Quality Breeds Quality.

Over the years, many concerned groups have worked to improve the standard of dogs. For instance, as a breeder, you concentrate on improving certain select traits. And we, as a dog food manufacturer, have worked hard to produce a dog food that provides the optimum balance of nutrition and good taste.

In short, whether you're dealing with dogs or dog food, quality breeds quality.

That is why as Canada's leading manufacturer of dog food we have established such high standards for our Dr. Ballard's products. Why we regularly conduct nutritional tests—on every product. Why we are so conscientious about consistency. Why we work so hard to add new flavours.

And why as a further commitment to quality we submit our products for testing by the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association to ensure they meet its nutritional standards.

So when you feed your dogs Dr. Ballard's, you're not only keeping them healthy, but you are assuring they'll grow satisfactory to standard. After all, quality breeds quality.

Dr. Ballard's®

We put our leadership to the test.

Profile

Susan Hillman, a superb professional handler and gracious lady

BY JOAN MORDEN

When the English Springer Spaniel Ch. (Can., Am. & Bda.) Winacko's Action Line became top dog in the Sporting Group for two years running, he set a record for his breed. Meanwhile, quite unintentionally, his handler was setting a record of her own. Another star in her string, the Standard Poodle Ch. (Can., Am. & Bda.) Lady Alissa of Trulins, made it to the top in the Non-Sporting Group. A dual victory which brought Susan Hillman the distinction of being the first handler to pilot two dogs to the Number One spot in their respective groups. It was a triumphant night for Susan when, at the Metropolitan K.C.'s pre-show banquet in November, she accepted awards for both these accomplishments. Smiling and pleased but with great modesty she declared: "The dogs did it all. I just get on the other end of the lead and hang on." That may be the way she sees it. But for those who have watched her handle there seems to be a lot more happening than just hanging on. There is poise, skill, perfect timing and a constant rapport with her dog. And it all bespeaks competent training.

So it should. Because at age 11 Susan struck it lucky. At the PNE show in Vancouver she was exhibiting her first Boxer, a female she had received as a birthday gift. Not a show quality dog and clumsily handled, she laughs, but there was something about the combination that brought them to the attention of Elsie Murray and Pat Tripp. She couldn't have wished for better encouragement. Elsie invited her to join the active Junior Kennel Club — which she did. And Pat asked if she'd like to work with her at shows. Susan grabbed at the chance and was with Pat for ten years.

She also picked up experience working in a kennel which specialized in terriers and dachshunds; learned how to steward and has acted as show secretary. In 1968 she turned to professional handling as 'a job' and has been making a name for herself in the show ring ever since.

Home is in the 'doggy' Vancouver suburb of Surrey which she shares with her husband, her 12-year-old son and two Boxers. She has bred and shown her dogs under the kennel prefix Cher-Lane with considerable success. In 1974 a dog of her although she loves showing her own dogs she doesn't campaign them seriously because she feels there is a conflict of interest when she also handles professionally for others. Her husband is delighted with her success, loves the dogs but lacks some of Susan's enthusiasm for the show ring. Not so her son. "He's had a lot of exposure," laughs Susan. "From the time he was 15 months old I've taken him to the kennel with me. He's learned by watching." Already he can control an 80-pound Boxer, helps Susan brush and, to her delight, is taking an interest in junior handling.

Susan is grateful for her early training. "There were no shortcuts with Pat," she says. "She is an expert groomer. My first two years with her I spent all my time cleaning kennels and brushing poodles before she'd let me advance to anything more." But when Pat felt she was ready, Susan was off and running. She recalls her first Best in Show which stands out as her most exciting win. In true Tripp tradition, Pat had four group winners on her hands when it came time for BIS competition. She gave a Pom to Susan to show and she handled the little thing right into the winner's circle. The following weekend she won over her teacher again, this time with needing the services of a professional handler. She is most strongly identified with Toys, poodles and Sporting Dogs. So it was natural that when the Springer Spaniel's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cooper, were looking for a handler, a Sporting Dog man should recommend Susan. The dog came to her to be shown to his title which he did in three weekends, and stayed with her a year. The Coopers' first show dog and what a ham! "The louder the ringside applauded, the better he liked it. If ever there was a showman 'Shadow' was it," Susan says. Then along came 'Ali', the Standard Poodle, and she stayed with Susan a year.

Both were maintained as house pets between shows as Susan doesn't like putting dogs into kennels. The pair became great friends and everyone had a marvelous 1977. Susan likes to keep her show dogs in the house because she can get to know them better. Dogs have their ups and downs, she claims. She wants to be close by to reassure them when needed.

What advice would she give to youngsters starting out as handlers? "Start at the bottom; apprentice with a good handler; don't be afraid of hard work; and above all put good sportsmanship and care of the dogs ahead of everything else." It's not an easy life, says Susan, but she loves every bit of it — the shows, the people and the dogs. She is sorry about the divisiveness that seems to prevail when people speak of 'eastern' dogs and 'western' dogs. They're Canadian dogs, she says, and she is proud of the winning some of them have done south of the border. Special favourites are Dick Meen and 'Moustache'. "They're both sweethearts" says Susan, who many times has met them in competition — "good sports, win or lose. Besides, who could mind being beaten by a dog like that?" Her philosophy — "take what you get and try again tomorrow."

Her life has its lighter moments. "Someday", she says, "I'm going to write a book about the things that have happened to me in airports," recalling a day when she landed in Bermuda with a string of dogs to show but her luggage had been shipped back to Seattle. "I didn't even have one dog lead." But somehow it all worked out. Those wonderful dog people

1979 ANNUAL is tops!

Many thanks for the new ANNUAL issue. It's a beautiful book. I was especially interested in Joan Morden's interview of James Herriot, who recently received an OVA award for his contributions to understanding and appreciation of the veterinary profession.

*Lance Connery

I enjoyed and appreciated the article on James Herriot which appears in the 1979 DOGS ANNUAL. I really felt I had been to visit Mr. Herriot myself.

My compliments to Dogs in Canada for the ANNUAL. I thought 1975 was terrific but you somehow have managed to improve it a little each year. This one is tops! If you can maintain the high standards you have set for yourselves in publishing DOGS ANNUAL, your 'doggy' public will be grateful.

*Peggy King

I must congratulate you on the 1979 DOGS ANNUAL. It is certainly the best yet and a real classic, — well done, beautifully laid out and illustrated with excellent and very informative articles. I particularly enjoyed the timely and appropriate article written by Jeannine Robinson 'Behind Every 'Bad' Dog There is a Bad Owner', which expresses my own sentiments exactly.

Any challengers?

Does anyone know of any Am. & Can. Ch. & Can. OT Ch. & Am. & Can. UDT Cocker Spaniel? Anywhere? Anytime? I have received several letters telling me of Am. Ch. and Am. UDTs but I have not been able to locate any with Canadian titles, let alone both countries. I'm secretly hoping there has never been one before because I now have a black cocker bitch who has all these titles! I would like to confirm whether she's truly the first to do it in both countries.

Tribute

It was with deep sorrow and regret that I recently learned of the untimely passing of Canadian all breed judge Bob Rankine. It was always a pleasure and great fun to work with a man so skilled and dedicated to his craft. Judges like Bob Rankine are hard to find and I am sure he will be greatly missed by the many exhibitors who enjoyed showing under him, as well as by his fellow judges. I hope there are dog shows in heaven for I know Bob would be lost without them.

Ultimate in dog shows

I must congratulate the Metropolitan Kennel Club and Loblaws for the 'ultimate' in dog shows. Having been an avid exhibitor for almost 30 years I was totally impressed with their show from every standpoint. Here was a show that was of as much interest to the casual spectator as the exhibitor.

CONTROL HER HEAT CYCLE CONVENIENTLY

If you own a female dog, you know the problems and concerns of your pet coming into heat: spotting; restlessness; temperament change; the possibility of unwanted pups — and the roving pack of male dogs.

Now you can control your dog's heat cycle with a new birth control concept from Tuco Products Company, Division of The Upjohn Company. You have the option whereby you can eliminate the undesirable features of heat by either surgical or non-surgical methods.

Be a concerned pet owner! Consult your local veterinarian, as he can advise you on the best heat control program for your pet. Check with him about convenient non-surgical control.

Were yesterday's sporting dogs superior?

A noted authority gives his view after 40 years of observation

By Maxwell Riddle

It is not unusual to hear breeders and exhibitors of the past say that the dogs of yesterday were far superior to those of today. And so I have been asked to give my own judgment on the matter. Of course, memory clothes dogs as people with an aura of rainbow colours. We write the faults of both in the sand, but their virtues on plaques of love and memory.

In an attempt to avoid this natural bias, I have flashed colour pictures on a screen so as to study the dogs. I've been taking these pictures for 40 years. They are untouched, and they often are pictures of the best dogs of their time.

In those 40 years, a great deal has happened which gives us the right to say that the dogs of past generations were indeed superior to those of today. Those earlier dogs were free of hip dysplasia, cataracts, progressive retinal atrophy, bloat, certain skin diseases, the bleeding diseases, and motor disorders.

Since we are dealing with sporting dogs, it is proper to consider them from two angles — as show dogs and as field dogs. We begin with Pointers. They have been superb field dogs for a hundred years or more. I do not see that they have changed. Most are registered by the Field Dog Stud Book, and they are judged on performance only.

They have not proved extremely popular as show dogs but have maintained a steady position. I believe that today's Pointers are somewhat more graceful in outline, without sacrificing sturdiness, and their temperament has improved. In these respects they represent breeders' ideals.

In Germany, the German Short-haired Pointer was an all-purpose dog. Early imports were often heavy bodied, rather slow workers. Those of that type probably represented the use of hounds in ancestors. Americans and Canadians took the dog to heart. They improved its topline, got rid of overbone, and developed a faster, superior worker on upland game. A tendency toward greater height is being resisted, although a move to place a height disqualification in the standard has just been defeated. That there are some 130 dual championships — show and field — in the U.S. and Canada is proof of the progress of the breed.

The writer was one of the first in North America to own a German Wire-haired Pointer. This was immediately after World War II when the dog was known as the Deutsche Drathaar. Mine came from a German forest warden. The breed remains about as it was except for occasional problems in keeping a proper wire coat. They are excellent field dogs.

The Chesapeake Bay Retriever was held back for generations because its tendency to fight made it a poor kennel dog. But the same never-quit qualities made chessies great workers. Today's dogs have a better disposition. The topline has been improved, as has rear leg angulation. And this has been done without harming the dog's working ability.

Early Curly-coated Retrievers were capable workers and still are. For a time, 20 years ago, shyness crept into the breed. This has been eliminated to a large extent. However, a thyroid deficiency problem of genetic origin has crept in. It causes the dogs to lose about half their hair.

Warner Hill, the English all breed judge and great sporting dog authority, once remarked that the "Flat-Coat people don't know what they want." They are now working toward a new standard which will describe a smaller, less heavy, and more agile dog.

I saw Nova Scotia Duck Tolling Retrievers for the first time in Nova Scotia in 1956. Type and size were not then fixed. Today the breed has been standardized. They are among the most intelligent and easily trained dogs in the world.

The regularity with which Golden Retrievers win highest scores in obedience trials proves their intelligence and trainability. A quarter of a century ago, they did well in field trials for all retrievers. But the Labradors, with their greater speed and dash, practically ran them out of the water.

Perhaps this has not all been bad. Breeders have kept the Golden's calm dispositions and quiet ways. This has kept them highly popular as home pets. A tendency to too great a size has been controlled.

Twenty years ago, Labrador Retrievers had generally lost type. They had lost the relatively heavy bodies, and the thick otter tails which were hallmarks of the breed. The demand for speed at field trials caused the production of dogs with high set, almost terrier ears, weedy bodies, and almost rat tails. The situation in Canada was never as bad as in the United States. Today, at least at the shows, one is seeing a return to the true type.

The English Setter was split into show and field dogs a long time ago. The show dogs of today are greatly improved in beauty and have maintained good temperament. Heads have been developed which are longer and broader, but balanced. Rear leg angulation has been improved. They have moved farther away from the smaller field dogs.

About 1950, the writer concluded that the Gordon Setter was beyond help; that it had deteriorated to such a point that it could never be rescued. The dogs were weedy in body, their hips had no muscle covering, they were pathetically cow hocked. They had flat feet, and many of them were hopelessly shy.

So the modern Gordon Setter is a true miracle. Today's dogs are sound in mind, feet, body, and drive. To my knowledge, no breed has improved so dramatically.

The Irish Setter has not changed much over the years. Although many seem oversized, dogs of 100 years ago were as tall as 26 inches at the shoulder. The modern type, if one may call it that, began with Ch. Milson O'Boy and Ch. The Baron Gore, and others. These were dogs with beautiful lines, and with finely made but adequate heads. In recent years, otherwise fine dogs and sometimes Best in Show winners, have had a serious head fault — down faced. The standard calls for parallel planes of skull and muzzle. But temperament has been kept bold and gay.

So few American Water Spaniels have been bred that there has been no chance for any major changes in the breed. A few show a tendency to the undesirable rat tail. Coats and colour have been maintained properly, and temperament remains steady.

When the Brittany Spaniel was introduced to New Brunswick, Mexico, and the Eastern United States, it was said that he

The greatest of all changes among sporting dogs has come in the American Cocker Spaniel. In 1940 and 1941, Herman Mellenthin's black Cocker, Ch. My Own Brucie, was Best in Show at Madison Square Garden. On that first night in 1940, I took a colour picture of him. It is said of him that he is in every black pedigree in America. But, he couldn't win a class today.

In Brucie's period, a few Cockers still competed in field trials and performed past. Also, the breed has eliminated a bleeding disease.

The English Cocker has remained nearer to a field working concept. Temperament has been improved. The tendency to excessive coat has been controlled. Heads are better chiselled and more beautiful. However, occasional down-faced dogs appear. Although field trials for them have disappeared, they appear to retain their field instincts.

In the 40s, it was still possible for English Springer Spaniels to win dual

The field spaniel represents a typically unselfish effort by English breeders to rescue a breed from extinction. To do this, some interbreeding was practiced. Today, the breed has been restored to its original type, quality has improved, and good breeding stock is increasing.

The modern Irish Water Spaniel, largely through Canadian breeders, has been vastly upgraded. Toplines have been improved, with less sway, gait is better, and good temperament is the norm. Today's dogs appear to be stronger, bolder, and in all ways conform to the best concepts of a sporting dog.

Very few Sussex Spaniels are shown in North America. There appears to have been little change in them in the past quarter of a century.

Until recently, very few Welsh Springer Spaniels were shown in America and Canada. They are now proving to be an unspoiled dog with good home and field qualities.

The Vizsla has made great progress since coming to America. Some of the early ones were fairly heavy in body. The tendency today seems to be toward a lighter, faster dog. The dual concept of a show and field dog has had a steadying influence on the breed. Its progress has been slow but sure.

No breed ever came to North America behind the barrage of publicity given to the Weimaraner. As a result, thousands of inferior dogs were bred and their progeny sold for excessively high prices. It has taken the breed a long time to recover. But recover it has. The bad feet, crazy temperament, cow hocks, and other faults have been eliminated. Today's Weimaraners are steady, sound, and live up to their original rating as good field dogs.

How do I sum it all up? Dog shows have been good to dogs. For the most part, the dogs have been improved physically. They have a beauty their forebearers often lacked. But heavy inbreeding, plus other factors have brought out dozens of genetic defects. So it isn't all sweetness and light. We have work to do to protect what we have. But if the example I have quoted of Cocker Spaniel haemophilia is any criterion, we'll conquer those problems.

Marvin Young is pictured handling the English Setter Ch. (Can. & Am.) Maro of Maridor owned by Wilfrid Kennedy. Winner of some 60 Bests in Show he had the greatest record of any breed in his day. The greatest winner of his day in any country was the English Springer Spaniel Ch. (Eng. & Am.) Showman of Shotton.

12 Ch. My Own Brucie, taken after he captured Best in Show for the second time at Westminster.

through cycles in most of the sporting dog breeds. Fortunately, there seem to have been hardy breeders who kept to standards and today most undesirable qualities have passed on: we are seeing a return to good temperament, size and overall quality.

Breeders in Canada may have the best of all worlds since they are in a position to infuse new blood into their kennels without too much difficulty. Across Canada there are some excellent specimens of sporting dogs and below the international border there are many more kennels from which to choose. Nor is it so unusual today to see dogs imported from abroad performing in the field and winning in the show ring.

There will always be outstanding dogs; there will be good, sound dogs and there will be those of mediocre or poor quality because of the variety of people doing the breeding but it is interesting to note that often one finds a truly fine specimen coming from a kennel operated as a hobby, probably because the breeder can only manage one litter a year so he must carefully choose breeding stock and those dogs he will retain out of that litter in order to continue breeding.

The discussion as to the worthiness of show dogs in the field and vice versa goes on and probably will continue to do so. It is interesting to note that many breed clubs have instituted water tests for the water retrieving breeds and there are many more field trials, not a few of which have attracted entries from below the border. But the cold fact remains — one cannot campaign a dog at shows and run it in field trials at the same time.

Many sporting dogs are brought into a home as a companion for adults and children; not a few are in areas which do not provide opportunity for field training. But given a driveway and a backyard a dog can be trained for the show ring.

There are breeders who have kennels fairly near suitable water and I know several who regularly take young dogs for retrieving work whose kennels are known for show dogs. But training dogs for field trial performance is another matter. Uncover and some sort of a pond, at least, available there is little hope of winning stakes at trials which award points toward a championship. A truly interested upland game sportsman will probably scout round to find a decent field and ask the owner if he might run his dog there on weekends using 'well-seasoned' duck or pheasant wings trailed through the field to test the ability of his dog to catch and follow the scent. Eventually, when the game season opens he will venture out hopefully with his dog but whether he brings home his quota or not, other things enter in. He may meet others of like interest to exchange experiences; he has enjoyed the companionship of his dog and altogether will feel it has been a good day, fully justifying the initial cost of acquiring his companion and the hours spent in training him.

Apart from the time required for teaching ring manners there are innumerable 'extras' being expected in the ring. Beside the physical requisites (which should be first in the minds of exhibitors and judges) handlers vie to show a dog with a tremendous coat if of the long-coated varieties, despite the fact that the standards are a trifle critical of 'profuse coats'. After all, these are sporting dogs and if worked will another problem. Burrs, bruns and weeds catch and tear the coat and if the dog is a hard worker, what happens to those beautifully laid back shoulders so much desired in these breeds! A dog with loaded shoulders has very small chance of winning under a knowledgeable judge.

And so it follows that most breeders and owners will show their good stock first. If the time came that performance certificates were required in order to be awarded a championship certificate I fear dog shows would suffer.

Perhaps one of the reasons we do not see too many dual champions is that once having earned a championship certificate in Canada the owner of a good dog looks toward the United States, Bermuda or even Mexico with a vision of adding to his dog's reputation. And just about at this point any thoughts of field trials have to be set aside.

Many breeders, and I count myself with them, have maintained that most well bred sporting dogs can 'weather' a day in the field and will hunt given an opportunity and an owner who knows as much as the dog. Almost anyone, participant or observer at a field trial, has seen a dog confused and driven off scent by a handler who felt he knew better than the dog where that bird had run after being dropped. Certainly obedience is required, but one must give the dog credit for good sense if he had been trained sufficiently to perform in a championship trial.

To many there is nothing to compare with an intelligent, well-trained dog working the field carefully but in a joyous manner, the movement of tail telling you he is enjoying every moment, his only wish to bring back and place in the hand of his handler that bird he has been working over. And there are others who will agree that there is nothing more elegant and stylish than the line-up of good quality Best of Breed dogs in the Sporting Group. Just possibly it is this diversity which makes sporting dogs so popular in this country and abroad. We hope nothing happens to change this situation and that there will always be breeders dedicated to that end.

The author, well known judge.

"Yes," says H.V.P. Bumpy Lewis, Chairman of the Canadian National Sportsmen's Dog Show Committee for over 25 years, originator of Canada's popular indoor retriever trials, sportsman and ardent conservationist. The immense popularity of the sport has created innumerable problems.

"In the 50s, he reflects, "12 or 15 dogs in the Open Class represented a large turnout. Now there's 40 to 60 entries in Open. There were 90 at one trial in the States recently."

Larger entries mean that a trial can no longer be completed in one day and must become a two, three or even four-day event. With that sort of time schedule, says Mr. Lewis, "it has to be a pro handler, a retired person or a wealthy person who can compete on a regular basis."

Increased urbanization has presented another problem for retriever trials. The grasping tentacles of growing cities have grabbed many game areas, making trial sites more difficult to find as well as depriving many game birds of their normal nesting and feeding areas.

Retriever trials are tests of a dog's ability to mark the fall of a game bird, locate it and retrieve it gently to hand. The dog may also be asked to do a blind retrieve (not seeing the bird fall, but following instructions from the handler). The tests may involve single or multiple retrieves on land, through water or both.

"I maintain that the better the field trial dog, the better the hunting dog," Mr. Lewis states. "A good retriever is an aid in conserving game. It's been proven that without a dog, 40 to 45% of wounded birds are never found. They just lie at the mercy of predators. But a properly trained retriever can return with 90 to 95% of wounded game. We must conserve game because there is less and less now."

Mr. Lewis became interested in trials shortly after World War II when he and a friend visited the famous Westminster Kennel Club show in New York. Intrigued by the retriever demonstrations that were part of the activities, he acquired two dogs and went off to train them under the tutelage of pro Billy Wunderlich of Forest Lake, Minn. In the ensuing years, Mr. Lewis handled eight dogs to their field trial championships, including a gallant Golden Retriever who lost the sight in one eye as a young dog.

In 1960, Mr. Lewis introduced the indoor retriever trials to the Sportsmen's shows. Over the years, they have drawn more and more people to the sport and Mr. Lewis recalls a number of field trial champions whose owners were first attracted to the hobby through the Sportsmen's shows.

Mr. Lewis has watched retriever trials grow from a blossoming sport in the early 50s to the tremendously popular pastime it has become today. He has seen entries quadruple in size from the trials of 25 years ago and he's watched entry fees climb from $5 to $25 per dog. He has watched the dogs get better and the judging get tougher. He points out that large entries necessitate stricter judging in order to eliminate the overwhelming numbers.

For all their vast numbers, few field trial champions collect conformation titles. "They don't seem to go together for some reason," Mr. Lewis muses. "If a dog is going to be an athlete, you've got to keep him very trim. You never see a good race horse on the chunky side. But I've heard field trial people ask handlers and judges if their dog is good enough to win a conformation championship and be told that the dog needs to put on weight."

"Another thing is that you can run a spayed or castrated dog in a trial but you can't enter them in a show."

"The tendency has been for the retriever trial people not to pay so much attention to conformation as with the other attributes such as speed, crashing of water and that sort of thing."

Larger entries, higher expenses, more trials, fewer trial sites, decreasing game, tougher competition — that's the outlook for today's field trial aficionado. Are there any solutions?

"I don't know what the answer is going to be," the veteran sportsman says. "With these excessive entries, it's going to take a lot of work to determine how to deal with them. In England, entries are by invitation, however that wouldn't be very popular here."

The problem of decreasing game must be dealt with by vigilant conservation and Mr. Lewis firmly believes that well-trained retrievers are part of the answer.

Though cities have gobbled up many former game areas, there has been one bright spot in the otherwise gloomy outlook.

"Luckily, within the last five years, conservation authorities that have the facilities have allowed us to hold our trials."

He's got the blue black tongue of the Chow Chow, the twisted tail of the Pug, the coat of a Stieff teddy bear, canine teeth like a Samurai sword and the head of an unhappy hippo.

He wears enough skin for two dogs of his size and the excess epidermis would rival that of a rhino after a crash diet.

He's a Shar-pei, also known as the Chinese Fighting Dog, a breed that teetered on the brink of oblivion just six years ago.

The Guinness Book of World Records — that revered tome of trivia — called the Shar-pei the world's rarest breed. Scarce as they are, there's still the chance of meeting one ambling down Toronto's Yonge Street or turning its inscrutable gaze on Ottawa's Houses of Parliament. There are 11 of these ancient warriors known to be in Canada. Four reside in Ontario and the rest are found in British Columbia.

The breed is said to have originated more than 2,000 years ago in the Kwun Tung province of China near the South China sea. Dogfighting was one of the few forms of entertainment there and the Shar-pei was created to excel in this 'sport'. Statues modelled after these unique animals were found in tombs dating back to 202 B.C. at the time of the Han Dynasty.

Though they also served as guard and herding dogs, their prime purpose was fighting and each breed characteristic was intended to aid them in battle.

The small, sunken eyes made them less vulnerable to injury. The tiny ears, ideally thumbnail size, gave opponents little to grasp. The name Shar-pei means rough, sandy coat and the harsh, bristly feel of it is supposed to make its wearer distinctly unpalatable to an attacker's taste. The abundant acreage of wrinkles and folds made it difficult for an enemy to strike a vital spot and it's claimed that, even when held in the grip of a rival, the Shar-pei could manoeuvre around inside the generous hide to launch an effective counter-attack.

But fighting machines have a way of becoming obsolete. The world's changing morals put dogfighting into disrepute.

Then the breed fell victim to the Communist ideology. Dogs were declared a luxury in the People's Republic of China. Stiff taxes and strict laws made dogs unaffordable. The Shar-pei is extinct in its native land.

That the breed exists at all is due to the efforts of a dedicated few. In 1973, Matgo Law of Hong Kong penned a plea to a popular dog magazine in the U.S. He feared that if Hong Kong would be turned over to China, the few surviving Shar-pei there would surely be destroyed. The magazine published the appeal and several pictures. Mr. Law hoped to establish the breed in North America and ensure its survival.

Intrigued by the challenge and the odd-looking dogs, a few people in the U.S. imported breeding stock from Hong Kong. The Chinese Shar-pei Club of America was founded and so began the battle to bring the dying breed back to life. In the ensuing years, growth has been slow but steady.

Thousands of Canadians got their first look at a Shar-pei in 1977 when the Metropolitan Kennel Club invited Ernest Allbright, C.S.C.A. president, to make a public appearance at their Toronto Fall show with some of his dogs. His visit generated an interest in the breed, resulting in several Shar-pei becoming new residents of Ontario.

Despite the fact that there are now about 125 Shar-pei in the U.S. and survival seems assured, the breed's future is hardly a bed of lotus blossoms. The chances of the Shar-pei becoming a fully recognized breed by either The Canadian Kennel Club or the American Kennel Club are about as remote as winning the Loto Canada top prize, twice. Once a recognized breed of the Hong Kong Kennel Club, the Shar-pei were dropped from the roster when their numbers dwindled. But even reinstatement with that organization would be of little help since neither the CKC nor AKC have reciprocal agreements with the HKKC.

In addition, the AKC prefers upwards of 1,000 dogs in a breed, well distributed across the country, before considering recognition. The CKC is content with far fewer numbers but insists on proper export pedigrees from the country of birth — an impossibility for a breed not recognized by any country in the world.

So the Shar-pei may be destined to remain an expensive oddity. And expensive, they are! Though Mr. Law asked only $125 for the dogs he exported to save the breed, U.S. breeders are now asking and getting more than $1,000. each. Though this may not seem out of line for excellent show dogs, remember that this is a breed that is rebuilding.

As a pet, the Shar-pei has a lot going for it. Amiable, easy-going and lovable with people, gentle with children, he still is protective of his home and family. The harsh coat doesn't mat and is easy to keep clean. Proud owners boast that the pups are so fastidious that they housebreak themselves.

The skull of the typical Shar-pei should be broad and flat. The preferred head is rather large in proportion to the rest of the compact, close-coupled body. The eyes are small, dark and sunken, a condition which occasionally results in the problem of entropion (inverted eyelids). The broad muzzle with the heavy dewlaps should house a set of teeth in a scissors bite with curving canines that give the Shar-pei a very solid grip. His tongue should be blue black as should the flews, roof of the mouth and gums. The wide-set triangular ears should be small and set tightly to the head.

The neck is strong and covered with heavy folds. The chest should be deep and both forequarters and hindquarters should be well muscled. Ideally, the hocks are well let down and slightly bent. Feet should be moderate in size, compact with high knuckles. Astern, the high set tail varies from the preferred curlique to a loose curve over the back. It should be physically impossible for the Shar-pei to tuck his tail between his legs in the traditional sign of defeat.

The Shar-pei comes in a variety of colours ranging from black through fawn. Though the colour may be shaded, it must be a solid colour with no patches or spots.

The Shar-pei, snatched from extinction, needs a new niche in life. The transplanted oriental's future now lies in North America.

The Best Met yet

The Met has put the best of everything together

By Elizabeth Dunn

With its 1978 set of shows The Metropolitan Kennel Club has vaulted into a position of continent-wide prominence. A sweeping statement that few show-wise exhibitors or judges would challenge. Westminster has over 100 years of tradition behind it, Chicago has size, Santa Barbara has California's glamour, but The Met has put the best of everything together, for the exhibitor and spectator, with such superior expertise and professionalism that its blueprint can serve as a model to show-giving clubs.

It all started on Thursday night, November 9, when 190 people gathered for a dinner/presentation at the Harbour Castle Hilton on Toronto's lakefront in response to an invitation from The Met to join in honouring owners and handlers of Dogs in Canada's 1977 Top Dog winners. Sponsored by Loblaw's, this glamorous event contained all the elements to produce highly emotional moments as five Westerners and a lone Ontarian stepped forward to receive their awards from Loblaw's president David Nichol.

The next day, attention was focussed on the enormous Automotive Building on the grounds of the Canadian National Exhibition, venue for the 1978 shows and probably the locale for the next several years. The Automotive Building is an ideal site; surrounded with parking space for thousands of cars, with easy access by GO train or streetcar. Including the mezzanine, the building offers 185,000 square feet.

Friday was specialty day — 12 of them with a total entry of 683. Saturday and Sunday were all breed show days with 1720 entries on Saturday and 1526 on Sunday, a high percentage from the United States.

Undoubtedly The Met broke many records; it certainly provided some impressive statistics:

- gate over three days — 34,000
- rings and grooming area — 130,000 square feet
- 13 rings enclosed by green picket fences, including a special attraction ring on the mezzanine floor

- 250 large green plants, 860 potted mums decorating ring areas
- large centre holding area
- bleachers surrounding the entire show area
- fully draped grooming area
- 14 judges (ten American, two Australian, two Canadian)
- 27 display booths on the mezzanine

Highlights of the shows included pipers escorting the Dandie Dinmonts into the ring at the specialty on Friday as well as at the all breed shows; intent junior helpers in striking navy blue velvet sweaters, corduroy pants and green ascots; club members, judges and special guests identified by a sterling silver badge set on a blue ribbon; and large signs suspended over each ring identifying its number.

Unlike the majority of shows, the public was given full value for the admission fee. Two top teams from the United States competed in scent hurdle relay races during the two days, to the delight of large, rapt audiences.

A major crowd pleaser was understandably the obedience demonstration, also a feature on the mezzanine floor.

BIS Saturday under David Roche was Newfoundland, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Hornblower's Long John Silver, owned by Lynn Raymond and handled by Martha Covington Thorne. Presenters, from l. to r., Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins, Margaret Brown, Pat and Ian Simpson.

Sunday's BIS, under Kenneth Pierce, was the Shih Tzu, Ch. (Can., Am. & Bda.) Kaduna's Sewzi Q Lan-Sing, owned by Mrs. M. Corbett and M. Sniderman. Fred Peddie presenting trophy.

deceptive ease and drew spontaneous exclamations of delight from spectators lined up several deep outside the ring.

An exhibition of four rare breeds was given generous display on one end of the mezzanine, next to the six large fan-cooled glass cases housing the Top Dogs. For most, this was a first introduction to the Chinese Shar Pei, Chinese Crested, Peruvian Inca Orchid Dog and the Mexican Xoloitzcuintle.

Close by, Atlas the Wonder Dog, of TV and movie fame, periodically jumped through a hoop of fire and performed a spectacular repertoire in response to instructions from his owner-trainers, Marv and Barb Kelso of Woodstock, Ont.

An educational exhibit by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind included fascinating movies about guide dogs.

The Top Dogs made a ring appearance with Herb Williams commenting on the dogs as they gaited. He explained what 'judge' Sandra Maitland-Stewart was looking for, and why. This helped take the mystery out of dog shows for the thousands who were attending their first.

Another help was the innovative prothe most respected 'statesman' in the fancy today. According to a club official, over 2,000 programs were sold and many compliments received.

Club president Ian Simpson believes that "the club is fortunate to have been afforded the opportunity to be involved with Loblaw's, a company that wants the best and will settle for nothing less.

"This backing reinforces the technical expertise club members possess", he continued, "enabling them to stage shows that have been described as spectacular. Looking ahead, we are confident we will be associated with Loblaw's for a good number of years. This is the decision of the club and we believe it reflects the commitment of Loblaw's as well. We hope to expand in areas such as the Top Dog Hall of Fame, rare breed exhibits and other special attractions like successful Friday night specialty shows. Our goal has always been to work to put on the finest dog show in North America."

If Bill Shatner was doing another commercial for Loblaw's, he'd probably say "If it's Loblaw's and The Met, everything's right."

representatives distinguished themselves at the breed and group levels. Kaye Terice, club president, remarked that Canadians show up for all Bermuda shows but favour the February series — the club recently had a request for 50 entries from one New Brunswick group.

At any rate, winning in Bermuda is surely secondary to the pleasure of spending a few days on these tiny jewel-like islands. For Easterners, it's a short hop to balmy weather hovering in the mid-70s, to gentle ocean breezes, motor-biking along narrow English-style lanes, deep-sea fishing, exploring remote parts of the islands, discovering their turbulent history, being recipient of the extraordinarily sincere, warm hospitality of the islanders — and, of course, taking their dogs around spacious rings in the lush Botanical Gardens, the unique perennial show site.

Fortunate judges were Ed. Dixon from Ontario; Mrs. Winifred Heckmann from Maryland; Maxwell Riddle from Ohio and Mrs. Ulla Segerstrom from Sweden.

A first for Bermuda was being host to the Bernese Mountain Dog — the entry of seven was larger than seen at most shows in the States, including Santa Barbara.

How inflation is affecting the dog fancier

By Joan Morden

It will come as no surprise to learn that staying in the dog hobby costs more than it did ten years ago. Just how much expenses have risen and which have risen most are graphically detailed in this article. One fact that does not appear is the percentage increase breeders would have to charge for pet puppies in order to make the hobby pay its way. It would be astronomical. As it is, pet prices have doubled over the past ten years. Puppies that were selling in the $150 range are now at $300 or better. But these prices can't begin to offset the increased cost of overhead, in even the most modest operation.

The area where the hobbyist is being hit the hardest is in campaigning the show dog — a necessary promotional activity and the only way a breeder may prove the quality of a kennel's stock. You're still a bit ahead of the game if you use the services of a professional handler. But stubborn types who insist on travelling to the shows and handling their dogs themselves are the biggest spenders.

One effect of rising costs is that many established kennels have found it necessary to diversify. More are offering boarding and grooming, services that remain fairly lucrative because charges can be keyed to rising costs. Some have upped production of pet stock to meet the continuing demand in the popular breeds, while others have chosen to cut back on production as a way of holding costs to a minimum. Rising costs could also mean that in the future we may see a sharp decrease in the number of dog hobbyists. The day is gone when one could buy a modest bit of land on the outskirts of a city, at a modest price, and build a kennel. Today, in many areas, the minimum land requirement is ten acres with frontage as much as 1000 feet. At current land prices that's a heavy investment.

Compiling the comparison charts brought to light some interesting facts. In both kennel operation and exhibiting, highest cost increases show up in heating oil and travelling expense. Another surprising fact uncovered was that canned dog food shows the most modest percentage increase. This is accounted for by the odd fact that although the price of the food content has stayed fairly stable the cost of the can in which it is packed has not. In the past five years there has been an annual increase of from 20¢ to 30¢ per case, per year, as a direct result of the rising cost of steel. Dry dog food has shown a 100% increase, most of which occurred because in 1972 the Peruvian fish meal industry collapsed and the dog food manufacturers were forced to look elsewhere for another source of protein. The best and most widely available was Soya meal, the highest cost of which has been reflected in the selling price of dry dog food.

When it came to the cost of veterinary services the best approach seemed to be to strike averages. There is much variability in the methods of charging, a fair bit of competition in the profession and a strong desire on the part of veterinarians to avoid anything that suggests 'price fixing'. However, it seems safe to say that whatever you were paying for veterinary services in 1968 these are costing twice as much today. Here again the small animal practitioner increased operation costs — heat, light, taxes, supplies and salaries are reflected in their charges.

One point that does come through is that if you were losing money on every puppy sale in 1968, even at a 100% increase in the selling price you are losing more money per puppy today. As one hobbyist so aptly put it: "Money in dogs. There sure is. I know I put a lot of it there. Things haven't changed. The purist will still seek his rewards not in dollars and cents but in the pure enjoyment of the hobby, in satisfying wins and in continuing to breed incredibly beautiful animals

Miss K. M. Wells

GREETINGS: Miss K. M. Wells of Beaconsfield, Que. submitted this photograph of her Standard Schnauzer, 'Mandy', and her Miniature Schnauzer, 'Misty', taken by her sister while they waited for Miss Wells to return to pick them up one evening.

in learning about the breed. Her mailing address is P.O. Box 32, in Musselkanaal. . . Mrs. Joan Williams, Bu Dynasty Kennels, Toronto, had a visit from Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson who owns a boarding kennel with her husband near Melbourne, Australia. Three Bu Dynasty Chow Chows are on their way to live at Mrs. Simpson's kennel in Australia, where they breed Chows, but they have spent six months in quarantine in England, where they will stay another six months to be bred, and then they must spend another three months in quarantine in Australia before they finally reach their destination.

DECEASED: Diana Budden, on November 16, in Cowansville, Que. Diana was a long standing member of the St. Francis Kennel & Obedience Club, and was well known for her Rippetal Labrador Retrievers. She leaves her husband William, of Knowlton, Que., a sister, Mrs. Terrence Vaughan of Vermont, and brothers Richard Grier of Montreal, Archibald of Ottawa, and Peter of S. Carolina. She will be sadly missed by the dog fancy. . . On September 6, Mrs. Harriette Sheppard, of cancer. Harriette will be remembered by obedience enthusiasts in Quebec, Ontario and Newfoundland, where she participated in both obedience and breed rings. Her Beagle, 'Pete', obtained his UD degree and was several times top hound in Canada. Her Doberman, 'Kristie' was well on her way to a utility degree. Sympathy is extended to her husband, Gordon, and all members of her family. 'Pete' has a new home with Gordon's parents in Verdun, and 'Kristie' is going to live with Harriette's friend, Mrs. Linda Hazlitt, of Mountain City Obedience Club in Montreal. . . Canadian all breed judge, Mr. R.N. (Bob) Rankine of North Vancouver, B.C., of terminal illness, recently. . . Mrs. Laura Ann MacDonald, on November 30. Laura, with her husband Gordon, was a breeder of Samoyeds for over 30 years under the Bri-Pen prefix. A member of the Aurora & District Kennel Club for 25 years, Laura was a judge and charter member of the Metropolitan Kennel Club. The kennel will be maintained by Gordon. . . The St. Catharines and District Kennel and Obedience Club reports the November 28 death of Mrs. Ida Theriault, mother of Betty Peterson of Quantico Reg. . . The Barrie Kennel Club has suffered the loss of its vice-president Mrs. Dolores Hoover, well known for her Collies and Shelties.

TRAVELLER: Vic Nunn of Gambit Whippets, Millgrove, Ont., will be visiting Crufts dog show in February, for the first time.

INTERNATIONAL WINS: In 1977, Mrs. Donald Lyle of Wycliffe Kennels, W. Vancouver, exported two black Standard Poodle puppies to Vulcan Kennels in England - Wycliffe Nominee to Vulcan and Wycliffe Ovation for Vulcan. Since then, 'Nominee' was the first Standard Poodle to qualify for Crufts, 1979, with a first in a class of 24 puppies, and 'Ovation' won his first CC at the Standard Poodle championship show when he was 14 months old, under American breeder-judge, Mrs. Rebecca Mason. At 17 months of age, he won his second CC, took Best of Breed and finally, Best in Show at the South Western Poodle Club Championship show on November 4.

GUEST APPEARANCE: Members of the Mount Royal Toy Dog Fanciers were surprised at the unexpected appearance of 'Binkie', the sage Pekingese of As I see it in Dogs in Canada. She accompanied R. William Taylor, who was speaking at the reconvention of the club at the end of the summer months.

VISITORS: Mrs. Joanne Munger, whose husband is pictured on the cover of The Complete Alaskan Malamute with one of their dog teams, was in Toronto for the Metropolitan K.C. Show, November 4-6, on her way to the Bermuda shows from her home in Alaska. Joanne showed members of the Alaskan Malamute Club of Canada photographs of their dog teams working in Alaska, including one of her youngest child being towed on a sled by Jotom's Kuviasuktuk, sire of the male who had travelled with her to the shows. . . Mrs. Peggy Hulme, internationally renowned English judge, was the guest of Miss 'Mike' Macbeth, early in November, at Glahms Kennels Reg., Stouffville, Ont. . . Mrs. Petra van Tongeren and two of her dogs visited Canada and the U.S. for three weeks in November from Musselkanaal, Holland. A guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ager in Brampton, Ont., Mrs. van Tongeren, whose kennel name is Of the New Life, is a breeder of Karelian Bear dogs. To the best of her knowledge there is no representative of the breed in Canada, although there are about 40 known to be living in the U.S. She would be interested in hearing from anyone in Canada who has a Karelian, or who would be interested

- (3) suggested that the anti-dog legislation committee remain in being and that all members of the Board submit material which they felt would be helpful in the drafting of model legislation.

Mr. Ross enquired whether the information included in the letter which the President had addressed to members of the Council of the City of Toronto could be used by Directors when dealing with local problems. Permission to do so was granted.

Dates of 1979 Annual Meetings

REPORT: The Acting Manager reported that Mr. Dixon had:

- (1) pointed out that at the meeting of the Board held in June he reminded the Board of an earlier policy to the effect that the Annual General Meeting would not be held on the same date as a championship show in the same province where the A.G.M. is to be held;
- (2) accordingly at its meeting in June the Board had rescinded an earlier motion (#262-05-78) fixing the date of the next Annual Meeting on March 24th, 1979, the date of a championship show to be held by the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show;
- (3) pointed out that at that meeting the decision was made to advance the dates of the Annual General Meeting and Annual Meeting of the Board sufficiently ahead to avoid conflict with any of the shows to be held by the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show yet the then Secretary had, in motion # 308-06-78, set the date for the A.G.M. to be held on March 17th, the date on which the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show would be holding a championship show;
- (4) asked that the Board take steps to remedy the error in motion # 308-06-78.

Motion # 540-10-78

Moved by Mr. Elston, seconded by Mrs. Mackenzie:
"THAT, Motion # 308-06-78, reading as follows"
"THAT, the 1979 A.B.M. commence on Wednesday, March 14, 1979, and that the A.G.M. be held on Saturday, March 17, 1979 be and is hereby rescinded."
FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Ashcroft, Mrs. Diamond, Mrs. Mackenzie, Mrs. Wait, Mr. Ross, Mr. Elston, Mrs. Smith, Mr. Devlin, Mrs. Pugh.
ABSENT: Mr. Blyth.

Mr. Ashcroft observed that one of the considerations in the fixing of the date of the Annual General Meeting is the advisability of the financial statements for 1978 being in the hands of members before the meeting.

Motion # 541-10-78

Moved by Mr. Devlin, seconded by Mr. Elston:
"THAT, the Annual Meeting of the Board commence on March 7th, 1979 and the Annual General Meeting be held on Saturday, March 10th, 1979."

Motion # 542-10-78

Moved by Mr. Ross, seconded by Mr. Devlin:
"THAT, a paid-up member will retain the same status (ordinary or associate member) while outside Canada as a member of Canada's armed services or Canada's diplomatic corps, and for election purposes will be considered a resident of the province in which he last resided (according to C.K.C. membership records) immediately prior to being posted outside Canada, and the same policy will include a D.K.C. paid-up member who is the spouse of a member of Canada's armed services or Canada's diplomatic corps posted outside Canada, however, this policy will only apply when the member has voluntarily furnished evidence satisfactory to The Canadian Kennel Club that he or she qualifies under the terms of this resolution."

SUBJECT: Mr. Ashcroft, Chairman of the Obedience Council:

- (1) expressed the view that the three parts of the recommendation of a previous Obedience Council on the conversion of measurement from the linear system to the metric system were not consistent with each other (see preamble to Motion # 593-77);
- (2) suggested that if in fact the conversion to the metric system for obedience trial purposes must be effective on January 1, 1979, then the timetable for such conversion was not consistent with an earlier decision of the Board on the conversion to metric for breed standards;
- (3) suggested that the compulsory conversion to the metric system for obedience trial purposes be postponed until we have established the date on which all measurements must be converted to the metric system.

Motion # 551-10-78

Moved by Mr. Ashcroft, seconded by Mr. Devlin:

"THAT, pending the establishment of when the metric system must replace the linear system, for purposes of obedience trials we postpone the implementation of resolution # 593-77."

Applicant Obedience Judges

SUBJECT: Mr. Ashcroft, Chairman of the Obedience Council:
) pointed out that the policies applicable to the processing of an application of a person seeking to establish eligibility to judge obedience trials is specific as to the minimum number of dogs an applicant-judge must score for each official class when apprenticing;
) pointed out that an applicant-judge, after having successfully taken written and oral examinations, and after having completed his apprenticing, may be authorized by the Obedience Council to judge one or more of the official classes at ONE licensed obedience trial, and at such trial his work as judge is observed by three observers whose reports are referred to the Obedience Council;
) enquired of the position of the Obedience Council, when assessing the reports of observers, if, for a particular class, no dogs were in competition at the trial;
) suggested that as when apprenticing, the Board fix a minimum number of dogs in each official class which the applicant-judge must actually judge before the Obedience Council is asked to reach a decision on whether the applicant should be placed on the approved list of obedience trial judges for one or more of the official classes.
During a discussion on Mr. Ashcroft's suggestion the point was raised whether it would be fair to insist on a minimum number of dogs for each class in the case of an applicant-judge who has already judged the trial he was authorized to judge.

Motion # 552-10-78

Moved by Mrs. Mackenzie, seconded by Mrs. Wait:
THAT, pending the establishment of a policy by the Board on the recommendation of the Obedience Council, there be no minimum number of dogs be judged on a first trial basis.
FOR THE MOTION: Mrs. Diamond, Mrs. Mackenzie, Mrs. Wait, Mr. Ross, Mr. Elston, Mrs. Smith, Mr. Devlin, Mrs. Pugh.
AGAINST: Mr. Ashcroft.
ABSENT: Mr. Blyth.

Motion carried

Cancellation of registrations

SUBJECT: Mr. Brown:
) pointed out that while the Club's By-laws provide that while the Board of Directors may recommend cancellation of the registration of a litter or individual dog, the final decision on whether cancellation of such registration takes place rests with the Chief Registration Officer of the Department of Agriculture;
) suggested that the Club should return to a former practice whereby the authority to direct cancellation of registrations rested with the Board of Directors;
) recommended that the matter be referred to the Committee on Amendments to By-laws for consideration.
It was agreed (with Mr. Ashcroft dissenting and Mr. Devlin and Mrs. Wait absent) that the question would be referred to the Committee on amendments to By-laws for consideration.

SUBJECT: A sampling of cheques issued as presented at the last meeting of the Board for use in considering new policies with regard to the issuance of cheques.

Moved by Mr. Ashcroft, seconded by Mrs. Mackenzie:

In the news

Deadly virus strikes

In the December issue of Dogs in Canada a front page warning alerted breeders to a fatal viral infection, causing death by dehydration. It has struck across Canada and the United States. Latest kennel to have been hit is Briandchris, Unionville, Ont., owned by Mrs. Joyce Alden. Mrs. Alden lost 11 puppies. Symptoms are bloating after eating, diarrhea, then dehydration followed by death within 12 hours. Puppies and adults are isolated from each other at Briandchris. This saved the grown dogs.

There is no evidence that the infection is transmissible to humans. It is suspected the virus may be mutating.

Dr. Charles Povey, University of Guelph, has been in contact with Mrs. Alden about the infection. He hopes research may get underway at Guelph by next April. But, financial support of breeders and dog clubs in Canada is necessary. Readers are urged to send their donation without delay. Cheques should be made payable to Canine Parvovirus Fund and sent to the University of Guelph, Guelph, Ont.

No breeder can feel safe from this killer virus. Research is essential.

GSP Fall field trial

On October 22 the German Short-haired Pointer Club of Eastern Canada Fall trial was held at the Mountain Wildlife Conservation Area, Winchester, Ont., judged by Robert Banning of Ottawa, Jim O'Hara of Manotick, Ont., Larry Kennedy of Mississauga, Ont., and Jerry Vokral of Lachute, Que. Entry totalled 27. First in the Amateur Restricted Puppy Class was won over seven competitors by Cedarpark Fanfare, owned by John Johnson. The Amateur Restricted Derby was won by Cedarpark Foxfire of Cedarpark Kennels Reg., again over seven entries.

Although there were 13 entries in the Amateur Restricted Shooting Dog Class, the judges decided to withhold all placements after only two call backs.

Anyone interested in entering the club's Spring trials, write Mrs. Madeleine Hopkins, 34 Glamorgan Dr., Hazeldean, Ont. K2L 1R2.

Dogs West

BY FRED EDGE

Since this first issue of your striking new Dogs in Canada magazine features Sporting Dogs, it seemed singularly appropriate to pay tribute to two of Canada's all-time great retrievers — and to ask why so many such exceptional field trialers come out of the midwest.

I reached Cec Leech, of Brandon, Man., owner-handler of N.F.T.Ch. and Am.F.T.Ch. Pelican Lake Petey Two, winter-holidaying in Harlingen, Texas. The youngest dog ever to win the Petey Two and owner Cec Leech.

Canadian National ('75), this fine black Lab was Canada's top-pointed retriever the same year, and again in '77.

This is what Cec had to say: "I think the reason midwestern retrievers have been doing so well in trialing is twofold. In Manitoba, particularly, we have excellent training terrain — good hunting grounds, with plenty of sloughs, which gives us an advantage over much of the rest of the country. We also have two or three of the very top trainers in Canada."

As examples he cited Phil Mac-Millan and Scotty Gillespie, both members of the Brandon Retriever Club, as is Cec — a relatively small group that consistently does more winning, collectively, than any other retriever club in the country.

He also noted Winnipegger Kevin Howarth — "an excellent trainer and one of the most dedicated retriever people around" — whose F.T.Ch. and Am. F.T.Ch. Carnmoney Mr. Magoo was Canada's top-pointed field trialer in '76, and the only dog ever to win the Purina Gold Whistle twice ('76 and '77) at Toronto's Canadian National Sportsmen's Shows.

Along with such top owner-trainer-handlers, Cec might have mentioned himself; his Petey Two, along with all its other honours, has broken two long-standing records as all-time high-point dog in one year and all-time high-point lifetime.

When the Shetland Sheepdog Fanciers Club, Edmonton, engaged much-respected English judge Mary Davis for its first specialty, held in conjunction with shows sponsored by the Northern Alberta Canine Association, there was some speculation as to how she would react to our Canadian breeding.

(Judging at a U.S. specialty a couple of years back, Ms. Davis commented that American Shelties had squared-off croups with higher-set tails, rather than the 30-degree slope to the croup, with lower tail-set, which gave their English cousins "a gently sloping outline.")

Overall, Ms. Davis' reaction to all class winners in the Alberta specialty was most favourable — and most particularly so to her choice of breed.

Of Ch. (Can. & Am.) Banchory Backstop, owned by Irene Oishi, she wrote in the S.S.F.C. Newsletter: "What a delight to find this tri dog . . . Here, at last, was a Sheltie which, without any need for compromise, could fulfill the requirements of both the British and the American/Canadian standards. Of absolutely correct size, he is free from exaggeration, beautifully proportioned and strong without coarseness . . ."

The specialty itself was such a success that the club is planning a repeat — "Hopefully (from club president Jo Raymer) in the Spring of 1980."

Tubby Miller, of the Cal K-9 Obedience Club, Calgary, is justly proud of the 27-member group, which boasts four firsts and one second among Canada's obedience Top Dogs.

These are Cinnamon Candy Von Fresberg O.T., German Short-haired Pointer, 1st, Phyllis Robertson; Ch. Mardoan's Sunni Dai CDX, Afghan, Hound Group, 1st, Helen Leask; Fuzzcarni's Bonne Bay OT, Newfoundland, 1st, Kay Jamieson; Shellalagh's Barbi CDX, Kerry Blue, 1st, Sheryl Williamson; and Bow Valley's Ajax OT, German Shepherd, 2nd, Bill Mitchell.

The club actively promotes responsible dog ownership, care and training at demonstrations for Scout, Cub, Guide and Brownie groups, other dog clubs and the S.P.C.A., and at area shopping centres.

Congratulations and good luck to all of you Cal K-9'ers!

Two Manitoba women, saddened by the death of a much-loved Great Dane at just 19 months, are seeking to establish a national information centre on gastric torsion, or bloat.

Helen Sparrow and Wendy Mackie request that readers who have had a similar experience, or who have access to information on the subject, write them at 148 Garrioch Ave., Winnipeg R3J 2T4.

"We are both frustrated and angry that bloat can happen so suddenly and cut down beautiful animals in their prime (they wrote). About the only thing everyone seems to agree on is that it happens, but no one knows why, or how to prevent or cure it. We would like to compile as much knowledge and statistics, from as many sources as possible, in the hope that some common denominator might surface."

Paw Pourri: The Northern Interior Kennel Club, Prince George, B.C., wishes good luck and good clubbing in La Belle Province to ex-members Gerry and Francine Labbee, transferred to Montreal . . . Martha Covington Thorne will conduct a two-day handling seminar in Regina, February 24 and 25, under the auspices of the Regina Kennel and Obedience Club . . . Jake Giacomelli will host an obedience seminar in Saskatoon, April 21 and 22, co-sponsored by The Dog House and Markap Enterprises . . . Manitoba's first provincial championships in Junior Handling were held at the annual Northwinds Dog Show, at Winnipeg's Convention Centre, December 1, 2 and 3 — sponsored by the Manitoba Junior Handlers Association. Mathilde Labovich, president.

Readers are invited to send their western news to Fred Edge, The Croft at River Hills, River Hills, Manitoba R0E 1T0.

SOME OF OUR NEW CHAMPIONS

Malabar's Love Affair

Mary Southcott, Cara Mia Kennels, Milton, Ont., judged the Utility Class and Team competition at the three-day German Shepherd Dog Club of America National specialty held in Kansas City mid-October. She reports: "In addition to the awards of BB and BOS, which carry the titles of American Grand Victor and American Grand Victrix (there was a huge entry in the regular classes with 124 German Shepherds in the Specials Class including the WD, WB and first place in the Veterans Class), the prestigious title of Obedience Victor or Victrix is bestowed upon the Shepherd eligible for this award. Prerequisite is that the Shepherd must have won a ribbon in point-show conformation prior to the date of the National specialties and must, at this specialty, obtain a score of over 190 points in both the Utility and Open B Classes and the highest combined score totalling at least 385 out of a possible 400 points.

"The Obedience Victrix for 1978 was a lovely seven-year-old Shepherd Indra von Hoheneichen UD, handled by one of the co-owners K. Mahrs and K. Sherman from Illinois. She received first place in the Utility Class under me with a score of 193 (34 entries) and a score of 196 plus in the Open B Class (37 entries) under Merrill Cohen. The incredible part of this achievement was the fact that her owner-handler was a paraplegic in a wheelchair. His wife is also a paraplegic confined to a wheelchair and they breed, train and exhibit German Shepherd Dogs. Indra's handler received a standing ovation from the spectators and when I put them through a demonstration of the Signal Exercise, which was performed to perfection, there were few dry eyes."

At the obedience trials held in conjunction with the Central New York K.C. show in Utica, N.Y., November 11, Norman F. Wurtz judged the 23 Open A, three Open B, 15 Novice A and 15 Novice B entries. Mr. A. M. W. Samuels, Shillmaine Kennels, Toronto, reports that highest scoring dog earned 199½ and that Mrs. Judy Rich's entry was second with 199. Mr. Samuels' Chihuahua, Ch. Shillmaine's Arapaho, qualified with 187½ points.

Mrs. Jean Whitford, Valleja Reg., Sutton, Que., writes that at the Queensboro K.C. show in New York on October 28, Papilons owned by D. Hill excelled, Ch.

Quinetta Concerto took four points, and bitches Ch. (Can. & Am.) Jeja's Polonaise and Akarana Caprice took Best Opposite Sex and Reserve to a 4-pt. major, respectively, under judge James Vaughters Sr. Mrs. Whitford's Japanese Spaniel, Ch. Valevan Noritake, went Best of Breed at the same show.

At the Progressive Dog Club New York show on October 29 Quinetta again took four points and went on to Best of Breed over five specials in an entry of 18, while Polonaise repeated her BOS win, this time under judge Ruth Turner. Mrs. Turner awarded Reserve Winner to Mrs. Whitford's Noritake.

At the North County K.C. show in Watertown, N.Y., Polonaise took Group 4th under Ed Jenner.

Canada's 1977 Top Dog all breeds, Ch. (Can. & Am.) Kishniga's Desert Song, has a winning record to date in 1978 in the U.S. of 17 all breed Bests in Show and six specialty Bests in Show. This glorious Borzoi's latest triumphs were at Minneapolis, MN, in October when he took BIS under Ed Jenner; at Hammond, IN, where he took Group 1st on November 11 under James Trullinger and the following day at Grand Rapids, MI, where he won another Group 1st, this time under Dr. Lee Huggins.

The 'Big Red' has racked up an impressive Fall record. Shang, all-time winning Chow Chow owned by Fred Peddie and Herb and Joan Williams, Bu Dynasty, Toronto, started off in September with a Group 1st at New Castle, PA and Wheeling, WV, rapidly followed by two Group 2nds at Ox Ridge and Northwestern Connecticut shows, another Group 1st at Suffolk, Group 3rd at Westbury, Group 1st at the Hatboro show in Pennsylvania, then Best in Show at Devon over 2,600 dogs. He went on to Group 1st at Monticello, Group 2nd at Ramapo, Albany and Troy shows, then took three Group 1sts in a row at Toledo, Delaware and Lima.

His progeny also distinguished themselves at these shows.

AUDITORS' REPORT TO THE MEMBERS

We have examined the balance sheet of The Canadian Kennel Club as at December 31, 1978 and the statements of income and expenditure and accumulated surplus and changes in financial position for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Club as at December 31, 1978 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Your dog's health

By Dr. Martin DeForest

QUESTION: What is the cause of excessive tear formation in poodles, and is there a means of eliminating the facial staining associated with this problem?

ANSWER: The condition of excessive tear production that you describe is known as 'epiphora'. There are a number of causes of epiphora in poodles. These include eyelids which do not fit properly and roll inward (entropion) or roll out (ectropion), abnormalities of the lashes (ectopic cilia), eversion and/or overgrowth of the third eyelid (nictitating membrane), contact of the hair from the face with the cornea of the eye, and inflammation and occlusion of the nasolacrimal ducts (which convey tears from the eyes under the skin to the nasal cavity).

Treatment of the condition must be aimed at eliminating the cause. This involves first checking for patency of the nasolacrimal duct, eyelid apposition to the eyeball, and for the presence of abnormal eyelashes with the dog under a general anesthetic. If these causes are ruled out, the glands of the third eyelid (nictitans glands) can be removed to reduce the amount of tears. If the tearing is the result of an inflammatory condition, Delta-Albaplex (Upjohn) has been shown to be effective, when used for periods of 12 to 14 days. A topical ophthalmic preparation applied three times daily for 21 days improves the results.

The objectionable stains associated with epiphora in light-coloured poodles can be controlled with the antibiotic tetracycline hydrochloride over extended periods, but this gets one into the realm of questionable usage of the antibiotic agent for a cosmetic effect, which could render its effect as useless at some future point. The action of tetracyclines in this case does not appear to affect the production of tears, but does alter the interaction of tears, skin and surface bacteria that produces the reddish-brown discolouration of the facial hair.

Reference: Epiphora in Poodles. M. V. P., October, 1978.

QUESTION: Our two-year-old Doberman Pinscher has developed a behaviour problem that we seem to be unable to break him of. The dog continually sucks on an area of his right flank. He has removed much of the hair in the area and the skin is becoming darker in appearance there. When my husband and I return from work at the end of the day, the area is always wet, indicating that he has been at it once again. Is there a means of solving the problem?

ANSWER: This is a well recognized behavioural problem in Dobermans, Brittany Spaniels and Golden Retrievers may also exhibit the syndrome.

There appears to be fairly strong evidence that there is a genetic predisposition to develop this behavioural problem. The appropriate environmental situation must be present, however, before the situation is manifest. For example, the Doberman that is left alone for long periods of the day may develop the problem, supposedly in response to boredom and loneliness.

Dr. A. J. Haggarty in the Dialog column of the April, 1978 issue of Canine Practice suggests that the condition is best treated by coating the dog's flank region with an unpalatable substance, such as 'Bitter Apple'. Doing this, along with providing the dog with an alternate behaviour (such as chewing a rawhide bone), and reinforcing that behaviour may help to overcome the problem of flank-sucking.

QUESTION: What is the cause of ulcers on the eyes of Boxers and Boston Terriers? What is the treatment?

ANSWER: Superficial ulcers of the cornea of the eye are reported most frequently in the Boxer breed, but do occur in the Boston and other breeds to a lesser extent. Both sexes seem to be affected equally, and the condition usually occurs in middle-aged and older animals.

The underlying cause has not been clearly identified, but defects of the basement membrane of the cornea are thought to ultimately cause the formation of an ulcer.

Treatment is surgical and involves removal of an unhealthy corneal tissue followed by local antibiotic drug therapy. When the ulcer has healed, topical steroid drugs are added to the treatment regime to minimize scarring. In most cases, the disease process takes four to eight weeks to resolve, generally with good results.

Reference: R. L. Peiffer, Corneal Ulcers, Canine Practice, Vol 5, No. 4, August 1978.

New Vanguard

The most complete canine respiratory protection available.

When a veterinarian vaccinates your valuable puppies or breed or show dogs with Norden's new Vanguard, he's giving them the finest hepatitis protection—plus increased "canine cough" protection.

Vanguard is the result of a new development by Norden...a breakthrough so significant it replaces our Enduracell vaccine line.

Unlike all other canine distemper combination vaccines, Vanguard is the only vaccine containing adenovirus type-2 which protects against hepatitis (adenovirus type-1) infections. Vanguard also confers proven protection against respiratory (adenovirus type-2) infections evidenced by pneumonia, tonsillitis, pharyngitis and bronchitis commonly associated in the "canine cough" complex.

Hand in hand with this added protection, Vanguard introduces new levels of safety. Extensive tests showed effective protection with freedom from "blue eye," kidney lesions or virus shedding, all possible with adenovirus type-1 vaccination.

Ask your veterinarian about new Vanguard. Available in combinations with distemper, leptospirosis and parvovirus to fit any vaccination program.

Finally. A soft moist especially for puppies.

A puppy is special. His development establishes the physical and emotional condition of the adult dog.

New Gaines® Puppy Choice® is a special puppy food that meets a puppy's special nutritional requirements (approximately double versus the adult dog per kg. of body weight).

The first soft moist puppy food in Canada, new Gaines Puppy Choice delivers all the NRC nutritional recommendations for extra protein, extra vitamins and extra minerals for the 100% complete and balanced diet a growing puppy needs.

Kennel tested by professionals, Puppy Choice has a high digestibility factor, indicating a high level of nutrient utilization. And it has the high palatability and meat content of soft moist foods to encourage full nutritional intake.

New Gaines Puppy Choice comes in individual pouches in pre-measured portions ideal for a puppy's appetite, and is available in a special 20 kg. kennel size.
