New rabies research shows need for care

by ANNE MIDDLETON

Breeders and owners should take exceptional care to keep rabies immunization up to date. New research on the genealogy of the disease shows dogs face that danger from unsuspected sources.

The number of rabies cases in dogs has shown a dramatic decrease over the last 30 years. They are down from 8,000 cases reported in the U.S. in a single year during the mid-forties, to 235 in 1971, according to Dr. John S. Reif, D.V.M. (Harvard), M.Sc. (University of Pennsylvania), noted U.S. authority on zoonoses (diseases animals can transmit to humans), speaking to a recent joint meeting of the Toronto Academy of Veterinary Medicine and the Toronto Academy of Medicine.

On the other hand, wildlife rabies is on the upswing—and this is where the dangers lie. During the last 20 years, Dr. Reif told his audience, North American wildlife has been increasingly exposed to infection, because of the northward spread of bat-carried rabies.

"Vampire bats are an important source of rabies in South America," he said. "Fortunately these are not a problem in the northern hemisphere. But the first case of rabies in a North American bat was found in Florida in 1953 and, since then, we have found that 26 of the 40 known species of insectivorous bat have been shown to carry the rabies virus. Numerous cases of rabies in bats have been found in 48 of the 50 United States, and in Canada."

Because of the bat-wildlife-dog (and human) chain of infection, extensive research has been done over the last ten years on North American bats and wildlife, and a number of discoveries have been made.

The U.S. Public Health Service is conducting investigations in the Texas caves, where millions of bats exist—literally covering the ceilings. Some of these caves have had to be closed for a time because of the danger of bat bites.

Here an unsuspected threat has emerged. "It has been shown in experimental study in those particular caves," warned Dr. Reif, "that it is possible to infect foxes and other carnivorous beasts without the bite of a bat.

"The aerosol produced by the urine and saliva from these bats apparently contains sufficient rabies virus to infect these species, probably by a respiratory route.

"It has been demonstrated by exquisite experiments using a very, very fine wire mesh through which no bat could bite, through which only an aerosol could pass". Two researchers involved in this Texas project died of rabies, and Dr. Reif felt that they could have been infected in this way.

The spread of bat rabies explains the increase in wildlife rabies but, though an increase in dog rabies should logically follow, the opposite has occurred.

Dr. John S. Reif

Dr. Reif told the Academies that this was due to three main factors: The veterinary profession's mass immunization programs; increased public consciousness of the rabies danger; elimination of the stray dog populations in certain poorer city

Poodles top slate as Westminister entry closes

NEW YORK—The entry for the 97th consecutive annual Westminister Kennel Club show closed with 3,027 dogs of 126 breeds and varieties. The show will be held on Monday and Tuesday, February 12 and 13, at Madison Square Garden in New York.

Poodles lead in entries with 166: 98 Afghan Hounds, 85 Dachshunds (three varieties), 76 Old English Sheepdogs, 75 Great Danes, 62 Lhasa Apsos and 62 Shih Tzu.

Breeds in Working, Terrier and Non-Sporting groups will be benched and judged on Monday with the other three groups being benched and judged the following day. Best in Show is being judged by Mrs. Augustus Riggs IV of Maryland.

Canadian loses win under A.K.C. classes ruling

It has been reported to us by an exhibitor who learned her lesson the hard way that under The American Kennel Club Rules Applying to Dog Shows, classes which are open to dogs "that are not champions" has been interpreted to mean "champions in any country".

This means that if you intend to enter a Canadian champion at an American dog show, avoid the Puppy, Novice and Bred by Exhibitor classes. Our informant lost a major win because she had entered her dog in Bred by Exhibitor. The A.K.C. ruling was that because it was a champion in Canada the dog had been incorrectly entered and the win and points were therefore forfeit. Play it safe, enter "Open".

Wrong features can put dog out of balance

by H. M. STEPHENS

Many of our breed standards speak of balance but very rarely in doggy literature does any one attempt to define it or elaborate upon the general idea of balance. The reason probably is that most dog fanciers think that the meaning is self-evident.

Having finished showing a dog to her championship, a dog which I considered to lack balance because of her excess furnishings, I have been prompted to give the general question of balance a little thought.

The first aspect is the question of balance overall. Does the dog when viewed as a whole present a pleasing picture? If it does it may be said to be balanced. If not, why not?, One feature or characteristic is either present in excess or lacking in sufficient quantity. Balance as a qualitative measure is the function of a great many quantitative measurements. If, when you view your dog he does not present the pleasing picture which you expect, you should ask yourself what part of the whole is spoiling the picture. This is all part of the process of understanding your dogs in order to better select which dogs to keep and to breed from. It is also a wonderful exercise in avoiding the horrible disease of kennel blindness to which we all fall victim from time to time.

Let us consider the relation of head to body. A dog can either have too much head for his body or not enough head for body. The correct amount of head for a Great Pyrenees or a Bullmastiff or a massive headed breed is a much different thing than the correct amount of head for an Irish Wolfhound who might weigh the same as either of the two breeds mentioned above. All three can have heads which do not balance with their bodies. The lack of balance can come from excessive length or its lack. Likewise, lack of balance can come from excessive width or its lack.

The relationship between ears and head can be a source of apparent balance or lack of balance. The extreme example is probably the Basset. Here we have a dog with large and pendulous jowls. His ears are also long and pendulous. His overall appearance is pleasant when both are in harmony. Put Beagle-sized ears on a Basset and the balance would be destroyed. Conversely, put Basset ears on a Beagle and the balance would again be destroyed. To use an example from my own breed, Shelties, a Beagle ear on a Sheltie destroys the balance. Occasionally we get a Sheltie with Borzoi ears. These are quite pleasant in appearance but not the ears for a show dog. If someone is wondering how this might come about, there were a few unadmitted Borzoi crosses with the Collie in the 20's. Some of the Collies carrying the Borzoi strain were used as unadmitted crosses with Shelties in the 30's. If one unwittingly doubles up on these lines up will pop the Borzoi ears.

The ears of a French Bulldog present a balance with his round head. These ears would destroy the balance of a Basenji head although both breed standards call for erect ears. Trim the ears of a Papillon of their fringes and the ears might look too large for the head. With its fringes in place, the ear fits the head and balance is achieved. Crop the ears of a Schnauzer to the same pattern used for Bouviers and the head is out of balance. Conversely, put a Schnauzer crop on a Bouvier and again the balance will be destroyed.

The relationship between muzzle and skull also plays its part in balance. Put a Collie muzzle on a Beagle and the balance is lost. The balance in the case of the Collie requires a muzzle equal in length to the skull. This is also tied in with appropriate depth of muzzle and a uniform taper from ear to nose. A Pekingese with a muzzle of any significant length would be an unbalanced dog.

The shape and length of ne play a large part in the balanc appearance of a dog. Take a Be lington without proper arch neck and he would be a very po Bedlington because of his lack balance. Put a short neck on a of the gaze hounds and again balance would be destroyed. Pu long neck on any of the Be breeds and the dog would be out balance.

Legs play their part in the wh question of balance. Beagle legs a Whippet rib cage would look of place. It is a matter of bo length and thickness. The so Beagle leg balances with its ro der body. The slender Whipp legs balance with the deep but fl body. The Dachshund legs ble with the body but put these le with a Fox Terrier body and t balance is destroyed.

Tails affect balance very muc Those breeds whose tails a docked achieve their balance b choosing a length of dock to b ance the head except for tho where the tails are taken off ve short where the tail plays no pa in the balance. The glorious tail the Collie balances with his hea skirt. Sometimes an out-of-co Collie or Sheltie will continue carry his full coat on his tail. Th effect is ludicrous. The close ha on the tail of the Labrador mat es and balances with his close t ting but heavy coat on his body.

Lack of furnishings or excess furnishings can destroy the b ance of a dog. I was very pleas to learn of a judge who had pen ized an American Cocker in t show ring because of excess furnishings. On the other han strip a Cocker completely and will appear to have too much bo for his legs.

So for the whole dog you sho look at his various parts each relation to the whole. If all ble together you have a balanc dog. If they do not and this ha does not bother you, you sho ask yourself if you are becomi kennel blind.

Add supplements* to Purina Dog Chow?

You can. But you don't have to.

We find that adding warm water brings out our famous Dog Chow flavor. But everything else is right in the bag. All 43 nutrients any dog needs—vitamin A to zinc oxide. So add supplements? Sure But isn't it nice to know you don't have to?

*Purina Research Farm Fact: Eight of our brood bitches have whelped over 100 puppies each—on a diet of Purina and water only. With the exact, no-supplement program we recommend on our package, 92.8% of the 668 puppies whelped alive at our Farm last year were weaned—against a national average of around 60%.

TRIBUTE: to the late C. O. "Cliff" Van Valkenburg, of Barrie, Ont., long-time breeder and exhibitor whose sudden death was reported in the January issue. Writes Paul A. Robins: "Although not a charter member, Cliff had been associated with the Barrie KC since its formative years, having served in many capacities, frequently as show superintendent, culminating in 1972 as President when Barrie had what may well have been the largest dog show ever held in Canada.

"Cliff was first associated with American Cocker Spaniels in the late '40s and later with Beagles. His love, however, was probably terriers for which he is best remembered. His greatest thrill undoubtedly came with the winning of his first Best in Show at Kars, Ont., July 15, 1972 with his Welsh Terrier, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Twinpond's Red Dragon. Cliff was honored three years ago with a life membership in the Barrie K.C. in recognition of his long service to the club in particular and to the dog game in general. He will be sadly missed and long remembered for his devotion to dogs and for his ever present quick wit and dry humor."

SWEET SUCCESS: Artist Pat Detmold, Glen Gardner, N.J., writes that since mention (Dogs, November 1972) of her expansion to plates and ceramics, she has had letters from Americans throughout the United States. Her art is on display for the first time at Westminster this month, including leather dog designs in key rings, wallets, bookends, hand bags, etc. Success also in the ring: At the huge Philadelphia show December 9, in an English Cocker entry of 22, Judge Chris Teeter put her Ch. Goldnugget of Sprucerun right through to BW for a 5-pt. major and BOS, leaving only two points required for the American title. Prior to that "Nugget" had done similar magnificent winning at Ramapo K.C. and at H. Hills K.C., the only times she had been shown in 1972. Pat "landed in the ring with three of my best girls—all entered in different classes". Mr. Teeter put Thumbelina of Sprucerun RWB to "Nugget". Then her steel blues took Best Brace. Her Lover Boy, imp., completed his Canadian title in 1972 with six BB's and Group 3rd. Other members of her kennel are going to the top in ring and obedience work.

DEACON

Deacon started his show career with a five point major and Best of Opposite Sex at the Metropolitan Great Dane Specialty at the Sportsmen's Show 1971, finishing his championship with three 5-point majors.

Shown on a limited scale in the United States, Deacon has seven American points; his latest win was December 19, 1972 at the Great Dane Club of Cleveland Specialty by taking Reserve Winners Dog with an entry of 76 Great Danes. He took Best of Opposite Sex to his famous sister Zareba at the Great Dane Club of Canada Specialty, entry 147, at Barrie, Ont., August 1972; also Best of Breed and 3rd in Group at Barrie, entry 65 Great Danes, group entry 364.

He is the son of the famous sire Ch. (Can., Am. & Bda.) Harmony Hill Sherwood Joker and his mother Ch. (Can. & Am.) Davos Zarina of Dukay, herself a Specialty winner at the Great Dane Club of Canada Specialty 1969. His grandsire is the immortal Am. Ch. Nandanes Tamanaco, sire of 30 American champions. Protecting the show dog

Time and again during the past year one has witnessed the downright goodness of dog people. Outsiders may find much to criticize about dog devotees but, when trouble strikes, they are a clanny group that gathers to help a friend in distress. So it never seems really credible that, when a show dog suffers pain, or death by poisoning, a dog person is to blame.

This is not the way of a dog lover. No matter how fiercely he might want to win, it is hard to believe that he would stoop to injure or take the life of a competing dog. He has trickier ways of removing the competition. A while back at Cruft's, someone immbolized a kennel's entire entry of Golden Retrievers by snipping the feathering off one ear of each of the dogs. And then there is the story of a well-known handler who arrived at the show to find half the whiskers cut off one of his terriers. Fortunately the handler had been prescient and had switched the marked crates the previous night. His group winner was full-whiskered and showable sleeping in his kennelmate's crate.

But the incidence of harming show dogs is on the increase. There simply are more dog-haters around. So, with a fresh new show season stretching ahead, exhibitors should do some before-the-fact planning. Protect your dogs, cover their crates, don't leave them unattended and, above all, don't let strangers give them anything to eat.

"WHEN ARE YOU GOING TO BREAK DOWN AND GIVE HIM A KEY?"

Controls needed

One of the most uncontrolled areas in the dog business today is the commercial boarding kennel. And there is a strong feeling that improved controls are needed. Fees do not always indicate the quality of the care and services provided. So, in order to ensure some uniformity of standards throughout the boarding business, a number of suggestions have been advanced. These include minimum pen and run accommodation for each dog, regular inspection to make certain that facilities come up to health and safety standards, a pre-admission medical examination for all incoming boarders and, in the larger boarding kennels, at least one certified small animal technician on staff.

It is certain that The Canadian Kennel Club would welcome this type of upgrading in the boarding kennel business. Frequently the governing body is criticized for registering a particular kennel. And it must become very tiresome to club officials who must explain that the CKC does not register the kennel—just the kennel name. A point of distinction that the public finds difficult to understand. Registration does not imply approval —some think it should.

Another group that should welcome tighter control over boarding premises are the veterinarians. Constantly they are being asked by their clients to recommend a place to board the family pet. Often the vets are hard put to offer a recommendation and their stamp of approval is well worth the working for.

Manitoba Sled Dog Club

The article appearing in the November 1972 issue of the Oshawa sled dog group evoked quite a bit of interest here.

Perhaps your readers would be interested to learn that the Manitoba Sled Dog Club has been in existence for a year now. Membership is not limited to pure-bred dogs or to northern breeds. Presently one club member has a team of five Belgian Sheepdogs!

Aside from attending sled races in conjunction with local winter carnivals and fairs, we are active in pleasure outings combined with training sessions. During warm weather these sessions are still held with the use of wheeled carts. This gives the members and dogs alike a chance to learn, get in condition and share good times!

Anyone in the area who might be interested in the club is asked to contact the secretary, Mrs. D. McLean, 40 Berrydale, St. Vital, Man. The Winnipeg Beach Winter Festival will be sponsoring a race during its three day program to be held February 16, 17 and 18.—Mary Ann Breen, Winnipeg.

Obedience being neglected

The Webster's Dictionary gives the definition of "RING": persons standing in a circle about a center of interest." Why do show committees delegate the obedience ring, at almost all dog shows, to some obscure corner of the building, where the interested audience can only crane its neck on tip-toe about "its center of interest" (this being the obedience trial) and that only on one side of the "ring". The public is getting very much interested in obedience training, and as an avid obedience "nut" myself, I find it appalling how this side of the dog-business is being neglected at dog shows!—Mrs. Maria Sved, West Vancouver.

Lhasa should be in Non-Sporting

I have just finished reading Joan Morden's profile of Cliff Tushingham. I certainly agree with him regarding the grouping of the Lhasa Apso. It should be in the Non-Sporting group as it is in the U.S.A. If this breed is not regrouped we are about to lose its most desirable and distinctive trait as breeders swing with the tide and breed for wins in the Terrier group.

Many beautiful Lhasas, with beautiful straight line lower jaw go down to dogs with equal conformation and the very ordinary convex lower jaw of the terrier breeds.

It is difficult for breeders who would breed to meet the standard to have their dogs put down in the show ring because of a trait that we are proud of and which has been passed down from the first Lhasa Apso.—Mrs. M. Jefferson, Kingston, N.S.

Dogs with NB registration in the show ring

Referring to your editorial in the November issue and the letter of Mrs. Irmgard Wheeler, January 1973, I would like to ask what benefit could possibly be expected from having dogs with NB registrations excluded from participating at championship shows? It is most certainly not the same as exhibiting spayed females or castrated males. If a dog proves himself in the show ring, and if both parties are agreeable, the no-breeding agreement can be rescinded. I have done so when warranted.

Any breeder who bred intelligently for years and has spared no expense or effort to produce good specimens has more puppies of championship potential than he could possibly keep or place with other breeders. Out of necessity these pups are sold as pets, for a pet price and naturally without breeding privileges, sometimes at an age when one cannot be absolutely sure of quality. If and when such a dog is taken to the shows it is a very good specimen and finishes in short order, sometimes with spectacular wins. In contrast to this, some open males are dragged from show to show until they finish, and they do. From then on the owner of this "Champion" can recommend his male as the perfect mate for any bitch on this continent. Occasionally the disastrous results of his prolificness turn up at shows, but nobody complains. They NEVER have a NB registration. To lift the NB before a dog is shown would be pointless. Few owners want to breed and those who are willing would more likely than not do a poor job of it. I think it is best to leave well enough alone.

Our dog shows are not troubled with too large entries. On the contrary, from the published show results I counted 106 championship points WON WITHOUT COMPETITION for Miniature Schnauzers alone from January till middle of September 1972, and Miniature Schnauzers have very often the largest entry in the terrier group. Anyone worrying about a mockery being made of our dog shows need search no further.

This disturbing fact led me to compiling some dog show statistics for 1971. All breed shows were held:

Ontario 77 shows with an average entry of	403 dogs
Alberta 18 shows,	398 dogs
Quebec 10 shows,	356 dogs
B.C. 46 shows,	335 dogs
Manitoba 12 shows,	330 dogs
Sask. 13 shows,	183 dogs
Maritimes 38 shows,	153 dogs
Nfld. 10 shows,	89 dogs

One all breed show had an entry of 63 dogs and several had entries of under 80 dogs. I must agree with Mr. Tim Reid—Back Talk, January 1973—that we have too many too small shows.

I do not profess to have all the answers to upgrading our dog shows but barring dogs with NB registrations from being shown is not one of them.—Joanna Griggs, Guelph, Ont.

This is a letter concerning my opinion of "eliminating the dog sold on a "Non-Breeding Agreement" from the show rings of Canada".

Enclosed is a copy of part of the contract written for a pet bitch.

These people are primarily interested in a pet at pet prices. At the same time they are new members of the local Yukon Kennel Club and are becoming more and more interested in showing and training of a pure-bred dog.

They cannot participate in these accredited events without a pure-bred dog and they have not the money, nor are they positive of a lasting interest in showing etc. Therefore, they cannot at this time invest in a "higher priced" "show quality" dog.

Also, it is sometimes difficult to tell at an early age whether a pup is "show quality". A pup with no evident serious faults, at the time of sale, but neither is she outstandingly good. You have an excellent "Pet"—wants to learn to show—home vs a probable "show kennel" purchaser.

The Canadian Kennel Club's non-breeding agreement can do the most good for the pure-bred dog—as it now is—if it is used with the clause "I agree to cancel ... UPON PROOF of this dog's QUALITY at a later date."—Mrs. Ken White, Whitehorse, Y.T.

I really must take exception to your editorial concerning N.B. agreements. I am a novice breeder who plans each breeding carefully and agonizingly. I have much to learn about selecting puppies for pet or show qualities. I dearly love my breed, Siberian Huskies, and I deplore the fact that popularity in a breed seems necessarily to lead to down-grading in quality.

To help forestall this problem, I have developed the following policy: all of my puppies are sold with an N.B. agreement. At each sale I tell the buyer that they are welcome to show the puppy but I do not guarantee champions will result. I am available to give all the help I can. Then, if the dog achieves its championship and is X-rayed clear of hip dysplasia, I will be more than happy to cancel the agreement with no extra charge. This is my small way of helping to protect the breed that I love.

I do not feel that anyone who buys a bitch puppy and expresses a desire to show should automatically be allowed to use the dog for breeding purposes. Let them prove the quality of the dog first. At this time, the only place a novice can prove the quality of his breeding is in the show ring. Also, I feel that by the time a dog has achieved its championship its owner should have had plenty of time to learn about proper breeding practices and be better prepared to accept his responsibility to the breed. If this agreement is lifted before showing, the dog who cannot win a placing in any class is still eligible for breeding. Is this what we want? Must we wait until each dog is fully grown before we start showing?

As far as abuses are concerned, of far more importance is the reprehensible practice of charging an extra fee for opening agreements, e.g. "This puppy is $100 with a no breeding agreement but if you will pay $150 I will sell her open." No mention made of quality, just another way of milking the buyers.

I am sure that the subject of H.D. needs no further explanation. It is not yet a severe problem in our breed. Let's keep it that way; insist that breeding stock from our kennels be x-rayed before being bred.

I have had cooperation from the people who have bought my puppies. Those who questioned me were given the above explanation. The people who agreed readily were sold a puppy. Those who could not accept my policy were sent elsewhere to try.

I hope I haven't been too long-winded but it is a subject close to my heart. I am trying to do what is best for my breed and certainly do not feel that I am abusing the agreements but using them as a protection as I am sure was intended by the CKC when they were adopted. We are not all experts out here.—Mrs. Lynne Gibbons, Aldergrove, B.C.

On cropping of ears

I hope you will allow me to reply to some of the incredible statements contained in your editorial in the December 1972 issue entitled "Weary as a twice told tale" ...

In that editorial I chose to deal with ear cropping simply because the general public as opposed to the specialist readers of Dogs in Canada are, by and large, unfamiliar with some of the more refined forms of cosmetic surgery. But they are all familiar with ear cropping.

It is unfortunate that The Canadian Kennel Club only chose to obtain the opinion of its own members. Surely the results of any such enquiry were predictable and obvious. It would have been far more to the point if The Canadian Kennel Club had attempted to obtain a cross section of opinion of the general public. In the end it is the general public which makes laws and demands their enforcement not the relatively few people who comprise the membership of the CKC.

It must be the ultimate in naivety to ask the people who are responsible for ear cropping to agree to discontinue the practice. Again refer to my editorial in the Animals Voice. Dog breeders are notoriously conservative and can be guaranteed to resist any change in the standards of the breeds they are interested in.

But the most incredible statement must be the argument contained in your own editorial in which you state that the reason why dogs ears are cropped is to protect them from the "misery suffered by many of the drop eared dogs".

I have bred in England Boxer dogs with full normal ears. I have seen countless dogs with normal ears. I have yet to see any misery being suffered by these dogs.

I am well aware that some breeds have been developed to the point where their ears are ludicrous. The answer is not surgery but, by changing the standards, eliminate these absurdities.

On second thoughts the most incredible statement in the editorial is a claim that ear cropping is the only "single deterrent to total breed exploitation". You might just as well argue that amputating the back legs would prevent the exploitation of Greyhounds.

I am sure that the CKC would be very glad to have the matter dropped. But I doubt if that will happen. If I gauge the reaction to the editorial in the Animals Voice correctly I would say that sooner or later, but inevitably, cosmetic surgery in animals will be abolished by law. I would hope that the persons most involved in dogs would lead the way towards this reform.—T. J. Hughes, General Manager, Ontario Humane Society.

(The purpose of Dogs in Canada is to present facts, not emotional appeals. The Animals Voice editorial lost much of its sincerity when overleaf we found a large display ad complete with head-study of a handsome Boxer with—guess what.—Ed.)

Second World Series of Dog Obedience given September date

WINDSOR, Ont.—The second World Series of Dog Obedience is scheduled for September 8, 1973, it has been announced by the Detroit-Windsor Dog Obedience Association, sponsors of the competition.

Place is to be the Windsor Arena, three blocks from the Detroit-Windsor tunnel, emphasizing the international aspect of the contest. This is further pointed up in the judging panel, with three Canadian and five American judges: Kent Delaney, Chicago; Jake Giacomelli, Stoney Creek, Ont.; Dr. Harry Burns, Willoughby Hills, Ohio; Mrs. Freda Walls, Ancaster, Ont.; Mrs. Barbara Wheaton, Elgin, Ill.; Mr. Howard Ward, Mount Hope, Ont.; Donald and Helen Whitmire, Houston, Texas.

The Association states it is ironing out any wrinkles that occurred in the March 1972 contest.

Headquarters hotel for the tournament competitors and judges will be the Sheraton Viscount, in downtown Windsor. Entry requirements for the second World Series will be essentially the same as in the first contest. One major exception is that in the Top Open class only three qualifying scores will be required, rather than the five which were necessary in the previous contest.

Qualifications for the Top Dog contest are that between June 1, 1972 and May 31, 1973, the dog must have obtained a combined score in Open B and Utility of 390 points or higher at any CKC or AKC licensed trial, and must have completed his UD in either country prior to May 31, 1973.

For the Top Novice and Top Open divisions, the dog must have earned three scores in licensed competition in either country, averaging 195 or higher between the June 1, 1972 and May 31, 1973 dates. Further, he must have finished his CD to be eligible for the Top Novice portion of the contest between June 1, 1972 and May 31, 1973 and not have earned a third leg toward a CDX in either country as of that date. To be eligible for the Top Open division, the CDX must have been completed prior to May 31, 1973, and the dog must not have earned a third leg toward a UD in either country as of May 31, 1973.

Closing date for entries will be July 15, 1973, and complete rules and regulations, together with entry forms, may be obtained from Mrs. Arthur Ferguson, 224 Clovelly Rd., St. Clair Beach, Windsor, Ont.

Burlington club holds annual awards dinner

Christmas is looked forward to by members of the Burlington Kennel & Obedience Club, for this is when doggie people gather together for their annual party and awards night dinner.

There were 102 people attending the dinner this Christmas, 16 receiving awards on behalf of their doggie friend becoming a Canadian champion. For others, the night was extra special with their K9 companions going BIS. with appropriate awards—some more than once.

As our name denotes, the BK & OC is also an obedience club. A number of members received their obedience pins this year. Nine received their CD pins, two their CDX, with one member receiving his UD pin on behalf of his fine working Standard Poodle, Geisha Girl.

Present as guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Dojack of the Burlington Parks and Recreation Department, without whose help and cooperation our May trials and September championship show would not have run as smoothly. - Don Smith

Obedience

Send correspondence direct to Jake Giacomelli,
51 Wardrope St. S., Stoney Creek, Ont.

A pat on the back must certainly go to the Crocus Kennel & Obedience Club of Brandon, Man., for their truly excellent obedience ring conditions presented to their exhibitors at their December obedience trials. They had more than ample excellent matting for a floor surface that hardly needed it. Equipment freshly painted and standard size—ideal out-of-sight location for the Open Class and stewards who were really on their toes to serve their judge's every need.

It never fails to give me a sense of gratification and appreciation when it is obvious that a club has gone all out to present ideal ring conditions for their exhibitors.

Here's one that I think should be passed on for the benefit of our Canadian ring stewards, our American exhibitors and our Canadian judges who may, on the rare occasion, be confronted with it.

In the Canadian Obedience Regulations there are only eight breeds that are permitted to jump once the height of the dog at the withers or three feet, whichever is less, and they are: Bullmastiffs, Great Danes, Great Pyrenees, Mastiffs, Newfoundlands, St. Bernards, Basset Hounds and Bulldogs. The American Obedience Regulations permit many, many more breeds this privilege of jumping only once the height at the withers.

WATCH HEIGHTS

Most of the American exhibitors who show in Canada are fully aware of the jumping requirements on our side of the border—however, you will run into the occasional handler who will give the steward his dog's jumping height for the American trials, which may not necessarily be correct for the Canadian requirements.

On the larger breeds you can as a rule spot this irregularity right away, but on the small or very small breeds it can slip by both the steward and judge very easily unless you are constantly on the alert for it. Especially at shows where a judge has a large Open Class and his stewards may be relatively new in obedience. One or two American exhibitors with small dogs could very easily slip through with the wrong jumping heights without anyone ever noticing it!

A little extra instructions to your stewards and a constant watchfulness on the judge's part can go a long way to prevent it from happening. It's so easy when doing seven or eight or more hours of judging to accept the height the steward has set on the jumps as being correct—and the steward as a rule will set the height the exhibitor tells him that his dog has to jump. Small differences you probably will very seldom catch unless it is the breed or breeds you have trained and are more familiar with the variances in jumping heights of these breeds. However, the differences between once the height of the withers against once and half the height of the withers you should notice if you are watching for it. How does the CKC rule book read on this one—?

(1) "The judge must make certain in all cases that the jump is set at the proper height for each dog, and shall measure any dog if there is any question as to the proper height.

(2) It is the judge's responsibility to see that the distance jumped is that required by the standard for the particular dog.

STEWARDS CAN HELP

Any steward worth his or her salt can do a great deal to help his or her judge from falling in the trap of incorrect jumping heights. Unless the dog falls into the category I mentioned above, remember they all jump once and half their height at the withers and twice this distance for the broad jump.

You can always make rough assessments of your own to see if the height the exhibitor gave you is correct. For example, if the dog looks like 12" at the withers to you, his jumping height should be 18" for the high and 36" for the broad. If the height and distance the exhibitor gives you appears to be way off what you assessed, mentally re-check your assessment and if you're still way off, discreetly mention it to your judge so that he is aware that an irregularity may exist. Most judges, I'm sure, will appreciate your efforts on their behalf.

Until your next stewarding assignment practice a lot of jumping assessments of dogs at your club or dogs going into trials you are attending. You'll be surprised after awhile how close you may come to the height actually set.

Bird watching at the Obedience Ring

Joan Karas, Obedience Editor, RAMAPO GROWL

(reprinted from Off-Lead magazine)

Have you ever sat at ringside and watched a seemingly endless parade of sloppy handlers?

Here are some examples of handlers (?) I have seen:

STATUE OF LIBERTY OR LOOSE LEAD

Lead held ear-high looking as if he had just dropped his torch.

He holds the lead in his left hand in a casual manner, and expresses complete innocence when the judge calls him on playing it in and out like a fishing line.

BALLET DANCER

This character on the command "fast" goes into a series of ballet leaps that would be the envy of a gazelle! Unfortunately, he never picks up speed. If I were the judge, I would be sorely tempted to place my size 6½ in his butt to teach him what jet-propelled meant.

In the Field

POINTERS

Address correspondence on Pointers in the field to Wm. McClure, Box 15, Manotick, Ont.

Action is needed soon on the part of sporting dog owners, clubs, associations and government to establish or develop existing facilities for dog field trials. The urgency of the need is much more severe in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia for obvious reasons of population pressure on suitable available land. The day is not so far away when usable field trial land will be very difficult to locate in the east.

At this point the Prairie and Maritime sportsmen do not have difficulty in finding and getting permission to use the large acreages required for trials. Not so in other provinces. That part of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia which is suitable for trials is also intensely farmed. Cooperative landowners have been found but one can anticipate increasing difficulty as time goes by. Indeed, information suggests that Quebec field trialers already face serious difficulty in obtaining grounds on which they can host pointing dog events. Ontario's championship has had to be suspended largely because suitable running grounds are not readily available. Word from British Columbia suggests that suitable field trial areas on the mainland, reasonably close to cities, is difficult to obtain. Clearly several provinces and their clubs are already in trouble.

What is needed is a concerted effort on the part of pointing dog clubs, retriever clubs, Spaniel and Beagle clubs to get together on their needs and approach the government with proposals for access to trial areas. In most provinces multiple-use public recreational areas are available. In Ontario and probably elsewhere, government operates hunting areas that could well be used at appropriate times as field trial grounds. Obviously government is not aware of our requirements as little use is made of the thousands of acres of public land for trials. I am sure that with a joint approach on the part of interested sporting dog clubs elected officials would respond with enthusiasm.

Such has been the case in the United States. Most sporting dog clubs in American states host their trials on either State or federal lands. Some of these grounds are splendid. Your columnist has twice described in these columns the fine multiple use area at Hoffman, North Carolina. Here the state of North Carolina maintains thousands of acres for field trials and hunting, managing game and providing clubhouse facilities, stables and kennels for visiting sportsmen. North Carolina is not as rich a state as Ontario is a Province. Surely what they have is organized influence brought to bear on government. There is a lesson to be learned.

In New York the famous grounds at Baldwinsville were established as a direct result of action by a pressure group of dedicated sportsmen whose principal interest was field trials. Here again the state of New York bought the land, developed and maintained the cover, raised and released game birds and provided club house, stable and kennel facilities. Surely the pressure from organized sportsmen was a key factor in the development of this area. Politicians listen to groups. We must come together on this challenge and approach our representatives for the development of dog field trial areas before it is too late.

We have every opportunity in Canada to act before available public land is designated for other uses. Field trialers do not kill game, and they have a deep vested interest in the preservation of game birds. As the saying goes "You can't train a dog on dead birds". Certainly we have all the high cards if we could only get organized and collectively declare our requirements. We would not be rejected. Let's move!

areas (mainly in the southern U.S.).

Recent research has also shown differences in wildlife susceptibility to rabies, and their ability to transfer the disease.

"The fox turns out to be an extremely susceptible species for rabies . . . around 100 times more susceptible than a skunk, and about 200 times more susceptible than a raccoon," Dr. Reif explained. "On the other hand, once the animal is infected, the skunk is a very efficient sharer of virus particles in its saliva, and will shed many more times the number of virus particles than a fox. So the fox catches it more easily, but the skunk is a better transferrer."

Dr. Reif described U.S. campaigns to cut down the danger of fox-transmitted rabies. "These have been undertaken by various methods—poisoning foxes, gassing them, or widespread trapping operations. None of these attempts at decreasing the wildlife population are particularly effective, and they're all pretty costly. Usually the surviving young foxes (many of them escape, and they fill the vacuum pretty fast) build up the fox population to what it was.

"Recently there have been other experimental approaches aimed at attempting to immunize a portion of the fox population, thereby providing a sort of immunological barrier against the spread of rabies once it has entered the population, thus establishing a sort of herd immunity in the wild fox population.

"One of these attempts involves a self-propelled vaccine which enters a fox's hide when he enters a baited cage, automatically injecting a dose of rabies vaccine. Another is oral vaccination of foxes by the use of vaccine-treated baits. Distributing vaccine-treated baits which will stand up under environmental conditions might succeed in immunizing the fox population in a given area."

Dr. Reif stressed to the physician members of his audience that a dog that bites a human should not automatically be presumed rabid.

"Healthy dogs which are known to belong to families and have regular immunizations against rabies may occasionally bite a person", he said, "but should not necessarily be presumed to be rabid because they do so. It's sometimes under very provoked circumstances.

"Wildlife bites are extremely dangerous", he cautioned. It is only by examining the biting animal (sometimes its brain tissue) that a veterinarian can diagnose rabies early. If the animal is not available, he has no choice but to assume it was rabid, and treat the bitten animal accordingly.

Alberni Valley Juniors elect new officers

ALBERNI, B.C.—The Alberni Valley Junior Kennel Club's new officers are: President, Patricia Archer; Vice-President, Sheila Archer; Secretary, Marilyn Claypool; Treasurer, Sammy Archer.

We have been writing letters to breed owners and collecting information on the breed we picked. We are also studying obedience work and conformation.

Wendy Bishop, one of the Jr. Kennel Club members, was successful in the Century show. She took a Samoyed in the obedience trials and got its CD. She also took her own Whippet in to win the breed and finish its championship, as well as taking in a Lhasa to win Best Terrier Pup two days in a row. –Marilyn Claypool Dandy does it again! The Whippet, Ch. Night Talk of Woodsmoke, wins his fourth Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show in one week of shows under the noted breeder judge Marjorie Seibern. Miss Seibern also gave Dandy a 3 point major which finished his championship at seven months of age. Trophy was presented by Betty Fortune. Dandy is handled by his breeder owner Mrs. Pat Miller, Woodsmoke Kennels Reg'd., Box 10, Lime Kiln Rd., Saint John, N.B.

Cruft's . . . Corgies . . . Confusion!

When Max Magder (Lorric Kennels, Oakville, Ont.) and friend Steve Hurt of Rockford, Mich., visited Cruft's last year they had one adventure not on their itinerary.

The story is that Steve had arranged, by phone, that the two would visit a Welsh Corgi kennel in Horsham, Surrey. The kennel owner, a Miss Curties, promised to meet their train which would arrive at the Horsham station at 10 o'clock the next morning. There would be no problem of identity, Miss Curties said, because: "She could spot a Yank anywhere!"

Our travellers arrived at Horsham a few minutes early so they found a bench close to the station house entrance door where they waited for the car that was coming to take them to the kennel.

Presently an Englishman approached them and enquired: "Mr. Hurst". "Mr. Hurt", replied Steve. "Your car is here", said the gentleman and led them outside to a long, black limousine. Max and Steve were a bit taken aback by all this display of wealth but thought to themselves: "Oh well, some English breeders are very rich". And away the three drove into the lovely Surrey countryside.

After about half an hour of driving and chatting with the driver about this and that Max said that he hadn't realized that the kennel was so far out of town. "Kennel?", asked the driver in a very surprised voice. "Yes", said Max "we've come to see Miss Curties' dogs". "DOGS?" the driver exploded. "Why, yes", explained Max "we're over for Cruft's and we're using our free time to visit a few kennels".

With that the driver swung the car around and executed a very poor U-turn on the narrow country road. The car smashed into a fence post then, accelerating furiously the driver sped with all haste back to Horsham station. He was annoyed. "This car is from the War Dept., didn't you see the emblem on the door?" Max and Steve had not. They reached the station again just in time to find a bewildered Mr. Hurst being filled in on the latest news from the Corgi kennel. Its owner, the Yank-spotter, was excitedly explaining: "I bred my beautiful little bitch last night!"

The mix-up was set to rights. Mr. Hurst was whisked off to his hush-hush appointment at the War Dept. by a rather red-faced driver. And our travellers laughed all the way to the kennel.

Thank you

Words cannot express our gratitude to the people of the dog fancy who turned out en mass in support of our Christmas benefit all breed dog match in aid of a "dog fancy family" who met with an accident last Fall.

Although the weatherman was most unkind the two days previous to the show, exhibitors and supporters turned out in droves in support of this worthy cause and at final count the entry was 325.

Highlight of the day was the appearance of Santa Claus (Gord McMillan), who went through the whole department store bit—throne, favors for the kiddies and photographs (Bill Stonham).

We would like to thank first of all the exhibitors, for without them this show would never have been; our special thanks to Bob-John Ellieff and John Dean who literally took over most of the arrangements of this affair spending many hours engaging judges, contacting dog food companies for food donations (who as usual were most generous), arranging for fliers, engaging a hall, stocking supplies for the kitchen and leaving no detail undone. To the Art Munro family we say thanks for your charge of the properties and gate.

To our judges we gratefully thank John Lundberg and Peter Smith who travelled long distances over bad highways, and Ms Laura Getty, Margaret Thomas, Eve Whitmore (filling in for snow-bound Rita Smith), Yan Paul, who when not in the ring judging was in the kitchen making sandwiches and hot dogs, Mr. John Devlin, and Mr. John Fabian of the Professional Handlers Association for his efforts in Children's Handling.

To long-time fanciers of the dog game Mrs. Etta Farrell and her ring stewarding crew and Ms. Meta Loveridge and Katie Bayliss and Mr. Tom Joel (one of the first workers to arrive) for their efforts in taking post entries that swarmed in, one exhibitor travelling over 200 miles with six entries—we say thank you also.

It is not possible to mention all those individually who helped in their own small way, either in the kitchen, cleaning up, or on any number of jobs connected with the success of this show, but we humbly appreciate your efforts.

It was evident that so many were determined to see that the family for whom we gave this benefit would be enjoying a very merry Christmas through the efforts and affection of the dog fancy. Many of those who knew they could not attend sent in gift donations, some as far away as South Burnaby, B.C.—Hilda Pugh and Ed. After a five month lay-off, Ch. Heiligehof's Tauska de Beaulieu (Tauska) finished up the 1972 season by going 1st in Group at the November 13 Prairie Canine Academy show, Regina, Sask., under Judge Mrs. Eda Mitchell and also took four out of six BBs during November. Although a young girl, she has taken the breed in four provinces this year. We are hoping for expansion of her winning in '73. Owned and handled by Mrs. Phyllis J. Hodges, P.O. RANDOM THOUGHTS

Anyone interested in submitting random thoughts for this column should send them directly to Mr. James G. Reynolds, Box 3138, R.R.3, Ottawa, Ont.

Enjoy your column–but I must object! As to gait–and Dogs In Action. I abhor any discouragement of the reading and studying of this book.

I feel the problem here is too few breeders or judges have read this book –and we would have sounder dogs if more did.

Some people breed for years and breed for qualities other than gait–and even win at the shows. So if these should become judges–they still would not assess overall soundness properly.

Some judges take one look at the dogs and pick their winner (obviously the one who appeals to them first and most)–HANG GAIT!, and some of these even put up rather mediocre dogs to group placings.

Too few judges really consider gait half enough and the number of poor-moving dogs seen at any given show–wherever you go–is appalling. That is a well known fact from all I hear in the U.S. and Canada. Some breeder judges are as guilty of assessing dogs on general appearance only as any other judge. Perhaps some are willing to say "Oh a dog show is only a beauty contest"–Surely "poetry in motion is Beauty"–as well as head, coat, etc.

Working show dogs can be produced and let us encourage this aspect and the studying of all good books such as the Dog in Action.
Islay Aitchison,
Glokon Kennels (Reg'd)

My apologies if I seemed to be discouraging anyone reading The Dog In Action. I believe it a most important work. At the same time I'm not certain that I can agree with Ms. Aitchison's views on movement entirely. Let's hear from other members of the fancy on this subject.

Having just coped with a couple of "fading" puppies I can't help but reflect how little seems to be known about this dread killer of young puppies. Probably most breeders have at some time had to deal with this problem and have experienced the futility of taking what you hoped was appropriate action. Money is hard to come by but if individuals and clubs want to spend some of their funds in a way calculated to help dogs surely the funding of a research project to deal with this problem is long overdue.

* * *

Whatever happened to the Eileen McEachren trophies? I remember for a few years that one was presented to the breeder finishing the most champions in a single year. Apparently this ran into problems but the idea was basically sound. Could perhaps CKC find a way to bring back such an award and maybe also leading breeder, person of the year etc. If not CKC, then maybe Dogs In Canada or one of the dog food companies? The U.S. has its Gaines, Ken-L, and St. Aubrey awards. Surely Canadian dogdom could come up with something for Canadian fanciers.

* * *

Let's see more outdoor shows for 1973. Given Canada's climate I can see the desirability of having a shelter available but surely it is possible to set up rings on the grounds of some buildings and should the sun shine have some outdoor judging.

* * *

Why do we have so many short-term breeder-exhibitors? Not long ago I looked around a ring and realized that most of the people who started in dogs when I did have long since departed. Three relatively large kennels in my area rose and fell within seven years. Any ideas from you the reader?

NOTICE

PROPOSED NEW STANDARD FOR THE VIZSLA (SMOOTH)

A proposed new standard for the Vizsla is published hereunder. This proposed new standard will be considered by the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club. Persons and clubs having an interest in the proposed standard are invited to submit their comments for the consideration of the Breed Standards Committee and the Board of Directors, all such letters to be addressed to: The Canadian Kennel Club, 111 Eglinton Ave. E., Toronto, Ontario. M4P 1H9, so as to be received not later than March 31, 1973. When writing please refer to file 7 R 10.

1. ORIGIN OF BREED—The Vizsla (pronounced as if spelled VIZH-LA) is of Hungarian origin, where various records indicate its history as going back many centuries. It was the companion hunting dog of the early warlords and landed aristocracy who used it for general purpose hunting. It was known in Hungary as the "Yellow" Pointer. In North America it is used primarily as an upland bird dog, where its excellent scenting and retrieving characteristics have been widely acclaimed. It is a strong swimmer and also retrieves well from water.

2. GENERAL APPEARANCE—The Vizsla is a short-haired, medium-sized sporting dog. It conveys the impression of an alert, muscular, well-balanced animal with a distinctive and aristocratic appearance.

3. TEMPERAMENT—The Vizsla is intelligent, calm, obedient, and easy to train. It is a sensitive dog which becomes attached to its owner and develops a strong but not overly aggressive protective instinct. In the field, the Vizsla is an eager, happy hunter which is at home on land and in the water.

4. SIZE—The standard size, measured at the withers, for the Vizsla is 23" for males, and 22" for females. A dog of good bone and substance in this size range shall weight from 50 lbs. to 65 lbs. A bitch weighs about 10 lbs. less. The length to height ratio should be approximately 1:1.

5. COAT AND COLOUR—The hair of the Vizsla should be short and dense and should lie close to the skin. Each hair should be thick and elastic and the coat should have a glossy sheen.

The correct colour is a golden-rust, sometimes described as the golden colour of the crust bread. In some strains slightly lighter or darker shades may predominate. A white mark on the chest under 2" diameter is permissible but not desirable.

a) SKULL—Should convey an impression of being lean and muscular, with a median line down the forehead. The top line of the skull should be straight. The skull tends to be comparatively narrow in relation to its length, with that of the male being slightly wider. The occiput is slightly visible. The stop should be slight and sloping rather than abrupt.

b) MUZZLE—The muzzle should be approximately the same length as the skull. It should be narrow, end squarely, and have clean straight lines.

c) NOSE—The solid colour should match the coat but may be slightly darker. The nostrils should be moderate in width.

d) MOUTH—The jaws should be strong and well developed teeth meeting in a scissor or even bite. The lips should be smooth and well developed and cover the teeth tightly. The lips extend in a level line ¾ of the length of the muzzle.

e) EYES—They should be almond-shaped, bright and intelligent in appearance. The colour is in harmony with or darker than the colour of the coat; they should be moderately deep set. The eyelids close neatly and cleanly with no overlap. The nictitating membrane should not be overly exposed.

f) EARS—The ears should be thin, silky and moderately tapered with rounded ends. They should just meet under the jaw, or reach to the corner of the mouth, but should not extend as far as the canine teeth. They should be set about ½" below the level of the skull and hang close to the cheeks.

7. NECK—The neck should be of medium length in proportion to the body. It must be well muscled, with a definite arch at the nape and widened to blend smoothly into the forequarters. The skin of the neck should be smooth and tight.

8. FOREQUARTERS

a) SHOULDERS—The shoulder blade should be of medium length and must be tightly held in place. The angle formed by the shoulder blade (scapula) and the humerus should be approximately 90°. The musculature should be firm, smooth and clearly defined.

b) UPPER-ARM (HUMERUS)—The bone structure should be heavy, smooth and well covered by strong firm muscles. The skin should be firm, pliable and smooth. The upper-arm should be equal in length to the shoulder blade (scapula).

c) LOWER-ARM (Radius and Ulna)—Strong big bones with good muscles. The legs should be straight whether viewed from the front or side. The angle at the elbow joint should be approximately 135°.

d) PASTERNS—The angle that the pastern makes with the lower leg should be nearly straight (about 175°-180°).

e) PAWS—The paws should be cat-like with tightly closed toes and big rough pads. The feet should be webbed. The nails should be short, firm and well-curved, and their colour should be similar to that of the eyes, nose and coat. Dew claws should be removed.

9. BODY

a) TOPLINE—The topline should be broad and smooth and is slightly arched over the loin and croup to the base of the tail; there is a slight depression at the juncture of the withers and the back.

b) CHEST—The chest should be deep reaching down to the elbows and moderately broad. A cross-section of the chest is oval with well sprung ribs, narrowing between the elbows to permit free and easy leg movement. Width of the chest between the forelegs is at least 6" for a male and 5" for a bitch.

c) LOIN—It should be broad, strong and well muscled.

d) CROUP—It should be heavily muscled and smoothly rounded to the base of the tail.

e) ABDOMEN—The abdomen should be trim and neat with a moderate "tuck-up".

10. HINDQUARTERS

a) HIPBONE (Pelvis)—This is the framework which forms the basic support for the hind legs. These pelvic bones should be wide and strong. The musculature attaching to these bones should be very well developed and gives strength to the hindquarters.

b) UPPER THIGH (Femur)—This bone should be heavy, straight, round and smooth. Muscle attachments should be very powerful, broad and evenly distributed. The angle at the hip joint should be 90°.

c) LOWER THIGH (Tibia and Fibula)—Should be well muscled. These bones should be longer than the femur. The angle at the stifle joint should be 110°-120°.

d) HOCKS—The angle at the hock joint should be from 125° to 130°.

e) PAWS—Same as the front.

11. TAIL—The tail set is lower than on the other continental pointing breeds. In motion it is carried outstretched, at or above the horizontal level. A portion is docked, approximately 1/3, so that the tip of the shortened tail is level with the juncture of the upper and lower thigh. It should be thicker at the base than at the tip.

12. GAIT—Viewed from the front, the dog's legs should appear to swing forward in a free and easy manner, with no tendency for the feet to cross over or swing wide. Viewed from the rear the gait should be true-tracking. The topline is level when the dog is in motion, while the head is carried high and the tail "flags" constantly at the proper level.

13. FAULTS

a) Very nervous dogs should be heavily penalized
b) Very dark or very light colour coat
c) Hare feet
d) Light yellow, green, blue or "Pop" eyes
e) Throatiness
f) Dogs 10 lbs over or under the standard weight
g) Dew claws not removed
h) Roached, hollow or camel backs
i) Too steep a croup
j) Undershot or overshot bites

14. DISQUALIFICATIONS

a) A dog 2" or more over or under the standard height.
b) White markings over 2" on the chest or white markings anywhere else other than the chest.

RULES GOVERNING SANCTION MATCHES

1. A SANCTION MATCH is an informal meeting at which only pure bred dogs may compete, but not for championship points, held by a club or association obtaining the sanction of the Canadian Kennel Club, and such match shall be held under the Sanction Match rules adopted by the Canadian Kennel Club. A club shall not be permitted to hold more than three Sanction Matches in a calendar year except at the discretion of the local Provincial Director.
2. All clubs, organizations or associations throughout Canada must obtain the sanction of the Canadian Kennel Club to hold matinee or evening matches. Applications for Sanction Match dates should be addressed to the local C.K.C. Director for Sanction Matches to be held outside the Province of Ontario, to the office of the Canadian Kennel Club for Sanction Matches to be held in the Province of Ontario.
3. The granting of Sanction Match dates in Ontario is at the discretion of the CKC Manager of Shows and Trials; in any other zone at the discretion of the local CKC Director.
4. Dates must be applied for not less than 30 days previous to the date of the Match. Dates to be allocated on a "first come, first served" basis. Simultaneous Sanction Matches in Ontario may be approved, provided that there are not less than 100 air miles between the locations of such matches. A Sanction Match may be held on the same date as a championship show provided there are not less than 200 air miles between such events.
5. The responsibility of selection of qualified judges to be that of the Match giving club. The word "qualified" should be interpreted to mean those persons who would meet the qualifications laid down by the Chapter 7 Committee who approve judges for championship shows, or for those persons who the Match giving club feel will eventually meet these requirements and have shown a keen interest in the judging field.
6. Each club sponsoring a Sanction Match must appoint a Match Superintendent as well as a Match Secretary and Ring Stewards, bearing in mind that such Matches are excellent training grounds for new Stewards.
7. Classes will be provided for:
   Puppy Male: 3-6 months; 6-9 months; 9-12 months.
   Puppy Female: 3-6 months; 6-9 months; 9-12 months.
   Age groups may be combined if entries do not warrant separate classes.
   All puppies, whether imported or not, are eligible for the above classes.
   Open Male)
   Open Female) Classes of Male and Female may be combined where only one entry is received for each sex in the breed.

   Best Male) Best Female)

   Best of Breed

   Best Canadian-Bred Puppy in Breed
   OR Best Puppy in Breed

   Additional Optional Classes could be Novice, Bred by Exhibitor and Canadian Bred Classes, but in shows where a large entry is anticipated these classes should be discouraged as being time consuming. Such awards as Best of Opposite Sex, Best Canadian-Bred, should be optional.

   A Miscellaneous Class is permissible for only those dogs recognized by the CKC to compete in this class at championship shows. A complete list of these dogs is obtainable from the CKC Manager of Shows and Trials or your area Director.
8. No champion of any country is to compete at a Sanction Match. Sanction Matches are to be considered as a training ground for dogs and exhibitors. Owners of dogs with more than five championship points are to be discouraged from competition at Sanction Matches.
   All disqualifications laid down in the book of Breed Standards governing championship shows are to prevail at Sanction Matches.
9. All prize ribbons or cards given out at Saction Matches must have the words "SANCTION MATCH" on them.
   Placings—same as Point Show—cards or ribbons may be used.
   1st—GOLD, 2nd—ROSE, 3rd—BEIGE, 4th—GREY
   Best Male—Best Female—GOLD
   Best of Opposite Sex—RUST
   Best of Breed—GREEN
   Best Canadian Bred—ORANGE
   Best Canadian-Bred Puppy in Breed
   OR Best Puppy in Breed—PINK

   Groups—Same colours, longer ribbons or rosettes could be used.
   Best In Match—GREEN
   Best Canadian Bred In Match—ORANGE
   Best Canadian-Bred Puppy in Match
   OR Best Puppy in Match—PINK
10. The Judges' books should be in loose leaf form and follow the same form as judges' books used at Championship Shows except that only the original copy (to be completed by the judge) is required. A light board holder is easy to make with a small spring clip or elastic band for ready use, so that after one group is judged the awards can be posted into the group sheets. Each judge shall sign his judge's book.
    A Sanction Match should be so organized that judging will be completed not later than midnight.
    As far as practicable the set-up and procedure followed Sanction Matches should follow Championship Shows.

SETTERS

Our Glenappin Setter Kennels can only regard the year just past as one of our best to date. Not only did we see puppies of ours find show homes from Nova Scotia to Vancouver Island, finish some champions and watch our Fichtentals Brigadoon make a tremendous mark in the Gordon Setter world of the north-western United States, but we exported puppies from each of our 1972 litters.

First of these was the Irish male, Glenappin Northern Lite O'Dajo, who left us in April for Tacoma, Wash. A son of Am. Ch. Harmony Lane Northern Light and out of Harmony Lane Tidal Wave (imp), "Nordie" is co-owned by Dajo Kennels and young Karen Pfander with whom he resides and who will be seen with him at the shows this year.

Having come personally to choose "Nordie", Ruth and Dale Jones then prevailed upon us to also send them our choice female English Setter puppy. So in August, Glenappin Bellwood Melic O'Dajo, an orange daughter of Ch. Fichtentals Achates and Fichtentals Cori of Glenappin, went south. "Melic" is the first English Setter for Joneses and we hope she will provide a good foundation for them.

At Christmas time, another Irish showman emigrated to the home of Lt. Cdr. John F. Stone of Oak Harbour naval base in Washington. Also out of Harmony Lane Tidal Wave, Glenappin Dajo Shillellagh is sired by Dajos Sir Guy, a young male who holds points in both Canada and the United States.

Joan Vance, Leighton Kennels, Box 3, Gainford, Alta. —Obedience has been long left to other breeds and the few English Setters seen in the ring do extremely well. It is work but think of the great rewards. Let's give it a try. There are many good clubs that offer obedience classes; phone one now or look in your newspaper for their ads.

As for the hunter, this field has shown a decrease in the number of English Setters over the past few years. The English Setter is noted for its keen nose and steadiness in the field. Are our noses out of joint because of the pretty coat our dog has? Don't refuse him the honor he deserves in the field. Take him with you the next time out. Sure you have to comb out a few burrs and tangles, but then you brush him every other day anyway, don't you?

The show ring has been promoted very well in the last while and conformation is on the increase—12-16 each time out here in the West. However, in a few parts of Canada people are still slow getting in there. What's the trouble? If grooming or showing your dog is a problem, get "The New Complete English Setter," revised by Howell, or get out to a few dog shows, watch and ask questions. New regional clubs for English Setter folks are being formed across Canada. For the address of a club near you, write me and I'll be happy to send same to you.

WEIMARANERS

Victor Nunn, 1168 Haig Blvd., Mississauga, Ont. —About 40 persons attended the second annual Christmas party hosted by the Weimaraner Association of Canada, held at the home of John and Sally Williams. Guest of honor was Mrs. Helen Schultze, who was one of the originators of the breed in Canada in 1947, and who now divides her time between her home in Niagara Falls and her kennel in Arizona. Mrs. Schultze is liasion officer between the Weimaraner Club of America and the German Weimaraner Club. The Weimaraner Assn. of Canada recently made Mrs. Schultze its first honorary member and it is hoped that she will consent to speak at a club meeting in the spring.

Fanciers of the blue Weimaraner, which is now disqualified from bench shows and field trials, are making progress in their bid to have the blue reaccepted as a Weimaraner. From their headquarters in Texas, blue fanciers have set up a registry for blues, a field rating system and a proposed new name for their club—The Blue Weimaraner Club. So far, 104 blue dogs have been registered and the new club is continuing to petition the AKC for recognition as a variety of the Wy or as a separate breed.

Any news on Weimaraner activities will be welcomed for inclusion in this column.

Counterpoint Araaf CD, both owned by John Ross; Arani Amudalah Ben Regger, owned by Dagmar and Alice Hrudka; Azamat Sulayman Ben Regger, owned by Claire Thorseth.

SALUKIS

Roberta M. Pattison, 205 Bottomley Ave. S., Saskatoon, Sask. —The trainers of the Hub City Kennel & Obedience Club in Saskatoon probably felt themselves in line for some sort of honorary award for dedication and perseverance in the face of great odds when they discovered that no fewer than seven Salukis had enrolled for their fall session of obedience classes.

Salukis are routinely relegated to the "beautiful but dumb" category, and even Saluki owners admit their favorites are usually anything but easy to train. A single Saluki at obedience class is a bit of an oddity; seven is unheard of. Still, this particular group shows how successful Salukis can be in obedience; it includes dogs in every class from Puppy through Utility.

Unfortunately, graduation day coincided with the Prairie Canine Academy's show and trial in Regina (where, incidentally, two of the Salukis, Ch. Counterpoint Araaf CD and Ch. Almanza Gwasmiyah CD, went high-scoring brace in trial), so only two of the seven were on hand to go through graduating exercises, but all did well in classes over the course of the session. The obedience director of the Hub City Club, Mrs. E. Patterson of Asquith, is someone ideally suited to cope with the training challenge of shepherding this hoard of Salukis through their lessons—she has a Saluki herself, and trained Counterpoint Araaf (Twiggy) to her CD degree.

This group of dogs is exceptional in another respect—six of them make up what amounts to a Saluki version of an obedience dynasty. Twiggy and her brother Jay (Ch. Counterpoint Abu Sahr CDX) are litter-mates; Arani Amudalah Ben Regger and Azamat Sulayman Ben Regger are also litter sister and brother, and were sired by Ch. Counterpoint

WE PRESENT
AM. & CAN. CH.
FELSHEIM'S
JULIES FAVORITE

"Favy" was introduced to the Canadian show scene at the end of 1972, obtaining his Canadian championship with — 5, 3 & 5 point wins, including a Best of Breed. He gained 6 more Best of Breeds, a Group 2nd and a Group 4th by the end of November.

This outstanding red male was placed as No.1 Standard Smooth in the United States in the October 1972 issue of U.S. Dachshund Variety.

He will be campaigned across Canada by his professional handling team at Kaduna.

Pharaoh Azkar (two legs on his CD), another brother to Twiggy and Jay; and the cream puppy, Counterpoint Bahr el Jebel, is a daughter of Twiggy and Marcus (Ch. Almanza Gwasmiyah CD). Twiggy got her CD before she was a year old and Jay is, we believe, the first Saluki in Canada to get his CDX.

How far each of these hounds will eventually go in their training is difficult to say, but if activity in Saskatoon is any indication, 1973 should be a good year for Salukis in obedience.

BEARDED COLLIES

Carol Gold, 39 Claxton Blvd., Toronto 10 —A few things a Beardie should and should not be:

He should be fairly long in body.

He should be a graceful dog.

He should show plenty of daylight beneath his body.

He should be self-confident, determined and sensible.

His eyes should—must—be clearly visible under arching brows.

His coat should be flat to his body, not standoffish or backcombed like a Rough Collie or Old English.

He should move as though he could keep it up all day and could wheel and turn on a dime.

He should not be clumpy or cloddy, or give the impression of heaviness.

He should not have too much white on his body—definitely he is a colored dog with white markings only.

When standing naturally, the distance between his hocks should be the same as the distance from his hock to the ground.

His ribs should be flat and deep—he is not a round-ribbed dog.

His ears and their fringes should blend into the coat of his head so they are hard to distinguish until he is alerted, when they should lift slightly at the base.

His eyes should be of a color to match his coat—a light grey dog should never have dark brown eyes, nor should a dark slate dog have light yellow ones.

He should have, and his eyes should reveal, the wisdon, intelligence and loyalty of his ancestors.

NOTES: Welcome Dr. Philippe Bolduc to Canada with his Bearded dog Worthing Memorie, a lovely year-old, black and white son of the outstanding dog Ch. Sunbrees Magic Moments of Willowmead. Another new arrival, joining my own Raggmopp Beardies, co-owned by Pat Kaposi of Countysquire Kennels, is the black and white young lady, Legal Tangle from Davealex, daughter of Davealex I Own Him and Ch. Cala Sona Westernisles Loch Aber, who holds the most C.C.'s ever awarded to a Beardie bitch.

Ken and Jenny Osborne, owners of the Osmart Beardies and both championship show Beardie specialist judges, will be holidaying in Canada in October. The Bearded Collie Club of Canada hopes to arrange a booster or match show for them to judge and critique our dogs.

Muriel Ratner says, "A Beardie isn't a dog... it's a career!"

COLLIES/SHELTIES

Ariel Sleeth, well-known breeder, judge, horsewoman and farm owner reports on the cross-country activities of these breeds. Send your news items to her direct: Sovereign Kennels, R.R. 6, Kingston, Ont. —We are half way through December, at this writing, and we have already had double the snowfall we had for all of December last year. Sounds as though I am leading up to something and that I am. Tomorrow we leave for a Christmas-New Year holiday in the sun (that explains, Madam Editor, why I am EARLY with this copy, for the very first time).

So far, I have resisted the temptation to look up what dog shows there might be in Florida at that time—Floyd, what did you do with my American dog magazines?

Perched on "Cloud Nine" at the mere thought of having nothing to do for a short while, I do not feel I could be responsible for anything I might write in this column at this time so I am going to borrow a highly amusing article from Collie Cues, written by Catherine Steel.

MOBILE LIVING
Gone to the Dogs!

It has long been an accepted fact that trailer living is the ultimate in living when you are looking for comfort and convenience in one package. We, then, are no exception. Our kennel is housed in a 48' by 8' house trailer complete with kitchen, table, chairs, stove, refrigerator, and even a TV (who said it had to work). There is only one problem—as yet we have no water and no electricity but where there's hope. . . .

It all began with our neighbors putting in a pool! Now that may seem strange that a trailer has anything to do with a pool but it started a whole chain of events. The pool was barely a bark away and everytime swimming weather rolled around our Collies announced loudly the comings and goings next door. We had come to the time in our Collie love (and the possibility of future population explosion in dogdom) when our Collies must simply be moved from the house to OUT THERE. Our OUT THERE being a garage complete with two pens and a small outside yard (near that pool). We decided that we should do our part to keep the good will of the neighborhood.

Not knowing exactly what to do about our housing problem, we considered several possibilities. A regular kennel building was out of the question as were the prefab prices. We hit upon the idea of a trailer after having seen one for sale when on a drive. Now, having the spark of an idea, all we needed was to develop it. We were lucky. At our first stop to a local dealers, we saw a pink and blue (fitting?) trailer being used for storage only. The dealer was glad to be rid of it and not only set it up on cement blocks on the back of our 2½ acres, but cut an extra back door for us.

This bit of luck was all negotiated exactly one day before the biggest snow storm of the winter. After that everything was uphill! And I mean that literally. Our house is located at the foot of a ledge and the rest of the property is on top of the hill (not a very big hill, but uphill all the way). Our determination to get the Collies moved into their new home kept us going. My husband tore out the bedroom cupboards so they could be relocated in our boys' room as closets and storage space. He built our six pens and put in flooring where needed. When this was finished, fencing was ordered and one weekend, very early, all five children were rooted out of bed and they participated in a trench shovelling project. A trench was dug about 4 feet down in the snow and into this we placed a hundred feet of six foot fencing (not as much as we planned but all we could do in this weather).

Our troubles were not over. When the Collies were moved, water had to be carried from the house (downhill but back up again). Cleaning the pens was hampered . . . they were clean but where to put it in all that snow!!! Training was impossible until a friend plowed our whole back yard (almost an acre) where I have my "show ring".

Spring did not bring any easier time. The small stream located to the back of the trailer relocated to flow under the trailer and right through the run. Where we had had snowbanks we now had a mud pond. One weekend my husband and children shoveled by hand 2-3 tons of crushed stone on to a truck . . . reshoveled it from the truck . . . carted it to the pen and I shoveled it around the pen. Back breaking exercise.

The major set up was done, now all we had were the odds and ends. Aluminum roofing, purchased reasonably, was cut in strips and placed along the bottom back of the trailer so the dogs could not get underneath. Bales of hay had been used in the winter time. More fencing was added to the yard (we have yet to get more stone . . . my aching back). The front part of the trailer was made over into a mini-office. I have a desk (really pieces of former nursery school tables), shelves for my trophies and a place for my ribbons and framed pedigrees. The kitchen table is my grooming table and the top of the refrigerator lends itself nicely to store brushes, combs, etc. The kitchen cupboards house vitamins and feeding materials. My office windows sport red and white checked curtains and the front window has red geraniums sunning themselves. I even have a comfortable rocker but you'll seldom see me in it.

The local newspaper, that publicizes our wins regularly, did a feature story complete with full size pictures. This "trailer-kennel" aspect brought us many visitors. Some just couldn't believe that dogs lived in a trailer and came to see for themselves. Some had never seen a blue merle and even some had never seen a tri. Most were amazed that so much could be done in less than a year . . . amazed at our nine months of successful showing, amazed at trained dogs and ALL were amazed that I would want to inflict such plain hard work on myself and family. Get up at 6.30 to care for dogs before going to work (never), give up pleasures and be tied down (never), do all that work (never)! And why???

My motto (borrowed from Dogs in Canada Pub.) can be seen painted nonartistically on my trailer door, explains it all plus, "Je vois des representatans du peuple plus "j'amime mes chiens" (the more I see the representatives of the people, the more I love my dogs)!

My Collie friends are always loving, peaceful, true, friendly, enthusiastic greeter, eager to please, enjoy our company. . . This is the "why" behind the work . . . and ALL FOR THE LOVE OF A COLLIE!

Next month, perhaps with spring in mind, we will talk about puppy selecting. Choosing the promising puppy is an important part of breeding champions.

Again in a humorous vein is the paragraph from Bright Eyes and Bushy Tails that appeared originally in Our Dogs, Joan Cull Columnist.

Here's a "dogmatic" variation of an old theme, which we have just dreamed up. An all-rounder judge is one who knows a little about a great deal, and goes on knowing less and less about more and more until he knows practically nothing about everything; Whereas a specialist is one who knows a lot about very little, and progresses until he knows almost everything about nothing. A certain kind of new exhibitor starts out by knowing everything about everything but later finds he knows nothing about anything due to the advice he has received from judges and breeders!

Let's all strive to make 1973 a giant step forward for the Collie and Sheltie. Let's all strive to make 1973 a year of good sportsmanship and goodwill toward fellow breeders and exhibitors.

SIBERIAN HUSKIES

Jacklyn Harvey, Siberian Husky Club Area Representative —This Fall there began a move to have sled dog races started in Alberta. A group of sled dog enthusiasts met in September at the home of Daune Proudfoot in Red Deer. People came from as far north as Edmonton and as far south as Lethbridge.

This first meeting consisted of a talk on training your dogs, with guest speakers Nick Molofy, professional driver and winner of many trophies in the past few years at the Whitehorse Yukon Rendez-vous, and Jim Harvey, a young novice driver. A demonstration was also given by our speakers with five of their dogs, including Nick's famous lead dog Colonel, a registered Siberian Husky hitched to a wheeled rig belonging to Jim.

Our next meeting in December was in the form of a workshop with Daune and Jim supplying the necessary materials and assistance for the fitting and making of harnesses and ganglines. Special thanks to another S.H.C.C. member, Olive Robertson, who drew diagrams to show the common faults of poor harness fitting.

Daune served coffee and doughnuts and everyone was able to relax, talk and work in this friendly atmosphere of "doggie buffs".

Any newsworthy items on the Siberian Husky can be forwarded to me at 1426 Meridian Rd., N.E. Calgary, or for more information drop me a line.

AIREDALES

News this month from British Columbia Airedale owners. Mrs. Marilynn Mincey, The Shire Kennels, Richmond, B.C., writes, "I am an Airedale lover and new to Canada having been in B.C. for only about 14 months. Since coming here my oldest bitch, Bonne Penelope, has achieved her Canadian CD and four points towards her championship. My puppy bitch, Trytons Fortunate Flaire, has also had some nice Canadian wins but our pride and joy is our newly acquired dog, eight month old Talyn's Livin End, sired by Ch. Tokyl Prince Regent (America's highest scoring Airedale for 1972) ex Ch. Talyn's Deed I Do. "Garry" has already distinguished himself at sanction matches by taking the breed twice and a first and second in group.

"Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Newley have a lovely elegant son of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Dellaire's Wirecrest Baron ex Ch. Riverina Bourbon, Ch. Naden Explorer, who, along with my Penelope, are about to become parents. There is an upend in Airedales in Canada and I agree let's get pet papers on our offspring and keep the breeding rights with the knowledgeable people who really want to improve the breed."

Thanks Marilyn. Sorry I can't write up those Canadian wins but I am sure that the Airedale breeders here would love to hear from you. Why not drop a line to the secretary of The Airedale Club of Canada, Mrs. Hilary Dude, R.R. 3, Listowel, Ont.

BULL TERRIERS

The controversy of the 'white vs. the 'colored' still seems to be a problem in Canadian Bull Terrier judging. Many do not realize that there is a colored variety of BTs; many feel that the white is superior to the colored and even more feel that when confronted in the ring, the white variety probably should win.

This should not be the case. There is a necessity for good colored BTs in every breeding program. Both should have an equal ring status. If two dogs appear equal in every respect, there will be something that sets one apart from the other; this should certainly not be whether or not one is colored. There have been many great colored dogs in the past history of BTs and hopefully many more in the future. Let's not see the brindles, reds, tris etc. disappear because of ring prejudices. Without the colored variety our present day whites would not exist. Remember all are color-bred. Judges of BTs should pay as much attention to the coloreds as they do to the whites, leaving their color preferences outside the ring after all, we do show them together as equals in Canada.

The new executive for the Bull Terrier Club of Canada is: President; Mr. Paul Wettlaufer; Vice-President, Mr. Bob Johnson; Secretary, Mrs. Pat Lake; Treasurer, Mrs. Peggy Houston; Executive Committee, Mr. Roy McCann, Mrs. Hilda Anderson, Miss Gail Gordon and Mrs. Helen Molyneux.

The Bull Terrier Club of Canada is working on its first specialty show to be held April 8 in Niagara Falls. Anyone wishing information regarding this event is asked to contact Mr. Roy McCann, 28 Finish Rd., Toronto, Ont. This will be Canada's first specialty show for Bull Terriers so they are hoping to make it a big success.

CAIRNS

Received a letter from a young 16 year old girl who breeds Cairns. It is her wish to unite the breeders of Cairn Terriers and eventually form a breed club. Would all the Cairn breeders please write to her and tell her the pros and cons of breed clubs? I could go on for pages on the subject but there just isn't enough room in this column. I wish you luck Evelyn! For those interested, please write Miss Evelyn Putnam, Cairnhill Reg'd., 379 Sandys Ext., Apt. 2, Chatham, Ont.

KERRY BLUES

Here are a few excerpts from an excellent article by Lorne Johnson on Kerry Blue temperament. "No matter how I try to control my feelings when talking to owners of other breeds—I am prejudiced in my praise and love of the Kerry Blue Terrier. Perhaps if I had a more objective viewpoint about the merits and qualities of the Kerry, articles in print wouldn't upset me so much when they degrade the reputation of my breed. There are very few Kerry breeders or exhibitors who would honestly deny that the Kerry Blue Terrier, by nature and instinct, is an aggressive breed. But aggressiveness by what means and to what degree . . . here is where the fine line is drawn. When a judge asks that two males be put nose to nose, does he expect the dogs to playfully jump on each other and wag their tails, or is he looking for true terrier spirit? An electricity that sparks the air as they stand nose to nose, poised ready for action, their tails quivering, every muscle tense and a low guttural murmur running through their throats?

The aggressive spirit in the show ring is a sight to behold to this day . . . but the key is the control of that aggression. What is important is that this aggression should be displayed inside the show ring, not outside. They should be taught when and where to display their natural terrier spirit. Let us encourage the spirit of our Kerries but under the guided control of where and how that spirit is to be displayed. Without a conscious effort on our part, the myth of the Kerry reputation will continue to be exploited by the misinformed media."

NORWICH TERRIERS

News of a new Norwich Terrier import comes from Mrs. Evelyn Carter, Auld House, Rich Hill, R.R. 2, Schomberg, Ont. Evelyn writes; "Just a short note to let you know about our new import. Tobermory Camp. She is a red, four month old female shipped from Switzerland by Mrs. N. Hintenaman. She is a real live wire and will do a great deal towards enhancing our present stock."

We will be looking forward to seeing your girl in the ring, and wish you the best of luck with her.

MINIATURE SCHNAUZERS

Thanks to Rene Clayton for this true story:

A birthday party was in full tilt. Just as the sparklers on the cake were lighted, Trinket, the family Schnauzer, trotted out among the merrymakers proudly "wearing" (so that it seemed to be in perfect chomping position) a gleaming and beautiful denture. (He had snitched it from an open-topped bag inadvertently parked on the floor.

Guests either froze and stared in disbelief or succumbed to helpless laughter while Trinket paraded around with the denture leering from under his whiskers. The horrified host attempted to recover the loot but Trinket eluded him, raising a bewhiskered upper lip and emitting rumbling, warning growls. This comical picture of grinning ferocity completed the "ungluing" of the spectators. Sticking to character like a seasoned actor, Trinket clacked his jowls realistically and took a firmer grip on the stolen teeth. He then seated himself near the table where the sparklers on the guest of honor's birthday cake added their final flicker to his stellar performance. Only after he had milked the situation of its last guffaw like a veteran, did Trinket trade the denture for a wedge of cake.

STAFFORDSHIRE BULL TERRIERS

Many times, people have asked about Stafford temperament. This poem, taken from The Stafford, the official magazine of the Southern Counties Staffordshire Bull Terrier Society, expresses the temperament of the Staffordshire Bull Terrier extremely well.

The Sociable Stafford—by Margaret Cameron, Johannesburg, South Africa.

So willing with his welcome.
And to appreciate
The joy of home and owners.
Which haply is his fate—

So eager to acknowledge
The lasting love he knows,
Which he has earned so rightly,
Just everywhere he goes—

So keen to show affection
When he receives a pat:
Bighearted in the evening
If you have left him flat—

So gentle with the children
When they would like to play:
For all their fun and frolic
He amply will repay.

So thankful when you feed him
Like any devotee,
As in a flash he gorges
With gusto and with glee—
So sociable in outlook
As there he plays his part,
The Stafford really gets you,
And grips your very heart—

CHIHUAHUAS

Eileen Keleman, Box 402, Punnicky, Sask. —Of interest to parents of asthmatic children and Chihuahua breeders: my husband and I, breeders of the short coat Chihuahua, have had the pleasure of selling our Chis to homes with asthmatic children. We have sold Chi pups on a trial basis and have not had them returned. As a rule, an asthmatic child is deprived of having pets, especially the canine, known as "man's best friend".

Parents have gone against their doctor's advice in getting a dog in the family due to rumors or hearsay that an asthmatic, although usually extremely allergic to other breeds of dog, might be able to own a Chihuahua. I am wondering if any other short coat Chihuahua breeders have also placed Chis in the homes of asthmatic children?

If we Chihuahua breeders can brighten the faces of these otherwise deprived asthmatic children, why not let the public know that the Chihuahua may be the answer?

Small dogs can guard too

People interested in obtaining a dog to guard their home don't have to get a large dog or a dog with "attack" training, states the Gaines Dog Research Center.

A small dog that barks a warning when strangers are near will intimidate prowlers very effectively. They don't like to attract attention and the sound of a dog barking usually alerts people in nearby houses or apartments.

Under no circumstances should any dog be trained to attack unless the training is done by a professional.

Some people seem to be born with an instinct to do the right thing. A sixth sense, or perhaps it is just common sense, seems to direct them unerringly along the road to optimum achievement. Such a person is Mrs. A. M. (Win) Merklinger, founder of the famed Wag-A-Way Kennels who, for almost two decades, combined a successful show and breeding career with the operation of one of the country's finest boarding kennels.

How does one person succeed in two areas where the rate of failures far outnumber the successes? The answer seems simple enough. When Mrs. Merklinger decided that owning and raising a few good dogs would be an ideal hobby she proceeded with caution. She chose her breed—the American Cocker Spaniel. Then she visited dog shows to pick both her breeder and the handler she would trust to take her dogs on the road. She chose well. Walter Martin became the Merklingers' trusted friend and adviser.

Then, in 1948 she registered her kennel name and shortly afterwards the first Wag-A-Way litter was whelped. Her husband built pens in the basement of their Oakville home but, although adequate, this was not quite what Mrs. Merklinger had in mind. She persuaded her husband that what her dogs needed was more room and a home of their own. So they bought land on the outside of town. And, complete with kennel license, built their home designed around the needs of the dogs. Once again, pens were erected on the lower floor to serve as a temporary kennel until a separate building could be constructed. But construction on it had barely begun when fate stepped in and changed their plans.

One Sunday morning the Merklingers were visited by four gentlemen dressed in morning clothes on their way home from church. One, the spokesman for the group, was the Hon. Ray Lawson, Minister of Health and Welfare. He proposed that if the Merklingers could manage to finance the building of a much-needed boarding kennel they would undertake to keep it filled. The Merklingers were flabbergasted. They explained that the kennel they were building was only intended to house their own dogs. But the visitors argued that the cockers seemed happy in the house and the new building could be put to better use if it was reserved for boarders. The Merklingers agreed to try it. And the visitors were as good as their word.

Before the building was completed its 12 pens were filled with boarders. In fact, enquiries for reservations came so thick and fast that the need for more room was soon apparent. Mrs. Merklinger says that her clients built Wag-A-Way. From 12 pens it grew to accommodate between 50 and 60 dogs during the busy seasons.

Luckily Mrs. Merklinger loved the work of caring for other pets and her kennel became "a happy home for dogs that was run like a hospital". She soon learned that she had to live by the clock and that the life of a kennel operator involved many sacrifices. Her social life suffered and for the first eight years she was in business she did not have a holiday of any kind. Her day was so highly organized that when she opened at 7 a.m. there simply was no time to relax until the last dog had been bedded down for the night.

She says that she was lucky that her husband shared her interest and took over much of the planning and handyman chores. Although he commuted daily to his job in Toronto he took care of all the landscaping and maintenance work which gave the premises the manicured look of a country club for dogs. Another blessing arrived in the form of a kennel helper, Sharon Scott, whose only qualification for the job was that she loved animals and was eager to learn all she could about caring for them. Sharon was a wonderful pupil, Mrs. Merklinger says, and stayed with her until the kennel was sold in 1968.

Although Mrs. Merklinger was persuaded into the boarding business, her infallible instinct must have told her this was a job she could do well. And when asked what was the most important factor in successful kennel operation, her answer was: "devotion". She says that there are no half-way measures in caring for other peoples' pets and she is proud of the record that in her 16 years of operation she never lost a boarder. Nor did she ever have an outbreak of any contagious disease.

She says that a good kennel building should have adequate light and ventilation but she does not think air-conditioning is necessary because not many pets come from air-conditioned homes. But she does think that it should be heated to 70 degrees in winter, the temperature to which house pets are accustomed. Scrubbing and disinfecting, both indoors and out, are also daily "musts" she says and boarders should be fed the diet that they are used to, even if it means catering to fussy eaters. Her husband recalls one memorable morning when, just as he was sitting down to his breakfast of bacon and eggs, it was whisked from under his nose to be taken out to a problem eater, accustomed to breakfasting with its owner, no doubt.

Another thing that Mrs. Merklinger arranged each day with each of her boarders was a private play time. She says this helped

SCRAPBOOK

Paw Marks

On the floor I see the marks of muddy footprints
My favourite chair is graced with long grey hair
The window has smudgy little nose marks
But you know I love to see those dear marks there.

There's a bone behind the davenport I fancy
A rubber doll lies lonesome on the floor
A little leather harness on the table,
A dog leash on the handle of the door.

I know they're out of place and look untidy
But yet, I think I like them on the whole.
They make a house a home, a place that's happy.
A little puppy's paw marks on your soul.

The Price of a Fur

What is the price of that beaver hat?
I hear somebody ask.
Or the price of that pretty fox fur there?
And the dark brown mink to match my hair?
(This shopping is such a task)

I could have answered her questions best
It was hard to hold my peace;
The price of that fur is a small heart stilled
And light extinguished in eyes once filled
A sudden helpless and anguished cry
From a small trapped creature afraid to die
His hell now totalled in dollars and cents
To clothe, for a moment, a fool's pretence.
It cost a horror of death and pain
To countless creatures, brought forth in vain.
A Mother fell with her unborn young,
A mourning mate saw his partner hung,
While his new-born starved in a humble lair
For want of their Mother, now hanging there.
The bone-breaking trap, the snare, the knife
And the blood are all yours with the taken life.
Who wear such furs, be it light or black
For theirs is a gift you cannot give back.

A naked savage some bygone day
May have killed for lack of a better way
But you, with an endless choice to lure
Is there any excuse for the price of your fur?

Louise H. Sutton,
Evansville, Indiana, U.S.A.

Down Rover! Down Rover!

"Your food's in the sink,
A stew placed to cool—
Rover, you wait, you know
That's the rule..."

The gate's too high to climb over
But what do you think...
Quick as a wink he's up
And he's over and the dinner's
Down Rover!

Stargazing with Pluto

AQUARIUS
JAN. 21st through FEB. 19th

When a judge awards a winning ribbon in the show ring, many dogs express recognition of their win and a job well done by matching their handlers excitement with their own demonstrative actions. On the other hand, there are dogs who appear to the onlooker to be taking the whole thing for granted and who seem as casual winning a Best of Breed ribbon as they are when chewing on their old well-worn slipper. Closer scrutiny of this non-committal dog may reveal one of two things ...or both. First, he may have a vague, far-away look in his eyes or he may be showing an intent interest in the judge or the person who is presenting the trophy. Chances are that a dog with this off hand manner who puts another feather in his and his handler's cap was born under the eleventh sign of the zodiac, Aquarius...symbolized by the Water-bearer.

Training the Aquarian puppy will be an adventure plus to the owner. A Uranus ruled puppy will be brimful of lovable fun, contradictions, inventiveness and adventure. To sum it up, he will be completely unpredictable...but lovingly so.

Unlike the Capricorn born dog who slowly assimilates and organizes his thoughts, the Aquarian puppy is the canine counter-part to the absent-minded professor. Frequent lessons of short duration prove to be the most satisfactory method of training the Aquarian puppy. In one session he may perform to perfection and in the next he may again start to display his knewledge, when suddenly he is away out in left field...far detached from the reality of learning.

How then does this impulsive mass of fantasies ever succumb to conventional behavior? The frequent lessons will assist in overcoming the the natural resistance of the Aquarian puppy to new thoughts and actions that did not originate with him. Once the command is accepted by the puppy, his final reaction will be in your favor. Then..., when he has mastered your methods of training, it may be your turn to sit back and learn. The Uranus mind is lightning fast and possesses uncanny perception. So don't be surprised if your Aquarian dog improves upon or amends your curriculum...and does so to perfection!

Crowds of people appeal to the Aquarian dog. He is in his element when at a dog show and will wind up the day with a dozen new friends...canine and human. Walk him in a crowded shopping center and he will revel in the multitudes of varied sights, sounds and people. Every sense will be alert and every person who stops to admire him will go away feeling that your dog actually singled him out to say "hello" to.

Many dogs take a "daily constitutional" around their neighborhood to visit friends, to greet possible new arrivals and to assess the "state of the nation". The Aquarius dog not only does his daily rounds ...he is very likely to bring a pal home for lunch! Owners may expect to find a variety of neighborhood pets in their back yard...all assembled by invitation from their Uranian influenced dog. This is the dog who shares his bone... and if you're not watching... the Sunday roast with his less fortunate canine friend.

An Aquarian born dog in the Age of Aquarius can be an enigma to his owner for he is full of paradoxes. Reactions to people, places and things will vary. He may be soaring on the clouds one minute and have a case of the doldrums the next. He may be absent-minded but full of intuition. Amusing and rebellious. A host of friends but only a few intimates. He will go from the sublime to the ridiculous and his eccentricities make him difficult to understand. However, if his owner should be born under the influence of Gemini, Leo, or Libra (these signs have a broad and stimulating view of life) a most satisfying partnership of mutual tolerance and understanding will last a lifetime.

Whatever sun sign influences your life...if you own an Aquarian dog, the gods have indeed smiled upon you ...for he will chase the rainbow and bring back the pot of gold to lay at your feet.

"THERE'S JUST NO LIVING WITH HIM SINCE HE JOINED THE S. P. C. A.!"

Barrie K.C. shares fortunes through community involvement

Does an organization, chartered for other than the benefits and betterment of man, owe an obligation to the community in which it is located as a good corporate citizen?

This question was debated often within the ranks of membership of The Barrie Kennel Club until such time as the Constitution was rewritten and a provision added for the donation to charity of a percentage of each year's profit.

As the fortunes of the club have improved within the last five years, so have the ventures undertaken by the club. The most ambitious to date has been the presentation illustrated here, to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Barrie, Ont., for their out-patients service of eight wheelchairs. These wheelchairs are to remain the property of the hospital but are to be provided free of charge for home convalecence purposes.

Other ventures undertaken by The Barrie Kennel Club have been:

The outfitting of a boy's minor soccer team, affectionately known as the "All Breeds", operating under the auspices of the Optimists Club of Barrie.

The sponsorship of two children, one in Italy and one in St. Kitts in the Caribbean, under the auspices of The Canadian Save The Children Fund.

The donation this Christmas of Christmas presents to patients of The Ontario Hospital at Penetanguishene under the auspices of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

If the gods of fortune continue to smile upon us and our star continues to rise, we hope to continue to share our good fortune with others.—Paul A. Robins

Dogs want their day on the beach

Buffy—the dog—seems to be chasing pretty Annette Bruno off the beach at Miami Beach, Fla. And that was the intention, more or less, as two dozen dogs and their masters recently took part in a protest demonstration. The dog owners intend to return every Sunday until the city sets aside a section of beach for dog-paddlers, or the Miami Beach Kennel Club allows canines to use its 300-yard private beach.

them overcome the homesickness-es she is sure they all must feel.

Along with all this boarding activity she maintained a flourishing business in cockers who were giving a good account of themselves in the show ring. Her Ch. Wag-A-Way's Gaylord will long be remembered in the breed as a three-time BIS winner who also had a specialty win and ten Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show awards to his credit. But although she repeated the breeding that produced him she never came up with another Gaylord.

As one can imagine, this busy life had to slow down sometime. And in the late 60's, just when they were thinking of taking life a little easier, along came an offer to buy their kennel. So, lock, stock and kennel name they sold. They do miss the dogs but, on the whole, they have no regrets.

I asked Mrs. Merklinger what she thinks of the current trend towards education in kennel management and she agrees that formal courses of instruction would be a great thing for young people interested in starting in dogs as a business. But she thinks that practical kennel training should go along with such a program to ensure that students truly have an interest in and a fondness for animals.

She thinks qualified help should be well paid and that the dog fancy could make training for kennel work more attractive to young people if they would improve the image. She says that the general public's idea of kennel workers is that they are a rough, uncouth lot with little social status. She thinks dog people could go a long way towards upgrading this.

She also thinks that regular inspection of boarding kennels by some authority, possibly the Health Dept., would be desirable. Someone suggested that if such inspection ever became general that Mrs. Merklinger would be the perfect choice for an inspector. "Nothing doing", she laughs. Without giving her reasons, that instinct seems to be working again. Perfectionists are not meant to be inspectors.
