Record entries make Sportsmen's Dog Shows biggest success ever

The marathon of Canadian dog shows is over for another year and it will go on record as the most successful Sportsmen's Show to date. Entries were up, gate receipts were the biggest ever, catalogues sold out long before the end of the shows and concessionaires reported a booming trade. Great crowds of spectators also meant a brisk market for puppy sales so, from the exhibitor's point of view, the shows must also be rated as a financial success.

March weather, which is always chancey, came through with a couple of nasty days but in no way did they interfere with proceedings. In fact, the largest weekday attendance at the dog show was recorded on the stormiest day. The Ralston-Purina's courtesy bus was kept busy throughout the shows shuttling spectators between the main exhibition building, the coliseum, and the dog show which was held in the beautiful and spacious Queen Elizabeth building. This year, for the first time, exhibitors were able to enjoy both a luncheon and dinner buffet without leaving the building, a wel-

THIS MONTH'S COVER DOGS

This year our cover features our youngest stud dog and two recent additions to our stock.

JUNIOR HANNIJIN OF THE ROUGE ("Junior"), two years old, with eight points towards his Canadian title and siring consistently high quality puppies, is fifth-generation Rouge breeding, sired by our great stud of the last ten years, Am. & Can. Ch. Shipmates Hannibal (still flourishing at 13 years of age!) out of Can. Ch. Jinty of the Rouge, both of whom go back to our early breeding from Eng., Am. & Can. Ch. Cruben Dextor.

Three month's old BILJON SAUTERNE OF THE ROUGE ("SoSo"), is an enchanting puppy who came to us from William Ferrara and John Price of New Jersey, bred by them out of Sherry Spichip of the Rouge, who is fourth-generation Rouge-bred, and sired by Am. Ch. Pillerton Prosper.

WHITEHEATHER MORAG O' THE ROUGE ("Morag") is a five month's old stud fee puppy sired by our Can. Ch. Winde Mere Rouge Midshipman out of Jim Wilson's Winde Mere Daffodil, who is a full sister of Am. & Can. Ch. Winde Mere Gay Gordon.

These two young ladies, together with Barbeejay's Apache of the Rouge (Can. Ch. Whitebriar Johnswort ex Hannah's Hostess of the Rouge), who came to us from Mrs. Bland of Alberta, and Am. Ch. Wigtown Jasmine (Am. & Can. Ch. Rannoch-Dune Down Beat ex Am. Ch. Fiesty Frosty Good Girl, bred by Mrs. B. G. Frame), the latter currently in whelp to Am. Ch. Pillerton Prosper, are welcome additions to our breeding program, providing outcrosses which we felt were justified at this time, especially as during the last year several of our best brood bitches had reached an age where they have been placed in homes to enjoy the pleasures of well deserved retirement.

During 1971, Am. & Can. Ch. Winde Mere Gay Gordon (Am. & Can. Ch. Danny Boy of the Rouge ex Winde Mere Ragamuffin), jointly owned with his breeder, Mrs. Keith Balsdon, took a Best in Show at the United KC show in Montreal, six Group 1sts, three Best Canadian Bred in Show, 11 Best Canadian Bred in Group, and seven Group placings, chiefly handled by Malcolm Fellows. He has started 1972 with two Group 1sts (at Port Hope) and two Group 4ths at the first two Sportsmen's Shows. At the Show of Shows in Ottawa in November 1971 we were also proud that he tied for second place in the Terrier Group, only half a point behind the winner.

More than 1000 daily entries aim of Century Show

VANCOUVER — With an average of 1,000 entries a day in the 1971 three-day Century Dog Club Show, management anticipates that the 1972 entry will show an even greater increase. Dates for the upcoming show are November 24, 25, 26; the venue, the Show Mart Bldg., Pacific National Exhibition Grounds.

Manager Henry Appel tells Dogs that attractive displays will be held in separate buildings connected by a breezeway.

Among the features will be a sporting dog display held every three hours, daytime and evening, a fashion show for dogs; a live lion playing with its young owners, aged 11 and 13.

Show Superintendent is Mrs. Gwen Appel, c/o Sunnyslope Kennels, 4696 S. E. Marine Dr., Burnaby 1, B.C.

the National Alpine Rescue Team—a segment of the Alpine Club of Italy. It consists of 450 paid guides, 75 apprentice guides and 1800 volunteers. During 1971 alone, this group rescued 362 people in this area. Fifty-eight German Shepherds work with these daring skiers and climbers, 36 belong to the rescue team and 22 to the police in the area.

Six-year-old Zacho (Zacho Di Carignano) has made seven rescues, three persons buried under avalanches and four stranded mountain climbers. He is a dog to remember—gentle, steady (patience is a prime requisite of rescue dogs) and with a great look of kindness in his eyes. Sired by Klodo v. Ellbachtal (now in the United States) his dam is Ancilla v. Ellbachtal. He has sired two litters.

Mr. Borgna, his owner-trainer, tells Dogs in Canada he had two dreams as a boy—one to own a German Shepherd, which he obtained at age 16; the other to visit Canada. This wish came true when he and Zacho were brought to the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show, courtesy the CNSS and Dog Show Committees and Purina. Zacho was under a special quarantine arrangement. He and his master made numerous onstage appearances daily.

come change from the usual dog show fare.

This was also the year of the rare and the rather-rare breeds. Altogether 107 breeds were benched including two Nova Scotia Duck Tolling Retrievers, a breed seldom seen at dog shows in this part of Canada. Best in Show honors were equally divided between Canadian-owned and "elsewhere" owned dogs and were won by a different dog each night.

At the first show Mr. Thomas Gannon gave the nod to the Papillon, Ch. Oxney Fella, owned by Mrs. V. O. Pringle, Caledon East, Ont. On March 19, the second show, Mr. Langdon Skarda's choice for Best in Show was the black Giant Schnauzer, Fiddler Von Rommel, owned by John and Patricia E. Grace of Far Hills, N. J. On March 22, the third show, a Canadian-bred Shetland Sheepdog puppy, Reveille's Reflection of Sheldon, owned by D. Randall, Lambeth, Ont., went all the way from the open class to capture all three top honors: Best in Show, Best Canadian-Bred in Show and Best Canadian-Bred Puppy in Show under Judge Charles F. Hamilton. Mr. Bracy's choice at the fourth show was the Pomeranian, Mi-Lo's Mischief Gold Pat, owned by Lady Florence Conyers of Bermuda. At the fifth show, with Alva Rosenberg judging, Best in Show went to the Bouvier des Flandres Ch. (Can. & Am.) Blandford's Basko, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dyk, Kleinburg, Ont., and the sixth and final show saw Mr. Anthony Stamm's choice, the Golden Retriever, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Uthingo Themalisha Hlope, owned by Orlando and Mary C. Merchant of Manchester, Mass., win top place.

March 26 was a day of specialties — 15 in all — which might suggest that spectator interest would decrease. But the crowds continued as dense as ever although some people expressed disappointment when they learned that a favorite breed was no longer on display, they still seemed to stay to watch the judging. In fact, it was often quite a problem for exhibitors to make their way through the crowds to arrive in the ring in time for judging.

By 6 p.m. the week of dog shows was over for another year. Exhibitors were allowed an early release time and like a band of tired but happy gypsies they loaded up and headed home. Within an hour there was hardly a sound to be heard in the building save the swish of brooms and the lights in superintendent's office were all that was left as the 25th anniversary Sportsmen's Show moved into dog show history.

HD and CPD studies report on canine abnormalities

The March issue of the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association reports the findings of two studies of inherited canine joint abnormalities. One deals with canine hip displasia, the other with canine patellar dislocation. Both studies were conducted to determine the relative risk by size, sex and breed and involved 69,245 dogs seen at ten veterinary schools in the United States and Canada.

THE HD STUDY

This report also includes the comparative frequency of similar hip abnormalities in man and was conducted in cooperation with a medical doctor.

Of the dogs examined, 1,193 had canine hip dysplasia, males and females were equally affected. The writer also states that hip defects are more frequent in dogs, 17 per 1,000 compared to three per 1,000 in man which suggests that genetic factors probably play a larger role in canine hip defects whereas environmental factors are believed to be a contributing factor in man. The sex distribution in man also varies in that five girls to one boy are affected.

The frequency of HD in giant and large breeds the study also showed, was much greater than in the small or medium breeds, the risk factor being 50 times and 20 times greater for the giant and large breeds respectively. Even within a size category, certain breeds had excessive risk: for example, among large breeds seen, Golden Retrievers had 50 times the risk of Collies. The highest risk factor was found to be in St. Barnards.

THE CPD STUDY

The canine patellar dislocation study showed that the risk of CPD for females was more than one and a half times that of males, a finding the author suggests might be related to hormonal influences. Small dogs had a risk approximately 12 times that of large dogs — Pomeranians, Yorkshire Terriers, Chihuahuas, Miniature and Toy Poodles and Boston Terriers all showed high risk factors while the breed least likely to have CPD was the German Shepherd.

Labrador Retrievers, Dachshunds and Beagles were also low and the risk was significantly lower for crossbreds than it was for all dogs combined but not so low as for some pure-breds. One conclusion drawn from the study was that CPD is related to miniaturization. The writer suggests that the national associations of the high risk breeds should encourage or even sponsor research which, by breeding trials, would help to answer some of the questions about both these continuing problems.

People

YOUNG WINNERS: David Gignac, 13-year old Ottawa youngster, distinguished himself at the International Kennel Club of Chicago show. He not only handled his parents' Westie Brace to Best Brace in group against strong competition but he also won Junior Judging contest open to children 12-19 years of age. Out of 86 competing, David won with 229 marks; next highest, 206 marks.

CELEBRITY: Elaine Cole of CKCO T.V., Kitchener, has asked Poppy Steel (New Forest Cavaliers), Acton, Ont., and her dogs to be guests on her show June 9.

BORN: Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers, Guelph, Ont., owners of the top-winning Miniature Schnauzer for 1969, recently added a baby girl to their household.

VISITORS: Mr. and Mrs. Peter McArthur, Winnipeg Miniature Schnauzer breeders, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Simpson, Rosehill Kennels, Hespeler, Ont.

TRAVELLING JUDGE: Mrs. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins, Kennels of the Rouge, Pickering, Ont., will be judging all Terriers and Toys and Groups 4 and 5 in Mobile, Ala., on May 5, going on to judge six Terrier breeds and two Toy breeds in Trenton, N.J., May 7 and on July 1 she will be judging at the Hockamock K.C. Her busy schedule also includes judging in Connecticut on July 8.

Investigate, but don't over-do it

"Before you invest—investigate" has long been the slogan of Better Business Bureaux and a very sensible piece of advice. But it is a good idea to know what one is looking for.

Take the case of a young woman who was on the hunt for a particular breed of dog. She wanted a good specimen, properly raised and from healthy stock. So she first read all the available material she could get her hands on concerning this breed and placed her own interpretation on what she read. Imagine how taken aback one kennel owner was when she asked if he'd ever been troubled with "kennel blindness" in his stock!

Add supplements* to Purina Dog Chow?

You can. But you don't have to.

We find that adding warm water brings out our famous Dog Chow flavor. But everything else is right in the bag. All 43 nutrients any dog needs—vitamin A to zinc oxide. So add supplements? Sure. But isn't it nice to know you don't have to?

*Purina Research Farm Fact: Eight of our brood bitches have whelped over 100 puppies each—on a diet of Purina and water only. With the exact, no-supplement program we recommend on our package, 92.8% of the 668 puppies whelped alive at our Farm last year were weaned—against a national average of around 60%.

Professional show superintendents for Canada

The idea of a professional show superintending group is not new to Canada. Individuals and at least one all-breed club have tried it. The record does not show how any of these ventures fared financially but, because their operations were discontinued, we assume they were not entirely successful.

Such is not the case with Dog Show Associates, a group which operates out of Ottawa. Their business seems to grow every year which pretty well proves that they are filling an important need in the Canadian dog scene.

Naturally they have created quite a stir. Some clubs think that hiring the DSA group is the only way to hold a dog show. While others think that this form of professionalism deprives club members of the fun of running their own show.

To present an objective view of this interesting group Dogs in Canada writer Jim Reynolds interviewed them several times. His story appears on page 8 along with articles by two other interested people who hold opposite opinions.

The most frequently heard criticism to come to our attention is that DSA shows are so well organized they're dull. The group never makes any of the kooky mistakes that exhibitors love to complain about. If that could be called a criticism.

On the other hand, after observing the group in action at a show last spring a judge from overseas was so favorably impressed by what he saw he declared that he was going to write an article on DSA as soon as he returned to England.

For 'em or agin 'em—the thing one cannot do is deny them.

"Wicket System" of measuring

A move we heartily endorse has been brought to our attention by an American breed club bulletin. The March issue of Amscope, the monthly newsletter of The American Miniature Schnauzer Club, reports that the Poodle Club of America, supported by the Schnauzer club, is requesting that The American Kennel Club give serious review and trial of the English "Wicket System of Measuring".

The wicket is a light, square template cut out to the maximum allowable height of a breed which must measure within a specified height limit. In England the judge places the template on the withers of competing dogs and if both legs of the device do not touch the floor that dog is measured out and is ineligible from competing at that show. The final decision rests with the judge. In England all Poodles which win, the bulletin states, must be measured by the "Wicket System" and this is generally done by the judge during examination.

The template is very simple and easy to use. In fact, many Canadian exhibitors of dogs which must measure within certain limits have made similar templates for their own use. In some cases they have two — a minimum and a maximum. It is not necessary to know a dog's height within a fraction of an inch. If a dog measures too tall for the minimum template to rest on the floor but low enough to pass comfortably under the maximum, it is of correct height and therefore eligible to compete in championship shows.

Think what a joy such a system would mean in Canada — particularly to the dog show committees. Here an exhibitor may "call the stick" without posting any money as he must do in the US. Here there have been times when a wholesale request for measuring and/or weighing has set a club's judging schedule back a good two hours. One ill-starred club will never forget the year that an unhappy exhibitor whose dog had been challenged reacted by demanding that if his dog had to be measured the club's Weighing and Measuring Committee had to weigh and measure every dog of every breed in competition whose standard specified a weight or height disqualification. The upshot was confusion, hard feelings and quite a few dogs did not compete that day.

Should judges be judged?

Some of the strongest voices raised in favor of regular re-examination of Canadian breed judges' qualifications come, not from irate exhibitors but from judges of international repute. Their reasons vary but the method of re-examination they propose is basically the same — a canine anatomy test and a practical test of grading a number of dogs of the same breed.

While it might be argued that such re-examination would be difficult to arrange, the advantage of such a system, both to judges and exhibitors, seems apparent. Judgements would become truly expert opinions of "the dog on the day". And although, human nature being what it is, some criticism would always occur, it seems to us that there would be much less than is heard today.

Ringside critics often have good reason for the things they say. A classic example occurred on a show circuit last season which, the critics vow, proves that some Canadian judges may know a standard but not a breed. Here are the facts.

A dog from the U.S. with an outstanding record of specialty and BIS wins came to Canada to earn his championship title. This dog is an acknowledged "great" of his breed, still young, in top condition and a super-showman. Of the many times he was shown on this circuit, only once did he win a Best of Breed in what, many consider, indifferent competition.

The question then is raised — which judges were correct? The scores of US specialty judges and allrounders who gave this dog big wins at prestige American shows or the handful of Canadian judges who denied him? Or couldn't they find him, as their critics say?

Perhaps their assessments were correct but some doubt will always remain. We think that re-examination could go a long way towards overcoming it.

Successful selling

Drafting a code of ethics for breeders is one of those subjects that comes up for regular discussion at many dog clubs' winter "think tank" sessions. But, as the show season gathers momentum, noble ideas are set aside under pressure from more urgent business. Whatever work has been done on a code is filed in limbo to wait for the day when some committee can give it more time. So the individual breeder is left to conduct his affairs with few or no rules to guide him save those set by his own conscience.

Another reason why so few codes of ethics seldom get beyond the planning stage could be the matter of "getting it on paper". If this is the reason The Canadian Advertising and Sales Association's recently adopted "Code of Ethics for Sales People" could be just what clubs need to get them started. This document restates the golden rule of successful selling and adapts as well to the dog scene as it does to the selling of any goods or services. With that organization's permission we reduced the principles to their simplest terms and offer them for our readers' consideration.

— set challenging goals

— never compromise with mediocrity

The Frobisher Bay situation
A group of concerned dog lovers has taken real action in Frobisher and forced the Hamlet Council to take over the responsibility for the control of dogs which they had turned over to the RCMP due to the large number of strays. The RCMP slaughtered, without attempting to seize, many pets (some of us read this as being beyond the powers given to them under the Territorial dog ordinance and are taking steps to see that this does not happen again).

A number of us have donated several hundred dollars to bring up a vet and we hear that Dr. Reed of the Guelph school is coming up on the 27th of this month (March). The Hamlet Council was approached to help with this and provide free spaying service but this did not materialize so we did it ourselves. I hope to get the dog bylaws changed and get some real action to continue what we have started. –Tony Moss-Davies, Box 112, Frobisher Bay, N.W.T.

On Canine Pensioners
Let's hope your April editorial will be read and appreciated. Our oldest and dearest, now permanently retired from further motherhood, took a new lease on life the day we brought her home from surgery. She became a happy "puppy" again and being in a breed where colors range from brindles to blacks, so many people mistake the grey-brindled youngsters for the older dogs and comment on the young black dog, only to be surprised when told she is the great-great grandmother.

It's not only canine pensioners who are cast off. One has but to look at the abundance of nursing homes filled with human pensioners to see that modern man has little use for anything he considers no longer useful to him. But how wrong he is! –Mrs. Barbara Dominski, Toronto

Judging great!
May I express my appreciation and approval of the judging at the Sportsmen's Shows. In our breed (English Springer Spaniels) Messrs. Rosenberg, Bracy and Hamilton found in the Open class a female of such good quality that they placed her (over Specials, including my own) where she belonged — as Best of Breed. When they awarded her further, Group 2nd and Group 1st on Wednesday and Friday I was even more pleased.

It's good to see judges who will place a female who is worthy of it where she belongs rather than automatically awarding top position to a male Special. After all, a kennel must have good females to produce good litters. As a breeder, we know this but few judges seem to appreciate the "weaker sex" in the ring. –George E. Tabner, Komoka, Ont.

A nice letter to receive!
We consider it our privilege to send you our catalogue and there is no charge. Each issue of Dogs in Canada is looked forward to eagerly by our club members. We feel that this publication is most instrumental in helping to unite pure-bred dog owners across Canada and to break down area prejudices. –D. B. Albertson, M.F. Secretary, Regina Kennel and Obedience Club.

Canadians are good sports
I attended the Sportsmen's shows with Am. Dual Ch. Sir Lancelot (Vizsla) as a stranger from the States. I returned home with a host of new Canadian friends. I am overwhelmed by the good sportsmanship of the Canadian exhibitors.

Even though Sir Lancelot won six straight Bests of Breeds, a Group 1st and 2nd, the warmth and friendliness continued and grew daily.

Obituary

It is with much sadness, that I write of the passing of Mr. Frank Cosby, Hamilton, owner of the Re-Hil-Va Pekingese and Poodle kennel.

Mr. Cosby, a devoted dog person, started breeding some 12 years ago and although plagued with illness and in and out of the hospital, he was still breeding and producing top quality dogs; three Pekingese champions in 1971, the newest, Re-Hil-Vas Tina Girl, with limited showing placed second and third in group as well as Best Canadian Bred in Group.

His friendly smile and helpful ways will be missed by many. I feel a personal loss as I learned so much from him. I shall use it wisely. Although our almost daily 'peke talks' are to be no more, his presence will always be felt. Much sympathy to his wife Elsie and family. –Mrs. Vivi A. Piche, Hamilton, Ont.

Ear cropping

Being a breeder and exhibitor of Great Danes for the past 11 years, I would like to comment on the cropping of ears. If anyone claims that there is no pain involved he is certainly not telling the truth or perhaps, is unobserving. It doesn't matter to me anymore since I personally have stopped raising puppies, for the following reason.

After bringing eight, perhaps 10 puppies home from the veterinarian, their ears all bandaged up and turning them loose in your kennels, tell me, how do you prevent the pups from jumping on top of one another? Their teeth, as sharp as little needles, pull the bottom stitches out. The painful cries when the tapes come off! Every three days the bandages have to be changed. The raw, bleeding edges, sometimes with minor infections. It will take at least ten to 12 days before the edges heal.

I have seen puppies sold with their ears not healed and these inexperienced people try to tape them. The end result is usually the following: too tight a tape with the blood circulation cut off, or the breaking down of the cartilage. Either way the ears will be ruined.

I sold puppies uncropped and in turn they were lost on an operating table. Also it is increasingly more difficult to get a good vet to do a good job. Also, the prices for this operation are going up. I for one like a Great Dane for what he or she is, with his ears up, or better yet DOWN. Unless one has individual runs for each pup, there is no way they won't hurt one another.

At the same time I would like to comment re Too Busy for Humane action. I have belonged to our local SPCA for quite a number of years. I had the same feeling at one time, since I was specially interested in my breed. It would do a lot of good if some of you interested people would actively join. Not just by taking out a membership, but by volunteering to stand as a Director. Because it is there that you can come forward with suggestions and changes in running the shelter affairs. The people employed at the shelter only follow procedure and are little, if at all, knowledgable on how to trace down a registered dog. I assure you that people with knowledge in dog breeding, caring and handling are more than welcome in these organizations. I have now learned not just to appreciate my breed but also found love and pity for the unfortunate mongrel and any other animal that might turn up in the shelter. I am very proud indeed that we are able to put our animals to sleep by the needle for some, I assure you it must be peace from what they experienced at their master's hands. Some of you dog lovers and breeders, attend your next SPCA meeting and help them operate more efficiently in future. After all you will never know when one of your own will show up! –Mrs. B. Michel, Penticton, B.C.

A suggestion

I just wanted to write and tell you how much I enjoy Dogs in Canada. It is really great. I read and enjoy every word in it. Keep up the good work!

I was wondering if perhaps one day, the CKC might give consideration to the following suggestion; that if a pure-bred bitch has had one litter of registered pedigree pups (to prove she is not sterile), she could be spayed and still allowed to enter dog shows to try to obtain her championship. With all the concern there is today over puppy mills with poor specimens and too many unwanted puppies flooding the market; I feel that my suggestion might cut down on this problem, because then people, amateurs such as myself who do not want to go in the breeding business, could leave the breeding to those who are thus interested and yet could still enjoy the pleasure of entering a female in the shows. Living in crowded communities, it is a real problem having a bitch coming in season every six months and many folks feel the only solution is to have the animal spayed and forget any ideas they might have had re trying for the championship.

I think a dog show is a lot of fun and it does seem a pity not to be able to enter (except obedience). I know many people would love to have their dogs eligible but cannot because of this problem. Even if a bitch is only wanted as a pet, it would still be very satisfying to know she was nice enough to have won her championship.

This too would make more people aware of what a good specimen should look like, as well as increasing the competition.

I wonder what breeders and others think of this idea? –Mrs. R. Cowden, North Bay, Ont.

January 1971 issue wanted

Our club, the Alberta Samoyed Association, is having Dogs in Canada bound in a hard covered volume. This book will then join our now rapidly expanding club library and will be available to all members for future reference. Flea powder sales rise as aid to relieve ticklish situation

"The flea market's jumping. It has been rather a ticklish year for Ontario's dogs and cats, but a great one for the province's flea population," reports Eldon Stonehouse, Globe & Mail columnist. Some veterinarians have reported more than the usual number of owners requesting help for the problem and pet shop operators report sales of flea powder, etc. at a better than average rate.

Owners of flea-pestered pets should spray or dust the animals every day for at least a month to make certain they are clear of fleas, suggests Dr. P. D. McCutcheon, president of the Toronto Academy of Veterinary Medicine, as fleas will hatch from eggs left behind even when no flea has been seen for almost a month.

"The female flea lays her eggs under the carpet or the baseboard, and it may be a month before they hatch and burst on the scene," he cautions. Suggestion: cedar shavings can be used in dog beds in the house or in kennel bedding. A treated bed can be purchased or the owner can simily fill a pillow case with cedar shavings.

Afghanistan style ear cropping of native sheepdogs

Writing in the April 1972 issue of the National Geographic Sabrina and Roland Michaud refer to the sheepdogs used to herd the sheep and goats in the Wakhan Corridor, Afghanistan, a finger of land on the northeastern border of that country known as "the roof of the world". At work these dogs wear heavy spiked collars and have their ears completely removed to protect them from the wolves that prey on the flocks.

Obedience

Send correspondence direct to Jake Giacomelli, 51 Wardrope St. S., Stoney Creek, Ont.

Once again the obedience season is in full swing and once again I find my blood starting to boil as I start to get hotter than a pistol watching the irresponsible manner that some judges and some clubs (perhaps through lack of knowledge or experience), treat their Utility exhibitors.

These very same people can look quite horrified if they see some person give their dog an essentially firm correction and yet not even blink an eyelid when they present ring conditions that are potentially lethal to a dog taking the jumps; especially in the directional jumping exercise.

With the tremendous continuous growth in obedience trials I feel the time has come that in the very near future, no club should be permitted to hold Open or Utility classes at their obedience trials, unless they are prepared to supply at least double three-foot matting under the takeoff and landing points of each jump. Why, in some of these slippery indoor rings it's all the dogs can do to walk on these surfaces! On the Figure 8 heeling pattern, you see the dogs scampering and slipping like mad trying to keep up with their handlers who are merely walking at normal pace. The handlers don't slip because they are usually wearing rubber-soled or rubber-heeled shoes!

If the surface is rough, non-slippery and good for jumping I wouldn't care if there wasn't a single mat in sight — the dog is relatively safe under these jumping conditions — BUT when the floor is shiny, smooth or slippery it is the judge's obligation and responsibility to create the safest working conditions possible for the dogs and handlers under his jurisdiction. Let me explain further. The rules state that there shall be a non-skid material placed at the take-off and landing at all jumps. For some beautiful reason all the judges seem to agree that in the retrieve over the high jump and the broad jump the line of the mats should follow the same direction that the dogs take off and land. It all seems so logically simple—"non-skid material for the takeoff and landing at all jumps". Why can't this very clear requirement be applied to all phases of our obedience? No siree!!—as soon as it comes to the directional jumping exercise in Utility the decision-making process in the safety interests of the dog seems to leave some judges completely!

In the directional jumping exercise, if the dog performs an ideal "go" he will end up at a point along the centre line of the ring, about 20' beyond the line of the jumps, sitting and facing his handler. Then, on orders from the judge the handler will direct his dog to take the jump designated by the judge. In the hundreds of dogs I've seen doing this exercise the majority get up from the place they have stopped and go directly to the jump indicated by their handler — and this is the crux of this whole article!

Why is it, if some clubs are so neglectful or lack safety conscienceness, do the judges have to compound this lack of consideration?

I've seen it so many times it makes me sick!! A club may provide three mats for the Utility ring — so what does Mr. or Mrs. safety-conscious judge do? They usually place one of these mats right up the centre, so the dog can get a good footing for a fast go — fine! Good thinking! If he started to slip on this one he might not go out any distance at all!

Now comes the "piece de resistance" — the remaining two mats are placed parallel to the sides of the ring or slightly tilted towards the centre line of the ring. Either way they are completely useless to the larger, heavier dogs! Here's poor Mr. big and heavy — he's just done a perfect "go" down the centre line, but the moment his handler sends him on his way to the jump he's running all the way to the jump on bare, slippery floor, then you see "Mr. Big and Heavy" commencing to take small, mincing steps in his desperate effort to get some kind of non-slip footing for takeoff — but it's all to no avail because there just isn't any! So what happens? He loses half of his forward momentum in the backward slide of his rear legs, causing him to crash into the jumps, or possibly lose his nerve and not jump at all! There's absolutely no need for this! Any judge worth half his salt should have enough experience and ability to be able to set up the matting at his disposal in such a way as to present the best possible conditions for the safety of the dogs under him.

It's quite easy to do, you know! Just stand at that centre point between 15' to 20' beyond the line of the jumps and place the two jumping mats so that they lead from the bar jump and high jump and cross over each other at the point you are standing.

I can already hear the shouting! But what if the dog does a lousy "go" and ends up in one of the areas not covered by the matting you have set up for the ideal performance? Then he'll be jumping from a slippery surface!! True, he will! — but you can't cover all eventualities! If your mats are limited, they should be set up in a way so as to allow the exercise to be performed in the manner described in the Obedience Standard.

Now this is where the responsibility of the clubs should come in — provide ample matting and there'll be no need for our beloved four-footed friends to be hurt on our account!

I shall never forget the surprise and delight I experienced some years ago while judging in Thunder Bay — I believe I had one or two dogs in Utility but the whole ring was covered in non-skid matting!

Clubs in the southern part of Ontario, where the training classes are large, their trial entries enormous, have absolutely no excuse in not providing all kinds of matting for their trials. There! I've just about cooled off!

P.S. — This jumping problem is not shared in the same degree by the smaller, lighter dogs—some of them seem to be able to jump from any kind of a surface without slipping. I know, 'cos I had a couple of them—but the big boys! Well, that's what I'm hot about!

First International World Series of Dog Obedience

DETROIT — At nine o'clock on Saturday, March 11, the voice on the public address system at the Community Arts Building, Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit, brought everyone to attention.

"Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the first World Series of Dog Obedience. Will you stand in silence a moment, for the presentation of the colors of the two countries represented in this international tournament?" A uniformed Girl Scout color guard marched in, carrying the flag of Canada which they placed in a stand at one end of the trophy table, and they stood at attention while the strains of "Oh, Canada" filled the room. Next, Scouts brought in the flag of the United States, placing it at the opposite end of the table, and this was followed by the national anthem of the United States.

The Novice ring was judged by Barbra Goodman of Chicago, John Blenkey of Ancaster, Ont., and Norman Korn of Taylor, Mich., scoring the 68 Novice exhibitors. These three scores were added and averaged to ascertain the final score. Open was judged by Kent Delaney of Hazelcredt, Ill., Dr. Harry Burns of Willoughby, Ohio and Donna Iden of Carroll, Ohio.

The most exciting part of the tournament, however, was found in the side-by-side Open and Utility rings which made up the Top Dog competition where 54 dogs were put through Open by Merrill Cohen of Baltimore and Utility by Max McCammon of Dalesville, Ind. These two scores were combined to ascertain the Top Open-Utility Dog.

All the dogs had met the rigid requirements necessary to enter this tournament, and thus for the first time in obedience history [illegible] dogs of Canada [illegible] ered under one roof.

The competition was very close and only a fraction of a point separated the placings. In the Novice class there was a first place tie, and a timed one-minute runoff decided the first and second placings.

After the day's judging, President Stuart Roberts of Windsor Ont., presented cash awards and trophies to the placing dogs. The Top Novice and Top Open dogs won awards of $150.00 each, while the Top Open-Utility dog received the official Detroit-Windsor award of $250, plus an additional gift from Lambert Kay Company of a dollar a point for his averaged score and a unique ebony and silver trophy.

The top awards were as follows.

TOP DOG (OPEN-UTILITY)

1st place — Ronald Roberts of Toledo, Ohio, and German Shepherd Dog, O. V. Heidi von Zook UD, with 395 points.

2nd place — Laurie Hatcher of Aurora, Ill., and Shetland Sheepdog Heather Glen Easter Bonnet UD, with 394.5 points.

3rd place — Carol Silverman of Detroit and Doberman Pinscher Lorric's Koshare UD with 394 points.

TOP NOVICE DOG

1st place — Pauline Czarnecki of Chicago, Ill., and German Shepherd Dog, Caralon's Zest of Sunset Acres CD with 198.83+.

2nd place — Mrs. Robert Chappelear of Lebanon, Ohio and Shetland Sheepdog, Tye Dyed Jamey CD with 198.33.

TOP OPEN DOG

1st place — John Lamm of Indianapolis, Ind., and Doberman Pinscher Sassy von Singewald CDX with 197.5 points.

2nd place — Velma Janek of Muncie, Ind., and Doberman Pinscher Val Jan Rustic Lady of Finesse CDX with 197.33 points.

The Canadian Kennel Club was then just 12 years old and the sport of dogs was thought of as a very unusual occupation. How new and unusual the sport of showing dogs was is evidenced by the fact that in that year only 500 dogs were registered, compared to the 50,000 today. The Ottawa Kennel Club held its first pure-bred dog show in 1902, leading the way for the Hamilton and the New Brunswick clubs who followed suit the next year.

The club has had its ups and downs. During World War I funds were so low that the club had to go to the Central Canada Exhibition for assistance — but the shows carried on, largely because of the very real interest of the men and women of that day who reached into their own pockets to keep it going.

The second World War also curtailed the Ottawa dog shows till 1946 when the threads were picked up again. In this year a really big show with an entry of 86 dogs received a half page spread in the Ottawa Journal! Eighty six dogs! Veterans of the Ottawa Kennel Club said the show was bigger and better than ever, representing all groups. Toy breeds and terriers were judged by W. C. Baldwin, all other breeds by Fred Coleman. Best in Show went to the Irish Setter, Lili Pons of Huntley, owned by Mrs. W. J. Walter.

Twenty-six years later, on March 12, 1972, there were over 390 dogs present at the third monthly Sunday afternoon Sanction Match, a dramatic example of how the club and the interest in pure-bred dogs has grown in Canada's capital. From 86 dogs to 390 for a sanction match and to over 700 entered for a championship show reflects the vitality present in the club's membership of over 400.

Over the years elected members of the executive have had the task of collecting and preserving canine history as it was being made. In the collection are medallions, trophies, catalogues, ribbons, books on dogs etc., but a satisfactory way has never been found until now to present them. The OKC does not have a clubroom; display panels are difficult to produce and store. The present incumbent, Mrs. Ruth Savage, has long been concerned with finding some way of presenting these historical items beyond the album stage.

Placing the emphasis on presentation, Col. Cliff Willis, Chairman of the Centennial Dog Show Celebration Committee, has made a proposal to select as much of the archives material as possible and with some artistic touches have it photographed on 35 mm color slides (even if some are only black and white) and present it at the 100th show. This proposal has met with enthusiasm and the program is well underway.

This slide presentation of the history of the OKC at the May show will be complimented by synchronized sound and will utilize the modern rear view screen technique under normal lighting conditions. This will permit the continuous, automatic display to be fully a part of the show.

Many "portraits from the past" will bring back memories and will remind us of those who in the past worked so hard to ensure us of continued enjoyment. It will be a kind of visual essay on the development of the Ottawa Kennel Club since the turn of the century. From the ocean of unidentifiable canine lovers' faces a familiar one emerges — a little older perhaps like that of Mr. Ted Gundersen, Ottawa's most celebrated and loved conformation judge. Ted can go back 50 years in dog memory and is presently putting names to many of these faces and supplying the anecdotes that will make them come alive.

This is an excellent opportunity to promote your breed, and assist the OKC. So go through those old pictures in the attic; if they relate to Ottawa in any way we are interested. Remember, we only want a LOAN of them as they will be re-photographed on to 35 mm slides and returned to you intact. As well as the past we are also interested in the present. We can preserve your dog and you for posterity in our collection if the win (any win) was in Ottawa.

THE CANADIAN COUNCIL FOR ANIMALS' WELFARE

A totally non-profit organization dedicated to the care and protection of animals.

STOP the 'UNWANTED' PET POPULATION EXPLOSION!

Hundreds of thousands of unwanted dogs and cats are born every year — *In Canada, 1,250 every hour, night and day. What happens to them is the concern of everyone who has ever had the pleasure of owning a pet.

As a responsible breeder, what does this uncontrolled breeding have to do with you? Would it astound you to know that your own pleasure of breeding, raising, showing, is in danger?

The future of pets, pure breds, show and sporting dogs is under a cloud . . . When the interest and market for pure breds diminishes because in many municipalities in North America dogs are becoming no longer welcome or even permitted to exercise on a leash — your kennels will be affected. What use in breeding if the market disappears — through over-population.

Far-fetched? Not at all! New York City, a metropolis known for its countless apartment-dwelling dog owners who faithfully walk their dogs, is actually considering the abolishment of dog ownership in Manhattan.

In Metropolitan Toronto — East York Council recently banned dogs entirely from eight parks and forbade their presence in children's play areas and wading pools in 16 other locations.

Other municipalities across Canada are considering equally tough regulations.

Here are the incredible but factual results of a single mating:

ONE female's cumulative offspring could total in TEN years — if all survived — this staggering number of descendents

84,652,644

If 90% survived, the total would be	76,187,380
If 80% survived	67,722,116
If 70% survived	59,257,380
If 60% survived	50,791,588
If 50% survived	42,326,322
If 40% survived	33,861,060
If 30% survived	25,395,796
If 20% survived	16,930,532
If 10% survived	8,465,264
If 5% survived	4,232,632
If 1% survived (One out of 100)	846,526

IF ONLY 1/10th of 1% survived — ONE OUT OF ONE THOUSAND — then the offspring in 10 years would total EIGHTY-FOUR THOUSAND, SIX HUNDRED AND FIFTY TWO!!!

Do you want to be responsible for even this small percentage — 84,642 — of unwanted pets being born just to die? "The Lucky Ones Die Quickly," but most suffer horribly before death comes.

WHAT IS THE CANADIAN COUNCIL FOR ANIMALS' WELFARE?

A national group, founded in 1957, with these objectives:

1. Population control of domestic pets so that the numbers of animals will more closely approximate the real need.
2. Promotion of the use of alternatives to animals in research.
3. Work to encourage legislation guaranteeing greater protection for all animals.
4. Education in the humane treatment of animals.
5. Working in cooperation with other animal welfare groups with similar objectives and philosophy.

DOG SHOW ASSOCIATES...

A new venture in Canadian dogdom

Mesdames Hayes, Mountney and Walker ready ribbons and judge's books prior to a D.S.A. show.

by JIM REYNOLDS

As Canadian dogdom grows ever larger, more and more professionalism is appearing in all its aspects. One of the latest of these has been a group known as Dog Show Associates Ltd. (DSA) who have, as they freely admit, patterned themselves on the American professional superintending services and are now making their product available to Canadian show-giving clubs.

DSA, whose headquarters are in Ottawa, is comprised of six members who collectively have over 100 years experience in dog show activities. Audrey and Dennis Hayes' share comprises over half of this experience. They were stalwarts of the Ottawa Kennel Club and the Canadian Save The Children Fund shows. Between them they have held every position in the OKC but are probably best known as chief ring steward and show superintendent. Fittingly enough, within the loose distribution of duties in DSA they continue to hold these positions. George and Nina Walker, the second couple in the group, have been showing Rhodesian Ridgebacks since 1960 and, after moving to Ottawa in the mid-sixties, have been active in the OKC, George having served as president. Within DSA, Nina is secretary-treasurer and George is the public relations officer.

The Mountneys, Dennis and Marg, round out the sextet. Marg has been active in dogs all her life and since their marriage Dennis too has become involved. He served as an OKC director in 1962 and in 1963 took over as show secretary, a post he held until May 1970. Today Dennis devotes full time to the secretarial side of DSA, Marg processes the entries and typesets the catalogues.

DSA was formed because these six had been working well together at the Ottawa shows and when they attended other shows as exhibitors they were struck by the lack of organization and inefficiency they encountered. They decided to do something about it.

Among them they developed a "package deal" for clubs who lacked the necessary show-giving know-how, which would take over the mechanics of a show and leave members free to use their time in other areas of club activity — encouraging the novice, education and generally promoting pure-bred dogs. The partners raised sufficient funds to buy equipment to make a start and they were in business.

Kingston was the first kennel club to take advantage of this new service and in 1968 DSA took over their shows. Since that time almost a dozen clubs have turned to DSA for help and the number seems to grow annually.

The "package deal" DSA offers includes such pre-show services as consultations with club officials, advertising to exhibitors, processing of entries and printing of premium lists and catalogues. On the day of the show DSA organizes the show site and provides all necessary equipment which it sets up and dismantles. The club is responsible for providing judges, locale, trophies and advertising to the general public. The club also handles admissions and catalogue sales and may supply its own ring stewards. If it does, DSA reimburses the club for stewards' services. DSA encourages this form of club participation and will provide stewards' training classes if the members indicate a wish to learn.

Financially, arrangements between DSA and its clients must remain flexible because of increasing show costs generally. Roughly, it works this way. A club turns over its entire entry fee to DSA who, in turn, submit the recording and listing fees to CKC and rebate a fixed 'per dog' amount to the club. This sum varies according to the number of shows a club holds consecutively. That is, the per dog amount is slightly larger for a three-show venture than it is for a single show. The remainder of the money stays with DSA to defray their expenses and provide whatever profit there may be. To date, all profits have been used to purchase equipment which now includes enough materials to set up a ten-ring show, an office, press, benching to accommodate 400 dogs and proper office equipment. As of January 1972, DSA became a limited company.

DSA will not provide a partial service. It is all or nothing. The reason given is that the group thinks that they offer a high standard of work and do not want to associate the company's name with anything which might not measure up, or over which it might have no control. The group will go anywhere in Canada to help a club put on a show provided a satisfactory contract can be arranged. Their spokesman says that clubs might be surprised how attractive their arrangements really are.

The sextet is not without problems. One of the great these is a personal animosity prejudice against them as they are hard put to understand. The members say that clubs which have not approached them seem to think they can't afford them or not to like the way they do. Much of this prejudice, they think, is based on rumour that has it that DSA charges judges. Like many rumours, this one is not true. The clubs, they say, have full control over whom they have to judge.

The group is looking to the future and, before long, to expansion in the ribbon business. Further plans, they say, depend on the success of development and suggested exhibitors will continue to know about them and about the DSA-superintendent.

The question they were asked was happiest thing about DSA to last. "How many clubs that used DSA for one show continued to use them?" The answer was a joyful chorus of "All of them!"

For; Club couldn't run show without them

by JOYCE BERNHARDT

Four years ago the thousand Islands Kennel and Obedience Club (Brockville), a small group of people already heavily involved in local club activity and obedience training courses, found it difficult to realize its ambition to hold their first championship dog show and obedience trial. Although numbers may not always be important, experience and know-how is important.

Our club could count on one hand the members who had had any experience with a championship show and only one or two had even a brief knowledge of the show secretary's duties. These people had full-time jobs and a very busy life.

A championship show in 1969 did not seem to be forthcoming—not until the club met with the then newly formed Dog Show Associates. Members of TIKO met with Dennis Mountney, Dennis Hayes and Dr. George Walker of DSA to discuss all aspects of their superintending a show and trial in 1969 for TIKO.

From this meeting, held in August 1968, TIKO felt this was exactly what we needed—experienced people to look to the paper work and recording procedures who had the time to do all this work. The club, barely two years old, did not have an adequate bank balance for such a venture. DSA gave us the money backing which we would not have realized for a number of years.

With DSA handling all printing, mailing, receiving of entries, schedules, or-sportsmanlike atmosphere with lots of friendly hospitality. Thus our first annual championship dog show—a "Hospitality Show"—was born in August 1969.

As president for 1968 and 1969 and more recently as show chairman for the 1971 show and trial, I can say from my experience that there would have been no shows in 1969, 1970 or 1971 without DSA's help and guidance.

Many of you will say: "Why don't you run your own show, it's easy etc." Sure it can be done. Clubs all across Canada do accomplish this feat, primarily because there was not this service available to Canadians, as it has been for many years in the United States. I think each club has to take stock of its abilities and its individual situation. This is an age in which it appears people are busier and in which things must be done faster. DSA certainly help in this regard and all the secretarial duties of a show are not a burden to anyone in our club. I personally think it is better and safer to have a professional do a professional job than have the worry associated with an inexperienced amateur doing an amateurish job which could so easily result in chaos.

As show chairman I felt more relaxed and could enjoy our show knowing that DSA had the technical aspects of the show under control. Mind you, I was busy helping where other hard-working members needed help but the tension wasn't there.

DSA has supplied all ring stewards for conformation judging but because TIKO has experienced enjoy stewarding years.

Our club selects all judges for the shows and trials and it is our responsibility and pleasure to look after the judges during their visit with us. I think there is something lacking when judges are left on their own. Many judges have expressed they do not feel at ease when left alone at a show and are very grateful for the helpful club member who is at ringside to escort the judge to a quiet relaxed room away from the showing area. With the services supplied by DSA, in my opinion, we were better able to have our members free to be hosts for judges and exhibitors. Thus, our small club can provide services which we would not otherwise be able to give—a more personal touch. There is still great scope for the club in exploring ways to make dog shows more "fun".

The comment has been made that when a club runs its own show it is a revenue-producing endeavor. Comparing the balance sheet and balancing the work load, going with DSA provides a reasonable profit to the club and a reasonable distribution of the work load among the club members. In my opinion, with DSA's help TIKO has been able to have three well-timed, efficiently-run shows and trials with local club members free to highlight hospitality. I think our shows have been interesting to TIKO members, exhibitors and spectators alike.

Times change and ways of doing things also change—the connotation being that change is progress and therefore good. But is it?

I've only been in the dog game since the mid-fifties but in this short period, it seems to me, the emphasis has shifted from fun, sport, friendly involvement and membership participation to so-called efficiency, paid employees and, in recent years, some clubs resorting to professional organizations to run their shows.

While one can argue that this does not preclude membership participation, the fact is that the ultimately be exhibitor or spectator. A successful organization involves its members in its activities and an increasing number of clubs are depriving their members of playing an active role in the biggest event of the year.

The excuse that people do not have the time is just that—an excuse. There are dozens of people in every club ready to help if given a little encouragement and direction. Too many people go around talking about how much work is involved. Nonsense! I want to go on record as saying there is no one job in putting on a dog show which isn't more fun than it is work. Some call for more organization than others and therein make any work at it!

There is ous aspec the memb of the sho the appre come o years th around backgro a show. a club holding gy bu we "o talgic days.

ANTHONY MOSS-DAVIES

sponse to my statement that I n a kennel specializing in the eeding of Saint Bernards at robisher Bay in the Canadian rctic varies according to the lace where the statement is made.

In the United States, the response is usually "Uh Huh" which reflects the prevailing attitude held by most Americans that ALL of Canada is caught in the icy grip of winter ALL year round and appears to bring to mind pictures of Canadian Mounties doggedly following evil French-Canadians through the snow, sojourning briefly in warm, friendly igloos with smiling, eternally grateful, Eskimos.

In Britain, the statement is usually followed by a request to see photographs of the dogs and then, when the cries of appreciation have died down and we have been introduced to every dog in their kennel on a first-name basis, requests for more information ensue. These, typically, are concerned with the comfort of my dogs in the extreme cold and frequently contain thinly veiled accusations of cruelty for exposing such beautiful pets to so inhospitable a climate.

In Southern Canada, the initial response deals with the cost of kenneling dogs in the Arctic and is followed by probing questions regarding my mental condition and my previous association with hospitals specializing in psychiatric evaluation and treatment. The questions which follow tend to reveal the abysmal ignorance of most Canadians with regard to conditions in the Eastern Arctic.

"Do you live in an igloo?"

"Do the Eskimos eat your dogs?"

"Is Frobisher Bay in the Yukon?"

"Do Eskimos share their wives?"

My wife, an Eskimo who has her own radio program and works for C.B.C. in Frobisher Bay, is appalled by the fact that Canadians, while being aware of the natural resources of the North, know little or nothing of the present way of life and plight of the Eskimo people. Perhaps the following brief and inadequate account will set the record straight.

Frobisher Bay is a Hamlet of 2,600 people, 1,800 Eskimo and 800 white men (kabloona). It is situated in the Canadian Eastern Arctic on the Southern tip of Baffin Island. The average temperature is 16° below zero and temperatures of 50° below are common in the winter. High winds add to the discomfort. The bay is covered with ice from November to July and the only way of leaving the settlement is to fly to Montreal, 1,500 miles due south.

Nowadays, igloos are built only by the hunters during the hunt. The Eskimo people have been brought from their small camps to larger settlements and provided with low-cost houses by the Government. This housing is extremely inadequate and is inferior to the majority of summer camps built in the south. The centralization of the Eskimo has made administration of the area easier but has caused much hardship to them as the land will not support large gatherings of people and the majority of Eskimos are unprepared for, and suspicious of, the "advantages" of a wage-earning economy.

It is indeed unlikely that there will be enough jobs for the people as there is no economic base for a viable economy in the North. Exploitation of the mineral resources is likely to bring little benefit to the native people. The Government emphasis on resource development has done much to increase the problems of the people as little concern is shown for the human resource in the area.

The north is not a vast mineral deposit only, but is also the land which supplies sustenance to animals such as the caribou, musk-Ox, polar bear, seal and the Eskimos who live and die with these creatures. As the question of land ownership was never in question among these nomadic people it is only recently that they have begun to realize that the white man is no longer the guest in their land but the owner; and one who makes decisions regarding the use of the land. The people may complain about oil and mineral companies exploiting the land, polluting the environment and frightening the animals but their voice is small compared to the southern companies who see the North as Canadian mineral wealth rather than an unspoiled environment in which the Eskimo has taken his place in the balance of nature.

Many Eskimos feel that the game laws imposed upon them are foreign to their way of life. The introduction of cash for skins has had little impact on the majority of hunters who hunt for meat and clothing. Although many Eskimos have entered, or attempted to enter, the wage economy, the prime purpose of hunting is to provide meat, not sport. Dieticians have placed many of the dietary deficiencies of the Eskimo people upon the use of southern foods in their meals and are advocating a return to the original diet.

Talking of diet brings me back to my Saint Bernards and the question regarding the cost of feeding large dogs in the North. I have found that no special diet is required and I am able to use commercial dog food brought from the south. I do include seal fat and liver as this is rich in vitamin D, and use additives during gestation, nursing and puppyhood in the same proportion as suggested for dogs anywhere. The seal is obtained from my relatives and I advocate that anyone contemplating raising dogs in the North marry an Eskimo! The food costs at least twice what it would cost in the south due to transportation costs—about $100 per ton by sea and 25 cents per pound by air—and I was fortunate in receiving assistance from General Foods in Montreal in absorbing some of the cost of the sea operation. The cost of shipping dogs and puppies is 70 cents per pound.

The cost involved in shipping dogs to shows is prohibitive. To show in Montreal, the nearest city, would cost $380 per dog in shipping alone. However, I have heard that some of my puppies will be shown this year. As I am hoping to move the kennels even farther North in the next year it appears unlikely that I will be able to afford to show my breeding stock as this would raise the cost per pound by at least 45 cents. Additional costs are incurred in phone bills for veterinary advice as the nearest vet is Dr. Baker in Montreal, and an excellent job he does under most difficult circumstances.

Minus 50o is not uncommon and I was initially concerned that the dogs would be unable to cope with this extreme, particularly as the high winds can send the wind-chill factor to minus 100°. I soon discovered that there was no reason for concern. The dogs are perfectly comfortable as they have grown coats which are much thicker than those they wore when living through the balmy Quebec winters. In fact, most of the time the dogs are to be seen outside their kennel even on the coldest day. The habitual lethargy attributed to the Saint Bernard is, I believe, a function of the climate in the south. My dogs are active all day and only revert to drooling and apparent lethargy when brought into the house for routine grooming or veterinary care. Due to their constant liveliness I have noted a significant increase in muscle quality and tone since bringing them North.

Exercising the dogs presents little problem. From November to July the bay is covered with ice and is perfect for travel by skidoo. The short winter days are illuminated by the weak rays of the sun low in the sky. We take our komatik (Eskimo sled) and drive about ten miles onto the sea ice with the dogs running alongside (except for Anana (mother) who nestles beside my wife on the komatik to the mutual satisfaction of both parties).

My wife uses a smooth-haired male in harness to collect groceries from the Hudson Bay store. The Eskimo people, at first awed by the size of the dogs, have come to recognize them for the friendly, lovable giants they are and the Eskimo children love to ride on our full grown dogs, laughing with delight as they fall into a snow-bank and are licked by huge rough tongues.

Some adaptations have been made to help cope with the peculiar conditions here. The dogs have, at last, realized that my seal-skin kamiks (boots) are NOT for chewing and have also become resigned to the fact that the wolf skin trim on my parka is DEFINITELY not to be considered for dessert. Although the kennels are not heated except when there are new puppies (and then only for the first week) they have been insulated and provided with double walls. To save space and lumber (very expensive) the kennels are built as two tier units and it is possible to turn the dogs out together or separately for exercise.

The floor of the pound is made of wood which is well sprung. Concrete is too expensive and cracks and is also impossible to clean at low temperatures. To clean the pound the wood floor is struck with a heavy object. This causes the wood to bend and cracks the frozen urine and dung. This can then be easily shovelled away. During the brief summer months when the temperature reaches 60° extensive use of a non-toxic disinfectant is called for and this has proved efficient in eliminating unpleasant odors and dangerous bacteria. There is no fear of bacteria in the winter but the kennels are sprinkled with disinfectant every day to eliminate any odor which may become obvious in the spring (June and July).

We have found that it is impos- sible to use any nylon or plastic container for dog bowls as thes become glass-like at low temper atures. Feed hoppers will n work at extremes thus we u aluminum dishes and ha experienced no problems.

The doors of the kennel ha been constructed in such a w as to prevent the high winds fr forming a fatal vacuum ins the kennel. We have done thi placing a storage shed in suc way as to provide a wind b and observation of snow drift terns seems to suggest that will solve this problem. How it is likely that the dogs will to be brought in some when the wind blows fro East.

Breeding Saints in the N not easy. Cleaning out ken 60 below with a high wi form of masochism to be enced to be believed, and insult to injury, while I a ering in the cold the dog to be quite comfortabl ever, when enjoying a cup of tea, ten miles o sea ice, looking at the scenery magnificent in raw beauty, with my w side, our enormous Saints nuzzle the fur kas and settle down i by our feet; then are v

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JANUARY 8, 1972

The first regular monthly meeting of the new Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club was held in the Club's head office at Toronto, with the president (Mrs. Hilda F. Pugh) in the Chair, and the following members of the Board present: Gordon M. Ashcroft, Robert L. Blyth, Mrs. Anita Chapman, Dr. R. D. Crawford, Mrs. Mary E. Daye, Mrs. Sarah Diamond, E. R. Dixon, Mrs. Lorna Jackson, George H. S. Kennedy, Mrs. Evelyn Kenny, Dr. M. I. McArthur, Ronald G. Sless, and Mrs. Marian Wait.

INTERNAL AND ADMINISTRATION

MEETINGS OF THE BOARD

The following dates were set for regular meetings of the Board where necessary: March 18th, April 19th, May 20th, June 21st, July 15th, August 16th, September 16th, October 18th, November 18th, December 20th.

ANNUAL MEETINGS—1972

The Secretary was instructed to arrange for the Registrar to be available for the Board meeting on Friday February 25th, and for his attendance at the Annual General Meeting at Winnipeg on February 26th.

REGISTRATION, STUD BOOKS AND RELATED MATTERS

REGISTRATION DIVISION

The Club's solicitor met with the Board to report on developments with regard to the legal proceedings which the Club had instituted against Grace Chemicals Ltd.

With the Registrar (Ed Holdham) in the meeting, the Board considered the Registrar's report of January 5th setting forth information on the status of applications being processed at the Division. The Registrar's report indicated work status as follows:

(a) Transfer of dogs already registered—up-to-date.
(b) Requests for 3-generation pedigrees—up-to-date.
(c) Applications for membership and kennel names—up-to-date.
(d) Applications for registration of litters—fully processed up to letter "L" in November (NOTE: All applications received in the month are filed alphabetically according to surnames of applicants pending the processing of the applications. This then means that all litter applications submitted by persons with surnames commencing "A" to "L" inclusive had been fully processed with the exception of those applications which had to be returned for any reason.)
(e) Applications for individual registration—fully processed up to the letter "F" in June.

The Registrar reported that:

(1) In the month of December approximately 5,200 certificates of individual registration had been typed of which approximately 500 remained to be checked and mailed;
(2) Form letters had been despatched to persons who had written the Division six months or more ago enquiring about applications which had been submitted and for which they had not received certificates, and the Division was now dealing with replies as and when they are received.

The Board directed that the following message be conveyed to Mr. F. E. Payne, Canada Department of Agriculture: 'The 1972-73 Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club is not totally satisfied with current and past operations and organization of its Head Office and its Registration Division. The Board has decided to have an independent inquiry into the operations and organization of these offices conducted, with a view to improving operations and organization. The Board requests that the Canada Department of Agriculture conduct this inquiry. The Board wishes to consider recommendations from this inquiry at its annual Board meeting beginning on February 23, 1972. We request your immediate assistance in this matter, replying to the Chairman of the Board, Mrs. Hilda Pugh.'

The Board directed that the full text of this message be published in 'Dogs in Canada' (see President's message on Page 1 of official section—February issue of "Dogs in Canada").

The Board referred to the Registration Committee for study and report the Registrar's inquiries regarding the regulations on the registration of imported dogs.

DOG SHOWS

JUDGES

The Secretary reported that in accordance with instructions given by the Board he had informed Mr. Stanley Dangerfield, Surrey, England, of the extent of his judging privileges at shows held under C.K.C. rules. No action was taken on a further letter from Mr. Dangerfield stating that unless the Board was prepared to recognize him as an all-breed judge, he did not propose to accept any further judging engagement in Canada.

The Board decided that a native of Australia, temporarily resident in Canada, wishing to judge at championship shows in Canada would be required, regardless of his judging privileges in Australia, to follow the same procedure (i.e. permit system) as a resident of Canada.

DATES

Mr. Sless gave notice of motion that at the annual meeting of the Board he would move for reconsideration of the Board's previous decision on the applications of the Ladies Kennel Club of New Brunswick which had sought permission to hold championship shows on September 1st., and 2nd., 1972.

Dr. McArthur requested, and the Secretary was instructed to place on the agenda of the annual meeting of the Board, the question of the Board setting policy with regard to advance notice in "Dogs in Canada" of shows and trials to be held under the Club's Rules.

PROPOSED NEW DOG SHOW RULES

The Secretary reported that a tremendous number of letters of comment had been received regarding the proposed new Dog Show Rules of which advance notice had been given in "Dogs in Canada".

It was agreed that:

(1) a copy of each such letter would be turned over to the Chairman of the special committee which had drafted the Rules on the understanding that the committee would review all comments and submit its final report and recommendations to the annual meeting of the Board;

(2) each member of the Board would be provided with a copy of each letter of comment received.

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

CANCELLATION OF AWARDS

The Board referred to the Complaints Committee a report of a trial-giving club that an exhibitor had failed to return ribbons and trophy for an award which had been cancelled by the C.K.C.

DATES

The Secretary reported on trials, scheduled to have been held by the Dogwood Kennel Club which had been cancelled after the dates had been allocated.

The Board referred to the annual meeting for consideration the question of authorizing the Shows and Trials Division to automatically impose penalties when shows and/or trials are cancelled after dates have been granted.

ANNUAL MEETING of THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

FEBRUARY 23-29, 1972

The Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club was held in the Fort Garry Hotel, Winnipeg, Manitoba. The meeting commenced at 10:00 a.m. on February 23rd with Mrs. Hilda F. Pugh, President, as Chairman and the following members of the Board present: Gordon M. Ashcroft, Robert L. Blyth, Mrs. Anita Chapman, Dr. R. D. Crawford, William Dawson, Mrs. Mary E. Daye, Mrs. Sarah Diamond, E. R. Dixon, Mrs. Lorna Jackson, George H. S. Kennedy, Mrs. Evelyn Kenny, Dr. M. I. McArthur, Ronald G. Sless, Mrs. Marian Wait (not all of whom found it possible to attend the meeting throughout its entire duration).

There follows a resume of items of major interest coming under Board consideration at that time.

MINUTES

PUBLICATION OF MINUTES

The Secretary was instructed to prepare estimates of additional cost were the Board to order the resumption of the practice of publishing full minutes of Board meetings, the matter to be again considered by the Board at its next semi-annual meeting.

FINANCIAL MATTERS

"DOGS IN CANADA"

The Secretary presented an oral report on the discussions between representatives of the Club and the publishers of "Dogs in Canada", in some cases regarding possible changes in agreements between the Club and the publishers, which took place at a meeting held on Friday evening, February 18th.

It was agreed that a written report on the discussions would be prepared by the Secretary and mailed to all members of the Board for study at a future meeting of the Board.

BANKING ARRANGEMENTS

After obtaining the opinion of the Club's solicitor, the Board authorized the President and Secretary-Treasurer to arrange for term deposits (earning interest) on such funds as may be on deposit in the Club's bank accounts but which are not immediately required for the operation of the Club.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR 1971

The Board received, discussed, and referred to the Annual General Meeting the financial statements for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1971.

BUDGET FOR 1972

The Board received and considered a report, submitted by the Secretary-Treasurer to members of the Board prior to the meeting, in which the Secretary-Treasurer had set out his estimates of revenue and expenditures for the Head Office for 1972, the estimates having been accompanied by the following information: Actual figures on revenue and expenditures for the years 1968, 1969, 1970, and 1971; the budget for 1971, a projection (made in the summer of 1971) for 1972.

It was understood that the Registrar would present to the Board at its next meeting estimates of revenue and expenditures for the Registration Division.

REGISTRATION, STUD BOOKS AND RELATED MATTERS

REGISTRATION DIVISION

It was presented to the Board that a report to be received from the Management Consulting Services of the Canadian Department of Agriculture, initially to be brought for Board consideration by the special Registration Division Committee, would now be made directly to the Board by a representative of the Canada Department of Agriculture.

On February 24, 1972, Mr. S. Bosloy appeared before the Board to give his report, as addressed to Mr. F. E. Payne, Director of the Livestock Division in the Department, outlining certain recommendations arrived at as a result of his visit to the Registration Division on January 26, 1972.

Mr. Bosloy's report was considered in depth and was accepted for immediate implementation by means of a Registration Division Committee (Mrs. Hilda F. Pugh, Chairman), for which terms of reference and guidelines were set out later in the meeting.

This special Committee has as its specific and immediate objective the increase of production levels in the Registration Division and, generally, the preparation of the Division for installation in June, 1972, of a new operations system to be designed by the Canadian Department of Agriculture Management Consulting Services.

BREED STANDARDS

The Board received and considered the report and recommendations of the Breed Standards Committee (Mrs. Evelyn Kenny), Chairman).

The Board decided that no new breed or variety would be recognized by the C.K.C. until there are a minimum of 25 specimens of the breed or variety in Canada all of which must be eligible for registration in the records of the Club, and that documents on such imported specimens of the breed or variety must be acceptable to the C.K.C.

Acting on a recommendation of the Committee the Board received as information a letter from Mrs. Agnes Wilkie regarding the Black Smooth Brussels Griffon.

The Board noted the Committee's interim report on its consideration of a proposed new standard for the Dalmatian.

Arising out of the Committee's report regarding the Miscellaneous Class, the Secretary was instructed, when the Dog Show Rules are again reprinted, to include the names of those breeds eligible for entry in the Class.

The Board considered the Committee's recommendation with regard to revision of current policies on the processing of requests for approval of a new standard or change in standard, and set the following policies to be effective immediately:

1. When a club or group of individuals wishes to modify or replace a breed standard, they must submit the proposed new standard or change in standard together with reasons and advantages for the change to the Breed Standards Committee of The Canadian Kennel Club.
2. When a club requests a change in a breed standard it must supply a current list of club members and it must state the percentage of its whole membership which is in favour of the proposed change.
3. When a change in a breed standard is proposed by a group of individuals, the names of those individuals must accompany the application.
4. If the Breed Standards Committee considers the changes and the reasons for the changes to be valid, the proposed new standard or change in standard shall be published in three consecutive issues of the official organ of The Canadian Kennel Club, and on each occasion the publication shall be accompanied by an invitation to those interested to submit their comments. The time limit for the receipt of comments shall be six months from the first date of publication.
5. At the expiration of the six months period all comments will be considered by the Breed Standards Committee.
6. The proposed standard with the revisions accepted by the Breed Standards Committee following its consideration of the comments received, shall then be published in two consecutive issues of the official organ, and a further period of four months from the date of the first publication shall be allowed for the receipt of further comments.
7. All further comments will be considered by the Committee which will then submit its recommendations to the Board of Directors.
8. If the Committee considers a submission to be one that does not warrant serious consideration, or finds that the sponsors are not prepared to accept changes suggested by the Committee, then the Committee will submit its recommendations to the Board and Sections No 4, No. 5, No. 6 and No. 7 of these policies will not apply.

KENNEL NAMES

The Board decided that when transfer of kennel name from the estate of a deceased person is processed the fee will be at members' rates if, at the time of death, the deceased person was a member of the C.K.C.

The Board referred to the Registration Committee for study and report at its semi-annual meeting proposals submitted by the Registrar on new policies with regard to the use of registered kennel names, the proposals intended to expedite the processing of applications for individual registration.

REGISTRATION COMMITTEE

The Board received and considered a report submitted by the Registration Committee (Mrs. Sarah Diamond, Chairman).

The Board took the following action after considering the Committee's recommendations:

(1) Referred back to the Committee for further study a proposal that the government be asked to arrange for inspection of tattoo markings on dogs imported to Canada;

(2) Concurred with a recommendation of the Committee that interbreeding of Collies (Rough and Smooth) be not permitted, the Committee having studied responses received to a published notice in "Dogs in Canada" soliciting comments on a proposal that interbreeding be permitted;

(3) Noted that a member of Canada's armed forces, while stationed in England had purchased two dogs registered with the Kennel Club and for which acceptable Export Certificates were available, however the two dogs were imported to Canada from Germany where the owner had been transferred from England. The Board concurred with a recommendation of the Registration Committee that when a resident of Canada acquires a pure-bred dog registered in the country birth in a stud book recognized by the C.K.C. th will be eligible for registration, when impor Canada, provided the importer submits applicati registration together with the documents and fe quired by the Club's By-laws;

(4) Concurred with a recommendation of the Regist Committee that there be no changes in the c policy which requires that in order to be registe a 'Miniature Dachshund', a Dachshund owned United States and registered with the A.K.C. m officially weighed and found not to exceed 9 pour

(5) Concurred with a recommendation of the Com that Nova Scotia Duck Tolling Retrievers, born United States, the property of a resident of C temporarily located in the United States, would eligible for registration in the Club's records;

(6) Concurred with a recommendation of the Com that the C.K.C. do not consider registration o imported into Taiwan from England, or the prog said dogs born in Taiwan.

(7) Referred back to the Committee for further con tion, after additional pertinent information ha obtained, a request for registration of a Boxer ed from Japan to Canada by a resident of Canad

The Board referred to a special Committee (D. Crawford, Chairman) for study and report the trar's recommendations on the question of acceptal our descriptions for registration purposes, the Com to consider letters of comment received following p tion of a list of proposed colour descriptions in "I Canada".

The Board decided that the designation for an i ed dog, i.e. "(imp.)" would no longer be used on cates issued by the Club.

The Secretary was instructed to enquire as to t of preparation and printing of Stud Service Agreem be made available to breeders at a price to be set Board.

Mr. Holdham, the Registrar, presented an production report (dated February 17th) indicatin status in the Registration Division as follows:

(a) Transfers of dogs already registered—up-to-dat
(b) Requests for 3-generation pedigrees—up-to-dat
(c) Applications for membership and kennel nam to-date.
(d) Applications for registration of litters—fu cessed up to the letter "L" in December.
(e) Applications for individual registration—fu cessed up to the letter "M" in August.

In response to a question whether the Registra vision was encountering any difficulties in proces plications for individual registration based on litt trations effected during the "computer era", M ham stated that some difficulties were still being tered when processing applications for individual tion based on litters having a number lower than 9 which point a new litter registration system had stituted.

NEWLY-CREATED BREEDS

Dr. R. D. Crawford was appointed Chairman cial Committee asked to study and report on a s that consideration be given to the adoption of po garding the recognition of "newly-created breeds"

COMPLAINTS, CHARGES AND PROTE

DISCIPLINE

The Board referred to the Complaints Comm study and report a suggestion that consideration to the adoption of a demerit system which would connection with violations of the rules or C.K.C on the part of clubs granted permission to hold e der C.K.C. rules.

COMPLAINTS AND PROTESTS

In response to a question on a specific file, t tary advised that as a result of the combined the transfer of the Club's registration records f wa to Toronto, and because of lack of adequat the Head Office, the processing of most compl protests had been set aside, not through choice b necessity; however, with a build-up in staff at Office a determined effort is being made by plaints Committee and staff to bring this area i rent position.

N. S. F. CHEQUES

The Secretary was instructed to seek the the Club's solicitor on the question whether the introduce legislation providing for disciplina against persons tendering N.S.F. cheques to clu shows and trials.

INTERNAL AND ADMINISTRATIO

AMENDMENTS TO C.K.C. BY-LAWS

The Board received the report of a special ((William Dawson, Chairman) to which Comm Board had referred for drafting a number of amendments to the Club's By-laws.

As the number of members of the Board f the time this report was considered) was below mum number required in order to arrange for referendum ballot, the report was referred to annual meeting for consideration.

HEAD OFFICE STAFF

The Board approved the recommendations ecutive Manager (N. F. Brown) that effective 1972, the following staff changes be made:

(1) The position of Secretary-Treasurer be div provided in the Club's By-laws) into the I Secretary and Treasurer respectively;

(2) The position of Secretary be taken over by Hueston;

(3) He to remain as Treasurer and Executive Manager, and until other staff arrangements are made, be responsible also for all matters relating to shows and trials.

The Secretary:

(1) reported that Miss Helen M. Locke, the Club's bookkeeper, is due to retire next December, and Miss Locke had informed him that she would not continue on staff upon reaching the date scheduled for her retirement;

(2) reported that last June he had discussions with the Club's auditors with regard to their "computerized client accounting system" and had obtained information from the auditors (copy of letter dated June 30th, 1971, enclosed with this agenda);

(3) suggested that consideration be given to utilizing this type of service, and if installed it be run parallel with accounting records maintained by Miss Locke in the usual way until it is clear that we can discontinue our customary accounting records and rely on the computerized accounting system.

The Secretary's recommendation was approved.

In order to expedite the handling of letters addressed to the attention of the Board of Directors, it was agreed that the Secretary or any Council or Committee Chairman may reply to such letters, each member of the Board to be provided with a copy of the letter and a copy of the reply thereto.

MEETINGS OF THE BOARD

The Board decided that a meeting of the Board in March would be held if considered necessary by the President.

The Board decided that its semi-annual meeting would be held at Toronto commencing on Monday, October 2, 1972.

PUBLICATION OF OFFICIAL BUSINESS IN "DOGS IN CANADA"

The Board considered the question, referred from the previous semi-annual meeting, of resumption of full publication in "Dogs in Canada" of all awards at shows and trials held under the Club's rules. It noted the Secretary-Treasurer's estimate that to do so would cost an additional $9,000 annually based on the number of dogs in competition in 1971. It decided to defer the question until its semi-annual meeting, and to then consider it in the light of the anticipated improvement in the Club's financial position.

The Secretary pointed out that amongst the amendments to the Club's By-laws now awaiting Ministerial approval is an amendment calling for the appointment of a Finance Committee.

It was agreed that appointment of the Committee would await Ministerial approval of the amendment, and in the meantime each member of the Board would be free to submit, for consideration of the Board at its next meeting, the names of those whom they considered worthy of appointment to the Committee, and when doing so would, in each case, set forth their understanding of the qualifications of each such nominee.

The position of Honorary President was left vacant for the year 1972.

Dr. R. D. Crawford was appointed Chairman of an Education Committee.

William Dawson was appointed Chairman of a special Chapter 7 Committee to deal with any applications for judging permits which may be submitted by any member of the Chapter 7 Committee.

Ronald G. Sless was appointed Chairman of the Junior Kennel Clubs Committee.

ANNUAL MEETINGS — 1973

The Board decided that:

(1) the next Annual General Meeting would be held at Toronto on Saturday, March 31, 1973;
(2) the next annual meeting of the Board would commence on Wednesday, March 28, 1973.

BUSINESS ARISING OUT OF ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

It is the custom of the Board, following the Annual General Meeting, to consider those questions which were raised during the course of the meeting, with a view to determining whether any action, at the Board level, is indicated.

Accordingly the Board, at its first session following the Annual General Meeting at Winnipeg on February 26th, considered a number of subjects raised at the meeting and took the following action:

(1) Referred to the Dog Show Council an offer, made at the Annual General Meeting, that a number of clubs in Manitoba would subsidize the expenses of a Manitoba member if one is appointed to the Dog Show Council;
(2) Referred to the Directors for Ontario and Quebec a proposal that the Board institute steps which would enable clubs in Ontario and Quebec to obtain priority rights on dates for sanction matches;
(3) Referred to the Dog Show Council for study a proposal that "Any dog winning Best in Show shall not be shown under the same judge for eighteen months from the time of its win";
(4) Referred to the Chapter 7 Committee for study a proposal that "A judge may not attend or show at a dog show the day prior to his or her assignment".
(5) No action was taken on a proposal that "No judge be allowed to judge part of a litter where they are or were the owner of the sire or dam", the Board feeling that it would be extremely difficult to enforce such a rule;
(6) Tabled, until the report of a special Committee reviewing with the publishers of "Dogs in Canada" agreements between the Club and the publishers, the question "When may we expect a return of "Dogs in Canada" to the old format?"
(7) Tabled, until the report of a special committee on the subject of "dog cosmetic surgery", the question, raised at the Annual General Meeting, on whether the Club had taken any position on whether it should abolish ear trimming and tail docking of dogs;
(8) Appointed a building committee to look into the feasibility of the Club having its own building, Mrs. Anita Chapman being named Chairman of the Committee;
(9) Referred to the Finance Committee the question, raised at the Annual General Meeting, on whether consideration had been given to a different fee structure, i.e. "one flat rate";
(10) Referred to the Registration Division Committee for consideration and consultation with the management consultant survey, the question of preparation of copy for the Club's next stud book to be published;
(11) Appointed a Committee (Dr. R. D. Crawford, Chairman) to study the subject of hip dysplasia and such other diseases as may be referred to the Committee by the Board;
(12) Referred to the Registration Division Committee four letters which Mr. Bob John Ellieff had delivered to the Secretary at the Annual General Meeting, the letters having to do with registration questions;
(13) No action was taken on a suggestion that the By-laws be amended to permit associate members to speak at the annual general meeting;
(14) Referred to the Dog Show Council was the question of including in the Dog Show Rules a rule prohibiting "debarked," dogs in competition;
(15) No action was taken on a suggestion that the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards be amended to permit cross-bred dogs in competition at licensed trials;
(16) No action was taken on a suggestion that junior kennel clubs be permitted to stage championship shows;
(17) Referred to the Dog Show Council for study were briefs, presented at the Annual General Meeting, by the Fort Garry Kennel Club and Mid-Canada Dog Shows.

MEMBERSHIP

MEMBERSHIP MATTERS

The Board approved a suggestion that the application for membership form be amended by providing a place on the form where a person, applying for membership in October, November, or December, can indicate whether he wishes the application to be considered for the current membership year or the following membership year.

The Board considered letters from three members each of whom had enquired whether his or her membership status would be jeopardized should he or she acquire and commence the breeding of dogs which are specimens of breeds recognized in other countries but not yet recognized by the C.K.C. The Board decided that each such case would be decided on its merits, the member to be asked to submit for examination any documents issued in the country from which the dogs were exported to Canada, and his or her intentions with regard to ultimately seeking recognition of the breed when the minimum requirements for recognition can be met.

SHOWS & TRIALS

DATES

The Board noted the Secretary's report that the current five-year programme of priority rights on show and/or trial dates ended in 1972. It considered the Secretary's recommendations with regard to approaching clubs wishing to obtain priority rights in the years 1973-77 inclusive, and directed the procedure to be followed in obtaining and considering applications which clubs may wish to submit.

Except in such cases where the Board may otherwise order, the Executive Manager was authorized to impose a penalty of $10.00 per event when a club, after having been granted permission to hold a show or trial, cancels the event.

The Board directed that the list of "Coming Events", as published in "Dogs in Canada", list all championship events not less than six months in advance of the holding of the events. (NOTE: The foregoing will not apply to any application for date received less than six months in advance of the event.)

DOG SHOWS

JUDGES

The Chapter 7 Committee was asked by the Board to consider and report on the question of whether, when an applicant is granted a judging permit for a number of breeds, he may accept an engagement which would require that he judge less than the total of the breeds for which a permit was granted.

The Board noted, and approved, the Chapter 7 Committee's views as follows:

"The Committee considers split assignments cause much extra bookkeeping for both the office and the Chapter 7 Committee, and for the purpose of streamlining this operation recommends that the Board adopt a policy that when an applicant has been granted a permit for six or more breeds, the assignment has to be for the complete permit.

"In the case of a full Group, the complete Group should be judged at the one time if possible, however if the show-giving club feels the entry for the Group might be more than 175 dogs, approval should be given for splitting the Group."

The Chairman (Mrs. Sarah Diamond) of the Chapter 7 Committee reported that the Committee had read with interest letters commenting on the proposed new Dog Show Rules, and the Committee had noted that 24.76% of the letters received referred to the "failure of our judges to implement Chapter 9, Section 2, of our present Dog Show Rules".

Chapter 9, Section 2 of the Dog Show Rules, reads as follows:

"A judge's decision shall be final in all cases affecting the merits of the dogs. Full discretionary power is given to the judge to withhold any awards or prizes for want of merit. After a class has been judged in accordance with these Rules, it shall not be rejudged, but the awarding of a first prize in any class shall not obligate the judge to award WINNERS or other higher awards if he feels that such an award should be withheld. Where a judge has withheld a first prize ribbon in any class for want of merit, he must withhold the following awards from any and all dogs in that class: Winners, Reserve Winners, Best of Winners, and/or Best of Breed."

The Secretary was instructed to draw the attention of all judges to Chapter 9, Section 2 of the Dog Show Rules by an appropriate notice on the back of the form which show-giving clubs use when notifying judges of C.K.C. approval for specific assignments.

DATES

The Board approved the application of the Markham Kennel Club to hold championship shows at Markham, Ont. on August 26th and 27th, 1972, and also approved the applications of the Association Canine Mauricienne to hold championship shows at Three Rivers, P.Q. on the same dates.

On reconsideration the Board approved the applications of the Ladies Kennel Club of New Brunswick who sought permission to hold championship shows on August 31st, September 1st, and 2nd, 1972.

After considering a report on championship shows held by the Belleville & District Kennel Club in 1971, the Board approved that Club's applications to hold championship shows on October 28th and 29th, 1972, but directed the Secretary to arrange with the Chairman of the Dog Show Council for these shows to be observed and report on to the Board.

DISQUALIFICATIONS

The Board referred to the Dog Show Council for study and report the question of whether a puppy, disqualified at a championship show as a monorchid, may continue in competition without the necessity of reinstatement.

The Board referred to the Dog Show Council for study the question of whether the Dog Show Rules should be amended to provide that a dog once disqualified may not again compete unless, and until, reinstated by the C.K.C.

CHAMPIONS AND CHAMPIONSHIP POINT RATINGS

The Dog Show Rules provide that periodically the schedule of point ratings in the Dog Show Rules will be revised.

The Board decided that the Dog Show Council would be instructed to place before it, at its semi-annual meeting in October, a proposed up-to-date schedule of point ratings for all breeds in all zones, and when preparing the proposed new schedule it consider submissions received from the following specialty clubs: Afghan Hound Club of Canada, Irish Setter Club of Canada, Siberian Husky Club of Canada, St. Bernard Club of Ontario, Great Dane Club of Canada, and the Vizsla Club of Canada.

CLASSES AND AWARDS

Referred to the Dog Show Council for study and report was a recommendation of the previous Council that steps be taken to amend the Dog Show Rules by deleting the awards of Best Canadian-bred and Best Canadian-bred Puppy at the breed, group and show levels, and substituting provision for an award of Best Puppy in Show.

UNOFFICIAL CLASSES

The Board indicated that it had no objection to a club, holding an all-breed championship show, scheduling unofficial classes in a breed which is being supported as a 'booster show' by a specialty club.

MATERIAL FOR SHOW OFFICIALS

Referred to the Dog Show Council was the Secretary's recommendation that steps be taken to prepare and publish booklets intended as guidelines for show officials and judges.

PROPOSED NEW DOG SHOW RULES

The Secretary reported that each member of the Board had been provided, before this meeting, with a copy of all letters of comment received following the publication in "Dogs in Canada" of proposed new Dog Show Rules intended to replace the Rules now in effect.

During a discussion it was agreed that:

(1) The number of subjects suggested for consideration with regard to the new rules was such as to rule out any thorough consideration before the Annual General Meeting;
(2) All letters of comment received must receive thorough consideration;
(3) Having operated under the current rules for so many years, all the time and consideration necessary should be taken to ensure that new rules, when adopted, meet with general satisfaction;
(4) As the former Committee had not, as requested, submitted a final report and recommendations, it should now be dissolved, and arrangements made for continued study of new rules.

Accordingly, the proposed new Rules were turned over to the Dog Show Council for consideration, the new Council to consider all comments received, the Council to be free to redraft the rules in their entirety if it felt that course was desirable.

MISCELLANEOUS CLASS

A resident of the United States having requested that the Bichon Frise be permitted entry in the Miscellaneous Class at championship shows in Canada, it was agreed that such an addition would be made if the breed is now eligible for entry in the Miscellaneous Class at shows held under A.K.C. rules.

DOG COSMETIC SURGERY

As a result of letters received from the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association and the Ontario Veterinary Association each of whom had expressed to the Club a wish "to start a dialogue in regard to unnecessary cosmetic surgery in pure-bred dogs", the Board had appointed a special Committee (Ronald G. Sless, Chairman) to look into the matter.

The Board received and considered a report of the special Committee which felt that tail docking "should be allowed", but recommended to the Board "to ban the practice of ear cropping". At the same time it received and considered a letter on the same subject from the Canadian Federation of Humane Societies.

The Board then:

(1) Directed that notice be placed in "Dogs in Canada" reporting that the Board had discussed the question of ear cropping and tail docking, the notice to solicit comments on these subjects, the notice to state that comments will be received up to a period of three months following publication of the notice;
(2) Appointed a special Committee (E. R. Dixon, Chairman) to study all comments received, and then submit its report and recommendations to the Board.

PROFESSIONAL SHOW AND TRIAL OFFICIALS

The Board received and considered the report and recommendations of a special Committee (Mrs. Sarah Diamond, Chairman) on the drafting of special legislation setting forth policies on the subject of professional superintendents and professional secretaries of shows and trials held under C.K.C. rules.

The Board considered the Committee's recommendations section by section, made a number of changes, and directed that the entire question be referred to the Club's solicitor for opinion.

ENTRIES

The Board rescinded a previous directive to the effect that entries for a championship show held under the Club's rules must be mailed to an address in Canada.

It directed that whzre a non-resident of Canada is employed as show secretary for a championship show held under C.K.C. rules, all show returns must be mailed in Canada by the club holding the event.

EVENING CHAMPIONSHIP SHOWS

On a previous occasion the Board, feeling that evening shows should not be permitted, had directed that judging at a show must commence not later than 10.00 a.m.

In view of submissions on the policy, the Board decided that it would be discontinued immediately, and in its place the Board decided that show-giving clubs would be informed that a penalty would be assessed against any club at whose show judging was not completed by 11:00 p.m.

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

REPORT OF OBEDIENCE COUNCIL

The Board received and considered two reports submitted by the Obedience Council (Mrs. Hilda F. Pugh, Chairman).

It directed that notice be published in "Dogs in Canada", and comments be solicited on a proposal that the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards be amended to require that in the Maritime Provinces a dog must earn three qualifying scores under three different judges in order to obtain an Obedience degree.

There being insufficient members of the Board present to consider, and perhaps approve, a number of proposed amendments to the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards, of which notice had been given in "Dogs in Canada", these proposed amendments were set over for consideration at the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

The Secretary was instructed to republish, in correct text, a proposed amendment to the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards which, if approved, would enable a specialty club to hold a specialty obedience trial.

The Board directed the Secretary to implement a recommendation of the Obedience Council that notice be published in "Dogs in Canada" that the Board, at a subsequent meeting, will consider a proposal of the Council that the list of obedience judges resident in Canada will be revised to the extent that any person who has not judged at a licensed C.K.C. obedience trial within the preceding five years will be dropped from the list of persons eligible for approval to judge licensed obedience trials held under C.K.C. Rules, the same to apply to residents of the United States who have not taken out examinations and who have not judged a C.K.C. licensed trial in the preceding five years.

The Board considered the Council's recommendations on proposed new policies regarding the eligibility of residents of the United States to officiate as judges at licensed obedience trial to be held under C.K.C. rules, directed that the Council's recommendations be published in "Dogs in Canada" and comments be solicited.

The Board authorized the Council to instruct the Secretary on the correction of errors, when the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards are again printed, which had been noted and reported by Mr. Donaldson, Obedience Representative for British Columbia).

In order that Club's holding licensed obedience trials may have immediate information available as to residents of the United States eligible for immediate approval to judge at a licensed obedience trial held under C.K.C. rules, the Secretary was instructed to arrange for the inclusion in the list of approved judges the names and addresses of those residents of the United States who have approval to judge one or more of the official obedience trial classes.

BREEDNOTES

Please send in brief items pertaining to your breed. Canadian dogs in American competition, imports, formation of new clubs, items of interest about various breeds you may find in your reading, results of Sanction and Puppy Matches which are not reported in the CKC section. NOT ACCEPTABLE: material that appears in the CKC "buff colored" section — results of Championship and Specialty Shows and trials, new champions, obedience titles. Mention of new litters, clubs, etc. belongs in the advertising columns.

ENGLISH COCKER SPANIELS

Sylvia Crawley — An eye clinic for English Cocker Spaniels was held in Ottawa recently. Eleven dogs were examined by Dr. Jim Huchison, checking for PRA and other possible eye problems. All the dogs were found to be clinically free from PRA, with good sound eyes.

It is most encouraging to concerned breeders to have a veterinarian as interested in potential problems as Dr. Huchison is and we thank him for his time and concern.

It is hoped to extend these clinics to other breeds at a later date, the English having started the ball rolling through the Golden Triangle Cocker Spaniel Club. A slit-lamp clinic for eye cataracts for American Cocker breeders is hoped for in the near future.

WEIMARANERS

Victor Nunn — This year's Sportsmen's shows brought to light the details of a recent interesting Weimaraner import. Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Todd of Lachine, Que., were showing their 13 month old bitch, Idenbrook Camelot v. Colsidex, which they acquired from Judy Colan in Rhode Island. "April" is a product of Shadowmar linebreeding and has the famous Shadowmar Barthaus Dortlio as a double grandsire. "April" finished her Canadian championship by taking the breed over two males and two females at the fourth show. She will now be campaigned by the Todds for her American championship. First stop is the Eastern Weimaraner Futurity.

The Weimaraner Association of Canada is planning a full slate of Spring and Summer activities. Meetings are now held every second Thursday of each month. The June meeting is designated as the annual meeting, when new officers will be elected. Walter Ogorodnikov has taken charge of the club's field activities and is planning to handle classes for those interested in training their dogs on quail and pheasant.

It is hoped to start obedience classes soon in the Mississauga area under the direction of Jim Chittenden.

Currently a vote is being taken by the WAC to ascertain the attitude of Canadian Weimaraner owners toward the controversial blue color phase.

Plans are underway to repeat last year's successful picnics and perhaps combine one of these picnics with a "Fun" match for those members interested in conformation. It appears that a busy season is ahead for anyone owning a Weimaraner in the Toronto area. Further information on any of the WAC's activities can be obtained by contacting Secretary Helene Crowe, 5th Line W., Terra Cotta, Ont.

For those interested in field Weimaraners (and we seem to have quite a few) the big winner at the 1971 Weimaraner National Field Championships held at Ardmore, Okla., was Suebirtzel's Mr. Lucky, owned and handled by Roy Pelton of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Futurity Stakes winner was Ollie's Storm Warning. Both these dogs were sired by Dual Ch. Birtzel von Staub, whose progeny are proving to be consistent performers.

BEARDED COLLIES

Carol Gold — The Bearded Collie Club of Canada's Booster at the Sportsmen's Show drew a huge (for Beardies) entry of 14. The crowds surrounding the bench and the keen interest shown at ringside forecast an all-too-popular future for our breed. Photographs of Beardies on the front page of the Toronto Star and in the Globe & Mail added to the recognition of the breed.

Now comes the hard part for breeders and fanciers . . . . saying NO. It's hard in its own way to get a breed started in a new country. Writing about it, talking about it, showing, showing, showing to make sure the breed is seen, breeding good puppies that you know you may be "stuck" with because Joe Public mostly wants a dog like the one his neighbor has (and bless those who decide to come and look anyway). But when people start to take notice it's so much harder to stick to your guns about not breeding except to the right dog, about trying to improve with every litter, about quality rather than quantity when the phone is ringing two dozen times a day, and letters are pouring in, asking for puppies. I hope we can avoid the trap and keep our Beardies the wonderful breed they are . . . hard to get, but worth it.

Glad to see Beardies entering Obedience Trials and I wish all of you well. There are enough Beardies around now and interested in Obedience that North York Obedience Club has on offer a trophy for High-Scoring Bearded Collie at their June trial.

One more note that I can't remember if I've mentioned before: There is now a book available on the Bearded Collie, obtainable only through the Bearded Collie Club of Canada. Members will have it on sale at shows, or you can get it from the Club Secretary, Mrs. Barbara Blake, R.R. 1, Waterdown, Ont.

COLLIES/SHELTIES

Ariel Sleeth, well-known breeder, judge, horsewoman and farm owner reports on the cross-country activities of these breeds. Send your news items to her direct: Sovereign Kennels, R.R. 6, Kingston, Ont.

The Sportsmen's Shows just have to be the most glamorous all breed events in Canada. Beautifully run, with all conveniences for the exhibitors, the meeting place for dog fanciers from near and far. A terrific buffet each night was also a welcome asset.

Although we were only able to make the show on the week-days this year, there were tremendous crowds and considerable interest in pure-bred dogs. Benching and long hours may be annoying to most of us, but it truly is the only way for the public to see the breeds available and to meet the breeders.

Two things will stand out in my mind this year. The first and most pleasant happened to those nice people, the Randalls, from Lambeth, Ont. Mr. Randall, a beginner in the show ring as he usually leaves the showing to his very capable wife, piloted their Sheltie puppy all the way to Best in Show at the Sportsmen's. What a thrill! What a blow for woman's lib.

Also at this show, my purse was stolen from beneath our bench. It was taken while I was showing in the Group at night and contained quite a sizable amount of money. The police recovered it the next night. As this is the second time this has happened to me I think I will carry only credit cards from now on.

This month we are going to talk about the orphan puppy. For the purpose of discussion, the orphan puppy may not have lost his mother but may be too weak to survive in a normal environment or for some reason may be rejected by his mother.

Good management is the necessary ingredient here. Heat and humidity are most important, 85° to 90° the first five days as compared to a normal whelping box temperature of 75° to 80° for a weak puppy being cared for by his mother. Chilling, even for a short time, is most often lethal. As the excess heat may be drying, baby oil is quite helpful applied to the skin.

Usually the breeder cares adequately for the puppy's nutrition needs with formulas such as Esbilac to choose from and the widespread use of tube feeding. Puppies fed four times daily in this way, usually thrive. Do not forget to increase the amounts each day. Another product worth knowing about is Van-Sup. It is available from your veterinarian and is a vitamin supplement as well as a diarhea preventive for baby pigs. Van-Sup comes in a tube and the required amount is squeezed into the puppy's mouth daily.

Should the puppy actually be an orphan, he will require further assistance and urination and defacation must be stimulated for the first few days by wiping with a facial tissue.

Once orphan pups have reached three weeks of age they can be handled as regular pups. It should be remembered that they have not received immunization against disease from their mother and measles vaccine should be administered at three weeks of age.

Jill and Doug Spettigue send news of Crufts to "Lad", "Today we've seen 125 Collies judged. The total working group was 1,373; the total days' entry was 3,335; there were 38 rings and 49 judges. The Best of Breed Collie was Ch. Antoc Vicar of Bray born 3 March 1965, but still showing beautifully. In the group judging he was kept in until it was down to the last four dogs but as they only choose a first and a reserve in group, he did not place. The Best of Breed Sheltie was black and white. The Collie judge was a Mrs. A. L. Bishop."

ter a Smooth or Rough Collie with mixed grandparents. Unfortunately, top American Smooths cannot compete in Canada because they are not able to be registered in this country. The winner of the Collie Club of America Specialty, Am. Ch. Black Hawk of Kasan, is not registerable in Canada, as he was sired by the noted rough, Am. Ch. High Man of Arrowhill.

Mrs. Doreen Randall (Sheldon Kennels) writes that she started off the new season on the other end of the leash, judging a sanction show for the Shetland Sheepdog Club of Greater Detroit.

DOBERMAN PINSCHERS

Mrs. J. Blenkey — The second annual awards dinner was held at the Valhalla Inn, Toronto, on February 26 with about 50 members and guests present. This event was the culmination of months of work by Mrs. June Hurst, who compiled all the statistics and a vote of thanks is due her for taking care of this unenviable task.

Mr. Randy Markowitz, producer of the popular T.V. series 'Party Game' presented the awards, beautifully assisted by Kathy Szucs (Miss Love Machine) and Bonnie Stewart (Miss Teen Toronto). Award results are:

Dog of the Year — Arabesque Kennels trophy donated by Miss Hall and Miss Lebrun — Ch. Schauffelein's Troll Arabesque, Mr. and Mrs. R. Purdy.

Best Canadian Bred Dog — Kielenhof Kennels trophy donated by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beckley — Ch. Schauffelein's Troll Arabesque.

Best Opposite Sex — Trophy by Wm. Haworth — Ch. Treetop's Kandy of Northwoods, Mr. C. Durham.

Puppy of the Year — Nobelin Kennels trophy by Mr. and Mrs. B. James — Ch. Schauffelein's Solar Wind, Mannerheim Kennels Reg'd.

Best Opposite Sex Puppy — Hillhaven Kennels trophy by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hill — Ch. Wrath's Elegancia, Mr. and Mrs. E. Burtt.

Breeder of the Year — Kaukauna Kennels trophy, by Mrs. England — Mrs. R. Purdy, Schauffelein Kennels, breeders of eight champions in 1971.

Sire of the Year — Mannerheim Kennels trophy — Ch. Schauffelein's Troll Arabesque, sire of ten champions in 1971.

Dam of the Year — Schauffelein Kennels trophy by Mr. and Mrs. Purdy — Ch. Lowenbrau's Aloha Schauffelein, Mr. and Mrs. Purdy. "Lolly" produced seven champions in 1971.

Obedience Breeder of the Year — Giro Kennels trophy by Mr. and Mrs. G. Quigley — tie between Mrs. Susan Berst and Mr. and Mrs. Purdy.

Obedience Dog of the Year — Pyrmont Kennels trophy by Mrs. Berst — O. T. Ch. Wrath's Apolda Blunderbuss UD, Bda. CD, bred and owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. Blenkey.

Highest Scoring Dog Completing UD — Kay-Jon Kennels trophy by Mr. and Mrs. J. Baylis — O.T. Ch. Wrath's Apolda Blunderbuss UD.

Highest Scoring Dog Completing CDX — Lowenbrau Kennels trophy by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson — Ch. Pyrmont Botawna V Palos CDX, bred by Mrs. Susan Berst, owned by Mrs. Berst and Miss S. Doiron.

Highest Scoring Dog Completing CD — Wrath Kennels trophy by Mr. and Mrs. Blenkey — Firedance CDX, owned by Mr. O. Dupuis.

Award of Merit for Outstanding Service to the Breed — by Doberman Pinscher Club of Canada — Ch. Sugar Kandy Kane CD, Mr. Wm. Haworth. "Sugar's" efforts resulted in the capture of armed bank robbers in Quebec.

The following statistics have been correlated from results published in Dogs in Canada from March 1971 to February 1972 issue inclusive. They are in no way official and are for interest only.

There were 75 championships granted to Dobermans in Canada during that period — 21 of them owned by club members.

There were 50 obedience degrees earned by Dobermans in the period mentioned — only eight of them owned by club members. There were 39 CDs; nine CDXs; two UDs.

terriers

Barbara Pirrie, a diligent and enthusiastic reporter, writes on all breeds in the Terrier Group. Send news items directly to her at 58 Wolfrey Ave., Toronto.

Well, it's all over for another year — the Sportsmen's, that is. Bigger and better than ever — why, there was even a N.S. Duck Tolling dog — I was never really sure that they existed!

I would like to bring up a subject that was discussed at great length at these shows — with six of them, you have a good deal of time for dialogue — said subject — "Canadian Bred". I've brought this up before in the column, but with no great amount of reaction.

I know there's no way that everyone is going to agree that Canadian Bred in Group and in Show should go, but couldn't we at least make it optional. There is nothing more irritating than after a long day at a show, when both you and your dog are dead tired, than to have to stay around for this, especially where in most cases you know you don't have a prayer as there will most surely be a Canadian Bred dog in the Group. Or what about the times you've sat around for hours, knowing you have a long [illegible] home, dogs to feed, puppies [illegible] play with and the whole Group [illegible] Canadian Bred and you don't even get into the ring.

I would like to see Canadian Bred, except in the Breed, removed all together — I think it makes us look like second class citizens. In some breeds we may not be quite up to the American or English, but in a heck of a lot of them we're as good or better.

This brings up the Canadian Bred Puppy category — I'd love to see Puppy in Group and Show go — I miss this in American shows, but couldn't we take on all comers — aren't our puppies just as good as or better than the imports and if they aren't shouldn't we work just a little harder in our breeding programs? I know any time I've come out of the ring with a Best Canadian Bred Puppy trophy in my hand, I've always wished that I'd had an opportunity to have a 'crack' at ALL the puppies. I do not have the feeling that someone is sitting at ringside with a big import who is smugly thinking that my little Jo-Jo had of been there he would have flattened her'.

The only way we can get the rules changed is to get one's little pen in hand, take a few minutes off and write to the CKC expressing your views and 'tomorrow' is too late!

Terriers are still cleaning up sanction matches — the Wethington's Airedale, Kerry Cadence, eight months old, BIM at the Ottawa show, he was also Best Puppy in Match at the earlier Ottawa show.

A note from Linda Bergh tells us that the Dandie Dinmont Club has a new Executive: President, Mrs. J. B. MacKinnon; Vice President, Miss M. Macbeth; Treasurer, Mrs. C. Ewing; Secretary, Mrs. C. S. Bergh.

Canada is holding a Booster at the Terrier Breeders Assoc. show on June 4 in the Don Mills arena. We anticipate this will be a record turnout of Dandies for the following reasons: firstly, we are competing for the annually awarded Ch. Bellmead Spellbinder Memorial trophy which is the most coveted award of the D.D.T.C.C. Secondly, items with representations of Dandies on them are hard to find, but we promise to give a prize (Dandie mug, Dandie teapot, etc.) with each ribbon awarded. Thirdly, a number of celebrities will be awarding the prizes. They include singer and Dandie owner Mary Lou Collins, television personality Norm Perry and CKEY morning man Keith Rich."

Some marvellous news from Norma Smith, Thunder Bay. At the Bull Terrier Club of America Specialty her new import, Maerdy Magdalene, took a 5-point major for WB — this was her first time out in the U.S.

Margaret McClory is on "Cloud 9". At the Ancaster Match her Cairn, Cairngorlynn's Jeannie Lynn, took Best Puppy and BIM. She also reports that the Lakeland, Cook's Bit o' Honey owned by Dr. Prawel, took BIM at the St. Catharines show.

On now to a note from Sue Wilson, Secretary of the newly formed, 'The Western Canada Kerry Blue Terrier Club' with an enclosure of their newsletter, 'Kerry Go Round'. This club extends right across Western Canada. I took their newsletter, first issue, to the Sportsmen's with me and the Eastern Kerry Breeders were most impressed.

A sad note from Irma Wheeler, Wheelwood Schnauzers. She lost a little pup during ear cropping. This little gal was already sold and two little girls were waiting patiently for her. Luckily, David Ross, Tribute Reg'd., came to Irma's rescue and replaced the puppy for her making two little girls very, very happy.

Much as I love Schnauzers, I don't think my nerves could take the ear cropping. Exactly the same thing happened to a friend of mine in California last year.

To Kay Guimond and some Sealyham news. Kaye was thrilled when her Whist Sea Scoot of Wirehill took 1st in Group at the National Westie Club Match and delighted when she greeted her new import, a little six month old bitch, Polrose Polyanthus, bred by Mrs. H. A. Cuming, Polrose Kennels.

Tom and Thelma Adams had some good news after the Detroit show. Their Roseneath Charmer took WB, BW and BOS for a 3-point major.

I won't be with you in July — we're off to the California Specialty. The show is simply an excuse so if you have any news get your fast for June.

CHIHUAHUAS

M. W. Samuels — Clement's Prince Charming, a lovely cream short-coat Chihuahua male finished his American championship at Harrisburg, Pa., March 8, winning a 5-point major. Prince is the ninth U.S. champion for Ch. Devon's Individualist and all his points were gained with major wins and is the litter brother to (Can. & Am.) Clements Dina Mite, shown on the Ontario circuit last year.

Individualist was also the sire of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Quantico's Little Crusader who was reported by Mrs. Peterson as winning BIS at the New York specialty. It is nice to know Crusader is following in his father's footsteps as he gained BIS at the same specialty a few years ago, going on to win at Westminster as well.

Vivita Plata took WB at the April 1 Pittsburgh show. This is the second 4-point major in succession at this arena. Plata now has four majors plus other wins and according to my present records she is a dual champion. This little dog has taken Ontario's flag into Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Maryland, owner-handled.

SILKY TOY TERRIERS

Kay Magnussen — Most breeds are designated with a level topline. The Silky Toy Terrier, however, is an exception to the rule. Though often dismissed as a larger version of the Yorkshire Terrier, the two breeds are really quite different.

As described in their standards: "The Yorkshire Terrier is to be very compact with a good loin and level on the top of the back." The Silky, however, is "A low set dog, about one fifth longer than the dog's height at the withers. A too short body is a fault. The back line is straight, with a just perceptible rounding over the loin." This rounding is often confused with roached back, but they are not two in the same. The roached back begins with a gradual rise from the withers which continues and rounds off to the base of the tail. The correct Silky topline begins with a straight line from the withers down the back to a noticeable rounding over the loin which tapers off to again a straight line from the hip to the base of the tail.

A Silky Toy Terrier is not just a larger version of a Yorkshire Terrier and should not be judged as such, it has a different head shape, different temperament, different coloration, different body build, different ears and ear set, different topline as well as a different height and weight. They are both excellent breeds in their own right and should be compared to their own standard.

SCHIPPERKES

Ellen Brown — I am writing to express my opinion of some remarks in Mr. Stanbridge's letter re Schipperkes.

I first became interested in the breed early in 1927 and from information given to me by a friend, new to Canada, I decided to purchase two mated females and one male. They arrived May 27, 1927. One female lost her litter en route to Canada and Mirth O the North had her litter July 1, 1927. My foundation stock for O the North Schipperkes was from the three adult dogs and first litter.

In February 1929, I took two dogs to the Westminster Kennel Club show, held in Madison Square Gardens. The Judge was Dr. Buck of Rochester, N.Y. I had never shown under him and it was my first American show. Fifteen Schipperkes were entered. I was the only Canadian entry and got 1st in Open, Winners Dog, Best of Breed and 4th in Non-Sporting Group. Only five groups at that time — Sporting and Hounds (Group No. 1). Can. Ch. Roff O the North was then one of the top 20 dogs in an entry of 2,440.

During the years, I sold Schipperkes to many parts of Canada and the U.S.A. I made many champions and so did my clients with O the North bloodlines.

I too have the history of the Schipperke in Belgium; the names of the founders and names of their dogs and the standard of the St. Hubert Society, also the history and names of dogs imported by an Englishman, date and names of dogs. Also the history of many of the outstanding dogs and names of owners, also the standard of the breed in Great Britain.

I exhibited my dogs from 1929 to 1946 at the Westminster K.C. show, the Morris and Essex K.C. show, also the Detroit K.C. show and won many times. My dogs, which I had sold to U.S. clients, were also very successful at U.S. shows, so I had the opportunity of seeing a good crosssection of U.S.-owned Schipperkes. Their standard was from 6 lb. to 18 lb. so there were few of a uniform type. English standard was 12 lb. to 14 lb. The English coats were harsher to the touch, good ruffs, body coats shorter than ruffs and culottes. The Belgians were lighter-bodied dogs, coats much softer and tuck up too pronounced like Whippets. I could say more, but I have seen both sides of this much discussed situation.

Thank you Mr. Stanbridge for admitting only black specimens are permissible at European shows. And while they do get colored ones, most breeders do dispose of these pups at birth.

At the 1929 Westminster show I met an exhibitor of Schipperkes who told me not to pay any attention to the reports that the Belgian Schipperkes did not produce colored puppies and now, in February 1972 Dogs in Canada you say the same thing.

Truth will out sooner or later. I admitted that from 1927 to 1958 I had five colored Schipperkes. I was honest and said so.

I have lost contact with the English breeders and so am not aware of cream and apricot puppies. There have been many breeds for some years producing colored specimens and no denying of these colored puppies. The late Mr. J. D. Strachan, who was for many years Secretary — Treasurer of the CKC, owned several Schipperkes. In the early 1930s he was in New Jersey on his way to a show and saw in a garden a cream and brown Schipperke. The late Mr. Walter Reeves, who judged in many countries including on the Continent, said he had seen many colored Schipperkes in Belgium.

I never had any cream or apricot puppies. This is a list of breeds that I know of that for some years have produced different colored puppies.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF VETERINARY MEDICINE—Dr. Allan H. Hart—$10.75
This is an excellent basic small reference book on diseases of the dog. It is written by a veterinarian who has evidently practiced in the small animal field and is thus able to catalogue the common illnesses. The book is well illustrated with line drawings and excellent photographs to correlate the text. Dog owners and breeders will find herein a comprehensive treatise on canine diseases, their causes, symptoms and treatment. More important, you will find information to help recognition of severe illness so you may quickly seek professional assistance early enough to be able to save a valuable dog that might otherwise be lost. This is an excellent book for all dog breeders and owners — Alan C. Secord, B.V.Sc.

Books

ALL ABOUT THE COCKER SPANIEL, ALL ABOUT THE COLLIE, ALL ABOUT POODLES, ALL ABOUT THE YORKSHIRE TERRIER—write Dogs in Canada for prices.
"ALL ABOUT" books should be virtually encyclopaedic in their scope. They should be handbooks for the novice; interesting to the specialist and informative to the all breed judge. Unfortunately, because the publisher did not see fit to interpose Canadian records, standards, show and judging procedures for the English ones each book gives at length, the criteria for novices does not exist. If these books were retitled "Something About", they could be considered welcome library 'backup' material. In Canada, they do not qualify as the definitive works suggested by their present titles.

In this particular showing, the Poodles took a Group 1st, the Cockers a Group 3rd. Yorkies and Collies didn't place above the breed level.

None were awarded Best in Show, though Mrs. Sheldon and Miss Lockwood's "Poodles" came close. Apart from the general criticism above, had they included an adequate glossary and a section on ring attitudes, the award would have been theirs. Of particular excellence are the sections on the preparation of the Poodle for the show ring. In readable, understandable, commonsensical terms they inform on every detail of training, clipping, shampooing and conditioning, illustrating each step with photographs and diagrams. The same eye for practical detail carries into the feeding, where the usual tendency to become scientific about food values is avoided. However, I must confess I wasn't expecting to find the recipe for Home-made Sponge Cake in a dog book. All in all, the authors have recognized the guts as well as the beauty of their subject—and then gone that sensitive step further. They care enough to include a section on easing the aches and pains of old age. I'm glad I read the book.

There will be many who appreciate Mr. Gordon's treatment of breeding the Cocker. It takes up half the book. More will enjoy his 16 pages on training, with its emphasis on field trial work. I would have preferred a foreshortening of these sections to allow a more comprehensive treatment of the American Cocker. However, novices will thank him for his excellent glossary and for his treatment of the origin and history of the breeds. This latter was ideal, chronologically relating social circumstance and useage to breed development.

The attraction of Mona Huxham's book on Yorkies is that she is most obviously in love with them. Quotes like, "A few (Yorkies) can be accomodated in the kitchen unless cooking is another of your hobbies" and titles like "Care of the Puppies in the Nest" attest to this. She also cares about civilized attitudes, and what Yorkies are doing in countries other than England. She made a particularly good job of demonstrating her love for the breed in her selection of delightful photographs. Her book is warm and chatty—but no ready reference, ALL ABOUT manual.

Ada Bishop's book on Collies is more names than meat, more historical than 'how to', more reminiscent than reminding. Interesting for already knowledgeable breeders perhaps, but for the novice — buy two other Collie books first. — Robert W. Nutbeen

BEHAVIOUR OF WOLVES, DOGS AND RELATED CANIDS—Michael W. Fox, $14.50
Behavior studies of the domestic dog show that many of their traits are similar to the social, pack and family behavior of wolves. This excellent book is mostly the record of observations of wolves and foxes as to their social organization, their habits and most interesting their communication signals, in aggression, parent-infant interaction, mating ritual and hunting behavior.

A student of this book will be much better able to understand dog behavior and communication of dogs to dogs and from dog to master. Many a supposedly well trained and house broken dog has embarrassed his owner by deliberately cocking his leg and urinating on the chesterfield corner when taken to visit new surroundings. The chapter on territory will explain why dogs urinate and defecate to mark their territory as a natural instinct starting as early in life as five weeks. This marking behavior explains why every dog will cover another's scent mark as leaving a "calling card" as an essential part of social communication.

A study of the well illustrated communication signals should be of great interest to every dog owner, trainer or breeder. This book should be a source of reference and provide a closer understanding of the behavior of our dogs and their wild counterparts. — Alan C. Secord, B.V.Sc., M.Sc., D.V.Sc.

Books

DOGS, Selection—Care—Training—Boorer, $4.95
This book will serve as an invaluable guide to anyone interested in buying a dog as well as the established dog owner. The author, Wendy Boorer, discusses every phase and possibility of ownership from care and treatment of the puppy during the first days in a home to special care in old age.

Throughout, beautiful color illustrations complement the text of this hard cover book, obviously written with love.

The chapter on Dog Behaviour and Training will be most enlightening to the pet owner. The author also opens the door to the possibilities available to the owner of pure-bred dogs in obedience trials and dog shows.

The veterinary section seems a little outdated, but the chapter on grooming methods and utensils for various coat types is covered in good detail.

Although the pet owner is not encouraged to breed and the pitfalls are pointed out, for those who have become increasingly fascinated by the dog game, the section on breeding is excellent. A knowledge of genetics for the layman will give the kennel owner some clues in evolving a breeding program. The reader will also be assisted by the chapter on kennel management.

As little is overlooked, there is a section on anatomy concentrating on the relationship of structure to conformation and movement.

This book is good reading for the breeder, a must for the pet owner and a valuable tool to the prospective dog buyer—Ariel Sleeth

THE INTERNATIONAL ENCYCLOPEDIA OF DOGS — Stanley Dangerfield and Elsworth How —$25.00
When first asked to review the International Encyclopedia of Dogs, my reaction was that no book could be worth the asking price. Having had the opportunity to examine the Encyclopedia from A to Z, I have nothing but praise for the editors Stanley Dangerfield and Elsworth Howell, and special contributor Maxwell Riddell.

Every aspect on and about dogs is covered. Breeds, rare breeds, obedience and field trials, whelping, health, care, behavior patterns, kennel clubs, dog shows, registration procedures, and genetics are but a few of the items dealt with, and there is a wealth of information for both the novice and experienced breeder.

Barberry Knowe — an educational experience

By JIM REYNOLDS

In mid-January my wife and I drove down to Woodcliff Lake, N. J., to pick up a Scottie female which we had sent down for breeding. The trip was intended as a bit of a holiday, instead it turned out to be my most vital educational experience in Scottie circles since the afternoon the late John Treleaven showed me how to trim a Scot.

Barberry Knowe is the oldest large-scale Scottish Terrier kennel in the U.S. It began in 1930 and since then has consistently fielded a team of dogs which have won the highest awards available to the dog exhibitor. The kennel is not confined to Scotties, it is also renowned for its Dachshunds. Indeed, for two years in a row a Barberry Knowe Dachshund, Ch. Crosswynd's Crackerjack, won the Hound group at Westminster.

The chatelaine of Barberry Knowe is Mrs. Charles C. Stalter who has, since her husband's death a few years ago, maintained it in the tradition which they developed in his lifetime. The kennel itself is presided over by manager Barbara Kingsbury who combines knowledge with love to produce a kennel full of well-cared for, well-adjusted dogs.

The main kennel building has a trimming area, kitchen and kennel facility as well as indoor exercise pens for bad weather. The building at maximum (and it usually is) can house 60 adult dogs; well over half of these are pensioners. (No old-timer leaves Barberry Knowe until all medical aid has been given and actual suffering is present.) The kennel is rectangular with 30 "boxes" down each side and facing the windows. Between the two banks of boxes are two huge exercise pens with miniature fire hydrants in each. Needless to say everything in the kennel was immaculate.

The second kennel building or "puppy house" came with the Stalters from their original kennel in Hohokus. Here all litters are whelped and raised. The puppies, once weaned, are put into large pens where they remain until they are old enough to be inoculated. Then they move to new homes or to the third kennel building which is for young stock. Here, the older puppies and young dogs being readied for show careers are kept.

Each building is equipped with countless outdoor runs and paddocks. In every case, however, the dogs must be carried to and from these areas. Thus, each dog is exposed daily to handling and can receive some of the affection so often denied dogs living in fully automated, efficiency-oriented kennels.

In addition to the dogs in the home kennel, the current show-stoppers and aspiring champions are with the kennel's two handlers — Mrs. Dorothy Hardy for the Dachshunds and Mrs. Steve Shaw, the Scotties.

We were privileged to "go over" approximately 15 dogs in the kennel ranging from some immortal old-timers such as the Standard Smooth Dachshund, Ch. Falcon Forester and the Scottie, Ch. Barberry Knowe Blizzard, down to some new youngsters getting ready to knock on the door of greatness. Particularly impressive were a Standard Smooth red male and a year-old Scottie. The highlight for us was to see six champion children of the immortal Scottie, Ch. Carmichael's Fanfare. Fanfare or "Mamie" as she was known, was the greatest winning Scottie of all time. She won 32 all-breed Bests in Show including Westminster in

Hospitality at Alberta KC show makes trip worthwhile

By JIM REYNOLDS

When I was asked last spring to judge The Alberta Kennel Club's show in February 1972, I was both flattered and pleased to accept. I had heard glowing reports from friends who had attended the 1970 and 1971 shows and was more than eager for the weekend of February 5 to arrive. I wondered about winter weather but kept that thought in the back of my mind. Having experienced Ottawa winters, I should have known better.

My trip to Calgary took not five hours but 44. Friday began with howling gales and an eight-hour standing-room-only train ride to Toronto. Saturday saw a plane constantly delayed by mechanical problems, a stowaway and shortage of fuel causing us to put down in Thunder Bay. The final result was that I made Calgary late Saturday afternoon, too late to do my assignment and with a Joe Blztpsk complex. While normally with my ready temper I should have reacted with curses and dire threats, instead I was able to view it as a humorous, although frustrating, experience. This forbearance springs from the truly exceptional time I had in Calgary.

No club could make anyone feel more welcome than The Alberta Kennel Club. Under the hospitality chairmanship of Joe Fleming, ably assisted by his son-in-law Jim, a judge was made to feel that he was indeed important to the club. Everywhere were friendly greetings and a desire to make one feel part of a happy club giving a "fun show". Transportation was provided at a moment's notice. The meals were superb. A question concerning the tower in the center of town elicited a guided tour and cocktails. The club even arranged special rates at a leading hotel for its judges—a welcome gesture with the current cost of rooms.

The show itself, at slightly over 900 dogs per day, would appear to be Canada's second largest show. The Friday night was composed of specialties while Saturday and Sunday were devoted to the all-breed shows. Ten rings were in use at the Agricultural Building of the Calgary Stampede Grounds. Judging took the full day.

On Saturday evening all the judges were taken to the center of the huge Best in Show ring and introduced to the spectators. Each judge was presented with a white Stetson (provided his head was the right size—mine was not!) and Best in Show judging commenced.

Sunday gave me a chance to see the show in full as I wanted about for a minute at lunch break and after judging. Particularly interesting were some of the booths which, in content, paralleled the larger American shows. The highlight for me was an antiques booth featuring some fine oil paintings. How I wish we could see more of such historic gems at our shows.

As I prowled about after judging I couldn't help but be impressed by the friendliness and courtesy of exhibitors, both winners and losers. It is something that we, in the east, could stand to see more of. Another point of interest was the accomodation of the show itself. Much of the handlers' area was comprised of cattle pens which permitted the individual to have his dogs and tack protected from the always-interested spectator. Two Irish Wolfhounds particularly liked this as they seemed to feel the pen was just the right size.

It is certainly a show which I hope to visit sometime as an exhibitor and which I would heartily endorse for everyone. One word of caution, however. Don't think that second-best animals will do. In the dogs I judged, quality existed in great depth. Indeed, many terriers which didn't place in the group could be easy group winners at many shows. With exhibitors from most provinces and much of the U.S., this February show would seem to be to the West what Sportsmen's is to the East.

they need your help

Thousands of years ago dogs hunted with man and shared a vital role in his quest for survival. But the early dogs probably did not sit by the fire with man; if the hunting were bad he could end up on the spit, providing the meal himself. In modern times dogs sit by the fire and almost anywhere else. To show his fondness for his canine companions, man has improved them through breeding and conformation standards. But what about the dog's health and well-being? Dogs are still plagued with serious problems such as contagious diseases for which improved vaccines are needed, inherited diseases which need to be more fully understood, skin conditions, worms and other parasites, hip displasia, kidney conditions, reproductive problems and numerous other difficulties and diseases that claim the lives of loved and cherished dogs. Before these problems can be eliminated, they must be fully understood. Research is the answer. The organization that perhaps has done more than any other to aid dog health was founded as late as 1948, when veterinarian Mark L. Morris established the Morris Animal Foundation. Since the first research project was funded through the Foundation in 1954, it has supported more than 120 studies into canine health. Projects funded are conducted at veterinary colleges throughout the country. But, due to lack of funds, exciting ideas that could contribute to canine health must each year collect dust in filing cabinets marked "unfunded proposals". You can help get these ideas converted into scientific studies by contributing to the Morris Animal Foundation.

Oshawa Obedience Association takes part in community program

The Oshawa Obedience Association was approached in late January to participate in a display sponsored by a group called Community Conscience. Purpose of the program was to acquaint the people of the Oshawa and Whitby area with the numerous organizations available to them, regardless of their tastes. A wide variety of exhibits and entertainment was offered to visitors including band concerts, square dancing, judo demonstrations, ham radio demonstrations, folk singers and dog obedience demonstrations. Some 44 organizations displayed their activities for three days and evenings on February 17, 18 and 19.

Our booth was 12' wide and about 6' deep. We displayed pictures and equipment belonging to the various canine activities in which our members are involved. In addition to obedience work, we have avid hunting, tracking, sledding and conformation members. Booklets on dog care were supplied to us by Purina, Gaines and Master and were distributed to interested people as they stopped to chat at the booth. The members worked in four-hour shifts so that there were at least four to five dogs on display on the platform shown in the picture.

In the evening a ring was set up and a display of Novice, Open and Utility work was shown and explained to the audience. People stood five and six deep around the ring to watch dogs and handlers work.

I feel that this type of program could and should be set up in as many centres as possible, with local events such as this or spring and fall fairs to acquaint the public with the advantages and the necessity of well-trained dogs.—Betty McHugh

BACK TALK

"It isn't fair to put all the onus on the judge–points should be earned," says breeder-judge Mrs. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins, Kennels of the Rouge, West Hill, Ont.

Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins was recently referred to as "one of the most capable women in the dog fancy." This describes her precisely. "Capable" she has to be to handle the staggering work load she assumes. But, in spite of pressure, she is always gracious and in complete control of every situation in which she finds herself. Add to this an inborn sense of loyalty and responsibility which colors all her activities and you will come close to understanding the mistress of The Kennels of the Rouge, Mrs. Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins, affectionately known as "Mrs. D. J."

At home in West Hill, Ont., Dorothea kennels approximately 20 West Highland White Terriers and breeds an average of 15 litters a year, a number which barely meets the demand for her stock. Away from home, on the show circuit, she is exhibitor, handler, occasional steward and frequent judge. She is licensed to judge groups four, five and six and Bullmastiffs in the U.S., groups four and six and Bullmastiffs in Canada and is currently working towards completion of the Toy group here. Between exhibiting and judging Dorothea clocks up over 30,000 travelling miles annually. In a single year she recently made three return trips to California. And, as if all that activity were not enough, she is past president of both the Canadian and American West Highland White Terrier clubs and current president of the Canadian club, a past president of both The Terrier Breeders Association of Canada and The Bullmastiff Fanciers and an active member of a dozen other dog clubs both in Canada and the U.S.

All this reads as though the lady led a completely dog-oriented life but nothing could be farther from the truth. Dorothea has served a four-year term as president of the Pickering branch of The Red Cross Society and is its Public Relations Officer. She is a volunteer driver for The Canadian Cancer Society, an active political worker and a faithful church attendant, although she confesses that she has little opportunity for church work nowadays. Whatever spare time Dorothea might have is spent in study and keeping up with current dog literature. Staying on top of a program such as hers is nothing short of amazing. She says that she is blessed with excellent kennel help which makes all her comings and going possible. Sandy Briggs of Wimberway Labrador Retriever fame has been with her for years.

Dorothea's association with dogs dates back to her childhood. She was born and raised in South Africa and recalls a series of family pets but it was not until after her marriage to John Daniell-Jenkins whom she met when they were both attending Oxford University, that her dog interest assumed a more serious aspect.

John had been strongly attracted to Bullmastiffs which he had seen at Cruft's and when the couple emigrated to Canada in 1939 they brought their first Bullmastiff with them. They settled in the Rouge Hills area from which they derived their delightful suffix "of the Rouge". A new Canadian kennel was born under a name which was to make Bullmastiff history a few years later. In September 1951 an English-bred which the Daniell-Jenkins imported, Robin of the Rouge, became the first Bullmastiff in the world to win an all-breed Best in Show and later became the first Canjdian an title-holder in his bre

To renew, refresh, restore again
Trees burst to bud and nature's green
May's hope and promise gladly seen.

HAIRBOWS

Now look, all you sweet lovely people.
Please stop mistaking my sex:
My bow is demanded
by the Yorkie Breed Standard —
It's not meant to fool or perplex!

MODEL

People love to take pictures of me
I'm quite photogenic, you see.
I graciously pose

Fidelity OF A DOG

(Excerpt from "The Australasian Sketcher" Aug. 9, 1873)

A case in which the fidelity of a dog was very remarkably shown is reported by the Dublin Despatch:- "A man was discovered lying dead in a hut at Beeney by a boy named McDonald, son of a shepherd employed on the old Dubbo station. About a fortnight before McDonald met the deceased on this road and had some conversation with him. He said he had been drinking hard at Dubbo during the race week and felt queer. McDonald invited him to his hut, but deceased declined, saying he would make a shakedown in the deserted house at Beeney. From that time nothing was heard of him until the boy found him dead. He had evidently lain down, for his blankets and opposum were unfolded and wrapped around him. A dog was watching over the body of his dead master; and here is another instance of the surprising fidelity of the canine race. The poor animal had evidently been there for a fortnight." — Submitted by Albert Rix of Haveloch Kennels, Kingston, Ont.

Best in Show dog: he should have an itch in the temple of fame.

It's a difficult task to convince a couple choosing a puppy that even a bargain costs money.

It's always a surprise to discover the respect a bad judge has for himself.

Do all the good you can
By all the means you can
In all the places you can
At all the times you can.
As long as ever you can.

JOHN WESLEY

Clubs are full of willing people: some willing to do the work, the rest willing to let them.

Some judges that have been lauded should have been potted.

If you don't comment on your competitor's dogs, you won't be called upon to repeat it.

Dog Script

They think I'll protect them
But I'm not THAT dumb!
If they want me, they'll find me
Guarding my Mum . . .

Blinky Parkin

When exhibitors run down judges they're usually running down one judge.

Good judges are irrefutable and poor judges refute themselves.

NOW I HAVE A FRIEND

I had many friends in my lifetime —
Some who would borrow my very last dime
I went through life, earned what I spent,
Paid what I owed, lost what I lent.
My partner in business ran off with my wife
Then stole my child, and ruined my life
The big bank failed where I kept my dough
My house burned down. I had no place to go
They all quit me cold, when I could not lend.
So I bought me a dog — now I have a friend.

BARK-A-WORD

Jo Ouellet

HOW TO DO IT The trick is to find the hidden word. To do so you'll have to first locate all the listed words. You'll find these words in the grill spelled out horizontally, vertically, or diagonally either forwards or backwards. Once located, you encircle each letter of the word in the grill then cross it off the list. Don't blot out any letter because it might be also involved in another word going in another direction. Just encircle each one. When you've located all the listed words in the grill you'll be left with the given number of letters as indicated for the solution. This will be your BARK-A-WORD.

the current proposal to permit monorchids up to the age of one year to be exhibited in the show ring. She points out that some of these could obtain their championships and it is her opinion that a normal male should be complete by the time he is six months of age.

On the proposed revised schedule of points, she hopes that it will soon be necessary to defeat at least one dog in order to earn a point. Witholding awards because of lack of merit, she thinks, places the onus entirely on the judge and she regards this as unfair. Canadian-bred awards she thinks are no longer necessary and from a judge's point of view can be extremely time-consuming. Dorothea says that there was a time when Canadian dogs lacked the quality to win over imports but that today, she thinks, they can compete successfully anywhere. And she would like to see an award open to all pupies regardless of their place of birth.

One feature of U.S. shows which has proved a great time-saver for judges is the selection of Best of Winners at the end of breed judging. Although when this was first introduced there was great opposition to it, Dorothea says that most judges now approve it and she would recommend such a change in Canadian procedure. She also favors the "permit" or "provisional" system of qualifying judges currently in use both in Canada and the U.S. which she thinks is a good deal more realistic than former methods.

Returning to her favorite subject, West Highland White Terriers, Dorothea thinks that Ch. (Can. & Am.) Cruben's Dextor was the individual that contributed the most to the breed on this continent. That is not to say that there have not been equally as good dogs since Dextor's time but he was widely used at a time in the breed's development when his quality was needed. Today, she says, one can barely write a pedigree without him.

She also thinks that Ch. (Can. & Am.) Rannoch Dune Downbeat, now retired, who was bred by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brumby, has given a great deal to the breed. Mrs. D. J. says she has judged this dog three times and considers him an outstanding specimen. She gave him his first major, his first Best in Show and a specialty Best of Breed.

Dorothea's personal ring sucesses are numerous but she looks back on 1951 as her banner year when both the Bullmastiff Ch. (Can. & Am.) Robin of the Rouge and the Daniell-Jenkins' Westie, Ch. (Can. Am. & Eng.) Shiningcliff Sprig won Bests in Show from the classes. She says it has taken her 20 years to repeat the win. In April of last year the Westie, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Windemere Gay Gordon, which is co-owned by Dorothea and her daughter Mary, Mrs. Keith Blasdon, won Best in Show at The United Kennel Club's all-breed show, handled by Malcolm Fellows.

As far as the breed generally is concerned, Dorothea believes that there is a continuing improvement in quality. She is gratified that breeders have concentrated on breeding to upgrade rather than breeding quantities of puppies to supply the ever-growing market for pets. She also respects the attitudes of her Westie club members who, she says, work like the mischief to beat one another in the show ring but leave their rivalries behind once the show is over and work together towards a common goal promoting the breed. The Club an club's twentieth anniversary specialty, which was held September, exemplified good operation and fellowship stronger than any words say, testified to the type of ership given by the president respected and beloved "Mo J.".—Joan Morden

1965 and 91 group firsts. Mamie, bred by Ruth Johnson and sired by Ch. Barberry Knowe Merrymaker, was acquired by the Stalters as a youngster and under their ownership and the impeccable handling of John Murphy rose to the summit of her breed. Retired after her Westminster victory and at the age of five, she was bred several times and produced seven champions. It was fascinating to see the basic qualities which this great female passed on to her offspring with different sires being involved. The uniformity of type and quality only serve to reinforce the concept of line-breeding coupled with knowledge of the individual dogs.

It is perhaps unflattering to refer to a house as a museum and yet no other word adequately describes Helen Stalter's home. Here is 40 years' history of Scotties and Dachshunds in a tastefully appointed setting. Two huge rooms are devoted entirely to the trophies won by the various dogs. Each wall has large floor to ceiling display cases which are illuminated to show the vast array of silver on view. For the most part only engraved trophies are retained. Mrs. Stalter donates all others to various clubs. Around the walls in one room are a series of some 40 bronze plaques presented by The Dachshund Club of America for specialty wins. The three largest represent wins at specialty shows with over 500 Dachshunds in competition. One trophy I found particularly interesting was a 14-karat gold cup won by the Scottie, Ch. Barberry Knowe Barbican, in 1950 when he won the 50th anniversary show of The Scottish Terrier Club of America.

Although Mrs. Stalter took pride in all the trophies it is a reflection on the kind of person she is that it was most often spoons and cups with a personal note that she pointed out rather than the large silver punch bowls etc.

The trophy highlight for me was Mamie's case which takes up one whole wall. Here is the Westminster trophy plus shelves of others equally valuable and in many cases almost as prestigious. Here also is the collar which Mamie wore in all her ring triumphs. Most interesting and touching is a 14-karat gold dog tag inscribed "Champion Fanfare, No. 1 for life, Woodcliff Lake, N.J."

The story behind it is charming. The mayor of Woodcliff Lake, on hearing of Mamie's Westminster win, had the tag made and then called Mr. and Mrs. Stalter and Mr. Murphy along with Mamie as guest of honor, into a council meeting where the presentation was made.

Mrs. Stalter also keeps photograph albums which are, in themselves, a history of the breed, especially when coupled with a running commentary on them. It was refreshing to find that not only is Mrs. Stalter a breeder and exhibitor but she is also a dog lover. In her kitchen were her housedogs — nine in all, made up at present of Miniature and Standard Smooth Dachshunds and two Scotties. All the house dogs are pensioners who get to spend their last years in the house.

On leaving the kennel I couldn't help but reflect that here was the way to gain an education in a breed. No number of lectures, books or diagrams could provide the same information as the actual visit did. In these old and proven kennels lie the experience, information and living examples of the breed. I can only hope that breeders in other breeds have the same opportunities provided to them and can take advantage of them.
