we have anything against good heads — on the contrary. But a good head is not an overdone head. The headhunter goes for extremes. He operates on the principle that if a little bit of something is good, twice as much is perfection. All too often the veterinarians' accusation that breeders are ruining dogs can be proven true. We don't blame the breeder. If he wants to win in the show ring and can only do so with a dog that has extreme head features, that is the way he'll breed them.

It has been suggested that the problem with many breed standards is that they were written by laymen and are interpreted by laymen. This is the reason given for so many breed features being carried to ridiculous extremes. In their report on breed standards as they relate to anatomical features the World Small Animal Veterinary Association included the suggestion 'every standard should have a recommendation to the judges of the breed'. In view of the fact that 94% of the revisions recommended for breed standards related to heads, it appears that this committee also has a thing against headhunters, although they express it in highly medical terms. The very fact that they have taken up the challenge of breed standards is heartening. We look forward to the day when veterinarians and breed clubs will work together on standard revisions. That will be the day when soundness and structure will count for a good deal more than a bulging eye placed on the exact corner of a head — and we'll be pleased to see it.

Short-sighted breeders cause unsold puppies problem

If fully adhered to, the code of ethics of the newly formed American organization, The Blue Ribbon Dog Club, will do much to improve the image of the dog breeder and exhibitor.

Before being accepted for membership, would-be members must agree to abide by the code. One clause states that a member agrees that he will breed no more dogs than he is able to place satisfactorily. We were always under the impression that this was the way any breeder worth the name would operate. Were, that is, until recently when we have heard so many crying the blues over unsold Christmas puppies — and inevitably blaming their loss of customers on the pet shops and puppy mills. Yet many of these same breeders are blithely proceeding with spring breedings and, once again, we predict that the pet shop will become the scapegoat.

The truth is that these breeders made an error of judgment in forecasting future sales and they are confusing two entirely different types of buyers. The serious breeder sells to the serious buyer; shopper we sometimes call him. This man checks the kennels, visits dog shows, talks to a veterinarian before coming to a decision. Then he orders his puppy from the breeder of his choice, often before the litter is even whelped. This is the ideal type of buyer and pretty well guarantees the right dog for his family. The pet shop caters to the impulse buyer. We doubt that breeders even want or would sell to this type of customer. Few that we know would be happy to have a little one carried off by a buyer who, on impulse and in a state of pre-Christmas euphoria buys his family a gift that lives.

True, the breeder can never hope to match the exposure of the pet shop nor the under-one-roof services that it provides. The pet shop has traditionally been a part of the community — and a pleasant one. It has been the subject of songs, the locale of childhood stories and a fascinating place to visit. What more natural than that a child would dream of someday rescuing that doggie from the window — and many do.

But the breeders do have a lot going for them. If they have been in dogs for any length of time they have word-of-mouth testimonials from delighted people they have sold dogs to in the past. If they have healthy stock and care for their dogs well they have earned a good reputation among veterinarians. They have the prestige exposure of dog shows with pre-show advertising paid for by the show giving club and a dog-oriented public that pays to come in and look at their dogs. And most important they can provide impressive pedigrees, guaranteed stock and a follow up consulting service.

As we see it, many breeders fail to take advantage of the great exposure they do have. We hear continual complaints about benched shows. In this prestige marketplace we see many dogs unattended, soiled cages, untidy benches, and indifferent attendants. In a day when dogs never had it so good medically, instead of counting their blessings, these breeders hop from veterinarian to veterinarian in search of lower fees. They are very vocal in their complaints against the profession as a whole and some individuals in particular. Small wonder that when the time comes, the maligned veterinarian hesitates to recommend them. And how many breeders adequately service the dogs they sell? Or guarantee their pet stock against disabling defects? Far too few.

If breeders are to compete successfully and obtain a premium price for their stock they must prove it is worth it. The day of the seller's market is temporarily at an end. Things will probably improve but, face it, right now that is the way it is. If enquiries have dropped off, it's cheaper not to breed than to raise a litter of unwanted puppies. It is far better to underestimate sales than to have the same tired classified advertisement appearing in the PETS FOR SALE column month after month. It is time to put the blame where it belongs — on overproduction at the breeder level rather than on the pet shops. Besides, if these stores are guilty of all the sins some claim, they won't be in business very long. Good breeders, it is hoped, will be around for many years to come.

Informative, Entertaining!
Your new format of Dogs in Canada is informative, well produced and above all, entertaining! You are to be congratulated for making such an excellent change.

I skim many newspapers in my work as a theatrical press agent and being a novice to the dog game (and a very keen one at that) I am always interested in "canine items" . . , enclose one which may be suitable material for reprint. Again my thanks for your efforts to keep us all so well informed. — Mrs. Julia D. Switzer, Vancouver, B.C.

Alberni Valley KC Juniors Worth Your Help
I would like to publicly thank all the wonderful people who have responded with such generosity to the requests of my Junior Kennel Club girls, supplying them with so much information on the various breeds (especially Labrador breeders). They still have three groups to go by summer, so if you should receive an enquiry, please take time to tell them about your breed. Believe me, every note and picture is recorded, copied and displayed.

I would appreciate dog books and magazines for these girls, club newsletters, etc.

The AVKC Juniors have no income, except what they earn themselves, selling tickets on Snoopys or pet baskets, car washes, etc. The money raised goes for breed Standards, the photocopy machine and a graduation picnic at the end of the year, so they would appreciate your extra generosity if you prepaid your parcels, sending them as printed matter.

These girls were a big help at the AVKC championship dog show, as runners, ran the information booth, conducted classes of school children and teachers around the show (the thank-you notes were delightful). They acted as ring stewards in the Junior Handling competition and will soon be capable of doing a first class job in the ring, despite their ages. They spend two hours each week, divided into an hour of dog talk on conformation, show rules, first aid, exams and other topics and another hour on handling, exchanging dogs, acting as stewards and judges.

In three years they have been totally independent financially and have received absolutely no financial help. At times this puts a dent into their ability, but they learn to make do. — Mrs. H. Bishop, instructor, P.O. Box 147, Port Alberni, B.C.

"Cover Dog" Westminster Winner
Many thanks for your helpful review of "This is the Shih Tzu" in your February issue. It is most appreciated.

You will be interested to know that our cover dog, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Chumulari Ying-Ying and his 12-month-old son, Chumulari Ho Ping, went Best Brace in the Toy Group. It was the first time they had been shown as a brace and I am sure the first Shih Tzu brace to be shown in North America.

The competition was hot as there were six crack braces in the judging of the Toy Group by Mrs. Yan Paul. I am told the applause for the Shih Tzu was tremendous and they made a big impact on the crowd. Roy Stevens handled. — Rev. D. Allan Easton, Wood-Ridge, N.J.

Have You Seen Donnie?
We would like to publicly thank Mrs. R. D. McLellan, Puli breeder of Hudson Heights, Que., for all the time and help she gave us in hunting for a lost Puli. A nine month male pup (ear tattoo, PFC) was lost in Montreal between the airport and its new home. Although all efforts in finding the pup have been unsuccessful as yet, Mrs. McLellan made many phone calls, checked animal shelters, laboratories and placed advertisements in the paper as well as making a five-hour trip in a snowstorm to check a lost dog.

The genuine concern shown by Mrs. McLellan over "puppy dog lost" is highly commendable and very much appreciated by us. I only wish we could have found Donnie. — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Healey, Hamilton, Ont.

Calling W-H Griffon Owners
In a recent article in the magazine Field and Stream mention was made of a breed of dog that apparently is used for hunting in Quebec — the Wire-Haired Pointing Griffon, originally imported from Europe.

I would like to find out more about this breed and it would be greatly appreciated if you might assist me in obtaining the information. Or if you have the names of any kennels that might tell me, this would be as useful. — James Bolding, Red Deer, Alta.

A Kennel Directory was promptly mailed.

Introduction to Obedience
Friendship paid off in big dividends with the promotion of a new era in obedience by the North York Obedience Club and the Queen City Associates.

The meet, held February 28 at the Richvale Lions Club, Richvale, Ont., (adjacent to Toronto) was verbally the "Pot of Gold" found at the end of the rainbow in gaining the essential ground experience so important to the newcomers in obedience, as well as those wishing to take a more official part by learning to become better trained stewards.

Judges Glen Johnson of Windsor and Hugh MacLean of Detroit and three sets of stewards spelled each other during the meet so that everyone gained in knowledge of the obedience exercises. It really kept things on the move.

The judges worked well together in alternating the Beginners-Novice Lead, Novice, Graduate Novice, Open and Utility classes. Ring patterns were quickly devised with each group. They gave encouragement and advice to all when handing out their score sheets. Exhibitors numbered 44 — Grace E. Probert, Willowdale, Ont.

The Tragedy of Toxic Sprays
We obtained our Australian Terrier, "Terrie", on April 6, 1[illegible]. From the moment she got into the car with us there was never any doubt that our choice of a devoted and loving friend was correct. At that time we lived in Ottawa. We have travelled to many parts of Canada and the United States and always by car and our dear friend accompanied us — no trouble, no complaint, just complete friendship. We spent some time on obedience work and Terrie obtained her CDX in March 1969, the first Aussie to get the degree in Canada. She never obtained the high points in any trial but at all times she was a credit to her breed.

Terrie developed uraemia. The dread disease may have been caused through an infection of Leptospirosis or it may have been caused by some toxic poison. Because Terrie was a home [illegible]

(not once in her lifetime did she stray off her property) we feel sure the poison, if this was the cause, may have been taken on our own property. We have never used such things as 2-4-D and whenever we sprayed the roses we ensured that Terrie was not present. However, could there have been any residue in the air? More than likely we think that it could have been spray used by neighbors.

The purpose of this message should be clear. Never use toxic sprays yourself and watch carefully to ascertain when your neighbor sprays and even more important – what with.

Terrie has now gone but she will always be with us in our hearts. — F. D. Bolton, Victoria, B.C.

Can't Working Mongrels Compete?

I have recently arrived to reside in Canada from England where I had been successfully training dogs for the past ten years.

Immediately on arrival I started looking for a Welsh Border Collie to train for obedience competition and was then informed that non-pure-bred dogs cannot be shown in trials in Canada. At first I thought it was a joke but now I think it's pathetic.

How can Canada, internationally known for its good dog breeding standards and attitude to dogs be so narrow minded concerning mongrels that someone who has a dog of doubtful parenthood but of exceptional working ability cannot contribute his talent to the obedience faction of dog shows?

I ask myself why such a situation exists; is it because:

1. Pure-bred dogs are considered too good to work beside mongrels?

2. Or that mongrels are considered such insignificant competition that they can be discounted?

3. Or are we pedigree dog breeders frightened of the competition we may have?

4. Or is it considered that mongrels will lower the tone of the dog show?

I don't really believe that these conditions and considerations exist so why do we practice this apartheid in dogs and is it really necessary?

How often in past years have I attended the greatest dog show in the world — Cruft's — to watch the best obedience dogs in Great Britain and seen listed below the name of an Obedience Champion's name, "Dam Unknown, Sire Unknown, Date of Birth Unknown", and how often I have seen dogs so listed go into the ring, work and then receive standing ovations from 2,000 or more pedigree dog owners for their standard and quality of work. The contribution these dogs make to obedience competition go to help make Cruft's the great show it is and England the great dog breeding country that it is.

$150 is the minimum cost of a pedigree dog. Can it reasonably be asked that a man pay this or more to compete in a competition where his dog's appearance does not count for even one half point.

A man who owns a mongrel realizes he cannot enter conformation classes and accepts it, but why should he be forced to accept a refusal to allow his dog entry into non-conformation classes.

If a judge marks trials on working ability alone as laid down by the CKC what does it matter what the dogs look like? If any dog is good enough to pass CD, UD, and even TD, then why deny it the opportunity because its dam or sire or both were not registered?

Consider what could happen if mongrels were to be admitted to obedience trials:

1. Because of increased competition working standards would improve.

2. Show entries would increase.

3. Small and struggling obedience clubs would flourish once more.

4. The mongrel dog owner would take more interest in his dog and show activity in general.

5. The registration of these dogs as "Class 2" or "Working Only" would increase CKC revenue.

6. There would be more competitions, more competitors, more judges, and more interest in obedience trials.

Not bad advantages are they?

Since I have been in Canada, I have been told by some very respected dog breeders "the dog breeders' responsibility is not only to their own breed but to all dogs". I am sure we all feel this, so let's put it into action and move to admit mongrels into obedience competition.

I appeal to dog breeders all over Canada, let's not practise a discrimination that, if it were practised on people, could lead to war; let's stop being hypocritical and pretending that the only dogs in the world worth counting are pedigreed, let's give obedience clubs and shows a new transfusion of life and new ideas, let's experience this additional talent for we can only gain by it.

So, come on all you obedience fans, let's make an attempt to better our standards and enjoyment by supporting this letter; write to the CKC and give them your views and write to me too.—K. G. Hudson, Box 2042, 6 Mulvihill Cresc., Arnprior, Ont.

Police & Protection Dog Club of Canada

Several associates of mine and myself are presently anticipating the forming of a Police and Protection Dog Club of Canada. Before doing so we would like suggestions, comments from some of your many readers on such a club. Anyone interested could write or call me at 699-0812 or John Wallace at 218 Westlake Ave., Toronto, 423-3490.

At present there have been no standards, in Canada, for various levels of achievement by any dog in protection work. The club's purpose would be to have standards set for various levels of protection work; to train in our methods of teaching dogs advanced obedience, tracking and protection work. There would be regular field training programs, films, lectures by guest speakers, veterinarians, breeders, trainers, etc. This would be a permanent club and not just a training class for a specified number of weeks. — Peter Schimmel, 106 Pickering St., Toronto

The Bouncing Beardie

In reference to your article on the Bearded Collie in the March issue — while Malcolm Stephen's article was very complimentary to our breed and accurate in most respects, he left the impression that Canadian Beardies are a Montreal-based breed.

In fact, Beardies cover the country from Montreal to Calgary, with just as many in the West as in the East. The great majority are in the Toronto area where the Bearded Collie Club of Canada is based. The club is delighted to offer information to anyone interested in the bouncing Beardie. — Carol Gold, President, Bearded Collie Club of Canada, 39 Claxton Blvd., Toronto 10, Ont.

Obedience

Send correspondence direct to Jake Giacomelli, 51 Wardrope St. S., Stoney Creek, Ont.

If someone had told me a few weeks ago that I could have sat in one position for a total of more than 14 hours over a two-day period, listening to one man talk, explain and demonstrate obedience, I would have said they were absolutely nuts!

Well, believe it or not, I did just that; along with about 80 other obedience enthusiasts.

Yup! Our club shot their bolt and flew the inimitable William Koehler from Ontario, Calif., to give our club members, and a few invited guests who use his method, a two day seminar on obedience they will never forget!

The chief reason the seminar wasn't thrown open to the public was that quite often so much valuable time of a speaker is wasted by — "but my dog won't heel off lead" or "my dog won't come when he's called" or "my dog lags" — and as a result you miss receiving a great deal of obedience information the man has to offer.

Many of the questions such as the ones above are very simply solved by basic obedience. In other words, if they'd listened to their instructors and followed their advice those questions need never be asked. Mainly for this reason the attendance was restricted.

The man is absolutely fascinating! His dog and animal sequences for the Disney movies need no embellishing from me — if you've seen them you know they are a thing of spell-binding beauty! His obedience books are the most explicit, easy to follow and the most result getting I've ever tried, and as for Mr. Koehler himself, I am sure he is an Obedience legend in our time.

I have attended a few obedience clinics over the years and have enjoyed them all. Each person or persons who gave the clinics had something to offer and were indeed helpful to many persons. However, from my own personal interest, I have attended nothing that held my attention or interested me so much as "Bill Koehler's" presentation to our club!

I found myself so avidly interested and concentrating so hard to every truth and enlightenment he was explaining that at the end of two full days found myself emotionally spent but very satisfied.

When Bill Koehler started to talk, he said "I'm not here to dazzle you with my footwork, but hope that before I leave I shall have imparted some truths and ideas that will help you with your obedience."

At the start of the first coffee break, around 10:30 a.m. of the first day, several of the invited guests came over to me with stars in their eyes and begged me to thank our club so much for having given them the opportunity to attend the clinic.

Think I'm just now beginning to understand a little of how the fervor in an old time revival meeting got people all stirred up. Because that is exactly what Koehler did to us.

William Koehler doesn't come cheap, but believe me he'll be worth every cent you may have to put out to get him — and he's not that easy to get. It took us almost two years of trying before we were able to have Mr. Koehler conduct an obedience seminar for us.

Each time he conducts a seminar the demand for this man increases tenfold, so hurry while he may still be available.

I know that if he's ever around these parts again I will certainly do my utmost to attend.

The first day was devoted to the complete Novice routine as well as some unusual bits of dog truths. Inwardly I thought — "gosh, this will probably be boring — after all we've read and re-read his book, as well as train by his method" — oh boy! What a surprise I got! The first day just whetted my appetite!

What an absolute fountain of knowledge this man is on obedience! He was so pleasant and easy to listen to. His mimicry of the whiners and "but that doesn't work on my dog" handlers had everybody in absolute stitches!

His command of the English language is worth listening to in itself. While sitting there hour after hour listening, I got the feeling that this man could be successful at any endeavor he might wish to try!

Not once during all his intensive delivery did I get any suggestion of boastfulness. He gave the impression of confidence and assuredness of a man who has done much in dogs over the years and is still doing much.

I can only say in parting that I feel grateful and much richer for having met MR. WILLIAM KOEHLER!

Progressive KC Inc. news

President Stan Whitmore has been elected President for a second term, as was Secretary and Show Secretary Al Lake. Mr. Whitmore has a number of judging engagements, including the recent Sportsmen's Show, and shows in Belleville, Penticton, Newfoundland and British Columbia. Mrs. Eve Whitmore also judged at the Sportsmen's Show and Barrie.

Another PKC member, Mrs. Yat Paul, has judging assignments which have included a Pekingese Specialty in Joliet, Ill., where the entry was 76, the Sportsmen's Show, Westminster and in Vancouver.

This long-established club now has vacancies for new members. Mrs. Sheehan, 231 No. 7 Hwy., Thornhill, Ont., telephone Thornhill 889-4774, is the contact. Educational programs at club meetings followed by lunch are regular events.

Among show activities, a highly successful Sanction Match was held February 7. Plans are for a Puppy Match during the summer and a point show June 5. Among newest members are Dr. John Mollard and Mrs. Mollard, the former a veterinarian.

Show Superintendent Ron Barr has imported a Beagle bitch from California.

One man tax fighter wages war on licenses

HALIFAX — Halifax County Councillor Ralph McCabe has been waging a one-man battle in attempting to have the dog-licensing laws revoked in the county. No luck to date. The revenue, according to the Mail Star is sufficient to cover the salaries of 16 county councillors. Mr. McCabe particularly pleaded to have the tax lifted for dogs who assist blind persons and work on farms. He is a Doberman owner who shows occasionally.

ties at this year's Westminster Kennel Club's show in New York City, where they won the Non-Sporting Group Brace.

Westminster '71 proved most successful for the three Chows owned by Herb Williams and Fred Peddie, with Lidice's Ko Ko taking Best of Winners and thus completing his American championship and Lidice's Ki Ki taking Winners Bitch and Best Opposite Sex over Specials while our Buda went Reserve Winners Dog.

Westminster marked the retirement of our brace, and our plans now are to complete Ki Ki's U.S. title. Our main purpose in presenting the brace was to show both the public and the judges that Chows are friendly, do get along with people and each other, as well as being very trainable.

Ch. Foo H'Sing's Mister Lim Wu, better known as "Buda", was purchased in 1969, and since has established an impressive puppy career by taking 18 BCBP in Groups and six BCBP in Shows, as well as taking two Puppy Sweepstakes. We feel justly proud of our young man who is well on his way to his U.S. title also.

Buda's American, Canadian and British judges and friends are establishing him a fine reputation for quality, showmanship and temperament. We hope for a successful and productive life for him.

Conveyance of thanks

from REG. P. SPARKES

I want to express my deep appreciation for the many letters, Christmas cards and New Year greetings from so many of my good friends who, like myself, are interested in the breeding of our canine subjects. These messages were enormously comforting and encouraging to me during my recent sojourn in hospital.

I am now on the road to complete recovery and am taking up my many activities such as judging, and the handling of our stud dogs in the kennels. Those of you who are in the habit of sending or bringing your females for breeding purposes know full well that I have always given my personal supervisory attention to each and every detail. And this is again my purpose.

Our studs are in top form and condition and your desires in this matter will receive the best of my personal attention.

tries, and the largest in the history of Afghan competition in New York) Ch. Kophi's Apollo placed third in a class of 38, after recently picking up four majors in American shows. Owners are Miles and Greta Phillips of Oakville, Ont. A Kophi puppy now living in Washington was second in a class of 19. Afghans bred by Miss Vera Hampton of Beloeil, Que., won Novice class, both male and female.

A splendid collection of trophies accompanied Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Hyde of Phelpston, Ont. on their return home. At the Bull Terrier Club of America specialty their White Bull Terrier, Harper's Hemstitch took BB and their Tantrums Trad Lad was BOS. Both owner-handled.

A pair of Canadian Chow Chows scored handsomely. Lidice's Ko Ko went WD to earn his American title and Lidice's Ki Ki was WB. The duo then went on to win Best Brace in the Non-Sporting Group. Owners are Frederick Peddie and Herbert Williams of Toronto. More joy. Their young Buda went RWD. "Why don't you give them the table as well," joked a steward. "They've taken everything else!"

The busload of Boxer and other breeders who made the New York trip by bus had plenty to celebrate. In the Westminster competition the outstanding Ch. (Can. & Am.) Scher-Khoun's Shadrack, bred and owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ben deBoer, Thornhill, Ont., was given 20 minute's consideration by the judge before giving the nod for BB to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Hamilburg's Ch. Salgray's Double Talk.

In competition with 300 dogs at the 28th annual Specialty held by the American Boxer Club Inc., Canadians again made a sweep. In the 20 classes with a possible 80 placings Canadian bred and/or sired entries came off with 20.

Tayside's Esquire of Northwood, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Laing of Toronto, placed third in Junior Puppy Dog, fawn. Winner of the Senior Puppy Dog fawn class was Aracrest's Jered, owned by Bud Addington and Mr. and Mrs. J. V. McGriskin of Pickering, Ont. Scher-Khoun's Meshack, owned by the deBoers and handled by Shirley, was Winner, Open Dogs Class, moving to WD and BW, in a total of 103 adult males and 118 females.

First Open Dogs, fawn, was Memory Lane's Golden Falcon, bred and owned by Miss Vera Bartol of Thornhill, Ont. Owner bred and handled, Dark Storm of Haviland went third in Open in the Brindle bitch class. Owners are Mr. and Mrs. Stan Whitmore of East Thornhill, Ont.

Eight of Shadrack's offspring and eight of Michael Millan's noted Ch. Millan's Fashion Hint either won or placed in their classes.

Topping this year's ABC Specialty was Ch. Nadora's Black Lace, owned by Mrs. Josephine M. Waters, Evergreen, Col., with Dick Baun handling.

As far as can be ascertained, in the past four years three Canadian-bred and owned dogs, Fashion Hint, Meshack and Double Talk have won WB at the ABC Specialty. Canadian handler Mrs. deBoer guided two.

The Boxer bus trip was a great success, with Trailways and their driver highly recommended on this first venture. It was a safe, comfortable, happy way to travel, and the driver not only kept an eye on his charges throughout the show time, but became a dog show fan as well. The company has expressed an interest in transporting exhibitors to more shows this year.

Television coverage of the Westminster "affair" was exceptionally good this year and aired widely and frequently, including several of the top winners and handlers appearing on the David Frost Show along with such celebrities as Danny Kaye. Exceptionally good publicity for Canadian dogdom was the international televising of the Terrier Group judging in which two Canadian dogs competed and the Brace judging which included the winning Chows.

In the Field

POINTERS

Address correspondence on Pointers in the field to Wm. McClure, Box 15, Manotick, Ont.

Here in Eastern Ontario we were enjoying what the papers glowingly described in December as an "old fashioned winter". By January it got so old fashioned that the record books were consulted and goals set. Yesterday concluded February and we have broken more records than anyone has looked up. Over 145" of snow have fallen as one miserable blizzard after another has pelted us into a community suffering an epidemic of cabin fever.

The dogs are buried in the new kennel, their view of the back door blocked by a six foot drift. They can still hear the kids washing the feed pans but must operate entirely by ear. Their view of the manor house has been obscured for some months.

Usually that unruly mob can spot a stray dog patrolling the highway and led by maestro "King" commence their vocal retribution directed at the tramp. Not so this winter. The vagrants parade up and down and into the yard marking the corners of the house with their signature unchallenged by the sightless pack. If the snow ever stops or melts, a whole new world of sight will greet the gang.

Not so "Prince". We left him in North Carolina in January with a professional trainer. This was our first venture into hired training so we approached the deal with a certain apprehension. We miss Prince. He certainly added to the choir with an unmistakeable tenor acquired no doubt from his papa the maestro. During the last 14" snow fall I gazed out the window on a winterwonderland and remarked in solemn tones "Poor Prince". The cry went up in front of the fireplace "Poor Prince my foot". The occupants of the manor were certain that our young hopeful was gamboling around in the Southeastern sun while we made out cheques to his trainer. The snow shovelling team had just forked out 11 tons from the uncovered dog runs so we're well aware where Prince was getting his fun in the sun money.

Today the pupils's first report card arrived appended to the monthly statement. I quote "Prince did a fine job in South Carolina and Georgia, pointing wild quail. Shot birds over him in South Carolina and he retrieved real nicely." "Have more to say after awhile".

Get the shovels out gang. Prince has been on a trip to Georgia and the bills are in. It was 68° in the Carolinas yesterday and I'll bet he was out sporting again. Please Terry Cleary of Stormy Kennels — don't have more to say after awhile as I am green with envy.

Increasingly, Canadian dog people are making use of the opportunity to have their dogs worked through our tough winters in the South. Mr. George Bailey, popular pro who summers in Hemmingford, Que., fills out a string of Eastern Canadian dogs for a winter in Georgia. Owners can expect that their dogs will have ample opportunity to see both native and released quail. If desired they may be entered in southern field trials. The latter course however, would obtain only if one claimed an outstanding animal as the competition is keen on the Southern circuit. Fundamentally putting your dog with a pro means work on handling, breaking to wing and shot and associated yard training. Many old time dog men claim quail are the best birds on which to finish a dog. The Carolinas, Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama have abundant populations of quail. In addition of course the trainee utilizes released birds for maximum benefit to polish up a dog on point.

The cost of winter work in the South varies from $40-$70 a month for room, board and schooling. Veterinary costs are added and side trips such as Princy's to Georgia are charged extra and divided amongst the owners of dogs making the trip. Field trial entries and handling fees are added as well as shared expenses for the journey to and from the trial. Different pros make different arrangements on such charges. If your dog wins a money stake you get the ribbon and usually the trainer the purse.

A trainee should be selected with care taking into account the needs of your dog and your personal preferences. Most are honest and reliable as in any business. It is preferable to visit the trainer and discuss your expectations and match them with the reality of time and ability. If you wish your prospect steadied to wing and shot, taught to handle to commands etc. then it is almost mandatory that you spend a day or so with the trainer when you pick up the dog. You can thus become familiar with his commands and manner of handling your dog. There are professionals who specialize in certain aspects of training including problem dogs.

Hiring a pro is an expensive undertaking. Many years ago when I asked a prominent breeder what criteria he used to determine when he would send a dog with a professional field trainer he replied "when I have a good dog". I guess all I could add would be "and when a good dog is likely to be buried under 145" of snow!"

Don't have too good a time Prince. Your puritanical master can hardly raise another shovelful of snow over the banks. Besides, young "Dash" is developing into a fine tenor. Your place in the choir will have to be earned back. Auditions start in May.

SETTERS

Irish

Gertrude W. Drew — Ch. Rockherin Rebecca made a name for herself and for the breed when she triumphed as BIS at the Irish Setter Club of America specialty held in New York, February 14.

Of considerable importance is the fact that this show boasts the largest entry on record. Not only is this true of America but probably the world. Some 247 Irish Setters presented a scene of splendor and magnificence for these dogs are chosen from the very best the country has to offer.

A win at a show such as this is almost beyond comprehension and what makes Rebecca's success a little more impressive is the fact that she is a bitch and bitches seldom defeat the males when it comes to the topmost honors. The male is more imposing, having greater size and a little more flash. Among this gigantic entry were 38 specials, many of them with a long list of Best in Show wins.

Frank and Katherine Wheatley of South Rockwood, Mich., are the breeders of Rebecca. She is owned by Mr. J. Brewbaker of Detroit but has been shown throughout her career by her breeder, Mr. Frank Wheatley. She has brought great honor to her owner, and more especially to her breeders for they are the ones who must have the knowledge and understanding of pedigrees as well as the discernment and ability to pick the good ones.

The New York Times interviewed Mr. Brewbaker, Mrs. Wheatley and Judge Lee Schoen of New York City, one of the greatest judges of the breed, a former great breeder of many outstanding animals. He stated: "Rebecca pleases me in every respect. She moves beautifully and is the most nearly perfect specimen I have ever seen."

Ch. Innisfail Flashback Design, a beautiful dog from California, was placed BOS.

The sire of this lovely bitch is Rockherin Flynn, also bred by the Wheatleys. It is interesting to note that Flynn carries the bloodlines of two of Canada's greatest Setters. He is a grandson of Conifers Lance who won BIS at the Chicago International in 1961 as well as many other important wins. He was bred by Mrs. Bev Rivett of Mississauga, Ont., and is a grandson of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Wildair Visionary Hour (Bunty) who in five shows made her American championship. She won BOS at the Chicago International and the Indianapolis specialty and completed her points at Toledo, Dayton and Crown Point. This was in 1956. She was bred by the writer and was later sold to Mr. Fred Hunt, American breeder and judge, and then sold to Mr. and Mrs. Wheatley.

I have nothing but praise for the Wheatleys. They are careful breeders, they love and work hard with their dogs. Frank is an excellent handler. Best of all, they are wonderful sports. In the many years I have known them I have never heard them malign a breeder or his dog. This to me is the epitome of good sportsmanship.

Brian Taylor — The Irish Setter Club of Canada annual awards for 1970 are announced:

Best of Breed, T. Threlkeld, Halifax, N.S., Ch. (Can. & Am.) Draherin Bachelor Boy. Breeder of the Year: Mrs. K. M. Cole, St. George, Ont., Ch. Fairbairns Copper Coin and Ch. Fairbairns Futurity of Skylon. Champion Dog: Mrs. R. Gilham, Brantford, Ont., Ch. Brandyrun's County Cork. Champion Bitch: Mr. J. M. Allen, Burlington, Ont., Ch. Shanganagh's Moria, CD. Obedience Award, CD: Mrs. Cole, Ch. Big Red Regina, CD, Canadian Bred, Von Hobbs Trophy: Mrs. Allan, Ch. Shanganagh's Moira, CD.

These awards are being presented at the annual awards dinner this month.

SPANIELS

English Springer

David M. Phillips — The English Springer Spaniel Club of Manitoba, formed in September, 1970, started off with a successful informal trial and pheasant derby.

At present our membership consists of 30 active members and is growing rapidly. Since formation we have held informal trials on the second Sunday of each month and just recently started grooming and handling classes.

In January, the club entered eight dogs in the Ft. Garry KC Sanction match. Member Bill Paulishyn and his Cynthia Moorcliff of Agassiz placed BB, Group 1st and Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show; Shirley Robertson and Felspar of Muckle-Luk placed BOS, Springer class. Paulishyn also placed BCBP, Group. This was the first time the club had entered any match and a long while since so many Springers had been seen at one time at a match.

The club is holding a Booster show at the Mid Canada show in Winnipeg next month and intend to hold either a Sanction match or dog show in the Fall, and possibly a licensed field trial in September. As interest grows, the club plans to become more active in all aspects of the breed. Emphasis is being placed on a dual-purpose Springer. Breeding is being done to bring out the natural abilities of the breed in both show and field and some recent litters appear very promising.

Anyone wishing information may contact the writer at 66 Buckingham Rd., Charleswood 20, Man.

At the January Fun Trial three puppies bred by James Mason of Transcona, Man., took top places: Cynthia Moorcliff of Aggasiz was first in the Puppy Stakes and fourth in the Shooters Stake. Startrek Moorcliff of Aggasiz was fourth in the Puppy Stakes and second in the Shooters Stake. Ringstar Moorcliff of Aggasiz placed second in the Puppy Stakes and third in the Shooters Stake. The pups are out of the English import, Moorcliff Starstruck and sired by Boots the Fourth.

BASENJIS

Within the past decade a small number of young Basenji dogs have been presented to veterinary hospitals in the United States, suffering from a severe unremitting anemia. After approximately six months of age owners notice that the affected animals tire easily and sleep a great deal. Most succumb when approximately two years of age.

A study of the problem was made at Cornell University, New York State Veterinary College, Ithaca, N.Y., under a grant from The Seeing Eye, Inc., through Morris Animal Foundation. John Tasker, DVM, PhD, was in charge, assisted by Gene P. Seacy, DVM.

Early in the course of the investigation it was learned that the anemia was the result of accelerated destruction of red blood cells. It soon became apparent that this destruction was not due to any of the common causes of such diseases in dogs. A congenital erythrocyte defect, that is some abnormality of the red cells present at birth, was then considered as a possible cause of the premature destruction.

Red blood cells utilize glucose in order to produce energy. Glucose is transported into the cells and is degraded to yield compounds which are necessary for the maintenance of normal cellular function and integrity. It was decided to compare the ability of the red blood cells from anemic Basenji dogs to utilize glucose and generate energy, with those of normal

THE PRESIDENT ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

The 82nd annual general meeting of The Canadian Kennel Club, held at the King Edward Sheraton Hotel, Toronto, on February 27th, is now history. It was a good meeting in terms of attendance and in the nature of the discussions which took place. It was not a happy meeting however, in the sense that the members attending were obliged to receive and consider the Club's annual financial statements for the year ended December 31, 1970 (published in the last issue of the magazine), which statements indicated a far from healthy financial situation for the Club.

That the Club's financial situation must now be considered critical stems from four main factors:

(1) The decision to computerize the Club's registration records, the failure of that program, and the money that has been expended in that effort.

(2) The failure of the voting members in 1969 to respond favourably to the Board's proposals to institute a realistic scale of fees to replace one that had remained virtually unchanged for 17 years.

(3) The necessity to continue operating the Club throughout almost all of last year on the old scale of fees.

(4) A considerable decrease in the number of applications for individual registration and transfer over the last three months.

As to the first of the factors stated above, I can say that at the annual general meeting the Club's solicitor reported in detail the present standing of the legal steps we have taken against Grace Computer Services.

Regarding item (2) above, I would say that had the new scale of fees come into effect in 1969, all, or almost all of the loss ($103,000) which we sustained on our operations last year, could have been avoided, and the Board of Directors would have had at its disposal funds to enable it to increase the personnel in our Registration Division so that the Division would have been in a better position to cope with the backlog of accumulated applications which had been brought to Toronto from Ottawa, the volume of which was substantially increased by the failure of the computerization program. Instead of being in that position, your Board last year was compelled to restrict spending, both at the Registration Division and the head office, to a degree which restricted the provision of services so essential to an efficient operation.

The decrease in the number of applications submitted to the Registration Division over the last three months is a discouraging feature in that we had anticipated that the new schedule of fees would produce revenue to enable us to augment our staff and in general, improve our services to breeders and clubs. There may be those of our members who feel that it is pointless to submit applications until we have processed those already on hand. This attitude is defeating the proper operation of the entire system since, if the members do not submit applications in the normal way, we certainly will not have the funds to process those that are on hand or to improve the service on future applications. Moreover, except for the priorities that we have already established and about which I have provided information previously, applications will be processed in the order in which they are received, so it must therefore be obvious that the later the breeder submits applications, the longer he will have to wait for his certificates.

If members are withholding litter applications on the grounds that either the sire or the dam have not been registered because of an application which has yet to be processed, I would suggest that the litter application be completed and a note attached, giving information as to the breeder, sire, dam, date of birth, etc. of the sire and/or the dam, and this be attached to the litter application which may be submitted immediately to the Registration Division.

There are also undoubtedly, members who are of the opinion that they cannot submit individual applications until they receive their litter certificate. It has been previously pointed out that a breeder may submit individual applications, either with the litter application, or at any time after he has submitted the litter application.

We are not unaware that the Government (Department of Agriculture) has been approached with a suggestion that it should take over the administration of our registration records. Officials of the Department met with our Board of Directors at its annual meeting last month, and in the course of discussions the following was made clear to us:

(1) The Government of Canada does not conduct the registration records for any active live stock association.

(2) The Canadian National Live Stock Records is not a branch of the Government, its employees are not civil servants, the Department does not administer the affairs of the Records Office, and the financial support which the Government provides the Live Stock Records office is reviewed annually.

(3) The Department considers that it is the responsibility of each association incorporated under the Live Stock Pedigree Act to conduct its own affairs and to properly administer its registration records in accordance with the Act and its By-laws.

Last year when the Board was considering all avenues it might take with a view to resolving our registration difficulties, it directed the Secretary to seek from the Canadian National Live Stock Records information as to possible re-affiliation. In a reply which we received (and from which I quote the following) it was made abundantly plain that before re-affiliation could take place, the following would have to be considered:

1. The Canadian Kennel Club honouring the present outstanding account with Canadian National Live Stock Records.
2. A full discussion with responsible officials of the Canadian Kennel Club, senior officials of the Canada Department of Agriculture and a sub-committee of the Canadian National Live Stock Record Committee prior to re-signing Articles of Affiliation.
3. An inspection of current Canadian Kennel Club records and breeders accounts by the Canadian National Live Stock Record sub-committee.
4. The possibility of acquiring increased office space in our present building and the cost involved.
5. The cost of re-designing Canadian National Live Stock Records layout.
6. The cost of acquiring files, furniture and equipment to maintain Canadian Kennel Club records.
7. The acquiring and training of competent personnel.
8. Examination of Canadian Kennel Club procedures and requirements in depth as a means of increasing unit production per employee.
5. The amending of either the withdrawal clause in the Articles of Affiliation or the signing of some other agreement by the Canadian Kennel Club and Canadian National Live Stock Records whereby Canadian National Live Stock Records would not be left with a large unoccupied area of a building if and when the Canadian Kennel Club decided to again withdraw from affiliation."

Any suggestion that the Canadian National Live Stock Records itself should undertake to assist us financially is neither fair nor reasonable. On a vote of our membership we voluntarily withdrew from that organization and there is no reason, even if re-affiliation was to take place, that we should expect the other affiliated associations to bear any part of the cost to re-establish our registration records in Ottawa, to finance the cost of purchase of equipment, to bear the cost of training a new staff to process our applications, and the cost to bring our backlog of applications up-to-date.

In the efficient functioning of a registration office there are two requisites, first, trained, efficient staff, and secondly, proper equipment. In our Registration Division today we have a small but dedicated staff. Through experience they have learned what must be done, and to consider the question of relocating the registration office and starting again with a new staff is not practical. In anticipation that the new schedule of fees would provide the necessary funds, the Board of Directors in January authorized the addition of six persons to that staff at the Registration Division. How long we can retain them and add still more to enable the Registrar to get to a point where the Registration Division will be providing an acceptable service, will depend on our future financial position.

What are some of the problems the Registrar had to contend with during the past year?

(1) Insufficient staff.

(2) Inadequate equipment.

(3) The necessity of up-dating manual records for all the registrations that had been put through during the period when we were endeavouring to produce certificates by computer. This has slowed down the processing of applications; however, much of that posting of records has been acoomplished and we will feel the benefits of it from now on.

In late December new equipment was brought into the Division and that too is proving very helpful in creating an efficient operation, but we need more!

Since taking over as Registrar in mid-October of last year, Mr. Holdham, the new Registrar, has completely reorganized the Registration Division, and I can truthfully say that the production figures for the month of February are the most encouraging we have seen since the records were brought to Toronto.

Since the Club was founded in 1888 it has passed through some trying periods. The first 27 years of the Club's existence were most precarious and it was not until the Club obtained incorporation under the Live Stock Pedigree Act in 1915 that it was placed on the solid basis from which it has since progressed. In the period of 1945 to 1953 the Club experienced financial difficulties, and as a matter of fact, at the end of 1952 the net worth of the Club (its assets less its liabilities) was below the current reserve. It came out of those difficulties, not because of help from outside the dog game, but because of the determination of the dog fanciers themselves. Notwithstanding all its imperfections and the mistakes it has made, the Club has served a useful purpose and it will continue to do so if we ourselves unite now in taking those steps necessary to ensure that it will continue to operate. Make no mistake, we cannot expect others to do what we ourselves are not prepared to do.

What can we do?

(1) Breeders should put in their applications and fees without delay.

(2) If any individuals or clubs wish to help financially at this time, they should communicate with their local Director or with the Secretary-Treasurer.

The evidence of support and concern expressed at the annual general meeting is now taking tangible form. Amongst the clubs and inidividuals from whom financial support has been received there was a letter from the Trustees of the J. A. H. Irving Trophy Fund (Mr. Irving was for many years Director for British Columbia) with which they enclosed a cheque representing the balance of monies in the fund. We were asked to apply the funds towards the purchase of equipment for our Registration Division.

This is our Club — yours and mine. It enjoys world wide esteem. We cannot redo the past but we can ensure the future. As I have said before: "It is in your hands."

Mrs. Hilda Pugh
President.

It will save time in processing applications and the time required to issue certificates if, where a dog is the property of a partnership (whether the partnership is a member of the CKC or not), all co-owners sign applications.

dogs. It was found that the affected red cells did not adequately degrade glucose and produce energy.

Enzymes are responsible for the breakdown of glucose in the erythrocytes hence it was necessary to evaluate the function of each individual enzyme. One of the these (pyruvate kinase) was found to be deficient in the red blood cells from anemic Basenji dogs. Similar studies on the red cells from normal parents of anemic puppies revealed that they too had inadequate pyruvate kinase activity although not as severe an impairment as found in their anemic offspring.

This study has therefore demonstrated that congenital hemolytic anemia in Basenji dogs is due to a deficiency of red cell pyruvate kinase. This results in impaired energy production and premature destruction of the cells.

BELGIAN SHEEPDOGS

The fourth annual specialty of the Belgian Sheepdog Club of Canada held in Kitchener, Ont., drew the largest entry of Belgian Sheepdogs in the history of CKC competition. The entry of 34 would have been larger still had not misfortunes precluded seven planned entries. Competitors came from Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Quebec and Ontario. The benches were impressively decorated and for the second consecutive year won the Best Decorated Benches award both days at the Kitchener-Waterloo all breed shows. Every exhibiting family was presented with a piece of handcrafted pottery made especially for the club.

At the annual meeting the following officers were elected: President, W. Kennedy; Vice President, W. English; Secretary-treasurer, L. Stanbridge. The latter and S. Rentschler also serve as Directors.

The club is now planning the next specialty for November.

BOUVIER DES FLANDRES

Janice Gosnell – Although show news is normally confined to the official Show and Trial Results, the following is something special. Congratulations are in order to Bob Moore of the Windsor, Ont. area for the tracking title won by his male Bouvier, Waldo. This, I believe, is the second Bouvier TD in Canada. Waldo completed his course in four minutes, the fastest time recorded that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dyk (Norlock, Reg'd.) attended the annual general meeting of the American Bouvier Club held in Philadelphia, Pa. They were impressed with the warm, friendly feeling of the entire club. The meeting was mainly a social get-together with installation of new officers and dinner. A nice custom: when a club member's dog completes an American championship or an obedience title, the owner is given a small silver medallion such as is worn on a charm bracelet. For a championship the club crest is given; for a CD, a medallion inscribed "CD"; for a CDX a miniature high-jump and CDX charm and for a UD a miniature dumbell and UD medallion. I have met one member who has the complete set and it makes the loveliest charm bracelet and a wonderful memento.

Next month I'll have a report on a talk with Miss Edmee Bowles of the well-known duClos des Cerberes kennel in the States, concerning the breed history. She is writing a book on the subject and has uncovered some facts largely unknown. If you have books with bits of Bouvier history do send the items on to Miss Bowles at Collegeville, R.D. 2, Pa. 19426, U.S.A.

Meantime here's a breed columnist's cry for help — SIN — send in news!

BOXERS

A. Close – When the Western Canada Boxer Club held its annual meeting January 21 the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Eileen Fraser; 1st Vice-President, Robert Verhulst; 2nd Vice-President and Treasurer, Walter Pinsker; Secretary, Mrs. Pat McCormack; Show Secretary, Mrs. Sheila Verhulst.

The meeting was followed by the annual banquet, attended by more than 90. The yearly Challenge trophies were awarded, with Best of Breed (Highest Winning Boxer in B.C.) going to Ch. (Can. & Am.) Appianways Roguelita, owned by Reg Wishlow. Best of Opposite: Ch. Rodonna's El-Segundo, owned by Mrs. Donna Cole. Best Puppy (Top winning Boxer puppy in B.C.), Ch. Scher-Khouns Autumn Concerto, owned by Mr.

COLLIES/SHELTIES

Ariel Sleeth, well-known breeder, judge, horsewoman and farm owner reports on the cross-country activities of these breeds. Send your news items to her direct: Sovereign Kennels, R.R. 6, Kingston, Ont.

It is comforting to know, although I write this as the wind blows and the snow drifts get higher and higher, the scene will change come time to read this column in print. Runs six feet high have diminished to a couple of feet above the snow. All of us across Canada seem to have suffered a particularly hard winter with heavy snow and severe storms.

I do not want you to think I have become a devotee of woman's lib but this month I would like to sing the praises of and point out the importance of the female to the breeder. It is the stud dog who is ballyhooed, exhibited to the Collie fancy and credited with siring x number of champions but it is the bitch who gives these pups an equal number of genes, she is the "producer". No amount of good breeding is going to gain the coveted title of champion if the bitch is not steady in the nest or able to raise her puppies until they are on their own. "Bottle Fed Champions" are few and far between.

Anyone who has been an around-the-clock substitute with bottle or tube feeder, for a brood bitch with no milk, will loudly proclaim the value of a good brood bitch in the practical sense. Harold Warner compiled a list of all American champions and found that most of the great sires made their record from the offspring of an extremely limited number of matrons, quite often just one or two.

When you are contemplating using a bitch that is a brood matron only in the sense that she lacks show quality, think of that record.

It is with profound gratitude to a breeder who refused to breed my first bitch that my interest in Collies and Shelties has been so rewarding for the past 20-odd years.

My first bitch was a pet puppy we decided to breed when she matured. I wonder how many start in this manner. When I was referred to a kennel with stud dogs and took my bitch, the breeder very kindly pointed out that my bitch should not be bred but was a wonderful pet. He took the time to show me a bitch who was caring for a litter of puppies at the time. He pointed out the qualities she had that other good brood matrons should have. He took the time to show me some of her matured offspring in his kennel and even my inexperienced eye could grasp the difference in breeding any bitch and a brood matron. Our bitch was spayed and every effort was made to secure this bitch. Our efforts were rewarded when this breeder became ill and was forced to cut back drastically. Although well on in age she produced a champion for us in each of the three litters she had at our kennel.

She was the dam of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Sovereign Dougie's Choice who won his entire American championship under specialty judges with three major wins and his Canadian championship under all-rounders as well as winning Best of Winners at Westminster with an entry of 127.

Most of the successful "old timers" in Collies and Shelties have put their thoughts in print regarding the power of the brood matron. Read some of these lines and think of the wisdom contained within.

"No Kennel is Stronger than its Brood Bitches".

"The brood bitch is the foundation upon which the kennel is built".

"The major factor in producing a champion is the brood bitch".

"Without good bitches a kennel is nothing".

"A champion without a good brood matron behind him is a castle built on quicksand".

DOBERMAN PINSCHERS

Larry House – I often wonder when showing Dobermans, or just observing the judging, what goes through the judge's mind. Especially an old time, all breed judge. In my 12 to 15 years of breeding and exhibiting Dobermans, I have never seen a dog disqualified for shyness. This is an easy fault to detect. Much easier than viciousness which can be mistaken for aggressiveness, which is what the Doberman is bred for. It is the fear of the breeder that molds a truly fine guard dog into a cream puff. In other words one which is safe for children to play with or old ladies to pat on the head. That is not what they are bred for. They are meant to be alert, aggressive and loyal to one master only.

I would rather confront an aggressive dog and own it than one which cringes at the touch of the owner's or judge's hand. This type of dog should be disqualified. It would help the breed if it were done more often.

On a recent trip to Germany, where the breed originated, the temperament of the Doberman was unapproachable and fearless. He has to show aggressiveness.

While judging a few matches here and in the U.S. I have often been tempted to stomp on the floor or make some quick menacing movement. I can guarantee that at these shows over half of these great guard dogs would disintegrate and you would have every exhibitor running to the show superintendent or reporting you to the CKC.

Pups are sold with a verbal guarantee to have a good temperament. There are four or five types of temperament, but whatever the potential customer wants, that is what I have. I have seen some Dobermans that have had four or five new homes within three years. As a pup they were perfect with children, but when a year old, because some stranger or children came near the owners, they showed their breeding and became instinctively guard dogs.

There are very few owners who keep an open female or male past more than two years, unless it is a show dog. The temperament of a good line-bred dog is naturally that of a guard dog and although basic training is a must, remember that some lines, whether inbred or outcrossed, are hard to determine for temperament at approximately six weeks.

In good breeding (not conformation) your pups themselves will show what their temperament will be. Any pup when taken outside with its litter mates, hides in a corner at the slightest noise or movement or pays no attention to anything, will always be that way — untrainable, a roamer, a chewer or a barker. No matter how much time and training you put into these dogs they will always be a disappointment.

If the breeder had only known what to look for at six to eight weeks and eliminated those who did not show the proper attributes, he would have saved himself a lot of time explaining to the buyer just what was wrong and the resulting bad feelings and most of all the unhappy life the dog must have.

Most breeders want to square the last penny out of a litter and do not see the damage they are doing to our noble breed, nor the damage they have done to their own kennel's reputation.

If they could but understand that the ultimate purpose of the Doberman is to be a guard dog, first, last and always, a fearless a loyal and an alert guard dog as well as an elegant appearing one, they will have enhanced the reputation of their kennel and the breed.

GERMAN SHEPHERDS

Leonard Myers – President Harry Watson, well-known judge of Beamsville, Ont., was re-elected to that position at the meeting of The Dominion German Shepherd Dog Club in Burlington, Ont. Daniel Kaye of Grand Island, N.Y., was elected Vice-President; Secretary is Mrs. Phyllis Smith of Thornhill, Ont., and Treasurer, Frank Pratt of Pickering, Ont.

Plans for the coming Specialty show were also discussed. Chairman for this year's show is Gary McDonald.

NEWFOUNDLANDS

George R. Tompkins – Many Newfs have been participating in various parades held throughout Ontario. These include the Markham Fair parade, the Santa Claus parade in Keswick and Cobourg and the Grey Cup parade (see Dogs, February).

Several Newfs and their owners have also helped tag for the Toronto Humane Society. Bill Kirkwood and his Andy collected the most contributions in Toronto and Andy brought Bill to the Keswick parade and won $5.00 for best animal costume.

Madeline Kearsey of Baltimore, Ont., has made several rounds of the schools for retarded children and adults in the Cobourg area. Cappy gives many cart rides, while seven-year-old Chatter, the tailwagging, handlicking type, entertains the children. In the Toronto district Mr. and Mrs. G. Tompkins with Monty, have entertained children at the Salvation Army Children's Home with cart rides and face washings by Monty. In January Mr. and Mrs. C. Beck with Coalie, Mr. and Mrs. H. Phillips with Irish and Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins with Monty and the assistance of Mrs. J. Basterfield paid a visit to the Sick Children's Hospital. It was a great thrill to see the look on the children's faces as they went for cart rides or simply patted the dogs.

Many thanks to artist Anneke Preyde of Toronto who did a marvellous job on drawing our new emblem for letterheads and decals. It consists of a drawing of the noted Ch. (Can. & Am.) Newton inset in a red maple leaf.

The NCOC held its first educational gathering January 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beck, Sr., when an excellent turnout heard Mr. Wayne Campfield of Gaines Professional Division speak on nutrition. The second gathering takes place in the form of a demonstration on showing and handling by our President, Mrs. J. MacKenzie.

SAINT BERNARDS

Phyllis M. Chapman – The Saint Bernard Club of British Columbia has been active through the past months and now boasts a membership increased to 67.

Walt and Lenora Dakers' Saints, Brandy des Neiges Eternelles and Velledanke's Montana Sherry, were Christmas visitors to the Pearson Polio Pavilion. Beatrice Knight's Ch. (Can. & Am.) Sanctuary Woods Juri v. Fidor appeared on television with Mary Winter when he was named Dog of the Week.

Plans are underway for the club to hold the first British Columbia Saint Bernard Specialty show June 4, hopefully in conjunction with the B.C. Centennial. A specialty judge will assess the show.

Mrs. Betty-Anne Hicks – I would like to pass on some highlights from The Barry International, the official newspaper of the World Union of St. Bernard Clubs.

Scandinavia – Due to the language barrier, contact with these three countries remains difficult. The club president writes that at Copenhagen, where 968 dogs were exhibited, of these were 18 Saint Bernards (16 rough, two smooth). He himself finds that the quality and quantity is very much below standard and only in Sweden does there exist several good typical St. Bernards.

France – This club has a large mailing list and in their first issue of "Trimester", some very interesting remarks are made concerning the standard of the breed (which is the same throughout the world with the exception of England). There are certain points mentioned which could lead to disqualification: as everyone knows, the head is the distinguishing characteristic of a St. Bernard. Consequently, a head lacking certain characteristics could lead to disqualification. Insufficient "stop" will be faulted. Too short or too long of a muzzle would also be considered a fault. A Boxer-type face would be disqualified.

Holland – Dysplasia is taken very seriously. A meeting organized by the Kennel Club of Cynophilia was held at the university and veterinarians and their assistants held discussions concerning diagnoses of dysplasia. It appears that with a 56% chance of having this disease, the St. Bernards are comparatively more fortunate than other breeds. During random checks, which naturally cannot prove conclusive findings, 44% were found to be free of dysplasia. Holland is also starting to export. There have been shipments to Germany and Belgium and even to America (California).

Germany – This country has the largest St. Bernard Club with over 1,000 members. This club will host the 1972 World Union Festival and Congress which will be held at the same time as the 1972 Olympic Games.

Switzerland – The research of hip dysplasia has given us some very useful results. One must keep in mind that only a small number of dogs (68) were being examined and by "healthy" hips we mean that dogs one year or older show only slight signs of dysplasia. Consequently, among 68 dogs, there were 52 with "healthy" and 16 with diseased hip joints. The questions come up: What can we do to best overcome this dread disease? A good start would be to breed only dysplastic-free parents. This disease can be positively identified only after the dog is 10-12 months old. It will be a very long battle if this disease is to be overcome at all. Four years ago, the German Shepherd Dog Club of Switzerland adopted the policy whereby only dogs with healthy hip joints could be bred. In the years of 1965-1969 the hips of over 2,000 German Shepherds were examined through X-rays.

Hans Zimmerli, President of the St. Bernard Club of Switzerland, writes in his yearly report that if the World Union wants to secure its existence, all clubs should abide by the following rules:

1. Review and approval of all animals used for breeding.
2. Litter check.
3. One litter per year per bitch.
4. Maximum six whelps.

Only when these conditions are met by all clubs, does he see a usefulness of the World Union. It is surely in the interest of each and every breeder to have order down the line. In the first place, it is the breeders who are responsible for good quality and high standard in the breed. The purpose and idea of having this organization is to promote our breed, but we should produce quality first and not quantity.

breeder, was guest speaker at the inaugural meeting of the Western Division Canadian Saint Bernard Club, March 17.

The influx of duty-free imported dogs bought at cheap rates to be resold in Canada at top dollar is felt by the executive of the Canadian Saint Bernard Club to be injurious to all Canadian dogdom. It is felt that a meeting with breed clubs would be beneficial to Canadian dog people who enjoy the privileges of The Canadian Kennel Club and the official registration rates as to the sources of the problem. We hope other breed clubs will contact the Canadian Saint Bernard Club (Mrs. Alison Seaman, Secretary, R.R. 1, Pefferlaw, Ont.) with their ideas. Local and district clubs around Toronto could meet with us to further discuss means of preventing furtherance of this situation.

The Ontario area members will be holding a Booster show with the Barrie KC in Barrie, July 31.

The Saint Bernard has been used and its purpose in life as originally bred, was to save lives in the Swiss Alps, usually after a storm or avalanche. We pass on excerpts from this story from the Toronto Telegram, February 8: A 110-lb. St. Bernard called Charlie was credited with saving the life of a seven-year-old boy who was lost in Vivian Forest (near Stou... ville). "Charlie sat on me whe... couldn't walk any more", sa... by way of Charlie's footsteps broken through the ice-topped snow. His aunt realized something was wrong when Tuffy, a Wirehaired Terrier family pet, returned home alone. "I knew I was lost and I told Tuffy to go back and get help," David said. "I wanted to keep walking but Charlie kept pulling me back and he finally sat on me and kept me nice and warm."

Barbara Pirrie, a diligent and enthusiastic reporter, writes on all breeds in the Terrier Group. Send news items directly to her at 58 Wolfrey Ave., Toronto.

AIREDALES

First to a letter with just marvellous news from Madeline Worthington, Kerworth Reg'd. "Ron and our Ch. Avaricious of Tanworth had a great weekend in New York. At the Airedale Specialty Avaricious took WB, BW and BB and at the Gardens she took WB and BW. We haven't gotten over the shock yet! We owe so much to her breeders, Mr. and Mrs. John Holland, for letting us have her."

Congratulations, Madeline, it's just terrific to see an owner-handled dog do that well, but it shows it can be done.

Still on Airedales and a little "gal" who's cleaning up around here – Bob Duguid's Navaho Debbie Do. At Sanction matches she's had three Group 2nds under Larry Alberico, Vic Miller and Mrs. Scott and two Group 1sts under Tom Adams and Alice Simpson. I think she's a doll, Bob, and we'll be looking for her when the point shows start.

BULL TERRIERS

Back to the Associated Terrier shows again, but this time to Bull Terriers and a letter from Gloria Hyde, Tantrum Reg'd. "We took Harper's Hemstitch, Tantrum's Trad-Lad and Tantrum's Sweet Romance (mother, son and daughter). With an entry of 43, we were the only Canadian representatives. We had Trad-Lad in Open, his first time out with the 'big boys' and he took it, then went on to WD. Hemstitch took WB, BW, and BOV with Trad-Lad going BOS to her. Hemstitch then went in against the BOV Coloured Bull Terrier and took BB. Wow, what a day!" I can only second that motion, Gloria, you literally took my breath away. What amazes me is that they're still letting Canadian BT people across the border!

CAIRNS

Betty Hyslop's lovely bitch, Ch. Cairndania Brigrey's Berry Red added another honor to her already most impressive show record, taking BB at the Gardens. Betty must be awfully proud of Berry Red's sire, Ch. Cairndania McBrigand's Brigrey as well, as he was second top siring Cairn in the U.S. for the second year in a row; in '68 he was the Top Siring Cairn. Quite a record I would say!

FOX TERRIERS

More good news for the Cowans. Their Smooth, Ch. Glenfox Billy The Kid, took BB and Group 3rd at Portland, Oregon — that little guy really gets around, doesn't he!

Believe it or not I finally got some news out of Pam Running, Runwyre Reg'd. She's always going to send something along to me, but never does. This time I ran into her at a Sanction and finally tracked down a piece of paper and a pencil before she could get away.

At the National Westie Club Sanction match her bitch puppy took BIM under Grace Edwards. This little gal's name is Runwyre Realstar and she's a full sister to Ch. Runwyre Roman, who took the Puppy Sweeps at the Wire Specialty in Glendale, Ohio last year.

KERRY BLUES

Just noted in the American Kerry newsletter, "Blueprints" that Knut Egeberg's Ch. Music's Happy Going, owned by the Groenendaal's, won the Terrier Group at the Ashtabula show.

MINIATURE SCHNAUZERS

On to more good news from Westminster, this time from Joan Morden and her dear Miniature Schnauzer, Tannenbaum's Sweet Bippy who took RWB (Joan, I'm sorry but that name still breaks me up). A lovely win though, for a lovely little bitch — misnamed as she might be!

Joan also sent along a little item which I thought you Schnauzer types might be interested in as she attended Cruft's before Westminster. She says, "Remember all the fuss a while back re whether or not MS should be judged in the Terrier or the Working Group. Members of the fancy from all across Canada took sides. Naturally, from the letters I assumed Group III was where the breed was judged in England, as well as on the Continent. Fancy my surprise then to find my favorite breed listed in the Utility Group — the equivalent of our VI. Although I stayed neutral through the previous kerfuffle, let it be known that I now stand firmly with the 'Terrier types' for a very valid reason. Our inclusion in the Terrier Group forces us to work with coats in an effort to approximate the harshness of the terrier coats. The oversaes MS that I saw were sadly lacking in this quality."

Fascinating Joan; I knew they weren't in the Terrier Group in England, and as they truly aren't a Terrier, I frankly don't feel they should be over here as well, but Non Sporting — they're neither fish nor fowl! Sorry N-S, but you must admit you do have rather a wild assortment of breeds. As the working ability of the MS has been so ably presented in the obedience ring, it seems to me that this is the Group for them. By the way, when all this fuss was going on before I don't remember hearing from any English breeders of MS who have emigrated to Canada. What are your thoughts?

SCOTTIES

On now to a note from Barbara Dominski. "Canadian Scottie lovers at Westminster and Montgomery County these past years must have taken more than a passing glance at Mrs. Vana Mapplebeck's lovely Scottie Brace, Ch. Lady Alberta and her daughter, Ch. Lady Alberta's Scotch Beauty, but did they know that Lady Alberta, Mrs. Mapplebeck's foundation bitch was sired by Ch. Treleaven's Citation?"

That's great news, Barb, I honestly had never noted it, although I've seen that lovely Brace many times. I think they took the Brace Class at Montgomery in '68 or '69, didn't they?

SEALYHAMS

Again back to the Specialties and Westminster. At the Sealy Specialty Florence Houston's great Pacesetter took BB, while at the Gardens, he not only took the breed, but Group 4th as well. I've not seen him myself, but he surely must be a marvellous representative of the breed.

STAFFORDSHIRES

The Staffordshire Club is "on the go" again after a Winter layover with plans for Boosters with the Ottawa show in May, Oshawa in June, Toronto in August and possibly Montreal in November. Golly, they aren't very ambitious, are they!

WESTIES

We revisit Westminster just once more and this time it's for the RWD win of the Gignac's of Ottawa's Westie, Dancer's Eminence of the Rouge, handled by their daughter Laurie. That's a tough show to place in no matter who's handling, but Laurie is only 13! Thelma and Tom Adams have a lovely Westie puppy out at the moment by the name of Roseneath Jiminy Cricket and with Thelma handling he took the Group at the Progressive Match under Vic Miller. I think we'll see a lot more of this 'young man'!

Some great news for the Kaye's. Their Ch. Dreamland's Happy Mick, owned by Joseph Piche was tied for third place for Top Siring Westies in the U.S. Ab, by the way, is coming along nicely, but not quite ready for the BIS ring as yet.

No remedies or doggy tales this month, but possibly I could give you a point to ponder. Have you any great ideas for "call names", (not kennel names) for new additions to our doggy family. Frankly, after 13 years I've just run out and I have two new litters coming. I thought only I had this problem, but I was talking to Lynn Duguid at the last Sanction Match and she said she was running into the same situation. Of course, we could call them Laddie and Rover, or even just plain 'Dawg', but I prefer something just a little bit more glamorous and interesting. Do you have any favorites? If you do jot them down and send them along and we'll try to include them in the next column. Obviously Lynn and I can't be the only ones with this problem.

Lynn also had some suggestions about Junior Handling at Sanction Matches. If the clubs don't have room to hold the classes as such — and most of the places around here, at least, are so limited for the number of dogs they have entered — why not ask the judges to try and give the children some instruction in the ring? Honestly, some come in so ill-prepared it's tragic. Mind you, some of the adults are about as bad and could be given some instruction as well, but a definite effort should be made as far as the children are concerned.

PAPILLONS

Mrs. Vincent T. Scott – The first Sanction show of the Papillon Club of Canada, held February 28, was greeted with an entry of 186 dogs. Taking the Toy Group was "Doodles", a young male Papillon owned by Miss Mary Jo Loye of Detroit, Mich.

A Fun Match is planned in the summer as well as a Booster show.

We would appreciate hearing from Papillon breeders and owners of their wins, litters due and other items as we hope to get "Pap Talk" from Canada on the go. Address news to the Secretary, Mrs. Marge Scott, R.R.3, Campbelleville, Ont.

Books

THE NEW COMPLETE NORWEGIAN ELKHOUND — by Olav Wallo, Book Service — $9.95

As the name intends, this book is about as complete a work on the Norwegian Elkhound as could be condensed into one volume. The author has compiled a thrilling book based on unquestionable knowledge acquired through his many years of association with this breed.

From beginning to end this book covers an elaborate history which it is doubtful any other breed enjoys.

To the newcomer to the breed the answers to endless questions are here. Although each chapter couldn't possibly deal in depth with all the facts handed down, every facet of the saga is touched on sufficiently to give the reader the satisfaction he looks for in a book of this kind.

To the oldtimer in the breed this is an excellent reference book. Every breeder should have a copy to prevent kennel blindness, a disease to which so many breeders are susceptible because of complete fascination with the breed.

For those who haven't a chance of ever hunting with their dog, a better understanding of the dog they live with is acquired by reading the chapters on this subject.

The more than 200 pictures present a wonderful opportunity to compare, as good and poor types are presented. Mr. Wallo tops them all with an excellent picture of his excellent Tyra av Kotofjell inside the fly leaf. This picture alone should excite enthusiasm for those opening the book for the first time.

Chapter 14 should be read over and over by those in whose hands the future of the Elkhound lies. All through the book one can detect an undercurrent of warning and in this chapter Mr. Wallo lays it on the line. Let us heed the words of this gentleman as he favors us with the truth.

It is hard to try and sum up this book — it is many books in one. I can only recommend that it be on the shelf of every judge, breeder, owner and neighbor of the Elkhound as it contains information it takes years to otherwise acquire.

ARCO'S DOGS OF THE WORLD — Arco Publishing Co. — $4.50

With 146 full color illustrations of the main dog species all over the world, history, characteristics and a full description of each dog. The book is Arco's "Dogs of the World". It was written by Ivar Swedrup and illustrated by Harald Wiberg. First, at the beginning of the book, there are 146 colored illustrations with a number from one to 146 beside them. Right after that is the List of Breeds as classified by the American Kennel Club. Then a few expressions that might not be familiar to the reader are very clearly explained with words and a sketch. For the next 11 pages, there are descriptive notes on each dog plus two pages on dog care and feeding. It is a very good book to read and a great help for people doing projects or research on dogs. This book has set out to present the main dog species from all over the world and will appeal to all dog lovers. This is a hard covered book with a protective paper cover with 11 colored pictures of dogs on it. You will find most any breed of dog in this book like Beagle, Collie, Poodle, Maltese and Yorkshire Terrier.

Criticism

Criticism should not be querulous and wasting, all knife and root-puller, but guiding, instructive, inspiring, a south wind, not an east wind.
– Ralph Waldo Emerson (1847)

Dog Show Homily

But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first.
– Matthew 19:30

"A different hound for ev'ry chace, Select with judgment; nor the tim'rous hare O'ermatch'd, destroy." – Somerville

"When a man's dog turns against him it is time for his wife to pack her trunk and go home to mama."
– Samuel L. Clemans

A determined-looking exhibitor moved her dog as the judge directed, looked him straight in the eye and said "It's up to you to decide how you want to place him. I'm a good sport, but I must tell you he's a very poor loser."

My profits have gone to the dogs,
My trade has been such a deceiver.
I fear that my aim
Is a mere losing game —
Unless I can find a retriever.

The more one comes to know men the more one comes to admire the dog.

JOUSSENEL

CRUELTY

Cruelty to animals is one of the most significant vices of a low and ignoble people. Wherever one notices them, they constitute a sure sign of ignorance and brutality which cannot be painted over even by all the wealth and luxury. Cruelty to animals cannot exist together with true education and true learning.

Alexander von Humbolt

MERCY

The quality of mercy is not strained;
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath; it is twice blest,
It blesseth him that gives and him that takes;
'Tis mightiest in the mightiest; it becomes
The throned monarch better than his crown:
His sceptre shows the force of temporal power,
The attribute to awe and majesty,
Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings;
But mercy is above this sceptred sway,
It is enthroned in the hearts of kings,
It is an attribute to God himself;
And earthly power doth then show likst God's,
When mercy seasons justice.
– William Shakespeare

The Derelict

It was only a little homeless dog,
Adrift on a city street,
That gazed with wistful, pleading eyes
At all he chanced to meet.

But every one he met, it seemed,
Went past him heedlessly,
They had no time to give to waifs —
At least, not such as he.

He scuttled up a tall stair-way,
Cringing in fear and doubt;
Soon some one came—and then he heard
Those angry words, "Get out."

But that night in a basement room,
A derelict, they said,
Took pity on the homeless dog,
And let him share his bed.

He sheltered the small starving waif,
Till one, with kindly heart,
Gave him a home where he could stay,
Safe from the cold wind's smart.

And I have thought this derelict,
When reckoning comes his way,
Perhaps may have an honored place
On that great Judgment Day.

Margaret E. Bruner

Ce chien est a moi, disaient ces pauvres enfants; c'est ma place du soleil. Voila le commencement et l'image de l'usurpation de toute la terre.

That dog is mine, said those poor children; that place in the sun is mine; such is the beginning and type of usurpation throughout the earth.

Talk With the Animals

I would say that an acquaintance with the language of beasts would be a most agreeable acquisition to man, as it would enlarge the circle of his social intercourse.
– James Boswell (1740-1795)

News Story with a Bite

Of course it's news when a man bites a dog. A man has only 32 teeth, 16 in his upper and 16 in the lower jaw. A dog has 42 teeth, 20 in the upper jaw and 22 in the lower. He's the winner before he starts.

BARK-A-WORD Jo Ouellet

HOW TO DO IT The trick is to find the hidden word. To do so you'll have to first locate all the listed words. You'll find these words in the grill spelled out horizontally, vertically, or diagonally either forwards or backwards. Once located, you encircle each letter of the word in the grill then cross it off the list. Don't blot out any letter because it might be also involved in another word going in another direction. Just encircle each one. When you've located all the listed words in the grill you'll be left with the given number of letters as indicated for the solution. This will be your BARK-A-WORD.

BACK TALK

Boston Terrier registration increased by 75%. Why the lack of show interest in Boston Terriers? — commercialism could be the answer, says George Kennedy.

Twenty years ago at a time when the combined entry of standard and Miniature Poodles might be a total of four dogs, show entries of Boston Terriers often ran into the forties. The breed was in its heyday. Why then, with registrations of Bostons in Canada 75% higher today than they were then, do we see so few in the show ring? We interviewed Mr. George Kennedy, well known breeder and exhibitor of Bostons to try to find out the answer. He believes it may be simply stated: commercialism, costs and cropped ears.

GEORGE KENNEDY is a well-known breeder and exhibitor of Boston terriers. He was one of the organizers of The Oakville and District Kennel Club and has served that club as its president and in every phase of its activity. Currently he divides his time between caring for his champion Bostons at home in Oakville, Ont., and judging assignments. He is qualified to judge Groups 4, 5 and 6 in Canada as well as six breeds of the Non-Sporting Group in the U.S.A.

When the breed was at its peak of popularity and numbered among the top ten breeds in the show ring the opportunists saw their chance to make some money in a hurry. As so often happens, popularity marked the decline of breed quality. The demand for Boston puppies has always been greater than the supply so the puppy producers took over. Conscientious breeders became discouraged. Fewer and fewer Bostons made their appearance in the ring until today a good show entry averages about six. A few diehards, says Mr. Kennedy, continue to produce good dogs and these will form the nucleus of future breeding programs. He thinks that as soon as the backyard breeders realize that raising Bostons is not a profit-making venture there will be an upsurge in good breeding and with it a renewed public interest in quality Boston Terriers.

Another factor having a strong negative influence on showing interest is today's high costs. Formerly many good dogs were seen in the Specials class almost every weekend. But nowadays, Mr. Kennedy says, with increased entry fees, the greater number of shows, often three per weekend and occasionally six within a single week, very few exhibitors can afford the cost. They are content to campaign their show dogs through to their championships and, except for a few selected shows and specialties, once finished, these top ones are retired from the ring.

Although the standard for the breed has been amended since its adoption by The American Kennel Club in 1932, Mr. Kennedy does not think that every change has been for the better. Some very definitely are. The original standard ignored gait completely. Its inclusion in an amendment resulted in more emphasis being placed on dogs that were sound in limb and body. But in 1947 the standard was revised to read 'ears may be cropped'. Not only is this a costly and at times hazardous procedure, it has also resulted in the breeding of inferior ears. Today, Mr. Kennedy claims that breeders don't really care what kind of an ear a puppy is born with because they know it can be trimmed to correct shape. Fine ear leather and correct carriage is almost a thing of the past, in fact heavier ear leather is said to lend itself to more successful cropping. He does agree that the cropped ear may give a sharper appearance to the head but personally he is resisting the trend. Mr. Kennedy continues to show his dogs with natural ears. The young male that we saw sported a pair of fine-leathered, beautifully carried bat ears, proving that good ears are not entirely a feature of bygone days.

In contrast to this Mr. Kennedy feels that the standard should allow docking of tails. At present this is a disqualification. The standard states that 'the preferred tail should not exceed in length approximately half the distance from set-on to hock'. However, Mr. Kennedy suggests that a dog with such a tail could do very little winning in the show ring. The standard penalizes a long tail which half the distance from set-on to hock most certainly is. Further, although the standard gives equal importance to three weight classifications, light, medium and heavy, Mr. Kennedy says that the smaller specimens are the ones that win. A trend he also opposes. In his opinion the ideal weight should be 14 pounds for bitches, 15 pounds for males.

At one time Mr. Kennedy showed dogs extensively in both the U.S.A. and Canada. He recalls one of his most memorable dog show experiences. The year was 1949. He and Mrs. M. H. A. (Dorothy) Drury had travelled to Detroit with Mrs. Drury's renowned Boston Int. Ch. Sovereign's Escort who had earned both his Canadian and American titles while still a puppy. Escort was entered in the Detroit all-breed show and both Mrs. Drury and Mr. Kennedy were suffering from preshow nerves while awaiting their turn in the ring. First one then the other of them would take Escort in hand trying to decide which of them would brave it into the ring. The dog passed between the two at least a dozen times, Mr. Kennedy said, until finally a handler, also at ringside, spoke up. He asked them if they were trying to ruin the dog. He said that the dog could walk into the ring all by himself and take the breed. Escort did just that with Mrs. Drury a nervous handler on the other end of the lead. Meanwhile, Mr. Kennedy was more than an interested onlooker. As Mrs. Drury posed her entry inside the ring, Mr. Kennedy helped matters along on the outside. He was frantically waving a white handkerchief to make Escort alert and look his best. This assistance came to an abrupt halt when a show official tapped Mr. Kennedy on the shoulder and explained that double handling was verboten.

Detroit was but one of many great wins for Escort, the greatest Boston that Mr. Kennedy has ever known. In 1952 Escort became the only member of his breed to win both the New York Specialty and Best of Breed at Westminster the following day, where he went on to place third in the group. He brought to Canada one of the most coveted breed awards in America, the $2,000 Charles O'Connor Memorial Trophy. Escort was not only a great Boston and a great showman, he was what all breeders hope for in an outstanding male — a prepotent stud. His progeny followed his winning ways and even today his descendents continue to make their presence felt at the big shows. In February 1971 one of them won the New York Specialty and is today the proud holder of the same trophy that Escort won so many years ago. — Joan Morden

Instant color camera a boon for dog owners

You can have endless fun with a Polaroid camera which enables you to take a picture of your dog and enjoy the finished print a few seconds later. There are hundreds of situations where you will want to take on-the-spot pictures — especially at shows and in your kennels.

When you have a Polaroid camera, particularly the new Colorpack 80, a multi-purpose instant-picture camera released just this month, you "score" over conventional camera users because you have your pictures moments after you take them. No waiting for prints and possible disappointments.

As every dog owner or breeder knows, there are poses and funny situations, and above all wins, which must be captured on film instantaneously or be lost forever.

The new Polaroid Colorpack 80 provides a second chance, in case you goofed the first time (and who among novices and professionals hasn't) or want to be sure you captured the pose or expression you want so badly.

You might want to study the gait of your dog, your own or others' possible mistakes in setting up a dog, or demonstrations at your dog show meetings.

The low-cost Colorpack 80 uses color film (for pictures in a minute) and black-and-white film (which needs no after coating) for results in just 30 seconds. Color pictures are ready to be enjoyed (and shown) on-the-spot.

Money handling is easy for Bermuda visitors this year

BERMUDA — Canadian visitors to Bermuda shows and trials this year will find the handling of money much easier than the previous currency. In fact, the funds are an excellent tourist guide. Visitors are now heard referring to St. David's lighthouse as the $5 lighthouse because of the picture on the maroon-colored five dollar bill. Gibb's Hill lighthouse, a familiar mark, has its picture on the $50 bill. More familiar is the pastel-blue $1 showing two fitted dinghies on a spinnaker run.

Canadian dogs who made worthy wins at the International Fall shows, 1970, not previously mentioned include Schaeffer's Gentle Ben, who, shown one day only, placed in the Group. He had to be withdrawn because of an unfortunate cut in his paw. The Laird of Kirkcaldy, a Scottish Terrier puppy owned by Miss M. S. Fleming, Ottawa, took BB three days running.

No dogs in motels is possible B.C. ruling

by PAT McCORMACK

VANCOUVER — Just before Christmas I was recording secretary at the 26th annual convention of B.C. Motels, Resorts and Trailer Parks Association. Being a dog owner, breeder and show adherent, I was vitally interested when a resolution was put forward for the membership to petition the government for support in passing a ruling that, on the grounds of food preparation and health laws, NO DOGS BE PERMITTED IN MOTELS. This is the second year this resolution has been put out for votes, and came closer to being passed in 1970 than it did in 1969.

There were strong voices against allowing dogs to stay in the units. One motel owner was especially vehement in stating her refusal to admit dogs in future and cited one occasion in particular where show people last year had their own well-fitted trailer as well as comfortable, expensive crates, but insisted they have their dogs in the unit, loose, with them. The motel owner was bitter because when they vacated, they had pushed a badly-chewed chair into a corner with a cushion covering the damage, without admitting the incident or offering to pay for it. When asked if she had followed it up, the motel operator said, "people like that only deny it".

There were a number of members who cited instances similar to the one above. As an ardent dog fancier, I felt ashamed. I wanted desperately to get up and plead for the case of the majority of us who are exceptionally careful and provide good business for the very motels who are complaining, but I could only continue to make pothooks and hope someone would speak up on behalf of dogs and their owners.

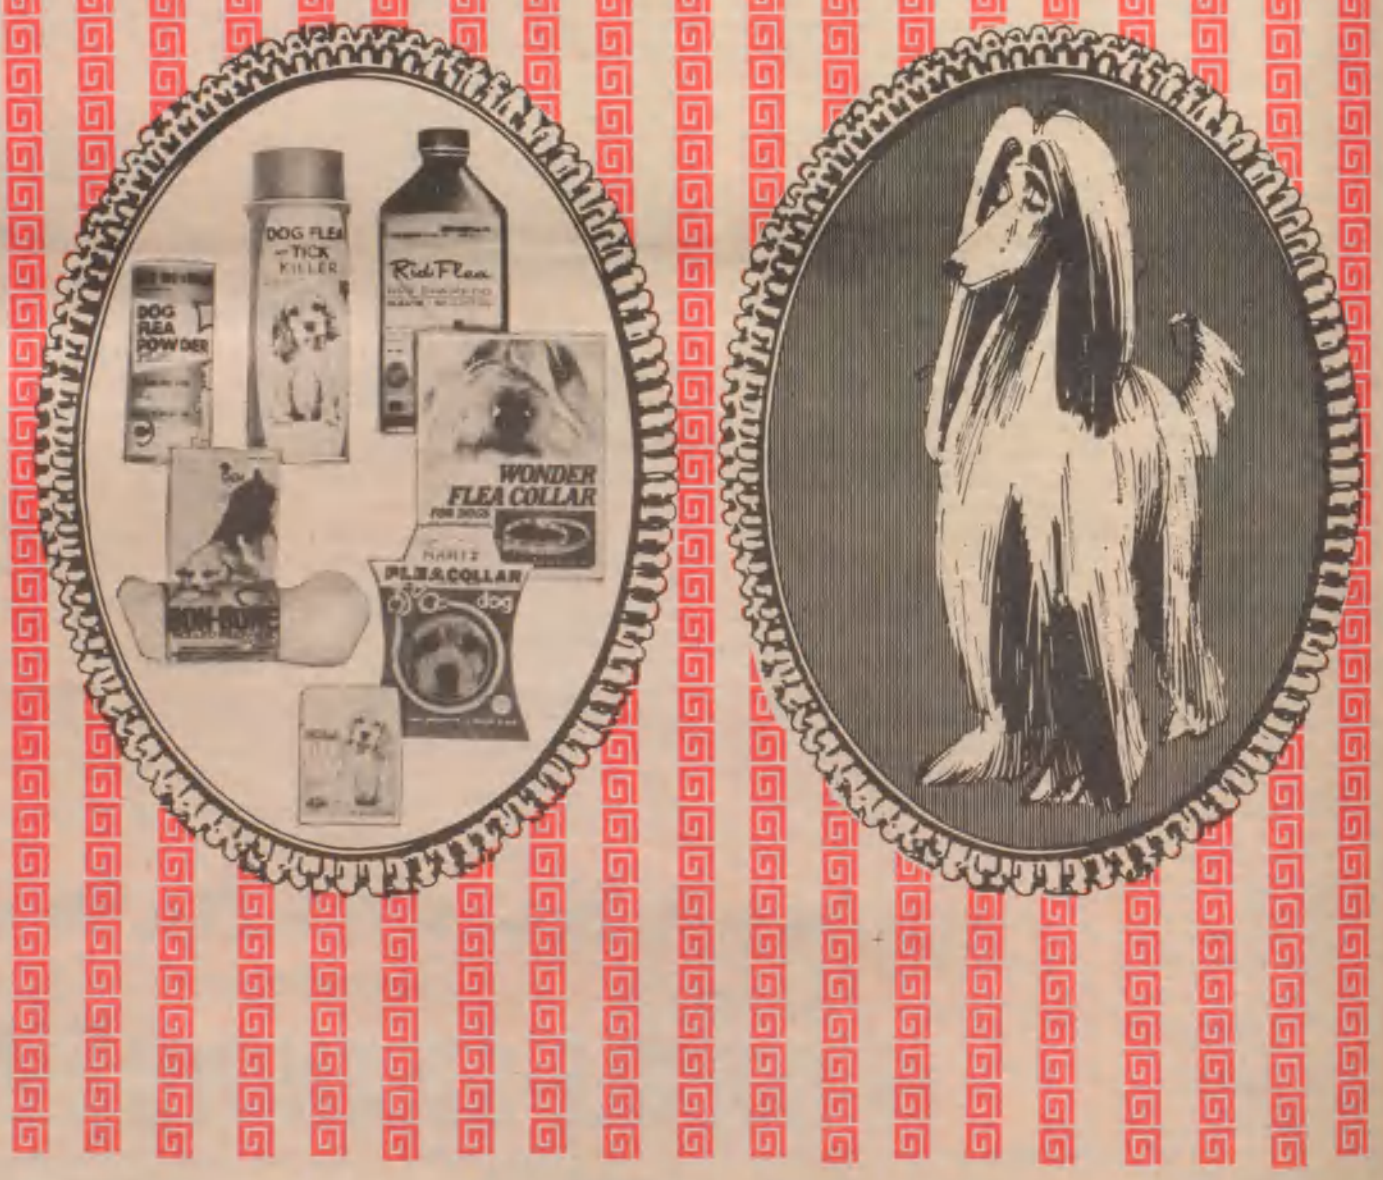

Fortunately, there were a few who commended them. And one operator, bless him, said he didn't want anyone telling him whether or not he could admit a dog, saying, "if I want a goddam dog in my motel, I'll have a goddam dog in my motel".

This resolution was withdrawn. Of course, it is still a matter of personal choice whether an operator wishes to refuse dogs. But the point I want to make is this. The same resolution will come forward again in 1971 — it must be consideration in the motel industry all over North America — and it will continue to be brought up for discussion as long as there are dog owners who are not considerate of other people's property.

With the advent of a whole new year of shows, I would like to make a plea, made often by others before me I'm sure, that under all circumstances, if your dog, or a dog in your care, makes any mess or damage, that you clean up and/or offer to pay for it. At least tell the motel operator about it, whether you liked the motel owners or the accommodation or not. And I'll make sure that I, and my family, do the same.
